He lived to preach the gospel as a local preacher for about fifteen years, and his cultivated mind and deep piety, made him not only efficient and acceptable in the pulpit every where, but eminently useful in the church of God But while Bro Andrews felt that he was called of God to preach, he also felt that he was called to teach and prepare youthful minds and hearts to honor God, and be useful in the world. And his influence for good, as a pious faithful teacher, was felt in many communities He was honored at different times as president of several Female Colleges Louisburg N C, Thomasville N C, and Andrew in Ga, and also was at the head of many High Schools. For the last four years of his life, he had a flourishing day school and Sunday School, at Spring Hill Ga. But solely on account of his wife's health, he gave up this school and sought a position in North East Ga He had moved his family to Belton, about three weeks before his death, and had opened a promising school in that place. But on the third day of his school, at 2 o clock in the afternoon, feeling as well as usual, he rang the school bell, and took his seat for a [illegible] at the door, then starting into the house, he fell upon the floor, and never spoke any more, but died there in his school house, in about two hours after he fell He showed evident signs of paralysis, and the doctors think that he died of that disease.

Though his stay in Belton was so short, many had learned to appreciate and love him The community had been delighted at the prospect of his remaining with them perhaps for years, and building up a flourishing school, and his death was regarded as a sad calamity upon the whole community. All hearts were sad, all sympathized with his bereaved family, and many were not slow to show their sympathy in acts of kindness I reached Belton on the second day after his death, and on the following morning after appropriate religious service, we buried him in the cemetery at that place.

He leaves a wife and six interesting children, an aged father and mother, a sister and brothers, to mourn their sad loss. But thank God, they sorrow not as those without hope. For while our brother was not permitted to leave any dying testimony, to cheer the hearts of his loved ones, his whole christian life gave them unmistakable evidence that he was ready at the call of the Master. He had often spoken to his wife of his prospects beyond the grave, and but a short time before his death, both he and his wife had in conversing together declared themselves ready and willing to depart, at the call of the Master. He was devoted to his family, and spent much time in the mental and moral cultivation of his children. He lived to see all his children that were old enough, professors of religion and members of the church, and had it been the will of God, he would have rejoiced to have all the family go to heaven together, at the same time, for so he had expressed himself. Let the church pray that all his loved ones may finally meet him in heaven For this he prayed much, in the closet and around the family altar. The last morning of his life, he prayed so earnestly for each member of the family, that they might be prepared for any and all disappointments or bereavements in life, and that they might be sustained and kept by grace unto eternal life, as to make a deep and lasting impression upon his bereaved family. Surely his prayers will be answered.

D. D. Cox.

George Miller, the celebrated author of "Life of Trust," is on an evangelistic tour through the north of Scotland, following up Moody's great work. He recently made the statement "That he believed that during the last eighteen years there had been more converts than during any of the other periods of the Church's history, the apostolic age included."

The faith which justifies the sinner before God, consists of a confiding surrender of one's self to Christ, and an enduring communion with Him. It is a faith whose seat is the heart, whose author is God, whose manifestation is the new life, and whose priceless fruit is restoration into God's favor and friendship with all its blessed consequences, even on this side the grave.—Van Oosterzee.

Two Noble Mothers

We once attended a camp-meeting in Buncombe and saw an aged lady with a sober, sensible face and very striking and impressive features. We wondered who she was, and felt an eager desire to know what kind of children she had raised. We asked a friend her name. He answered by introducing us to the mother of Robert and Zebulon Vance.

We have also met the mother of Judge Settle, and found her a model of virtue, intelligence and refinement. The beauty and elegance of her youth still lingers in her face and regale.

Should either of the present candidates for the office of Governor ever fail to equal his responsibilities and to improve his opportunities, the fault will be his own, and can not be laid at the door of his truly noble mother. Our observation is that notable men are generally the sons of notable women The State, which raises many ignorant and vicious women, will also be cursed with many broods of vipers. And parents must excuse us, if we, once more, implore them to examine well the schools of our State, select those which are best for their children, and pay the prices charged. You may have objections to teachers, to their prices, their manners and their methods. They may have their faults as you have yours. But never let your prejudices override your duty to your country or your children, and do not raise an ignorant son or daughter because you can not find a perfect teacher.—J. H. Mills of Oxford, Editor of the "Orphans Friend."

State Directory.

Messrs Beveridge, & Co., are at present in this city gathering information for their new N. C. State Directory for 1876—77, and request Post Masters, Sheriffs and others in all portions of the State to send in names of merchants in their respective counties; also, lawyers, physicians, citizens, manufacturers, mills etc.; and respectfully request all merchants, lawyers, and in fact all the business and professional men to send in their names and locations, so that they may be alphabetically arranged. Schools and Colleges will please send in their names, location, president, and all members of the Faculty. We would suggest to our merchants, lawyers, and physicians to send in their advertisements to go in this book, the Directory having a large circulation through the entire State. Clerks of court, judges and divines furnished Copies at 20 per centum discount Price of Book $3—Advertising Rate, Page, $25.00. ½ Page, $15; ¼ Page, $9 Card $5; which prices include Book. Advertisements of religious institutions inserted at above rates, 10 per centum off

Address,
BEVERIDGE & Co.,
Directory Publishers,
Raleigh, N C.
Yarborough House.

NORTH CAROLINA INSTITUTION FOR THE EDUCATION OF THE DEAF AND DUMB AND THE BLIND, AT RALEIGH.—Among the benevolent Institutions of the country for the unfortunate of our race, than the "Institution for the Education of the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind," located at Raleigh, and yet, we regret to learn that there are many deaf and dumb and blind children in the State, growing up without the benefits of an education which has been so liberally provided for them by our State Legislature. All who have deaf and dumb or blind children should at once correspond with the Principal of the Institution, and obtain all necessary information as to the manner of gaining admission, &c.

We make the following extract from the circular for the session commencing on the 13th of September next:

"The North Carolina Institution for the Education of the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind, is located at Raleigh, the capital of the State. It is strictly an educational institution, having for its object the moral, intellectual and physical training of the young deaf and dumb and the blind, of both sexes, residing in the State, and is, therefore, neither a house of refuge for the aged and helpless, nor a hospital for the treatment of disease.

1. The school year commences on the second Wednesday in September of each year, and closes on the last Wednesday in June following, making a continuous session of ten months, and leaving a vacation of two months during the warm season.

2. As a rule, applicants who are under ten or over twenty-one years of age are not admitted; but exceptions are sometimes made in peculiar cases, at the discretion of the Board of Trustees of the Institution.

3. No person of imbecile or unsound mind, of confirmed immoral character, or incapacitated by physical infirmity for useful instruction, will be knowingly received into the Institution; and in case any pupil shall, after a fair trial, prove incompetent for useful instruction, or wilfully and persistently disobedient to the regulations of the Institution, such pupil will be thereupon discharged

4. All are required to come provided with an adequate supply of good comfortable clothing, embracing suitable articles for both summer and winter wear, in such quantities as to admit of the necessary change for washing; and repairing, the whole to be neatly packed in a good trunk with a good lock and key.

5. Each article of clothing should be distinctly marked with the owner's name, in order to prevent confusion or loss, and must be sent in good order and condition, not only upon the entrance of the pupil, but also at each subsequent return from home after the vacation.

6. The course of study pursued in the Institution embraces all the English branches, consisting of spelling, reading, writing arithmetic, geography, grammar, and the sciences, and ordinarily requires eight years to complete it The languages taught, in addition, vocal and instrumental music.

7. Pupils from this State are admitted to all the privileges of the institution, upon compliance with the conditions free of charge; being provided with board, washing, fuel, lights, bedding, medical attendance, and everything necessary, except clothing and expenses.

8. Persons desiring to procure the admission of pupils should apply by letter or otherwise to the Principal of the Institution for instructions as to the course of procedure, and no pupil should be sent to the institution until such instructions shall have been fully complied with.

JOHN NICHOLS, Principal."

The Christian Advocate

...H IN THE CITY OF RALEIGH EVERY ...SDAY MORNING, TERMS $2.50 POSTAGE.

Our Agents.

...reaching and local preachers in the bounds ...Carolina Conference are our authorized ... any person sending us ten subscribers, for ...ear, will receive the paper free.

our Correspondents.

...ntributions or publication should be carefully ...ten on but one side of the sheet. All letters ...ffice should be addressed to the CHRISTIAN ...

How to Remit.

...ow, all amounts should be sent in ...istered letter, post office order or check. The cost ...registering or post office order can be deducted ...money sent in hand. If money is sent otherwise ...ll be at the sender's risk.

...TO NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

...ew & Co.

...Notice

...ty College.

...ONY AND CATARRH —See Dr. ... ad'v't.

NORTH CAROLINA

...Weldon Fair will begin on the 7th ...ober and continue four days.

...ro was found in Charlotte almost ...from starvation. His name is Jor... from Danville.

...orphan band from the Asylum will ...entertainment in Charlotte on the ...ust.

...Wilmington Review reappears in ...form, under the management of ... & Willis.

...Bregden has offered a reward of ...the arrest of Milton Stamper ...ordered Wm. Wagner, of Alle... county.

...of our exchanges are warning the ...fellows against one Robert Harris, ...hailing from Alabama, who is ...ing through the State and practis... frauds."

...Thos. Grier employs twenty-five ...en in gold mine in Gaston county ...has a ten stamp mill. The supply ...ears to be inexhaustible.

...Mecklenburg county Mr. W. L. ...while cutting a ditch through his ...land, struck the top rail of a ...en rails high completely buried ...ed. Some of the rails are sound ...ney must have been imbedded ...than 50 years.

...Federal editor of the Danbury Re... must be very belligerent as he ... "We regret to say that we have ...two or three fights in town this week, ...fortunately, no serious damage has ...sustained."

...Supreme Court of the State has ...ded that a man cannot waive the ...of a homestead provided by the ...stitution.

...R. W. Strudifer, Esq., of Gaston, is the ...democratic candidate for the Senate ...the District composed of Gaston ...Cleveland counties.

...Some doers of malicious mischief en... the watermelon patch of Mayor ...ann of Shelby, pulled about 300 ...ons and piled them up in the corners ...the fence and in other portions of the ...n.

...A new post office has been opened at ...Fork, Union county, Wm. W. ...ing postmaster.

...Gen. C. B. Denson, the efficient Secre... of the North Carolina Agricultural ...ety, is making active preparations ...the coming State Fair.

...The Rocky Mount MAIL says that a ...man writes to a friend that there ...sixteen North Carolinians in the Tex... Legislature.

...While the mules and wagon, cart and ...of Mr. Jno. W. Boney were crossing ...bridge across Rocklish in Duplin co., ...bridge fell in. Nobody hurt.

...A. W. Graham, of Hillsboro, is at ...Spa May, attending the meeting of the ...board of Arbitration to adjust the boun... lines between Maryland and Virgin... Mr. Graham is Secretary of the Board.

...Gen. D. H. Hill, of Charlotte, will ad... Orange County Grange at Little ...River Church on Aug. 31st.

...The house of Elmore Woods, at Chapel ...Hill, was struck by lightning on the 12th ...inst. demolishing one chimney, broke ...window panes, the clock, and injured ...another chimney. Mr. Woods and his ...wife were both prostrated by the shock.

...The Goldsboro Building and Loan As... ...ciation has commenced to wind up its ...business.

...Some one tried to cut down a Tilden & ...Vance flag at Troutman's Depot last ...week by boring holes in it with an inch ...auger. He failed in the attempt, how...ever.

...Miss Douglas was thrown from a spring ...wagon in Charlotte by the breaking of a ...shaft while descending a hill. She was ...painfully though not dangerously wound...ed.

...Judge Fowle, the Democratic candid... for elector at large, is creating great ...enthusiasm by his eloquent and stirring ...speeches.

...Several years ago J. W. Reading of ...Mecklenburg county died leaving a lega... to Davidson College to be paid on the ...death of his wife. She recently died and ...the College comes into possession of six ...or seven hundred dollars.

...The Democratic Convention for Cleve... county decided to make no nomina... therefore, R. M. McBrayer, L. J. ... and W. C. Durham announced ...selves as candidates for the Legis... That is a 'new departure' and ...sounds people of old times.

...Several young men in Union engaged ...in a joyful scuffle, when ill feeling arose ...between young Godfrey and Frank Gri... the latter received a stab in his ...side which physicians pronounced ...fatal.

...A young man named Joe Helms and ...another were ploughing in their field ...near Monroe, when a negro came up and ...flatly demanded that their mule ...should be given up to him. They de... and he given up to him. They de... compelled to this gentle request whereupon ...he attempted to knock both of them ...down, but receiving a severe cut in his ...head for it, he beat a hasty retreat.

The Sunday school of the Fifth Street M. E. Church, South, in Wilmington, had an excursion to Smithville last Thursday.

Mr Neuthery, the Governor's private Secretary, says that the vacancy in the Supreme Court Bench will be filled in a few days.

W. L. Moseley was recently arrested in Nash County on a requisition from the Governor of Florida, for embezzling funds of the Singer Sewing Machine Company, but the matter was compromised.

The postal card manufactory at Springfield, is running ten hours a day, turning out about 500,000 cards per day, and is 3,500,000 behind its orders. The number of cards printed during the quarter ending July 1, was 38,000,000, an increase of nearly 10,000,000 over the corresponding quarter for 1875.

The last census shows that of the 5,567,229 people of foreign birth in America 3,003,671 are Irish and Germans. One startling fact is that, while Irish and Germans form only one eleventh of the population, yet more than one-half of all the entire liquor business of the country is carried on by them

By a recent act of the Venezuelian Government, religious liberty is guaranteed and the support of religion is made entirely voluntary, and it is decreed that there shall not be admitted in its territory archbishops or bishops, ecclesiastical chapters, or any ecclesiastical hierarchy, as it considers them incompatible with the rights of independence and the sovereignty of the country.

Marriages.

At the residence of the bride's father, on Wednesday, Aug. 16th, by Rev. T. M. Jones, D. D., Capt. B. P. Williamson to Miss Laura S., daughter of Jno. R. Williams, both of Raleigh.

At the residence of the bride's father, Henry Fuller, Esq., August the 5th 1876, by Rev D C Johnson, Mr Milton D Skeen and Miss Mollie M Fuller; all of Randolph.

On the 26th of July 1876, by Rev. T. P. England, Rev. J. F England of the S. C. Conference to Miss Emily C Heaton of Lenoir Caldwell county, N. C.

On the 10th inst, at the residence of the officiating minister, Rev J E Pressly, Mr A W Gudger and Miss A E Kerr only daughter of David Kerr, of Iredell co., N. C.

Deaths.

☞Obituary notices of twenty lines are inserted without charge. The excess over twenty lines of four words is charged for at the rate of 10 cents per line. Count the lines and allow four words to the line. In this way you may always know the amount to enclose. Resolutions of respect are subject to the same rule. ☜

Died in Fayetteville N C July 24th, 1876, infant child of Rev. J. S Nelson P. E. of the Fayetteville District, aged two weeks.

Bro. Nelson was not at home when the sad occurrence took place. May the Lord be gracious to him and his afflicted family.

R. C. PHILLIPS.

Died in Hillsboro, on July 9th little Roscoe Richards, son of Charles and Eliza Taylor. A little more than one year Roscoe was the most interesting link of that young into home circle. Upon him seemed to concentrate the larger portion of affection, care and devotion of parents and grand parents.

How sad, that so early in life and at an unexpected hour, the dear one should be taken from earth; but if the Master should come into his garden should we not willingly give him one of the most interesting buds?

May we not ask the young parents—
Is it sad for the joyous and sportive child
To pass from our sight?
As ladies the dew from summer flowers,
Or the twilight rays at even?
For them to dwell, so happy and pure,
Where the waters of joy flow free,
Ere the sorrows of life have cast one shade
To cloud the heart's light glee?"

The mother responds:

'Tis hard to lay her darling
Deep in the cold, damp earth—
His empty crib to see,
His silent nursery,
Once gladsome with his mirth.
To meet again in slumber
His small mouth's rosy kiss:
Then, wakened with a start
By her own throbbing heart,
His twining arms to miss!"
Weep not, but if faithful God will give you your child again.

A FRIEND

Died at her residence in Mt. Olive N C. on the morning of the 3rd inst. Mrs. Sarah V. Watson consort of G. H Watson.

It is sad for us all to feel that we shall gaze on that sweet face no more but how sweet is the thought that she has gone home to rest, I felt when I beheld her pale face as I wanted the window shutters thrown open to let the clear sunlight of heaven form a halo of glory around her. She was truly an ornament to the Methodist church; in her submission she has left us all an example. With what sweetness she joined with the Son of God as she exclaimed: "Thy will be done." She was confined for months with that flattering disease—consumption—but not a murmur escaped her lips—for with Israel's sweetest bard she joined in singing, "I was dumb, I opened not my mouth because thou didst it." We feel that death has robbed us of a gentle sister in Christ She often told me during her illness that she was only waiting for the angel reapers.

"To act—to suffer is nobly great
But nature's noblest effort is to wait.'

God has spoken so patiently to us recently in taking from us two of our most lovely flowers—Lizzie McGee Edmondson and Sarah V Watson. Shall we not take a gentle rebuke from our Father's hand, remembering that "Whom the Lord loves he he chastenesth?" Brother or sister—are you afflicted? Is the rod upon you? Why murmur or complain? you are passing through the furnace—may you come forth like them—pure gold. We have two less here—but two more at home with our God.

No longer will earth's shadowy clouds
Their heavenly visions dim
Oh glorious lot to live in Christ
And die in Christ like them.

MAGGIE.

Died, in Wake county, on Friday March 3rd, 1876, of consumption, Mrs. Charlotte A Turner, wife of S. S Turner, in the fifty second year of her age. Mrs Turner was confined to her room for about eight months with little or no hope of recovery and resignation to the active duties of life. Everything that medical science could do, and all the kind offices of husband, children and friends were of no avail, and she passed away, calmly, quietly and peacefully in the full hope of a blessed immortality, retaining her consciousness to the last moment.

Mrs. Turner possessed more than ordinary natural endowments, and had received a good education. She was afterwards very much improved by reading and the experience acquired in the discharge of the various duties of life, so that it may safely be said that there are few persons who possess more accurate information, upon most subjects, than she did. In the management of her domestic affairs, she possessed that care and skill and energy which bring success, and add so much to the pleasures of social life. She was quick to anticipate the wishes of her friends and visitors, and provide for their every comfort, and none have left there with other than pleasant recollections.

In the year 1848 Mrs. Turner joined the Methodist Church, and continued an acceptable member till her death—a period of twenty-eight years. She believed to the full extent in individual responsibility, and though that the best way to grow in grace, was to live in a daily practice of all the christian virtues. Her religion, as exemplified in her life, was free of that dark and sombre kind that takes a pleasure in crucifying all others, but performs that other kind, that exhibits itself only on occasions of religious revival but of that practical kind, founded on principle which is aimed to say do your duty, trust in God and all will be well."

A very appropriate funeral discourse was preached by the Rev. Mr. Thompson, at the residence of her husband on Sunday March 5th, from 30th Psalm.—verse, "Weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning." and her remains were followed to their last resting place by a very large concourse of people. She leaves a husband and eight children who feel that a void has been made in their house that can never be filled, but much in reflecting that God who doeth all things well will also provide for them and that the wife and mother died after accomplishing a full measure of usefulness, having a memory that they too are fast now in death.

R.

General News.

One thirtieth of all the land under cultivation in Spain is devoted to the growth of olives.

A century plant with a thousand buds and blossoms is on exhibition in Boston for the benefit of the Old South fund.

One hundred and twenty thousand buffalo were slaughtered on the northwestern plains of British America the past year.

George Washington was the only farmer who was ever President of the United States.

Queen Victoria personally conducts a Sunday School for the children connected with Windsor Castle.

General Alfred H. Colquitt, a leading granger, has been nominated by the Democrats Governor of Georgia.

In hot weather hang a wet horse rug or blanket over the door or window facing the west and the room will become cool.

Moody has built and occupied a ten thousand dollar house in Northfield, Mass.

The Democratic majority in the recent Alabama election was about 30,000.

Disraeli, the English Premier, has been elevated to the peerage his title being Earl of Beaconsfield. He is of Jewish descent.

The building of the bridge to connect New York and Brooklyn has been commenced.

Prince Milan, of Servia expresses himself pleased with his army and declares his purpose to continue the war to the last extremity.

The debt statement for July shows a reduction of $1,178,933 for the month.

The Post donne bill as it passed the Senate gives $22 000 for the restoration of fast ...ds.

Roger C. Hill of Boston, has been appointed supervising architect of Government ...ildings.

The Bogus has voted to repeal the clause in the Resumption act of 1875 whereby a ...ecific promise was given of the resumption of specie payment in 1879.

Miss Mary Graham, a graduate of the Girls' High School, a colored girl, will enter the Latin scientific course of Michigan University at the commencement of the next year.

Gudlow S. Orth, the Republican candidate for Governor of Indiana, has withdrawn his ...me in favor of General Benjamin Harrison has been nominated by the party for that office.

A Deceitful Person is Odious.

This is a recognized fact among all good people. But to deceive by inserting in your grizzled moustache grey whiskers or faded hair a black or brown color so natural that it can not be detected is eminently proper and no breach of good faith. It meets with the approbation and admiration of the most polite society. To render it possible to practice this innocent deceit to perfection, Dr. Tutt has invented a dye that is being used in all fashionable circles with the happiest results. Its sense is attended with but little trouble: its effect is instantaneous, and the color it produces is perfectly natural Opinion of Dr R. S. Stewart, President Maryland Hospital, Baltimore: "I have used Colden's Liebig's Liquid Extract of Beef and Tonic Invigorator for more than a year, and recommend it as one of the most efficient preparations I have ever met with. It combines the virtues of food and Tonic in a remarkable way."

Williams & Haywood, agents.

A great many people have asked us of late, "How do you keep your horse looking so sleek and glossy?" We tell them it's the easiest thing in the world: give Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders two or three times a week.

A gentleman in the eastern part of the State, who was about having his leg amputated on account of its being sent at right angles and stiff at the knee, heard of Jouneon's Anodyne Liniment. After using it a short time his leg became straight, and is now as serviceable as the other adv.

Dr. Maclay writes the New York Advocate: "I have the pleasure of informing you that by a recent decree of the Japanese Government, after April 1, 1876, all Government offices will close at noon on each Saturday, and remain closed until Monday Morning."

A little daughter of Capt. G. N. Waitt, of Raleigh, while climbing into the window of an old out-house, fell into a nest of bumble-bees and was so badly stung that a fever followed.

APPOINTMENTS.

RALEIGH DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND—1876.

Raleigh Ferguson	Aug.	26-27
Granville Mt. Tabor,	Sept.	2- 3
Henderson Tabernacle,	"	16 17
Far River Franklinton,	"	23 24
Rulesville Rolesville, Sept 30th,	Oct.	1
Gary Hollands,	"	7- 8
Raleigh Edenton St.	"	14-15
Louisburg,	"	21-22
Youngsville.	"	28-29
Rocky Mount & Nashville and Tosnot,	Nov.	4- 5
Smithfield,	"	11-12

J. P. MOORE, P. E.
Warrenton, N. C.

NEWBERN DISTRICT.
3RD ROUND—IN PART.

Newberne sta.	July	8- 9
Lenoir,
Swift Creek } Institute, Wednesday	"	12
Wilson station.	"	15-16
Straits, Wednesday,	"	19
Beaufort Station.	"	22 23
Sense, Grantsboro,	"	29-30
Snow Hill, Orman's, Wednesday,	Aug.	9
Snow Hill,	"	10-13
Craven Asbury, Friday,	"	18
Cartered,	"	19 20
Jones Cypress creek Wednesday,	"	23
Wayne Salem,	"	26-27
Mt. Olive Falling creek,	Sept	2- 3
Goldsboro sta,	"	9-10

E. A. YATES, P. E.
Beaufort. N C.

HILLSBORO DISTRICT.
3RD ROUND.

Durham sta.	June	24-25
Cahill & Il River at Morris chapel	July	1- 2
Pittsboro et Pleasant Hill,	"	8- 9
Deep River et Asbury,	"	15-16
Flat River et Fletcher's chapel,	"	22-23
District Conference at Chapel Hill	Aug.	2- 6
Alamance et Bethel,	"	12-13
Leasburg et Prospect,	"	19-20
Yanceyville et Yanceyville,	"	26-27
Person et Roxboro,	Sep.	2- 3
Hillsboro sta.	"	9-10

The District Conference will be held at Chapel Hill, commencing Wednesday August the 2nd, and continuing five days. Ministers and laymen of our own, and other Districts are cordially invited to attend.

L. L. HENDREN P. E
Chapel Hill. N C.

FAYETTEVILLE DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Laurenburg ct. at Laurenburg,	Sept.	9-10
Cumberland ct. at Camp-Ground.	"	16-17
Jonesboro ct. at Coot pring,	"	23-24
Fayetteville sta.	Oct.	1- 2

J. S. NELSON, P. E.
Fayetteville, N. C.

WILMINGTON DISTRICT.
3RD ROUND.

Wilmington, 5th Street,	June	17-18
Bladen at center,	"	24 25
Kenansville at Charity Chapel	July	1- 2
Magnolia at Harrelle Store	"	8- 9
Cokesbury at Bethel	"	15-16
Smithville at Smithville	"	22-23
Clinton at Andrew Chapel	"	29-30
Onslow at	Aug	5- 6
Topsail at Wesleyan Chapel	"	12-13
Elizabeth at Carver's Creek	"	19-20
Whiteville and Shiloh,	"	26-27
Waccamaw Miss..
Wilmington Front St	Sept	2- 3
Magnolia, N. C.	W. S. BLACK.

SALISBURY DISTRICT.
3RD ROUND.

Statesville c, Bethlehem,	June	3- 4
Statesville sta.	"	10-11
Mooresville ct. Mt. Mourn.	"	17 18
Salisbury, Oak Grove	"	24-25
Mt. Airy & S Mission, Mt. Hermon,	July	1- 2
Surry ct. Siloam,	"	8- 9
Yadkin ct. Macedonia,	"	15-16
Salisbury sta.	"	22-23
Davie ct. Bethlehem.	"	29-30
Mocksville circuit. Liberty,	Aug.	5- 6
Iredell circuit, Snow Creek,	"	19-20
Wilkes circuit, Union,	"	26-27
Alexander ct. Rock Springs,	Sept.	2- 3

The District Conference will meet at Mocksville on Thursday, August 10th. The occasion will be one of great interest to the people of the District, and we hope there will be a large attendance. We cordially invite our brethren out of the District to be present.

D. R BRITON, P. E.

WASHINGTON DISTRICT.
3RD ROUND.

Greenville, at Little's Chapel	June	17-18
Washington,	"	24-25
Carboro at Temperance Hall.	July	1- 2
Warrenton,	"	8- 9
Warren. at Bethlehem,	"	15-16
Roanoke,	"	22 23
Williamston at Jone's Chapel	"	29-30
Plymouth,	Aug.	5- 6
Columbia,	"	12 13
Bath	"	19 20
Hatteras&ket,	"	26 27

The District Conference will commence its session in Warrenton on Thursday, the 6th of July, at 11 o'clock. The District Stewards will hold their meeting Saturday, the 8th at 3 o'clock, P M.

The Presiding Elder will preach at Bonlah on the Williamston circuit July 26th at 11 o'clock, administering Baptism and also the Communion. He will preach at Palmyra on the 27th July at night.

The month of August will be observed as the Centennial month.

WM. CRAIG, P. E.
Edenton, N. C.

CHARLOTTE DISTRICT.
3RD ROUND.

Pleasant Grove ct. C. M. at Fisk's Grove,	Aug.	19-20
South Charlotte ct. ct. M. at Bethel,	"	26-27
Walesboro ct. at Bethel,	Sept	2- 3
Ansonville ct, at Concord,	"	9-10
Mt. Pleasant, ct. at Olivet,	"	16-17
Concord, ct.	"	20-21
Albemarle ct. at Bethel,	"	23-24
Stanley, ct. C. M. at Mahobeth, Sept. 30,	Oct.	1

W. H. DOBBITT, P. E.
Moore, N. C.

GREENSBORO DISTRICT.
3RD ROUND.—Q. M.

Davidson ct, at Midway,	July	22-23
Wentworth, Wentworth,	"	29-30
North Guilford, Jamestown,	Aug.	5 6
Randolph, Ebenezer,	"	12-13
Forsythe, Cleamonsville,	"	19-20
South Guilford, Pleasant Garden	"	26-27
Madison, Mt. Hermon,	Sep.	2- 3
Stokes, Stokesburg,	"	9- 10
Thomasville & H. Point, } Trinity College,	"	16-17
Trinity College,

A campmeeting will be held in connection with the Quarterly meeting at Pleasant Gardens, aduuing Friday evening the 25th.

N. H. D. WILSON P. E.

SHELBY DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Columbus,	Aug.	26-27
Rutherfordton,	"	29
Happy Home,	Sept.	2- 3
Caldwell, C. M.	"	9-10
South Fork, C. M.	"	14-17
Dallas, C. M.	"	23-24
Double Shoals, C. M.	Sept. 30,	Oct. 1
Cherry Mountain, C. M.	"	7- 8
Shelby ct. C. M.	"	14-15
Upper Broad River,	"	21-22
Marion, (Dedication),	"	28-29
Shelby station,	Nov.	4- 5
Morganton,	"	11-12
Dysartsville,	"	18-19
Lenoir station,	"	25-26
Lincolnton,	"	1-2
Rock Spring,	"	8-9
Newton,	"	15-16

R G BARRETT, P. E.
Sa... N C.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, } SUPERIOR COURT.
Wake County, } Aug. 16th, 1876.

E. R. STAMPS, Trustee, vs. N. A. Taylor and Jas. S. Pureboy:

It appearing to the satisfaction of the Court upon affidavit that the defendant, N. A. Taylor, is a necessary party to this suit, and that after due diligence he cannot be found in this State, it is ordered by the Court that service by publication of the summon in this cause be made upon the said defendant for at least once a week for six weeks in the Christian Advocate, a newspaper published in the city of Raleigh, and that a copy of the same be mailed to said defendant at the place of his residence if such be known.

J. S. BUNTING,
Clerk.

WAKE COUNTY.—IN THE SUPERIOR COURT.

E. R. Stamps, Trustee, &c., Against N. A. Taylor and Jas. S. Pureboy. } Summons for Relief.

THE STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
To the Sheriff of Wake County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded, to summon N. A. Taylor and James S. Pureboy, the Defendants above named, if they be found within your County, to appear at the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court for the County of Wake, within 60 days after the service of this summons on them, exclusive of the day of such service, and answer the complaint, a copy of which will be deposited in the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court for said County, within ten days from the date of this summons, and let them take notice that if they fail to answer the said complaint within that time, the Plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Hereof fail not, and of this summons make due return.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, this 16th day of August 1876.

J. S. BUNTING,
Clerk Superior Court Wake County.

Jones & Jones and R. T. Gray Plaintiff Attorneys. aug 23-6w.

Trinity College, N. C.

The Session begins Sept. 5th. Tuition $20 to $30 for five months, board $10 to $12 per month. Entire expense for five months $87 to $98.

Send for Catalogue.

R. CRAVEN.

aug 22-tf.

$55 to $77 a Week to Agents. Samples free. P. O. VICKERY, Augusta, Maine. aug 23-1y.

SERMONS.

BY E. M. MARVIN, D.D., LL.D.,
One of the Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church South.

Edited by T. O. SUMMERS, D. D

12mo, Muslin Pages 552.

This book will be ready by the 10th of August. Price Two Dollars, with twenty-five per cent discount to Preachers. It will be sent, post-paid, to any address on receipt on retail price. The money must accompany all orders.

A. H. REDFORD, Ag't.

National Hotel,

Owing to the general depression in all kinds of business, I have been induced to lower prices of Board to $2 per day until December 1st.

Accommodations as heretofore EQUAL to the BEST in the city.

C. S. BROWN, Pro.

Aug 16-4t.

Bargains! Bargains!

In order to reduce my Heavy Stock of

SADDLES & HARNESS

I WILL FOR THE NEXT 30 DAYS.

Sell at Prices that will DEFY COMPETITION!

I do not propose to offer you any 2nd or 3rd rate Northern Machine-made work, but of my own manufacture, of No. 1 materials, and put up by under my own supervision, and I am sure that after an experience of over 30 years in the business, of giving entire satisfaction.

FIRST CLASS WORKMEN!

☞Consult your interest by examining my stock, quality and prices before buying elsewhere.

W. H. HUTCHINGS,
Opposite Tucker Hall, Fayetteville St.,
Raleigh, N. C.

aug. 16-tf.

THE BUFFALO

LITHIA WATERS

— IN —

Protracted Intermittent and Remittent Fevers.

—:o:—

Extract from Letter of Dr. O. F. Manson, Professor of General Pathology and Physiology to the Medical College, Richmond, Va., July 5th, 1875.

"These waters have been found especially curative in cases of chronic intermittent fever, many intractable cases having been thereby restored to perfect health in a brief space of time."

Extract from Pamphlet of Dr. S. Harris on these Waters, published in 1859:

PROTRACTED INTERMITTENT AND REMITTENT FEVERS.

"In the chronic forms of these troublesome endemics, the Buffalo water acts most happily, and, it persevered in, often effects a permanent cure. Those enlargements of the liver and spleen, concomitants of these affections, are simultaneously relieved with the chills and fever."

Case of E. K. Harris, Esq., of the Virginia Bar, now Elector for the State upon the Democratic Presidential ticket:

Extract from Letter, dated Buffalo Springs, August 20th, 1873.

"Some years ago my system was completely worn down and prostrated by a protracted case of chills and fever. After using all the remedies indicated in such cases in vain, I visited the most noted watering places of the mountains of Virginia, without deriving any benefit; almost in despair of obtaining relief from any source, I left the mountains and came to these Springs, where, in a few weeks, I was entirely restored to health."

Evidences of the great powers of these Waters in Chronic Intermittent and Remittent Fever might be multiplied to almost any extent, both from professional and unprofessional sources.

THOS. F. GOODE, PROPRIETOR
BUFFALO LITHIA SPRINGS,
Mecklenburg Co., Va.

CHARLEY ROSS

AGENTS WANTED in every town in America for

THE FATHER'S STORY

OF CHARLEY ROSS, the most touching and absorbing story in the annals of American history. Gives a full account of the Abduction, the pursuit, and tragic death of the Abductors. Ransom notes of the Letters, and all the various incidents connected with the search for the child. It gives a PORTRAIT of LITTLE CHARLEY, with other choice illustrations and information calculated to lead to the recovery of the Lost Boy, for whom the Father offers a Reward of $2000. Written by CHRISTIAN K. ROSS. Sales unprecedented. For Terms and Exclusive territory, Address JOHN E. POTTER & Co., Publishers, Philadelphia. aug. 9-13t.

SELLERS' LIVER PILLS

Sellers' Liver Pills have stood for Thirty years a Standard Remedy for the cure of Liver Complaints, Constipation, Sick Headache, and all derangements of the Liver.

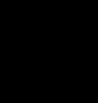
"Sellers' Vermifuge, the great Worm Destroyer," expelled 625 large, live worms from my child's person. Wm. Sarver, St. Louis, Mo. Price each, 25c. If your druggist don't keep them, send for them. S. S. SELLERS & CO., Pittsburgh, Pa.

apl 26-1 y ow

D. LARGELL'S ASTHMA & CATARRH REMEDY.

Having suffered twenty years between life and death with ASTHMA, I experimented by compounding roots and herbs and inhaling the medicine. I fortunately discovered a sure cure for ASTHMA and CATARRH. Warranted to relieve any case of Asthma instantly, as the patient can lie down to sleep. By mail, $1.00 per box. Address D. LARGELL, Apple Creek, Ohio. For sale by Druggists.

Aug. 9 13t eow.



BLYMYER MANUFACTURING CO. CHURCH BELLS & CHIME FIRE-ALARM

Fine Toned Bells warranted. Catalogue giving full particulars & prices, etc., sent free

BLYMYER MANUFACTURING CO.,
164 to 168 West Eighth St., Cincinnati, O.

June 23-1y. eow.

$12 a day at home. Agents wanted. Outfit and terms free. TRUE & CO., Augusta, Maine mch 31-y.

LAWNS! LAWNS!! LAWNS!!!

A new supply figured Lawns in the piece. Very desirable patterns.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER.

BLEACHED DOMESTICS.

...ons Bleached Domestics.

Lower than ever.

Also Lonsdale Cambrics,

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER.

PRINTS! PRINTS! PRINTS!

5 Cases NEW PRINTS for late Summer and Early Fall.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER.

RUCHINGS AND NECK TIES.

Another assortment, new styles Ruchings, Silk and Lace Neckties for the Ladies.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER.

BELTS, FANS AND PARASOLS.

Another invoice of Belts, Belt Webbing, Belt Buckles, Fans (including the plain natural handle palm leaf) and Parasols and Umbrellas, all new.

W. H. & R S TUCKER.

SHOES AND GAITERS,

Tremendous lot, all sizes and best makes.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER.

Aug 24-tf.

UMBRELLAS AND PARASOLS.

Another lot just received, which we bought at very low prices and will be sold accordingly.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER.

WESLEYAN FEMALE INSTITUTE.
STAUNTON, VA.

Will begin its twenty-seventh Annual Session, September 21st, 1876. Rev W. A. HARRIS, D. D., President, with an able corps of twenty-three Teachers and Officers.

Modern Languages taught and spoken in the College by a European Teacher. Music by able Professors and Teachers, among whom are some of the most cultivated teachers of vocal music in the South.

This is one of the healthiest climates in the Union. Its marked effect is the rapid promotion of the health and vigor of her pupils. Those who come here from the South will feeble constitutions, and climatic diseases, are rarely recorded.

Buildings elegant—fanned by purest breezes, commanding the most magnificent scenery, and combining such varied attractions as to make it one of the most delightful college homes in the Union.

This school is usually attended by pupils from 25 to 30 different States.

Great economy and simplicity in dress are required. A simple uniform is worn. No unnecessary expense allowed. Strict economy practiced to limit expenses of pupils.

From Bishop D. S. Doggett, D D.

The Wesleyan Female Institute, located in Staunton, Va., under the Presidency of Rev. W. A. Harris, is, in my judgment, one of the best institutions, for young ladies, in the South. I have occasion to know and appreciate its value by the advantage enjoyed by one of my daughters there, its course of study is ample; its Faculty accomplished, and its instruction both solid and elegant. Its private accommodations are all that can be desired for health and comfort, or taste. No location could be more eligible; no scenery more magnificent; no atmosphere more salubrious. Not the least of its merits, is that sacred regard for religious training, without which no Female College especially, would be a blessing.

D. S. DOGGETT.

From Bishop E. M. Marvin, D. D.

The Wesleyan Female Institute is an honor to the Church. Instruction is thorough. In music, advantages are offered of very high order. The most talented Professors are employed, and neither pains nor expenses are spared to make this department eminent.

From Prof F. H Smith, M. A. L. L. D., University of Virginia.

The Wesleyan Female Institute, at Staunton, deserves the brilliant success it enjoys. Having had a daughter under Mr Harris' care, my observation leads me to believe this school to be one of the best Female Seminaries which adorn our State. * * The Halls of the Wesleyan Female Institute should be filled to overflowing with pupils from all our Southern States.

FRANCIS H. SMITH.

TERMS FOR THE ENTIRE COLLEGIATE YEAR.
Board and Tuition in the Collegiate course. $240.
For Catalogue, address,
Rev W. A. HARRIS, President.
Staunton, Va.

VANDERBILT UNIVERSITY.
Nashville, Tenn.

THE ANNUAL SESSION OPENS SEPTEMBER 18TH, 1876.

Cost of Grounds, Buildings, Library, and Apparatus.....$420,000
Permanent Endowment.....600,000
Endowment Pledged.....120,000

The University is organized in Four Departments:
The Department of Philosophy, Science, and Literature, with ten Professors and two Tutors.
The Department of Theology—three Professors.
The Department of Medicine—ten Professors.
Board and lodging, with fuel and lights, can be had in approved families, or private boarding-houses, at from $16.50 $20 per month.
Ministers of the gospel, of any Church, will be admitted to any School in the Academical and Biblical Departments free of tuition fee.

For special information in regard to Board, and the general Catalogues, address R. A. Young, D. D., Financial Secretary.

For other information, address

L. C. GARLAND,
Chancellor Vanderbilt University,
Nashville, Tenn.

July 19-1m.

JOHN J. FRAY'S
CLASSICAL AND MATHEMATICAL SCHOOL.

The 19th session of my school will begin on Sept. 4th, 1876, (1st Monday.) Terms same as heretofore. Boarding pupils will be met at Clayton on the N. C. R. R. 4 1-2 miles distant or at Raleigh.

For circulars containing terms, particulars &c. Address,

JOHN J. FRAY,
Raleigh, N. C.

References:—The faculty of the University of V., Rev. B. T. Blake, A. T. Mial, Rev. W. H. Bobbitt, Rev. J. B. Bobbitt, D. D. Rev. J. P. Mosic.

aug. 24-tf.

Monroe High School,
MONROE, N. C.,

The next session will begin Aug. 14th.
Expenses—$60 to $75.
For catalogue containing particulars,
Address, J. D. HODGES, Pris.

July 25 4t

Monroe, N. C.

KINSTON HIGH SCHOOL

The fall session will begin Sept. 4th, 1876. Terms moderate.

For circulars, apply to

J. S. MIDYETTE, Principal
Kinston, N. C.

Aug. 16 3m.

AGENTS WANTED.

VOICE OF GOD.

BY REV. ALFED NEVIN, D. D.

A new and valuable Book of absorbing interest, containing all the HISTORIC and LEGENDARY Lore of the BIBLE, with accounts of its Patriarchs Prophets, Priests, Kings and Heroes 80 Royal Octavo Pages, with numerous handsome engravings. AGENTS WANTED.

MILLER'S BIBLE AND PUBLISHING HOUSE.
1102 and 1104 Sansom Street, Philadelphia.
July 12th 2 m

AGENTS WANTED.

THE BEST YET.

A new Subscription Bible with Illustrated Dictionary, Concordance, and other valuable extra matter. Splendid Illustrations and Engravings. Elegant Bindings. Extraordinary inducements to good AGENTS. SPECIAL PROTECTION in Territory guaranteed.

MILLER'S BIBLE AND PUBLISHING HOUSE.
1102 and 1104 Sansom Str et, Philadelphia.
July 12th 2m

AGENTS WANTED.

TEMPLE HARP.

A new music book in Atkin's Seven-Character Notes, with a thorough course of instruction in the most natural and Easy System of music yet discovered. All can learn to sing in one fourth the time required by any other method. Adapted to Choirs, Singing-Schools, etc., etc. Specimen pages mailed free. Teachers wanted as Agents.

MILLER'S BIBLE AND PUBLISHING HOUSE.
1102 and Sansom Street, Philadelphia.
July 12th 2m

AGENTS WANTED.

CRYSTAL GEMS.

A new Sabbath School music Book in Atkin's Seven-Character Notes, and upon a System particularly adapted to the young learner. This Book contains fair selections of new and beautiful tunes. Specimen Copies mailed on receipt of 35 cts.

MILLER'S BIBLE AND PUBLISHING HOUSE.
1102 and 1104 Sansom Street, Philadelphia.
July 12th 2m

SAM'L H. PULLIAM, PRES'T. F. D. STEGER, SEC'Y

COMMERCIAL
FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY,
RICHMOND, VA.

—o—

Cash Assets - - $225,000.00

—o—

A Special Deposit of $10,000.00 in North Carolina for protection of our Policy Holders.

Agents wanted at places where the Company is not already represented.

Address, LAWRENCE & WINSTON,
Gen'l Agents,
RALEIGH, N. C.

july 19-3ms.

McCallum & Cooper,

FOUN

Children's Column.

Not Dead, But Gone Before.

BY MRS. M. T. BABBITT.

She is not dead, but gone from sight;
Her home is on the further shore:
And tho' to you 'tis starless night,
To her 'tis morning, evermore.
Forever done with toil and fears;
Forever done with grief and pain;
Oh, would you, if you had the power,
Recall her to the earth again?

'Tis true she was the light of home,
And happy and contented there;
And you are favored, who have known
So long her tender love and care.
O' pause sometimes, when sad tears fall
At thought of being thus bereft,
And count the precious memories
That death has kindly to you left.

A prudent, helpful, cheerful wife;
A faithful mother, fond and true,
Who, in the darkest days of life,
Some hidden source of gladness knew.
She looked upon life's "sunny side,"
As every Christian pilgrim should,
And found her highest happiness
In serving God, and doing good.

Well trained in Puritanic truth,*
And early taught the worth of prayer,
She gave her heart, in glowing youth,
Into the blessed saviour's care.
Sweet childhood's faith was never lost:
Its light with clearest radiance shone
Amid New England's pleasant hills,
And late! in her Western home.

O genial heart, so large and free,
So patient, gentle and refined,
So full of tender sympathy
For all upon thine altar shrined,
Why were thy throbbing pulses stilled
So soon? Why was it given thee
To suffer through long months of pain:
And yet, so uncomplainingly!

We may not answer; God knows best
How to unbind the hands of clay,
When to remove to heaven's sweet rest
The saints who all His will obey.
We know thy earthly work is done,
And every pain and peril past;
Thy barque has reached the port of peace,
And thou art welcomed home at last.

Could we but look within the vail
And see thy radiant face to-day,
Our hearts might drop their heavy grief,
And all our tears be wiped away.
Hast thou the dear departed met,
Who passed before thee to the skies:
And wilt thou watch and wait for us,
When God shall bid our spirits rise?

"Our ranks are broken"—one has gone—
A narrower circle now we stand;
New human friend can fill the void
Within our broken household band.
May we press on, tho' weary oft
With ceaseless conflict in the strife:
For victory shall be ours at last,
And Jesus give the crown of life.

* In memoriam, Cynthia A. Fuller, Earl, Ill., sister of Rev. W. A. Braman.

CARLO, THE ORGAN BOY.

UNCLE CHARLIE.

Six months ago Carlo had a pleasant home among the hills away off in the city of Genoa, in Italy, where grapes festooned the rocky terraces, and the olive tree grows in every sheltered nook. But now the wide world must be Carlo's home, for death had laid both his parents in the grave; the vines and the olives were no longer his, so leading his little sister by one hand, while the other supported an old fashioned barrel organ, he crept down into the busy city. Nobody, however, seemed to notice poor Carlo, or the footsore little Maria, as he tried to earn a morsel of food by singing a soft Italian air in the principal street. At length the children found their way to the quay, where a ship was just loading with fruit for England, and Carlo resolved to ask a gentleman who stood watching the sailors as they lifted in boxes and barrels, if he would be so kind as to give him something to buy bread for the little Maria. The Captain said he did not think much of beggars, but if he would help to roll those barrels on board he would pay him for it. Carlo was delighted, and finding a sheltered place for his sister, ran off to work.

At night the Captain praised Carlo for his diligence, and told him there was an empty berth for a cabin boy on board his ship. With tears the boy told his sad story, and said that he and his sister must stay together. The Captain was a rough man who neither wanted babies nor barrel organs on board his schooner; but there was a peaceful home in England where a gentle lady lived, who had left the sunny land of Italy to be his wife, and a little fair-haired boy, whose dark eyes were so like Maria's that, brushing away a rising tear, he told Carlo that he might work his passage to London, and they would stow away Maria and the music into some corner. Carlo soon became a great favorite, and the voyage was be guiled by his merry tunes and the gambols of the orphan girl. In the Bay of Biscay, the poor little girl was taken ill and died, and was buried beneath the waves. Carlo's heart seemed buried, too; he became so reserved and quiet that he had not a word to say to anybody. As soon as the schooner reached London, Carlo took his barrel organ and went away, no one knew where.

At the close of the summer, Carlo wandered to a little fishing village on the southern coast. He wanted to look at the sea in which his little sister slept. Tired and sad, he sat to rest on some steps which led to a pretty cottage in the middle of a garden. By and by a little boy about three years old opened the garden gate, saying: "Freddy Harding will give his bright penny to buy poor boy bread." A lady now appeared, and one glance at the poor organ boy assured her that he had come from her native Italy. Hastening back to the cottage, she brought him food, added sixpence to her child's gift, for which the poor boy thanked her in broken English. The lady thought of her beautiful land, and its sad ignorance of the blessed Book which had made her happy.

Drawing a small Italian Testament from her pocket, she spoke to the boy in his native tongue "Little boy, you are far away from friends; if you can read, here is a book which will tell you about a friend always near, even about the good Saviour, who died that poor sinners like you and I might get to heaven." Carlo listened with wonder, turned over its leaves, when almost on the last page a line caught his attention: "And the sea gave up the dead which were in it." With many thanks, he placed it in his bosom. Day after day passed, Carlo wandered up and down among the people, getting a crust of bread or a drink of milk in return for his music and reading his New Testament when he could.

One morning he was passing by the garden where he had first seen his little friend Freddy. The gate opened and the child hurried down the steps all alone. Drawn by some bright flowers growing in a field he crossed a railway line to reach them. A minute more and he would have been crushed to death. His mother saw—saw all, but could render no help, and her wild cry was lost in the noise of the passing train. Carlo had rushed to the spot, and in one moment flung the child on the green bank and for a himself evidently backward to escape the wheels. The danger passed, the mother first clasping her child to her breast hurried to the spot where his noble deliverer lay. He was conveyed to the cottage, and although severely stunned, he was not seriously injured by his heroic deed. I need not tell what care and ready bestowed on him, or how Capt. Harding finally took him and found him at last a home in England. In that happy English home, Carlo found the Saviour, and when the Captain sailed, Carlo was his own boy on many a voyage, and good Capt. Harding grew to him as a son. "Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy."

Rural and Domestic.

Try Cotton Again.

As it was in years gone by, so it is now. Just as the season for pitching a crop rolls round, the prices of cotton take an upward tendency, notwithstanding the market is glutted with a large over-production. This spasmodic improvement in prices, says the Southern Rural Gentleman, can be for no other purpose than to stimulate production: and farmers should be very careful how they yield to the seductive influences. It is the impression, in a very large circle, that an equally large, if not a larger crop of cotton will be planted this season. This may be true, but we know a large number who will plant nothing like as large a crop as in former years, and who have and are continuing to give their attention to an increase of the cereals and stock. This latter class of men will be the independent and prosperous farmers of the future. However much of privation they may suffer in inaugurating the good time coming. If those who presistently and in the face of a bitter experience, and the most considerate teaching, continue in the old cotton rut, and be forced their lives long to live from hand to mouth and in penury and want, they will have no one to complain of but themselves. It makes no difference to the farmer how much cotton is worth, when it has passed from under his control, and from the sale of which no benefit can flow to him. Do not fool yourselves, farmers, or permit others to fool you any longer; 'all is not gold that glitters,' which you know to your great cost. If cotton was such a prolific source of money-making and independence as is considered, and if it were most profitable to raise cotton and buy supplies, why is money so scarce everywhere, and why is it everybody is put to such straits to procure the most ordinary necessaries of life? Ponder over the questions, friends, and guarded how and what kind of crops you pitch this year. There is a beautiful inviting field of pleasure, comfort and prosperity before you, likewise a yawning chasm of ruin and the destruction of our most vital interests. Be careful how you approach them. The finger boards are up at the fork of the roads—you need not be misguided unless you choose to be.—Rural Sun.

SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have frequent headache, mouth tastes badly, poor appetite and tongue coated, you are suffering from torpid liver, or "biliousness," and nothing will cure you so speedily and permanently as

Dr. Simmons' Liver Regulator,
OR MEDICINE.

ASK the recovered dyspeptics, Bilious sufferers, victims of Fever and Ague, the mercurial diseased patient, how they recovered health, cheerful spirits and good appetite—they will tell you by taking Simmons' Liver Regulator, The Cheapest, Purest and Best Family Medicine in the World!

MANUFACTURED ONLY BY
J. H. ZEILIN & CO.,
MACON, GA., and PHILADELPHIA.
Price $1.00. Sold by all Druggists.
May 31-26t eow.

$5000 REWARD for CHARLEY ROSS. AGENTS WANTED in every Town and County in on

The FATHER'S STORY of CHARLIE ROSS, the Kidnapped Child, containing a full account of his Abduction, and important information calculated to aid in his recovery. Written by Christain K. Ross. Almost entirely appeals to the sympathies of all. Every one wants to read it, and everybody will buy it. We confidently offer this as the best book in the market for agents. Full particulars free. JOHN E. POTTER & CO., Publishers, Philadelphia.
may 17 3m.

Grain and Feed Store

REMOVAL.

We take this method of announcing to the public that we have moved to the WILLIAMSON, UPCHURCH & THOMAS STORE,
Where we invite all persons in want of Meal, Flour, Corn, Oats, Peas, Peanuts, Bran, Mill-Feed, Ship-Stuff, Hay, Fodder, Shucks,
And all kinds of
HORSE AND COW FEED
Of the best quality at lowest prices to give us a call.
GATTIS & JONES.

Orders for Coal and Wood filled at same place, or at yard by
J. A. JONES.

A Double Danger Averted

The inhabitant of a malarious region is threatened by a double danger. He is not only compelled to breathe miasma, but to swallow it, since it infects not only the atmosphere, but the water. The serial poison threatens his system through the lungs and pores, the liquid through the stomach. Against this double peril there is but one protection, and that is to invigorate the entire body through the digestive and secretive organs. Ordinary tonics usually fail to accomplish this—Hostetter's Stomach Bitters never. In the tropics, where the diseases orginated by malaria are of a far more malignant type those originated by the same cause in the temperate zone, it enjoys immense and constantly increasing sales, and there is no portion of this continent where it is not the reigning specific for intermittent fevers and disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, proceeding from malaria and other causes.

LORD & TAYLOR
New York,
WILL OFFER
EXTRAORDINARY BARGAINS
IN ALL THEIR DEPARTMENTS,
COMMENCING MAY 1st.

RICH B ACK SILKS,
OF THE MOST CELEBRATED LYONS LOOMS.
AT $1.25, REDUCED FROM $1.60.
AT $1.50, REDUCED FROM $1.87½.
AT $1.75, REDUCED FROM $2.25.
AT $2.00, REDUCED FROM $2.50.

Plain Colored and Fancy Silks
AT 75c., REDUCED FROM $1.12½.
AT $1.00, REDUCED FROM $1.25.
AT $1.25, REDUCED FROM $1.50.
AT $1.50, REDUCED FROM $1.87½.

ELEGANT NOVELTIES IN DRESS GOODS,
IN FAMILY HAIR CLOTHS, AND DAMASSES,
REDUCED TO 75c., 87½c., 100c., and $1, FROM $1.25, $1.50, $1.75, AND $2.

Popular Dress Goods
In new and Fashionable Fabrics and Colors offered at 12½c., FORMER PRICE 18c.
18c., FORMER PRICE 25c.
22c., FORMER PRICE 30c.
25c., FORMER PRICE 37½c.
50c., FORMER PRICE 75c. TO 87½c.

Real India Shawls
AT $85, $100, AND $125,
Formerly Sold at $200, $225, and $250.

Black and Scarlet Stella Shawls
AT $35, $45 AND $60,
Former Prices $50, $60 and $85.

Llama, Ottoman and Shetland Shawls
AT $1.25, TO $5,
REDUCED FROM $3, TO $8.

Ladies' and Misses' Suits
THE LATEST PARIS STYLES,
FROM $10 UPWARDS.
Embracing the Choicest Novelties at Enormous Reductions

LADIES' & CHILDREN'S UNDERWEAR
AN IMMENSE STOCK OF MOST BEAUTIFUL AND RELIABLE GOODS,
All at very Great Reductions.

Ladies', Children's and Gentlemen's
HOSIERY,
BEST ENGLISH, FRENCH, AND GERMAN GOODS.
All marked at Lowest Possible Prices.

Our Print, Domestic and Housekeeping Departments
ARE THOROUGHLY STOCKED WITH THE BEST GOODS,
At the Lowest Package Prices.
Beautiful American Prints at 5c. and 6c. per yard
Standard 4-4 Bleached Goods at 10c.,
Lonsdale Shirtings at 10c., New York Mills, 12½c., and 5-4 Sheetings at 12½c.

TABLE AND OTHER LINENS
IN ALL THE VARIOUS GRADES, AT BARGAINS.

IN CARPETINGS
WHICH WE KEEP AT THE GRAND STREET STORE ONLY, WE ARE OFFERING
English and American Tapestries at 75,
Former Price $1.10.
Body Brussels at $1.50, Former Price $1.80.
All Wool Ingrain at 50c., Former Price 80c.
Three-Ply Ingrains at $1.25,
Former Price $1.50.
Oil Cloths at 37½c. to 50c.,
Former Prices 50c. to 87c.

Samples of Goods, and Catalogues of Ladies' and Misses' Suits and Muslin Underwear, and Infants' Outfits, sent free of charge to all sections of the United States.

Rules for Self-Measurement sent on application to all parts of the country.
Orders for Goods of all kinds will be carefully attended to, and the Goods packed and forwarded without charge.

BROADWAY AND TWENTIETH ST.
GRAND AND CHRYSTIE STS, N. Y.
May 31-2m.

VALUABLE
Real Estate for Sale
—AT—
PUBLIC AUCTION.

The largest amount of valuable land ever offered in North-western North Carolina! To all wishing Homes now is your time.

On Monday, the 21st day of August, 1876,

I will offer for sale, at public auction, the valuable tract of land situated on Little Fish River, and containing 3,000 acres. This tract of land will be divided into lots to suit purchasers. It is one of the best farms in North-western N. C., under a high state of cultivation; fine bottom lands, with uplands, lying well; fruits, grain, tobacco and the grasses grow luxuriantly on these lands. Splendid grist, flour and circular saw mills are situated on this farm; the best of water-power, lying ready to be improved.—The land is well timbered, watered, and an abundance of good cool springs. In fact it is the best section in the country.

Also another tract, known as the "Saw-Mill" tract, containing 1,500 acres, 400 acres of which has just been cleared and cultivated in tobacco. Wheat, corn, oats, rye, tobacco, fruits, and the grasses grow luxuriantly upon this plantation; it is well watered, lies well, and is well adapted for dairy stock raising, fruit growing and farming generally; also good water-power and has a circular saw mill.

Also another tract of land lying in the suburbs of Mount Airy, containing 496 acres lying on Lovel's Creek, 100 acres of which is as fine bottom land as there is in the State.

Also another tract of land lying on the Ararat River, known as the Buck Shoals tract, on which there are good grist, flouring and saw-mills; good residence and one large brick building 36 by 70 feet, and four stories in height, erected for a cotton factory. All the buildings and the dam are new, and the water is sufficient for 200 horse power, or even more.

Also another tract containing 300 acres, lying on Rutledge and Reed Cane Creeks, on which are fine bottoms, plenty of timber, and an abundance of good water.

Also several other tracts of fine farming and mineral lands, a lot which are well watered and timbered, and on which are good buildings, and the lands are in high state of cultivation, a rare chance seldom offered to a small colony. This is the best body of lands to be found in the County, being situated near Mount Airy, the terminus of the proposed Mount Airy Narrow Gauge Railroad, and in one of the healthiest and most thriving sections of the State, ten miles from the Blue Ridge, and is one of the most prosperous inland towns in the State.

I will also sell, at the above mentioned time, my Residence, Store House, Tobacco Factory, Foundry, and a number of town lots in Mount Airy.

The sale will commence at the Mill known as the Bryant Mill, at 2 o'clock, M., on Monday, the 21st day of August, 1876, and continue from day to day until all is sold.

Persons coming from a distance to look at these valuable lands, will come via Greensboro to Salem, where they will find a tri weekly line of four-horse stages to Mt. Airy, distance 40 miles.

For further information address
JOHN M. BROWER,
Mount Airy, N. C.
apl 19 4m.

EPILEPSY OR FITS cured by Dr. Ross Epileptic Remedies. Trial package sent FREE. For circulars, evidence of success, etc., address ROSS MEDICINE CO., Richmond, Ind.
March 8 3-m

Solvency! Stability! Promptness!

THE NORTH CAROLINA HOME
Insurance Co.,
OF RALEIGH,
CONTINUES TO WRITE POLICIES ON ALL CLASSES OF INSURABLE PROPERTY ON THE MOST REASONABLE TERMS.
Capital and Assets - - $190,000!

Its Stockholders are among the most prominent and responsible business men in the State.

During its existence it has paid out to insurers, for losses, over $100,000, and its accumulated earnings have been loaned to our own people.

AGENTS IN EVERY COUNTY IN THE STATE

R. H. BATTLE, Jr., President.
C. B. ROOT, Vice President.
SEATON GALES, Secretary.
P. COWPER, Supervising Agencies apl 29th 3t.

CRYSTAL METAL BRONZED BELLS
FOR CHURCHES,
SCHOOL HOUSES,
FACTORIES,
SHOPS,
PLANTATIONS.

These Bells are composed of the pure crystal metal, and the shape and weight of metal in them is such as to give the best possible results. They are

SUPERIOR IN TONE AND FINISH

to many others, no matter under what name they may be sold, either "STEEL COMPOSITION" or "AMALGAM," and are Guaranteed to Give Satisfaction.

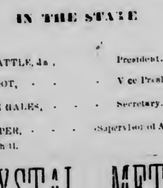
The CHEAPEST BELL MADE.

Church Bells furnished at COST.

T. H. BRIGGS & SONS,
Briges Building,
RALEIGH, N. C
DEALER IN
Hardware, Building Material, Wagon and Buggy Material, Paints, Oils, Glass, Sash, Doors and Blinds.
Write for Prices. No charge for Packing or Drayage. ap 19-1f.

TYSON & JONES



Carriage Builders,
CARTHAGE, N. C.

Having recently increased our Facilities for Manufacturing, we are prepared to furnish Vehicles of the BEST QUALITY on short notice, and at comparatively low prices. Vehicles shipped at Sanford, Raleigh and Graham R. R. via Raleigh to any part of the State.

We feel confident that, with the close attention we give the business, together with the materials used, the skilled workman employed, and the many conveniences we have for manufacturing FIRST CLASS WORK, no house in the country can excel us in

STYLE, FINISH, DURABILITY AND Low Prices.

We manufacture and keep constantly on hand harness of the Best Quality.
Repairing neatly Done at Short Notice
Send for Circular.
July 21 1-y

Established 1816.
CHAS. SIMON & SONS,
No. 66 N. HOWARD STREET, BALTIMORE,
DEALERS IN
FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC
DRY GOODS,
would call special attention to their extensive stock of
DRESS GOODS,
LINEN GOODS,
EMBROIDERIES,
LACES AND HOSIERY
The best assortment of Mourning Goods
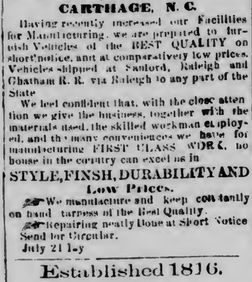
in the city.
SAMPLES SENT FREE!
All orders amounting to $20 or over, will be sent free of freight charges by Express, but parties whose orders are not accompanied by the money and having their Goods sent C. O. D., must pay for return of the same. 1-11m

L. BRANSON,
BOOKSELLER
—AND—
STATIONER.
RALEIGH, N. C.
School Books a Specialty.
Everything in my line cheap for cash.
mch 22-tf.



JAMES M. TOWLES, SOLE AGENT, Raleigh, keeps constantly on hand a full supply of these plows and castings.
May 17-3m.

$42 A WEEK. Agents wanted everywhere. Business permanent and first-class. For further particulars, address
J. KENNEDY & CO., Richmond, Ind.

SCHEDULES.

PIEDMONT AIR-LINE RAILWAY.

RICHMOND & DANVILLE, RICHMOND & DANVILLE R. W., N. C. DIVISION, and NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. W.

CONDENSED TIME-TABLE.
IN EFFECT ON AND AFTER SUNDAY, JULY 16TH, 1876.

GOING NORTH.

STATIONS.	MAIL.	EXPRESS.
Leave Charlotte.....	8.55 A M	2.10 A M
" Air-Line J'nct'n	6.14 "	2.40 "
" Salisbury.....	8.30 "	4.19 "
" Greensboro'....	10.38 "	6.17 "
" Danville.....	1.36 P M	8.56 "
" Dundee.....	1.49 "	9.01 "
" Burkeville.....	6.49 "	12.43 P M
Arrive at Richmond...	9.36 P M	3.19 P M

GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS.	MAIL.	EXPRESS.
Leave Richmond.....	9.51 A M	1.10 P M
" Burkeville.....	9.01 "	3.54 "
" Dundee.....	1.39 P M	8.15 "
" Danville.....	1.43 "	8.16 "
" Greensboro'....	4.39 "	10.25 "
" Salisbury.....	7.01 "	12.32 A M
" Air-Line J'nct'n	10.06 "	2.29 "
Arrive at Charlo'te..	9.08 "	2.42 A M

GOING EAST. GOING WEST

STATIONS.	MAIL	MAIL.
Leave Greensboro'..	2.10.55 A. M.	Arrive 4.10 P. M
" Co. Shops....	12.05 P. M.	Leave 3.05 "
Arrive at Raleigh....	3.35 P. M.	Arrive 11.29 "
Arrive at Goldsboro'	5.20 P. M	Leave 8.55 A M

STATIONS.	ACCOMMODATION TRAIN.
Leave Greensboro'..	6.45 A. M.	Arr. 5.50 A. M
" Co. Shops....	11.30 "	Lv. 4.05 A. M.
Arr at Raleigh....	4.30 P. M.	5 40 6.45 P. M
Arr at Goldsboro'	11.51 "	Lv 2.17 P. M.

NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. R.

SALEM BRANCH.

Leave Greensboro'..... 4.45 P. M.
Arrive at Salem..... 6.45 "
Leave Salem..... 8.15 A.M.
Arrive at Greensboro 10.05 "

Passenger Trains leaving Raleigh at 11.29 A. M. connects at Greensboro' with the southern bound train, making the quickest time to all Southern cities. Accommodation train leaving Raleigh at 6.45 P. M., connects with Northern bound Train, Greensboro for Richmond and all points East. Price of tickets same as via other routes.

Accommodation Train leaving Greensboro at 8.30 A. M. connects at Goldsboro with Northern and southern bound Trains on the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad.

Salisbury accommodation leave Richmond daily at 10.25 A. M., arrive at Burkeville 1 to P. M., leave Burkeville 3.24 A. M., arrive at Richmond 8.36 A. M.

No Change of Cars between Charlotte and Richmond, 282 Miles.

Papers can have arrangements to advertise the Schedule at this company will please print as above.
For further information address
JOHN R. MACMURDO,
Gen'l Passenger Agent,
Richmond, Va.

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE.

RALEIGH & GASTON RAILROAD CO.

On and after Friday, May 22nd, 1874, trains on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad, will run daily (sunday excepted) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Leave Raleigh, 8.45 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon, 3.30 P. M.
Leaves Weldon, 9.50 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh, 4.35 P. M.

ACCOMMODATION TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh, 5.15 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon, 5.15 P. M.
Leaves Weldon, 2.35 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh, 2.45 P. M.

Mail train makes close connection at Weldon, with the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad and Bay Line Steamers via Baltimore, to and from all points North, West and North-west, and with Petersburg Railroad via Petersburg, Richmond and Washington City, to and from all points North and North-west.

And at Raleigh with the North Carolina Railroad to and from all points South and Southwest, and with the Raleigh & Augusta Air Line to Hay wood and Fayetteville.

RALEIGH & AUGUSTA AIR-LINE RAILROAD.

SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,
Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 27th, 1875.

On and after Monday, October 25th, 1875, trains on the R. & A. A. L. Road will run daily, (Sundays excepted,) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Train leaves Raleigh, 4.00 P. M.
Arrives at Sanford, 6.05 "
Train leaves Sanford, 6.30 A. M. arrives at Raleigh, 9.20 "

FREIGHT TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh, 5.15 A. M.
Arrives at Sanford 10.35 A. M.
Leaves Sanford, 1.00 P. M.
arrives at Raleigh 3.50 P. M.

Mail Train makes close connection at Raleigh with the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, to and from all points North.

And at Sanford with the Western Railroad, to and from Fayetteville and points on Western Railroad.

OFFICE SUPT. OF TRANSPORTATION,
Seaboard & Roanoke R. R. Co.,
Portsmouth, Va., Jan. 1st, 1875.

On and after this date, trains of this Road will leave Weldon daily, Sundays excepted, as follows:

Mail train at	4 P. M.
No. 1 Freight train at	4 A. M.
No. 2 Freight train at	8 A. M.

ARRIVE AT PORTSMOUTH.

Mail train at	7 15 P. M.
No 1 Freight at	12 00 NOON.
No 2 Freight at	4 00 P. M.

Freight trains have a passenger car attached.

Steamer for Edenton, Plymouth and Landings on Blackwater and Chowan Rivers leave Franklin at 7.40 A. M. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

E. G. GHIO,
Supt. Transportation.

OLD NORTH STATE
FIRE
Insurance Company,
OF
WARRENTON, - - - - - N. C.,

This Company has closed its third year in a condition of GREAT PROSPERITY, and entered upon its fourth year under the MOST PROMISING AUSPICES.

It deserves the liberal patronage which it is receiving because

It is a home institution.
It has ample Capital and Reserves.
It pays its losses promptly.

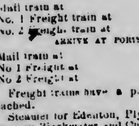
ASSETS.

Cash on hand and in Bank,.....	$ 8,621 53
Cash in hands of Agents,.....	4,994 00
Stock Notes,.....	48,670 00
Real Estates Mortgage,.....	59,898 80
Loaned on Collaterals,.....	7,647 66
Due for premiums,.....	3,723 68
Interest due and accrued,.....	944 55
	$180,297 19

LIABILITIES:

All liabilities including full re-insurance Reserved,...	$16,460 61
Surplus,.....	111,816 58
	$180,297 19

WM. S. DAVIS, President.
E. P. LONG, Secretary.



apl 12 1y.

AGENTS FIND THAT THE FULL HISTORY OF THE Wonderful career of MOODY & SANKEY in Great Britain and America is a success everywhere. All want it—rich or poor. From 5 to 20 books a day's work. It is the only complete work published, containing Mr. Moody's Sermons and Prayer Meeting Talks, Sankey's Addresses, and everything of interest. Has 563 pages, steel portrait, and 12 engravings. Price $2. Address H. S. GOODSPEED & CO., 14 Barclay Street, New York.

OAKSHADE BERKSHIRES!

First-Class, pure Blooded Pigs, of the best families ever imported to the United states, entitled to entry in the Berkshire Record, constantly for sale. Prices at 2½ months old, delivered to Express, $10 each.
Also half breed Cotswold Lambs at $10 each.
1 Pure Angora Buck at $25.
T. W. Harris,
Oakshade Farm, Pittsboro, N. C.
June 7-1y.

A NEW BOOK.
"Our Children."

This is the title of a new book now in press by Rev. Atticus G. Haygood, D.D., President of Emory College, with an introduction by Dr. Lovick Pierce. The book is to contain nearly 400 pages 12 mo. and to be gotten out in the very best style. Price $1.50 per copy. We give the table of contents which can but sharpen the appetite of the reader for the coming volume. It is emphatically a book for parents, preachers and children.

TABLE OF CONTENTS.
Part I—The Family.

Chapter. I. Childhood.
II. Childhood and Religion.
III. Prevention of Sin an Invaluable Blessing.
IV. The Enlightening and Quickening Spirit.
V. on More Ability to Talk Religion.
VI. "Feed My Lambs."
VII. The Family—its Basis in Marriage.
VIII. The Family—The Basis of Church and State.
IX. The Family—A School of Religion.
X. The Duty of Teaching God's Word to our Children.
XI. Training as well as Teaching.
XII. What Human Parenthood Should Signify.
XIII. Home Influences.
XIV. The Christian Home.
XV. The Family Altar.
XVI. Eli and His Sons.
XVII. Ichabod.

Part II—The Sunday School.

Chapter. I. The Magnitude of the Movement.
II. The Sunday School Auxiliary.
III. The Function of the Sunday School.
IV. Who around be in the Sunday School.
V. Hemdrig Plans.
VI. The Power of the Right Spirit.
VII. A Light in a Dark Place.
VIII. Stones as a Means of Grace.
IX. Burning Bikes.
X. Into an Sunday School Work.

Price, $1.50 per copy, postage paid to any address. The work will be ready in about three weeks. We are now taking Advance orders.

To Preachers, Twenty-Five Per Cent Discount
Send by P. O. Money Order or Draft or by Express
We have taken the agency for the book in Raleigh, and we would be pleased to furnish to the preachers of the Conference, Sunday schools and others who may wish a liberal and charming book
Send in your orders at once, and the book will be promptly forwarded

Address,
CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE
Raleigh, N. C.

RECEIVED TODAY,
Saturday May 27,

10,000 yards more of those beautiful PACIFIC LAWNS at 10 cents per yard. The handsomest we have ever had.

We call the ladies' attention to our DRESS GOODS, which we are selling lower than any house in the city. Our BLACK GRENADINES at 50 cents can't be undersold.

A beautiful line of figured ALL LINEN LAWNS.

Ready made Linen Dresses for ladies,

The largest Stock of Hosiery in the State. Ladies' Hose from 10 cents to 75 cents.

Gents Half Hose 10 to 60 cents a pair.

Belding Bros'. Superior Sewing Silk in all the colors. The dress-makers pronounce it to be the best in the market.

Large stock of Corsets in the city from 50 cents to $2.50.

A full line of Gentlemen's Cassimeres and Underwear,

We have also just received a new supply of our Custom-Made Shirts—ready made, superior to any in the city, at $1.25.

Hamburg Edgings, Ladies' Neck Ties, Gents' Ties—a beautiful line.

More of those handsome Parasols, which we are selling at a small price.

TO MERCHANTS

We will be glad at any time to show them through our stock, for we can save them some money if they will give us a call.

PETTY & JONES,
20 Fayetteville Street,
Raleigh, N. C.
June 7-tf.

ESTABLISHED 1853.

NEARLY A QUARTER OF A CENTURY'S EXPERIENCE IN THE Boot & Shoe Business.

MARCUS HARRIS & BRO.,
OF NO. 1321 MAIN STREET,
Richmond, Va.,
WHOLESALE DEALERS IN
Boots and Shoes, have opened at the Store,
No. 15 Fayetteville Street.

One door above Alfred Williams' Book Store, Raleigh, N. C., a wholesale and retail Shoe Store, where will be found a complete assortment of Ladies', Misses' and Children's Shoes of every description; a good line of Gentlemen's and Boys Boots and Shoes; also a very cheap line of Trunks and Satchels.

We are prepared to sell cheaper than any other house in Raleigh, as we buy in very large quantities from the first hands at extremely low prices.

Ladies are especially invited to call and examine our stock.

We wish to call the attention of the trade to our stock, as we can supply them as low as they can be bought further North.

All orders promptly attended to. Persons at a distance can order shoes, and have the privilege of returning the same, if they do not fit or suit.

Goods sent by Express C. O. D.

We have only one price, and that the very lowest. Our Terms are Strictly CASH.

Mr. C. Hutchings, formerly with A. Creedy, is with us, and will be pleased to see his friends and acquaintances.

MARCUS HARRIS & BRO.,
No. 15 Fayetteville Street,
Raleigh, N. C.
H. WISTREE, Salesman.
June 21-3m.

NEW FIRM
TO FRIENDS AND PUBLIC GENERALLY

I have associated with me Mr. G. D. Rand (formerly Rand & Barbee, Lumber Dealers,) as a partner in the wholesale and retail Grocery and General Commission business. I respectfully tender my thanks for past favors and hope to have them continued with the new firm. Yours truly,
January 6, 1876. L. R. WYATT.

G. D. RAND. L. R. WYATT.

RAND & WYATT,
Wholesale and Retail Grocers
AND
COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

Have on hand and constantly receiving a fresh and first class stock of

GROCERIES

consisting of Flour, a specialty, Meal, Corn, Bacon Lard, Sugar, Coffee, Pepper and Spice, Molasses (new crop) Cane, Syrup, Toilet and Laundry, Soaps, Wood and Willow Ware, Fancy Groceries, &c.

Everything embraced in a First Class Grocery which we propose to sell at Lowest figures.—Give us a trial. Orders with proper reference respectfully solicited, which shall receive our prompt attention. Consignment of Cotton and other produce solicited. Best prices guaranteed
Yours truly,
RAND & WYATT,
Opp. East end of Market, Hare se, N. C.
July 12 1 y

ROCK SPRING SEMINARY.
MALE AND FEMALE

The next Term begins 1st Wednesday in August, and continues 20 weeks. Board $8 per month. Tuition $5 to $20 per term. Music $18. For circular apply to
D. MATT THOMPSON, Principal,
Denver, Lincoln Co., N. C.
July 12-6w.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.

Superior Bells of Copper and Tin, mounted with the best Rotary Hangings, for Churches, Schools, Farms, Factories, Court Houses, Fire Alarms, Tower Clocks, Chimes, etc. Fully Warranted.
Illustrated Catalogue sent Free.
VANDUZEN & TIFT,
102 and 104 East Second St., Cincinnati
may 17 1 y.

SEND 25c. to G. P. ROWELL & CO., New York for Pamphlet of 100 pages, containing lists of 3000 newspapers, and estimates showing cost of advertising.
mch

NEVER BEFORE EQUALLED.
The Largest Stock
ON RECORD!!!

C. WEIKEL HAS RETURNED!

HE IS STILL AT THE OLD STAND WITH A LARGE ASSORTMENT OF SPRING GOODS
THAN EVER.
U. S. CENTENNIAL GOODS.
FOURTH JULY CENTENNIAL GOODS.
1776. Latest Styles. 1876.

Look at my latest Fashion Plates and choose your style.

CLOTHS,
CASSIMERES,
SUITINGS.

In fact anything you want. Come and see me, I know I can suit you.

WEIKEL'S ESTABLISHMENT
Is at the old place, one door South of the Southern Express Office.
I GUARANTEE ALL MY FITS.
C. WEIKEL.
May 3-3m.

MUSIC AND MUSIC BOOKS!

The Salutation.
New Church Music Book by L. O. Emerson. $13.80, or $12. per dozen.

The Encore
[Nearly ready]. For Singing Schools. By L. O. Emerson. 75 cts., or $7.50 per dozen.

Centennial Collection of National Songs
Patriotic Songs of all nations. Paper 40 cts. Boards 50 cts.

Shining River.
Song Book for Sabbath Schools By W. O. Perkins. 35 cts.

Centennial Hymn
Whittier—Paine. 30c., 8 vo. form for Societies, 10 cts; Arr. for Orchestra, $1.00.
Gov. Hayes' Grand March. With Portrait. 40c.
Tilden & Hendricks' Grand March. With Port. 40c.
"Roll Along, Roll Along." Campaign Song. 40c.
"Hayes and Wheeler are our Choice." 30c.

IN PRESS.
Emerson's Chorus Book, for Societies
Whippoorwill. Song book for Schools.
Make Weight Book.
Any Book or Piece sent, post-paid, for retail price.
OLIVER DITSON & CO., Boston.
C. H. Ditson & Co., 711 Broadway, New York
J. E. Ditson & Co., Successors to Lee & Walker, Phila.

STIEFF
GRAND, SQUARE, AND UPRIGHT
PIANOS

Have received upwards of FIFTY FIRST PREMIUMS and are among the best now made. Every instrument fully warranted for five years. Prices as low as the exclusive use of the very best materials and the most thorough workmanship will permit. The principal pianists and the people, and how praise-worthy the public of the south especially, unite in the most unanimous respect of the superiority of the STIEFF PIANO. The DURABILITY of our instruments is fully established by over sixty second class colleges in the South, using over $90 of our Pianos.

Sole Whol

Raleigh Christian Advocate.

Bobbitt & Gray, Publishers. | Published in the Interests of Methodism in North Carolina. | $2.20 Per Annum, in Advance.

Vol. XXII.---No. 35. | Raleigh, N. C., Wednesday, August 30, 1876. | Whole No. 1,123.

Communicated.

For the Advocate.

The Unwelcome Preacher. A Reminiscence

Messrs Editors: The perusal and republication of this Reminiscence, though originally published in 1856, might comfort some poor itinerant of the present day similarly situated. "In the fall of 1823, the Methodists of a certain town in Kentucky concluded that they were able, though but twenty two in number, to support a preacher by themselves. Accordingly they wrote to the Conference, requesting the Bishop to make a station of their village. But, considering their want of numerical and financial strength, it was deemed all important that the minister sent them should be a man of popular talents, because, unless he could command the admiration and conciliate the favor of the people, there was danger of failing to support him.

They therefore asked for a brother Johnson, at that time one of the most popular and effective ministers in the State, and made the getting of that particular man the condition upon which they wished to become a station. To them it was clear that the destinies of Methodism, if not of Christianity itself, in that particular region, depended upon their having the man they wanted this year. It was thought advisable, however, to station brother Johnson elsewhere.

There was in the Conference at the time, a young man who had just been received into full connection, without experience or reputation as a preacher, and by nature singularly disqualified for any position where his sensibilities were likely to be tried. Tender hearted, and addicted to gloom, exposure to rude treatment, or what would be worse, a cold reception from those to whom he might be sent, would dishearten him at once. Some such treatment most probably awaited any man save brother Johnson who might be sent to the town of which we speak, yet this young man was selected to go.

Fortunately, however, the Bishop was to accompany him.

It is known to as many as were acquainted with Bishop George, that his most noticeable characteristic was preparedness. The frequency, fervor, and singular power with which he addressed the throne of grace, are mentioned as often as a reminiscence of him is made. During their journey of some two hundred miles, on horseback, the young preacher had abundant opportunity to observe and imbibe the spirit of this excellent man. Whenever they stopped for meals, rest, lodging, or to see and encourage some pious family, whose residence by the way was known to them, they had a season of prayer.

When about twelve miles from the place of the young man's destination, at the house of a brother S., the Bishop was attached with asthma, a disease to which he was very liable. The remedies which usually relieved him were tried without effect; the man of God got no better. At length he sent for the young preacher, and directing his attention to the sublime description of the New Jerusalem, contained in the book of Revelation, desired him to take his Bible into the grove, meditate upon the passage for a season, and then come in and preach to him about it.

"For," said he, "I want to get happy. If my soul were powerfully blessed, I think it would cure my body." The young man, ever distrustful of his own powers, was alarmed at the idea. He begged to be excused; and prompted as much perhaps by fear as by faith, recommended to the Bishop his never failing expedient for "getting happy"---prayer

"Well," said the sick man, "go out, my son, and shut the door, let me be left alone."

His wish was complied with. In another moment he was composing his mind to its favorite employment: Elijah, wrapped in the mantle of prayer, was alone with God.

For a moment all was silent; but at length loud and repeated praises issued from the sick room. The family gathered round to rejoice with the man of prayer; and the immediate effect of the excitement was a cure of the malady so effectual that the travelers proceeded on their journey in the morning.

But before they started, the good brother with whom they were sojourning, broke to the unsuspecting young preacher the shocking intelligence, already in the reader's possession, that he would be an unwelcome arrival at the place of his appointment. Of course, he was sunk at once into the deepest dejection.

Possessed of keen perception of the painful, nervously sensitive to any unkindness, he was the very man to be overwhelmed in such a situation. Personal danger, trial, toil, would not have daunted him; but to be coldly pushed off as not welcome, to feel that he was imposed upon a people who did not want him, was what he could not bear. Instantly resolving, therefore not to submit to such a mortification, he hastened to communicate his discovery and his purpose to the superintendent. The Bishop, aware of the feeling of revolt with which his protege was liable to be met, exhorted him, nevertheless, to determine upon nothing rashly; to wait till he saw the place and people, and in the mean while, give himself to prayer; adding that he felt persuaded all the while that the appointment was right, and in the end would prove providential. This advice was reluctantly taken.

Arrived at the new station, they were guests of a prominent member of the church, known for many years afterwards as the usual host and fast friend of the preachers. The next morning, as the Bishop was preparing to pursue his journey, he and the good brother of the house were conversing together in the parlor, while unknown to them and without design, the young preacher was sitting on the porch near the window, with nothing but a thin curtain between him and them, so that what passed within was distinctly audible to him. "Well, brother," said the Bishop, "how will the young man do?" "Not at all, he will not do at all, sir: we might as well be left without a preacher altogether," was the emphatic reply.

"Oh! I hope you will like him better after awhile,' rejoined the old man. 'Treat him kindly, and I am persuaded he will do you good."

"I have no objection" returned the host, "to his staying at my house for a few weeks, if you desire it; but it will be useless, he is not the one we wanted."

The poor young man could hear no more, he crept from the porch almost blind with mortification. The thought that he was to remain with a people who considered him a tolerated burden---that every mouthful he ate was to be a charity---that he was to be a young and healthy mendicant---sickened him.

He was lying in wait as the Bishop sallied forth, and drawing him to a spot where they were sheltered from observation, he burst into tears, exclaiming: "O Bishop! I can not stay: I heard what passed in the room, and indeed you must release me."

"Can you get your horse and ride a little way with me?' This he did with alacrity---glad of even an hour's respite from his painful position.

After riding a few miles, they turned off into the woods, and dismounting by a fallen tree, engaged in solemn and importunate prayer---prayer for light and help in that dark and trying hour. Then taking the hand of his companion, the Bishop turned upon him a look of love which none but a strong, stern heart can feel---so deep and genuine was it, so full of serious concern and earnest sympathy.

There is a smile too bright to be deep: it is born and it dies on the surface. Not such was the expression of the good man's face; it shined clear up from a heart constrained by the love of Christ. It did not glitter, but its glow seemed to pervade and warm its object. A truly pious, stern man is always gentle, and he only can impart that look which like the remembered smile of a mother, will sometimes soothe us into delicious tears twenty years after the face that wore it has perished.

He concluded an address fraught with parental feeling and sound wisdom, with---"Now, my son, I will make you a proposition, see if you can fulfill the conditions of it.

"Go back to town if you find a cross there bear it diligently; and lovingly perform every part of your duty; 'do the work of an evangelist;' visit once a week, and spend one hour of each day in special prayer, that God may open your way in that community: do this for one month, and if, at the end of that term, you do not feel willing to stay, consider yourself released from the appointment. Can you do this?"

He thought he could, upon which they took an affectionate leave of each other; and Enoch George---what significance a little to such a man!---turned toward the South-west, and resumed his pilgrimage of hardships. The young man sat upon his horse watching the receding form till it sank out of sight below the horizon. Not until that moment had he fairly tasted the exquisite bitterness of his cup. The "man-angel" upon whom he had leaned was gone, and he was left to grapple with his trial alone. He could have sobbed like any boy.

Faithfully did he comply with the conditions of his promise, through all the tedious month, without discerning any material change in his own feelings or in the bearing of his people toward him: albeit one wicked man and his wife had from the beginning endeavored to encourage him.

Finally the last Sabbath arrived, of the month during which he had promised to stay. The glad village bells were pealing their summons to the house of God, as our hero---was he not a hero?---arose from the struggle of the last covenanted hour of prayer. He walked toward the little attic window, which commanded a view of most of the streets, wiping his eyes and thinking of the few reluctant hearers who awaited him, when lo! what a sight met his gaze! Group after group of citizens were flocking toward the Methodist church! At first a sense of awe came over him, and then a class of mingled feelings, as if confidence, and strength, and joy were storming the heart, while fear, and weakness, and mortification still disputed the right of possession.

He hastened to his pulpit, and as he arose from the first silent prayer, the thought of victory thrilled through him like the voice of a clarion. His text was Isaiah 6:4; "And the posts of the door moved at the voice of him that cried." The attention of the audience was arrested by the announcement, for the voice that had been wont to tremble with embarrassment now rang clear with a tone of authority; his eye, hitherto confused and unsteady, now kindled with "a light that never shined on sea or shore." Fresh from the chamber where he had just accomplished his thirtieth hour of special prayer, the live coal had touched his lips; he was with a witness, "a man sent from God," and gloriously baptized with the Holy Ghost. He referred his text back to the point at which Christ first interpose for man's salvation; the voice that cried: "Lo! I come to do thy will;" he applied it to the sacrificial offering of Jesus---the voice that cried: "It is finished;" he carried forward the application to "the right hand of the majesty on high," where the Intercessor makes his dying words immortal, crying with infinite iteration: "Father, forgive them;" to the day when the sound shall make its next impression upon "the dull, cold ear of death," when at the "voice of the son of God, the dead, small and great, shall rise."

The power of the Highest was manifestly upon the audience, and the presence of an Ambassador of Christ was attested by sobs and groans from every part of the house. The preacher descended from the pulpit, without pausing in his discourse; he invited to the place of prayer those who desired to flee the wrath to come. With loud cries for mercy, sinners came streaming down the aisle, and before the congregation were dismissed, seven souls professed to find peace in believing.

When the meeting broke up, the pastor hastened back to his closet. Many a time had he entered it disheartened and sad: never before in triumph. He thought of good Bishop George, and his steady persuasion that the appointment was "right;" of the fastings and prayers---all the way down to the last hour's experience---and his faith in God and in the efficacy of prayer, then and there settled down into a substance upon which time has made no impression. Thirty-one years of toil and change have passed over him since that sweet Sabbath; the vicissitudes of an itinerant life have led him through heat and cold, by night and day, from one end of Kentucky to the other, till.

"He is known to every star,
And every wind that blows."

Forms then unknown, afterwards became dear as life, and then perished from his sight; "sickness and sorrow, pain and death," have left their scars upon his form and heart, but nothing has ever shaken his confidence in the God that answers prayer. The memory of that bright morning is as fresh beneath his gray hairs as it was beneath his locks of jet.

Like trampled chammomile, the virtues of his spirit took deeper root for being bruised, and shed a perfume that has sweetened life's atmosphere ever since. For four weeks very little else was attended to but the revival. Stores and shops were closed during the hours of worship, which occurred twice, and often three times a day. At one of the meetings, held in a private house (where the venerable John Littlejohn was present) a call was made for those who wished to join the church, and one hundred and eleven persons presented themselves for admission! Thus the permanent establishment of Methodism in Russellville, Kentucky, was effected, under God, through the instrumentality of---The Unwelcome Preacher."

It will doubtless add to the interest of the foregoing narrative for the reader to know, that the subject of it was our former worthy Book Agent, Rev. E. Stevenson, D. D.

WILL.

Man must repent and believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and he shall be saved. He needs pardon and purity; the old way is the way of holiness.

Search the Scriptures daily with earnest prayer for the light and love of God.

For the Advocate.

FOREIGN LETTER.

The Conference of the Methodist Free Churches is in session in Sheffield; and the Rev. T. Booth was elected President. The increase in the membership for the year was 5,000. The ministerial delegates are always in a majority over the laymen although if the people willed it the assembly might be composed altogether of laymen. A layman has never been elected President.

The Wesleyan Conference met on Wednesday last, and proceeded to fill the vacancies in the Legal Hundred. There were nine vacancies, four by superannuation and five by death.---Five were filled by seniority and four by nomination. Those elected by seniority were the Revs. Robert Coom, Joseph Heaton, Peter Budd and Levi Waterhouse; and those elected by nomination were the Revs John Bond, E. J. Robinson, G. W. Oliver and David Hay. These four are all men of mark and influence, able ministers of the gospel and loyal to Wesleyan polity and doctrine.

The election for President was proceeded with when the vacancies in the Hundred were filled up---and the result was the elevation of the Rev. A. McAulay to the chair of the Conference, a tribute to his worth and success as a zealous and faithful minister. Mr. McAulay is not so well known to outsiders as many of his distinguished predecessors and may not be as popular with Wesleyans themselves, but he will discharge the duties of his high office with credit to himself and the body which honoured him with their highest mark of distinction and honor. The President has always been elected by a very large majority. Last year the votes were Gervase Smith 274; Alexander McAulay 94. This year they were Alexander McAulay, 146; Dr J. H. Rogg, 137; Samuel Coley, 126.

There was an open session of the Conference held on the evening of the first day to give the public the opportunity of hearing the delegates from other Conferences. The large chapel was crowded and addresses were delivered by the Rev. J. W. McKay, from Ireland; G T Perks, from South Africa; Dr Ryerson, from Canada; and James Buller, from New Zealand.

Lay representation will be discussed and some scheme of representation may be adopted. The matter cannot much longer be delayed.

The Primitive Methodist Conference was held in New Castle on Tyne, and the Rev J Dickenson was elected President. This flourishing and laborious denomination had an increase of 7,000 in its membership during the year.

The Methodist New Connexion Conference met in Dewsbury, and the Rev. C. D. Ward was elected President. An increase of nearly 1,000 was reported in the membership.

The Primitive Wesleyan Conference assembled in Dublin and elected the Rev. T. C. Maguire as its President. This body has no existence out of Ireland, and is steadily decreasing. For several years the subject of union with the Wesleyan Church in Ireland has been entertained and considered by both bodies, but the financial difficulties are so formidable that the union is considered impracticable and the matter is almost abandoned. The Primitive Wesleyans cannot much longer exist as a distinct body.

The Irish Wesleyan Conference was held in Dublin and the Rev. Gervase Smith presided. His companions from England were the Revs. John Kelner, J W Greeves, W M Punshon, LL.D., and J H James, D. D. Drs. Punshon and James are ex-Presidents and attended the Irish Conference several times before. Mr. Kelner and Mr. Greeves attended this year for the first time. The President's son, who is a minister, was present and occupied a seat on the platform.

This Conference adopted a scheme of lay representation which will take effect next year, and at the Conference of 1877 to be held in Cork laymen will be associated with the ministers in its deliberations.

The representatives to the English Conference were the Revs. J. W. McKay, Wallace McMullan, and Wesley Guard. And the ministers elected chairmen of Districts were the Revs. W. G. Price, George Vance, Edward Guard, E. M. Banks, John Hazelton, R Maxwell, J. D. Powell, Fred Elliott and J. W. McKay. Mr. Powell and Mr. Elliott were elected for the first time and suitably acknowledged the compliment.

Irish Wesleyanism was never so flourishing and vigorous as now. All its interests are prospering and although emigration continues to deplete its membership, the Conference was able to report an increase.

PENHOLDER.

August 1st, 1876.

Mr. Marquand, of New York, has given $150,000 for a new college chapel at Princeton.

For the Advocate.

HIGHER FINISH.

The world very boldly declares that there is a higher culture, and a more exquisite finish than any denominational institution can give; and not a few assert that some other denominations in this respect greatly surpass Methodism. Hence they send both sons and daughters to be educated, at least to be finished as they say, by others. This is an error, carefully fostered by interested parties, and not a little injurious to us. The education imparted by the institutions belonging to the North Carolina Conference is correct. They teach Latin, natural science, mathematics, English literature, music, &c., correctly.---They are thoroughly posted in all advances, improvements and discoveries: their teaching is as accurate as at any place in the world; they teach the truth neither less nor more, and others can do nothing better. They teach as much as any pupil can possibly acquire in the time given, and they require as much time as any other institutions. Even granting that others could advance their students further, they cannot do it in the time. Hence their scholarship is neither more accurate, nor more extensive; and to assert that it is either is arrogant assumption without possible foundation in fact.

As to the finish, a very fair test will be to visit the commencements. In this we fear not comparisons. We are perfectly willing for the commencements at Trinity and Greensboro to be compared with any on the continent. As to manners, culture, tone of mind, general intelligence, sense common and uncommon, and all the accomplishments of the gentleman or the lady, those who are seeking higher culture abroad, have not known the graduates from our colleges. If our graduated boys and girls could be known by the people generally, seen in society and really understood, great good would accrue to Methodist education.

As to effectiveness after graduation, we speak only now of the Trinity alumni; and their success is perhaps without a parallel. Trinity is not to be measured by the hundreds who have been partially educated within her walls, but by her graduated scholars. These have had brilliant success, and just now are rather remarkable among theirsing young men of the State.

The finish really meant seems to be a question of morals, rather than of intellectual culture. We do not teach either boy or girls to dance, play whist or drink wine. In these things we have no shining qualities, and those who estimate these as accomplishment will probably pronounce Methodist culture inferior. At the ball, the fashionable summer resort, the card table, and gay scenes generally, Methodism has no place and makes no pretension. If these are points of high culture claimed, let it be so asserted, and we yield all claim to consideration: but if higher culture means scholarship, soul-growth, mental and moral elegance and excellence, preparation to meet life's highest and noblest duties and offices in the best manner, comprehension and appreciation of the "True, the Beautiful and the Good," with discipline to use all power to the best advantage, then Methodism in North Carolina claims to be a par with the best.

C.

The Japanese Architecture at Philadelphia.

The Japanese houses are entitled to even more careful regard, and show charming novelties in their joinery, and expressive carved work, as well as an almost perfect system of tile roofing. In this latter respect, no structures on the grounds, and on houses in the country, will compare with them. It is not so much that the tile are sound and firm in themselves, as that they are laid with such precision, and so solidly bedded,---so sharply trimmed in the valleys and so thoroughly dressed, and capped, on the ridges and hips of the building,---that they would seem to defy alike winds, snow, rains or the wear of time. Add to this the graceful jutting roofiets of their porches with the characteristic droop of rafter,---the valleys and ridge upon porch being treated with the same rigorous precision and are as the longer valleys,---and the result is a roof that seems almost perfect in its office, and is picturesque in the extreme. The side walls sheathed up after their own fashion with covering boards which are uncolored and relieved with no architectural decoration, is only noticeable for the extreme nicety of the joinery. The same is also observable wherever timbers meet: but we question much if our Japanese friends have taken sufficient provision against the merciless intensity of our American sun; unoiled and unpainted wood will have serious work in resisting the fiery glare without opening its seams, or showing rang[illegible] joints. ---Donald G. Mitchell in Inter for Sept.

What is Conversion

Suppose, for answer, you turn to an account of a remarkable conversion, that of the so-called penitent thief in Luke xxiv: 39-42.

This man was one of those brigands who still in some measure, infests the Holy Land, and were its bane and terror in the time of Christ. It is probable that he belonged to the band of Barnabas, and that the crime of murder was, in his case, added to that of rapine and plunder. It is almost certain that he belonged to those zealots who, under religion made a show of sedition against the Roman government for the purpose of plundering their own fellow Israelites. If a man ever needed a radical conversion this man did.

And it is certain that he was converted. There may be a doubt in other cases, and there is doubt in many of so-called death bed repentance. But all doubts are at rest concerning the penitent thief, by Christ's explicit declaration, "To day shalt thou be with me in paradise." Let us see then, what took place in this man when he was converted.

He was not baptized, and he joined no Church. If either were the door to the kingdom of heaven it would have been forever barred against him. It does not follow that you, who can be baptized and join the Church, need not do so: but it does follow that neither is conversion, nor essential to salvation.

The account tells us nothing of this man's creed. He was, undoubtedly, a Jew, and believed in one God, and his request indicates some sort of belief in Jesus, as the Messiah of the Jews. Pilate had written in raillery over the cross. "This is the King of the Jews." The dying brigand, impressed by the spiritual presence of Christ, accepted this Roman raillery as divine truth, and recognized in the crucified One a future King. But of the nature and mission of Christ, of the character of His kingdom, of the nature of the personality and work of the Holy Spirit, there is no reason whatever to suppose he knew anything. The veriest child in one of our infant schools could, probably, have instructed him in theology. My friend, our creeds are not to conduct us to Christ, but Christ to our creeds. He is the Light that lighteth every man and we do not need burn our dim candles in order to come to Him.

There were, in the experience of this converted brigand, just two elements. First, he made a frank, open, public confession of the wrong of his life. There were no tears, no despair, not bitter conflict, no long and torturing remorse; but there was an open and public confession of sin. And there is no better evidence of a real change of heart and life than such a confession as his. "We are justly condemned; for we receive the due reward of our deeds." It is very easy for a school-boy to say, "I have done wrong, and am sorry for it;' but when smarting under the rod, or sitting a solitary prisoner in his room, to say, "This is just what I deserve,' is another matter. It is easy for the business man to say in general terms, "I have not always acted on strict principles; no man can, and succeed.' But it is a very difficult thing for the insolvent, in the humiliation of his insolvency, to say, "This is a just consequence of my own wild over-speculation.' In the case of the penitent thief there was such a confession as this, made openly before the taunting priests, and to his own comrade in evil.

And there was a simple trust in the One crucified by his side, as a Savior and King. Indeed, I know of no illustration in history of trust so marvelous. The end of the dream of Christ, as King, seemed to have come. The priests of Israel stood there taunting Him with His powerlessness. The passers-by joined in their jeers. The soldiers rattled their dice at the foot of the cross and left their game only to mock the "King of the Jews.' The disciples, at a distance, wept out their despair at the death of Him whom they had trusted, and He who was to redeem Israel. In this very hour of defeat, and darkness, and despair, the dying brigand still believed the crowned sufferer was in truth a king, and looked forward with a real, though vague and ill-defined hope of his future coming and coronation.---And when darkness gathered over the scene, and the Sufferer's head drooped upon His breast, and with a loud cry, "My God, my God, why hast Thou forsaken me?" He gave up His spirit the dying brigand still hoped and trusted in a Messiah who, to all human vision, was powerless to protect either Himself or His followers.

Have I answered your question? If not, shall I answer it if I say that conversion is simply an open, frank, and hearty renunciation of sin, and a simple confiding trust in Jesus as a Saviour and King, as the one Lord, to whom the soul owes and will ever pay its supreme and glad allegiance?---Christian Weekly.

Cleansing the Temple.

The Lord comes to us to raise up from the tower to the higher planes of our being. He came to the earth for that purpose. But when he comes he finds the courts of our minds preoccupied with selfish and worldly affections and false principles. These must be driven out; and this work of cleansing he seeks to accomplish. This work on our part is repentance. We must cease to do evil, before we can learn to do well. One reason why we make so little progress in spiritual life is our reluctance and dilatoriness in removing the evils and falsities which obstruct the entrance of the divine life into our minds. We try to get the good of spiritual affections before we remove the evil. We long for the purity and peace of heaven; but we do not expel the mercenary affections which cause the disembalmed of our peace. We cannot get harmony from an instrument when it is out of tune. We cannot reap harvests of wheat from ground preoccupied by thistles. Every man in whom the work of sanctification has commenced mourns over his evils at times, and longs to be freed from them. But how few there are who go resolutely and faithfully to work to expel them: who look upon every selfish and worldly affection which has usurped the courts of the Lord's temple in them, as an enemy, and who scourge them out. How reluctant we are to say to pride, to envy, to malice, to all uncharitableness, and to that supreme love of the world which leads us to estimate natural things more highly than spiritual things, "Leave these courts of the Lord," and to persist in our efforts till they are driven out. It is hard work, it is painful work. These evil affections will not go of themselves. There is no use in waiting for them to depart.---Selected.

"Jesus, Lover of My Soul".

The brothers John and Charles Wesley, with Richard Pilmore, were one evening holding a twilight meeting on the common, when they were attacked by a mob, and fled from its fury for their lives. The first place of refuge they found, after having been for some time separated, was a hedgerow near at hand, behind which they hid a few minutes, protecting themselves from serious injury by the missiles that fell like hail about them, by clasping their hands above their heads as they lay with their faces in the dust. As night drew on, the darkness enabled them to leave their temporary retreat for a safer one at some distance. They found their way at last to a spring house, where, in comparative security, they waited for their pursuers to weary of seeking them. "Here they struck a light with a flint stone," dusted their soiled and tattered garments, and after quenching their thirst, bathed their hands and faces in the water that bubbled from the spring and flowed away in a sparkling streamlet. Then it was that Charles Wesley was inspired to write "Jesus, lover of my soul," with a bit of lead which he had hammered into a pencil.

These circumstances beautifully illustrate the hymn, giving to almost every line a reality that makes it peculiarly significant to every loving christian heart. They had fled before their enemies, and found shelter from danger; he sang,

"Jesus, lover of my soul,
Let me to thy bosom fly.

The Traveler in the Snow.

A traveler was crossing a mountain height alone over almost untrodden snows. Warning had been given him that if slumber pressed down upon his weary eyelids, they would inevitably be sealed in death. For a time he went bravely along his path. But with the deepening shade and freezing blast of night, there fell a weight upon his brain and eyes which seemed to be irresistible. In vain he tried to reason with himself; in vain he strained his utmost energies to shake off that fatal heaviness. At this crisis of his fate, his foot struck against a heap that lay across his path. No stone was that, although no stone could be colder or more lifeless. He stooped to touch it, and found a human body half buried beneath a fresh coat of snow. The next moment the traveler had taken a brother in his arms and was chafing his hands, and chest and brow, breathing upon the stiff, cold lips the warm breath of a living soul: pressing the silent heart to the beating pulses of his own generous bosom.

The effort to save another had brought back to himself life and warmth and energy. He was a man not, shall I answer it if I say that conversion is simply an open, frank, and hearty renunciation of sin, and a simple confiding trust in Jesus as a Saviour and King, as the one Lord, to whom the soul owes and will ever pay its supreme and glad allegiance?---Christian Weekly.

The Latest Wonder of Telegraphy.

[From the Boston Traveller.]

The readers of the Traveller have been made acquainted with the wonderful inventions of Professor Bell, by which musical and vocal sounds can be and have been sent over the electric wires, but few, if any, are aware of the wonderful results which are sure to follow these improvements in telegraphy. A few nights ago Professor Bell was in communication with a telegraphic operator in New York, and commenced experimenting with one of his inventions pertaining to the transmission of musical sounds. He made use of his phonetic organ, and played the tune 'America,' and asked the operator in New York what he heard.

'I hear the tune of America,' replied New York; 'give us another.'

Professor Bell then played Auld Lang Syne.

'What do you hear now?'

'I hear the tune of Auld Lang Syne, with the full chords, distinctly,' replied New York.

Thus the astounding discovery has been made that a man can play upon musical instruments in New York, New Orleans, London or Paris, and be heard distinctly in Boston! If this can be done, why cannot distinguished performers execute the most artistic and beautiful music in Paris, and an audience assemble in Music Hall, Boston, to listen?

Professor Bell's other improvement---namely, the transmission of the human voice---has become so far perfected that persons have conversed over one thousand miles of wire with perfect ease, although as yet the vocal sounds are not loud enough to be heard by more than one or two persons. But if the human voice can now be sent over the wire, and so distinctly that when two or three known parties are telegraphing the voices of each can be recognized, we may soon have distinguished men delivering speeches in Washington, New York or London, and audiences assembled in Music Hall or Faneuil Hall to listen.

Blushing.

Darwin, in his work on "The Expression of the Emotion in Man and Animals," has an interesting chapter on blushing. This act, he tells us, is the most peculiar and the most human of all expressions. Animals never blush, although monkeys reduced from passion. We cannot produce blushing by any physical means; it is the mind which must be affected; and blushing is not only involuntary, but the wish to restrain it increases the tendency. While the young blush more freely than the old, infants do not blush; women blush more than men; the blind and deaf do not escape. It is usually the face, ears, and neck only, that redden; the blush does not extend over the body; but certain races who go habitually nearly naked blush over their arms and chests, and even down to their waists. The limitation to blushing to exposed parts is explained by the fact that these portions of the surface have been habitually exposed to the air, light, and alternations of temperature, by which the small arteries acquire the habit of readily dilating or contracting. Negroes blush but little; the Chinese rarely blush; the Polynesians blush freely; the young squaw of the American tribes has been seen to blush; the Kaffirs of South Africa never blush; neither do the Australians.

ROYALTY'S PROPERTY IN NEW YORK.---Some of the best real estate in New York is held by foreign princes. Several of the most expensive buildings in Broadway, in Broad-street and in Wall street are owned by the Empress Eugenie, who derives from them every year a rent of $865,000. The Duke of Nassau was here in 1868. He had bills of exchange to the amount of $1,500,000. He purchased tenements in Allen street that yield him 12 per cent on the capital invested. The Grand Duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, Frederick Francis II., is the owner of lots and houses in Elm street. Queen Victoria owns considerable real estate in Broadway, which stands in the name of an Englishman. The King of Sweden owns $500,000 worth of real estate in New York; and the Grand Duke Alexis owns a hotel in Broadway.

A Scotch paper gives the following instance of practical sympathy: "A poor man who had a large family broke his leg, and as he would be for some time destitute of the means of grace, it was proposed to hold a prayer-meeting at his house. The meeting was led by Deacon Brown. A loud knock at the door interrupted the service. A tall, lank, blue-frocked youngster stood at the door with an ox goad in his hand, and asked to see Deacon Brown. "Father could not attend this meeting," he said, "but he sent his prayers, and they are out in the cart." They were brought in in the shape of potatoes, beef, pork and corn."

The Christian Advocate.

OFFICE—Corner of Dawson & Hargett Sts

THE ORGAN
OF THE
NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE
OF THE
M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev J B Bobbitt, D D } Editors
R. T Gray, Esq. }

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION:

[illegible] IN ADVANCE, POSTAGE PAID, $2 00
[illegible] " " 1 75
[illegible] Department for three months 2 50
[illegible] " six months 1 00

RALEIGH, N. C., AUGUST 30, 1876.

All letters on business with this office should be addressed to the Christian Advocate, Raleigh, N. C.

The Cross (X) Mark is to remind you that your subscription has expired. Let all renew promptly

Fastidious Church Members.

The churches of the present day seem to have a superabundance of fastidious members—painfully particular, and yet sadly wanting in fervent piety. We do not make the assertion squarely that such is the case, yet events and facts are constantly transpiring which would seem to justify us in doing so. It is very clearly seen in church members who habitually find fault with their preachers and wonder why this or that pastor was not assigned to them instead of the one they have. We propose to mention some particulars in which the fastidiousness of the church, or some church members stands out most prominent, especially as regards preachers. The first we shall mention is the almost uniform verdict, that "an old man will not do." Ask why he will not do and a comprehensive and satisfactory reason is not given. If christian life means anything—if experience is worth anything, the older the minister the richer is his ministry, if he still retain his mental vigor. It is the old wine of the christian feast But somehow, now-a days, professed christians desire the new, notwithstanding the old is better. We feel sad indeed when our old men are denied the privilege of feeding the lambs. Again the fastidiousness of many modern disciples is manifest in their constant demand for something new in matter and manner. Is it not strange that the people in this enlightened day should expect anything from the pulpit but the gospel of the Son of God? In other days this was all they expected or desired. For anything else they would have looked in vain. But now they demand, at least in certain quarters, that the pulpit shall speak on platform themes and the demand is obeyed. There was a time when the preacher spoke as a dying man to dying men. The fashion of that time has passed away, to a great degree, and with it much of the direct power of the pulpit. Let the chief desire of the christian be to grow in grace, and he will be bold to express his preference for the preacher who is pre eminently a man of God Ministers are unfortunately tempted to go outside of their calling to please the fastidious and the vitiated taste. Their business is to preach the word, and the truest conscientious minister of Jesus will let nothing swerve him from the path of duty. The inspired word of God is the only correct rule of right, and woe to that man who having the gospel fails to preach it, or preaches any other.

But the great, the momentous question which concerns us most in relation to those who are to minister to us in holy things is—"Is he a good, a faithful zealous minister of Jesus Christ?" Fastidious disciples take issue with us here:—they ask, is he a good minister of literary attainments—of art—of science? Of course they do not want Christ left out of the question. They want him in every sermon, but they prefer to have the minister speak of him chiefly as a teacher, the healer, the promiser, or the crowned favorite of the people on his triumphant way into Jerusalem, rather than as the rejected, the despised, the mocked, the condemned and the crucified one on Calvary.—Such fastidiousness can but result in spiritual death. "The life is in the blood," and Christ must be taken in his totality if the soul is to live. His works, his examples of life, may be admired, and even imitated, and thus we may "eat of his flesh," but this is not enough. He himself says, "except ye eat of the flesh of the Son of man, and drink of his blood, ye have no life in you!" We must embrace not only the doctrine of the life, but also the doctrine of the death of Jesus, or we cannot be his disciples except in name. It was the doctrine of a crucified and risen Christ which made men strong even at the stake. This and this alone can strengthen us for the issues of life and death. This prevalent fastidiousness among professed Christians is greatly to be deplored. It neutralizes very much of the work done by devoted souls and sets before the minister a temptation which he ought not to be expected to endure. No christian cannot afford to indulge in such an evil habit.

A most promising revival of religion is in progress at Ebenezer Church, Cary circuit. We were present on Sabbath and conducted the services assisted by Bro. Meacham Bro Thompson, the pastor, arrived and took charge of the meeting on Monday. There were three penitents on Sabbath, the first day, two of whom were happily converted to God, and great seriousness pervaded the entire congregation.

The Times.

Those who watch the signs of the times and note carefully the varying state of trade say that the depression in trade, and money matters is passing away and that the coming Fall will witness a changed condition of affairs. It is said that the prospects in the Northern cities for an active season are encouraging—that demand and supply are being adjusted and brought to a greater equality, and that the extensive and varied products of the land will find a market with good prices.

We earnestly hope that relief may come to the struggling country this Fall. Seldom, if ever before, has there been such stagnation in trade and "tightness" of money, the world over, as there has been since the Wall street panic of 1873. It has not been confined to the South or the North or to the United States; but in England, on the continent, in Portugal, everywhere in short, men have been made to face failure and bankruptcy who were thought to be wealthy and to all human appearance, safe against panics and hard times. Many have been on the verge of financial ruin but have kept up appearances, managed to sustain their credit and may pass safely through the distressing times. Others have failed—some through their extravagance and recklessness, others through the default of those who were in debted to them The former have their sympathy of their neighbors. Most creditors are also debtors and if every man would pay promptly what he owes to his creditor, that creditor would perhaps be able to discharge his indebtedness to a higher creditor, and thus avert financial failure. Most of the distress among business men and their inability to meet their large liabilities, result from the failure of their numerous debtors to pay their small obligations If the injunction to "owe no man anything, but love" were faithfully followed, there would be not only "peace and good will among men," but prosperity and safety in business

The Joint Commission appointed by the M. E. Church and M. E Church, South, to consider how the differences between the two Churches could be reconciled and hearty fraternal feeling reached, met at Cape May on the 16th inst and continued in session nearly two weeks. They have issued an address to the two churches, in advance of their reports to the General Conferences, in which they say that the utmost harmony prevailed in the discussions as well as a manifest anxiety on the part of the members of the Commission for a settlement of the difficulties. They adopted rules (which we will print next week, together with their address in full) by which the disputes about Church property are finally settled These property disputes have been the fruitful source of much hard feeling between the Churches and their removal is a good step toward fraternity.

The New York Herald and other papers, misapprehending the powers of the Commission and the result of their labors, have proclaimed with a flourish the reunion of the two Churches. The Commission were not authorized to consider much less to effect an organic union of the Churches: their duty was to discuss and settle differences and to establish practical fraternity. This they have done—nothing more.

Dr. Burkhead, by special request of many citizens of Raleigh, delivered his address on "Methodism—the Grounds of its Success," in Metropolitan Hall last Sabbath afternoon. He was greeted by a very large and intelligent audience who seemed interested in the subject of the discussion and pleased with the able manner in which it was treated. We have before expressed our high opinion of the merits of the address and have only to say now that a similar opinion is entertained by all who have listened to it. We heard it at Shelby District Conference—where it was duly honored—and pronounced it "worthy of constant reproduction." We reiterate that criticism

Before the delivery of the address, Bro. J. P. Moore took occasion to correct, in explicit terms, the impression produced by the secular papers that organic union of the churches North and South has been reached, and gave the true facts in the case.

On next Sabbath begin the dedicatory exercises of the Monumental Church at Portsmouth, Va. The erection of the church was commenced about three years ago as a memorial of Rev. Robt. Williams, the pioneer of Methodism in the South. It stands on the site of the original Church organized by Robert Williams The programme for the occasion is very attractive. Bishop Doggett will preach the dedicatory sermon on Sunday. At 3 o'clock an anniversary of the Sunday schools of Norfolk, Portsmouth and Berkley will be held. Sunday night and Monday morning sermons will be delivered. Monday evening Dr. Bennett, of the Richmond Advocate, will deliver an address on Methodism in Virginia, and on Wednesday evening Bishop Doggett will repeat his magnificent address on "The Progress of Methodism in the 19th Century."

Mr Moody has accepted an invitation from the Churches in Greenfield, Mass., to hold a union service there this week.

The Right Way

It is refreshing to note that the canvass of the State now being made by ex Gov. Vance and Judge S. [illegible] candidates for the office of Governor, is being conducted with manly courtesy and good feeling between these distinguished gentlemen. While each thoroughly ventilates the political antecedents and present standing of the other and gives and receives hard blows, yet it is done in such a way as that the pleasant personal relations are not destroyed or affected. That is the right course: when men offer themselves for the suffrages of the people, they should, by their upright and dignified conduct, prove that they are worthy of the office which they seek The office of Governor, or every office, is too sacred a thing to be made the reward of trickery fraud, unseemly scrambling and personal abuse of opponents. It is to be hoped that the example set by the leaders of the parties in the State will be observed by the candidates for the various other offices to be filled next November.

DEATH OF HON. M. C KERR.—The death of Mr. Kerr, speaker of the House of Representatives in Congress, is a calamity to the nation. Pure in life, circumspect in his conduct, conscientious in the performance of duty, rating principle above expediency, and honest in everything, he was a shining example of virtue that the country can ill afford to lose at the present time. He commanded the universal respect of political friends and opponents, and was beyond the reach of detraction and calumny. Against the unfounded charge of corruption made against him a few months since, his vindication was complete and triumphant, the House by a unanimous vote attesting their entire confidence in his innocence and firm integrity.

News from the Vineyard.

Rev. M. W. Boyles writes from Bockers: "The good Lord is blessing us with rain on the earth and grace in the soul."

Rev. G W. Hardison writes from Palo Alto saying: "The Lord continues to revive his work on Onslow Circuit. Fifteen more have been added to our Church. Some old and hardened sinners have professed to know God as a pardoning Saviour. To God be all the glory! "Let every thing that hath breath praise the Lord!"

Rev A. D. Betts writes under date of Aug 20th: "On Monday, Aug. 14th, Rev. M C Thomas and myself began a meeting at Olivet Church, 4 miles from Concord It was one of the best meetings I ever saw. At the end of six days, we could count 27 souls who had found peace in Jesus. A noble band of laymen will now carry it on.

I expect to hear of glorious results."

Rev Dr S C Pharr, formely of the Presbyterian Church, now a Methodist, writing from Concord says: "I have just returned from a protracted meeting at Rocky Ridge which is near this town. It is still going on. It commenced with a spirit of prayer among the members There was preaching on Saturday night before the close of the District Conference. Exercises were resumed on Monday afterward and have been continued up to this time and they will still go on by the help of God's spirit. The gospel was preached twice every day and the well known efficient workers in that Church labored with the mourning penitents at the altar and, blessed be God, they can number twenty conversions, and several mourners: while the seriousness of the community is unprecedented Praise God from whom such blessings flow! This is one of Brother Thomas' charges. He has been at Mt. Olivet with Bro. Betts and we hear this morning that there are fifteen or twenty conversions there."

Rev. A. A. Boshamer, of Henderson Circuit reports as follows: "I closed, at Manson's Chapel, on the 12th inst., a very interesting and profitable protracted meeting, which was in continuance just one week.

In one particular, if no more, it was a remarkable meeting, every penitent finding peace before the close, except one little girl, who failed to return to the altar at our last meeting for penitents.

Thirteen or fourteen persons, in all, were converted, and the membership very much revived.

We had no very great excitement at any time, yet there was a deep and powerful religious feeling pervading the congregation at every service and members of the different churches represented in the community were made to feel that the Lord had come into His holy temple

Rev. Mr. Hines, of the Presbyterian Church, preached for us once, and some of our lay brethren rendered faithful and efficient service in the altar.

I am now in the midst of a meeting at Zion which promises some success Four persons are at the altar, and much seriousness is observed in the congregation. These gracious visitations, I trust, are prelusive to many times of refreshing.

Rev. J P. Moore held the Third Quarterly Meeting for Person Street Church, last Sunday He brings cheering intelligence from Bro. Webb who is having a gracious time on Tar River Circuit. At Black Chapel, a protracted meeting of five or six days resulted in the conversion of 52 souls.

Sunday School Conference

The New Berne District Sunday School Conference met at Snow Hill on Thursday, the 10th inst., and continued its session until Saturday evening. It is [illegible] gates representing [illegible] schools—Much interest was manifested in the proceedings and much good was accomplished At the last meeting of the Conference held at Beaufort a year ago a resolution was adopted appointing Rev. J. P. Simpson a committee of one to prepare a manual for opening and closing the services of the Sunday school; the report was received and adopted and the manual was heartily approved and endorsed by the Conference.

The manual consists of Scripture readings, prayers, the Apostle's Creed, and the Ten Commandments, and supplies a long felt want; it is especially designed for the use of country schools.

It was resolved to print a thousand copies of the Manual for the use of the schools in the District.

The President submitted for the consideration of the Conference the following questions:

1. What obligations are church members under to labor in the Sunday school work.

2 What is being done to instruct the children in the doctrine and discipline of the church?

3. What is the object of Sunday school teaching?

4. What evils exist in our mode of teaching and operating our schools?

These questions were well and ably discussed by Revs. F. H. Wood, J. B. Brooks, E. A. Yates, J. P. Simpson, E. A Weigle, and brethren H F Granger, William Arendell and J. Q Jackson.

Rev F H Wood offered the following resolution which was adopted:

WHEREAS, The obligations resting upon parents to train their children in the nurture and admonition of the Lord, is of Divine origin and cannot be delegated to others. And

WHEREAS, The Sunday school is and ought to be only auxiliary to parental training. And, whereas, the vows of church members and the Spirit of Christ demand that they do good in every way possible; therefore,

Resolved That it is the duty and conviction of this Conference that it is the imperative religious duty of parents and church members to labor in the Sunday school.

Reports were called for and received from the superintendents and teachers of the schools represented, touching their statistics and mode of operating and teaching. These reports showed the schools to be in a fair condition.

On Friday morning, the President, W. F Kornegay, delivered to a large and attentive audience his annual address.

In the language of the resolution passed requesting the President to furnish a copy for publication to the ADVOCATE, "it was an able, earnest and practical effort."

On Saturday morning, Rev F A Yates delivered his Centennial Address on the relation of the Methodist Church to the Sunday school work. Comment upon this address is unnecessary:—it was able, learned and eloquent and highly appreciated by the large and attentive audience

The Conference adjourned on Saturday evening to meet at La Grange on the second Thursday of August 1877.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, W F Kornegay
Vice Pres., William Arendell.
Treasurer, F G Griffin
Secretary, F A Woodard.

The Secretary was requested to furnish a synopsis of the proceedings for publication in the ADVOCATE.

F. A. WOODARD, Secretar.

A writer in the N. Y. Advocate tells the following of Rev Seymour Coleman, who was known as them of the Troy Conference: At an Annual Conference he was asked about a condition and prospects of his charge at Kinderhook. He arose and informed the Conference that there was no Methodist church there:

"'What do you mean, Bro. Coleman?' 'I mean,' said he, 'just what I say; the statement I have just made is in strict accordance with the facts' Whereupon his predecessor, with a little appearance of agitation, sprang to his feet and exclaimed, 'What do Bro Coleman mean—will he please explain? There was certainly a Church at Kinderhook when I was there, and I left one there when I went away.' Very demurely, and without the movement of a muscle on his venerable face, Father Coleman rose to explain. The attention of the Conference of course, was fully aroused At last expectancy. 'I admit,' said Father Coleman gravely, 'that when I went to Kinderhook there was something there that resembled, and undoubtedly pretended to be, a Methodist church, but you see I took them in hand and administered the Discipline and turned them all out.'

"EVE, when she wept, wept with her back upon Eden and her face to the desert: but let us rejoice, that when we weep it is with our backs to the desert and our faces toward a better Eden, to which we are rapidly hastening"—Dr Cumming

Commodore Vanderbilt was not so well on Saturday and Sunday, but at this writing (Monday morning) is pronounced improving.—N. Y. Advocate.

Revivals

MESSRS EDITORS: Bro. Betts is right in saying I favor revivals: I believe in them thoroughly, and in conversions in brilliancy and power. But unless I have been misinformed, I did not understate the apparent results of Mr. Moody's work in Brooklyn and New York. This information was obtained from the very best authority in the presence of several brethren. The substance of the questions and answers may be stated thus:

QUES Did Mr. Moody's labors in Brooklyn and New York greatly profit the churches?

ANS. I think not. All combined, they have not received more than one hundred and fifty members as probably resulting from that work, and during the time the churches received less than the usual number of accessions.

Question. Were not many of the converts already members of the churches?

Ans. Doubtless some were, but not many.

Question. Was the spiritual condition of the churches improved?

Ans. We think not, but rather to the contrary. The Sunday schools were seriously damaged.

Question. Was the work genuine and earnest gospel work?

Ans. It appeared to be so, but the results have been very unexpected and unsatisfactory.

Question. Who were the converts?

Ans. It is difficult to say, they seem to have come from the world and to have gone whence they came.

We have nothing to say against the work, and prefer to say nothing about it. It cannot be said to have benefitted us in any way; we expected great profit and were disappointed."

The conversation was much more extensive, but was, I think, substantially as above stated; and I think this statement is confirmed by various remarks and reports in the papers since the meeting. I think every man ought to belong to some church and be amenable to its laws of discipline, and I doubt the genuineness of any work that disregards or ignores the church.

B. CRAVEN.

DR. J. B BOBBITT Dear Brother: Our Local Ministers' Conference for N. C. has just closed a most harmonious and pleasant session. About twenty five local ministers, three itinerants, and one Episcopal minister, were in attendance. A regular series of religious services were kept up each day and night in the College chapel, which resulted in the conversion of a number of immortal souls, and added nine persons to the Methodist Church We left some twenty odd penitents at the altar last night. The regular college exercises require us to close the meeting for the present, though we still expect to labor on to keep up the intense interest awakened in this community during the meeting.

We were sadly disappointed in not seeing your face at the meeting. Our people were all expecting you to be here. Brothers Branson and Meacham, of your city, did good work here, both in the Conference, and the pulpit. They have left behind them a savor for good. Our people will not soon forget them. The preaching, too, of brother E. A. Wilson, of the Masonic Journal, as well as that of brothers Janney, Kendall, Hoyle, Killian, Hays, Healan, etc, will tell for good in eternity.

This is our seventh Conference since our permanent organization and God has been with us at every meeting. This is evidence sufficient that our organization is in accordance with God's will, and all our brethren ought to say amen.

We have over one hundred students in the college, with a constant increase.

I brought the interest of the ADVOCATE before our Conference, and I think the effort will add new names to your list.

May God bless you and yours.

Yours truly,
R. L. ABERNETHY.

The Christian at Work, Dr. Talmage's paper, gives the following which to our mind has food for thought, especially for a class of people that we wot of:

"When Baptist ministers assist in Pedobaptist pulpits, when they invite Methodists, Presbyterians, Congregationalists, into their pulpits to preach and pray for them, we presume it at least recognizes the fact that they are—what they claim to be—pastand parcel of the consecrated ministry of the Lord Jesus Christ. Now, is it a fallacy to suppose that such a ministry is entitled to participation in that memorial service which Christ instituted for his followers for all time? We trow not "An exchange, speaking of Dr. Talmage, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: 'He constrained, almost compelled, the Assemblies, North and South, to fraternize.' But the men of the Assemblies have been diligently discussing ever since they adjourned whether they did 'fraternize' or not. We wish Dr Talmage would make them weld a little firmer the next time he gets the Assemblies in a position where he can put on them his constraints."

A CORRECTION.—In a recent issue of the ADVOCATE we reproduced an item of news from some of our exchanges stating that Messrs Chas Warren and Chas. Brown had gone to Virginia to fight a duel. A note from Mr. C. M Brown of Washington informs us that it was not he, but G. H. Brown, Jr., who was one of the parties. We gladly make the correction.

The President of the British Conference.

It has long been a custom of Presidents elect of the British Wesleyan Conference to make a brief address on receiving the insignia of office and taking the conference chair. Rev Alexander M'Aulay, the new incumbent, in his recent address; said:

Most of those who have occupied this chair have been able to refer to a Methodist parentage. My grandfather was a Methodist and trustee of John-street Chapel, in Glasgow; and I believe that John Wesley baptized my father, who was eight weeks old at the time of Wesley's last visit to Scotland. But my own parents were not Methodists. I was brought to God by some of those simple agencies which you employed for the purpose of bringing sinners to Christ. God shed light into my soul, and put his life into my heart, and God has kept me to this day. Rev. H. H. Chettle gave me my first ticket in Glasgow in the year 1835 I entered my first circuit with the feeling that, having been called to this ministry, my course was fixed. I must be a Methodist preacher for life. On reading the Pastoral Address of that year, (1810,) I came upon these words, which I will read: "Some Churches regard revivals of religion as gracious singularities in their history. We regard them as essential to our existence If a regular series of divine visitations issuing in the conversion of sinners, be not vouchsafed to us we must either change the spiritual constitution of our Discipline or we shall; in a way from among the tribes of God's Israel.' I took my 'Concordance,' (as the book I was likely to have the most frequently in my hand next to the Bible) and I wrote in it the words I have just read to you in large writing, and added two words: 'Alleluia! Amen.' I saw a course open to me to promote God's glory in the way thus indicated.

Methodism has always appeared to me as a revival of religion. We are the fruit of spiritual revival; and I trust that we shall sow the seeds of a still greater revival. If these divine visitations be not vouchsafed to us, we must either change the spiritual constitution of our Discipline, or we shall pine away from among the tribes of God's Israel. We regard them as being essential to our existence. If I am elevated to this office to day by the votes of my brethren, I owe it entirely, so far as I know, to my fixed purpose never to vary from this one idea of living to turn sinners to righteousness, to promote throughout the Methodist community a perpetual revival, or a series of revivals. We shall live and grow, and become great and powerful, in proportion as we adhere to this one idea.

In following out the principle contained in the extract which I have read, I have sometimes offered myself for a circuit that was about to be given up; sometimes I have undertaken a mission in the east of London; I have tried to form new circuits; at another time I organized and superintended the German Mission, being convinced that by such efforts I should best extend Methodism as a continuous revival of religion; and if to day I were called to go to the smallest circuit in Methodism, I would, with this same purpose in view, go there as gladly as I would come up to this chair. My life-work has been fixed from the first; and although the whole of my course hitherto may not have been interpreted by others as I have interpreted it to myself, I have kept to this idea.

I may say, Mr. ex President, that you have been favored to see a glorious revival during the year. The addition to our Churches has been very large. We rejoice in this extension. Many families are glad because God has saved their souls. Many believers have obtained full salvation. Many Churches have been quickened. Many mission enterprises have been begun. And we see at present the prospects of yet greater things than these. There is one favor that I shall ask of the brethren, and it is this, that at an early period of our sittings we shall have a session devoted to the consideration of the state of the work of God, and how we may extend that work still more fully within the bounds of our own Methodism. [Hear, hear.] In every home, in every school, and in every Church of Methodism, may God send us a glorious revival during the ensuing year, both at home and abroad. [Applause.]

N. C. GOOD TEMPLAR.—The Spirit of the Age has undergone a partial change of management, has been re-christened and now appears with the above title which indicates more clearly than the old one what cause the paper serves.

Rev W C Bowman, of Mitchell county, is editor, and Mr W J Edwards, of this city, is publisher of the Good Templar Mr Bowman is an able writer and an excellent gentleman. He was formerly a Methodist minister and a member of the Holston Conference, M. E. Church, South, but about three years ago his faith underwent a change and he became a Universalist in doctrine, much to the regret of his colaborers in the Holston Conference who were greatly attached to him. The Good Templar is a neatly published and well edited paper.—It is larger than the Spirit of the Age and well filled with interesting matter. We wish it success.

Col. S. L. Freeman, of Wilmington, it is said, contemplates removing his residence to Goldsboro.

Dr Haygood's Book.

The Texas Christian Advocate contains the following just and complimentary notice of Dr. Haygood's new book. Seldom, if ever within our memory, has a book called forth such universal commendation. It is popular every where—and with all classes Send in your orders to Bro. Sharpe and secure a copy at once:

MR EDITOR: Having read Dr. Haygood's book, entitled "Our Children," with pleasure and profit, I wish to commend it to all who may not have perused its delightful pages. You have justly said, "It is not a sectarian book; it was not written specially for the learned, nor specially for the unlearned." It is peculiarly adapted to the masses, and will be read with interest by all classes solicitous for the salvation of the young.

The work is divided into two parts. Part first being devoted to the family, discussing that subject in all of its bearings, and exhibiting throughout a healthy condition of thought. The author deals some heavy blows against modern divorce laws, and leaves that question where it was placed by a teacher sent from God. But the portion which I read with deepest interest is the chapter on "Mere Ability to Talk Religion." Our author tells us, and truthfully too, that we pass hasty and unjust judgment upon youthful Christians, because, forsooth, they cannot talk relig on. I have no doubt but that a child's religious knowledge is often discounted. because his power of expression is limited. The simplicity of his speech is an offense to the exactness of orthodoxy, while the class room talk of the adult which he has repeated for a score of years, without the slightest variation. is received as a genuine religious experience. The writer tells a story of an old Scotch minister who proposed to withhold the Encharist from a girl whom he thought defective in religious knowledge. Upon rising to leave the table, she burst into tears saying: "It's true, sir, I cannot speak for him. but I think I could die for him!" Doubtless there are many children and adults who cannot speak for Jesus, but would die for him.

Part second treats of the Sunday school, all the more salient features of which are discussed with that purity of thought and aptness of illustration which characterize part first I am pleased that the Doctor emphasizes the fact that the true conception of the Sabbath school is auxiliary to other means of grace. It is intended to supplement, not to supersede, parental and pastoral instruction and the preaching of the gospel. And yet I fear parents and pastors have in a large measure transferred the children to the Sabbath school for moral instruction. The former catechumen is lost in the modern Sunday school pupil. And I am of opinion that there is something in the conduct of some of our schools which renders the preached word and more serious rites of the church distasteful to many of the pupils and teachers. Perhaps I am wrong in this statement. After all, the fault may be in the pupil. Be this as it may, the fact that but few children attend church is patent to all observing men, and I have known teachers who rarely attended. In many places the church and school are well nigh segregated. It behooves us to ascertain where the cause is and remove it. The Sunday school, in its true conception, is a great movement, and is well adapted to assist in bringing the young to Christ. When, however, it ceases to be auxiliary, the glory departs, and it becomes a very great evil

E. G. FRAZIER.

Calvinism.

We clip the following pointed article from the New York Independent. It speaks for itself; comment is needless:

"The Advance sounds a needed note of alarm against the absurdity of speaking of a false theology as 'safe' if it errs on the side of stern unreason. It says.

"It is not error in a safe direction to teach that Christ's atonement was only for the elect That dogma has done unspeakable mischief, and is responsible incidentally for the loss of a multitude of souls, who humanly speaking, might have been won by the loving proclamation that the atonement was as broad as the race which needed it. It is not safe to teach that the guilt of Adam's sin is so imputed to all his descendants, that for it alone, and apart from personal transgression, all men, all infants, deserve eternal damnation and are under corresponding condemnation.—Neither is it safe to teach that man, prior to regeneration, has no ability of will whatever to do right, but only to sin—that in the whole matter of regeneration he is perfectly passive, and that the agency of the Holy Spirit is physical, rather than moral. Long and sad experience has proved that such doctrines tend to destroy faith in Christianity, to paralyze Christian effort, to repress revivals of religion, and to lull sinners into a sleep of death.'

"It is a very instructive fact that the great revivals of religion in the times of Edwards, Wesley, and Finney have been the product of an amelioration of the stern theologies of Calvinism."

Maj. J. H. Gee, commandant of the prison at Salisbury during the war, died in Florida recently. He was burned to death while trying to rescue some one from a burning building.

Recent Publications.

THE NORTH CAROLINA FARMER.—We acknowledge the receipt of the August number of this excellent monthly paper It is a sixteen page publication and is well edited, containing information valuable to all classes. Mr. J. H. Ellis is peculiarly fitted for publishing a paper of this character and does it well. He collects and arranges statistics and bits of useful information more carefully and systematically than any one we know.

LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE J. B Lippincott & Co., Phila. $4 a year.

The September Number of Lippincott's Magazine opens with the ninth article of the illustrated series entitled 'The Century; its Fruits and its Festival,' treating ably of the exhibits in Machinery Hall. It will be found one of the most instructive and interesting of the series. In the illustrated sketch of 'Lapland,' the writer presents a realistic picture of the life of the Lapps, their industries and modes of trading, with some notes on the phenomena of the seasons in their wild region. 'On a Hansetop in Capri,' by Robert McLeod, is a graphic description of the many picturesque and beautiful points of interest that can be seen in and from that romantic island. 'The Queen of Spades,' from the Russian of Pushkin, is a story founded on an episode in connection with the gaming tables of St. Petersburg The second installment of 'Love in Idleness,' by Ellen W. Olney, more than fulfils the promise of the commencement. The third paper of Robert Wilson's 'Eastern Shore of Maryland' is chiefly devoted to an account of the land industries of that peninsula. Poetry is well represented by 'The Cricket's Mission,' a poem of seven smoothly-written rhymed verses, by Mary B. Dodge, and 'To —— with a Rose,' by Sidney Lanier. The continuation of Lady Barker's interesting Letters, and the concluding chapters on George Sand,' by R. Davey, with the usual 'Monthly Gossip,' and 'Literature of the Day,' make up a very bright number of Lippincott's Magazine.

ECLECTIC MAGAZINE—The September number of this sterling magazine has reached us. First on the list is a long and interesting review of the "Life and Writings of Sante Beuve;" and other noteworthy papers are those on 'International Prejudices," with special reference to English and American; 'A Lady's visit to the Herzegovinian Insurgents;" a pungent 'Letter on Modern Warfare,' by John Ruskin; "The Koran versus Turkish Reform;' a curious and suggestive 'Autobiography of a Veteran;' and the second part of the 'Sketch of a Journey across Africa' by Lieutenant Cameron. Besides these there are among the contents, 'African Weather and African Scenery,' by Lady Barker; 'Luna Studies;' 'Mervaunee,' by Wm. Allingham; 'The Faust Legend;' 'In Town,' by Austin Dobson; Harriet Martineau," by Thomas Hughes; 'Nest-building Fishes;' 'A Song in Season, by Swinburne; and a brief biographical sketch of the Duke of Argyle, which is accompanied by a steel engraved portrait. There are also additional chapters of 'Her Dearest Foe,' by Mrs Alexander, author of 'The Wooing O't;' and copious and attractive editorial notes on current Literature, Science and Art. Altogether the number is an excellent one.

NOTICE.

The ministers in charge of stations and circuits in the bounds of the Wilmington District, will please give me the names and number of delegates expected to attend the District Conference, and also whether by public or private conveyance. Those coming on the boat will find conveyance at Cedar Creek, Wednesday morning, Sept. the 20th 1876, the first day of Conference.

M. W. BOYLES
Blockersville Cumberland co. N. C.

LIVE FOR SOMETHING.—Thousands of men and women breathe, move, and live—pass off the stage of life, and are heard of no more. Why? None were blessed by them; none could point to them as their means of redemption; not a line they wrote, not a word they spoke, could be recalled, and so they perished; their light went out in darkness. and they were not remembered more than the insects of yesterday. Will you thus live and die? O man, live for something! Do good, and leave behind you a monument of virtue that the storms of time can never destroy.—Dr. Chalmers.

State News.

The grasshoppers have appeared in Mecklenburg, and are damaging crops.

A handsome Baptist Church at Graham is nearly completed.

The Alamance Gleaner has resumed publication, Mr. E. S. Parker being sole editor and proprietor.

Mr. B. J. Lancaster, of Nash county, sent Gov. Tilden a peach weighing 14¼ ounces.

The stables of Mr. R. H. Page of this city were burned on the 21st inst., with two mules.

The workshops of the Columbia and Augusta Railroad will be moved from Wilmington to Florence, S. C.

The tobacco barn of Mr. W. J. Murray, at McCray's township Alamance county was burned on 13th inst., with about $1000 worth of tobacco.

A man in Reidsville, says the News, received a letter with the following label on the envelope: "Whaley House, Mrs Whaley Proprietress. Old Whaley helps'

There are 37 prisoners in jail in Mecklenburg county awaiting the action of the Superior Court this week. Most of them ought to have been tried by Justices of the Peace and great expense would have been saved to the county.

An appeal has been taken to the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of Edwards vs Kearnzey from this State, to test the constitutionality of the Homested law as against debts contracted before the adoption of the constitution in 1868.

HEARING RESTORED—Great invention by one who was deaf for 20 years. Send stamp for particulars. Jno. Garmore, Lock-box 905, Covington, Ky.

The Christian Advocate

PUBLISHED IN THE CITY OF RALEIGH EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING, TERMS $2.50 POSTAGE FREE.

Our Agents.

Our travelling and local preachers in the bounds of the North Carolina Conference are our authorized agents. Any person sending us ten subscribers, for one year, will receive the paper free.

Our Correspondents.

Communications for publication should be carefully written, and on but one side of the sheet. All letters on office should be addressed to the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

How to Remit.

In sending money, all amounts should be sent in registered letter, post-office order or check. The cost of registration, or post office order can be deducted from the amount in hand. If money is sent otherwise at the risk of the sender.

INDEX TO NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Cutaweaco—D. E. C. Abbey.

Atlanta Medical College.

Wesleyan Female College. Rev. W. G. Starr, Pres. This is a flourishing and excellent College at Murfreesboro, in the bounds of the Virginia Conference.

Dr. Haygood's Book, "Our Children," send orders to Rev. V. A. Sharpe at Thomasville.

North Carolina Farmer, J. H. Enos & Co. Publishers. A good agricultural and family paper.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Isaac F. Dortch, Esq., is the choice of the Wayne Democracy for the Senate.

The State Fair begins on the 17th October and extends through five days.

Cotton is beginning to rust badly in Edgecombe county.

The thermometer in the Observer office in Charlotte, reached 103 degrees on Saturday.

A Greene county man says he has thirty acres in cotton which will produce a bale to the acre

Judge Thomas, of Newbern, it is said, has severed his connection with the Republican party.

Sammie Parsons, of Beaufort, about 11 years of age, has built a boat 16 feet long and 4 feet wide.

Dr. George Slover has been elected Principal of the Newbern Academy for the next year.

It is reported that deer are plentiful in Warren, Nash and Halifax, and sportsmen are having a good time in the catch

A history of Lane's brigade is to be compiled under the auspices of the surviving members.

Large quantities of grapes are being shipped from Henderson. Mr. Henry Smith expects to ship 10 or 50 tons.

David Mallett, a negro in Wilmington, having been threatened and assaulted by his brother, turned upon the assailant and stabbed him dangerously.

F. J. Meaninger has been awarded the contract for furnishing wood for use at the Capitol next winter. He will furnish 10 cords at $4 33 per cord delivered.

The machinery purchased for the new cotton factory of G. W. Swepson at Hawfield over at a cost of over $40 000 arrived somewhat damaged by rust caused by exposure to the rain.

There is a talk of the Great Falls Factory suspending operations for awhile in order to make some changes in the machinery. The suspension, however, if it does take place, will only be for a few weeks.—Rockingham Spirit of the South.

A six-year old negro girl was shot by a negro boy, it is said accidentally, in Wayne. The girl is dangerously wounded. The matter is yet to be investigated.

A colored boy, named William Holmes, accidentally fell overboard from Messrs Worth & Worth's wharf, at Wilmington, and was drowned.

The Goldsboro Messenger says that a most dastardly outrage is reported to have been committed in that section by a man upon his own child, a little girl aged 7 years. The particulars have not yet developed themselves.

A Craven man steps up and asks the patriotic people of the county to behold and admire a watermelon which weighs 71 lbs. Of course he wants to know "who can beat it ?"

Mr. Grey Barbee, near Durham, discovered a negro stealing corn from his field and summoned him with a load of buckshot. Mr. D. P. Steadman, of Raleigh, treated a corn-thief in the same way last week.

We see from a letter to the Wilmington Star that there are 38 white churches in Granville county; Methodist Episcopal 8. Methodist Protestant 6. Missionary Baptist 18. Primitive Baptist 2.—Presbyterian 7. Episcopal 5. Independent 1. Kelleyites 1.

A few dogs worth in the aggregate about 15 cents, killed 4 fine Cotswold rams worth $10 each belonging to Mr Jas. Norwood of Hillsboro.

The principal and accessory who stole a horse from Mr. Bowling of Flat River were captured. The former escaped; the latter meditates upon his crime as he lies in the Hillsboro jail.

Mr. D A Lowe, of Mecklenburg Co., had in a brood of chickens, one little cock with only one little leg. There is a indication of a leg on the offside, faint or in prospectu.

The traveller up the N. C. Railroad says that about fifty telegraph posts between Greensboro and Raleigh have been struck by lightning. Some eight or ten of these have been shattered and split red from top to bottom, so says the

The Wilmington Review says that at Asheville, Brunswick county, last Saturday, a colored woman, Sarah Galloway, in attempting to step from one steamer to another, missed her footing, fell overboard, and was drowned.

The fourth and fifth Revenue Collection Districts for North Carolina have been consolidated and Col. I. J. Young retained as Collector, Col. Winstead going out. The Sixth and Seventh Districts have been combined also, Dr. J. J. Mott being Collector, and Pinkney Reid going out.

A few weeks ago Mr. Alfred Young began to work in a gold mine near Beattie's Ford. The average yield to a bushel of the ore has been $1.10.

Shelby Banner: Mr. Isler, a gentleman about 65 years of age, who had just been converted and joined the Baptist church at Black's Station, fell dead on his way to Antioch church a few days ago. He had set down to rest, and getting up to start, fell on his face in the sand and never moved.

The Charlotte Observer learns that Wm. Meisimer, who was tried at the last term of the Superior Court in Statesville for killing his mother in law, Mrs. Heilig, in Rowan county, last Spring and convicted, has confessed the crime.

The negro man who raped a white girl near White Plains, Chesterfield county, S. C., and then cut her throat, was caught last week in Union county, N. C., by a party of whites and blacks who pursued him from South Carolina. The party from South Carolina started back with him, but he was hanged until he was dead before reaching jail in South Carolina.

A correspondent at Salisbury writes that the wife of Mr. Geb. Monroe, of Franklin township, Rowan county, gave birth last Tuesday night to three live boys, which at last accounts were doing well. Mr. Monroe, a staunch conservative, named them respectively, Vance, Tilden and Hendricks. Ex

Asheville Expositor: Bob Burchfield was shot dead on last Saturday night, by D. K. Collins, while the former was attempting to enter the corn crib of the latter; rather, when Burchfield found he was caught, he drew his navy and advanced on Collins, when Collins shot him. Burchfield was notoriously the worst character in all this mountain section. He had been once convicted of murder, but finally got out of it on some legal technicality, and had also just served out a term in the Albany penitentiary for counterfeiting.

Capt. Isaiah Crammer and Mr. Thomas Martin were returning from Queen's Creek, Onslow county, to Swansboro' in a flat boat, when a sudden squall arose. The lightning struck the foremast head, shivering it to pieces, and ran down the mast killing Capt. Crammer and wounding Mr. Martin. Both were precipitated overboard. Mr. Martin recovering from the shock waded to the shore. The body of Capt. Crammer was recovered about twenty yards below the scene of the disaster.

A gentleman registering at the Purcell House, Wilmington, as W. H. Hudson, from New York attempted to take his life by the use of laudanum. The doctors pumped it out and had white ladies men to walk and drag him about, whipping him with wet towels etc., in order to keep him awake.

During the last three years, it is said, over three hundred and fifty thousand dollars in taxes have been collected from the property holders of Cotton.

The River and Harbor Bill which passed Congress gives $160,000 to North Carolina—most of it going to improvements on the Cape Fear.

General News.

Hon M. C. Kerr, of Indiana, speaker of the House of Representatives in Congress, died at the Rockbridge Alum Springs on the 19th inst. of consumption of the bowels. He was an able and pure man

The Atlantic Mills at Lawrence, Mass., will start up September 11th, giving employment to 1 200 operatives

A Terrible storm passed over a portion of Western Missouri doing serious damage to the corn crop along the Chicago and Rock Island Railroad.

The report of an attempted train robbery on the Kansas City, St. Joseph and Council Bluffs Railroad a few days ago, proves to have been a hoax.

The Tax Gotts Saving Bank of Portsmouth, N. H. has been placed in assignees' hands. The deposits having been reduced $175 000 by bad investments.

The Columbia (Miss.) Index believes that Tweed is living in that city.

Two children of J. M. Smith, of Burk, Vermont, set fire to their la ber's barn on Thursday last, and one of them was burned to death.

The King of Dahomey holds four Frenchmen as hostages, and threatens to kill them if the British squadron fires upon the natives.

The statue of Dr. Livingstone, a few yards east of Sir Walter Scott's monument, Edinburgh, was unveiled on Tuesday, the 19th inst.

Hydrophobia a Year after a Bite.

From St. Louis Globe, Sept. 14

A year ago Miss Mary E. Curtis was bitten in the thigh by a large Newfoundland dog, but there being only a slight abrasion of the cuticle nothing was thought of it until eighteen days afterward, when the girl was attacked by every symptom of hydrophobia except frothing at the mouth. After lying between life and death for a fortnight, she apparently became entirely well; but on Wednesday last, near a year after the bite, the attack was renewed with painful intensity, and last evening she was at the point of death.

Gas from a Subterranean Reservoir.

From the Petroleum Monthly.

In March last Hamilton Mattlintuck erected a derrick near saw Mill Run Ferry for the purpose of sinking a well in search of gas. The well was worked night and day, two sets of hands being engaged to run it, and not till they had fully paid anything appear to repay for the trouble and expense attending the boring. All that could be got out of the well previous to this was only a small quantity of salt water. On Tuesday last a heavier pressure of water was observed, and soon after the place was permeated with the disagreeable smell of gas. The gas was conducted to the river bank through a five and five-eighth inch iron pipe, and at the end of this a burning match was applied which immediately ignited the gas, sending a blaze into the air fully ten feet in height, and sufficient to fill a two inch pipe when condensed. The gas has been burning day and night ever since, and the neighborhood for some distance around is brilliantly illuminated after dark

The Recent Death by Lightning.

The Lynchburg (Va.) News of a recent date says:

Some of our cotemporaries seem disposed to question the truth of our statement that a negro man, who was killed by lightning a few days ago in Campbell county, had the letters "God" on his body. Dr. Thomas B. Stearnes whose postoffice address is Mt. Zion, Campbell county, has furnished the Register and Christian Advocate an account of the circumstance, in a which we extract the following:

"On the evening of the 9th instant, Perry Jones and two negro drivers, colored men, notoriously the most profane wicked persons in the whole community, with three other colored persons took refuge during the storm, accompanied by a good deal of lightning and thunder, in a tobacco barn on the land of Mr. George Peasley.

From their several positions one would have thought that two of the others were in more, and the third in as much danger as Jones and Brown were. They, as their custom was, were engaged in cursing and swearing. Suddenly the lightning descended upon them and while the other three were comparatively uninjured Jones was killed and Brown was stricken down senseless and almost lifeless for a time. He revived after a few minutes, and soon seemed to have regained all of his strength, but was dumb and bereft of his mind for several hours. The lightning had set fire to his clothing, and he was burned on his chest and left side and arm before the fire was extinguished. In his maimed effort to free himself from those who were restraining him, the skin was rubbed from the bruised flesh and presented the following characters; GOD. Very close representations, to say the least of them of the capital letters used in printing the name of Deity. while around and between them the skin was burned and apparently not burned. The above characters occupied the angles of an equilateral triangle, which as you are doubtless aware, was in ancient days the symbol of Deity. This man then appears to have been branded with the name of his Creator in the symbolic language, it may be, of his fore-fathers three thousand years ago, and in the printed language to which he belongs.

Deaths.

☞Obituary notices of twenty lines are inserted without charge The excess over twenty lines of eight words is charged for at the rate of 10 cents per line Count the lines and allow eight words to the line, in this way you may always know the amount to enclose. Resolutions of respect are subject to the same rule ☜

Departed this life August the 2nd, at her residence, at Middleton, Hyde county, Diana B. Ballance aged 76 years and 4 days. She had been a consistent member of the M. E. Church, fifty years. Her exemplary christian course helped her to bear with patience her long illness. She was a sufferer for more than six months. She could say with the Psalmist, "praise the Lord, oh my soul, and all that is within me praise ye his holy name." She was resigned to the will of him who doeth all things for the best. In her last moments she was asked if there was any thing on her mind that she had not communicated to her friends, and she said there was not and she was ready and willing to go for her mind was clear to the last moment. She was behaved by all that knew her. She left seven children and a large number of friends and relatives to mourn her loss. Her children were all that died her to earth, but this one was brighter in her last moments To the bereaved children and friends I will say:

Check not thy tears when they would flow,
There is relief in weeping;
A mothers bed is lying low
In death's state it rey keeping.

Yes, let thy sorrow freely flow,
For it will bring a blessing;
Sweet resignation to the blow—
That now seems so distressing.

Tears are the dew drops of the heart
That fall when sorrow lingers,
Sweeter than tones which harps impart
When played by angel fingers.

Yes, cherish thy lost mother still
Tho, it be mine in sadness,
Until at last thy sorrows will Bring sweet and solemn gladness.

A melancholy at the path
Which she had born so meekly;
A gladness, it was hers to gain
Her home to bliss so quickly.

And does the thought that ye may meet
Remove no cloud of sadness
Oh! yes, the thought is sweet—most sweet,
Then weep and weep with gladness.

D. B. B.

Bro. Joseph Mason, steward of the M. E Church South Carteret circuit died in the early part of this year at his home on south river Bro. Mason was a thorough, sound ly converted man lived a christian every day. He let his light so shine that all who saw his good works no doubt thanked and glorified God that he lived in the land. He was always when able at the post of duty. A month before he died he told me he felt that his stay among us would be short—he was a feeble man, He has passed over the river and rests under the shade of the trees

JAS MAHONEY.

Died in New Port, July 18th, of bilious inflamatory fever, after an illness of 9 or 10 days, Mr. Sylvester Garrow, about 50 years old. Mr. G possessed and developed many good traits of character—he had a kind feeling for others, and especially all who were in suffering circumstances. In his family he was a kind and providing husband and father A part of his life since my acquaintance with him he was a minister in the Union Baptist church. Our deceased friend let in the weakness of our fallen nature, his failings, but we rejoice to say that two months before he died he gave evidence of a very great reformation. During his sickness he said to his friends, that all was well now, he died happy, thank God—Lord bless his family.

JAS MAHONEY.

Died at the residence of his father, S. S. Harrison, Esq., in Caswell co. N. C. Aug. 9. 1876, of consumption, Mr James Harrison, in the 26th year of his age, The older preachers on the Yanceyville circuit, who enjoyed the generous hospitality of Mr. Harrison, will doubtless remember little "Jimmie."

For several weeks before his death he earnestly sought religion—he had sought before, but never became satisfied

He was a good boy, and grew up a moral good young man, the bore his afflictions unmurmuringly with great fortitude, and exhibited all the marks of a christian except the profession We believe that his repentance was genuine, and that his belief was correct. May we not hope and believe that an honest seeker, and a seeking Savior came together and that James passed safely over? A noble specimen of his race—liked by all who knew him, he will be greatly missed, both at home and in the community.

May the Lord comfort the stricken family.

J. W. JENKINS.

Died, near Yanceyville, Caswell County, the 15th, of August, Sarah Elizabeth Feathers ton, infant daughter of George, A. Feathers ton, aged two years. A little before she expired, gazing up into heaven and pointing up with her finger, though she had never talked or spoke, before she distinctly uttered the endearing word "Mother, mother," several times May she not have been permitted to behold her sainted mother who had died some three weeks before?

A FRIEND.

Mrs. Mary H. Rogers was born Jan. 31st, 1797, and died August 5th 1876. she united in profession of religion wh n she was a little young, and soon joined the Methodist Church. South. and ever afterwards adorned that profession by a devoted christian character. The church was her delight. She was always at her seat in the house of God and enjoyed its ordinances and blessings. Her house was emphatically the preachers' home It was almost as natural for the preacher to go to her house and partake of her bountiful hospitality as it was to go to the house of God. In death as in life she was a mother in Israel. Sister Rogers was a widow for about forty years. She has lived her mission on earth and her works do follow her. Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord.

A FRIEND.

Died in Jonesville, Yadkin Co., N. C. May 22d, 1876, Sister Rachel Garrington aged 83 years. 4 mos. and 27 days. Sister C joined the church in the year 1832 under the ministry of the Rev Robert P. Bailey. For over 40 years she lived a consistent member of the Methodist church. She is now we trust, at rest with God.

HER PASTOR.

Died at his residence on Harlowe Creek Carteret co, July 17th, Bro. William B. Bell, after an illness of 10 or 12 days,

Bro Bell had been a member of the M. E Church, between 35 and 40 years. He was a good man, kind father, and a very worthy and consistent member of the church, his house was a preacher's good home indeed all who lived in his family found it pleasant to be there. He was about 68 years old. I saw him a few days before he died, he was calm and hopeful He lived a quiet life, died in hope of a home in heaven. May the Lord bless and save his children

JAS MAHONEY.

Opinion of Dr. Wm. H. Stokes, Physician Mt Hope Retreat, Baltimore.

"I have great pleasure in adding my testimony to the virtues of Colden's Liebig's Liquid Extract of Beef and Tonic Invigorator as the very best preparation used and therefore confidently recommend it to the medical profession."

Williams & Haywood, agents.

Don't Do It.

Upon the first symptoms of liver Complaint how frequently the misguided sufferer applies to some vile compound and other mineral poisons in the delusive hope of obtaining relief whereas these powerful purgatives but aggravate the already debilitated condition. Dr Tutt has had the courage to ignore this killing practice of the old school, and resort to nature to relieve his patients. His remedies, drawn from the Vegetable Kingdom are almost miraculous in renovating the broken down and diseased body The herbs and valuable roots gathered in the Pharmacopoeia of nature, at the hands of gratitude to God's goodness and skill which but few can exhibit. His Sure Pills and other preparations are being sent all over the country. They can be found in almost every town and hamlet in the United States, and such is the confidence of the people in them that they even use them in cases for which they are not prescribed.

An Irishman called at a drug store to get a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment for the Rheumatism. the druggist asked him in what part of the body it troubled him most, said he, "I have it in every limb and corner of me."

For loss of sleep, hen ali, red water in cows, loss of appetite, rot, or murrain in sheep; check nasal hankin ward and roaring and bronchial complications of the kidneys in horses use Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders

Letters and Funds

N B Sasnett self $2 Rev T P England paper changed Rev I H Gibbons paper continued R A Bynum self 2.50 Rev W C Phillips for H M Scarborough 1.75 Miss M E Lumsden 2.50 Mrs F M Charles self 2.50, Z H Barnett self 2.50 Rev J W Wheeler correction made Rev S Leard for Mrs J Miller 2.50, Rev J S Andrews for E Johnson 2.50 Rev J W Handle papers sent Rev A D Betts Rev H Poole Rev D C Johnson Rev A D Betts for G Price 2.50 Mrs M A Kindly 2.50, Mrs C M Jones 2.50 Rev I Ham Rev Jas Mahoney Wm Paterson Rev W S Rankin for A J Sloan 2.50, Rev L E Stacy Mrs S L Booker 2.50, T Bartsell Rev N A Ross Sumner papers continued Wm H Bass for self 2.00, Rev D Craven Rev J W Jenkins Rev J W Wheeler for Dr S H Dalton 2.50 Change 60 cents, State Line Rev George Rev H R Culbreth paper continued Mrs E T Jones for postage 20 cents Rev Jos Wheeler for Mrs M Stone 2.50 Rev S H Hildebeck for R Norfleet 1.00, S Abbey W Ward Rev T A Deane papers sent Rev L L Smith papers sent Rev S Leard N Freshman & Bros W L Bynum for Bedford J D only $5 Gales See for self $1.50 Rev L H Baldwin paper sent D Lamb for book value Rev S C Dean D Bell 2.50 J Phillips for self $2. F B Sumnell J W Kinlaw papers continued M D Sikes self 2 Rev P S Webster for sub $1.00, Rev W C Benson for R T Moore 5, Rev M M Pugh self 50 cents J W Sasnett Graves for self J W Woodall Rev A Johnson for Mrs S Dyson 2.50 Rev R M Brown paper continued Rev A A Heidsinger C F Peacock CP Rainey J W Kirby continued J W Lyon self 2.50 Rev A D Betts Rev Dr Craven Rev A Hodgman W J Scroggs paper changed Rev Dr Craige Rev A Leazar Rev J W S Black Rev G W Hardison W J Scroggs paper changed

APPOINTMENTS.

WILMINGTON DISTRICT.
1ST ROUND.

Magnolia, at Salem,	Sept. 8-10
Wilmington, 5th Street,	" 15-17
Columbus, at Bethany,	" 20-21
Kenansville, at Wesley Chapel, Sept 30, and	Oct. - 1
Smithville at Spitfhille,	" 7 8
Clarkton at Lebanon ele,	" 14-15
Wilmington, Front Street,	" 18-19
Lockwood's Folly at Baden Springs,	" 28 29
Bladen at Antioch,	Nov. 4 5
Whiteville and Waccamaw Miss.	" 11-12
Clinton at Goshen,	" 18 19
Topsail at Rocky Point,	" 25--26

The District Conference will be held at Bethany church Onslowy District, commencing on Wednesday the 20th September, at 10 o'clock A. M and with embrace the 4th Sabbath. Rev. J. R. Bailey will preach the opening sermon. Brethren from other districts are invited to attend

W. S. BLACK.
Magnolia, N. C.

NEWBERN DISTRICT.
3RD ROUND—IN PART.

Newbern 1st st.	July 8- 9
Kenansville,	Institute, Wednesday " 12
Swift Creek	" 15-16
Wilson station	" 17
Tarboro, Wednesday,	" 19
Rocky Mount,	" 22 23
Roanoke Circuit,	" 29-30
Snow Hill, Drum's, Wednesday,	Aug. - 2
Sand Hill,	" 10-12
Craven Asbury, Friday,	" 18
Caswell,	" 19 20
Jones Cypress creek Wednesday,	" 23
Mt to the Falling creek,	Sept 2- 3
Goldsboro sta,	" 9-10

J. A. YATES, P. E.
Beaufort, N. C.

HILLSBORO DISTRICT.
3RD ROUND.

Durham sta,	June 24-25
Hillsboro Circuit at Morris chapel	July 1-
Pittsboro et Pleasant Hill,	" 8-
Deep River et Asbury,	" 15-16
Flat River et Fletcher's chapel,	" 22-23
District Conference at Chapel Hill	Aug. 2- 6
Alamance et Rudd,	" 12-13
Roxboro et Prospect,	" 19-20
Yanceyville et Yanceyville,	" 26- 27
Person et Roxboro,	Sep. 2- 3
Hurtsboro sta,	" 9- 10

The District Conference will be held at Chapel Hill, commencing Wednesday August the 2nd, and continuing five days. Ministers and laymen of our own and other Districts are cordially invited to attend.

L. L. HENDREN P. E
Chapel Hill, N C.

FAYETTEVILLE DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Lumberton et Lumberton,	Sept. 9-10
Cumberland Ct. at Camp-Ground,	" 16-17
Jonesboro et Coal - piling,	" 23-24
Fayetteville sta	Oct. 1- 2

J. S. NELSON, P. E
Fayetteville, N. C.

SALISBURY DISTRICT.
3RD ROUND.

Statesville et, Bethlehem,	June 3- 4
Statesville sta.	" 10-11
Mocksville ct, Mt Zion,	" 17 18
Salisbury, Oak Grove,	" 24-25
Mt. Airy & S Mission, Mt. Hermon,	July 1- 2
Surry ct, Siloam,	" 8- 9
Yadkin ct, Macedonia,	" 15-16
Salisbury sta,	" 22-23
Davie ct, Bethlehem,	" 29-30
Rock ville circuit, Liberty,	Aug. 5- 6
Iredell circuit, Snow Creek,	" 12 20
Wilkes circuit, Union,	" 26-27
Alexander ct, Rock Springs,	Sept. 2- 3

The District Conference will meet at Mocksville on Thursday, August 10th. The occasion will be one of great interest to the people of the District, and we hope there will be a large attendance. We cordially invite our brethren out of the District to be present.

D. R BRITON, P. E.

RALEIGH DISTRICT.
1ST ROUND—1876.

Raleigh Person st	Aug. 26-27
Brownsville Mt Tabor,	Sept, 2- 3
Henderson Tabernacle,	" 10 17
Youngsville,	" 23 24
Coleraine Rolesville,	Sept 30th, Oct. 1
Robeson Elkston St.	" 7- 8
Gates, Hollands,	" 14-15
Louisburg,	" 21-22
Far River Franklinton,	" 28-29
Rocky Mt & Nashville, Tolsnot,	at Tolsnot, Nov. 4-5
Smithfield,	" 11-12

J. P. MOORE, P. E.
Warrenton, N. C.

SHELBY DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Columbus,	Aug. 26-27
Rutherfordton,	" 29
Happy Home,	Sept. 2- 3
Caldwell, C. M.	" 9-10
South Fork, C. M.	" 16-17
Dallas, C. M.	" 23-24
Bethel Schools, C. M.,	Sept. 30, Oct. - 1
Berry Mountain, C. M.	" - 7- 8
Shelby Ct. C. M.	" 14-15
Upper Broad River,	" 21-22
Marion, Shelbyville,	" 28-29
Shelby station,	" 30
Morganton,	Nov. 4- 5
Hickory, C. M.	" - 8
Lincoln station,	" 11-12
Lincolnton,	" 11-12
Rock Spring,	" 18 19
Newton,	" 25-26

R. G. BARRETT, P. E.
Shelby, N. C.

GREENSBORO DISTRICT.
3RD ROUND.—C. M.

Jamestown et,	July 22-23
Wentworth, Wentworth,	" 29-30
North Guilford, Jamestown,	Aug. 5 6
Ramseyville, Greensboro',	" 12-13
Forest Hill, Reidsville,	" 19-20
South Guilford, Pleasant Garden	" 26-27
Madison, Mt. Hermon,	Sept. 2- 3
Stokes, Shadeland,	" 9- 10
Danville & H. Point,	Trinity College, " 16-17
Trinity College,	"

A campmeeting will be held in connection with the quarterly meeting at Pleasant Garden, eight miles Friday evening the 25th.

L. B. D. WILSON P. E.

$55 a $77 a Week to Agents. Samples free. P. O. VICKERY, Augusta, Maine. aug 23-1y.

WASHINGTON DISTRICT.
3RD ROUND.

Greenville, at Little's Chapel	June 17 18
Washington,	" 24 25
Tarboro, at Temperance Hall	July 1- 2
Warrenton,	" 8- 9
Warren, at Bethlehem,	" 15-16
Roanoke,	" 22 23
Williamston, at Jone's Chapel	" 29-30
Plymouth,	Aug. 5- 6
Columbia,	" 12-13
Bath,	" 19 20
Lenoir sheet,	" 26 27

The District Conference will commence its session in Warrenton on Thursday, the 6th of July, at 11 o'clock The District Stewards will hold their meeting Saturday, the 8th at 3 o'clock, P M

The Presiding Elder will preach at Boulah on the Williamston circuit July 30th at 11 o'clock, administering Baptism and also the Communion. He will preach at Palmyra on the 27th July at night

The month of August will be observed as the Centennial month.

WM. CLOSS, P. E.
Tolsnot, N. C.

CHARLOTTE DISTRICT.
3RD ROUND.

Pleasant Grove ct, C. M. at Pleas't Grove,	Aug. 19-20
Salisbury ct, C. M. at Bethel,	" 26-27
Statesville ct, at Bethel,	Sept 2- 3
Mocksville ct, at Concord,	" 9-10
Mt. Pleasant, ct. at Olivet,	" 16-17
Concord, ct.	" 16-17
Albemarle ct. at Bethel,	" 20-21
Stanley, ct. C. M. at Beholeth,	Sept. 30 Oct. - 1

W. H. BOBBITT, P. E.
Monroe, N. C.

COMMERCIAL REPORT.

WHOLESALE CASH PRICES.

Office of CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE,
Aug. 8th, 1876.

REMARKS.

Business greatly improved. Country produce offered in quantities; especially in exchange for groceries

COTTON.

Old cotton none. New crop coming to market freely. Tendency downward. We quote Middlings 12½ low middlings 12 1-2 Lower grades none offered.

General Market.

FLOUR, North Carolina $7@8.50.
CORN 75 to 80
HAY MEAL—100
BAGGING, Standard 15 1-2.
" Dundie 13 1-2.
BACON, N. C. sug round, 14, to 15.
" hams 16 1-2 to 18
" shoulders, 12 to 13
LARD, South Carolina, 16 1-2
" Western thereon, 12 1-2@
" kegs, 16 1-2@17 1-2
COFFEE, Prime Rio, 21 1-2
" Fair Rio, 20
SYRUP, common, 37 1-2
MOLASSES, Cuba, 50.
SALT $2.25.
CHEESE, Cream, 15 16.
" Factory, 17.
" Dairy, none.
NAILS, on basis per 100, $4.00.
SUGAR, 9, 13 1-2.
" Extra C. 11 1-4.
" Yellow, 10@11
LEATHER, Sole 27 1-2@30
HIDES, green, 7@8.
" dry, 13 1-2
TALLOW, 7@8
POTATOES, sweet 75
" Irish, $1.00@$1.25.
OATS, shelled, 80
" sheaf, $1.25
FODDER, cold, 1.00. New 1.25
HAY, N. C. baled, 1.00
CHICKENS, grown, 30
" young, 20@30
EGGS, 20
BUTTER, country, 25@30
FISH, Mullets, 2.6 to 6.50.
" Cut Herrings, 7@8.
" Packered, new family, $1 .50
BEES-WAX, 25.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

THE NORTH CAROLINA FARMER

Jos. H. Enos,—Dear Sir. I have been a practical farmer for 50 years, and during that time have taken the best agricultural papers of the day, and I am certain to say that there is more valuable practical information in one harness in the first and second dozen copies of any of the Agricultural Journals I have taken; and I do most earnestly recommend it to every farmer in our State as the paper for him, above all others.

PETER E. HOGE,
Halifax, Co.

Subscription one year, $1.00
5 Copies " " 4.00
10 " " 7.00
Address
Any 30 d-f. J. H. ENNISS & Co. Publishers, Raleigh, N. C.

NEW BOOK.

"our children" by Dr Haygood.—a supply on hand.

Send orders to V. A. Sharpe, Thomasville, N. C. $1.50, by mail—prepd.

Aug 30 3 m

ATLANTA MEDICAL COLLEGE
Atlanta, Ga.

The Nineteenth Annual Course of Lectures in this Institution will commence October 16th, 1876, and close March 1st, 1877.

Send for announcement, giving full information.

JNO. "AD. JOHNSON, M. D.
Dean of Faculty.

Aug 30 1-m

WESLEYAN EMALE COLLEGE,
Murfreesboro, N. C.

Rev. W. G. STARR, M. President, assisted by a large corps of experienced teachers.

FALL SESSION BEGINS SEPT. 25, 1876.

This well-known and long established Institution affords at moderate charges all the facilities for a thorough education

For Catalogue, &c., address,
REV. W. G. STARR,
Murfreesboro, N. C.

aug 30-1m.

CUTAVACO! Cures Pimples, Blackheads, Ringworm, Baldness, Scald-Head, Barber's Itch, Dandruff and Skin Diseases. Now Ready! $1 a bottle. Cuticular Disc. Address, D. E. C. ABBEY, Buffalo, N. Y.

aug 30 -1y

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, } SUPERIOR COURT,
Wake County. } Aug. 16th, 1876.

E. H. STEVENS, Trtee, vs. N. A. Taylor and Jas. S. Pursley.

It appearing to the satisfaction of the Court upon affidavit that the defdant, N. A. Taylor, is a necessary party to this st, and that after due diligence he cannot be found, this State, it is ordered by the Court that service by publication of the summon in this cause be made on the said defendant for at least once a week for six weeks in the Christian Advocate, a newspaper published in the city of Raleigh, and that a copy of s aume be mailed to said defendant at the place of residence if such be known.

J. S. BUNTING,
Clerk.

WAKE COUNT.—IN THE SUPERIOR COURT.

E. H. Stevens, Trtee, &c. } Summons for Relief.
Against
N. A. Taylor and James S. Pursley.

THE STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA:

To the Sheriff of Wake County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded, to summon N. A. Taylor and James Pursley, the defendants above named, if they be found within your county, to appear at the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court for the County of Wake, within 30 days after the service of this summons on them, exclusive of the day of such service, it answer the complaint, a copy of which will be deposited in the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court for said County, within ten days from the date of the summons, and let them take notice that if they fail to answer the said complaint within that time the Plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Hereof fail not, and of this summons make due return.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, this 16th day of August 1876.

J. S. BUNTING,
Clerk Superior Court Wake County.

Jones & Jones and R. T. Gray Plaintiff Attorneys. aug 23-6w.

Trinity College, N. C.

The Session begins Sept. 7th. Tuition $20 to $31 for five months; board $10 to $12 per month. Entire expense for five months $87 to $95.

Send for Catalogue,

aug 22-4t. B. CRAVEN.

SERMONS.

BY E. M. MAIVIN, D.D., LL.D.,
One of the Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church South.

Edited by T. O. SUMMERS, D.D

12mo, Muslin Pages 552.

This book will be ready by the 10th of August. Price Two Dollars, with twenty-five per cent discount to Preachers. It will be sent, post-paid, to any address on receipt on retail price. The money must accompany all orders

A. H. BOYKIN & CO.
Nashville, Tenn.

National Hotel.

Owing to the general depression in all kinds of business, I have been induced to lower prices of Board to $2 per day until December 1st.

Accommodations as heretofore EQUAL to the BEST in the city.

C. S. BROWN, Prop.

Aug 16-tf.

THE BUFFALO
LITHIA WATERS
— IN —
Protracted Intermittent and Remittent Fevers.

Extract from letter of Dr. C. L. Madison, Professor of General Pathology and Physiology to the Medical College, Richmond, Va., July 5th, 1875.

"These waters have been found especially curative in cases of chronic intermittent fever, many intractable cases having been thereby restored to perfect health in a brief space of time."

Extract from Pamphlet of Dr. S. Harris on these Waters, published in 1856.

"In the chronic forms of these troublesome endemics, the Buffalo water acts most happily, and, if persevered in, often effects a permanent cure. Those enlargements of the liver and spleen, concomitants of these affections, are simultaneously relieved with the chills and fever."

Case of L. S. Harris, Esq., of the Virginia Bar, now in the Legislature from Albemarle.

"I left for the State upon the Democratic Presidential ticket;

Extract from letter, dated Buffalo Springs, August 29th, 1875.

"Some years since my system was compleley worn down and prostrated by a protracted case of chills and fever. After trying all the remedies cultivated in such cases in vain, I visited the most noted watering places on the mountains of Virginia, without deriving any benefit, almost in despair of obtaining relief from any source, I left the mountains and came to these Springs, where, in a few weeks, I was entirely restored to health."

Evidences of the great powers of these Waters in Chronic Intermittent and Remittent Fever might be multiplied to almost any extent, both from professional and unprofessional sources.

TIBBS, HARGETT & THOMPSON
Bottlers Lithia Springs,
Mecklenburg Co., Va.

Bargains! Bargains!

In order to reduce my Heavy stock of

SADDLES & HARNESS

I WILL FOR THE NEXT 30 DAYS,

Sell at Prices that will DEFY COMPETITION!

I do not propose to offer you any 2nd or 3rd rate Northern Machine-made work, but of my own manufactury, of No. 1 materials, and put up by under my own supervision, and I assure you that after an experience of over 25 years in the business, of giving entire satisfaction to my customers.

FIRST CLASS WORKMEN!

I ask you still your interest by examining my stock, quality and price before buying elsewhere.

W. H. HUTCHINS,
Opposite Tucker H. H. Fayetteville st.
aug. 16-tf. Raleigh, N. C.

CHARLEY ROSS

AGENTS WANTED in every town in America for

THE FATHER'S STORY

OF CHARLEY ROSS, the most touching and absorbing story in the annals of American History. Gives a full account of the Abduction, the pursuit, and tragic death of the Abductors. For Sketches of their Letters, and all the various incidents connected with the search for the Child, See the Story. It gives a PORTRAIT OF LITTLE CHARLEY, with other choice Illustrations and Information available to lead to the recovery of the Lost Boy, for whom the father offers a Reward of $5000. Written by CHRISTIAN G. ROSS, Sales unprecedented. For Terms and Exclusive Territory, Address JOHN E. POTTER & Co. Publishers, Philadelphia.

aug. 9-13t.

$12 a day at home. Agents wanted. Outfit and terms free. TRUE & CO., Augusta, Maine. mch 4-1-y.

LAWNS! LAWNS!! LAWNS!!!

A new supply figured Lawns in the piece. Very desirable patterns.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER.

BLEACHED DOMESTICS.

Cases Bleached Domestics,
Lower than ever.
Also Lonsdale Cambrics.

W. H.

Children's Column.

The Bald-headed Tyrant.

[illegible] earth and [illegible]
[illegible] no hint of care
[illegible] pleasure merely died by [illegible] and [illegible] peaceful hand
[illegible] from N[illegible] island.

[illegible] upon a freedom of right,
[illegible] took like who [illegible] ground of [illegible]
[illegible] and his power withstand
[illegible] No man's hand.

[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible] to land,
[illegible] sweet hand,
[illegible] from Norman stand.

Only a Flower to Give.

[illegible] asked little Phœbe Cary, "can nothing I can carry to poor [illegible] Molly?"

It was [illegible] poor, and her cupboard was empty that morning.

"I wish I had, Phœbe," said she. "Can you think of anything?"

Phœbe thought a moment, and then said, "I've only a flower. I will take a sweet pea."

So Phœbe found a sweet pea which had climbed under the window, and as it grew and flowered both mother and daughter loved and enjoyed it. Phœbe picked a fine blossom and ran down the lane to poor Molly's cottage. This was a [illegible] woman, who for a whole [illegible] on her bed, suffering [illegible].

[illegible] day called to see [illegible] and noticed the sweet-pea [illegible] near the poor [illegible].

"[illegible] pretty posy," said [illegible] as she brought to me this morning, "the little girl who said it was [illegible] flowering. I am sure it [illegible] a great deal to know I'm [illegible] of; and as I look at it, it [illegible] the image of green fields and [illegible] sides I used to pick when I was young, yes, and it makes me [illegible] what a wonderful God we have! [illegible] Father's love is not beneath [illegible] and his care, he won't [illegible] a poor creature like me."

There came into the lady's eyes [illegible] and she thought. She [illegible], "If you have only a flower to [illegible] that, and remember, too, the [illegible] words, that even a cup of [illegible] given in a Christian spirit [illegible] has its reward."

[illegible] a great deal to the poor, [illegible] the sick, to know that [illegible] are thought of.

Fast Walk with an Umbrella.

The [illegible] boy under his umbrella, [illegible] drawer stuck in his hat, [illegible] the people in the street. A [illegible] Old man stopped and [illegible] to him. Two girls turned [illegible] and laughed.

"Got his hat, too!" said one to the [illegible].

[illegible] "Hallo, Eddie," said the [illegible] "what are you doing with such a big umbrella?"

"Keeping off the rain!"

The rain stopped, and Eddie's papa shut his umbrella; but Eddie still [illegible] under his.

"Get your umbrella, papa. Mine is open," said the little boy.

"But do you suppose it all could? Suppose you carry me," said a tired voice under the hot bright with flowers.

Ah, that is the way all through life! When the storms come we think we can endure. But out in the weary way we hear a tired voice saying, "Father, carry me!"

CHRISTIAN FAITH.—As I softly observed an angel [illegible] stooping in his little [illegible] hand, and his earthly [illegible] to pick the pears which [illegible] sometimes, and said to him: "Are you not grow weary in such labors, and [illegible] of life, so hard and hurdensome unfriendly." His reply was [illegible] the direction of the serenity [illegible] he [illegible] for he said: "[illegible] been in my time [illegible] servant. He [illegible] [illegible] He waiting servant [illegible] these days, when I fall as these [illegible] things, He will pick me up."

[illegible] certainly in taking Cod Liver [illegible] is [illegible] relied on by the [illegible] profession for the cure of Throat [illegible] diseases, Scrofula, Debility, [illegible] Our PERE COD LIVER [illegible] of Lime is decidedly [illegible] and is proving wonderfully [illegible] in above diseases. Sig[illegible] [illegible] Jabs'—Jno. C. Baker & Co., Philadelphia.

Rural and Domestic.

EATING AND DYSPEPSIA.

It is an old German adage that "more people dig their own graves with their teeth than with spades," and verily it would seem so i, we would look at the immense number of dyspeptics, rheumatic and gouty individuals creeping through life in pain and wretchedness. Yet it is next to impossible to induce even thinking people to control their appetites, and to eat such things and at such times as nature shows them is necessary and right. Dr. Hall declares unhesitatingly that it is wrong to eat, without an appetite, for it shows there is no gastric juice in the stomach, and that nature does not need food, and, not needing it, there being no fluid to receive and act upon it, it remains there only to putrefy, the very thought of which should be sufficient to deter any one from eating without an appetite. The remainder of his life. If a tonic is taken to whet the appetite it is a mistaken course, for its only result is to cause one to eat more, when already an amount has been eaten beyond what the gastric juice is able to prepare. The object to be obtained is a large supply of gastric juice; what ever fails to accomplish that essential object fails to have any efficacy toward the cure of dyspeptic diseases. The formation of gastric juice is directly proportioned to the wear and tear of the system, which it is to be the means of supplying, and this wear and tear can only take place as the result of exercise. The efficient remedy for dyspeptics is work—out door work—beneficial and successful in direct proportion as it is agreeable, interesting and profitable.—Rural New Yorker.

THE FALL OUTLOOK.

Within the past few weeks there have been unmistakable symptoms of a better feeling throughout the entire business community. People have accepted a more cheerful view of things, not so much from the wish being father to the thought as from looking abroad and discerning the signs of the times.

One of the northern exchanges tells us that "A conclusive evidence of the turn of the tide and that demand is overtaking supply, which has long been in excess, is the upward movement of prices of so many articles. This is particularly noticeable in cotton, sugars and sugar products, teas, breadstuffs of all kinds, canned goods and dairy produce. In other departments a strengthening tone is manifested. Notwithstanding the existing low prices in boots and shoes arrangements are being made for a large production, in the expectation that we shall see a rise; and some of the new styles of prints have opened higher than last fall, based on the light stocks interior merchants have on hand and the brisk manner in which the season has opened."

Of course an increase in prices betokens a living trade. The crop reports generally are very favorable from all over the country. The farmers of the West and Northwest have been for years exporting prodigious quantities of wheat, corn, beef and pork, the proceeds of which have made them rich and in a position to be the most liberal patrons of the manufacturers. This year their harvests will perhaps be more abundant than ever before and the prosperity of the farmers will tend to the prosperity of every one else.

With us, in the South, the crops are in the main abundant, with the exception of tobacco. The cereal crops are fine, as is also the cotton crop.

People may have begun to think, that the hard times would last forever. But, we believe the in coming crop will bring the country into new prosperity. The indications are most favorable in every part of the Union.—Farmer's Journal.

A Double Danger Averted.

The inhabitants of swampy or marshy localities are [illegible] by a double danger. He is not only compelled to breathe miasma, but to swallow it, since it infects not only the atmosphere, but the water. The acrid poison threatens his system through the lungs and pores, the bowels through the stomach. Against this double peril there is but a single protection and that is to invigorate the entire body through the digestive and corrective organs. Ordinary tonics usually fail to accomplish this. But [illegible] a stomach Bitters never. In the tropics, where the diseases originated by malaria are of a far more malignant type those originated by the same cause in the temperate zone, it enjoys [illegible] and constantly increasing sales and there is no portion of this continent where it is not the [illegible] specific for miasmatic fevers and disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, proceeding from malaria and other causes.

WESLEYAN FEMALE INSTITUTE.
STAUNTON, VA.

Will begin its twenty-seventh Annual Session, September 23d, 1876. Rev W. A. HARRIS, LL. D., President, with an able corps of [illegible] Teachers and Officers.

Modern Languages taught and spoken [illegible] by a Native and Resident. Music by eight Professors and Teachers, among whom are some of the most cultivated teachers of vocal music in the South.

This is one of the healthiest situations in the United States, marked others in the rapid progression of the [illegible] and vigor of our pupils. Those who come here from the South with feeble constitutions, and chronic diseases, are generally restored.

Board [illegible] cleanse—tanned by forest breezes, commanding the most magnificent scenery, and combining such varied attractions as to make it one of the most delightful college homes in the Union.

This School is usually attended by pupils from fifteen to seventeen different States.

Great economy and simplicity in dress are required. A simple uniform is worn. No unnecessary expense allowed. Strict economy practiced to limit expenses of pupils.

From Bishop D. S. Doggett, D. D.

The Western Female Institute, located in Staunton, Va., under the [illegible] of Rev. W. A. Harris, is, in my judgment, one of the best institutions for young ladies in the South. I have occasion to know, and appreciate its value by the advantages enjoyed by one of my daughters there. Its course of study is ample, its faculty accomplished, and its instruction [illegible] reliable. Its patronage commends itself. There are all that can be desired for health and comfort, of time. No pains will be more faithful in securing more magnificent, no atmosphere more salubrious. Nor the least of its merits, is that sacred regard for religious training, without which no Female College especially, would be a necessity.

D. S. DOGGETT

From Bishop E. M. Marvin, D. D

The Western Female Institute is an honor to the [illegible] Valley. Its objects is thorough. Its music, advantages and cost of very high order. The most talented Professors are employed, and neither pains nor expenses are spared to make this department eminently.

From Prof. F. H. Smith, M. A., L. L. D., University of Virginia.

The Western Female Institute, at Staunton, deserves to [illegible] success. Having had a daughter at Mr. Harris' care, my observation leads me to believe this will not be one of the least of Female Seminaries within our State. * * The Hollins and Wesleyan Female Institute would be filled to over flowing with pupils from all our South ern States.

FRANCIS H. SMITH.

TERMS FOR THE ENTIRE COLLEGIATE YEAR, Board [illegible] Tuition [illegible] Circular office. $249. For Catalogues, address,

Rev W. A. HARRIS, President, Staunton, Va

VANDERBILT UNIVERSITY.
Nashville, Tenn.

THE ANNUAL SESSION OPENS SEPTEMBER 18TH, 1876

Cost of grounds, Buildings, Library, and Apparatus $130,000
Permanent Endowment 500,000
Substentation Fund 120,000

The University is organized in Four Departments: The Department of Philosophy, Science, and Literature, with ten Professors and two Tutors.
The Department of Theology—three Professors.
The Department of Law—three Professors.
The Department of Medicine—ten Professors.
Board and boarding, with fuel and lights, can be had on approved families, or private boarding-houses, at from $16 to $20 per month.
Ministers of the gospel, of any Church, will be admitted to the Schools of the Academical and Biblical Departments free of tuition fees.
For special information in regard to Board, and the general catalogues, address R. A. Young, D. D., Financial Secretary.
For other information, address

I. C. GARLAND,
Chancellor Vanderbilt University,
Nashville, Tenn.

July 19-1m.

JOHN J. FRAY'S
CLASSICAL AND MATHEMATICAL SCHOOL.

The 19th session of my school will begin on Sept. 4th, 1876, at Manlius Depot, same as before the Rebellion. Pupils will be met at Dayton on the N. C. R. R. 11 miles distant or at Raleigh.

For circulars containing terms, particulars &c. Address

JOHN J. FRAY,
Raleigh, N. C.

References—The Faculty of the University of Va., Rev. R. F. Bullock, A. M., Hillsboro', N. C., Rev. J. F. Robbins, D. D., Rev. J. P. Moore. [illegible]

Solvency! Stability! Promptness!

THE NORTH CAROLINA HOME
Insurance Co.,
OF RALEIGH,

CONTINUES TO WRITE POLICIES ON ALL CLASSES OF INSURABLE PROPERTY ON THE MOST REASONABLE TERMS

Capital and Assets - $100,000!

Its stockholders are among the most prominent and responsible business men in the State.

During its existence it has paid out in losses, over $80,000, and the accumulated earnings have been loaned to our own people.

AGENTS IN EVERY COUNTY IN THE STATE.

E. H. BATTLE, Jr., President.
C. B. ROOT, Vice President.
SEATON GALES, Secretary.
P. COWPER, Special and Local Agent.
apl 20th tf.

CRYSTAL METAL BRONZED BELLS
FOR CHURCHES,
SCHOOL HOUSES,
FACTORIES,
SHOPS,
PLANTATIONS.

These Bells are composed of the purest metal [illegible], and the shape and weight of metal in them is such as to give the best possible results. They are

SUPERIOR IN TONE AND FINISH

to many others, no matter under what name they may be sold, either "STEEL COMPOSITION" or "AMALGAM," and are Guaranteed to Give Satisfaction.

The CHEAPEST BELL MADE.

Church Bells for sale at cost.

T. H. BRIGGS & SONS,
Briggs Building,
RALEIGH, N. C.
DEALER IN
Hardware, Building Material, Wood and Iron Working Material, Painters' Glass, Paints, Oils and Putty. Write for Prices. No charge for Ladder or Drayage. apl 6m.

TYSON & JONES'

Carriage Builders,
CARTHAGE, N. C.

Having recently increased our facilities for Manufacturing, we are now prepared to furnish Vehicles of the BEST QUALITY and shortest notice, and at comparative low prices. Vehicles shipped at Sanford, Jonesboro and Chatham R. R. via Raleigh to any part of the State.

We feel confident that, with close attention we give the business together with the materials used the skill we have and the prices sell, and the many compliments we receive for our manufacturing FIRST CLASS WORK, to house in the country can excel us in

STYLE, FINISH, DURABILITY AND Low Prices.

We manufacture and keep constantly on hand chaises of the best quality.

Repairing neatly Done. Notice Send for Circular.

July 21 1-y

Established 1816.
CHAS. SIMON & SONS,
No. 64 N. HOWARD STREET, BALTIMORE,
DEALERS IN
FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC
DRY GOODS,
would call special attention to their entire stock of
DRESS GOODS,
LINEN GOODS,
EMBROIDERIES,
LACES AND HOSIERY
The best assortment of Mourning Goods
In the city.
SAMPLES SENT FREE!

All orders amounting to $20 or more, will be sent free of freight charges by Steamer, but no charge orders are not accepted by the manufacturers buying their Goods sent C. O. D., must pay for cost of the goods.

L. BRANSON,
BOOKSELLER
—AND—
STATIONER.
RALEIGH, N. C.
School Books a Specialty
Everything in my line kept for sale. mch 22 tf.

JAMES M. TOWLES, Gen'l Agent, Raleigh. Keeps constantly on hand a full supply of Plows, Plows and castings.
May 19-3m.

$42 A WEEK.
Agents wanted everywhere. Business permanent and first class. For further Particulars, address
J. KENNEDY & CO., Richmond, Ind.

SCHEDULES.
PIEDMONT AIR-LINE RAILWAY.
RICHMOND & DANVILLE, RICHMOND & DANVILLE R. W., N. C. DIVISION, and NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. W.

CONDENSED TIME-TABLE.
IN EFFECT ON AND AFTER SUNDAY, JULY 16TH, 1876.

GOING NORTH

STATIONS.	MAIL.	EXPRESS.
Leave Charlotte.....	5.35 A M	2.15 A M
" Air-Line Junct'n	6.14 "	2.40 "
" Salisbury.....	8.41 "	4.19 "
" Greensboro'....	10.58 "	6.17 "
" Danville.....	1.39 P M	8.54 "
" Dundee.....	1.49 "	9.01 "
" Burkeville.....	3.49 "	12.45 P M
Arrive at Richmond..	5.36 P M	3.19 P M

GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS.	MAIL.	EXPRESS.
Leave Richmond.....	5.50 A M	1.10 P M
" Burkeville.....	9.00 "	3.24 "
" Dundee.....	1.29 P M	8.15 "
" Danville.....	1.44 "	8.30 "
" Greensboro'.....	4.35 "	11.25 "
" Salisbury.....	6.01 "	12.52 A M
" Air-Line Junct'n	9.06 "	2.39 "
Arrive at Charlotte..	9.48 "	3.12 A M

GOING EAST. GOING WEST.

STATIONS.	Mail		Mail
Leave Greensboro',	12.55 A. M.	Arrive	4.10 P. M.
" Co. Shops,	1.20 P. M.	Leave	4.05 "
arrive at Raleigh,	3.45 P. M.	Arrive	1.40 "
Arrive at Goldsboro'	6.20 P. M.	Leave	8.55 A M

STATIONS.	ACCOMMODATION TRAIN.
Leave Greensboro',	6.41 A. M.	Arr.	5.51 A. M.
" Co. Shops,	7.26 "	Lv.	4.05 A. M.
Arr at Raleigh,	9.05 P. M.	Arr	3.40 P. M.
Arr at Goldsboro'	11.30 "	Lv	2.05 P. M.

NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. R.
SALEM BRANCH.

Leave Greensboro'..... 4.45 P. M.
Arrive at Salem..... 6.45 "
Leave Salem..... 8.15 A. M.
Arrive at Greensboro'..... 10.05 "

Passengers taking Raleigh at 11.29 A. M. connects at Greensboro' with the Southern mail train, making no quicker time to all Southern points, commencing at Raleigh leaving Raleigh at 8.45 A. M., connecting at Greensboro' with Northern bound train, arriving at all points East. Price of ticket same as via Danville.

Passengers leaving Greensboro at 6.41 A. M. connects at Goldsboro with Northern and Southern mail trains, arriving at Wilmington and Weldon in time for dinner.

Passengers from Salem leave Greensboro' at 10.05 A. M., connecting with a mail train at Goldsboro' at 2.05 P. M., arrive at Raleigh at 3.40 A. M. and connecting with the Piedmont Air Line at Greensboro' with a mail train leaving Greensboro' at 12.55 A. M., arrive at Richmond at 8.30 A. M.

No Change of Cars between Charlotte and Richmond, 282 Miles.

Passengers can have arrangements to advertise the schedule on this company will please print as above.

For further information address

JOHN R. MACRURDO,
Gen'l Passenger Agent,
Richmond, Va.

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE.
RALEIGH & GASTON RAILROAD CO.

On and after Friday, May 22nd, 1874, trains on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad will run daily (Sundays excepted) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Leave Raleigh,	9.45 A. M.
Arrive at Weldon,	3.30 P. M.
Leaves Weldon,	9.30 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh,	3.45 P. M.

ACCOMMODATION TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh,	5.15 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon,	5.35 P. M.
Leaves Weldon,	7.40 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh,	8.15 P. M.

Mail train makes close connection at Weldon, with the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad and Bay Line steamers to Baltimore, and from all points North, West and Northwest, and with Petersburg Railroad to Petersburg, Richmond and Washington City. Also, at Gaston, with the South and Northwest.

Close connection with the North Carolina Railroad to and from Goldsboro, and with Southern and Atlantic & Augusta Air Line to Hayward Fayetteville.

RALEIGH & AUGUSTA AIR-LINE RAILROAD.

SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE, Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 27th, 1875.

On and after Monday, October 25th, 1875, trains on the R. & A. A. L. Road will run daily, (Sundays excepted,) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Train leaves Raleigh,	4.00 P. M.
Arrives at Hamlet,	6.55 "
Train leaves Hamlet,	6.30 A. M
Arrives at Raleigh,	9.25 "

FREIGHT TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh,	5.15 A. M.
Arrives at Hamlet,	10.30 "
Leaves Hamlet,	11.00 A. M
Arrives at Raleigh,	3.50 P. M.

Mail Train makes close connection at Raleigh with the Richmond and Danville Railroad, to and from all points North.

Connects at Hamlet with the Western Railroad, to and from Fayetteville and points on Western Railroad.

OFFICE DEPT. OF TRANSPORTATION, Seaboard & Roanoke R. R. Co., Portsmouth, Va., Jan. 1st, 1876.

On and after this date, trains on this Road will leave Weldon daily, Sunday excepted, as follows:

Local train at	4 P. M.
No. 1 Freight train at	4 A. M.
No. 2 Freight train at	8 A. M.

ARRIVE AT PORTSMOUTH.

Mail train at	7.15 P. M
No. 1 Freight at	12.00 Noon
No. 2 Freight at	4.00 P. M

Freight trains have a passenger car attached.

Steamer to Edenton, Plymouth and Land Trips on Blackwater River and Chowan River to Franklin at 7.30 A. M. on days, Wednesdays and Fridays.

R. G. GHIO,
Supt. Transportation.

OLD NORTH STATE
FIRE
Insurance Company,
OF
WARRENTON, ----- N. C.,

This Company has closed its third year in a condition of GREAT PROSPERITY, and entered upon its fourth year under the MOST PROMISING AUSPICES.

Reciprocates the liberal patronage which it receives, and claims:

It is a home Institution.
It has ample Capital and Reserves.
It pays its losses promptly.

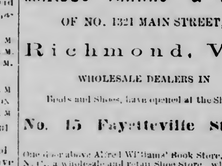
ASSETS.

Cash on hand and in Bank,	$ 8421 51
Cash in hands of Agents,	4,084 19
Notes,	43,670 00
Real Estate Mortgages,	30,998 82
Loaned on Collaterals,	7,647 63
Due for premiums,	3,720 63
Interest due and accrued,	944 88
	$100,287 19

LIABILITIES:

All liabilities including full reinsurance Reserved,	$13 483 51
Surplus,	1,1,,816 88
	$100,297 19

WM. S. DAVIS, President.
E. P. LONG, Secretary.



apl 12-1y.

AGENTS FIND THAT THE FULL HISTORY OF THE Wonderful MOODY & SANKLY in Great Britain and America is a success everywhere. All want it—rich or poor. From 5 to 20 books a day's work. It is the only complete work published, containing Mr. Moody's Sermons and Prayer Meeting Talks, Sankey's Addresses, and everything of interest. Handsome, steel portrait, and 12 engravings. 1200 pages. Address H. S. GOODSPEED & CO., 14 Barclay Street, New York.

OAKSHADE BERKSHIRES!

First-Class, pure Blooded Pigs, of the best families yet imported to the United States, entitled to entry in the Berkshire Record, constantly for sale. Prices at 25 per head, delivered to Express, $10 each. Also Ball Bred Cotswold Lambs at $10 each.
1 Pair ASTORA Bees at $25.

T. W. Harris,
Oakshade Farm, Pittsboro, N. C.
June 7-1y.

A NEW BOOK.
"Our Children."

This is the title of a new book now in press by Rev. Atticus G. Haygood, D. D., President of Emory College, with an introduction by Dr. Lovick Pierce. The book is to contain nearly 400 pages 12 mo, and to be gotten out in the very best style. Price $1.50 per copy. We give the table of contents which can but sharpen the appetite of the reader for the coming volume. It is emphatically a book for parents, preachers and children.

TABLE OF CONTENTS.
Part I—The Family.

Chapter. I. Childhood.
II. Childhood and Religion.
III. Prevention of Sin an Invaluable Blessing.
IV. The Enlightening and Quickening Spirit.
V. On More Ability to Talk Religion.
VI. "Feed My Lambs."
VII. The Family—Its Basis in Marriage.
VIII. The Family—The Basis of Church and State.
IX. The Family—A School of Religion.
X. The Duty of Teaching God's Word to our Children.
XI. Training as well as Teaching.
XII. What Human Parenthood Should Signify.
XIII. Home Influences.
XIV. The Christian Home.
XV. The Family Altar.
XVI. Ideals and Illusions.
XVII. Ideals.

Part II—The Sunday School.

Chapter. I. The Magnitude of the Movement.
II. The Sunday School Auxiliary.
III. The Function of the Sunday School.
IV. What should be in the Sunday School.
V. Blending Pieces.
VI. The Power of the Right Spirit.
VII. A Look to a Dark Place.
VIII. Stories as a Means of Grace.
IX. Rattling Bibles.
X. Opening Sunday School Work.

Price, $1.50 in cloth, postage paid, to any address. The book will be ready in about three weeks. We are ready to receive orders.

To Preachers, Twenty-Five Per Cent. Discount. Send by P. O. Money Order or Draft or by express. We have taken the agency for the book in Raleigh, and we would be pleased to [illegible] for its [illegible] sex of the Conference, Sunday schools and all others at once with a fresh and charming book.

Send in your orders at once, and the book will be promptly [illegible].

Address,
CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE
Raleigh, N. C.

RECEIVED TO-DAY,
Saturday May 27,

10,000 yards more of those beautiful PACIFIC LAWNS at 10 cents per yard. The handsomest we have ever had.

We call the ladies' attention to our DRESS GOODS, which we are selling lower than any house in the city. LACE CURTAINS at 50 cents can't be undersold.

A beautiful line of figured ALL LINEN LAWNS.

Ready made Linen Dresses for ladies.

The largest Stock of Hosiery in the State. Ladies' Hose from 10 cents to 75 cents.

Gents Half Hose; 10 to 75 cents a pair.

Bobbing Braid, Superior Sewing Silk in all the colors. The dress makers pronounce it to be the best in the market.

Lace, Edging & Corsets in the city from 50 cents to $2.00.

A full line of Gentlemen's Cassimeres and Under wear.

We have also just received a new supply of our Custom-Made Shirts—ready made, superior to any in town [illegible] at $1.25.

Hamburg Edgings, Ladies' Neck Ties, Gents' Ties —a beautiful line.

More of those handsome Parasols, which we are selling at a small price.

TO MERCHANTS

We will be glad to at any time to show them through our stock, for we can save them some money if they will give us a call.

PETTY & JONES,
20 Fayetteville Street,
Raleigh, N. C.
June 7-tf.

ESTABLISHED 1853.

NEARLY A QUARTER OF A CENTURY'S EXPERIENCE IN THE Boot & Shoe Business.

MARCUS HARRIS & BRO,
OF NO. 1321 MAIN STREET,
Richmond, Va.;
WHOLESALE DEALERS IN
Boots and Shoes, have opened at the Store,
No. 15 Fayetteville Street,

One door above Alfred Williams' Book Store, Raleigh, N. C., a wholesale and retail Shoe Store, where will be found a complete assortment of Ladies', Misses, and Children's Shoes of every description; a good line of Gentlemen's and Boys' Boots and Shoes; also a very choice of Trunks and Satchels.

We are prepared to sell cheaper than any other house in Raleigh, as we buy in very large quantities from the first hands at extremely low prices.

Ladies are especially invited to call and examine our stock.

We want to call the attention of the trade to our stock as we can supply them as low as they can be bought in either North.

All orders promptly attended to. Persons at a distance can order shoes, and have the privilege of returning the same, if they do not fit or suit, [illegible] sent by Express C. O. D.

We have only one price, and that the very lowest. Cash or Town or Country Trade.

Mr. C. Hutchings, (form ly with A. Creech), is with us, and will be pleased to see his friends and acquaintances.

MARCUS HARRIS & BRO.,
No. 15 Fayetteville Street,
Raleigh, N. C.

B. WESTBURY, Salesman.
June 21-3m.

NEW FIRM
TO FRIENDS AND PUBLIC GENERALLY

I have associated with me Mr. G. D. Rand (formerly Rand & Barber, Lumber Dealers,) as a partner in the Wholesale and retail Grocery and General Commission business. I respectfully tender my thanks for past favors and hope to have them continued with the new firm. Yours truly,
January 6, 1876. L. R. WYATT.

G. D. RAND. L. R. WYATT.

RAND & WYATT,
Wholesale and Retail Grocers
AND
COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

Have on hand and constantly receiving a fresh and best class stock of consisting of Flour, a specialty, Meal, Corn, Bacon Lard, Sugar, Coffee, Pepper and Spice, Molasses (new crop Cuba), Syrup, Tobbo and Laundry, Soaps, Wood and Willow ware, Fancy Groceries, &c.

GROCERIES

Everything entrusted to a First Class Grocery which we propose to sell at Lowest figures—Give us a trial. Orders with proper reference respectfully solicited, which shall receive our prompt attention. Consignment of Cotton and other produce solicited. Best prices guaranteed Yours truly,

RAND & WYATT,
Opp. East end of Market, Raleigh, N. C.
July 12 1 y

ROCK SPRING SEMINARY.
MALE AND FEMALE.

The next Term begins 1st Wednesday in August; also continues 20 weeks. Board $8 per month. Tuition $4 to $20 per term. Music $18. For circular apply to

D. MATT THOMPSON, PRINCIPAL,
Denver, Lincoln Co., N. C.
July 12-6w

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.
Established in 1837.
Superior Bells of Copper and Tin, mounted with the best Rotary Hangings, for Churches, Schools, Farms, Factories, Court Houses, Fire Alarms, Tower Clocks, Chimes, &c. Fully Warranted.
Illustrated Catalogue sent Free.
VANDUZEN & TIFT,
102 and 104 East Second St., Cincinnati.
may 17 1 y.

SEND 25c. to G. P. ROWELL & CO., New York for Pamphlet of 100 pages, containing lists of 3,000 newspapers, and estimates showing cost of advertising. [illegible]

NEVER BEFORE EQUALLED.
The Largest Stock
ON RECORD!!!

C. WEIKEL HAS RETURNED!

HE IS STILL AT THE OLD STAND WITH A LARGE ASSORTMENT OF

SPRING GOODS
THAN EVER.

U. S. CENTENNIAL GOODS.
FOURTH JULY CENTENNIAL GOODS.

1776. Latest Styles. 1876.

Look at my latest Fashion Plates and choose your style.

CLOTHS,
CASSIMERES,
SUITINGS.

In fact anything you want. Come and see me, I know I can suit you.

WEIKEL'S ESTABLISHMENT
Is at the old place, one door South of the Southern Express Office.
I GUARANTEE ALL MY FITS.
C. WEIKEL.
May 3-3m.

MUSIC AND MUSIC BOOKS!
The Salutation.

New Church Music Book by L. O. EMERSON. $1.38, or $12. per dozen.

The Encore

[Nearly ready]. For Singing Schools. By L. O. EMERSON. 75 cts., or $7.50 per dozen.

Centennial Collection of National Songs

Patriotic Songs of all nations. Paper 40 cts. Boards 50 cts.

Shining River.

Song Book for Sabbath Schools By W. O. PERKINS. 35 cts.

Centennial Hymn.

Whittier—Paine. 30c. 8 vo. form for Societies, 10 cts; Arr. for Orchestra, $1.00.
Gov. Hayes' Grand March. With Portrait. 40c.
Tilden & Hendricks' Grand March. With Port. 40c.
"Roll Along, Roll Along." Campaign Sg. 40c.
"Hayes and Wheeler are our Choice." 30c.

IN PRESS.

Emerson's Chorus Book, for Societies
Whippoorwill. Song Book for Schools.
Male Voice Glee Book.
Any Book or Piece sent, post-paid, for retail price.

OLIVER DITSON & CO.,
Boston
C. H. Ditson & Co., 711 Broadway, New York
J. E. Ditson & Co., Successors to Lee & Walker, Phila.

STIEFF
GRAND, SQUARE, AND UPRIGHT
PIANOS

Have received upwards of FIFTY FIRST PREMIUMS and are among the best now made. Every instrument fully warrant for five years. Prices as low as the cash in use on the very best materials and the most thorough workmanship will permit. The principal musicals and composers, and the piano-purchasing public of the south especially, unite in the unanimous verdict of the superiority of the STIEFF PIANO. The DURABILITY of our instruments is fully established by over sixty school and colleges in the South, using over 200 of our Pianos.

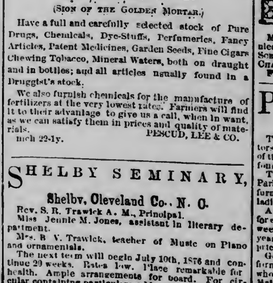
Sole Wholesale Agents for several of the principal manufacturers of Cabinet and Parlor Organs; prices from $50 to $999. A liberal discount to Clergymen and Sabbath schools.

A large assortment of second-hand Pianos at prices ranging from $75 to $300, always on hand.

Send for Illustrated Catalogue, containing names of over 3000 Southerners, who have bought and are using the Stieff Piano.

CHARLES M. STIEFF,
Warerooms, No. 9 North Liberty street.
Baltimore, Md.
Factories, 84 & 86 Camden st. and 45 & 47 Perry st.
Dec 16-12m

1876. The 1876.



PRINTING HOUSE and BOOK BINDERY OF THE STATE.

THE BEST. THE LARGEST. THE MOST COMPLETE.

EDWARDS, BROUGHTON & CO.
PRACTICAL
Printers and Binders,
Fayetteville Street.
OPPOSITE MARKET SQUARE,
jan 19-12m. RALEIGH, N. C.

Grain and Feed Store
REMOVAL.

We take this method of announcing to the public that we have moved to the WILLIAMSON, CHURCH & THOMAS STORE, Where we invite all persons in want of Meal, Flour, Corn, Oats, Peas, Peanuts, Bran, Mill-Feed, Ship-Stuff, Hay, Fodder, Shucks, And all kinds of

HORSE AND COW FEED

Of the best quality at lowest prices to give us a call.

GAITIS & JONES.

Orders for Coal and Wood filled at same place, or at yard by

J. A. JONES.

Pescud, Lee & Co.,
WHOLESALE & RETAIL DRUGGISTS,
RALEIGH, N. C.
(SIGN OF THE GOLDEN MORTAR.)

Have a full and carefully selected stock of Pure Drugs, Chemicals, Dye-Stuffs, Perfumeries, Fancy Articles, Patent Medicines, Garden Seeds, Fine Cigars Chewing Tobacco, Mineral Waters, both on draught and in bottles; and all articles usually found in a Druggist's stock.

We also furnish chemicals for the manufacture of fertilizers at the very lowest rates. Farmers will find it to their advantage to give us a call, when in want, as we can satisfy them in prices and quality of materials.
mch 22-1y. PESCUD, LEE & CO.

SHELBY SEMINARY,
Shelby, Cleveland Co., N. C.

Rev. S. R. Trawick A. M., Principal.
Miss Jennie M. Jones, assistant in literary department.

Mr. S. R. V. Trawick, teacher of Music on Piano and ornamentals.

The next term will begin July 19th, 1876 and continue 20 weeks. Rates low. Place remarkable for health. Ample accommodations for board. For circular containing particulars address the principal.

THE OLDEST
WHOLESALE GROCERY HOUSE
In Raleigh!
ESTABLISHED IN 1869.

LEACH BROTHERS,
WHOLESALE GROCERS
—AND—
Commission Merchants,
RALEIGH, N. C.

Ask the attention of the trade to their stock of

STAPLE GROCERIES,

ought from first hands by their resident Partner in New York, and offered in this market on small margins.

With an experience of seven years in the grocery business in this city they will make it to the interest of prompt paying customers to send them their orders.

P. O. Box 416, Raleigh, N. C.
March 8th 1-y

1876.
WINTER GOODS
—AT—
J.P. GULLEY'S,
DEALER IN
Dry Goods, Notions, Boots, Shoes, Hand Made.
Clothing Department up Stairs.
Fayetteville St. and South Corner Market Square,
RALEIGH, N. C.

I wish to say to the Ladies that I am Sole Agent here for Frank Leslie's Journal

CUT PAPER PATTERNS.

Have stock of these Patterns on hand, comprising all the latest Novelties for Ladies, Misses, Children and Boys, for every description of Dress. Circulars sent on application free.

J. P. GULLEY
jan 19-tf.

GOOD PAY. WANTED! GOOD PAY.
CANVASSERS in every place for the
ILLUSTRATED CHRISTIAN WEEKLY,
$2 50 IN ADVANCE, POSTPAID.

A Treasury of Good Things every week with Beautiful Engravings, published by the AMERICAN TRACT SOCIETY
Applications, accompanied by undoubted recommendations, may be made to
T. L. D. WALFORD, 914 Main St., Richmond, Va.
SOUTHERN BRANCH.
American Tract Society and general Sunday School and Religious Book Depository
914 MAIN STREET
Richmond Va.,

All Books sold at publishers prices, and liberal discounts allowed to the trade.
Special attention given to the selection of S. S. Libraries and every Book we select warranted to give satisfaction.

T. L. D. WALFORD,
Agent.

DAVENPORT FEMALE COLLEGE
Lenoir, N. C.
REV. W. M. ROBEY, A. M. President.

EXPENSES PER SESSION.

Board including lights and washing,	$70,00
Tuition, English course,	25,00
Music, with use of instrument,	25,00
Entire expenses from $150 to	120.

The fall session will open on the 4th Monday in August, and close on 3rd Friday in Jan. The Spring Session will open on the 4th Monday in Jan 1877, and close on the 1st Thursday in June.

For information refer to Rev. W. S. Black, P. E. Wilmington Dis. H. M. Bowden, Wilmington, Rev. E. A. Yates, P. E. Newbern Dis. Rev. Dr. Burkett, Raleigh, Rev. E. W. Thompson Fayetteville, R

Raleigh Christian Advocate.

Bobbitt & Gray, Publishers. | Published in the Interests of Methodism in North Carolina. | $2.20 Per Annum, in Advance.

Vol. XXII.---No. 36. | Raleigh, N. C., Wednesday, September 6, 1876. | Whole No. 1,124.

Poetry.

A MOTHER'S CARES.

Talk not think that I could bear
My daily weight of woman's care,
If it were not for this:
That Jesus seeneth always near,
Unseen, but whispering in my ear
Some tender word of love or cheer,
To lull my soul with bliss.

The cares so many, trivial cares
That no one knows and no one shares,
Too small for me to tell,
Dismiss that even my husband's kind eye,
Nor this dear love uplift from me
Each hour's increased perplexity
That mothers know so well.

The fretfulness of some household demon,
The rending of some pleasant dream,
Deep hidden in my breast;
The weariness of children's noise,
The yearning for that subtle poise
That numbth duties into joys,
And giveth inner rest.

All secret things however small,
Are known to Jesus, each and all,
And these I might bring in peace,
If not I could say one word,
He knows that through my heart hath stirred
Not living earthly joy,
Makes all its throbbing cease

And then, upon His loving breast,
My weary head is laid at rest
To sweet repose resting;
Faith keeping watch all the night
That care, fatigue or mortal pain
Should hope to drive me forth again
From such felicity.

Communicated.

For the Advocate

Mt. Bethel.

More than half a century has passed, since, (after Phillip Bruce, John Early, who afterwards became Bishop and others, faithful pioneers, had traveled and labored through, and across that portion of North Carolina, lying between the Roanoke and Haw Rivers) Lewis Skidmore, a man full of gifts and graces, was appointed by the Virginia Conference to a circuit embracing the counties of Warren, Granville, Orange, Person and Caswell. About the center of this field of labor was Mt. Bethel, in the eastern part of Orange county.

The first time he attended this appointment, but few persons met him. Not at all discouraged he entered the "free meeting house," for such was Mt. Bethel at that time. He sang so sweetly, prayed so fervently, preached so powerfully that the minds of his little audience seemed to be absorbed in the great work which the Lord was about to accomplish through such instrumentalities as the Methodist circuit riders. Indeed such was the report made by the few persons who attended Skidmore's first appointment, that on his next round, he found the forest around alive with men and horses.

Passing through the crowd to the meeting house, his salutations to the men and women, and his words to the children, seemed all to be inspiring. He entered the house after bowing before the Lord to implore a continuance of his help, seated himself in the crowded house, and sang most melodiously.

"Blow ye the trumpet blow,
The gladly solemn sound.
Ye who have sold for naught
Your heritage above
Shall have it back unbought,
The gift of Jesus love.
The year of jubilee is come,
Return ye ransomed sinners home."

In the fall there was a great camp-meeting resulting in the conversion of about one hundred souls.

Lewis Skidmore was not only a great preacher, but an excellent pastor. I still remember, though it has been a long time, his earnest attention to catechising, and instructing children. Well do I recollect, though it has been more than fifty years since, that Lewis Skidmore administered the ordinance of baptism to myself, two brothers and two sisters, around the same old hearth stone where I sit to day.

About the year 1820, Mt. Bethel had become a Methodist Church, with a large society.

Oh! how grateful should the families in this part of North Carolina feel when they remember how we have continued to be blessed with such teachers and pastors, among whom were Peter Doub, Joseph Carson, Wm. Compton, H. G. Leigh, Joseph Goodman, James Reid, Alfred Norman, D. B Nicholson, Wm. Barringer and N. F. Reid! These have all passed through the valley, have crossed the river and now rest from their labors.

M. Harris, C. L.
at Mt. Bethel.

March 1st, 1876.

Fraternity.

The Joint Commission appointed by the Methodist Episcopal Church and the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, to remove all obstacles to fraternity between the two Churches met at Cape May, N. J., on the 16th inst., and were in session seven days. Upon the conclusion of their labors they issued the following address:

To the Bishops, Ministers and Members of the Methodist Episcopal Church and of the Methodist Episcopal Church South:—

Dear Fathers and Brethren—We, the Commissioners appointed by authority of the General Conference respectively of the above named Churches to remove all obstacles to formal fraternity and to adjust all existing difficulties between them, deem it proper in advance of our report to the General Conferences of our respective Churches to communicate to you in general terms the results of the recent harmonious session of our joint commission.

Pursuant to previous appointment, we convened at Cape May, N. J., on the 16th day of August, 1876, and were favored by the attendance of all the members of both boards of commissioners. After a written communication from the Commissioners of the Methodist Episcopal Church South was received and answered by the Commissioners of the Methodist Episcopal Church, both boards met in a joint session, the labors of which were continued during seven days.

We have had a full and free Conference and interchange of views respecting the important matters that claimed our united consideration. If any in the Churches entertained the fear previous to our meeting that we could not attain complete harmony of sentiment touching the momentous questions to be determined, they will be rejoiced to learn that after having given due attention to all questions involved in the proper construction of a platform of complete fraternity between the two great branches of Episcopal Methodism in the United States, we have arrived at the settlement of every matter affecting, as we suppose, the principles of a lasting and cordial adjustment. We have the satisfaction to declare that our aspirations for the harmony of views on vital points have been realized. By Divine guidance, as we trust, we have been able, after a frank interchange of views and prayerful endeavor, to harmonize all differences, and to arrive at the desired consummation of a unanimous agreement of complete fraternity. We believe that no principle of honor on either side has been invaded. We struck the key note of brotherly love until it sounded high and clear, and so have been enabled to reach the elements of perfect harmony. No divergence of sentiment mars the completeness and unity of the joint commission touching the essential principles of fraternization. At the beginning of our consultations one great question seemed to overshadow all others—in Congress the relation of the two churches to each other and to Episcopal Methodism. To this important matter our most earnest thought and prayerful deliberation were directed and the result attained occasioned the interchange of rejoicing and congratulations between the members of the joint commission. We adopted, without a dissenting voice, the following, declaring a basis of fraternity:—

BASIS OF THE UNION.

As to the status of the Methodist Episcopal Church and of the Methodist Episcopal Church South and their co-ordinate relation as legitimate branches of Episcopal Methodism, each of said churches is a legitimate branch of Episcopal Methodism in the United States, having a common origin in the Methodist Episcopal Church organized in 1784, and since the organization of the Methodist Episcopal Church South was consummated in 1845, by the voluntary exercise of the right of the Southern annual conferences, ministers and members to adhere to that communion. It has been an evangelical church, reared on Scriptural foundations, and her ministers and members, with those of the Methodist Episcopal Church have constituted one Methodist family, in distinct ecclesiastical connections.

It was next incumbent on us to consider the questions concerning conflicting claims to Church property and some special cases that could not conveniently be referred to the operation of a general rule. There were two principal questions to be considered with regard to the Church property in dispute between local societies of the two churches—First as to the legal ownership of said property. Second, as to whether it will consist with strict equity, or promote Christian harmony or the cause of religion, to dispossess those societies now using Church property, which was originally intended for their use and occupancy, and of which they have acquired possession, though they may have lost legal title to it by their transfer from one church to another. We have considered the papers in all cases that have been brought to our notice. These arose in the following named States:—Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, Tennessee, Louisiana, North Carolina and South Carolina. In respect of some of these cases we have given particular directions; but for all other cases the joint commission unanimously adopted the following rules for the adjustment of adverse claims to church property:—

DISPOSING OF CHURCH PROPERTY.

Rule 1.—In cases not adjudicated upon by the joint commission, any society of either Church constituted according to its discipline, now occupying the Church property shall remain in possession thereof, provided that where there is now in the same place a society of more members attached to the other Church, and which has hitherto claimed the use of the property, the latter shall be entitled to possession.

Rule 2.—Forasmuch as we have no power to annul decisions respecting Church property made by the State courts, the Joint Commission ordain in respect thereof—1st. In cases in which such a decision has been made or in which there exists an agreement, the same shall be carried out in good faith.

SECOND.

In communities where there are two societies, one belonging to the Methodist Episcopal Church and the other to the Methodist Episcopal Church South, which have adversely claimed the church property, it is recommended that without delay they amicably compose their differences irrespective of the strict legal title, and settle the same according to Christian principles and the equities of the particular case, and so far as practicable, according to the principle of the foregoing rule. But if such settlement cannot be speedily made, then the question shall be referred to equitable decision to three arbitrators—one to be chosen by each claimant from their respective societies and the two thus chosen shall select a third person, not connected with either of said churches, and the decision of any two of them shall be final.

THIRD.

In communities in which there is but one society rule first shall be faithfully observed in the interests of peace and fraternity.

Rule 3.—Whenever necessary to carry the aforegoing rules into effect legal title to the church property shall be accordingly transferred.

Rule 4.—These rules shall take effect immediately.

In order to further promote the peaceful results contemplated by this joint commission and to remove, as far as may be, all occasion and especially to forestall all further occasion for hostility between the churches we recommend to the members of both as a wise rule of settlement where property is in contest, and one or both are weak, that they compose their differences by uniting in the same communion, and in all cases that ministers or members recognize each other in all relations of fraternity, and as possessed of ecclesiastical rights and privileges of equal dignity and sanctity. They should each receive the other ministers and members in good standing with the same alacrity and credit as if coming from their own church, and without interference with each others' institutions or missions. They should, nevertheless, co-operate in all Christian enterprises.

GOOD ADVICE.

It is not to be supposed in respect of some matters of mere opinion that all ministers in either Church will be in accord, but we trust and believe, that a spirit of fellowship and mutual regard will pervade the reconciled ranks of the entire ministry and the membership of both churches. We believe also that their supreme allegiance to the cause of the Great Master will triumph over all variations of personal sentiments, and will so exalt the claims of brotherly affection that from this auspicious hour a new epoch in Methodism will begin its brighter history, so that we shall know no unfraternal Methodism in the United States, or even in the wide world.

To all we commend the wise counsels given in 1820 to missionaries and members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and of the Wesleyan connection in the Canadas, by Bishop McKendree and the Wesleyan Committee—namely, Feel that you are one with your brethren, embarked in the same great cause, and eminently of the same religious family; and if any warm spirits rise up and trouble you remember that you are to act on the principles now sanctioned and avowed by the two connections, and not upon local prejudices. We cannot restrain the expression of our united congratulations to both of the great Churches whose commissions we have executed in uniting between them the broken cords of affectionate and brotherly fraternization. Henceforth they may hail each other as from the auxiliary ranks of one great army. The only differences they will foster will be those friendly rivalries that spring from earnest endeavors to further to the utmost the triumphs of the gospel of peace. Whatever progress is made by the one Church or by the other will occasion general joy. They will rejoice in each other's success as a common good, and amid the thousand glorious memories of Methodism they will go forward devoted to their one work of spreading Scriptural holiness over these lands. Two by two the apostles began the promulgation of Christianity in the world. They were companion evangelists, distinct in their several individualities, but at the same time one in spirit, purpose and fellowship. Their itinerant successors in the chief Churches of American Methodism in restored fraternity will vie with each other to wave the banner of the cross in this western world, and henceforth will proclaim that these Churches are one in spirit, one in purpose, one in fellowship. Astronomers tell us of dual stars, revolving together in mutual relation and harmony, whose differing colors are so much the complement of each other as to produce a pure white light of exceeding brilliancy. The dual Churches of American Methodism will henceforth revolve in mutual fellowship and harmony so much the complement of another as together to produce the pure and blended light of Christian charity and fraternal love. These fraternized churches have no further occasion for sectional disputes or acrimonious differences. They may henceforth remember their common origin, pursue their fruit bearing work, and rejoice in their own and each other's success while engaged in the same great mission of converting the world to Christ.

THE WORK OF THE CHURCH.

Distinctive features of profession and polity are bound up with the name of Episcopal Methodism. That form of Christian propagandism and ecclesiastical economy has peculiar elements of power and qualities of attraction that command its efficiency in proclaiming a pure Gospel to the world. Its cardinal doctrines of free salvation by faith, and of the witness of the spirit, its scriptural articles of Christian belief; its primitive system of church government: its sanctions: demand of those who would join its societies: its itinerant plan of preaching the Gospel; its Wesleyan simplicity and orthodoxy: its urgency of the practice of a holy life; its liberal and systematic benevolence; its support of educational institutions; its promotion of Sabbath school instruction; its vigilant care for the deserving poor; its provision for superannuated ministers, then widows and children: its world wide missionary enterprise, and its general activity in the dissemination of Gospel truth, are one and the same in the Methodist Episcopal Church and in the Methodist Episcopal Church South. Far away in dark portions of the earth to which their missionaries have penetrated a divine light is breaking on the long night of paganism. For the elevation of humanity it is more than the wand of an enchanter. There, as well as here, Methodist doctrines and usages wear their own peculiar and Heaven blessed distinctiveness, and seem to presage the dawn of that era of gladness when the claims of universal brotherhood will commingle with the full glory of the millennium, Episcopal Methodism was never more strong and influential, and never appeared to feel more the quickening impulse of its glorious destiny than it does at the present day. It is eminently fit, therefore, that in its native realm and wide extended home in these United States, whence its spirit and power go forth like swelling anthems of gladness to bless mankind, it should bear along the blended sweetness and fraternal harmony. Then will its cadences roll down the ages enriched with the true spirit of the Gospel. For the wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle and easy to be entreated, full of mercy and good fruits without partiality, without hypocrisy, and the fruit of righteousness sown in peace of them that make peace. The flowing issuing from the depths of their sacred fountains in the Holy Scriptures as they are borne to thirsty thousands, through the instrumentality of a called and qualified ministry, and made effectual to salvation by the mighty working of Divine power, will increase their assuaging freshness when all the itinerant ranks of Episcopal Methodism shall move together in fraternal concord. Then, as the chosen vessels of grace, may they bear the living waters of salvation to all the world. Contemplating the prospect of complete fraternity among them we are led to look back to these inspiring scenes of primitive times when the company of disciples were of one heart and mind, steadfast in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship, having all things in common, continuing in the temple, praising God and having favor with all the people.

STREAMS OF GOSPEL TRUTH,

In completing the work to which we were assigned by the highest jurisdictions of the two great branches of Episcopal Methodism in the United States we pour forth our united prayer for these united churches in the language which inspiration has prepared for us, and say, "May the Lord of Peace himself give you peace always by all means." Now unto Him that is able to keep us from failing and present us faultless before the presence of His glory with exceeding joy, to the only wise God our Saviour be glory and majesty, dominion and power, both now and forever, amen.

In the bonds of the gospel of peace, your brethren and servants.

M D Crawford, Enoch L. Fancher, Edmund G. Fuller, Clinton B Fisk, John P. Newman, Edward H Myers, Reuben K Hargrove, Thomas M Finney, David Clapton, Robert B. Vance,	Committee of the Methodist Episcopal Church.
	Committee of the Methodist Episcopal Church South.

How a Bird Flies.

The most prominent fact about a bird is a faculty in which it differs from every other creature except the bat and insects,—its power of flying. For this purpose, the bird's arm ends in only one long slender finger, instead of a full hand. To this are attached the quills and small feathers (coverts) on the upper side, which make up the wing. Observe how light all this is: in the first place, the bones are hollow, then the shafts of the feathers are hollow, and, finally, the feathers themselves are made of the most delicate filaments, interlocking and clinging to one another with little grasping hooks of microscopic fineness. Well, how does a bird fly? It seems simple enough to describe, and yet it is a problem that the wisest in such matters have not yet worked out to everybody's satisfaction. This explanation, by the Duke of Argyle, appears to me to be the best: An open wing forms a hollow on its under side like an inverted saucer, when the wing is forced down, the upward pressure of the air caught under this concavity, lifts the bird up, much as you hoist yourself up between the parallel bars in a gymnasium. But he could never in this way get ahead, and the hardest question is still to be answered.—Now, the front edge of the wing, formed of the bones and muscles of the fore arm, is rigid and unyielding, while the hinder margin is merely the soft flexible ends of the feathers; so when the wing is forced down, the air under it, finding this margin yielding the easier would rush out here, and, in so doing, would bend up the ends of the quills, pushing them forward out of the way, which, of course, would tend to throw the bird ahead. This process, quickly repeated, results in the phenomenon of flight.—Ernest Ingersoll, in Scribner for September.

No man ever sank under the burden of to-day. It is when to-morrow's burden is added to the burden of to day that the weight is more than a man can bear.

Silver, Lead and Zinc.

BY PROF. F. A. GENTH.

I shall consider these three articles under one head, as they are always associated. Silver is a rare metal in North Carolina. With the exception of the silver alloyed with gold, varying from 1 or 2 to about 26 per ct., in the gold, from veins and gneissoid rocks, very little silver has been found in the veins of these strata. The only localities which came under my notice were at the Baker mine, in Caldwell, and at Scott's Hill, in Burke County. There it occurs but rarely, in veins of auriferous quartz. At the latter place it is only observed after burning the ore, and a little fragment which I have seen makes me feel confident that it is present as cerargyrite, or chloride of silver. Small quantities of argentiferous galenite and pyromorphite are associated with it. Native silver has been observed with chalcocite or copper glance, at Gap Creek mine, in Wilkes County, and at the Ashbury vein, in Gaston County. The only real silver mines of North Carolina, are ore beds of zinc-blende, mixed with galenite, in the agrillaceous and talcose slates. The type of these is the old Washington mine, now silver Hill, in Davidson County, which was discovered in 1838. Near the surface it formed a bed of carbonate of lead, having in many places films and plates of metallic silver disseminated through the mass of the ore. These ores were easily reduced, and produced handsome returns to the owners. These were, however of short duration. The undecomposed ores, which were a very fine grained mixture of brown zinc blende and argentiferous galenite, were soon reached, and presented great difficulties in the extraction of the precious metals. When I was at the mine, about 22 years ago, an analysis of an average sample between 2,000 - 3,000 tons of ore gave me about 45 per cent, of zinc 21 per ct. of lead, and 8 ounces of silver per ton, with minute quantities of copper and gold. If the Philadelphia owners had abided by my advice, viz to work the ores of zinc, and extract silver, copper and lead from the residues, they would, probably still be in possession of this valuable mine. The ore bed is large, and in one place has had a thickness of 60 feet. Occasionally it contains very rich spots, with native silver in lumps and filoform masses, or disseminated through the ore with argentite, or highly argentiferous galenite; and besides these minerals, this mine has furnished the most magnificent cabinet specimens of cerussite, pyromorphite, &c.—N. Y. South.

A New Chinese Sect.

A very extraordinary religious sect has recently sprung into life at a place called Seaoushan Hien, in Chekiang. Its headquarters are at a ruined temple near a small market village, formerly dedicated to a deity called the Wei-to Pu-sa: in immediate proximity with which are a few houses, thatched with grass but scrupulously clean, where some of the leaders of the society reside. The movement is said to have had its rise in the ecstasies of a couple of old women, aged respectively upward of 80 and 50, who are the mother and daughter; these are the high priestesses, or sibyls, and at certain times become inspired by a particular Pu sa or spirit, with whom they hold frequent intercourse, and whose utterances, through the medium of the women, are regarded as divine oracles Passing by this neighborhood during the day-time, everything is quiet, there is nothing whatever to attract attention. At night, however, the scene is said to be most remarkable The place is crowded with people, all come to consult the Pythoness, or to hear what it is all about—people of every description, men and women, rich and poor, bad and good. The interior of the temple is brightly lighted, and there is generally a deal of eating and drinking, for this sect, unlike most of the others, encourages high living and condemns vegetarianism. Seated upon a high dais are the two old women, with candles burning on either side of them; and the people worship them with incense and joss-sticks as incarnations of the Pu sa. Some of the ecstatics pretend to have visions of this diety, and all the oracles delivered by the priestesses are unswervingly obeyed. One of the peculiar regulations of the sect is the abjuring of all silken clothes. Nothing is worn but the simplest cotton. The initiated are firmly believed to be endowed with magical powers and to be able to drive men mad with incantations and the administration of curious poisons. The number of adherents is rapidly increasing, and though the sect has only been in existence a few weeks, it counts already upward of 700 believers:—The Celestial Empire (Shanghai.)

Christian Character.

The first feature in a Christian's character is that he looks to Christ. The second is that he looks for Christ.

These two things were the great peculiarities that marked the primitive Church. The Lord Jesus Christ, as He came the first time, was the object of their faith: and, as He is to come the second time, was the object of their hope. They allowed nothing to come between His cross and His glory.

The future of a primitive Christian was bright with one object and one event, the Lord and His advent. They knew that He was to come the second time, but they did not know when. So they not only longed and waited, but they watched. His words concerning watching were always in their ears, "Watch, for ye know not when the Son of Man cometh."

This is the posture in which it becomes us to be, "looking for and hasting unto the coming of the day of God" Whatever would interfere with this must be evil. Anything that would lead us to say, "My Lord delayeth his coming," must be wrong.—The Christian Treasury.

The Christian World.

It is a favorite assertion with many of the enemies of Christianity, that after a sufficient trial it has failed to leave a marked impression upon the world: and many superficial statistics are quoted to give plausibility to that notion. A better knowledge of facts leads to a very different conclusion. The following statistics are presented by Prof. A. J. Schem, in a disenssion of the diffusion of Christianity:

The population of the earth	1,386,811,000
Under Christian governments	685,469,411
Under non-Christian governments	711,585,589
Total area of the earth, square miles	52,982,750
Area of Christian sovereignties	5,119,915
Area of non-Christian lands	10,042,555

Two results are here reached, one is that nearly half the population of the world is under Christian governments. The other is that nearly two-thirds of the area of the earth is under the dominion of Christian government. His figures also establish the fact, as an additional result, that nearly two-thirds of the Christian States—measured by population—are Protestant

"Come and See Me."

Never take 'Come and see me' as a phrase meant in earnest unless it is accompanied with a date. Such an invitation amounts to nothing at all. If a lady or gentleman desires your company, he or she will appoint a time for your visit.

'Call on me when you can make it convenient,' 'Drop in as you are passing,' 'Make us a visit whenever you have an hour or two to spare,' are social ambiguities by which men and women of the world understand that they are not expected to do the thing requested. When people wish to be cheaply polite there is nothing like this kind of vagueness. The complimentary small change of society must always be taken at a large discount. It is never worth its face or anything like it. Yet it is a convenient medium of exchange, and heavy debts of gratitude, that ought to be requited in better coin, are often paid with it. People who have more polish than principle use it lavishly—plain, blunt, honest men, sparingly or not at all. Whoever makes a friendly visit to a fashionable house on the strength of a mere 'Come and see me,' will very often find that the family circle he has dropped into by request is as uncongenial as the Arctic circle, and he will probably leave it with a chilly feeling that will prevent him from venturing into the same high latitude again. But when a whole-souled man, whom you know to be your friend, grasps you vigorously by the hand and says, 'Come and dine with me to-day—dinner on the table at five o'clock—be sure to come—we shall expect you,' you can take it as certain that your presence is warmly desired. It is pleasant always to make or receive a visit from a friend, but a nod on the street is all sufficient from a fashionable acquaintance.

WHERE OUR PROFITS GO.

The cost of liquors for ten years is nearly two-thirds of the assessed value ($8,944,780,825) of all the real estate in the United States, while the assessed value (4,264,205,902) of all the personal property of the United States is but little more than two-thirds of our ten years' drink-bill. Again, by the Census Returns of 1870, the value of all our "products of agriculture, betterments, and additions of stock ($2,447,538,658.)" and the value of all our manufactures ($4,232,325,412.) were the sum of $679,864,100, or only $679,864,160 more than is spent every ten years for liquors. Thus our people expend every eleven years for intoxicating drinks more than the value of all the products of agriculture and all our mechanical and manufacturing industries [illegible] every seventh year [illegible] a fire should be kindled in the United States on the first of January, and continue burning until the last moment of December, and every particle of our agricultural and manufactured products, as fast as they are produced, should be cast into the flames, and burned up until only the ashes remain, it would not inflict as much injury upon our people as is produced every eleven years by the use and sale of intoxicating drinks. The money expended for these drinks is not only lost, but the drinks entail upon our people the additional evils of vice, wretchedness, crime, and demoralization, that far, very far, outweigh the value of the money expended for them. If the products to the value of the money spent for drinks were only destroyed by fire or flood, it would not deprive our industrious classes of the mental and physical power to replace them, as do the drinks for which their hardearned millions are expended. What nation or people, however favored, can long exist and prosper who expend or waste the value of so much labor for poisonous drinks? Can we wonder that we have money panics, hard times, and stagnation of trade?

A man's Life Saved by a Dream.

Early on Friday morning Mr. Hall, a butcher of Franklin, Mass., went into his ice chest to inspect the promises, when the door accidentally swung back, operating the spring lock, and the man was a prisoner in a very small room of icy temperature, and without means of escape. A speedy and frightful death started him in the face. He shouted and thumped upon what promised to be his coffin, but all in vain. Now comes the marvelous part of the circumstance. When Mr. Hall's son arose on that morning he was deeply impressed with a dream which he had during the previous night. He dreamed that his father had been caught and suffocated in the ice chest! Not finding his father on inquiring for him the son at once proceeded to the ice chest and found it locked. On opening it the apparently dead body of the father was discovered and rescued. So near death had the unfortunate prisoner come that it was hours before he came to a state of consciousness. To those (ourselves among the number) who have no faith in dreams or visions, it may be difficult to account for the connection between the son's dream and the father's accident.—Woonsocket (R. I.) Patriot.

English Dress in the Seventeenth Century.

There was immense extravagance and style of living; this was especially displayed in London, before the ascendancy of the Presbyterians. Ladies, while they followed the fashions in wearing paint and patches on their faces, vied with one another in the amount of gold they could show broidered on their silks and satins. Gentlemen would "Wear a farm in shoestrings edged with gold,

And spangled garters worth a copyhold:
A three and-doublet which a lordship cost;
A ready-teak, three manors price almost;
A beaver band and feather for the head,
Priced at the church's title—the poor man's bread."

The costume was picturesque enough. A broad-brimmed beaver hat, adorned with feathers; the long and curling hair shown off by a lace collar; a doublet of silk or satin with slashed sleeves; a short cloak hanging over one shoulder; breeches reaching to the knee, and finished off with ribbons; silk stockings, and shoes adorned with rosettes; a sword belt, with weapon attached; and the whole set off with jewels and gold lace.—From "King and Commonwealth, a History of Charles I and the Great Rebellion.

RIGHTS OF ALIEN PROPERTY-HOLDERS IN THE UNITED STATES.—The disabilities of aliens in respect to real property have been materially lessened in most of our States, and in some they are entirely removed, as in Massachusetts, Maryland, Florida, Ohio, Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Dakota, and Nevada. In New York, South Carolina, Texas, and many others, the alien may take, hold, and devise lands after declaring his intention to become a citizen in conformity with the naturalization laws. In Connecticut and California the alien, if a resident in the State, may purchase, hold, inherit, and transmit lands in the same manner as a citizen. The right of forfeiture, it should be observed, is very rarely exercised by the States: on the contrary, the legislatures are very liberal in making laws to cure defects of titles arising out of the alienage of former holders, and in releasing in favor of the natural heirs the right of escheat which may have accrued to the State by the death of an alien ancestor in possession of lands. In respect to personal property, aliens may at common law take, hold, and dispose of it, and make and enforce contracts in respect to it, just as native citizens may do.—Appleton's American Cyclopedia.

Turkish Abstemiousness.

Constantinople is the most temperate capital of its size in the world. Spending day after day in the open air, wandering among the common folk, having at one time several people in my employ, even in the biting air before daylight I never found any Turk drinking stronger beverage than coffee. But that is nothing to their great annual fast. During the Ramadan, which lasts a whole month, from sunrise to sunset the panting boatman, the heavy-laden porter will touch nothing like food, not even tobacco, and no drink whatever; and at sundown will make up for this abstinence not by a drunken carouse, but by a larger dish of pilau and a longer smoke of Latakia. To be sure, temperance is a part of the Turk's religion, but is it not of ours? And that religion—an imposture as we call it—has something very real in its worship at four in the morning the year round, its indifference to 'infidel' gaze, the heartiness of all its observances, the severity of its daily self-denials. Often have I found the shop entirely open while the shopman was at his prayers and I have taken up the goods to see if any body would remonstrate, and laid them down again without anybody's interference. And how often have I watched the thinclad boatman kneeling in prayer on the wet sand or in drizzling rain, 'the world forgetting, by the world forgot!'—Rev. F. W. Holland, in Lippincott's Magazine.

Opium Smoking.

A Chinese essayist on opium smoking says: "Three years ago I saw an Englishman go to the hospital at Kolangsu to get himself cured of opium smoking. I was told that this man was in a good position in life, and had excellent abilities—yet he fell like this. It seems to me that it would be difficult for this man, if pressed at some future day by weariness and exhaustion, to avoid again having to resort to the criminal indulgence, and just as hard to prevent his leading his companions to do the same. If, in this little Amoy, Englishmen have been seen smoking opium, how are we to be sure that in other places there are no Englishmen that smoke opium? Further, how are we to be sure that at some future day such men will not lead others to smoke opium? China formerly called herself a country of literary enlightenment; but since opium came to abound in China, she has come near to a tottering and helpless condition. At present England, although she is a famous nation, having among her people a certain number of opium smokers, secretly leading others astray, if she does not stop the traffic by prohibition, will find it difficult to prevent the mischief from spreading over the entire country."

How to Select Good Meats.

An English journal gives the following hints on the subject; "Good and wholesome meat should be neither of a pale rosy or pink color nor of a deep purple. Good meat has more of a marble look, in consequence of the branching of the veins which surround the adipose cells. The fat, especially of the inner organs, is always firm and snety, and never moist, while in general the fat from diseased cattle is flabby and watery, and more often resembles jelly or boiled parchment. Wholesome meat will always show itself firm and elastic to the touch, and exhibit no dampness, while bad meat will appear soft and moist, in fact, often more wet, so that the liquid substance runs out of the blood when pressed hard. Good meat has very little smell, while unsound meat has a disagreeable cadaverous smell, and diffuses a certain medicinal odor. Lastly bad meat has the peculiarity that it shrinks considerably in the boiling; wholesome meat rather swells, and does not lose an ounce in weight.'

VARIED FARMING INTERESTS.—When the farmers of any section of country are engaged in raising the same products, we shall not find them making much advancement. They make about enough to support their families, after a sort, while public sentiment is at a very low ebb and all public enterprise at a standstill; while their schools and churches are on the wane, if, indeed, they have ever been at all tolerable.—They work hard, because they work against each other. If they will each and all diversify their crops and study their business, they will soon see that by having something to sell from the farm all along through the year, they are far better off at the close of each year than when they rely mainly upon one crop, and that, too, the one all are producing.

We can do more good by being good than in any other way.—Rowland Hill.

Persons will refrain from evil speaking when persons refrain from [illegible] hearing.

The Christian Advocate.

OFFICE Corner of Dawson & Hargett Sts.

THE ORGAN
OF THE
NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE
OF THE
M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev. J. B. Robbitt, D. D. } Editors
R. T. Gray, Esq. }

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION:

PER ONE YEAR IN ADVANCE POSTAGE PAID, $2.00
IN MONTHS, " " 1.05
If payment be delayed six months 2.50

RALEIGH, N. C., SEPT. 6TH, 1876.

All letters on business with this office should be addressed to the Christian Advocate, Raleigh, N. C.

The Cross (X) Mark is to remind you that your subscription has expired. Let all renew promptly

On Building Churches.

The question of building churches, especially in our towns and cities is one of grave importance. We know of no subject upon which our people are more in need of bestirring themselves than this. But our object in this brief article is to offer some reflections touching the location of new church edifices. The Methodist Church has unquestionably suffered much in the past from wrong locations. Sometimes an influential member of the society has wanted the church near his own house, and the others have yielded to him, against their real convictions. Sometimes the wrong lot was offered as a donation, and the right one must be purchased—a mistaken economy dictates the choice.—There have also, perhaps, been some instances when the members of other denominations have not scrupled to use their influence secretly or openly to prevent our securing an eligible location, lest we should prove rivals. By all means select a good location—in the midst of the people, and with good surroundings. It is well to watch the direction in which the population is spreading, and consider the future as well as the present. It is far better to pay a fair price for the right plot of ground than to accept the wrong one as a gratuity. Delay for a time in preference to building at once where the church ought not to be.

It is well also to have an eye to a large plot of ground. Space about a church is not only ornamental but useful. It gives the worshipers more light and better air. It lessens the dangers from fire. It gives room for the construction of other buildings which it may be necessary to erect in the years to come. If any part of a proper lot should be found useless, it will probably be more easy to sell what may not be needed than to add space when the original purchase proves too small for convenience.

If the enterprise is located where there is now, or soon will be, the material of a large congregation, arrange at once to accommodate large numbers. We think that a grave mistake is possible at this point. If for want of ability a large church cannot at once be erected, arrange a temporary place of worship, but be sure that this is at the right place. These are some of the thoughts which have occurred to us in connection with church extension in our towns and cities. Of one thing, at least, we are sure—our people cannot act too soon, nor be too liberal, in securing suitable sites wherever population is rapidly gathering. If we lack the liberality or the wise forethought to do our duty at the right time, we must not complain if others are wiser and more zealous, and seize the opportunities which we neglect.

We must again call upon our friends to use all possible efforts to place the ADVOCATE in the hands of our people. Not a member of the church can afford to do without it.

Ex Gov. Seymour, of New York, having been nominated for the governorship of that State, declines the nomination under the advice of his physician.

As an evidence of the great harmony which prevailed at the meeting of the Commissioners of the Methodist Churches North and South, last month, it is said that every vote of the Joint Board was unanimous.

A memorial has been presented the Northern General Conference praying the enactment of a rule to prohibit members of the church from permitting dancing in their houses.

An excursion train carrying members of the various Sunday schools in this city, left Raleigh yesterday for the Centennial exposition at Philadelphia. Fare for the round trip $13. Another excursion train will be run on like terms about the 19th inst., and persons not connected with Sunday schools will be allowed the benefits of the same, provided they shall be recommended by the Superintendents of the Sunday schools.

The National Society for the Education of the Poor in the Principles of the Established Church has come forward with a protest against unsectarian schools in England. It insist that members of the Established Church should not be taxed for the support of schools from which all religious teaching is excluded. The name of the society explains its action.

Prospective.

We print, on the first page this week a letter written by the Rev. [illegible] one of the two Presiding Elders at Cape May Camp Meeting. Cape May has [illegible] camp meeting ground, and the Presiding Elder [illegible] Camp Meeting in May, and [illegible] tabernacles have been [illegible] planned.

Rev. A. A. Bostwick writes under date of Aug. 26th, saying: "Our meeting at Zion was brought to a successful close to-day. It was really a gracious season. For two or three days in succession we had such displays of divine power as I scarcely ever witnessed before.

Sixteen persons professed conversion, and the people of God were greatly blessed.

Rev. James M. Lumly, writing from Portsmouth says: "Allow me to say through the Advocate that we are in the midst of a glorious revival on the Island of Portsmouth. Religion here, has been at a very low ebb for some time. Last Sunday I began a series of meetings with no help at all—not even a person to lead in public prayer. But by a continual thundering of God's eternal truth, I succeeded in breaking through the wall of the enemy, and the result thus far has been nine conversions, and ten accessions to the Church, with signs of profound seriousness in the congregation. We hope to get help soon.

Brethren, pray for us! Oh! for an outpouring of God's spirit along these storm lashed shores of Portsmouth and Ocracoke!"

Rev. H. P. Cole, of Hillsboro' station writes under date of Aug. 30th, and says: "We closed a meeting of several days continuance at New Sharon last week. The church was very graciously revived and strengthened. Some were reclaimed, and about 15 souls professed faith in Christ. One of the most impressive features of the meeting was house hold dedication. On one occasion 4 infants were baptized; the church lingered at a throne of grace during their dedication—the scene was impressive while most of the congregation was bathed in tears.

Other infants were baptized during the meeting. On this subject there is considerable awakening in this charge. There is great revival interest in the section.

During our meeting at New Sharon Rev. Mr. Fitzgerald, of the Presbyterian Church in Hillsboro, preached two sermons. His sermons were full of the Holy Ghost and power."

Rev. J. W. Jenkins writes: I am glad to report that we had a good time at Prospect. Some days were truly refreshing seasons from the presence of the Lord. The church was quickened and 13 professed faith in Christ.

I deeply regret that I could not continue my meeting at Shady Grove. Family affections kept me at home. But Bro. Walker, a Baptist minister, carried it on two days after I left, and I have heard that they had some conversions. The prospect was good there for a gracious work.

The same cause prevented my holding my meeting at Camp Springs, where they were ripe for a revival. But it is refreshing to know that "uncle" Powell was equal to the task, and calling a young Trinitarian preacher student to his aid, went ahead. The last I heard of them they were having a glorious time, six or seven conversions in one day; have not heard from them for several days. Thomas Powell is a jewel to any church.

We had a gracious time yesterday at old Harrison's. The prospect for a gracious revival is excellent. Pray for us!

Rev. W. S. Chaffin writes from Fayetteville, Aug. 29, and says: "I have just arrived at home, from a most delightful protracted meeting at Cokesbury, on my circuit. The meeting was from Saturday, the 19th, to Sunday, the 27th, inclusive. Two services each day—and every service a visitation of the Holy Ghost. There were 17 converts—all joined the church, and 7 others with them. Truly, the word of God had free course, and was glorified, in this meeting. The membership was greatly refreshed and edified.

Rev. I. W. Avent, of Cumberland, was with us—his services were highly appreciated, and much blessed. Revs J. W. Cotton and James Stewart, local, were also with us, in the spirit of our blessed Master. Rev J. H. Burt, local, was with us several days—rendering efficient services. Bro. Burt reports a gracious work at Holly Spring, where he conducted a meeting of several days continuance—assisted by Rev. James Stewart: Thirteen joined the Church at that place."

Rev. C. M. Anderson, in a letter of recent date, says: The Lord has revived his work on the South Fork circuit. I commenced a meeting at Kadesh on the 4th of Aug., (the day appointed by our Bishops as the beginning of the week of prayer) and closed on Sunday night the 13th of Aug. About fifty four souls professed faith in Christ, and twenty seven joined the church.

Bros. Kennedy and Morris (local preachers) were with me all the time and did good service.

On Saturday the 12th of Aug., we commenced a meeting at Zion. Bros. J. T. Morris and T. W. Stamey were with us, preaching with new effect—On Sunday Bro. Harris gave an elaborate discourse on Methodism which was very logical, sound, and listened to by a very large and attentive congregation. The second discourse was by Bro. Stamey on the 'New Birth' which set forth in the Methodist views with a clearness not to be mistaken, and the effect was no doubt sanctified and blessed of God. We closed at Zion on Tuesday night the 15th of Aug with nine accessions to the church and twelve conversions.

From Zion we went to Pleasant Grove. The same brethren assisting me that were at Zion (Bros. Harris and Stamey.) They could not remain with me over Sunday. Brother Barrett (P. E.) fell in on Friday and preached us a very feeling sermon.—I closed this meeting on Monday, with four accessions to the church—six days work.

The church has been very much revived at all of these points. A large number of the conversions at Kadesh were young men of promise to the church. Several of those who were converted here were in the church before. Some will join the Baptist Church, others will probably join our church yet. We formed a young men's prayer meeting with some twenty-five or thirty members, embracing members of our church, Baptists, Protestant Methodists and Lutherans.

A resolution was passed in Church Conference at Pleasant Grove to hold a weekly prayer meeting at that place. To God be all the praise!

Our meetings have been 'Centennial,' but nothing has been done, as yet, for the Colleges of Conference. We would be glad to see one of the Agts at our Camp meeting at Wesley Chapel eight miles west from Newton, embracing the third Sabbath in Sept. We will not oppose the attendance of both, nor would we object to having the Editors of the N. C. Christian Advocate with us. I have not been silent with regard to the claims of the Advocate, and yet, there is much room for improvement in that direction."

Bro. Webb has had gracious seasons on his charge. In a letter last week he says:

"This circuit is being visited with refreshing times 'from the presence of the Lord.' The meeting at Plank Chapel, of which you spoke in the last issue of of your paper, continued nine days. The large membership of this, one of the oldest churches in the Conference, called Plank Chapel, because it was the first plank church built in this section, built in 1792 was greatly refreshed. There were seventy six conversions that we know of, most of them grown people. And from the stability of character and intelligence of many of the converts, we look forward to the fruits of the meeting as one of the best since we have been in the ministry.

I had but little ministerial help; brother Dan Smith a local preacher of that church was with me most of the time and preached once. Bro. Barrett of the Baptist Church was with me two days and preached once.

The congregations were very large all the time, and I never saw as many happy bright faces at our meetings as were there on last Thursday; twenty-six professed conversion on that day. A flourishing Sunday School under the superintendency of brother D. D. Overton, had been in operation here, also a Union School at Ballingo Rock, where they have built an excellent house for the purpose, superintended by Dr. W. H. Clarke, of the above church, who is an earnest worker. These schools do not expect to go into winter quarters.

We also have had excellent meetings at Bank's Chapel and Trinity, of which mention was made in your paper week before last.

These churches have been greatly revived, and a goodly number of laborers thrust out into the vineyard. Family altars are being established and prayer meetings held, something that was greatly needed, for there were fewer pub[illegible]rers to the number of members on this circuit than any work I ever had charge of. The outlook is promising; including the meeting at Franklinton held in the Spring, there have been about one hundred and fifty conversions since Conference.

I have three more meetings to hold At my meeting at Trinity I was assisted by Bro. Joe Riddick, of Va Conference, F. L. Reid, J. R. Griffith and M. J. Hunt.

At Bank's Bro. W. C. Norman was with me five days and worked faithfully in the pulpit and in the altar.

The local preachers of these neighborhoods rendered valuable assistance.

I send you some subscribers to the ADVOCATE. I wish it visited every family in my charge, and I hope the readers of this notice will show the paper to their neighbors, and get them to subscribe by my next round."

The following letter was received a few days since, by Dr. Craven:

"Mr. President of Trinity."—I want to be a graduate if you please. I can spell and read, cipher a little. I have no help to help me. In all my life I have earned $25 50, and I have saved 21 50 to go to school with. Can't I go one year for that. If I can, I will start and then work my way through. I can work and I love to. I will make all your fires, sweep the house tend 5 acres corn and keep up with any class. May I come."

Religious Brevities.

The last Catholic World gives the number of United States convents at 450 for women and about 150 for men.

The church of the American Board at Guadalajara, Mexico, has 140 members. There are 68 places, large and small, around the city in each of which there are some Protestants.

The Methodist Episcopal Church has in Italy 7 missionaries, 12 native preachers, 600 members, and one church, worth $10,000.

The Protestant churches of the world maintain, collectively, 1,559 missionary stations and 2,132 missionaries, at an annual expenditure of nearly $6 000,000.

Rev. Woo Loong myioh, of the American Episcopal mission, has received a rich blessing on his labors in a hamlet a few miles north of Shanghai. Thirty two converts have recently been baptized, and the work is most encouraging.

The New York Advocate says: 'Dr Curry's editorial office is to be on the opposite side of the hall from the Christian Advocate office, in the Methodist Book Concern, this city.'

The Ann Arbor Argus learns that Prof. A. Winchell, formerly of the University, has been offered a full professorship in the Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn., at a salary of $3,000 a year.

Bishop Wiley, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, finds the climate of New England his episcopal district, injurious to his health, and has arranged to exchange districts with Bishop Foster, of Cincinnati.

The Rev. Henry Morgan has offered $10,000 to the Methodists if they will build a tabernacle in Boston to accommodate the masses, and several parties have each subscribed $1,000.

Cardinal Manning has just fulminated against theater going and play acting. This is all right: but the cardinal's motive is believed to be to head off good Catholics from going to see Tennyson's play of Bloody Mary, which does not show off Roman Catholicism in a very attractive light.

Rev. Mr. Skrefsud, one of the missionaries of the Santhal Home mission, returned to India from England toward the close of the last year. He writes that 1,600 grown up Santhals were baptized last year on profession of faith, and that a large number will probably be baptized during 1876.

There are about 200 Hebrew Christians in New York city who have lately found something like a spiritual rendezvous in the Allen Street Methodist church, the pastor of which, the Rev. Mr. Harris, is one of their number. This number was increased by the conversion of several Jews under the labors of Moody and Sankey.

Rev. A. Gilruth, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Pemberton, Ohio, is going to South India to reinforce the Methodist work there. He will not draw upon the Missionary Society for either traveling expenses or means to live upon. Our missionaries in Southern India trust the Lord and the people for their support.

Rev. Dr. Newman Hall says, the churches of Great Britain have lost within three years 30,000 members by intemperance. The statement shows the deep interest the christian world has in the question. We differ as to the wisdom of legislating respecting any one of the christian virtues, yet we cannot accept this evil of intemperance as a question of debate. How many thousands in the United States are lost to the church every year by this evil? Could we exhibit the figures the church would be startled. It is high time something would wake us up.

Sixty four families of Mennonites arrived last week from southern Russia. They were originally Germans, and still retain their German language and customs. They left Germany a hundred years ago because of religious troubles and now leave Russia for the same reason. The immigrants are all farmers, and thrifty, having, the agents say, about $1.500 for each family. They have already left for the West, where they settle.

The Reformed Episcopal Church was organized in December. 1873. At the recent convention in Ottawa the report showed upward of 60 ministers and 50 congregations in union with the General Council, besides others already formed or in process of formation. Reports were received from only 34 congregations, which contain 2,311 families, 3,549 Sunday school children. The collections for the year amounted to $151,000. The next council will be held in Philadelphia.

Of the Reformed Episcopal Church, Bishop Morris, of Oregon, was speaking, when he said, in a public address, that 'the unhappy Cummins defection, he believed, would prove itself a plant of speedy decay, and he felt that the American church had done wisely in maintaining its Prayer Book unrevised.' Some one has set over against this prophecy the facts that in the town in which it was uttered the Reformed Episcopalians had raised in 16 months nearly $20,000, and that in the Protestant Episcopal Synod in the same place, after a most masterly and thrilling sermon, by Bishop Morris, the collection amounted to the munificent sum of $35.

The Wesleyans.

At the recent British Wesleyan Conference after a long and able discussion, the question of Lay Representation was decided in the affirmative by a vote of 369 to 49. The London Methodist Recorder, in an article on the subject, says the vote was received 'with a hush of reverential silence befitting the inauguration of an organic change which many wise and excellent brethren conscientiously opposed as a revolutionary innovation.'

We cannot see why any of them should fear to bring the laity into the Conference. They have for years appeared in the District meetings, in the Departmental Committees, and in all the Committees of Review, and have done noble work in all these. We think the Conference acted wisely.

The Wesleyans have had great success in their work in the past year.—The net increase in members was 14,876 with upwards of 33,000 on trial.—Fifty three thousand new members had been received during the year, and there was a loss by removal of twelve thousand.

In some portions of the work the revivals were the most powerful that had been seen for many years.

Thirty six preachers died during the year, and the record shows that after fighting a good fight they all died in the faith.—Richmond Christian Advocate.

THREE CURIOUS NEEDLES.

The King of Prussia visited recently a needle-manufactory in his kingdom, in order to see what machinery, combined with the fine sensitiveness of the human hand, could produce. He was shown a number of superfine needles, thousands of which, together, did not weigh half an ounce, and marvelled how such minute objects could be pierced with an eye. But he was to see that in this respect even something still finer and more perfect could be created. The borer, that is the workman whose business it is to bore the eyes in these needles, asked for a hair from the monarch's head. It was readily given, and with a smile. He placed it at once under the boring machine, made a hole in it with the greatest care, furnished it with a thread, and then hauled the singular needle to the astonished King.

The second curious needle is in the possession of Queen Victoria. It was made at the celebrated needle-manufactory at Redditch, and represents the column of Trajan in miniature. This well-known Roman column is adorned with numerous scenes in sculpture, which immortalize Trajan's heroic actions in war. On this diminutive needle scenes in the life of Queen Victoria are represented in relief, but so finely cut and so small, that it requires a magnifying glass to see them. The Victoria needle can, moreover, be opened. It contains a number of needles of smaller size, which are equally adorned with scenes in relief.

The third singular needle belongs to the most remarkable antiquities of Alexandria, and bears the name of Cleopatra's needle. It is an obelisk covered with hieroglyphics, consisting of one huge block of stone, about sixty feet high, with a base of seven feet in diameter. It is also called Pompey's pillar. As the foundation has been much undermined, it will probably fall some night, and share the fate of its sister needle, the light tower Pharos, whose real or supposed remains have long been sought for beneath the sand by lovers of rare antiquities.

How much like the flowers should the life and motives of the true christian be; pure, undefiled and unassuming. Sweeter and purer, seems their fragrant breath when dark clouds—portentious of a storm—obscure the bright sunshine from earth. Thus should our lives be in this world of sin and sorrow: ever content and industrious, ever ready to give a helping hand to the needy poor and a soothing word of comfort to a burdened soul and an aching heart, as in so doing we exemplify the nobleness of the true christian's life.—Ex.

A YOUNG PREACHER ENCOURAGED.—A young minister and his wife visited the congregation where his father was previously the pastor. He preached on the Sabbath, and after service one of the venerable elders, speaking with the young minister's wife, said:

"Your husband preached from the same text that his father had the last time he was in that pulpit."

"Indeed," replied the lady, "I hope it was not the same sermon too."

"Oh, no," said the good elder, "his father was a dreadful smart man."—New York Observer.

Rev. M. M. Parkhurst, in one of his addresses at a missionary anniversary held recently in Indianapolis, alluding to his late trip around the world, said: "I never saw a new heathen temple. All the pagan worship I witnessed was in an old, dilapidated temple." "Now that which decayeth and waxeth old," saith the inspired writer of Hebrews, "is ready to vanish away." How different is the aspect of Christianity to-day!

The excursion advertised by G. P. Erwin, and Kibler & Co. to be run from Henry's and Charlotte to Philadelphia, on the 20th September will not take place—the parties having abandoned it.

Telegraphy is taught at Trinity College by Prof. Pegram.

NORTH CAROLINA

The Sheriff of Yadkin county is said to be $11,000 in arrears.

The Methodist Sabbath school of Durham picnics on the 9th inst.

The valuation of real estate in Raleigh is $92.357.120.

There are between 90 and 100 visitors at Cleaveland Springs.

Mr. Alexander Mitchell, an old citizen of Newbern, is dead.

The Wilmington Review has suspended permanently.

Corn at wholesale is worth 48c. per bushel, at retail 55c. in New Berne.

The first sprig of New Hanover new rice has been seen in Wilmington.

A 54 lb. watermelon was raised this year in Craven county.

Cotton picking has begun in several counties of this State.

The grasshoppers have appeared in Mecklenburg, and are damaging crops.

There are now upon the rolls of the Graded school in this city, 406 pupils.

While some negroes were digging a tank in Charlotte, the dirt caved in and Monroe Harshaw was badly injured.

Louis Whaley, of Duplin, suicided by cutting his throat last week. Insanity is the supposed cause.

An ex member of the 67th N. C. Confederate regiment was killed in the Custar massacre.

A Mr. Bohannon, of Stokes county, sustained serious injuries from a fall from a horse, one day last week.

W. H. Crawford, Esq. is the Democratic nominee for the Senate from Rowan and Davie.

Frank Miller, one of the most sterling citizens of Texas, is on a visit to his old home in Winston.

Mr. J. W. Tillett, it is announced, will soon become connected with the Durham Herald.

Mr. Clem Crabtree of Flat River, Orange Co., while going to mill, was thrown from his wagon and badly hurt.

There are 230 Lodges of Good Templars in North Carolina with about 10,000 members

Col. T. M. Holt is the Democratic candidate for the Senate from Alamance county.

W. C. Durham of Shelby has forsaken his determination to run as an independent candidate for the Legislature.

S. H. Harper was shot last week at Battleboro, by Jas. Harrison, son of Col. W. D. Harrison.

A Battleboro corespondent of the Roanoke News wants a debating society started "for the improvement of bashfulness."

Thomas J. Wilson, Esq., an honest and able lawyer, has been nominated for the Senate from Forsyth and Stokes.

The Democratic County Convention for Granville will be held at Oxford on the 16th inst.

Col. Kirk, the hero of the Kirk war, is said to hold a lucrative position in Washington City.

The Republicans of Davidson county will hold a convention on the 9th inst. to nominate candidates for the Legislature and various county officers.

Col. W. F. Henderson editor of the Lexington CENTRAL and Geo. Enniss the traveling correspondent of the NEWS, had a fight in Lexington recently. The friends of each claim a victory for their favorite.

An excursion train from Danville to Winston last week contained over seven hundred colored people, whose orderly conduct was notable.

Notwithstanding the hard times, Winston continues to improve, twenty buildings, for residences and business houses, being in course of erection now.

The Monroe Enquirer heads the dispatch of Mr. Cox concerning the death of Speaker Kerr "The last hours of Speaker Cox."

Mrs. R. V. Houston, of Union County, has been prospecting for gold on his father's lands and has met with gratifying developments.

A juror was withdrawn and a mistrial ordered in the case of the Commissioners of Granville indicted for defrauding the county. Eleven of the jury were for conviction—one for acquittal.

G. N. Whitfield, Esq., of Granville, has a field of tobacco containing 30.000 hills from which he expects to realize 10.000 pounds of tobacco.

Richmond County has declared its preference for Platt D. Walker, Esq., as the Democratic candidate for the Senate from that county and Montgomery.

The Reidsville News says that the tobacco crop in the Piedmont section will fall much short of the average—in some places it is a complete failure.

Samuel Watt, colored, of Rockingham county, sold his crop of tobacco kept over from last year from which he realized $1.000.

The Shelby Banner has been leased by W. C. Durham, the editor and proprietor, to Clendenin and Corbet, two worthy young men and possessed of a practical knowledge of the newspaper business.

The cotton dealers in this city have agreed to store all the cotton, sold and weighed here, in Moore Square, commonly called Baptist Grove.

The first bale of new cotton appeared in Raleigh week before last. It was consigned to Rand & Wyatt by J. A. Ford & Son, of Smithfield, Johnston county. It was sold to Mess. Parker & Ayers.

Work on the Western N. C. Railroad is progressing favorably. The great tunnel has been pierced about 1000 feet, 800 feet yet remaining to be blasted.

Gov. Brogden has offered a reward of $500 for the arrest of the negro who violated Mrs. Beatty in Mecklenburg.

J. P. Harding in Ashe County has the largest mine in North Carolina. He has sunk a shaft 50 feet deep and has traced the vein three quarters of a mile.

The N. C. Press Association will go to the Centennial as dead-heads. The gathering, we opine, will be larger than that at the meeting in Newbern some time since.

The depot at Lashley's on R. & A. A. L. R. R. is now called New Hill in order to conform to the name of the Post Office at that point.

We learn from the Raleigh News that $100,000 in machinery and 600 skilled English operatives will be brought from England to work the gold mines of Montgomery county.

Hickory Press: Wednesday morning an excursion train No. 41 was running at the rate of twenty miles an hour, just this side of Salisbury, a man was crowded off the platform and the last seen of him he was turning summer-saults down an embankment.

Mr. Lewis Whaley, of Limestone Township, Duplin county, committed suicide, by cutting his throat, on the 17th inst. Cause, insanity.

Capt. English, of Newberne, while on a schooner bound for New York, was attacked by yellow fever and died after a short but painful illness.

A bale of cotton was donated to the Goldsboro Masonic Fraternity for the benefit of the Oxford Orphan Asylum, sold at auction there, and was forwarded to Raleigh to be sold again. It brought $75 here and was sent on to Charlotte to be sold again.

Prof. W. H. Smith, late of the University of Michigan has been elected Professor of Zoology, Botany, Geology Mineralogy etc., at Chapel Hill.

The Senior editor of the Danbury Reporter, aged 82, sat down to a reunion dinner with his six sons, the other day. He lost a son during the war. A plate was arranged for him at the board

We understand that on Tuesday while holding Nash court, Judge Watts was taken suddenly and severely ill with something like either paralysis or meningitis, the affection being in the back of the head and neck. Court was adjourned, and Judge Watts was conveyed to his home at Franklinton by Geo. W. Blount, Esq., of Wilson.

A destructive fire took place at Shoe Heel, Robeson county, last Friday morning about 3 o'clock. It originated in an unoccupied house owned by Mr. John Patterson. A carriage depository occupied by Messrs. McKethan of Fayetteville, but owned also by Mr. Patterson, was burned. Next came the drug store of R. M. Devane & Co., which was entirely consumed in a short time, making in all three buildings destroyed. Messrs R M Devane & Co's loss is about $2,000 and their insurance $1,500. Mr. Patterson's loss is about $800 or $1,000 upon which there was no insurance. Dr. McBryde is a loser to the amount of $100 or $200. Mr S E Russell also lost a small amount.—Wilmington Star.

BEVERIDGE & Co., NEW NORTH CAROLINA STATE DIRECTORY FOR 1876—7.—The above work will be complete in all its departments giving the names of physicians, divines, lawyers, merchants, manufacturers, mills, Rail Roads, Steam Ship Cos., principal farmers, besides the government of the U. S, State, county, city and towns alphabetically arranged. The printing will be executed in a neat style, and in fact, the work shall be a first class book. We will be thankful to any one in the counties and villages who will take the trouble to send us the names of the above mentioned, and in fact any information, they may deem important.

Agents wanted in every town, village and county in the State. Good wages made on our work. Liberal discount to book sellers ordering. Sold by subscription.

Merchants, manufactures, real estate agents and business men generally, should see that their advertisements should appear. To parties having land, mines, blooded stock, mills, water rights, etc., special inducements offered.

The circulation will be larger than any publication in the State, large quantities all ready ordered in the Northern States.

Price for Advertising including book: Page, $25; ½ page, $15; ¼ page, $9; ⅛ page, $5.

Send names of people in your township and get our terms to agents, (write plain), giving post office.

BEVERIDGE & Co.,
PUBLISHERS.
Yarborough House, Raleigh, N. C.
Purcell House, Wilmington, N. C.
Central House, Charlotte, N. C.

OETTINGE, Aug 2—The Montenegrin official newspaper publishes an article rejecting foreign mediation, and declaring that Servia and Montenegro will not abandon the conflict until the Sclavonic provinces are completely forced from the Turkish yoke.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—A special from Belgrade to the Times, says: "The keenest anxiety is felt here. The prospect of an armistice every day increases the danger of the war spreading. The Servian army is fast becoming a Russian auxiliary force, fighting on Servian soil, the Russians exposing the natives in the front of the battle with remarkable valor. Out of forty-eight men who fought as a company of Alexanatz, thirty were left dead on the field. The Servians becoming jealous, and afraid of the Russians, feel the control of their army slipping from their hands, and will joyfully accept peace if it can be obtained on good terms."

The seven days' fighting before Alexanatz has been greatly exaggerated. It is estimated that the Serrian's entire loss was only a few hundred killed and about twenty-three hundred wounded. No lists of the killed and wounded have been published since the beginning of the war.

INDEX TO NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Buffalo Lithia Springs, Thos. F. Goode, Proprietor. The waters of theso Springs are highly recommended for various diseases. See the double column advertisement.

ASTHMA AND CATARRH.—See Dr. Langell's adv't.

Colden's Liebig's Liquid Extract of Beef and Tonic Invigorator is not injured by the influence of the weather. According to Liebig's expression, it is Liquid Bread being both nourishing and strengthening.
Williams & Haywood, agents.

The Christian Advocate

PUBLISHED IN THE CITY OF RALEIGH EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING, TERMS $2.50 POSTAGE PAID.

Our Agents.

All the traveling and local preachers in the bounds of the North Carolina Conference are our authorized Agents. Any person sending us ten subscribers, for one year, will receive the paper free.

Our Correspondents.

Communications for publication should be carefully written, and on but one side of the sheet. All letters of the office should be addressed to the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

How to Remit.

In sending money, all amounts should be sent in registered letter, post office order or check. The cost of registration, or Post Office order can be deducted from the amount in hand. If money is sent otherwise than herein specified, it will be at the sender's risk.

General News.

The yellow fever is said to be in New York.

A son has been born to Prince Milan, the Servian cheftain and 100 guns thundered their welcome.

For 24 successive days recently a child under five years of age, died every fifteen minutes in New York city—nearly 1000 a week.

The spire of Dr. Hall's new church in New York, is two feet higher than that of Trinity Church.

The Tennessee Republican State Convention which recently met in Nashville, decided not to nominate a candidate for Governor.

The National Temperance Conference is in session at Sea Grove, New Jersey.

Ten years ago Russia exported nearly one half the wheat imported into England. America now furnishes over one-half, and stands less than an eighth.

One hundred millions gallons of water are used in London daily, and it is stated that double that quantity would not be too copious a supply.

The Indian Commissioners have issued orders to nearly all the Indian agencies to stop the sales of arms and ammunition to either whites or Indians.

An exchange says there are eleven hundred and ninety-six American correspondents, besides a large number from Europe at Philadelphia.

Horatio Seymour has been nominated for Governor of New York by the Democrats of that State.

Don Carlos, the Spanish grandee, who made so bold a stroke for the throne of Spain, and whose adherents were finally routed and driven to exile, is now a farming in New York. He has complained to the police that he is being shadowed by hirelings of the present Spanish government.

Deaths.

☞Obituary notices of twenty lines are inserted without charge. The excess over twenty lines of eight words is charged for at the rate of 10 cents per line. Count the line, and allow eight words to the line. In this way you may always know the amount to enclose. Resolutions of respect are subject to the same rule. ☜

Died at the residence of her son, in Rockingham county N. C. July 13th, 1876, Mrs. Priscilla Cook in the 81st year of her age. This venerable pilgrim from the thirteenth year of her age had been a consistent and faithful member of the M. E. Church—discharging with fidelity her duties toward her husband her children, her neighbors and her God, doing good to all as she had means and opportunity, and when death came she was ready to meet it, exclaiming really, world adieu! Glory, to God, I'm going home." Farewell dear christian friend—may we meet thee in heaven.

A FRIEND AND NEIGHBOR.

A. O. Gaylord was born near Plymouth N. C. Oct. 17, 1808, and died at the place of his birth August 17 th 1876. It is difficult for any community to realize its loss in the death of such a man as Major Gaylord, by which title he was generally known, a man of deep piety, of the purest character and the most unwavering integrity.

He was for many years a devoted member of the M E Church, South, in Plymouth, of which he became a member in early life. No one, perhaps ever loved his church more ardently than he, or lived a life of more beautiful consistency. His religion was of that live experimental character which makes its subject happy and which makes him desire and always be present at the services of the sanctuary. His seat was scarcely ever vacant, either at the house of God or at the sessions of the Quarterly Conference. Many of the preachers of the Conference who have served the church here even for many years preceding the war, will remember Bro. Gaylord as one of its pillars—as one ever ready to do his part in all that was good. He did it well, and has gone to his reward. He was stricken with paralysis on the 10th of June last, from which he never rallied. Though perfectly helpless he was fully resigned, cheerful and ever joyful in his affliction. His life was faithful and earnest, his death peaceful and happy. But a little more than two years ago he was sorely bereaved of his dear companion, who died a most triumphant death and went before him to the bright world of joy. He has now gone to join her there, where partings are never known. Surely "the path of the just is as a shining light which shineth more and more unto the perfect day."

W. S. ROSE.

Died in Sampson co on Monday July 17th 1876, of typhoid fever Mrs. Annie F. Parker, in the 31st year of her age, late consort of A B Parker and daughter of Franklin Snead, decd. The subject of this no tice was left an orphan at the age of three months and was raised by her grand-mother, on her mother's side. Annie always possessed a brilliant intellect and grasped all of her studies with a herculean effort and succeeded in everything at the age of eleven she completed arithmetic. She was the special favorite of her teachers and all who knew her. She embraced religion at an early age under the administration of Rev. W. M. Robey, of the M E C S, and was a pious and consistent member for many years, and being the offspring of a highly intelligent parentage, possessed all their attributes and no encomium can flatter her intellectual, and religious training, which has no doubt won a home for her in heaven, the happiest home, and while we mourn her irreparable loss we know it is her everlasting gain in realms of eternal bliss. Up to her demise she had been a member of the Order of Good Templars several months. She left two children whom she was bringing up in the fear and admonition of the Lord.

W. J. C.

Departed this life July 27th 1876, Mrs. Mary A. Barbrey, in her 47th year, wife of Gaydel Barbrey, and daughter of Mrs. Civil Craddoc. The deceased was a gentle and affectionate sister and daughter, and a devoted wife and mother; she possessed the gentle and refined disposition of a christian from her earliest girlhood days. She was a member of the Baptist Church and like her neice, Annie Parker who died ten days before, frequently expressed her willingness to die, and is now with Annie where happiness is everlasting and supernal. Sister Mary left six children, three having gone before her in their infancy to heaven. We mourn not without hope, but have a strong hope of meeting her on the other side of the river, where parting is unknown and where the faithful are at rest.

W. J. C.

Died, in Newberne N. C., August 19th, 1876, Mrs. Mary S. Jones, wife of K. R. Jones and daughter of Amos L. Simmons of Jones Co., N. C. Sister Jones was born Apr. 18th 1846, professed religion and joined the M E Church South, under the ministry of Rev. H. T. Hudson while at Greensboro F. College in 1862. was married to K. R. Jones Dec. 1864 and died August 19th 1876 aged 30 years 4 months and 1 day. For grace is near the cradle seen; How with the moments pass her years! She leaves an husband six small children and a large number of relatives friendes and aquintances to mourn their loss and to rejoice at her eternal gain. She was widely known and much beloved. Her death was sudden and un expected in those left behind, and has cast a gloom not only over her own family but many sympathizing friends, but they sorrow not as those who have no hope. She was a good pious woman; died in the faith, and is gone to be in her's house not made with hands eternal in the heavens. "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord."

W. C. GANNON.

At her residence near Beaufort, N C, on the morning of June 8th the spirit of our new married mother, Mrs. Zilpha Marshall, aged 25 years and 7 months, took its everlasting flight to God who gave it

In early life she joined the Methodist Church of her native place, Beaufort, and like a shining light which shineth more and more unto the perfect day, she pressed forward for these many years until the prize was won. All that affection could prompt and medical skill and experience suggest was exhausted in the hope of prolonging a life that is all too much of heaven in it to be longer delayed from that communion with her Father and Saviour that every prayer and hope of her being aspired after. Oh our beloved mother it may be truthfully said, she was a pattern of piety—a piety never characterized by the ebbing and flowing, but constant—a uniform current ever flowing onward to the great ocean of love and happiness. Her religion was Christ in the soul. To Him she went for daily bread and He gave it raise the water of life freely. As mother and grand-mother, she was the centre of a sweet and hallowed attraction. But dear she has fled us. No more can she come to the loved save as a guardian angel, but we may go to her. In that "better land" we feel that all is well with her. Though the nature of her disease prevented her leaving any testimony in death, she left wherever she went while living May God enable her children and all whom she loved while walking the dreary shores of time, to follow her as she followed Christ,

IKE DAUGHTER.

Died in Washington county, N. C., Aug. 12th 1876, Miss Martha Ann Phelps, aged 16 years. Miss Mattie was home from Wesleyan Female College, spending vacation. She expected to return to College next session, but God in His all wise providence has called her to Himself. She was converted during the great revival at the College last May a year ago, and what a blessed thing to have the soul converted, and to be ever ready to meet God! Miss Mattie leaves two brothers, and numerous relatives and friends to mourn her loss. Her death has blighted fond hopes, and saddened loving hearts. She had gone to spend a few days with her dear friend and school mate, Miss Pattie Blount. Here she was taken sick with typhoid fever and after twelve days of severe suffering she fell asleep in Jesus. Her sufferings were very great, but she bore all patiently. During her sickness she pointed to heaven and said to her friend—"Pattie go with me."

Echoes had and classmates at W. F. College: You will see Mattie no more this side the grave. Be ever ready to meet her in heaven!

W. H. WATKINS.

Edward Bayer, Esq., Horton, Kings Co., N. C., writes that an astonishing cure has been effected on his daughter by the use of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. The whole spine became diseased, she lost the use of her limbs, and her back was rounded up like a bow, in consequence of taking cold after having been vaccinated for the kine pock. She is now well.

We pledge our reputation on the assertion that any educated physician, after a careful examination of the recipe, will say that Parsons' Purgative Pills possess more merit than any other pill now offered for sale. adv.

When thou art old and rich,
Thou hast neither heart, affection, limb or beauty
To make thy riches pleasant.

It is surprising how few books have been written on the diseases incident to old age. We know of no work that would be more gratefully read by the medico-legal world, or by the laity of all cases, than a "Treatise on the numerous ills augmenting old age written in a plain style and free from all technicality. Nor do we know of any medicine that is more happily adapted to the alleviating of the pains and aches of the aged than Dr. Tutt's Liver Pills. While they act promptly they do not wrench the system or shock the most enfeebled constitution. In cases of gout, rheumatism kidney diseases, torpid bowels, indigestion, loss of appetite, their healing properties are very wonderful. Their effect on the nervous system is prompt, quieting restlessness, inducing refreshing sleep and vigor to the whole system. The old and young will be alike benefited by the use of this truly estimable medicine. adv.

Letters and Funds

Rev W C Gannon for Raleigh $2 20. Mrs M A J Hassell 2,26, ob 10 cents, T Pittsode on ac 39. Rev S V Hoyle papers continued. Rev J T Harris papers sent. Rev D E Braton paper continued. W R Lloyd paper changed. Rev V A Sharpe to J J Garrett self 2,20. Rev P F W Kinsey paper continued Rev T A Coon papers sent. Rev B L Wood for T W Tomlin 2,20. E Alden on ac 28,40 Rev A H Redford Rev A A Bonhamer Rev C M Anderson Thos E Roberts paper continued. N W Ayer & Son Scribner & Co Rev J Ballard, paper changed C C Peacock self 55 cents. J Hibbs by A Campbell self 1,10. Rev R S Webb for Miss X S Young 2,20. other papers sent. Rev G Johnson for Miss S Whitehead 2 20. W R Mossain Rev E A Yates for Rev Reuben Rose 2,20 Rev S M Davis for J R Robinson 2,20. Rev J D Hale for H C Carter 2,10. Rev L W Pigott J M Lumley Rev J F Hoffman paper sent. Rev H P Colo Mrs M A Caron self 55 cents. Rev E A Yates will appear in next issue.

APPOINTMENTS.

NEWBERN DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Kinston Station,	Sept.	16–17
Newbern Station,	"	23–24
Craven, Beach Grove Mon. & Tues	"	25–26
Lenoir, La Grange, Sept. 30 Oct.		1
Swift Creek }
Beaufort Station,	"	7– 8
Straits,	"	14–15
Snow Hill, Rainbow,	"	21–22
Carteret, Harlowe's,	"	28–29
Wilson station,	Nov.	4– 5
Nouse, Aurora,	"	11–12
Jones Cr k Grove,	"	18–19
Mt. Olive Friday,	"	24
Wayne, Fremont,	"	25–26
Goldsboro Sth. night & Mon.	"	27

E. A. YATES, P. E
Beaufort. N. C.

RALEIGH DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND—1876.

Raleigh Person St,	Aug.	26–27
Granville Mt Tabor,	Sept.	2– 3
Henderson Tabernacle,	"	16–17
Youngsville,	"	23 24
Rolesville Rolesville, Sept. 30th,	Oct,	1
Raleigh Edenton St.	"	7– 8
Cary, Hollands,	"	14–15
Louisburg,	"	21–22
Tar River Franklinton,	"	28–29
Rocky Mt & Nash- ville, Tolsnut, Smithfield, } at Tolsnot,	Nov.	4 5
	"	11–12

J. P. MOORE, P. E.
Warrenton. N. C.

WILMINGTON DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Magnolia, at Salem,	Sept.	8–10
Wilmington, 5th Street,	"	16–17
Cokesbury at Bethany,	"	20–24
Kenansville, at Weeks' Chapel, Sept 30, and	Oct.	1
Smithville at Smithville,	"	7 8
Onslow, at Tabernacle,	"	14–15
Wilmington, Front S reet,	"	18–19
Enzabeth, at Bladen Springs,	"	28–29
Bladen at Antioch,	Nov.	4 5
Whiteville and Waccamaw Miss.	"	11,12
Clinton at Goshen,	"	18 19
Topsail at Rocky Point,	"	25–26

The District Conference will be held at Bethany Church, Cokesbury District, commencin on Wednesday the 20th September, at 10 o'clock A. M and will embrace the 4th Sabbath. Rev. J. B. Bailey will preach the opening sermon. Brethren from other districts are invited to attend.

W. S. BLACK.
Magnolia, N. C.

SALISBURY DISTRICT.
3RD ROUND.

Statesville ct, Bethlehem,	June	3– 4
Statesville sta.	"	10–11
Mooresville ct, Mt Zion,	"	17 18
Salisbury, Oak Grove,	"	24–25
Mt. Airy & S Mission, Mt. Hermon,	July	1– 2
Salisbury ct, Siloam,	"	8– 9
Yadkin ct, Macedonia,	"	15–16
Salisbury sta.	"	22 23
Davie ct, Bethlehem,	"	29–30
Rockwell circuit, Liberty,	Aug.	5– 6
Iredell circuit, Snow Creek,	"	19 20
Wilkes circuit, Union,	"	26–27
Alexander ct, Rock Springs,	Sept.	2– 3

The District Conference will meet at Mocksville on Thursday, August 10th. The occasion will be one of great interest to the people and the District, and we hope there will be a large attendance. We cordially invite our brethren out of the District to be present.

D. R. BRUTON, P. E.

HILLSBORO DISTRICT.
3RD ROUND.

Durham sta.	June	24–25
C Hill & H River at Morris chapel	July	1– "
Pittsboro ct Pleasant Hill,	"	8– "
Deep River ct Asbury,	"	15–16
Flat River et Fletcher's chapel	"	22–23
District Conference at Chapel Hill	Aug.	2– 6
Alamance et Bethel,		12–13
Leasburg et Prospect,	"	19–20
Yanceyville et Yanceyville,	"	26–27
Person et Roxboro,	Sep.	2– 3
Hillsboro sta.	"	9– 10

The District Conference will be held at Chapel Hill, commencing Wednesday August the 2nd, and continuing five days. Ministers and laymen of our own, and other Districts are cordially invited to attend.

L. L. HENDREN, P. E
Chapel Hill, N C

FAYETTEVILLE DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Laurenburg ct. at Laurenburg,	Sept.	9–10
Cumberland ct. at Camp-Ground.	"	15–17
Jonesboro ct. at Cool Spring,	"	23–24
Fayetteville sta	Oct.	1– 2

J. S NESBIT, P. E
Fayetteville, N. C.

SHELBY DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Columbus,	Aug.	26–27
Rutherfordton,	"	29
Happy House,	Sept.	2– 3
Caldwell, C. M.	"	9–10
South Fork, C. M.	"	16–17
Dallas, C. M.	"	23–24
Double Shoals, C. M. Sept. 30,	Oct.	1
Cherry Mountain, C. M.	"	7– 8
Shelby ct. C. M.	"	14 15
Upper Broad River,	"	21–22
Marion, (Dedication),	"	21–22
Shelby station,	"	28–29
Morganton,	Nov.	4– 5
Dysartsville,	"	7– 8
Lenoir station,	"	11–12
Lincolnton,	"	11–12
Rock Spring,	"	18–19
Newton,	"	25–26

R. G. BARRETT, P. E.
Shelby, N. C

GREENSBORO DISTRICT.
3RD ROUND.—Q. M.

Davidson ct, at Midway,	July	22–23
Wentworth, Wentworth,	"	29–30
North Guilford, Jamestown,	Aug.	5– 6
Randolph, Ebenezer,	"	12–13
Forsythe, Clemmonsville,	"	19–20
South Guilford, Pleasant Garden	"	26–27
Madison, Mt. Hermon,	Sept.	2– 3
Stokes, Stokesburg,	"	9–10
Thomasville & H. Point, Trinity College,	"	16–17
Trinity College,	"

A campmeeting will be held in connection with the Quarterly meeting at Pleasant Gardenb, eginning Friday evening the 29th.

N. H. D. WILSON P. E.

WASHINGTON DISTRICT.
3RD ROUND.

Greenville, at Little's Chapel	June	17–18
Washington,	"	24 25
Tarboro, at Temperance Hall,	July	1– 2
Warrenton,	"	8– 9
Warren, at Bethlehem,	"	15–16
Roanoke,	"	22 23
Williamston, at Jone's Chapel	"	29–30
Plymouth,	Aug.	5– 6
Columbia,	"	12–13
Bath,	"	19 20
Mattamuskeet,	"	26–27

The District Conference will commence its session in Warrenton on Thursday, the 6th of July, at 11 o'clock The District Stewards will hold their meeting Saturday, the 8th at 3 o'clock, P M.

The Presiding Elder will preach at Beulah on the Williamston circuit July 26th at 11 o'clock, administering Baptism and also the Communion. He will preach at Palmyra on the 27th July at night.

The month of August will be observed as the Centennial month.

WM. CLOSE, P. E.
Toisnot, N. C.

CHARLOTTE DISTRICT.
3RD ROUND.

Pleasant Grove ct. C. M. at Pl'nt Grove,	Aug.	19–20
South Charlotte ct. C. M. at Bethel,	"	26–27
Wadesboro ct. at Bethel,	Sept	2– 3
Centerville ct. at Concord,	"	9–10
Mt. Pleasant, ct. at Olivet,	"	16–17
Concord, ct.	"	23–24
Albemarle ct. at Bethel,	"	23–24
Stanley, ct. C. M. at Reboboth,	Sept. 30,	Oct. 1

W. H. BOBBITT, P. E.
Monroe, N. C.

COMMERCIAL REPORT.

WHOLESALE CASH PRICES.

Office of CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.
Aug 8th, 1876.

REMARKS.

Business greatly improved. Country produce offered in quantities; especially in exchange for groceries

COTTON.

Old cotton none. New crop coming to market freely. Tendency downward. We quote; Middlings 12¼ Low middlings 12 1-2 Lower grades none offered.

General Market.

FLOUR, North Carolina $7@8.50.
" Fancy $9.
DAN MEAL—100
BAGGING, Standard 15 1-2.
" Dundee 13 1-2.
BACON, N. C. cog round, 14. to 15.
" hams 16 1-2 18
BULK C. R. sides, 13 1-2
" shoulders, 12 to 12 1-2
LARD, North Carolina, 16 1-2
" Western Steam, 17 1-2 20
" " kegs, 16 1-2@17 1-2
COFFEE, Prime Rio, 24 1-2
" Fair Rio, 21
SYRUP, common, 37 1-2
MOLASSES, Cuba, 50.
SALT $2.25.
CHEESE, Cream, 15 16.
" Factory, 12 13.
" Dairy, none.
NAILS, on basis for 10d, $4.00.
SUGAR 12 1-2.
" Extra C. 11 1-4.
" Yellow, 10@11
LEATHER, sole 27 1-2@30
HIDES, green, 7@8.
" dry, 18 1-2
TALLOW, 7@8
POTATOES, sweet 75
" Irish, $1.00@$1.25.
OATS, shelled, 80
" sheaf, $1.25
FODDER, old, $7.50, New $1.25
HAY, N. C. baled, .00
CHICKENS, grown, 30
" young, 20@30
EGGS, 20
BUTTER, country, 25@30
FISH, Mullets, $4 to 6.50.
" Cat Herrings, 7@15
" Mackerel, new family, $1 .90
BEESWAX, 25.

OFFICIAL ADVERTISEMENTS.

HOME PROTECTION OF NORTH ALABAMA FIRE AND MARINE INSURANCE COMPANY.

Annual Statement for the year ending December 31st 1875, of the Financial condition of Home Protection of North Alabama Fire and Marine Insurance Company of Huntsville, Ala., made to the Secretary of State of North Carolina.

President, ... R. E. Cole.
Secretary, ... H. B. Dillard.
Principal Office, ... Huntsville.

I.—CAPITAL.

Whole amount of Joint Stock, or guaranteed Capital authorized,	$ 100,000 00
Whole amount of Capital actually paid up in cash,	100,000 00

II.—ASSETS.

Cash on hand and in Banks,	$4,491 08
Cash in hands of Agents in course of transmission,	8,624 61
Market value of Real Estate owned by the Company,	3,200 68
Amount loaned on Mortgage of Real Estate, 8 per cent interest,	2,668 80
Amount loaned on collateral,	23,108 00
Stocks and Bonds, Market value,	74,150 95
Interest due and accrued,	1,961 00
Total Assets,	$122,071 56

III.—LIABILITIES.

Losses adjusted, whether due or not,	$1,850 00
Losses unadjusted, &c.	34,700
Amount due for expenses and outlays of all kinds $293,88—All paid soon after Dec.
Amount necessary to reinsure outstanding risk at fifty per cent. being the legal Reserve,	12,500 00
Net Surplus,	5,371 56
Total Net Cash Income from Premiums,	$51,482 81
Total Net Cash Income from Interest, Dividends and Rents,	6,636 95
Total Income,	$57,099 75

IV.—INCOME

Total Net Amount paid during the year for losses,	$21,329 70
Total pay account,	1,750 00
Total Miscellaneous Expenditures,	21,231 02
Total Expenditures,	$49,551 72

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
DEPARTMENT OF STATE
Raleigh, Aug 4th, 1876.

A W Lawrence, appointed for the purpose, having been duly sworn, makes oath that the above statement subscribed by him, is true, according to his best knowledge and belief.

W H ROWERTON,
Secretary of State.

Lawrence & Winston, Gen'l Agents.

THE PAMLICO INSURANCE AND BANKING CO.

Annual Statement, for the year ending December 1st, 1875, of the Financial condition of The Pamlico Insurance and Banking Company of Tarboro', N. C., made to the Secretary of State of North Carolina.

President, George Howard; Secretary, Jos B Cheshire; Principal Office, Tarboro', N. C.

I.—CAPITAL.

Whole amount of Joint Stock, or guaranteed Capital authorized,	$115,200 00
Whole amount of Capital actually paid up in cash,	11,520 00

II.—ASSETS.

Cash on hand and in Banks,	$1,691 33
Cash in hands of Agents in course of transmission,	1,747 70
Amount loaned on Mortgage of Real Estate,	101,891 01
Amount loaned on Collaterals,	10,004 25
Interest due and accrued,	253 64
All other Property belonging to the Company, excluding Judgments, Loans on Personal Security only, Cash in hand of Agents, office supplies and Furniture, amounts advanced to Agents or invested in commuting commissions, or for purchase of lots which prove bad and doubtful debts and securities,	1,350 01
Total Assets,	117,537 12

III.—LIABILITIES.

Losses adjusted, in suspense, or resisted by the Company,	$991 00
Amount due for expenses and outlays of all kinds,	314 20
All other Liabilities, including any her Judgments it may not fully paid and satisfied against the Company in this State, in what Court, and at what time they were obtained, the amounts due on the same and to whom due, and whether or not an appeal has been entered by the Company and if granted by the Court from the said Judgment or Judgments,	2,638 25
Net Surplus,	114,156 87
Total Liabilities,	$117,537 12

IV.—INCOME.

Total Net Cash Income from Premiums,	4,932 94
Total Net Cash Income from Interest,	293 55
Total Income,	4,886 19

V.—EXPENDITURES.

Total Net Amount paid during the year for losses,	600 00
Total pay account,	2,293 98
Total Miscellaneous Expenditures,	2,191 46
Total Expenditures,	$4,941 14

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
DEPARTMENT OF STATE
Raleigh, Aug. 24th, 1876.

Green Williams Supervisor, appointed for the purpose, having been duly sworn, made oath that the above statement subscribed by him, is true according to his best knowledge and belief.

W. H ROWERTON,
Secretary of State.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Williams & Haywood.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN

Drugs, Medicines, Paints, Oils, Dye-Stuffs, Perfumery,

Fancy Articles, Garden Seeds Fine Teas, Spices Flavoring Extracts

CIGARS, CHEWING TOBACCO, &C.

Keep constantly on hand, a full assortment of Pure Prices, White Lead, Paints, Zinc, Mineral Oil, Linseed Oil, Lamp Oil, Turpentine, Window Glass, Varnish, &c., &c.

STUDENTS AND OTHERS, to lessen their hours of study, should buy one of Bagster's Lexicons of Greek, Latin and Greek; Circulars, &c. Address Chas. Bagster & Sons, Publishers, India Sept 11

THE NORTH CAROLINA FARMER

Has it Enough?—Is one. I have been a practical farmer for forty years, and during that time have taken the best agricultural papers of the day, and I understand to say that there is more valuable practical information to many farmers in the first and second numbers of the North Carolina Farmer than in any dozen papers on any of the Agricultural Journals I have taken, and I do most earnestly recommend it to every farmer in our State as the paper for him, above all others.

PETER H. BINGS,
Halifax, Co.

Subscription, per year, $1.00
" 6 months, 50
" 3 " 25
Address
J. H. ENNISS & CO. Publishers,
Raleigh, N. C.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, } SUPERIOR COURT.
Wake County, } Aug. 16th, 1876

E. G. STAMES, Trustee, vs. S. A. Taylor and Jas. S. Purnell.

It appearing to the satisfaction of the Court upon affidavit filed in this cause that S. A. Taylor, is a necessary party to the suit, and that after due diligence he cannot be found within this State, it is ordered by the Court that publication of the summons in this cause be made for six weeks in the Christian Advocate, a newspaper published in the city of Raleigh, and that a copy of the same be mailed to said defendant at his last known place of residence if such be known.

J. S. BUNTING,
Clerk.

WAKE COUNTY—IN THE SUPERIOR COURT.

Jacks, Stanley, Dunstan, &c., } Petition
vs. } Summons for Relief.
S. A. Taylor and Jas. S. }

THE STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,

To the Sheriff of Wake County—Greeting: You are hereby commanded to summon S. A. Taylor and James S. Purnell, the Defendants above named, if they be found within your county, to appear at the next term of the Clerk of the Superior Court for said county of Wake, within 60 days after the service of these summons on them, exclusive of the day of such service, and answer the complaint, a copy of which will be deposited in the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court for said County, within ten days from the date of these summons, and let them take notice that if they fail to answer the said complaint within the time aforesaid the Plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Hereof fail not, and of this summons make due return.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, this 16th day of August A. D. 1876.

J. S. BUNTING,
Clerk Superior Court Wake County.

James A. Jones and H. R. Gray Plaintiff's Attorneys. 8w. $10.

BLEACHED DOMESTICS.

Cases Bleached Domestics,
Lower than ever.
Also Lonsdale Cambrics.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER.

PRINTS! PRINTS! PRINTS!

Access NEW PRINTS for late Summer and Early Fall.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER.

RUCHINGS AND NECK TIES.

Another assortment, new styles Ruchings, Silk and Lace Neckties for the Ladies.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER.

BELTS, FANS AND PARASOLS.

Another invoice of Belts, Belt Webbing, Belt Buckles, Fans including the plain natural handle palm leaf an l Parasols and Umbrellas, all new.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER.

SHOES AND GAITERS.

Tremendous lot, all sizes and best makes.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER,
Aug 24-tf.

NEW BOOK.

"Our children" by Dr. Haygood.—a supply on hand.

Send orders to V. A. Sharpe, Thomasville, N. C.

$1 50, by mail—prepaid.
Aug 30-2 m

ATLANTA MEDICAL COLLEGE

Atlanta, Ga.

The Fourteenth Annual Course of Lectures in this Institution will commence October 10th, 1876, and close March 1st, 1877.

Send for announcement, giving full information.

JNO. THAD. JOHNSON, M. D.,
Dean of Faculty.

Aug 30 1m

WESLEYAN FEMALE COLLEGE,

Murfreesboro, N. C.

Rev. W. G. STARR, A. M., President, assisted by a large corps of experienced teachers.

FALL SESSION BEGINS SEPT. 25, 1876,

This well-known and long-established Institution affords at the least charges all the facilities for a thorough education.

For Catalogue, &c., address,
Rev. W. G. STARR,
Murfreesboro, N. C.

Aug 30-2m.

National Hotel,

Open to the general profession in all kinds of business. I have been induced to lower prices of Board to $2 per day until December 1st.

Accommodations as heretofore EQUAL to the BEST in the City.

C. S. BROWN, Prop.

Aug 16-tf.

CUTAVACO!

Cures Rheumatism, Bronchocele, Ringbone, Spavin, Lameness, Sweeny, Scratches, Scaly Humor, Barber's Itch, Salt Rheum, Eczema, Tetter, Blotches, Pimples, Ulcers, Scrofula, Indolent Sores, Fever Sores, Chilblains, Frost Bites, Chapped Hands, Sore Nipples, Piles, Chafings, Sore Eyes, Inflammation, Sore Throat, Quinsy, Diphtheria, Croup, Colds, Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Pleurisy, Pain in the Side, Back or Chest, Lumbago, Kidney Complaints, Dropsy, Female Weakness, Leucorrhœa, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Neuralgia, Headache, Nervous Debility, Sciatica, Erysipelas, Boils, Carbuncles, Ringworm, Tumors, Cancers

Children's Column.

THE HONEY THIEF.

"Hum-m-m-m," sang a golden Bee
To a beautiful crimson Rose;
"Sleep, pretty flower, I'll sing to thee
While the south wind gently blows.
The wind will rock, and I will sing
A lullaby, beautiful Rose."

The south wind rocked, and the gold bee hummed
The drowsiest, sleepiest tune,
And the queen of the garden hung her head,
Faint with the heat of noon.
"Hum-m-m-m," sang the golden Bee,
The drowsiest, sleepiest tune.

But ah! heavily the golden Bee
For all his gold a thief
He rifled the honey the Rose had hid,
And she woke from her dream to grief.
"Oh! Bee," she wept, "your song was a snare,
And Wind, you're the friend of a thief!"

Robbie's Reward.

'Pins and pocket-combs! Pins and pocket-combs!'

Robbie's voice was very low; for he was tired, and almost faint for want of food. The crowd in the waiting room was indifferent, and seemed to have little need of such wares as his; so his sales were very small

'Here, little boy,' said a voice behind him; 'you have just what I want. This ugly rent must be pinned up till I can get home. I'll take this paper, Harvey, will you pay this little fellow for a paper of pins?'

The beautiful woman turned to the tall young man beside her; and he looked as though it would be a pleasure to do anything for her.

He was just counting a handful of change which he had taken from his pocket, when he was interrupted.

'No, no, ma'am!' said Robbie, eagerly. 'Don't take that paper; it isn't a whole one. I cut off a row of pins from it this morning, for poor little Hannah to dress her doll with.'

'Never mind, little man,' said the young lady, gayly 'A tenth part of these I have will be more than I want; so I shall only have the less to throw away when I'm done with them.'

'Then don't pay so much,' persisted Robbie: and he handed back two cents to the gentleman, who had given him ten.

'Well, little man,' said Harvey, 'am't your ideas of morals most too big for such a little head as yours?—How do you ever expect to get a living, if you don't cheat a little now and then?'

Robbie's brown eyes were open very wide as he heard this query.

'But I'd rather not live at all than to live dishonestly.'

'Who taught you all these things about right and wrong? the gentleman asked.

'My mother,' replied Robbie. 'And I think she would rather I should die, and come to her in heaven, an honest, upright boy, than to live ever so well on stolen money.'

'Yes, yes!' said Harvey, 'I dare say you are right; and you are a noble boy to remember such a mother's teachings.'

Little Robbie went wearily on with his work carrying, nevertheless, a quiet conscience with him, for all he was so tired; he had overcome one little temptation.

The lady and gentleman stepped upon the train and were gone.

Harvey Holeman was very thought ful; and his gay companion had to reprove him for silence.

'You've been gazing at the trestle-work of Hempden bridge ever since we came in sight. One would think you were planning to build a bridge of your own, by the way you study that.'

'So I am, Belle,' he replied: 'rather, 'I've built it; and crossed it already, and find myself on the safe side of a great chasm of temptation, for, see here! you don't know how strongly I've been tempted, lately, to withhold those bonds that I know, in honor, ought to go to redeem my father's pledge. They would help me so much by increasing my capital just now, as I am starting in business. But the little pin-peddler, back there has taught me a lesson. I believe like him, I'll starve on honesty, rather than fatten on theft.'

But a few weeks later, after Harvey Holeman's business was well established, the station-agent of Beacon City received a letter inquiring after the little peddler of pins and pocket combs, and relating his little act of honesty.

Later still, honest Robbie was received into Mr. Holeman's home and business interests, to serve, first as errand boy, and then as clerk.

Which was the better reward for Robbie—the fine position which his honesty had gained for him, or the consciousness of having influenced for good a fellowman! He thought the latter.—Well Spring

The Bow in the Cloud

Once, when I was a little girl, I disobeyed my mother. After that I was afraid, and went to an old barn, away off, so that mother could not find me. All at once it began to rain so hard that I could not go back to the house. So I sat still, and thought of what I had done. I remembered that God had seen me disobey, and that he was angry at people who did wrong. It kept on raining harder yet, and I was afraid that God was going to drown the world because I was so bad, just as he had done in Noah's time.

I put my face down in the hay and cried. Pretty soon I felt my father touch me.

"What is the matter, Lucy?" he asked.

"I have been very naughty and God will never forgive me," I said. Father took me in his arms and carried me to the door. The rain had stopped. I looked up; and there in the sky was a rainbow, its beautiful colors shining in the sun.

My father said to me: "When Noah came out of the ark home of his children could forget the awful flood which had left his earth so lonely. Every time it rained they must have been afraid the flood was coming again. And when they did wrong they thought that perhaps God would punish the world as he had done before. So God told Noah that the rainbow should be a sign that he would never drown the world again, but would watch over men; and when men saw it shining after the rain they were to remember God's goodness, and he would look at it and remember his promise to them. So the rainbow would be a token between God and men."

"I would rather me Ever God was not me, I am so naughty," I said.

Then my father told me how God loves us, and when we do wrong is ready to forgive us, if we are sorry for our sins and confess to Him. He sent his dear Son to die for us. For his sake he is willing to forgive all our sins, instead of punishing us.

It made me very happy to think that God loved me, and was willing to forgive. And after that every time I saw the rainbow, it was a sign to me of God's blessed promise to take care of us.—Examplist

Rural and Domestic

Mr Ratliff, an old fruit grower of Wayne county, gives the Indiana Farmer his method for keeping winter apples as follows: At the proper season, before they are fully ripe in the fall, he picks them carefully from the tree and buries them in shallow pits in the ground, covering them over with three or four inches of earth over that. He assures us that he takes them out the next spring as late as May, perfectly sound, nice and plump.

The seed of sunflowers is the most healthy feed that can be given to horses in winter and spring. Half a pint a day keeps them in health and spirited, with sleek coats, and more animated than any food, it prevents heaves, and some other diseases—All places, with the tendency to malarin, should have numbers of sunflowers growing about the residences.—Then they are great favorites with little birds—yellow birds, blue birds, wrens and many others—which will leave fruits and berries to perch upon and pick sunflower seeds.—Maryland Farmer.

In pruning trees it is desirable to give them an even, symmetrical head, and branches not too crowded, and evenly distributed over every part; and special care must be taken to avoid the common error of thinning out in the middle or interior of the head, and leaving the smaller branches a dense mass over the outside. It is better to thin in from the outside where thinning is needed. But where this is not the case there will be, occasionally, in nearly all orchards, crooked or crossed limbs that can be profitably spared.—Register of Rural Affairs.

ABOUT SHEEP.

A writer in the Country Gentleman says: 'There is much said about ewes being too fat to breed well. In my experience of twenty years I have never seen anything that led me to think so, providing the flesh was put on with good pasture during the summer, and a few roots with good hay in winter. The fatter sheep become under such circumstances, the more valuable I think them. There is no time in the year when it pays better to feed a small allowance of grain daily than in the fall after the feed gets frozen, and it is not necessary to bring the flock to the barn.'

"It is an old saying, that 'sheep well Novembered are half wintered.' Keep the ewes fat, and the lambs will be fat and the fleeces heavy. I do not say that it is better to have the lambs come early or late, but I do say it is best to have them fat; but whether early or late, they are saleable. All ewes that with good care will not raise a lamb or shear four pounds of washed wool should be sold. I have them in my flock that will shear nine pounds and raise a pair of twins, and it costs no more to keep one than a sheep that shears but three pounds I think that no one will hear the man who keeps his flocks in this way complaining because his sheep are all 'run out,' and do not pay him, and the like.—Ticks must be kept out of the flock—they are the worst enemies of the sheep. If they are not killed, they will destroy the sheep For killing them I have tried nothing better than tobacco juice.

How to Vanquish the Stomach's Tormentor

If the Enemy of mankind were permitted here to hold diabolical legislature for the invention of human disease, he could scarcely devise one more well adapted to his genius than dyspepsia. The dyspeptic sufferer is tormented by symptoms resembling those of almost every known malady, and is often carried into monomania by these confusing and perplexing manifestations. And while though should be the cessation of every physician's earnest endeavor to find out the heart disease, Dyspepsia has often been pronounced incurable, but experience has shown that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will vanquish it, together with the constipation and bilious derangement which usually accompany it. Diseases of the kidneys and supposed rheumatic pains are nine times out of ten mere concomitants of dyspepsia, but they too, readily yield to the above named invaluable corrective. sept 6 1-m

SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR

If you feel dull, drowsy, dispirited, have frequent headache, mouth tastes badly, poor appetite and tongue coated, you are suffering from torpid liver, or "biliousness," and nothing will cure you so speedily and permanently as

Dr Simmons' Liver Regulator,
OR MEDICINE.

ASK the recovered dyspeptics, Bilious sufferers, victims of Fever and Ague, the mercurial diseased patient, how they recovered health, cheerful spirits and good appetite—they will tell you by taking Simmons' Liver Regulator, The Cheapest, Purest and Best Family Medicine in the World!

MANUFACTURED ONLY BY
J. H. ZEILIN & CO.,
MACON, GA., and PHILADELPHIA.
Price $1.00. Sold by all Druggists.
May 31-26t eow

WESLEYAN FEMALE INSTITUTE.
STAUNTON, VA.

Will begin its twenty-seventh Annual session, September 21st, 1876. Rev W. A. Harris, D. D., President, with an able corps of faculty and Teachers and Officers.

Modern Languages taught and spoken in the College by a Native as Teacher. Music by able Professors and Teachers, among whom are some of the most cultivated teachers of vocal music in the South.

For terms of the best literary institute in the Union its marked effects in the rapid promotion of the health and vigor of our pupils. Those who come here from the south with feeble constitutions, and alarming diseases, often get speedily restored.

Built upon elegant ground by pure air breezes, commanding the most magnificent scenery, and combining such varied attractions as to rank it one of the most delightful college homes in the Union

This school is usually attended by pupils from all parts to which rail-road reaches.

Great economy and simplicity in dress are required. A simple uniform is worn. No unnecessary expenses allowed. Strict economy practiced to limit expenses of pupils.

From Bishop D. S. Doggett, D. D.

The Wesleyan Female Institute, located in Staunton, Va., under the Presidency of Rev. W. A. Harris, D. D., is, by full merit, one of the best institutions for young ladies in the South. I have occasion to know how appreciable is value by the advantages enjoyed by one of my daughters there. Its course of study is superior to any I have had, and its literary and social advantages are great. Its grand Time commends itself to all that can be desired in health and comfort, of course. No pupils could be more kindly and efficiently more magnificent; no atmosphere more salubrious. Not the least of its merits, in the sacred regard for religious duties, with which every female Lodge especially would be benefited. D. S. DOGGETT

From Bishop R. K. Rivers, D. D.

The Wesleyan Female Institute is an honor to the Church. Our efforts in behalf of its success have been crowned with the highest success. Its music advantages are of the very highest order. Its moral influences are unsurpassed, and neither pains nor expenses are spared to make this department excellent.

From Prof. F. H. Smith, M. A. L. L. D., University of Virginia.

The Wesleyan Female Institute, at Staunton, bids fair to be brilliant success. It enjoys. Having had a daughter under Mr. Harris' care, my observation leads me to believe this school is the one for the best Female Seminaries under control our State." The Halls of the Wesleyan Female Institute should be filled to overflowing with pupils from all our south ern States

FRANCIS H. SMITH.

TERMS FOR THE ENTIRE COLLEGIATE YEAR
Board and Tuition in the Collegiate courses, $243. For Catalogue, address,
REV. W. A. HARRIS, President.
Staunton, Va

JOHN J. FRAY'S
CLASSICAL AND MATHEMATICAL SCHOOL.

The 19th session of my school will begin on Sept. 5th 1876, 43d Monday. Terms same as heretofore. Bantling pupils will be met at Clayton on the N. C. R. R. by previous notice of at Raleigh.
For circulars containing terms, particulars &c
Address
JOHN J. FRAY,
Raleigh, N. C.
References:—The faculty of the University of Va, Rev. H. C. Hobbs, A. M. Hall, Rev. W. H. Bobbitt, Rev J. B. Babbitt, D. D. Rev. J. D. Moore.
aug. 24-3

LORD & TAYLOR
New York,
WILL OFFER
EXTRAORDINARY BARGAINS
IN ALL THEIR DEPARTMENTS.
COMMENCING MAY 1st.

RICH BLACK SILKS,
OF THE MOST CELEBRATED LYONS LOOMS.
AT $1.25, REDUCED FROM $1.60.
AT $1.50, REDUCED FROM $1.87½.
AT $1.75, REDUCED FROM $2.25.
AT $2.00, REDUCED FROM $2.50.

Plain Colored and Fancy Silks
AT 90c., REDUCED FROM $1.12½.
AT $1.00, REDUCED FROM $1.25.
AT $1.25, REDUCED FROM $1.50.
AT $1.50, REDUCED FROM $1.88.

ELEGANT NOVELTIES IN DRESS GOODS,
IN CAMEL'S HAIR, CHEVIOTS, AND DAMASSEES, REDUCED TO 75c., 87½c., 90c., and $1, FROM $1.25, $1.50, $1.75, AND $2.

Popular Dress Goods
In new and Fashionable Fabrics and Colors offered at 12c., Former Price 18c.
18c., Former Price 25c.
22c., Former Price 30c.
25c., Former Price 37c.
31½c., Former Price 50c. to 56c.

Real India Shawls
AT $85, $100, AND $125,
Formerly sold at $200, $225, and $250.

Black and Scarlet Stella Shawls
AT $65, $75 AND $80,
Former Prices $90, $100 and $85.

Llama, Ottoman and Shetland Shawls
AT $1.25, to $5,
REDUCED FROM $2, to $8.

Ladies' and Misses' Suits
THE LATEST PARIS STYLES,
FROM $10 UPWARDS.
Embracing the Choicest Novelties at Enormous Reductions.

LADIES' & CHILDREN'S UNDERWEAR
AN IMMENSE STOCK OF MOST BEAUTIFUL AND RELIABLE GOODS,
All at very Great Reductions.

Ladies', Children's and Gentlemen's
HOSIERY.
BEST ENGLISH, FRENCH, AND GERMAN GOODS,
All marked at Lowest Possible Prices.

Our Print, Domestic and Housekeeping Departments
ARE THOROUGHLY STOCKED WITH THE BEST GOODS,
At the Lowest Package Prices.
Exceptional American Prints at 5c., and 6c. per yard.
Yard wide 4-4 Bleached Goods at 10c.,
Lonsdale Shilrings at 12c., New York Mills, 12½c., and 15c., worth 15c. and 12½c.

TABLE AND OTHER LINENS
IN ALL THE VARIOUS GRADES, AT BARGAINS.

IN CARPETINGS
(WHICH WE KEEP AT THE GRAND CORNER STORE ONLY, WE ARE OFFERING
English and American Tapestries at $1.
Former Prices $1.25.
Body Brussels at $1.50. Former Price $1.80.
All Wool Ingrain at 75c., Former Price 90c.
Three Ply Ingrains at $1.25,
Former Price $1.50,
and other styles, to 50c.,
Former Prices 56c., to 87c.

Samples of Goods, and Catalogues of Ladies' and Misses' Suits and Muslin Underwear, and Infants' Outfits, sent free of charge to all sections of the United States

Rules for Self-Measurement sent on application to all parts of the country.
Orders for one dollar and upwards will be carefully attended to, and the goods packed and forwarded without charge.

BROADWAY AND TWENTIETH ST.
GRAND AND CHRYSTIE STS, N. Y.
May 31-26m

Solvency! Stability! Promptness!

THE NORTH CAROLINA HOME
Insurance Co.
OF RALEIGH,
CONTINUES TO WRITE POLICIES ON ALL CLASSES OF INSURABLE PROPERTY ON THE MOST REASONABLE TERMS.

Capital and Assets - - $190,000!

Its Stockholders are among the most prominent and responsible business men in the State.

During its existence it has paid out its insurers, for losses, over $100,000, and its accumulated earnings have been loaned to our own people.

AGENTS IN EVERY COUNTY
IN THE STATE.

R. H. BATTLE, Jr., President.
C. B. ROOT, Vice President.
SEATON GALES, Secretary.
P. COWPER, Supervisor of Agencies
apl 20th tf.

CRYSTAL METAL BRONZED BELLS
FOR CHURCHES,
SCHOOL HOUSES,
FACTORIES,
SHOPS,
PLANTATIONS.

These Bells are composed of the pure crystal metal, and the shape and weight of metal in them is such as to give the best possible results. They are

SUPERIOR IN TONE AND FINISH

to many others, no matter under what name they may be sold, either "STEEL COMPOSITION" or "AMALGAM," and are Guaranteed to Give Satisfaction.

The CHEAPEST BELL MADE.

Church Bells furnished at COST.

T. H. BRIGGS & SONS,
Briggs Building,
RALEIGH, N. C
DEALER IN
Hardware, Building Material, Wagon and Buggy Material, Paints, Oils, Glass, Sash, Doors and Blinds.
Write for Prices. No charge for Packing or Drayage. apr 19-1f.

TYSON & JONES

Carriage Builders,
CARRIAGE, N. C
Having recently increased our facilities for Manufacturing we are prepared to furnish Vehicles of the BEST QUALITY on short notice and at comparatively low prices. Vehicles shipped at Sanford, Raleigh and Chatham R. R. via Raleigh to any part of the State
We feel confident that, with the close attention we give the business, together with the materials used, the skilled workmen employed, and the many conveniences we have in manufacturing FIRST CLASS WORK C. to house in the country can excel us in STYLE, FINISH, DURABILITY AND Low Prices.
We manufacture and keep constantly on hand Carriages of the Best Quality.
Repairing neatly done at Short Notice
Send for Circular.
July 21 1-y

Established 1816.
CHAS. SIMON & SONS,
No. 63 N. HOWARD STREET, BALTIMORE
DEALERS IN
FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC
DRY GOODS,
would call special attention to their extensive stock of
DRESS GOODS,
LINEN GOODS,
EMBROIDERIES
LACES AND HOSIERY
The best assortment of Mourning Goods
in the city.
SAMPLES SENT FREE!
All orders amounting to $30 or over, will be sent free of freight charges, by Express, but parties whose orders are not accompanied by the money, and having their Goods sent C. O. D., must pay for return of the money. mch 1-12m

L. BRANSON,
BOOKSELLER
—AND—
STATIONER.
RALEIGH, N. C.
School Books a Specialty
Everything in my line cheap for cash.
Rock 2-tf.

THE WATT PLOW

JAMES M. FOWLES Sole Agent, Raleigh, keeps constantly on hand a full supply of these plows and castings.
May 19-3m.

$42 A WEEK. Agents wanted everywhere. Address per cent and first class. For further Particulars, address
J. KENNEDY & CO., Richmond, Ind.

SCHEDULES.

PIEDMONT AIR-LINE RAILWAY.

RICHMOND & DANVILLE, RICHMOND & DANVILLE R. W., N. C. DIVISION, and NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. W.

CONDENSED TIME-TABLE.
IN EFFECT ON AND AFTER SUNDAY, JULY 16TH, 1876.

GOING NORTH.

STATIONS.	MAIL.	EXPRESS.
Leave Charlotte.....	5.55 A M	2.15 A M
" Air-Line J'n'ct'n	6.14 "	2.40 "
" Salisbury.....	8.33 "	4.49 "
" Greensboro'....	10.58 "	6.17 "
" Danville.....	1.36 P M	8.24 "
" Barnes.....	1.49 "	9.01 "
" Burkeville.....	6.49 "	12.45 P M
Arrive at Richmond..	9.36 P M	3.19 P "

GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS.	MAIL.	EXPRESS.
Leave Richmond.....	5.51 A M	1.10 P M
" Burkeville.....	9.03 "	3.54 "
" Dundee.....	1.39 P M	8.5 "
" Danville.....	1.43 "	8.10 "
" Greensboro'....	4.31 "	11.25 "
" Salisbury.....	7.01 "	12.52 A M
" Air-Line J'n'ct'n	9.05 "	2.29 "
Arrive at Charlotte..	9.18 "	2.42 A M

GOING EAST. GOING WEST

STATIONS.	Mail	Mail.
Leave Greensboro'..	10.55 A. M.	Arrive 4.10 P. M
" Co. Shops....	12.08 P. M	Leave 3.05 "
Arrive at Raleigh ..	3.45 P. M.	Arrive 11.20 "
Arrive at Goldsboro'	5.20 P. M	Leave 8.55 A M

STATIONS.	Accommodation Train.
Leave Greensboro'...	6.31 A. M.	Arr. 5.54 A. M.
" Co. Shops....	7.15 "	Leave 6.05 "
Arr at Raleigh....	10.30 "	Arr 9.45 P. M.
Arr at Goldsboro'..	11.30 "	Lv 2.15 P. M.

NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. R.
SALEM BRANCH.

Leave Greensboro'.....	4.45 P. M.
arrive at Salem.....	6.45 "
Leave Salem.....	8.15 A. M.
Arrive at Greensboro	10.15 "

Passenger trains leaving Raleigh at 11.29 A. M. connects at Greensboro' with the Southern mail train, making the quickest time to all Southern cities. Accommodation train leaving Raleigh at 6.46 A. M. connects with Northern mail train at Greensboro for Richmond and all points East. Price of tickets same as via Co. routes.
Accommodation train leaving Greensboro at 6.31 A. M. connects at Goldsboro with Southern mail train going South. Passengers for Wilmington and Morehead City take this train.
Mail train leaving Greensboro at 10.55 A. M. arrives at Burkeville 1.47 P. M., leaves Burkeville at 3. P. M., arrive at Richmond 8.36 P. M.

No Change of Cars between Charlotte and Richmond, 282 Miles.

Papers can have arrangements to advertise the schedules in this company with pleasure and at above.
For further information address
JOHN R. MACMURDO,
Gen'l Passenger Agent,
Richmond, Va.

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE.
RALEIGH & GASTON RAILROAD CO.

On and after Friday, May 22nd, 1874, trains on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad, will run daily (Sunday excepted) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Leave Kinl h,	9.45 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon,	3.30 P. M.
Leaves Weldon,	9.50 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh,	3.15 P. M.

ACCOMMODATION TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh,	5.45 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon,	5.15 P. M.
Leaves Weldon,	2.2. A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh.	2.45 P. M.

Mail train makes close connection at Weldon, with the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad and Bay Line Steamers via Richmond, to and from all points North, West and South-west, and with Petersburg Railroad via Petersburg, Richmond and Washington City, to and from all points South and Northwest.
At Raleigh with the North Carolina Railroad to and from all points South and South-west and with the Raleigh & Augusta Air Line to Hayw ood and Fayetteville.

RALEIGH & AUGUSTA AIR-LINE RAILROAD.
SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,
Raleigh, N. C. Oct. 27th, 1873.

On and after Monday, October 27th, 1873, trains on the R. & A. A. L. Road will run daily, (sundays excepted,) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Train leaves Raleigh,	4.00 P. M.
Arrives at Sanford,	6.25 "
Train leaves Sanford,	6.30 A. M
Arrives at Raleigh,	9.20 "

FREIGHT TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh,	5.15 A. M.
Arrives at Sanford	10.30 A. M.
Leaves Sanford,	11.00 A. M
Arrives at Raleigh	3.50 P. M.

Mail Train makes close connection at Raleigh with the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, to and from all points North
And at Sanford with the Western Railroad, to and from Fayetteville and points on Western Railroad.

OFFICE SUPT OF TRANSPORTATION,
Seaboard & Roanoke R. R. Co.,
Portsmouth, Va., Jan 1st, 1875.

On and after this date, trains of this Road will leave Weldon daily, Sundays excepted, as follows:

Mail train at	4 P. M
No. 1 Freight train at	4 A. M
No. 2 Freight train at	8 A. M.

ARRIVE AT PORTSMOUTH.

Mail train at	7 15 P. M
No 1 Freight at	12 00 NOON
No 2 Freight at	4 00 P. M

Freight trains have a passenger car attached.
Steamer for Edenton, Plymouth and Landings on Blackwater and Chowan Rivers leave Franklin at 7.40 A. M. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

S. G. GHIO,
Supt. Transportation.

OLD NORTH STATE
FIRE
Insurance Company,
OF
WARRENTON, - - - - - N. C.,

This Company has closed its third year in a condition of GREAT PROSPERITY, and entered upon its fourth year under the MOST PROMISING AUSPICES.
It deserves the liberal patronage which it is receiving because
It is a home institution.
It has ample Capital and Reserves.
It pays its losses promptly.

ASSETS.

Cash on hand and in Bank,	$ 8,421 53
Cash in hands of Agents,	4,984 00
Stock Notes,	45,670 00
Real Estate Mortgage,	59,900 80
Loaned on Collateral's,	7,647 65
Due for premiums,	3,720 63
Interest due and accrued,	914 58
	$130,257 19

LIABILITIES:

All liabilities including full re-insurance Reserved,	$18,481 81
Surplus,	111,816 38
	$130,297 19

WM. S. DAVIS, President.
E. F. LONG, Secretary.

COTTAGE and STATIONARY STEAM ENGINES, STEAM BOILERS, SAW, FLOUR AND GRIST MILLS. MILL GEARING MADE Without Patterns. SHAFTING, PULLEYS AND HANGERS
SPECIALTY. The UNEQUALLED TAYLOR DOUBLE TURBINE WATER WHEEL. 7000 in use. ADDRESS, POOLE & HUNT, BALTIMORE, MD
apl 19 1y.

AGENTS FIND THAT THE FULL HISTORY OF THE Wonderful MOODY & SANKEY in Great Britain and America is a success everywhere. All want it—rich or poor. From 5 to 6 weeks a day's work. It is the only complete work published, containing Mr. Moody's Sermons and Prayer Meeting Talks, Sankey's Addresses, and everything of interest. Has 641 pages, steel portrait, and 12 engravings. Price $2. Address H. S. GOODSPEED & CO., 14 Barclay Street, New York.

OAKSHADE BERKSHIRES!
First-Class pure Bloded Pigs, of the best families ever imported to the United States, entitled to entry in the Berkshire Record constantly for sale. Prices at 2½ months old, delivered to Express, $10 each.
Also half breed Cotswold Lambs at $10 each.
1 Pure Alderney Bull at $25. T. W. Harris,
Oakshade Farm, Pittsboro, N. C.
June 7-1y.

A NEW BOOK.

"Our Children."

This is the title of a new book now in press by Rev. Atticus G. Haygood, D. D., President of Emory College, with an introduction by Dr. Lovick Pierce. The book is to contain nearly 400 pages 12 mo. and to be gotten out in the very best style. Price $1.50 per copy We give the table of contents which can but sharpen the appetite of the reader for the coming volume. It is emphatically a book for parents, preachers and children.

TABLE OF CONTENTS.
Part I—The Family.
Chapter. I. Childhood.
II. Childhood and Religion.
III. Prevention of Sin an Invaluable Blessing.
IV. The Enlightening and Quickening Spirit.
V. On More Ability to Talk Religion.
VI. "Feed My Lambs."
VII. The Family—Its Basis in Marriage.
VIII. The Family—The Basis of Church and State.
IX. The Family—A School of Religion.
X. The Duty of Teaching God's Word to our Children.
XI. Training as well as Teaching.
XII. What Human Parenthood Should Signify.
XIII. Home Influences.
XIV. The Christian Home.
XV. The Family Altar.
XVI. Life and His Sons.
XVII. Ichabod.
Part II—The Sunday School.
Chapter. I. The Magnitude of the Movement.
II. The Sunday School Auxiliary.
III. The Function of the Study School.
IV. Who should be in the Sunday School.
V. Handle Plans.
VI. The Power of the Right Spirit.
VII. A Night in a Dark Place.
VIII. Stories as a Means of Grace.
IX. Burning Bikes
X. Tests on Sunday School Work

Price, $1.50 per copy, postage paid, to any address. The work will be ready in about three weeks. We are ready now to take orders.
To Preachers, Twenty-Five Per Cent Discount. Send by P. O. Money Order or Draft or by express. We have taken the agency for the book in Raeigh, and we would be pleased to hear from the preachers of the Conference, Sunday schools and all others who may wish a fresh and charming book
Send in your orders at once, and the book will be promptly forwarded
Address,
CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE,
Raleigh, N. C.

RECEIVED TO-DAY,
Saturday May 27,
10,000 yards more of those beautiful PACIFIC LAWNS at 10 cents per yard. The handsomest we have ever had.
We call the ladies' attention to our DRESS GOODS, which we are selling lower than any house in the city. Our 1 LACE GRENADINES at 50 cents can't be undersold.
A beautiful line of figured ALL LINEN LAWNS.
Ready made Linen Dresses for ladies,
The largest Stock of Hosiery in the State. Ladies' Hose from 10 cents to 75 cents.
Gents Half Hose 10 to 60 cents a pair.
Bedding Brest. Superior Sewing Silk in all the colors. The dress makers pronounce it to be the best in the market.
Largest stock of Corsets in the city from 50 cents to $2.50.
A full line of Gentlemen's Cassimeres and Underwear.
We have also just received a new supply of our Custom-Made Shirts—ready made, superior to any in the city, at $1.25.
Hamburg Edgings, Ladies' Neck Ties, Gents' Ties —a beautiful line.
More of those handsome Parasols, which we are selling at a small price.

TO MERCHANTS
We will be glad at any time to show them through our stock, for we can save them some money if they will give us a call.
PETTY & JONES,
20 Fayetteville Street,
Raleigh, N. C.
June 7-tf.

ESTABLISHED 1853.
NEARLY A QUARTER OF A CENTURY'S EXPERIENCE IN THE Boot & Shoe Business.

MARCUS HARRIS & BRO.,
OF NO. 1321 MAIN STREET,
Richmond, Va.,
WHOLESALE DEALERS IN
Boots and Shoes, have opened at the Store,
No. 15 Fayetteville Street
One door above Alfred Williams' Book Store, Raleigh, N. C., a wholesale and retail Shoe Store, where will be found a complete assortment of Ladies', Misses, and children's Shoes of every description; a good line of Gentlemen's and Boys' Boots and Shoes; also a very cheap line of Trunks and Satchels.
We are prepared to sell cheaper than any other house in Raleigh, as we buy in very large quantities from the first hands at extremely low prices.
Ladies are especially invited to call and examine our stock.
We wish to call the attention of the trade to our stock, as we can supply them as low as they can be bought further North.
All orders promptly attended to. Persons at a distance can rely on us, and have the privilege of returning the same, if they do not fit or suit.
Goods sent by Express C. O. D.
We have only one price, and that the very lowest. Our terms are Strictly CASH.
Mr. C. Hatchett is room by with A. Creech), is at his post, and will be pleased to see his friends and acquaintances.

MARCUS HARRIS & BRO.,
No. 15 Fayetteville Street,
Raleigh, N. C.
R. WINFREE, Salesman.
June 21-3m.

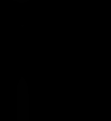
NEW FIRM
TO FRIENDS AND PUBLIC GENERALLY

I have associated with me Mr. G. D. Rand (formerly Rand & Barbee, Lumber Dealers,) as a partner in the wholesale and retail Grocery and General Commission business. I respectfully tender my thanks for past favors and hope to have them continued with the new firm. Yours truly,
January 6, 1876. L. R. WYATT.
G. D. RAND. L. R. WYATT.

RAND & WYATT,
Wholesale and Retail Grocers
AND
COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
Have on hand and constantly receiving a fresh and first class stock of
GROCERIES
consisting of Flour, a specialty, Meal, Corn, Bacon Lard, Sugar, Coffee, Pepper and Spice, Molasses (new crop Cane), Syrup, Toilet and Laundry, Soaps, Wood and Willow ware, Fancy Groceries, &c.
Everything embraced in a First Class Grocery which we propose to sell at Lowest figures —Give us a trial. Orders with proper reference respectfully solicited, which shall receive our prompt attention. Consignment of Cotton and other produce solicited. Best prices guaranteed
Yours truly,
RAND & WYATT,
Opp. East end of Market, Raleigh, N. C.
July 12 1 y

ROCK SPRING SEMINARY.
MALE AND FEMALE.
The next Term begins 1st Wednesday in August; and continues 20 weeks. Board $8 per month. Tuition $5 to $20 per term. Music $18. For circulars apply to
D. MATT THOMPSON, Principal,
Denver, Lincoln Co., N. C.
July 12 6w.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.



Established in 1837.
Superior bells of Copper and Tin, mounted with the best Rotary Hangings, for Churches, Schools, Farms, Factories, Court Houses, Fire Alarms, Tower Clocks, Chimes, etc. Fully Warranted.
Illustrated Catalogue sent Free.
VANDUZEN & TIFT,
102 and 104 East Second St., Cincinnati
may 17 1 y.

SEND 25c. to G. P. ROWELL & CO., New York for Pamphlet of 100 pages, containing lists of 3000 newspapers, and estimates showing cost of advertising. mch

NEVER BEFORE EQUALLED.

The Largest Stock
ON RECORD!!!

C. WEIKEL HAS RETURNED!

HE IS STILL AT THE OLD STAND WITH A LARGE ASSORTMENT OF SPRING GOODS
THAN EVER.
U. S. CENTENNIAL GOODS.
FOURTH JULY CENTENNIAL GOODS.
1776. Latest Styles. 1876.

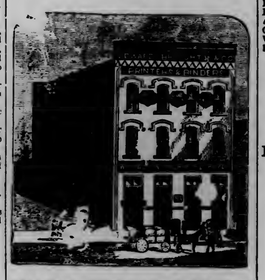
Look at my latest Fashion Plates and Choose your style.
CLOTHS,
CASSIMERES,
SUITINGS.
In fact anything you want. Come and see me, I know I can suit you.

WEIKEL'S ESTABLISHMENT
is at the old place, one door South of the Southern Express Office.
I GUARANTEE ALL MY FITS.
C. WEIKEL.
May 3-3m.

MUSIC AND MUSIC BOOKS!
The Salutation.
New Church Music Book by L. O. Emerson. $1.38, or $12. per dozen.
The Encore
[Nearly ready]. For Singing Schools. By L. O. Emerson. 75 cts., or $7 50 per dozen.
Centennial Collection of National Songs
Patriotic Songs of all nations. Paper 40 cts. Boards 50 cts.
Shining River.
Song Book for Sabbath Schools By W. O. Perkins. 35 cts.
Centennial Hymn.
Whittier—Paine. 30c. 8 vo. form for Societies, 10 cts; Arr. for Orchestra, $1.00.
Gov. Hayes' Grand March. With Portrait. 40c.
Tilden & Hendricks' Old Arch. With Port. 40c.
"Roll Along, Roll Along." Campaign Sg. 40c.
"Hayes and Wheeler are our Choice." 30c.
IN PRESS.
Emerson's Chorus Book, for Societies
Whippoorwill. Song Book for Schools.
Male Voice Glee Book.
Any Book or Piece sent, post-paid, for retail price.
OLIVER DITSON & CO.,
C. H. Ditson & Co., 711 Broadway, New York
J. E. Ditson & Co., Successors to Lee & Walker, Phila.

STIEFF
GRAND, SQUARE, AND UPRIGHT
PIANOS
Have received upwards of FIFTY FIRST PREMIUMS and are among the best now made. Every instrument fully warranted for five years. Prices as low as the exclusive use of the very best materials and the most thorough workmanship will permit. The principal artists and composers, and the piano-purchasing public of the south especially, unite in the unanimous verdict of the superiority of the STIEFF PIANO. The DURABILITY of our instruments is fully established by over sixty school and colleges in the South, using over 300 of our Pianos.
Sole Wholesale Agents for several of the principal manufacturers of Cabinet and Parlor Organs; prices from $50 to $999. A liberal discount to Clergymen and Sabbath schools.
A large assortment of second-hand Pianos at prices ranging from $50 to $300, always on hand.
Send for Illustrated Catalogue, containing names of over 600 Southerners, who have bought and are using the Stieff Piano.
CHARLES M. STIEFF,
Warerooms, No. 9 North Liberty street,
Baltimore, Md.
Factories, 84 & 86 Camden st. and 45 & 47 Perry st
Dec 16-12m

1876. The 1876.



PRINTING HOUSE and BOOK BINDERY
OF THE STATE.
THE BEST. THE LARGEST. THE MOST COMPLETE.
EDWARDS, BROUGHTON & CO.
PRACTICAL
Printers and Binders,
Fayetteville Street.
OPPOSITE MARKET SQUARE,
jan 19-12m. RALEIGH, N. C.

ISSUE MISSING

Raleigh Christian Advocate.

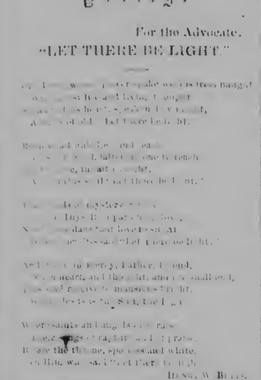
Bobbitt & Gray, Publishers. | Published in the Interests of Methodism in North Carolina | $2.20 Per Annum, in Advance.

Vol. XXII.---No. 37. | Raleigh, N. C., Wednesday, September 20, 1876. | Whole No. 1,125.

Poetry.

For the Advocate.

"LET THERE BE LIGHT"



Communicated.

For the Advocate.

I Located"

Messrs Editors: Please publish this clipping from an old book as a warning to those called and commissioned of God to preach His gospel but who are turning their steps from the path of duty which is the only one of safety:

"It was towards the middle of an autumnal afternoon in 18—, that while wending my way on horseback to a distant appointment on a new circuit, I arrived at a small log cabin on the road side, which from its external indications, seemed to be the abode of a family in very humble circumstances. I was not sure of the route, and stopped for a moment to obtain information. On hallooing from the fence which surrounded the yard, a female came to the door, her countenance bearing deep traces of sorrow, and the tears still standing on her pallid cheeks. Having received the necessary directions as to my road, I was about to pursue my journey, when she advanced rapidly towards me, and with eagerness inquired if I was not a Methodist preacher. On being told that I was, a ray of sunshine seemed to play upon her features, and she begged that I would come into the house and see her husband, who was dying, and was very anxious to converse with a minister. Although I had an appointment to fill, twenty miles off, on the next morning at 11 o'clock, and was expected at brother D.'s that evening, distant some ten miles, yet I felt that I could not deny this woman's request, and having dismounted and fastened my horse to an impending limb of a tree which stood near by, I entered the house. Here, on a pallet of straw, placed upon a rude couch in one corner of the room, lay the wasted form of a once large and athletic man, whose sharp features gave unmistakable indications of the near approach of death. Everything around me bespoke poverty, and yet there was something in all I saw that impressed me with the belief that this family had seen better days. On our entrance, the dying man cast an inquiring glance, first at his wife and then at me, but being told that I was a Methodist preacher, who had called to see him, he seemed pleased, and slowly extending his hand, pressed mine in his for a moment while the big tear stood in his eyes, and his frame heaved with emotion. Taking a seat by his bed side, I said to him: "If I can do anything for you let me know it, and it will afford me pleasure to oblige you." Looking up in my face with a smile of gratitude, he beckoned his wife to come to him, and having said something to her in a whisper—she brought to him from a trunk which stood on the opposite side of the room, a paper neatly folded, and directed on the outside in a fair, legible hand: "For the Nashville Advocate." Handing this to me, he said: "Take this, and after I am dead, have it published." I pressed his cold hand, already stiffening in death, and assuring him that I would do as he requested asked him if he was ready to die. He whispered faintly, "I hope so, my trust is in God." But although I looked anxiously upon his countenance to see if I could read there an answer to my question, I sought in vain for the beamings of that victor faith which enables the dying christian to exclaim, in the hour of mortal strife: "O death! where is thy sting? O grave! where is thy victory? The sting of death is sin, and the strength of sin is the law; but thanks be unto God, who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ!" While engaged in singing and praying with him, he fell into a stupor, which continued until midnight, when he breathed his last easily, to be sure, but without giving a sign, or speaking a word which could give comfort or consolation to his heart-stricken wife. Some of the neighbors spent the night with us, and leaving them to attend to the burial of the body, I mounted my horse at a very early hour, and pushed forward to my appointment, having carefully secured in my saddle bags, the manuscripts which had been intrusted to me. Of this I made the following copy, retaining the original as a memorial of the sad occasion

"My sad melancholy recital serve as a solemn warning to those who, having put in their sickle to reap the harvest of souls, lay it down unbidden of the Master.'

"I was born in Virginia in 1796, and with my parents, emigrated to ——, in my tenth year. They were of highly respectable connections at home, and on their removal to the West brought with them several slaves, and a considerable sum of money. They settled on a valuable farm in a healthy region of the country, and did well. They were both members of the Methodist Church, and were exemplary for their piety and for their hospitality to the preachers. From my earliest infancy they sought to train me, their only child, in the nurture and admonition of the Lord, and in my thirteenth year had the satisfaction of witnessing my sound conversion to God. From this time until my nineteenth year I lived at home, diligently using the means of grace, and enjoying religion, being in the mean time greatly exercised on the subject of preaching. I early unbosomed myself to my parents in regard to my conviction of duty, and received from both of them most excellent advice, as well as from the preachers who from time to time visited us. My father gave me the full benefit of such means of education as were within reach without sending me away from home: and I could discover in everything he did in reference to myself the proofs of an earnest desire on his part to follow the leadings of Divine Providence At length in my nineteenth year, I determined to enter the itinerant ministry: and having received the blessing of my beloved parents, and their parting counsels, I left home on the 15th of September, 18—, to offer myself to the Conference, then about to sit in a neighboring town. My father furnished me with a valuable riding-horse, saddle, bridle, and saddle bags, a new suit of clothes, and fifty dollars in money: telling me to go in the name of the Lord, and acquit myself like a man; adding that if ever I needed a home, his door was open to me. I went with a trembling heart, but with a firm resolve to do my duty. I was kindly received by the preachers, and sent to the circuit. Here I first learned what hardship meant: but I enjoyed religion, attended to my appointment, where, under my feeble instrumentality, the work of God was powerfully revived, and some two or three hundred souls were added to the Church. Again I went to Conference, again received a new field of labor, and was again blessed of the Lord; and had thus spent three years in the itinerant work. Up to this time I had been single hearted, deeply pious and devoted to one work. I lived much upon my knees, read my Bible much, and felt that all my sufficiency was of God. But shortly after the commencement of my fourth year my parents died, and as I was their only child, the whole of their property fell into my hands. My attention now became divided between my property and the work of the ministry. Pressed with the cares of business, I neglected my private devotions, then my appointments; backslid in heart, lost my relish for the work to which God had been pleased to call me; and, restless and unhappy, sought by marriage to remedy the evil, and, as it were, to make myself independent of Deity. But alas! how sadly was I mistaken; how fearfully have I reaped the harvest of my own guilt and folly! Becoming acquainted with Mary L.—, and believing that she had all the qualities of mind and heart that were requisite to make her a good wife, I addressed her, and married her in August, 18—. In a few weeks I went to Conference once more, and without letting her know any thing of my intentions, located. Yes, I located—located unbidden by the Lord of the harvest!—and every step since that act has been taken down-hill, with an ever accelerating velocity, and has but plunged me and my unfortunate, unoffending Mary, deeper and deeper in misery. When I came back and told her what I had done, she burst into tears and begged me to go back to the Lord's work. Noble woman! Would to God that I had taken her advice! But no; I was well off as respects this world's goods; I would be rich; I would go into business; I was tired of roving about, I flattered myself I could be a local preacher, and do as much or more good, than if I had continued in the itinerancy, a man of one work. I did go into business, with a handsome capital, and in three years lost it all—I could not tell how. My Mary still entreated me to re-join the Conference, my brethren urged me to do so. Still I was rebellious against the Almighty; still I dreamed of prosperity, though conscious that I was a traitor to high Heaven. An uncle of my wife died, leaving her three thousand dollars With this I again went into business, and in a few months this sum all vanished like smoke. Mary had meanwhile become the mother of two interesting babes. These both died. Almost broken hearted, she implored me to do what was so manifestly my duty; but no, I was infatuated, and still persisted in my ruinous course. At length, I succeeded in purchasing the small farm on which I now live and where I expect soon to die. My health has been steadily declining for months. My religious comforts are all gone, my soul is darkened, my usefulness departed I am a wreck floating on the sea of time, soon to be dashed upon the brakers of eternity, and this because I located. Oh! how significant to me of fearful meaning is that word It seems to me burned into my memory. Go where I will, do what I may, there it is staring me in the face—I located. It appears as though it were written on every log of my humble cabin, upon every tree without, upon the earth, and upon the skies above me. I read it in the pallid checks of my noble, uncomplaining Mary, in the tears that steal down from her eyes and which she strives so hard to conceal from me. I feel it in the fever which burns up my life; in the sinking of my strength; in the consciousness that I must soon die: in the absence of that strong faith, which can alone prepare me to grapple with death; in the leanness and barrenness of my soul! Sometimes in my dreams my dear father and my sainted mother seem to stand before me, and ask—'Why did you locate?' Oh! what shall I say when I stand before my Judge, and he puts to me the dreadful question—'Why did you locate?' No tongue can tell, no pen describe, what I have suffered on account of this one act of my life I have fully proved the woe of striving with my Master, so far, at least, as the bitterness and anguish of that woe can be experienced in this world. I have tried to repent before God; I have sought refuge in the arms of bleeding mercy; I have prayed for one ray of heavenly light to guide me through the gloomy valley of death, but all is dark, dark, dark: I can only trust in the mercy of my offended Sovereign through Christ, and with fear and trembling await the issue. A sincere desire that others may not come into like condemnation—that others may not sow as I have sowed, and reap as I have reaped—has alone induced me to write this brief history of my sin, and its dreadful consequences to myself and to others. May it have this effect on all who read it! To one, to all I say, as a dying man speaking from bitter experience which has beggared me, has broken the heart of my Mary, and is taking both of us rapidly and yet prematurely to the grave, never locate unbidden by the Master!"

WILL.

Wilmington, N. C. Sep. 1st, 1876.

How to Cure a bad Memory.

Your memory is bad, perhaps; but I can tell you two secrets that will cure the worst memory. One I mentioned above: to read a subject when strongly interested. The other is, to not only read, but think. When you have read a paragraph or a page, stop, close the book, and try to remember the ideas on that page, and not only recall them vaguely in your mind, but put them into words and speak them out. Faithfully follow these two rules, and you have the golden keys of knowledge. Besides inattentive reading, there are other things injurious to memory. One is the habit of skimming over newspapers, items of news, smart remarks, bits of information, political reflections, fashion notes, all in a confused jumble, never to be thought of again, thus diligently cultivating a habit of careless reading, hard to break. Another is the reading of trashy novels. Nothing is so fatal to reading with profit as the habit of running through story after story, and forgetting them as soon as read. I know a gray-haired woman, a life-long lover of books, who sadly declares that her mind has been ruined by such reading.

A help to memory is repetition. Nothing is so certain to keep your French fresh, and ready for use, as to have always on hand an interesting story in that language, to take up for ten minutes every day. In that case, you will not "forget your French" with the majority of your schoolmates. —Olive Thorne, St. Nicholas for September.

Many a path which begins in suffering and weeping terminates in thanksgiving and praises. The Lord grant us many such experiences, and if our way has already been darkened by sorrows, may its end be brightened with praises and everlasting life!

For the Advocate

Bros. Carraway and Frazier, and Dr. Haygood's Book.

Mess. Editors: I place these names above to secure the reader's attention to the few lines below Bro Carraway is so kind hearted that my purpose to do good will prompt him to pardon the liberty I take with his name.

For some time I have had my fears awakened with regard to what I thought I perceived, and what may turn out to be, evils connected with the practical working of the great and glorious Sabbath school idea.—I have shunk from parading my views in print upon this subject; but I have recently read Dr. Haygood's book—"Our Children"—(and every body ought to read it—send to Rev. V. A. Sharpe at Thomasville and get it)—and I am so pleased that he sees, and discusses better than I could, these very points of difficulty, that I am emboldened to write a short article.

Some of my best friends, Bro. Carraway included, have misunderstood some remarks of mine at recent District Conferences upon this subject. The fault was mine. I ought to have been clearer in statement. I was misunderstood because I briefly advanced so the remedy for the disease of which Dr. Haygood gives, very wisely, only the diagnosis—or, of which, if he touches the remedy at all, it is more generic than specific.

Now as to these evils, the notice of which in my remarks drew the fire upon me of some of my good brethren, Bro Carraway included, I will have, if you please, Bro. E. G. Frazier in the Texas Christian Advocate to speak In noticing Dr. Haygood's book, Bro. Frazier remarks:

"I am pleased that the Doctor emphasizes the fact that the true conception of the Sabbath school is auxiliary to other means of grace. It is intended to supplement, not to supersede, parental and pastoral instruction and the preaching of the gospel. And yet I fear parents and pastors have in a large measure transferred the children to the Sabbath school for moral instruction. The former catechumen is lost in the modern Sunday school pupil. And I am of opinion that there is something in the conduct of some of our schools which renders the preached word and more serious rites of the church distasteful to many of the pupils and teachers. Perhaps I am wrong in this statement. After all, the fault may be in the pupil. Be this as it may, the fact that but few children attend church is patent to all observing men, and I have known teachers who rarely attended. In many places the church and school are well nigh segregated. It behooves us to ascertain where the cause is and remove it. The Sunday school, in its true conception, is a great movement, and is well adapted to assist in bringing the young to Christ. When, however, it ceases to be auxiliary, the glory departs, and it becomes a very great evil."

Now, it appears that this good brother in Texas, as well as Dr. Haygood, finds the very same evils existing, the mention of which at one or two District Conferences, drew down upon me the late—not to say laughable—charge that I was opposed to Sabbath schools! Is it possible that a human institution, because erected to assist the church, must therefore be regarded as necessarily free from defects, and be allowed to drive on in "fuss and feathers" regardless of its divergence from the path of gospel teaching? Because the Sabbath-school idea is a good one, must it therefore be allowed to supersede the preaching of the gospel and parental training? I say, no! and repeat with emphasis what Bro. Frazier says above. The Sabbath school must be kept in its place as only auxiliary to parental training. Parental training, in this direction, is to be in the "nurture" of the Lord; that is, fed with spiritual food—taught to pray, repent, trust and love Jesus, and to experience conscious conversion; and all this as "admonition," or counsel of the Lord. The work of the Sabbath school is to help this on. And when it sets itself up as a separate, self-supporting piece of machinery, substituting parental training and ignoring the public preaching of the gospel, it becomes a positive evil.

In another article I propose to discuss the remedy for these evils.

E. A. YATES.

Chinese Organ-ago.

In the recent Supplement we called attention to our desire to get from Sunday schools and individuals one thousand dollars to aid in the erection of a new building for our female school and orphanage at Shanghai, China. We want to send the money by Christmas. We have this week one response—Woodbine Church, Nashville District, Tennessee Conference, $10. Who next?

D. C. K.

China Letters---Interesting.

We are in receipt of highly interesting letters from both Brothers Lambuth and Allen. The health of the former is very precarious and Notwithstanding the offer of the Board to release him for a time from labor, and pay his expenses to this country, he has determined to continue at his post until the arrival of Bishop Marvin.—The letters give us valuable and hopeful information from Brother Allen's work In regard to the magazine he has been publishing we have cheering news. We extract from the letters, which are private, as follows:

In a few weeks more the magazine will enter upon its sixth year; and truly I may say, from an insignificant beginning, small constituency, and a doubtful future, it has grown until now it is recognized as a most powerful influence in the land, and has many friends and well wishers. The success of the paper has, however, its own drawbacks—e.g., there is a tendency to multiply them, and thus, while adding very little to the force of those already in existence, to restrict the circulation, etc. However, while this is the tendency, but little has been done in downright competition to the Wan Kwoh Kung Pao, which was never so popular as now. Perhaps I have mentioned to you before that the Foreign Office in Peking has highly commended it, as have also many other of the highest officials in China, both foreign and native.—The Court and Cabinet of Japan have long been subscribers to it—and mirabile dictu, I learned recently, by letter from Peking, that it was in demand by the inmates of the imperial Palace, and each number eagerly looked for by them These facts are significant enough to show that a new era is fast dawning upon China, and that it is the part of wisdom, though it be somewhat ambitious, to strive to guide the nascent public opinion which is now setting in favor of change and progress. In my opinion, no more important work than this could possibly be undertaken, and that I am not alone in this view is fully proved by the greater interest now constantly manifested in it. So great, indeed, is felt to be the necessity of the hour in this regard that the London Tract Society have been prevailed upon to appropriate £150 toward establishing a monthly, the first number of which has just been issued I am, as you will see, the editor, while Dr. Joseph Eakins, of Peking, and the Rev. W. Muirhead, of Shanghai, both of the London Mission, are the chief contributors. We work together, having a joint interest in the labor bestowed, etc, while the Tract Society has expressed a willingness to augment its contribution should it be necessary to give it greater facilities. You see, then, that while it has become a necessity that I should appeal to the Board in behalf of the Wan Kwoh Kung Pao, it is a work that they can afford to sustain, and that should they withdraw their support, there are others who would gladly take up what I should, without some assistance, have to let come to an inglorious end.

I am just about putting to press an original work on China and her Neighbors, which has for its object the promotion of peace and the encouragement of progress, by setting forth the true origin and objects of foreigners coming to China, and the right spirit and manner in which the demands of the situation should be met by the Imperial Government. It will be a work of some 150 pages, illustrated with maps, etc., and I propose to issue at once some 5,000 copies, to meet the large demand expected during the approaching Triennial Examinations I propose to call it A Book for the Times, and already one foreign gentleman, who has seen the text, has engaged to take about 1,500 copies. Their Excellencies, the U. S. minister and the British minister have afforded me all the necessary information by allowing me to consult or use certain documents in their possession, and I feel sure that the work will do great good as circulated among the people at large. My duties in the Anglo Chinese College here—teaching and translating—take up nearly all my daylight, so that I have to utilize a good deal of you, but as my health still continues good, I do not mind plenty of work. On the Sabbath I generally preach twice at 10½ A. M., and at 8 P. M., resting during the afternoon.

Brother Lambuth's health is feeble, and he should have the change the Board was so generous as to authorize. Mrs. L. has just lost her sister, who was living with her. I have long felt that our Mission in Shanghai is in a most precarious condition. We absolutely need, and must have, another man sent out for this station, or be seriously crippled soon. We want a thoroughly educated man—a man of force and character, one who can hold his own in society and in the work—It is a great mistake to suppose that any kind of good, pious, innocent individual, will [illegible] Such men would only serve to frustrate and destroy work. We want a man with a will, a purpose, and a judgment—one that can see through Chinamen and maintain the dignity and integrity of the Christian Church by keeping out pauper and impostors. But enough Give us the best man, and send only to him, whatever station in men of culture institution if possible, of sober piety and liberal education, for as the leaders so will be the future Church. Men therefore are needed that can keep the field, guide the work, establish the Church. I need no information as to the past, I speak only from experience of the work as it is now, and as regards the future.

Yours, &c.

The King and the Gipsy.

A king of England, whose memory we love to cherish because he cared so much for his people, and loved and honored the great King of kings, sometimes to go hunting in the forest, the stags had been so hard that, in order to escape from the dogs, they swam across a river, and a poor man ran for the dogs to follow. In the pursuit the huntsmen were gradually separated, and by and by the king found himself alone behind, for his horse had become thoroughly tired. For the sake of the poor animal he turned aside into a wood, intending to rest until his attendants should come up. He had gone but a few paces when he the trees, when suddenly some voices as of one in distress reached his ear. He hurried on in the direction whence he thought they proceeded, prompted by the desire of rendering assistance. On approaching he could distinctly hear the words "Christ my mother, my poor mother!" Pressing on a little further, he saw that this prayer was offered up by a little, sunburned girl, as she knelt under an oak tree, her hands stretched out, and her dark eyes full of tears, gazing imploringly to heaven. The king, who was very tender hearted and kindly affectioned, was much moved, and inquired where her mother was, and what ailed her. The little girl led him to a small tent pitched under a tree a few yards further on, and on entering he saw a gipsy woman on a wisp of straw, evidently at the point of death. She was unable to speak, and the little girl cried more bitterly than ever. Just then an elder daughter came running into the tent breathless. She had been to the nearest village, which was a good way off, to get some medicine for her mother, and also to try and get some one to minister to come and show her the way to heaven. But she could get none, for the people in those days thought the poor gipsies good for nothing, worthless creatures, all of the unfit to go to heaven. So the two girls sat beside the dying woman, (my heart would break, and the elder mother seemed very much agitated at no one coming for her soul) and the King, whose heart melted at their woe, exclaimed, "I am a minister sent by God Himself to you, and He told me to say, that though man cares not, yet He does indeed care for your souls." Then, kneeling down by the dying gipsy and taking her hand in his, he wiped with his handkerchief the clammy sweat from her brow while he whispered in her ear the simple story of the cross of Christ, of that blood that cleanseth from all sin, of the eternal redemption purchased for all believers. A radiant smile lit up her swarthy countenance, and for a moment her bright eye looked up expressive of the deepest gratitude, love and joy; and gently squeezing his hand, she expired quite peacefully. The three stood on for some time unconscious that the soul had winged its flight. Upon this the king's attendants, who had been searching for him, came up; and imagine their surprise when they found the monarch of England kneeling by a gipsy's corpse, and speaking words of comfort to gipsy children. Their surprise was like that of the disciples who, when they found their blessed Master talking to the woman of Samaria at Jacob's well. But when they saw the king in tears, they were deeply touched. The king took the children under his protection, provided for all their wants, and had them trained up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord.

Christian graces are like perfumes—the more they are pressed, the sweeter they smell; like stars, that shine brightest in the dark; like trees—the more they are shaken, the deeper root they take, and the more fruit they bear.

Parker House Rolls.—At night take two quarts of flour, rub in two tablespoonsful of lard, make a hole in the middle, and put in one pint of cold boiled milk and one half cup of good sweet yeast; three tablespoonsful of sugar and a little salt. Do not mix or stir it, but let it stand until morning, then mix it, and beat it hard; let it stand until very light, then roll out, cut in round cakes, spread on a little butter, and fold in half; put in pans and let them stand until light enough to bake. Don't bake too hard.

Dull Sermons

[illegible] extracts are clipped from an article in McMillan's magazine by C. H. Spurgeon. What of interest in the truths of religion, or perhaps in the lack of charity may account for those, yet the sin is certainly a specific one in them.

"Dull sermons, the Cerberus Sentinel [illegible] carrying when on [illegible] abyss on a Sunday. To be dull [illegible], no matter what [illegible] or under discussion, [illegible] This [illegible] naturally divides [illegible] is very tiring, [illegible] of the sermon is some- [illegible] There are times requiring [illegible] on this and [illegible] world, they [illegible] the ontset, [illegible] for instance, and [illegible] the purpose—'This [illegible] Christ, not a Synagogue, not a Church, but a [illegible] Christ, not a Synagogue, not a Church, but a [illegible] speaker of a Temple.' This line [illegible] minutes than another [illegible] spent in describing [illegible] the stage, and the furniture of a [illegible] Temple really is in [illegible] Dispensation, may all of us become [illegible] by Peoples, everlasting [illegible]

"That sermon lost in its weariness [illegible] Dear canon of yours; [illegible] to preach about [illegible] least resemblance of the Apostles—[illegible] Of this [illegible] or nothing is [illegible] Holy Writ, he was, no doubt, [illegible] and devoted member of that [illegible] of Christians who first [illegible] with the banner of the [illegible] Where did he him unflinchingly fighting, conquering and bold, [illegible] crown for the cause [illegible] well he is among the many [illegible] one above in the [illegible] and their sufferings [illegible] Instead being a free [illegible], these pictures can be drawn [illegible] the only objection to them being that they do not really teach [illegible]

Upon these is the concordance kind of [illegible] carefully concocted, and capable of being produced to any length in a straight line The subject, say, is 'Grace' you copy out forty or fifty texts in which the word [illegible] occurs, you [illegible] the people [illegible] synonymous with charity; one endeavors to produce a fresh [illegible] of places in the Bible mentioning charity, you speak of it as the [illegible] of all that has been done for us, all we can do for one another." At the close [illegible] series of applications, [illegible] ing with interjections, such as 'Oh, my friends! Oh, beloved! Oh, yearning mind! Oh, sinner! Oh, [illegible]' You lean forward in the [illegible] upon your hand over the [illegible] and ask your neighbor to carry home the 'blessed [illegible] for the awful thought, [illegible] (according to taste), and chew the cud of reflection upon it in the [illegible] of the secret chamber, or the [illegible] hours of the night, adding (as [illegible] between new and original idea), in slow and solemn tones, 'It's for you, for me, for all!'

"Young ladies' [illegible] seem to be taught by such themes as the trials of domestic life, the duty of husbands and wives, and the best mode of bringing up children, though their clumsy handling of the babe to be baptized forms an amusing contrast to their words of wisdom.

But who shall paint the awful suffering inflicted by an extempore preacher, unequal to the effort, whose one talent seems to be the talent of going on? and no one dares to expostulate, and if so, would he stop? He reminds one of the deaf old woman, who screamed away to help the church choir once to her; when rebuked and unable to understand the rebuke, she answered, 'Not to me be the praise, sir, I sing by note,' and moreover the [illegible] is generally the same, only with a different text. I knew a Calvinistic preacher who in his discourses seldom failed to speak of the 'back settlements of eternity,' where in the angels before the world was the elect had been chosen. Very few people ought to preach extempore, for, without knowing it, they generally fall into the same idioms Sunday after Sunday; they have a choice assortment of stock phrases always on hand—country orders promptly supplied. But the goods are ever the same like street barrel organs they play so many tunes, and no more. A clergyman friend of mine met an old woman one morning after this round of sound kind of sermon. She said: 'Ah, sir, it was a beautiful sermon, it were so comforting like; it came over, and over, and over again. He did [illegible] something for the [illegible] Only a clergyman with a family, and his wife should be permitted to indulge in the 'gift' of extempore preaching; he would not be allowed to repeat himself."

Our population in 1776 was 2,750,000; now it is 44,075,000.

Plaid-ism Pluck.

[illegible] Lord G. [illegible]

Whatever advantages of this sort may accrue to the Quaker City will have been earned fairly and loyally won: for a surety [illegible] there a great [illegible] of national importance carried through with clean hands, [illegible] the scene of speculation as was the Centennial Exhibition. And Philadelphians may well boast, that, in the midst of the [illegible] of the family was carrying on a private [illegible] and individual private [illegible] were expand, they have initiated and pushed to a successful issue a [illegible] of international [illegible] being, regardless of cost, [illegible] energy, of faith, or a [illegible] of upon its direction. In [illegible] the whole [illegible] there is not to our mind anything better worth such an [illegible] strong, [illegible] forward purpose with which Philadelphians have pushed this matter, through thick and thin, to its final issue, and the superb destiny which they have shown for all sorts of sofisters and doubters. Pluck of this sort [illegible] carries its reward, and will have it, whether it comes by admission tickets or in other ways.

And other ways will open whatever may be the exhibit of temporary pecuniary result. There is the positive, [illegible] city growth already alluded to—some of which [illegible] healthy and real; there are the permanent buildings within the Exhibition inclosure which inure to the city; there is the newly established school of Art," whose administrators, with wider outreach, are making large purchases of such material as could be secured under no other conditions, to such advantage as here and now. There is the immense relaxation, mental and physical, to the [illegible] in its entirety upon the population of the city; and there is the further material gain of winning and holding a reputation for executing a gigantic scheme with steadfast purpose, and for entertaining a world of strangers without giving reasonable cause for complaint.

Hearty Breakfasts.

In a large majority of cases it will be found that the best and heartiest meal in the day should be eaten in the morning. If the closing repast of the day has not been eaten too late, or been excessive in quantity or indigestible in quality, the stomach will be rested and active after ten solid hours enjoyed a cool bath. The stomach in these hours speedily with the necessary gastric juice for the solution of food, and if a fair amount of exercise is taken during the day, a large mass of food will be assimilated and converted into blood and tissue. With a good substantial breakfast [illegible] amount of food will be [illegible] during the remainder of the day. One further meal will be [illegible] and that at eight hours be taken [illegible] to three o'clock in the afternoon, but at any later period, if business engagements only permitted it. The breakfast may be made from any kind of wholesome food, and the fewer kinds the better. The dinner should be light and readily digested, if sound sleep is desired and strong appetite and perfect powers of digestion next day. One supplement in every twenty four hours is all that can be taken care of by many weak stomachs, and more than this is in excess and induces headache, nausea, and distress. If dinners were abandoned, and especially late and heavy dinners, myriads of dyspeptics would be cured.

Uses of Cobwebs.

Cobwebs have been applied to various uses. The delicate cross hairs in the telescopes of surveying instruments are fine webs taken from spiders of species that are specially selected for their production of an excellent quality of this material. The spider, when caught, is made to spin his thread by tossing him from hand to hand, in case he is indisposed to furnish the article. The end is attached to a piece of wire which is doubled into two parallel lengths, the distance apart exceeding a little the diameter of the instrument. As the spider hangs and descends from this, the web is wound upon it by turning the wire around. The coils are then gummed to the wire and kept for use as required. About a century ago, Bon of Languedoc, succeeded in making a pair of gloves and a pair of stockings from the thread of the spider. They were very strong, and of a beautiful gray color. Other attempts of the same kind have been made but Reaumur, who was appointed by the Royal Academy to report on the subject, determined that the web of the spider was not equal to that of the silkworm, either in strength or in size. The cocoons of the latter weigh from three to four grains, so that 1,000 worms produce a pound of silk. But the legs of the spider, when cleaned, do not weigh above the third part of a grain, so that a single silkworm can accomplish the work of twelve spiders.—Encyclopedie Americana Cyclopedia.

The Christian Advocate.

OFFICE—Corner of Dawson & Hargett Sts

THE ORGAN
OF THE
NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE
OF THE
M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev. J. B Bobbitt, D.D } Editors
R. T. Gray, Esq. }

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION:

ONE YEAR, IN ADVANCE, POSTAGE PAID, $2 00
SIX MONTHS, " " 1 25
If not paid in advance, 2 50

RALEIGH, N. C., SEPT. 20, 1876.

All letters on business with this office should be addressed to the Christian Advocate, Raleigh, N. C.

The Cross (X) Mark is to remind you that your subscription has expired. Let all renew promptly

A VISIT TO THE CENTENNIAL.

We are in the outset impressed with the hopeless task of giving the reader anything like a full and satisfactory description of the Centennial Exhibition. There is so much to be seen of the beautiful, such a grand display in the various national sections, to arrest the attention of the visitor, that he is at once bewildered with the sublimity of the spectacle. As our time was limited and as we desired to spend it to the best advantage possible, we could allow ourself only a brief period in looking through the different national sections - thirty-six in number. Upon entering the enclosure we first took a ride around the ground on the steam railway.—Then we repaired to the main building where we spent the remainder of the day. Commencing with the United States we took a hurried glance at the numerous articles on exhibition, spending of course much more time in the examination of some than others. In this department we were impressed with the display of chemicals, jewels, furniture, the book trade pavilion, shoemakers, the marble and slate mantels, the piano pavilions, the extensive display of textile fabrics, and the educational exhibits. Among the jewels of this department we saw a fifteen thousand dollar breast pin, eighty thousand dollar necklace—a vase of solid silver, beautifully carved, valued at twenty five thousand dollars, and listened to the sweet notes of the great Boston organ. The next in order is Mexico. The most noticeable objects here are the immense casting of silver, the articles of Mexican Onyx, and the leather and woven goods.—From this we took a hurried glance at the East India curiosities. In the Brazil section we noticed the fine display of feathers, flowers, beetle jewelry, the photographs and the furniture. Belgium has on exhibition much to interest. Here we note the court of honor, the school house of 1776, and the great pulpit of carved oak. France makes a grand display of bronzes, porcelain, tapestries, silks, laces, ladies' dresses and a multitude of fancy articles. The church images and decorations are also of interest. The department of England has an admirable display of silverware, porcelain, Wedgewood ware, ornamental tiles, furniture, and the product of the "royal school of needle work." The special attractions of India are the carved furniture, jewelry, fine tissues of silk and cotton, shawls and embroideries.—Canada, next to the United States, boasts the finest display of machinery and manufacturing implements. The Minor British Colonies present very many attractions. Of course we could only take a glance at each. The Australian group includes Victoria, New South Wales, Queensland, South Australia, New Zealand and Tasmania—all be together—but each has a separate court. While there is a marked similarity, each colony has objects of special interest.—Coming to Sweden, we were attracted by the costumed peasant, the porcelain, the furs and the iron. Passing to Norway we see the filigree jewelry, the figures of Laplanders and the picturesque iron exhibit. Italy has a magnificent display of carved wood work, mosaics, corals, jewelry, and photographs. Argentine Republic, Peru, Orange Free State, Chili and China are not of such general interest. In the first mentioned the minerals are noticeable, and the trunk that can be converted into a bed and a hotel table is a curious and useful invention. The second has the "Aztec" skulls and articles from ancient tombs as perhaps the only objects worthy of mention.—The third has a good display of diamonds and ostrich feathers—the fourth minerals, and the fifth, striking carvings in wood and ivory. We saw in this department a four thousand dollar bedstead. Japan presents a grand array of bronzes porcelains, lacquered work, and embroidered screens. At Denmark we hesitated only long enough to see the beautiful imitation of Etruscan and Egyptian pottery in the first alcove. Sandwich Islands first greets the visitor with queen Emma's feather cloak, and then the wooden bowls and native ornaments and utensils. At Egypt we saw the gorgeous embroideries, the curious Arabic engraved brass salvers, the stuffed crocodile and handsome cabinets. Turkey presents a fine array of embroideries in silk, linen, and woolen-pipes, strange pottery, old ornaments and attar of roses. About all worth seeing in Portugal is the peculiar pottery, the filigree jewelry and the fine carvings in wood for architectural ornaments. In the Spanish department we saw the emblematic parade to the Spanish court. Also the mural tiles, carved sideboards, pottery, silver, and the large show of textile fabrics. Russia is an interesting section and time is required to appreciate the silverware, the malachite and lapes lazuli objects, the clothes of gold and silver, and the furs. In the Austrian Hungary section, we saw the Bohemian glass, the Viennese work in gilt, bronze, leather, meerschaum and amber, the garnet jewelry, and the Hungarian opals.—The most attractive objects in Germany are the Berlin porcelain, the collective book exhibit, and the pianos. This closes the first day's work in the main building. Of course we could not mention the hundredth part of the many articles on exhibition in this building, and we have only alluded to those which seem to be of special interest to the visitor.

Having gone through the main building we now enter Machinery Hall. Three broad avenues run the entire length of this large structure.—We traverse each somewhat hurriedly, diverging from the one on the South side into the hydraulic annex. We saw the largest and most complete collection of machinery in motion the world has ever produced on exhibition. The manufacturing processes daily carried on in the building are of unusual interest—such as weaving silks, woolens, carpets, stockings, book marks, etc., printing, lithography, paper making, scroll sawing, barrel making, glass engraving, chocolate and candy making, type casting, type writing, making gutta percha shoes, watch making, rock drilling, and many other operations. From Machinery Hall we passed through the glass factory and on through Chilian, Japanese, English and Spanish buildings. From thence through the Government building, the Woman's Pavilion and the Horticultural Hall. Here we saw the rarest and most satisfactory collection of flowers it has ever been our privilege, or ever will be again, we suppose, to look upon. We noticed in addition a large number of them, but if we enter the catalogue there is no telling where it will end.

From this point we passed to Agricultural Hall. Such a magnificent display of agricultural implements has never before been on exhibition. This department is filled with visitors from every profession in life, but the farmers and their families are especially attracted here. The Art Gallery is the next place of special interest yet to visit. We enter much fatigued, and hesitate, in passing from one department to another, to rest. We mention a few pieces of sculpture—"Fleeing Time," by Barcalgia, of Milan, is full of interest. Old Time, hour-glass in hand, is bending forward in his flight—a woman bracing herself would hold him, but he seems to say, "I must go." Near this is "Prayer" by Motelli, of Milan—a woman in devotional attitude with a white vail over her face. It is so natural that at a short distance from it it seems as though you could remove the vail from the statue. Among the oil paintings there are many very striking. We looked with pleasure upon one by Becker of Paris. It is Rizpah protecting the bodies of her sons from the birds of prey. The picture is about twelve feet broad by twenty feet high. The "Anxious Mother," by Ansdell of London, represents a ewe with two lambs, life-size and more perfect than anything of the kind we have ever seen.

In writing or speaking of the centennial exhibition, it is simply absurd to go into details to any great extent. After all has been said that can be in favor of it, the reader will still find it necessary to witness the scenes there presented before he can have any correct idea of the magnitude, or have a proper appreciation of them. In closing this hurriedly prepared account we would advise all, who can conveniently do so, to go to the Centennial; yet we venture to say that hundreds and thousands go who derive no benefit from it. They spend their money to follow the multitude and in coming time to be able to say they attended the centennial exhibition in the city of Philadelphia in the year 1876. This is about all.

TRINITY COLLEGE.—The session began last week. We learn that eighty were present at the opening; eleven Seniors, nineteen Juniors, twenty Sophomores, seventeen Freshmen and thirteen special. This is about the same as last year; the number will probably reach one hundred and twenty. Trinity must have great merit or very active friends to hold her own so well in the face of sharp competition and in the midst of hard times.

We are gratified to learn that Rev. V. A. Sharpe, who has been detained at home for the past four weeks on account of ill health, is now much better and expects to be able for duty in a few days.

We regret to learn that Rev. J. W. Lewis has been suffering from an attack of bilious fever, caused no doubt by overwork. We trust he will soon be well again

Colleges and High Schools—Notice!

Will each College and High School in N. C. inform me at Mt. Pleasant, N. C., what number of pupils, male and female, have completed their course in your institution in 1876?—I promise to make a good use of the facts.

Will the State papers please insert this and render some service to the youth of N. C.?

A. D. BETTS.

The Question of Fraternity.

We give below extracts from Northern periodicals on this great absorbing question. The action of the joint Commission agreeing upon terms of fraternity between the two Churches seems to meet with general favor:

From the Cincinnati Western Advocate we clip:

It would be impossible for any commission, however intelligent and wise and prudent, to make a settlement in a case like this, that would be satisfactory to every individual person or society concerned. There has been too much feeling on both sides, and the interests involved are too complicated and are attended by too many embarassing circumstances, to allow such a result to be anticipated. In this case there will be, with some parties concerned, great disapprobation and great disappointment, and, on the part of some there may be even an absolute refusal to comply with the rules and the recommendations of the Commission. Should dissatisfaction in any cases proceed to this extent, the final adjustment must in such cases, we presume, be left to the courts—since, so far as we can see, neither the Church nor the Commission has power to enforce the decision made by the Commission.

We hope there will be no extreme cases of this kind. But, on the contrary, that all concerned will see it not only practicable, but wise and best, to acquiesce fully and heartily in the arrangements of the Commissioners, and to do their utmost to give the Church peace throughout all her borders. We are sure that our brethren in the South will cheerfully do whatever their judgment shall decide to be for the best interest of the Church and the glory of God.

What the effect of this plan of adjustment will have upon our work in the South we do not now propose to consider. We need to be but more fully in possession of the facts in order to arrive at any just conclusions. We wait with some solicitude to hear from our brethren in the South on this point. We shall hail with joy any arrangements for the settlement of the long-pending vexed difficulties which honored and trusted brethren, residing in the South and acquainted with all the facts involved, shall accept as equitable and just. We know that our Commissioners have exercised their best judgment and kept the glory of God and the highest welfare of the Church steadily in view; and if the result of their labors shall be to give the Church rest and peace in all her borders, they will be called 'blessed of the Lord.' So may it be."

The New York Christian Advocate says:

The address which we print below is in all respects a gratifying one. The Commissioners were clothed with full power to adjust all difficulties and to remove all obstacles to formal fraternity between the great Churches which they represented. This they have accomplished, and, as we think, wisely and well. The work to which they applied themselves, under the appointment and instruction of the highest authorities of their respective Churches, and in the name of the Great Master, can not be over estimated as to its importance and its far-reaching influence upon Protestant Christendom.

The unanimity with which the Commissioners reached their conclusions is remarkable. We have been permitted to look over the journal of their proceedings, (which we understand is to be printed and given to the public in a few days,) and find that every vote in the Joint Board was unanimous. Each Commission embraced three ministers and two laymen, and they were selected not only because of their recognized ability, prudence, and piety, but also as representing the various classes of opinion with regard to the questions at issue. That these ten Commissioners, reflecting in their daily conferences the views of every department of their great Churches, should reach the most perfect unanimity on every point considered in their discussion, is a fact to the highest degree suggestive and gratifying. Its value can not be told in words.

The address furnishes its own explanation, and presents its object with an argument and eloquence which will carry conviction to all lovers of our common Methodism. The two Churches in particular, and the whole Church in general, will rejoice in the good work accomplished, and will unite with the distinguished Commissioners in their closing Doxology: 'Now unto Him that is able to keep us from falling, and to present us faultless before the presence of his glory with exceeding joy; to the only wise God, our Savior, be glory and majesty, dominion and power, both now and ever. Amen.'

The St. Louis Central Advocate says:

It is an important document and will be read with care and gratification throughout the Nation; all the more so, perhaps, because it announces a satisfactory settlement of all matters that have prevented good feeling between the Churches. We are highly delighted with the result, but not greatly surprised. For the differences of feeling that stood in the way of fraternity, and which have been really greatly magnified on both sides, grow mostly out of a misapprehension of the real state of sentiment in the Churches toward each other. Local contentions, chiefly in regard to Church property, over which the Churches at large had no control, and partisan exposition of legitimate and well intentioned Church legislation, furnished ground for suspicion and hostility. In most cases where ministers and members of the two Churches became personally acquainted and discussed their differences from a Christian rather than a partisan point of view, local fraternity has grown rapidly, anticipating the result officially arrived at by the Commissioners.

We expect the happiest results from the labors and advice of the Commissioners. Ephraim shall no longer envy Judah, nor shall Judah vex Ephraim. We are brethren and of one family. We may dwell in peace and join hands in labor and rejoicing even while we acknowledge separate ecclesiastical jurisdiction. There will be no difficulty so long as we place Christ first, and the Church organization second. The intention and advice of the Commissioners will, not, in all cases, prevail at once, possibly in some instances, not at all, for there is no compulsion in the matter, but it is founded on Christian principles and will carry great weight. There is no reason that every cause of difference should not be completely adjusted before the Commissioners report to the bodies that appointed them, and we trust they may be able to append such a note to their final report.

The secular press has generally spoken in highly complimentary terms of the work of the Commissioners, and look upon it as the crowning event of the Centennial year. They perceive the bearings that so important a matter must have upon our national life, and rejoice in it. Indeed they go farther, and assert that it foreshadows the union of the two Churches again in one ecclesiastical organization. These prophecies are of no value except as showing the drift of public opinion outside of ecclesiastical circles. Methodist fraternity, not organic union, was the subject before the Commissioners; the first is a Christian duty, the latter a question of Church policy. To admit fraternity does not commit one even indirectly to any scheme of organic union; and the questions should not be confounded. We are content to do our duty and to trust to the developments of Providence, hoping that we shall have grace to follow its leadings.

The Chicago North Western writes thus:

The secular papers are premature, and a wee bit absurd in announcing as the result of the labors of the joint commission that "the Methodist Churches of the North and South are again a single body"! It will be remembered by even the most casual reader, that disputed church titles in border States have been among the chief obstacles to fraternity between the Churches. The address given below will go very far to remove that apple of discord. We rejoice in this basis of concord, since however just the struggle may seem to the immediate respective contestants in certain places, the quarrels have been unseemly, and occasions for offense and stumbling to those outside the circles most directly concerned. We hope soon to hear that the last case has gone contentedly out of court.

The Editor of the Syracuse North Christian Advocate is sadly set back by the definition the Commissioners give of the status of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and says that the Northern Commissioners in executing their authority—to "remove obstacles to formal fraternity"—acted very much like the Irishman who when instructed to "hoe the garden clean," obeyed the order so literally that he left neither weed nor choice plant. Upon this feature of the action he makes the following criticisms:

1. It was entirely unnecessary to "formal fraternity." If the Southern Commissioners demanded it the demand was unnecessary, and if persisted in only gave occasion to the Northern Commissioners to bow themselves graciously out of the presence of their Southern brethren and to return without the loss of honor to their constituents. It was not requisite in order to the peace of the two Churches, that the Commissioners sit in judgment on the acts of the previous generation, and come to agreement as to the character of those acts. The conditions of Christian fellowship only required that they should "agree to disagree" respecting the historical controversy.

2. It transcended the power of the Commissioners. They were not appointed the arbiters of the historical controversy. They were empowered "to remove obstacles to formal fraternity," which very appointment assumed the existence of two parties, and their worthiness of fraternal recognition. They were not asked to decide whether the parties had a right to be,—whether the birth of either was legitimate or illegitimate; they were placed beyond this question in the act of their appointment. It was not supposed that by their decision they could "remove" historical facts, or the opinion of people respecting them. These were not among the "obstacles" with which they had to deal. And the Methodist Episcopal Church will make no very grateful acknowledgment of their service in their gratuitous decision on a question which it had placed beyond their province.

3. It is a falsification of history, and is not representative of the views of the Northern section of Methodism. There has never prevailed in our Church any method of justifying her existence and place in the family of Churches, which is equally applicable to the M. E. Church, South as a distinct ecclesiastical and Methodist body. The share of honor and vindication which it has in the providential origin and scriptural character of Episcopal Methodism has nothing whatever to do with the secession in 1844. In that secession, or division—call it which you will—the M. E. Church South had its origin as a distinct organization. That secession rested on no scriptual basis, nor was it justified by any clearly indicated providential demand. It rested on slavery, the sectional interest which by this "sum of all villanies" was sustained, and the desperate sophistries by which it was defended. Nor is there as Dr Fuller has abundantly shown in his "Appeal to the Reports," any room to ascribe to the origin of the M. E. Church, South as a distinct origin anything like legitimacy. That origin was illegitimate. If justified at all it must be justified as a revolution. It was in harmony with no law, no constitutional provision, no act or concession of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Such certainly is the well settled conviction of the M. E. Church as expressed by her ablest historians. And it was all the more incumbent on the Northern Commissioners to respect this view, since it is persistently opposed by an error which has become current in the South. The Southern brethren talk to us about a "Plan of Separation," and "equitable arrangements," all of which actions lie at the basis of the idea of legitimacy. We owe it to the South to correct these false impressions by putting the facts of history in the clearest light. We are sorry for the cloud which the Report creates.

We will give other comments here after. The Northern papers are furnishing their readers with extracts from our Southern papers. Thus both sections may be acquainted with the real sentiments of the people upon this absorbing interest.

A Resident Bishop.

The Southern Christian Advocate makes the following points in regard to a resident Bishop in Texas and California. We are glad the topic is thus early before the Methodist public:

"There ought to be a resident bishop in Texas—one or more should live there. Our brethren in those conferences have our sympathy in their desire to accomplish this end. How shall they do this is the question. We know nothing of selecting men according to locality—we should seek the right man for bishop wherever he may live at the time. But can't we in future elections domicile them in advance to avoid the difficulty and indelicacy in arranging, by naming some suitable man willing to remove, if elected. There is no more hardship in assigning bishops a field of labor or a local habitation than with other itinerants—they are only 'first among equals,' and should be willing to such a plan. Let Texas and California look to their interest in these matters and let there be a ready acquiescence in any reasonable plan they may suggest for the attainment of their object—episcopal residence and service. We venture the opinion that if the five Texas conferences can agree on a man qualified for the office, such agreement would insure his election at the next General Conference."

MESSRS EDITORS: In a comment upon a sermon preached by Rev. D May, stationed in Monroe on Infant Baptism, by one of the editors of the Monthly Reporter, and published in the August No, of that paper, I find the following sentence as it occurs in the closing up of the article: "Some of the principle objections to his doctrine were passed without notice and we are still thankful that infant baptism is dying out." Now a minister who is so ignorant as to say that God never had a Church among the Jews nor knows that the children of Jews were circumcised as he (that is the editor, refered to above) professes not to know, should be passed by with silent contempt, but as he is an editor and publishes the errors to the world, I think he ought to be exposed. I suppose Bro. May will do his part in due time. My object in this is for my own benefit, as I am hemmed in on every side by those who not only endorse such views, but give circulations to them, therefore I ask you if you have the statistics from which to gather the facts to give us a statement in the Advocate whether the assertion be true that 'Infant Baptism is dying out" or not? please give us the figures if you have them not only of our Church but others who practice Infant Baptism.

It is also charged here in this community that John Wesley drew straws to see whether he would preach Calvinism or Arminianism. Such base errors ought to be exposed. I expect to do it here. The same editor referred to in this, I have been told, said the same, except that he used a silver 25 cent piece instead of straws.

T P. ENGLAND.

Lilesville, N C, August 21 1876.

Bro Puett writes: "Our camp meeting at Rock Springs was a decided success, some 600 people present, 50 conversions. Order generally good."

Revival Intelligence.

Rev. J. W. Lewis, writing from Thomasville, N. C. Sept. 4th says:

"We have had quite a revival of religion on North Guilford circuit, since the 2nd Sunday in Aug. We have had 87 converts, a large number of them have joined the church; the work still goes on, but I am unable to work in consequence of sickness; a little better this morning. In all we have had 90 converts since Conference. To God be all the glory!"

Bro. P. F. W. Stamey, writing from Dallas, N. C., Sept. 7th, 1876 says:

"I have just closed a meeting at Lincberger's Factory, resulting in several conversions and 7 additions to the church. Most of them old people. I also baptized 8 infants and 7 adults. Baptism by sprinkling is gaining ground on my circuit. I have baptized 46 infants this year."

Bro. G. W Hardison, writing us from Palo Alto under date of Sept. 4th, says:

"Please say to the lovers of Zion that we have had a glorious revival at Queen's Creek. Many have testified that Jesus has power on earth to forgive sin. 22 joined our church.

Bro. W. C. Gannon was with us on the last day of our meeting, and did much to advance the cause of the Master. He preached two excellent sermons, and did the baptising.

We will praise the Lord for the work he has done."

Bro. Boshamer, writing from Ridgeway under date of Sept. 9th, says:

"The Lord has blessed us on the Henderson circuit again. We have just passed through a very gracious season at Union Chapel. Twelve persons were converted, if no more, and the people of God very much revived. Rev. Jas. Jamieson, of the Virginia Conference, was with us from Tuesday until Friday, and preached to the edification of all, as you know he is capable of doing.

I baptized six infants during the meeting."

Bro. Blake writes from Oaky Grove Church, Rolesville circuit, and says:

"The church here has had glorious times this week. Bro. Holden began his protracted labors last Sunday, has labored every day up to this time, without any ministerial help from a distance, and showed himself a workman that needs not to be ashamed. While he seems to have but little confidence in his ability to revive and extend the work of a gracious salvation, he works under the assurance that God will bless His work when it is faithfully declared and bless his people when they work for His cause.

God has thus far blessed his labors beyond anything I have ever seen at Oaky Grove.

Up to Thursday evening there have been 23 bright and happy conversions, while there are many still struggling to be delivered.

A new life has been put into the old members, and they have gone to work in Methodist style, to bring in the halt, the lame and the blind, while the young converts have made a confident profession of their faith, and are telling to all around what great things God has done for them. Friday evening the number of converts has reached 35. On the circuit up to this time there are 124 since last Conference.

This is indeed glad tidings from Oaky Grove and will be hailed with great joy by the brethren who in past years have preached to us."

Bro. Culbreth writes us and says:

"Please say to your readers that we are having good meetings in Craven. One began at Lane's July 22nd and continued 12 days, resulting in 5 accessions to the church, and in the baptism of 3 adults and one infant. Another began at Asbury Aug. 4, (prayer week), and continued 18 days, including our third quarterly meeting, adding 11 members to the church. 5 adults and 12 children baptized. There were happy conversions at both places and the members were much revived. The love feast at Asbury was considered nearly equal in interest to the delightful one at Kinston during our late District meeting.

Rev. D. W. Porter was with us part of the time at Lane's and nearly all the time at Asbury, rendering good service. Brethren who led in prayer and aided in singing all did well. The congregations continued large and orderly to the last. God be praised!"

Bro. I W. Avent writing from Cumberland circuit under date of Sept. 31st says:

"On Saturday before the 2nd Sunday in August, we commenced a protracted meeting at Parker's Grove (our new Church which was dedicated the 4th Sunday in June last) and closed on Thursday following. 13 professed faith in Christ and 9 added to the Church. The membership was greatly refreshed and encouraged.

Our Centennial for the circuit will be held at the Camp Ground 6 miles west of Fayetteville, commencing Saturday before the 3d Sunday in September. I hope you will try to make it convenient to attend and take part in the services, we are expecting a good time—do come."

Bro. Holden writing from Sidney Church, Rolesville circuit, August 25th, says: "I propose giving you a short account of the revival work on Rolesville circuit. We returned from District Conference and commenced at Earpsboro; we had an interesting meeting, received six into the church and others will join. I gave notice one day that I would baptize children the next day; at the appointed time, thirteen were brought forward and dedicated to God, and we thanked God that the "promise is to us and to our children." From Earpsboro we went to Andrew Chapel, where God blessed us abundantly;—36 accesions to the church and two children baptized last Sunday. As you are aware we commenced at Sidney, and the Lord came with us and has been with us in the conversion of 13 souls. Bro. Norman was with us yesterday and preached two excellent sermons and the Lord blessed the efforts.

We have been preaching now over three weeks every day except one, and we thank God this morning that we feel more like preaching than we did the first day.

May God continue His blessings, and to Him shall be the glory! Pray for us."

Our good brother P. F. W. Stamey, sends us the following cheering intelligence from Dallas circuit:

DEAR BRO. BOBBITT: Permit me to say through the ADVOCATE, to the lovers of Zion, that the good Lord is still reviving his work on the Dallas circuit.

I have just closed a protracted meeting of six days length at Landers Chapel, resulting in the conversion of 30 souls and 26 additions to the church. There were some 10 or 12 seekers still unconverted. We were compelled to close being very much fatigued.

Great seriousness was manifested. The congregations increased until the close. Bro. Anderson of the South Fork circuit was with me until Tuesday morning, preaching with great ability. Many thanks to him.

Several of the converts were members of the Lutheran and Episcopalian Churches. The most of which joined our church.

I held a meeting some time since in the town of Dallas, resulting in 5 conversions and 4 accessions to the church, all good material. This was also a good meeting. The church seemed very much revived. Our thanks are due to Dr. Dixon of Kings Mountain, Bro. Harris of the Lincolnton circuit, and Bro. A N Wells, a local preacher of Lincolnton circuit. Bro. Harris preached four sermons, Dixon two, Wells one, and R. T. Johnston, a Presbyterian minister, one.

We start to-morrow to begin another series of meetings. May God be with us; and to his name be all the glory now and forever! Amen.

Bro. Maness, writing from Dalton under date of Sept. the 4th, says:

I have held 4 protracted meetings on the Shura Town Mission at the following times and places: At Mount Hermon the 1st and 2nd Sundays in July, 8 days continuance. Brother Bruton the P. E., was with us on the 1st Saturday and Sunday and held the 3rd Quarterly Conference and preached 2 very able and appropriate sermons to the occasion. Brother J. C. C. Harris a local minister and student from Trinity was with me all the time and preached 5 efficient and pointed sermons. There were 7 conversions and 5 accessions, a good meeting considering the busy season with the farmers. The 2nd was held at New Bethel embracing the 3rd and 4th Sundays in July—8 days and nights continuance, 15 sermons were preached—7 by the writer and 8 by brother J. C. C. Harris; and yet we had no conversions nor accessions, though we did all within our power to get up a revival. The 3d was held at Lynch's Grove, embracing the 5 Sunday in July and the 1st Sunday in August, 7 days in continuance, 9 sermons were preached by the writer and 3 by Broter Snody, a local minister of the Mission, yet we had no conversions nor accessions though we had very good order and the kindest attention paid to the preaching of the word. Many appeared to be deeply impressed about their soul's salvation yet they could be prevailed on to bow at their seats for special prayer in their behalf. The 4th was held at Covington School House commencing on Saturday before the 2nd Sunday in August, and continued till Thursday night following: 11 sermons were preached by the writer—he had no assistance not even a member to pray in public. There were 3 conversions and a Church organized with 5 members. The congregations have been generaly large and in some instances unusally so, and the order very good, except two instances. You will hear from us again before Conference."

The Centennial.

MESSRS EDITORS: For the last week I have been a daily visitor to the Centennial Exhibition, and I want to say, through you, to the ministers of the N. C. Conference—brethren, don't miss the Exhibition.

I shall not attempt to describe it, that would be folly. Come and see it for your selves and I am sure you will never regret the time and money it cost.

Board and lodging etc are very reasonable. At the Merchant's Hotel you get first rate accommodations and the best attention by a North Carolinian for $17.50 per week. I am told you can get board as low as six dollars per week. I recommend the Hotel.

Fraternally.

L. W. CRAWFORD.

Philadelphia, Sept. 14th 1876.

A Nuisance that Ought to be Abated.

There is a custom that prevails in almost all the rural districts of North Carolina; and it is seen to prevail in our cities, sometimes.

It is an old custom; no man living now, was living when it was first introduced. There are many persons who seem to regard it as an accomplishment, rather than a nuisance. It is not confined to the higher, nor to the humble walks of life. And, not withstanding it is so nearly universally practised, it is a Nuisance.

SPITTING TOBACCO JUICE ON CHURCH-FLOORS AND WALLS.

This practice has become disgusting. It is a most filthy practice. But it is indulged in by sinners, in the back part of the Church, and by class leaders and stewards in the "Amen corner;" by Church members, in the congregation, and ministers in the pulpit. It is not unfrequently the case that the aisles of the Church, and the space between the seats, is covered with the filthy stuff. Nor does the pulpit floor escape. Then in the corners of the pulpits great quantities of dried quids are seen. But how can the nuisance be abated?

First: Let the Ministers set the example of respect for the house of God. But some preachers preach with the quid in their mouths, and the slime ropes down their chin, to the disgust of the audience.

Second: Let laymen honor and respect the House of God.

Third: Let parents teach their children never to use tobacco in the Church, or any other place; and enforce their instruction by example.

Fourth: Let Sunday school Superintendents lecture their schools upon the subject—and illustrate their lectures by their practice.

Finally: Let us all show how much we respect the house of God by a studious and careful effort to keep it unsoiled.

BEN ELLET.

Bro. Webb, in a communication from Tar River Circuit, a part of which was printed in the last issue of the Advocate, referred to the death of a promising young man on that circuit. He says: "I cannot close this communication without mentioning the sad loss the circuit has sustained in the death of our highly esteemed young brother, James A. Morris, son of Addicus Morris, who died at Kittrell's on the 18th of July 1876. He was in his thirtieth year.

He was a member of our church at Bank's Chapel, converted under the ministry of Bro. J. B. Martin, and was a member of the Sunday school at Plank Chapel, which school passed suitable resolutions of respect. I mention his death in connection with these revivals, because I believe his upright life and triumphant death was sanctified by God to the good of many.

He leaves behind a father and mother and ten brothers and sisters, all now members of the church, four of whom joined at our late meetings.

A good number of the converts at Plank Chapel were from Kittrell's, where he died.

Bro. J. H Gilbreath, a correspondent of the Central Protestant, in writing to that paper, says:

"Our community never had a more triumphant death-bed scene, for it was a glorious triumph for the Christian religion, proving the truth of the Bible and the faithfulness of God's promises of protection and grace in the dying hour.

Though in the bloom of manhood and perfectly conscious, he met death with entire calmness and without a fear. All the while he was sinking into the valley of death he plead with his stricken mother not to weep for him, for he was not afraid to die, and he would soon be with Jesus forever to dwell. Thus saying, his eyes closed in slumber sweet, and the spirit took its blessed flight.

All that day our little village seemed to be mantled in sacred sadness with touches of divine glory. We knew that angels hovered over and about us, and that heaven had touched the place with holy flame when its shining chariot wheels bore the spirit of our brother beloved up to the city of our God. When the announcement came that he was dying, I knew then what the scene would be, for the life he lived could only bring a death of great peace.

He professed religion when but a boy, and had lived devoted to his profession through life. He loved the church and the Sabbath-school, but his great delight was in sacred song. He was the leader in his family, where unnumbered songs full souled have rolled up to God from the home circle, like great swelling waves of glory.

He was the leader in the church music at Bank's Chapel, where he was a member, and wherever he sojourned he gathered around him the lovers of song. He was indeed one of earth's singing pilgrims, but God took him to the heavenly choir, where there is no jar on strings eternal, nor discord on tongues immortal, but songs are ever new, and praises leap to the throne forever.

His parents and brothers and sisters need not weep for him, only weep over the broken companionship here, and remember that it can be healed and perfected in Heaven, where death and sorrow shall never come again."

The last song that we sung with the family was that beautiful piece,

"Gathering Home,"
"Gathering one by one."

Oh that the young men of our country would follow the example of this noble young man in cultivating whatever talents God has given them.

Fraternally yours,

R. S. WEBB.

RETURNED.—Dr. Chas. J. Nall, the skilled physician who has adopted Raleigh as his home, has returned from a two months visit to his old home in Detroit, Michigan, and is ready to respond to the demands of his profession. He has been very successful in his practice here and his talents and gentlemanly demeanor have secured for him the respect of the entire community. He has adjusted his business affairs at his old home, and will make Raleigh his permanent residence.

The Christian Advocate

PUBLISHED IN THE CITY OF RALEIGH EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING, TERMS $2.50 POSTAGE PAID.

Our Agents.

All the traveling and local preachers in the bounds of the North Carolina Conference are our authorised Agents. Any person sending us ten subscribers, for one year, will receive the paper free.

Our Correspondents.

Communications for publication should be carefully written, and on but one side of the sheet. All letters on the office should be addressed to the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

How to Remit.

In sending money, all amounts should be sent in registered letter, post office order or check. The cost of registration, or Post office order can be deducted from the amount in hand. If money is sent otherwise than herein specified, it will be at the sender's risk.

The committee appointed by the Newberne District Conference, "to take into consideration the practicability of holding a Camp-meeting this Fall, in the bounds of this District," after due deliberation and consultation, deem "it impracticable and inexpedient to have such a meeting this fall.

JAS. P. SIMPSON,
F. H. WOOD,
J. N. ANDREWS,
W. A. DARDEN, JR.,
J. Q JACKSON,
JAS. H BARNES,
J. M. PATRICK.

Snow Hill, N. C., Aug. 12th 1876.

NORTH CAROLINA

The Democrats of Wake county which met in this city last week made the following nominations for the Legislature: For the Senate, Geo. H. Snow; House of Representatives, M. W. Page, M. J. Whitley, J. W. Jones and H. C. Oliver. For Sheriff, S. M. Dunn; County Treasurer, David Lewis; Register of Deeds, B. Y. Rogers. For Coroner, J. M. Jones; County Surveyor, J. Q. Shaw. For County Commissioners, A. G. Jones, Wm. Jenks, S. J. Allen, W. D. Turner and J. R. Nowell.

The following is the Republican ticket for Wake: For Senate, Robert W Wynne. For House of Representatives: John E Riedsee, J P H Adams, Thos R Purnell, James Ennis. Wake County Ticket.—For Sheriff, Jeremiah J Nowell. For Register of Deeds, William W Whi e. For County Treasurer, Sidney D Harris. For County Surveyor, J Q Shaw. For Coroner, Thomas Rampson. For County Commissioners, A W Shaffer, George A Kioth, John R Whitehead, John Massey, J J Ferrell.

The Democratic nominations in Alamance are, for the Senate, Thomas M Holt; for the lower House, Daniel Worth.

Mess E J Hale & Son the well known book publishers of New York, have made a gift of valuable books to the N C State Library.

A State Fair is resolved on next fall.—Rooms are to be fitted up on the grounds by Capt. Denson for the accommodations of the Editors of the State, for whom also free board is to be provided in the city of Raleigh.

Under the new Legislative bill of the recent Congress the fourth and fifth districts are consolidated, and Isaac J Young is retained as Collector. The Sixth and seventh districts are consolidated—Collector not yet named.

Capt. Samuel T. Williams, a prominent lawyer of Rocky Mount, and former editor of the Raleigh Daily News, died in the city of New York Thursday the 10th inst. Capt. Williams was a rare scholar and had gained considerable reputation as a lawyer.

Capt. John Walker, of Mecklenburg, died suddenly in that county on the 8th inst.

A violent type of diptheria is raging in portions of Rutherford and Cleaveland counties.

J. A. Steven-on, Esq., a young lawyer of Statesville, died at the residence of his brother-in-law, in Alexander county, on Friday last.

A cool red convict, who escaped from the penitentiary on the 2d of February last, was captured near his old home in Mecklenburg county on Monday night last. He had been sentenced for ten years for hog stealing.

Marriages.

Married at the residence of the bride's father, W. R. Frazer, Trinity College by Rev. B. Craven, D. D. LL. D. Dr W. A. Wilborn to Miss Annie E. Frazer all of Randolph co. N. C.

Married on the 5th of Aug. at the Front Street Methodist (pis Church South, by Rev. W. S. Black, Mr F. A. Newberry, of Magnolia, N. C. to Miss Annie, daughter of Mr. Joel W. Woolvin, of this city.

Married, by Rev. L. E. Stacey, on the 7th inst. at the residence of Rev E. J. Embly, Mr. Calvin Flinn and Miss Sallie Ote, all of Stokes co. N. C.

Married, at Rocky Springs, Alexander co. Sept. 5th by Rev. D. R. Brnton, Mr. Charles F. Bulick of Taylorsville, to Miss Elizabeth Triplett of Wilkes co.

Married, in Statesville Sept. 7th 1876, by Rev. H. R. Bruton, Mr. W. F. Hoiker, late of Charlotte to Miss Carrie Miller, late of New York.

Married, on 4th of September, by Rev. W. S Black, Mr. Phillip Christ to Mrs. Mary Bowers, both of Wilmington, N. C.

At the residence of the bride's father, near Wilson, September the 5th 1876, by Rev. R. A Willis, Mr. S M Warren, Jr., and Miss Mollie L Edwards, daughter of M. J. Edwards, Esq.

In Newberne N. C. Sept. 14th 1876, by Rev. W. G Gannon, Mr. John F. Hanff, Jr. and Miss Florence F. Pearce, all of Newberne, N. C.

Deaths.

☞Obituary notices of twenty lines are inserted without charge. The excess over twenty lines of ninety words is charged 1c at he rate of 10 cents per line. Count the lines and allow ninety words to the line, In this way you may always know the amount to enclose. Resolutions of respect are subject to the same rule. ☜

In Wilmington, N. C., on the 6th of Sept, at the residence of S. D. Wallace, Esq Mr. Christopher S. Berry, aged 30 years.

Died in Leasburg, N. C. July 13th 1876, Mrs M. Eglantine Hancock, in the 46th year of her age. Sister Hancock had long been a pious, faithful, and zealous member of the M E. Church South Ever a devoted friend of the preachers and their families, those who knew her, will mourn with us sincerely over her departure. We feel like one of our best friends is gone. When we visit Leasburg again, one of its brightest lights will be missing.

Her religion was unostentatious, but pure, genuine, undefiled. Her life was a living testimony. God required but little dying testimony. Having declared her faith in God and uttered a prayer for mercy, she gently fell asleep and went home.

We tender our heartfelt sympathies to her bereft husband mother, sill ced sister and other relatives.

J. W. JENKINS.

On the 29th of Aug. Mrs. Emily, wife of Edwin G. Pridgen of the county of Green, aged about 50 years.

Her life and character, bore testimony to the truth and power of the christian religion, she was a faithful wife and mother, a good neighbor, a patient resigned and hopeful sufferer. She left a large family of children and circle of friends and relatives but her end was peaceful and joyful. In hope of a blissful immortality. She fell asleep in Jesus.

HER PASTOR.

Mrs. Lizzie McIver Edmondson, the daughter of Thos. McIver Esq was born in Duplin co N. C April 9th 1851, was married to Willis Edmondson April 8, 1873, and died in Mount Olive July 25 1876, at the age of twenty five years.

In the year 1866 when fifteen years old she gave her heart to be Savior and joined the Methodist Church under the pastorate of Rev. R. B. Culbreth. She was a good woman, the darling child of her parents shedding sunshine every joy around her, always happy in making others happy. She was ever ready to work for the church and constant and consientious teacher in the Sabbath School. Her death bed was made glorious by her last act as a teacher in calling her class around her on Sabbath morning and hearing their lessons and delivering her last charge to them. Although a great sufferer for weeks before her death, her faith triumphed over all her pains and her departure was calm and peaceful. Those who looked upon her pale face as she lay in the coffin saw a sweet smile there which told of her victory over death.

After her death while removing the furniture from her room her friends found behind a picture the following note written by her own hand;

"My husband sometimes my heart is saddened at the thought that I may not be long spared to live with you upon earth, but if why is my heart made sad by this thought? For are there not brighter and more blessed charms in the thought of a life in the happy world where Jesus and all the pure in heart abide than here where there is so much pain and suffering? And yet it is so I would grieve to leave dear my beloved so lonely; but I feel I go the loving Savior will make me happy at the thought and resigned to leave all earthly ties however binding. When I feel your dear hand creeping mine, my heart almost bursts at the thought that some day, when you press it, it will not return the pressure. When low hide me from your eyes at the Lord calls me away, think of me as only in the better world awaiting you coming darling; but oh do not call me dead" she rests with Jesus

A.

Letters and Funds

Rev F D Swindell papers sent. Rev J T Hall papers sent. Rev F P Ricaud paper continued Rev P F W stamey Rev J W Pinson for J Thompson $2.20 Rev J N Andrews Rev J P Simpson E Alden for adv 2, A L Beach O G Fox Miss White sell 2, Mrs P Slade sell 2.20 Jno Askew sell 2.20, J W Jaynes sell 2.20, Rev B T Blake Rev W G Wilson for B F Isom 2.20, Jno Brock 2.00 on no 10.00 Rev F L Reid for Mrs W K Davis 2.20, Rev D Aldbrich paper continued W T Lyon for subscribers 2.20 cents. H P Hubbard for ad 50 cents M H Moore P P Benson sell 1.00, Rev J Smithed papers sent Rev I W Avent Rev J M Rhodes pap r sent A Peter Wingate Mrs E M West sell 2.20, Rev W S Black 10 at E I ing 2 Cl ow sell 2.20 W B Avy sell 2.10, Rev V A Snuffer A Grayson sell 2.25 Rev Z Rich sell Mrs Lower Jones 1.00 Rev A J Conway on papers sent, James Kinsaid 15 cts. Parker Bros N W Apex & Son Rev R F Campbell Vanderbilt University 8, Tom Nash smith on sale 15.55 S M Pettigrill & Co dinner & Breakfast R G Moore sell 2.20 Collie J Howell N Ingram Rev Dr Craven Rev A A Bessinger papers continued E S Freshman G W Pugh on for D E Green 2.20, Rev W M Jordan for P D Swann 2.20, G W Tate 2.20 Prof W F Alderman Rev P F H Stamey B A Vaden Rev W B Maness Rev D B Bolton Geo F Goode Rev J J Bruton Wm Parker Rev G W Hudson Rev D R Bruton Dr W A Wilborn Rev Dr Craven Rev A A Bessinger S S Freshman Rev W H Bobbitt Hon A T Jordan Rev L E Stacy papers sent, R S Hay Rev A R Raven for J Stainton 2.20 Rev A D Betts Rev S Pool 2.20 Rev R A Willis Rev Dr Wilson Rev L L Hendren Rev J E Martin for J H Leathers Jr. 2.20, Miss M A Morrison paper continued Rev J R Baily for W J Herring L Rev or Closs Rev J J Carden Knight Rev J L Hughes

---

From the Methodist Protestant, Baltimore, Md: For invalids and those in declining heal h, we know nothing better than Colden's Liebig's Liquid Extract of Beef and Tonic Invigorator. We recommend it from personal knowledge as carefully prepared, and being all it claims.

Williams & Haywood, Agents.

The most astonishing cure of chronic diarrhœa we ever heard of is that of Wm. Clark, Frankfort Mills, Waldo Co., Maine; the facts are attested by Ezra Trest, Upton Trest and M. A. Merrill, either of whom may be addressed for particulars. Mr. Clark was cured by Johnson's Anodyne Liniment

Hon. Joseph Farewell, Mayor of Rockland, Me., Issac M. Bragg, Esq., Bangur, and Messrs. Pope Bros, Machias, Me., lumber merchants, fully endorsed the Sheridan Cavalry Condition Powders, and have given the proprietors liberty to use their names in recommending them.

APPOINTMENTS.

SALISBURY DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Statesville sta.	Sept.	9 10
Statesville ct, Salem,	"	16-17
Yadkinville, Center (C. M.)	Oct.	1- 2
Mt. Airy & S Mission, Salem.	"	7- 8
Surry ct. & R R Mission, Thompson's	"	14-15
Wilkes c. Wilksboro,	"	21-22
Alexander ct. Liberty (C. M.)	"	23-24
Iredell ct. Eagle Mills,	"	28-29
Mooresville ct. McKendree's,	Nov.	1- 5
Salisbury, ct Harris'	"	11-12
Salisbury sta.	"	12-13
Davie ct. Smith Grove,	"	18-19
Rockesville ct. South River	"	25 26

D. R BURTON, P. E.
Statesville, N. C.

CHARLOTTE DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Monroe ct. at Prospect,	Oct	7- 8
Lilesville ct. at Shiloh,	"	14-15
Wadesboro sta.	"	18
South Charlotte ct. at Zion	"	21-22
Stanley ct,	"	27
Albemarle ct	"	28-29
Mt Pleasant ct	Nov.	1
Concord ct,	"	4- 5
Mocksville ct,	"	11
Wadesboro ct. at Popular Hill,	"	11-12
Pleasant Grove ct. at Wesley Chapel	"	14-15
Pineville ct. at Harrisons,	"	17
Monroe sta.	"	18-16
Charlotte.	"	25-29

The Local Preachers will please remember the discipline requires that they shall report in writing the extent and result of their labors to the Fourth Quarterly Conference.

W. H. BOBBITT, P. E.
Monroe, N. C.

HILLSBORO DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Durham sta.	Sept.	23-24
Alamance ct Phillip's Chapel.	Oct.	1
Pittsboro ct Chatham Church,	"	7- 8
Deep River ct Providence,	"	14-15
Hill & H River, Mt. Pleasant,	"	21-22
Flat River ct Orange Church,	"	28-29
Person ct Mt. Tirzah,	Nov.	4- 5
Leasburg ct Lea's Chapel,	"	11-12
Yanceyville ct ShadyGrove,	"	18-19
Hillsboro sta.	"	25- 26

L. L. HENDREN, P. E.
Chapel Hill, N. C.

GREENSBORO DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.—Q. M. IN PART.

Winston sta.	Sept.	23-24
Forsythe ct at Tabor.	Oct	7- 8
Davidson ct at Wesley Chapel.	"	14-15
North Guilford, Muirs Chapel.	"	21-22
Madison, Madison,	"	28-29

N. H, D. WILSON, P. E

WASHINGTON DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Washington,	Sept.	2- 3
Greenville at Greenville.	"	9 10
Tarboro at McKendree	"	16 17
Warrenton,	Sept. 30, & Oct	- 1
Roanoke, at Bethel,	"	7- 8
Williamston at Hamilton,	"	14-15
Plymouth and Jamesville,	"	17-18
at Jamesville	Oct	21-24
Scuppils at Columbia,	"	28-29
Edenton sked. at Fairfield.	Nov	4- 5
Bath at Asberry.	"	- 5
Washington at night on

WM. CLOSS, P. E.
Tolsnot, N. C.

FAYETTEVILLE DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Laurenburg ct. at Laurenburg,	Sept.	9-10
Cumberland ct. at Camp-Ground.	"	16-17
Jonesboro ct. at Cool Spring,	"	23-24
Fayetteville sta.	Oct.	1- 2

J. S. NELSON, P. E
Fayetteville, N. C.

SHELBY DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Columbus,	Aug.	26-27
Rutherfordton,		-29
Happy Home,	Sept.	2- 3
Caldwell, C. M.	"	9-10
South Fork, C. M.	"	16-17
Dallas, C. M.	"	23-24
Double Shoals, C. M. Sept. 30,	Oct.	- 1
Cherry Mountain, C. M.	"	7- 8
Shelby ct. C. M.	"	14-15
Upper Broad River,	"	-17
Marion, (Dedication),	"	21-22
Shelby station,	"	28-29
Morganton,	Nov.	4- 5
Dysartsville,	"	- 8
Lenoir station,	"	11-12
Lincolnton,	"	13-12
Rock Spring,	"	18-19
Newton,	"	25-26

R. G. BARRETT, P. E.
Shelby, N. C.

NEWBERN DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Kinston Station,	Sept.	16-17
Newbern Station.	"	23-24
Lenoir, { La Grange, Sept. 30 Oct.		- 1
Swift Creek }
Beaufort Station,	"	7 8
Straits,	"	14-15
Snow Hill, Rainbow,	"	21-22
Wilson station.	"	28-29
Carteret, Harlowe's,	Nov.	4- 5
Nense, Aurora,	"	11-12
Craven, Beach Grove, Tues & Wed.	"	14 15
Jones, Oak Grove.	"	18-19
Mt. Olive Friday,	"	-24
Wayne, Fremont,	"	25-26
Goldsboro Sab. night & Mon.	"	-27

E. A. YATES, P. E.
Beaufort, N. C

RALEIGH DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND—1876.

Raleigh, Person St.	Aug.	26-27
Granville Mt Tabor.	Sept,	2- 3
Henderson Tabernacle,	"	16-17
Youngsville.	"	23 24
Tolesville-Rolesville, Sept 30th,	Oct.	1
Raleigh Edenton St.	"	7- 8
Cary, Hollands,	"	14-15
Louisburg,	"	21-22
Par River Franklinton,	"	28-29
Rocky Mt & Nash- ville, Tolsnot, } at Tolsnot,	Nov.	4-5
Smithfield.	"	11-12

J. P. MOORE, P. E.
Warrenton, N. C.

WILMINGTON DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Magnolia, at Salem,	Sept.	8 10
Wilmington, 5th Street,	"	16-17
Cokesbury, at Bethany,	"	20-24
Kenansville, at Wesley Chapel. Sept 30, and	Oct.	- 1
Smithville at Smithville,	"	7 8
Onslow, at Tabernacle,	"	14-15
Wilmington, Front Street,	"	18-19
Elizabeth, at Bladen Springs,	"	28-29
Bladen at Antioch,	Nov.	4- 5
Whiteville and Waccamaw Miss.	"	11-12
Clinton at Goshen,	"	18 19
Topsail at Rocky Point.	"	25-26

The District Conference will be held at Bethany Church Cokesbury Circuit, commencing on Wednesday the 20th September, at 10 o'clock A. M and will embrace the 4th Sabbath. Rev. J. B. Bailey will preach the opening sermon. Brethren from other districts are invited to attend.

W. S. BLACK.
Magnolia, N. C.

COMMERCIAL REPORT.

WHOLESALE CASH PRICES.

Office of CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.
Aug 8th, 1876

REMARKS.

Business greatly improved. Country produce offered in quantities; especially in exchange for groceries

General Market.

FLOUR, North Carolina $7@8.50
CORN 75 to 80
OATS 45@50
BAGGING, Standard 18 1-2.
" Dundo 18 1-2.
BACON, N. C. sug round, 14, to 15.
" hams 14 1-2 to18
BULK C. R. sides, 13 1-2
" shoulders, 10 1-2 @ 11
LARD, North Carolina, 16 1-2
" Western Carolina, 17 1-2@20
" kegs, 16 1-2@17 1-2
COFFEE, Prime Rio, 21-2
" Fair Rio, 21
SYRUP, common, 37 1-2
MOLASSES, Cuba, 50.
SALT $2.25.
CHEESE, Cream, 15 16.
" Factory, 17.
" Dairy, none.
NAILS, on Load 100 lbs, $4.00.
SUGAR A 10 1-2.
" Extra C, 11 1-4.
" Yellow, 10@11
LEATHER, Sole 27 1-2@30
HIDES, green 2@3.
" dry, 13 1-2
TALLOW, 4@5
POTATOES, sweet 75
" Irish, $1.00@$1.25.
OATS, shelled, 80
" sheaf, $1.25
FODDER, old, $1.50, New 1.25
HAY, N. C. bales, .90
CHICKENS, grown, 30
" young, 20@30
EGGS, 20
BUTTER, country, 25@30
FISH, Mullets, $6 to 6.50.
" Cut Herrings 7@15
" Mackerel, new family, $1 .50
BEESWAX, 25.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

HOMEWARD BOUND.
Home by 1st October!
DR. CHARLES J. NALL,
Specialist in Diseases of the Head, Throat and Chest.
May be found in his office on and after October 1st. His rest and vacation having enabled him to perfect in certain directions special lines and situations to the treatment of Chronic, Special, Bronchitis, Asthmatic, Consumption and all diseases of the HEART, THROAT, LUNGS and EARS. Call at his office for reference. Terms always monthly in advance.
Sept. 20-1f.

MUSIC BOOKS.
For Musical Societies, Conventions &c.,

MALE VOICE GLEE BOOK
($1 net or $9 per dozen). by W. O. PERKINS. Just published; a large number of new Glees and Quartettes of the very best quality.

EMERSON'S CHORUS BK
($1.25 or $13 per dozen). By L. O. EMERSON. All the choruses are first class, and worthy of practice by the best singers.

PEOPLE'S CHORUS BOOK
($1.00 or $9.00 per dozen). For mixed voices. The glees and choruses are all "gems."
For Choirs Singing School, Conventions;

THE SALUTATION.
($1.38 Per dozen $12) By L. O. Emerson Hymn tunes, Anthems and Music for Singing Classes. One of the best Church Music Books of our publication

THE ENCORE.
75 cts., or $7.50 per dozen; by L. O. Emerson. Designed especially for Singing Schools, for which it is an admirable book.
For Schools, Academies, Seminaries etc.

THE WHIPPOORWILL.
(50 cts). By W. O. PERKINS. Filled with the best of Songs for Common Schools, new, very bright and attractive.

THE HIGH SCHOOL CHOIR
($1.50) No better High School Song Book has appeared.

OLIVER DITSON & CO.,
Boston.
C. H. Ditson & Co., 711 Broadway, New York
J. E. Ditson & Co., Successors to Lee & Walker, Phila.

50 FINE CARDS, with your name, only 20 cents, or 30 Hepper Damask, 20 cts. cases 15 cents. Send stamp for price list and samples,
L. G. HASKIN & CO., PETERSBURG, Va.
Sept 20-4t.

FIRST FALL STOCK.

WE ARE NOW RECEIVING A VERY LARGE STOCK OF

FALL DRESS GOODS
AND
MEN'S WEAR,

Both of our own importation and from the leading jobbing houses and agents in the principal northern cities.

We have the pleasure of saying to our patrons that our stock, in ALL DEPARTMENTS, has

NEVER BEEN EXCELLED.

The stock of DRESS GOODS will be the largest and of the latest novelties of any in the State, as usual

☞"The BEST GOODS at the LOWEST CASH PRICES."

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER.

SHOES AND HATS.

The largest Stock we have had—late styles and at low prices.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER.

THE Buffalo Lithia Waters
RELIEVE A CASE OF
DYSPEPSIA OF 20 YEARS' STANDING
WHEN THE PATIENT WAS DEEMED IN A HOPELESS CONDITION BY THE ATTENDING PHYSICIAN.

Case of Mrs. ——, of Halifax County, Va., stated by Dr. Marcus A. Harris of that county, well known as one of the most distinguished practitioners of Southern Virginia.

(Extract from Letter of Dr. Harris, of July 28, 1876.)

"Mrs. —— has been for twenty years a sufferer from dyspepsia in a most aggravated form. Prominent among a multiplicity of distressing symptoms were attacks of spasmodic cardialgia, varying in duration and intensity, and becoming less and less amenable to treatment. For a few months before she commenced the use of the Buffalo Lithia Waters the attacks became more prolonged and violent, and her emaciated, cachetic and distressed condition gave unmistakable evidence of rapid decline. Having exhausted my own resources, I called to my assistance in the treatment of the case some of the most eminent medical men of the State, without any other result than a palliation of suffering; and in what I regarded as a hopeless condition, I prescribed the Buffalo Lithia Water, Spring No 2, to the exclusion of all other treatment. She has been using the water now for some six weeks, with only occasional symptoms of indigestion, and her improvement has been so marked and decided that she is able to attend regularly to her domestic affairs. For four months before commencing the use of the "Lithia Water," her diet was milk and stale bread, alternated with bread and water and bread and tea. She now eats with impunity almost everything—for breakfast, coffee, bread and butter, mutton chops, broiled chicken &c.; for dinner, mutton, beef, chicken, and any vegetable except irish potatoes, with dessert, such as cake, ice cream, &c. I will add, that this was one of the most distressing and unmanageable cases of Dyspepsia that I have ever seen in a practice of many years, and that the action of the water in it was marvellous."

"TEACHER."

Any one desiring a teacher would do well to address, stating terms,

DR. W. A. WILSON, A. B.,
sept 20-1f. Trinity College.

NEW BOOKS FOR SINGING CLASSES!

JOYFUL NOTES

Is printed in our new combined notes, (a figure set in each round note) for do, a for ra, a for me, etc.) so thoroughly by all to be the best system yet invented, as you have the round notes, and the figures enable those not skilled in reading them to sing them at sight.

HOURS OF SONG
IS THE BEST ROUND NOTE BOOK IN THE FIELD.

HOURS OF SONG and JOYFUL NOTES were prepared by Prof. Jas. H. Fillmore, from long experience and careful observation as a successful teacher. The rudiments are the most thorough, the music grand. Price 50 cents $4.80 per dozen by express; $5.50 per dozen by mail.

FILLMORE BROS., Publishers,
Specimen pages free. CINCINNATI, O.
sept 20-1t

Williams & Haywood,
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN
Drugs, Medicines, Paints, Oils, Dye-Stuffs, Perfumery,
Fancy Articles, Garden Seeds. Fine Teas, Spices Flavoring Extracts.
CIGARS, CHEWING TOBACCO &C.
Keep constantly on hand, at lowest market prices, White Lead, Putty, Kerosene Oil, Linseed Oil, Lamp Oil, Tanner's Oil, Window Glass, Varnish, &c., &c.

SERMONS.

BY E. M. MARVIN, D.D., LL.D.,
One of the Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church South.

Edited by T. O. SUMMERS, D.D

12mo, Muslin. Pages 552.

This book will be ready by the 10th of August. Price Two Dollars, with twenty-five per cent discount to Preachers. It will be sent, post-paid, to any address on receipt on retail price, The money must accompany all orders.

A. H. REDFORD, Bait.

USE the MODEL PRESS
and do all your own Printing. Price, $4 to $35.
BEST IN THE WORLD
For Business Men and Young Printers.
Thousands in use. Send two 3 cent stamps for a pretty illustrated 60 page Catalogue and Price List, entitled, "How to Print." J. W. Pasco & Co., Mfrs. and Dealers in Type and Printing Material, 624 & 626 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.
aug 13 3t eow.

"DOMESTIC" SEWING MACHINES.
Liberal Terms of Exchange for Second-hand Machines of every description.
"DOMESTIC" PAPER FASHIONS.
The Best Patterns made. Send 3cts. for Catalogue.
Address DOMESTIC SEWING MACHINE CO.
AGENTS WANTED. "68 NEW YORK.
oct 20-13t. eow.

SELLERS' LIVER PILLS.
Sellers' Liver Pills have stood the Thirty years' Standard Remedy for the cure of Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, and all derangements of the Liver.
Sellers' Vermifuge, the great Worm Destroyer, expelled 400 worms from one child. 2 years old. Mrs. Sarah M. Louis Mo. Price of each, 25c. If your druggist don't keep them, send 50c. for either to H. F. SELLERS & CO., Props., Pittsburgh, Pa.
apl 26 1y eow.

THE NORTH CAROLINA FARMER.

Jas. H. Ennis, Jr., Says: I have been a practical farmer for forty years, and during that time have taken the best agricultural papers of the day, and I undertake to say that there is more valuable practical information to our farmers in the first and second numbers of the North Carolina Farmer than in any dozen copies of any of the Agricultural Journals I have taken; and I do most earnestly recommend it to every farmer in our State as the paper for him, above all others.

Terms, Invariably in Advance.
One year, $1.00
5 copies " " 4.00
10 " " 7.00
Address
J. H. ENNIS & CO. Publishers,
Aug 30 1f. Raleigh, N. C.

THE BUFFALO LITHIA WATERS
IN THE Nausea and Other Sufferings Incident to PREGNANCY.

Extract from letter of DR. C. WINSLOW, (Dr. Winslow has reference to the Waters of Spring No. 2) a leading Practitioner of the City of Baltimore, of Feb. 26th, 1876:

"In several cases I have found this water of marked service in relieving the nausea of pregnant women. I frequently resort to it at intervals during the whole course of pregnancy Being antacid, laxative, diuretic and tonic, it seems well adapted to relieve the disturbance usually attendant upon gestation, and I have no doubt its free use might remove uremic poison and prevent convulsions produced thereby."

PREGNANCY.

Letter of Rev. Robert Burton, (a minister of the Baptist Church,) of Mecklenburg County, Virginia.

NEAR CHASE CITY, VA., May 1 1876.

COL. GOODE, Dear Sir: At your request I give you substantially a statement which I have heretofore made to you verbally, and I think on a former occasion in writing also, as to the Buffalo Lithia Waters as a remedial agent in the disturbances incident to pregnancy.

For more than twenty years I have been an occasional visitor to the Buffalo Springs, and have in several instances had reason to watch with deep interest the effects of the water upon females in that condition. As the result of close and interested observation of the effects of the water in such cases I have no hesitation in expressing the conviction that as a remedy in the nausea and other sufferings often experienced under those circumstances there is nothing at all comparable to the water. I cannot be mistaken in the fact that it diminishes both the discomforts and dangers accompanying the period of gestation. I can and do most conscientiously recommend its use in all such cases. Respectfully, your obedient servant,

ROBERT BURTON.

THE FOLLOWING LETTER

Is from Rev Jos Lear, an old and well known member of the Virginia Methodist Conference.

It states the benefit derived by his daughter, Mrs. L. E Blake, of Petersburg, Va., both in Dyspepsia and Kidney Affections, and also the beneficial action of the water upon her when in a delicate condition.

PETERSBURG, VA., June 1, 1876.

COL. THOMAS F. GOODE, Dear Sir:—It affords me great pleasure to join my testimony to the remarkable virtues of the Buffalo Lithia Waters as shown in the case of my daughter, Mrs. L. E. Clarke, of this city. In 1874, previous to her marriage, she was almost completely by ken down in health by a derangement of the Digestive Organs, for which she took home remedies. In this condition she commenced the use of the Buffalo Water, Spring No 1, by which she was restored to perfect health. After her marriage, and some months previous to her confinement, her sufferings from nausea and debility were such as to excite the apprehension for the result, but by the use of the waters of Spring No 2, she soon bid defiance to from nausea, and increased strength. She regarded the water as an especial benefit to her at this time. After her confinement, she had an affection of the kidneys, which caused her much pain, but by the advice of her Physician, she again had recourse to the waters, Spring No. 2, and was entirely relieved by it. She now regards the Buffalo Waters as a remedy for all her ailments.

Respectfully, JOSEPH LEAR.

In Dyspepsia, affections of the kidneys and bladder, and in the peculiar diseases of women, these waters are regarded as well nigh specific. They are for sale in cases of one dozen half gallon bottles at $5 per case.

THOS. F. GOODE, Proprietor
Buffalo Lithia Springs, Va.,
Sept 6-3mos. Mecklenburg Co., Va.

LUMPS OF GOLD!

ALL

In the land can now make her own Soap with a few cents worth of Rosin and Concentrated Lye. Has not been heard of, except in this paper, for all dissolves! Our Agents can make money selling it. Every family can use many dollars worth per month.

BUY

and use it. Have you ever heard of "ROSINOLINE," or refined Rosin? It is an article that is destined to take the market by storm. It is a substitute for Butter, but it is an article of such merit, and just what the people want, it sells itself.

THE

Article we now introduce to every family in the land, is a substitute for Butter, and is called ROSINOLINE. It is a refined Rosin, and is far superior to any Rosin Butter ever before offered to the public. It is not an imitation Butter in its nature and essence, but is entirely different. It is a substitute for Butter, and is far superior to Butter in its purest and most perfect state. It is perfectly harmless, and is made from the purest Rosin. ROSINOLINE is free from ONE-HALF the quantity of salt required in Butter, and is not liable to become rancid. It will keep in any climate, and in any temperature. It will not color like Butter, and is not liable to color anything it touches. It is a pure article, and is entirely free from all acids

Children's Column.

A Little Every Day.

The longest life is made up of sim- —ple or many; but the days —ge to years, and give the means —ent for the last.

That is as at the last what the days have been. Let the children, therefore, look after the days—one day at a time—and put into each one some- —thing that will last—something worth —ber, something worth remembering, —something worth imitating by those —ho follow us.

Every day a little knowledge, a —fact in a day. How small a thing —ese facts! Only one! Ten years —by. Three thousand six hundred —ese facts are not a small thing. —Every day a little self denial. —— that is difficult to do to day —s an easy thing to do three —and sixty days hence, if each —shall have been repeated. —power of self mastery shall be —, looking to God for his —, seeks every day to practice the —prays for!

Every day a little helpfulness. —for the good of others, if our —may sense true living. It —great deeds of philan- —but every blessing is found. —little deeds of kindness."

Every day, we find that happ —At home, at school, in the —of God's house, on the —and we shall find opportuni- —to please others.

A little look into the —every day. What a —knowledge one may —in ten years! Every day a —added to memory. What —in the sand at the end of —ey are!

VINES.—While I was —in the garden one bright —breeze came through and —flowers and leaves a flat- —Not that is the way flowers —, I said to myself, as I —up my ears and —to my sister tree said:

"—, shakes off your caterpil —," said a dozen all together, —ve like some children who —ow," when they are told —. Bad children those. —Dear me!

—n't they'll gobble you —leaves set themselves a —all the caterpillars were sha- —ular rose, who shook off —ne, and she said to herself: —'s a beauty. I'll keep that —elder orchard her, and call- —gular is enough to spoil —and the rose, look at his —crimson fur, and his —black eyes, and scores of —. I want to keep him. Sure —best one.'

—gs after I passed the —. There was not a whole —beauty was gone, she —ffled and had only life —ver her folly, while —like raindrops on her —. I think one caterpillar —ugly fat ruined many.

Weekly.

Agricultural and Domestic.

Cultivation of Clover.

(Trifolium Pratense.)

Clover is a leguminous, biennial —ay of which are in- —ost all parts of the —. Under certain circumstances —become perennial. In Eng- —, Scotland and Germany, red clo- —ranked as an exotic, and it is dif- —to say to that country it is in- —. It has become an almost —favor among agriculturists —country; and in many portions —, almost —growing districts it is —ught to be indispensable in raising —crop of that staple. As a fertilizer —has not an equal among any of the —ivating plants.

MANURE.

—ils that are light and porous are —ly deficient in the mineral ma- —, and cannot produce clover to —ge unless a proper fertilizer be —. Ashes contain potash: plas- —ter contains lime and sulphuric acid, —ost contains soda and chlorine. —that those articles are pro- —fertilizers for clover. Besides the —ssential material of clover, it con- —starch, sugar, albumen, gluten, —, which are composed of carbon, —, hydrogen and nitrogen. These —, in part, from the atmos- —and may be supplied, in part, —ommon barn yard manure, before —has gone much decomposition —be applied to clover fixes the —, and the sulphuric acid of the —decomposes itself from the lime —, with the ammonia, and —carbonate of ammonia, and holds —, thus preventing its escape into the —as of gas, till the growing plant ap- —ropriates it to itself.

TRANSPLANT EVERGREENS.—

—ere are advocates of three theories, —ransplanting in the fall, in early —, and late spring; and again, —there have serious objections to any —r all of these plans. One grower says he would not plant any kind of a tree in the fall on heavy soil, as they will be often thrown out by the frost. We transplanted a fine lot of evergreens (Norway spruce) in August, as recommended by a nurseryman, protected them, but they were all dead in spring. We tried planting in early spring, but had the same result. At last we tried the first two weeks of June, and succeeded admirably. We transplanted some Hemlock Spruce in September and the first of October, taking care to mulch the roots of the trees. These, too, have kept well. From our own personal experience, the best time to plant evergreen trees is between the fifteenth of May and fifteenth of June, and for hardy evergreens the month of September or October is good. Mulch the ground well, and be particular to see that the trees are well packed, and the roots kept moist and unexposed. Choose a wet, moist day for digging, and also for transplanting. Our own experience in transplanting evergreens has been to plant in the latter part of May and the first two weeks of June. An evergreen should be planted as soon after it is taken from the ground as possible. Do not let the roots get at all day. When planting pulverize and fix the soil well around the roots. If in an exposed situation stake the tree.—Horticulturist.

BRING THAT WILL PRESERVE BUTTER A YEAR.—Among the many devices for keeping butter in a manner that will preserve the fresh, rosy flavor of the new, with all its sweetness, is the following from the Duchess Farmer, which is said to be entirely successful: "To three gallons of brine, strong enough to bear an egg, add a quarter of a pound of nice white sugar, and one table spoonful of saltpeter. Boil the brine, and when it is cold strain carefully. Make your butter into rolls, and wrap each separately in a clean white muslin cloth, tying up with a string. Pack a large jar full, weight the butter down until all is submerged. This will keep really good butter perfectly sweet and fresh for a whole year. Be careful to not put upon ice butter that you wish to keep any length of time. In summer, when the heat will not admit of butter being made into rolls, pack closely in small jars, and, using the same brine, allow it to cover the butter to the depth of at least four inches. This excludes the air, and answers very nearly as well as the first method suggested."

Patients brought to the brink of the grave by diseases of the Lungs can be saved by the prompt use of Baker's Cod Liver Oil and Phosphate of Lime. It is decidedly pleasant in taste, and can be borne by the most delicate stomach. Invaluable in diseases of children, Scrofula, Debility, etc. Jos. C. BAKER & Co., Philadelphia.

How to Vanquish the Stomach's Tormentor,

If the Enemy of mankind was permitted to exert his diabolical ingenuity in the inventing of a new disease, he could scarcely devise one more worthy of his genius than dyspepsia. The apposite epithet is instructed by symptoms resembling those of almost every known malady, and is often worried into erroneously by those conflicting and perplexing manifestations. A favorite though absurd hallucination of a victim of chronic indigestion is that he or she has heart disease. Dyspepsia has often been pronounced incurable but experience has shown that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will vanquish it, together with the constipation and bilious derangement which usually accompany it. Diseases of the kidneys and supposed rheumatic pains are also frequent concomitants of dyspepsia, but they, too, succumb to the renowned bodi-guarde corrective. sept 2-6m

THE BUFFALO

LITHIA WATERS

— IN —

Protracted Intermittent and Remittent Fevers.

Extract from Letter of Dr. O. F. Manson, Professor of General Pathology and Physiology to the Medical College, Richmond, Va., July 6th, 1876.

"These waters have been found especially curative by cases of chronic intermittent fever, many incurable cases having been thereby restored to perfect health in a brief space of time."

Extract from Pamphlet of Dr. S. Harris on these Waters, published in 1850.

PROVED CONSTITUTIONAL AND REMITTENT FEVERS.

"In the chronic forms of these troublesome complaints, the Buffalo water acts most happily, and, if persevered in, often effects a permanent cure. Those enlargements of the liver and spleen, concomitants of these affections, are simultaneously relieved with the chill and fever."

Case of E. K. Harris, Esq., of the Virginia Bar, now Elector for the State upon the Democratic Presidential ticket.

Extract from Letter, dated Buffalo Springs, August 29th, 1874.

"Some years ago my health was completely worn down and prostrated by a protracted case of chills and fever. After using all the remedies indicated in such cases in vain, I visited this most noted watering place of the mountains of Virginia, without deriving any benefit, almost in despair of obtaining relief from any source, I left the mountains and came to these springs, where, in a few weeks, I was entirely restored to health."

Evidences of the great powers of these Waters in Chronic Intermittent and Remittent Fever might be multiplied to almost any extent, both from professional and unprofessional sources.

THOS. T. GOOCH, PROPRIETOR
Buffalo Lithia Springs,
Mecklenburg Co., Va.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, } In Equity.
Wake County, } Aug. 16th, 1876.

E. E. STAMPS, Trustee, ex. N. A. Taylor and Jas. S. Purnell, vs.

It appearing to the satisfaction of the Court upon affidavit that the defendant, N. A. Taylor, is a necessary party to this suit, and that after due diligence he cannot be found in this State, it is ordered by the Court that service by publication of the summons in this cause be made upon the said defendant for at least once a week for six weeks in the Raleigh News, a newspaper published in the city of Raleigh, and that a copy of the same be mailed to said defendant at the place of his residence if such be known.

J. N. BENTING,
Clerk.

WAKE COUNTY.—In the Superior Court.

E. E. Stamps, Trustee, &c.,
vs. } Summons for Relief.
N. A. Taylor and Jas. S. Purnell.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, }
Wake County. }

To the sheriff of said County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon N. A. Taylor and James S. Purnell, the Defendants above named, if they be found within your county, to appear at the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court for the County of Wake, within 20 days after the service of this summons on them, exclusive of the day of such service, and answer the complaint, a copy of which will be deposited in the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court for said County, within ten days from the date of this summons, and let them take notice that if they fail to answer the said complaint within that time, the Plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Hereof fail not, and of this summons make due return.

Given under my hand and the seal of said Court, this 16th day of August A. D. 1876.

J. N. BENTING,
Clerk Superior Court Wake County.

aug 23-6ws

Notice.—Let Dr. Tutt's Liver Pills be used in time of Chills and Fever, Dumb Chills, Fever and Ague, Bilious Fever, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Piles, &c. Price, 25 cts. Office, 39 Park Place, N. Y.

aug 30-1y.

WESLEYAN FEMALE INSTITUTE.
STAUNTON, VA.

Will begin its twenty-seventh Annual Session, September 21st, 1876. Rev. W. A. HARRIS, D. D., President, with an able corps of over Thirty Teachers and Officers.

Modern Languages taught and [illegible] logely by a Klinger-in Teacher. Music by [illegible] ors and Teachers, among whom are [illegible] most cultivated teachers of vocal music in the South.

This is one of the healthiest climates in the Union. Its invited efforts in the rapid promotion of the health and vigor of our pupils. Those who come here from the south with feeble constitutions, and climatic diseases, are generally restored.

Buildings elegant—fanned by purest breezes, commanding the most magnificent scenery, and combining each varied attractions as to make it one of the most delightful colleges homes in the Union.

This school is usually attended by pupils from fifteen to seventeen different States.

Grand economy and simplicity in dress are required. A simple uniform is worn. No unnecessary expense allowed. Strict economy practiced to limit expenses of pupils.

From Bishop D. S. Doggett, D. D.

The Wesleyan Female Institute, located in Staunton, Va., under the Presidency of Rev. W. A. Harris, is, in my judgment, one of the best institutions, for young ladies, in the South. I have occasion to know and appreciate its value by the advantages enjoyed by one of my daughters there. Its course of study is ample, its Faculty accomplished, and its instruction hitherto of a high grade. Its personal recommendations are all that can be desired for health and comfort, or taste. No location could be more healthy, no scenery more enchanting, without which no Female College especially, could be a blessing.

D. S. DOGGETT

From Bishop E. M. Marvin, D. D.

The Wesleyan Female Institute is an honor to the country. Instruction is thorough. In music, advantages are of the very highest order. Too much cannot be said in praise of my friend, who, neither pains nor expenses are spared to make this department excellent.

From Prof. F. H. Smith, M. A. L. L. D., University of Virginia.

The Wesleyan Female Institute, at Staunton, deserves my hearty success in all ways. Having had charge for some Mr. Harris' care, my observations leads me to believe this school to be one of the best Female Seminaries where under our State. * * The Hall of the Wesleyan Female Institute would be full to overflowing if filled with pupils from all our South ern States.

FRANCIS H. SMITH.

There will be ENTIRE CHANGE OF FACULTY for the Collegiate Year. Board per Calendar month in the C. Regular course, $240. For Catalogues, address

Rev. W. A. HARRIS, President.
Staunton, Va.

JOHN J. FRAY'S
CLASSICAL AND MATHEMATICAL SCHOOL.

The 19th session of my school will begin on Sept. 4th, 1876, and will continue 9 months as heretofore. Boarding pupils will be received in my family on the S. C. R. R. 7 miles distant from Raleigh.

Day pupils can be accommodated in Raleigh.

For further particulars address

JOHN J. FRAY,
Raleigh, N. C.

References: The faculty of the University of Va., Rev. R. F. Bell, D. D., Rev. W. H. Robbitt, Rev. J. B. Hyer, D. D., Rev. J. P. Moore.

aug 2-6w.

Monroe High School,
MONROE, N. C.,

The next session will begin Aug. 15th.
Expenses $20 to $25.
For catalogue containing particulars,
Address, J. D. HODGES, Prin.
July 26-3t. Monroe, N. C.

Greensboro Female College,
GREENSBORO, N. C.

The Fall Session will begin on Wednesday 23d of August, and continue 22 weeks.

Board (including use of sciences and lights) $75
Tuition in regular English course 25
For catalogue, apply to Rev. T. M. Jones, President.
N. H. D. WILSON,
President Board of Trustees.

June 21-2m

Trinity College, N. C.

The Session begins Sept. 5th. Tuition $20 to $40; for those in collegiate board $100 per month. Entire expenses for five months $75 to $90.

Send for Catalogue.

H. CRAVEN.

aug 23-6.

LORD & TAYLOR
New York,

WILL OFFER

EXTRAORDINARY BARGAINS
IN ALL THEIR DEPARTMENTS,
COMMENCING MAY 1ST.

RICH BACK SILKS,
OF THE MOST CELEBRATED LYONS LOOMS.
At $1.25, REDUCED FROM $1.50.
At $1.50, REDUCED FROM $1.75.
At $1.75, REDUCED FROM $2.25.
At $2.00, REDUCED FROM $2.50.

Plain Colored and Fancy Silks
At 50c, REDUCED FROM $1.12½.
At $1.00, REDUCED FROM $1.25.
At $1.25, REDUCED FROM $1.50.
At $1.50, REDUCED FROM $1.90.

ELEGANT NOVELTIES IN DRESS GOODS,
IN CAMEL'S-HAIR, CHINTZES, AND BAREGES,
REDUCED FROM 50c., 75c., and $1, FROM $1.25, $1.50, $1.75, AND $2.

Popular Dress Goods
In new and fashionable Fabrics and Colors offered at 12½, Formerly Price 18c.
18c., Formerly Price 25c.
20c., Reduced Price 30c.
25c., Formerly Price 37½c.
33c., Former Price 50c., to 56c.

Real India Shawls
At $25, $30, AND $35,
Formerly sold at $30, $40, and $50.

Black and Scarlet Stella Shawls
At $35, $45, AND $60,
Former Prices $50, $65 and $85.

Llama, Ottoman and Shetland Shawls
At $12.50 to $15,
REDUCED FROM $18 to $8.

Ladies' and Misses' Suits
THE LATEST PARIS STYLES,
FROM $10 UPWARDS.
Embracing the choicest Novelties at Enormous Reductions.

LADIES' & CHILDREN'S UNDERWEAR
AN IMMENSE STOCK OF MOST BEAUTIFUL AND RELIABLE GOODS,
All at very Great Reductions.

Ladies', Children's and Gentlemen's
HOSIERY.
BEST ENGLISH, FRENCH, AND GERMAN GOODS,
All marked at Lowest Possible Prices.

Our Print, Domestic and Housekeeping Departments
ARE THOROUGHLY STOCKED WITH THE BEST GOODS,
At the Lowest Package Prices.
Beautiful American Printed Calico, and 4c. per yard.
Standard 4-4 Bleached Sheets at 10c.
Lonsdale Shirting at 10c., New York Mills, 12½c., and 5-4 Sheetings at 12½c.

TABLE AND OTHER LINENS
IN ALL THE VARIOUS GRADES, AT BARGAINS.

IN CARPETINGS
(WHICH WE KEEP AT THE GRAND STREET STORE ONLY), EMBRACING English and American Tapestry, at 87½,
Former Price $1.15.
Body Brussels at 87½, Former Price $1.00.
All Wool Ingrain at 37½, Former Prices 50c.
Three-Ply Ingrain at 31½,
Former Price $1.00.
Oil Cloth at 37½, to 50c.,
Former Prices 50c., to 65c.

Samples of Goods, and Catalogues of Ladies' and Misses' Suits and Muslin Underwear, and Infants' Outfits, sent free of charge to all sections of the United States.

Rules for Self-Measurement sent on application to all parts of the country.

Orders for Goods to fill Kinds will be carefully attended to, and the goods packed so as to avoid chafing.

BROADWAY AND TWENTIETH ST.
GRAND AND CHRYSTIE STS, N. Y.
May 31-2m.

Solvency! Stability! Promptness!

THE NORTH CAROLINA HOME
Insurance Co.,
OF RALEIGH,

CONTINUES TO WRITE POLICIES ON ALL CLASSES OF INSURABLE PROPERTY ON THE MOST REASONABLE TERMS.

Capital and Assets - - $190,000!

Its Stockholders are among the most prominent and responsible business men in the State.

During its existence it has paid all its losses, for losses, over $10,000), and its accumulated earnings have been loaned to our own people.

AGENTS IN EVERY COUNTY
IN THE STATE

E. H. BATTLE, Jr., President.
C. B. LEDE, Vice President.
SEATON GALES, Secretary.
P. COWPER, Superintendent of Agencies apl 20-6t.

CRYSTAL METAL BRONZED BELLS
FOR CHURCHES,
SCHOOL HOUSES,
FACTORIES,
SHOPS,
PLANTATIONS.

These Bells are composed of the pure crystal metal, and the cheapness and weight of metal in them is such as to give the best possible results. They are to many others, no matter under what name they may be sold, called "STEEL COMPOSITION" or "CAMALOAM," and such.

SUPERIOR IN TONE AND FINISH

Guaranteed to Give Satisfaction.

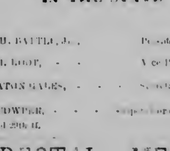
The CHEAPEST BELL MADE.

Church Bells furnished at Cost.

T. H. BRIGGS & SONS,
Briggs Building,
RALEIGH, N. C.

DEALER IN
Hardware, Building Material, Wagon and Buggy Material, Paints, Oils, Glass, Sash, Doors and Blinds. Write for Prices. No charge for Packing or Drayage. apl 13-6t.

TYSON & JONES



Carriage Builders,
CARTHAGE, N. C.

Having recently repaired our Facilities for Manufacturing, we are prepared to furnish Vehicles of the BEST QUALITY on short notice and at comparatively low prices. Vehicles shipped at Sanford, Raleigh and Ghaham R. R. or Raleigh to any part of the State.

We feel confident that, with the close attention we give the business, together with the materials used, the finest workmanship employed, and the many years experience we have in manufacturing FIRST CLASS VEHICLES, no house in the country can excel us in STYLE, FINISH, DURABILITY AND Low Prices.

We manufacture and keep constantly on hand carriages of the Best Quality.

Repairing neatly Done at Short Notice Send for Circular.

July 21 1-y

Established 1816.

CHAS. SIMON & SONS,
No. 62 N. HOWARD STREET, BALTIMORE.
DEALERS IN
FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC
DRY GOODS,
would call special attention to their extensive stock of
DRESS GOODS,
LINEN GOODS,
EMBROIDERIES,
LACES AND HOSIERY
The best assortment of Mourning Goods
in the city.
SAMPLES SENT FREE!

All orders amounting to $20 or over, will be sent free of freight charges by Rail Road, but parties whose orders are not accompanied by the money, and having their Goods sent C. O. D., must pay for return of the money. mch 1-1m

L. BRANSON,
BOOKSELLER
—AND—
STATIONER.
RALEIGH, N. C.

School Books a Specialty.

Everything in my line cheap for cash. mch 22-tf.

THE WATT PLOW

JAMES D. TOWLES, Sole Agent, Raleigh, Keeps constantly on hand a full supply of these plows and castings.

May 19-3m.

$42 A WEEK, $12 a day at home. Agents wanted everywhere. Business permanent and first-class. For further particulars, address J. KENNEDY & Co., Bismarck, Ind.

SCHEDULES.

PIEDMONT AIR-LINE RAILWAY.

RICHMOND & DANVILLE, RICHMOND & DANVILLE R. W., N. C. DIVISION, and NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. W.

CONDENSED TIME-TABLE.
IN EFFECT ON AND AFTER SUNDAY, SEPT. 3RD, 1876.

GOING NORTH.

STATIONS.	MAIL.	EXPRESS.
Leave Charlotte.....	5.55 A M	2.15 A M
" Air-Line Junct'n	6.10 "	2.40 "
" Salisbury.....	8.04 "	4.19 "
" Greensboro'.....	10.58 "	6.47 "
" Danville.....	1.47 P M	8.54 "
" Burkeville.....	3.05 "	9.01 "
" Barksville.....	4.40 "	12.15 P M
Arrive at Richmond..	5.05 P M	3.19 P M

GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS.	MAIL.	EXPRESS.
Leave Richmond.....	5.50 A M	1.10 P M
" Burkeville.....	9.00 "	3.54 "
" Danville.....	1.50 P M	8.15 "
" Barksville.....	1.55 "	8.20 "
" Greensboro'...	4.35 "	10.25 "
" Salisbury.....	7.01 "	1.35 A M
" Air-Line Junct'n	8.46 "	2.29 "
Arrive at Charlotte..	9.05 "	2.42 A M

STATIONS.	GOING EAST. MAIL.	GOING WEST MAIL.
Leave Greensboro'.....	5.30 A M	Arrive 9.10 P M
" Company Shops.....	5.45 "	Leave 8.55 "
Arrive at Raleigh.....	9.25 "	Leave 8.00 "
Arrive at Goldsboro'....	11.15 P M	Leave 6.00 A M

STATIONS.	ACCOMMODATION TRAIN.
Leave Greensboro'.....	5.30 A M	Arrive 2.10 P M
" Company Shops.....	5.45 "	Leave 1.55 "
Arrive at Raleigh.....	9.25 "	Leave 1.00 "
Arrive at Goldsboro'....	2.15 P M	Leave 6.00 A M

NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. R.

(SALEM BRANCH.)

Leave Greensboro'.....	5.30 P M.
Arrive at Salem.....	12.15 A M.
Leave Salem.....	5.30 A M.
Arrive at Greensboro'.....	12.00 M.

Passenger Trains leaving Raleigh at 5.30 P. M. connect at Greensboro' with the South bound train, making the quickest time to all Southern cities. Through Tickets same as via other routes.

Accommodation Train leaving Greensboro at 5.30 A. M. connects at Gallimore with Accommodation South bound Train on the Whitsett and Western Railroad.

Special rates over the Piedmont Air-Line, Richmond & Danville R. W., N. C. Division and North Western N. C. R. W. to Centennial Exhibition.

No Change of Cars between Atlanta and Richmond, 547 Miles.

Sample Rooms for Drummers in Passenger Depots at Greensboro' and Charlotte.

Close connections at Burkeville with Accommodation Train for Lynchburg.

For further information apply to

JOHN R. MACMICHEN,
Gen'l Passenger Agent,
Richmond, Va.

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE.

RALEIGH & GASTON RAILROAD CO.

On and after Friday, May 26th, 1876, trains on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad, will run daily (except Sundays) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Leave Raleigh,	8.45 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon,	3.30 P. M.
Leaves Weldon,	9.50 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh,	4.45 P. M.

ACCOMMODATION TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh,	5.15 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon,	5.10 P. M.
Leaves Weldon,	2.2 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh,	2.45 P. M.

Mail train makes close connection at Weldon, with Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad and Bay Line steamers via Baltimore, to and from all points North, West and Northwest, and with Petersburg Railroad and Petersburg, Richmond and Washington City Route and all points North and Northwest.

At or at Raleigh, with the North Carolina Railroad to and from all points South and Southwest, and with Raleigh & Augusta Air-Line to Raymond and Fayetteville.

RALEIGH & AUGUSTA AIR-LINE RAILROAD.

SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE, }
Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 27th, 1876. }

On and after Monday, October 30th, 1876, trains on the R. & A. A. L. Road will run daily, (Sundays excepted,) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Train leaves Raleigh,	4.00 P. M.
Arrives at Sanford,	6.25 "
Train leaves Sanford,	6.50 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh,	9.25 "

FREIGHT TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh,	5.15 A. M.
Arrives at Sanford,	10.30 P. M.
Leaves Sanford,	11.00 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh,	3.45 P. M.

Mail train makes close connection at Raleigh with the R. & G. R. R. to and from all points North and West.

Mail train at Sanford with the Western Railroad, to and from Fayetteville and points on Western Railroad.

DEPOT SUPT. OF TRANSPORTATION, }
Seaboard & Roanoke R. Road, }
Portsmouth, Va., Jan. 1st, 1875. }

On and after this date, trains of this Road will leave Weldon daily, Sundays excepted, as follows:

Mail train at	4 P. M.
No. 1 Freight train at	4 A. M.
No. 2 Freight train at	8 A. M.

ARRIVE AT PORTSMOUTH.

Mail train at	7 15 P. M.
No. 1 Freight at	12 00 NOON
No. 2 Freight at	4 00 P. M.

Freight trains have a passenger car attached.

Steamer for Edenton, Plymouth and Intermediate Landings on Blackwater and Chowan Rivers leave Franklin at 7.45 A. M. on Sundays Wednesdays and Fridays.

R. G. GHIO,
Supt. Transportation.

OLD NORTH STATE
FIRE
Insurance Company,
OF
WARRENTON, - - - - - N. C.

This Company has closed its third year in a condition of GREAT PROSPERITY, and entered upon its fourth year under the MOST PROMISING AUSPICES.

It deserves the liberal patronage which it is receiving because

It is a home Institution.
It has ample Capital and Reserves.
It pays its losses promptly.

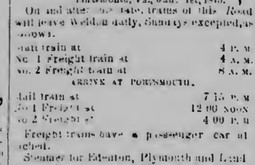
ASSETS.

Cash on hand and in Bank,.....	$ 8421 53
Cash in hands of Agents,.....	4,284 09
Stock Notes,.....	45,670 00
Real Estate Mortgage,.....	59,998 80
Loaned on Collaterals,.....	7,647 68
Due for premiums,.....	3,720 63
Interest due and accrued,.....	914 55
	$130,257 19

LIABILITIES:

All liabilities including full re- Insurance Reserved,...	$18,481 81
Surplus,.....	111,816 38
	$130,297 .2

WM. S. DAVIS, President.
B. F. LONG, Secretary.



apl 12-1y.

AGENTS FIND THAT THE FULL HISTORY OF THE Wonderful career of MOODY & SANKEY in Great Britain and America is a success everywhere. All want it—sell on sight. From 5 to 20 books a day's work. It is the only complete work published, containing Mr. Moody's Sermons and Prayer Meeting Talks. Sankey's Addresses, and everything of interest. Has 611 pages, fine portraits, and 12 engravings. Price $2. Address H. S. GOODSPEED & Co., 11 Barclay Street, New York.

OAKSHADE BERKSHIRES!

First-Class, pure Blooded Pigs, of the best families ever imported to the United States, entitled to entry in the Berkshire Herd Book, constantly for sale. Prices at 2½ months old, delivered in Express, $10 each. Also thoroughbred Cotswold Lambs at $10 each. 1 Pure ANGORA BUCK at $25.

T. W. Harris,
Oakshade Farm, Pittsboro, N. C.

June 7-3y.

A NEW BOOK.
"Our Children."

This is the little ol a new book now in press by Rev. Atticus G. Haygood, D. D., President of Emory College, with an introduction by Dr. Lovick Pierce. The book is to contain nearly 250 pages 12 mo. and to be gotten out in the very best style. Price $1.50 per copy. We give the table of contents which can but sharpen the appetite of the reader for the coming volume. It is emphatically a book for parents, preachers and children.

TABLE OF CONTENTS.
Part I—The Family.

Chapter. I. Childhood.
II. Childhood and Religion.
III. Presence of Spirit an Invaluable Blessing.
IV. The Disciplining and Quickening Spirit.
V. On More Ability to Talk Religion.
VI. "Feed My Lambs."
VII. The Family—Its Basis in Marriage.
VIII. The Family—The Basis of Church and State.
IX. The Family—A School of Religion.
X. The Duty of Teaching God's Word to our Children.
XI. Training as well as Teaching.
XII. What the Sabbath Should Signify.
XIII. Home Influences.
XIV. The Christian Home.
XV. The Family Altar.
XVI. Ethical Lessons.
XVII. Idolatry.
Part II—The Sunday School.
Chapter. I. The Magnitude of the Movement.
II. Lost Souls the Sunday School Auxiliary.
III. The Lesson of the Sunday School.
IV. Who should go to the Sunday School.
V. How to Teach.
VI. The Power of the Right Spirit.
VII. A Right Use of Dark Places.
VIII. Stones as a Means of Grace.
IX. Raising Dykes.
X. Tax on Sunday School Work.

Price, $1.50 per copy, postage paid, to any address. The work will be ready to about three weeks. We are trying to secure for the work in Raleigh, and we would be pleased to have it in the presence of the Conference, Sunday schools and all others who may want a fresh and charming book.

Send in your orders at once, and the book will be promptly forwarded

Address,
CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE,
Raleigh, N. C.

RECEIVED TODAY,
Saturday May 27,

10,000 yards more of those beautiful PACIFIC LAWNS at only 8½ per yard. The handsomest we have ever had.

We ask the ladies' attention to our DRESS GOODS, which we are selling lower than any house in the city. Our Black Cobourg ALPINES at 50 cents can't be excelled.

We are in receipt of a full line of Hosiery in the State. Ladies' Black Hose 25 cents a pair.

Gents' Half Hose 10 to 20 cents a pair.

Printing Linen. Superior Quality Silk in all the colors. Those ladies who have used it pronounce it to be the best in the market.

Large stock of Corsets in the city from 50 cents to $2.50.

A splendid line of Gentlemen's Cassimeres and Underwear.

We have also just received a new supply of our Custom Made Shirts—ready made, superior to any in the city, at $1.25.

Handsome Edgings, Ladies' Neck Ties, Gents' Ties and Scarfs in full line.

Most of our Fine Lawn Parasols, which we are selling at a small price.

TO MERCHANTS

We will be glad at any time to show them through our stock, and we believe that some money it they will give us a call.

PETTY & JONES,
20 Fayetteville Street,
Raleigh, N. C.

June 7-tf.

ESTABLISHED 1853.

NEARLY A QUARTER OF A CENTURY'S EXPERIENCE IN THE Boot & Shoe Business.

MARCUS HARRIS & BRO.,
OF NO. 1521 MAIN STREET,
Richmond, Va.,
WHOLESALE DEALERS IN
Boots and Shoes, have a store at the Store,
No. 15 Fayetteville Street.

Orders can be filled at Weldon's Book Store, Raleigh, N. C., and will meet with prompt attention. Messrs. Harris & Bro. keep a full and complete Stock of every description; a good assortment of Ready-made Boots and Shoes; also a full line of Rubber Boots and Sandals.

We are prepared to sell cheaper than any other house in Raleigh, as we buy in very large quantities from the manufacturers and receive low prices.

Ladies are especially invited to call and examine our stock.

We would call the attention of the trade to our stock as we can supply them as low as they can be bought in the North.

All orders promptly attended to. Persons at a distance can order same, and have the privilege of returning the same if they do not fit or suit.

Confident by Express C. O. D.

We have only one price and that the very lowest.

MARCUS HARRIS & BRO.,
No. 15 Fayetteville Street,
Raleigh, N. C.

M. G. Harris goes home by with A. Creech, he will be glad to see his friends and acquaintances.

G. WEIKEL, Salesman.
June 21-6m.

NEW FIRM

TO FRIENDS AND PUBLIC GENERALLY

I have associated with me Mr. G. D. Rand (formerly Rand & Barbee, Louisburg Dealers) as a partner in the wholesale and retail Grocery and General Commission business. I respectfully tender my thanks for past favors and hope to have them continued with the new firm. Yours truly,

January 6, 1876. L. R. WYATT.

G. D. RAND. L. R. WYATT.

RAND & WYATT,
Wholesale and Retail Grocers
AND
COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

Have on hand and are daily receiving a fresh and first class stock of consisting of Flour, a specialty, Meal, Corn, Bacon Lard, Sugar, Coffee, Pepper and Spice, Molasses and Cane Syrup, Toilet and Laundry, Soaps, Wood and Willow ware, Fancy Groceries, &c.

GROCERIES

Everything on hand in a First Class Grocery which we pr pose to sell at lowest figures—Give us a trial. Orders with proper reference respectfully solicited, which shall receive our prompt attention. Consignments of Cotton and other produce solicited. Best prices guaranteed

Yours truly,
RAND & WYATT.

Opp. Eastern end of Market, Raleigh, N. C.

July 12-1 y

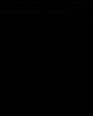
ROCK SPRING SEMINARY,
MALE AND FEMALE.

The next Term begins 1st Wednesday in August and continues 20 weeks. Board $8 per month. Tuition $5 to $20 per term. Music $18. For circular apply to

D. MATT THOMPSON, Principal,
Denver, Lincoln Co., N. C.

July 12-6w.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.



Established 1837.
Superior Bells of Copper and Tin, mounted with the best Rotary Hangings, for Churches, Schools, Farms, Factories, Court-houses, Fire Alarms, Tower Clocks, Chimes, &c. Fully Warranted.
Illustrated Catalogue sent Free.
VANDUZEN & TIFT,
102 and 104 East Second St., Cincinnati.

may 17 1 y.

SEND 25c. to G. P. ROWELL & CO., New York for Pamphlet of 100 pages, containing lists of 3000 newspapers and estimates showing cost of advertising. mch

NEVER BEFORE EQUALLED.
The Largest Stock
ON RECORD!!!

O. WEIKEL HAS RETURNED!

HE IS STILL AT THE OLD STAND WITH A LARGER ASSORTMENT OF SPRING GOODS
THAN EVER.
U. S. CENTENNIAL GOODS.
FOURTH JULY CENTENNIAL GOODS.
1776. Latest Styles. 1876.

Look at my latest Fashion Plates and choose your style.

CLOTHS,
CASSIMERES,
SUITINGS.

In fact anything you want. Come and see me, I know I can suit you.

WEIKEL'S ESTABLISHMENT
is at the old place, one door South of the Southern Express Office.
I GUARANTEE ALL MY FITS.
C. WEIKEL.

May 3-3m.

MUSIC AND MUSIC BOOKS!

The Salutation.

New Church Music Book by L. O. EMERSON. $125, or $12. per dozen.

The Encore

Nearly ready. For Singing Schools. By L. O. EMERSON. 75 cts., or $7.50 per dozen.

Centennial Collection of National Songs

Patriotic Songs of all nations. Paper 40 cts. Boards 50 cts.

Shining River.

Song Book for Sabbath Schools By W. O. PERKINS. 35 cts.

Centennial Hymn.

Whittier—Palme. 30c. 8 vo. form for Societies, 10 cts; per hr. Orchestra, $1.00.

Gov. Hayes' Grand March. With Portrait. 40c.

Tilden & Hendricks' Grd Mch. With Port. 40c.

"Roll Along, Roll Along." Campaign Sg. 40c.

"Hayes and Wheeler are our Choice." 30c.

IN PRESS.

Emerson's Chorus Book, for Societies
Whippoorwill. Song Book for Schools.
Male Voice Glee Book.
Any Book or Piece sent, post-paid, for retail price.

OLIVER DITSON & CO.,
Boston.
C. H. Ditson & Co., 711 Broadway, New York.
J. E. Ditson & Co., Successors to Lee & Walker, Phila.

STIEFF

GRAND, SQUARE, AND UPRIGHT
PIANOS

Have received upwards of FIFTY FIRST PREMIUMS and are among the best now made. Every instrument fully warranted for five years. Prices as low as the exclusive use of the very best materials and the most thorough workmanship will permit. The principal pianists and composers, and the piano-purchasing public of the south especially, unite in the unanimous verdict of the superiority of the STIEFF PIANO. The DURABILITY of our instruments is fully established by over s

Raleigh Christian Advocate.

Robbitt & Gray, Publishers. | Published in the Interests of Methodism in North Carolina. | $2.20 Per Annum, in Advance.

Vol. XXII.—No. 38. | Raleigh, N. C., Wednesday, September 27, 1876. | Whole No. 1,126.

Communicated.

For the Advocate.

Local Minister's Conference for 1876.

The seventh annual session of the Local Ministers' Conference, met in the new church at Rutherford College, August 17th, at 5 P M.

Rev R L Abernethy, President, was in the chair A large number of preachers than usual assembled at the opening, and quite a commendable interest was manifested.

The services of the camp meeting appointed for the same time and place, were opened by Rev D P Meacham on Thursday night.

It was agreed that the Conference exercises should be held in the new church, while the camp meeting should be held in the new college chapel, and should have four services each day, viz: at 9 and 11 A M and 3 and 8 P M

The committee on divine services kept the college chapel supplied with preaching regularly through the entire camp meeting.

The people for miles in every direction came flocking to the camp ground; some in carriages; some on horseback; some in wagons; but all well dressed and well provided with provisions and whatever seemed necessary for the camp meeting.

We have not often seen so large, so well dressed, so orderly, and so devotional an assembly o' people

The pulpit was filled from time to time by E A Wilson, Thos W Kendall, D P Meacham, W G Kellan, J L Henkan, W H England, W M Swafford, L Branson, Robt Helton, Dr T C Durney, D E Warlick, M L Kaylor, F B Kaylor and others

A revival interest was seen from the beginning of the meeting, which continued to increase to the end. Sinners came flocking to the altar and penitents were converted; the singing was joyful, the conversions seemed to be genuine, and many of us began to recall the campmeeting glory of other days

Bro J C Hartsell, the pastor of Happy Home circuit, was with us a part of the time, but was compelled to leave by order of his P E to attend another campmeeting at Bald Creek

Bro J R Good, also of the Conference, and Bro England of the S C Conference were with us, aiding and encouraging.

Our venerable Bro B York, D D, was on hand as usual, and though only recovering from affliction, his presence and wise counsels contributed largely to the success of the meeting and the Conference.

During the progress of the meeting we had many a shout in the camp

Rev Geo W Wetmore of the Episcopal Church, was with us a part of the meeting and seemed greatly to enjoy the Conference and the meeting, and is certainly the earnest part of it.—He is a good and zealous worker: may the Lord bless him wherever he labors!

I now return to the Conference.—Pres Abernethy presided with dispatch and grace Our sessions were from 8 to 11 A M, and from 3 P M, closing at will.

The Committees on Sunday schools, on Temperance, on Missions, on Constitution, on Education, Church literature, &c, reported promptly, and though much discussion was elicited it was in the very best christian spirit

Perhaps one of the most interesting parts of the Conference was the reports of members as to the amount and character of work. The report of each was, I think, more or less valuable to the others, and in this way quite a spirit of emulation was excited, and will no doubt lead to greater zeal and greater success for another year; and this is one of the great designs of the Conference—to increase the spirit of labor and usefulness of the Local Ministry.

From the approved reports it seems that much good has been done in this way during the seven years of the operation of the Conference.

Letters were received from Bishop McTyeire, Dr J B McFerrin and Dr J B Babcock, expressive of warm sympathy and co operation.

These good brethren seem to comprehend the great good that has been accomplished, and that may yet be accomplished by a zealous Local Ministry

The time has come when many of our best men are bidding the Local Conference God speed.

Officers elected for the ensuing year: R L Abernethy, President; E A Wilson, Thos W Kendall, Dr P C Durney, Vice Presidents; L Branson, Financial Secretary.

Jamestown was selected as the next place of meeting on Thursday the 26th of July 1877

Resolutions were passed complimentary to the Rail Roads, presiding officers and the citizens of Rutherford College

Only two ch's were reported for the past year. J A McMannen of Durham, and Pierce of Morganton. It is hoped that friends will furnish the Secretary with suitable memoirs to be inserted in the minutes soon to be published

And now I must say that Rutherford College gave a most beautiful entertainment

The village called Excelsior) is new and beautifully located among the most beautiful hills It has some 50 families

The college is alive and vigorous—a great work is being done here for the cause of education and religion.—It is wonderful to see so large a number of students both male and female, so studious, so orderly and so pious.

L Branson, Sec.

P S—Bro Abernethy made a very beautiful speech for the Advocate.

For the Advocate.

Misses Pearce and Mitchell met by appointment in connection with the 3rd Quarterly Conference of Neuse Circuit was held at Grantsboro commencing July 27th, 1876, by electing Rev J J Harden President; Bros Saml G Watson and S A Latham Vice Presidents; D C Styron and W A Thompson Secretaries; A S Aldridge and G D Langston Stewards; Walter Barrington and B West, Ushers.

By invitation Bro R D McCotter addressed the audience, selecting for his subject "Education." This was a chaste and elegant production, delivered in a pleasant and attractive manner. His thoughts were well conceived and eloquently expressed.

The morning services were closed by a short but pathetic address by the chairman

The evening exercises commenced with religious services Bro Jas Brinson and Mr Wm Cayhoe made a few pointed remarks, followed by the chair—in an eloquent address on "What Methodism has done and how she has done it" His pictures of Methodism were graphically drawn, and we are mistaken in our augury if the Methodists present did not secretly resolve to "stand in the way and inquire for the old paths" and continue with renewed energy to walk there in.

The attendance was very good and behaviour as it should be. It is devoutly hoped that great good may result from our Centennial services.

Grantsboro is a pleasant rural village near the centre of the Neuse circuit The inhabitants appear to be refined and hospitably hospitable, and we should think the religious element considerably developed among them. Neuse Circuit ought to have a first class school and Grantsboro is the place for it.

We have a new and comfortable Parsonage at Grantsboro, for which we are indebted to the indomitable energy of our beloved pastor.

While we confess our love for Methodism and cheerfully submit to its rules and regulations, we can but indulge our regrets that those regulations forbid his remaining with us a lifetime—and wherever the dispensations of Providence shall have separated him from us he shall carry with him our kindest and most cherished regards for himself and family.

D C Styron,
W A Thompson,
Secretaries.

The Sunday School

Again when God is mightily present, it will always be seen in the Sabbath school That is the place where we marshal the next generation of God Oh, what a place in which to work! what a place in which to pray! This afternoon go and look down from the galleries upon that wonderful scene, and ask yourself, "Where are all those little ones going to? For what sphere of usefulness of wretchedness here? For what kind of an eternity are their souls bound?" Oh! what a place it is to teach; what a place it is even to watch! Hark! I hear them coming—the tramp of the little feet of twelve hundred souls that are coming with shouts of "Hosanna" in the temple, while angels of God are crying "Harvest Home!" Oh! that this afternoon the Shepherd of Israel might gather all the lambs into his bosom. We have evidence that God is present with us, because he has mightily moved upon the young hearts: and if you are there to day you will see the teacher surrounded by little ones, all radiant, all attentive, waiting for the word of everlasting life, which, rightly accepted by an immortal soul just once, is its eternal rescue and salvation.—Dr. Talmage.

When Goethe says that in every human condition foes lie in wait for us, "invincible only by cheerfulness and equanimity," he does not mean that we can at all times be really cheerful, or at a moments notice, but that the endeavor to look at the better side of things will produce the habit, and that this habit is the surest safeguard against the danger of sudden evils.—Leigh Hunt.

The General Minutes of the M. E. Church, South, for 1875.

Another mile stone passed in the race of progression. We "thank God and take courage" Comparatively few look upon statistical details with delight: to help the many who briefly glance at them, suffer me to bring out some points of interest: Increase in traveling preachers, 47: local preachers, 106; members, 18,506; Sunday schools, 374; S. S. Teachers, 972; S S scholars, 18,125; Conference collections, 3193: Missionary collections, $18,171 85.

Thus the year 1875 has not been barren in results, although the average payments per member for Missions and Conference collections is hardly such as should satisfy so great a church as ours. A little over sixteen cents for Missions and half as much (eight cents) for the superannuated preachers, widows and orphans, nothing to boast of; it that point "on glorying is not good."

If you could find room for it, suffer me to give the rank of the various tribes of our Israel in two particulars: first, as to the actual amount paid: and secondly, as to the average per member:

COLLECTIONS FOR MISSIONS.

	Conference.	Amount.
1	Virginia	$11,764 91
2.	Missouri	7,924 88
3	North Georgia	7,623 74
4.	Baltimore	7,486 80
5.	South Georgia	7,275 28
6.	South Carolina	7,003 45
7.	Tennessee	6,312 81
8	Alabama	6,124 58
9.	North Carolina	5,469 71
10.	Louisville	4,633 00
11.	Holston	4,587 88
12.	Kentucky	3 403 52
13.	Mississippi	3,2.5 30
14	Memphis	3,267 15
15.	Louisiana	3,212 25
16	North-west Texas	3,019 32
17.	North Texas	2.989 55
18.	Texas	2.724 50
19	North Mississippi	2,689 55
20.	St. Louis	2,638 96
21	North Alabama	2,308,45
22	Little Rock	1,734 95
23	East Texas	1,730 40
24	South west Missouri	1,619 26
25	Florida	1,526 61
26.	West Texas	1,284 82
27.	Western Virginia	1,252 17
28	Pacific	1,225 00
29	German Mission	985 00
30.	Arkansas	697 30
31.	White River	634.13
32.	Illinois	488 35
33.	Western	365 00
34	Denver	238 00
35.	Indian Mission	187.00
36.	Columbia	180.50
37.	Los Angeles	133 75
	Total Missionary coll'ns	$120,128.31

But now mark the difference of rank when the numerical strength of each is considered. Truly then the "first shall be last and the last first" Why, the little German Mission Conference actually leads the field. When figures are the same, the order of precedency is given to the largest fractions:

Rank.	Conference.	Av'ge per Member
1.	German Mission	99 cents.
2.	Denver	45 "
3.	Texas	39 "
4.	Missouri	31 "
5.	Pacific	31 "
6.	Baltimore	29 "
7.	West Texas	25 "
8	South Georgia	24 "
9.	Virginia	24 "
10.	St. Louis	24 "
11.	Louisiana	23 "
12	Alabama	20 "
13.	Kentucky	17 "
14.	Florida	17 "
15	South Carolina	17 "
16	North west Texas	16 "
17.	Columbia	16 "
18	Louisville	15 "
19.	Tennessee	15 "
20.	Mississippi	15 "
21.	North Texas	15 "
22.	East Texas	15 "
23.	North Georgia	14 "
24.	Western	14 "
25.	Los Angeles	14 "
26	Holston	11 "
27.	Little Rock	11 "
28.	South west Missouri	11 "
29.	Memphis	10 "
30.	North Carolina	10 "
31.	West Virginia	9 "
32.	North Mississippi	9 "
33.	Illinois	8 "
34.	North Alabama	7 "
35.	Arkansas	6 "
36.	White River	5 "
37.	Indian Mission	3 "

In the collections for Conference claimants, Virginia stands first—$5,920; South Carolina second—$5,424.16; North Georgia third—$5,158 25; Baltimore fourth—$4,550; North Carolina fifth—$4,333 71: Alabama sixth—$4,289 95. But judged according to the average payments per member, the following is the record:

Rank.	Conference.	Av'ge per Member.
1.	Baltimore	17 cents.
2.	Alabama	14 "
3.	Pacific	14 "
4.	South west Missouri	14 cents.
5	South Carolina	13 "
6.	St Louis	13 "
7.	South Georgia	12 "
8	Mississippi	12 "
9.	Virginia	12 "
10	Louisiana	12 "
11	Texas	11 "
12	Los Angeles	11 "
13	Florida	10 "
14	North Georgia	9 "
15	Little Rock	9 "
16	Missouri	9 "
17	North Carolina	7 "
18	Kentucky	7 "
19	North-west Texas	7 "
20	West Texas	7 "
21	German Mission	7 "
22	North Mississippi	6 "
23	Louisville	6 "
24	East Texas	6 "
25	North Texas	6 "
26	White River	5 "
27	Tennessee	4 "
28	Memphis	4 "
29.	Holston	4 "
30.	West Virginia	4 "
31	Illinois	3 "
32	Denver	3 "
33	North Alabama	2 "
34	Arkansas	2 "
35	Western	2 "
36	Columbia	2 "
37.	Indian Mission	Nothing.

I am afraid, Mr. Editor, this formidable array of figures will affright some of our readers. I am none the less assured, however, I have given you a valuable Church document, if it does no more than to show our people that the "prostrate State," with all its troubles is no laggard in the race of progression God bless her: and let all the people say Amen

Yours.

A M. Chreitzberg.

Christian Neighbor.

The New Magazine.

THE NATIONAL REPOSITORY.

The Committee designated by the late General Conference to consider and determine what changes may seem to be expedient and necessary in the name, scope, and character of the Ladies Repository, met at the call of Rev. John F Smith, Chairman of the Book Committee, July 19, 1876, at the Western Methodist Book Concern, Cincinnati There were present Rev. D Curry, Editor; Revs. L. Hitchcock and J M Walden, Agent of the Western Book Concern; Rev. R. Nelson and J. M Paillips, Esq, Agents of the Book Concern at New York Revs J L Smith, F. G. Holliday, W. S. Prentice, William Brush, and W. P. Stowe, and Messrs Amos. Shinkle, R A. W. Bruehl, and C. W. Rowland, members of the Western Section of the Book Committee: and Revs J. F. Hurst, H. B Ridgaway, C. W. Bennett, and G. M. Steele, appointed by the Bishops, under the action of the late General Conference. Rev. J. L Smith was appointed Chairman, and R A W. Bruehl, Secretary.

The action of the General Conference constituting the Committee was read, after which each member of the Committee was called upon, in succession, to give his views on the subject in hand.

It was then resolved:

1. That since it evidently was the sense of the General Conference that the magazine should be a general one, and not for a special class, therefore the name Ladies' Repository shall be changed, and the name, 'The National Repository,' adopted in its place.

2 That, the character and scope of the magazine shall be that of a first class religious and literary monthly, of the highest character attainable, and pervaded, whether in its general or religious articles, by a thoroughly Christian spirit The magazine should be the equal in the quality and range of its matter with the very best magazines in the country, and yet because of its character of a specifically religious periodical, it need not come directly into competition with any other. It is believed there is in the periodical literature of the country an unoccupied field, which it is intended that this magazine shall fill, and as such it will minister at once to the taste and the understanding, and also tend to the best moral and religious culture of its readers.

It is intended that it shall be especially a magazine for the family, affording wholesome and attractive reading-matter for adults and youth and children. being issued from a Methodist press, and under the direction of an official Methodist editor, it will naturally be somewhat specifically a Methodist publication, and yet without any narrow sectarianism, and without any exclusive devotion to Methodist Church interests. It is designed that the Repository, under its new arrangements, shall be truly 'National,' and adapted to the wants of the great body of the American people.

It is also recommended that such prices shall be paid for original contributions as will command the services of a sufficient number of very best writers for the press; and it is also believed that a judicious selection may be made from foreign periodicals—to a moderate extent—to the decided advantage of the readers of the magazine

Because of the modifications thus indicated it is deemed proper to discontinue the use of the steel plate engravings, after the close of the present year, and instead of these to use wood cut illustrations, for one or more articles in each monthly number.

To increase the attractiveness of the pages of the magazine it is recommended that there be larger margins and spaces between the columns and between the lines, thus giving a clear and cheerful expression to the pages.

In submitting the results of their labors and consultations, the Committee, while congratulating all the parties in interest, in view of the good prospects which they think they see of securing such a magazine as has long been desired, would also remind the pastors of our Churches, upon whom must largely rest the responsibility of securing for it the requisite patronage, that to save the publishers from prospective loss, by reason of the increased expenses to be incurred, special and united efforts must be made to extend the subscription of our new and improved Repository.

J L Smith, Chairman.
R A W Bruehl, Secretary.

Woman Suffrage in Newark

It may be new to some of my readers, but it is nevertheless true, that in the beginning of the present century widows and single women were entitled by the laws of New Jersey to vote in all elections. In 1807 the Legislature authorized an election to settle the location of the Essex County court house. Newark was intensely excited, for Elizabeth had been for some time growing arrogant. Public meetings were held in all parts of the county, and the air had a bitter taste. The children in the schools were employed for days in writing tickets for the contest. Personal safety was in danger whenever a good word chanced to be spoken for Elizabeth. Two Newark gentlemen drove to Elizabeth in a gig on private business, and were received with a bucket of tar. The day of the election was fair Every horse, carriage, and cart in the place was in requisition. Every man and every woman old enough and big enough (age was a minor consideration), or who expected to grow old enough and big enough, to vote was promptly at the polls. Vehicles were going constantly to and fro from the different polls, and every person voted at every poll Married women voted as well as single women. Three sisters, the youngest aged fifteen, changed their dresses and their names, and voted six times each Two of them are still living, and reside in Newark. Men and boys put on women's clothes, in order to duplicate their votes. Never was there a more reckless proceeding. Newark won the courthouse, and in the evening illuminated herself even to the tops of her steeples; cannons thundered and bellowed, and all the tar and apple barrels which could be gathered in for miles around were consumed by fire.—Martha J Lamb, in Harper's Magazine for October.

The Air in Sleeping-Rooms.

If two persons are to occupy a bedroom during the night, let them step upon weighing scales as they retire, and then again in the morning, and they will find their actual weight is at least a pound less in the morning Frequently the loss will be more, and the average loss throughout the year will be all of that. That is, during the night there is a loss of a pound of matter, which has gone off from their bodies, partly from their lungs and partly through the pores of the skin. The escaped material is carbonic acid and refuse animal matter, or poisonous exhalations. This is diffused through the air in part, and in part absorbed by the bed clothes. If a single ounce of wood or cotton be burned in a room, it will so completely saturate the air with smoke that one can hardly breathe, though there can be only one ounce of foreign matter in the air. If an ounce of cotton be burned every half hour during the night, the air will be kept continually saturated with smoke, unless there be an open door or window for its escape. Now the sixteen ounces of smoke thus formed is far less poisonous than the sixteen ounces of exhalations from the lungs of two persons who have lost a pound in weight during eight hours of sleeping: for while the dry smoke is mainly taken into the lungs the damp odors from the body are absorbed both into the lungs and into the pores of the whole body. Need more be said to shew the importance of having bedrooms well ventilated, and of thoroughly airing the sheets, blankets, coverlids an mattresses in the morning before packing them up in the form of a neat made bed?

The Smallest Steam Engine in the World.

From the Philadelphia Ledger.

An incident happened in Machinery Hall yesterday afternoon which is well worthy of recording, as it exhibits the unparalled advancement of American genius in small as well as in great things. While a large throng of visitors from all countries were standing silently around the mighty Corliss engine watching its gigantic movements with feelings partly of delight and partly of awe, a tall, gentlemanly looking personage, who afterward gave his name and address as Levi Taylor, of Indianola, Iowa, joined the crowd, and with the others paid unspoken yet eloquent homage to the wondrous monster before him. After watching the motions for a few moments the gentleman passed around to one side, and extracting from his pocket a small tin case took from it what looked like a diminutive alcohol lamp and, striking a match, started a miniature flame and placed the contrivance on a corner of the platform which surrounds the mighty steam giant from Rhode Island. At first glance nothing could be discerned over this lamp but a small excrescence, which looked more like a very juvenile humminghird than anything else, but a close inspection showed that what was mistaken for liliputian wings was the fly-wheel of a perfect steam engine, and persons with extra good eyes could, after a close examination, discover some of the other parts of the curious piece of mechanism. This engine has for its foundation a twenty five cent gold piece, and many of its parts are so tiny that they cannot be seen without a magnifying glass. It has the regular steam gauge, and, though complete in every particular, the entire apparatus weighs only seven grains, while the engine proper weighs but three grains It is made of gold, steel and platinum. The fly wheel is only three-fourths of an inch in diameter: the stroke is one twenty fourth of an inch, and the cut off one sixty fourth of an inch. The machinery, which can all be taken apart, was packed in films of silk. It is to be hoped that this wonderful piece of work is to be placed on exhibition alongside of its grand antithesis, but it is now probably too late to make an entry.

Daughters as Lady Helps

It may be that there are households to be found in which ladies can with advantage to themselves and their employers undertake the duties hither to performed by servants. There is no doubt that many well born and well educated gentlewomen would rather cook all day long than teach a village school, and would infinitely prefer dusting a piano to listening to a child playing scales upon it. But, after all, the system of lady helps is a retrogressive movement, and therefore can only have a partial and temporary success. Refined women who are obliged to earn their livelihood will by degrees see that they ought to try to find employment in some sphere where their culture and accomplishments would be of value, instead of being unproductive. It is because they are not as yet sufficiently educated that they are obliged to raise the cry of having no work to do, and, in despair of finding congenial occupation, take to manual labor of a not very remunerative kind. But it seems a pity to go searching for new openings in a backward direction. It is labor lost, and induces a wasteful expenditure of enthusiasm on the part of social reformers. There is still plenty of raw material to supply more than all the servants wanted for use, provided rich people would not keep so many merely for show. The raw material might be turned into good servants if we had any organization by which girls could be apprenticed and taught their trade There is really no sufficient reason why young ladies of the rising generation should take to sweeping rooms and cleaning grates in strange houses, or even passing sleepless nights with teething babies not their own. Domestic service can never solve the question of 'Women's Work," although it may for the present stop a gap and furnish a subject for conversation. On the other hand, there can be no question that many of our social difficulties would be almost entirely mastered if young ladies would consent to become lady helps in their own homes.—London Saturday Review.

"If ever thou look for comfort on earth, and salvation in heaven, anglue thyself from the world and the vanities of it: put thyself on thy Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. Look not for any blessing out of Him, and in, and by, and from Him, look for all blessing. Find His thy wisdom, right eousness, sanctification, redemption, thy riches, thy strength, thy glory."

A young man, searching for his father's pig, accosted an Irishman as follows: "Have you seen a stray pig about here?" To which Pat responded, "Faith, and how could I tell a stray pig from any other."

A Mystery

In 1837, shortly after the Indians had been removed, Mr. Epps located a farm six miles from Rockford, Coosa county. On his place was an Indian mound and curiosity tempted him to explore it. Instead of Indian relics he found a large iron chest covered with hieroglyphics. the lid being fastened with a lock and key. At one end of the lid was a glass through which could be seen the form of a beautiful Anglo Saxon woman, her head covered with long black hair. As soon as opened the body crumbled to dust. It was fastened up again and re buried, where it still remains. Who can explain? Neither DeSota or Bienville had any women with them that historians mention, nor was metalic coffins manufactured until 1854

Letters of Jerusalem.

We walked across to the Zion gate, and mounting the city wall there—an uneven and somewhat broken, but slightly promenade—followed it round to its junction with the temple wall, and to Robinson's arch. Underneath the wall by Zion gate, dwell in low stone huts and burrows, a considerable number of lepers, who form a horrible community by themselves. The poor creatures, with toeless feet and fingerless hands, came out of their dens and assailed us with piteous cries for charity. What could be done? It was impossible to give to all. The little we threw them they sought for, and the unsuccessful followed us with whetted eagerness. We could do nothing but flee, and we climbed the wall and ran down it, leaving Demetrius behind us as a rear guard. I should have had more pity for them if they had not exhibited so much maliciousness. They knew their power, and brought all their loathsomeness after it, thinking that we should be forced to buy their retreat. Two hideous old women followed us a long distance, and when they became convinced that further howling and whining would be fruitless, they suddenly changed tone and cursed us with healthful vigor, having cursed us they hobbled home to roost.—C D Warner, in Atlantic.

Christ does not offer to be simply an occasional shower of blessings to the faithful believer; He promises to be a living well; The water that I give Him shall be in Him a well of water, springing up into everlasting life. The deepest and most urgent wants of the heart He promises to satisfy.—T. L. Cuyler.

Just For Fun.

The old saying that time is money is closely observed in the place where a business man was seen hunting up an item on his ledger, telling a porter where to pile some boxes, asking an acquaintance about the crop prospects, threatening a doctor's collector, and jawing his head clerk, all at one time, and even then he was mad because he had'nt time also to brighten up a counterfeit nickle to pay his fare up on the afternoon car.

A western lady who had been paying the milkman seven cents a quart all winter, ventured to remark the other day that now as the grass had started he could afford to sell it at six. "Grass!" he exclaimed, as he gave her a terrified look, "grass started! You ought to see the cow I turned out to graze last week! She walked five hundred times around a fifty-acre lot after one mouthful of grass, and when she got that it was full of nails, old bottles, and clothes pins. She has been under the doctor's care ever since, and if I lose her I'll have to put up the price to ten cents."

Norman McLeod was once preaching in a district in Ayrshire, where the reading of a sermon is regarded as the greatest fault of which the minister can be guilty. When the congregation dispersed, an old woman, overflowing with enthusiasm, addressed her neighbor: "Did ye over hear ony thing sae gran'? Wasna that a sermon?" But all her expressions of admiration being met by a stolid glance, she shouted, "Speak, woman! wasna that a sermon?" "O, ay," replied her friend, snikily, "but he read it," "Read it!" said the other, with indignant emphasis; "I wadna hae cared if he had whustled it."

A minister in England was paid to preach a sermon on some special occasion in the chapel of a country town. As the congregation was not very rich, he was informed beforehand that they could not afford to pay him more than a guinea for his discourse. When the sermon was over, he received in the vestry the collections of the elders, who were loud in the admiration of his eloquence. He turned upon them with almost a smile of contempt, and said, "Do you call that an eloquent sermon? I should just like you to hear my three guinea one!"

The Arts

A catalogue of the Jewish antiquities of the Louvre is being prepared. This will be the first that has ever been published of this small but interesting collection. It is now in press

Miss Burdett Coutts is about to erect, at his own cost, the dilapidated buildings of the grammar school at Huntingdon, England, in which Oliver Cromwell was educated The estimated expense is $4 500.

A dispatch from Edinburg says that the statue of Livingstone, the African explorer, was unveiled on the 15th of August. The site of the new statue is a few yards to the east of the Scott monument.

A picture by a young Polish painter named Simiradzki is much talked of in Rome. It is called The Martyrs, and represents the persecution of the Christians by Nero, as described by Tacitus. It is probable, an Italian journal says, that this picture will soon be exhibited in Paris.

The Post says, an interesting archaeological discovery has been made at the town of Velleia, near Placenza, in Italy. About the beginning of July the excavations on the site of the old town, which had been discontinued some years ago, were renewed, and in a few days some graves of the ancient Ligurians were brought to light, who lived in that region before the Romans. The discovery is considered important inasmuch as it sets at rest all doubts concerning articles similar to those found in the graves, which had heretofore been found at various point in the Apennines, and which some antiquaries had declared to be of Ligurian origin.

Summer Pruning of Fruit Trees,

It is singular that so little attention is paid by cultivators to the summer pruning of fruit trees. This, we presume, is owing to custom having made it a general rule to prune trees in the spring. The system is, however, a bad one, in a certain measure, which may be readily seen by a little observation. For instance, all trees are liable to make suckers from the centre, which exhaust the substance of it and are useless; every one agrees, by common consent, that useless shoots should be cut out, and it is yearly done in the ensuing spring after they have impoverished the tree; hence they are deprived of about one-fifth of their substance annually. If these shoots were regularly cut out early, after making some growth, say in May or June, the substance that they exhaust would go to nourish the other branches and fruit.

In the second place, trees, grape-vines, shrubs, etc, often become very thick of wood in the summer, especially when they are in confined places; all the young wood that is formed in this state is weak and helpless, because it can not receive the sun and air sufficiently to properly mature it; this, too, like the suckers, deprives the tree of a portion of its nutriment, or at least that portion of it that is to bear the succeeding season. This useless wood becomes weak and sickly, the leaves turn yellow, and are a nursery for various kinds of insects, and according to custom is pruned out of the tree the following spring; when common sense tells us it ought to be taken from the tree in summer, in order to give the substance it has deprived the tree of to the proper branches.

We do not contend that the summer is the season for the general pruning of trees; for we prefer the spring for this business. But whenever trees or vines are thickly crowded with summer wood, or any shoots, as suckers or straggling branches, that cause trees to grow of irregular shape, it should be a general rule to displace them, in order to keep the tree shapely and healthy.

Thinning of fruit, when young, is essentially requisite in order that it may grow to its proper size and quality. It often happens, when the spring is propitious to fruit, that the trees and vines are so loaded that it is impossible for the tree to render it proper sustenance, so that the fruit neither forms of proper size or quality. This is often the case after a failure the previous season, owing to which the trees are furnished, in the interval of rest, with a superabundance of fruit-buds or spurs; hence we often see alternate crops of fruit, which should be as much as possible counteracted by trimming out a goodly portion of fruit, when such abundant crops appear. This adds much to the quality and flavor of the fruit, and is also of a material use to the tree, in order to give it vigor to furnish fruit buds for another season in a healthy state, which are weakened by a superabundant crop of fruit, and are often the cause of failure the next season. When sickly trees are overburdened with fruit, which is often the case, owing to weakness, they should be well thinned, in order that what is left may be well matured, for it is very evident that when fruit drops off the tree half grown, it has exhausted it in a measure to a useless purpose.

The Christian Advocate.

OFFICE—Corner of Dawson & Harrett Sts

THE ORGAN
OF THE
NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE
OF THE
M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev J B Bobbitt, D.D } Editors
R. T. Gray, Esq. }

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION:

ONE COPY ONE YEAR IN ADVANCE POSTAGE PAID, $2 50
SIX MONTHS, 1 25
TWO COPIES ONE YEAR IN ADVANCE, 4 50

RALEIGH, N. C., SEPT. 27, 1876.

All letters on business with this office should be addressed to the Christian Advocate, Raleigh, N. C.

The Cross (X) Mark is to remind us that your subscription has expired. Let all renew promptly

Help Needed

We publish, elsewhere, an earnest and touching appeal from Dr. Haygood of Emory College, in behalf of Savannah. The yellow fever is rapidly spreading in that city, and the time has come when the people throughout the country should promptly send forward their contributions to aid the suffering poor.

The citizens of Raleigh held a meeting the past week, and measures were adopted to secure, as speedily as possible, contributions for the Savannah sufferers, and we trust the people generally, through our State will respond to the urgent call of the afflicted city. Read the statements of Dr Haygood, and send to him or to Dr. Kennedy what you are able to give. Help, dear friends—the time may come in the order of Providence when you will be visited with some dreadful scourge, and be compelled to look about for assistance. May a gracious heavenly father spare our ministerial brethren, who have stood by their flocks, in the midst of this trying ordeal!

Address of the Joint Commission.

It is gratifying to note the almost universal joy with which the action of the Joint Commission of the two Methodisms has been received by the representative papers of the Churches. With but one or two exceptions, the findings of the Commissioners are heartily endorsed, and the spirit which prompted them and rendered the meeting, discussions and votes so remarkably harmonious, seems to be shared by all, North and South. We have heretofore expressed our satisfaction at the results of the Conference and our [illegible] to accede to the Commission at Christianity at large. Last week we gave a few extracts from some of the Church papers reflecting the sentiments of themselves and their readers. This week we continue the matter and present other expressions of opinion, which will be found in another column.

It is a gratifying and note worthy fact that in this the Centennial year of our country's existence, when the past is being celebrated with pride and the future forecast with hope, our great branch of the christian Church which has done so much for the nation, now heals the dissensions that have so long troubled her people and has determined that they shall disagree no longer. It cannot be denied that the attitude in which the churches, North and South, have stood with relation to each other, for more than a quarter of a century, has hindered much the progress of both and has hurt the cause of christianity at large. It has afforded opportunities for the success of the enemies of Methodism, and has lessened the influence of each by such. To preach peace and good will, and retain animosity: to proclaim unity and keep up division; to enjoin brotherly love and cordial fellowship, and cherish enmity; to preach the cultivation of a forgiving spirit, and harbor the recollection of old difficulties—is inconsistent and injures the influence for good of those who walk in that way. And we repeat, it has no doubt impeded the progress of each branch of the Methodist Church in this country and prevented the accomplishment of much good that otherwise would have crowned its work. But now that differences have been settled and hands fraternally clasped, old scores forgotten and a new era of good feeling and brotherly offices commenced, we may confidently expect both churches to be made better and more prosperous, and the world at large to be benefited.

It augurs well for a growing good feeling between the sections, politically. The Methodist Church is everywhere in the United States, and exerts through its members vast influence upon elections and legislation. And this coming together of the hearts of Methodists, North and South, will often section and political prejudices and make our nation more truly a Union of States and people than it has been for many years.

Our esteemed friend, H T. Jordan, Esq., reflecting the wishes of many others who have heard and admired the address of Dr. Burkhead on "Methodism—the Grounds of its Success," suggests that it be included in the Centennial Book now in press. Although not really a part of the Centennial proceedings, its merits would entitle it to a place in the book, and Dr. Burkhead has been urged to include it, but he peremptorily declines to permit its publication.

REVIVAL NOTICES.

We publish in another column some strictures on revivals as reported by some of our preachers. The author of the article is a lay member of the church, and we accord to him the right to make known his views through our columns yet we cannot agree with him that our preachers are at fault in simply mentioning the names of ministers who assist in a series of revival meetings. God always employs human instrumentalities in the furtherance of his kingdom upon earth—When a brother's name is mentioned, it is simply an announcement of the human agencies God has used in the revival of his work among the people. Surely there can be nothing wrong in this. But we can readily see the impropriety of lavish compliments of sermons preached by God's servants during these revival occasions. There are special occasions and particular subjects where compliments are in place, but they are inappropriate and not relished in times of revival. We are always glad to give place to revival notices in our paper, but of course our space will not allow a wide range in setting forth particulars

Opinion on Fraternity

We continue in this issue of the Advocate brief extracts from the Northern press, with religious and secular bearing on the subject of fraternity. Our people are anxious to know the opinions of the press on this important question.

[illegible]

We record with profound gratitude to Almighty God the reconciliation of the two chief bodies of American Methodists. We have been laughed at for regarding this reconciliation as possible, and sneered at for treating the promotion of it as a religious duty. The scoffers are welcome to the front seats, and may make the heartiest amens. The reconciliation is by ample authority—it is complete: and, as we have often said it would, it strengthens all and harms none. Neither church loses an ounce of right, or a hair of privilege. The existing status is accepted, and made binding on both churches.

[illegible]

Organic union is farther on, and before that result can be hoped for some still existing barriers must be removed as far as the east is from the west. The color line still crosses between the parties, and until that can be canceled, and brotherhood broadened over the entire field, the consolidation cannot be effected. But it is an encouraging indication that the commissioners themselves have unanimously agreed upon a preliminary step toward a more thorough and permanent amalgamation.

The main points thus far canvassed are those touching the property of the churches, North and South, and the fusion of interests in towns where the maintenance of both Methodisms is too expensive for the people. But so far, so good.

New York Herald.

A breach in Methodism meant a breaking up of the Republic. Fraternization now means the reverse of all this, and shows how base and baseless are the charges of political adventurers, who would have us believe that the old spirit is still alive in the South. With these men, whether they are in the Senate of the United States or on the hustings, the wish is father to the thought. If the Southern people did not mean peace, political and social, this bond of fraternization never would have been sealed; and it is because reunion means so much in its national and political appeals that this event has such great significance. Nor can we overlook the facts that it is this very significance which reflects peculiar lustre upon American Methodism and will make the Cape May Conference and its results a turning point in our history. In the state of feeling which existed between 1840 and 1850 it was easy enough to divide the churches North and South. A very great change was necessary to make reunion possible in 1876, and it must not be forgotten that this change is political not religious. In taking this great step American Methodism has bound the Union of the States together by a bond which cannot be broken, for it has demonstrated that the hearts of the people are reconciled, and in consequence both the Christian and the patriot will rejoice in the work which has been accomplished.

Christian Intelligencer.

An address of unusual importance has just been issued by the joint committee of the Methodist Episcopal Churches, North and South, preliminary to a more complete announcement of the proposed terms of reunion between those two greatest branches of the Methodist family in the United States. This document presents the basis of fraternal relations upon which it is expected that organic reunion will be effected. It relates principally to the restoration of good feeling, the conditions of fellowship, and the adjustment of questions of property by arbitration. Should these negotiations be ratified by the two Churches, their reconciliation and unification will have a national significance which will be quite equal to the ecclesiastical importance of that event. The disruption of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States in 1844, upon the question of slavery, was the first great breach of national unity, and was the forerunner of the civil war which broke out seventeen years later. The healing of that wound has been only too long delayed, but it may be more thorough when it shall be actually accomplished.

[illegible]

The fact that the committee arrived at a unanimous judgment is certainly very significant and assuring: and although as we read it, we cannot help feeling that a great many even more important matters than these referred to are still hedged round with serious difficulties that might constantly embarrass the relation of the two fraternal bodies, operating side by side in the same States, still we encouraged the hope that in the private conferences which must have occurred these eminent and excellent men from both Churches saw the possibility, under the divine blessing, of the two sister bodies working out their own appropriate missions, in hearty respect for, and fellowship with, each other. God forbid that we should raise a hand, or speak a word, or write a sentence, or admit to our columns a discussion, that in any wise should peril such a possibility as these men think they see in the near future of our two Churches. This act of fraternity comes at a remarkable hour: an hour of anxiety amounting almost to distress and fearful foreboding: an important epoch also in the history of the State. Is it an olive branch? Does the divine Dove bear it in his mouth? Does it mean all it says? Is it a representative voice? Is it the will of God? Even so, Father, if it be well pleasing in thy sight!

New York Evening

The terms of agreement adopted by the Commissioners of the Northern and Southern Methodist Churches mark very distinctly the progress of the country toward the complete restoration of fraternal feeling. Thirty-two years ago, in this city, the Methodist Episcopal body divided. The division, as often occurs in the history of churches, was followed by angry debates and law suits, ending at length in total alienation. The disposal of slavery by the war has, however, prepared the way for the resumption of christian intercourse between these important organizations, and with great good sense they have adjusted all the troublesome questions which have thus far kept them apart. The "basis of fraternity" is an acknowledgment of the original right of the Southern ministers and members to adhere to that communion. The language used in the framing of this acknowledgment is suggestive of some sensitiveness of the Southern Methodist mind on the point. It so, it would seem to be reasonable for the parties to accord to each other Christian standing. Questions of property are advised to be referred to arbitrators, and equity will be promoted by the union of weak and neighboring churches of the two communions.

Christian Union.

The union, just accomplished, of the great branches of the Methodist Church in America is of especial religious and political significance. Slavery was the cause of separation of the church, thirty years ago, and sectional animosity was for many subsequent years too powerful for Christian spirit, in its existing measure, to overcome. The basis of agreement was the only one possible, but one which could not fail. Says the Commission, in its address, "We struck the keynote of brotherly love and it sounded high and clear, and so may been enabled to reach the elements of perfect harmony." All Christians will wish the reconciled brethren the increase of joy and strength which must come of the union, and perhaps the example the Methodists have set, and the infallibility of the method by which they succeeded, will stimulate other slightly divided brethren to labor for a perfect union.

New York Observer.

The result is given in full in another part of our paper. We do not understand the plan as proposing an immediate organic union, but if the plan is adopted by the two Churches the essential benefits of such a union will be secured, and it will be impossible for two Churches holding the same faith, having the same order and discipline, animated by the same spirit, and having adopted such measures for "formal fraternity," to live apart. They must become one family.

No one can fail to observe and to admire the Christian spirit which pervades this paper, and the wisdom which characterizes the consummated arrangement. No reference is made to the causes of separation or to the events which have transpired during the long years of alienation. There is no attempt to weigh the relative amount of responsibility for the separation which may belong to the respective branches of the church, and no suggestion of the humiliation of one before the other. The two bodies are simply to take a manly, noble, Christian attitude of mutual recognition and respect each to the other as occupying a position of perfect equality; and the hope is confidently expressed that the ministers and members of both bodies will regard each other as brethren beloved in the Lord, having the same work to do in building up the kingdom of their common Lord and Master.

A revival of much interest is in progress at Edenton Street Church, of this city, conducted by Dr Burkhead. His congregation on Sabbath was very large, and great seriousness pervaded the entire audience. Several have made a profession of religion, and a goodly number of penitents present themselves at the altar for prayer at each service.

HELP SAVANNAH!

There is sorrow and distress in our beautiful Savannah. The yellow fever grows worse. New cases by the [illegible] The death-rate increases—The [illegible] go, leave one. Many have [illegible] poor to go many [illegible] stay." But in such a case it is the poor—for the most part—who can't get away. How much worse is their case when the rich, who could help, are gone!

The papers received to day bring sad news. The fever prevails; suffering increases. Several of the brave doctors are dead, others are sick.—Some ministers are dead: others are down. Dear brother A M Wynn, pastor of the Wesley Monumental Church, is among them. He has been tireless. May the good Lord spare him! So have they all. The Protestant, the Catholic, the white, the colored clergy stand fast by their posts. They are doing their best. But their poor need help—help that must come soon if it come not too late, and help that must come from without. And Savannah deserves help: she has ever been generous to others.

At last accounts Dr E H. Myers was up and giving his strength to his people. May he escape it in great God!

Money sent to Dr F M Kennedy, Editor S. C. Advocate, Macon, Ga., or to the undersigned will be joyfully forwarded to the right parties in Savannah and duly reported.

ARTHUR G. HAYGOOD.

Emory College, Oxford, Ga., Sept 18th, 1876.

About Revivals.

I am not exactly a constitutional grumbler or fault finder, but I occasionally like to avail myself of the privilege claimed and exercised by so many others of giving their peculiar views, ideas and notions of things.—Well now to the point. I am very fond of reading revival notices in our columns. Nothing pleases me more than the knowledge that God is saving His work, blessing His people and saving souls, but at the same time I would have all the glory given to God and not too much ascribed to human agencies, and I can see no earthly use of consuming so much space of your valuable columns by spreading out these revival notices to such an extent as to embrace the name of each and every preacher who happens to preach one or more sermons during the meeting. Why this, you might with the same propriety expect our correspondents in writing an account of their revival services to mention the name of every layman who was in any way instrumental in [illegible] meeting. For instance Bro. [illegible] was very useful in the instruction of penitents at the altar or in conversing privately with sinners with regard to their souls, while Bro. [illegible] made some beautiful prayers and Sister C. raised "Show pity Lord," and other hymns splendidly, and Bro D shouted triumphantly and gracefully. What would your readers think of such a report as that, and yet it might be made with the same propriety as that of mentioning the name of every preacher who laboured during the meeting. Preachers are called of God to preach and it is their duty to preach, and while I love them and would not detract from any earthly honor to which they are entitled, yet I fear the growing tendency of the times is to puff preachers in the public prints which they all, being in man, cannot stand unless aided by a little vanity, and to ascribe too much of the success of revivals to pulpit efforts and human agencies instead of to God. Brothers, don't rob God of the glory which belongs to Him, and if you wish to commence a protracted meeting send your invitation first to Him and ask His presence to own and bless. Don't send for all the ma preachers you know first and then ask God, but send for Him first and then you may expect success. Do not cultivate the idea that revivals can only be had at stated times, or particular seasons. God is ready to pour out His spirit upon us at all times, and we can have good meetings whether the farmers are busy or not

Yours,

A LAYMAN.

Oaklawn, Sept 20th, 1876

Religious Intelligence

It is proposed to organize a Camp-Meetin Association in the Richmond (Va) District, for the purpose of purchasing a permanent Camp Ground and to provide for holding camp-meetings in connection with the District Conference and at other places during the Summer. The shares in the association will be $10 each.

Rev. Dr Leroy M Lee, who is seeking the benefits of the Buffalo Lithia Waters, writes to the Richmond Advocate that his health is rapidly and constantly improving: "flesh is covering my emaciated body," he says, "and strength, like a returning dream, beats its reveille in my [illegible] long and wearied frame."

A Roman Catholic church was destroyed at Ning-Kone Fou, in China, by a mob, the priest tortured and killed, his assistants torn in pieces, and one hundred of the congregation slain. Other assaults and murders of Christians have taken place. The French Minister is asking all the powers to punish out of the guilty, among whom are numerous officials of rank.

Local Preachers

MESSRS EDITORS: Your issue of the 20th inst. contains what purports to be a "clipping from an old book."

The clipping was issued by the Tract Society of our Church sometime before the war, in the form of a Tract, and was written by an excellent and able minister, now of the Baltimore Conference, and is pure fiction. The wonderful incident therein related for the purpose of showing that the adverse providences of God follow the itinerant who locates, is entirely imaginary. No such occurrence ever took place. I state this upon the authority of the author of the tract, between whom and myself a conversation took place about the matter several years ago.

There is no one who places a higher estimate upon the value and efficiency of our itinerant system than I do. Such has been my appreciation of the importance of the system, and my desire to see it remain unimpaired, that I was always opposed to the "extension of the pastorate." But while this is so, I am very much of the opinion, that on the subject of location, some of our people are wise [illegible] in their suppositions. Admitting that men are providentially called to preach the gospel, does it follow that they are called as Methodists? I suppose there are other churches, without the itinerant system, which have men in them called of God to the work of the ministry. I suppose there are many men among our local preachers who have been as truly called as any in the itinerancy. The conclusion is that God calls a man to preach the Gospel, and the Church prescribes the manner in which he may do it. In our Church there are two plans, and a man may choose either, or he may adopt first one and then the other, and the curse of God will never rest upon him for choosing one plan rather than the other. If adverse providences overtake him, they will have to be referred to some other cause.

Very truly,

B. F. LONG.

Letter from Murfreesboro.

Believing that our brethren of the North Carolina Conference feel a lively interest in the religious prosperity of their fellow citizens of the same State and Church who are embraced within the boundaries of the Virginia Conference, I write you briefly. The financial condition of the Murfreesboro District is excellent. Our worthy Presiding Elder, Rev. R F. Woodward, has been signally successful in his labors. He possesses great industry and energy, along with no little degree of pulpit power. The people every where receive him gladly. Protracted meetings have been held at various points in the North eastern counties with blessed results. Souls have been saved, and the borders of the Church have been enlarged. Elder Woodward will form two circuits out of Dare circuit as it now stands. The good work is progressing on Roanoke Island.

We hear of several students for Trinity College in the Albemarle country.

Our Wesleyan Female College continues to flourish under the discreet and energetic supervision of Rev. W. G. Starr. He is a tireless worker, and gives himself but little rest. The Fall session of the College begins on Monday next, Sept. 25th. The students are already coming in, and the outlook for a good attendance is favorable. This institution affords all the facilities for a thorough education and deserves to be encouraged. The morals and health of the pupils are carefully guarded.

The town of Murfreesboro is widely known for its elevated moral tone.

We have no bar rooms. Brother Ramsay has a flourishing Lodge of Good Templars here. When Bro Ramsay was here last, our pastor, Rev Frank C. Woodward, thinking he must be a preacher, introduced him as "Rev Mr. Ramsay."

We have a spacious and beautiful church in the village, and it is well filled on Sundays. The regular Wednesday night prayer meetings are well attended. The class meetings, which had been neglected in past years, have been revived, and with excellent results. The Sabbath school is large and interesting.

C. H. F.

Sept. 21, 1876.

Bro R M writing us from Chapel Hill under date of Sept. 5th, says: "The revival spirit is spreading in my circuit. I went to Cedar Grove Aug. 20th and found the church already revived. Like the disciples on the day of Pentecost, they were all with one accord in one place." The Holy Ghost fell on them as "at the beginning." Their moral power was irresistible, and every sinner belonging to the congregation was converted except two who were anxious penitents when the meeting closed. There were 26 conversions several of whom were from other communities.

Since the early spring nearly the whole congregation has belonged to the Sunday school, and never have I seen any people, young and old, so industriously interested in the study of the Bible. This revival is the result. If every church in the land had such a Sunday school the devil's share of this generation would be small.

The next week we had a gracious season at Mt. Pleasant, the church was revived and about twelve converted. There were not many outsiders at this place. I had excellent help. There are too many lay preachers and preaching laymen on this circuit to mention by name."

NEWS FROM THE CHURCHES.

LINCOLNTON CIRCUIT.

Bro. J T Harris, under date of 13th inst., writes:

"We are having some fine revivals on the Lincolnton circuit. To the present here have 40 persons joined the church. We hope to gather in many more before Conference. We are doing our work quietly, but we hope thoroughly."

HAPPY HOME CIRCUIT.

Bro J C Hartsell writes from Hickory, Sept 20th: "Please say that our meeting at Friendship was one of power, resulting in about 30 conversions and 22 accessions to the church. Brother Barrett, our P. E., did good work. The meeting lasted more than a week, and the revival was deep and powerful. To God be all the praise!"

PITTSBORO CIRCUIT.

Bro. Tillett writes Sept. 20th:—"Please say that we have had some good meetings on the Pittsboro circuit, at which some fifty or sixty have professed; two of the converts were upwards of seventy five years of age. But few as yet have joined the church, though I am hoping that many of them will as soon as they have an opportunity. Brother Minton Johnson, local preacher of Deep River Circuit, gave very efficient aid at several of the meetings."

CHAPEL HILL AND HAW RIVER.

Bro. Rean, under date of 14th inst., writes:

"On last Sunday Revs. Wm. Snipes, I N Mann and Wilson Atwater, local preachers in my charge, commenced a meeting at Bynum's Factory for the benefit of the operatives. I joined them Monday morning. We closed Tuesday with 25 more added to Mt Pleasant Church. Everybody in that community is now converted except one or two.

This is another wonderful result of Sunday school work. The Bynum Manufacturing Co. has taken a remarkable interest in the souls of their employees. They are truly men of God, and show their faith by their works. Last spring they provided a comfortable chapel, organized one of the best Sunday schools in my charge, and had preaching twice a month by Bros Snipes and Mann. Now they have the pleasure of seeing their work carried on by Christians alone, between whom and their employers there is sweet mutual confidence and sympathy. What a noble example! How worthy of imitation! These men will and ought to prosper, for on earth "Verily there is a reward for the righteous."

Bro. L W Pigott writes Sept 10th: "I could not go to our District Conference—hence I would like to give the state of the church on Hatteras circuit. We have 5 appointments and a Sabbath school in operation at each one, and all successful except one—Class meetings well attended except at one appointment. Public preaching well attended at all—and a revival spirit generally prevails. We have had between 80 and 90 professions of religion and about 20 backsliders have been reclaimed. I have baptized one adult and 44 children: have received 30 in the church. Many who professed conversion were in the church, and some belonged to other circuits. We had two camp meetings and both were a success—about 45 converts being the result of both. I have been in revivals for the last 25 years, but never saw such a display of divine power in my life as I saw at the Chickimacomico camp-meeting. It commenced at the love feast at 3 o'clock. After about fifteen or twenty persons had spoken, others would speak but could not be heard, and I saw the Spirit's power so abundant—I called upon all that loved Jesus to stand up—upon which a host arose, and as they stood to their feet, a simultaneous shout arose which continued without abatement until 11 or 12 o'clock at night, and sinners fell on all hands, and arose giving glory to God, and from 3 o'clock to 12, about 12 or 15 persons were converted, and 50 penitents at the altar. To God be all the glory! and let all the people say Amen!"

NASHVILLE AND ROCKY MOUNT.

Bro. Reeks writing Sept. 14th, says: "We have been engaged in holding a series of meetings commencing with our quarterly meeting at Belford, where we enjoyed times of refreshing from the presence of the Lord, and while there were no conversions, the church was greatly blessed and encouraged. Many were convicted of sin, and whereas the church had done but little except at regular preaching, several of the brethren covenanted together to hold prayer meetings twice a month. From there we went to Sandy Cross and held a meeting for several days, with little or no help—no not even to offer public prayer. But God was with us: there were 5 conversions. Thence we went to Bethlehem, and had a time of peculiar spiritual power; five persons there professed conversion and we believe every sinner in attendance was converted. Brothers George Hicks and James Bodie were present and acted as men of God. Thence we went to Sarepta and held a meeting for several days; had an impressive time.—There were a number of penitents but only one conversion. Thence to Chapel Spring, much fatigued, but held a meeting several days with scarcely no help at all, but think we had a profitable meeting. The busy season and sessions of court interfered with the meetings: otherwise we would have had greater results. We expect on next Sabbath to commence a meeting in Rocky Mount."

DAVIE CIRCUIT.

Bro. W. C. Willson writing under a recent date, says:

"We have been blessed with one of the most powerful revivals known for many years in this section of country. It was held at a church called Shady Grove four miles above Fulton, and continued 25 days. During all this time we had services twice and three times a day and yet the interest kept up until the last. Crowds came every day and night, those that could not get in the house would hang quietly around the windows and doors until the services would close. Many would come in covered wagons, and remain all day and till after preaching at night. Work of all kinds was almost entirely suspended and the people went to church. The last week we changed, and began at 3 o'clock and remained till after night, and the number of wagons and with fires preparing coffee for supper, must have been like our early camp meetings. Every body seemed astonished at the power of God taking hold of such vast area of country, in a manner so remarkable.

About one hundred were converted, but the precise number could not be told, for while scores were converted in the altar, others in the congregation, many at their homes, others in the fields, and in all directions you could hear of some sinner finding Christ precious to his soul.

Fifty nine have joined the church and others yet to join will increase the number. Some will join other churches. We have secured nearly $1000 to build a new church, and are now ready to let the contract for building one, 40x60 feet, to be finished in good style.

It was indeed the Lord's work. We had no "powerful sermons," not much learning or eloquence, for I could get no ministerial help. Bro Jacob Sheek, a local preacher, was with me a few days, but his great age prevented his doing what a willing heart desires. Christ was presented as a present Saviour for sinners. Brethren and sisters prayed and worked;—the Spirit gave the results.

The Lord sustained me through the whole 25 days in the most wonderful manner of my life. I went to the appointment sick, in fact once thought of returning on the way, thought I would have to stop while attempting to preach the first sermon, yet the Lord so sustained me that I was able to preach every sermon, and the last day found me stronger than the beginning of the first. I mention this as an exhibition of His goodness.

There are many other things I would like to say—but this is getting too long, and this much I would not have written but for the hope that it might do some good for the cause of Christ, to whom be glory, both now and forever."

Subscriptions to Trinity College.

Notes and subscriptions to Trinity College, amounting to $4,000, are due. These contributions were made by good men, and with full reliance that the parties would pay at the time promised, we made contracts and promised to pay. We have acted on business principles, expecting to receive and pay according to promise. But payment is neglected, and unless we receive the money promised, we cannot meet our engagements. I hope our friends will promptly send the money due; it is a small sum from each in nearly all cases. Notes and subscriptions taken before last Conference are in my hands. Please give the matter immediate attention.

B. CRAVEN.

Sept. 20th 1876

The Storm at Beaufort.

A terrible gale swept along the Atlantic Coast on the 17th inst., leaving much devastation in its track. The effects at Beaufort in this State were marked and serious, much damage being done to residences, stores and shipping. The Atlantic Hotel suffered greatly. Mr. C. B Edwards of this city, was spending a few days at that place and tells a "harrowing tale" of the ravages of the cyclone and the consternation of the "fish country" people who were there. Dr H. E T. Manning of the Roanoke News was also there and in his paper graphically describes the situation. He says:

It rained all day on Saturday accompanied with winds of more of less severity but a storm was not expected. The tide began rising rapidly on Sunday morning about six o'clock and a stiff wind set in from the south-east striking the building about the outer front corner of the left wing.

Every minute the wind grew stronger and the water rose rapidly until, about seven o'clock, the windows, or plank ways, leading to the bath houses in front began to give way and the floor of the ball-room began to bulge. Still no fears were entertained and quiet preparations were made for breakfast. About eight o'clock the wind, at the white increasing, was blowing a "perfect gale" and the water began to force the floors in all the rooms in the first story. Simultaneously with the report that the floors were giving away the cry rang through the house that the wharf, leading from the building to the shore, was parting and all means of exit would soon be cut off. Immediately the wildest excitement ensued. The shrieks of the females, the cries of the children and the shouts of the men amid the roar of the waters and whirr of the winds were enough to appal the stoutest hearts. No time was to be lost and the men set at once to work to rescue the ladies and children. No human power could resist the force of the wind and once in the open space, between the building and shore, one must needs crawl or have some substantial support. Fortunately the railing to the wharf held on until the ladies were safe on shore or all who attempted to cross would have been lost. In the hurry everything except what each wore was left behind and as the last occupant of the house reached the shore the wharf was swept away.

All being safe nothing remained to be done but to stand and see the furious wind and water do their worst as it was simply impossible to reach the building to attempt to save anything. Every minute the storm increased and about nine o'clock the ball room roof, weighing probably an hundred thousand pounds, was lifted off and blown away and first one porch and then another were swept away like dandelions in a morning breeze. For several hours the main building swayed and tottered in the storm and no one expected or even dared hope that it could withstand it.

While all this was going on the town was suffering proportionately. Stores on the main street, facing the water, were giving away, trees were uprooted, large vessels were tossed hither and thither and many of them were landed in the middle of the street well up in the town.

About twelve o'clock the storm abated a little and a rope was stretched from the shore to the Atlantic Hotel and Captain Page, Mr. M. C. Dixon and others ventured in the building to try to save the effects of the late occupants. Luckily most of the wearing apparel of the guests and the proprietor's family was got out, but all the bedding, office, parlor, dining room and kitchen furniture, in fact everything on the first floor, was washed away.

NORTH CAROLINA

Davidson County during the year ending Sept. 1st paid off nearly $5,000 of its old indebtedness.

Charlotte through its Board of Aldermen gave $300 for the relief of the sufferers from Yellow Fever at Savannah, Ga. Wilmington sent over $1000.

Capt. S. T. Williams, a talented lawyer of Rocky Mount, and for a time editor of the Daily NEWS of this city, died in New York on the 14th inst., where he had gone for medical treatment.

Maj. J. C. McRae, of Fayetteville, a candidate for elector in the Third Congressional District, in place of Col. J. D. Stanford who has been nominated for the Senate from Duplin county.

The 63rd Synod of North Carolina will commence in Fayetteville on the 18th October.

Mr. Hartsfield, the depot agent at Statesville, attempted to commit suicide by taking laudanum. He says he intends to kill himself. Disappointed love is the secret of the affair.

Hickory has a daily paper,—the DAILY PRESS—a sprightly journal edited and published by J. S. Tomlinson, Esq.

The diptheria is raging in Wilmington, Fayetteville, Rutherford and Cleaveland counties, and is attended with sad fatality.

Henry Roland died recently in Yancey county, at the age of 105 years.

Winston Sentinel: We learn that a fight took place at Nunn's Store, in Stokes county, on last Monday, which resulted in the death of a negro man at the hands of John George. We have not learned any of the particulars.

Mrs. Annie A. Rhodes, of Wilmington, advertises for information concerning her husband, John Julius Rhodes—whether he be dead or living, and if the latter, his whereabouts.

J. A. Rogers, jailor of Wake county, was knocked down and badly beaten by three negro prisoners, who then escaped. Afterwards while attempting to arrest one of the prisoners, near Apex deputy Sheriff J. Passmore was fatally shot by the villain.

The barbers of Greensboro' want an ordinance to close the barber shops on Sunday, but the Aldermen refuse to make it. A good way for the barbers to close, is to close.

Gov. Brogden has issued a proclamation, offering a reward of $300 for the arrest of Henderson Alford, col., the murderer of Deputy Sheriff Passmore, at Apex.

The tobacco barn of Oscar Blackmall, at Kittrells, was burned on the 13th inst. Loss $300.

The Oxford Torchlight says: Early Woodliff, the champion tobacco grower of Granville, has tobacco topped twenty leaves high. The leaves are three feet in length and two and a half feet in diameter, and it is thought that one plant will weigh a pound when cured.

Wm. Brown, near Hillsboro, heard a noise in his cellar the other night, and went down barefooted to investigate in the dark. As he groped his way out, something popped him sharply and fiercely in the foot. He got a light and found two huge highland moccasins lying on the cellar steps. He killed them.

From a communication, written by Mr. Geo. F. Shepherd, of Cool Springs, Iredell county, to the Charlotte Democrat, we take the following:

"There lives in this vicinity, in what is known as the Dutch or German Settlement, nineteen persons, the sum of whose ages is fifteen hundred and ten years.—They nearly all live within a radius of one mile. To-day they reside on their respective farms, most of which they have owned and cultivated for the past half century. One of the number was a soldier in the war of 1812, and is now a pensioner of the United States.

Franklin Steele, aged 87, has lived on the same farm 35 years.
Frederick Cartner, aged 84, has lived on the same farm 60 years.
John Luckey, aged 85, has lived on the same farm 50 years.
Samuel Felker, aged 85, has lived on the same farm 60 years.
Wilson Turner, aged 84, has lived on the same farm 40 years.
Peter Steffret, aged 77, has lived on the same farm 40 years.
Levi Niblock, aged 81, has lived on the same farm 81 years.
William Smith, aged 73, has lived on the same farm 73 years.
Thomas Little, aged 72, has lived on the same farm 40 years.
Elizabeth Little, aged 70, has lived on the same farm 40 years.
Jane Smith, aged 77, has lived on the same farm 77 years.
Eliza Smith, aged 75, has lived on the same farm 50 years.
Sarah Krider, aged 84, has lived on the same farm 50 years.
Margaret Hollenaugh, aged 83, has lived in the vicinity of her present residence 50 years.
Elizabeth Turner, aged 78, has lived on the same farm 40 years.
Catharine Saffret, aged 73, has lived on the same farm 40 years.
Sara Felker, aged 77, has lived on the same farm 50 years.
Rebecca Luckey, aged 84, has lived on the same farm 60 years.
Mary Niblock, aged 81, has lived on the same farm 50 years."

The Christian Advocate

PUBLISHED IN THE CITY OF RALEIGH EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING, TERMS $2.50 POSTAGE PAID

Our Agents.

All the traveling and local preachers in the bounds of the North Carolina Conference are our authorized agents. Any person sending us ten subscribers, for one year, will receive the paper free.

Our Correspondents.

Communications for publication should be carefully written, and on but one side of the sheet. All letters on this office should be addressed to the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

How to Remit.

In sending money, all amounts should be sent in registered letter, post office order or check. The cost of registration, or Post Office order can be deducted from the amount in hand. If money is sent otherwise than herein specified, it will be at the sender's risk.

INDEX TO NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. 4

A DO ls' Fair
Female Teacher wanted.
Agents wanted: Nat Pub. Co.
Chas. Simon and Sons—a reliable House.
Read the card of Dr. Chas J Nall, Specialist,—a skillful physician and reliable gentleman
The Buffalo Lithia Waters continue to be highly commended Their use has effected many wonderful cures, and an additional testimonial to their curative powers will be found in the advertisement in another column.
CRAB ORCHARD SPRINGS SALTS.—The attention of our readers is called to the advertisement of J B Wilder & Co. of Louisville, Ky., placing the genuine Crab Orchard Springs within the reach of our patrons The high character of these Salts, in the scale in which they are prescribed for the cure of Dyspepsia, Constipation of the Bowels, Torpid Liver, etc., makes it desirable for all persons afflicted with these diseases to give them a trial.

ROANOKE AND TAR RIVER FAIR.—We are indebted to Dr. H. E. F. Manning, the accomplished Editor of the Roanoke News, and secretary of the Agricultural Society, for an invitation to the Fair to be held at Weldon on 24 27th October. The society is out of debt and the premiums offered are larger and more varied than ever before. It is expected that the coming Fair will be more than usually interesting, and we hope it will be liberally patronized and well attended.

The steamship REBECCA CLYDE, of the Baltimore and Wilmington Steamship Line, while on her way from Wilmington to Baltimore, was wrecked near Deracotte Inlet, in the vicinity of Portsmouth, N. C., during the terrible gale on the 17th inst. Her commander, Capt. Childs, two mates, two engineers, three seamen, two coal heavers, the steward and a Mr. Wheaton of Charleston, S. C., were lost in the disaster. Four young men from Wilmington were on board, but escaped the fate of the others.

General News.

By Gov. Henry A. Wise died in Richmond Va the 12th inst aged 70 years.

The Republicans elected the Governor of Tennessee by a negro.

The Republicans carried the Maine election by a majority in Jersey

Yellow fever of a malignant type still rages in Savannah Georgia. The chief cause of the spread is attributed to negroes and suppose in service as far as possible the terrible sickening of the afflicted city.

Two postals, one in San Francisco and the other in Honolulu, Sandwich Islands, have exchanged pulpits for a Sunday or two.

Wm M. Tweed was arrested in Port Vigo, on board the Spanish merchant-man Carmen Tweed was traveling under the name of Secor

There is going on in California, this Centennial year, more construction of railroad than in any previous period of the State's history

A Brasher editor offers a reward of five dollars for the best treatise on "How to make an Hour Like Attractive to the Masses"

Bayard Taylor has been in every World's Fair for two and considers the Centennial Exhibition the most inter sting and complete of them all

Japan indicates her progress in the march of civilization by adding a new railroad fifty miles in length, just opened between Osaka and Kobe, making some seventy five miles now in operation.

The Hon. Montgomery Blair is engaged in writing the life of Andrew Jackson.

It is estimated by the Western Grangers that the surplus wheat crop this season will amount to 600 000 tons.

Lieutenant Governor R. B. Hubbard succeeds Governor Coke of Texas, who has been elected to the Senate of the United States

More Difficulty in South Carolina--Several Killed

ANDERSON Co. Sept. 20.—A portion of the Federal troops from Aiken are at Ronsels bridge, making a reconnoissance.

Negroes burned a gin house and other buildings on the plantation of Joseph Ashley four miles from Robbins', on the Port Royal Railroad, Tuesday night. The whites attacked the negroes and a fight ensued It is known that several were seriously wounded on both sides. It is reported that some were killed. Two negroes bushwhacked Deputy Sheriff Patterson, of Barnwell county, and seriously wounded him. Three hundred armed whites are at Steel Creek today, and a battle is expected. It is known that John Williams and Robert Williams, white, were killed by negroes. Reports as to the number of negroes killed in the various battles differ.

Marriages.

Married by Rev. J. Tillett, Sept. 12th in Pitts co N C Rev. Thos J Allison of Tarboro, N. C, and Miss Nettie Tillet.

Married at the residence of the bride's brother, near Raleigh on the 20th inst., by Rev. B. T. Blake, Mr. Mark Jones, of Warren county and Miss Nannie P. Jones, of Wake county.

On the 13th inst, at the residence of the bride's father at Sutton N. C. Mr. H. H. Leland of Sampson Co., to Miss Adelia, daughter of Dr. W. R. Sharpe.

Deaths.

Obituary notices of twenty lines are inserted without charge. The excess over twenty lines of eight words is charged for at the rate of 10 cents per line Count the lines and allow eight words to the line, in this way you may always know the amount to enclose. Resolutions of respect are subject to the same rule.

Died of some affection of the brain, at his residence in Wayne Co N C 2nd Sept 1876, Thos Anderson Deans, aged about 56 years.

It is the testimony of all who knew him, that Bro Deans was an honest man. He was faithful in all the relations of life. His was one of the oldest Methodist families in this country, his grand father having been a Methodist preacher, perhaps more than a hundred years ago. Bro Deans had been a member of our Church, perhaps forty years. He suffered long and severely in his last illness, but ex hibited almost a marvelous degree the grace of patience.

While he acknowledged he was of much spiritual joy yet he died in good, "staggered not," but was full of hope to the end. His funeral was attended by one of the largest audiences I ever witnessed on a like occasion. His mother (91 years old) and a member of our Church for 80 years or more, still survives him. A large family deeply mourn his loss but not without hope.

FRANK H. WOOD, Pastor.

Died in Shelby, Sunday morning, the 10th instant of Apoplexy JAMES M. WARE Esq He was suddenly stricken into a state of unconsciousness and remained in this state seven days before he peacefully passed away into the land of eternal rest.

James M. Ware was born in this county in 1812 He was a man of great firmness of will and an upright citizen By his own strong arm he made two respectable fortunes during the 64 years of his life. In his trade he stood at the head for the excellency of his workmanship and assisted by an excellent wife, he raised a family of children and raised them in no low, privileged employ for them shelter a board provision, educational and social advantages. He had the comfort to see these grown men, all enrolled in the church of his choice, and those who had married to be in the same good and well doing ones To say that James M Ware was an industrious, self-reliant and upright man is but an echo of all known all over the county And when men hereafter pass this grave they will say there lies a man who made his living by hand and honest labor.

He was a man of fine intelligence, Though he had but little schooling in his day, yet by diligently improved what helped and aids ways out of the head This class He read much of standard works such as Wesley, Clarke Watson and Fletcher Our church papers he took and read with the deep st interest from the beginning

He was a man of much piety As the age of 17 he joined the Methodist Church, His conversion occurred while he was about preaching a series of sermons. I never by ever and heard every, and it was similar to that of Mr Ware's when he said, I felt as though I was being warmed by the love of God He was a diligent worker a general member of our church as I ever knew. He was several years a class leader and I verily believe that the class leader is going to be a class leader in heaven. He was also a steward and when he left home to attend to any business in person By way of illustrating his faithfulness, I have been told that many a time when the rest were both fed and bedded down home after dark he will not wait for his supper went on to church and held the class or prayer meeting. From this fact you may see his keeping. He began to hold family prayer and kept it up all his life While he had the best touch of the pure grace he said to his wife that he was not able to pray and she had better go and try to have prayers herself, and not let the fire on the andirons go out He did however have his usual family prayers on the morning of the day he was stricken down It would have been a consolation to himself to hear him speak before he died—all he could read Both wise. His long line of piety is the best declaration of his faithfulness to given pieces.

May the rich consolations Divine grace sustain and bless his widowed wife and bereaved children!

H T ERWIN, Pastor.

A mass of limestone tons of pure compact rock salt, has been cut on an island 185 feet high, which rises from a miserable sea marsh on the route from Frescent to New Iberia, up the river Teeche, Louisiana. Is one of the wonders of the world. How this island, containing over 300 acres of excellent land, ever came to exist in such a locality is a matter of conjecture. Vegetation is prolific, and the scenery is beautiful and varied. Here is a continuous bed of pure rock salt, whose extent is yet only estimated, and upon it most are puzzled.

Letters and Funds

Rev J J Renn paper com A K Gunstead 2 20 C T Rocks Rev W G Wilson Z H Bunn T B Pace other, Oct, Rev J R Griffith papers discontinued Rev A A Sharpe all right Prof A Hunt for only 12 of W H Newell paper continued Rev J Craven Rev M V Sherrill paper continued Rev W C Wilson papers sent J A Cole paper changed W H Sledge sent 2 24 J H Clegg sent 2 20 Rev Jas Willson Rev L W Pegg paper has been sent Mrs E M Hart sent 2 20 Rev A Boggom for Miss R Duffy 2 25 Jas Southgate sent 2 20 J J Roberts sent J D M M Mayes paper continued J K Thompson J Bagley Rev A H Watkins J D Simmons continued Rev F H Wood Rev J S Andrews paper sent Rev B F Long J A Edwards Rev J R Rooks F M Shelton E N Fresh man A Bass Rev J Tillett for L Pilkington 2 20 R Borsett 2 20 A D Mitchell sell 2 Patrick A Hines changed H M Brooks sell J Rev J R Hartsell was not received.

APPOINTMENTS.

CHARLOTTE DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Monroe ct. at Prospect.	Oct	7-8
Lilesville ct. at Shiloh,	"	14-15
Wadesboro sta	"	21-22
South Carolina ct. at Zion,	"	21-22
Stanley ct,	"	27
Albemarle ct	"	28-29
Mt Pleasant ct	Nov.	1
Concord ct,	"	4-5
Asheville ct,	"	11-12
Waynesboro ct. at Popular Hill,	"	11-12
Pleasant Grove ct. at Wesley Chapel	"	14-15
Pineville ct. at Harrisons,	"	17
Monroe sta	"	18-19
Charlotte,	"	23-29

The Local Preachers will please remember the discipline requires that they shall report in writing the extent and result of their labors to the Fourth Quarterly Conference.

W. H. BOBBITT, P. E.
Monroe, N. C.

HILLSBORO DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Durham sta.	Sept.	23-24
Allenance ct. Phillips' Chapel,	Oct.	1
Pittsboro ct. Chatham Church,	"	7-8
Deep River ct. Providence,	"	14-15
Cliffi & H River, Mt Pleasant,	"	21-22
Flat River ct. Orange Church,	"	28-29
Person ct. at Mt. Tirzah	Nov.	4-5
Hillsboro ct. Lea's Chapel,	"	11-12
Yanceyville ct. Shady Grove,	"	18-19
Hillsboro sta	"	25-26

L. L. HENDREN, P. E.
Chapel Hill, N. C.

GREENSBORO DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.—Q. M. IN PART.

Winston sta.	Sept.	23-24
Evangeline ct at Tabor	Oct	7-8
Davidson ct. Wesley Chapel,	"	14-15
North Carolina Fund, Mount Gilead,	"	21-22
Madison Madison,	"	28-29

N. H. D. WILSON, P. E.

WASHINGTON DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Washington,	Sept.	2-3
Greenville at Greenville,	"	9-10
Tarboro at McKendree	"	16-17
Warrenton,	Sept. 30. & Oct.	1
Roanoke at Bethel,	"	7-8
Warren at Cokesberry,	"	14-15
Williamston at Hamilton,	"	21-22
Plymouth and Jamesville,	"	24 25
at Jamesville.
Columbia at Columbia,	"	28-29
Mattamuskeet, at Fairfield,	Nov	4-5
Bath at Asbury.	"	11 12
Washington at Night on	"	12

WM GRESS, P. E.
Tousnot, N. C.

WILMINGTON DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Magnolia, at Salem,	Sept.	8-10
Wilmington, 5th Street.	"	16-17
Bolesonry at Hebron,	"	20-24
Kenansville, at Wesley Chapel.	Sept 30, and	Oct. 1
Smithville at Smithville,	"	7-8
Shallow, at Tabernacle,	"	14-15
Wilmington, Front Street.	"	18-19
Lockbeth, at Harden Springs,	"	28 29
Rockfish at Antioch	Nov	4-5
Whiteville and Waccamaw Miss.	"	11-12
Clinton, at Dudleys,	"	18 19
Topsail at Rocky Point,	"	25-26

The District Conference will be held at Bethany Church Onslow County Circuit, commencing on Wednesday the 29th September, Bro Stock A. M and will embrace the 4th Sabbath. Rev. J. B. Bailey will preach the opening sermon the brethren from other districts are invited to attend.

W. S. BLACK.
Magnolia, N. C.

NEWBERN DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND

Kinston Station,	Sept.	16-17
Newbern Station,	"	23-24
Branhort Station,	Oct.	7-8
Straits,	"	14-15
Snow Hill, Rainbow,	"	21-22
Wilson station.	"	28-29
Carteret, Harlowe's,	Nov.	1-5
Neuse, Aurora,	"	11 12
Craven, Beach Grove, Pines & Bird,	"	11 15
Piney Grove,	"	18-19
Jones Ct & Grove	"	18-19
Mt Olive Friday,	"	24
Wayne Freemont,	"	25-26
Goldsboro Sab. night & Mon,	"	27

E. A. YATES, P. E.
Beaufort, N C

RALEIGH DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND—1876.

Raleigh, Person S,	Aug.	26-27
Grant St Mt Tabor	Sept.	2-3
Henderson Tabernacle,	"	10 17
Youngsville,	"	23 24
Robersville Rabersville, Sept 30th,	Oct.	1
Raleigh Edenton St	"	7-8
Gary, Hollands,	"	14-15
Louisburg,	"	21-22
Par River Franklinton,	"	28-29
Rocky Mt & Nash ville, Toisnot, Smithfield,	At Tolsnot	Nov. 4-5
	"	11-12

J. P. MOORE, P. E.
Warrenton N C

FAYETTEVILLE DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND—IN PART.

Lumberton ct. at Lumberging,	Oct	7
Rock Fish Cokesbury,	"	14-15
Cox Ben Philadelphia,	"	21-22
Rockingham Rockingham	"	28-29
Robeson,	Nov.	4
Lurenburg Lurenburg	"	11-12

J. S. NELSON, P. E
Fayetteville, N. C.

SHELBY DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Columbus,	Aug.	26-27
Rutherfordton,	"	28-29
Happy Home,	Sept.	2-3
Caldwell, C. M.	"	9-10
South Turkey, C. M.	"	16-17
Bolles, C. M.	"	23-24
Double Shoals, C. M	Sept. 30,	Oct. 1
Cherry Mountain, C. M.	"	7-8
Smelly ct. C. M.	"	14-15
Upper Broad River,	"	21-22
Marion (Bethabara,	"	27-29
Sadlin station,	"	28-29
Organtown,	Nov.	4-5
Dysartsville,	"	11-12
Lenoir station,	"	11-12
Connellsboro,	"	11-12
Rockspring,	"	18-19
Newton,	"	25-26

R. G. BARRETT, P. E.
Shelby, N. C.

SALISBURY DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Statesville sta.	Sept	9-10
Statesville ct. Salem	"	16-17
Yadkinville, Center (C. M.)	High	1-2
Mt. Airy & S Mission, Salem.	"	7-8
Surry ct. A B R Mission, Thompson's	"	14-15
Wilkes ct. Wilksboro,	"	21-22
Alexander ct. Liberty (C. M.)	"	23-24
Iredell ct. Eagle Mills,	"	28-29
Mooresville, ct Mt Ararat's,	Nov	4-5
Salisbury, ct Harris'	"	11-12
Salisbury sta.	"	12-13
Davie ct. Smith Grove,	"	18-19
Mocksville ct. South River	"	25-26

D. R. BRITON, P. E.
Statesville, N. C.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

The Buffalo Lithia Waters

IN NEPHRITIC DISEASES.

Remarkable Relief of a Distinguish ed Physician after Failure of all other Remedies.

Case of Dr. G C Moore, of St John, Hertford Co., N C.

ST JOHN, Hertford Co., N C. Sept. 7th 1876.

Col. Thos F. Rogers: Dear Sir: At your request I will give you a short account of my experience in the use of your Lithia Water. I had been afflicted in suspending my self apparently to living me of a trouble's same one very painful Nephritic Disease.—Fifteen years since, when in perfect health, after more than usual exercise, I had a sudden attack of Nephralgia Calculosa, as I thought, and was pronounced by my professional friends who visited me. After several days of acute suffering the pain and its consequences subsided, and I returned to my usual avocations seemingly uninjured The attack was followed by laterible s dependence in the urine for some days, and I unwisely hanged on for the Catchin that he figure in no so much suffering in its transit through the Urethra but in that and in none of the frequent attacks that I have had since have I ever discovered a well marked crystal. The disease returned at shorter and shorter intervals until it was almost continually present, pain extending from the region of the kidney around the Crista of the Ilium and down the course of the Urethra to the bladder the bladder irritable and intolerant—and all the symptoms defineating, as I considered, incurable disease in the Urinary Organs. My life became a burden, and my only hope from suffering seemed to be in death. I was compelled to use daphna or Chlorodine in large doses for temporarily relief. In the mean while I was taking Buchu and the Alkaline Carbonates to so the irritation and neutralize excess of Acid Secretion.

Having heard of the newly discovered Buffalo Lithia Water, I determined to give it a trial and obtained a box of the usual quantity I had not used the six gallons of water before I was considerably benefited. My pains all subsided, intolerance and irritability disappeared, and my health was so far restored that I ventured again upon an active practice of medicine. Exposure to the great heat in the months of June and July, and I had 250 home visit dark he without waiting for his supper went on to church and held the class or prayer meeting. From this fact you may see his keeping. He began to hold family prayer and kept it up all his life While he had the best touch of the pure grace he said to his wife that he was not able to pray and she had better go and try to have prayers herself, and not let the fire on the andirons go out He did however have his usual family prayers on the morning of the day he was stricken down It would have been a consolation to himself to hear him speak before he died—all he could read Both wise. His long line of piety is the best declaration of his faithfulness to given pieces.

May the rich consolations Divine grace sustain and bless his widowed wife and bereaved children!

H T ERWIN, Pastor.

Sept 27-4t

BALTIMORE, OCTOBER 1876.

CHAS. SIMON & SONS

DRESS-MAKING DEPARTMENT.

We would call the attention of our friends and the public in general to this Department.

Under the present management we have met with unprecedented success. We have filled orders for customers residing in nearly every Southern State, and have in our possession numerous flattering testimonials from those who have favored us with a great superiority in usually finishing our work.

Our specialty this season will be Black Grenadine Dresses, trimmed in same material, made in the most fashionable style, for the low price of $50.00.

These Dresses should not be judged by the price, as they are in every respect superior to anything heretofore offered on the market. Samples of the material and directions for self-measurement sent free by mail upon application.

CHAS SIMON & SONS,
61 N. Howard St.,
Baltimore, Md.

Sept 27 3m

A FEMALE TEACHER WANTED

To take charge of a neighborhood school, who can teach the higher branches of English, Latin, French and Music Address J. A. Edwards, Hookerton, Greene co, N. C., giving qualifications, age and price.

Sept 27-2t.

GENUINE CRAB ORCHARD SALTS.

THE MILDEST AND BEST CENERAL PURCATIVE IN USE. Endorsed by the highest medical men in the United States. Persons suffering with costiveness of the bowels or torpid liver, will find ready relief by the use of these Salts. None genuine except those put up in bottles with the label of the Crab Orchard Springs Salts Company.

J. B. WILDER & CO., Agents, Louisville, Ky.

Sep 27-8.

A DOLLS' FAIR! A DOLLS' FAIR!

A Merry, Christmas for the Little Sick Girls in the Hospitals.

Ten beautiful Premiums offered for the Ten Best Dressed Dolls. All Dolls to be distributed among the Hospitals at Christmas.

The October No. of WIDE AWAKE, containing Rules and Directions, post paid for Ten cents on application to the Publishers.

D. LOTHROP & CO., BOSTON, MASS.

Sept. 27-4t.

AGENTS WANTED FOR HISTORY CENTEN'L EXHIBITION

It sells faster than any other book One Agent sold 75 copies in two days. Send for our extra terms to Agents. NATIONAL PUBLISHING Co., Philadelphia, Pa.

Sept 27-3m.

North Carolina DIRECTORY.

I am now preparing to issue the 5th edition of my North Carolina Directory, Centennial Edition.

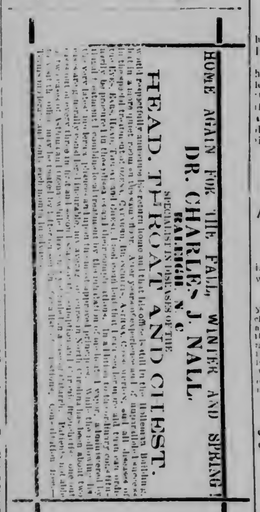
I intend this edition to contain a full list of the Churches, Hotels, Lawyers, Manufacturies, Merchants, Ministers, Mines, Mills, Physicians, Post offices, schools, &c

The book will represent North Carolina as it is this centennial year.

Having agents in all the counties, of long standing and experience, I expect to have a fuller and nearer perfect Directory than ever before.

Advertisements will be taken at the usual rates of $25 per page. My Directories are copyrighted, which copyrights will be defended against all infringements to the fullest extent of the law and my ability.

L. BRANSON,
Sept 27 4w. Raleigh, N. C.



FIRST FALL STOCK.

WE ARE NOW RECEIVING A VERY LARGE STOCK OF

FALL DRESS GOODS

AND

MEN'S WEAR,

Both of our own importation and from the leading jobbing houses and agents in the principal northern cities.

We leave the pleasure of saying to our patrons that our stock, in ALL DEPARTMENTS, has

NEVER BEEN EXCELLED.

The stock of DRESS GOODS will be the largest and of the latest novelties of any in the State, as usual

☞ "The BEST GOODS at the LOWEST CASH PRICES."

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER.

SHOES AND HATS.

The largest Stock we have had—late styles and at low prices.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER.

THE Buffalo Lithia Waters

BELIEVE A CASE OF

DYSPEPSIA OF 20 YEARS' STANDING.

WHEN THE PATIENT WAS DEEMED IN A HOPELESS CONDITION BY THE ATTENDING PHYSICIAN.

Extract from letter of Mrs. ——, of Halifax County, Va., stated by Dr. Marcus A. Harris of that county, well known as one of the most distinguished practitioners of Southern Virginia.

(Extract from Letter of Dr. Harris, of July 25, 1876.)

"Mrs. —— has been for twenty years a sufferer from Dyspepsia in a most aggravated form. Prominent among a multiplicity of distressing symptoms were attacked spasmodic Gastralgia, varying in duration and intensity, and becoming less and less amenable to treatment. For a few months before she commenced the use of the BUFFALO LITHIA WATERS the attacks became more prolonged and violent, and her emaciated, cachetic and distressed condition was unmistakable evidence of a rapid decline. Having exhausted my own resources, I called to my assistance in the treatment of the case some of the most eminent medical men of the State, without any other result than a palliation of suffering; and in what I regarded as a hopeless condition, I prescribed the Buffalo Lithia Water, Spring No. 2. To the exclusion of all other treatment. She has been using the water now for about two months, and her improvement has been so marked and decided that she is able to attend regularly to her domestic affairs. For four months before commencing the use of the "Lithia Water," herself was milk and stale bread, alternated with bread and water and bread and tea. She now eats with impunity almost everything—for breakfast, cold, bread and butter, mutton chops, broiled oysters &c., for dinner, mutton, beef, chicken, and vegetables except Irish potatoes, with desserts, such as cake, ice cream, &c. I will add, that this was one of the most distressing and unmanageable cases of Dyspepsia that I have ever seen in a practice of many years, and that the action of the water in it was marvellous."

SERMONS.

BY E. M. MARVIN, D.D., LL.D.,

One of the Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church South.

Edited by T. O. SUMMERS, D.D

12mo, Muslin Pages 552.

This book will be ready by the 10th of August. Price Two Dollars, with Twenty five per cent discount to Preachers. It will be sent, post paid, to any address on receipt on retail price. The money must be sent to all orders.

A. H. REDFORD, Agt.

THE NORTH CAROLINA FARMER.

JAS. H. ENNIS—Dear Sir: I have been a practical farmer for forty years, and during that time have taken the best agricultural papers of the day, and I undertake to say that there is more valuable practical information in your farmer in the first and second numbers of the North Carolina Farmer than in any dozen copies of any of the Agricultural Journals I have taken; and I do most earnestly recommend it to every farmer in our State as the paper for him, above all others.

PETER R. HINES,
Halifax, Co.

Subscription one year,	$1.00
5 Copies " "	4.00
10 " " "	7.00
A Premium

J. H. ENNIS & CO. Publishers,
Aug 30 1f Raleigh, N. C.

"TEACHER."

Any one desiring a teacher would do well to address, stating terms,

DR. W. A. WITHERS, A. B.,
sept 20 1f Trinity College.

THE BUFFALO LITHIA WATERS IN THE Nausea and Other Sufferings Incident to PREGNANCY.

Extract from letter of DR. C. WINSLOW, (Dr. Winslow has reference to the Waters of Spring No. 2) a leading Practitioner of the City of Baltimore, of Feb. 26 h, 1876;

"In several cases I have found this water of marked service in relieving the nausea of pregnancy Being asked, I know, almost one and tonic, it seems well adapted to relieve the distressing sickness usually attendant upon gestation, and I have no doubt its free use would remove anemic poison and prevent convulsions produced thereby."

PREGNANCY.

Letter of Rev. Robert Burton, (a minister of the Baptist Church,) of Mecklenburg County, Virginia.

NEAR CHASE CITY Va., May 1 1876.

COL. GOODE, Dear Sir: At your request I give you substantially a statement which I have heretofore made to you verbally and I think on a former occasion in writing also, as to the Buffalo Lithia Waters as a remedy as agent in the disturbances incident to pregnancy.

For more than twenty years I have been an occasional visitor to the Buffalo Springs, and have had several instances had reason to watch with deep interest the effects of the water upon females, in such cases. I have no hesitation in expressing the conviction that as a remedy in the numerous and often distressing ailments experienced under these circumstances there is nothing at all comparable to it, and I cannot overlook in the fact that it diminishes both the discomfort and the great accompanying the period of gestation I can and do most conscientiously recommend its use in all such cases.

Respectfully yours obedient servant,
ROBERT BURTON.

THE FOLLOWING LETTER

Is from Rev Jas L. ve, an old and well known member of the Virginia Methodist Conference.

It states the benefits derived by his daughter, Mrs L E Clarke, of Petersburg, Va., both in Dyspepsia and Kidney Affections, and also the beneficial action of the water upon her when in a delicate condition.

PETERSBURG, VA., June 1, 1876.

COL. THOMAS F. ROGERS, Jersey St—I take great pleasure in furnishing my testimony to the remarkable virtues of the Buffalo Lithia Water, as shown in the case of my daughter, Mrs L. E. Clarke, of this town. In 1874, previous to her marriage, she was almost completely broken down in health by a derangement of the digestive organs, from which she found no relief in medicines. In this condition she commenced the use of the Buffalo Lithia Water, and by the time she had used two bottles she was restored to perfect health. After her marriage, and some month's residence in the country, she suffered from nausea and debility were such as to evoke appreciation for the result, following the use of the waters of Spring No. 2, she found decided relief After her 2 bottle she took an occasional drink of the water as a special benefit to her at this time. After her Babyshon, she again had recourse to the waters of Spring No. 2, and was entirely relieved by it. She now regards the Buffalo Waters as a remedy for all her ailments.

Respectfully, JOSEPH LEAK.

In Dyspepsia, affections of the kidneys and bladder, and in the peculiar diseases of women, these waters are regarded as well nigh specific. They are for sale in cases of one dozen half gallon bottles at $5 per case.

THOS. F. GOODE, Proprietor
Buffalo Lithia Springs, Va.,
Sept 6 3mos. Mecklenburg Co., Va.

The President of the BRYANT & STRATTON BUSINESS COLLEGE, Philadelphia, has made arrangements so that parties desiring to attend this Institution during the progress of the UNITED STATES CENTENNIAL EXHIBITION

can secure good board on the grounds for two dollars per week. It will take at least a month to thoroughly examine the numerous objects of interest from all parts of the world, and this can easily be done afternoons and on Saturdays, without interfering with the regular course of study. No such opportunity for advancing a business education and valuable general information will ever again be presented. For full particulars, address

J. F. SOULE, President, 16 South Tenth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Sept. 27 5t.

VANDERBILT UNIVERSITY.

Nashville, Tenn.

THIRTEENTH SESSION OPENS SEPTEMBER 14TH, 1876.

Cost of Grounds, Buildings, Library, and Apparatus..... $250,000
Permanent Endowment..... 500,000
Students Fund..... 120,000

The University is organized in Four Departments:
The Department of Philosophy, Science, and Literature with ten Professors and Two Tutors
The Department of Law—three Professors.
The Department of Medicine—seven Professors, and lecturing, with fine and delightful clinics, is held in all several localities, or private boarding-houses, at from $5 to $20 per month.
Masters of the gospel, of any Church, will be admitted to any School in the Academical and Biblical departments free of tuition fees.
For special information, address the Chancellor, or any of the Professors.
For general Catalogues, address R. A. Young, D. D., University secretary.
For other information, address

L. C. GARLAND,
Chancellor Vanderbilt University,
Nashville, Tenn.

Jl 18-1m.

AGENTS WANTED.

VOICE OF GOD.

BY REV. ALFRED NEVIN, D. D.

A timely and valuable Book of absorbing interest, containing all the HISTORIC and LEGENDARY lore of all BIBLE, with accounts of all Patriarchs Prophets, Priests, Kings and Heroes of Royal Octavo Pages with numerous handsome engravings. AGENTS WANTED.

MILLER'S BIBLE AND PUBLISHING HOUSE.
1102 and 1104 Sansom Street, Philadelphia.

Jul 12th 2 m

AGENTS WANTED.

THE BEST YET.

Our POPULAR FAMILY BIBLE with Illustrated Dictionary, Concordance, and other valuable extra matter Splendid Illustrations and binding. Elegant Indexes, Extraordinary inducements to good AGENTS. SPECIAL PROTECTION in Territory guaranteed.

MILLER'S BIBLE AND PUBLISHING HOUSE.
1102 and 1104 Sansom Str et, Philadelphia.

Jul 12th 2 m

AGENTS WANTED.

TEMPLE HARP.

A new music book in Atkin's Seven-character Notes with a thorough course of instruction in the most natural and Easy Method A book not discovered Alcan learn to sing home from the Home requires by any other method Adapted to Choirs, Singing Schools, etc., etc. Specimen pages mailed free. Teachers wanted as agents.

MILLER'S BIBLE AND PUBLISHING HOUSE.
1102 and Sansom Street, Philadelphia.

July 12th 2 m

AGENTS WANTED.

CRYSTAL GEMS.

A new Sabbath School Music Book by Atkin's Seven Character Notes, and upon a System particularly adapted to the young learner. This Book contains rare selections of new and beautiful tunes. Specimen Copies mailed on receipt of 35 cts.

MILLER'S BIBLE AND PUBLISHING HOUSE.
1102 and 1104 Sansom Street, Philadelphia.

July 12th 2 m

NEW BOOKS FOR SINGING CLASSES!

JOYFUL NOTES

Is printed in our new combined notes, and is the best book for the price, as is acknowledged by all to be the best system yet invented, as soon as learned the round notes, and the figures make the shape, but skilled in reading them to sing them at sight.

HOURS OF SONG

IS THE BEST ROUND NOTE BOOK IN THE FIELD.

HOURS OF SONG and JOYFUL NOTES were prepared by Prof. Jas. H. Fillmore, from long experience and careful observations as a successful teacher. The pedagogics are the most thorough, the music grand. Price 50 cents $4.80 per dozen by express; $5.50 per dozen by mail.

FILLMORE BROS., Publishers,
Specimen pages free. CINCINNATI, O.
sept 20 4t.

Williams & Haywood

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN

Drugs, Medicines, Paints, Oils, Dye-Stuffs, Perfumery,

Fancy Articles, Garden Seeds Fine Teas, Spices Flavoring Extracts.

CIGARS, CHEWING TOBACCO &C.

D. LANGELL'S ASTHMA & CATARRH REMEDY.

Having struggled twenty years between life and death with ASTHMA, I experimented by compounding roots and herbs and inhaling the medicine. I fortunately discovered a sure cure for ASTHMA and CATARRH. Warranting a relief or any case of Asthma in stating so the patient can lie down to sleep. By mail, $1.00 per box. Address D. LANGELL, Apple Creek, Ohio. For sale by Druggists.

Aug 6 13t eow.

"TEACHER."

Any one desiring a teacher would do well to address, stating terms,

DR. W. A. WITHERS, A. B.,
sept 20 1f Trinity College.

THE BUFFALO LITHIA WATERS IN THE Nausea and Other Sufferings Incident to PREGNANCY.

Extract from letter of DR. C. WINSLOW, (Dr. Winslow has reference to the Waters of Spring No. 2) a leading Practitioner of the City of Baltimore, of Feb. 26 h, 1876;

"In several cases I have found this water of marked service in relieving the nausea of pregnancy Being asked, I know, almost one and tonic, it seems well adapted to relieve the distressing sickness usually attendant upon gestation, and I have no doubt its free use would remove anemic poison and prevent convulsions produced thereby."

PREGNANCY.

Letter of Rev. Robert Burton, (a minister of the Baptist Church,) of Mecklenburg County, Virginia.

NEAR CHASE CITY Va., May 1 1876.

COL. GOODE, Dear Sir: At your request I give you substantially a statement which I have heretofore made to you verbally and I think on a former occasion in writing also, as to the Buffalo Lithia Waters as a remedy as agent in the disturbances incident to pregnancy.

For more than twenty years I have been an occasional visitor to the Buffalo Springs, and have had several instances had reason to watch with deep interest the effects of the water upon females, in such cases. I have no hesitation in expressing the conviction that as a remedy in the numerous and often distressing ailments experienced under these circumstances there is nothing at all comparable to it, and I cannot overlook in the fact that it diminishes both the discomfort and the great accompanying the period of gestation I can and do most conscientiously recommend its use in all such cases.

Respectfully yours obedient servant,
ROBERT BURTON.

THE FOLLOWING LETTER

Is from Rev Jas L. ve, an old and well known member of the Virginia Methodist Conference.

It states the benefits derived by his daughter, Mrs L E Clarke, of Petersburg, Va., both in Dyspepsia and Kidney Affections, and also the beneficial action of the water upon her when in a delicate condition.

PETERSBURG, VA., June 1, 1876.

COL. THOMAS F. ROGERS, Jersey St—I take great pleasure in furnishing my testimony to the remarkable virtues of the Buffalo Lithia Water, as shown in the case of my daughter, Mrs L. E. Clarke, of this town. In 1874, previous to her marriage, she was almost completely broken down in health by a derangement of the digestive organs, from which she found no relief in medicines. In this condition she commenced the use of the Buffalo Lithia Water, and by the time she had used two bottles she was restored to perfect health. After her marriage, and some month's residence in the country, she suffered from nausea and debility were such as to evoke appreciation for the result, following the use of the waters of Spring No. 2, she found decided relief After her 2 bottle she took an occasional drink of the water as a special benefit to her at this time. After her Babyshon, she again had recourse to the waters of Spring No. 2, and was entirely relieved by it. She now regards the Buffalo Waters as a remedy for all her ailments.

Respectfully, JOSEPH LEAK.

In Dyspepsia, affections of the kidneys and bladder, and in the peculiar diseases of women, these waters are regarded as well n

Children's Column.

Naddy.

Hide behind the sofa,
Playing hop-up-thumb in the chairs,
Racing to attic or cellar,
Sliding down the stairs,
Turning the house topsy-turvey,
Grandma knows every day
Beautiful little English frolic
And he merry children play.

Running for treats to the pantry,
And hearing the door ajar,
Wide open, day-light or eve,
And table leaves near and far;
Selling his shoes on Ice-Brook pond,
Scattering things each day,
Chasing the chickens and cackling,
Into mischief all away.

Trying on grandpa's glasses,
That hide his naughty black eyes,
And only newspaper gen'ral knows him,
Looking so wickedly wise.
Hopper-grass wrong side upward,
Just for all the same to him
Every thing study at present,
Master you have never seen dim.

Gladly we leave our Naddy
In spite of his mischief and play
And lonely an dull seems the household
When he is away.
And so, and that our Father in heaven
Would gently and keep him ever day,
And watch over our darlings' footsteps,
That he never may go astray.

—Kate Hillyer Thompson.

The Lucky Leaf.

One evening a poor man and his son, a little boy, sat by the way side near the gate of an old town in Germany. The father took out a loaf of bread which he had bought in the town, and broke it, and gave half to his boy. "Not so, father," said the boy; "I shall not eat until after you. You have been working hard all day, for small wages, to support me, and you must be very hungry: I shall wait till you are done."

"You speak kindly, my son," replied the pleased father; "your love to me does me more good than my food: and those eyes of yours remind me of your dear mother, who has left us, and who told you to love me as she used to do; and, indeed, my boy, you have been a great strength and comfort to me; but, now that I have eaten the first morsel to please you, it is your turn to eat."

"Thank you, father, but break this piece in two and take you a little more, for you see the loaf is not large, and you require much more than I do."

"I shall divide the loaf for you, my boy, but eat it: I shall not. I have abundance, and let us thank God for his great goodness in giving us food, and in giving us what is better still—cheerful and contented hearts. He who gave us the living Bread from heaven to nourish our immortal souls, how shall he not give us all other food that is necessary to support our mortal bodies?"

The father and son thanked God, and then began to eat the loaf in a few [illegible] cut one portion of the [illegible] were tell out several large pieces of gold of great value. The little boy gave a shout of joy, and was springing forward to grasp the unexpected treasure, when he was pulled back by his father. "My son, my son!" he cried: "do not touch that; money is it is not ours."

"But whose is it, father, if it is not ours?"

"I know not, as yet, to whom it belongs. It probably it was pay there by the baker through some mistake. We must inquire 'Ram.'

"But, father," interrupted the boy, "you are poor and needy, and you have bought the loaf, and the baker may tell a lie, and—"

"I will not listen to you, my boy. I bought the loaf, but I did not but the gold in it. If the baker sold it to me in ignorance, I shall not be so dishonest as to take advantage of him. Remember How who told us to do to others as we would have others do to us. The baker may possibly cheat us. I am poor, indeed, but that is no sin. If we share the poverty of Jesus, God's own Son, O, let us share also his goodness and his trust in God! We may never be rich, but we may always be honest. We may die of starvation, but God's will be done should we die in doing it! Yes, my boy, trust God, and walk in his ways, and you shall never be put to shame. Now, run to the baker, and bring him here, and I shall watch the gold until he comes."

So the boy ran for the baker

"Brother workman," said the old man, 'you have made some error, and almost lost your money:' and he then showed the baker the gold, and told him how it had been found.

"Is it thine?' asked the father; if it is, take it away."

"My father baker, is very poor, and—'

"Silence, my child; put me not to shame by thy complaints. I am glad we have saved this man from losing his money."

The baker had been gazing alternately upon the honest father and the eager boy, and upon the gold which lay glittering upon the green turf: "Thou art indeed, an honest fellow," said the baker; "and my neighbor David, the flax dresser told but the truth when he said thou were the honestest man in our town.

"Now I shall tell thee about the gold: A stranger came to my shop a few days ago, and gave me that loaf, and told me to sell it cheaply, or give it away to the honestest poor man whom I knew in the city. I told David to send thee as a customer this morning. As thou wouldst not have the loaf for nothing, I sold it to thee, as thou knowest, for the last pence in thy purse and the loaf with all its treasure and certes, it is not small—is thine: and God grant thee a blessing with it.' The poor father bent his head to the ground, while the tears fell from his eyes. His boy ran and put his hands about his neck, and said, 'I shall always, like you, my father, trust God and do what is right: for I am sure it will never put us to shame.'—Little Lessons with Great Meanings.

The Portsmouth Journal says: One day, Eddie, a bright little chap of three and a half years, was sent to the corner store to get two wicks; but on the way his memory failed him, and he got into the store minus a knowledge of what his mother wanted. The kind keeper, to help out the little fellow, who began to cry, commenced naming several articles; and at last mentioned the herb thyme.

'That's it,' exclaimed he: 'Something about time I think she told me to buy a fortnight.'

'Buy a fortnight! Why, my little fellow, a fortnight is two weeks.'

'That's it; that's it,' ejaculated the little messenger, in high glee, 'mamma told me to get two wicks—two lamp wicks!'

The largest negative ever produced by means of photography was recently exhibited in San Francisco. It was about three feet long and two feet wide, and the perfected apparatus cost the inventor over $12,000

Rural and Domestic

CREAM CAKES. One tumbler of water, and one half tumbler of flour, one fourth pound of butter. Boil all together, and when cool, add five eggs, stirring in one at a time. Bake fifteen minutes in a quick oven.

LEMON PIE.—One cup boiling water, one tablespoonful corn starch one cup sugar, juice and grated rind of one lemon, butter size of an egg; take this from the stove and add one egg well beaten. To be made with upper crust.

ORANGE CUSTARD.—The juice of six oranges strained and sweetened with loaf sugar; stir over a slow fire till the sugar is dissolved, take off the scum; when nearly cold add the yolks of six eggs, well beaten, and a pint of cream or milk. Return to the fire and stir till it thickens, pour into glasses and stir when cold.

VELVET CREAM.—Three pints of cream, the whites of six eggs, a half box of gelatine. Flavor and sweeten the cream to taste; then beat to a stiff froth; dissolve the gelatine in a teacupful of hot water, and when the gelatine is milk warm add the cream; smooth; line the mold with sponge cake and pour in the mixture.

LOCK JAW. A simple and most effective remedy is tobacco. Pull off from an ordinary plug, a quantity that will spread over your palm, wet it and lay it on the stomach of the sufferer. This produces almost immediate nausea, and a relaxation of the muscles, and no case has been known to be fatal where it has been used.

Potatoes need thinning to insure a good, early marketable crop. At the second hoeing you pull out all the tops except from one to four, taking the small and weakly ones, and you will see the benefit of it.

Two Fine Pears.

CLAPP'S FAVORITE.—This is a new variety which originated near Boston, and is supposed to be a cross between Flemish Beauty and Bartlett. The growth of the tree is like the Flemish Beauty; the form and size of the pear resemble the Bartlett. It is large, oblong pyriform, pale yellow, near brick, and splashed with light reddish brown. The flesh is juicy, melting, is sweet and of very good quality. It ripens at the end of summer at the North, about a week before the Bartlett, and should be gathered at least a week before full maturity, to prevent rotting at the core. No new pear has gained favor more rapidly than this, and in the catalogue of the American Pomological Society it is recommended for general cultivation in ten States, and is promising in eight others.

Doyenne du Comice.—This pear originated in France. It is rather large in size, roundish pyriform, be coming clear yellow at maturity, with some markings of russet; the flesh is white, juicy, and melting, slightly aromatic, sweet, and rich. It ripens late in autumn. It is one of the most promising of all the newer pears, and maintains its excellence of quality both in this country and in Europe.

Beurre Superfin. This is another autumn pear of French origin, which proves of excellence and value in this country. It is medium, often large in size, of ovate approaching pyriform, with the neck narrowing to the fleshy stem; in color, greenish yellow, with some russet, often with a reddish tint in check; exceedingly juicy and melting, with a rich, vinous flavor. It grows vigorously on the quince and is one of the very few sorts which will succeed perfectly as a dwarf.

Rural Affairs

Greensboro Female College,
GREENSBORO, N. C.

The Fall session will begin on Wednesday 15th of August, and continue 20 weeks. Board (exclusive of washing and lights) $75
Tuition in regular English course 2
For catalogue, apply to Rev. T. M. Jones, Pres't.
Prof. N. B. D. WILSON,
President Board of Trustees.
June 21 2-m

How to Vanquish the Stomach's Tormentor,

If the Enemy of mankind was permitted to exert his diabolical ingenuity in the invention of a "new disease, he could scarcely devise one more worthy of his genius than dyspepsia. The dyspeptic suffers most every known malady, and is often scarcely intelligible to a physician of the "constitution and perplexing manifestations. A favorite though absurd hallucination of the victim of chronic indigestion is that he or she has heart disease. Dyspepsia has often been pronounced incurable, but experience has shown that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will vanquish it, together with the constipation and bilious derangement which usually accompany it. Diseases of the kidneys and supposed rheumatic pains are also frequent concomitants of dyspepsia, but they, too, succumb to the above named invaluable corrective.

Sept 6 1-m

J. H. ZEILIN & CO.

A gentleman writes thus: "I write you this note for the purpose of informing you of my having been appointed to the position of Vice President of the Ætna Fire Insurance Company, which position I have accepted. Having known it for a number of years, and I personally do, as prepared by you, to feel confident in saying to you, for the sake of human kind, who may stand in need of it, to be your keeping—Your very best friend and recommend it, but you will do me a favor to never mention it, unless you have my permission to use it. In closing the liver of humanity, I am of which it has been confined for years, and permits it to act in its original motion. I have written these lines with no other view but to give you my honest opinion.

For Sale by all Druggists

May 2-26-1-mo.

THE BUFFALO

LITHIA WATERS

— IN —

Protracted Intermittent and Remittent Fevers.

Extract from a letter of Dr. D. E. Munson, Professor of Materia Medica and Physiology in the Medical College, Richmond, Va., May 20th, 1875.

"The waters have been especially curative in cases of chronic malarious fever, many intermittents of long standing having resisted to perfect health in a few days of time.

Extract from Pamphlet of Dr. S. Harris on these Waters, published in 1856:

CHRONIC INTERMITTENT AND REMITTENT FEVERS. "In the chronic forms of these troublesome conditions, the patient water is used happily, and, it proceeded in such a case, a permanent cure. These waters, more of the liver and spleen, concomitants of malarious fevers are speedily removed without the cathartic exercise."

Rev. T. R. Bailey, Esq., of the Virginia Bar, now in the field in this State upon the Democratic Presidential ticket.

Extract from letter, dated Buffalo Springs, August 28th, 1875:

"Some years since my wife was completely worn down and prostrated by a protracted case of chills and fever. After using all the remedies indicated in such cases in vain, I visited the most noted watering places of the mountains of Virginia without deriving any benefit, almost despair of obtaining relief from any source, I left the mountains and came to these Springs, where in a few weeks, I was entirely restored to health."

Testimonials of the great power of these Waters in other but not all and benefactor fever ought to be sufficient of itself to induce, both from private and public sources.

HON. L. LOGGAN, Proprietor
BUFFALO LITHIA SPRINGS, VA.
Mecklenburg Co., Va.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, Superior Court, Wake County. } Aug. 16th, 1876.

L. E. STAMPS, Trustee, vs. A. Taylor and Jas. S. Purefoy.

It appearing to the satisfaction of the Court upon affidavit filed in the cause, that A. Taylor, is a necessary party to the suit, and that after due diligence he cannot be served in this State: It is ordered by the Court that service by publication of the summons in this cause be made upon the said defendant for at least once a week for six weeks in the Weekly Visitor, a newspaper published in the city of Raleigh, and that a copy of the same be mailed to said defendant at the place of his residence if such be known.

J. S. LENTING,
Clerk Superior Court.

WAKE COUNTY—IN THE SUPERIOR COURT.

L. E. Stamps, Trustee, &c. vs.
A. Taylor and others.
Purefoy
Jas. S. Purefoy, Original Complaint.

To the Sheriff of Wake County—Greeting: You are hereby commanded to summon A. Taylor, Edward Haines, S. Purefoy, the defendants above named, if they be found within your county, to appear at the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court for the County of Wake, on the 30th day after the service of the summons on them exclusive of the day of such service, and answer the complaint, a copy of which is herewith delivered to them or left at the office of the Superior Court for said County, within ten days from the date of the summons, and let them take notice that if they fail to answer the said complaint within that time, the Plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Hereof fail not, and of this summons make due return.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, this 30th day of August 1876.

J. S. LENTING,
Clerk Superior Court Wake County.
Johnson & Johnson and R. T. Gray Plaintiff Attorneys, aug 23-6w

WESLEYAN FEMALE INSTITUTE.
STAUNTON, VA.

With the Co-operation of A. Nevil Sexton, A. M. (Oxon.) and Rev. W. A. Harris, D. D., as Principals, a full corps of Teachers in the Literary and Music Departments, and Rev. James C. Hiden, A. M., Principal of the Preparatory School.

The Session of 1876-'77 will open on Thursday, September 7th, and close on Thursday, June 21st, 1877.

Boarding pupils will be received at the commencement of the session, and charged from that date to the end of the session, unless withdrawn by written order of parent or guardian.

Pupils will be received at any time during the session, and charged from the date of entrance

OLDEST GROCERY HOUSE
Raleigh !
SHED IN 1869.
BROTHERS,
ALL GROCERS
AND — Merchants,
Raleigh, N. C.
Headquarters for
GROCERIES,
Country Produce
876.
GOODS
ULLEY'S,
Boots, Shoes,
Hats,
and Up Stairs.
Market Square,
Raleigh, N. C.
I am Sole Agent
PATTERNS
GULLEY
RAND PAN.
every place for the
CHRISTIAN WEEKLY,
ANCE, POSTPAID.
Things every week.
Published by the
TRACT SOCIETY granted by an-ditions, may ress to
Main St., Richmond, Va
BRANCH.
STREET
ond Va..
SMALL COLLEGE
RY, N. C.
SCHOOL, Principal.
Assistant.
Music Teacher.
TURE
& CO as Walnut
Parlor Suits,
Wardrobes,
Bureaus, Safes, tables in great
Wood and
MORRIS & CO
SPRINGS,
nty, N. C.
Bargains!
HARNESS
WORKMEN! day at home.
ress work free
dress,

Raleigh Christian Advocate.

Bobbitt & Gray, Publishers. Published in the Interests of Methodism in North Carolina.

Vol. XXII.—No. 39. Raleigh, N. C., Wednesday, October 4, 1876. $2.20 Per Annum, in Advance.

Whole No. 1,127.

Poetry.

The Infidel Old Ethan Allen and his Daughter

The lamps of death are coming fast,
My father, o'er my brow;
The grief with all I've now has dashed,
And I must take it now
For this dim future, which I even
My children's joy descry,
Tell me, my father, that's the hour,
I cannot clasp Faith to me.

O, then I see what had been scornful smile,
And heard his withering tone,
While o'er the future's clouded hope
Was spread above the gloom;
I heard him speak of coming death
Without a shade of gloom,
And laugh at all the childish fears
That cluster round the tomb

Oh, is it in my mother's faith
Has health decayed there,
Through many a weary year he's past,
Pure calm and cold is face
Has often led his mind,
Now starts I look, he said,
Daughter, the hour, in which she now
My early thoughts directed

I've striven my soul with natural lo's,
And mourn as but the fond
Must bear its trials as part thereof
Light with and feeling age
Oh, father, I've prayed
I might share a heaven
Is words beyond me's

My father, shall I be alone,
Amid this gathering gloom,
With there's promises of love
Extinguished in the tomb?
Or shall we, father, meet
Beyond the cloud of death,
Through purer path of virtue,
And purer home of rest?
And shall, my sire, in faith

I've drawn up on that world I know
Passed, like a cloud, away,
And then's orders all down the jagged clouds,
That shall no veil that day
Now each in order, as a clock has struck,
The angel come for me;
Then in my mother's holy faith,
My daughter, may she meet me

The Pulpit.

Sermon by Rev T. De Witt Talmage.

REPORTED BY MR. WALFORD FOR THE CHRISTIAN MONOGYAL.

How the Lord threshes us.

"For the fitches are not threshed with a threshing instrument neither is a cart wheel turned about upon the cummin; but the fitches are beaten out with a staff, and the cummin with a rod. Bread corn is bruised; because he will not ever be threshing it."—Isaiah xxviii. 27, 28.

The first sermon after my autumnal return is apt to be consolatory, and this one shall be no exception. The heat has been almost insufferable: in the furnace much human life has been consumed: many families have been broken: misfortunes of various kinds have come upon various people: and I suppose, standing in any congregation to day, in this country, the great need of ninety nine out of a hundred is solace. Look then to this unfrequented allegory of my text. There are three kinds of seed mentioned: fitches, cummin, and corn. Of the last we all know. But it may be well to state that the fitches and the cummin were small seeds like the caraway or the chick-pea. When these grains or herbs were to be threshed, they were thrown on the floor, and the workmen would come around with staff or rod or flail, and beat them until the seed would be separated; but when the corn was to be threshed, that was thrown on the floor, and the men would fasten horses or oxen to a cart with iron dented wheels; that cart would be drawn around the threshing floor, and so the work would be accomplished. Different kinds of threshing for different products—"The fitches are not threshed with a threshing instrument, neither is a cart-wheel turned about upon the cummin: but the fitches are beaten out with a staff, and the cummin with a rod. Bread corn is bruised; because he will not ever be threshing it."

The great thought that the text presses upon our souls to-day is that we must all go through some kind of threshing process. The fact that you may be devoting your life to honorable and noble purposes will not win you any escape.

WILBERFORCE, THE CHRISTIAN EMANCIPATOR, was in his day derisively called "Doctor Cantwell." Thomas Babington McCaulay, the advocate of all that was good long before he became the most conspicuous historian of his day, was caricatured in one of The Quarterly Reviews as "Babble tongue McCaulay." Norman McLeod, the great friend of the Scotch poor, was industriously maligned in all quarters, although the other day when he was carried out to his burial, a workman stood and looked at the funeral procession, and said: "If he had done nothing for anybody more than he has done for me, he should shine as the stars forever and ever." All the small wits of London took after John Wesley, the father of Methodism.

If such men as I have mentioned could not escape the maligning of the world, neither can you expect to get rid of the sharp, keen stroke of the tribulum. All who will live godly in Christ Jesus must suffer persecution. Besides that, there are the sicknesses and the bankruptcies and the irritations and the disappointments which are ever putting a cup of aloes to your lips are hieroglyphics which, if deciphered, would make out a thrilling story of trouble. The footstep of the rabbit is seen the next morning on the snow, and I see on the white hairs of this audience the footprints showing where swift trouble alighted. Even amid the joys and the hilarities of life, trouble will sometimes break in. As when the people were assembled in the Charlestown Theatre, during the Revolutionary war, and while they were in great gratulation, the guns of an advancing army were heard, and the audience broke up in wild panic and ran for their lives, so oftimes while you are seated amid the joys and festivities of this world, you hear the cannonade of some great disaster. All the fitches and the cummin and the corn must come down on the threshing floor and be pounded

THOSE WRINKLES ON YOUR FACE

My subject, in the first place, teaches us that it is no compliment to us as we escape great trial. The fitches and the cummin on the threshing floor might look over to the corn on another threshing floor, and say: "Look at that poor assemble, bruised corn We have only been a little pounded, but that has been almost destroyed." Well, the corn, if it had lips, would answer and say: "Do you know the reason you have not been as much pounded as I have? It is because you are not of so much worth as I am: if you were, you would be as severely run over." Yet there are men who suppose they are the Lord's favorites, simply because their barns are full, and their bank account is flush, and there are no funerals in the house. It may be because they are fitches and cummin: while down at the end of the lane,

THE POOR WIDOW MAY BE THE LORD'S CORN.

You are but little pounded because you are but little worth, and she bruised and ground because she is the best part of the harvest. The heft of the threshing machine according to the value of the grain. If you have not been much threshed in life, perhaps there is not much to thresh! If you have not been much shaken of trouble, perhaps it is because there is going to be a very small yield. When there are plenty of blackberries, the gatherers go out with large baskets; but when the drought has almost consumed the fruit, then a quart measure will do as well. It took the venomous snake on Paul's hand, and the pounding of him with stones until he was taken up for dead, and the jamming against him of prison gates, and the Ephesian vociferation, and the skinned ankles of the painful stocks, and the foundering of the Alexandrian corn ship, and the behelding stroke of the Roman sheriff to bring Paul to the proper development. It was not because Robert Moffatt, and Lady Rachel Russell, and Frederick Oberlin were worse than other people that they had to suffer: it was because they were better, and God wanted to make them best. By the carefulness of the threshing, you may always conclude the value of the grain.

Next, my text teaches us that God proportions our trials to what we can bear. The staff for the fitches. The rod for the cummin. The iron wheel for the corn

SOMETIMES PEOPLE IN GREAT TROUBLE SAY:

"O, I can't bear it." But you did bear it. God would not have sent it upon if He had not known that you could bear it. You trembled and you swooned; but you got through.—God will not take from your eye one tear too many, nor from your lungs one sigh too deep, nor from your temples one throb too sharp. The perplexities of your earthly business have not in them one tangle too intricate. You sometimes feel as if our world were full of bludgeons flying hap hazard. O, no, they are the threshing instruments that God just suits to your case. There is not a dollar of bad debt on your ledger, or a disappointment about goods that you expected to go up but that have gone down, or a swindle of your business partner, or a trick on the part of those who are in the same kind of business that you are, but God intended to overrule for your immortal help. "O," you say, "There is no need talking that way to me—I don't like to be cheated and outraged." Neither does the corn like the corn-thresher: but after it has been threshed and winnowed, and is banked up in golden line at the side of the barn, it has a great deal better opinion of winnowing mills and corn-threshers "Well," you say, "if I could choose my troubles I would be willing to be troubled." Ah my brother, then it would not be trouble. You would choose something that would not hurt, and

UNLESS IT HURTS IT DOES NOT GET SANCTIFIED.

Your trial, perhaps, may be childlessness. You are fond of children. You say: "Why does God send children to that other household where they are unwelcome, and are beaten and banged about, when I would have taken them in the arms of my affection?" You say: 'Any other trial but this' Your trial perhaps may be a dishonored countenance, or a face that is easily caricatured, and you say: 'O, I could endure anything if only I was good looking.' And your trial, perhaps, is a violent temper, and you see amid the gunpowdery explosions of a great holiday, and ever and anon it runs away with you Your trial is the asthma You say: 'O, if it were rheumatism, or neuralgia, or erysipelas: but it is this asthma, this asthma and it is such an exhausting thing to breathe.' Your trouble is a husband short, sharp, snappy and cross about the house, and raising a small riot because a button is off:—How could you know the button is off? Your trial is a wife ever in contest with the servants, and she is a sloven. Though she was very careful about her appearance in your presence once, now she is careless because she says her fortune is made! Your trial is a hard school lesson you cannot learn, and you have bitten your finger-nails until they are a sight to behold Everybody with some vexation, or annoyance, or trial, and he or she thinks it is the one least adapted—'Anything but this,' they say. 'Any thing but this.' O, my hearer, are you not ashamed to be complaining all this time against God? Who manages the affairs of this world, anyhow? Is it an infinite Modoc? or a Sitting Bull savage: or an omnipotent Nana Sahib? No; it is the most merciful and glorious and wise Being in all the universe.

YOU CANNOT TEACH OMNIPOTENCE ANYTHING

You have fretted and worried almost enough. Do you not think so? Some of you are making yourselves ridiculous in the sight of the angels. Here is a naval architect, and he draws out the plan of a ship of many thousand tons May months are engaged on it for a long while. The ship is done; and some day, with the flags up and the air gorgeous with bunting, that vessel is launched for Southampton. At that time a lad six years of age comes running down the dock with a toy boat which he has made with his own jack-knife; and he says: "Here, my boat is better than yours. Just look at this jib-boom and these weather cross jack braces:" and he drops his little boat beside the great ship, and there is a roar of laughter on the docks Ah, my friends, that great ship is your life as God planned it—vast, million-tonned, ocean-destined, eternity bound. That little boat is your life as you are trying to hew it out, and fashion it, and launch it Ah, do not try to be a rival of the great JEHOVAH.

GOD IS ALWAYS RIGHT, and in nine cases out of ten you are wrong He sends just the hardships, just the cross that it is best for you to have He knows what kind of grain you are, and he sends the right kind of threshing machine. It will be rod or staff or iron wheel, just according as you are fitches or cummin or corn.

Again: My subject teaches us that God keeps trial on us until we let go The farmer shouts "whoa!" to his horses as soon as the grain has dropped from the stalk. The farmer comes with his fork and tosses up the straw, and he sees that the straw has let go the grain and the grain is thoroughly threshed. Smiting rod and turning wheel cease as soon as we let go. We hold on to this world with its pleasures and riches and emoluments, and our knuckles are so firmly set that it seems as if we could hold on forever. God comes along with some threshing trouble and beats us loose We started under the delusion that this was a great world. We learned out of our geography that it was so many thousand miles in diameter, and so many thousand miles in circumference, and we said: "O my, what a world!" But troubles came in after life, and this trouble sliced off one part of the world, and that trouble sliced off another part of the world, and

IT HAS GOT TO BE A SMALLER WORLD,

and, in some of your estimations, a very insignificant world; and it is depreciating all the time as a spiritual property. Ten per cent. off, and there are those here who would not give ten cents for this world—for the entire world—as a soul possession We thought that friendship was a grand thing. In school we used to write compositions about friendship and perhaps we made our graduating speech on commencement day on friendship. O, it was a charmed thing: but does it mean to you as much as it used to? You have gone on in life, and one friend has betrayed you, and another friend has misinterpreted you, and another friend has neglected you, and friendship comes now some times to mean to you merely another axe to grind! So with money. We thought if a man had a competency he was safe for all the future; but we have learned that a mortgage may be defeated by an unknown previous encumbrance; that signing your name on the back of a note may be your business death warrant; that a new tariff may change the current of trade; that a man may be rich to day and poor to morrow. And God by all these misfortunes is trying to loosen our grip—but ugh—we hold on And He strikes us with a rod—but we hold on. And He sends over us the iron wheel of misfortune; but we hold on. There are men who keep their grip on this world until the last moment, who suggest to me the confusion and conduct of the poor fishes in the boat in the Niagara rapids, coming on toward the fall. Seeing that he could not escape, a moment or two before he got to the verge of the plunge he lifted a wine-bottle and drank it off, and then tossed the fish into the air. So there are men who clutch the world, and they go down through the rapids of temptation and sin, and they hold on in the very last moment of life, drinking to their eternal damnation as they go over and go down.

O, LET GO! LET GO!

The best fortunes are in heaven. There are no absconding cashiers from that bank, no failing in promise to pay Set your affections on things above, not on things on the earth. Let go! Depend upon it that God will keep upon you the staff or the rod or the iron wheel until you do let go.

Another thing my text teaches us is, that Christian sorrow is going to have a sure terminus My text says, "the fitches are not threshed with a threshing instrument, neither is a cart wheel turned about upon the cummin; but the fitches are beaten out with a staff, and the cummin with a rod. Bread corn is bruised because he will not ever be threshing it.' Blessed be God for that! Pound away, O flail. Turn on, O wheel. Your work will soon be done. "He will not ever be threshing it." No—the Christian has almost as much use in the organ for the stop tremulant as he has for the trumpet; but after a while he will put the last dirge into the portfolio forever. So much of us as is wheat will be separated from so much as is chaff, and there will be no more need of pounding. "He will not ever be threshing it."

THEY NEVER CRY IN HEAVEN,

because there is nothing to cry about. There are no tears of bereavement, for you shall have your friends all around about you. There are no tears of poverty, because each one sits at the King's table and has his own chariot of salvation, and free access to the wardrobe where princes get their array. No tears of sickness, for there are no pneumonias on the air, and no malarial exhalations from the rolling river of life, and no crutch for the lame limb, and no splint for the broken arm; but the pulse throbbing with the health of the Eternal God, in a climate like our June before the blossoms fall, or our gorgeous October before the leaves scatter. In that land, the souls will talk over the different modes of threshing O, the story of the staff that struck the fitches, and the rod that beat the cummin, and the iron wheel that went over the corn. DANIEL will describe the lions, and JONAH leviathan, and PAUL the elmwood whips with which he was scourged. and EVE will tell how aromatic Eden was the day she left it, and JOHN RODGERS will tell of the smart of the flame, and ELIJAH of the fiery team that wheeled him up the sky steps, and CHRIST of the manacles and the paroxysm and the hemorrhages of the awful crucifixion. There they are before the throne of God. On one elevation all those who were struck of the staff. On a higher elevation all those who were struck of the rod. On a higher elevation, and amid the highest altitudes of heaven, all those who were under the wheel.

"HE WILL NOT EVER BE THRESHING IS."

O, my hearers, is there not enough salve in this text to make a plaster large enough to heal all your wounds When a child is hurt, the mother is very apt to say to it: "Now, it will soon feel better." And that is what God says when he embosoms all the trouble in the hush of this great promise: "Weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning." You may leave your pocket handkerchief sopping wet with tears on your death pillow, but you will go up absolutely sorrowless. They will wear black; you will wear white Cypress for them; palms for you. You will say: "Is it possible that I am here? Is this heaven? Am I so pure now I will never do anything wrong? Am I so well that I will never again be sick? Are these companionships so firm that they will never again be broken? Is that MARY? Is that JOHN? Is that my loved one I put away into darkness? Can it be that these are the faces of those who lay so wan and emaciated in the back room that awful night, dying? O, how radiant they are! Look at them! How radiant they are! Why, how unlike this place is from what I thought when I left the world below. Ministers drew pictures of this land, but how tame compared with the reality. They told me on earth that death was sunset. No, no. It is sunrise! Glorious sunrise! I see the light now pumping the hills, and the clouds flame with the coming [illegible] with the acuteness and power of celestial vision, will look ten thousand miles down upon the bannered procession—a river of shimmering splendor—and will cry out: "Who are they?" And the angel of God, standing close by, will say: "Don't you know who they are?" "No," says the entranced soul, "I cannot guess who they are." The angel will say: "I will tell you, then, who they are These are they who came out of great tribulation or threshing, and had their robes washed and made white in the blood of the Lamb" O that I could administer some of these drops of celestial anodyne to these nervous and excited souls! If you would take enough of it, it would cure all your pang. The thought that you are going to get through with this after a while—all this sorrow and all this trouble. We shall have a great many grand days in heaven, but I will tell you which will be the grandest day of all the million ages of heaven. You say: 'Are you sure you can tell me?' Yes, I can. It will be the day we get there. Some say heaven is growing more glorious I suppose it is: but I do not care much about that. Heaven now is good enough for me.

HISTORY HAS NO MORE GRATULATORY SCENE

than the breaking in of the English army upon Lucknow, India A few weeks before a massacre had occurred at Cawnpore, and two hundred and six women and children had been put in a room. Then five professional butchers went in and slew them Then the bodies of the slain were taken out and thrown into a well As the English army came into Cawnpore they went into the room; and O, what a horrid scene! Sword strokes on the wall near the floor, showing that the poor things had crouched when they died; and they saw also that the floor was ankle deep in blood. The soldiers walked on their heels across it, lest their shoes be submerged of the carnage And on that floor of blood there were flowing locks of hair and fragments of dresses. Out in Lucknow they had heard of the massacre, and the women were waiting for the same awful death—waiting amid anguish untold, waiting in pain and starvation. but waiting heroically—when, one day, HAVELOCK and OUTRAM and NORMAN and Sir DAVID BAIRD and PEEL, the heroes of the English army—huzza! for them—broke in on that horrid scene; and while yet the guns were sounding, and while cheers were issuing from the starving, dying people on the one side, and from the travel-worn and powder blackened soldiers on the other—right there, in front of the king's palace, there was such a scene of hand shaking and embracing and boisterous joy as would utterly confound the pen of the poet and the pencil of the painter. And no wonder, when these emaciated women, who had suffered so heroically for CHRIST'S sake, marched out from their incarceration, one wounded English soldier got up in his fatigue and wounds, and leaned against the wall, and threw his cap up, and shouted: "Three cheers, my boys, for the brave women!" O, that was an exciting scene, but a gladder and more triumphant scene will it be when you come up into heaven from the conflicts and incarcerations of this world streaming with the wounds of battle and wan with the hungers; and while the hosts of GOD are cheering their great hosanna, you will strike hands of congratulation and eternal deliverance in the presence of the throne. On that night there will be bonfires on every hill of heaven, and there will be illumination in every palace, and there will be a candle in every window—ah, no; I forget—they have no need of the candle or of the sun, for the LORD GOD giveth them light, and they shall reign forever and ever. Hail! hail! sons and daughters of the LORD GOD ALMIGHTY.

Mr. Moody, in his last sermon in the New York Hippodrome, said, Christians should live in the world, but not be filled with it. A ship lives in the water, but if the water gets into the ship she goes to the bottom. So Christians may live in the world, but if the world gets into them they sink.

The United States Marine Hospital at Natchez, Miss., was sold last year to the Baptists for $5,000, having cost originally $75 000. Congress has just confirmed the sale, and a freedman's school will shortly be established there It will cost $12,000 to put it in repair.

Library for our Brazilian Mission.

SHALL we cripple our work in this grand Empire? or shall we give it a fair chance to succeed? Brother Ransom has twice written to me for books. Any books which would be of value to the library of a preacher and scholar here will be of value there I would suggest that all persons having valuable books which they are willing to contribute, send them, before the 1st of December, to the Mission rooms Nashville, Tenn. Since this matter has been [illegible] of the following letter:

REV. J. B. MCFERRIN, D.D.—I received some time ago a letter from Brother Thomas D Smith, of Brazil, proposing to pay to our missionary there two dollars for every one we would send him in Sunday-school books. He stated that a very interesting Sunday school had been organized in his neighborhood, numbering thirty-eight scholars. I thought the proposition a very liberal one, and made mention of it to the brethren of the Fayetteville District Conference, at Cincinnati, Ark., last week, and they were only a few minutes in raising twenty-five dollars and twenty five cents to purchase said books. Now we will turn the matter over to you, hoping that you will make the selection and purchase for Brother Smith He lives near Sin Paulo, Brazil Perhaps you had better send them to Brother Navarro's address I hope Dr. Rickard will give us the benefit of fifty-dollar premium. With an effort upon the part of our preachers, I think that the Sunday schools of this Conference could be induced to support a missionary, either in Brazil or China.

T. F. BREWER

Fayetteville, Ark., Aug. 21, 1876.

I wish to ship all books sent so as to leave by the steamer, Dec 20 Two classes of books are important—Sunday school books for our English-speaking Church 2 Works of permanent value for the Mission library. Please forward us either books or money for this purpose. If you forward the books at the cost of the missionary treasury for transportation, please send me a list beforehand, that I may judge of the value, and notify you whether we already have such books.

D. C KELLEY,
As. Sec. B. I. Miss

Some Noted Women.

Very intellectual women are seldom beautiful. Their features, and particularly their foreheads, are more or less masculine But there are exceptions to all rules. Mrs Lamdon was an exception to this one She was exceedingly feminine and pretty. Mrs. Stanton, likewise, was an exceedingly handsome woman. but Miss Anthony and Mrs. Livermore are both plain. Maria and Jane Porter were women of high brows and irregular features, as was also Miss Sedgwick. Anna Dickinson has a strong masculine face. Kate Fields has a good-looking, but by no means a pretty face. Mrs. Stowe is thought positively homely. Mrs. Burleigh, on the contrary, is very fine looking: Alice and Phœbe Cary were very plain in features, though their sweetness of disposition added greatly to their personal appearance. Margaret Fuller had a splendid head; but her features were irregular, and she was anything but handsome—though sometime in the glow of conversation she appeared almost radiant. Charlotte Bronte had wondrously beautiful dark brown eyes and a perfectly shaped head. She was small to diminutiveness, and was just as simple in her manners as a child. Julia Ward Howe is a fine-looking woman—wearing an aspect of grace and refinement, and of great force and character in her face and carriage. Olive Logan is anything but handsome in person, though gay and attractive in conversation. Laura Holloway resembles Charlotte Bronte both in personal appearance and in the sad experience of her youthful life. Neither Mary Booth nor Marian Harland can lay claim to handsome faces, though they are splendid specimens of cultured women: while Mary Clemmer Ames is just as pleasing in features as her writings are graceful and popular.—New Haven Register.

The great Hebrew philanthropist, Sir Moses Montefort, has returned from Jerusalem for the seventh time. He is now in his 92d year, and has received the promises of the French and American Consuls that they will do all in their power to protect the Jews in the Holy Land against Turkish oppression. Sir Moses gives a favorable account of the skill of the Hebrew mechanics, watch makers, lithographers, engravers, sculptors, &c., in the Holy City, one of whom presented him with a grain of wheat, on which nineteen lines were written, forming an acrostic of the philanthropist's name.

A Remarkable Address.

Hon. N M. Hubbard, District Judge of the Eighth Judicial District of Iowa, in passing a sentence upon some liquor dealers for violation of the prohibitory laws of the State, said:

"While there are greater crimes known to the law which are punishable with great severity, there are none which involve more of those qualities known as despicable meanness and audacity than the selling of [illegible] by violence or instantaneous that it shocks and terrifies the mind of all, and yet we look upon the man who takes human life quite as surely, but by a slow, lingering process if not without condemnation, at least without horror. You who stand before the court for sentence are in every moral sense murders, and you are within the spirit if not the letter, guilty of manslaughter: for the law says, that, 'whoever accelerates the death of a human being unlawfully is guilty of the crime.' You bloated victims on the witness sand, who undoubtedly committed perjury to screen you from the law, not only abundantly testify that you are accelerating death, but that you are inducing men to commit still greater crimes than your own.

"You still retain the appearance of respectability, but how morally leprous and scrofulous you are inwardly; the ruin, poverty and idleness which you are inflicting upon this community declare as from the house top. You are living in idleness and eating the bread of orphans, watered with widow's tears. You are stealthily killing your victims and murdering the peace and industry of the community, and thereby converting happy industrious homes, in to misery, thriftless poverty, and rags. You are sowing the seeds of ignorance, idleness and want among the generations to come.

"You are persistent, defiant lawbreakers, and shamelessly boast that in defiance of the law and moral sense of the community, you will continue in your wicked and criminal practices.

"It has, therefore, now become the imperative duty of this court, to let fall upon you so heavily the arm of law, that you shall either be driven from your nefarious traffic or ruined in your fortunes or prosperity. You have become a stench to the nostrils of the community, and all good men are praying that you be speedily reformed or summarily destroyed. By the providence of God and the favor of His court, these prayers shall be speedily answered by his signal and exact justice for your crimes. This court will feel a proud satisfaction in taking from you by law your ill-gotten gains, and giving it to the common school fund of this county, where let us hope, it will assist in educating the rising youth to shun your voices and wicked practices.

"And, finally let me entreat you, if you are not lost to every sentiment of humanity, to desist from your criminal, vagabond traffic and betake yourselves to some honorable calling for a livelihood; and you may yet become virtuous, useful citizens, and entitled to the respect of the Christian community; while if you persist in this way your own ruin is certain and you will receive, as you deserve, the execration of mankind.

"You may think that the sentence of the court is harsh and unjustly severe, but the court assures you that, compared with your crimes and the desolation you have already brought upon the community, it is mild in the extreme."

A BIBLE BAKED.—There is a Bible in Lucas County, Ohio, which was preserved by being baked in a loaf of bread. It now belongs to a Mr. Schebolt, who is a native of Bohemia, in Austria. This baked Biole was formerly the property of his grandmother, who was a faithful Protestant Christian. During one of the seasons when the Roman Catholics were persecuting the Protestants in that country, a law was passed that every Bible in the hands of the people should be given up to the priests, that it might be burnt. Then those who loved their Bibles had to contrive different plans in order to try and save the precious Book. When the priests came round to search the house, it happened to be baking day. Mrs. Schebolt—the grandmother of the present owner of this Bible—had a large family. She had just prepared a great batch of dough, when she heard that the priests were coming; she took her precious Bible, wrapped it carefully up, and put it in the centre of a huge mass of dough, which was to fill her largest bread tin, and stowed it away in the oven and baked it. The priests came and searched the house carefully through, but they did not find the Bible. When the search was over, and the danger passed, the Bible was taken out of the loaf, and found uninjured.—Unitarian Herald.

How John Bunyan Got out of Prison.

BUNYAN was in his day quite a controversial writer, and was very severe upon the Quakers until he learned that through the intercession of the Quakers he obtained his release from prison It is a somewhat noteworthy fact, now well authenticated, that Charles II. liberated Quakers and Puritans from confinement through the personal intercession of the Quakers, among whom was Richard Carver, who was mate of a [illegible] This honest Quaker sailor, after twenty years had rolled away, appealed to the king in person in behalf of those who were in prison. When the fugitive king fled for his life, this sailor conveyed him on shore The vessel was bound for Poole, coal-laden, with two passengers, who passed for merchants running away from their creditors; the fugitive king and Lord Wilmot were landed at Fecamp, in Normandy, upon the back of a Quaker, and the vessel recrossed the Channel to Poole.

When the honest sailor appeared before his Majesty, the king expressed astonishment that he had not previously sought some reward. The sailor replied that he merely had done his duty, and God had rewarded him with peace of mind.

"And now, sire, I ask nothing for myself, but that your Majesty will do the same for my friends that I did for you; set the poor, pious sufferers at liberty, that you may have that peace and satisfaction that always follows good action." King Charles thereupon pardoned four hundred and seventy-one Quakers, and many Independents and Baptists—among them John Bunyan.

The Bible.

How comes it that this little volume, composed by humble men in a rude age, when art and science were but in their childhood, has exerted more influence on the human mind and on the social system than all other books put together? Whence comes it that this Book has achieved such marvelous changes in the opinions of mankind—has banished idol-worship—exalted the condition of women—raised the standard of public morality—created for families that blessed thing, a Christian home—and caused its other triumph by causing benevolent institutions, open and expansive, to spring up as with the wand of enchantment? What sort of a book is this, that even the wind and waves of human passion obey it? What other engine of social improvement has operated so long, and lost none of its virtue? Since it appeared, many boasted plans of amelioration have been tried, and failed—many codes of jurisprudence have arisen and run their course and expired. Empire after empire has been launched on the tide of time, and gone down and expired. But this Book is still going about doing good, leavening society with its holy principles, cheering the sorrowful with consolation, strengthening the tempted, encouraging the penitent, calming the troubled spirit, and smoothing the pillow of death. Can such a Book be the offspring of human genius? Does not the vastness of its effect demonstrate the excellency of the power to be of God? —Dr. McCulloch.

THE life is the best sermon. Many a godly minister has been more useful by his daily "walk and conversation" than by his pulpit labors. Cowper celebrates such a pastor. Example is the most powerful exhortation. While it is almost in vain that a man speaks with the tongue of an angel, if he be compelled to say, "Do as I say, not as I do." There are ministers of whom it is often said, 'When they are in the pulpit, they ought never to come out, and when they are out, they ought never to go in." They preach well, but they undo their preaching by worldly living: and their lives are such that they ought not to try to teach others how to live. But these are the few black sheep in a countless flock of those who wear white robes of spotless purity, and adorn the gospel they preach. When the world convicts one of them of wrong doing, such a great noise is made about it as to prove conclusively that the occurrence is rare, and so utterly out of the usual run of things as to astonish the public when it happens. This testimony the world bears to the superior purity of the profession, taken as a whole—N. Y. Observer.

NOW IS THE ACCEPTED TIME.—There are no promises in the Bible for to-morrow. Now is the time for repentance. There is no safety, no security, no wisdom in postponing the acceptance of the Savior. These are commonplace remarks; but they are no more commonplace than death, which knocks with equal confidence at every door; no more trite than the death sickness, which will some day weaken the body and obscure the mind of each one who reads this paragraph To all who are mortal, and who have not made their peace with God, there is nothing of more importance, of more living interest, than the fact that God will hear and forgive to day, but makes no promises for to-morrow. To day is the day of salvation.—Christian Observer.

The Christian Advocate.

OFFICE—Corner of Dawson & Hargett Sts

THE ORGAN
OF THE
NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE
OF THE
M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev J B Bobbitt, D D } Editors
R. T Gray, Esq. }

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION:

FOR ONE YEAR IN ADVANCE, POSTAGE PAID, $2.00
SIX MONTHS 1.25
Specimen Number Sent Gratis

RALEIGH, N. C., OCT. 4. 1876.

All letters on business with this Office should be addressed to the Christian Advocate, Raleigh, N C.

The Cross (X) Mark is to remind you that your subscription has expired. Let all renew promptly.

Religious Enterprise.

Christianity is a living power in real life, and not an empty form. As such fostered and more widely put than it is now. Is it not true, in this enlightened Christian age, that with many, Christianity is a mere side issue and the service of God secondary, instead of being the main business of an active earnest life?

To illustrate what we wish to impress—a man gives ten cents, or ten dollars, if he is inclined to be liberal, at a public collection, or subscribes that amount for the furtherance of the cause of Christ in the earth, and consoles himself with the hope that perhaps it may do some good, but if it does not it is no great loss, and is a matter of little concern to him, and thus the matter is dismissed from his mind. The same man puts ten thousand dollars of his spare money into a railroad, a manufactory, a vessel, or some other business operation, and then he, alone or with his associates, watches the investment night and day, nurses it, shapes everything with reference to its interest, heads off rival enterprises, distances competitors, fosters his own undertaking, takes in dividends, enlarges his operations, and by and by takes a fresh start in an other direction, risks every dollar he is worth, perhaps loses, alights on his feet and bounds off again in the race; or if more cautious he settles a competence on his family, or "sets down" a snug fortune where it will be safe, and then gathers up his resources and throws the surplus of his fortune into some new enterprise which promises public advantage or private emolument, and so drives onward till his race is run.

This men call enterprise, and they increase it. Thousands of active, in this kind of work to day, and thousands more are looking on, and waiting, and watching for a chance to "pitch in." And all of this, notwithstanding the experience of the vast majority is ultimately an experience of disaster, ruin, and defeat; and the most successful are obliged to leave their gains at the gates of death, to be possessed, used and squandered by friends, strangers, or even enemies who rejoice when they are gone, or fatten upon their spoils. The practical question is this:—Why do not some of these Christian men who witness, or participate in this mad struggle for wealth, turn their attention to the work and cause of God, and invest their thousands and hundreds of thousands in such work as that? Why not risk one, or five, or fifty thousand dollars in the work of saving men? Why not seek out not only the inventors and projectors, and schemers of the day for consultation, but the men who hazard their lives for the gospel, and whose trumpet voices are calling a lost world to Christ? Why not say, "I have twenty thousand dollars I want to spend for God this year, not in bricks and mortar, not in pomp and show—not on dead institutions or fossilized officials: but in earnest work—done by earnest men and women, who will work if they have no money, but who can and will do more if they have friends to aid them?" Why not call in the genuine, active, God fearing men and women, who know what it is to labor them selves and sacrifice for Christ and for humanity, and with their help plan a campaign and organize a warfare that will tell in glorious victories for time and eternity? Why not put your own experience, and brains, and business tact into such a work, and brush aside all obstacles to make room for Christian enterprise and active faith in God?

Through the kindness of Rev. Dr. Talmage, of Brooklyn Tabernacle, we shall receive his sermons three days after their delivery in his church, and will be enabled to lay them before our readers the week following.

Dr. Talmage is a justly famous pulpit orator and has by his courage in attacking irreligion, vice and social abuses, accomplished great good in New York and Brooklyn Having been widely published and read, his sermons have also done good service in other regions than the cities which have been the immediate field of his labors. As a bold and eloquent preacher he has but few equals, and we think we consult the wishes of a majority of our readers when we give an opportunity to read his discourses.

The Conference year is rapidly drawing to a close, and the preachers generally are actively engaged in bringing up the various interests of the church in their respective fields of labor.

Death of Dr. E. H. Myers.

The telegram last week announced the death, from typhoid fever, of Rev E. H. Myers, D D, a prominent Georgia Methodist preacher. Dr. Myers "was appointed for the Savannah station, but stopped one week in the Annual meeting, and Dr Myers" was upon giving his valedictory to his people, but scarcely had the paper gone forth to our readers before we were saddened by the news of his death.

Dr Myers was, for many years editor of the Southern Christian Advocate and was a man of high attainments. He was chairman of the Fraternal Commission which met at Cape May recently, and had labored zealously for the establishment of fraternity. He was devoted to his church and the people of his charge, and his loss will be greatly felt He was absent from Savannah when the news of the ravages of the Yellow Fever reached him, and he immediately hastened back to his post of duty. He labored untiringly until he was stricken down by the fierce disease, and he has fallen as a noble martyr mourned, served, but crowned with the plaudits of all who admire unselfish and disinterested devotion to duty. May Heaven soften the blow to his family so suddenly and sadly bereaved!

Death of Bishop Janes.

Bishop Janes, of the M E. Church died in New York on the 18th ult, in the 70th year of his age. He had been feeble for some months and his death was not altogether unexpected His death is a heavy blow to his Church, and to christianity at large. He was a minister of great piety and ability and a man of broad and liberal views and generous feeling He was held in high esteem not only by his own Church, but by all denominations of christians. He was the last Bishop elected before the division of the Church and was warmly supported for the position by the Southern delegates. Ever since the war he had been an earnest advocate of reconciliation and fraternity between the two Churches, and wielded great influence in bringing about the peace now established. Dr. E. Q. Fuller, of the Atlanta Methodist Advocate, a member of the fraternal commission, in noticing the death of Bishop Janes, gives the following touching incident:

"His desire for fraternity between the Churches was intense and unabating. When the writer was with him at the Conference, in Lynchburg, Va., March, 1870, Bishop Early, then living in that city, after an ineffectual effort, because of illness, to reach the Conference, invited Bishop Janes to visit him at his house, which he did When the two met they fell into each other's arms and embraced and wept in the Churches. They enjoyed a delightful interview and joined in prayer for the restoration of Christian fellowship and fraternal intercourse among Methodists Bishop Janes gave a very interesting account of his visit on his return to the hotel where we were stopping. We have often desired to refer to this incident, but under the peculiar circumstances of the past have not felt at liberty to do so till the present. Probably an account of it will be found among the papers of the Bishop. These eminent leaders of the Church have joined in the great reunion, and no doubt the hearts of both rejoice in the restored fellowship of their brethren."

The revival at Elenton Street Church is increasing in interest. About twenty persons have made a profession of religion, and there are a goodly number of penitents earnestly enquiring the way of life. Seven joined the Church on Sabbath, and the communion service was unusually interesting. Dr. Burkhead has been laboring with great zeal. His sermons and exhortations have been able, appropriate, pointed and attended with the energy of the Holy Ghost. Rev Jeremy Gray has rendered efficient service in the meeting.

The Kentucky Conference held on the 13 19 ult, presided over by Bishop Keener, makes a good statistical exhibit: White members, 20,008; last year, 19,306—increase, 702; colored, 121; last year, 117 increase, 4; local preachers, 94; last year, 111—decrease, 17. Infants baptized, 368; adults, 1,171. Sunday-schools, 180; teachers, 1,279; scholars, 8,543 Necessary for eliminants, $3,000; collected, $1,339 95 For Missions, $3,163 15. Next session is to be at Winchester.

NEWTON CIRCUIT.—Bro. M. O. Sherill, an esteemed laymen, writes: "Bro Shell is having a good meeting at Catawba Station, with several conversions and accessions. He also had a good meeting at Hopewell with several conversions and accessions. The church was greatly revived I suppose Bro Shell will give you a report soon. He is a good man and a great worker"

We are pleased to learn that a revival of much promise is in progress at Louisburg, conducted by the pastor Rev. F. L. Reid.

CRUEL PARENTS.

The man who paid fifty dollars a year for tobacco, while his children were growing up in ignorance, and then told me to stop his Advocate because money was scarce, was a cruel father

The woman who pressed her little girl's head on her knee and pierced her ears, and startled her after her tenish vanities, was a cruel mother

Cruel husbands next time.

Yours, &c.,

A D. BETTS.

NEWS FROM THE CHURCHES.

Rev N. E. Cobb, who is teaching school on Hyde, Va., writes: "We have had a blessed time at Bethel. Rev. Mr. Cox has been preaching for us. He is a good preacher. The church has been greatly revived. Eighteen have been converted and joined the Church. Many backsliders have been reclaimed. Bro. Cox was assisted by Rev. Mr. Hall, a Baptist preacher. The latter was highly esteemed by all who heard him. Bro. Cox came up a night or two before he left and preached a sermon that I shall never forget. The meeting continued eight days. Many were the conversions. Two souls united with the Church during the meeting. Bro. Cox received one dollar—Money is scarce with us, but I hope to bring up all the collections."

SURRY CIRCUIT.

Rev. Walter S. Creasy writes, September 21st: "The Lord has been with us again on the Surry Circuit. We held a protracted meeting at a point known as "Stony Knoll" where we have had no appointment heretofore; in fact the church was held as the property of the Primitive Baptists Our meeting was a glorious success, 32 precious souls found peace in believing on the Lord Jesus, 25 connected themselves with our church and others will join. The people of this section say they never saw anything to equal it, in the way of [illegible] gray headed [illegible] were converted. Much praise is due the preacher in charge for their [illegible] preacher The [illegible] Circuit me up a [illegible] of us. [illegible] months my table expenses exceed one dollar—Money is scarce with us, but I hope to bring up all the collections."

SWIFT CREEK MISSION

Rev. Wm. R. Wills writes, Sept. 20th: "I have just closed a meeting at Chapman's School House and Swift Creek in Craven county, which resulted in the conversion of forty two souls. All joined the Church. At Providence there were fifteen conversions, at Gardner's five, and several at other points. aggregating seventy three. Brethren pray that the Lord may yet build up the work!"

FARMVILLE.

Rev. F D Swindell writes, Sept., 26th: "I have just closed a meeting at Temperance Hall. 20 professed conversion. [illegible] joined the Church. Kindly assisted me. Dr. Closs, the P. E. expected to be with me most of the time, but was debarred by ill health He preached twice He left us on Tuesday with a chill on him. May the great Head of the Church restore him to health. I held a meeting at Battleboro in August: 7 were converted and five joined the Church. I am indebted to Bro. Willis for assistance there."

MONTGOMERY CIRCUIT.

Rev. J. F. Keenans writes: "The good Lord is reviving his work on this circuit. We have just closed a camp meeting at Eleazer, which commenced on the 26th of August, and ended on the 31st. This meeting was one of great spiritual interest to the Church It resulted in the conversion of some 32 souls, and several accessions to the Church, and others will soon join The communion service, during the last evening, was one of the happiest times I ever witnessed among christians Rev. J. S Nelson, our P. E, and T. W. Guthrie, G Farrar, B. Phillips and Bro. Smith of the infirmary were with us and labored faithfully and acceptably. Among the local ranks we had Rev A. Atkins, E. A Craven and I. B Ballard. These brethren worked faithfully durin: the time they remained with us. To God be all the glory!"

MT. AIRY.

Bro Jas. Willson writes Sept. 15th: "The work of the Lord is still being revived in this section Commencing on the 4th Sunday of August, I preached at Salem, three miles from this place.—The congregations were large and attentive. Much religious feeling was manifested and the church was much revived. Many were deeply convicted of sin. Eighteen were happily converted to God Twenty one joined the church, and others will join. Bro. Batts, a local preacher of Charlotte, preached four times for me, and Bro. Creasy, of the Surry circuit, preached twice They rendered other faithful service during the meeting. Bro. Creasy has an interesting meeting in progress at Siloam, Surry circuit. So far fourteen have been converted and the meeting goes on."

WILLIAMSTON CIRCUIT.

Rev. L L. Nash writes, Sept 25th: "This Circuit was divided at our last Conference, and three of the strongest appointments were added to Greenville, and a new circuit formed, leaving seven appointments on the original Williamston circuit, scattered over three counties, Martin, Halifax and Edgecombe, with a membership of about 1,39 members. The doctrine of Calvin has taken deep root in the hearts of the people all over my circuit. I came to the circuit from Conference, and began work the best I knew how. As soon as I arrived, I began a meeting at Williamston, where the Church was somewhat revived, and we had 8 accessions. The next place we protracted was at Scotland Neck, where we succeeded in building up a congregation, and had three accessions We were so much encouraged we made a second effort there, at which time we had the very valuable aid of Bro W. S. Rone, the pastor of Plymouth and Jamesville Station. I think there was much good seed sown at this meeting. The congregations were large and attentive, and much seriousness prevailed Our Missionary Baptist brethren have since reaped a large harvest in the place. The next protracted meeting we had was at Jones' Chapel, where after 10 days preaching and praying, (following our Quarterly meeting, which was attended by our able Presiding Elder who preached us some of his best sermons, and by Bro. Swindell of the Tarboro circuit, who rendered us valuable aid,) we had two accessions to the Church, and left a good feeling in the community.

Our next protracted meeting was held at Williams' Chapel. Here God blessed us with a glorious revival. The Church was baptized with the Holy Ghost, and the whole community was brought under the influence of divine truth. There were 22 accessions to the Church, and others were converted. We kept the meeting up twenty days, and left a great many in the community who were seeking the salvation of their souls. That was a great revival for the community.

We have just closed a meeting of 12 days at Hamilton where we had 8 accessions. Up to this time we have had 38 accessions on the circuit, and the Church is greatly revived The [illegible] preacher in charge is praised for their [illegible] preacher The [illegible] Circuit me up a [illegible] of us. [illegible] months my table expenses exceed one dollar—Money is scarce with us, but I hope to bring up all the collections."

SURRY CIRCUIT.

Rev. Walter S. Creasy writes, September 21st: "The Lord has been with us again on the Surry Circuit. We held a protracted meeting at a point known as "Stony Knoll" where we have had no appointment heretofore; in fact the church was held as the property of the Primitive Baptists Our meeting was a glorious success, 32 precious souls found peace in believing on the Lord Jesus, 25 connected themselves with our church and others will join. The people of this section say they never saw anything to equal it, in the way of [illegible] gray headed [illegible] were converted. Much praise is due the preacher in charge for their [illegible] preacher The [illegible] Circuit me up a [illegible] of us. [illegible] months my table expenses exceed one dollar—Money is scarce with us, but I hope to bring up all the collections."

SABBATH SCHOOLS et cetera

MESS. EDITORS: In my last I indicated some evils which I fear naturally grow out of a lack of care and caution in the management of Sabbath schools, and cited Dr. Haygood and others as witnesses. As to human enterprise can be wholly free from defects, it will follow that, by not keeping the eye on the main point, these defects may grow into positive evils. Such, for instance, as the Sabbath school taking the place of parental training; substituting the school for the preaching of the gospel, at least so far as children and young persons are concerned; inducing, by long rig marole national, international and universal "lesson series," complex and double complex, fuss and feathers, a mere formalism in the tremendous matter of religion!

The remedy is a plain one. Get back to the old paths. The object of all religious training is to get the soul to Christ and keep it there. It is not good to follow flowery paths too far away from the main road. The grapes that grow upon the outermost twigs are mostly hard and sunburnt. Keep nearer the main stems for good grapes. We are then closer to the main trunk, which is Christ. And we are now at the place, in the progress of the Church and Sabbath school, where we ought to "stand (that is, stop a little) and enquire for the old paths."

The remedy—in part. Let parents, (as far as possible,) and children go together to the Sabbath school, open and close with Bro. J. P. Simpson's "Manual," study the New Testament and Catechism mainly as to the conditions and processes of the soul's conversion and salvation, let the whole occupy fifty minutes; then send the "international series," bad theology of "Hold the Fort," and worse religion of "Only an Armour-bearer" to the trash basket, and all go to preaching.

Et Cetera. When I see two such good things as the articles of Bro. B. F. Long on local preachers, and of a "Layman" on revival notices, I rest hardly until I say I endorse them.

Finally yours,

E A YATES.

Dr. James B. Hughes has been elected Health Officer for Newbern; quarantine regulations have been adopted by the Board of Aldermen.

On Locating

MESSRS EDITORS: In reply to the communication of Bro. Long I would state that I have never seen a copy of the Plan to which he alludes but that the article, "Located," published in your columns, was taken from the "Annals of Methodism by Dr Pearce" of the year 1855, and it I remember correctly the greater portion of the said article was credited in the "Annals" to the "Richmond Christian Advocate."

I have not the pleasure of an acquaintance with Brother Long who writes as though some one was attacking the local ministry, which was far from my intention; but I presume that having given his opinion he will surely not object to allowing me the same privilege, neither being responsible for the peculiar views of the other.

I believe in a special call to the ministry and that if a person receiving this call does not yield to or follow it, that he will be punished either in this or in the other world just as earthly parents in the present life would punish their children for acts of disobedience.

I have [illegible] ministers in my section who have left the itinerant ranks, become local preachers and engrossed by merchandizing and other pursuits to make a living for themselves and families, and yet they did not succeed but encumbered themselves with debt which caused spiritual declension of the peace of joy they once enjoyed and the influence for good they once possessed. I have noticed this in my section and give it with no intentional reflection upon any particular person or persons. As to how it is in Bro Lee's section I am utterly ignorant. These failures to which I have alluded may have been brought about by other causes, as suggested by Bro. L., but I attribute them to the condemnation of the Almighty.

Now, I am well aware of the fact that many of our laymen are unsuccessful in business from the simple fact that they are unsuited in many instances to the particular trade or profession in which they are engaged and yet it seems to me in the cases of the preachers to which I have referred and to the fact that they followed different employments, that there must have been at least one with sufficient tact and energy to get along were the failure attributable to other causes than the disapproval of the Almighty for disobedience. Why, Messrs Editors, how often do we find laymen so engrossed in worldly cares and pursuits as to grow cold and careless as to their future state, and requiring the discipline of Heaven to be imposed in the taken away of a loved one or of worldly possessions. But I am not seeking controversy, nor do I wish to [illegible] every man to enjoy his own peculiar views in this matter, as to God alone he is responsible.

Yours,

WM.

RECENT PUBLICATIONS.

The North Carolina Monthly—a monthly magazine published and printed by P. W. Wiley, Raleigh, N. C. Terms 50 cents per annum.

This is a new enterprise started by Master Wiley, son of P A. Wiley, Esq., Cashier of the Citizen's National Bank, and is a creditable publication. We wish the young gentleman great success in his undertaking.

Rise and Progress of the M. E Church, South, a centennial address delivered before the Hillsboro' District Conference by Rev. W. H. Moore, of the N. C Conference.

This address has been published in pamphlet form by reques of the Conference before which it was delivered, and is interesting, instructive and well written. It rapidly traces the origin of Methodism in England, then its history in America, explains the causes and necessity of the division of the church in 1844, and paints in glowing colors the progress of the Church, South, and especially in North Carolina. The address was much admired by the audience before whom it was delivered and will well repay perusal. It is published by D. W. Whitaker at Durham, N. C.

Eclectic Magazine—Published by E R Pelton, 25 Bond Street, New York Terms, $5 per year: Single number, 45 cents.

The October number of the Eclectic is embellished with a fine steel engraved portrait of the veteran and venerable biblical scholar, Dr. Philip Schaff, accompanying which in the letter-press is a brief sketch of his life. The literary contents of the number are comprehensive and various. The opening paper is an elaborate one from the Quarterly Review, entitled 'Modern Philosophers on the Probable Age of the World.' This is followed by a brief article from the same review on "South Sea Island Mythology," and this in turn by a striking paper on 'Russia in Europe,' by Arthur Arnold; 'Society in Italy in the Last Days of the Roman Republic,' by James Anthony Froude; 'A Forsaken Garden,' by Algernon Charles Swinburne; 'Sketch of a Journey Across Africa, by Lieutenant Cameron, Part III.; 'A Pontificate of Thirty Years;' 'Wordsworth's Ethics, by Leslie Stephen; 'Anna Witches and Witch-Finders,' by Lady Baker; 'Mervaunne,' by William Allingham; 'An Excursion in Formosa;' 'Natural Magic;' 'The Brigands of Bulgarian Song;' 'Modern Politeness;' and 'The Child Violinist, by Austin Dobson. The concluding part of Mrs Alexander's 'Her Dearest Foe' is also given, and the editorial miscellany of literature, science, and art is copious and interesting.

Gen. Braxton Bragg dropped dead in Galveston, Texas, on the 27th inst He was born in Warren Co., N C, in 1815 and was a brother of the late Gov. Bragg of this State. He achieved high distinction in the Mexican war, during which he was thrice breveted for gallant conduct. During the late war, he did not establish a reputation as a skillful General. After the war, he settled down in a quiet life, abstaining from exciting business or political pursuits He died of syncope, induced by organic disease of the heart.

The North Carolina and Virginia Christian Conferences will convene at Salem Chapel, Forsyth county, on Friday before the 3d Sabbath in November. Rev. W. W. Staley has been chosen to deliver the Annual Sermon.

Rev. W H. Jordan living near Oxford, met with a painful accident several days ago. While coming down the steps he fell cutting his head very badly, which resulted in erysipelas He is improving slowly

Rev. Dr. Leonidas Rosser is now in the midst of a fine revival of religion at Salem, Va.

Rev. D. C Eddy told the Baptist ministers of Boston at their opening meeting for the Fall, that more ministers are broken down by the use of tobacco than disabled by hard work.

The Rev. Alfred Isely of the Christian church, died at his home in Alamance County, on the 13th ult, of typhoid fever, in the 63rd year of his age, after a brief illness He leaves behind a wife and six children.

Loss of the 'Rebecca Clyde.'

FEARFUL STORM AT PORTSMOUTH.

Last Sunday morning our seagirt isle was visited by a destructive storm, which raged in all of its fury for about five hours. Early in the morning we noticed that the barometer was falling rapidly, and the wind from the southeast blowing a perfect gale. At nine o'clock the wind had increased to such a degree as to become frightful, and the oldest citizens pronounced it almost a hurricane.

So terrible was the storm that fences were blown and even houses were carried before its furious blasts The salt spray from the Ocean, swept over the Island destroying vegetation, and every green thing within its reach. About noon the clouds began to disperse, and we can watching the huge billows as they came rolling in from the vast illimitable ocean, one of the most horrible sights was presented to our view of which the mind of man can conceive.

A large steam-ship, which proved to be the Rebecca Clyde, commanded by Capt. D C. Childs, bound from Wilming on to Baltimore whose engine [illegible] had become disabled at sea was [illegible] leaf upon the billows, driven by the merciless wind and waves. In a few minutes she struck on the outer reef about ½ of a mile from land, and the breakers almost mountain high dashing over her, broke her in pieces spreading death and destruction far and wide As soon as possible the citizens were on the beach, ready to render all the assistance they could. The sailors and passengers clung to the wreck until they were swept into the wild and angry sea, and as we saw them amid the floating timbers, struggling for a while with the tempestuous sea we were forced to exclaim oh! Lord have mercy upon those who go down in ships, and do business on the great waters.' After an hour's combat with the waves, eleven out of twenty-three, succeeded in reaching the shore. The most of them had life-preservers while others had none and seemed to be miraculously saved. The scene on shore was thrilling in the extreme, as we beheld to see them led to the different houses, some almost in a nude state, hurried and benumbed, and others so much exhausted that they could scarcely speak. Strange to say not an officer was saved, and the Capt's body alone was found upon the sea shore. And the very evening that his steamer should have gone proudly to the wharf, I read his burial service.

How truely may it be said that "in the midst of life we are in death." As Occanoke a large three masted schooner was driven ashore, and so violent was the wind that a vessel lying at anchor in the harbor, was capsized and every man on board was lost.

The next evening after the wild passion had passed, and the waters of the Atlantic lay placid, bathed in the mellow light of the evening sun, moaning with melancholy voice, along its desolate shore, as if sorrowing over the destruction which its wrath had made, one could hardly realize that such a short while before it was bounding upon the swift wings of the raging storm, and had been the arena of such an awful catastrophe.

But we feel thankful that during such a time, we have one to whom we can look, and upon whose strong arm we can lean, and feel secure.

JAS. M. LUMLEY.

The Recent Storm.

MESS. EDITORS: The severe storm of the 17th inst., which strewed the N. C. beach with fragments of wrecked vessels, merchandise of almost every description, and human bodies, visited our county and the destruction of property is truly distressing. The crops are damaged, many think, one half; others more hopeful say that the damage is less than that. Barns, tenant houses, stables, buggy houses, mills, &c., were blown down.

But the greatest damage seems to have been done in and around Swan Quarter, the county seat. The village is perhaps a half mile from the bay of the same name, which is on Pamlico sound. The wind blew furiously for three hours. The tide rose in the village about five feet, running into the court house and jail through the windows.

I noticed that all the residences having chimneys were not moved, but all outhouses were damaged and most of them carried from their foundations.

Mr. Benj. Cason, a mechanic, had nothing but his dwelling left; fences, shop, kitchen, smoke house, all gone. Tools scattered, new work carts, etc., carried nearly a mile.

A schooner anchored near the village, and having two anchors, one of which weighs eight hundred lbs., was carried on this fearful tide far from her position, and now lies "high and dry," three hundred and fifty yards from the water.

Our new church, 26x42 feet, not yet plastered, was carried two hundred and fifty yards. In its voyage it struck a barn and carried it thirty or forty yards. It is impossible to estimate the loss sustained, but it is immense.

I will here state that perhaps three fourths of all the fruit trees in the county were blown down, and the fruit crop has long been of great profit to our people, because many of them have given considerable attention to their orchards.

Though the loss of property is incalculable, I have not yet met a man with a LONG FACE. All are rejoicing that it is no worse, and we are profoundly grateful to our heavenly Father for his protection. No lives were lost!

J. D. BUIE.

Fairfield, Hyde co., Sept. 21st.

NORTH CAROLINA

The signal office at Portsmouth has been completed.

Davidson College has opened under favorable auspices.

John A. Dickson has been made railroad agent at Hickory.

An early change of schedule on the Western N. C. Railroad is expected.

When Robinson's Circus was at Henderson a number of people were pluandered.

A body of United States troops passed through Charlotte a day or two ago en route for Lancaster, S. C.

The town of Hickory remitted to Savannah the twenty five dollars collected as tax from John Robinson's Circus.

Rev. Wm. Hilt Jordan, of Oxford, fell down the steps of the front porch of his residence the otherday and was badly bruised.

The young men of Oxford have formed an amateur minstrel band and will soon commence to give concerts in aid of charitable objects.

Miss Fannie Mock, of Salisbury, died in Philadelphia while on a visit to the Centennial.

The repairs of the Atlantic Hotel, rendered necessary by the ravages of the storm at Beanfort, will not cost more than $2.000.

A part of the Garrison at Fort Macon has been transferred to Lancaster, S. C. One lieutenant and eight men remain at the fort.

Mr. Lenoir Chambers is developing editorial talents of a high order as city editor of the Charlotte Observer.

The Roanoke River overflowed its banks at Weldon last week, and the crops were much damaged.

Mrs. Scales, the mother of Hon. A. M. Scales, died in Rockingham county last week at an advanced age

Mrs. Anne Wiley, mother of Rev. C. H. Wiley, died in Winston on the 18th Sept. at the advanced age of 77 years.

The Winston Sentinel learns that the publication of the Friend of Temperance will be removed from Raleigh to that place.

A coon was caught in Anson county, measuring three feet, eight and a fourth inches from tip of nose to end of tail.

Valuable gold and copper ores have been found on the lands of P. F. Holt near Graham, Alamance county.

The Raleigh Sentinel is publishing a very valuable statistical report of the amount of real and personal property in each county in the State, and its valuation.

Jno. N. Staples, Esq., has been nominated as a Democratic candidate for the House of Representatives from Guilford county.

The Fall Term of the U. S. District Court is in session in Greensboro.

There is great complaint about the irregularity of the trains on the Richmond & Danville Railroad at this time.

A new building has been erected at New Garden, Guilford Co., for the New Garden Agricultural Fair.

A candy manufacturer in Greensboro, offered to give a negro boy two pounds of candy and one dollar if he would eat the candy at once and in his presence. He ate it in a trice.

It was a fiend that cut a fore foot from a fine horse belonging to W. E. Parks near Greensboro.

T. L. Spivey, formerly a resident of Battleboro, died in Savannah, Ga., on the 27th ult, a victim of the Yellow Fever.

Prof. Latimer, of Davidson College, is a graduate of the University of Virginia, and has just completed an eighteen months course at a college in Germany, where he has been prosecuting the study of Greek and Latin.

Mrs. Esther Tickle, of Alamance county, is upwards of ninety years old, reads her Dutch Bible, does house work—and during last harvest bound wheat in the fields.

Erwin, Kibler & Co's Excursion train for the Centennial, passed Charlotte on the 26th ult., with about 250 passengers. They went to Wilmington, thence to Weldon, and thence by way of the Bay Line of Steamers to Philadelphia.

The North Carolina Supreme Court decides, in State vs. Johnson, that "a son is allowed to fight only in the necessary defense of his father, and to excuse himself he must plead and show that his father would have been beaten had he (the son) not interfered. If a father and his adversary are engaged in a fight on equal terms the son's interference is not justifiable.

The boy who threw a stone into the window of a passing train on the A. T. & O. Railroad, at Mooresville, was caught and on the advice of the President of the road, he received from his father thirty-nine lashes, instead of the punishment which the courts would have inflicted for malicious mischief.

A circular has been issued by some of the Danville, Va., Warehousemen advising planters to hold their tobacco at present, assuring better prices in the future than now, when the market is overstocked.

Mr. Cicero W Harris for some years associate Editor of the Morning Star of Wilmington, has withdrawn from that paper, having formed more profitable connections elsewhere. Mr. Harris is a born newspaper man, and wherever he sets his tripod the place will glow with light

The Winston Sentinel says that John Crumpler, an old citizen of Wilkes county, dropped dead while attending a political meeting at Trap Hill on the 21st ult

Dr. Craven will deliver an address before the Randolph Agricultural Society on the 27th inst.

George Kindley, a citizen living in Tabernacle Township, Randolph Co., has discovered a very valuable gold mine on his land So says the Regulator.

J. Sydney Jones, an escaped lunatic from the Asylum at Pittsburgh, Pa., and who has a mania for yachts, was arrested at Newbern last week and returned to Pennsylvania

Mr. Peter M. Hale, of New York, and W. L. Saunders, of Wilmington, will commence on the 16th inst., the publication of a daily paper in Raleigh, to be called the Daily Observer. Mr. Hale is a son of R. J. Hale, formerly editor of the Fayetteville Observer, one of the best papers ever published in North Carolina. Mr. Saunders is considered the best political writer in the State.

The Blue Ridge Blade, under the excellent management of Avery & Cronson, has attained a good circulation and has been enabled by its prosperity to doff the "patent out-side" and assume a full "home made" dress.

HELL GATE.

A Harmless and Successful Explosion —The Report Hardly Perceptible.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—The explosion at Hell Gate was successful and harmless. After the last gun of warning, a deep hush fell upon the multitude. The stillness was complete and unbroken from them until the third gun, at 10 minutes to 3, which was followed precisely at 9 minutes to 3 by the explosion. In a straight and seemingly narrow line, running north and south for about 300 yards, the water was whitened and rose evenly three or four feet high. A "dull thud" was heard: the rocks trembled beneath the feet of the multitude as from two quick, short pulsations of an earthquake The water, which appeared to remain stationary for an instant, broke and spurted up in irregular, dark, yellowish masses, about 12 feet high, mixed with dark smoke from the dynamite. Then it fell back in a moment, and the river resumed its usual beautiful aspect. Then a mighty cheer arose from all the north and east side of the city, and from the steamers and boats, and steam whistles were blown and bells were rung joyously, and all was over. The report was scarcely noticeable. Not the smallest fragment of rock was hurled up, and not so much as a ripple was caused upon the water, save just over the spot where the explosion took place There was no concussion in the air, and not a pane of glass broken in the city or on Ward's Island. Immediately after the explosion hundreds of row boats set out at their best speed for Hell Gate, each anxious to have the honor of first passing over the scene of the explosion. That the work was effectual is the general feeling, and this also appears from the fact that the police boat passed over that spot safely The tide has been materially changed by the explosion, and now the currents set directly on the big and little mill rocks They will have to be exploded next.

The amount of coal oil in the oil region of Pennsylvania was 3 164 000 barrels last week.

Col Rogers is to have command of the Department of the South with headquarters at Atlanta.

Lynn (Mass.) Andover has been fined for the twenty third time for the non vaccination of its three children

It is estimated that it would take more than twenty three years to spend five minutes on each exhibit at the Centennial.

The sale of the Old South Church, Boston, for $400 000, was effected on the 15th inst. The building is to be used strictly as a historical Museum

About 8 o'clock, on the evening of the 14th ult, two masked men boarded the Utah Central Railroad, eight miles north of Salt Lake City, gagged Wells Fargo's messenger opened the safe, took $15,000 and made their escape.

The late Rufus R. Graves, of New York, has left the munificent sum of $10,000 to be applied to the education of the colored people of the south.

Dr. T H. Hemhold, the famous patent medicine man, escaped from his confinement in a lunatic asylum in Philadelphia.

H W Longfellow has been chosen poet for the Centennial celebration of Burgoyne's surrender at Saratoga, Oct. 18 1877.

Georgia has forty cotton-mills in successful operation, running full time, and paying handsome dividends.

One span of the bridge over the Tennessee river at Loudon, was blown off recently week It has been repaired and trains are now running over it.

The iron mines and coal mines of Tennessee, Alabama and Georgia are so extensive that they may be said to be inexhaustible. A gentleman connected with the iron interests of England stated that the supply of iron in Alabama alone would be ample for the demand of the world a thousand years.

The machinery of an elevator in St. Louis gave way on the 16th ult precipitating three men from the third story to the ground floor. One of the men was killed, and the other two very dangerously injured.

Mr. Ross, the father of the long-lost Charles, was called recently to see a little boy supposed to be his son, but it turned out to be another disappointment.

New Jersey produces one third of all the silk raised in the United States. Seven new factories for silk goods were either erected or completed in Paterson, N. J. last year.

An extensive saw mill was burnt near Frank in Va., one day recently. Two freight cars and a large amount of lumber were also consumed, and the Railroad track damaged.

Russia has 1,340,000 men as a peace armament, and 2 500 000 in time of war This is in refutation of the statement that the military power of that empire had declined recently. The Russian army in 1853 was 600,000 men.

The New York Methodist, noting the fact that the Southern Methodist press had been accused of sinful silence in regard to the Hamburg riot, quotes from five different secular papers in the South in which proper allusion had been made to the matter.

Work on the tunnel across the British Channel is to begin on the 1st of July, 1877. The tunnel is machinery in the used can bore a diameter not in diameter as the channel in two years at a cost of $4 000 000.

The Democratic Convention of York held its meeting at Saratoga on the 13th Lucius Robinson received the nomination for Governor, Kelly ordered his resignation as elector at large, and Seymour was substituted in his place.

Five Nations contended for the prize at the shooting match at Creedmoor. The American took the first prize and the Irish the second

The Architectural Iron Works, at New York, have suspended. Liabilities, $200,000. Seven hundred men are ousted.

The Christian Advocate

PUBLISHED IN THE CITY OF RALEIGH EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING, TERMS $2.50 POSTAGE PAID.

Our Agents.

All the traveling and local preachers in the bounds of the North Carolina Conference are our authorized Agents. Any person sending us ten subscribers for one year will receive the paper free.

Our Correspondents.

Communications for publication should be carefully written, and on but one side of the sheet. All letters of the office should be addressed to the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

How to Remit.

In sending money, all amounts should be sent in registered letter, post office order or check. The cost of registration, or Post Office order can be deducted from the amount in hand. If money is sent otherwise than herein specified, it will be at the sender's risk.

INDEX TO NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

We call the attention of our readers who desire a good secular paper to the advertisement of the Cincinnati Star in another column.

We call especial attention to the new advertisement of D S. Waitt & Bro. merchants of this city. They have recently removed to the well known stand of J. M Towles, one door above their former place of business on Fayetteville Street, and are receiving their Fall Stock of goods which is complete and varied. The Messrs Waitt are excellent gentlemen, thoroughly reliable and do business on business principles and in an honest, straightforward and pleasant way—They deserve the success which has attended them.

General News.

Alexander H. Stephens occupies the larger part of his time in sending an article on American history to the Cincinnati Volume of Famous Every Day Folk.

Mr. Moody ... [illegible] ... will be 38 Sundays. A building has been provided for his preaching when it is said will seat eight thousand persons.

At Wordwich a man named Dawnes, a member of the sect known as the Peculiar People, was [illegible] for [illegible] in medicine and when his child was suffering from [illegible] prayed [illegible] God to render [illegible] her [illegible] her gentleness and purity she was better fitted for the Heavenly Home than those who [illegible] struck death the blow.

Encouraging news from Lima and Commonplace were [illegible] for, for in every relation of life as daughter, wife, mother, sister, friend [illegible] suggested providence of the [illegible] [illegible] the well deserved reward of [illegible] [illegible] universal love [illegible] [illegible] allegeth [illegible] entirely on character and person and only [illegible] [illegible] whether she can estimate the good [illegible] [illegible] hearts scattered far, the friends and companions of her girlhood, will sadden [illegible] when they learn that she is gone [illegible] [illegible] hearts that loved her best, and the home [illegible] made bright; gone from [illegible] husband, dear children, and devoted friends [illegible] gone to a brighter and better land to dwell with the Saviour she loved and trusted. O aged father by her [illegible] loved [illegible] to dwell with the Saviour she loved and trusted. O aged father by her [illegible] loved, beloved! O grief-stricken husband, so desolate in thy saddened home!

Unsparing sister, dear ones, and friends! Cheer up, for her sweet sake, who in life lavished your smiles, and tried ever to make you happy by her own joy, and sympathy in your sorrow. Safe on the other shore, with her [illegible] before again in her arms she comes to you with [illegible] [illegible] gone before.

We may not hear her [illegible] joy,
We may not see her robes of snow,
Yet safe upon the other side,
She waits to welcome us I know.

We too shall rest in peace there,
We shall clasp hands in that bright clime;
And where no tears shall bedew cheeks
How joyful will our meeting be.

Several Deaths from [illegible] [illegible] Nervous diseases [illegible] Earache, and have used [illegible] [illegible] Pain.

We would most recommend the recipient of [illegible] use of any medicine, it is important in such cases to use a good article judiciously. Parsons Purgative Pills are safe prompt and [illegible] [illegible] cathartic.

Base ball is undoubtedly good exercise and [illegible] amusement but it often occasions [illegible] [illegible] broken limbs and bruised [illegible] [illegible] will vouch for that as well as [illegible] [illegible] Anodyne Liniment is recommended to relieve the swelling and stop the pain.

Dr. Pratt's Expectorant.

This [illegible] preparation has performed [illegible] [illegible] most astonishing cures that are recorded in the annals of history. Patients suffering for years from the various diseases of the Lungs, after [illegible] relief at [illegible], spending thousands of dollars in traveling and doctoring have by the use of a few bottles recovered their health.

A sojourner at Aiken, S. C., writes:
NEW YORK, August 30, 1876

DR. TUTT:

DEAR SIR:—While in Aiken last winter, I used your Expectorant for my cough, and I owe my recovery from it that winter to it. Consider it a debt I cannot pay. I am so well that I will not go to Florida next winter. Yours truly,
Send me one dozen bottles by express for some friends.
ALFRED CUSHING,
124 West Thirty first Street.

The following testimonial is signed by twelve of the leading physicians of Halifax, N. S.: "Dr. Liebig's Liquid Extract of Beef and Tonic Invigorator is a very agreeable article. I direct, and particularly in cases of Diptheria, Fever, and every depressing disease. We cheerfully recommend it. Every family should have a few bottles."
Williams & Haywood, Agents.

Letters and Funds

[illegible] Brown, self $2.50, Wm Z Barber, self $2.50, H B Leavell, paper sent, C H Foster, Wm Polson, Rev A G Hyde, self, Rev Dr Craven, Rev Dr Closs, Rev R W Thompson, Rev R M Turner, Rev B B Brittain, paper sent, Rev R C V A Rushmore, paper sent, Rev J W Moore, paper sent, Mrs Sloan, of Sam Mrs I C Stewart, $2.50, Mrs M [illegible] self 2.50, N W Ayer & Son, for self, $2.50, T P Hoode, Geo B Harper, N E Sultzbac, F N Strohmann & Bros, Rev J J Kearns, D W Mc and postage grants, Rev J N Andrews, paper sent, Rev P H Joyner, self 1.25, Rev W H Wise, Rev M W Eagles papers changed, R K Murdock, self 1.75, Rev J D Dale, paper continued, Rev S Scott, H H Rochelle 2.50, Mrs S Brock self 2.25, Rev [illegible] paper continued, S D Adams, paper continued, Rev N M Rix, paper changed—R C A Leathers paper sent, Rev E A Yates, E Alden Wm Polson, Mrs M E Skelton self 2.25, M O Sherrill for Hawkes 2.25, Revd D Stallsell for C M Doughty 2.25, Mrs M Bridgers 2.25, Mrs A J Cotton 2.25, S L Love 2.25, U Hill 1.25, Miss E Mayson 2.25

From Professor E. Bridger, Chemist, Montreal:

"I know of no preparation affording so much nutriment, and none which builds up the constitution so rapidly, and effects such permanent and positive cures as Colden's Liebig's Liquid Extract of Beef and Tonic Invigorator.
Williams & Haywood, Agents.

Magnolias and silver-sojourning in localities and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] with them a good supply of Jaynes's Anodyne Liniment. It is the most reliable medicine for all purposes ever in the world.

Contagious diseases, such as horse ail, glanders, &c., may be prevented by the use of Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders. Persons travelling with horses should take notice.

APPOINTMENTS.

GREENSBORO DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.—10 M. IN PART.

Kingston sta	Sept	23-24
Forsythe ct at Pabor	Oct	7- 8
Davidson ct at Wesley Chapel	"	14-15
North Buffalo at Melting Chapel	"	21-22
Madis n, Madison	"	28-29

S. G. P. WILSON, P. E.

HILLSBORO DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Durham s a	Sept.	23-24
Alamance at Phillips's Chapel,	Oct.	— 1
Pittsboro at Chatham Church,	"	7- 8
Deep River at Providence,	"	14-15
Cane River at Orange Church,	"	21-22
Hillsboro at Mt. Tirzah	"	28-29
Person at Mt. Tirzah	Nov	1- 5
Roxboro at Lea's Chapel,	"	11-12
Yanceyville at Shady Grove	"	18 19
Hillsboro sta	"	25 26

L. L. HENDREN P. E
Chapel Hill, N C

FAYETTEVILLE DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND—IN PART.

Lumberton at Union Spring,	Oct	7- 8
Rock Fish Fayetteville,	"	14-15
Cross Hill Chicahominy	"	21-22
Bladenboro at Elizabeth	"	28-29
Fayetteville sta	Nov	1- 5
Carver's Creek Pedding	"	11-12

J. S. NEESON, P. E
Fayetteville, N. C.

WASHINGTON DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Washington,	Sept	2- 3
Greenville at Greenville	"	9 10
Tarboro at Mckendree	"	16 17
Warrenton	Sept. 30 & Oct	1
Roanoke at Rehobeth	"	7- 8
Warren at Gaskensberry,	"	14-15
Williamston at Hamilton,	"	21 22
Plymouth and Jamesville	"	24 25
at Jamesville,	"	28-29
Columbia at Columbia,	"	30-31
Pettigrew circuit at Fairfield,	Nov	4- 5
Lake at Asbury,	"	11 12
Washington at night on	"	12

WM. CLOSS, P. E.
Tolsnot, N. C.

Marriages.

September the 14th 1876 at the residence of and by Rev. F. M. Farrow, Mr. Christopher F. Fulcher, of Dare county, to Miss. Nancy J. Herrington, of Swan Quarter Hyde county all of the M E Church. South.

Married, at the residence of the bride's father Dr A B. Nobles, in Edgecombe Co. Sept. 21th 1876 by Rev. F. D. Swindell, Mr. S. R. Kitchen and Miss. Katie Nobles.

Married by Rev. J. J. Renn, Sept. 27th 1876, Dr. Pendi Hays and Miss Cora Howard, all of Orange Co N. C.

Deaths.

☞Obituary notices of twenty lines or less inserted without charge. The excess over twenty lines of minor words is charged for at the rate of 10 cents per line. Count the line and allow minor words to the line, in the way you may always know the amount to enclose. Resolutions of respect are subject to the same rule. ☜

Mrs Mary King, wife of Turner King, was born January 2th, 1827, and died September 19 h. 1876. At fourteen years of age she gave her heart to God and during the period [illegible] thirty five years of her life was a faithful christian and consistent member of Orange Church. Her name will call up pleasant associations in the memory of many of our best pastors. She was a help by nature, and a christian by grace; of the most unassuming personal character, she a richest integrity and great purity of heart. Firm but gentle [illegible] [illegible] articulate words were hallelujahs. She was devoted to the Church of her choice, and wedded to our doctrines, especially that of infant baptism. Other children, as we members of Orange Church, were dedicated to God in infancy. A very large concregation to whom her memory will ever be precious, assembled at the Church on the 20th, where a funeral sermon was preached by the writer upon "the inheritance of the saints in light." May her bereaved husband and children and grand-children, follow her as she followed Christ, until all meet in the home of the blest.
Chapel Hill, N C Sept 26th 1876.

Mrs Alice Bramo, died July 11th 1876, at the residence of her son Rev. Wm Bramo, in Franklin co. N. C. Her funeral was preached on the 15 h at the residence of her son John M. Bramo, by Rev J R Gillis.
While she was yet young she embraced religion and joined the Methodist Church in which she led a consistent useful life for more than fifty years. She lived to see all of her children settled in life, all of them converted, and in the church, with the precious hope of meeting her again in our Heavenly Father's house. Having done her work well entered her generation as God gave her ability. Calmly sweetly, she fell asleep in Jesus. The heart she held in the altar in her girlhood days was never taken from, and [illegible] the Master found it when he called her home. Here was a scriptural religion, devoting head and heart and life to the one work of doing good in the world and preparing for eternity. As we think of her we can but feel that a one her in Israel hath fallen.

The mother is no more. To all a sad thought, to the children she fondly loved a great affliction but to her a blessed reality, full of glory, radiant with immortality.

Blessed be God! we feel when death never comes—this one beloved never goes away. It will be a grand reunion when the whole family meet in heaven.

R.

WILMINGTON DISTRICT.

Mt. Carmel at Salem,	Sept	30
Wilmington, 5th Street	"	30
Chesterfield at Bethany	"	30
Rockingham, at Wesley Chapel and [illegible]	Oct	1
Fayetteville at Prospect	"	7- 8
Cheraw at Fetterneck	"	14- 15
Wadesboro, Front Street	"	14- 15
Rockfish, at Hopewell	"	21- 22
Bladenboro at [illegible]	"	21- 22
Elizabeth at [illegible]	"	28- 29
Wilmington [illegible] Miss	"	1-
[illegible] Rocky Point	"	[illegible]
[illegible] [illegible] will be [illegible] [illegible] Conference, and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Children's Column.

A SHORT SERMON.

BY ALICE CARY.

Children, who read my lay,
This much I have to say:
Each day, and every day,
Do what is right,—
Right things, be great and small;
Then, though the sky should fall,
Sun, moon, and stars, and all,
You shall have light.

This further would I say:
Be you tempted as you may,
Each day, and every day,
Speak what is true,—
True things in great and small,
Then, though the sky should fall,
Sun, moon, and stars, and all,
Heaven would show through.

Figs, as you see and know,
Do not out of thistles grow;
And though the blossoms blow
While on the tree,
Grapes never, never yet
On the limbs of thorns were set;
So, if you a good would get,
Good you must be.

Life's journey through and through,
Speaking what is just and true,
Doing what is right to do,
Calm and cheerful all,
When you work, and when you play,
Each day, and every day;
Then peace shall gild your way,
Though the sky should fall.

THE STRAY MULE.

At a meeting in a frontier Western settlement several present were stoutly opposed to the organization of a Sunday School. Not being able to agree, the meeting was breaking up, when the chairman said he had a very important notice to read to them.—Quiet was soon restored to hear this rather novel 'religious notice.'

'Strayed—A large black mule. He had on a halter when he left, and is branded on the left hip with the letter S. Any one returning said mule will be liberally rewarded.'

The keen Sunday School Union missionary quickly announced that he also had a very important notice to give out:

'Strayed—A number of boys from their homes, near this place, this Sunday morning. They had guns and fishing poles on their shoulders when they left. They are branded, by a lady God, as Sabbath breakers. Any one returning said boys, and placing them in a Sunday-school, will be liberally rewarded at the day of judgment.'

The fact of that missionary carried the vote in favor of a Sunday school and those stray boys were duly returned to it.

Not Yet.—'My son, give me thy heart,' said the Lord Jesus to a little boy.

'Not yet,' said the little boy, busy with his bat and ball. 'When I grow older I will think about it.'

'My son, give me thy heart,' said the Lord Jesus to the young man.

'Not yet,' said the young man, 'I am just going into business. When I see it prosper I shall have more time to attend to the matter.'

Business did prosper.

'My son, give me thy heart.'

'Not yet,' said the man of business. 'I am pressed now. When my children are well settled in life I shall be better able to attend to religion.'

He lived to be an old man.

'Not yet,' he cried: 'I shall soon give up trade, and then I shall have nothing else to do but to read and pray.'

And so he died. He put off to an other time what should have been done when a child. He therefore died as he had lived—without God.—Sunday School Gem.

How beautifully afraid are many good people of being too early at church! It does not seem to enter their minds that a few moments for meditation, communion, and prayer may double the value of the services to their souls. How will a dull prayer be enlivened by the hearers being already in the spirit of prayer? How will a prosy sermon be made to yield gospel sweets under the alchemy of an eager hungering for truth from God, even though it come in an earthen vessel! Do not be afraid to spend a few minutes in your seat in God's house if you have grace to spend those minutes, not in gazing at your neighbors, but in communion and devotion. In one of our Philadelphia churches, an aged saint recently died in her ninety eighth year. She was wont to be in her seat in the gallery a half or three quarters of an hour before the service commenced. To her pastor she said that she found it sweet to sit there, for it was rest to her soul.—Presbyterian at Work.

Rural and Domestic

THE FARMER'S GARDEN

Small Fruits.—We have spoken of the most important vegetables in a well filled garden, but there are fruits properly belonging to a garden that are even more reliable than vegetables, and better adapted to the healthful wants of the system, during the prevalence of warm weather. The large fruits, or fruits growing upon trees, properly belong to the orchard or to a separate fruit garden; but the small fruits growing on plants, canes, or low growing shrubs, that cast little or no shade, may very well find a place in the kitchen garden. Even grapes may be trained on trellises on the north side of the garden, where their shade would do no injury.

Strawberries. This delicious small fruit ripens first in order, and shall first receive attention. It also requires the [illegible] to transplant strawberries in the spring, as the [illegible] is very enough [illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible] would set them in rows [illegible] apart, and about one foot apart in the row. A strong mellow [illegible] preferable, but with manure and thorough tillage, fair crops can be raised on light sandy or heavy clay loam.

As to varieties, the Wilson can be raised in a greater variety of soils, climate, and localities than any other. On strong loams the Triomphe de Gand usually succeeds, and is a sweeter berry. Jucunda will do well on a heavy, strong loam, and generally averages larger berries than the Triomphe. Charles Downing succeeds on both light and heavy soils. Col. Cheney, Kentucky, Monarch of the West, and Star of the West, are newer varieties, highly commended by many.

Raspberries.—Raspberries are much easier of cultivation than strawberries, and are used in a greater variety of ways. They are good to eat out of hand, sugared on the table, in pies and puddings, canned or in jams, and are excellent dried. Transplant, in April, on a good loam, in rows six feet apart, and from twenty inches to two feet in the row. If not convenient to transplant in April, they may be very successfully removed in May, after the new canes have made a start, by careful handling.

In the Black Cap family Davison's Thornless, Doolittle and Mammoth Cluster take the preference. Some think highly of Ontario and Seneca.

Among the reds, Clark, Kirtland, and Philadelphia are good and hardy, and Hudson River, Antwerp, and Franconia are fine, needing protection; Highland Hardy, Bristol, Brandywine, and Turner are promising in localities where they have been tried.

A Hybrid!—The Gauargua Hybrid is a hybrid between the blacks and reds, and is certainly one of the most vigorous and productive raspberries we have ever seen. It is good for the table, cooking or drying.

Blackberries. This species comes latest of the berry family, but cannot well be dispensed with in the family garden. It should be planted in the same way as the raspberry, but, if planted as closely, will need severe shortening in, to admit of cultivation. Dorchester, Early Wilson, Kittatinny, and Lawton are the old, well known varieties. Snyder is undoubtedly the hardiest, and has a fine, wild flavor, and Hoosac has a local reputation from its being thornless.

Currants.—Ripen about with the raspberry, and, although less highly prized than formerly, when the other small fruits were seldom grown in the garden, yet from its intense and delightful acid it is still popular. It should be transplanted in April, four feet each way, in a good garden soil, and kept clean. If the currant worm should appear, it should be promptly treated with white hellebore, for the destruction of the foliage the first season would check the growth of the young plants. Cherry and Versailles are the finest reds, and White Grape the best white.

Gooseberries.—Should be planted and cultivated very much like currants, and like currants they are used for cooking while green. The American seedlings are the only reliable kinds and among those Houghton's, Smith's and Downing's are the best.—Rural Sunday School Gem.

The tenderest Lungs may be rendered vigorous by use of Baker's Cod Liver Oil and Phosphate of Lime. It relieves Cough, averts Consumption, cures Bronchitis, and gives stamina to the system and strength to the constitution; it is decidedly pleasant to take, and an entirely safe remedy. Druggists sell it. JNO C. BAKER & Co: Philadelphia.

To Snake, or not to Snake!

Aye, that is the question. Is it better to submit to the promptings of fever and ague, or to buy bills for attendance by a course of that standard an infallible remedy, Hostetter's Bitters. There cannot be much doubt as to the response of the malaria stricken to this inquiry from every locality on this continent where Hostetter's are not forearmed with the shivering plague comes an increasing demand for the only genuine preventive and eradicator of chills provided by science. The ravages of fever and ague in districts well know how utterly inadequate to the more than a brief relief are the so-called remedies of the faculty, quinine, arsenic, bleeding—what are those but poisonous palliatives, acting cause after a time to produce any purchase other, and it purported to wreak irreparable mischief upon the system? Everywhere they are being abandoned by intelligent persons and their genuine vegetable specific for intermittent and remittent fever, the Hostetter Bitters, substituted in their place.

THE BUFFALO

LITHIA WATERS

— IN —

Protracted Intermittent and Remittent Fevers.

Extract from letter of Dr. H. F. Manson, Professor of General Pathology and Physiology in the Medical College, Richmond, Va., July 6th, 1875.

"These waters have been found especially curative in cases of chronic intermittent fever, many intractable cases having been thereby restored to perfect health in a brief space of time."

Extract from Pamphlet of Dr. A. Harris on these Waters, published in 1874:

"Many cases of INTERMITTENT AND REMITTENT FEVERS in the chronic forms of these troublesome ailments, the Buffalo water acts most happily, and, it has proved in often-tried cases a permanent cure. Diseased elements of the liver and spleen, concomitants of these affections, are conditions only relieved with difficulties and labor.

Cases of E. R. Harris, Esq., of the Virginia Bar, and Hector for the State upon the Democratic Presidential ticket.

Extract from Letter, dated Rockville Spring, August 29th, 1874:

"Some years ago my system was completely worn down and prostrated by a protracted case of remittent fever. After trying all the remedies suggested in which cases in vain, I settled the most indefatigable practitioners in Alexandria and Washington, I procured from my native county, I left the mountains and came to these Springs, where, in a few weeks, I was entirely restored to health."

Evidences of the great powers of these Waters in chronic but inflicted and Remittent Fever could be multiplied to almost any extent, both from professional and unprofessional sources.

CHAS. PARKER, Proprietor,
Buffalo Lithia Springs,
Mecklenburg co., Va.

CUTAVACO! [illegible]

aug 30 1y.

SERMONS.

BY E. M. MARVIN, D.D., LL.D.,

One of the Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church South.

Edited by T. O. SUMMERS, D.D

12mo, Muslin Pages 352.

This book will be ready by the 10th of August. Price Two Dollars, with twenty-five per cent discount to Preachers. It will be sent, post-paid, to any address upon receipt of retail price. The money must accompany all orders.

A. H. REDFORD, Agt.

THE NORTH CAROLINA FARMER.

Ayr, H. Pinnix,—Dear Sir: I have been a practical farmer for forty years, and during that time have taken the best agricultural papers of the day, and I unhesitatingly say that there is more valuable practical information to our farmers in the first and second numbers of the North Carolina Farmer than in any four copies of any of the Agricultural Journals I have taken, and I do most earnestly recommend it to every farmer in our State as the paper for him, above all others.

PETER E. HINES,
Haliwa, Co.

Subscription one year, $1.50
5 Copies, 7.00
10 " " 13.00
A Premium to Agents.

J. H. INNIS & Co., Publishers,
Aug. 20-1. Raleigh, N. C.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, } Superior Court,
Wake County. } Aug. 30th, 1876.

L. E. STAMPS, Trustee, vs. N. A. Taylor and Jas. S. Dudley.

It appearing to the satisfaction of the Court upon affidavit that the defendant, N. A. Taylor, is a necessary party to this suit, and that after due diligence he cannot be found in this State, it is ordered by the Court that service by publication of the summons in this cause be made upon the said defendant for at least six weeks in six weeks in the Christian Advocate, a newspaper published in the city of Raleigh, and that service of this summons be made and published at the place of his residence if such be known.

J. S. BUNTING,
Clerk.

WAKE COUNTY.—IN THE SUPERIOR COURT.

L. E. Stamps, Trustee, &c.,
Against
N. A. Taylor and Jas. S. Dudley.

Petition for Relief.

THE STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,

To the Sheriff of Wake County—Greeting: You are hereby commanded, to summon N. A. Taylor and James S. Dudley, the Defendants above named, if they be found within your county, to appear at the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court of said County of Wake, within sixty days after the service of this summons upon them, exclusive of the day of such service, and answer the complaint, a copy of which will be filed in the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court for said county, within ten days from the date of the summons, and let them take notice that if they fail to answer the said complaint within that time, the Plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Herein fail not, and of this summons make due return.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, this 30th day of August 1876.

J. S. BUNTING,
Clerk Superior Court Wake County.

James C. Cains and R. T. Gray, Plaintiff Attorneys, aug. 23-6w.

WESLEYAN FEMALE INSTITUTE,
STAUNTON, VA.

Will begin its twenty-seventh Annual Session, 8 p.m. the 21st Sept., 1876, Rev. W. A. Harris, D. D., President, with an able corps of twenty-three Teachers and Officers.

Also two Languages taught and spoken in the Old Dear Lady Instructor Teacher. Music by able Professors and Teachers, among whom are some of the most cultivated leaders of vocal music in the South.

This is one of the oldest institutions in the Union. Its unrivalled success is the rapid promotion of the health and vigor of our pupils. Those who come here from the South with feeble constitutions, and chronic diseases, soon gain rolls restored.

Buildings clean—heated by patent breezes, commanding the most magnificent scenery, and combining such varied attractions as to make it one of the most delightful college homes in the Union.

This School is mainly designed for pupils from fifteen to seventeen different States.

Its appointments and simplicity in dress are requisite. A simple and plain uniform. No unnecessary expense allowed, either on money or time to limit expenses of pupils.

From Bishop D. S. Doggett, D. D.

The Wesleyan Female Institute, located in Staunton, Va., under the Presidency of Rev. W. A. Harris, is, to my judgment, one of the best institutions for young ladies in the South. I have pleasure to know and appreciate it, for by the advantages enjoyed by one of my daughters there, its course of study is specifically arranged, published, and its instruction both solid and elegant. Its personal accommodations are all that can be desired for health and comfort, or taste. No pupil can enter there without being improved, more or less, in morals, manners, and intellect

Raleigh Christian Advocate.

Bobbitt & Gray, Publishers. Published in the Interests of Methodism in North Carolina.

Vol. XXII.---No. 40. Raleigh, N. C., Wednesday, October 11, 1876. $3.20 Per Annum, in Advance.

Whole No. 1,128.

Poetry.

For the Advocate.

"THAT THEY MAY BE ONE."

JOHN XVII, 21.

Author of Peace, thy Spirit pour
Upon thy Church below;
Help them in bonds of unity,
In charity, to grow.

As ye are One in mystic bond,
A Trinity Divine:
So may they be, in perfect love,
And be in all things Thine.

Unite them, Lord, forever, now,
A Church below, above;
And let the wondering world confess,
"See how they Christians love."

HENRY W. B.

Communicated.

For the Advocate.

Evangelization.

BY REV. SOLOMON POOL.

For years the best answer I could obtain to the all important and soul stirring question, How shall the world be conquered to Christ? was in the feeble hope of a future direct miraculous intervention. But it is not satisfactory. That seems to me a better solution which, 1. Requires no miracle: 2 Engages every christian directly and actively in the work of soul-saving, and 3. So speedily brings about the desired result.

The following propositions and demonstrations, (substantially) were submitted by me to several leading divines of different States and Churches.

Proposition 1 If a comparatively small number of Christians, and those converted through their instrumentality, should annually bring one soul to Christ, the present generation would witness the world's conversion.

Proof. Let the number be 1,000. The first year, each bringing one, and deducting three per cent for mortality, the number increases to 1,940; the second year to 3,763; the third year to 7,300; and in a little over twenty years "the wilderness and the solitary place shall be glad for them, and the desert shall rejoice and blossom as the rose."

Proposition 2. If the same number of christians as above, (1,000,) and those converted through their instrumentality, should bring to Christ two souls during the first year of their spiritual life, and none thereafter, the world would be converted in about twenty years.

Proof. To bring two in one year is equivalent to bringing one every year thereafter, for one of the two is substituted for the original laborer, and the result is unaltered. The first year would exhibit 1,940 evangelists, and 970 retired, a total of 2,910; the second year a total of 6,586; and in about twenty years, "the kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord and of his Christ."

Proposition 3. The progress at present being made towards the world's conversion is painfully slow.

Proof. The annual increase in the world's population is much greater than the annual number of conversions to Christ. While we rejoice to behold, here and there, bright spots in the thick darkness of Pagan lands, yet millions at our very doors are without the consolations of the gospel; so that Satan seems to be annually snatching away more than we bring in, and but for the large proportion who die in infancy, hell would appear to be peopled many times faster than heaven!

It is as much the privilege of laymen to win souls, as it is the duty of the clergy, otherwise we might imagine "many starless crowns in heaven." Is it too much for each disciple (as did Andrew and Philip) to bring one friend to Jesus, a whole year being allowed them; or two in a life time?

The questions then are 1. Can each christian (1,000 or more,) and those converted through their agency, annually bring to the Cross one soul, or two the first year of their new life? And 2. Will they put forth the required effort to bring on so glorious an epoch? Of course difficulties present themselves which to the natural eye seem akin to impossibilities, such as the cost and tardiness of reaching many nations, the danger of approach, diversity of language etc. Faith however looks above and beyond such seeming obstacles. The conversion of a single soul is the joint work of God and man, and appears to me a greater impossibility than the removal of all difficulties which may separate a nation of christian laborers from the white and plenteous harvest field.

When men do their part, God will always do his. There cannot be impossibility in such work. Human genius has not exhausted itself with the scientific discoveries and mechanical inventions of this century, but progress in these departments will always keep pace with the spread of gospel light. When the Church, the bride, the Lamb's wife, is ready, the Bridegroom will not delay to pour into her lap all the inconceivable wealth of the divine resources. Each christian can bring one soul to Christ every year. But will they make the effort? How many will, in addition to their baptismal covenant, make the specific vow that God being their helper they will annually lead one to Christ? Though the grand result indicated in my first two propositions should not so speedily be attained, for we can make no exact estimates, yet if only one soul be saved who otherwise had perished, or the second coming of the Savior be hastened; only the one thousandth part of a hundred centuries, should not the vow and effort be made?

Rev. Dr. Lovick Pierce, so full of faith, crowned already with the noble pulpit laurels of nearly three quarters of a century, and just at the gate of Heaven, whose words are all but inspired, in reply to a letter enclosing (substantially) the foregoing propositions, writes as follows:

"SPARTA, August 25, 1876.

DEAR BRO POOL: Yours of August 15th, received yesterday, so you will see I lose but little time in answering your request. Your scheme is feasible and practicable: is greatly needed, and cannot be substituted by prayers and good wishes idly employed. It is evangelistic work to be done in person, or else left undone, in so far as personal service is required. It has long been my opinion that no greater mistake was ever made by the Church proper, than the one that turned over the conversion of sinners to the preachers alone: and this too, as absolutely in the midst of organized churches as in the missionary ground. Preaching was primarily, and principally, for planting Churches, while Church extension was the work of the Church. Hence Paul, in 2 Cor. x; 15, 16, speaks of preaching the gospel in the regions beyond, not until faith was increased at home, and behind the advancing Church. Again, in 1 Thess. i: 7, 8, 9 it is evident to my mind that this extension of the Thessalonian Church was by the Church. There was no Paul in it, as in the beginning. It is impossible but that the Church was intended to propagate itself by spiritual communication. The desideratum in our Church now is the want of evangelizing zeal in the Church as God's great light house on the coast of time to show wayfaring sinners the way into the ports of eternal life. The Church is God's salt of the earth, not merely the ministers of his grace. The great, the final revival of religion will be brought about by laymen of warm hearted christian experience, calling sinners to repentance, not because it is their profession, but because the love of Christ constrains them. The Young Men's Christian Association, when well worked in cities, is doing more good than our pastors, because their efforts are direct and personal. Go on and let us engage as many as possible in resolving always to have at least one unconverted sinner in hand, leading him by the soul enticing influence of love for his soul. Such measures, where love and friendship mingle, are almost inestimable. I mean no harm when I say a pious clerk can do more in this way than a good Vanderbilt. Theological preacher can do in his pulpit precision. Get every one to convert one.

L. PEIRCE."

One of the ablest middle aged divines of our country, President of a flourishing University in a distant State, replies—"The publication of your thoughts would undoubtedly be useful. I profoundly sympathize with the spirit which prompts them, and believe the methods they suggest are to be the great means of the church's progress." One of the most distinguished clergymen of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the State of New York, writes—"An evangelizing laity is the hope of the Church and of the world. I bid you God speed in any effort to arouse the people of the churches to their responsibility for souls." The following extract is from a published sermon of an able and devoted Methodist Bishop—"Do you suppose there is one single member of this Church who in the course of one year, if he addressed himself with earnest faith to that end, could not be instrumental in the salvation of one soul? I do not believe it; and many might gain many souls.

What would be the result? Why the membership of this Church would be doubled by that process in one year, and so on in a progression that would soon bring about the conversion of the world. I do not believe the thing is impracticable at all. I believe it entirely practicable."

If my propositions contain any error, or if such an effort as is suggested would result in evil, I wish to be apprized of it. If not, I may in the early future, follow up this communication with some thoughts upon Evangelistic Organization.

For the ills of this life, if there was no silence there would be no music. Ignorance is a spur to knowledge. Darkness is a pavilion for the Almighty; a foil to the painter to make his shadows.—George MacDonald.

For the Advocate

Wilmington District Conference.

FIRST DAY.

This Conference of the M. E. Church South convened at Bethany Church, Cumberland county, September 20th, 1876, Rev W. S. Black, P. E, presiding, and was opened with prayer by Rev J. E. Mann.

The following members and delegates were present: Rev J. E. Mann, W. M Parker, J H. Mallard, Front Street Station; Rev J M Rhodes, W G Fowler, Jr., Fifth Street Station: Rev J B Bailey, Topsail circuit; Rev S M Davis, Magnolia circuit; Rev M J Owens, Canton circuit: Revs M W Boyles, O Spell and L Culbreth, Jno. Geddie, J D O Cultreth, Kelly Sessoms, Cokesbury circuit; W J Parker Bladen circuit: Rev O J Brent, Elizabeth circuit; Rev P Greening, H C Moffitt, Jesse Long, Whiteville circuit and Waccamaw Mission.

Rev J M Rhodes was elected Secretary.

Thirty minutes were then spent by the Conference in singing and prayer.

It was moved and carried that the Conference adjourn daily, at 11 o'clock, for divine worship, and convene again at 1½ P. M, for an afternoon session.

On motion of J B Bailey it was ordered that the chair appoint two committees, one on the General State of the church and one on Finance, whereupon the following were appointed:

On the General State of the Church—J E Mann O J Brent, J B Bailey, J W Randall, L Culbreth, S M Davis and M P Owens.

On Finance—W M Parker, W J Parker, J D O Culbreth, John Geddie, Owen Spell, A J Johnson and H C Moffitt.

The Presiding Elder, as Treasurer of the District Parsonage Fund, presented his report, whereupon the Conference requested the Presiding Elder to take up annually a contingent fund to meet the necessary expenses of the District Parsonage property, the amount to be apportioned by the District Stewards among the different charges.

The above mentioned report showed that all the $541.00 assessed the District to liquidate the District Parsonage debt have been raised except $20 50 This speaks well for the District and the P. E

Rev J B Bailey preached the opening sermon at 11 o clock, A. M. Rev P Greening preached at night.

SECOND DAY.

Conference opened with prayer by S M Davis.

The following members and delegates appeared and took their seats, viz: Rev J Sandford, Bladen Circuit; Rev J W Randall, Smithville Circuit; A J Johnson, Magnolia Circuit: C H Blocker and T S Owen, Bladen circuit; D T Durham, Topsail circuit.

Rev J A Cunninggim, agent for the Colleges, and Rev I W Avent, from the Fayetteville District, were introduced to the Conference and invited to take seats within the bar.

Written reports were read from all the charges in the District except one (Kenansville circuit) the pastor being necessarily absent on account of severe family afflictions.

These reports gave a full exhibit of all the interests of the church and in some respects were very gratifying.—The financial exhibit was said to be an improvement on that of last year. The spiritual condition of the District at large, all things considered, is satisfactory. The Sabbath school reports were especially gratifying. One circuit (Cokesbury) reported six appointments and nine Sabbath schools. Front Street reported 104 accessions during the last year and a half, of which 75 were Sabbath school scholars.

The following is about the substance of what we gathered from members of, and delegates to, the District Conference.

The District is steadily improving, its general condition being better than that of last year; Methodism in the District is gaining ground; people are learning more about it and the more they learn the better they like it. The Presiding Elder is beloved by all and is doing very efficient work; under his supervision Methodism is growing and the District is flourishing.

Revs L Culbreth, M P Owen, O Spell and Jas Cain, local preachers, made verbal reports to the Conference of their labors during the year, which reports were followed by encouraging remarks from different members of the Conference, showing the efficiency of the local ministry. The P. E. stated that throughout the District the local preachers had done efficient work.

Preaching at 11 o'clock by I W Avent; at night by J. Sanford.

THIRD DAY.

Conference opened with prayer by M P Owen.

J Sanford, W G Fowler, Jr, and P Greening were appointed a committee on the Literature of the Church.

Rocky Point, Pender county, was named a most daring fraud to ruin selected as the place for holding the men's souls. next District Conference.

A resolution was passed requesting the local preachers to present annually a written report of their labors to the District Conference.

The following persons were elected as delegates to the next annual Conference: W J Parker, W M Parker, A J Johnson and J D O Culbreth. R A Chadwick, Dr J W McGee, W J Pott and H C Moffitt were elected alternates.

W M Parker, Chairman of Committee on Finance, made the following report, viz:

Whereas, in the wisdom of our church economy District Conferences have been established for its general good, for the devising of plans best calculated to promulgate all its great interests, and whereas, we are now met in council to interchange ideas, and gather up statistical facts; and whereas, we the undersigned have been appointed a Committee on Finance, we therefore beg leave to submit the following resolutions:

Resolved 1st That it is our duty as Methodists to show a clear record in all our financial transactions.

2d. That it is our duty so far as in our power to provide parsonages for all the circuits and stations in the District.

3d. That it is a solemn obligation we owe our pastor, our church and our God to pay our preachers the full amount we agree to pay at the commencement of the year; (and in not doing this we are not doing as we would be done by, nor are we acting upon principles of common honesty which control the dealings of even unconverted men) and to this end we most earnestly recommend the assessment or more properly the Conference plan as the only one which will insure success, and we do hereby recommend that the preachers in charge of each appointment see to it that the board of stewards inaugurate this plan at the very beginning of the year.

4th That we deem it important that the Trustees of our several churches take a deeper interest in our church property; that they see that the places where we assemble to worship the eternal God be made more comfortable places where, in mid winter, congregations can assemble and not endanger their life and health and where the minds of men will be in a state better calculated to drink in the great truths of the gospel which may be presented by the embassadors of Christ."

This report was followed by very appropriate remarks from different brethren urging the necessity and possibility of meeting all our claims in full throughout the District and presenting the Conference plan for collection as the best suited to meet the wants of the church. The report was adopted.

For the Advocate.

The Ghost of Location.

MESS. EDITORS: If agreeable to you, I propose a brief review of an article that appeared in your valuable paper of Sept 20th signed 'Will,' of Wilmington, entitled 'Located,' or 'Clippings' from an 'Old Book.'

I have seen and read that piece years ago; but did not suppose that it contained a threat, that we should "meet again at Philippi."

Allow me to say if it is not heterodoxy, that I put the whole piece under the head of 'apocraphy.' If Bro. 'Will' had a certain object in view, I do not know what it was, unless it was to wave the bloody garment of Hamlet's ghost, and scare any itinerant from exercising his constitution al right to locate, himself being the proper judge of its right and fitness. The only logical conclusion that I reach is that Bro. 'Will' teaches, that to 'locate' is a sin, per se, and leads to apostacy and ruin The case is given as a warning lest any one should locate and go to perdition.

What does the church say and do? In joining a Conference, the Conference does not require, nor does the applicant promise, to continue to travel always. But the member of Conference retains his inherent right of location, for cause. And the church guarantees the right to him. The question must be asked at every Conference, "Who have located this year?" and if a preacher locates, the church, through the Bishop, grants him a certificate, saying the "Conference hath permitted you to perform the duties, &c, of a located station, &c. So that if Bro Will's theory be correct, the Bishops in all the Conferences ought, in all conscience, to endorse on all certificates of location, 'This gives and approves of the way to ruin, and the Bishop and members of the Conference give you God-speed to hell.'

If location be wrong and that only, then I contend that the Bishops, living and dead, and the body of elders and deacons, and all the Annual and General Conferences of the past fifty years have inaugurated and perpetrated a most damning fraud to ruin souls! Look at them as presented: simply these—A young man receives, (as I suppose) a call to the ministry. Enters the Conference, travels three years, the fourth year his father dies and leaves him property: the love of money takes possession of him. Judas—like he betrays his master for pieces of silver,—then private devotions, appointments and all are neglected and forsaken; the result is a fearful backsliding. All this not as a local preacher, for he still is a traveling preacher. He meekes and then locates, and comes from the traveling ranks to the local, and according to his own statement, a spiritual wreck and ruin before he located, and plans himself on the local ranks in this leprous condition.

Now, by what kind of logic or process of moral casuistry can it be claimed that location killed and ruined this man? He was spiritually dead, while he was a traveling preacher. Bro. 'Will' might as justly charge this man's ruin upon the Conference, the dead father, or his lovely 'Mary.'

If I am correct in my statements and arguments why raise the black flag against an acknowledged right of the ministry? If the law of location is wrong, let the church abolish it.

Has the history of Location forfeit the chimers of Bro. Will?

I select a few sees from the mass such as Bro B F Long, W E Pell, Dr E. L. Perkins, Dr S Frost, Dr. Moran, Dr. Deems, &c., &c.

Has their location led to ruin and apostacy? I trow not.

Does the located minister forfeit any right but the right of being sent by the Bishop to a people, that sometimes don't want him, and perhaps he don't want to go to them?

I protest as an aged man against this seeming attempt to array the local ministry against the itinerant ministry. The local men are nearly as numerous as the traveling preachers, and they are willing and able (if necessary) to stand in the gates and contend with their enemies

I have endeavored in this piece "nothing to extenuate, or aught set down in malice."

If Bro. Will should see proper to reply, I hope he will write under his own name.

SAMUEL PEARCE,
Local Elder.

The Pulpit.

Sermon by Rev. T. De Witt Talmage.

PHONOGRAPHICALLY REPORTED BY WILLIAM WALTON FOR THE "CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE."

The Military Invalid

"He was a leper." II Kings v. 1.

Here we have a warrior sick; not with pleurisies or rheumatisms or consumptions, but with a disease worse than all these put together. A red mark has come out on the forehead, precursor of complete disfigurement and dissolution. I have something awful to tell you. General NAAMAN, the commander in chief of all the Assyrian forces, has the leprosy! It is on his hands, on his face, on his feet, on his entire person. Ulcers. Ulcers. Get out of the way of the pestilence! If his breath strike you, you are a dead man. The Commander-in-chief of all the forces of Assyria, and yet he would be glad to exchange conditions with the boy at his stirrup, or the hostler that blankets his charger. The news goes like wildfire all through the realm, and the people are sympathetic, and they cry out: "Is it possible that our great hero, who shot AHAB, and around whom we came with such vociferation when he returned from victorious battle—can it be possible that our grand and glorious NAAMAN has the leprosy? Yes. Everybody has something he wishes he had not. DAVID, an ABSALOM to disgrace him; PAUL, a thorn to sting him; JOB, ear lumps to plague him; SAMSON, a DELILAH to shear him; AHAB, a NABOTH to deny him; HAMAN, a MORDECAI to irritate him; GEORGE WASHINGTON, childlessness to afflict him; JOHN WESLEY, a termagant wife to pester him; LEAH, weak eyes, POPE, a crooked back; BYRON, a club foot; JOHN MILTON, blind eyes; CHARLES LAMB, an insane sister; and you, and you, and you, and you and would like to get rid of. The reason of this is that GOD does not want this world to be too bright; otherwise, we would always want to stay and eat these fruits, and lie on these lounges, and shake hands in this pleasant society. We are only in the vestibule of a grand temple God does not want us to stay on the door-step, and therefore he sends aches and annoyances and sorrows and bereavements of all sorts to push us on and push us up toward riper fruits and brighter society and more radiant prosperities. GOD is only whipping us ahead. The reason that EDWARD PAYSON and ROBERT HALL had more rapturous views of heaven than other people had was because, through their aches and pains, GOD pushed them nearer up to it. If GOD dashes out one of your pictures, it is only to show to you a brighter one. If He sting your foot with gout, your brain with neuralgia, your tongue with an inextinguishable thirst, it is only because He is preparing to substitute a better body than you ever dream of, when the mortal shall put on immortality. It is to push you on, and to push you up lower I something grander and better, that God sends upon you, as He did upon General NAAMAN, something you do not want. Seated in his Assyrian mansion all the walls glittering with the shields which he had captured in battle; the corridors crowded with admiring visitors who in turn wanted to see him once; music and mirth and banqueting filling all the mansion, from tessellated floor to pictured ceiling. NAAMAN won'd have forgotten that there was anything better, and would have been glad to stay there ten thousand years. But O, how the shields dim, and how the visitors fly the hall, and how the mansion gates of the mansion soon shut with sepulchral bang, as you read the closing words of the eulogium. "He was a leper! He was a leper! Ulcers—dripping, loathsome, excruciating ulcers

SOMETHING WHICH YOU NEVER BARGAINED FOR,

There was one person more sympathetic with General NAAMAN than any other person. NAAMAN'S wife walks the floor, wringing her hands and trying to think what she can do to alleviate her husband's suffering. All poultices have failed. The surgeon general and the doctors of the royal staff have met, and they have shaken their heads as much as to say, "No cure; no cure." I think that the office seekers had all folded up their recommendations and gone home. I think that the most of the employees of the establishment had dropped their work and gone out to look for some other situation. What shall now become of poor NAAMAN'S wife? She must have sympathy somewhere. In her despair she goes to a little Hebrew captive, a servant girl, in her house, to whom she tells the whole story; as sometimes when overborne by the sorrows of the world, and finding no sympathy anywhere else, you have gone out and found in the sympathy of some humble domestic—ROSE OF DINAN or BARLEY—a help which the world could not give you.

WHAT A SCENE IT WAS:

one of the grandest women in all Assyria in cabinet council with a waiting-maid over the declining health of the Major General! "I know something," says the little captive maid, "I know something," as she bounds to her bare feet. "In the land from which I was stolen there is a medicine man by the name of Doctor ELISHA who can cure almost anything, and I shouldn't wonder if he could cure my master. Send for him right away." "O, hush!" you say. "If the highest medical talent in all the land cannot cure that leper, there is no need of your listening to any talk of a servant girl." But do not scoff, do not sneer. The finger of that little captive maid is pointing in the right direction. She might have said: "This is a judgment on you for stealing me from my native land. Didn't they snatch me off in the night breaking my father and mother's heart? and many a time I have laid and cried all night because I was so home sick." Then, flushing up into childish indignation she might have said: "Good for them; I'm glad NAAMAN'S ot the leprosy; I wish all the Assyrians had the leprosy." No. Forgetting her own personal sorrows, she sympathizes with the suffering of her master, and commends him to the famous Hebrew doctor.

And how often it is that the finger of childhood has pointed grown persons in the right direction. O Christian soul, how long is it since you got rid of the leprosy of sin? You say: "Let me see. It must be five years now." Five years. Who was it that pointed you to the Divine Physician? "O," you say, "it was my little Anne or FRED or CHARLEY that clambered up on my knees, and looked in my face, and and, all the time stroking my cheek, so I couldn't get angry, insisted upon knowing why I didn't have family prayers." There are grandparents here who have been brought to Christ by their little grandchildren. There are hundreds of mothers here who are Christians. How did you get rid of the leprosy of sin? How did you find your way to the Divine Physician? "O," you say, "my child, my dying child, with wan and wasted finger, pointed that way. O, I never shall forget" you say, "the scene at the cradle and the crib that awful night. It was hard, hard, very hard; but if that little one on its dying bed had not pointed me to CHRIST, I don't think I ever would have got rid of my leprosy." Go into the Sabbath school this afternoon, and you will find hundreds of little fingers pointing in the same direction, toward JESUS CHRIST and toward heaven.

ASKED ME WHY I DIDN'T BECOME A CHRISTIAN,

Years ago the astronomers calculated that there must be a world hanging at a certain point in the heavens, and a large prize was offered for some one who could discover that world. The telescopes from the great observatories were pointed in vain; but a girl at Nantucket, Mass., fashioned a telescope, and, looking through it, discovered that star, and won the prize, and the admiration of all the astronomical world, that a God amazed at her genius. And so it is often the case that grown people cannot see the light while the star of hope, the star of consolation, the star of Bethlehem, the morning star of JESUS. "Not many mighty men, not many wise men are called; but God hath chose the weak things of the world to confound the mighty, and base things, and things that are not, to bring to nought things that are." O, do not despise the prattle of little children when they are speaking about GOD, CHRIST, and heaven. You see the way your child is pointing; will you take that pointing, or wait until, in the wrench of some awful bereavement, God shall lift that child to another world, and there it will beckon you upward? Will you take the pointing, or will you wait for the beckoning? Blessed be God that the little captive pointed in the right direction. Blessed be God for the saving ministry of Christian children.

SOME LITTLE CHILD BEHOLDS THE STAR OF PARDON,

No wonder the advice of this little Hebrew captive threw all NAAMAN'S mansion and BEN HAVEN'S palace into excitement. Good by, NAAMAN! With face scarified and ridged and inflamed of the pestilence, and aided by those who supported him on either side, he staggers out to the chariot. Hold fast the fiery coursers of the royal stable while the poor sick man lifts his swollen feet and pain struck limbs into the vehicle. Bolster him up with the pillows, and let him take a lingering look at his bright apartment, for perhaps the Hebrew captive may be mistaken, and the next time NAAMAN is weight on the shoulders of those who carry him—an expired chieftain sepulture, amid the lamentations of an admiring nation. God by, NAAMAN! Let the charioteer drive gently over the hills of Hermon, least he jolt the invalid. Here goes the bravest man of all his day, a captive of horrible disease. As the ambulance winds through the street of Damascus, the tears and prayers of all the people go after.

THE WORLD RENOWNED INVALID

Perhaps you have had an invalid go out from your house on a health excursion. You know how the neighbors stood around and said: "Ah, he will never come back again alive." O, it was a solemn moment, I tell you when the invalid had departed and you went into the room to make the bed and to remove the medicine phials from the shelf, and to throw open the shutters, so that the fresh air might rush into the longclosed room. Good by, NAAMAN! There is only one cheerful face looking at him, and that is the face of the little Hebrew captive, who is sure he will get cured, and who is so glad she helped him. As the chariot grinds out, and the escort of mounted courtiers, and the mules laden with sacks of gold and silver and embroidered suits of apparel went through the gates of Damascus and out on the long way, the hills of Naphtali and Ephraim look down on the processions, and the retinue goes right past the battle fields where NAAMAN, in the days of his health, used to rally his troops for fearful onset, and then the procession stops and reclines a while in the groves of olive and oleander; and General NAAMAN SO sick—so very, sick.

How the countrymen gaped as the procession passed! They had seen NAAMAN go past like a whirlwind in days gone by, and had stood aghast at the clank of his war equipments; but now they commiserate him. They say: "Poor man, he will never get home alive; poor man!"

GENERAL NAAMAN WAKES UP

from a restless sleep in the chariot, and he says to the charioteer: "How long before we shall reach Doctor ELISHA'S?" The charioteer says to a wayside: "How far is it to ELISHA'S?" He says: "Two miles." Two miles. Then they whip up the lathered and fagged-out horses. The whole procession brightens up at the prospect of speedy arrival. They drive up to the door of the prophet. The charioteers shout, "Whoa!" to the horses, and the tramping hoofs and grinding wheels cease shaking the earth.

COME OUT, ELISHA, COME OUT;

you have company; the grandest company that ever came to your house has come to it now. No stir inside ELISHA'S house. The fact was, the LORD had told Doctor ELISHA that the sick captain was coming and just how to treat him. Indeed, when you are sick and the LORD wants you to get well, He always tells the doctor how to treat you; and the reason we have so many bungling doctors is because they depend upon their own strength and instructions and not on the LORD GOD, and that always makes malpractice. Come out, ELISHA, and attend to your business. General NAAMAN and his retinue waited and waited and waited. The fact was, NAAMAN had two diseases—pride and leprosy; and the one was as hard to get rid of as the other. ELISHA is humbling that General NAAMAN, so he sits quietly in his house and does not go out. After awhile, when NAAMAN, he thinks, is humbled, he says to a servant: "Go out and tell General NAAMAN to bathe seven times in the river Jordan out yonder five miles, and he will get entirely well." The message comes out. "What!" says the commander-in-chief of the Assyrian forces, his eye kindling with an animation which it had not shown for weeks, and his swollen fist clenched until the bloody ichor issues from the cracks, and his swollen foot stamping on the bottom of the chariot, regardless of pain. "What! Is MY he coming out to see me? Why, I thought certainly he would come and utter some cabalistic words over me, or make some enigmatical passes over my wounds. Why, I don't think he knows who I am.

ISN'T HE COMING OUT?

Why, when the Shunamite woman came to him, he rushed out and cried: 'Is it well with thee? is it well with thy husband? is it well with the child?' and will he treat an untitled woman like that and let me, a titled personage, sit here in my chariot and wait and wait? I won't endure it any longer. Charioteer, drive on! Wash in the Jordan! Ha! ha! The slimy Jordan—the muddy Jordan—the monotonous Jordan. I would n't be seen washing in such a river as that. Why, we watered our horses in a better river than that on our way coming here. The beautiful river, the jasper-paved river of Pharpar. Besides that, we have in our country and her Damascene river, Abana, with foliaged bank, and torrent ever swift and ever clear, under the flickering shadows of sycamore and oleander. Are not Abana and Pharpar, rivers of Damascus, better than all the waters of Israel?"

I suppose NAAMAN felt very much like we would feel, if by way of medical prescription some one should tell us to go and wash in the Danube or the Rhine. We would answer: "Are not the Connecticut and the Hudson just as good?" Or as an Englishman would feel if he were told by way of medical prescription he must go and wash in the Mississippi or the St. Lawrence. He would cry out: "Are not the Thames and the Shannon just as well? The fact was that General NAAMAN needed to learn what every Englishman and every American needs to learn—that when GOD tells you to do a thing, you must go and do it whether you understand the reason or not. Take the prescription whether you like it or not. One thing is certain: unless General NAAMAN does as ELISHA commands him, he will die of his awful sickness. And unless you do as CHRIST commands you, you will be seized upon by an avenging angel.

OBEY AND LIVE—DISOBEY AND DIE.

Thrilling, over-arching, stupendous alternative!

Well, General NAAMAN could not stand the test. The charioteer gives a jerk to the right line until the bit snaps in the horse's mouth, and the whirr of the wheels and the flying of the dust show the indignation of the great commander. He turned and went away in a rage. So people now often get mad at religion. They vituperate against ministers, against churches, against Christian people. One would think from their irate behavior that GOD had been studying how to annoy and exasperate and demolish them. What has He been doing? Only trying to cure their death dealing leprosy. That is all. Yet they whip up their horses, they dig in the spurs, and then go away in a rage.

So, after all, it seems that this health excursion of General NAAMAN is to be a dead failure. That little Hebrew captive might as well have not told him of the cure, and this long journey might as well not have been taken.

POOR, SICK, DYING NAAMAN!

Are you going away in high dudgeon and worse than when you came? As his chariot halts a moment, his servants clamber up into it and coax him to do as the doctor said. They say: 'It's easy. If the doctor had told you to walk for a mile on sharp spikes in order to get rid of this awful disease, you would have done it. It's easy. Come, my lord, just get down and wash in the Jordan. You take a bath every day anyhow, and in this climate it is so hot that it will do you good. Do it on our account and for the sake of the army you command, and for the sake of the nation that admires you. Come, my lord, just try this Jordanic bath.' 'Well,' he says, 'to please you I will do as you say.' The retinue drive to the brink of the Jordan. The horses paw and neigh to get in the stream themselves and cool their hot flanks. General Naaman, assisted by his attendants, gets down out of the chariot and painfully comes to the brink of the river and steps in until the water comes to the ancle, and goes on deeper until the water comes to the girdle, and now standing so far down in the stream just a little inclination of the head will thoroughly immerse him.

HE BOWS ONCE INTO THE FLOOD, and comes up and shakes the water out of nostril and eye; and his attendants look at him and say: "Why, General, how much better you do look." And he bows a second time into the flood and comes up, and the wild stare is gone out of his eye. He bows the third time into the flood and comes up, and the shrivelled flesh has got smooth again. He bows the fourth time into the flood and comes up, and the hair that had fallen out is restored in thick locks again all over the brow. He bows the fifth time into the flood and comes up, and the hoarseness has gone out of his throat. He bows the sixth time and comes up, and all the soreness and anguish has gone out of the limbs. 'Why,' he says, 'I am almost well, but I will make a complete cure,' and he bows the seventh time into the flood and he comes up, and not so much as a fester or a scale or an eruption as big as the head of a pin is to be seen on him. He steps out on the bank and says: 'Is it possible?' And the attendants look and say: 'Is it possible?' And us, with the health of an athlete, he bounds back into the chariot and drives on, there goes up from all his attendants

A WILD "HUZZA! HUZZA!"

Of course they go back to pay and thank the doctor. People ought always to pay the doctor. When they left the prophet's house, they went off mad; they have come back glad. People always think better of a minister after they are converted than they do before conversion. Now we are to them an intolerable nuisance because we tell them to do things that go against the grain; but some of us have a great many letters from those who tell us that once they were angry at what we preached, but afterward gladly received the Gospel at our hands. They once called us fanatics or terrorists or enemies; now they call us friends. Yonder is a man—I speak a literal fact—who said that he would never come into the church again. He said that two years ago. He said: 'My family shall never come here again if such doctrines as that are preached.' But he came again, and his family came again. He is a Christian, his wife a Christian, and his children Christians, the whole household Christian, and I shall dwell with them in the house of the LORD forever. Our undying coadjutors are those who once heard the Gospel, and 'went away in a rage.'

Now, my hearer, you notice that this General NAAMAN did two things in order to get well. The first was—he got out of his chariot. He might have stayed there with his swollen feet on the stuffed ottoman, seated on that embroidered cushion, until his last gasp, he would never have got any relief. He had to get down out of his chariot. And you have got to

[CONTINUED ON FOURTH PAGE.]

The Christian Advocate.

OFFICE—Corner of Dawson & Hargett Sts

THE ORGAN
OF THE
NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE
OF THE
M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev J B Bobbitt, D.D } Editors
R. T. Gray, Esq., }

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.

FOR ONE YEAR, IN ADVANCE, POSTAGE PAID, $2.20
SIX MONTHS, " " 1.25
If payment be delayed SIX months, 2.70

RALEIGH, N. C., OCT. 11, 1876.

All letters on business with this office should be addressed to the Christian Advocate, Raleigh, N. C.

The Cross (X) Mark is to remind you that your subscription has expired. Let all renew promptly.

The Joyful Christian.

A state of pardon and grace is one of joy. "We rejoice," says the Apostle Paul, "in hope of the glory of God." This full assurance of hope is the [illegible] over the fears of the future, is one of the noblest exercises and achievements of the human soul. To look joyfully forward to the dissolution of our mortal frames, to a separation from all present ties of the heart, to the terrible grasp of death, and the dark silence of the grave is the blessed inheritance of the good. They are permitted to triumph over all these as yet unknown but formidable enemies, through the certainty of a glorious resurrection and blessed immortality. This is a privilege which alone belongs to the christian warrior. He is steadfast in faith and joyful in hope. He realizes no dread or doubtful feelings of the future—no starting back from the last conflict—no shivering on the brink of Jordan—no longing, lingering looks cast behind. He has within him the earnest of a future inheritance, being "sealed with the Holy Spirit of promise." That Spirit witnesses to his adoption: "if children, then heirs: heirs of God, and joint heirs with Christ Jesus."

The true believer does even in this life realize something of the powers of the world to come—a divine life, which is ever aspiring towards its native heaven This sprig of paradise, implanted in his heart, shoots upward, bearing perennial blossoms of holy desires and affections, which must be crowned with immortal fruit. He is also drawn forward to the heavenly land by very strong attractions. His heavenly Father—his loving Saviour—his angel brethren—the companions of his afflictions that have gone before, Christian friends, attached relatives, and little cherubs who once gladdened his own domestic circle—all beckon him forward to join the happy family who live and reign above, in cloudless joy and undying love

The great questions with all should be, do we know anything of the feeling of the peaceful and invigorating influence of the Christian hope? Do we desire to know? or do we doubt or deny any such experience as a "rejoicing in hope of the glory of God?" By faith we have access to the land of promise; by faith we partake of its fruits; by the effect of faith we "rejoice in hope." Let us cultivate this spiritual faculty; habituate ourselves to the contemplation of "things unseen." Who can tell the blessedness of christian faith and hope? We have read somewhere a beautiful illustration of this very subject. In the deepening twilight of a summer evening, a pastor called at the residence of one of his members and found seated in the doorway, a little boy with both hands extended upward—holding a line. 'What are you doing here, my little friend?' inquired the minister. 'Flying my kite,' was the prompt reply. 'Flying your kite!' exclaimed the pastor—'I see no kite; you can see none.' 'I know it, sir,' responded the lad: 'I cannot see it, but I know it is there, for I feel it pull!' And so, if our affections are set on things above, we shall have a sense of it which cannot be mistaken.

Sermons by Bishop Marvin.

We have received from Rev. V. A. Sharpe a copy of the volume of Sermons by Bishop Marvin, for which he will please accept our thanks. Bro. Sharpe is agent for the sale of this, one of the most valuable publications of our Publishing House at Nashville. We have before this alluded to the sermons in commendatory terms, though commendation is scarcely needed to convince Methodists (especially those who have heard Bishop Marvin preach) of the value of the book. The volume has as a matter of course, been well and gladly received by Southern Methodists and has met with words of praise from the press. The book ought to be in the hands of every preacher of our Conference and of every member of our Church. No one can read the sermons without being instructed, edified and elevated in thought and feeling. We are warmly attached to Bishop Marvin and, as Bro Yates says of Dr. Summers, would be willing to write our name on a blank sheet of paper and allow him to write what he pleases above it. It is not, however, this partiality for the author, which causes us to urge our people to buy the book of Sermons, but rather our decided opinion, based upon an examination of the book, that it will prove profitable and edifying to all who shall read it. The book can be had by applying to Bro V A Sharpe, at Thomasville N. C.

A Word to Young Christians.

God is reviving his work in many localities, sinners are being converted, and hundreds are being added to the Church. In entering the palace of the most sacred and solemn vows. The most important of these is your promise to consecrate your lives to the service of Christ. You now feel that you cannot do too much for Christ and his cause. You now show commendable zeal. Your thoughts, feelings and labors are for Jesus. Thousands have started out in the christian life with just the purposes and desires you have, who soon grew weary and faint in the way, and have perhaps permitted years, crowned with golden opportunities, to pass unimproved.—No man will accomplish much who does not seize the present. The command is, "go work to day in my vineyard." The obeying that command implicitly, instead of making resolutions to obey it at some future time, makes the difference between a useful and wasteful life. Those who are going to work to-morrow are no help to the Master. It is impossible to fully accomplish with a strong desire, a firm resolve to work to day for Christ

If you would be happy and useful in the Church, make a full consecration of yourself to the Lord Jesus. Ask him to make duty plain, and help you to perform it. He will give you grace to honor him by being a faithful servant. Be willing to work wherever duty may call you. Go to your pastor and tell him how ready you are to help him in any way you may be able. He will designate work for you. With you as his helpers, together with the old and faithful members of the Church, the waste places may be cultivated, and many sheaves gathered for the Lord of the harvest. Now that you are in the Church—have come out from the world and your wicked associates—strive to win them to Christ. You may all participate in advancing the work of the Master.—Not only the young men but the young women also, are under the most solemn obligations to do what they can for Jesus. "They that turn many to righteousness shall shine as the stars forever and ever." Your growth in grace as well as usefulness will depend very much upon earnest heart searching prayer. Pray in secret—commune with Christ in your closets. Our old members are passing away, one by one. The young must take their places in the various departments of duty in the Church.—Take up the cross of public prayer.—Begin now while your heart is all aglow with the love of Christ.

A Correction.

A few weeks since, in a news item, we referred to a regulation of the Association of Physicians in Anson county, in a way which, we have been told, might be construed to reflect upon the character and humanity of the members of the Association. The item was based upon an ex parte statement of the facts in the case of Mrs. Lee, by which the regulation appeared to have been cruelly adhered to by the physicians. They have issued a card to the public in answer to the resolutions of the indignation meeting held at Red Hill, Anson Co, setting forth facts which show that their conduct was not inexcusable under the circumstances, as it appeared to be by the statements, resolutions, &c, of the indignation meeting.

The rule of the Association provides, in substance, that if a patient refuses to pay the fees of a physician and is reported for such delinquency to another member of the Association, the physician to whom he is reported shall not attend any call from him or his family. It was alleged that a cruel use had been made of this rule and some excitement prevailed for a time in consequence, resulting in a meeting or meetings, at which resolutions were passed. In reply to these, the physicians issued the card referred to, setting themselves right before the people and stating the true facts in the case.

And if our comment (the nature of which we have forgotten) contained a reflection upon the character or humanity of the physicians who are members of the Association, we gladly withdraw it. We notice among the names of the physicians men who are above reproach as gentlemen and christians, and who, under no circumstances, could be induced to do a cruel or inhuman deed.

But while we believe in co operative and protective associations and while we know that physicians do more work for nothing than any other class of business men, and are often imposed upon, still we cannot fully endorse a regulation which might be used as an engine of cruelty and oppression; which (and we do not refer to its use in this case) might put it in the power of an evil disposed man to prevent medical attentions being rendered at a critical time, to the wife or children of a man who has persistently refused to pay medical fees Physicians are usually the most tender, humane and generous of men, but we can conceive of cases where, under a regulation such as referred to, inhuman physicians could do great wrong and cruelty to innocent persons.

We have for a long time thought that there ought to be a lien law enacted for the benefit of physicians They are often called to attend people who, they know, can pay but will shirk the payment of fees: their humane impulses will not allow them to refuse them attention: they can collect nothing by ordinary process of law and they ought to have a lien upon property that ordinarily is exempted from execution process. [illegible] law would seldom be used by physicians, and it is as much due physicians as the lien that exists for laborers and mechanics.

Wilful Misrepresentation.

The following is from the Pittsburg Christian Advocate of the 9th ult. The editor must know, if he has taken the pains to inform himself, that the statements he makes in this article are not sustained by facts. The colored people of the South are fully protected in all their rights and no violence is offered them. It is just such misrepresentations as these that place the South in a false light before the North Those who make them will have a dark catalogue of mischief and evil to answer for in the coming day.

How can Dr. Wheeler, the new editor of the Pittsburg Advocate, reconcile his statements with the spirit of the action of the late Joint Commission of the Methodist Church, which persists in the most palpable misrepresentations. If Bro. Wheeler will come down to North Carolina and spend a month, leaving all his prejudice behind him, he will return home and make haste to take back his wholesale charge that negroes are constantly being shot down by the white people of the South.

Those who may read what follows will quickly perceive the partisan spirit which prompted it It is done to serve political ends and to poison the Northern mind against the South:

"Violence still prevails in some parts of the South, complicating more and more our national politics, as well as the prosperity of that unhappy portion of our country. We had hoped that the reports, in great part, were partisan and exaggerated, and that the system of organized terrorism claimed to be established there for the purpose of practically disfranchising the negro was a matter of fancy, or falsehood

There seems to be no room for entertaining this hope longer. Negroes, whose only crime is the right to vote, and the disposition to do so, with the party that freed them, are hunted and shot down, as the huntsman foils his game. Being unarmed, and quietly at home, peacefully traveling along the highway, or a defenseless prisoner, is no protection against the bullet of the man of chivalry. Conshatta, Hamburg, Aiken, and various other places are in proof. Thousands have been slaughtered since the last rebel force surrendered to the army of freedom. It is time it was stopped. If there is power in the government to arrest it, it should be stayed before another loyal citizen falls, because he has a black skin, and chooses to do as the constitution of his country permits.

It may not be said that this is partisan It is a matter above all partisanship, and concerns Republicans and Democrats, and all lovers of their country alike. It is a matter of justice, and honor, and humanity, and national fidelity. It concerns the good name of free institutions in which we are all deeply interested. No party, no section of the country can afford to countenance, or apologize for lawlessness, or to allow its continuance longer than may be necessary to put it down.

Secretary Cameron has ordered troops to the South, none too soon, to protect the colored man in his rights Citizenship and its peaceful pursuits, should be every man's defense, and if they cannot be secured without, let the soldiers be called upon to make them so. If there is one duty that rests upon the government with an inviolable sacredness, it is to protect her colored wards, who are at the same time citizens, true and leal.

It is said the negroes conspire against the whites. Then let the soldiers protect the whites, even if they were a short time ago with arms in their hands endeavoring to destroy the government. But somehow, in these conspiracies only now and then does a white man fall, while the blacks die by the score. It is the old story over again. The lamb below riles the stream above; so says the wolf who has an appetite for mutton."

The revival at Edenton Street continues to increase in interest. While we are always glad to see the young coming to Christ, we think there are stronger reasons for rejoicing when men and women of mature years and advanced in life are brought under the saving influence of converting grace. When men grow up in sin and form evil habits, it is often very hard to persuade themselves to become christians. In the revival now in progress at Edenton Street, the work has been more especially confined to the grown people, and several of the members received during the meeting are among our most substantial citizens. Dr. Burkhead has labored all the while with great fidelity, and God has blessed his work.

We are pleased to learn that the Fall term of Emory College, of which Rev. Dr. Haygood is the popular President, has opened more favorably, every way, than for years past. It is an institution eminently worthy of extensive patronage. If good discipline, an able faculty, and a high grade of scholarship are recommendatory, then Emory College is entitled to the highest degree of success.

By referring to the appointments of Bro. Black, P. E of Wilmington District, it will be seen that a slight change has been made in the time of holding some of the Quarterly Meetings.

Death of Mrs Mary Jane Cunningeim

MESSRS EDITORS: A sad event occurred in our village on last Sabbath morning Oct. 1st, which has cast a gloom over the whole community. [illegible] lady, whose name heads this communication, was in her accustomed seat in the [illegible] Church apparently in the enjoyment of usual health She had just passed through the exercises of the Sunday School in which she was a faithful teacher and was anticipating great comfort under the preaching of the word and in celebrating the sacrament of the Lord's Supper; but her day of rest was to commence in heaven and her communion be with Jesus and the Church triumphant. Suddenly rising and pressing her hand over her heart she left the church and hastened to the residence of Mr. Samuel Dillon and seating herself; while Mrs Dillon was assisting her, her head fell back upon the chair and in a moment she was dead. Her spirit had departed without a struggle or a cry. When her death was announced a few minutes after, in the church, there was a general outburst of grief. I found it was a rush to the [illegible] where she had expired. I disapprove when I say that Sister Cunningham was the most valuable member of the Church in this village. Had she lived six days longer she would have been forty one years of age, having been born Oct. 7th, 1835 She was of Methodist stock; the daughter of Lawrence Bynum, deceased, of Greene Co and widow of Jno Cunninggim whose remains she with her own hands prepared for burial and with the assistance of his father, Rev W. H Cunninggim, committed to the earth—he having died with small-pox. She was converted and joined the Church at Yelverton's, on the Snow Hill circuit in the fall of 1852, under the pastorate of Rev. Paul J. Carraway She was a holy woman, the confidential and judicious advisor of her pastor—the leader in every good work, never too busy, and if able to go, seldom too unwell to take upon her any duty which we judged was for the glory of God and the good of men. Her slender purse was never withheld when the Church called or those poorer than herself needed aid The evidence of the estimate which this community placed upon her character was seen in the fact that every place of business was closed when the long procession of Friends of Temperance and citizens—escorted her remains to the Church. Such a congregation has never before been seen in our little place and it seemed to me that there was not a dry eye in the assembly while in his sad theme from "She hath done what she could"—"Therefore be ye also ready, for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of man cometh". Mark 14 chapt., 8 v. Matt 24 chapt., 44 v. We buried her in the rear of the Church which she loved so much, and after the flowers were placed upon her grave the whole congregation joined in the doxology "Praise God" It was right that they should, for surely another saint sings the "new song." A phenomenon occurred at the moment of the departure of this elect lady which I cannot refrain from relating A number of persons in the open air and at different points and distances, heard a sound like the roaring of flames and all located it in the air above the residence of Mr Dillon. One party, turning to see where it was, saw Mrs Dillon rush from the house towards the Church; and exclaimed "Mr. Dillon's house is on fire!" On reaching the place they beheld the corpse of our dear sister from which the spirit had just taken its flight. What was it? Were mortal ears permitted to hear the rumbling of the chariot wheels or the rustling of the angels' wings which conveyed her home? I state the simple fact—and leave the reader to draw his own conclusions The day was fair and there were no perceptible atmospheric changes. Sister C had lived to see her two daughters converted and members of the Church. Now while almost heart broken they sorrow with hope of meeting her beyond the river. I believe the mournful event has had a chastening effect upon the Church and the community at large.

JNO. N ANDREWS.

La Grange, N. C, Oct. 9th, 1876.

Rev. J P. Moore, Presiding Elder of the Raleigh District, held his fourth Quarterly Meeting at Edenton Street Church last Saturday and Sunday. His sermon on Sabbath morning was an able discourse, and very appropriate in view of the great revival interest now in progress in the church

On the first page will be found the proceedings of the Wilmington District Conference held in September Bro. Rhodes, the Secretary sent, also, the reports of the various committees, but our space would not permit the publication of all in this issue They will be published as we can find place for them.

One hundred and fifty children of Irish parentage were withdrawn from the public school in Bayone, N. J., on the 18th ult. by order of the priest of the Roman Catholic Church at Bergen Point, who opposes a system of Catholic parochial permitting their children to attend a public school. A parochial school has been established, which the children will attend.

Prof Swing's Church in Chicago will take no part in the revival meetings of Mr. Moody.

NEWS FROM THE CHURCHES.

Rev. R O. Burton, of Roanoke circuit writes: "We are having a gracious and extensive revival of God's work in this charge God be praised!

Rev. W. H Bobbitt P E., Charlotte District, writes: "There is a very cheering revival influence in several of the charges. During the year about five hundred persons have been converted The good work goes on."

Rev W C. Willson, of Davie Circuit, writes: "I have just closed a meeting protracted from our camp meeting at Smith Grove, where we had a good time. To assist me I had Bro Whittington who has charge of Jonesville Academy, until Monday, the Presiding Elder from Saturday night until Tuesday night, Wednesday and Thursday Bro. Boone. We continued the meeting until the following Monday night. Thirty have joined the church. So far as I could learn, about forty were converted

We have been having good times up this way. I have been in protracted meetings, spending only 7 or 8 days during that time at home; have had the pleasure of receiving nearly 100 into the Church up to this time. Have clever people up here; better come and see them, they have grown some since you were here.

I am about as happy as that man of the Tennessee Conference."

Rev. H P. Cole, of Hillsboro, writes Oct. 4th: "The Church at Cedar Grove, near this place, has recently had great cause for praise and thanksgiving. God has poured out his Spirit and his work has been greatly revived.

During a meeting of 17 days, more than fifty souls made a profession of faith in Christ. The work took extensive hold upon the matured, thinking men of the community.

Many of them were heads of families, from 50 to 60 years of age. The changes wrought seemed to be very thorough and perfectly apparent. The old people say they have never witnessed a work of such power. Some of them expressed themselves in the language of good old Simeon: "Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace,—for mine eyes have seen thy salvation."

We think the work would have been much more extensive if we could have obtained ministerial assistance. The following brethren kindly assisted us a few days: Rev. Jas. Currie, of the Presbyterian church, Rev. Mr. Vernon of the Baptist church, and Rev. S. Y Brown, local preacher.

The church building at this place has been remodeled this year. It is now a handsome building and will seat 500 persons. The Sunday school is large and flourishing—numbering about 150. If this work is well cared for in the future, it must wield a great power for religion and morality."

Rev. J H Guinn, writing from Wadesboro, says:

"I have just completed my round of protracted meetings, and the results are gratifying. The Lord has been with us at every appointment; eighty two have professed conversion and the most of them have joined our Church. A number of backsliders have been reclaimed, and the Church greatly revived. I have baptized 47 infants, and expect to baptize several more before Conference.

We expect to bring up all of our collections

I am indebted to Bros W. H. Bobbitt, P E of Charlotte District; D. May, Monroe station; J W. Wheeler, of Wadesboro station; O. J. Brent of Elizabeth circuit; T. P. England, of Lidesville; Stafford and Murray, of the South Carolina Conference, and Rev. T W. Kendal, local preacher of the Wadesboro circuit, for valuable services rendered.

The lay brethren did good service in the altar. All the praise be to him who loved us and gave himself for us!"

LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE. J. B. Lippincott & Co. Philadelphia. $4 a year.

In the October number, the Centennial article is devoted to the Art Galleries, and is full of instructive and discriminating criticism, which will greatly aid the visitor in forming a correct judgment of the collection and selecting for observation what is most worthy of careful study. "An African Fairhaven" descriptive of the island of Goree, a memorable slave station in former days, and alternately a French and English possession "Sicilian Folk Lore," by Professor T. F. Crane, of Cornell, is rich in amusing and fanciful stories and traditions, while Mr. Edward King's account of "A Day with the Voivoda" is graphically, written, and will interest all who sympathize with the efforts of the Bosnians and other Christian subjects of the Porte to escape from an oppressive rule. Lady Barker continues her entertaining Letters from South Africa, and Mr. Robert Wilson concludes his attractive series of papers on the Eastern Shore of Maryland with a description of the historical remains and memories still extant in that country of peach growers "From '60 to '65" gives some glimpses of domestic life in the Southwest during the war. "A Fiery Furnace" is the title of a strange and decidedly thrilling story. Miss Olney's serial, "Love in Idleness," advances four chapters. The Poetry of the number is by Maurice Thompson, Emma Lazarus, and Will Wallace Harney, and the Monthly Gossip includes an account by Mrs. Hooper of the Omnibuses of Paris, with other short and readable papers. The Publishers, we see, announce a new serial by George Macdonald, "The Marquis of Lossie," to begin in the November number. The admirers of "Malcolm" will not fail to notice the significance of the title.

From Our Exchanges.

The time is coming, and is, we believe, not far off, when we shall be obliged to admit that the conduct of public worship, of religious education and Church life is no haphazard matter, which can be safely committed to any person of right moral purposes, but an art, which must be carefully studied and prepared for, in all its various features, and requiring a very rare combination of aptitudes in its most successful pupils.—Liberal Christian.

Make the first day of the week a bright, cheerful, sweet day at home, and it will shed its radiance on the other six days of work and play. Do not make it a Jewish day, fenced in by outward severities and traditions. Do not limit its sacred freedom by domestic "Blue Laws," which would make it to the little ones anything but "day of all the week the best." But with music and prayer, with the Bible and other good reading, with cheerful conversation and gentle graces, with the glow of the altar and the spirit of the sanctuary, with thankfulness and love to God and [illegible] make it a perpetual blessing to themselves and to the community in which its Sabbath lights are kept burning. Christian Intelligencer.

An infidel writer of the last century once said that the main hope for the destruction of Christianity lay in the prevalence of two vices among the Christian clergy—ambition and sensuality. It was a salutary and precious warning. For these two vices are the most emphatic contradiction of the spiritual nature of Christ's kingdom In this kingdom the purity of the body and of the soul is the highest virtue, and when this is lost in its highest officers and teachers, then all is lost. The loss of a polity can be made good. But the loss of the informing and purifying spirit, through the ambition and self indulgence of the ministry of a Church, can never be repaired. When the light becomes darkness, then, how great is that darkness!—Vermont Cronicle.

In the United States, every working citizen reads a newspaper, and owns the paper which he reads. A newspaper is a window through which men look out on all that is going on in the world. Without a newspaper a man is shut up in a small room, and knows little or nothing of what is happening outside of himself. In our day newspapers keep pace with history and record it. A good newspaper will keep a sensible man in sympathy with the world's current history. It is an ever unfolding encyclopedia, an un bound book forever issuing and never finished.—Christian Union.

An incompetent idea of life and its responsibilities, and the way in which to prepare for them, prevails to an alarming extent. Young men are anxious to enter professions for which they have received no adequate preparations, or to prematurely engage in business for which they have no qualifications, and which, entered upon, carries them to the bankrupt courts in less than a decade. There are multitudes "hanging around loose," with diplomas in their pockets that mean nothing, who ought to be at school studying the rudiments of even an English education, or in some workshop, employed in skill labor, or out in the fields, raising corn with which to feed the man that makes their boots or ploughs, or the teacher that instructs their children. Wrong ideas of education have been accepted, incorrect notions of what is needed to meet the grave issues of life have been adopted, and they are going on to meet bitter disappointment, and reap emptiness for their harvest.—Pittsburg Christian Advocate.

In all science, fundamental truths need no reviewing. If a man charges bigotry on us because we will not give a hearing to the Ptolemaic theory of astronomy, he may take his pay in charging. Life is too short for that kind of play. If a man wants to argue with us the Spartan virtue of lying, he must do it when we are asleep. For our waking moments we have better occupation than to reconsider foundation principles of ethics. We shall never get our house built if we are forever taking up the foundation stones to see if they remain in true line and position So in theology, which is also a science, there are some truths which are definitely and finally in place. If anybody chooses to charge illiberalism on us because we do not arrest the work while these truths are put to the test again at the call of every new comer who has presumption enough to make the demand, he is welcome to whatever capital his charge may bring him. There are some truths past argument. The Damascus steel that is in them has been tried in many a conflict. They may now be laid away in the armory of weapons tried and found true. We cannot rhyme over the initial letters of the great alphabet of religious thought There are great truths beyond to which they introduce us, and to which we must needs press forward.—Interior.

We are willing, therefore, to accept the theory of Evolution (strange as it seems to us, and much as it disagrees with our old-fashined notions), if only it can be proved But we must have "evidence," and the proofs must be strong and solid—they must be blocks of granite, and not myths of the imagination. Until we hear the arguments on both sides, we can only form a presumption from the position and rank of the combatants. And while we concede to Prof. Huxley all the weight due to his scientific ability, we cannot forget that other men (we do not mean theologians, but men of science), as able and learned as he, utterly reject the theory that he so stoutly defends and so skillfully advocates. While he insists that Evolution is supported by overwhelming proof, Pro. Agassiz held as positively that it was the wildest theory, utterly *un*supported by evidence, with not a single fact in Nature to sustain it. Not long before his death, he said to a gentleman, who reported the remark to us, that he gave it but five years to run its course, that it would be as utterly scouted as any of the exploded fancies that fill the limbo of rejected scientific theories.—N. Y. Evangelist.

As for Prof. Huxley's public performances, it would be idle to pretend that they have come up to the expectations entertained of them, either as to their brilliancy and power, or the effect produced by them. In his address at Baltimore the spirit of modern materialism was apparent, the very name of God was not once mentioned; while he counseled the cultivation of every important faculty of the mind, he omitted the moral faculties altogether from his enumeration; and the only reference to religion in his address was a jubilation over the fact that the institution was to be free from all "theological or political sectarianism." Out of deference possibly of Prof. Huxley's atheistic tendencies, or possibly as an indication of the character which is to be given to the institution, the trustees carefully omitted even the faintest religious observance in the opening exercises of the University. Our National Congress, our State Legislatures, our political conventions, our commonest secular and festal gatherings, are accustomed to acknowledge the claims of the Deity, and to invoke His blessing upon their proceedings; but this great and richly endowed University, commissioned for the noble work of education, was formally opened, and not a word of prayer or recognition of God was made in any part of the exercises, although prominent clergymen were on the platform. Ill is the omen. —Boston Journal.

"I Located."

EDITORS ADVOCATE: Only a few words. I did not mean to provoke a controversy with your correspondent "Will," nor did I suppose him to be making an attack on local preachers. I supposed him to be of the impression that the "incident" was real and I only wanted to inform him that it was fiction. I made one incorrect statement. The author is not now a member of the the Baltimore Conference, but as I have since learned has located. I do not think our preachers ought to locate unless circumstances render it necessary, because in the Methodist Church, the itinerant is the only preacher worth anything to the Church. I do not know but the whole local preacher system ought to be abolished. But until it is established that a call to preach implies a call to itinerate, the conclusions of your correspondent cannot follow. Besides, the failure of preachers who locate and engage in secular pursuits, can be easily accounted for without reference to the "condemnation of the Almighty."

Truly,
B. F. LONG.

Religious Intelligence

In Constantinople eighteen evangelical congregations meet every Sunday. Half of them are composed of natives of the country.

As many as sixty thousand persons are estimated to have visited the Ocean Grove Camp-meeting during the ten days of its continuance.

The Methodist Episcopal Church has in Italy seven missionaries, twelve native preachers, 600 members, and one Church, worth $10,000.

The census of the United States of 1870 reports the value of property held by religious corporations, in round numbers, at $354,000,000.

The itinerant Methodist preachers throughout the world number 27,591 The local preachers number 61,474, making an aggregate of 89,065.

One hundred years ago there were seven hundred Congregationalist Churches in the United States; now there are 3,500, with a membership of 350,000.

Rev J. B. Langlois a Catholic priest died a martyr to the fever at Savannah, ministering to the sick. He had come from Macon.

Bishop Peck was an informal fraternal visitor at the late session of the Methodist Conference, held at Bellevue, Pa.

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, is taking steps to establish an Institution for better training of colored ministry, at Tuscaloosa, Alabama.

The progress of Christianity in the United States during the last century is almost incredible. Statistics go to show that in 1776 there were 1,943 Protestant Churches and 1,443 ministers; now there are 91,760 Churches and 58,060 ministers. Then there was one Church for every 2,000 people, now one for every 500 This statement hardly seems possible, but figures sustain it.

In Isle of Wight county, Virginia, stands what is believed to be the oldest church building in this country erected by English settlers. St. Luke's is its name. It is somewhat dilapidated, and its restoration is proposed.

The Presbyterian synod of N. C., meets in Fayettville on Wednesday 18th. October at 7½ P. M. Orange Presbytery meets at Pittsboro on Thursday 12th October.

The Roman Catholics, having received large indemnities from the Chinese government for properties possessed by them two hundred years ago, and confiscated at their expulsion, are building a magnificent cathedral at Canton and a similar one in Peking.

Mr. McAll's mission in Paris continues to prosper. Three new stations have recently been opened. The attendance of workmen is very large, and cases of conversion are numerous.

The receipts of the English Wesleyan Missionary Society for 1875 6 will reach the sum of $920,000. Last year a similar amount was raised, by means of contributions for extraordinary objects. This year the large sum above mentioned is the ordinary income.

Our Lutheran brethren will hold a general council on the 12th proximo, at Bethlehem, Pa. The great question before the body will be whether the chief officer of the Church shall be bishop, or president The latter has the sanction of no age, but in this country is little too suggestive of politics to be appropriate.

"Protestantism is no sapling of yesterday, yielding to every blast, or uprooted by any rude hand. Protestantism is the oak mocking at the storm. Its branches may be tossed around it, but its roots defy the assault. And when the storm is hushed to sleep, as by the music of its howlings, the oak remains an unsubdued monarch protecting beneath its shade, and gracing the landscape with its beauty."—Cooke.

Dr. Fallows, the New Reformed Episcopal Church Bishop, has had letters from fifteen to twenty towns in Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, and Missouri, all pleading for the establishment of the Reformed Episcopal Church in their limits.

STATE FAIR NOTES.—We mentioned yesterday that the Wilmington Light Infantry would visit our State Fair. They will leave Wilmington on the evening of the 18th at 6:30 o'clock and arrive here the next morning at 5 o'clock Other military companies will also visit the Fair, so that the whole number will not be less than half a dozen, which will make a good display.

Mr. W. P Gorman, of the famous Duncan stock farm, of Kentucky, who has settled near this city for the purpose of breeding fine stock, will deliver an essay on stock raising one night during fair week at the capitol.

Prof. W. C. Kerr, our State Geologist, has kindly consented to contribute for exhibition minerals, botanical specimens and Indian relics from the State Museum, which will form an attractive feature of the exhibition

Contributions to the special premium list continue, and there is no longer any doubt that the display of articles will be very fine.—News.

FOR THE LADIES.—We take pleasure in laying before our readers the following letter from the President of the liberal and enterprising American Sewing Machine Company:

1318 CHESTNUT ST. PHIL.,
Sept. 29th, 1876.

C. B. Denson, Esq., Secretary N. C. Agricultural Society, Raleigh:

DEAR SIR:—Yours received and noted. We will have faith for the future and donate to your premium list for the coming State Fair, Oct., 17th one No. 1, Drop Leaf American Sewing Machine, valued at seventy five dollars. Wishing you and your committee success in the enterprise.

Yours truly,
W. B MENDENHALL, Pres.

The sewing machine has arrived and the ladies are invited to call and see it at the office of the general agent of the American Company, J. L. Stone, one door above the Citizens National Bank. It will be given to the person making the largest and best display of needle-work, embroidery, &c., in Department H, of the premium list. Lists may be obtained on application to the Secretary. No entry fees required of ladies.

Great care will be taken of all contributions in this department, which will be under the charge of experienced ladies, assisted by gentlemen well known and highly esteemed.

THE STATE FAIR.—The Sixteenth Annual Fair of the N C. Agricultural Society commences in Raleigh on the 17th inst and continues until the 21st inclusive. We learn that preparations have been made for a good exhibition of the prodncts of the State and that a large attendance is expected, notwithstanding the great interest that has been taken in the Centennial Exhibition at Philadelphia The Fair is a home enterprise and should be encouraged. Capt. C. B. Denson, the efficient Secretary, has been working energetically to make the Fair a success and we trust his labors will be abundantly blessed to the good of the Society and the State.

MR. T. P. ALEXANDER.—We notice that Mr. Cicero W. Harris, until recently associate Editor of the Morning Star, will begin on or about the 10th inst the publication of a new daily paper in Wilmington. Mr. Harris is an accomplished writer and we wish him success in his enterprise.

Misses Sue and Mittie Hale, of Oxford will have on exhibition at the State Fair several of their exquisite crayon portraits says a correspondent of the Sentinel.

The Christian Advocate

PUBLISHED IN THE CITY OF RALEIGH EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING, TERMS $2.50 POSTAGE PAID.

Our Agents.

All the travelling and local preachers in the bounds of the North Carolina Conference are our authorized Agents. Any person sending us ten subscribers, for one year, will receive the paper free.

Our Correspondents.

Communications for publication should be carefully written, and on but one side of the sheet. All letters of the office should be addressed to the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

How to Remit.

In sending money, all amounts should be sent in registered letter, post office order or check. The cost of registration, or Post Office order can be deducted from the amount in hand. If money is sent otherwise than herein specified, it will be at the sender's risk.

INDEX TO NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

— Vinegar—F. Sage.
— Woman in Battle.
— Rabbitt's Baby Soap.
— Peach Trees—Judefind.
— Horace Waters & Sons.
— Seed Wheat—Gattis & Jones.
— Scottish Commercial Insurance Co.
— Buffalo Lithia Waters—Read the new testimonials to the curative powers of these noted waters.
— Davis & Dunston, Barbers—accomplished and polite tonsorial artists are Davis & Dunston. The Dunston of the firm is Nelson Dunston, one of the most polite and pleasant barbers in the city—neat, sober and honest, and deserves patronage.
— "Morning Star," newspaper, Wilmington, N. C. The Star is an established and successful Daily and one of our most readable exchanges.

Talmage is a progressive one, and improvements are continually suggesting themselves in almost every department of human life. Labor-saving inventions and machinery are eagerly sought for, to accomplish in a few hours' time, what usually was the toil of days and even weeks. The farm, the household, the workshop, the factory, all possess numbers of tokable evidences of this wonderful age of progress. It remained, however, for the eminent house of Lord & Taylor, well known as one of the leading dry goods firms of New York city, to introduce vast improvement in the old shopping method, and to make "shopping easy" for every lady in the country. There is now no reasonable excuse for ladies to fatigue themselves with travel, and to undergo its hundred and one annoyances, when they can purchase every article needed for the wardrobe or household without leaving their homes. Messrs. Lord & Taylor will send, on application, free of charge, samples of the newest goods for autumn and winter wear, with prices attached to each, together with complete descriptive catalogues of their hand-some stock of ladies' and misses' underwear. Selections from these are readily made; orders for goods received, filled by the house, and returned by express trains to the purchaser. This surely is a material improvement for the slow method of former days, as by this system time, money labor and annoyances are all saved. The honorable standing of this eminent house makes this announcement worthy of attention as they can be relied upon implicitly to accomplish whatever they advertise to do. It.

NORTH CAROLINA

Eighteen hundred bales of cotton went to Norfolk, in one day, over the Seaboard & Roanoke Railroad.

The Methodists of Shelby intend building a new brick church.

The State Council of the Friends of Temperance will meet at Shelby on the 15th prox.

A part of the Federal troops at Raleigh have been transferred to South Carolina.

A young lady in Raleigh owns the clasp once worn by Mrs. Gen. Geo. Washington.

J. G. Marler, Esq., is the Democratic candidate for the Senate from Surry and Yadkin.

Mad dogs are receiving the attention of people in Burke county.

Col. Jno. A. Gilmer, of Greensboro', had his pocket picked while at the Centennial.

The Concord Register says that Concord is fast becoming "the queen city of the sphere."

Snow fell to a considerable depth in the western part of the State recently.

Judge Bynum, who has been quite ill in Philadelphia, is slowly recovering.

The day train on the Richmond and Danville Road will be discontinued this week.

A barn filled with fine tobacco, belonging to W. S. Tate, Esq., of Alamance county, was burned recently.

Ex Judge Tourgee has brought two libel suits against the Raleigh News.

Col. Wash Hardie, of Buncombe county, has been appointed Librarian of the House of Representatives in Congress.

Granville County Bonds are worth 45 cents on the dollar. What's the matter with Granville?

Mrs Bryan, near Oxford, had two barns, filled with tobacco, destroyed by fire on the 29th ult. Mrs. S. Hicks lost one on the 28th ult.

An extensive Baptist revival has been in progress in Oxford, Rev. F. M. Jordan conducting it.

Vance and Settle speak at Hillsboro on the 12th inst.

Hillsboro brags of its shoemakers.—The Recorder says their excellence is hereditary and proverbial. The people of Hillsboro have always been considered whoto so(n)led.

The Tobacco Plant says that Mess. W. T. Blackwell & Co. have received an award for the finest display of tobacco on exhibition at the Centennial.

Dorsey Battle, Esq., of the Tarboro Southerner, and Miss Mollie Bell, the North Carolina Artist, of Washington, N. C., were married on the 28th ult.

Mr. T. P. Alexander, of Shelby, was accidentally shot in the arm by a pistol that fell from the pocket of a friend.—"Faithful are the wounds of a friend."

Steamers laden with freight find it difficult to navigate on the Cape Fear, the river is so low.

Gov. Vance and Judge Settle will speak in Caswell, Rockingham, Guilford and Davidson counties after the present list of published appointments and, which is on the 13th inst,

Maj. Mac Rabbins, candidate for Congress in the 7th District, has been sick and unable to attend some of his appointments.

The Beaufort Eagle says, two bodies and the leg of another body of the crew drowned from the ill-fated steamer, Rebecca Clyde, have been washed ashore at Portsmouth.

The Federal troops at Morganton are to be reinforced by others, says the Blade. The ostensible purpose of quartering them in that section is the collection of the Internal Revenue.

A riot between drunken Irishmen, natives, negroes and soldiers, took place in Morganton recently, and as the Mayor was sick and the town constable had resigned, the rioters fought until they were content.

General News.

Bones of the mastodon have been found in Texas recently.

Over $19,000,000 of silver has been paid out since April. Two millions remain in the treasury.

The receipts of the Centennial Exhibition thus far have been over one million five thousand dollars.

Germany is about to follow the example of America and France and hold a great international exhibition.

Chicago will use oil instead of gas for street illumination unless the Gas Company will reduce its price.

The Mayor and Health Officer of Baltimore declare that there is not a single case of yellow fever in that city.

Better prices are expected for American grain because of the short crop in England.

In Peabody's model buildings, London, the death rate is only 12 annually out of 1,000, while the parish rate is 24½.

It is estimated by the Western Growers that surplus wheat crop this season will amount to 600 000 tons.

Le Petit, Journal, of Paris, now returns its circulation at 400,000 a day, "the largest circulation in the world."

Rockport, Mass., appropriates the proceeds of her tax on dogs, to the purchase of books for the public library.

The entire coffee crop of the world last year was 900,000,000 pounds of which the United States imported over 300,000,000 pounds.

The New York Herald of 27th ult., advises the colored people to vote for General Hampton for Governor of South Carolina.

Tennessee has forty cotton mills, employing 56,376 spindles and consuming 14,143 bales of cotton.

Charles Davies, the Arithmetic and Algebra author, is dead.

The war continues to rage between Turkey and Servia, after an ineffectual attempt at peace by the European powes. Russia and Austria are exchanging threats of war.

Marriages.

Married, Sept 27th 1876, at the residence of the bride's father near Mt Airy, Surry Co., N. C. by Rev. James Wilson Mr Robert Morehead to Pocahontas Cox, Va. to Miss Tabitha Ann, daughter of Rev Wm Rowley.

Married at the residence of the bride's father, on 27th of sept. 1876, at childhood, N. C. by Rev. W. R. Ferguson, Mr R. T. Bessent and Miss Annie E. Holmes.

Married on the 27th ult. by Rev A. W. Mangum at the residence of the bride's father, Archibald Mangum Esq., Miss Libbie V. Mangum to Benjamin B. Sanderlin Esq. all of Louisburg N. C.

Deaths.

Obituary notices of twenty lines inserted without charge. The excess over twenty lines of eight words is charged for at the rate of 10 cents per line. Count the lines and allow eight words to the line. In this way you may always know the amount inclosed. Resolutions of respect are subject to the same rule.

Died in Smithfield N. C. Sunday morning sept 24 h 1876, Mollie Airey Kirkman, aged 1 month and 15 days, infant daughter of Dr. G. E. Kirkman and L. J. Kirkman.

Died in Jonesboro, N. C., on 29 h ult., in the 9th year of his age, Kenneth M., oldest child of W. A. and Fannie Cole, of Fayetteville.

There was in this remarkable child a maturity of intellect which we seldom find in one so young. And this precocity of mind was accompanied by a most gentle, and amiable character. He was what we generally call an old child, and belonged to that class for whom superstition predicts an early grave. During his sickness, without the slightest intimation from any one he became conscious of his approaching death. He said to his father, Papa, I am going to leave you; good bye." Then he bade his mother, and all the other members of the family good bye. His father asked him where good children went when they died. He replied, "to Heaven; I am going to see my little brother Willie." When asked if he was ready to go he said, "any minute." He asked them all to pray, and at the close of the prayer, he threw his cold arms around his father's neck and said, "I love you, Papa, I hate to leave you." Thus we see the life of this sweet little boy closing in a most peaceful death.

E. W. T.

Died in Moore Co. N. C., September the 1th 1876, Charlie Taylor only child of N. E. and Jessie Taylor, aged 5 years 4 months and 12 days. Though young as he was we have never seen a more lovely child than little Charlie was; he was loved by all who knew him as a child. But God has shown in his allwise providence that he loves him best and has taken him to live forever with him. How much is he missed at home where his lovely little form was once seen and his tongue heard! His body lies peacefully in the grave and his loping, stammering silent tongue is he tomb. May his bereaved parents serve so live hat they may meet their little Charlie where sickness and sorrows are felt no more

"S-ffer it le children to come unto me
I take these little lambs says he
And lay them in my breast
Protection by shall find la me
In me be ever blest."

FRIEND.

A TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

Whereas, since the last meeting of the Ch. Chapt., of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity, an Allwise and Gracious Providence has removed from our midst, by a seemingly premature death, our beloved brother, James E. Tanner of Sanderville Ga., therefore Resolved—1st That J. E. Tanner was one of the most generous, zealous, efficient and useful members of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity; was in council and faithful to all the best interests of the Fraternity.

2nd, That the death of J. E. Tanner is a great loss to this Fraternity; he was thoroughly identified with it cherished it with a warm, gentle affection and exercised every precaution to promote the peace, happiness and prosperity of the same.

3rd That while we yield with submission to the dispensations of Providence, yet we deplore the death that has deprived us of a true much loved and active member of our order, 4th That as a token of our sorrow for our great and irreparable loss, we, the members of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity will wear mourning for thirty days.

5th, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of our deceased brother, and also to the Raleigh Christian Advocate and to the Sandersville Herald for publication.

K. S. FRATERNITY.

Letters and Funds

Rev S Pearce Rev S D Adams paper continued T F Goode Rev J M Rhodes J G Williams for papers 50 cents E Alden for adv 1 Geo P Rowell & Co E N Freshman & Bro T F Goode J F Cobb E D Hoover for Mrs L J Wallis 2 20 Rev W C Wilson paper sent P W Wyche sells 2 Miss Bettie Green sell 2 G D Langston paper continued T J Gardner sell 40 cents Rev L A Gibbons paper continued Rev R O Burton Rev M V Sherrill Rev T H Edwards papers sent Rev W S Black W W Sharpe & Co H H Burwell sell 3 Rev Jas Wilson with pleasure we will Rev W H Bobbitt 8 Alden 50 adv 16 L W Burgess Rev E W Thompson for ob 1 Rev R F Long for adv 40 E N Freshman & Bro Rev P J Carraway Rev J H Gunn.

Josh Billings clears from $25,000 to $30,000 per annum, while there are many men of both literary merit and renown who manage only to keep alive.

Don't Beg the Question.

It is an infallible sign that a cause is weak when its claims are sought to be established by mere bold assertion without argument or substantial proof. Dr Tutt asserts that his Hair Dye is the best, and he adduces undoubted evidence to substantiate the truth of the assertion.

READ WHAT EXPERTS SAY.

NEW ORLEANS May 1st 1871.

DR TUTT:

Dear Sir:—We, the undersigned, wish to inform you that we have tried your Hair Dye, and find it to be the best we have ever used. For its natural black color it far excels all other dyes. Our customers will have no other. Since we began its use our business in the dyeing department has rapidly increased. We think it a great triumph.

ANTHONY HAAS, } Barbers.
CHARLES HUBIN, }
No 6 N Royal Street.

There is no disease flesh is heir to more troublesome to manage than rheumatism. It comes when you least expect it and generally remains till it gets ready to go away. The most complete cure remedy for this complaint is Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

Two or three doses of Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders will cure a horse of any common cough or cold, and the very worst case may be cured in a few weeks. We know this from experience. It.

Opinion of Dr. Wm H Stokes, Physician Mt. Hope Retreat, Baltimore: "I have great pleasure in adding my testimony to the virtues of Coffen's Liebig's Liquid Extract of Beef and Tonic Invigorator as I have very low preparation and therefore confidently recommend it to the medical profession."

Williams & Haywood Agents

A TERRIBLE COUGH IS DIFFICULT TO MINISTER but like all other complaints of the respiratory organs it gives way before the anti-bilious mutory and soothing operation of BAKER'S PURE COD LIVER OIL AND HYPOPHOSPHITE OF LIME. Prescribed in large, it can be readily taken by the most delicate. Ask your druggist for it. JNO. C. BAKER & Co., Philadelphia.

APPOINTMENTS.

HILLSBORO DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Durham sta.	Sept.	23-24
Alamance ct Phillip's Chapel,	Oct.	1
Pittsboro ct Chatham Church,	"	7-8
Deep River ct Providence,	"	14-15
Cliff & H River, Mt. Pleasant,	"	21-22
Flat River ct Orange Church,	"	28-29
Person ct Mt. Tirzah,	Nov.	4-5
Leasburg ct Lea's Chapel,	"	11-12
Yanceyville ct Shady Grove,	"	18 19
Hillsboro sta.	"	25-26

L. L. HENDREN P. E.
Chapel Hill P. O.

FAYETTEVILLE DISTRICT
4TH ROUND—IN PART.

Lumberton ct. at Cool Spring.	Oct	7-8
Buck Horn Cokesbury,	"	14-15
Pee Dee Philadelphus,	"	21-22
Rockingham Rockingham.	"	28-29
Robeson,	Nov.	1
Laurenburg Laurenburg	"	11-12

J. S. NELSON, P. E.
Fayetteville, N. C.

WASHINGTON DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Washington,	Sept.	2-3
Greenville ct Greenville,	"	8 10
Carboro at McKendree	"	16-17
Warrenton,	Sept. 30. & Oct	1
Roanoke at Bethel,	"	7-8
Varrel at Cokesberry,	"	14-15
Williamston at Hamilton,	"	21-22
Plymouth and Jamesville,	"	24-25
at Jamesville.
Columbia at Columbia,	"	28-29
Smithmarket, at Fairfield,	Nov	4-5
Bath at Asbury,	"	11-12
Washington at night on	"	12

WM. CLOSE, P. E.
Tarboro, N. C.

NEWBERN DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Kinston Station,	Sept.	16-17
Newbern Station,	"	23-24
Beaufort Station,	Oct.	7-8
Straits	"	14-15
Snow Hill, Rainbow.	"	21-22
Wilson station	"	28-29
Carteret, Harlowe's.	Nov.	4-5
Sense, Aurora,	"	11-12
Craven, Beach Grove, Tues & Wed.	"	14 15
Piney Grove,	"	18-19
Jones, Oak Grove,	"	18-19
Mt. Olive Friday,	"	24
Wayne, Fremont,	"	25-26
Goldsboro Sab. night & Mon.	"	26

E. A. YATES, P. E.
Beaufort, N. C.

RALEIGH DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND—1876.

Raleigh, Penn st.	Aug.	26-27
Granville Mt. Tabor,	Sept.	2-3
Henderson Tabernacle,	"	16 17
Youngsville,	"	23 24
Roleville Rolesville, Sept 30th,	Oct,	1
Raleigh Edenton St.	"	7-8
Cary, Hollands,	"	14-15
Louisburg,	"	21-22
Far River Franklinton,	"	28-29
Rocky Mt & Nashville, Tolsnot, Smithfield,	at Tolsnot,	Nov. 4-5
	"	11-12

J. P. MOORE, P. E.
Warrenton, N. C.

CHARLOTTE DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Monroe ct. at Prospect,	Oct	7-8
Lilesville ct. at Shiloh,	"	14-15
Wadesboro sta.	"	18
South Charlotte ct. at Zion.	"	21-22
Stanley ct,	"	27
Albemarle ct.	"	28-29
Mt Pleasant ct	Nov.	1
Concord ct,	"	4-5
Statesville ct,	"	10
Wadesboro ct. at Popular Hill,	"	11-12
Pleasant Grove ct. at Wesley Chapel	"	11-15
Pharr Mills ct. at Harrisons,	"	17
Monroe sta.	"	18-19
Charlotte.	"	25-29

The Local Preachers will please remember the discipline requires that they shall report in writing the extent and result of their labors to the Fourth Quarterly Conference.

W. H. BOBBITT, P. E.
Monroe, N. C.

SHELBY DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Columbus,	Aug.	26-27
Rutherfordton,	"	29
Happy Home,	Sept.	2-3
Caldwell, C. M.	"	9-10
South Fork, C. M.	"	16-17
Dallas, C. M.	"	23-24
Double Shoals, C. M.	Sept. 30.	Oct. 1
Cherry Mountain, C. M.	"	7-8
Shelby ct. C. M.	"	14-15
Upper Broad River,	"	21-22
Marion (Dedication	"	28-29
Shelby station,	"	29-30
Morganton,	Nov.	4-5
Bysartsville,	"	7-8
Lenoir station,	"	11-12
Lincolnton,	"	11-12
Rock Spring,	"	18-19
Newton,	"	25-26

R. G. BARRETT, P. E.
Shelby, N. C.

SALISBURY DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Statesville sta.	Sept.	9 10
Statesville ct, Salem,	"	16-17
Yadkinville, Center (C. M.)	Oct.	1-2
Mt. Ally & S Mission, Salem	"	7-8
Surry ct & H R Mission, Thompson's	"	14 15
Wilkes ct. Wilksboro,	"	21 22
Alexander ct. Liberty (C. M.)	"	23-24
Iredell ct. Eagle Mills,	"	28-29
Mooresville, ct. McKendree's,	Nov	4-5
Salisbury, ct Harris'	"	11-12
Salisbury sta.	"	12-13
Davie ct. Smith Grove.	"	18-19
Mocksville ct. South River	"	25-26

D. R. BRUTON, P. E.
Statesville, N. C.

WILMINGTON DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Marsellus at Salem,	Sept.	8-10
Wilmington, Ann Street,	"	15-17
Cokesbury at Bethany,	"	20 24
Kenansville, at Wesley Chapel
Sept 30 and	Oct.	1
Sunsville at Smithville,	"	7-8
Chadbourn at Tabernacle,	"	14-15
Whiteville, Evans Street	"	21-22
Fayetteville, Haldenham Street,	"	28-29
Lumberton, Main	Nov	4-5
Maxton at Laurel Hill,	"	11-12
Hope Mill Rocky Point,	"	18 19
Carthage Carthage,	"	25-26

W. S. BLACK
Magnolia, N. C.

GREENSBORO DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.—Q. M. IN PART.

Winston sta.	Sept.	23-24
Friendship at Tabor	Oct	7-8
Davidson at Mocksville Chapel.	"	14-15
North Wilkesboro, Wilkesboro Chapel.	"	21-22
Madison Madison,	"	28-29

N. G. D. WILSON, P. E.

COMMERCIAL REPORT.

WHOLESALE CASH PRICES.

[Illegible]

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

THE BUFFALO

LITHIA WATERS

THE GREAT

STOMACH WATERS

Of America.

[Illegible] endorsed by Dr. [Illegible] A Hopkins, Ashmuth [Illegible] Professor of Black Walnut [illegible] Hanover Co., Va.

[Illegible] Lithia Springs, Va., July [illegible] 1876.

[Illegible] been for [illegible] years a sufferer from [illegible] in an aggravated form. From [illegible] of distressing symptoms [illegible] varying in duration and [illegible] becoming less and less [illegible] to treatment. For [illegible] months before [illegible] the Buffalo Lithia Waters [illegible] constant use of [illegible] and [illegible] set condition [illegible] of rapid decline, having [illegible] I commenced using [illegible] to my surprise in [illegible] of the most exaggerated [illegible] I was [illegible] to sustain myself [illegible] and becoming [illegible] I procured [illegible] Buffalo Lithia Water Springs No. 2, to the exclusion of [illegible] and [illegible] She has been using the water [illegible] six weeks, with only occasional [illegible] indigestion, and her improvement has been [illegible] and decided that she is able to attend [illegible] to her domestic affairs. For four months before commencing the use of the "Lithia Water," I never [illegible] a full meal, discussed with [illegible] water and bread and tea. She now eats with impunity almost every thing—for breakfast, corn bread and butter, mutton chops, broiled chicken, rice for dinner, mutton, beef, chicken, hominy vegetables except Irish potatoes, with desserts, eggs and ice cream, etc. I will add, that this woman of [illegible] constitution and [illegible] and encourage [illegible] that I have ever seen in a practice of [illegible] years, and it is the action of the waters I want to reveal us."

DYSPEPSIA AND NERVOUS HEADACHE

Case of Dr. R. H Tatum, * a well-known physician of Chesterfield county, Va.

Extract from letter dated Lonewood, Va., September 4th, 1876.

"For years I have suffered from indigestion, causing sick headache, attended with the most intense agony. I have visited some of our most celebrated mountain springs and drank the mineral waters from the springs of each, but have found no such relief as I have experienced from the use of two cases of the GENUINE LITHIA WATER, Spring No. 2. I have prescribed it for several patients suffering from symptoms produced by Dyspepsia—such as loss of appetite, general debility, headache, cough and severe pain in the epigastric region—with the happiest results."

* Post-office Chula, Amelia county, Va.

DYSPEPSIA.

Case of John P. Keeling, Esq., a well known citizen of Princess Anne county, Va.

Extract from letter dated Princess Anne C. H., Va., Aug 15, 1876.

Dear Sir:—I am much pleased to furnish you with a statement of the case and of the relief which I obtained from your LITHIA WATER, as in doing so I may possibly relieve some unfortunate sufferer. In the early part of last summer, as I was, from the water [illegible] and became very much reduced in flesh, and was unable to attend to business. I procured the Lithia Water, and after using a few days, found relief. I have been using the water from time to time ever since, and have found it a specific for Dyspepsia, and for [illegible] Indigestion, and for improvement has been so marked and decided that she is able to attend to her domestic affairs. For four months before commencing the use of the "Lithia Water," I never [illegible] a full meal, discussed with [illegible] water and bread and tea. She now eats with impunity almost every thing—for breakfast, corn bread and butter, mutton chops, broiled chicken, rice for dinner, mutton, beef, chicken, hominy vegetables except Irish potatoes, with desserts, eggs and ice cream, etc. I will add, that this woman of [illegible] constitution and [illegible] and encourage [illegible] that I have ever seen in a practice of [illegible] years, and it is the action of the waters I want to reveal us."

JOHN P. KEELING.

In affection of the Kidneys and Bladder, in form Rheumatism and Paralysis, these waters have accomplished results as remarkable as any on record. They are for sale in cases of one dozen half gallon bottles at $5 per case, payable in advance.

The Springs Pamphlet sent to any address on application.

THOS. F. GOODE, PROPRIETOR

BUFFALO LITHIA SPRINGS,

Mecklenburg Co., Va.

oct 11-tf.

WHAT NEXT?

A Consumptive Creeps—When death was hourly expected, all remedies having failed, and Dr. H. James was experimenting, he accidentally made a preparation of INDIAN HEMP which acted like a charm, and cured him of consumption. Hemp also cures night sweats, sickness of the stomach, and will break a fever or chill in 24 hours. Address CRAPNELL & Co., 1,052 Race street, Philadelphia. Price $1.50 per bottle.

Oct 11 3 m

THE MORNING STAR,

WILMINGTON, N. C.

A First Class Democratic Newspaper!

LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY DAILY NEWSPAPER IN NORTH CAROLINA.

Only Daily Paper

Published in WILMINGTON, a City of nearly 20,000 Inhabitants, and the Great Centre of North Carolina Trade!

SUBSCRIPTION:

One Year,	$7 00
Six Months	4 00
Three Months	2 25

ADVERTISING RATES REASONABLE. Address,

WM. H. BERNARD,
Editor & Proprietor,
WILMINGTON, N. C

Oct 11 tf.

LORD & TAYLOR

New York

OUR FALL IMPORTATIONS

ARE NOW COMPLETE IN ALL DEPARTMENTS, AND PRICES ARE VERY LOW. OUR STOCK OF Black Colored and Fancy Silks

IS THE LARGEST AND BEST ASSORTED IN THE CITY, OUR LONG EXPERIENCE AS IMPORTERS IN EACH STORE, AND HAVING BOTH BEEN RAISED AND TRAINED TO GOOD FOR RESPONSIBILITY, ENABLES US TO OFFER GREATER ADVANTAGES THAN ARE USUALLY GIVEN TO SILK AT

LAST SEASON'S PRICES!

OUR DRESS GOODS DEPARTMENT

EMBRACES ALL FABRICS WHICH ARE IN FALL AND WINTER WEAR, FROM THE RICH BLACK ARMURE, SILK AND WORSTED, AND MERINOS, ALL-WOOL NOVELTIES, SUITINGS AND ASSASSE STYLES, AS WELL AS

POPULAR DRESS FABRICS

FOR ALL THE NEWEST COLORING AND MATERIALS OF THE SEASON, NOW AND DAILY ADDED TO.

OUR IMPORTATION OF

INDIA SHAWLS,

FROM THICK, SOFT, WOOLLY SAXONY, EVERY DESIGN AND QUALITY OF RICH AND COSTLY INDIAN CASHMERE SHAWLS, AT PRICES ABOUT HALF USUALLY ASKED.

REAL INDIA SHAWLS, at $12 to $75.

SUPERB INDIAN SHAWLS, new designs, only $15.

CHILDRENS SHAWLS, finely made colors, $10, upwards.

PARIS AND VIENNA BRODIE, PAISLEY FILLED, Plain centre and Striped, and BRITISH AND AMERICAN WOOLLEN SHAWLS. Unrivalled for beauty and substantial value

OUR LADIES' & CHILDREN'S SUIT AND FURNISHING DEPARTMENT

is now more thoroughly stocked and equipped than ever before, and we are prepared to fill all orders at once, and to guarantee satisfaction.

Handsomely trimmed Suits in Cashmere Basket Cloths, Camel's Hair Alpaca, Combination suits, &c., in the most beautiful new effects, at prices to tempt the most economical.

By following our directions for self-measurement Ladies can obtain a perfect fitting garment, accurately, and with much satisfaction, by mail.

Mourning Costumes and outfits a specialty and orders filled on 12 hours' notice.

Misses and Children's Costumes and suits at very reasonable prices.

LADIES AND CHILDREN'S UNDERWEAR.

An Immense stock of beautiful and reliable goods, at very great reductions.

Ladies' complete outfits, at $50 and upwards.

Infants' complete outfits, at $30 and upwards.

☞ Full catalogues of this department, with direction for self-measurement, sent free on application to all parts of the country.

OUR STOCK OF

Rich Furs

on hand, and being manufactured, will be the most beautiful in the city, and at most attractive prices.

We also call particular attention to our large stocks of

LINENS AND WHITE GOODS,
LACES AND EMBROIDERIES,
UPHOLSTERY GOODS,
HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE,

HOSIERY AND GLOVES,
GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS,
BOYS' CLOTHING, AND
LADIES' BOOTS AND SHOES.

The Domestic and Housekeeping Dep'ts

Are stocked with goods from the late summer auction sales, at prices below cost of Manufacture.

CORRESPONDENCE SOLICITED AND PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.

ORDERS BY MAIL Receive Prompt and Careful Attention.

Oct 11-4t

☞ JAMES DON June and Emily Alexander, two of the EARLIEST PEA HAS KNOWN. 2 weeks earlier than Hen—Trees per 100 $15. Per 1000 $125.00.

Also Texas Mammoth Melon seed (average weight of melons 50 lbs) 35c. per packet, 5 packets $1.25 post paid. All other stock at wholesale. Catalogue free. Address J. & W. K. JUDEFIND, Edgeville, Kent Co., Md.

Oct 11 4 t

OFFICIAL ADVERTISEMENT

THE SCOTTISH COMMERCIAL INSURANCE COMPANY OF GLASGOW, SCOTLAND.

U. S. BRANCH OFFICE,
176 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

U. S. BRANCH [illegible]

Assets.

U. S. Security [illegible] $
Estimated to premium [illegible]
York [illegible]
U S Securities deposited [illegible] $210,000 00
rance Premiums in course [illegible]
U S Securities deposited [illegible]
Interest Coupons [illegible] in hands Trustees [illegible]
Cash on hand and in Bank [illegible]
Other Securities and [illegible]

$ [illegible]

LIABILITIES.

Unsettled Losses [illegible] $ [illegible]
Balance [illegible]

LAWRENCE & [illegible]
Gen Agents, Raleigh, N. C.

SEED WHEAT.

Superior White Mediterranean Red and Fulcaster Wheat just received at

GATTIS & JONES'
Grain and Seed Warehouse.
Sept 27 tf.

COAL.

Best Red Ash at $8 00 per [illegible]

Send orders to Tarboro to J. A. JONES & CO.
oct 11 tf.

WOMAN IN BATTLE!

AGENTS WANTED—[illegible] in town and county [illegible]

WOMAN IN BATTLE

[illegible] of Deeds [illegible] Rebellion, by Rev. [illegible] T. Record, U. S. Army [illegible] Agent for South Carolina [illegible] chances. One [illegible] money rapidly, and [illegible] very first [illegible] Send for circulars [illegible] to Keagle Publishing Co., [illegible]

NAGAMI, Lt. Col. [illegible]
Agent for South Carolina [illegible]
ner Washington and [illegible]
Yadkin Hotel, Raleigh, N. C. [illegible]
Steel Engravings of the [illegible]
Oct 11 tf

J. R. DAVIS, N. C. DUNSTON
DAVIS & DUNSTON'S
Hair Dressing & Shaving Saloon,
South Basement R. Leigh Nobles Hotel,
RALEIGH, N. C.

We employ none but skilled workmen, and guarantee satisfaction. Ladies and gentlemen waited on at their residences.

VINEGAR [illegible]
A[illegible], Spring field, [illegible]
Oct 11 3 m

BALTIMORE OCTOBER 1876.

CHAS. SIMON & SONS

DRESS-MAKING DEPARTMENT.

We would call the attention of the ladies and public in general to this department. Under the personal management of [illegible] unprecedented success. We are [illegible] and have in our possession [illegible] fashionable [illegible] Models, both [illegible] Ladies [illegible] present superior [illegible] in neatly, [illegible] and [illegible] Dresses, trimmed in a [illegible] Dress [illegible] the cost [illegible] Ladies [illegible] for the [illegible] Dress [illegible] Dress [illegible] Dress of your pride if you ever become a Christian. You cannot drive up to the Cross with a coach and four, and be saved among all the sprangles. You seem to think that the LORD is going to be complimented by your coming. O, no, you poor, miserable, scaly, leprous sinner, get down out of that. We all come in the same haughty way. We expect to ride into the kingdom of GOD. Never, until we get down on our knees will we find mercy. The LORD has unhorsed us; unchariotted us. Get down out of your pride. Get down out of your self-righteousness and your hypercriticism. We have all got to do that. That is the journey we have got to make on our knees. It is our infernal pride that keeps us from getting rid of the leprosy. Dear LORD, what have we to be proud of? Proud of our scales? Proud of our putridity? Proud of this killing infection? Bring us down at Thy feet, we pray, praying, penitent, believing supplicants.

GET DOWN OUT OF THE CHARIOT

"For sinners, LORD, I own I must be freed,
And I'm a sinner vile, indeed.
LORD, I believe Thy grace is free,
O, magnify that grace in me."

But he had not only to get down out of his chariot. He had to wash 'O,' you say, "I am very careful with my ablutions. Every day I plunge into a bright and beautiful bath." Ah, my hearer, there is a flood brighter than Croton or Ridgewood. It is the flood that breaks from the granite of the eternal hills. It is the flood of pardon and peace and life and heaven. That flood started in the tears of CHRIST and the sweat of Gethsemane, and rolled on, accumulating itself, until all earth and heaven could bathe in it. ZACHARIAH called it the 'fountain open for sin and uncleanness,' WILLIAM COWPER called it the 'Fountain filled with blood.' Your fathers and mothers washed all their sins and sorrows away in that fountain. O, my hearer, do you not to-day feel like wading into it?

WADE DOWN NOW INTO THIS GLORIOUS FLOOD, deeper, deeper, deeper. Plunge once, twice, thrice, four times, five times, six times, seven times. It will take as much as that to cure your soul. O wash, wash, wash, and be clean.

I suppose there was a great time when General NAAMAN got back to Damascus. The charioteers did not have to drive slowly any longer, lest they jolt the invalid; but as the horses dashed through the streets of Damascus, I think the people rushed out to hail back their chieftain. NAAMAN'S wife hardly recognized her husband; he was so wonderfully changed she had to look at him three or four times before she made out that it was her restored husband. And the little captive maid, she rushed out clapping her hands and shouting:

"DID HE CURE YOU? DID HE CURE YOU?"

Then music woke up the palace, and the tapestry of the windows was drawn away that the multitude outside might mingle with the princely mirth inside, and the feet went up and down in the dance, and all the streets of Damascus that night echoed and re-echoed with the news: 'NAAMAN'S cured! NAAMAN'S cured!' But a gladder time than that it would be in Brooklyn or wherever this sermon shall be read, if the soul should get cured of its leprosy. The swiftest white horses hitched to the King's chariot would rush the news into the eternal city. Our loved ones before the throne would welcome the glad tidings. Your children on earth, with more emotion than the little Hebrew captive, would notice the change in your look and the change in your manner, and would put their arms around your neck, and say: "Mother, I guess you must have become a Christian. Father, I think you have got rid of the leprosy." O LORD GOD of ELISHA, have mercy on us!

The politician sees in the Chinaman a non-voter who wants to make a little money and go back to fatherland. The Christian should see in him a heathen, quick to learn, who is soon to return to his native country, and may by the grace of God, be made an instrument for the promotion of Christianity among his people, the greatest and most civilized of all non-Christian nations. The disreputable or at least unfriendly recognition of the Mongolian by the political class, should stimulate the religious portion of our population to do their duty. The fact that so little has been accomplished in the great work is no excuse for further apathy and inaction. Rather, it should serve as a spur to promptness in redeeming the opportunities and time which remain.—The Advance.

John Newton says, Satan seldom comes to Christians with a great sin—You bring a green log and a candle together, and they are very safe neighbors; but bring a few shavings and set them alight, and then bring a few small sticks and let them take fire, and the log be in the midst of them, and you will soon get rid of your log.—And so it is with little sins. You will be startled with the idea of committing a great sin, and so the devil brings you a little temptation, and leaves you to indulge yourself—"There is no harm in this," "no great peril in that;" and so by these little chips we are first easily lighted up, and at last the green log is burned.—"Watch and pray that ye enter not in to temptation."—Baptist Weekly.

He is good that does good to others. If he suffers for the good he does he is better still; and if he suffers from them to whom he did good, he is arrived to that height of goodness, that nothing but an increase of his sufferings can add to it: if it proves his death, his virtue is its summit, it is heroism complete.

Blessings long desired are sweeter when they come: if soon given, they lose much of their value. God reserves for thee that which He is slow to give thee, that you may learn to entertain a supreme desire and longing

Children's Column.

HOW CHARLIE MINDED.

Little Charlie was playing marbles
With his comrades in the street,
When a window was thrown open,
And there came a voice so sweet

"Charlie, dear, your father wants you:"
Charlie stopped to hear no more;
Left his playmates and his marbles;
Entered at the cottage door.

Now, a merchant who was passing
Wanted soon to hire employ
Such a lad as could be trusted,
Viz: he thought of Charlie boy.

And that splendid store was Charlie's,
After years had passed away,
Just because he minded quickly
On that pleasant summer day.

Children should respect their parents,
And obey them in the Lord;
'Tis the first command with promise
Written in the Holy Word.

For the Children's Column.

EGGS TWO KINDS.

About the full moon in July is the time when sea turtles lay their eggs. One turtle sometimes lays 12 doz. in one nest in the sand, in one night.

In September, some kind of an insect lays eggs in the branches of the Elm, Hickory, Persimmon, Locust, and White Oak. The children will find many of the twigs on the ground in September and October. The insect saws them off. See some small holes in the bark. Cut away the bark and see the eggs. God teaches them how to bring their young to the earth.

A D BETTS.

We once heard tell of a poor broken down old woman who sat shivering in her smoky chimney corner, her eyes dimmed and her ears dulled by reason of age, and on being asked what she was doing muttering away to herself, she replied, "Counting my mercies, my child."

Contemplative admiration is a large part of the worship of the Deity. Nothing can array us so near to God and heaven as this. The mind can walk beyond the sight of the eye, and (though in a cloud) can lift us into heaven while we live. Meditation is the soul's perspective glass, whereby, in her long remove, she discerneth God as if He were near at hand.—Feltham.

Rural and Domestic

SCALLOPED OYSTERS.—Do not drain the liquor from the oysters, but fork them out of it as you use them; in that way as much liquor as you require adheres to them. Use stale bread, and do not crumb it too fine or it will be clammy. Half a teacupful of cream, two great spoonfuls of butter, salt, and pepper. Oysters part with a great deal of moisture in cooking, and if the mixture is too wet it is not as good; it should be rather dry when done. Cover the bottom of a well buttered baking dish with a layer of very dry bread crumbs, dust over a little salt and pepper, and stick little lots of butter all over the crumbs; then, with a spoon moisten it with the cream. Next place a layer of oysters, alternating with bread crumbs, and in the dish is filled, finishing with the butter and cream; invert a plate over it, to keep in the flavor. Bake three-fourths of an hour, or until the juice bubbles up to the top—Remove the plate, and brown on the upper shelf of the oven for two or three minutes only. Some families use a little cayenne pepper instead of the black, and a very little sprinkling of dry mustard, while others prefer a little ground mace.—Country Gentleman.

PRESERVING MILK.—We send our milk to market, and frequently suffer loss, during the warm season, from fermentation, which, from the low price of the product, and high cost of stock, labor investment, etc., we cannot well afford. I have read that a chemist has discovered a substance which, when added to milk, preserves it sweet and good for several days beyond the ordinary period. What can you say of this plan?—M. J. Penny packer, Chester county, Pa.

There are three chemicals used for prolonging the time of keeping milk sweet—salicylic acid borax, and bisulphate of soda. Each of these substances may be dissolved and used in quantities so small as to produce insensible medicinal effect, and yet delay materially the usual changes which occur in milk. The effect will be in proportion to the quantity used. One part of either of the solutions to one thousand parts of milk may be safely used.—New York Tribune.

To Shake, or not to Shake!

Aye, that is the question. Is it better to quiver from head to foot in the paroxysms of fever and ague or to banish the stubborn disease by a course of that standard antidotal remedy, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. There cannot be much doubt as to the recourse of the malaria stricken in this locality, inasmuch as locality on this continent where malarious fevers are born enfolds with the shivering plague cause as harrowing demand for the only genuine preventive and eradicant of it which proclaims its existence. Bilious remittent fever and ague districts well know how utterly inadequate to the cure they are, even if resorted to, are the crude nostrums of the faculty—quinine, arsenic, bismuth—what are those but poisonous palliatives, at the worst after a time to pronounce very beneficial effect whatever, and if palliated in weak irreparable wretched upon the system. Everywhere they are being abandoned by intelligent persons and the genuine vegetable specific for intermittent and remittent disease, Hostetter's Bitters, established in their place.

Greensboro Female College.
GREENSBORO, N. C.

The Fall Session will begin on Wednesday, 25th August, and continue 20 weeks.

Board, exclusive of washing and lights, $25
Tuition in regular English course, 25
For catalogue, apply to Rev. T. M. Jones, President. N. H. D. WILSON, President Board of Trustees.

June 21 2-m

AGENTS WANTED FOR HISTORY
CENTEN'L EXHIBITION

all sells faster than any other book. One Agent sold 57 copies in two days. Send for our extra terms to Agents. NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO., Philadelphia, Pa. Sept 25-1m.

SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR

J. H. ZEILIN & CO.

A well known writes thus: "I write you this note for information sake being the proprietor of the best Liver Medicine, Simmons' Regulator, known to me up to this time. I have known it for a number of years, and I pronounce it, as prepared by you, pure crude, and I pray you, for the sake of humanity, to keep it so, as long as it is in your keeping. You may depend it and recommend it, but you will never know the full value of it, unless you have a about several liver yourself. It unclogs the liver of impurities with which it has been confined for years, and puts life's blood in their original motion. I have taken three bottles with no other view but to give you my honest sentiments."

For Sale by all Druggists.

May 3-26 cow.

THE NORTH CAROLINA FARMER.

RALEIGH, N. C., January, 1876. I have been a practical farmer for forty years, and during that time have taken all the best agricultural papers of the day, and I take pleasure in saying that there is none more valuable, practical in its every department, than the North Carolina Farmer. Indeed, I consider it my duty to recommend it to every farmer in our State as the paper for him, above all others.

PETER R. HINES,
Halifax, Co.

Subscription one year, $1.00
5 copies " " 4.00
10 " " 7.00

Address J. H. ENNISS & CO. Publishers, Raleigh, N. C.

Aug 30 4-t.

SERMONS.

BY E. M. MARVIN, D.D., LL.D.,
late Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church South.

Edited by T. O. SUMMERS, D.D

12mo, Muslin Pages 552.

This book will be ready by the 15th of August. Price Two Dollars, with twenty-five per cent. discount to Preachers. It will be sent, post-paid, to any address on receipt of retail price. The money must accompany all orders.

A. H. REDFORD, Ag't.

HOME AGAIN FOR THE FALL, WINTER AND SPRING

DR. CHARLES J. NALL,
RALEIGH, N. C.

HEAD, THROAT AND CHEST.

SPECIALTIES: DISEASES OF THE EYE AND EAR.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, } SUPERIOR COURT,
Wake County. } Aug. 16th, 1876.

L. R. STAMPS, Executor, etc. vs. A. Taylor and Jas. S. Purdy.

It appearing to the satisfaction of the Court upon affidavit that the defendant, N. A. Taylor, is a necessary party to this suit, and that after due diligence he cannot be found in this State, it is ordered by the Court that service by publication of the summons in this cause be made upon the said defendant for at least once a week for six weeks in the Christian Advocate, a newspaper published in the city of Raleigh, and that a copy of the same be mailed to said defendant at his place of residence, if such be known.

J. S. BUNTING,
Clerk.

WAKE COUNTY.—In the Superior Court.

L. R. Stamps, Executor, etc.
vs. Summons for Relief.
A. Taylor and Jas. S. Purdy.

THE STATE OF North Carolina,
To the Sheriff of Wake County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded, to summon A. N. Taylor and James S. Purdy, the defendants above named, if they be found within your County, to appear at the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court for the County of Wake, within 30 days after the service of this summons and answer the complaint, a copy of which will be deposited in the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court for said County, within ten days from the date of the summons, and let them take notice that if they fail to answer the said complaint within that time, the Plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Hereof fail not, and of this summons make due return.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, this 16th day of August 1876.

J. S. BUNTING,
Clerk Superior Court Wake County.

Jones & Jones and R. T. Gray Plaintiff Attorneys.
aug 23-6w.

WESLEYAN FEMALE INSTITUTE.
STAUNTON, VA.

WILL begin its twenty-seventh Annual Session, September 21st, 1876. Rev. W. A. HARRIS, D. D., President, with an able corps of twenty-three Teachers and Officers.

Modern Languages taught and spoken in the College by a Native Parisian Teacher. Music by Professors and Teachers, among whom are some of the most cultivated teachers of vocal music in the South.

This is one of the healthiest climates in the Union. Its marked effects is the rapid promotion of the health and vigor of our pupils. Those who come here from the South with feeble constitutions, and climatic diseases, are generally restored.

Buildings elegant—fanned by purest breezes, commanding the most magnificent scenery, and combining such wonderful attractions as to make it one of the most delightful college homes in the Union.

This School is usually attended by pupils from fifteen to twenty-seven different States.

Great economy and simplicity in dress are required. A simple uniform is worn. No unnecessary expense allowed. Strict economy practiced in all expenses of pupils.

From Raleigh N. S. Digest, D. D.

The Wesleyan Female Institute, located in Staunton, Va., under the Presidency of Rev. W. A. Harris, is, in my judgment, one of the best institutions, for young females, in the south. I have occasion to know and appreciate its value by the advantages enjoyed by one of my daughters there. Its course of study is as full and complete as the best in the country, and its instruction is careful and efficient. Its personal accommodations are all that can be desired for neat, and comfort, and health. No pupils could be more cheerful, happy, or more magnificently, as circumstances more salubrious. Not the least of its merits, is the sacred regard for religious training, without which no Female College especially, would be a blessing.

D. S. DOGGETT.

From Bishop E. M. Marvin, D. D.

The Wesleyan Female Institute is an honor to the Church. Its work is thorough. In music advantages are enjoyed of very high order. The most talented Professors are employed, and neither pains nor expenses are spared to make this department eminent.

From Prof. F. H. Smith, M. A. L. D., Chancellor of Virginia.

The Wesleyan Female Institute, at Staunton, deserves the brilliant success it enjoys. Having had a daughter under Mr. Harris' care, my observation leads me to believe this school to be one of the best of Female Seminaries which adorn our State. * * The Halls of the Wesleyan Female Institute should be filled to over flowing with pupils from all our Southern States.

FRANCIS H. SMITH.

TERMS FOR THE ENTIRE COLLEGIATE YEAR.
Board and Tuition in the Collegiate courses, $210.
For Catalogues, address,
Rev. W. A. HARRIS, President,
Staunton, Va.

Trinity College, N. C.

The Session begins Sept. 5th. Tuition $20 to $30 for nine months; board $10 to $12 per month. Entire expense for five months $87 to $95.

Send for Catalogue.

B. CRAVEN.

aug 22-tf

A FEMALE TEACHER WANTED

to take charge of a neighborhood school, who can teach the high branches of English, Latin, French and Music. Address J. A. Edwards, Hookerton, Greene co., N. C., giving qualifications, age and price.

Sept 27-2t.

Solvency! Stability! Promptness!

THE NORTH CAROLINA HOME
INSURANCE Co.,
OF RALEIGH,

CONTINUES TO WRITE POLICIES ON ALL CLASSES OF INSURABLE PROPERTY ON THE MOST REASONABLE TERMS.

Capital and Assets - - $190,000!

Its Stockholders are among the most prominent and responsible business men in the State.

During its existence it has paid out to insured, for losses, over $100,000, and its accumulated earnings have been loaned to our own people.

AGENTS IN EVERY COUNTY
IN THE STATE.

R. H. BATTLE, Jr., President.
C. B. ROOT, Vice President.
SEATON GALES, Secretary.
P. COWPER, Supervisor of Agencies.
apl 29th tf.

CRYSTAL METAL BRONZED BELLS
FOR CHURCHES,
SCHOOL HOUSES,
FACTORIES,
SHOPS,
PLANTATIONS.

These Bells are composed of the finest crystal metal, and the shape and weight of metal in them is such as to give the best possible results. They are

SUPERIOR IN TONE AND FINISH

to many others, no matter under what name they may be sold, either "STEEL COMPOSITION" or "AMALGAM," and are

Guaranteed to Give Satisfaction.

The CHEAPEST BELL MADE.

Church Bells a specialty. Send for price list and circular.

T. H. BRIGGS & SONS,
Briggs Building,
RALEIGH, N. C.

TYSON & JONES

Carriage Builders,
CARTHAGE, N. C.

Having recently increased our Facilities for Manufacturing, we are prepared to furnish Vehicles of the BEST QUALITY on short notice and at comparatively few prices. Vehicles shipped at Sanford, Raleigh and Chatham R. R. via Raleigh to any part of the State.

We feel confident that, with the close attention we give the business together with the materials used, the skilled workmanship employed, and the many conveniences we have for manufacturing, FIRST CLASS CARS, no house in the country can excel us in

STYLE, FINISH, DURABILITY AND Low Prices.

We manufacture and keep constantly on hand Carriages of the Best Quality.

Repairing neatly Done on Short Notice. Send for Circular.

July 21 1-y

Established 1816.

CHAS. SIMON & SONS.

No. 65 N. HOWARD STREET, BALTIMORE.
DEALERS IN
FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC
DRY GOODS,
would call special attention to their extensive stock of
DRESS GOODS,
LINEN GOODS,
EMBROIDERIES
LACES AND HOSIERY
The best assortment of Mourning Goods
in the city.
SAMPLES SENT FREE!
All orders amounting to $20 or over, will be sent free of freight charges by Express, but parties whose orders are not accompanied by the money and have their Goods sent C. O. D., must pay for return of the money.
mch 1 12m

NEW BOOKS FOR SINGING CLASSES!

JOYFUL NOTES

Is printed in our new combined notes, (a figure set in each round note—fa-do, a-for-ra, ye-me, etc.) acknowledged by all to be the best system yet invented, as you have the sound to key, and the figures enable those not skilled in reading them to sing them at sight.

HOURS OF SONG

IS THE BEST ROUND NOTE BOOK IN THE FIELD.

Hours of Song and Joyful Notes were prepared by Prof. Jas. H. Fillmore, from long experience and careful observation as a successful teacher. The rudiments are the most thorough, the music grand. Price 50 cents each; $4.80 per dozen by express. $5.50 per dozen by mail.

FILLMORE BROS., Publishers,
Specimen pages free. CINCINNATI, O.
sept 20 tf.

Williams & Haywood.
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN
Drugs, Medicines, Paints, Oils, Dye-Stuffs, Perfumery,
Fancy Articles, Garden Seeds Fine Teas, Spices Flavoring Extracts.
CIGARS, CHEWING TOBACCO &C.

Keep constantly on hand, at lowest market prices, White Lead, Putty, Kerosene Oil, Linseed Oil, Lamp Oil, Tanner's Oil, Window Glass, Varnish, &c., &c.

SHOES AND HATS.

The largest Stock we have ever sold—Into styles and at low prices.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER.

$42 a day. Agents wanted everywhere. Business permanent and first class. For further particulars, address
J. KENNEDY & CO., Richmond, Ind

SCHEDULES.

PIEDMONT AIR-LINE RAILWAY.

RICHMOND & DANVILLE RICHMOND & DANVILLE R. W., N. C. DIVISION, and NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. W.

CONDENSED TIME TABLE.
IN EFFECT ON AND AFTER SUNDAY, SEPT 3RD, 1876.

GOING NORTH

STATIONS.	MAIL.	EXPRESS.
Leave Charlotte.....	5.55 A M	2.15 A M
" Air-Line Junc'n	6.14 "	2.40 "
" Salisbury.....	6.30 "	4.19 "
" Greensboro'.....	10.08 "	6.17 "
" Hillsville.....	1.47 P M	8.24 "
" Danville.....	2.07 "	9.01 "
" Burkeville.....	6.40 "	12.45 P M
Arrive at Richmond.....	9.30 P M	3.40 P M

GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS.	MAIL.	EXPRESS.
Leave Richmond.....	5.50 A M	1.10 P M
" Burkeville.....	9.03 "	3.54 "
" Danville.....	1.56 P M	8.13 "
" Hillsville.....	1.55 "	8.30 "
" Greensboro'.....	4.31 "	10.25 "
" Salisbury.....	7.01 "	12.52 A M
" Air-Line Junc'n	9.05 "	2.22 "
Arrive at Charlo'te..	9.18 "	2.42 A M

GOING EAST. GOING WEST.

STATIONS.	Mail	Mail.
Leave Greensboro',	6.01 A M.	Arrive 10.5 P M
" Co. Shops.....	7.55 A M.	Leave 5.50 "
Arrive at Hillsboro..	11.10 A M	Arrive 2.05 A M
Arrive at Goldsboro'	1.45 P M	Leave 2.20 P M

STATIONS.	ACCOMMODATION TRAIN.
Leave Greensboro'.....	5.21 A. M.	Arr. 3.0 P. M.
" Co. Shops.....	7.13 "	Lv. 1.11 P. M.
Arr at Raleigh.....	12.45 P. M.	Arr. 8.05 A. M.
Arr at Goldsboro'.....	8.10 "	Lv. 1.30 A. M.

NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. R.

SALEM BRANCH.

Leave Greensboro'..... 10.35 P. M.
Arrive at Salem..... 12.15 A. M.
Leave Salem..... 12.45 A. M.
Arrive at Greensboro'..... 2.45 "

Passenger Trains leaving Raleigh at 5.01 P. M. connects at Greensboro' with the Southern bound train, making the quickest time to all southern cities. Price of tickets same as via other routes.

Accommodation Train leaving Greensboro at 5.21 A. M. connects at Goldsboro with Northern and southern bound trains on the Wilmington and Weldon railroad.

Augusta Accommodation train leaves Richmond daily at 9.55 A. M., arrives at Burkeville 1.45 P. M., leaves Burkeville 2.15 A. M., arrives at Richmond 6.40 A. M.

No Change of Cars between Atlanta and Richmond, 547 Miles.

Sleeping Cars run through from Richmond to Montgomery without change.

Papers that have arrangements to advertise the Schedule of this company will please print as above.

For further information address
JOHN E. MACMURDO,
Gen'l Passenger Agent,
Richmond, Va.

—o—

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE.

RALEIGH & GASTON RAILROAD CO.

On and after Friday, May 22nd, 1874, trains on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad, will run daily (Sunday excepted) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Leave Raleigh,	9.45 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon,	3.30 P. M.
Leaves Weldon,	9.50 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh,	3.15 P. M.

ACCOMMODATION TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh,	5.15 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon,	5.15 P. M.
Leaves Weldon,	2.45 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh,	2.45 P. M.

Mail train makes close connection at Weldon, with the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad and Bay Line Steamers via Railroad, to and from all points North, West and Northwest, and with Petersburg Railroad to Petersburg, Richmond and Washington City, to and from all points North and Northwest.

And at Raleigh with the North Carolina Railroad to and from all points South and Southwest and with the Raleigh & Augusta Air Line to Haywood and Fayetteville.

RALEIGH & AUGUSTA AIR-LINE RAILROAD.

SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,
Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 8th, 1873.

On and after Monday, October 20th, 1873, trains on the R. & A. A. L. Road will run daily, (Sundays excepted,) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN

Train leaves Raleigh,	4.00 P. M.
Arrives at Sanford,	6.25 "
Train leaves Sanford,	6.30 A. M
Arrives at Raleigh,	9.20 "

FREIGHT TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh,	5.15 A. M.
Arrives at Sanford	10.35 A. M.
Leaves Sanford,	11.00 A. M
Arrives at Raleigh	3.50 P. M.

Mail Train makes close connection a Raleigh with the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, to and from all points North.

Connects at Sanford with the Western Railroad, to and from Fayetteville and points on Western Railroad.

OFFICE SUPT. OF TRANSPORTATION, Seaboard & Roanoke R. R. Co., Portsmouth, Va., Jan. 1st, 1873.

On and after this date, trains of this Road will leave Weldon daily, Sundays excepted, as follows:

Mail Train at	4 P. M
No. 1 Freight Train at	4 A. M
No 2 Freight Train at	8 A. M.

ARRIVE AT PORTSMOUTH.

Mail train at	7.15 P. M
No 1 Freight at	12 00 NOON
No 2 Freight at	4 00 P. M

Freight Trains have a passenger car attached.

Steamer for Edenton, Plymouth and Landings on Blackwater and Chowan Rivers leave Franklin at 7.40 A M on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

E. G. CHIO,
Supt. Transportation.

OLD NORTH STATE FIRE
Insurance Company,
OF
WARRENTON, - - - - - N. C.

This Company has closed its third year in a condition of GREAT PROSPERITY, and entered upon its fourth year under the MOST PROMISING AUSPICES.

Is deserving the liberal patronage which it is receiving because

It is a home institution.
It has ample Capital and Reserves.
It pays its losses promptly.

ASSETS.

Cash on hand and in Bank,.....	$ 8,421 33
Cash in hands of Agents,.....	4,984 00
Stock Notes,.....	45,670 00
Real Estate Mortgages,.....	59,908 98
Loaned on Collaterals,.....	7,647 68
Due on premiums,.....	3,720 68
Interest due and accrued,.....	944 33
	$130,297 19

LIABILITIES:

All liabilities (including full reinsurance Reserved),.....	$18,451 81
Surplus,.....	111,846 38
	$130,297 19

WM. S. DAVIS, President.
E. F. LONG, Secretary.

apl 12-1y.

AGENTS FIND THAT THE FULL HISTORY OF THE Wonderful MOODY & SANKEY In Great Cities of England and America is a success everywhere. All want it—rich or poor. From 5 to 20 books a day. Send 25 cents for outfit. Extra terms. Sankey's Addresses, and Prayer Meeting Talks. Sankey's Addresses, and everything of interest. Has 640 pages, steel portrait, and 12 engravings. Price $2. Address H. S. GOODSPEED & Co., 14 Barclay Street, New York.

OAKSHADE BERKSHIRES!

First-Class pure Blooded Pigs of the best families ever imported to the United States now ready for sale at the Berkshire Record, constantly for sale. Prices at 2½ months old, delivered to Express, $10 each. At 4 months old, delivered to Express, $15 each. Also full breed Thoroughbred Lambs at $10 each. I Pure ANDORA Buck at $25.

T. W. HARDY,
tisk shade Farm, Pittsboro, N. C.
June 7-1y.

A NEW BOOK.

"Our Children."

This is the title of a new book now in press by Rev. Atticus G. Haygood, D. D., President of Emory College, with an introduction by Dr. Lovick Pierce. The book is to contain nearly 400 pages 12 mo. and to be gotten out in the very best style. Price $1.50 per copy. We give the table of contents which can but sharpen the appetite of the reader for the coming volume. It is emphatically a book for parents, preachers and children.

TABLE OF CONTENTS.
Part I—The Family.

Chapter. I. Childhood.
II. Childhood and Religion.
III. Prevention of Sin an Invaluable Blessing.
IV. The Enlightening and Quickening Spirit.
V. On More Ability to Talk Religion.
VI. "Feed My Lambs."
VII. The Family—Its Basis in Marriage.
VIII. The Family—The Basis of Church and State.
IX. The Family—A School of Religion.
X. The Duty of Teaching God's Word to our Children.
XI. Training as well as Teaching.
XII. What Human Parenthood Should Signify.
XIII. Home Influences.
XIV. The Christian Home.
XV. The Family Altar.
XVI. Eli and His Sons.
XVII. Tolerance.

Part II—The Sunday School.

Chapter. I. The Magnitude of the Movement.
II. The Sunday School Auxiliary.
III. The Function of the Sunday School.
IV. Who should be in the Sunday School.
V. Hastily Plans.
VI. The Power of the Right Spirit.
VII. A Light in a Dark Place.
VIII. Stones as a Means of Grace.
IX. Raising Dukes.
X. Rise on Sunday School Work.

Price, $1.50 per copy, postage paid, to any address. Our work will be ready in about three weeks. We are ready to receive orders.

To Preachers, Twenty-Five Per Cent. Discount, send by P. O. Money Order or Draft or by Express.

We have taken the agency for the book in Raleigh, and we would be pleased to for ten ft to the preachers of the Conference, Sunday schools and all others who may wish a fresh and charming book.

Send in your orders at once, and the book will be promptly forwarded

Address,
CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE
Raleigh, N. C.

RECEIVED TO-DAY,

Saturday May, 27,

10,000 yards more of those beautiful PACIFIC LAWNS at 10 cents per yard. The handsomest we have ever had.

We call the ladies' attention to our DRESS GOODS, which we are selling lower than any house in the city. Our LACE GRENADINES at 50 cents can't be undersold.

A beautiful line of figured ALL LINEN LAWNS.

Ready made Linen Dresses for ladies,

The largest Stock of Hosiery in the State. Ladies' Hose from 10 cents to 75 cents.

Gents Half Hose 10 to 50 cents a pair.

Belding Bros', Superior Sewing Silk in all the colors. The dress makers pronounce it to be the best in the market.

Largest stock of Corsets in the city from 50 cents to $2.25.

A full line of Gentlemen's Cassimeres and Underwear,

We have also just received a new supply of our Custom-Made shirts—ready made, superior to any in the city, at $1.25.

Hamburg Edgings, Ladies' Neck Ties, Gents' Ties —a beautiful line.

More of those handsome Parasols, which we are selling at a small price.

TO MERCHANTS

We will be glad at any time to show them through our stock, for we can save them some money if they will give us a call.

PETTY & JONES,
20 Fayetteville Street,
Raleigh, N. C.

June 7 tf.

NEW FIRM

TO FRIENDS AND PUBLIC GENERALLY

I have associated with me Mr. G. D. Rand (formerly Rand & Barbee, Lumber Dealers,) as a partner in the wholesale and retail Grocery and General Commission business. I respectfully leader my thanks for past favors and hope to have them continued with the new firm. Yours truly,

January 6, 1876. L. R. WYATT.

G. D. RAND. L. R. WYATT.

RAND & WYATT,

Wholesale and Retail Grocers
AND
COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

Have on hand and constantly receiving a fresh and first class stock of consisting of Flour, a special y, Meal, Corn, Bacon Lard, Sugar, Coffee, Pepper and Spice, Molasses (new crop Cuba), Syrup, Toilet and Laundry, Soaps, Wood and Willow ware, Fancy Groceries, &c.

GROCERIES

Everything embraced in a First-Class Grocery which we propose to sell at Lowest figures —Give us a trial. Orders with proper reference respectfully solicited, which shall receive our prompt attention. Consignment of Cotton and other produce solicited. Best prices guaranteed

Yours truly,
RAND & WYATT,
Opp. East end of Market, Raleigh, N. C.
July 12 1 y

MUSIC BOOKS.

For Musical Societies, Conventions &c.,

MALE VOICE GLEE BOOK

($1 00 or $9 per dozen), by W. O. PERKINS. Just published; a large number of new Glees and Quartettes of the very best quality.

EMERSON'S CHORUS BK

($1 00 or $9 per dozen), By L. O. EMERSON. All the choruses are first class, and worthy of practice by the best singers

PEOPLE'S CHORUS BOOK

($1.00 or $9.00 per dozen). For mixed voices. The glees and choruses are all "gems."

For Choir Singing School, Conventions;

THE SALUTATION.

($5.00 Per dozen ($42.) By L. O. Emerson Hymns, Anthems and Music for Singing Classes. One of the best Church Music Books of our publication

THE ENCORE.

(75 cts., or $7.20 per dozen.) by L. O. Emerson. Designed especially for Singing Schools, for which it is an admirable book.

For Singing Schools, Seminaries etc.

THE WHIPPOORWILL.

(50 cts). By W. O. PERKINS. Filled with the best of Songs for Common Schools, new, very bright and attractive.

THE HIGH SCHOOL CHOIR

($1.00). No better High School Song Book has appeared.

OLIVER DITSON & CO.,
Boston.
C. H. Ditson & Co., J. E. Ditson & Co.,
711 Broadway, Successors to Lee & Walker, Phila.
New York.

50 FINE CARDS, with your name, only 20 cents, or 30 Reporter Pencils, 20 cts. ... cases 15 cents. Send stamp for price list and samples.

L. G. HASKIN & CO., PETERSBURG, VA.

Sept 20-4t.

CHARLEY ROSS

AGENTS WANTED in every town in America for
THE FATHER'S STORY

OF CHARLEY ROSS, the most touching and absorbing story in the annals of American history. Gives a full account of the Abduction, the pursuit, and tragic death of the Abductors. Fac-Similes of their Letters, and all the various incidents connected with the search for the child. It gives a PORTRAIT OF LITTLE CHARLEY, with other choice illustrations and information calculated to lead to the recovery of the Lost Boy, for whom the Father offers a Reward of $500. Written by CHRISTIAN K. ROSS. Sales unprecedented. For Terms and Exclusive Territory, Address, JOHN E. POTTER & Co., Publishers, Philadelphia aug. 9-13t.

JOHN J. FRAY'S

CLASSICAL AND MATHEMATICAL SCHOOL.

The 19th session of my school will begin on Sept. 4th, 1876, (1st Monday.) Terms, same as heretofore. Boarding pupils will be met at Clayton on the N. C. R. R. 14 miles distant or at Raleigh.

For circulars containing terms, particulars &c. Address,

JOHN J. FRAY.
Raleigh, N. C.

References—The faculty of the University of Va., Rev. B. F. Risk, A. T. Mial, Rev. W. H. Bobbitt, Rev. J. B. Bobbitt, D. D. Rev. J. P. Moore.

aug. 23-tf.

North Carolina
DIRECTORY.

I am now preparing to issue the 5th edition of my North Carolina Directory, Centennial Edition.

I intend this edition to contain a full list of the Churches, Hotels, Lawyers, Manufactories, Merchants, Ministers, Mines, Mills, Physicians, Post offices, schools, &c.

The book will represent North Carolina as it is this centennial year.

Having agents in all the counties, of long standing and experience, I expect to have a fuller and nearer

Raleigh Christian Advocate.

Bobbitt & Gray, Publishers. | Published in the Interests of Methodism in North Carolina. | $2.00 Per Annum, in [illegible]

Vol. XXII.--No. 41. | Raleigh, N. C., Wednesday, October 18, 1876. | Whole No. 1,129

Poetry.

ALL THINGS PERISH SAVE VIRTUE.

Sweet peach—so cold, so calm, so bright,
The bridal of the earth and sky,
The dew shall weep thy fall to-night,
For thou must die.

Sweet rose—whose fragrance now I crave,
To glad my sense and joy mine eye,
Thy root is ever in its grave,
And thou must die.

Sweet spring—so full of shine and showers,
It makes the weary spirit sigh
To think, with all thy herbs and flowers,
That thou must die.

Sweet music—even the lovely song
Which from my harp in window nigh
Is floating on the breeze along,
Even thou must die.

And all the bright and glistering train
Of stars that stud the deep blue sky,
Must they all perish—none remain
To gladden eye?

And vales, and hills, and rushing streams,
And mountains that invade the sky,
Are they as baseless as our dreams?
And must they die?

And all that's beautiful and fair
On Nature's face—Love's melody,
That makes sweet music of the air,
All—all must die.

And man, frail form of senseless clay,
Though now his glance is proud and high,
Pre-eminence upon this passing day
He, too, may die.

But, the bright soul—that, shrined within
This speechless light in mortal form—
Though dimmed by misery and sin,
Defies the worm.

When all the stars shall fade away,
And suns in their own blaze expire,
And trackless comets cease to stray,
With wandering fire.

The soul shall ever live, nor know
The lapse of time, but dwell on high,
And share—in endless joy or woe—
Eternity.

—Powell.

Communicated.

For the Advocate.

Sunday Schools.

BY REV. P. J. CARRAWAY.

Perhaps there is no institution in the christian world which is at this time attracting more attention than the Sunday school.

Its origin is comparatively modern, and it has met with stern opposition from various quarters, and of various kinds; but it has overcome the more formidable obstacles and now embraces all Christendom, and numbers officers and teachers by the hundred thousand, and scholars by the million

The literature of the Sunday school is enormous. Books, tracts and papers are issuing from the press daily on a scale that is astonishing. The largest conventions that assemble are the Sunday school conventions.

The best talent of the world is engaged in its behalf, and men in the highest civil offices rise up to do honor to the cause.

A city without Sunday schools would be considered neither christian or civilized now. Every village has a Sunday school, if it has any institution, and a country church that has no well organized Sunday school is considered a long ways behind the age.

The religious Conference, Association, Presbytery, or Convention that would meet and have no committee or reports on Sunday schools, or did not have some extra service for the Sunday school, would be open to very serious charges of neglect.

The spring that would witness no Sunday-school excursions, pic nics or entertainments, would be memorable for the absence of the most joyous occasions that the world ever saw.—Such, my readers, is the institution of which I propose to write.

For this grand and glorious institution no divine origin is claimed.—[illegible] rich in divine blessing. [illegible] ducted by human wisdom; but that wisdom has been, as we believe, greatly enlightened. It is managed by uninspired men: but men moved by the Holy Ghost to do good. It is not to be expected of this institution, either in whole or in its thousand parts, to be perfect.

That evils may arise, or that evils do exist even where the very best men conduct it, cannot be denied. Its friends should therefore be watchful, and endeavor to remedy the evils they may discover.

I fear the greatest evils may arise among its best friends. I find that since the progress of the institution has become so wonderful, that various radical changes are proposed. For instance one desires the name changed. The word school indicates spelling books and other things which no longer belong to the institution.

It is proposed to call it a Bible Society.

In close proximity with this proposition is another on this wise: "Do away with the idea of a nursery, which means a place for children only, and let it be a service for all, both young and old."

The same proposition goes still farther and looks to a radical change in our present method of preaching, so as to give the greatest prominence to the Bible service and push the preaching of God's word into an insignificant afternoon sermon.

These proposed changes are urged, at least suggested, from an apprehension that by the present method of conducting Sunday schools, small children are kept from attending preaching, and the larger young people are kept from the Sunday school It is therefore thought to be best to combine the two classes in one service by the changes proposed, and avoid both evils named

I suppose that no one doubts but that on the present plan of conducting Sunday schools some small children may be kept away from preaching.—That is, some children who attend Sunday school do not attend preaching. But is it clearly proved that it is the fault of the Sunday school? We know too many children who do not attend Sunday school, who do not attend preaching We know many children who attend both. Perhaps the Sunday school may be at an unseasonable hour. The school may precede the sermon, and if so,no wonder it the little children do feel that an hour and a half is enough for them to spend in the church in one morning. No wonder if some of the teachers, who have been strained beyond measure to get ready for school at nine o'clock, shall feel that rest is necessary, though it may be had at the sacrifice of a good sermon.

Perhaps to change so as to give the precedence to the sermon would have a wholesome effect, We have known successful schools held in the afternoon in our town churches, and I believe that teachers and children are much more punctual in attending upon preaching and Sunday school both, by that arrangement.

(To be continued.)

For the Advocate.

Church and Sunday School.

Messrs Editors: I had supposed the great mission of the Church is the salvation of men and that the Sabbath school is a powerful auxiliary in the accomplishment of that end. I had supposed that a well regulated Sabbath school was under the immediate supervision of the pastor in charge, and that it was his duty to recommend to the Quarterly Conference yearly a suitable person as superintendent of his school. I had also supposed that the Sabbath school literature was so elected, endorsed and recommended by the leading men of our Church; else why should our own publishing house at Nashville issue from month to month the "Sunday School Magazine," in which are contributions furnished by the leading preachers of our Church and edited by Dr. Cunnyngham, a man selected by the proper authorities of our own Church, a man thoroughly acquainted with the Scriptures, whose great study it is to bring out all the important points upon the special subject in question, and to so shape the lessons for the study of the children, and to so lead the minds of the teachers, as that the great truths of salvation may be impressed upon the minds of the students so forcibly that they cannot fail to behold the goodness of God and thereby be led to accept Him as theirs. Is not this so? And yet I am amazed when I read an article from Brother Yates wherein he uses the following language:—"inducing by long rigmarole, national, international and universal lesson series' complex and double complex, fuss and feathers, a mere formalism in the tremendous matter of religion."—How can I endorse that when I feel that the proper authorities of our Church [illegible] baths schools all over our land upon their efforts, seconded by most of our preachers and Sunday school workers as well, the interests of the Sunday school have been greatly advanced not only numerically but spiritually, and that the fruits are seen in the rich harvest of happy souls as gathered into the folds of the church yearly?—I had not supposed that any preacher felt that the Sunday school work was in the least an infringement upon the pulpit work, but rather an aid in preparing the mind to receive the gospel truths which he may present from time to time. I know of one Sunday school out of which, within eighteen months, there have been gathered to the Church seventy five who are soundly converted, and useful, earnest, active members. This school has been using the "National Series" as edited by Dr. Cunnyngham. Whether "complex or double complex,' the true work of God has seemed to be theirs, and to His great name be all the glory!

Again, is there anything to show in the present movement of the Sunday school interests that any boy or any man ever proposed or even thought of the "Sunday school taking the place of parental training?" Why, Messrs Editors, the best Sunday school scholars are those who are best trained at home, and the best church members are those who receive early training in the Sunday school, and the best listener to the preacher in the pulpit is the Sunday school scholar, and the soul best fitted for heaven is one that has had all this training—loves father and mother, Sunday school pastor, Church and God.

"Go back to old paths." What old paths? Get nearer to Christ is what every true worker in the Church or Sunday school desires, and the more we study His character the better we love Him. Wherever you find a live Sunday school you find a live Church. And why? Because they have a live pastor and a live Church which makes a live Sunday school, and their combined efforts build up "the city of our God"

Let us all move forward in the great work and let the combined efforts of preachers, laymen and Sunday school push forward in the name of Christ to victory, following that path laid down in God's eternal word.

A. S. S. Worker.

The Pulpit.

Sermon by Rev. T. De Witt Talmage.

PHONOGRAPHICALLY REPORTED BY WILLIAM WALTON FOR THE "CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE."

The Vivacity of the Scriptures.

"Wherewithal shall a young man cleanse his way? By taking heed thereto according to Thy Word." Psalm cxix 9.

In these two ringing sentences David sets forth the fact that the Bible ought to be the young man's book. These aged people, who have felt so much of its power in their own hear s, need no appeal; but to the multitudes of young persons in this house to night I more especially speak. They are soon coming to hold the positions of influence and power. Into their hand is coming the wealth which can print and translate and adorn and transport and distribute the Scriptures. We want these persons to become the sworn and everlasting friends of this king of books. I might show to you to night, that the Bible is the accountant's best ledger, the shepherd's best crook, the miner's best lamp, the warrior's best sword, the lawyer's best statute, the sailor's best chart; but I shall be content if I can show you that the Bible is intended especially to be the young man's book.

In the first place, the style of the Scriptures ought to commend them to the young. You say: "If that be so, then why don't young people read the Bible more than they do any other book?" I answer: indistinct typology and inelegant bindery will hinder the merit of any book.

THE NEW TESTAMENT IN SMALL PRINT

may have had its mission; but I think its chief work so far has been to quench physical eyesight and to chill the world's appreciation of sacred truth. The time may have been when the Church was too poor to afford the people anything better than a sixpenny New Testament; but I declare to night that Christian men have gathered into their coffers enough gold to give every man, woman, and child of the race a copy of the Scriptures in good type and fair binding. Why, sirs, I can take the most fascinating romance that was ever written and present it in a type and in a binding that shall rather repel the attention of the young. I can print Shakspeare that way, and put it in a binding that shall not in any wise be attractive to the young. I can take all the treasures of secular literature and put them in books which the world will never open. When you put as much care upon the [illegible] and the bindery of the Bible as you do upon Irving's Sketch Book, and upon Cooper's Two Admirals, and upon Hawthorne's House of Seven Gables, and upon Longfellow's Hiawatha, then you will have an opportunity of finding out whether rapt Isaiah and overwhelming Ezekiel and magnificent Paul are equal to Ralph Waldo Emerson, and whether the white horse on which Jesus rides in Apocalyptic vision is as attractive and captivating to the young as Robert Southey's Pegasus. I am very hopeful that the Bible will always be kept together as a unit; but when each distinct book of the Bible will be bound by itself, and a young man can go to his shelf and take down Job, or Isaiah, or Jeremiah, or Matthew, or Luke, or John, just as now you take down from your shelf a bound copy of essays, or of historics, or of poems. Put it in good type, bind it in a fair style and place it before our young people, and I undertake to say that all of them will be glad to read it—in the first place because of the sprightliness of the Bible.

I HOPE THE DAY WILL COME

Between fifteen and twenty years of age, people have no taste for dry discussion or abstract theories. They want a style that throbs quick and flames out and stirs the sensibilities. After awhile they may fall back upon Timothy Dwight and Jonathan Edwards and Archbishop Leighten, but now they want a style tropical and blood red. Well, I will undertake to tell the young people that in all the world of literature there is no such live book as the Bible. These paragraphs throb with an omnipotent energy. This fountain of divine truth, never summed over or dead, tosses up, glittering and rainbowed in the light of the Sun of Righteousness. Paul's severest argument ignites when brought to the air. Didactic eighth chapter of Romans, rightly read, stirs the heart like a war drum. Nearly all the verses of the Bible have a quick step. The trumpets of salvation never sound a dead march. The sacred writers did not go around in cumsy and unmanageable armor, but with keen, sharp cimeter kept striking rapidly. Some of Paul's sentences that open in tame style, close wit startling explosion Other men have written with emphasis, but Paul wrote with a force into which body, mind, soul, and his own eternity were projected. Other men in their writings have described anxiety about the salvation of their friends; but when he cries out: "I could wish myself accursed from Christ for my brethren and kindred according to the flesh" Other people have described violent emotion; but it was left for Jeremiah to surpass them all when he exclaimed: "Oh, that mine head were waters and mine eyes fountains of tears, that I might weep day and night for the daughter of my people." Others have understood pathos; but it was left for Luke to gather up all the cypress that ever grew into one sombre wreath, when he described the dead young man at Nain, and said: "He was the only son of his mother, and she a widow." Others have described exhaustive grief: but it was left for Samuel to eclipse them all when he comes to describe the sorrow of David and his men over their desolated homes, and he says: "They lifted up their voices and wept until they had no more power to weep." Other writers have written in tragic or dramatic style, but it was left for this book to describe Rizpeh on the rock seven days and seven nights, fighting back cormorant and jackal from the unburied corpses of her children. The Bible does not go around about a sin, but swoops on it like a hawk It cleaves iniquity asunder, with one swing of the battle axe, crashing through from helmet to sandal. It has a style of writing, for the most part, hewing away at the heart of things, resilient, thunderbolted. The sacred writer takes the right thought, aims it in the right direction, and drives it home with the right hammer. Now I say, give it fair play. Print it in the right way, explain it in the right style, and illustrate it by the right engravings, and the young people will be glad to read it because of its sprightliness.

IT WAS LEFT FOR PAUL TO EXCEL THEM ALL

ALERT, SHARP EDGED, TO THE POINT, ELECTRIC,

Again: the Bible is especially adapted to the young because of its exuberance of illustration. To the young, life is gilt-edged, and a place to try wings and build castles. Mere facts—hard and cold and dead—never captivate the young heart or mind. The Bible regards this condition of things, and employs every variety of simile and antithesis and parable and hyperbole. You breathe in this book the breath of the newmown hay, and the Rose of Sharon, and the blossoms of the apple tree amid the trees of the wood. You hear in this book the hum of the bee, and the dash of the waters, and the howling of fierce Euroclydon. You see in this book, the glitter of dew, and the saffron of cloud, and the slumber of lake, and the foam of raging Genessaret. In this one chapter, you see the moonlight dripping upon Ajalon and through that other chapter, you hear the carol of the newly created flocks flying through the open firmament of heaven. Where is there in all the world of poetic description anything like Job's champing, neighing, pawing, lightning-footed, thunder-necked war horse? Dryden's, Milton's, Cowper's tempests are very tame compared with David's storm that wrecks the mountains of Lebanon, and shivers the wilderness of Kadish Why, it seems as if to the feet of these Bible writers the mountains brought all their gems, and the seas all their pearls, and the gardens all their frankincense, and the spring all its blossoms, and the harvests all their wealth, and heaven all its grandeur, and eternity all its stupendous realities, and that since then, poets and orators and rhetoricians had been drinking from exhausted fountains, and searching for diamonds in a realm utterly rifled and ransacked.

THIS BOOK IS THE HIVE OF ALL SWEETNESS;

it is the armory of all well tempered weapons; it is the tower containing the crown jewels of the universe; it is the lamp that kindles all other lights, it is the home of all majesties and splendors; it is the marriage ring that unites the celestial and the terrestial, while all the clustering white robed denizens of the sky are hovering around, rejoicing at the nuptials. This book—it is the wreath into which are twisted all garlands; it is the song into which are struck all harmonies; it is the river into which are poured all the great tides of Hallelujah, it is the firmament in which suns and moons and stars and constellations and galaxies and immensities and universes and eternities wheel and blaze and triumph Where is the young man's soul, with any music in it, that is not stirred with Jacob's lament, or Nahum's dirge, or Habakkuk's dithyrambic, or Paul's march of the resurrection, or John's anthem, where the elders on their faces, with doxology, respond to the trumpet blast of the archangel as he stands with one foot on the sea and the other foot on the land, swearing by Him that liveth for ever and ever that time shall be no longer.

Again: I think that the the Scriptures are especially adapted to the young, because they are the fountain from which other great books are dipped. I know that.

YOUNG ACCOUNTANTS, YOUNG MECHANICS, YOUNG MERCHANTS, and those who are starting in the law and in medicine, have but little time for general reading. If so, then spend more of that time at the fountain of divine truth from which nearly all the books have been dipped that are worth anything. I will undertake to say that every great book that has been published since the first printing press was lifted, has directly or indirectly derived much of its power from the sacred oracles Goethe, the admired of all sceptics, had the wall of his house at Weimar covered with religious maps and pictures. Milton's Paradise Lost is only the Bible in blank verse Tasso's Jerusalem Delivered is borrowed from the Bible. Spencer's writings are imitations of the parables. John Bunyan saw in a dream only what Saint John had before seen in Apocalyptic vision. Macaulay crowns his most gigantic sentences with Scripture quotations Through Addison's Spectator there glances in and out the stream that broke from beneath the throne of God, clear as crystal. Walter Scott's best characters are Bible men and women under different names. It requires no acute analytical faculty to see Jezebel in Lady Macbeth, or Ezekiel's wheels in Southey's Curse of Carmala. Pope stole from this castle of truth the weapons with which he afterwards assailed it Lord Byron caught the ruggedness and majesty of his style from the prophecies. The writings of Pope are saturated with Isaiah, and he finds his most successful theme in the Messiah The poets Thompson and Johnson dipped their pens in the style of the inspired Orientals. Thompson Carlyle is only a splendid distortion of Ezekiel; and wandering though the lanes and parks of this imperial domain of Bible truth. I find all the great American, English, German, Spanish, Italian poets, painters, orators, and rhetoricians. Now, if this be so, and the young man has but little time to read, why not go to the great fountain of all truth and inspiration from which these other books dip their life.

IF YOU WANTED TO SEE THE MISSISSIPPI RIVER,

you would not go down to some little mill race that has been diverted from the main channel; you would go out to the bluffs and look at the great "Father of Waters" And if you want to see truth and justice and mercy and redemption, come to the great river of God's truth—grassy banked, crystaline, its surface reflecting the clocks of heaven, [illegible] much time to this mill race that human intellects have been diverting from the main channel. If a man wants to see New England, he does not go up on a hill back of Boston; he goes to the Tip Top House on Mount Washington, where New England lies prostrate at his feet. And if you want to get a grand prospect of this life and the vast eternity, come up in this mountain of God's truth, as much higher than all earthly elevations as Chimborazo is higher than a sand bar. Our young men have not much time to read Motley's Rise and Fall of the Dutch Republic, or the long essays of Jeffrey; but they can come to this book and take a fragment of it. The Christian soldier can take a day's stations with him, and one day can take a miracle, and the next day a parable, and the next day he can take some verse from the P[illegible] the day this Bible is co[illegible] know it was intended that the people should read it.

I go further and say that the Scriptures are especially adapted to the young, because they are the only accurate map of the [illegible] upon which they are [illegible] nomical chart [illegible] nerves and the muscles [illegible] bones and the arteries of the human system Well, my friends, this is an anatomical chart of the human race. A young man takes up the Scriptures, and thinks the account there given of the sin and the deceitfulness of the race is rather an exaggeration; but he goes on in life, and after a while he takes up that very passage, and, his head nodding in confirmation, and the emphasis all the time accumulating, he reads: "The heart is deceitful above all things and desperately wicked."

SEVENTY YEARS OF ACTIVE LIFE

will not give a man so much knowledge of human nature as he might have obtained in earnest and Christian study of the Book of Proverbs in one day at the start of his life. A man comes on to mid life, and he gets into a quarrel with a relative. He says: "Well, I shall soon get this settled because, we being relatives, of course we can compose the difficulty very soon." He goes on and makes the effort, and finds out that it cannot be settled at all. He says: "Why, this is a very strange thing," and he thinks he has made a discovery. Solomon could have told him that forty years ago: 'A brother offended is harder to be won than a strong city.' A man in mid-life sees some one very loquacious. He says, "that man is talking himself to death. He is talking down his wordly interests. What a pity he should talk so much.' The man thinks he has made a discovery of the power of loquacity to talk down a man's interests. Solomon could have told him that long ago: 'A fool's mouth is his destruction' A man goes out in society, and sees a beautiful woman with no common sense. 'Why,' he says, 'that is a strange combination.' Solomon described the same thing long ago, when he said: 'As a jewel of gold in a wine's snout, so is a woman without discretion.'

A LAZY MAN SITS DOWN IN THE WOODS

on a log, and the ants begin to come out of their holes, and they crawl over his apparel, and he is too lazy to rise; and, looking down, he says: 'I might learn a lesson from these ants. Busy busy.' Why did he not learn that lesson thirty years ago? 'Go to the ant, thou sluggard, consider her ways, and be wise' A man in mid life says: 'Well, my son is spoiled. I should have chastened him rather than that he should have become so disobedient.' O, if, at the beginning of the parental life, that man had read: 'He that spareth the rod hateth his son, but he that loveth him chasteneth him betimes.'

Young people to night I lay before you the chart of the voyage you have to take. Here is a sand bar; there is a Hell Gate; there is the warning buoy; there is the lighthouse; here is the channel up which we ought to sail; there is the dreadful coast, black with the hulks that have gone into the breakers. Now, what would we think of a captain who should wait until his vessel was foundering and parting amidships, and the sea was rising up to swallow down crew and cargo, and then say: 'O, I must begin to study my chart. I must look at the compass. Really, I must attend to this matter.' What a fool! Days and weeks ago he ought to have studied the chart. Down she goes, never to rise. Alas! that a man should make immortal shipwreck, and then cry out for the Bible!

Another reason why I think that the Scriptures are especially adapted to the young is because there are precepts that can be practised only at that time of life. We want the aged to come into the kingdom of God. O, yes. But we want especially the young, nimble fingers to write, swift tongues to speak, strong arms to strike, acute eyesight to scan In this great conflict between light and darkness, between God and the devil,

BECAUSE

In this great conflict we want all the young especially—young Davids with the sling, young Timothies with the Scriptures, young Samuels to minister in the temple, young Daniels to translate the writing on the wall. We want all originality, all concentration, all concentration all fire of Christian enthusiasm. The Bible is the only book that can give an outfit to our young people for this life, and give them any preparation for the life to come. When those bright eyes are quenched you will want immortal vision. When that hand falls dead at your side you will want something with which to pluck the garlands of eternal victory. When that foot is palsied you still will want to bound in jubilation over the high hills of heaven. When that heart stops you will want to feel the pulsation of a grand, ever-accumulating, and triumphant life. O, when this life is over, and the stars shall break ranks and drop their shields, and you hear at a distance the rumbling of the chariot of judgment, and on glassy seas the crowned sons and daughters of God—a great host, innumerable, with fingers on harp, and mouth to trumpet—are getting ready for the everlasting acclaim of hosanna and redemption,—then we will all rise and stand as never before what a matter of life or death, of heaven or hell, it was, whether we did study the Scriptures or did not study them large type, and beautifully bound. Put it on the best table you have Put it in a cheerful light. Or, better than that, get the old family Bible, if your father and mother be gone. A few days ago I was visiting John B Gough at Boylston, Mass, and he was showing me through his house, which is really a treasure-house of exquisite art. He took up an old book, and said: 'Take that in your hand before you go.' I said: 'What is that book?' 'O,' he said, 'that was my mother's Bible. I could well appreciate the tenderness of the association, for I have such a book as that in my own home After my parents died, that was my legacy. I took it home. Dear old book! I never look at it without wanting to kiss it. That was the book they put on the centre table after their marriage, and they consecrated their lives by a chapter from its pages. That was the book they read when their children died, and there is the mark of a tear at the story of the Resurrection. These chapters are all worn out with oft perusal. There is the passage: 'Cast thy burden on the Lord, and He will sustain thee.' Dear old book! It has no gilt edges, it has no ridges on the cover; but it is the handsomest book I ever saw. That was the staff they leaned on for more than threescore years and ten That was the light that shone on them when the world got dark. That was the tree that oozed the balm for all their heartaches. Dear old book! How I remember you when, sitting on my mother's knee, I looked at the pictures, while mother looked down into the deeper mysteries of salvation. Dear old book! It ought to be wrapped up in damask and gold. When I die I want it by my pillow, so that I can see it. I shall charge my children to let everything go before they let that book go.

YOUNG MAN, BUY A BIBLE

MAY ALL JOY FLY MY HEART, and my sight go out into darkness, and all sweetness turn into wormwood and gall, and my life become to me a plague, and all sweet sounds jar into discord, and my head be pillowless, and my name accursed, if I ever forget to honor and venerate and love my mother's Bible!

The Bible has done so much for you: What are you going to do for the Bible? This year arm yourselves for conflict in its behalf. Drive faster the printing-presses, and, amid all the agencies that are to reform society and save the world, stand foremost, hammer ever lifted, sword ever unsheathed, battle-cry ever sounding, until God's Word shall illumine every land, and snap every shackle, and dethrone every despotism. Fall into line, young men and old! Strike for the world's redemption! The sun lifts itself up, waiting for the footstep of Him who trod it centuries ago, and the mountains are ready to swing their forest branches at the shout of the great jubilee. I put my ear to the ground, and I hear the coming tramp of the Redeemer's victory. I lift my eyes to the hills, and I see them kinding with the glories of descending morn. I turn to the East, and I hear the crash of falling mosque and pagoda. I turn to the West, and I see the watch-fires on the tablelands of Oregen, and hear the breath of the Spirit sweep across the prairies. The desert will soon blush into carnation roses and silver-tipped lilies. Yes, all the earth is to become a temple of praise—grass and flowers the tessellated floor; mountains the pillars, tapestried with morning mist; the ocean the baptismal font, [illegible] forests the wind-swept organ pipes; and vast heavens the dome in which shall roll, as Atlantic surges beat the beach, the Anthem of [illegible] hemispheres! Jesus forever! May you and I join in that grand consummation, and stand side by side with "The host which thronged His chariot-wheels,

And bore Him to His throne;
Then swept their golden harps, and sung,
'The glorious work is done!'"

WELL-BUILT CHRISTIANS.—A well built Christian is harmonious in all his parts. No one trait shames another. He is not a jumble of inconsistencies—to day devout, to morrow frivolous; to day liberal to one cause, and to morrow niggardly toward another; to-day fluent in prayer, and to morrow fluent in polite falsehoods. He does not keep the fourth commandment on the Sunday, and break the eighth commandment on the Monday. He does not shirk an honest debt to make a huge donation. He is not in favor of temperance for other folk, and of a glass of toddy for himself. He does not exhort or pray at each of the few meetings he attends, to make up arrearages for the mere meetings which he neglects. He does not so consume his spiritual fuel during revival seasons, that he is cold as Nova Zemble during all the rest of the time; nor do his spiritual fervors ever outrun his well ordered conversation.

A cash customer—the till tapper.

The Poetry of the Throttle Valve.

[illegible]

Not long ago, [illegible] brought his train to a standstill [illegible] Massachusetts village where [illegible] passengers have five minutes for lunch. A lady came along the platform and said:

"The conductor [illegible] train at the junction P. I have fifteen minutes before our express [illegible] Sunday night, that is the last [illegible] very sick child in the car, and no money for a hotel, and [illegible] private conveyance [illegible] into the country. What [illegible]

'Well,' said the [illegible] I will tell you what I could tell you.'

'Would it be possible [illegible] you to hurry a little?' said the [illegible], tearful mother.

'No, madam, I have [illegible] time table, and the rules say I must [illegible]

She [illegible] and, [illegible] loving the [illegible] face of the engineer wet with tears. Presently the returned and said, 'Are you a [illegible]

'I [illegible]

Will you pray [illegible] the Lord may in some way [illegible] the train at the junction?'

'Why, yes, I will [illegible] I have not made [illegible]

Just then the conductor called, 'All aboard.'

The poor woman looked back to the [illegible] and sick child, and away went the train climbing [illegible]

'Strange,' said the engineer, 'every thing worked like a charm. As I prayed, I could [illegible] rugose out [illegible] and finally stopped at [illegible] got on [illegible] the conductor [illegible] in the car in a half minute, [illegible] Once over the [illegible] I prayed easy [illegible] as I prayed, the [illegible] to shoot through the air [illegible] Somehow I couldn't hold her, knowing I had the road, and on we dashed up to the junction, six minutes ahead of time.'

There stood the other train, and the conductor with the lantern on his arm.

'Well,' said he, 'will you tell me what I am waiting here for? Somehow I felt I must await your coming to-night, but I don't know why.'

'I guess,' said the brother conductor, 'it is for this poor woman, with her sick and deformed child, the filial anxious to get home this Sunday night.'

But the man on the engine and the grateful mother think they can tell why the train waited Growing Old.

A man may die at three score and ten, and die not too early for his eternal peace. He has not brought the will of God. On the other hand, a child may drop out of life, and not too soon: it had more true work to do than the man of seventy years. The prediction of the prophet may be realized, "and the child shall die an hundred years old." Years of time are not the measure of life. The truest life brings eternity into its embrace. There is a depth and breadth in [illegible] that which time cannot span.

I think I can imagine the feeling of a man when the consciousness that age is creeping on first impresses itself upon him, when he says for the first time, "I am getting old, the morning of life is all gone; the best part is past; I am on the down hillside of life—only the remnant remains." A sad woman for him who lives for this world! Living for the world, and the [illegible] gone. The idol slipping from his grasp, while the worshipper still [illegible] real work undone, not even begun: the very purposes for which God put him into the world cast aside. A sad state! nothing more sad. What solemn, dreary things must be his days! he to such a man! so many strokes of the death knell heard before hand!

But oh, not sad to the Christian to grow old! Listen to what the late Dr. Guthrie said of his advancing years: "They say that I am growing old, because my hair is silvered, and there are crow's feet upon my forehead, and my step is not so firm and elastic as of yore. But they are mistaken. That is not me. The brow is wrinkled, but the brow is not me. This is the house in which I live; but I am young, younger now than I ever was before! O, blessed religion, which can make a man look down into the abyss of the grave and not fear, and into eternity, with such a spirit as that!

An attempt is being made by the Young Men's Christian Association of Philadelphia to supply the reading-rooms of the numerous hotels in the immediate vicinity of the Centennial Exposition with religious newspapers and other unobjectionable reading matter.

It is proposed to put a missionary yacht upon the North Sea, that she may cruise among the many fishermen there, and carry religious messages and reading to them.

The Christian Advocate.

OFFICE—Corner of Dawson & Hargett Sts

THE ORGAN
OF THE
NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE
OF THE
M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev J B Bobbitt, D.D } Editors
R. T. Gray, Esq., }

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION:

TO ONE YEAR, IN ADVANCE, POSTAGE PAID,	$2.20
SIX MONTHS, " "	1.35
If payment be delayed six months,	2.10

RALEIGH, N. C., OCT. 18, 1876.

All letters on business with this office should be addressed to the Christian Advocate, Raleigh, N. C.

The Cross (X) Mark is to remind you that your subscription has expired. Let all renew promptly.

Closing up the Year.

The Conference year is nearing its close. In a little over one month we shall be called upon to meet again in annual session The time has come for preacher and people to count up the figures and compare accounts — The various collections ordered by Conference are imperative. We can not set them aside. They are of too much importance to be regarded lightly, and to neglect them would render pastor and people culpable of a great wrong.

But the practical question, and the one which concerns directly every member of the church is this—How stands the account between you and your pastor and Presiding Elder? In the early part of the year an assessment was made for them. The amount was small and some of you were mortified that it was so meager, but you did not have the courage or the liberality to increase it. But even the small allowance made for them has not been paid. We venture the assertion that the great majority of the charges in the Conference have not, up to this time, paid more than one half of the amount assessed for the support of their preachers — They have worked hard on short rations. In some instances debt has been incurred—creditors are already a little impatient. They want their money. The preacher finds himself unable to pay. Why? because his people have failed to pay him. The plea has been scarcity of money. It is true money has been scarce and times have been unusually hard. But somehow, the people get everything they want in the way of expensive living, let times be as hard as they may. If you have not had the money, you have had an abundant supply of provisions at home. How nice it would have been if you had only thought of your preacher and sent him a pleasant surprise in the way of a barrel of flour, a few hams, chickens or a few pounds of butter. Dear christian friends, your pastor has labored faithfully. He has borne the heat and burden of the year as an itinerant preacher. In his preaching he has striven to edify you—to strengthen you in the love of Jesus, to win your children to Christ and to magnify and build up the cause of God in your midst. His head, heart and hands have all been given to God.—His pastoral duties have not allowed him time to labor in any other department. Do not allow him to go to Conference unpaid, and in debt for the actual necessaries of life to keep soul and body together while laboring for you.

We cannot believe that any efficient Board of stewards will allow their preacher to go up to Conference unpaid. Let them see to it then that not only the preacher in charge and the Presiding Elder are fully paid up, but that every collection ordered by Conference is met.

The poverty of the times was taken into the account when these church assessments were made. It will not therefore do to plead hard times and scarcity of money now. Pay your preacher and take care of all the interests of the Church and God will take care of you. What you have belongs to God and he will hold you responsible for the use you make of it.

We direct attention to the appeal that comes up for help from the *Church at Kinston. They have suf*fered grievously by a recent decision of the courts which imposes upon them the payment of a heavy debt—a debt for which they never thought they were responsible, in law or equity. It would be a hard and severe blow to the Church to have their house of worship put under the sheriff's hammer and sold in order to cancel the oppressive debt. We know of no instance in which prompt and liberal aid is more urgently needed.

It is said that Rev. Dr. Pritchard, of the Salisbury Street Baptist Church, this city, will receive a call to take charge of a Brooklyn Church with a salary of $6,000 per annum.

Rev. Dr. McFerrin writes to the Baltimore Methodist that in four Conferences, Western, St. Louis, Missouri and Illinois, which he has lately attended, only one minister has died during the past year—Rev. N. P. Halsey, of the Illinois Conference.

Professor Max Muller wrote several years ago: "From what I know of the Hindus, they seem to me riper for Christianity than any nation that ever accepted the Gospel."

The Ways of Providence.

"God will provide" has a world of meaning to those who, in the midst of affliction and disappointment, need consolation and cheer. A belief in God the Creator, necessitates the belief that he controls and governs what he has made. From the very nature and being of God, one must infer that he holds the reins of not only the physical but also of the moral government of the world, and that he inspects constantly and closely all the affairs of men—as nations and as individuals. Whoever does not accept this belief, virtually denies the existence of God: with his mouth he may profess that a God exists, but in his heart he has said "there is no God." The ancients, by a poetic fiction, fastened to the chair whereon Jupiter sat, the last link in the series of subordinate causes and effects,—thus teaching that the high ruler of the universe did not leave to chance and haphazard even the smallest affairs of men, and that Olympus was not so high or so far distant as to be unconnected with the lower plains whereon men moved and acted.

Believing in God's wisdom and love, we must believe also that whatever he does, or permits, is intended in some way for our good: that disappointments which sorely trouble us, are appointments by him, made in tenderness and love; that the failure of our plans, the defeat of our ambition, the wreck of our fortunes, the clash of other interests with our own, are not brought about by a malignant spirit or blind chance.

We may not see—it was not intended for us to see—the particular reason for the dispensations which cause us inconvenience and grief. It is enough for us to know the general reason—that it is for our good. The child cannot understand why he is restrained by his parent from doing what he pleases—why he is commanded to do inconvenient and apparently useless things—why he is chastised for disobedience—why he is forced to learn his letters or swallow bitter physic, and he no doubt regards the conduct of his parent as unaccountable and cruel. So we, childish and ignorant as compared with the infinitely wise God, our Father, may sometimes think unreasonable and oppressive the things he requires of us or the chastisements he inflicts upon us. We cannot comprehend the end of the rugged discipline he enforces: we cannot penetrate into the secrets of divine and infinite wisdom: we do not stand on the mount of his omniscience and survey the complex relations we sustain to the world and its manifold operations: creatures of a day as we are, it is not permitted us to enter into the council of the Ancient of Days and grasp in our minds the events of eternity and see how they are related to the things of the present. Were all this permitted to us, we might see clearly the beneficent design of untoward events and afflictions. Could the light in which God works fall upon our eyes, we would see the knotty and tangled cord of life unravelling and leading away into the future a beautiful and golden thread: the crooked and rugged paths would unwind and stretch into smooth highways traversing vales

"Where everlasting spring abides
And never withering flowers;"

the clouds that oppress us with their lowering and murky shades, would reverse themselves and reveal upon their bosoms the glorious light of God's radiant smile: the thorns that so afflict the flesh would, in eternity's light, change to crowns, and the jars and discords of this present world be attuned to harmony with the praise that makes the music of the better land.

This belief in the providence of God overruling all, even the minutest affairs of men, is the secret of happiness in this world To know that a loving Father is so managing the small and great troubles of our lives that they will eventuate in our good, disposes us to accept, without worry or fret, what ever he sends upon us; to yield without murmuring to his correcting rod which punishes our sins, and to undergo with patience the rigid discipline which he intends to prepare us for a higher and nobler life and service.

At the Illinois Conference M E. Church, South, lately held by Bishop Paine, a resolution was offered hailing with pleasure the report of the Joint Commission of the two Churches, North and South. Several ministers and laymen of the Northern Church who were present, asked the privilege of voting on the resolution which Bishop Paine granted with pleasure. Before the vote took place, the ladies too, catching the contagion of the good feeling, asked that they be permitted to vote. They were admitted, and amid much feeling, many tears and the singing of "Praise God from whom all blessings flow,' the resolutions were unanimously adopted. Dr. McFerrin says: "It was a coincidence that Bishop Paine and Dr Akers met at Jacksonville for the first time since 1844. They were both members of the Committee of Nine who prepared the "Plan of Separation." It was pleasant to see these veterans meet and embrace, and hear them rejoice at the restoration of peace and harmony among the Methodists"

Dr. Newman Hall says the Churches of Great Britain have lost within three years 30,000 members by intemperance.

The Elections, with Reflections.

The State elections in Ohio and Indiana took place on the 10th inst. and great interest has been manifested in all parts of the country in the result. It was supposed that the result of the elections in those States would have considerable effect in determining the presidential election in November; but neither party derives any great satisfaction from the issue, nor does it aid much in forming an estimate as to how those States will go in November or how other States will be affected. Ohio goes Republican by about 8,000 majority and there is a gain of five Republican Congressmen. Indiana gives a Democratic majority, electing "Blue Jeans" Williams by about 5,000 majority, but the Republicans gain four Congressmen and a majority in the Legislature. The result instead of imbuing either party with confidence of success in the November elections, makes the issue more doubtful, and the campaign between this and the 7th of November, will be the most exciting and hotly contested ever known in American politics.

We warn our people against the danger of permitting themselves to become too greatly excited in the campaign which is before them. It is right that all citizens should take a deep interest in the triumph of the principles or men that they conscientiously support, for in America every citizen is, to a certain extent and in a certain sense, a politician and cannot avoid the responsibility which his citizenship imposes. He should interest himself in political affairs to that extent which will enable him to discharge his duty, as a citizen, intelligently and with satisfaction to himself. He should discharge his duty, too, boldly and fearlessly, without intimidation from any source and without yielding to the improper influence or ridicule of others who would sway him from the course his conscience approves. And while he votes as he wishes, let him grant the same privilege to others—using no force, violence, threats or ridicule, but only fair argument, to influence the votes of other men. There is danger that in the support of men and measures, the enthusiasm of voters will run into excitement—that deep conviction will take the shape of dogmatism, and that words will be used and acts done which will be regretted when the contest is closed. Our advice to all is "keep cool."

NEWS FROM THE CHURCHES.

Bro. Bass, in charge of the District Conference School at Kernersville, writes as follows:

"In the absence of our pastor, I take the liberty of giving you a brief account of a very interesting meeting held at this place. It commenced on the first Sunday in September. Bro. Helsabeck staid with us and labored zealously and efficiently until Wednesday night, when the pressure of other engagements compelled him to leave. Up to that time there had been eleven conversions and seven or eight had joined the church. The preacher in charge had done all the preaching, except on two occasions. On Sunday night the writer of this officiated, and on Tuesday at 11 A. M., Bro Heitman from Winston gave us a most excellent sermon. The meeting was continued until Saturday night. On Thursday night the Lord blessed us in a peculiar manner. A very large crowd had assembled, and after preaching seven persons presented themselves as penitents at the altar of prayer, and every one of them was happily converted, and went home rejoicing in the love of God. Two young ladies attached to the District Conference School under my charge were among the converts. The next morning we proceeded to open the school as usual, by reading a portion of Scripture, singing and prayer. I proposed to them to make their own selection for singing. They selected that very appropriate hymn, commencing 'How happy are they,' &c We had scarcely sung one verse and began the second, when a shout was raised which spread like electricity, and before the prayer was finished, there was a general rejoicing all over the house [illegible]. The Lord blessed and soon the house was well nigh filled, and we carried it on as a prayer and praise meeting until noon, when we adjourned, not however until both the penitents were made to rejoice in a sense of sins pardoned. As before said, the meeting closed in our church on Saturday night The responsibility of conducting the services from Thursday night until its close devolved on me. Though under considerable bodily affliction I undertook it, and the Lord was pleased to own my labors in the conversion of souls. To him be all the glory! Of course we were greatly assisted in singing, praying and altar work by the laity, and may the Lord bless and reward them. The next day (2nd Sunday) the meeting was continued at the Moravian Church, and was kept up all the week, resulting in several conversions and some accessions to the Church."

Rev. W. B. Maness writes from Dalton as follows:

"I commenced a protracted meeting last Sunday, 1st inst, at Laurel Hill, and continued it till yesterday, 5 days in succession There were 5 conversions, 4 baptized and six received into full connection and 3 candidates for membership. I was aided part of the time by Revs. Isaac Norman, T. H. Boyle and W. F. Needham, local ministers I have held three more meetings since my last writing; at Chestnut Grove, embracing the 1st Sunday in September, which continued till Wednesday night with very good congregations most of the time. There were several penitents, 2 conversions and 1 accession. There was a good feeling manifested on the part of the members [illegible] by Rev Joseph Snody, a local minister I commenced another at Chilton school house on the 2nd Sunday evening in September, and continued till Thursday night, with no conversions or accessions, though the congregations were generally large and attentive I was aided part of the time by Rev Isaac Norman. I held another at Little Yadkin commencing on the 4th Sunday in September and continued it till Wednesday night following and had to close on account of sickness in the neighborhood. There was 1 accession and the membership was revived; a good meeting considering the circumstances. I was aided by brothers James Needham, T H Boyles and Joseph Snody. I have held eight protracted meetings in all.

There have been in all 26 accessions, 18 of which are in full connection and 9 as candidates, [illegible] baptisms of adults, 3 baptisms of infants and 17 conversions.

I have raised all the missionary money, and the Conference and bishop's funds are all secured by subscription.

We have let out a Church at Mt. Hermon for $350, of which $340 is subscribed. It is to be 24 ft by 36 feet long, framed and finished with good material.

We hope to have it finished and ready for service by the first of next year."

Rev. A A Boshamer, writes Oct 10th: "You may say through the Advocate, that we have had some good meetings on Warren circuit. At Hebron 8 professed conversion: at Cokesbury 36: at Bethlehem 7: at Prospect 3: at Shady Grove 24; and we are now in the midst of a revival at Macon, several have professed conversion and quite a number of penitents are now at the altar. Bro. Shackford assisted me at Hebron and Cokesbury. Bro Wm Brame and J. T. Gibbs also rendered me aid at Cokesbury. Bro Moses J Hunt was valuable help at Shady Grove. He is now with me at Macon We were agreeably surprised to day by the arrival of our P. E, Wm Closs, who will remain with me during the week. I am glad to say he is looking very well and preaches with great power."

Tribute to Dr. Myers

It gives us great pleasure to publish the subjoined action of the members of the Cape May Commission, representing the M E. Church, in regard to the death of their late honored associate, Dr. E. W. Myers It is a delicate and deserved tribute to his high excellence and Christian worth, and will be greatly appreciated by the immediate family and friends of our departed brother, and by the Church of which he was a valued minister:

DEATH OF REV. E. H MYERS, D. D.

The Commissioners of the Methodist Episcopal Church, having heard with profound sorrow of the death of Rev. E. H. Myers, D. D, Chairman of the Commission of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, by yellow fever, in Savannah, on Tuesday, September 26, deem it due to the memory of the honored dead to record this brief tribute of affection.

He was, until recently personally a stranger to all the members of the Commission. We, of course, knew him by reputation. He had been in public life a whole generation, during which time, as a pastor, an educator, editor, and author, he had been uniformly successful. We knew, too, that he enjoyed the full confidence of his brethren, and had the indorsement of the authorities of his Church by his position on this important Commission. But, after several days intercourse with him and his colleagues in the work of the Joint Commission, discussing the important objects contemplated in our appointment, and which so intensely interested us, occupying most of the hours of each day, and often extending far into the night, it was impossible that we should remain strangers.

While this intimate association promoted friendship among all the members of the Commission, it is no invidious to say that our departed brother is remembered with especial affection and admiration. The solemn earnestness with which he entered upon his work; the frank, transparent manner in which he opened his heart to his brethren on the subject, which engaged our attention; his intense burning desire for fraternal relations between the two chief branches of our great Methodist family; the deep religious feeling he constantly evinced; his tenderness, forbearance, and love, all moved and won our hearts. Fraternity was the almost constant theme of his conversation: it occupied his thoughts perpetually; it was with him a passion

We think we cannot be mistaken and that we do no injustice to any member of either Commission, when we declare that to Dr. Myers, more than any other one of our number, is due the unanimity of our conclusions We know that he regarded his appointment the greatest honor, and his share in our success the greatest achievement, of his life.

After the adjournment of the Joint Commission he came, at our invitation, with several of his colleagues, to this city, designing to remain several weeks. But, after the privilege of his society for a single week, which those of us resident here remember with delight—the more because his own enjoyment seemed so great—he received intelligence that the yellow fever was ravaging Savannah, the city where he was a stationed pastor. He at once said, "I must go home to my flock." Nor could he be dissuaded from this course though he knew full well the peril incurred. Once before the fearful scourge had visited the community in which he lived, and the memories of that frightful and distressing experience filled him with sad forebodings, which he could not dissipate. He, however, immediately prepared to return home, leaving the city on Friday evening, September 1

In answer to an urgent appeal to come North again during the fall and winter, he responded: "God only knows what I am going to, whether life or death If I live, I hope to see you again, but if not, we shall meet above. Goodbye."

He arrived in Savannah safely on Monday, Sept. 4. A letter written by him on that day and another ten days later describe some of the harrowing scenes of sickness, poverty, wretchedness and death, which taxed his sympathy and strength to the utmost. But, in the spirit of the Master, he was constant and untiring in carrying the consolations of the Gospel, and in administering material relief, to the deceased and dying.

Thus this good man bravely died at his post We will cherish his memory and emulate his example, and pray for a full preparation to meet him in our Father's house above.

M. D. C CRAWFORD,
E. L. FANCHER,
E Q. FULLER.
CLINTON B. FISK,
J. P. NEWMAN.

An Appeal.

TO THE MEMBERS AND FRIENDS OF THE M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH, IN THE N. C CONFERENCE:

Brethren and Friends:

We have been appointed by the Church in Kinston to make the following statement and Appeal:

Sixteen years ago the Methodist Church building in this place was burned. The Church, though weak in numbers and staggering under their loss, determined to rebuild A Committee was appointed, according to due form of law—a plan matured and agreed upon. A Basement was proposed. Objections were raised on the ground of expense. A member of the Church (Dr. Lewis Miller) offered to donate the bricks for that purpose, and, on this ground, the Basement was added. The bricks were bought by Dr. Miller, (as the Church understood it,) on his own account. The Church edifice was partially built, but the fury of the war prevented its completion. After the war, legal advice was taken by the Trustees, who paid off such debts as they could find, never dreaming that they were held responsible for the bricks going to build the Basement, or that any indebtedness on that score existed. A Parsonage was built, and the Church building completed, after great labor and sacrifice. They then began to FEEL SETTLED AS A CHURCH.

Now, after years of dead silence, a claim is raked up against us—a suit entered against the Trustees for the bricks purchased by Dr. Lewis Miller, now a citizen of another State, who swears he purchased them on his own individual account, and donated them to the Church. The case was tried before Judge Seymour. Our Discipline was ignored on the trial by the Judge—kicked out of Court, as "a little set of rules made by a Church meeting to turn out a member." Our witnesses were ruled out; Dr. Miller's affidavit was rejected; Judgment was taken. We appealed: the Judgment was affirmed, thus saddling us with a debt of nearly one thousand dollars, in the most stringent times we have ever felt. Now is a fearful trial with us as a Church.

Brethren and Friends, will you help Kinston in this hour of trial? We feel that our Appeal is just and right, and that you will help us. We feel that injustice has brought us this trouble, and not any want of confority to law on our part. Send what you can give or get to the Pastor of the M E. Church South in Kinston, N. C We will need the money by the last of Nov., 1876. Let us hear from you in a liberal donation.

Respectfully your friends and brethren.

C C. DODSON,
T. A. HARVEY,
T. L. HARTSFIELD,
R. C. HAY,
J. B WEBB,
J. M. WHITE,
J. W. COLLINS,
J. S. MIDYETTE,
Committee.

Having some knowledge of the affairs of the Church in Kinston for the last seven years, and knowing their self sacrifice in the support of the Gospel, their zeal for the cause of Christ, and the immense opposition with which they have had to contend in their labor of love for the salvation of souls, I do most heartily commend the above Appeal for help to the people of God everywhere, and especially to Methodists thoughout the bounds of the N. C. Conference.

E. A. YATES, P E.
New Berne District.

Religious Intelligence

The Presbyterian missionaries in India, representing in all eleven branches of the Presbyterian Church, have decided to form a "Presbyterian Alliance"

The great-grandson of Dr. Carey, the pioneer of English missions in India, has recently become the medical missionary of the Baptist mission at Delhi.

A pastoral letter from Archbishop Bourget was read in all the Roman Catholic churches of Montreal recently, announcing his retirement from the episcopate. His official title is hereafter to be Archbishop of Marianopolis.

A San Francisco paper reports in one issue the baptism of ten Chinamen—three in Sacramento, four in Los Angeles, and three in San Francisco.

The Boston First Baptist Association has appointed a committee to investigate the practice of the Warren Avenue Church in relations to it terms of communion This is the Church of which Rev. George F. Pentecost is pastor.

A tremendous "Amen" from his wife congregation is said to have followed Mr. Spurgeon's prayer, the other day, that the Turks might be driven out of Europe, and the whole of the Mohammedan power swept away from off the face of the earth.

Two hundred years ago the Friends, or Quakers, were three times as numerous as they are to day.

It is said that the dying Cardinal Antonelli will leave 20,000,000 francs, besides objects of art to the extent of a further 1,500,000 francs.

The Annual Meeting of the American Missionary Association will be held in Fitchburgh, Mass., commencing on Wednesday, Oct. 25. The sermon will be preached by Rev. N. J. Borton, D. D, of Hartford, Conn. Gen. Clinton B. Fisk will deliver an address.

A BEAUTIFUL THOUGHT.—The sea is the largest of all cemeteries, and its slumberers sleep without a monument. All other grave yards in other lands show some distinction between the great and the small, the rich and the poor; but in the great ocean cemetery the king and the clown, prince and peasant, are all alike distinguished. The same waves roll over all; the same requiem by minstrels of the ocean is sung to their honor. Over ther remains the same sun shines, and there, unmarked, the weak and the powerful, the planned and unhonored, will sleep on until awakened by the same trumpet.—Selected.

HEROIC PASTORS.—The death of Rev. Dr. Myers, of Savannah, while at his post of duty, attending the sick and dying, has called forth from the press many tributes to his devotion. The Philadelphia Presbyterian referring to Dr. Myers and to Rev. D K. M'Farland, of the Presbyterian Church Savannah, says: "Both were absent when the yellow fever broke out, but both hastened to give the consolations of religion to their stricken and bereaved flocks. Dr Myers is dead, and Mr. M Farland has been very sick, but at the last date was slightly better. Such men should be honored both by the Church and the world There is no purer courage to be seen in the world than the courage which confronts a pestilence calmly, and quietly follows the path of duty when it leads into the midst of the shadows of death."

Getting Ready for the Fair.

Every mail brings numerous entries for the fair. The books are now regularly opened, and persons who design contributing are invited to call at the secretary's office, and have their cards of entry prepared, or if not convenient, the object may be attained, by sending a list through the city mail to the secretary This avoids confusion fair week, and saves time to the exhibitor.

Life members' tickets will be ready to-day. Any supervisor who will be unable to serve is requested to inform the secretary as early as possible.

Four fine horses entered by Mr. Myers, from the vicinity of Goldsboro, were assigned places Wednesday at the grounds. They are for the races next week, and look well.

By a letter from Jas. Norwood, Esq., of Hillsboro, Wednesday night, we learn that he enters largely in the cattle, sheep and swine departments. He also brings five handsome horses.

S. D. Booth, of Knap of Reeds, Granville county, sends his three year old saddle horse, Black Hawk.

Wm. Grimes, Esq., of this city, made twenty-two entries in the cattle department on Wednesday, besides other items. Some of these are superb thoroughbred animals with pedigrees attached. It is an example of interest in a public work, worthy of following.

The supplementary list is going out rapidly. We advise the ladies to send to the office for one. It contains much of interest to them. Let Floral Hall be filled to overflowing.

W. H. Morriss & Co, made some thirty entries on Wednesday of hand some furniture.

R. S. Pullen, Esq, has generously given the use of his hall over Higgs' store for the headquarters of the Portsmouth Cadets.

Capt Denson desires to acknowledge the courtesy of the North Carolina Home Insurance Company, in tendering to the North Carolina Agricultural Society, the use of the room in rear of the office of Seaton Gale as a reading room and headquarters for the editorial fraternity, who are expected to attend the fair. Arrangements have been made to cordially welcome our brethren of the quill. Let there be a full gathering

Prof Kerr writes that he will return from the Blue Ridge in time for the meetings of Thursday and Friday nights, when his essay will be delivered.

Aug C. Pracht, Treasurer Chesapeake Guano Company, of Baltimore, has donated a ton of Chesapeake Guano to the society.

Let our manufacturers of tobacco be on hand A splendid sewing machine, valne $75, will be given as a premium for the best exhibit See the supplementary list.

We are glad to welcome back Gen. R F Hoke, who he been absent some weeks He has taken charge of the work on the fair grounds and is pushing it vigorously. He will enter a beautiful Alderney that will be well worth seeing

Dr. Eugene Grissom, Superintendent of the North Carolina Insane Asylum, has rendered valuable and highly appreciated service to the society. He will make liberal contributions to the entry list this season.

Prof. Kimberly sends a brilliant display of Western apples from old Buncombe, as we learn by a letter Wednesday night.

Now let everybody resolve that Raleigh shall do her part nobly—all our business men, our sturdy and faithful mechanics and our fair ladies. The secretary is empowered to make every needful arrangement for the comfort and convenience of the ladies who assist.

Rufus H. Dunn, Esq., takes the place of Mr. W. F Askew, as supervisor of stock, who has been called away on important business.

NORTH CAROLINA.

James Glenn Rainey, of Germanton, formerly of Caswell Co., died in Germanton week before last.

Col. Buck Thicker, of Raleigh, while in Rome, Italy, bought a walking cane for each of the pastors in Raleigh.

Elias Powell, the murder of Cohen at Whitaker's, was again respited by the Governor after having been taken to the gallows and the rope adjusted about his neck.

John W. Shipp, son of Rev. Dr. Shipp of this State, has been elected tutor in Vanderbilt University.

Rev. R. L. Abernethy is traveling and soliciting funds for Rutherford College.

Newberne sent $138.78 to the Savannah sufferes.

Black Mountain was covered with snow on the 1st inst.

Diptheria has appeared in the South-Eastern part of Wake county, though not in a malignant form.

The 212th session of Orange Presbytery met at Pittsboro last week.

The Fair of the Western North Carolina Agricultural and Mechanical Association will be held at Salisbury on the 24th, 25th, 26th, 27th inst.

There are two old colored women in Chatham county said to be respectively 106 and 119 years of age.

Wilson sent $50 to Savannah sufferers.

The 14th Annual Fair of the Cumberland county Agricultural Society will be held at Fayetteville on the 14th, 15th, 16th, and 17th of November.

Frost has been general throughout the State.

Diptheria continues to prevail to an alarming extent in and around Rockingham.

The store of Mr. E. B. Hood, of Goldsboro, was consumed by fire on the 9th inst.

Archie C. Dalton, son of Rev. P. H. Dalton, the Presbyterian minister at High Point, died at the Union Theological Seminary in Virginia, recently. He was graduated last Summer at Davidson College and had begun the study of Theology. He was a promising and much esteemed young man, and his parents have the warm sympathy of all who know them.

A child was born in Wilkes county recently, having two well developed heads and necks. It lived but a few minutes.

The Oxford Torch Light intimates that T. B. Kingsbury, Esq., is the Editorial writer of the Wilmington Star, since the retirement of Cicero W. Harris, Esq.

J. P. H. Adams, Esq, one of the Republican nominees for the Legislature from Wake, has published a card announcing his withdrawal from the party and his alliance with the Democrats.

Adam Carricker, of Cabarrus Co., eighty years of age, and soldier of the war of 1812 was found dead in the road near Concord on the 11th inst. He was thrown from his horse, a bag of meal falling on his head and killing him.

The Methodist ladies of Goldsboro are making preparations for a grand Centennial Tea Party.

The Federal Court at Asheville will not meet until Nov. 13th, the time having been changed by Judge Dick.

Hail fell to the depth of two inches in Stokes county week before last.

Miss C. A. McDaniel, one of Raleigh's most amiable and accomplished ladies, and a graduate of Vassar College, edits the Orphan's Friend, the paper published at the Oxford Orphan Asylum.

"John Britt, of Oxford, has a three legged dog." Is that Britt the newspaper man? If so it is in accordance with the fitness of newspaper things that he should have a TRIPOD.

Union Factory in Randolph county has been supplied with new machinery, employs 175 hands and can now work 1700 pounds of cotton daily.

North Carolina and Virginia cotton planters report to the Norfolk cotton Exchange that unfavorable weather has caused rust and rot, in some instances, to cotton and sprouts in bolls.

It is intimated that Gov. Brogden will appoint Col. L. W. Humphrey to fill the vacancy on the Supreme Court Bench caused by the resignation of Judge Settle.

Mr. J D. Smith and wife, fromerly of Anson county, now living in Pender county, were accidentally poisoned by a physician who administered strichnine instead of quinine. The mistake was discovered in time to save Mrs Smith and a visitor at the house, but Mr. Smith was a corpse before the proper antidote arrived.

As Judge Settle, R C Badger and J. Redpath were going to the speaking place at Law's Store, in Wake county, the horses took fright and ran furiously about two miles. Mr. Badger jumped out at the start and was not hurt; Judge Settle also jumped falling on his side, hurting his hands and breaking his watch into pieces: The drivers jumped out and one of them was badly hurt. A demijohn of whiskey next followed and was shattered to prices; but Mr. Redpath kept his seat until the horses stopped and was not hurt.

Mr A. J. Loftin has been nominated by the Democrats for the Senate from Greene and Lenoir.

General News.

There are said to be six hundred finger-nail doctors in Paris.

According to an old legend, frost will come six weeks after the first katydid is heard.

Bayard Taylor has been present at all the world's fair's. He likes the Philadelphia show best.

One span of the railroad bridge, 180 feet long, over the Tennessee river, at London has been blown down.

The railroads running into Philadelphia have brought 1 635 000 persons to that city within the past thirty days.

Some old money are being steadily contributed in aid of the sufferers at Savannah, by all classes of our citizens.

A doctor said, at the Dental Science Convention, that in countries where people lived largely out of doors their teeth are free from decay.

The stock of oil in the oil regions, as gauged under the supervision of the exchanges of Titusville, Oil City, Parker's and Petrolia is 3,164 000 barrels.

An Indianapolis vinegar manufacturer has purchased 10,000 bushels of apples in Fayette and Rush counties, at 14 cents per bushel, to make into cider.

A New London lady has bought her a large Newfoundland dog to hold up her train when she is crossing muddy or dusty streets.

Josh Billings says. "About as mean a peshun as enny man can put himself into is to work all the time for the devil and look all the time to the Lord for his pay."

The nickle deposit near the Lancaster county, Pennsylvania, is considered the largest yet discovered in the world, and the only deposit of the ore worked in America.

A worthy Quaker once wrote: "I expect to pass through this world but once. If, therefore, there be any kindness I can show or any good thing I can do to any fellow human being, let me do it now. Let me not defer or neglect it, for I will not pass this way again."

Marriages.

In the Methodist Church in Thomasville on the night of 28th Sept. by Rev. P. H. Herman Mr. C. F. Saelly to Miss S. J. Moore, all of Thomasville, Davidson Co. N. C.

Married Oct. 5th 1876, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. P. Tomlin, by Rev. Thos. A. Coon, Mr. W. F. Millsaps and Miss Mollie S. Tomlin, all of Statesville N C

Married in Davie co, on the 5th inst, at the residence of the groom, Geo. W. Rickard to Susan Charlotte Smith, by Rev. Jacob Sneek.

Winston Sentinel please copy.

Married by Rev. J. R. Griffith, on the 20th of Sept., Mr. O T. Powell to Miss Nannie Sledge, all of Warrenton, N. C.

On the 4th of Oct., by the same, at the residence of the bride's father, Miss Pauline Reeks daughter of Rev. T. B. Reeks of N. C. Conference, and William Knox Hunter, of Wake county, N. C.

Deaths.

Obituary notices of twenty lines are inserted without charge The excess over twenty lines of eight words is charged for at the rate of 10 cents per line. Count the lines and allow eight words to the line. In this way you may always know the amount to enclose. Resolutions of respect are subject to the same rule.

Died, in Richlands N. C., on the 27th ult. James White, a veteran of the war of 1812, aged 87 years. For fifty two years he was a consistent member of the Methodist Church, and commanded the love and respect of all who knew him. Clad in the sunset beauty of a pure and stainless life, sustained by an unfaltering trust, he went down to his grave, "as one who wraps the drapery of his mantle about him, and lies down to pleasant dreams."

IN MEMORIAM.

At the third Quarterly Meeting held for Roanoke circuit at Ebenezer Church, in Halifax county N. C., a committee was appointed to prepare and report at their next regular meeting, an obituary notice as an expression of love and esteem for the lamented late Rice B. Pierce, and in obedience thereto we beg leave respectfully to submit the following:

Capt. Rice B. Pierce, a native of Southampton county, Virginia, removed in early life to Halifax county N. C. where he spent a long, useful and happy life, and in the eighty ninth year of his age, worn down by the infirmities of age, laying aside submissively the cares of life, he breathed out his life peacefully in the midst of the home circle at Asp'n Grove, the place of his residence, on the 17th day of July 1876, full of honors and of years.

He was a captain in the war of 1812. He served the county of Halifax as a representative in the Legislature of N. C., and for a number of years was chairman of the County Court of Halifax.

He lived and died a consistent member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and for the last fifty years was a prominent steward on Roanoke circuit.

Remarkable for his urbanity of manner, neatness of person, punctuality in the discharge of all the business relations of life and for a generous hospitality that knew no reasonable limits, as many a stranger well remembers, as well as a large circle of friends and acquaintances, that they always found a hearty welcome at his hospitable board.

And while your committee are happy in the belief that in the death of our beloved and venerated brother, that our loss is his eternal gain, yet we would tender most affectionately to his family, his children, relatives and friends, for ourselves personally as well as for the Body we have the honor to represent, our heart felt sympathies for the loss of one we have known so long and loved so well.

THOS. W. HARRISS,
JNO. W. HEITINSTALL,
E A THORNE. } Rev.

At the 4th Quarterly Meeting held for Roanoke circuit at Bethel Church, Oct. 7th 1876, it was ordered by the Conference that the above be sent for publication to the Raleigh Christian Advocate and Roanoke News.

WM. CLOSS, Pres.
E. A. THORNE, Sec.

The Christian A

PUBLISHED IN THE CITY OF WEDNESDAY MORNING, T
PAID.

Our Agent
All the traveling and local preach of the North Carolina Conference a Agents. Any person sending us one year, will receive the paper fr

Our Corre
Communications for publication written, and on but one side o of the office should be addressed
ADVOCATE.

How to R
In sending money, all registered letter, post office or of registration, or Post Office from the amount in hand. If than herein specified, it will be

INDEX TO NEW ADVE

Eliot & Co.
E N. Freshman & Bro
We take pleasure in co
our readers L. M. Yearby in first class groceries
call.
Messrs Petty & Jon their new stock of fa goods. They keep first and sell at bottom figures
J. P. Gulley Esq ann days issue of the Advoc rivals of seasonable good a full assortment of ready ing.
Mr. Oettinger, the Mill
ceived his fall stock of mi selected by Mrs Oettinge
Read the advertisement.
Carpenter and Ell
wood and coal at chea prices. In providing a w let these reliable gentle part of your patronage.
J. M. Rosenbaum, the received his supply of fa clothing which he will s prices as can be had in on him.
Heller Bros have a l
gant stock of shoes, boo for men, ladies and child with trunks, valises etc found at No. 31 Fayet and good bargains can b managing partner here and reliable gentleman patronage.
Read the advertisem
Law & Co. proprietors o
Store on Fayetteville
Law has just returned f where he purchased a varied stock of goods visit to the store will the goods and prices w
Rev. T. P. Chines will notice the large d advertisement in refere
TARRH CURE. Mr. Ch
many years a great suffe disease, and at times d life. By study and discovered a system disease, which has baffl physicians for many ye to say, that his meth mended by every practit notice it has been brou is certain, thorough a
Mr. Childs is the pastor and has been drawn int ture of his Catarrh Cur from numbers of friends to be freed from this h ease, as well by a desire to alleviate, as far as m power, the suffering and human family. Mr. C tion and character se confidence of his patron sured that they are not man that has a patent simple remedy. Read ment carefully and exam
tificates.
During the recent hot
St. Mary's river, N. numbers So intensely wa
ed that salmon were seen ist of the tepid streams on An artificial chicken hatc
Cincinnati. It consists of holding four hundred eggs
The temperature is regulate that it never varies from one hundred. The APPOINTM
HILLSBORO D
4TH ROUN
Durham sta.
Almance ct Phillips Gro
Pittsboro ct Chatham Cha
Deep River ct Providence,
Cahill & H River, Mt Pleas
Flat River ct Orange Gro
Person ct Mt. Tirzah.
Leasburg ct Lea's Chapel,
Yanceyville ct Shady Grove
Hillsboro sta
L. L. I
G
FAYETTEVILLE
4TH ROUND.
Back Log ct Cokesbury.
Bee Dee Philadelphia.
Rockingham Rockingham.
Robeson.
Lumberton Laurenburg
WASHINGTON
4TH ROU
Washington,
Greenville at Greenville.
Tarboro at McKendree
Warrenton, Sept
Roanoke, at Bethel,
Warren at Cokesbury
Williamston at Hamilton
Plymouth and Jamesville
at Jamesville.
Columbia, at Columbia.
Mattamuskeet, at Fairfield
Bath at Asbury.
Washington at night on
NEWBERN D
4TH ROU
Kinston Station,
Newbern Station,
Beaufort Station,
Straits,
Snow Hill, Rainbow.
Wilson station.
Carteret, Harlowe's.
Pease, Aurora,
Craven, Beach Grove, Tu
Piney Grove,
Jones, Oak Grove.
Mt. Olive Friday.
Wayne, Fremont,
Goldsboro Sab. night &
GREENSBORO
4TH ROUND.
Winston sta.
Pomona ct at Tabor
Davidson ct Wesley Cha
North Guilford Muir's
Madison, Madison,
N.

The Christian Advocate

PUBLISHED IN THE CITY OF RALEIGH EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING, TERMS $2.20 POSTAGE PAID.

Our Agents.

All the traveling and local preachers in the bounds of the North Carolina Conference are our authorized Agents. Any person sending us ten subscribers, for one year, will receive the paper free.

Our Correspondents.

Communications for publication should be carefully written, and on but one side of the sheet. All letters on the office should be addressed to the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

How to Remit.

In sending money, all amounts should be sent in registered letter, post office order or check. The cost of registration, or Post office order can be deducted from the amount in hand. If money is sent otherwise than herein specified, it will be at the sender's risk.

INDEX TO NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Eliot & Co.

E. N. Freshman & Bros.

We take pleasure in commending to our readers L. M. Yearby, Esq., dealer in first class groceries. Give him a call Messrs Petty & Jones advertise their new stock of fall and winter goods. They keep first class goods and sell at bottom figures.

J. P. Gulley Esq announces in to-days issue of the ADVOCATE, fresh arrivals of seasonable goods, including a full assortment of ready made clothing.

Mr. Œttinger, the Milliner, has received his fall stock of millinery goods, selected by Mrs. Œttinger, in person. Read the advertisement.

Carpenter and Earl will furnish wood and coal at cheapest market prices. In providing a winter supply, let these reliable gentlemen have a part of your patronage.

J. M. Rosenbaum, the Clothier, has received his supply of fall and winter clothing which he will sell at as cheap prices as can be had in the city. Call on him.

Heller Bros have a large and elegant stock of shoes, boots, gaiters etc., for men, ladies and children, together with trunks, valises etc. They can be found at No. 31 Fayetteville street and good bargains can be had. The managing partner here is a pleasant and reliable gentleman and invites patronage.

Read the advertisement of Messrs Law & Co. proprietors of the China Store on Fayetteville street. Mr. Law has just returned from the North where he purchased a complete and varied stock of goods in his line. A visit to the store will repay one and the goods and prices will satisfy.

Rev. T. P. CHILDS.—Our readers will notice the large double-column advertisement in reference to a Canada Cure. Mr. Childs was for many years a great sufferer from this disease, and at times despaired of his life. By study and experiment he discovered a system of cure of this disease, which has baffled the skill of physicians for many years. Suffice it to say, that his method is recommended by every practitioner to whose notice it has been brought. The cure is certain, thorough and scientific. Mr. Childs is the pastor of a church, and has been drawn into the manufacture of his Catarrh Cure by the calls from members of friends who desired to be freed from this loathsome disease as well by a desire on his part to ameliorate, as far as might be in his power, the suffering and distres of the human family. Mr. Child's reputation and character secure him the confidence of his patrons, who are assured that they are not dealing with a man that has a patent to sell, but a simple remedy. Read the advertisement carefully and examine the certificates. ady 1t

Among the recent hot weather salmon in Mary's river, N. S., died of the heat in masses. So intensely was the waters heated that salmon were seen throwing themselves into the cold streams on the shore dying.

An artificial chicken hatcher is exhibited in Boston. It consists of a large glass box holding two hundred eggs on wire trays. The temperature is regulated so accurately that it never varies half a dozen degrees while hatched. The machine works well

APPOINTMENTS.

HILLSBORO DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

[illegible]	Sept.	23-24
[illegible] Phillip's Chapel,	Oct.	1
[illegible] Chatham Church,	"	7- 8
[illegible] River c. Providence,	"	14-15
[illegible] & H River, Mt. Pleasant,	"	21-22
[illegible] River ct. Orange Church,	"	28-29
[illegible] at Mt. Tirzah,	Nov.	4- 5
[illegible] at Lea's Chapel,	"	11-12
[illegible] at Sandy Grove,	"	18 19
[illegible]	"	25- 26

L. L. HENDREN P. E.
Chapel Hill, N. C.

FAYETTEVILLE DISTRICT
4TH ROUND—IN PART.

[illegible] Cokesbury,	"	14-15
[illegible] Hillsdale,	"	21-22
[illegible] Rockingham,	"	28-29
[illegible]	Nov.	4- 5
[illegible] Lumberton,	"	11-12

J. S. NELSON, P. E
Fayetteville, N. C

WASHINGTON DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

[illegible]	Sept.	2- 3
[illegible] Greenville,	"	9 10
[illegible] McKendree	"	16-17
[illegible]	Sept. 30, & Oct.	- 1
[illegible] Bethel,	"	7- 8
[illegible] Hackney,	"	14-15
[illegible] Hamilton,	"	21-22
[illegible] and Jamesville,	"	24 25
[illegible]	"	28-29
[illegible] Columbia,	"	28-29
[illegible] at Fairfield,	Nov	4- 5
[illegible]	"	11-12
[illegible] night on	"	-12

WM. CLOSS, P. E.
Toisnot, N. C.

NEWBERN DISTRICT.
THIRD ROUND.

[illegible]	Sept.	16-17
[illegible]	"	23-24
[illegible]	Oct.	7- 8
[illegible]	"	14-15
[illegible] Hillsborough,	"	21-22
[illegible]	"	28-29
[illegible] Grove, Tues & Wed.	Nov.	4- 5
[illegible]	"	11 12
[illegible]	"	14 15
[illegible]	"	18-19
[illegible]	"	18-19
[illegible]	"	-21
[illegible]	"	25-26
[illegible] night & Mon.	"	-27

E. A. YATES, P. E.
Beaufort, N. C.

GREENSBORO DISTRICT.
THIRD ROUND.—Q. M. IN PART.

[illegible]	Sept.	23-24
[illegible]	Oct.	7 8
[illegible] Chapel,	"	14-15
[illegible] Wesley Chapel,	"	21-22
[illegible]	"	28-29

N. H. D. WILSON, P. E.

CHARLOTTE DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Monroe ct. at Prospect,	Dec	7 8
Lincolnville ct. at Shiloh,	"	14-15
Wadesboro sta.	"	18
South Charlotte ct. at Zion,	"	21-22
Stanley ct,	"	-27
Albemarle ct	"	28-29
Mt Pleasant ct	Nov.	- 1
Concord ct,	"	4- 5
Asheville ct,	"	-10
Wadesboro ct at Popular Hill.	"	11 12
Pleasant Grove ct. at Wesley Chapel	"	14-15
Pineville ct. at Harrisons	"	-17
Monroe sta	"	18-19
Charlotte	"	24-29

The Local Preachers will please remember the discipline requires that they shall report in writing the exercise and result of their labours to the Four Quarterly Conferences

W. H. ROBERTS, P. E.
Monroe, N. C.

SHELBY DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Columbus,	Aug.	26-27
Rutherfordton,		-29
Happy Home,	Sept.	2- 3
Caldwell, C. M.	"	9-10
South Fork, C. M.	"	16-17
Dallas, C. M.	"	23-24
Double Shoals, C. M.	Sept. 30,	Oct. - 1
Cherry Mountain, C. M.	"	7- 8
Shelby ct. C. M.	"	14-15
Upper Broad River,	"	-15
Marion (Dedication	"	21-22
Shelby station,	"	28-29
Morganton,	Nov.	4- 5
Dysartsville,	"	- 8
Lenoir station,	"	11-12
Lincolnton,	"	11-12
Rock spring,	"	18-19
Newton,	"	25-26

R. G. BARRETT, P. E.
Shelby, N. C.

SALISBURY DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Statesville sta.	Sept.	9 10
Statesville ct, Salem,	"	16-17
Yadkinville, Center (2. M.)	Oct.	1- 2
Mt. Airy & S. Mission, Salem.	"	7- 8
Surry ct. & B R. Mission, Thompson's	"	14 15
Wilkes ct. Wilksboro,	"	21-22
Alexander ct. Liberty (2. M.)	"	23 24
Iredell ct. Eagle Mills,	"	28-29
Mooresville, ct. McKendree's,	Nov.	4- 5
Salisbury, ct. Harris'	"	11-12
Salisbury, sta.	"	12-13
Davie ct. South Grove,	"	18-19
Mocksville ct. South River	"	25 26

D. R. BRITON, P. E.
Statesville, N. C.

WILMINGTON DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Magnolia, at Salem,	Sept.	8 10
Wilmington, 5th Street,	"	16-17
Cokesbury, at Bethany,	"	20-24
Kenansville, at Wesley Chapel
Sept 30, and	Oct.	1
Smithville, at Smithville,	"	7 8
Onslow, at Tabernacle,	"	14-15
Wilmington, Front Street,	"	21-22
Elizabeth, at Bladen Springs,	"	28 29
Bladen at Antioch,	Nov.	4 5
Whiteville and Waccamaw Miss.	"	11, 12
Fupsall at Rocky Point,	"	18 19
Clinton, at Goshen,	"	25-26

W. S. BLACK
Magnolia, N. C.

RALEIGH DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND—1876.

Raleigh, Person St.,	Aug	26-27
Granville Mt Tabor,	Sept.	2- 3
Henderson Tabernacle,	"	16 17
Youngsville,	"	23 24
Rolesville Rolesville, Sept 30th,	Oct.	1
Raleigh Edenton St.,	"	7- 8
Cary, Holland's,	"	14 15
Louisburg,	"	21-22
Tar River Franklinton,	"	28-29
Rocky Mt & New Hope, at Toisnot,	Nov.	4 5
Smithfield,	"	11-12

J. P. MOORE, P. E.
Warrenton, N. C.

COMMERCIAL REPORT.

WHOLESALE CASH PRICES.

Office of CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE
Oct. 3rd, 1876

REMARKS

Business greatly improved. Country produce offered in quantities; especially in exchange for groceries

General Market.

FLOUR, North Carolina $7@8.50
CORN 75 to 80
OATS 45 to 50
BACON Sides, Standard 15 1-2.
" Dundo 13 1-2.
BACON, N. C. cured round, 14 to 15.
" " hams 14 1-2 rolls
BULK C. R. sides, 12 1-2
" shoulders, 9 to 9 1-2
LARD, North Carolina, 16 1-2
" Western tierces, 11 1-2@
" " kegs, 13 1-2@17 1-2
COFFEE, Prime Rio, 21 1-2
" Fair Rio, 20
SYRUP, common, 37 1-2
MOLASSES, Cuba, 50.
SALT $2.25.
CHEESE, Cream, 15 16
" Factory, 17.
" Dairy, none.
NAILS, on basis for 10d, $4.00.
SUGAR A, 11 1-4.
" Extra C, 11 1-4.
" Yellow, 10@11
LEATHER, Sole 27 1-2@30
HIDES, green, 7@8.
" dry, 13 14
TALLOW, 7@8
POTATOES, sweet 75
" Irish, $1.00@$1.25
OATS, shelled, 50
" sheaf, $1.35
FODDER, old, $1.50. New 1.25
HAY, N. C. choice, 1.50
CHICKENS, grown, 30
" young, 20@30
EGGS, 20
BUTTER, Country, 25@30
FISH, Mullets, $6 to 6.50.
" Cut Herrings, 7@7.5
" Mackerel, new family, $1 .50
BEESWAX, 25.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

BEAUTIFUL STOCK OF

FALL & WINTER CLOTHING!

—AND—

GENTS FURNISHING GOODS!

IS NOW BEING OPENED

AT

J. M. ROSENBAUM'S

CLOTHING HOUSE,

Corner Fayetteville and Hargett Streets.

Thanking the good citizens of Raleigh and Wake county, for their liberal patronage in the past, I assure them that I shall endeavor to merit it in the future by keeping good Goods at the lowest living prices. Give me a call before buying elsewhere. We 1876. 1876.

DRY FALL GOODS.

We have just received our complete stock of Goods for the Fall and Winter trade.

We call the attention of ladies to our superior stock of Dress Goods, which are much lower than ever known before.

Our Black Alpacas are of the very best quality and at low prices.

Our Stock of Ladies Cloaks is very large, of the very latest styles and are selling rapidly.

LADIES' TIES OF THE VERY LATEST STYLE.

A Handsome line of Ruffs and Ladies Collars and Cuffs.

Gents Cassimeres, all Grades.

Large lot of Gents Latest style

Silk Hats at $5.50, the best quality in the city, also a broad brim

Boss Felt Hat

Canfield Boots and Shoes,

the best made,

A Large lot of Cloth, Velvet and Leather Belts.

Special Inducements offered to Merchants buying in the State. Our wholesale department is complete.

PETTY & JONES,

30 Fayetteville Street,

Raleigh, N. C.

Oct 11 tf

SEND TEN CENTS to L A Hirst & Co., Fine Art Dealers, Boston, for "The Beautiful Home," (Art Hints, and List of more than 2,000 Engravings, etc. Oct 18th 3-t

READ! READ!

In order to compete with New York houses and to keep up with the Times,

ISAAC ŒTTINGER

has determined to put down prices, and less money shall flow Northward in the future. To prove that I am in earnest, and soon what I say, I will give a partial list of my prices:

Straw Hats from 40 cents up.
Felt Hats from 75 cents up.
Ruffs with lace edge from 10 cents per yard up.
Ribbons 1½ inches wide from 12½ cents up, and other widths in proportion.
Corsets from 35 cents up.
Collars from 7 cents up.
Zephyr from 15½ cents up, only imported.
Real Hair Braids from 50 cents up.
Infants' Merino Cloaks from $1.50 up.
Infants' Crochet Caps from 75 cents up.
Infants' Dresses from $1.00 up.
Worsted Fringe for trimming dresses from 12½c. up.
Kid Gloves from 75 cents up, 2 buttons.
Hamburg Edgings from 6 cents up.

I could name a thousand more articles, but I can only assure the public that my prices will be uniform in every branch, and all I ask is a call.

MY STOCK IS LARGE AND NEW.

ISAAC ŒTTINGER,
45 Fayetteville Street,
RALEIGH, N. C.

Oct. 18-tf.

Oct 18-3m

ISAAC ŒTTINGER

Our Sales of Crockery, China, Glass, Silver Ware, Table Cutlery, Lamps, Vases, &c. have gone far beyond our expectations, and have brought ORDERS and CUSTOMERS from nearly every county in the State.

Fire-less Goods, fully guaranteed, [no other kept] bought in New York at PANIC PRICES and BARGAINS in job lots are sold very cheap.

We Defy Competition in price or quality, and will sell OUR SILVER CASTORS, SPOONS, FORKS, KNIVES, &c. THE LARGEST STOCK IN THE STATE.

Cheaper than you can buy in the State or out of it.

Small Crates for Merchants put up here.

Let every one call or write us before buying.

LAW & CO'S NEW RALEIGH CHINA STORE,

IN SPITE OF HARD TIMES IS A SUCCESS.

LAW & CO.

RALEIGH, N. C.

1876. 1876.

Fall and WINTER GOODS

—AT—

J. P. GULLEY'S,

DEALER IN

Dry Goods, Notions, Boots, Shoes, Hand Made. Clothing Department up Stairs.

Fayetteville St. and South Corner Market Square,

RALEIGH, N. C.

I wish to say to the Ladies that I am Sole Agent here for Frank Leslie's Journal

CUT PAPER PATTERNS.

Have stock of these Patterns on hand, comprising all the latest Novelties for Ladies, Misses, Children and Boys, for every description of Dress.

Circulars sent on application free.

J. P. GULLEY

Oct 18 tf.

CARPENTER & EARL,

DEALERS IN

Coal, Wood and Lumber,

At Western Terminus, Hargett Street.

Best Rolash Egg and Nut Coal per ton of 2240 pounds, Delivered, $9.00
Stove Coal 2240 pounds, " 9.50
Smith " per ton, " 9.00
Hardwood, per cord, " 4.00
Pinewood " " " 3.00
Lumber at low figures.

Orders may be left at Carmers Drug Store, or sent to the yard, and shall receive prompt attention.

Oct 18-6m,

L. M. YEARBY,

DEALER IN

CHOICE FAMILY GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,

AND COUNTRY PRODUCE,

Nos. 9, and 11 South Side of Hargett Street, Consignments of all kinds of Merchandise Solicited.

Oct 18-2m.

ADVERTISING AGENTS
186 W. FOURTH ST.
CINCINNATI O.
ESTIMATES FURNISHED FREE.
SEND FOR OUR MANUAL.

WHAT NEXT!

A CONSUMPTIVE CURED.—When death was hourly expected all remedies having failed and his H. JAMES was experimenting, he accidentally made a preparation of INDIAN HEMP, which cured his only child of consumption. He now gives this recipe free on receipt of two stamps to pay expenses. Hemp relieves night sweat, nausea at the stomach, and will break a fresh cold in twenty-four hours. Address CRADDOCK & Co., 1,032 Race street, Philadelphia, naming this paper.

Oct 11 3 m

B. T. BABBITT'S BABY SOAP.

Only the purest vegetable oils used in its manufacture.

No artificial and deceptive odors to cover common and deleterious ingredients. UNSURPASSED for the TOILET and the BATH. Used in building children, it will prevent eruptions, keep the skin soft and smooth, contribute to health, and preserve infantile beauty. Do away with all poisonous, crude, and deleterious ingredients. A certain preventive of chafing, itching, &c., in children. Guarantee of half the crying and froseness of babyhood. Guarantee of half the fuss in every mother and family in Christendom, packed in boxes of 12 cakes at 50 cts. each, and sent free to any address on receipt of $6.50. Address B. T. Babbitt, N.Y.

For sale by all Druggists. B. T. BABBITT, N.Y.

Oct 11 1y.

JAMES Jone and Early Alexander, the two EARLIEST PEA HE KNOWS. 2 weeks earlier than Hides—Trees per 10 qt. Per 100 $15. Per 1000 $125.00.

Also Texas Mammoth Melon seed (average weight of melons 50 lbs) 30 c., per package, 5 packs $1.25 post paid. All other stock at low rates Catalogue free. Address J. & W. K. JUDEFIND, Edgerville, Kent Co., Md.

Oct 11 4 t

LADIES & MISSES GAITERS, &c

Another supply by Express of Cloth Gaiters, Ties and Slippers which we continue to sell at our very low prices.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER.

June 23-tf.

Catarrh Cured!

Send stamp for full information, Price lists, etc., to DR. T. P. CHILDS, TROY, MIAMI CO., O.

CATARRH A DANGEROUS DISEASE!

CATARRH is a dangerous disease; yet it can be cured by the use of my "Catarrh Specific." Thousands suffer without knowing the nature of this almost universal complaint. It is an ulceration of the head. Its indications are hawking, spitting, weak, inflamed eyes, frequent soreness of the throat, dry and heat of the nose, matter running from the head down the throat, often in its first stages, but more commonly in its advanced stages, attended with pains in chest or left side, and under the shoulder blades. Indigestion usually attends Catarrh; a hacking cough and colds are very common. Some have all these; others only a part. Very little pain attends Catarrh until the Liver and the Lungs are attacked in consequence of the stream of pollution running from the head into the stomach. It ends in Consumption.

The Legitimate Child of Catarrh is Bronchitis.

Bronchitis is the legitimate child of Catarrh. Troches and all palliatives cannot, by any possibility, reach the ulcerated fountain in the head, whence the polluted, festering, corrosive matter issues. Snuff, or dust of any kind, always aggravates and never cures the Catarrh. For fifteen years I was seldom without Brown's Bronchial Troches in my pocket, and also something to snuff up my nose. All such persons catch cold easily, and have frequently a running at the nostrils; the breath sometimes reveals to all around the corruption within, while the patient has frequently lost all sense of smell. The disease advances cautiously, until pain in the chest, lung or bowels, startles him. He hacks and coughs, has dyspepsia, liver complaint, and is urged by his doctor to take this or that; perhaps even Cod Liver Oil is prescribed. Perfectly ridiculous! The foul ulcers in the head cannot be reached by pouring such stuff into the poor jaded stomach. The patient becomes nervous, the voice is harsh and unnatural, he feels disheartened, memory loses her power, judgment her seat, gloomy forebodings hang overhead; humiliation, yea, thousands in such circumstances, feel that to die would be a relief, and many do even cut the thread of life to end their sorrows. There is one other form of Catarrh that I must just refer to. A hard substance forms in the passage, becomes very painful, frequently breaks, and is blown with great pain and difficulty from the nose. In other cases it will eat through and discharge itself by the side of the nose, making a terrible gangrenous sore. One of my patients was in this condition. She is now getting along finely; the sore healed up, and the stench and acrid matter are all gone.

For all afflicted with Catarrh, in all its developments—not even excepting cases where the bones of the nose are effected—my Catarrh Specific affords a safe, sure and permanent cure.

Cleanse and Heal—My Motto.

Cleanse and Heal is my motto, while at the same time one of the six remedies I send brings the nasty corruption out through the nostrils, and thus prevents it from running down the throat and into the stomach. By thus keeping the ulcers clear of matter, and of applying the proper medicine, they soon heal, and heal permanently. Also for weak nerves, chronic headache and neuralgia my Specific is invaluable.

Thousands are dying in early life with consumption who can look back a few years—perhaps only months—when it was only Catarrh. Neglected when a cure is possible, very soon it will transform the features of health and youth into the dark, pallid appearance, while the hacking cough, the excess of blood gushing from the lungs or night sweats, all significantly proclaim it is too late; and thus a neglected Catarrh ends in the consumptive's grave.

Read and Reflect.

This certifies that the undersigned are acquainted with Rev. T. P. Childs, and believe him to be reliable and truthful, and that his mode of treating Catarrh is scientific and effectual in breaking up and curing it; and indeed it seems to be the only mode likely to effect a complete cure.

J. H. GREEN, M. D., Troy, O.
JOSIAH REED, M. D., Troy, O.

☞ Either of the above-named physicians can be consulted by letter or otherwise.

Be Cautious.

Five years ago, when I first announced to the world that "Catarrh could be cured," it was the only announcement of the kind then to be found. All, or nearly all, the physicians in the land said it could not be cured. A few snuffs could be had at drug stores, labeled "Catarrh Snuff." Now what? More than twenty who had advertised their "bitters" and "tonics," and nostrums of all sorts, and claimed for them almost miraculous power to cure a long catalogue of disease, slip into that catalogue "Catarrh." Is not this an after thought? Or have they really changed their medicines to suit the development of Nasal Catarrh, which has but recently become prevalent? Be not deceived!

Special Remarks.

This specific is regarded by the best of judges as being the most complete system for the treatment of Nasal Catarrh ever devised. Indeed there does not appear to be anything lacking in its perfect adaptation to the horrid disease, in all of its loathsome, painful and dangerous developments. It is really two systems harmoniously combined; for in addition to the regular treatment for Catarrh in the nasal passages, it includes a like system for inhaling warm medicated vapor, and for passing it all along the air pipes, and even along the bronchial tubes, without pain or difficulty.

Read this Carefully.

If your case is a bad one, affecting the throat and bronchial tubes, producing tickling coughing, and an almost constant effort to clear the passages with cough, the pulpum in the glands so gushing up in the morning, which is hard to eject and offensive, symptoms that the disease is stealing into the lungs, and ought to be attended to promptly and thoroughly, then I advise you to get also my treatment for the bronchial tubes and lungs, which acts very finely in connection with my Catarrh Specific.

NO ONE MEDICINE

Can be any possibility cure Catarrh, when it spreads as above described, through the nasal passages, throat, and bronchial pipes. Here lies the secret of the superlative success of my treatment. Some of the six excellent Catarrh medicines which I send or advise obtained, are just sure to blow it into all of its hiding-places, search it out and destroy it, no matter where located. If it has taken root where the medicated vapor surely will. The following are taken from thousands of testimonials in my possession:

To All Whom it May Interest.

Prompted by a sense of duty, and in justice to a worthy Christian brother, I am led to make the following statements in reference to my brother, P. P. Childs, and the noble work in which he is now engaged, being laid aside from the ministry by spinal and nervous infirmities. Yet it seems the Lord has a great work for him to do.

On coming to this place last spring and becoming intimately acquainted with him, and having free access to his account books and a very large correspondence, and knowing personally some of the very eminent physicians who declare his medicine and manner of treatment to be the most complete they ever examined, and that the medicines he used are the very ones adapted to the complaint he treats I take pleasure in saying that his "Catarrh Specific," including as it does a grand arrangement for flushing all the air passages of the head, bronchial pipes and lungs with a splendid medicated inhalation so far from being a little catch penny affair, is really a most thoroughly arranged system prepared with great care and expense and is withal furnished at the lowest possible figures. His certificates and testimonials are numerous and convincing.

M. H. WORRALL, Pastor Baptist Church Troy, O.

Judge J. Collett, of Lima, O., writes. "You well remember how terribly my nerves had taken hold upon me at the time you were at my house, making me offensive to myself and to all around, and without suffering day and night. I began to use your excellent remedy about the 26th of August. Now I am cured; head free, air passages all open and breathing natural. I express to you again what I said in a recent letter, 'A thousand thanks to you for so cure a remedy and so very cheap.' I have laid away the instrument, having no further occasion to use it. Thus in about six weeks I have accomplished what you thought could be gained from three to six months."

Rev J. Harvey, of Kingston Champaign Co., O., writes: "Dear Bro Childs—Mr Wm. Stewart has put into my hands the money for your Catarrh remedy. Send my express to Urbana. * * * Mr. Cowgill is dead. He died of consumption. Your remedy gave him great relief from suffering, and he requested me specially to recommend it to all who are suffering with catarrh."

A Dreadful Case Thoroughly Cured—A Minister's Wife.

REV T P CHILDS—Dear Bro: I take this opportunity to write to you in reference to the condition of my wife and I am happy to inform you that the Specific has acted like a charm in her case. The discharges are stopped, the vile odor all gone, the terrible gangrenous external sores all healed, and her general health improved every way. We are all grateful to our heavenly Father that we sent for your specific.

I am truly your brother,

DAVID DAVIS.

A CASE OF CATARRHAL CONSUMPTION CURED.

Bro T. P. CHILDS—Dear Friend: One year ago to-day I began to use your Catarrh Specific, and have confined to my room seven weeks. I was given up by one friend hearing and my head was one mass of misery. My friends aided me in the use of your Specific, which I commenced with but faint hope, as I had been under the care of good physicians for nine winters, all of whom said I had the consumption. But I began to amend immediately. The vile phlegm ceased to accumulate and the inhalation soon relieved my throat, and I passed the winter quite comfortably, and have been improving all summer, and am now in good health. No cough, no stoppage of the air passages, no sore throat. I do not take cold easily at all. I thank the Lord that I ever ordered your medicine and shall ever pray for your success.

Truly your friend

Lime Springs, Howard Co., Iowa. RACHEL STEWART.

HOME TESTIMONY OF A WEALTHY FARMER.

REV T P CHILDS—Dear Bro. I suffered for years with nasal Catarrh, and used many things to little or no profit, but steadily grew worse, until my throat and lung organs and bronchial tubes had become seriously affected; and when I went to your office and got your Specific, I thought two and a half months ago, I confess I had but little hope of finding any relief. But I am happy to state that in three or four days' time my senses of smelling and tasting were restored, the foul discharges steadily decreased, and general health rapid improved and now I regard myself as thoroughly cured. I never spent money for medicine with like satisfactory results—I can most cheerfully recommend your treatment to all suffering with that loathsome disease. With the best wishes for your success, I remain your friend.

WM. B. TEN EYE. Tippecanoe City, Miami Co., O.

A GRATEFUL VOLUNTEER AGENT.

REV. T. P. CHILDS—Your Catarrh Specific has wrought many satisfactory cures among my friends in this city and other places in North Carolina. I have now before me an application for your medicine. I wish you to forward to, address as above, a complete supply of the same. I think this order will, when faithfully applied, cure for your valuable remedy another well-deserved testimony to its virtues.

Yours fraternally,

WILMINGTON, N. C. [REV.] G. S. JONES.

A CASE OF 30 YEARS STANDING COMPLETELY CURED.

REV. T. P. CHILDS—Dear Sir: Being troubled with throats in diseased state for over 30 years, my head, throat and lungs were very bad. Indeed I was a great sufferer. I received your box of medicine and instrument May 5, 1871, and immediately commenced its use. Suffice it to say in three months my Catarrh was entirely cured, and my health is now good. I can cheerfully recommend your Catarrh treatment to all who are afflicted with that dreadful disease. I might have written long before this, but I thought I did wait and see if it came back during the winter. It is now over six months and not a sign of it has appeared and our winter has been severe. I owe you a great debt of gratitude. Truly your friend, CLAYTON, Fairbault Co., Minn., March 27, 1873. MRS ASENETH PRATT.

Bear in mind also you will get the best nasal instrument ever made and, with all information worth more to you each year of your life than whole now costs. Do not be fooled with some cheap thing, which at best can afford but tetary relief, while the roots of the vile disease are left to strike deeper and deeper. Be sensible and thorough or do nothing! Write at once and say what paper you saw this in, clear, plain-list and all necessary information can be had by addressing (with return stamp). Cut this out and save it.

Rev. T. P. CHILDS, Troy, O.

LORD & TAYLOR

New York

OUR FALL IMPORTATIONS

ARE NOW COMPLETE IN ALL DEPARTMENTS, AND PRICES ARE VERY LOW. OUR STOCK OF

Black, Colored and Fancy Silks

IS THE LARGEST AND BEST ASSORTED IN THE CITY, OUR OPENING ONE WHOLE SECTION IN EACH STORE, AND HAVING BEEN PURCHASED AND CONTRACTED FOR PRIOR TO THE 20 PER CENT ADVANCE, WE ARE PREPARED TO SELL AT LAST SEASON'S PRICES!

OUR

DRESS GOODS DEPARTMENT

EMBRACES ALL THE NOVELTIES IN FALL AND WINTER COSTUME CLOTHS, BLACK AND COLORED CASHMERES AND MERINOS, ALL-WOOL AND MIXED PLAIDS, STRIPES AND CAMASSE STYLES, AS WELL AS

POPULAR DRESS FABRICS

IN ALL THE NEWEST COLORING AND MATERIALS, FROM TEN CENTS A YARD UPWARDS.

OUR IMPORTATION OF

INDIA SHAWLS,

FROM THE LONDON AUCTION SALES IS VERY LARGE AND ATTRACTIVE, AND PRICES ABOUT HALF FORMER YEARS.

REAL INDIA, filled centers, at $65, $75, $85, and upwards.

REAL DECCA SHALLS, at $42 to $55.

EMBROIDERED INDIA SHAWLS, new designs, only $35.

CHUDDA SHAWLS, choice new colors, $14, upwards.

ALSO,

PARIS and VIENNA BROCHE, PAISLEY FILLED, Plain centres and stripes, and

BRITISH AND AMERICAN WOOLEN SHAWLS. Unrivaled for beauty and substantial value.

OUR LADIES' & CHILDREN'S SUIT AND FURNISHING DEPARTMENT

is now more thoroughly stocked and equipped than ever heretofore, and we are prepared to fill all orders at once, and to guarantee satisfaction.

Handsomely trimmed suits in Cashmere, Basket Cloths, Camel's Hair, Alpaca, Combination suits, &c., in the most beautiful new effects, at prices to tempt the most economical.

By following our directions for self measurement Ladies out-of-town can be fitted perfectly, economically, and more satisfactorily than by any home made work.

Mourning Costumes and outfits a specialty and orders filled on 12 hours' notice.

Misses and Children's Costumes and suits at very reasonable prices.

LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S UNDERWEAR.

An immense stock of beautiful and reliable goods, at very great reductions.

Ladies' complete outfits, at $50 and upwards.

Infants' complete outfits, at $10 and upwards.

Full catalogues of this department, with direction for self-measurement, sent free on application to all parts of the country.

OUR STOCK OF

Rich Furs

on hand, and being manufactured, will be the most beautiful in the city, and at most attractive prices.

We also call particular attention to our large stocks of

LINENS AND WHITE GOODS,
LACES AND EMBROIDERIES,
UPHOLSTERY GOODS,
HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE,
HOSIERY AND GLOVES,
GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS,
BOYS' CLOTHING, AND
LADIES' BOOTS AND SHOES.

The Domestic and Housekeeping Depts are stocked with goods from the large summer auction sales, at prices below cost of Manufacture.

CARPETS AT GRAND STREET ONLY.

And at greatly Reduced Prices.

Velvet Carpets, from $2 up.
Body Brussels, from $1.50 up.
Tapestries, from $1 up.
Three-Ply, from $1.00 up.
Ingrains, from $1; cheaper, 85 cents.
Oil Cloths, from 40 cents up.

☞ HEADQUARTERS FOR LINOLEUM—BEST FLOOR COVERING IN THE WORLD.

Samples of goods sent free on application to all parts of the country.

Orders for goods of every description carefully filled without charge, and goods packed and forwarded to any destination.

BROADWAY & TWENTIETH ST
GRAND & CHRYSTIE STS., N. Y.

Oct 11-3m,

GENUINE CRAB ORCHARD SALTS.

THE MILDEST AND BEST GENERAL PURGATIVE IN USE. Endorsed by the highest medical men in the United States. Persons suffering with costiveness and the bowels or torpid liver, will find ready relief by the use of these Salts. None genuine except those put up in bottles with the label and the Crab Orchard Springs Salts Company.

J. B. WILDER & CO., Agents, Louisville, Ky.

Sept 27 8t.

A DOLLS' FAIR! A DOLLS' FAIR!

A Merry Christmas for the Little Sick Girls in the Hospitals.

TEN beautiful Premiums offered for the Ten Best-Dressed Dolls. All dolls to be distributed among the Hospitals at Christmas.

The October No. of WIDE AWAKE, containing Rules and Directions, post paid for TEN CENTS or application to the Publishers.

D. LOTHROP & CO., BOSTON, MASS.

Sept. 27-4t.

"DOMESTIC" SEWING MACHINES.

Liberal Terms of Exchange for Second-hand Machines of every description.

"DOMESTIC" PAPER FASHIONS.

The Best Patterns made. Send 5cts. for Catalogue.

Address DOMESTIC SEWING MACHINE CO.

AGENTS WANTED. 63 NEW YORK.

oct 20-13t. eow.

TROY BELLS.

THE JONES & CO. OLD ESTABLISHED BELL FOUNDRY, Troy, N. Y., continue to manufacture those superior Bells which have made Troy Church Bells, Chimes, and Peals of Bell.

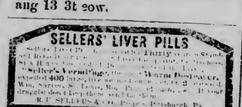
Illustrated Catalogue sent free.

aug 16-26t eow.

USE the MODEL PRESS

and do all your own Printing. BEST IN THE WORLD For Business Men and Young Printers

aug 13 3t eow.



apl 26 1y eow.

KINSTON HIGH SCHOOL

The Fall session will begin Sept. 4th, 1876. Terms moderate.

For circulars, apply to

J. S. MIDYETTE, Principal

Kinston, N. C.

Aug. 16 3m.

"TEACHER."

Any one desiring a teacher would do well to address, stating terms,

DR. W. A. WILSON, A. B.,
Trinity College.

sept 20-4t.

REMOVAL—150 PIANOS & ORGANS

at half price. The Subscribers will sell their Entire Stock of Pianos & Organs, new and second hand, of six first-class makers; also music and S. S. music books, at 50 PER CENT. OFF, for cash, previous to removal to their new store 40 EAST 14th St., UNION SQUARE Oct. 18th, illustrated catalogues mailed. Monthly installments received. Agents Wanted. Special inducements to the trade. HORACE WATERS & SONS, Manufacturers and Dealers, 481 Broadway, N. Y.

Oct. 11-4t.

1876. FALL AND WINTER SUPPLY. 1876.

HELLER BROS.

HAVE OPENED THEIR NEW STOCK OF

BOOTS, SHOES, TRUNKS, &c.

AND 31 Fayetteville St.

Consisting of a large variety of Ladies, Misses and Children's Hand Made Goods, Custom and Level Lasters.

The Largest Variety of Boys and Gents Solid Goods.

Wide Bottom and Low Heel Shoes for Old Ladies' Use.

Lowest Prices

of

Brogans and Plow Shoes.

Among them the celebrated Vul

Children's Column.

Little Willie's Trouble.

'O mamma!' said little Willie Morrison as he rushed into the sitting-room one bright, sunshiny afternoon in July, with tears streaming down his cheeks, and eyes all swollen. 'I have got into such trouble in school this afternoon, I don't know what to do.' And putting his arms around her neck said, "Dear mamma, if you will only help me out of this trouble I shall think you are the best mamma that ever lived.'

She said, 'Now, my dear little boy, come here, and sit upon my lap while I listen to what has caused my darling so much pain.'

'Mamma, Bertie Carey and I thought we would have a real good time, so we whispered all the afternoon, and when school was done the teacher asked who had whispered. Bertie raised his hand, but I did not, for I thought he would not find out; but he did, and told me if I ever told him another story he should whip me very hard. It frightened me so that I cried O mamma, to think I should have told a lie, and my Sunday school teacher, whom I love very much, says God will not love us if we tell lies.'

'Yes, Willie, your Sunday school teacher is right, and it makes your mamma feel very badly to think that her little boy should have been guilty of telling a falsehood; but I hope he will never, no, never, tell any more. Now I know that your teacher will forgive you, if you go and ask him to do so, and mamma will, also; but you have done very wrong and you must pray to Jesus to forgive you.'

All little children have troubles, and the best way is, to carry them in prayer to Jesus who is their best Friend.—Zion's Herald.

My Mother Knows Best.

A party of little girls stood talking beneath my window. Some nice plan was in hot; they were going into the woods, and they meant to make oak-leaf trimming, and pick berries, and carry luncheon.

'Now,' said they to one of their number, 'Ellen, run home and ask your mother if you may go. Tell her we are all going, and you must go also.' Ellen, a pretty little girl in green cape bonnet, skipped across the way, and went into a house opposite. She was gone some time. The little girls waited for her very impatiently. At length the door opened, and Ellen came down the steps. She did not seem to be in a hurry to join her companions, and they cried out: 'You have got leave?' 'Are you coming?'

Ellen shook her head, and said that her mother would not let her go.

O! cried the girls; it is too bad!

'No go!' 'It is really unkind in your mother.' 'What a shame!' 'I would make her let you.' 'I would do what I no!'

'My mother knows best,' was Ellen's answer, and it was a beautiful one.—Her face grieved a little, for I suppose she wished to go, and was much disappointed not to get leave; but she did not get angry or pout, and her voice was very gentle, but very firm, when she said: 'My mother knows best.'

There are a great many occasions when mothers do not see fit to give their children leave to go where and to do what they wish; and how often are they rebellious and pouting, and angry in consequence of it?

But is this the way in which children should receive their mothers' orders? No. It is not pleasing God. The right way is pleasing to God. The right way is cheerful obedience to your mother's decision. Trust her, and smooth down your ruffled feelings by the sweet and beautiful thought that 'Mother knows best.' It will save you many tears and much sorrow. It is the gratitude you owe to her who has done and suffered so much for you

Rural and Domestic.

Handling Bees.

To make smoke, we use a piece of rotten wood. It burns with smoke, and without any flame. To open and visit a movable frame hive, blow smoke in at the entrance for a few minutes; then open the hives, blowing smoke again on the bees. If the bees are Italian, no more smoke will be required. The frames should be lifted slowly and carefully. No quick motions should be made around the hives.

If bees are properly tamed, they can be taken by the handful, and handled over by the most inexperienced. A bee can be caught with the hand, when on the wing, and released without stinging.

We have many times opened hives of Italian bees, and have taken out the frames covered with bees, carried one of them in the house with the bees and queen on it, and showed it to a company of ladies. The frame would be passed from hand to hand, brood in all stages would be examined, and frames returned to the hive without a single bee offering to sting or even to fly off.

In the olden times of superstition it was generally believed that bees would sting those who swore or used improper language around the hives. This belief was due to the bees stinging angry persons sooner than others, simply because angry, quick people are apt to make many quick gestures and motions. Therefore quick motions should be avoided.

If a bee tries to sting you, don't fight it with your hat, nor throw your hat down, trying to drive it away, for that is the best way to get stung. Stoop down quietly, and keep still until it goes off. If you get stung, do not leave the stinger in at all but immediately rub it out. Do not pinch it out, for then you drive all the venom in the wound by pressing sidewise.—Correspondent of Western Agriculturist.

STRAWBERRY SHORT CAKE.—Having noticed several recipes for strawberry short cake, I have not seen any which I think will equal mine. I always make mine when I make bread. Take dough sufficient for one good-sized loaf of bread, and into this knead one tablespoonful of lard and butter, and two tablespoonfuls of sugar; put in the pan, and let it rise one hour, when it will be fit to bake. Pick and rinse two quarts of berries, lay them in a deep dish, and to every layer of strawberries add a sprinkling of sugar; turn on these a pint of cold water, and let them stand a half hour. Cut the short cake in three slices, butter them, and to every slice of short cake add a layer of the berries. Pour this liquor in which they have stood into a bowl, and send to the table with the short cake; and when it is divided pour several spoonfuls into each plate. I thing the short cake is better for cooling a little while after coming from the oven. This short cake is excellent for raspberries, peaches, and pineapples. I have used it for all of these.

We clip the above from an ex change, and, after passing it to a lady friend for approval, receive from her another which she has tried, thus:

Use "prepared flour," mixing with ice-cold water, and with but little "shortening," roll it out and bake in two or three layers, spreading butter between the layers before baking. Prepare the strawberries as in the above recipe.—Ed.

WAFFLES.—Beat well the yolks of three or four eggs; add two and three quarters pints of sweet milk, one half teaspoonful of salt. Mix through a part of the flour one heaping teaspoonful of baking powder, then add enough sifted flour to the milk and yolks to make rather a stiff batter. Beat the whites of the eggs to a stiff froth, and stir in carefully at the last. Bake in waffle irons. Eat while hot with butter and sugar, or powdered cinnamon.

No more difficulty in taking Cod Liver Oil. This truly valuable medicine is now prepared by us with PHOSPHATE OF LIME, rendering it positively inviting. Of the thousands of victims of Consumption in this vicinity many would be saved by the prompt use of BAKER'S COD LIVER OIL AND PHOSPHATE OF LIME. Sold by druggists.

To Shake, or not to Shake!

Aye, that is the question. Is it better to quiver from head to foot in the paroxysms of fever and ague, or to banish the attacks in disease by the use of that standard an infallible remedy, Hostetter's Bitters. There cannot be much doubt as to the response of the millions stricken to that inquiry. From every locality on this continent whose inhabitants are so accustomed with the shivering plague comes an increasing demand for the surely sensitive preventive and corrective of malaria, grateful by reference. The enfeebled lover and ague-districts well know how utterly inadequate to do more than give a lethal respite are the so-called remedies of the faculty, Quinine, arsenic, blemuth—what are these but poisonous palliatives, which cause after a time to produce any beneficial effect whatever, and if persisted in wreak irreparable mischief upon the system? Everywhere they are being abandoned by intelligent people, and that genuine vegetable specific for intermittent and remittent disease, Hostetter's Bitters, substituted in their place.

THE MORNING STAR,

WILMINGTON, N. C.

A First Class Democratic Newspaper!

LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY DAILY NEWSPAPER IN NORTH CAROLINA

THE

Only Daily Paper

Published in WILMINGTON, a City of nearly 20,000 Inhabitants, and the Great Centre of North Carolina Trade!

SUBSCRIPTION:

One Year,	$7 00
Six Months -	4 00
Three Months -	2 25

ADVERTISING RATES REASONABLE. Address,

WM. H. BERNARD, Editor & Proprietor, WILMINGTON, N. C.

Oct. 11 tf.

SEED WHEAT.

Superior White Mediterranean Red and Fultz Seed Wheat just received at GATTIS & JONES' Grain and Forage Store, Fayetteville Street.

COAL.

Best Red Ash at $5 per ton of 2240 lbs., delivered. Send orders to Fayetteville J. A. JONES at Gatlin & Jones Store, 56 Fayetteville St.

WOMAN IN BATTLE!

AGENTS WANTED to canvass every town and county in the State for

"WOMAN IN BATTLE!"

one of the most intensely interesting books ever published, being the Life and Exploits of Lieut. Harry Hasbrouck, U. S. A., or Madame L. J. Velasquez. No subscription book ever published has offered the chances this one does for while awake agents to make money rapidly, and as territory is being taken up very fast those who desire to canvass for it should make application without delay.

MADAME L. J. VELASQUEZ

Agent for North Carolina; office: Grange Hotel, corner Wilmington and Davie sts., one block from the Yadkin Hotel, Raleigh, N. C. Agents wanted to sell Steel Engravings of the author.

Oct 11-tf

THE BUFFALO

LITHIA WATERS

THE GREAT

STOMACH WATERS

Of America.

Cause of Mrs. —— stated by Dr. Marcus A. Harris, a distinguished Physician of Black Walnut, Halifax Co., Va.

(Extract from letter of Dr. H., of July 28, 1876.)

"Mrs. —— has been for twenty years a sufferer from Dyspepsia in a most aggravated form. Prominent among a multiplicity of distressing symptoms were attacks of spasmodic clastralgia, varying in duration and intensity, and becoming less and less amenable to treatment. For a few months before she commenced the use of the BUFFALO LITHIA WATER the attacks became more prolonged and violent, and her emaciated, cachectic and distressed condition gave unmistakable evidence of a rapid decline. Having exhausted my own resources, I called to my assistance the counsel of other eminent physicians, but the combination of the health and vital energies of the system were more than a match for the most eminent medical men of the state, without any other result than a palliation of suffering; and in what I regarded as a hopeless condition, I prescribed the BUFFALO LITHIA WATER, Spring No. 2, to the exclusion of all other treatment. She has been using the water now for some six weeks, with only occasional symptoms of indigestion, and her improvement has been so marked and decided that she is able to attend regularly to her domestic affairs. For four months before commencing the use of the "Lithia Water," her diet was milk and stale bread, alternated with bread and water and bread and tea. She now eats with impunity almost everything—for breakfast, coffee, bread and butter, mutton chops, broiled chicken, &c.; for dinner, mutton, beef, chicken, and any vegetable except Irish potatoes, with deserts, such as cake, ice cream, &c. I will add, that this was one of the most distressing and unmanageable cases of Dyspepsia that I have ever seen in a practice of many years, and that the action of the water in it was marvellous."

DYSPEPSIA AND NERVOUS HEADACHE

Case of Dr. B. H. Tatum, a well-known physician of Cumberland county, Va.

Extract from letter dated Longwood, Va., September 4th, 1876:

"For years I have suffered from indigestion, causing sick headache, attended with the most intense agony. I have visited some of our most celebrated mountain springs, and drank the mineral waters from the springs of other States, but have found no such relief as I have experienced from the use of two cases of the BUFFALO LITHIA WATER, Spring No. 2. I have prescribed it for several patients suffering from symptoms produced by Dyspepsia—such as low of appetite, general debility, headache, cough and severe pain in the Epigastric region—with the happiest results."

* Post office Chula, Amelia county, Va.

DYSPEPSIA.

Case of John P. Keeling, Esq., a well known citizen of Princess Anne county, Va.

PRINCESS ANNE Co., Va., Aug. 15, 1876.

Gen. Thos. F. Goode.

Dear Sir—It is with much pleasure I furnish you with a statement of my case and of the relief which I obtained from your LITHIA WATER, as in doing so I may possibly induce some unbeliever to try it, and be snatched, as I was, from the grave, and restored to health.

For several year I suffered from Nervous Dyspepsia, being so prostrated by the disease, that at times it was with difficulty I could walk across my room. For some delightful months I resided in the City of Baltimore, a perfect invalid, having been treated during that time by some of the best medical men of that city, without benefit. From there I was brought to my home in Princess Anne county, as was supposed, to die. Upon my mere existence I came in possession of one of your Springs pamphlets, and with but little faith, determined to try the water. After a few weeks I resulted in an improvement in my condition so radical, that I am now able to attend regularly to my business and the farm. I do believe this to be the greatest stomach-water of the world.

Very truly yours,

JOHN P. KEELING.

In affections of the Kidneys and Bladder, in Gout, Rheumatism and Paralysis, these waters have accomplished results as remarkable as any of record. They are for sale in cases of one dozen half gallon bottles at $5 per case payable in advance.

The Springs Pamphlet sent to any address on application.

THOS. F. GOODE, Proprietor

BUFFALO LITHIA SPRINGS,

Mecklenburg Co., Va.

oct 11-tf.

D. S. WAITT & BRO.

Beg leave to inform their customers that they have removed to the well known stand of James M Towles, No. 52 Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, N. C., which they have fitted up entirely new, and have purchased a large and well assorted stock of

READY-MADE CLOTHING!

For Men, Boys and Children.

Men's Suits for $4 00; Men's Frock Suits for $5 00; Men's Frock Cassimere Suits, from $10 to $25; Men's Fine Black Suits, from $17 50 to $30. Boys' Fancy Satinet Suits, $1 to $6; Boys' Cas. Suits, $8 to $15; Children's Suits, $1 to $10; Over-Coats, $5 to $20. Come and get SUITED.

GENTS FURNISHING GOODS,

Hamburg Edgings and Insertions,

Notion Hosiery, Gloves, Cambrics, &c.

Boots, Shoes, Umbrellas, Hats, Caps and Furs,

DOMESTIC DRY GOODS,

CONSISTING OF

Pd-la, Alpacas, Mouslins, Del lines, Ginghams, Cotton Prints, Delaines, Shirting Prints, Chambrays, Cambrics, Lace Curtains, Canabrics, Ticklings, Bleached and Brown Sheetings, Opera Flannels, Linseys, &c.

BLEACHED & BROWN SHEETINGS & SHIRTINGS.

Thanking our friends for their liberal patronage in the past, we feel confident that in our new stores with New Goods, bought at the lowest prices, we will be able to please all. Respectfully

D. S. WAITT & BRO.,

oct 4 tf. No. 52 Fayetteville St., Raleigh, N. C

BALTIMORE OCTOBER 1876.

CHAS. SIMON & SONS

DRESS-MAKING DEPARTMENT.

We would call the attention of our friends and the public in general to this Department.

Under the present management we have met with unprecedented success. We have filled orders for customers residing in nearly every Southern State, and have in our possession numerous flattering testimonials, both as regards fit and style, as well as great superiority in neatly finishing our work.

Our specialty this season will be Black Grosgrain Silk Dresses, trimmed in same manner, and made in the most fashionable style, for the low price of $50 00.

These Dresses should not be judged by the price, as they are in every respect superior to anything heretofore offered for the money. Samples of the material and directions for self-measurement sent free by mail upon application.

CHS. SIMON & SONS,

61 N. Howard St.,

Sept 27 3m Baltimore, Md.

Trinity College, N. C.

The Session begins Sept. 5th. Tuition $20 to $30 for five months; board $10 to $12 per month. Entire expense for five months $87 to $98.

Send for Catalogue.

B. CRAVEN.

aug 22 tf

Greensboro Female College,

GREENSBORO, N. C.

The Fall Session will begin on Wednesday, 23d of August, and continue 20 weeks.

Board (exclusive of washing and lights) $75

Tuition in regular English course 25

For catalogue, apply to Rev. T. M. Jones, President Board of Trustees, or N. H. D. WILSON, President Board of Trustees.

June 21 2-m

WESLEYAN FEMALE INSTITUTE.

STAUNTON, VA.

Will begin its twenty-seventh Annual Session, September 21st, 1876. Rev. W. A. HARRIS, D. D., President, with an able corps of twenty-three Teachers and others.

Modern Languages taught and spoken in the Old Dominion by a Native Frenchman. Music by able Professors and Teachers, among whom are some of the most [illegible] Teachers of vocal music in the South.

[illegible] healthiest counties in the Union. Its mineral [illegible] location of the health and [illegible] resort here from [illegible] climatic diseases, &c., &c., &c., combined.

Having passed through the severest business commanding the confidence and patronage of the community, having such varied and extensive [illegible] of the most delightful refinement and culture.

This School is usually attended daily by pupils from different States

Great economy and simplicity in dress are required. A simple uniform is worn. No unnecessary expense allowed. Strict economy practiced to limit expenses of pupils.

From Bishop D. S. Doggett, D. D.

The Wesleyan Female Institute, located in Staunton, Va., under the Presidency of Rev. W. A. Harris, is, in my judgment, one of the best in Southern, if not in the South. I have occasion to know and appreciate its value by the advantages enjoyed by one of my daughters there; its course of study is ample; its Faculty accomplished, and its instruction both solid and elegant. Its patrons I see among those are all that can be desired for health and comfort, or taste. No location could be more eligible; no scenery more magnificent; no atmosphere more salubrious. Not the least of its merits, it has secured regard for religious training, without which no Female College especially, would be a blessing.

D. S. DOGGETT

From Bishop E. M. Marvin, D. D.

The Wesleyan Female Institute is an honor to the Church, instruction is thorough. Its morals, advantages are offered at very little cost. The most talented Professors are employed, and neither pains nor expense are spared to make this department what it should be.

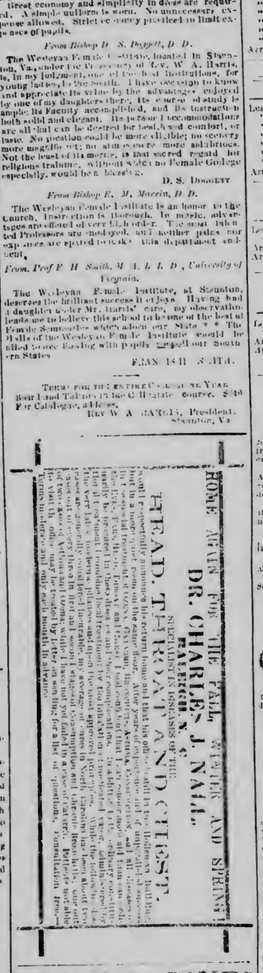
From Prof. H. Smith, M. A. L. D., University of Virginia.

The Wesleyan Female Institute, at Staunton, deserves the brilliant success it enjoys. Having had a daughter under Mr. Harris' care, my observations leads me to believe this school to be one of the best Female Seminaries in the South where our State or South of the Wesleyan Female Institute should be filled to over flowing with pupils from all parts of our Southern States

JAN 14 tf S. H.

TERMS FOR THE ENTIRE COLLEGIATE YEAR: Boar [illegible] Tuition [illegible] Course, $240 For Catalogue, address,

Rev. W. A. HARRIS, President, Staunton, Va



TYSON & JONES

Carriage Builders,

CARTHAGE, N. C.

Having recently put new and valuable facilities for Manufacturing, we are prepared to furnish Vehicles of the FIRST QUALITY of workmanship and at competitive low prices. Vehicles shipped at Sanford, Raleigh and Chatham R. R. via Raleigh to any part of the State

We feel confident that, with the close attention we give the business, together with the materials used, the skilled workmanship employed, and the many conveniences we have in manufacturing FIRST CLASS WORK, no house in the country can excel us in

STYLE, FINISH, DURABILITY AND Low Prices.

We manufacture and keep on hand usually on hand a large stock of the Best Quality.

Repairing neatly Done at Short Notice Send for Circular.

July 21 1-y

Established 1816.

CHAS. SIMON & SONS,

No. 65 N. HOWARD STREET, BALTIMORE

DEALERS IN

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC

DRY GOODS,

would call special attention to their extensive stock of

DRESS GOODS,

LINEN GOODS,

EMBROIDERIES

LACES AND HOSIERY

The best assortment of

Mourning Goods

in the city.

SAMPLES SENT FREE!

All orders amounting to $20 or over, will be sent free of freight charges by Express, but parties whose orders are not accompanied by the money and parties the Goods sent C. O. D., must pay for return of the goods sent C. O. D., must pay for return of the goods sent C. O. D., must pay for return of the

E OLDEST GROCERY HOUSE
Raleigh !
ISHED IN 1869.
BROTHERS,
ALE GROCERS
AND —
Merchants,
LEIGH, N. C.
to their stock of
GROCERIES,
Partner in Merchant small mar-
ness in the grocery to the interest from their or-
Raleigh, N. C.
876.
R GOODS
OF — ULLEY'S,
Boots, Shoes,
Made,
up Stairs.
Market Square,
N. C.
and I am Sole Agent
PER PATTERNS. hand, comprising
Misses, Children of Dress.
J. P. GULLEY
WANTED! GOOD PAY.
in every place for the
CHRISTIAN WEEKLY,
VANCE, POST PAID:
Good Things every week.
published by the
TRACT SOCIETY accompanied by un-recommendations, may to
10 Main St., Richmond, Va
HERN BRANCH. and general sunday School
MAIN STREET
Richmond Va.,
prices, and liberal
to the selection of S. S. warranted to
L. D. WALFORD,
Agent.
ST FEMALE COLLEGE
HOBT, N. C.
R. BOBBITT, A.M. President.
PER SESSION.
$20 00
25 00
20 00 to the 4th Monday in in Jan. The Spring
Monday in Jan 1877, and ditions.
W. A. Black, D. D.
M. P. Wilmington, Rev.
Rev. Dr. Burk, cat-
Fayetteville, Rev. V.
A. McCanless, Pastor
Henry C. Hogg, Rev.
the life and to the N. C. Conference.
President.
RNITURE
Morris & Co
Street.
N. C. furniture, such as Walnut
Chamber Suits, Parlor Suits
Bureaus, Wardrobes,
Sofas, Lounges, Spring and Cradles in great and prices. Wood and
Also
and make to order all kinds
Hair, Cotton and Mattresses. Old Hair
as good as new.
Call and examine be
W. H. MORRIS & CO
Lee & Co.,
& RETAIL DRUGGISTS
LEIGH N. C.
Montana)
selected stock of Pure
Perfumeries, Fancy
Soaps, Fine Cigars
Waters, both on draught manufacture of Farmers will find all, when in want and quality of articles
Prices Low.
LEE & CO.
s! Bargains!
stock of ES & HARNESS
THE NEXT 90 DAYS.
DEFY COMPETITION and or 3rd rate of my own manufac-up by
LASS WORKMEN! and am sure that after in the business, th examining my stock
Salisbury.
Raleigh, N.C.
KE RULING & ORNAMENTAL
Wire Works.
Duff & Co.,
Baltimore, Md.
for Cemeteries, Balco-
Cages, Sand and Coal
Also, Iron Bedsteads
Brooklyn, Long
Staff of Butler's
Ga. a bottle.
Texas, Austin, N.Y.
BELL & CO. New York
Prices, containing lists of 3000 showing cost of advertis-

Raleigh Christian Advocate.

Bobbitt & Gray, Publishers. | Published in the Interests of Methodism in North Carolina. | $2.20 Per Annum, in Advance.

Vol. XXII.---No. 42. | Raleigh, N. C., Wednesday, October 25, 1876. | Whole No. 1,130.

Poetry.

THE AMBITIOUS VINE.

BY JOHN G. SAXE.

A vine that stood beside a striving oak
Grew weary of the labor
Of self-support, and thus she plainly spoke Unto her stronger neighbor:

"Brother, bend your handsome trunk to me,
My noble forest brother;
That, mutually embracing, we may be Supporters of each other."

"Nay," said the tree, "I was not made to bend;
I'm strong and self reliant;
As oaks are wont—but you, my pretty friend,
Are twenty times as pliant!

"So clasp your slender arms around me, dear,
And we will grow together,
High as you azure cloud, nor ever fear
The roughest wind or weather!"

"Nay, nay," replied the foolish vine, "I hate
To seem so much your debtor;
You do the twining now, and I'll be straight,
I'll like it vastly better!"

"Nature wills it otherwise," the oak replied:
"Whoever you may grumble;
The moment such a silly plan were tried,
Together we should tumble!

"Come you to me, and taking Nature's course,
We'll keep our proper places;
I to the twain will give my manly force;
And you our maiden graces.

"But if perverse, you try to live alone,
With none to hold and cherish
Your slender form betero you've fairly grown,
You certainly will perish.

"Or if instead of fondly clinging fast
To one who would protect you,
You flirt with others—all the trees at last
Will eventually reject you."

"I see—I see," exclaimed the musing vine,
"The weaker must be nourished."
She clasped the oak with many a graceful twine,
And they grow and flourished!

Communicated.

For the Advocate.

Sunday Schools.

BY REV. P. J. CARRAWAY.

No. II.

I think, upon careful consideration, the reader will conclude that Sunday schools, as now conducted, bring thousands of children under the influence of the ministry, who never would be reached in any other way. If the minister attends the Sundayschool, as he surely should do, he has more opportunity of becoming acquainted with many of these dear little lambs than he can possibly have in his pastoral visits. Whether he knows them in the school or not, they will know him, and respect and love him. More children are brought to preaching by Sunday schools than are kept away by them. I believe this is true in towns and cities, but especially true in country churches. And we must not forget that now the largest number of Sunday school scholars are on the circuits.

The improvements in Sunday schools in our country churches is truly gratifying, and every encouragement should be given to them. I should certainly regret any attempt to do away with the "nursery idea."

The Sunday school is essentially a children's institution. It is an auxiliary to parental and ministerial instruction of children. It was conceived as a grand scheme of reaching children, and in many instances doing for them what their parents are incapable of doing, and what the ministers could not do for them because they could not reach them—give them instruction in divine things.

To interest children you must address them as children. The book or toy that is best calculated to interest children is produced for children.—There must be Sunday schools for children if you will secure the attendance of children. Whenever it is understood that the Bible service is for all, indiscriminately, without reference to age, I think the children will lose interest in it, and will not attend it.—I believe the most potent reason which influences over five millions of children to attend Sunday school is because it is for the children.

Again: I believe the nearest way to a parent's heart is by the children.—That deeply interests children will interest parents. Thousands of dollars are collected by and for Sunday schools because the money is to benefit the children. Change the idea of children's school and you will fail to reach many parents who now feel a deep interest in it for their children's sake, though you may change it for the very purpose of embracing parents. The parent who will not attend the children's school with the children, will not be likely to attend the Bible service where children have no distinct interest.

I think the same is true in regard to young people. I think that more young people are now attracted by a well conducted Sunday school that has the "nursery idea" in it, than would be by a Bible Service for all ages. To be brief, I believe that if the change was made it would be a change to the cause. "Let well enough alone."

I am entertained by some that there is a disposition to segregate the Sunday school and the Sunday school Organization is assuming such tremendous proportions—having such "huge machinery"—that it may arrogate to itself the exclusive privilege of instructing children, ignoring the duties of parents and ministers to give them religious instruction. It is also feared that the present system of Lessons and the manner of teaching will introduce formality in religion. I propose to show in my next that these fears are unfounded.

(To be continued.)

The Pulpit.

Sermon by Rev. T. De Witt Talmage, Brooklyn Tabernacle.

PHONOGRAPHICALLY REPORTED BY WILLIAM WALTON FOR THE "CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE."

The Spicery of Religion

"Or spices great abundance neither was there any such spices as the queen of Sheba gave King Solomon."—II. Chron. IX. 9.

What is that building out yonder, glittering in the sun? Have you not heard? It is the House of the forest of Lebanon. King Solomon has just taken to it his bride, the prince-ss of Egypt You see the pillars of the portico, and a great tower, adorned with one thousand shields of gold, hung on the outside of the tower—five hundred of the shields of gold manufactured at Solomon's order, five hundred were captured by David, his father, in battle. See how they blaze in the noonday sun!

Solomon goes up the ivory stairs of his throne, between twelve lions in stationary, and sits down on the back of the golden bull, the head of the bronze beast turned toward the people. The family and the attendants of the king are so many that the caterers of the palace have to provide every day one hundred sheep and thirteen oxen, besides the birds and the venison. I hear the stamping and pawing of four thousand fine horses in the royal stables. There were important officials who had charge of the work of gathering the straw and the barley for these horses King Solomon was an early riser, tradition says, and used to take a ride out at daybreak; and when, in his white apparel, behind the swiftest horses of all the realm, and followed by mounted archers in purple, as the cavalcade dashed through the streets of Jerusalem, I suppose it was something worth getting up at five o'clock in the morning to look at.

Solomon was not like a great many of the kings of the present day—crowned imbecility All the splendor of his palace and retinue were eclipsed by his intellectual power. Why, he seemed to know everything He was the world ever saw Peacocks from India strutted the basaltic walk, and apes chattered in the trees, and deer stalked the parks, and aquariums with foreign fish, and aviaries with foreign birds: and tradition says these birds were so well tamed that Solomon might walk clear across the city under the shadow of their wings, as they hovered and flitted about him.

THE FIRST GREAT NATURALIST

More than this, he had a great reputation for the conundrums and riddles that he made and guessed. He and King Hiram, his neighbor, used to sit by the hour and ask riddles, each one paying in money if he could not answer or guess the riddle. The Solomonic navy visited all the world, and the sailors, of course, talked about the wealth of their king, and about the riddles and enigmas that he made and solved; and the news spread until Queen Balkis, away off South, heard of it, and that she would like to have Solomon solve, and a few puzzles that she would like to have him find out. She sent, among other things, to King Solomon, a diamond with a hole so small that a needle could not penetrate it, asking him to thread that diamond. And Solomon took a worm and put it at the opening in the diamond, and the worm crawled through, leaving the thread in the diamond. The queen also sent a gob et to Solomon, asking him to fill it with water that did not pour from the sky, and that did not rush out from the earth; and immediately Solomon put a slave on the back of a swift horse, and galloped him around and around the park until the horse was nigh exhausted, and from the perspiration of the horse the goblet was filled. She also sent to King Solomon five hundred boys in girls' dress, and five hundred girls in boys' dress, wondering if he would be acute enough to find out the deception. Immediately Solomon, when he saw them wash their faces, know from the way applied the water what it was all a cheat. Queen Balkis was so pleased with the acuteness of Solomon that she said: "I'll just go and see him for myself." Yonder it comes—the cavalcade—horses and dromedaries, chariots and charioteers, jingling harness and clattering hoofs and blazing shields and flying ensigns and clapping cymbals. The place is saturated with the perfume. She brings cinnamon and saffron and calamus and frankincense and all manner of sweet spices As the retinue sweeps through the gate, the armed guard inhale the aroma.

SENT MESSENGERS WITH A FEW RIDDLES

"HALT!" CRY THE CHARIOTEERS,

as the wheels grind the gravel in front of the pillared portico of the king Queen Balkis alights in an atmosphere bewitched with perfume. As the dromedaries are driven up to the king's storehouses, and the bundles of camphor are unloaded, and the sacks of cinnamon, and the boxes of spices are opened, the purveyors of the palace discover what my text this morning announces: "Of spices, great abundance: neither was there any such spices as the Queen of Sheba gave to King Solomon."

Well, my friends, you know that all theologians agree in making Solomon a type of Christ, and in making the Queen of Sheba a type of every truth seeker; and I shall take the responsibility this morning of saying that all the spikenard and cassia and frankincense which the Queen of Sheba brought to King Solomon is mightily suggestive of

THE SWEET SPICES OF OUR HOLY RELIGION.

Christianity is not a collection of sharp technicalities and angular facts and chronological tables and dry statistics. Our religion is compared to frankincense and to cassia, but never to nux vomica or nightshade. It is a bundle of myrrh. It is a dash of holy light. It is a sparkle of cool fountains. It is an opening of opaline gates. It is a collection of spices. Would God that we were as wise in taking spices to our Divine King as Queen Balkis was in taking the spices to the earth Solomon.

The fact is that the duties and cares of this life, coming to us from time to time, are stupid often, and inane and intolerable. Here are men who have been battering, climbing, pounding, hammering for twenty years, forty years, fifty years. One great, long drudgery has their life been. Their face anxious, their feelings benumbed, their days monotonous. What is necessay to brighten up that man's life, and to sweeten that acid disposition, and to put sparkle into the man's spirits? The spicery of our holy religion. Why, if between the losses of life there flashed a gleam of an eternal gain; if between the betrayals of life there came the gleam of the undying friendship of Christ;

IF IN DULL TIMES IN BUSINESS

we found ministering spirits flying to and fro, in our office and store and shop, every day life, instead of being a stupid monotone, would be a glorious inspiration, pendululming between calm satisfaction and high rapture.

How any woman keeps house without the religion of Christ to help her, is a mystery to me. To have to spend the greater part of one's life, as many women do, in planning for the meals, and stitching garments that will soon be rent again, and deploring breakages, and supervising tardy subordinates, and driving off dust that soon again will settle, and doing the same thing day in and day out, and year in and year out, until the hair silvers, and the back stoops, and the spectacles crawl to the eyes, and the grave breaks open under the thin sole of the shoe—

O, IT IS A LONG MONOTONY!

But when Christ comes to the drawing room, and comes to the kitchen, and comes to the nursery, and comes to the dwelling, then how cherry become all womanly duties. She is never alone now. Martha gets through fretting and joins Mary at the feet of Jesus. Now she sings Christian tunes all day long—mending, washing, baking, scouring, scrubbing Deborah is happy because she can help Lapidoth: Hannah, because she can make a coat for young Samuel; Miriam, because she can watch her infant brother; Rachel, because she can help her father water the stock; the widow of Sarepta, because the cruse of oil is being replenished.

O, woman, having in your pantry a nest of boxes containing all kinds of condiments, why have you not tried in your heart and life the spicery of our holy religion? "Martha! Martha! thou art careful and troubled about many things; but one thing is needful, and Mary hath chosen that good part which shall not be taken away from her."

I must confess that a great deal of the religion of this day is utterly insipid. There is nothing piquant or elevating about it. Men and women go around humming psalms in a minor key, and culturing melancholy, and their worship has in it more sighs than raptures. We do not doubt their piety O, no. But they are sitting at a feast where the cook has forgotten to season the food. Everything is flat in their experience and in their conversation. Emancipated from sin and death and hell, and on their way to a magnificent heaven, they act as though they were trudging on toward an everlasting Botany Bay.

RELIGION DOES NOT SEEM TO AGREE WITH THEM.

It seems to catch in the wind-pipe and become a strangulation instead of an exhilaration. All the infidel books that have been written, from Voltaire down to Herbert Spencer, have not done so much damage to our Christianity as Ingubrious Christians.—Who wants a religion woven out of the shadows of the night? Why go growling on your way to celestial enthronement? Come out of that cave, and sit down in the warm light of the Sun of Righteousness. Away with your odes to melancholy and Hervey's Meditations Among the Tombs:

"The hill of Zion yields
A thousand sacred sweets,
Before we reach the heavenly fields,
Or walk the golden streets.

"Then let our songs abound,
And every tear be dry;
We're marching through Emanuel's ground
To fairer worlds on high."

I have to say, also, that we need to put more spice and enlivenment in our religious teaching; whether it be in the prayer-meeting, or in the Sabbath school, or in the Church. We ministers need more fresh air and sunshine in our lungs and our heart and our head. Do you wonder that the world is so far from being converted when you find so little vivacity in the pulpit and in the pew? We want, like the Lord, to plant in our sermons and exhortations more lilies of the field. We want fewer rhetorical elaborations, and fewer sesquipedalian words, and when we talk about shadows, we do not want to say adumbration; and when we mean queerness, we do not want to talk about idiosyncrasies; or if a stitch in the back, we do not want to talk about lumbago; but, in the plain vernacular of the great masses, preach that Gospel which proposes to make all men happy, honest, victorious, and free. In other words, we want

MORE CINNAMON AND LESS GRISTLE.

Let this be so in all the different departments of work to which the Lord calls us. Let us be plain. Let us be earnest. Let us be common-sensical. When we talk to the people in a vernacular they can understand, they will be very glad to come and receive the truth we present. Would God that Queen Balkis would drive her spice laden dromedaries into all our sermons and prayer-meeting exhortations.

More than that, we want more life and spice in our Christian work The poor do not want so much to be groaned over as sung to. With the bread and the medicines and the garments you give them, let there be an accompaniment of smiles and brisk encouragement. Do not stand and talk to them about the wretchedness of their abode, and the hunger of their looks, and the hardness of their lot. Ah! they know it better than you can tell them. Show them the bright side of the thing, if there be any bright side. Tell them good times will come. Tell them that for the children of God there is immortal rescue. Wake them up ont of their stolidity by an inspiring laugh, and while you send in practical help, like the Queen of Sheba also send in the spices.

There are two ways of meeting the poor. One is to come into their house with a nose elevated in disgust, as much as to say: 'I don't see how you live here in this neighborhood.—It actually makes me sick. There is that bundle—and make the most of it." Another way is to go into the abode of the poor in a manner which seems to say: "The blessed Lord sent me. He was poor Himself. It is not more for the good I am going to try to do you than it is for the good that you can do me." Coming in that spirit, the gift will be as aromatic as the spikenard on the feet of Christ, and all the hovels on that alley will be fragrant with the spice.

TAKE IT, YOU POOR MISERABLE WRETCH,

We need more spice and enlivenment in our church music. Churches sit discussing whether they shall have choirs, or precentors, or organs, or bass viols, or cornets. I say, take that which will bring out the most inspiring music. If we had half as much zeal and spirit in our churches as we have in the songs of our Sabbath schools, it would not be long before the whole earth would quake with the coming God. Why, nine-tenths of the people in church do not sing; or they sing so feebly that the people at their elbows do not know they are singing. People month and mumble the praise of God; but there is not more than one out of a hundred who makes a joyful noise unto the Rock of our Salvation. Sometimes when the congregation forgets itself and is all absorbed in the goodness of God, or the glories of heaven, I get an intimation of what church music will be a hundred years from now, when the coming generation shall wake up to its duty.

I PROMISE A HIGH SPIRITUAL BLESSING to any one who will sing in church, and who will sing so heartily that the people all around cannot help but sing. Wake up! Brooklyn Tabernacle. Wake up! all the churches from Bangor to San Francisco, and across Caristendom. It is not a matter of preference; it is a matter of religious duty. O, for fifty times more volume of sound than has ever yet rolled up among these arches. I have been told that sometimes they hear our singing on Fulton street I wish we could get in such a headway of praise to God that they would hear us half way to the ferry! German chorals in German cathedrals surpass us, and yet Germany has received nothing at the hands of God compared with America; and ought the acclaim in Berlin be louder than that in Brooklyn?

Soft music, long drawn out music, is appropriate for the drawing room and appropriate for the concert; but St. John gives an idea of the sonorous and resonant congregational singing appropriate for churches when, in listening to the temple service of Heaven, he says: "I heard a great voice, as the voice of a great multitude and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thunderings Hallelujah, for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth."

JOIN WITH ME IN A CHORUS, giving me not only your hearts, but the mighty uplifting of your voices, and I believe this winter we can, through Christ's grace, sing five thousand souls into the kingdom of Christ. An argument, they can laugh at; a sermon, they may talk down; but a five thousand voiced utterance of praise to God is irresistible. Would that Queen Balkis would drive all her spice laden dromedaries into our church music. "Neither was there any such spice as the Queen of Sheba gave King Solomon."

Now I want to impress this audience this morning with the fact that religion is sweetness and perfume and spikenard and saffron and cinnamon and cassia and frankincense, and all sweet spices together. "O," you say, "I have n't looked at it as such I thought it was a nuisance; it had for me a repulsion; I held my breath as though it were a mad odor; I have been appalled at its advance; I have said, if I have any religion at all, I want to have just as little of it as is possible to get through with." O, what a mistake you have made, my brother. The religion of Christ is

A PRESENT AND EVERLASTING REDOLENCE.

It counteracts all trouble. Just put it on the stand beside the pillow of sickness. It catches in the curtains, and perfumes the stifling air. It sweetens the cup of bitter medicine, and throws a glow on the gloom of the turned lattice It is a balm for the aching side, and a soft bandage for the temple stung with pain. It lifted Samuel Rutherford into a revelry of spiritual delight, while he was in physical agonies It helped Richard Baxter until in the midst of such a complication of diseases as perhaps no other man ever suffered, he wrote The Saint's Everlasting Rest And it poured light upon John Bunyan's dungeon—the light of the shining gate of the shining city. And it is good for rheumatism, and for neuralgia, and for low spirits, and for consumption: it is the catholicon for all disorders. Yes, it will heal all your sorrows.

WHY DID YOU LOOK SO SAD THIS MORNING

when you came in? Alas! for the loneliness and the heart-break, and the load that is never lifted from your soul. Some of you go about feeling like Macaulay when he wrote: "If I had another month of such days as I have been spending, I would be impatient to get down into my little, narrow crib in the ground, like a weary factory child" And there have been times in your life when you wished you could get out of this life. You have said: "O, how sweet to my lips would be the dust of the valley," and wished you could pull over you in your last slumber the coverlet o. green grass and daisies. You have said "O, how beautifully quiet it must be in the tomb. I wish I was there." I see all around about me widowhood and orphanage and childlessness, sadness, disappointment, perplexity. If I could ask all those to rise in this audience who have felt no sorrow, and been buffeted of no disappointment—if I could ask all such to rise, how many would rise? Not one.

A WIDOW MOTHER, WITH HER LITTLE CHILD, went West last winter, hoping to get better wages there; and she was taken sick, and died. The overseer of the poor got her body and put it in a box, and put it in a wagon, and started down the street toward the cemetery at full trot. The little child, the only child, ran after it through the streets, bare headed, crying, "Bring me back my mother! bring me back my mother!" And it was said that as the people looked on and saw her crying after that which lay in the box in the wagon—all she loved on earth—it is said the whole village was bathed in tears.

And that is what a great many of you are doing—chasing the dead. Dear Lord, is there no appeasement for all this sorrow that I see about me! Yes, the thought of resurrection and reunion far beyond this scene of struggle and tears. "They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more, neither shall the sun light on them, nor any heat; for the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall lead them to living fountains of water, and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes." Across the couches of your sick and across the graves of your dead,

I FLING THIS SHOWER OF SWEET SPICES.

Queen Balkis driving up to the pillored portico of the house of cedar, carried no such pungency of perfume as exhales to day from the Lord's garden. It is sweetness. It is comfort. It is infinite satisfaction, this Gospel I commend to you

Some one could not understand why an old German Christian scholar used to be always so calm and happy and hopeful when he had so many trials and sickness and ailments A man secreted himself in the house. He said: "I mean to watch this old scholar and Christian;' and he saw the old Christian man go to his room and sit down on the chair beside the stand, and open the Bible and begin to read. He read on and on, chapter hour after hour, until his face was all aglow with the tidings from Heaven and when the clock struck twelve, he arose, and shut his Bible, and said: "Blessed Lord, we are on the same old terms yet. Good night. Good night." O, you sin patched and yet trouble-pounded, here is comfort, here is satisfaction. Will you come and get it? I cannot tell you what the Lord offers you hereafter so well as I can tell you now. "It doth not yet appear what we shall be."

Have you read of the Taj Mahal in India, in some respects the most majestic building on earth? Twenty thousand men were twenty years in building it. It cost about sixteen millions of dollars. The walls are of marble, inlaid with cornelian from Bagdad, and turquoise from Thibet, and jasper from Punjab, and amethyst from Persia, and all manner of precious stones. A traveler says that it seems to him like the shining of the enchanted castle of burnished silver. The walls are two hundred and forty-five feet high, and from the top of these springs a dome thirty more feet high, that dome containing the most wonderful echo the world has ever known; so that ever and anon travelers standing below with flutes and drums and harps are testing that echo, and the sounds from below strike up and then come down as it were the voices of angels all around about the building. There is around it a garden of tamarind and banyan and palm, and all the floral glories of the ransacked earth. But that is and it is tame compared with the grandeurs which God has builded for your living and immortal spirit. O, home of the blessed! Foundations of gold! Arches of victory! Capstone of praise! and a dome in which there are echoing and re echoing the hallelujahs of the ages. And around about that mansion is a garden—the garden of God—and all the springing fountains are the bottled tears of the Church in the wilderness, and all the crimson of the flowers is the deep hue that was caught up from the carnage of earthly martyrdoms, and the fragrance is the prayer of all the saints, and the aroma puts into utter forgetfulness the cassia and the spikenard and the frankincense and the world-renowned spices which Queen Balkis, of Abyssina, flung at the feet of King Solomon.

ONLY A TOMB OF A DEAD PRINCESS,

"When shall these eyes Thy heaven-built walls
And pearl gates behold,
Thy bulwarks, with salvation strong,
And streets of shining gold?"

Through obduracy on our part, and through the rejection of that Christ who makes heaven possible, I wonder if any of us will miss that spectacle? I fear. I fear. The queen of the South will rise up in judgment against this generation and condemn it, because she came from the uttermost parts of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon, and behold! a greater than Solomon is here.

May God grant that through your own practical experience you may find the Religion's ways are ways of pleasantness, and that all her paths of peace—that it is perfume now and perfume forever. And there was an abundance of spice: "neither was there any such spice as the Queen of Sheba gave to King Solomon."

While Ye Have the Light.

While ye have the light, walk in the light. Present privileges are for present improvement, but we are very prone to neglect the present while thinking of the future or of the past. We look backward with sorrow as we remember our failures and neglects.—We look forward with hope and dream of better days, and more extended usefulness; but on the present, the only time which is ours, and which enwraps within itself all our opportunities, we look with comparative indifference. To-day the light of revelation, the light of providence the light of the Holy Spirit, the light of life are shining on our path Now, while we have the light let us walk in it. Now, while we have the opportunity let us improve it. Now, while the commands of God are laid upon us, let us obey them from the heart.

How suddenly our circumstances change! The light which we neglect may be taken from us. Sickness may come; poverty may come; adversity may come; pain may feel for our heart strings, and death strike home to the centre of our lives, and all our opportunities be past Now affords us every privilege, but the hereafter may be as barren as Sahara.

The antediluvians refused to walk in the light when they had the light, but when the floods came, how glad would they have been could they have shared the privileges that Noah enjoyed The Sodomites had light, refused to walk in it and were destroyed with fire from heaven The chosen people of God neglected the light that was given to them, wandered in darkness, and stumbled upon the dark mountains, and while they looked for light, it became gross darkness, and was turned into the shadow of death.

The world to day are rejecting Christ who is the light and life of men. They have the light, but refuse it; they see it, but will not walk in it. But a day shall come when God shall call men to account for the light which they have received, the light which they have rejected, the light which they have refused! May God help us, now in the living Present, to walk in the light we have received, faithfully, and steadfastly, and bring us at last to dwell with Christ who is the light and life of men.—The Christian.

Design in the Atmosphere.

The wisdom of God is clearly manifested in the adaptations of the vast expanse of atmospheric air which surrounds this globe and envelopes all that it contains.

While the sun is the great source of light, yet the co operation of the atmosphere to diffuse that light is essential to the proper illumination of the globe. To the atmosphere we are to ascribe the sweet glories of the day, the delicious blue of the heavens, and the soft and soothing shade of the landscape. Without it the sky would be black as ebony, and out of it the sun would gleam like a red hot ball; and his beams, like a ray passing through an aperture into a dark room, would reveal only the objects on which they fell, or those from which they were directly reflected Without atmosphere there would be no twilight, morning, or evening; the sun at the commencement of the day, would, at one bound, burst from the bosom of night in all its unbearable brilliancy; and, at the close of day, would suddenly plunge out of view, and leave us at once in utter darkness. To the atmosphere we owe all the glories of the setting sun, when heaven puts on her most gorgeous robes, and for all the loveliness of the softening twilight that succeeds.

By means of the atmosphere birds wing their way through space, and lave their plumes from flower to flower.—Without it the busy bee could never gather and lay up her nectar store, nor the morning lark ascend on high to pour forth her early song Without it even the eagle and the condor would flap their wings in vain; flight would be impossible

The atmosphere is also the vehicle of sound, by which we are warned of what is unwholesome offensive, and attracted to what is desirable and pleasing. Without it we should never be regaled with the perfume of incense, or the sweet orders of flowers from garden or field

The atmosphere is likewise the medium of sound. In its absence eternal silence must have reigned; conversation could have been carried on by signs only, while music would have remained an impossibility—that is, supposing that, under such circumstances, men could have existed to converse or sing. The vibrations of the air, like speedy messengers, are what convey our thoughts to others, and those of others to us The air is the channel through which man holds communion with his fellows, and receives the indescribable pleasures that spring from the words of friend ship, the voice of love, and all the soothing charms of melody.

Thus in the air as in other portions of the universe, we see the wisdom, the design, and the goodness of that Creator who "saw everything he had made, and beheld it was very good."—Science and the Bible.

BORAX USEFUL IN WASHING.—Quarter of a pound of refined borax five gallons of water, powder and dissolve it in boiling water in the above proportion, and use. It is an excellent bleacher, and may be used for the most delicate laces even it also saves soap. A little pipe-clay, dissolved in the hot water, cleans very dirty linen with half the soap required without it.

The Sins of the Good-Natured Man

The Good Natured Man is asked by some spendthrift "friend" to lend him five dollars. It is as good as certain that the money will never be repaid. But the Good Natured Man hates to say No, and so he lends the money—money which he really needs for his wife and children. In other words, his wife must come short on a new bonnet, or his children must wait still longer for the needed new shoes, in order that this seedy spendthrift may be "accommodated" with five dollars.

The Good Natured Man is asked to endorse a man's note. The one who wishes him to endorse the note is one to whom he is not under any obligation to assist. There is no reason why he should be expected to become security for this man, but he hates to "disappoint" any one, and so he signs name. By and by he finds that he has got to pay the note, and he is obliged to sell his house and lot, perhaps, to raise the money. In other words, his wife and children must be turned out of doors, because he was so anxious to "accommodate" a man to whom he owed nothing at all.

The Good Natured Man is perhaps a minister in such, his name and recommendation are worth something. He is asked to recommend a book which he knows, or should know, to be worthless—to say that it is an exceedingly valuable work while in fact, he does not believe it to be such. He is asked to give a recommendation to a young man he appoints to a certain position, when he knows that this man is utterly incompetent to fill the place But he wishes to "accommodate the good agent—he feels sorry for the candidate for the office, and so he signs his name to help defraud the people with a worthless book, or to defraud the community at large by having an unsuitable man appointed to the place in question.

Perhaps the Good-Natured Man becomes manager of a newspaper. He is sent to him long articles which the writer is very anxious should be published, but in which the public will feel no interest. Now a moment's thought would show that the money of subscribers is taken on the condition that they are to receive the very best reading matter that can be obtained. But to please the writers, or Sprigens, this long prosy article is published, and the thousand or ten thousand subscribers are defrauded nearly definitely by having poorer matter given them than they have contracted for. But the Good Natured editor soon finds, however, that the subscribers have one way of defending themselves. They "stop taking the paper," and the money comes.

The Good Natured Man is guilty of moral cowardice. He knows that he ought not to "accommodate" every man who comes to him with a request, but he has not the courage to look a man square in the eye and say, "No." Rather than refuse to "oblige" one who is perhaps an entire stranger, he will bring the greatest evils on those nearest him. The old precept was, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor and hate thine enemy"—but the Good Natured Man is very good indeed to strangers, and very hard on his nearest friends. Good nature should begin at home. Let a man "accommodate" his wife and children before giving up everything for strangers. Let him not be unjust in order to be "obliging."—Examiner.

SHORT SENTENCES.

Short phrases have ever been the most powerful and beautiful mediums of conveying thought. They are simplicity itself—and simplicity is beauty. Easily understood no study is required to grasp their meaning. A prophetic politician makes a declaration respecting government, and the people soon catch the spirit and confirm the declaration. Reads from such phrases may not be immediate; but the words go sounding on until their work is accomplished. Short phrases are comprehensive, and sometimes contain whole volumes Cæsar's 'Veni, vidi, vici, gave the history of a whole campaign. And the last words of the dying Tom Paine—'I take a leap in the dark'—a confession of judgement stranger than the infidelity of a lifetime. When the remains of Napoleon Bonaparte were brought to Paris by Prince de Joinville the entire speech making was this: 'Sire! I present to you the ashes of Napoleon.'—And Louis Philippe answered, 'I receive them in the name of France.' Such was the brief response of a people to the presence of a dead Emperor Sometimes in a single sentence, the life and character of some great man stands out strongly marked and individualized. No lengthy word could depict the character of Enoch more clearly than the simple words: 'Enoch walked with God, and was not; for God took him.' The first chapter of Genesis is a symbol of the power which a few words can embody.

The Christian Advocate.

OFFICE—Corner of Dawson & Hargett Sts

THE ORGAN
OF THE
NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE
OF THE
M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev J B Bobbitt, D.D } Editors
R. T. Gray, Esq., }

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION:

FOR ONE YEAR, IN ADVANCE, POSTAGE PAID, $2.50
SIX MONTHS, " " 1.35
If payment be delayed six months, 2.70

RALEIGH, N. C., OCT. 25, 1876.

All letters on business with this office should be addressed to the Christian Advocate, Raleigh, N. C.

The Cross (X) Mark is to remind you that your subscription has expired. Let all renew promptly.

Aids to Pastoral Success.

The New York Christian Advocate in a late issue, has a lengthy editorial on the means necessary to the pastors success. From it we make the following extract. The suggestions are good, and if carried out, in the spirit of Christian love, on the part of the Church, the kingdom of Christ would receive a fresh impetus in its warfare against sin. That the success of a pastor depends in a very great degree upon the fidelity of his members is a fact sustained by the teachings of the Holy Scriptures, and fully borne out in the school of mature experience:

"Hear him. This is not a fair-weather duty. Has not the business of eternity as urgent claims as the business of time? Then it is not too high to let one rule govern decisions in both cases. The preacher is sent to be heard. He comes to tell the good news. He will be pretty certain to tell the best news he has. Joy bubbles up in the heart and ripples out over the lips, while sorrow settles, like life's sediment, in the bottom of the heart, to clog its throbbings.—His best may not suit you. Remember that there are only a few model preachers. We have read of only one perfect Model, and he was crucified many centuries ago.

You are to hear as those who must give an account to God. Roaming about for the Gospel is as pernicious to character as roaming about in business life would be to a man's fortune. Fortunes are built up by pushing a business along given lines through all seemings. Religious characters follow the same law. Who are the pillars of the Church? Not those who run around after men, but those who stand by the Church. A man can better afford to live from hand to mouth financially than religiously. A small regular salary in the long run of life sums up better than large and uncertain gains.

"Back" him. Be in your place.—Battles are won, not by the men on the muster roll, but by the men in the engagement. As a rule, sermons are none too warm. An empty pew throws a bucket of cold water over the pulpit. We have seen very good preachers, like very good gophers, drowned out. Every seat in the prayer-meeting is occupied. When you are not in your seat there, some evil spirit occupies it, trying to represent you. Is it not too much to ask your pastor to pray in pandemonium? So also concerning class. You either go or send a hand. In the low strifes of this world for perishable crowns and belts, champions never stand alone.

Pray for him. The mother, seeing her son's craft go upon the breakers, kneels on the dripping beach.—Many a dead Church has been resurrected by the voice of prayer. The Master's blessing has many a time made a very little bread and fish feed a great hungry multitude. Your prayer will secure that blessing. The great revival that launched the infant Church originated in a ten-days' prayer-meeting. The Reformation sprouted in the cell where the great German prayed. Methodism grew out of the prayer meeting of a few Oxford students. The great Irish revival that astonished the world the other decade was spoken into power by the prayor of two poor women.—Simeon and Anna, in extreme age, dwelt in the temple and abode before the altar, and they found in the helpless babe of a peasant of Nazareth the Son of God.

Pay him. Even a camel must be fed. That steward who charged the preacher with a pair of socks which his mother gave the preacher the year before, footed his Gospel bill with a yarn that will not bear repeating among the angels. He differed from the preacher in being scantily supplied with soul; and from his mother, in that while she warmed the preacher's soles he prepared his own soul for warming hereafter. Your pastor differs from your stable boy in this—he must have not only bread but also books. This means money to pay for them, and time to study them. When the hopper is empty, the bread tray cannot long be full."

Dr. Talmage has retired from the editorial chair of the Christian at Work, and has assumed charge of the Advance which will hereafter be published in New York as well as in Chicago. Dr. Talmage gives no special reason for the change. He will add brilliancy to whatever paper receives the fruit of his labor.

Subscribe for the ADVOCATE.

Evil Speaking.

The Southern Christian Advocate has the following timely and pointed editorial on the subject of evil speaking. It is a just rebuke of this sinful practice and we commend it to our readers as worthy of a careful perusal:

"It was a wholesome requirement of the old Discipline that every pastor should annually read to his congregation Mr. Wesley's sermon on Evil Speaking. At the period of our entrance into the ministry the observance of the requirement was by no means general, and since, it has been entirely dropped, as a dead letter, from the book. Why we cannot say. It would be as great a mistake, however, to conclude that the abatement of the evil against which it was leveled bad obviated the necessity for the sermon, as it would be to ascribe the abandonment of the custom of publicly reading it, wholly to the complicity of preachers with the evil they were enjoined to decry. Whatever the considerations which influenced the elimination of this item from the specific duties of a preacher, whether adequate or not, we are free to express our conviction that its restoration would be no step backward. Evil Speaking was a grievous moral malady in Mr. Wesley's time, and his admirable sermon on the subject was as well adapted to arrest it as any mere "moral suasion" treatment could be. It is a fearful evil now, and was never more fatally successful in its diabolical work of blasting individual reputations, embittering and dissolving the sweetest and most sacred alliances, and embroiling families and communities in implacable feuds. It permeates the whole fabric of society, and like a deadly Upas, blights and withers whatever it touches with its blistering breath. One of the most deplorable and appalling features of the social life of the present day, is the recklessness with which personal reputation is treated. Politicians, by virtue of their position, are open to all manner of crimination by adverse partisans, who never pause to ascertain whether the allegations are true or false. The influence and usefulness of ministers of the Gospel are often seriously impaired and sometimes hopelessly ruined, by the reckless or thoughtless repetition of slanders which, though maliciously invented, if unrepeated would have fallen still born and harmless upon society. Female character, the most sacred and at the same time the most sensitive thing in the whole sphere of enlightened society, is constantly imperilled, and ever and anon ruinously besmirched by the contemptible, yet wide-spread propensity to gossip—the most despicable if not the most destructive form of "evil speaking." The fact that a malicious motive is not always the incitement to indulgence of this evil, does not mitigate the damage inflicted, and furnish es small extenuation of the offense.—He who recklessly wields a deadly weapon, or carelessly scatters a poisonous drug, by which life is destroyed, is little less criminal than the man who intentionally uses the one or the other with murderous purpose. So, the man or woman, who with thoughtless indulgence of a propensity to talk, repeats the slanderer's scanda', is particeps criminis as to the wretched consequences that may ensue.

It is a humiliating confession, and yet it must be made, that the evil deprecated in this article is not confined to the vicious and ungodly, but flourishes alarmingly among Christian people. Without stopping to estimate the magnitude of the wrong we do, it may be, or imagining the grievousness of the sin we commit, we throw open our ears to every current scandal and aid in its circulation. We speak evil of our spiritual guides, of our brethren in the Lord, of our neighbors, and in the matter of bridling our tongues are undistinguishable from the graceless world. It is a great, a most lamentable evil, and calls loudly for correction. If St. Paul's words have any meaning when he says "Speak evil of no man," there is a fearful departure from Apostolic teaching in the Church of the present day.

Notwithstanding the great advancement of the Methodist pulpit since Mr. Wesley's day, we doubt very much whether anything better can be produced on the subject than his sermon on "The Care of Evil Speaking," and we heartily recommend every one of our readers, male and female, to read it over thoughtfully and prayerfully. It closes thus:

"Oh that all you who bear the reproach of Christ, who are in derision called Methodists, would set an example to the Christian world, so called, at least in this one instance! Put ye away evil-speaking, talebearing, whispering; let none of them proceed out of your mouth! See that you 'speak evil of no man;' of the absent, nothing but good. If ye must be distinguished, whether ye will or no, let it be the distinguishing mark of a Methodist 'He censures no man behind his back: by this fruit ye may know him.' What a blessed effect of this self-denial we should quickly feel in our hearts! How would our peace flow as a river, when we thus 'followed peace with all men!' How would the love of God abound in our own souls, while we thus confirmed our love to our brethren! And what an effect would it have on all that were united together in the name of the Lord Jesus! How would brotherly love continually increase, when this grand hinderance of it was removed! All the members of Christ's mystical body would then naturally care for each other. 'If one member suffered, all would suffer with it; if one was honored, all would rejoice with it;' and every one would love his brother with a pure heart fervently.' Now is this all; but what an effect might this have, even on the wild, unthinking world! How soon would they descry in us, what they could not find among all the thousands of their brethren, and cry, (as Julian the apostate to his heathen courtiers,) 'See how these Christians love one another!' By this chiefly would God convince the world, and prepare them also for his kingdom; as we may easily learn from those remarkable words in our Lord's last solemn prayer: 'I pray for them who shall believe in me, that they may be one, as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee,—that the world may believe that thou has sent' The Lord hasten the time! The Lord enable us thus to love one another, not only 'in word and in tongue, but in deed and in truth,' even as Christ hath loved us!"

South Carolina Troubles.

A conflict of races seems imminent in South Carolina. The political canvass now going on in that State is intensely exciting and has enlisted the interest of all classes. Driven to desperation by the burdens which have been put upon them by the reckless and corrupt administration of the State affairs, the people are making a final and earnest struggle to wrench the government of the State from the hands that have held sway, and put it under the control of men whose position and character give assurance of an honest and decent rule. Many of the leading republicans of the State refuse to support Chamberlain, the republican candidate for Governor, and are using their influence to defeat him and his adherents; and in doing this they claim that they do not cease to be republicans: they will vote for Mr. Hayes the republican candidate for President, but will not sustain a man whose administration they say has been corrupt and ruinous to the State. Gov. Chamberlain, seeing the opposition which even his party friends are making against him, and fearing his defeat at the coming election, has induced President Grant to send Federal troops to South Carolina professedly for the purpose of preserving peace but really, it appears, for the purpose of overawing the opposition and retaining the colored voters in his ranks. The New York Herald, whose sympathies are with the Republican party, though it professes to be independent, advises the negroes to vote for Gen. Hampton, the Democratic candidate, but to cast their suffrages for the National Republican ticket if they choose to do so.

The excitement has become so intense that several conflicts have occurred between the whites and the blacks, and unless great prudence and forbearance are observed, the conflict will become deadly.

It is thought to be Gov. Chamberlain's wish that a state of affairs may ariso which will render it necessary to proclaim the State to be in insurrection, establish martial law, take possession of the ballot boxes and thus have himself elected despite the great opposition which he encounters.

At a political discussion last week, at a village called Cainhoy, where it had been agreed that no fire-arms should be carried, a disturbance occurred, whereupon the republican negroes hastened to a swamp hard by, seized their guns which had been concealed there and commenced an indiscriminate firing upon the unarmed whites and democratic negroes, killing five and wounding many others The whites beat a hasty retreat, leaving the field in the possession of their assailants. Upon returning with reinforcements to recover the dead and wounded they found the bodies stripped and horribly mutilated. The militia of the State is composed almost entirely of negroes and they are armed with the most improved styles of rifles and muskets. If further collisions occur, an open war of races may arise which will be cruel and deadly, which only the presence of Federal troops can end; or a bitter and lasting feud may be engendered which, though not so immediate in its results, will be more dangerous to society and individuals, life and proporty, and will be terminated with greater difficulty.

We trust that the white people of the State will not be provoked into retaliatory measures or allow themselves to go beyond what is absolutely and strictly required to self-defence. Between the whites and blacks the relations are usually peaceable and pleasant: no natural animosity exists; and it is only when the latter are excited and encouraged by bad leaders that such troubles exist as are disgracing our sister State.

It should be the endeavor of all good citizens and christians to allay and prevent political excitement and race animosities. Our poor South has been cursed enough with the evils to which they give rise. Foul Murder with his gun and knife, Arson with his torch, and other nameless cruelties have stalked through our borders making hearts bleed and disgracing our land with riot and disorder.

Retaliation will not assist either race, nor will cruelty and outrage advance the interest of either political party: they will only bring shame, suffering and grief upon the State and its citizens, darken homes, clog industry, beget poverty and retard the advance and improvement of good morals and religion.

NEWS FROM THE CHURCHES.

Rev. J. W. Jenkins writes, Oct 18th, that he had just closed a gracious meeting at Kimbro's, on Yanceyville circuit, resulting in ten conversions and eight accessions.

Bro. A K Scarboro writes from Randolph circuit, Pleasant Hill Church, on the Randolph circuit, we have been blessed with one of the most powerful revivals of religion known for many years in this section of country. It continued a little over a week. We had services twice and three times a day, except the last two days.

On the first day of the meeting there were only about fifteen persons present; prospects for a good meeting were quite gloomy, but the minister told the few present that if even one would go to God in earnest prayer we would have a good meeting.

After the first day, crowds came every day and night, some times more than could get in the house. The spirit of God came down upon us, and the members of the church went to work; sinners, old and young, came flocking to the altar and cried for mercy. Rev. P L Hermon, of Thomasville, was present Monday and Tuesday; he preached, each day, a powerful and awakening sermon. Fifty three were converted and forty eight joined the Church The Lord has been with us He has abundantly poured His spirit upon us"

Rev. W. S. Creasy writes from Mt Airy, Oct 14th: "The Lord is still reviving his people on the Surry circuit, —We have just closed a very interesting meeting at Ebenezer which resulted in the conversion of twenty-one souls, and twenty two accessions to the Church. The membership was abundantly built up and strengthened. We had a delightful Love Feast. On Thursday the communion was administered and a weight of glory seemed to rest upon all. Our own soul was made exceedingly happy and we were enabled to shout the praises of God aloud with the congregation. That day will be long remembered by the people who were present.

This appointment was very weak before this meeting; it now bids fair to be an important point. The finances will come up for the first time in sixteen years. Bro Wm. B. Maness was with us two days and nights, preaching and laboring with penitents; he rendered very valuable assistance during his stay. One hundred and fourteen have been converted on the circuit this year. One hundred and nineteen have joined the Church, and still the good work goes on. Glory be to God! Brethren pray for us!"

Rev. S. D. Peeler writes under date of Oct 5th: "It is always a great pleasure to me to know and publish that which is good. Last week I spent a few days with Bro C. M. Anderson at a protracted meeting, at St. Peter's on his charge. The meeting commenced on Saturday before 4th Sunday in Sept, and closed Wednesday night after. The prime object of the meeting was to dedicate the new church, which was done by Bro. Anderson on Sunday. On Monday I came in rather as a stranger in a strange land. Was glad to find not only a new and commodious church, and the people to whom God had given largeness of heart, and minds to work, but a gracious revival of religion in progress. The meeting continued in interest; sinners were convicted, mourners converted, and the Church wonderfully blessed. At times it seemed as if heaven and earth had come together, the shouts of glory! "hallelujah 'mingled with the sweet songs of praise, and anthems of joy. Thank God for such refreshings upon earth, and such drawings for heaven. During the meeting, a goodly number were converted, and I think about 12 joined the Church

Bro. Anderson and his people are greatly in love with each other, (just as it should be.) He was taken suddenly very sick the night his meeting closed. For several days it was thought that he was sick unto death Thank God, he is better, but not able to write, and perhaps will not be for some days; hence this communication from me."

Bro Stancy writes: "The good Lord is still reviving His work on the Dallas circuit. Since my last note in the ADVOCATE, I have held three protracted meetings, including camp meeting, resulting in 43 accessions to the Church, and about that number of conversions A great many penitents were left at the altars earnestly seeking salvation.

I had no ministerial help outside of what help was rendered at my camp meeting, save one sermon by I. T. Harris of Lincolnton. Up to date between 85 and 90 persons have joined the Church this year.

Others will join soon. I have two protracted meetings yet to hold. To God be all the glory!"

We had the pleasure of a visit the past week from Rev. H. H. Gibbons, in charge of Person circuit. He reports his charge in a healthy condition. During the year he has received into the Church 120 persons by profession of faith. He tells us that he has baptized ten children during the year. This, of itself, is a favorable indication of the spirituality of the Church. A still further evidence of the life of the Church on the circuit is the interest they take in their pastor. He has been the recipient of very many valuable presents—such as flour by the barrel and various other articles of provisions always needed in a family.

Religious Intelligence.

Rev Dr. E. H. Myers was a classmate of Rev. Dr. Curry, both having been received into the Georgia Conference in 1841.

Dr. Butler has received $7,000 of the $12,000 which he designed to raise for the Mexican mission, besides guarantees for the expenses in publishing sixteen religious works in Spanish.

Bishop Marvin, of the M E. Church South, expects to meet Bishop Andrews in Northern India, next January He is now visiting the mission of his Church at Shanghai and other China fields

Rev. A. M. Wynn, Pastor of the Wesley Monumental Church at Savannah, Ga., had a severe attack of the yellow fever. This was followed by a relapse; but he is now convalescing, and by great care and prudence he hopes to be fully restored

When Rev. U. S. Bird, pastor of the Southern Methodist Church at Fernandina, Florida, learned of the death of Dr. Myers, and the prostration of the other Southern Methodist preachers in Savannah on account of yellow fever, he tendered his services and asked the privilege of ministering to the sick of the stricken city. His offer was accepted at once by telegraph, and he is now at his post of danger,

It is said Bishop Dudley, of the Episcopal church, was a major in the Confedrate service, and entered the ministry since the war.

Students of the University of North Carolina have organized a Young Men's Christian Association, and are conducting it with great spirit.

Henry Morehouse, a distinguised evangelist from England and Canada, is now at work in Philadelphia. He turns his attention principally to giving Bible readings. The attendance on his services in Philadelphia is not very large, but those who go give close attention.

About $100,000 has been given for the new American church of St. Paul, Rome, Italy, and the whole cost of the edifice has been met, excepting about twelve thousand dollars For external beauty and finish this church is said to be superior to any in Rome.

There is now published in San Francisco a Chinese newspaper called The Oriental. It is wholly inspired by, and published in the interests of heathenism The religion is the religion of Confucius Its morality and politics are Confucian.

The Moravian Unity's Elders' Conference reports receipts for the year $76,591; and expenses $95,454. The Moravian is not satisfied with the amount of the contributions of the American province.

The great Day of Atonement among the Jews fell this year on September 28th. Christians, in Europe, observed the day of last year as one of special prayer for the conversion of Jews; and have done so again this year.

Joseph Smith, Jr., son of the founder of the Mormon Church, is preaching in California. He denies the headship of Brigham Young. He says that he has from 12,000 to 15,000 personal followers, and that the headquarters of reformed church are at Plano, Ill

The Methodist Board of Church Extension has a building loan fund of $270,000 cash, and over $200,000 in good subscriptions and promises to pay, and $60,000 in real estate, besides over $100,000 known to be on the way to the fund in wills.

The chancellor of Michigan University has allowed dancing in his parlors and the hall of the University is sometimes used for dancing purposes The Detroit Methodist Episcopal Conference has made a declaration against the sin.

Some of the Lutherans are in favor of changing the title of President of synod to Bishop, and making the office a permanent one.

The correspondence between Bishop Jones of the African Zion M. E. Church, and Bishop Miles of the Colored M. E. Church, does not give much promise of fraternization, and less of organic union.

The Christian Advocate, (New York,) in a recent article, gave sensible views on "Celibate Clergymen." The influence of the solitary life on the Priests of the Romish Church is clearly and forcibly stated as follows: "If we consider the results of this life on the individual, we shall perceive that he need not wear the priestly garment in order to be recognized. No class of society presents, on the whole, more morose hypochondriacs in look and word. There are few noble faces in whose features one sees at a glance intellectual work and higher aspirations. The mass of the priesthood is distinguished by coarse corpulence, spongy faces, and that ruddy tint which is a speaking testimony of the beer and wine consumed. The thick and coppery nose, protruding cheeks, double chin, oily skin, and coarse features, betray a habit which leaves on the thinking man the impression of one who finds his highest pleasure in eating, drinking and sleeping. Another class shows unmistakable discontent and dissatisfaction with the world generally."

Gov. Chamberlain, of South Carolina, has, with the aid of U. S. Marshals, caused the arbitrary arrest of 41 citizens who have been lodged in Aiken county jail.

Recent Publications.

THE METHODIST QUARTERLY REVIEW. D. D Whedon, LL D. Editor.—Nelson & Phillips, Publishers, New York $2 50 a year.

The October number of this publication of the M E. Church contains 1 Recent Origin of Man. 2 Symbolism of the Pre Christian Cross. 3 Relations of the M E. Church to the Cause of Temperance. 4 Gautama and Lao Tzu. 5 The Cosmic Philosophy. 6 History of Protestant Missions in India, and the usual departments by the learned editor, Dr. Whedon.

Dr. Whedon endorses the address of the commissioners of the two Churches to the authorities and members of both, and heartily joins in their contrabation that "the broken cords of affectionate and brotherly fraternization" have been reunited, and suggests "a Centennial Union of all American Methodisms, including if they will the Canadian brethren.' It would be graceful, he says, for the next General Conference of the Church South to initiate propositions and programme looking to such end.

In another place Dr. Whedon takes the press of the Southern Methodist Church to task for not having unequivocally denounced the outrages that have been committed upon unoffending negroes, saying that no such unequivocal condemnation was uttered by any paper in the Southern Church until after he had reprimanded their failure to do so. He has certainly not read all of the papers or he would have seen, in several, as sincere and earnest condemnation as the character of the outrages demanded. As for our ADVOCATE, it has not been slow to condemn unequivocally the acts of rash and proscriptive men when such acts were unprovoked and fiendish.—But if Dr. Whedon would pin less faith to the one sided and exaggerated statements of the Northern partisan press and would come South to see for himself, he would find that but few outrages have been committed by the whites upon unoffending negroes, and that the collisions which have occurred between the whites and blacks and resulted disastrously to the blacks, were brought about as much by the insolence and aggressive conduct of the latter as by the proscriptive spirit of the whites. If, while deprecating and denouncing these outrages, it be equivocal condemnation to denounce also the blacks for their part in the bloody scenes, then perhaps no "unequivocal condemnation" has been made. We might with as much justice accuse Dr. Whedon of a failure to "unequivocally condemn," because we have yet to see that he has ever denounced the blacks for the crimes, cruelties and provoking conduct of which they have been guilty wherever conflicts have occurred.

LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE; J. B. Lippincott & Co., Phila. $4 a year.

Agriculture and Horticulture form the subject of the Centennial article in Lippincott's Magazine for November, and are treated with the fullness and ability that have characterized the whole series. Some of the finest displays in both sections are well represented in the engravings. Another illustrated paper is the first of two, entitled 'Walks and Visits in Wordsworth's Country,' by Ellis Yarnall, a friend of the poet and his family. It gives not only good descriptions of the lovely 'Lake Legion,' but many interesting anecdotes and personal reminiscences. Professor Hart writes on 'Higher Education' with the authority that belongs to his intimate study of the subject, and presents some novel views. The Wagner Festival is discussed in a short, readable paper; Lady Barker sends another of her South African Letters, and Lucy H. Hooper describes the 'Curiosities of the Parisian Post Office.' In the way of fiction we have the beginning of George Macdonald's new serial, 'The Marquis of Lossie' which opens with some striking situations, and will be welcomed by all the author's admirers; a further installment of 'Love in Idleness,' and a pathetic and well constructed story from the German, 'The Pendulum of Fortune.' In the 'Monthly Gossip' the most noticeable paper is an unpublished story of Lord Byron and Mary Chaworth.

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY MAGAZINE, conducted by J. G. Holland. Scribner & Co, New York. $4. a year.

SCRIBNER for November begins the thirteenth volume of that magazine and opens with a fully illustrated article on Hartford, by Mr. Charles H. Clark, of the 'Hartford Courant,' under the title of 'The Charter Oak City.' In this number Charles Barnard's articles on Co operation in Great Britain are begun—with a paper on 'A Scottish Loaf Factory.' Mrs Herrick's very carefully illustrated microscopic papers are also here begun—the first being entitled 'The Beginnings of Life' Mr. Clarence Cook continues his talks about furniture; the illustrations are of fire places, settees, chairs, etc., Mr. C. F. Thwing gives the result of his investigations in regard to the expenses of an education at the principal colleges,—including cost of board, etc Donald G. Mitchell (Ik Marvell) writes about some of the features of the great Exhibition There is an illustrated paper on Rome: a short story by James T McKay, a short story by Mrs Burnett, whose serial 'That Lass o'Lowrie's' is continued. Mr. Hale's story draws to its close There are poems by Thomas Baile Aldrich, George Parsons Lathrop, and others. In the departments at the end of the magazine, various subjects are discussed 'Bric a Brac' contains among other things, the ballad of the Fair Isolinda, by Hugh Howard; and The Old Hostler's Experience, by Irwin Russell

---

ST NICHOLAS. A Magazine for Girls and Boys; Conducted by Mary Mapes Dodge. Scribner & Co. $3 a year.

'The Owl that Stared,' 'Borrowing a Grandmother,' and 'Tinsie's Conclusion,' are three admirable Thanksgiving stories, and every one of them is beautifully illustrated.

Of miscellaneous articles, the number contains enough to delight the boys and girls for many an hour. There is 'The Kingdom of the Greedy.' an article telling 'All about a Lead-pencil;' some delightful verses called 'The Bees that went to the Sky;' and an interesting 'Reminiscence of Abraham Lincoln.'

Susan Coolidge contributes an historical article entitled "A Queen, and not a Queen,' and H. H. has a charming practical talk; while the fresh and stirring 'Story of a 'Tolerbul' Bad Boy,' is by Sarah Winter Kellogg. 'Flowers in Winter,' and 'A Centennial Peacewiper,' furnish pleasant tasks for little hands; and there is no end to the pleasant rhymes prepared for little eyes and ears; such as 'Benita,' by Mary E. Bradley; 'Listening,' by Mary N Prescott; 'The Sunday Baby,' by Alice Williams, and the dainty verses by Bessie Hill, entitled 'Far Away.'

The number contains many beautiful pictures by well-known artists, as well as a few very comical drawings by F. Opper and others.

BLACKWOOD EDINBURGH MAGAZINE. American Edition. Leonard Scott Publishing Co, New York. $4 a year.

The contents of the October number of this world-renowned publication are 'A Run through Kathiawar—the Scythian Kathis;' 'The Friend of the Hero;' 'A woman Hater' Part V; 'The Two Chancellors, Prince Gortschakoff and Prince Bismarck; 'Nenuphar: a Fancy;' 'Primavera; 'Country Life;' 'A River Song;' 'The Mobilization of the Army, and National Defence:' The other periodicals reprinted by the Leonard Scott Publishing Co., are THE LONDON QUARTERLY, EDINBURGH, WESTMINISTER, and BRITISH QUARTERLY REVIEWS.

HARPER'S NEW MONTHLY MAGAZINE Harper & Brothers, New York, $4 per annum.

The November number of this truly excellent Magazine has been received The leading articles are: MAGNUS and MORNA: a Shetland Fairy Tale, by the author of "John Halifax Gentleman; DAWN, a poem, by Bayard Taylor; MEDIAEVAL FURNITURE; A PURITAN GENTLEMAN IN NEW ENGLAND; POETS RESIGNATION; an English woman among the HIMALYAS; A WOMAN HATER, PART I Other articles follow, which with the usual departments. Editor's Easy chair," Editor's Literary Record," "Scintific Record," "Historical Record" and "Editor's Drawer," make a very interesting number.

THE STATE FAIR.—The Fair last week was a success, despite the misgivings and unfavorable predictions that abounded prior to its commencement. The displays were generally as good as those heretofore made and in some instances better. The attendance on Thursday was large but rather slim on the other days during which the Fair was held. Many feared that the great Centennial Exhibition at Philadelphia was so surpassing in its grandeur and extent that our people would not take much interest in our humble State Exhibition, but the Centennial seems to have had no appreciable effect upon destroying or lessening such interest in our people generally. The fact that the attendance was smaller this year than formerly is to be attributed rather to the exceeding hard times upon which our country and especially our State has fallen.

Much of the success of the Fair is to be attributed to the pluck and energy which Capt. Denson, the Secretary, displayed in "working up" the exhibition. He labored indefatigably and in the face of many difficulties It is the first year he has occupied the position of Secretary of the Agricultural Society and his work and its success prove that his selection was a wiso one. Hereafter he will have fewer difficulties to contend with, and we perdict that under his management the State Fair will be an institution of which our people will be proud Too much cannot be said in praiso of Capt Denson's zeal and peculiar fitness for the position he occupies.

THE MILITARY AT THE FAIR.—A very pleasant feature of our Fair last week was the presence and parade of several military companies, to wit, The Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry, Maj. Haigh, commanding The Wilmington Light Infantry, Capt M. P. Taylor; The Newbern Grays, Capt. Whitford; The Raleigh Light Infantry, Maj. Manly; and the Raleigh Light Artillery, Capt. Lee. In addition to these volunteer companies was the corps of 'Bingham Cadets,' Maj. Robt. Bingham. commanding The drilling and deportment of all the companies were admired by our citizens and visitors to the Fair, but the Cadets of Bingham School were especially commended by all for their fine gentlemanly appearance, the beauty and accuracy of their drill both in evolutions on the field and in the manual of arms. They received high praise from distinguished military men who witnessed their movements. But what was noted with most pleasure and which should be a source of especial pride to Maj. Bingham, was the morale of the young men—their high-toned, gentlemanly conduct when out of ranks, abroad in the city released from the restraint of their commander's presence and eye. Their deportment has been a subject of general notice and remark and we take pleasure in acquainting the friends of the students and of the school with the good opinions they have won. To a "Bingham" boy, the uniform he wears is regarded as a badge of honor which he dare not disgrace by riotous or unseemly conduct.

CHARLESTON, Oct. 17.—Negroes, belonging to the State militia, had their arms concealed near a joint meeting at Cainhoy, nine miles from Charleston, at which, by agreement, both parties appeared unarmed. A disturbance occurring, the militia, having obtained their arms, commenced firing from bushes, killing two and wounding fourteen whites. Eighty armed whites left the city to secure the bodies and protect the people in the vicinity of Cainhoy.

NORTH CAROLINA.

The sales of cotton in one day at Charlotte recently, amounted to 2469 bales.

The Schooner Stonewall was sunk at Beaufort; parties attempted to raise it but failed, and Capt. Thos. Thomas thereby lost $2.000.

Mr. B. L. Perry announces himself as a candidate for the Senate from the District composed of Jones, Onslow and Cartret counties.

The Democratic papers are praising Col. Walter Steele for the "boundless energy" he has shown in canvassing the District which he proposes to represent in Congress. Until recently he has had no opponent,

The population of Charlotte is stated by Turner's N C. Almanac to be 8,630; number of dwelling houses 1,730.

Mrs. Mary Lucas, of Charlotte, formerly of Fayetteville, has on exhibition in the Woman's Pavilion at Philadelphia Centennial, a handkerchief worked by herself. She is over 80 years of age and wears no glasses.

The city debt of Charlotte is only $33,000. Happy Charlotte!

Allen Lowrie, of Guilford county, has a pumpkin vine with fifty two full grown pumpkins on it.

Young S. H. Williamson, son of Col. Geo. Williamson, of Caswell co., recently passed a very creditable examination at Annapolis. He was one of eight, out of sixty applicauts, who passed.

Gastou Superior Court will begin on the second Monday in November the 13th, instead of the first, the 7th, that being election day.

The Legislature meets on the 3d Monday in November.

The Charlotte Democrat thinks that those negroes who follow the lead in politics of bad negroes and bad white men, should be discarded by good white men when favors are to be bestowed or employment given.

The trial of Kincoe for killing Cagle, removed from Stanly to Union county Superior Court, was postponed a second time at the late term of Union Court. The cost to Stanly county, says the Democrat, will be enormous, as there were over 100 witnesses summoned in the case.

Gen. Saml. Walkup, of Monroe, is dangerously ill and is not expected to live long.

H. H. Helper, an original Union man and Federal soldier, is an independent candidate for the Senate from Davie and Rowan, his pet hobby being the colonization of the negroes in some foreign country.

E. R. Hampton, of Buncombe, is the opponent of Gen. R. B. Vance, for Congress from the 8th District.

J. W. Lathrop Esq. of Savannah, Ga., died of Yellow fever in Greensboro at the residence of his son-in-law, Eugene Morehead, Esq. on the 14th inst. He left Savannah to visit a dying son at Greensboro' and brought the seeds of the disease in his system.

The Commissioners of the W. N. C. Railroad have made a uniform reduction of ten per cent in the salaries of all officers and employes on the road, from President down.

Mrs. Lizzie Evans, widow of Col. Peter Evans, who was killed at Gettysburg, and daughter of the late Gov. Morehead, died at Morganton on the 7th inst. The editor of the Blue Ridge Blade says that in domestic and social life she was the loveliest lady he ever knew.

J. H. Bisaner is associate editor of the Lincoln Progress.

Hickory is to have a tobacco warehouse at an early day.

Col. Tillman Blalock, a prominent citizen of Mitchell county, while gathering apples fell from a tree and sustained injuries from which he died in a few hours.

A new post-office has been established in Burke county, 15 miles from Morganton, called Shoup's Ford, N. L. Chapman, postmaster.

Peter Suddreth, a colored man of Burke county, is 114 years of age. The question remains: was he one of Washington's servants?

Anson Superior Court convened at Wadesboro last Monday.

The horses attached to a wagon driven by Mr. Julius Hill of Anson county, ran away, Mr. Hill being thrown out and injured so seriously that he died on the 17th inst. He was 75 years of age.

A society for the preservation of records and traditions of the Cape Fear section and for the promotion of general science, is being formed in Wilmington. Monthly lectures will be delivered.

Greensboro has had ice this fall—has a first-class white barber, a second crop of Isabella grapes and a dead game who "flings his banner to the breeze."

The Rudisille Mine, near Charlotte is to be put in repair and operated on an extensive scale.

Two wagoners, Brewer and Lawrence camping near Statesville, became involved in a difficulty on the 16th inst. Brewer being cut severely with a knife.

The Winston Sentinel says that W. J. Bailey, Esq. of Charlotte and Col. J. McCorkle, of Salisbury, both prominent lawyers, have withdrawn from the Republican party and are supporting Tilden and Vance.

Trinity College has thirteen students in the Senior class, not a case of sickness in college, and is enjoying a protracted meeting.

J. H. Leak of Trinity College has some fine hogs that somebody accuses him of feeding them on butter, biscuit and coffee—a charge which he denies.

Dr. Craven is opposed to run around marriages and never did and never will officiate at such. He advances the idea too, that "letters are the bane of newspapers."

Rev. Dr. Deems has been invited to deliver the address at the Agricultural Fair to be held at Weldon on the inst.

The Christian Advocate

PUBLISHED IN THE CITY OF RALEIGH EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING, TERMS $2.20 POSTAGE PAID.

Our Agents.

All the traveling and local preachers in the bounds of the North Carolina Conference are our authorized Agents. Any person sending us ten subscribers, for one year, will receive the paper free.

Our Correspondents.

Communications for publication should be carefully written, and on but one side of the sheet. All letters of the office should be addressed to the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

How to Remit.

In sending money, all amounts should be sent in registered letter, post office order or check. The cost of registration, or Post office order can be deducted from the amount in hand. If money is sent otherwise than herein specified, it will be at the sender's risk.

INDEX TO NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ASTHMA AND CATARRH REMEDY—D. Laugell's adv't.

T P Childs—Catarrh can be cured!

Montgomery—Roses for the Million!

E J Hale & Sons, Publishers, New York. The business will not be affected by the removal of P M Hale to Raleigh. This is a Southern House—patronize it.

The Old North State Insurance Co. is a well managed institution and stands well in Insurance circles.—Those in charge of its affairs are reliable men, and the losses it incurs are promptly paid.

Messrs W H & R S Tucker, the enterprising merchants of Raleigh, are receiving their stock of fall and winter goods which they will sell at as cheap prices as can be had. Anything you want in the dry goods line and in the way of hats, shoes, &c, &c., can be had at Tuckers'.

THE CAPE FEAR.—We greet with a welcome the appearance of the Cape Fear, a new paper just started in Wilmington under the management of Mr. Cicero W. Harris, late associate editor of the Morning Star. It is a well filled twenty-four column paper, published every morning, except Monday, for $5 a year.

Mr. Harris is one of the best newspaper men of the State—an industrious worker and a brilliant, versatile and piquant writer. If work and talent will bring success, the Cape Fear will succeed. Mrs. Harris, the accomplished wife of the editor, and a lady whom this writer feels honored to number among his friends, will contribute to the columns of the paper, thereby adding interest and value to the Cape Fear.

A DISCOVERY IN NORTH CAROLINA.—WOLF CREEK, TENN, Oct. 8. —I give you an account of a mound I opened recently. It is about three and a half miles from Wolf Creek, Western North Carolina. It is about eight feet high After digging to the surface of the earth on the edge, we went through to the centre, and found a skeleton. After getting out fifty-four bones, including the skull and chest, we traced him out to get his length. He was, as nearly as we could get it, seven feet in length. From his jawbone he must have been a very large man. We found nothing else, except a small rock that had been broken, about three inches long, perfectly smooth, and with a small hole through it, which we supposed was used for a pipe stem. Around the skeleton was a row of burnt rock: under this ashes and fire coals all in a circle. According to Mr. Squires, it has been three thousand years since these mounds were built.

The Southern Home, of Charlotte, records the manifest improvement in the condition of Mr. Robert Bratton after seven weeks of intense suffering. Mr. B. received the wound while discharging a duty in a way that entitles him to the consideration due a hero and that ought to be known by everybody:

"As night watchman at the depot, he had a pistol in his pocket and was about going home at daylight, when he discovered that a switch was misplaced and that an approaching train would be wrecked. He ran down the track with all his might to fix the switch; his pistol fell out and went off inflicting the wound that has caused him so much suffering. But notwithstanding the wound, he replaced the switch and saved the train. Reared in the lap of luxury, Mr. B. was compelled, like so many of our Southern youth, through the casualties of war to take off his coat and go to work.—This has been done in a noble and unselfish spirit.'

A correspondent of the Wilmington Star says:

Mr. Editor: In the cause of suffering humanity, I beg that you will publish the following prescription, which I know from experience is most beneficial in that terrible disease, which is so prevalent throughout the country at this time:

10 drops tinctnre Belladonna.
11 do Phytolacae, the juice of the common poke root, each in half tumbler of rain water. Give the patient one teaspoonful every half hour, if fever is very high, for the first two hours, then one every hour for the next twelve hours, then one every two hours while the disease continues. Use no gargles or swabs for the throat, but an outward application of soft oil or lard may be used.

In about fifty cases that have come under my observation and that have been treated as above, not more than three have proved fatal.

The granges of six counties in Tennessee and four in Kentucky have united in a corporation called the "Clarksville Tobacco District Council." They have purchased a large warehouse, with capacity to store and handle 4,000 hogsheads The corporation has $10,000 to begin with, and more promised.

The Czar Alexander receives, in round numbers, $22,000 a day income; the Turkish Sultan, $18,000; the Emperor of Austria, $10,000; the Emperor of Germany, $8,200; the King of Italy, $6,140; the Queen of England, $6,270; the King of the Belgians, $1,643; and the President of the French Republic, $500.

A destructive fire occurred in Louisville, Kentucky, on the 17th inst.

General News.

The official majority for Blue Jeans Williams, governor elect of Indiana, is 5119.

More troops have been ordered to South Carolina by Gen. Sherman, under instructions from the Secretary of War.

The Yellow Fever is abating but has not disappeared in Savannah.

There is a prospect of a general European war growing out of the Turco-Servian difficulties.

It is said that the tunnelling of the Straits of Dover is practicable and will be accomplished.

The Mayor and President of Savannah Benevolent Association announce in grateful terms that no further aid is necessary for yellow fever sufferers.

The whole number of paid admissions to the Centennial in September was over 2,000,000; and the total receipts, to Oct. 1, are $3,200,000.

From the unprecedented mildness of last winter and the almost insufferable heat of the past winter, weather prophets are predicting a winter of unusual severity and rigor.

Any hard steel tool will cut glass with great facility when freely wet with camphor dissolved in turpentine, the ragged edges of glass vessels may be easily smoothed out with a flat file.

Marriages.

By Rev. W. S. Black, Oct. 8th 1876, Mr. C C, Drew to Miss R. F. Galloway, all of Brunswick county N. C.

Married on the 18th Oct. 1876, by Rev. W. S. Black, assisted by Rev. J. E. Mann, Rev. J. T. Gibbs of the North Carolina Conference, to Miss Mollie E. Currie of Wilmington N. C.

Married, on Tuesday Oct. 17th, 1876, at the residence of Wm. H Faison Esq. by Rev. G. E. Booker, Rev J. D. Lumsden of the Virginia Annual Conference, M. E Church, South, and Miss Sallie Sykeux daughter of Button P. Sykeux Esq. deceased, all of Northampton co. N. C.

Married on 19th Sept. by Rev. J. S. Ervin Mr. Joseph McGimsey and Miss Adeline Kincade.

By the same, on 22nd Aug Marcus Giles and Miss Julia Gibbs all of Burke co. N. C

Married, Oct. 17th by Rev. J. W. Jenkins Mr. John A. Smith, of Reidsville, N. C. and Miss Fannie J Pluebback, of Caswell co.

Married in Caswell co. on the 12th last., at the residence of the bride's father, by Rev F. H. Jones, Mr Thos. C. Neal and Miss Rebecca Graves daughter of Azariah Graves, Esq. all of Caswell county.

At Pilot Point, Texas, on the 4th inst. Mr Jno. W. Wharton, of Greensboro, to Miss Maria Edwards of Texas Married, by Rev. C. C. Dodson Oct. 18th 1876, in the Methodist Church in Kinston N C. Mr George B Webb and Miss Agnes Pittman, all of Kinston.

In Rockingham, on the 4th inst. Mr O H McKee and Miss Jennie P. daughter of the late Wm Wolfe of Richmond county.

In Salem, at the Moravian Church, on the 10th inst, by the Rt Rev Bishop DeSchweinitz, Lieut. George Pond of the U S A. and Miss L. Babinson, daughter of the late Bishop Babinson.

Deaths.

☞Obituary notices of twenty lines or inserted without charge. The excess over twenty lines of eight words is charged for at the rate of 10 cents per line. Count the lines and allow eight words to the line, in the way you may always know the amount to enclose. Resolutions of respect are subject to the same rule. ☜

Miss Leila, daughter of Rev J. B. Alford died in Greensboro at her mother's, Dr. H. M Alford. September 13th 1876

She left home only a fewdays before in unusually fine health, expecting to remain about a week in Greensboro and then, in company with her brother and family, visit the "Centennial." Alas, how uncertain are all our earthly hopes, and how easily destroyed are our plans! On the 9th of September she was violently attacked with brain fever, and in four days she peacefully fell asleep in Jesus. She was converted to God and joined the M. E. Church South when about 13 years old. From the day of her espousal to God, she was conscientious in the discharge of every christian duty

She was a young lady of ripe scholarship refinement and taste. She was an ornament to society and a blessing to all with whom she associated—shedding a soft rich halo of mellow heavenly light on all around her. Especially in the Sabbath-school she was capable and useful. Bro. L. C. Hubbard, of Clinton, said she was the best teacher he had ever had in his school. In conversation she was richly gifted. In religion, her character was positive and solid. She occupied no middle ground upon vital questions. Her mother said to the writer "Her life was often a rebuke even to her father and myself' Her life was filled with Christ in God." She was the beauty and the joy of home, the dutiful and confiding daughter, and fond and sympathising sister. She said, just before she left home, "mother would you be willing for any one to die in your arms?" Her mother replied. "I would be willing for a member of my family to do so." Well' said she, "I want to die in your arms" This coveted privilege was denied her. Neither of her fond parents was with her in her last hours. But doubtless she found the arms of Jesus open to receive her, and His breast on which to pillow her head The blow is crushing to the family. They can scarcely realize the sad fact that she is gone, that her voice will never be heard again in their earthly home; that she will never more with her peculiar gentleness move from one room to another singing.

"Lord, I would clasp thy hand in mine,
Nor ever murmur nor repine:—
Content what ever lot I see,
Since 'tis my God that leadeth me."

Her remains were conveyed to old Hopewell Church near Trinity College, and in the presence of weeping relatives and friends, Rev. S. D Adams of Greensboro preached her funeral, and then all that was mortal of dear Miss Leila was put away to rest until the morning of the resurrection. May our heavenly Father comfort the smitten parents, brother and sisters!

W. S BLACK

Died at her home in Rockingham co. Mrs. N. F. Rankin wife of Wm. S. Rankin. She was for over 20 years a member of the Methodist Church. We trust she is where the weary are at rest

North Carolina Presbyterian please copy.

Mr Richard Mays died at his residence in Iredell county, N C October 5th, 1876, aged 89 years 9 months 17 days.

Ever since his profession in 1833, he has been a consistent member of the Methodist Church. His house was a home for preachers. His faith was strong, his patience great, his religion pure Therefore, when the Lord called he was ready to go. "I am not afraid to die." So he gathered up his feet into the bed, yielded up the ghost, and was gathered to his Father's people. Lord be thou a father to the fatherless, and a husband unto the widow.

N. S. NORTON.

James Glenn Rainey was born October 1st, 1805, and died at his residence in Germanton on the 29th of September 1876 Bro. Rainey was a member of the M. E. C. S. His home was the home of the Methodist preacher, and all who knew him only knew him to be preeminently hospitable He had been afflicted years prior to his death, was resigned and expressed himself as willing, if it was the will of the Lord, to exchange this life of suffering for life eternal. May the family be convinced that their loss is his eternal gain.

Mrs Susan E Brown, wife of Richard W. Brown of Weldon N C. died at the residence of her brother, Capt S E Moseley, of Halifax N. C. on 20th of August last, of Typho Malarial fever. In her 39th year leaving two small children, a son and daughter. She died in peace with God and in hope of a "blessed immortality." She was born in Charlotte Va, and her mother died when she was an infant Her maiden name was Moseley. At the age of 12 years she lost her father, and in her orphanage was transferred to the care of her sister Mrs. Leftwitch of Bedford co. Va. under whose care she grew up to womanhood.

She was first married to Mr. G. T. Simmons of Halifax S. C. and after to Mr. R. W. Brown who survives to mourn her loss.

She lived and died a member of the Baptist Church and exemplified in her life the religion of Jesus. She was in favor of the communion of all God's people at the Lord's supper. Her religion regulated her life in all her relations to God and society. With tranquil hope and peaceful resignation she passed away from earth to the vision and smile of Jesus in Heaven. She sleeps beside her first husband. Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of His saints

R. O. B.

Lorenza Dow Bagwell was born Aug 4th 1811, and died at his residence in Alexander co, N. C, Sept. 10th 1876, aged 62 years and 25 days.

In 1838 he was happily married to Miss Agnes Elizabeth Morrison, and became the father of 7 children, 4 sons and 3 daughters, all of whom are living save one, who died a prisoner at Chicago, during the war. One son, Rev J T Bagwell, is a member of the N C Conference.

Bro Bagwell joined the Methodist Episcopal Church in the year 1840, and was a zealous and active member until removed by death to the Church triumphant. During the 36 years of his connection with the church he filled at different times the various offices, namely, class-leader, S S Superintendent and steward But whatever relation he sustained to the church, he was true to her interests. He loved the church and therefore cheerfully performed any duty assigned him. He was always ready to go anywhere to conduct prayer meetings, when he thought the Master's interests might be promoted.

During the writer's personal acquaintance with him, he filled the office of steward, and he steward manifested more interest in the welfare of his pastor. He often came to the parsonage to inquire after our wants, and to encourage us with his cheerful conversation But he will come to us no more. How sad to think he is gone! No more will we hear the sound of his foot steps at the door. No more hear his familiar voice. No more will his friendly smiles greet us No, he is gone, but doubts never come Our loss is his eternal gain. For nearly a week prior to his death he was unconscious: consequently the only testimony which he left was his former life. On that is sufficient. He was a good man and is gone to his reward. It is hard to part with our earthly friends, but it is a matter of gratitude and praise when we can look up through our tears and say with confidence our beloved is in heaven. We sympathize deeply with the bereaved and afflicted family of our brother, May God bless and sustain them in the loss of one so near and dear, and may we all meet Him in heaven!

H F WHEF.

Dr. W. E. Scott, President of the College of Physicians, Montreal, writes: "I have recommended Colden's Liebig's Liquid Extract of Beef and Tonic Invigorator as the best preparation used for Debility Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Fever, Acne, and Loss of Appetite."

Williams & Haywood, agents.

Many valuable horses die from the effects of colic. The best thing to do in a case of this kind is to pour a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment into a long-necked junk bottle, add half pint of molasses and water, then pour the whole down the horse's throat. In ten minutes the horse will begin to eat.

Parsons' Purgative Pills will greatly relieve, if not entirely cure, dyspepsia when everything else fails. They have been tried in some desperate cases, and have given more relief than any other medicine.

Gratuitous Advice.

This species of advice is not always acceptable, but doubtless in many instances much benefit would be derived were it promptly acted upon. No section of the country is exempt from disease and many regions has its "ills that flesh is heir to" To know the best means of combating this common enemy, with the least injury to our pocket- and tastes, is certainly a great advantage. At this season we must expect Torpid Liver, congested spleen, vitiated bile and inactive bowel, and all prudent persons should supply themselves with TUTT'S LIVER PILLS, which will stimulate the liver, relieve the engorged spleen, determine a healthy flow of bile, thus regulating the bowels and causing all unhealthy secretions to pass off in a natural manner. Remember that "an ounce of preventive is worth more than a pound of cure."

Letters and Funds.

R W Belo self $2 J J Garrett paper continued Mrs M R Cotton for ob 2.50 E Alderton for adv 15 W W Sharpe & Co for adv 28 88 W H Bass Rev H T Hudson Rev W D Lee papers continued L C Turner It was not received Rev C C Dodson L Harvey 2 20 Mrs C Harvey 2 20 paper sent, Insane Asylum of nc 13.67 Rev J D Bale papers continued Rev T A Coon A B Pierce sell 2 A Sessoms sell 2,20 B I Powell Rev W B Maness Rev W S Black paper continued Horace Waters & Son Rev S D Peeler A M Jordan Rev E Howland papers continued Jas Rusk Rev Dr Redford Wm Poisson E J Hole & Son R H Smith on ac 2 R W Brown 1 Rev R O Burton paper sent A A Harrington corrected A K Scarboro Rev J N Andrews paper sent Rev B F Long Rev W G Starr Rev Dr Wilson J H Mann, paper continued Rev W S Creasy J A Lee Rev J W Jenkins paper continued Rev Jas Wilson Rev C C Dodson Joseph Clark for Mrs J Clark 1,20 Rev J H Wheeler for Mrs T J Kirkman 2.20 S R Morgan 2.20 Miss Martin Cook 2.20 Rev W S Black N W Ayer & Son Rev H HG Ribbons for W T Nowell 4 To W H Bally 2 20 Mrs E Walker 2 20 Dr D F Holcombe paper continued and charged to you.

APPOINTMENTS.

FAYETTEVILLE DISTRICT
4TH ROUND—IN PART.

Jonesboro ct. at Cool Spring,	Oct 7- 8
Black Jack ct. at Cokesbury,	" 14-15
Pee Dee ct. at Philadelphia	" 21-22
Rockingham Rockingham	28-29
Robeson,	Nov. 4- 5
Currenburg Laurenburg	" 11-12

J. S. NELSON, P. E.
Fayetteville, N. C.

GREENSBORO DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.—Q. M. IN PART.

Forsythe ct at Tabor	Oct 7- 8
Davidson ct at Wesley Chapel,	" 14-15
North Guilford, Mount Chapel,	" 21-22
Madison, Madison,	" 28-29
Randolph ct at Ashboro,	Nov. 11-12
Thomasville & H Point,	Th'm'sville " 18-19
Trinity College,	" 25-26
South Guilford, Holt's Chapel,

N. H. D. WILSON, P. E.

WASHINGTON DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Washington,	Sept. 2- 3
Greenville ct Greenville,	" 9-10
Tarboro at McKendree	" 16-17
Warrenton,	Sept. 30. & Oct. - 1
Roanoke at Bethel,	" 7- 8
Warren at Cokesberry	" 14-15
Williamston at Hamilton,	" 21-23
Plymouth and Jamesville, at Jamesville.	" 24 25
Columbia, at Columbia,	" 28-29
Mattamuskeet, at Fairfield,	Nov 4- 5
Bath at Asbury,	" 11-12
Washington at night on	" -12

WM. CLOSE, P. E.
Tolenot, N. C.

NEWBERN DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Kinston Station,	Sept. 16-17
Newbern Station,	" 23-24
Beaufort Station,	Oct. 7- 8
Straits,	" 14-15
Snow Hill, Rainbow,	" 21-22
Wilson station.	" 28-29
Carteret, Harlowe's,	Nov. 4- 5
Neuse, Aurora,	" 11-12
Craven, Beach Grove, Tues & Wed.	" 14 15
Piney Grove,	" 18-19
James Oak Grove,	" 18-19
Mt. Olive Friday,	" -24
Wayne, Fremont,	" 25-26
Goldsboro Sab. night & Mon.	" -27

E. A. YATES, P. E.
Beaufort, N. C.

CHARLOTTE DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Monroe ct. at Prospect,	Oct. 7- 8
Lillesville ct. at Shiloh,	" 14-15
Wadesboro sta.	" -18
South Charlotte ct. at Zion,	" 21-22
Stanley ct,	" -27
Albemarle ct.	" 28-29
Mt Pleasant ct	Nov. - 1
Concord ct,	" 4- 5
Thomasville ct,	" -10
Wadesboro ct. at Popular Hill,	" 11-12
Pleasant Grove ct at Wesley Chapel	" 14-15
Pineville ct. at Harrisone,	" -17
Monroe sta.	" 18-19
Charlotte.	" 25-29

The Local Preachers will please remember the discipline requires that they shall report in writing the extent and result of their labors to the Fourth Quarterly Conference.

W. H. ROBERTS, P. E.
Monroe, N. C.

SHELBY DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Columbus,	Aug. 26-27
Rutherfordton,	" -29
Happy House,	Sept. 2- 3
Caldwell, C. M.	" 9-10
South Fork, C. M.	" 16-17
Dallas, C. M.	" 23-24
Double Shoals, C. M.	Sept. 30, Oct. - 1
Cherry Mountain, C. M.	" 7- 8
Shelby ct. C. M.	" 14-15
Upper Broad River,	" -19
Marion, Bethlehem	" 21-22
Shelby station,	" 28-29
Morganton,	Nov. 4- 5
Drysdale,	" - 8
Lenoir station,	" 11-12
Lincolnton,	" 11-12
Rock Spring,	" 18-19
Newton,	" 25-26

R. G. BARRETT, P. E.
Shelby, N. C.

SALISBURY DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Statesville sta.	Sept. 9 10
Statesville ct, Salem,	" 16-17
Yadkinville, Center (C. M.)	Oct. 1- 2
Mt. Airy & S Mission, Salem,	" 7- 8
Surry ct, & B R Mission, Thompson's	" 14-15
Ashes ct. Wilksboro,	" 21-22
Alexander ct. Liberty (C. M.)	" 23-24
Iredell ct. Eagle Mills,	" 28-29
Mooresville, ct McKendree's,	Nov. 4- 5
Salisbury, ct Harris'	" 11-12
Salisbury sta.	" 12-13
Davie ct. Smith Grove,	" 18-19
Mocksville ct. South River	" 25 26

D. R. BRUTON, P. E.
Statesville, N. C.

WILMINGTON DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Magnolia, at Salem,	Sept. 8-10
Wilmington, 5th Street,	" 16-17
Cokesbury, at Bethany,	" 20-24
Kenansville, at Wesley Chapel, Sept 30, and	Oct. - 1
Smithville, at Smithville,	" 7 8
Onslow, at Tabernacle.	" 14-15
Wilmington, Front Street,	" 21-22
Enfield, at Baden Springs,	" 28-29
Baden at Antioch,	Nov. 4- 5
Whiteville and Waccamaw Miss.	" 11-12
Topsail at Rocky Point,	" 18 19
Clinton at Goshen,	" 25-26

W. S. BLACK.
Magnolia, N C.

RALEIGH DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND—1876.

Raleigh, Person St,	Aug. 26-27
Franklin St. Tabor,	Sept, 2- 3
Henderson Tabernacle,	" 16 17
Youngsville,	" 23 24
Roxsville Roxsville, Sept 30th,	Oct, 1
Raleigh Edenton St.	" 7- 8
Cary, Hollands,	" 14-15
Louisburg,	" 21-22
Par River Franklinton,	" 28-29
Rocky Mt & Nashville, Tolsnot, Smithfield,	at Tolsnot, Nov. 4-5
	" 11-12

J. P. MOORE, P. E.
Warrenton, N. C.

HILLSBORO DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Durham sta.	Sept. 23-24
Assurance ct. Phillip's Chapel,	Oct. - 1
Pittsboro ct Chatham Church,	" 7- 8
Deep River ct Providence,	" 14-15
Cliff & H River, Mt. Pleasant,	" 21-22
Flat River ct Orange Church,	" 28-29
Person ct Mt. Tirzah,	Nov. 4- 5
Leasburg ct Lea's Chapel,	" 11-12
Yanceyville ct ShadyGrove,	" 18-19
Hillsboro sta.	" 25-26

L. L. HENDREN, P. E
Chapel Hill, N C.

COMMERCIAL REPORT.

WHOLESALE CASH PRICES.

Office of CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, Oct. 23d, 1876

REMARKS.

Business greatly improved. Country produce offered in quantities; especially in exchange for groceries

General Market.

FLOUR, North Carolina $7@6.50.
CORN 75 to 80
BACON—Sugar-cured 15 1-2 to 16
" Dundo 13 1-2.
BACON, N. C. sog round, 14, to 15.
" hams 16 1-2 to 18
BULK C. R. sides, 12 1-2
" shoulders, 9 to 10 1-2
LARD, North Carolina, 10 1-2
" Western Hercos, 11 1-2@
" kegs, 16 1-2@17 1-2
COFFEE, Prime Rio, 21 1-2
" Fair Rio, 20
SYRUP, common, 37 1-2
MOLASSES, Cuba, 50.
SALT $2.25.
CHEESE, Cream, 15 16.
" Factory, 17.
" Dairy, none.
NAILS, on basis for 10d, $4.00.
SUGAR A 10 1-4.
" Extra C. 11 1-4.
" Yellow, 10@11
LEATHER, Sole 27 1-2@30
HIDES, green, 7@8.
" dry, 18. 1-2
TALLOW, 7@8
POTATOES, sweet 75
" Irish, $1.00@$1.25.
OATS, shelled, 80
" sheaf, $1.20
CORN, old, $1.50, New 1.25
HAY, N. C. baled, .00
CHICKENS, grown, 30
" young, 30@30
EGGS, 20
BUTTER, country, 25@30
FISH, Mullets, $6 to 6.50,
" Cut Herrings, 7@75
" Mackerel, new family, $1.00
BEESWAX, 25.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

THE BOOK AND STATIONARY BUSINESS OF

E. J. HALE & SON,

17 MURRAY ST., New York.

Will not be interrupted by the removal of Mr. P. M. Hale to Raleigh Orders from present customers solicited, and promptly filled at lowest market rates. Oct 23-2m.

ROSES FOR THE MILLION!

12 Choice Roses by mail for $1. Descriptive lists free. Tyra Montgomery, Vattoon, Ill.
oct 25-4tcow

Send stamp for full information, Price Lists, etc. to Rev. T. F. CHILDS, Troy, Miami Co., O.
Oct 26 4t cow

JUST IN TIME.

—:o:—

10 pieces Blue Jeans.
150 Beaver and Cloth Ladies Cloaks.
50 Ladies English Ulsters—Something new and comfortable.
135 yards Cardinal Fish Net for Neck.
500 yards Cardinal and White Ruchings for Ladies
500 pr. Linen Cuffs and Collars in Cardinal—Navy Blue, Brown and White
110 Doz. Ladies Kid Gloves in colors—Black and White—from 75 cts to $2 00 for the best.
18 Doz. Ladies and Misses Hoods in Cardinal—Blue and Brown braided flannel.

SHOES, BOOTS AND GAITERS.

The largest stock in the State at bottom figures.

Dress Goods.

The largest stock ever held by one firm and of latest Styles and lowest Prices.

Hats! Hats!! Hats!!!

The largest stock ever offered by us, for Men, Boy's and Children, from 50 cts. upward.

LATE STYLE SILK HATS AT $5.50.

Remember, "The best goods at lowest cash prices."

W. L. & R. S. TUCKER.
oct 25 tf.

BEAUTIFUL STOCK OF FALL & WINTER CLOTHING!

—AND—

GENTS FURNISHING GOODS!

IS NOW BEING OPENED

AT

J. M. ROSENBAUM'S

CLOTHING HOUSE,

Corner Fayetteville and Hargett Streets.

Thanking the good citizens of Raleigh and Wake county, for their liberal patronage in the past, I assure them that I shall endeavor to merit it in the future by keeping good Goods at the lowest living prices Give me a call before buying elsewhere. We take pleasure in showing our stock and telling our prices.
Oct 18-3m.

READ! READ!

In order to compete with New York houses and to keep up with the times,

ISAAC ETTINGER

has determined to put down prices, and less money shall flow Northward in the future. To prove that I am in earnest, and mean what I say, I will give a partial list of my prices:

Straw Hats from 40 cents up.
Felt Hats from 35 cents up.
Ruffs with lace edge from 10 cents per yard up.
Ribbons 1½ inches wide from 12½ cents up, and other widths in proportion.
Corsets from 25 cents up.
Collars from 15 cents up.
Zephyr from 15½ cents up, only imported.
Real Hair Braids from 60 cents up.
Infants' Merino Cloaks from 75 cents up.
Infants' Crochet Caps from 75 cents up.
Infants' Dresses from $1.00 up.
Ribbon and Fringe for trimming dresses from 12½c. up.
Kid Gloves from 75 cents up, 2 buttons.
Hamburg Edgings from 6 cents up.

I could name a thousand more articles, but I can only assure the public that my prices will be uniform in every branch, and all I ask is a call.

MY STOCK IS LARGE AND NEW

ISAAC ETTINGER,
43 Fayetteville Street,
RALEIGH, N. C.
Oct. 18-tf.

CARPENTER & EARL,

DEALERS IN

Coal, Wood and Lumber,

at Western Terminus, Hargett Street.

Best Reliash Egg and Nut Coal per ton of 2240 pounds,	Delivered, $9.00
Stove Coal 2240 pounds,	" 9.50
Smith " per ton,	" 9.00
Hardwood, per cord,	" 4.00
Pinewood " "	" 3.00

Lumber at low figures.

Orders may be left at Carriers Drug Store, or sent to the yard, and shall receive prompt attention.
Oct 18-6m.

E. M. FRESHMAN & BROS.
ADVERTISING AGENTS.
186 W. FOURTH ST.
CINCINNATI, O.
ESTIMATES FURNISHED FREE. SEND FOR OUR MANUAL.

B. T. BABBITT'S BABY SOAP.

Only the purest vegetable oils are used in its manufacture. It is an artificial and deceptive odors to cover common and deleterious grease, but is entirely free for the TOILET and the BATH. For the batting children, it will prevent eruptions, keep the skin soft and smooth, contribute to health, and prevent disease. Does away with all poultices, cloth or other emollients. A certain preventive of chafing, heating, &c., in babies, the causes of half the crying and uneasiness of babyhood. Worth ten times its cost to every mother and family in Christendom, packed in boxes of 12 cakes of one, each, and sent free to any address on receipt of 25c. Address as above. For sale by all Druggists. B. T. BABBITT, N.Y.
Oct. 11 1y.

S. COLLINS & CO.,

Manufacturers of

PRINTING INKS,

26 Frankfort Street, New York.

Agent in North Carolina, W. H. Bernard, Morning Star, Wilmington, N. C., of whom these inks can be obtained. july 26-2m.

LAWNS! LAWNS!! LAWNS!!!

A new supply figured Lawns in the piece. Very desirable patterns.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER

RUTHERFORD COLLEGE,

HAPPY HOME, BURKE Co. N. C.

The next session of this College begins on August 24.

Tuition ranges from $1 to $4 per month. Minor children of ministers, and really indigent orphans, are instructed free.

One half of tuition must be paid in advance.

Board, including washing, room, lights, &c. is from $9 to $10 per month.

The new College house will be occupied during the term.

For particulars address

REV. R. L. ABERNETHY,
Happy Home, N. C.

DRY GOODS, ROGERS'S In Powder.

CLOTHING

FOUR twenty-inch fashion sheets of the 26 acidly, free of coals the most distressing by ARTHUR Brothers York. For sale by all druggists.
apl 26-13t. sow.

J. R. DAVIS. N C DENSTON.

DAVIS & DUNSTON'S

Hair Dressing & Shaving Saloon,

South Basement Raleigh National Bank,

RALEIGH, N. C.

We employ none but skilled workmen, and all who favor us with their patronage may rest assured of satisfaction.

Polite and accommodating Porter Boys in attendance. Oct. 11 1m 1876. 1876.

DRY FALL GOODS.

We have just received our complete stock of Goods for the Fall and Winter trade.

We call the attention of ladies to our superior stock of Dress Goods, which are much lower than ever known before.

Our Black Alpacas are of the very best quality and at low prices.

Our Stock of Ladies Cloaks is very large, of the very latest styles and are selling rapidly.

LADIES' TIES OF THE VERY LATEST STYLE.

A Handsome line of Ruffs and Ladies Collars and Cuffs.

Gents Cassimers, all Grades.

Large lot of Gents Latest style Silk Hats at $5.50, the best quality in the city, also a broad brim fine Felt Hat.

Canfield Boots and Shoes, the best made,

A Large lot of Cloth, Velvet and Leather Belts,

Special Inducements offered to Merchants buying in the State. Our wholesale department is complete.

PETTY & JONES,

30 Fayetteville Street,

Raleigh, N. C.

Oct 18 1-f

Oct 18-3m.

LAW & CO'S

NEW RALEIGH CHINA STORE,

IN SPITE OF HARD TIMES, IS A SUCCESS.

Our Sales of Crockery, China, Glass, Silver-Ware, Table Cutlery, Lamps, Vases, &c., have gone far beyond our expectations, and have brought ORDERS and CUSTOMERS from nearly every county in the State.

First-class Goods, fully guaranteed, (no others kept) bought in New York at PANIC PRICES, besides BARGAINS in job lots are sold every day. We Defy Competition in price or quality, and will sell OUR SILVER CASTORS, SPOONS, FORKS, KNIVES, &c. THE LARGEST STOCK IN THE STATE.

☞ Let every one call or write us before buying. Cheaper than you can buy in this State or out of it.

Small Cuts for Merchants packed up here.

LAW & CO.
RALEIGH, N. C.

ASTHMA DR. LANGELL'S ASTHMA AND CATARRH REMEDY.

Having struggled twenty years between life and death with ASTHMA, I experimented by compounding roots and herbs and inhaling the medicine, fortunately discovered a sure cure for ASTHMA and CATARRH. Warranted to relieve any case of Asthma instantly, so the patient can lie down to sleep. By mail $1.00 per box. Address LANGELL & CO., Apple Creek, Ohio. For sale by Druggists.

Aug 9 13t eow.

BLYMYER MFG CO BELLS CHURCH SCHOOL FIRE-ALARM

Fine toned, low priced, and fully warranted. Catalogues giving full particulars, prices, etc., sent free

BLYMYER MANUFACTURING CO., 66 to 68 W. Eighth St., Cincinnati, O.

June 23-1y. s o w.

RHEUMATISM.

Leavenworth, Kansas.—Sirs: JOHNSON'S RHEUMATIC COMPOUND cured me of Rheumatism when physicians failed.

Hightstown, N. J.—Gents: After suffering for seven years with Rheumatism, I was cured by one bottle of your JOHNSON'S RHEUMATIC COMPOUND, when physicians could give me no relief. JOSEPH ROBBINS.

Price $1. R. E. Sellers & Co., Props., Pittsburgh, Pa.

apl 26—1y eow

L. M. YEARBY,

DEALER IN

CHOICE FAMILY GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, AND COUNTRY PRODUCE.

Nos. 9 and 11 South Side of Hargett Street, Consignments of all kinds of Merchandise Solicited.
Oct 18-2m.

USE the MODEL PRESS

and do all your own Printing. Price, $10 to $50.

BEST IN THE WORLD For Business Men and Young Printers.

Thousands in use. Send two 3 cent stamps for a profusely illustrated 68 page Catalogue and Price List, entitled, "How to Print." J. W. Butcher & Sons & Co., Mfrs. and Dealers in Type and Printing Material, 624 & 626 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

aug 13 3t eow

COUGH SYRUP.

Sellers' Cough Syrup is the oldest and most popular Remedy for the Cure of Coughs, Colds, Croup, Hoarseness, and Lung Troubles. Read—"I Saved the lives of my two children." J. Wilson Long P. O. Ills. "It cured my wife of a terrible cold when every thing else failed." P. K. Mitchell, Allegheny City, Pa. Price 50c. and $1. If your druggist don't keep it, send for it. R. E. SELLERS & CO., Props. Pittsburgh, Pa.

GENUINE CRAB ORCHARD SALTS.

THE MILDEST AND BEST CENERAL PURGATIVE IN USE. Endorsed by the highest medical men in the United States. Persons suffering with costiveness of the bowels or torpid liver, will find ready relief by the use of these Salts. None genuine except those put up in bottles with the label of the Crab Orchard Springs Salts Company.

J. S. WILDER & CO., Agents, Louisville, Ky.
Sep: 27 8t.

KINSTON HIGH SCHOOL

The Fall session will begin Sept. 4th, 1876. Terms moderate.

For circulars, apply to

J. S. MIDYETTE, Principal
Kinston, N. C.

Aug. 16 3m.

"TEACHER."

Any one desiring a teacher would do well to address, stating terms,

DR. W. A. WILSON, A. B.,
Trinity College.

LADIES & MISSES GAITERS, &c

Another supply by Express of Cloth Gaiters, Ties and Slippers which we continue to sell at our very low prices.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER.

June 28-tf

$55@$77 a Week to Agents. Samples free P. O. VICKERY, Augusta, Maine. aug 23-1y

WHAT NEXT!

A CONSUMPTIVE CURED—When death was hourly expected all remedies having failed, and Dr. H. JAMES was experimenting, he accidentally made a preparation of INDIAN HEMP, which cured his only child

Rural and Domestic.

Making Butter From one Cow.

Many people in the city, town or village, keep a cow, and as it is of the utmost importance to them to be able to obtain milk and butter in the winter season, a time when they are dearest and most difficult to obtain, while at the same time food for the animals costs but little (if any) more in winter that summer, they prefer, or at least ought to prefer, having a cow to calve in the fall rather than in the spring. But they often find a difficulty in the way of success to obtain good butter, either from want of knowledge or from the carelessness of servants. First place, the cow should be fed on good clover hay and get besides, abundance of water, a little salt twice a week, and in addition, from one to two quarts per day of some grain. The grain should, if possible, be crushed or ground whole, mixed with water, and given in the form of a tick drink Now for the ease of the milk. When it is brought in from the cow, as much as is wanted for breakfast or tea should be but by, the rest strained into small, shallow tin pans; one pan full of milk is then placed on top of another full of hot water, on the stove. Let it stand till the milk is just scalded, no more; then remove to a place where it can cool down, but not get too cold The cream will rise and cover the milk with a thick coat that can almost be lifted unbroken; before taking the cream from the milk, sprinkle a little of the finest dairy salt over it, Put the cream in a stone ware cream crock, holding about a gallon. As soon as that is nearly (or quite) full, it should be placed near a stove to get slowly warmed up to a tempera ure of 65 to 70 deg. stirring it occasionally; as soon as warmed enough, it is to be churned: and the butter may be expected to come in ten, fifteen, or twenty minutes. Care must be taken that the cream is not kept over too long before being churned, or the putter will be apt to taste bitter, a very common fault with that made at farm houses in winter; from keeping both milk and cream in cold damp cellars instead of moderate temperature. It is an easy matter, and requires very little extra trouble, to get good butter in winter, where but two cows are kept, if the hang of the thing, as some would say, is once properly understood and carried out. And a good cow—no one should keep a cow in town unless she is a first rate one—will give far more than will compensate twice over for her cost of keep and trouble given, in the plentiful supply of wholesome milk for the children—so much to be preferred to that swill stuff carried round by milk men—and rich, sweet, fresh butter for the table. The great point to secure success in winter butter-making, is to feed the cow well, keep her clean and comfortable, and get the cream thoroughly warmed to 68 degs, before putting into the churn.—Canada Farmer.

In a communication to the Societe Medicale des Hopitaux, MM. Dujardin-Beaumetz and Hardy make known the results of the employment of oatmeal on the alimentation and hygiene of infants. According to them, oatmeal is the aliment which, by reason of its plastic and respiratory elements, makes the nearest approach to human milk It also is one of those which contains most iron and salts, and especially the phosphate of lime, so necessary for infants. It also has the property of preventing and arresting the diarrheas which are so frequent and so dangerous at this age. According to the trials made by M. Marie, infants from four to eleven months of age, fed exclusively upon Scotch oatmeal and cow's milk, thrive very nearly as well as do children of the same age suckled by a good nurse.

HOG CHOLERA.—The loss by this disease at the West is enormous. The State Board of Agriculture of Illinois reports: From the information so far obtained it is proved that the losses for the last year were fully equal to $40 000,000. So far the answers show that there is no general conviction of the origin and cause of the disease—no widely acknowledged preventive and no remedy that is a remedy oftener than one time in five hundred. It is agreed on all hands, among swine breeders, that profound darkness envelopes the origin and cause of the disease, and that its cure is among the things which are past finding out Those who have mixed salt, flour of sulphur, and ground charcoal in their food, or placed these things in a trough where the hogs are fed report that they don't have the cholerr.

God's Plan for Your Life

Never complain of your birth, your employment, your hardships; never fancy that you could do something if you only had a different lot and sphere assigned you. God understands your own plan, and he knows what you would better than you do. The very things you most desperate as fate, limitations or obstructions are probably what you most want. What you call hindrances, obstacles, discouragements, are probably God's opportunities; and it is nothing new that the patient should dislike medicine, or any proof that they are poisonous. No la trace to all such patience. Choke that envy which gnaws at your heart because you are not in the same lot with others; bring down your soul, or bring it up to God's will, and do his work in your lot, your sphere, under your cloak of obscurity, against your temptations, and then you shall find that your condition is never opposed to your good, but consists out with it.

The latest estimate of the number of people in the world and their division in to religions is thus tabulated: Protestants, 89,000,000; Roman Catholics, 170,000,000; Greek Church, 76,000,000; Jews, 5,000,000; Mohammedans, 190,000,000; heathen, 788,000,000—total, 1,288 000,000.

To Shake, or not to Shake?

Aye, that is the question. Is it better to quiver from head to foot in the paroxysms of fever and ague, or to banish the atrocious disease by a course of that standard anti-febrile remedy, Hostetter's Bitters. There cannot be much doubt as to the response of the malaria stricken to this inquiry. From every locality on this continent where inhabitants are tormented with the shivering plague comes an increasing demand for the only genuine preventive and eradicant of chills provided by science. The countries of fever and ague districts well know how utterly inadequate to do more than give a brief respite are the so-called remedies of the faculty Quinine, arsenic, bismuth—what are these but poisonous palliatives, which cease after a time to produce any beneficial effect whatever, and if persisted in wreak irreparable mischief upon the system? Everywhere they are being abandoned by intelligent persons, and that genuine vegetable specific for intermittent and remittent disease, Hostetter's Bitters, substituted in their place.

SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR

J. H. ZEILIN & CO.

A gentleman writes thus: "I write you this note to congratulate you on being the proprietor of the best Liver Medicine, Simmons' Regulator, known to the human race. I have known it for a number of years, and I pronounce it, as prepared by you, pure and genuine; and I pray you, for the sake of humanity, to keep it so, as long as it is in your keeping.—You may prepare it and recommend it, but you will never know the true value of it, unless you have a disordered liver yourself. It unclogs the liver of impurities with which it has been confined for years, and puts the wheels in their original motion. I have written these lines with no other view but to give you my honest sentimonals

For Sale by all Druggists.

May 31-26t eow.

LORD & TAYLOR,

New York

OUR FALL IMPORTATIONS

ARE NOW COMPLETE IN ALL DEPARTMENTS, AND PRICES ARE VERY LOW. OUR STOCK OF

Black, Colored and Fancy Silks

IS THE LARGEST AND BEST ASSORTED IN THE CITY, OCCUPYING ONE WHOLE SECTION IN EACH STORE, AND HAVING BEEN PURCHASED AND CONTRACTED FOR PRIOR TO THE RECENT ADVANCE, WE ARE PREPARED TO SELL AT LAST SEASON'S PRICES!

OUR

DRESS GOODS DEPARTMENT

EMBRACES ALL THE NOVELTIES IN FALL AND WINTER COSTUME CLOTHS, BLACK AND COLORED CASHMERES AND MERINOS, ALL-WOOL, AND MIXED PLAIDS, STRIPES AND LAMASSEE STYLES, AS WELL AS

POPULAR DRESS FABRICS

IN ALL THE NEWEST COLORING AND MATERIALS, FROM TEN CENTS A YARD UPWARDS.

OUR IMPORTATION OF

INDIA SHAWLS,

FROM THE LONDON AUCTION SALES IS VERY LARGE AND ATTRACTIVE, AND PRICES ABOUT HALF FORMER YEARS.

REAL INDIA, filled centers, at $65, $75, $85, and upwards.

REAL DECCA SHAWLS, at $12 to $75.

PRINTED INDIA SHAWLS, new designs, only $15.

CHEDDA SHAWLS, choice new colors, $14, upwards.

Also,

PARIS and VIENNA BROCHE, PAISLEY FILLED, Plain centres and stripes, and

BRITISH AND AMERICAN WOOLEN SHAWLS. Unrivaled for beauty and substantial value.

OUR LADIES' & CHILDREN'S SUIT AND FURNISHING DEPARTMENT

is now more thoroughly stocked and equipped than ever before, and we are prepared to fill all orders at once, and to guarantee satisfaction.

Hand-sonely trimmed suits in Cashmere, Basket Cloths, Camel's Hair, Alpaca, Combination suits, &c., in the most beautiful new effects, at prices to tempt the most economical.

By following our directions for self-measurement, Ladies out-of-town can be fitted perfectly, economically, and more satisfactorily than by any home-made work.

Mourning Costumes and outfits a specialty and orders filled on 12 hours' notice.

Misses and Children's Costumes and suits at very reasonable prices.

LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S UNDERWEAR.

An immense stock of beautiful and reliable goods, at very great reductions.

Ladies' complete outfits, at $50 and upwards

Infants' complete outfits, at $25 and upwards.

✠ Full catalogues of this department, with direction for self-measurement, sent free on applica tion to all parts of the country.

OUR STOCK OF

Rich Furs

On hand, and being manufactured, will be the most beautiful in the city, and at most attractive prices.

We also call particular attention to our large stocks of

LINENS AND WHITE GOODS,
LACES AND EMBROIDERIES,
UPHOLSTERY GOODS,
HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE,
HOSIERY AND GLOVES,
GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS,
BOYS' CLOTHING, AND
LADIES' BOOTS AND SHOES.

The Domestic and Housekeeping Dep'ts Are stocked with goods from the large summer auction sales, at prices below cost of Manufactnre.

CARPETS AT GRAND STREET ONLY, And at greatly Reduced Prices.

Velvet Carpets, from $2 up.
Body Brussels, from $1.50 up.
Tapestries, from $1 up.
Three-Ply, from $1.12½ up.
Ingrains, best $1; cheapest, 35 cents.
Oil Cloths, from 30 cents up.

✠ HEADQUARTERS FOR LINOLEUM—BEST FLOOR COVERING IN THE WORLD.

Samples of goods sent free on application to all parts of the country.

Orders for goods of every description carefully filled without charge, and goods packed and forwarded to any destination

BROADWAY & TWENTIETH ST
GRAND & CHRYSTIE STS, N. Y.
Oct 11-3m.

A DOLLS' FAIR! A DOLLS' FAIR!

A Merry Christmas for the Little Sick Girls in the Hospitals.

TEN beautiful Premiums offered for the Ten Best-Dressed Dolls. All Dolls to be distributed among the Hospitals at Christmas.

The October No. of WIDE AWAKE, containing Rules and Directions, post paid for TEN CENTS on application to the Publishers.

D. LOTHROP & CO., BOSTON, MASS.

Sept. 27-4t.

TROY BELLS.

THE JONES & CO. OLD ESTABLISHED TROY BELL FOUNDRY, Troy, N. Y., continue to manufacture those superior Bells which have made Troy celebrated throughout the world. All Bells warranted satisfactory. Particular attention given to Church Bells, Chimes, and Peals of Bell.

Illustrated Catalogue sent free.

aug 16-26t eow.

REMOVAL-150 PIANOS & ORGANS at half price. The Subscribers will sell their Entire Stock of Pianos & Organs, new and second hand, of six first-class makers; sheet music and S. S. music books, at 50 PER CT OFF, for cash, previous to removal to their new store 40 EAST 14th St., UNION SQUARE Oct. 18th. Illustrated catalogues Mailed. Monthly installments received. Agents Wanted. Special inducemen s to the trade. HORACE WATERS & SONS, Manufacturers and Dealers, 481 Broadway, N. Y.

Oct. 11-4t.

THE BUFFALO

LITHIA WATERS

THE GREAT

STOMACH WATERS

Of America.

Cure of Mrs. ——— stated by Dr. Marcus A Harris, a distinguished physician of Black Walnut, Halifax Co., Va.

(Extract from Letter of Dr H., of July 28, 1876.)

"Mrs. ——— has been for twenty years a sufferer from Dyspepsia in a most aggravated form. Prominent among a multiplicity of distressing symptoms were attacks of spasmodic Gastralgia, varying in duration and intensity, and becoming less and less amenable to treatment. For a few months before she commenced the use of the BUFFALO LITHIA WATER the attacks became more prolonged and violent, and her emaciated, cachetic and distressed condition gave unmistakable evidence of a rapid decline. Having exhausted my own resources, I called to my assistance in the treatment of the case some of the most eminent medical men of the State, without any other result than a palliation of suffering; and in what I regarded as a hopeless condition, I prescribed the Buffalo Lithia Water, Spring No. 2, to the exclusion of all other treatment. She has been using the water for now for some six weeks, with only occasional symptoms of indigestion, and her improvement has been so marked and decided that she is able to attend regularly to her domestic affairs. For four months before commencing the use of the "Lithia Water," her diet was milk and stale bread, alternated with bread and water and bread and tea. She now eats with impunity almost everything—for breakfast, coffee, bread and butter, mutton chops, broiled chicken, &c.; for dinner, mutton, beef, chicken, and any vegetable except Irish potatoes, with deserts, such as cake, ice cream, &c I will add, that this was one of the most distressing and unmanageable cases of Dyspepsia that I have ever seen in a practice of many years, and to it the action of the water in it was marvellous."

DYSPEPSIA AND NERVOUS HEADACHE

Case of Dr. R. H. Tatum, * a well-known physician of Chesterfield county, Va.

Extract from letter dated Longwood, Va., September 4th, 1876:

"For years I have suffered from indigestion, causing sick headache, attended with the most intense agony. I have visited some of our most celebrated mountain springs and drank the mineral waters from the springs of other States, but have found no such relief as I have experienced from the use of two cases of the BUFFALO LITHIA WATER, Spring No 2. I have prescribed it for several patients suffering from symptoms produced by Dyspepsia—such as loss of appetite, general debility, headache, cough and severe pain in the Epigastric region—with the happiest results."

* Post office Chula, Amelia county, Va.

DYSPEPSIA.

Case of John P. Keeling, Esq., a well known citizen of Princess Anne county, Va.

PRINCESS ANNE CO., VA., Aug. 15, 1876.

COL. THOS. F. GOODE:

Dear Sir—It is with much pleasure I furnish you with a statement of my case and of the relief which I obtained from your LITHIA WATER, as in doing so I may possibly induce some sufferer to try it, and be snatched, as I was, from the grave, and restored to health.

For several years I suffered from Nervous Dyspepsia, being so prostrated by the disease, that at times it was with difficulty I could walk across my room for some eighteen months I resided in the City of Baltimore, a perfect invalid, having been treated during that time by some of the best medical men of that city, without benefit. From there I was brought to my home in Princess Anne county, as was supposed, to die, when, by mere chance, I came in possession of one of your Springs' pamphlets, and with but little faith, determined to try the water. A single case resulted in an improvement in my condition so radical, that I am now able to attend regularly to my business on the farm. I do believe this to be the greatest medicinal water of the world.

Very truly yours,

JOHN P. KEELING.

In affections of the Kidneys and Bladder, in Gout, Rheumatism and Paralysis, these waters have accomplished results as remarkable as any of record. They are for sale in cases of one dozen half gallon bottles at $5 per case, payable in advance.

The Springs Pamphlet sent to any address on application.

THOS. F. GOODE, PROPRIETOR

BUFFALO LITHIA SPRINGS,

Mecklenburg Co., Va.

oct 11-tf.

D. S. WAITT & BRO.

Beg leave to inform their customers that they have removed to the well known stand of James M Towles, No. 52 Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, N. C., which they have fitted up entirely new, and have purchased a large and well assorted stock of

READY-MADE CLOTHING!

FOR MEN, BOYS AND CHILDREN.

Men's Suits from $4 00; Men's Frock Suits for $5 00; Men's Frock Cassimere Suits, from $10 to $25; Men's Fine Black Suits, from $17.50 to $30. Boys' Fancy Cassimere Suits, $3 to $6. Boys' Cas. Suits, $4 to $15; Children's Suits, $3 to $10; Over-Coats, $5 to $20. Come and see SUITED.

GENT'S FURNISHING GOODS,

Hemburg Edgings and Insertions,

Notions Hosiery, Gloves, Canbrics, &c

Boots, Shoes, Umbrellas, Hats, Caps and Furs.

DOMESTIC DRY GOODS,

CONSISTING OF

Prints, Alpacas, Mottoes, Del ines, Ginghams, Cotton Plaids, Cottonades, Kentucky Jeans, Cassimeres, Cambrics, Blue Denims, Osnaburgs, Ticklings, Flannels, Shirting Stripes, Opera Flannels, Linsey &c.

BLEACHED & BROWN SHEETINGS & SHIRTINGS.

Thanking our friends for their liberal patronage in the past, we feel confident that in our new store with New Goods, bought at the lowest prices, we will be able to please all.

D. S. WAITT & BRO.,

oct 4-tf. No. 57 Fayetteville St., Raleigh, N C

BALTIMORE, OCTOBER 1876.

CHAS. SIMON & SONS

DRESS-MAKING DEPARTMENT.

We would call the attention of our friends and the public in general to this Department.

Under the present management we have met with unprecedented success. We have filled orders for customers residing in nearly every Southern State, and have in our possession numerous flattering testimonials, both as regards fit and style, as well as great superiority in neatly finishing our work.

Our specialty this season will be Black Grosgrain Silk Dresses, trimmed in same material, and made in the most fashionable style, for the low price of $50.00.

These Dresses should not be judged by the price, as they are in every respect superior to anything heretofore offered for the money. Samples of the material and directions for self-measurement sent free by mail upon application.

CHAS SIMON & SONS,
61 N. Howard St.,
Baltimore, Md.

Sept 27 3m.

Trinity College, N. C.

The Session begins Sept. 5th. Tuition $20 to $31 for five months; board $10 to $12 per month. Entire expense for five months $87 to $98.

Send for Catalogue.

B. CRAVEN.

aug 22-tf

Greensboro Female College,

GREENSBORO, N. C.

The Fall Session will begin on Wednesday 23d of August, and continue 20 weeks.

Board (exclusive of washing and lights) $75

Tuition in regular English course 21

For catalogue, apply to Rev. T. M. Jones, President.

N. H. D. WILSON,
President Board of Trustees.

June 21 2-m

WESLEYAN FEMALE INSTITUTE.

STAUNTON, VA.

Will begin its twenty-seventh Annual Session, September 21st, 1876. Rev W. A. HARRIS, D. D., President, with an able corps of twenty-three Teachers and Officers.

Modern Languages (natural and spoken in the following by a Parisian Teacher. Music by able Professors and Teachers, among whom are some of the most talented teachers of vocal music in the South.

[illegible] the healthiest climates in the Union. Its marked [illegible] in the matter of the health and vigor [illegible] are come here from the South [illegible], and delicate diseases, [illegible] rarely, recured.

Buildings [illegible]—named by patriotic heroes, commanding the most magnificent scenery, and combining such varied and [illegible] as to make it one of the most delightful college homes in the Union.

This School is usually attended by pupils from fifteen to seventeen different States.

Great economy and simplicity in dress are required. A simple uniform is worn. No unnecessary expense allowed. Strict economy practiced to limit expenses of pupils.

From Bishop D. S. Doggett, D. D.

The Wesleyan Female Institute, located in Staunton, Va., under the Presidency of Rev. W. A. Harris, is, in my judgment, one of the best institutions, for young ladies, in the South I have occasion to know and appreciate its value by the advantages enjoyed by one of my daughters there, its course of study is ample; its Faculty accomplished, and its instruction both solid and elegant. Its personal accommodations are all that can be desired for health and comfort, or taste. No location can be more eligible; no scenery more magnificent; the atmosphere more salubrious. Not the least of its merits, a special sacred regard for religious training, without which no Female College especially, would be a benefit.

D. S. DOGGETT

From Bishop C. K. Marvin, D. D.

The Wesleyan Female Institute is an honor to the Church. Every Female Church, in music, advantage, instruction is [illegible] order. The most talented and [illegible] are offered at very little [illegible] and other pains nor expense. Professors are employed [illegible] parliament eminent,

From Prof. F. H. Smith, M. A., L. L. D., University of Virginia.

The Wesleyan Female Institute, at Staunton, deserves the brilliant success it enjoys Having had a daughter under Mr. Harris' care, my observation leads me to believe that no other palns nor expense of Female Seminaries with whom our State "The Halls of the Wesleyan Female Institute" sought, be filled to overflowing with pupils from all the Southern States.

FRANCIS H. SMITH.

TERMS FOR THE ENTIRE COLLEGIATE YEAR. Board and Tuition in the Collegiate course, $149. For Catalogue, address, Rev W. A HARRIS, President, Staunton, Va.

TYSON & JONES

Carriage Builders,

CARTHAGE, N. C.

Having recently increased our Facilities for Manufacturing, we are prepared to furnish Vehicles of the BEST QUALITY on short notice, and at comparatively low prices Vehicles shipped at Sanford, Raleigh and Chatham R. R. via Raleigh to any part of the State

We feel confident that, with the close attention we give the business, together with the materials used the skilled workman employed, and the many conveniences we have for manufacturing FIRST CLASS WORK, no house in the country can excel us in

STYLE, FINISH, DURABILITY AND Low Prices.

✠ We manufacture and keep constantly on hand Harness of the Best Quality.

✠ Repairing neatly Done at Short Notice Send for Circular.

July 21 1-y

Established 1816.

CHAS. SIMON & SONS,

No. 63 N. HOWARD STREET, BALTIMORE.

DEALERS IN

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC

DRY GOODS,

would call special attention to their extensive stock of

DRESS GOODS,
LINEN GOODS,
EMBROIDERIES
LACES AND HOSIERY
Mourning Goods

In the city.

SAMPLES SENT FREE!

All orders amounting to $20 or over, will be sent free of freight charges by Express, but parties whose orders are not also expanied by the money and having their Goods sent C. O. D., must pay for return of the money. mch 1-12m

NEW BOOKS FOR SINGING CLASSES!

JOYFUL NOTES

Is printed in our new combined notes, (a figure set in each round note—) for do, s for ra, 3 for me, etc.) acknowledged by all to be the best system yet invented, as you have the *round note*r, and the figures enable those not skilled in reading them to sing them at sight.

HOURS OF SONG

IS THE BEST ROUND NOTE BOOK IN THE FIELD.

Hours of Song and Joyful Notes were prepared by Prof. Jas. H. Fillmore, from long experience and careful observation as a successful teacher. The rudiments are the most thorough, the music grand. Price 35 cents $4.20 per dozen by express; $5.25 per dozen by mail.

FILLMORE BROS., Publishers,
Specimen pages free. CINCINNATI, O.
sept 20-tf

Williams & Haywood,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN

Drugs, Medicines, Paints, Oils, Dye-Stuffs, Perfumery,

Fancy Articles, Gard n Seeds Fine Teas, Spices Flavoring Extracts

CIGARS, CHEWING TOBACCO &C.

Keep constantly on hand, at lowest market prices, White Lead, Putty, Kerosene Oil, Linseed Oil, Lamp Oil, Tanner's Oil, Window Glass, Varnish, &c., &c.

SHOES AND HATS.

The largest stock we have had—late styles and at low prices.

W. H. & B. S. TUCKER.

$42 A WEEK.

Agents wanted everywhere. Business permanent and first-class. For further Particulars, address J. KENNEDY & CO., Stinsonand, Ind

A FEMALE TEACHER WANTED

To take charge of a neighborhood school, who can teach the higher branches of English, Latin, French and Music Address J. A. Edwards, Hookerton, Greene co., N. C., giving qualifications, age and price. Sept 27-2t.

THE MORNING STAR,

WILMINGTON, N. C.

A First Class Democratic Newspaper!

LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY DAILY NEWSPAPER IN NORTH CAROLINA

THE

Only Daily Paper

Published in WILMINGTON, a City of nearly 20 000 Inhabitants, and the Great Centre of North Carolina Trade!

SUBSCRIPTION:

One Year,	$7 00
Six Months	4 00
Three Months	2 25

ADVERTISING RATES REASONABLE.

Address,

WM. H. BERNARD,
Editor & Proprietor,
Oct 11 tf. WILMINGTON, N. C

SCHEDULES.

PIEDMONT AIR-LINE RAILWAY.

RICHMOND & DANVILLE, RICHMOND & DANVILLE R. W., N. C. DIVISION, and NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. W.

CONDENSED TIME-TABLE.

IN EFFECT ON AND AFTER SUNDAY, SEPT. 3RD, 1876.

GOING NORTH

STATIONS.	MAIL.	EXPRESS.
Leave Charlotte	5.55 A M	2.15 A M
" Air-Line Junc'n	6.14 "	2.40 "
" Salisbury	8.30 "	4.19 "
" Greensboro'	10.58 "	6.17 "
" Danville	1.47 P M	9.54 "
" Dundee	2.07 "	9.01 "
" Burkeville	6.49 "	12.45 P M
Arrive at Richmond	8.06 P M	2.19 P M

GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS.	MAIL.	EXPRESS.
Leave Richmond	5.51 A M	1.10 P M
" Burkeville	9.01 "	4.54 "
" Dundee	1.26 P M	8.45 "
" Danville	1.53 "	9.10 "
" Greensboro	4.35 "	10.25 "
" Salisbury	7.01 "	12.32 A M
" Air-Line Junc'n	9.06 "	2.29 "
Arrive at Charlotte	9.08 "	2.42 A M

STATIONS.	GOING EAST. Mail	GOING WEST Mail.
Leave Greensboro'	6.30 A. M.	Arrive 10.15 P. M.
" Co. Shops	7.38 A. M.	Leave 9.50 "
Arrive at Raleigh	11.10 A. M.	Arrive 5.05 "
Arrive at Goldsboro'	1.15 P. M.	Leave 2.30 P M

STATIONS.	ACCOMMODATION TRAIN.
Leave Greensboro'	5.20 A. M.	Arr. 3.10 P. M.
" Co. Shops	8.13 "	Lv. 1.11 P. M.
Arr. at Raleigh	2.45 P. M.	Arr. 6.04 A. M.
Arr at Goldsboro	8.00 "	Lv. 1.30 A. M.

NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. R.

(SALEM BRANCH.)

Leave Greensboro'	10.35 P. M.
Arrive at Salem	12.45 A. M.
Leave Salem	3.45 A.M.
Arrive at Greensboro	5.45 "

Passenger Trains leaving Raleigh at 5.05 P. M., connects at Greensboro' with the Northern Express train; making the quickest time to all Southern cities. Price of Tickets same as via other routes.

Accommodation Train leaving Greensboro at 5.20 A. M. connects at Goldsboro with Northern and Southern bound Trains on the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad.

Goldsboro' Accommodation have Richmond daily at 10 55 A. M. (arrive at Burkeville 4.40 P. M.; leave Burkeville 5.10 A. M., arrive at Richmond 8 A. M.

No Change of Cars between Atlanta and Richmond, 547 Miles.

Sleeping Cars run through from Richmond to Montgomery without change.

Passengers will have arrangements to advertise the Schedule of this company will please print as above.

For further information address

JOHN R. MACMURDO,
Gen'l Passenger Agent,
sept 20-tf Richmond, Va.

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE.

RALEIGH & GASTON RAILROAD CO.

On and after Friday, May 22nd, 1874, trains on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad, will run daily (Sunday excepted) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Leave Raleigh	9.35 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon	3.50 P. M.
Leaves Weldon	9.50 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh	3.45 P. M.

ACCOMMODATION TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh	5.15 A M.
Arrives at Weldon	5.15 P M.
Leaves Weldon	2.30 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh	2.25 P. M.

Mail train makes close connection at Weldon, with the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad and Bay Line Steamers via Baltimore, to and from all points North, West and Northwest, and with Petersburg Railroad via Petersburg, Richmond and Washington City, to and from all points North and Northwest.

And at Raleigh with the North Carolina Railroad to and from all points South and Southwest, and with the Raleigh & Augusta Air Line to Haywood and Fayetteville.

RALEIGH & AUGUSTA AIR-LINE RAILROAD.

SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,
Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 27th, 1873.

On and after Monday, October 27th, 1873, trains on the R. & A. A. L. Road will run daily, (Sundays excepted,) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Train leaves Raleigh,	4.00 P. M.
Arrives at Sanford,	6.25 "
Train leaves Sanford,	6.30 A. M
Arrives at Raleigh,	8.20 "

FREIGHT TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh,	8.15 A. M.
Arrives at Sanford	10.35 A. M.
Leaves Sanford,	11.00 A. M
Arrives at Raleigh	2.30 P. M.

Mail Train makes close connection a Raleigh with the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, to and from all points North.

And at Sanford with the Western Railroad, to and from Fayetteville and points on Western Railroad.

OFFICE SUPT. OF TRANSPORTATION,
Seaboard & Roanoke R. R. Co.,
Portsmouth, Va., Jan. 1st, 1875.

On and after this date, trains of this Road will leave Weldon daily, Sundays excepted, as follows:

Mail train at	4 P. M
No. 1 Freight train at	4 A. M.
No. 2 Freight train at	8 A. M.

ARRIVE AT PORTSMOUTH.

Mail train at	7 15 P. M
No 1 Freight at	12 00 NOON.
No 2 Freight at	4 00 P. M

Freight trains have a passenger car attached.

Steamer for Edenton, Plymouth and Landings on Blackwater and Chowan Rivers leave Franklin at 7.40 A. M on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

E. G. GHIO,
Supt. Transportation.

SEED WHEAT.

Superior White Mediterranean Red and Fultz Seed Wheat just received at

GATTIS & JONES'
Grain and Forage Store,
Fayetteville Street.

COAL.

Best Red Ash at $9 00 per ton of 2240 lbs., delivered.

Send orders to Yard or to

J. A. JONES' at Gattis & Jones Store.

56 Fayetteville St

oct 11 tf

WOMAN IN BATTLE!

AGENTS WANTED to canvass every town and county in North State for

"WOMAN IN BATTLE!"

one of the most intensely interesting books ever published, being the Life and Exploits of Lieut. Harry T Buford, (C S A) or Madame L. J. Velasquez. No such thrilling book ever published has offered the chances this one does for wide awake agents to make money rapidly, and as territory is being taken up very fast no one who desire to canvass for it should make application without delay.

MADAME L. J. VELASQUEZ

Agent for North Carolina; office: Gruner Hotel, corner Wilmington and Davie sts, one block from the Yarboro House, Raleigh N. C. Agents wanted to sell Steel Engraving of the author.

Oct 11 tf

THE NORTH CAROLINA FARMER.

JAS H ENNISS.—Dear Sir: I have been a practical farmer for forty years, and during that time have taken the best agricultural papers of the day, and I undertake to say that there is more valuable practical information to our farmers in the first and second numbers of the North Carolina Farmer than in any dozen copies of any of the Agricultural Journals I have taken; and I do most earnestly recommend it to every farmer in our State as the paper for him, above all others.

PETER R. HINES,
Halifax, Co.

Subscription one year,	$1.00
5 Copies " "	4.00
10 " " "	7.00

Address J. H. ENNISS & CO. Publishers,
Aug 30 1-f. Raleigh, N. C.

SERMONS.

BY E. M. MARVIN, D.D., L.L.D.,

One of the Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church South.

Edited by T. O. SUMMERS, D.D

12mo, Muslin Pages 552.

This book will be ready by the 10th of August. Price Two Dollars, with twenty-five per cent discount to Preachers. It will be sent, post-paid, to any address on receipt on retail price, The money must accompany all orders

A. H. REDFORD, Ag't.

RECEIVED TO-DAY,

Saturday May 27,

10,000 yards more of those beautiful PACIFIC LAWNS at 10 cents per yard. The Lambsomest we have ever had.

We call the ladies' attention to our DRESS GOODS, which we are selling lower than any house in the city. Our PLACE GRENADINES at 50 cents can't be undersold.

A beautiful line of figured ALL LINEN LAWNS.

Ready made Linen Dresses for ladies.

The largest Stock of Hosiery in the State. Ladies' Hose from 10 cents to 75 cents.

Coats Hall Hose 10 to 60 cents a pair.

Belding Bros', Superior Sewing Silk in all the colors. The dress makers pronounce it to be the best in the market.

Corsets in the city from 50 cents to $2.00.

Gentlemen's Cassimeres and Underwear.

We have also just received a new supply of our Custom-Made shirts—ready made, superior to any in the city, at $1.25.

Hamburg Edgings, Ladies' Neck Ties, Gents' Ties —a beautiful line.

More of those handsome Parasols, which we are selling at a small price.

TO MERCHANTS

We will be glad at any time to show them through our stock, for we can save them some money if they will give us a call.

NEW FIRM

TO FRIENDS AND PUBLIC GENERALLY

I have associated with me Mr. G. O. Rand (formerly Rand & Barbee, Lumber Dealers) as a partner in the wholesale and retail Grocery and General Commission business. I respectfully tender my thanks for past favors and hope to have them continued with the new firm. Yours truly,

January 6, 1876 L. R. WYATT.

G. O. RAND L. R. WYATT.

RAND & WYATT,

Wholesale and Retail Grocers

AND

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

Have on hand and constantly receiving a fresh and first class stock of

GROCERIES

consisting of Flour, a specialty, Meal, Corn Bacon Lard, Sugar, Coffee, Pepper and Spice, Molasses (new crop Cuba), Syrup, Toilet and Laundry, Soaps, Wood and Willow ware, Fancy Groceries, &c.

Everything embraced in a First Class Grocery which we purpose to sell at Lowest figures—Give us a trial. Orders with proper reference respectfully solicited, which shall receive our prompt attention. Consignment of Cotton and other produce solicited. Best prices guaranteed

Yours truly,

RAND & WYATT.

Opp. East end of Market, Raleigh, N. C.

July 12 1 y

MUSIC BOOKS.

For Musical Societies, Conventions &c.,

MALE VOICE GLEE BOOK

($9.00 or $90 per dozen), by W. O. PERKINS. Just published; a large number of new Glees and Quartets of the very best quality.

EMERSON'S CHORUS BK

($12.5 or $12 per dozen). By L. O. EMERSON. All the choruses are first class, and worthy of practice by the best singers

PEOPLE'S CHORUS BOOK

($9.00 or $9.00 per dozen). For mixed voices. The glees and choruses are all "gems."

For Choir, Singing School, Conventions;

THE SALUTATION.

($7.5 Per dozen $12) By L. O. Emerson. Has just enough pieces for Singing Classes. One of the best Church Music Books of our publication.

THE ENCORE.

(75 cts., or $7.50 per dozen.) by L. O. Emerson. Has just enough pieces for Singing Schools, for which it is an admirable book.

For Schools, Academies, Seminaries etc.

THE WHIPPOORWILL.

(50 cts). By W. O. PERKINS. Filled with the best of Songs for Common Schools, new, very bright and attractive.

THE HIGH SCHOOL CHOIR

($1.25). No better High School Song Book has appeared.

OLIVER DITSON & CO.,
Boston.

C. H. Ditson & Co., 711 Broadway, New York.
J. E. Ditson & Co., Successors to Lee & Walker, Phila.

50 FINE CARDS, with your name, only 20 cents, or 30 Hoppo or Damask, 20 cts., cases 15 cents. Send stamp for price list and samples.

L. G. HASKIN & CO., PETERSBURG, VA.

Sept 20-tf.

CHARLEY ROSS

AGENTS WANTED in every town in America for

THE FATHER'S STORY

OF CHARLEY ROSS, the most touching and absorbing story in the annals of American History. Gives a full account of the Abduction, the pursuit, and tragic death of the Abductors. Face Smiles of their Letters, and all the various incidents connected with the search for the child. It gives a PORTRAIT OF LITTLE CHARLEY, with other choice Illustrations and information calculated to lead to the recovery of the Lost Boy, for whom the Father offers a liberal reward of $5000. Written by CHRISTIAN K. ROSS. Sales unprecedented. For Terms and Exclusive Territory, Address, JOHN E. POTTER & Co., Publishers, Philadelphia. aug. 9-13t.

AGENTS FIND THAT THE FULL HISTORY OF THE Wonderful career of MOODY & SANKEY in Great Britain and America is a success everywhere. All want it—rich or poor. From 5 to 20 books a day's work. It is the only complete work published, containing Mr. Moody's Sermons and Prayer Meeting Talks, Sankey's Addresses, steel portrait, and 12 engravings. Price $2. Address H. S. GOODSPEED & CO., 14 Barclay Street, New York.

OAKSHADE BERKSHIRES!

First-class, pure Blooded Pigs, of the best families ever imported to the United States, entitled to entry in the Berkshire Record, constantly for sale. Prices at 6 months old, delivered to Express, $10 each.

Also half breed Cotswold Lambs at $10 each.

1 Pure Alderney Bull at $25.

T. W. Harris,
Oakshade Farm Pittsboro, N. C

June 7-1y.

A

Raleigh Christian Advocate.

Robbitt & Gray, Publishers. | Published in the Interests of Methodism in North Carolina. | $2.20 Per Annum, in Advance.

Vol. XXII.---No. 43. | Raleigh, N. C., Wednesday, November 1, 1876. | Whole No. 1,131.

Communicated.

For the Advocate.

On Locating.

Fire-arms when discharged after being long loaded, frequently kick. I am therefore not surprised that as Brothers Long and Pearce read the fiction, "I located," so many years ago and withheld their charges until its republication a few weeks ago, must have felt some jarrings when even ually their squibs were fired off

However, in the republication of the so called fiction, I did not seek or desire controversy. My time being the property of others and being occupied with books, entries and figures from early morn until late in the evening, I have not the time and privilege of answering all points which might be brought forward, or of coping with those better posted and of more leisure than myself. I had therefore concluded with my last communication to allow the matter to rest, so far as I was concerned, and allow others desiring to do so to discuss it; but upon glancing over your issne of the October 11th, I noticed the communication of Bro. Long. I do not endorse his views that the whole local preacher system ought to be abolished, for I have known some of them who have served the Church faithfully and have been blessings to the community in which they lived; while others have so involved themselves and acted so badly financially and otherwise as to to bring reproach upon the Church, their office and to lose all influence for good among those surrounding them Though I can not endose those views and others advanced by him, to which I would like to reply, yet I concluded to remain silent.

I next glanced at the article of Bro. Pearce, and from having heard and read so much of late politically in regard to it, was not frightened with the bloody garment, he was disposed to wave, or the ghostly apparition he desired to present: and as to his big words Webster enabled me to bridge them over, but when it came to the doctrine which they desire to teach that the office of the ministry (and by this I mean not the officer of an earthly Church but those receiving a special call or commission from God to go and proclaim His word) could wear it like an old shoe to be worn or cast off at the pleasure or convenience of the wearer, or as an earthly calling or profession to be dropped at the will of the follower, I could not endorse it and I think it should be rebuked by every Methodist who loves his Church and his pastors.

The motive for joining, or of locating from, a Conference, to which Bro. Pearce refers, is I believe, left to a very great extent with the man's own conscience Sometimes from loss of health, and other good reasons, location becomes necessary, but as a Methodist I believe in our peculiar plan of spreading holiness over these lands; because I think the itinerancy was the plan mostly pursued by the disciples and apostles of ancient days and one which, in latter days, has been so abundantly blessed of Almighty God to the good of souls and his Church militant.

I regret that Bro. Pearce mentioned the names of several brethren who have located, because I purposely avoided it so as not to be considered personal in the first place, and secondly because Bro. Pearce must have known that three of the brethren named by him as locating from our Annual Conference afterwards became regular pastors of other Churches Perhaps in the cases of the other brethren who were named and with whom I am not so familiar, they may have engaged in teaching or some other employment wherein they thought they were accomplishing as much good as if they were in the travelling connection; this however is a matter for the decision of God and not man.

I find, however, I am consuming too much space without answerring all the points presented, but must say in conclusion that I have no desire to array the local against the itinerant ministry, for I presume there would be none of the latter class if they could be convinced by the arguments of Bro. Long and Pearce that they can voluntarily lay down at pleasure the sacred office, ward off the feeling "Woe is me" etc, disregard the call of duty, the voice of conscience, and their ordination vows where, in becoming elders, they promised to give themselves to this one calling or work. Think you, Messrs Editors, with the talents many of them possess that they would follow a calling where, in many instances, they receive for their services only one third, or one half of the amount promised them at the commencement of the Conference year? Would they not follow some secular pursuit for the support of themselves and families and of providing themselves with homes of their own instead of having to occupy the unhealthy and uncomfortable and poorly furished houses frequently called parsonages?

One thing I must, however, urge upon Bro. Long and Pearce, and that is: that while they are entitled to their private opinions yet let them be careful what publicity they give to them lest they spiritually damage some of the young who may inwardly feel called to preach the Gospel; for I contend men are called of God to preach, that if they disregard the call they commit sin, and sin in accordance with the teachings of the Holy scriptures will lead men to the place where Bro. Pearce thinks I would consign unfaithful stewards who forget their ordination vows disregard the whisperings of conscience, and calls of duty which they professed God imposed upon them when first entering the ministry.

Yours,
Will.

For the Advocate.

A Letter From Mount Airy.

Messrs Editors: The autumnal months are now upon us. The earth is changing its garb. The hills and mountains present quite a variegated appearance The trees are dropping their leaves and fruitage. Soon the Centennial of our national existence and of our existence as an organized Church in N. C. will be gone. The years, we are hereby reminded, are swiftly passing away and rushing us on to untried realities. The year, with us, has been crowned with many blessings, though attended with many failures and disappointments. In June and September we had very heavy rains and freshets. Both did much damage to lands and crops.—Rivers, under God, bring blessings and inflict curses. They gladden many hearts and then make them bleed. It is a source of gratification and delight to look upon extensive tracts of bottom lands crowned with prospects of fruitful harvest, but then it is painful to behold those prospects blighted and see the results of much labor and investment torn to pieces, washed away or covered with sand. Many farmers in this country looked upon both these scenes this year.—The tobacco crop is very greatly a failure. The fruit crop almost entirely so, except in some few places, there is a tolerably full supply of apples. The wheat crop was tolerably good as to quality, but not so as to quantity. The corn crop, where not damaged by the freshets, is very good. There has been a fair yield in other particulars. With all the shortcomings and disasters that have attended the year, we have great reason for profound gratitude and thanks to the Lord of harvests for the supply yielded, both for man and beast, from his unwasting fullness.

This year has been one of unusual religious revival and enjoyment in this section. Our 4th Quarterly Meeting is past. Our Presiding Elder, for the first time, was not with us. It was an occasion of much interest. The meeting was protracted until Tuesday night. Nine persons were converted Six joined the Church. Others will possibly do so before the close of the year.

Within the bounds of the station seventy odd persons have been converted during the year. Sixty odd have joined the Church. Under the instrumentality of the M. E Church South nearly two hundred persons have been converted within the county this year and joined the Church.—Our Baptist brethren have had several meetings of much interest. Many have been converted and added to the Church. Some have been converted and added to the Church through the instrumentality of our Methodist Protestant brethren. Others may have contributed something in this direction—so that we have much to rejoice at and be thankful for. We are glad to see cheering reports from many other sections of the Church. Much has been accomplished this Centennial year for the cause of Christ. The result of the prayers and work of he Joint Commission from the M. F. Church and M E. Church, South, at Cape May, in effecting a plan of fraternity between the two Churches, is one of the grandest results of the century. We were glad to see that it has been hailed with delight, with slight exception, unanimously, both North and South. It not only establishes fraternity between the two Churches North and South, but if faithfully carried into practical operation by both parties, will do more to heal the wounds and lay sectional strife between the North and South and unite the two with stronger ties of patriotic as well as of religious brotherhood, than the great National Centennial Exhibition now in process at Philadelphia, over which so much fuss and excitement are made and upon which so much money has been spent. The one is good, the other is better So I think

A spirit of Church building and repairing pervades this country. Quite a number of handsome Churches have been erected during the last two years. Others are in process of erection. Some have been repaired—and others still in contemplation of erection. All these are signs of growth. A traveller, who has made the circuit of the globe, says he saw no new heathen temples. These return to dust but rise no more. But Christian temples, Phœnix like, return to dust, but others come from their decay. Besides new ones grow up where old ones never stood. O! when shall they stand as everlasting successors to the decaying temples of heathen lands? The Lord speed on the day!

Our Sunday school prospects are encouraging, though we are far behind others in this great work. They are an evangelistic power in the land—are doing much to take the world for Jesus Christ. Quite a number of young persons and children in this section have been brought to Christ this year through the Sabbath school. Others are on the way. Still the harvest is truly plenteous. The Lord of the harvest send forth more faithful laborers into this great field to work! I concur with Bro Yates that the Sunday school work should not supercede that of parents; but truly the Sunday school is doing a work that many parents cannot do, and that many will not do. The Lord teach them and incline them to do better in training their children for Jesus and heaven! Amen.

Yours truly,
James Willson.

Oct 1876.

For the Advocate.

Sunday Schools.

BY REV. P J. CARRAWAY.

NO. III.

Whatever may be the danger of segregating Sunday schools from other Churches, there is no material danger of such a result in the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, if her ministers do their duty. Nearly every Sunday school within our borders has been organized by the pastor, and the officers and teachers were appointed by him, or with his approval.—The Sunday school is not an exotic system, independent of the Church; but it originated with the Church and ministry. It requires constant culture and encouragement by the ministry to keep it healthy and prosperous.

Recognizing this truth, the Discipline of our Church reqnires the Quarterly Conference to elect the superintendent, on the nomination of the pastor. This provides for the general care of the school to be under the control of the Church.

The General Conference provides for the literature of the Sunday schools by electing a secretary of Sunday schools, who holds his office for four years.

It is his duty to edit the Sunday School Magazine, the Sunday School Visitor, and Our Little People, and to publish Lesson Papers.

The present Secretary has wisely adopted the "International Series of Lessons." The text is chosen by a wise and Godly committee of different denominations, for the use of all Sunday schools which will adopt the system

Our Secretary adopts the text, but prints such questions as he thinks proper, and writes such expositions in the Magazine as he thinks best for the use of teachers. These texts are taken alternately from the Old and New Testaments on the principle that both are the word of God, and should both be carefully studied.

By this arrangement, the lesson is not left to the whim of the teacher.—Teachers are very often at a loss in selecting a lesson. Here it is provided by profound theologians who have studied them with care. Helps are put into the hands of teachers, selected from the best authors. The work of the Sunday school is reduced to a system, and time is saved. With the text selected, and the week day readings prescribed, the child has directions for studying the lesson that no ordinary teacher could give. And this is all the word of God.—How can it prove to be an evil?

But this tends to formality in religion! How? Does it tend to formality to study a new lesson every Sunday? Does it tend to formality to study lessons in the Old Testament one quarter, and the next quarter to study in the New Testament? Does it tend to formality to study about Solomon three months and to study about the apostles three months? I cannot see that it does.

But the catechism is left out, and that is necessary. The International Series does not contemplate, nor necessitate the dispensing with the catechism It ought to be added to the lesson. Nor does this system contemplate segregating the school from the church. Nor does it contemplate leaving out Christ and conversion. I venture to say that those children taught in these lessons hear as much of the Saviour as those do who are not taught in them.

I also believe that quite as many children taught in them are converted as there are of those who are taught by other systems. As to the singing in many of the schools I have not much to say. Some of the music is trashy—some may contain bad theology; but much of it is good and pure. There are many books to select from. Perhaps all have their defects and all have their merits; but the leader must judge which is best. But I will say this; the song service must not be omitted. Teach the children to sing. Try to make them love to sing; and remember that the Sunday school which has the best singing will always have the largest number of children in attendance, and generally will have the largest number of grown people to attend.

(To be continued.)

The Pulpit.

Sermon by Rev. T. De Witt Talmage, Booklyn Tabernacle.

PHONOGRAPHICALLY REPORTED BY WILLIAM WALTON.

A Cheerful Word to Tired People.

"Not slothful in business; fervent in spirit; serving the Lord."—Romans xi. 11.

Industry, devontness, Christian service are all recommended in this one short text. What! is it possible to conjoin them? O, yes. There is no war between religion and business, between Bibles and ledgers, between churches and counting-houses. On the contrary, religion accelerates business, sharpens men's wits, sweetens acerbity of disposition, fillips the blood of phlegmatics, and throws more velocity into all the wheels of hard work. To the judgment it gives more skilful balancing; to the will more strength; to industry more muscle; to enthusiasm a more consecrated fire. You cannot show me a man whose business prospects have in any wise been despoiled by his religion.

The industrial classes are divided into three gronps—prodncers, manufacturers, traders. Prodncers, such as farmers and miners. Mannfactnrers, such as take the corn and change it into food, or the wool and flax and change them into apparel. Traders, who make a profit ont of the transfer and exchange of that which is produced or manufactnred. Now, a business man may belong to one of these classes, or he may belong to all of them. Whatever be your avocation, if you plan, calculate, bargain; if into your life there come annoyances, vexations, and disappointments as well as gains, dividends, and percentages; if you are harassed with a multiplicity of engagements; in a word, if you are driven from Monday morning to Saturday night, and from January to January, with relentless obligation and dnty, then you are a business man or a bnsiness woman, and my subject is appropriate to your case. We are apt to speak of the moil and tug of bnsiness life as though it were an inqnisition or a prison into which a man is thrown, or an unequal strife where half armed, he goes to contend Hear me this morning, while I try to show that God intended bnsiness life to be a glorious education and discipline, and if I shall be successful in what to say, I shall rub the wrinkles ont of your brow and unstrap some of the burdens from your back.

I have first to remark that God intended business life to be to you a school of Christian energy. God started us in the world, giving us a certain amount of raw material ont of which we were to hew our own character Every faculty needs to be reset, rounded, sharpened up. After our young people have graduated from the schools and colleges and universities, they need a higher education, that which the collision and rasping of every-day life alone can effect Energy of soul is wrought out only in the fire. And when a man for ten or fifteen or twenty or thirty years has been going through business activities, his energy can no longer be measured by weights or plummets or ladders. It can scale any height. It can thrash any obstacle. Now do you suppose that God has spent all this education on you for the purpose of making you a more successful worldling, of enabling you to more rapidly accumulate dollars, making you sharp in a trade? Did God make you merely to be a yard-stick to measure cloths, or a steelyards to weigh flour? And did He intend you to spend your life in doing nothing but to chaffer and higgle? My friend, He has put you in this school to develop your energy for His cause and kingdom. There is enough unemployed talent in the Churches and in the world to-day to reform all empires and all kingdoms and people in three weeks. O, how much idleness amid strong muscles and stont hearts. How many deep streams that turn no mill wheels, and hand on the bands of no factory. God demands that He have the best lamb out of every flock, the richest sheaf in every harvest, the best men of every generation. and in a cause where the Newtons and the Lockes and the Mansfields of the earth were proud to enlist, you and I need not be ashamed to toil. O, for fewer idlers and for more consecrated Christian workers.

Again: God intended business life to be to you a school of patience How many little things there are in one day's engagements to perturb and annoy and disquiet you. Bargains will rub and men will break their engagements. Collecting agents will come back empty handed. Tricksters in business will play upon what they call the "hard times," when in any times they never pay. Goods placed on the wrong shelf. Cash books and money drawn in a quarrel. Goods ordered for an especial emergency failing to come, or if coming, damaged in the transportation. People who intend no harm going about slopping unrolling goods they do not mean to buy and trying to break the dozen. Men obliged to take up other people's notes. More counterfeit bills in the drawer. More bad debts. Another ridiculous panic Under all this friction men break down, or they are scoured up into additional brightness. How many you and I have known who, in the past few years, have gone down under the pressure and have become petulant and choleric and crabed and sour and pugnacious, until customers forsook their stores, and these merchants have become insolvent and their names were pronounced with detestation. But other men have found in this a school for patience. They toughened under the exposure. They were like rocks, more serviceable for the blasting There was a time when they had to choke down their wrath There was a time when they had to bite their lip There was a time when they thought of a stinging retort they would like to utter But now they have conquered their impatience. They have kind words for sarcastic flings. They have polite behavior for discourteous customers. They have forbearance for unfortunate debtors. They have moral reflections for the sudden reverses of fortune. How are you going to get that grace of patience? Not through hearing ministers preach about it. O, no If you get it at all, you will get it in the world, where you sell hats, and plead causes, and tin roofs, and make shoes, and turn banisters, and plough corn. I pray God that through the turmoil and sweat and exasperation of your every-day life, you may hear the voice of Christ saying to you, "In patience possess your soul; let patience have a perfect work."

Again: God intended business life to be to you a school for the attaining of knowledge. Merchants do not read many books, nor study many lexicons, nor dive into great profonnds, yet through the force of circumstances they get intelligent on questions of politics and finance and geography and jurisprudence and ethics. Business is a hard schoolmistress If her pupils will not learn in any other way, with unmerciful hand she smites them on the head and on the heart with inexorable loss. You went into some business enterprize and five thousand dollars got out of your grasp. You say the five thousand dollars were wasted. O, no; that was only tuition. Expensive schooling, but it was worth it. Misfortune, with hard hand, comes upon a man and wakes him up, and by the very force of circumstances business men get to be intelligent Traders in grains must know about foreign harvests. Traders in fruits must know about the prospects of tropical production. Manufacturers of American goods must know about the tariff on imported articles Publishers of books must know the new law of copyright. Owners of ships come to understand winds and shoals and navigation. And so every bale of cotton and every raisin cask and every tea box and every cluster of bananas becomes a literature to our business men. Now what is the use of all this intelligence unless you give it to Christ? Do you suppose God gives you these opportunities of brightening up your intellect and of increasing your knowledge merely to get larger treasnres and grander business? O, no. Can it be that you have been learning about foreign lands and people that dwell under other skies, and yet have no missionary spirit? Can it be that you have been learning the follies and trickeries and hollownesses of the business world, and yet you are not trying to bring to bear upon them this Gospel which is to correct all abuses, and abolish all ignorance, and correct all mistakes, and arrest all crime, and irradiate all darkness, and lift up all wretchedness? Can it be that, notwithstanding your acquaintance with the intricacies of business, you are ignorant of those things which will last the soul long after bills of exchange and commissions and invoices and consignments and rent rolls have crumpled up and consumed in the fires of a judgment day?

Again: God intended business life to be to you a school of Christian integrity. No age of the world ever offered so many inducements for scoundrelism as are offered now.—There is hardly a statute on the law books that has not some back door through which miscreants can escape. How many deceptions in the fabric of goods! Commercial life plies the land with trickeries innumerable, and there are so many people in Brooklyn and New York who live a life of plunder, that when a man proposes a straightforward, honest business, it is almost charged to greenness and want of tact. Ah! my brethren, this ought not to be. But I have to tell you that it requires more grace to be honest now than it did in the days of our fathers, when business was plain, and there were no stock gamblers, and woollen was woollen, and silk was silk, and men were men. How rare it is that you find a man who can from his heart say, "I never cheated in trade. I never overestimated the value of goods when I was selling them. I never covered up a defect in a fabric. I never played upon the ignorance of a customer, and in all my estate there is not one dishonest farthing." There are those who can say it. They never let their integrity bow or cringe to present advantage. They are as pure and Christian to day as on the day when they sold their first tierce of rice or their first firkin of butter.—They were times when they could have robbed a partner, when they could have absconded with the funds of a bank, when they could have sprung a snap judgment, when they could have borrowed illimitably, when they could have made a false assignment, when they could have ruined a neighbor for the purpose of picking up some of the fragments; but they never took one step on that pathway of hell fire Now they can pray without being haunted with the chink of dishonest gold. Now they can read the Bible without thinking of the day when, with a lie on their soul, they kissed the book in a custom house.—Now they can look into the laughing faces of their children without thinking of orphans left by them penniless and homeless. Now they can think of death without having their knees knock together and their hearts sink and their teeth chatter, because there is a judgment where all defrauders and jockies and tricksters and charlatans shall be donbly damned. Now they can read in the Bible without flinching, "As the partridge sitteth on eggs and hatcheth them not; so he that getteth riches, and not by right shall leave them in the midst of his days, and at his end shall be a fool." Alas! if any of you, for the purpose of getting out of temporary embarrassment, dare to sell your soul or any portion of it.—You may wake up in the midst of embarrassment and say, "No one is looking. This transaction may be a little out of the way, but it is only once, only once." On that one occasion you not only wreck your spiritual nature but you despoil your business prospects. You put one dishonest dollar in an estate, but it will not stand. You may take a dishonest dollar and put it down in the very depths of the earth, and you may roll on the top of it rocks and mountains, and on the top of those rocks and mountains you may put all banks and moneyed institutions, piling them up heaven high; but that one dishonest dollar down in the depths of the earth will begin to rock and heave and upturn itself until it comes to the resurrection of damnation. You cannot hide a dishonest dollar!

In the review of this subject there are two or three things I want to say, and the first is, let us have a larger sympathy for business men. I think it is a shame that in our pulpits we do not oftener preach on this subject, and show that we appreciate the sorrows and struggles and temptations and trials of every day life. Therefore it is I am preaching this series of Sabbath morning sermons. Men who toil with the hand are very apt to be suspicions of those who move in the world of traffic, and think that they get their money idly, and that they give no equivalent. Men who raise the corn and wheat and rye and oats are very apt to think that grain merchants get easy profits. The fist is very apt to be jealous of the brain.—Plato and Aristotle were so opposed to all kinds of merchandise that they said commerce was the curse of the earth, and they recommended that cities should never be built any nearer the sea coast than ten miles. But we have become wiser than that, and you know that there are no harder workers than those who plan and calculate in stores and banks and counting-houses. What though their apparel be neat, what though their manners be refined, do not put them down as idlers. They carry loads heavier than a hod of bricks, they go into exposures keener than the cutting of the east wind, they scale mountains higher than Alps and Himalayas, and, maintaining their Christian integrity, to be to you a school of Christian integrity. No age of the world ever offered so many inducements for scoundrelism as are offered now.—There is hardly a statute on the law books that has not some back door through which miscreants can escape. How many deceptions in the fabric of goods! Commercial life plies the land with trickeries innumerable, and there are so many people in Brooklyn and New York who live a life of plunder, that when a man proposes a straightforward, honest business, it is almost charged to greenness and want of tact. Ah! my brethren, this ought not to be. But I have to tell you that it requires more grace to be honest now than it did in the days of our fathers, when business was plain, and there were no stock gamblers, and woollen was woollen, and silk was silk, and men were men. How rare it is that you find a man who can from his heart say, "I never cheated in trade. I never overestimated the value of goods when I was selling them. I never covered up a defect in a fabric. I never played upon the ignorance of a customer, and in all my estate there is not one dishonest farthing." There are those who can say it. They never let their integrity bow or cringe to present advantage. They are as pure and Christian to day as on the day when they sold their first tierce of rice or their first firkin of butter.—They were times when they could have robbed a partner, when they could have absconded with the funds of a bank, when they could have sprung a snap judgment, when they could have borrowed illimitably, when they could have made a false assignment, when they could have ruined a neighbor for the purpose of picking up some of the fragments; but they never took one step on that pathway of hell fire Now they can pray without being haunted with the chink of dishonest gold. Now they can read the Bible without thinking of the day when, with a lie on their soul, they kissed the book in a custom house.—Now they can look into the laughing faces of their children without thinking of orphans left by them penniless and homeless. Now they can think of death without having their knees knock together and their hearts sink and their teeth chatter, because there is a judgment where all defrauders and jockies and tricksters and charlatans shall be donbly damned. Now they can read in the Bible without flinching, "As the partridge sitteth on eggs and hatcheth them not; so he that getteth riches, and not by right shall leave them in the midst of his days, and at his end shall be a fool." Alas! if any of you, for the purpose of getting out of temporary embarrassment, dare to sell your soul or any portion of it.—You may wake up in the midst of embarrassment and say, "No one is looking. This transaction may be a little out of the way, but it is only once, only once." On that one occasion you not only wreck your spiritual nature but you despoil your business prospects. You put one dishonest dollar in an estate, but it will not stand. You may take a dishonest dollar and put it down in the very depths of the earth, and you may roll on the top of it rocks and mountains, and on the top of those rocks and mountains you may put all banks and moneyed institutions, piling them up heaven high; but that one dishonest dollar down in the depths of the earth will begin to rock and heave and upturn itself until it comes to the resurrection of damnation. You cannot hide a dishonest dollar!

In the review of this subject there are two or three things I want to say, and the first is, let us have a larger sympathy for business men. I think it is a shame that in our pulpits we do not oftener preach on this subject, and show that we appreciate the sorrows and struggles and temptations and trials of every day life. Therefore it is I am preaching this series of Sabbath morning sermons. Men who toil with the hand are very apt to be suspicions of those who move in the world of traffic, and think that they get their money idly, and that they give no equivalent. Men who raise the corn and wheat and rye and oats are very apt to think that grain merchants get easy profits. The fist is very apt to be jealous of the brain.—Plato and Aristotle were so opposed to all kinds of merchandise that they said commerce was the curse of the earth, and they recommended that cities should never be built any nearer the sea coast than ten miles. But we have become wiser than that, and you know that there are no harder workers than those who plan and calculate in stores and banks and counting-houses. What though their apparel be neat, what though their manners be refined, do not put them down as idlers. They carry loads heavier than a hod of bricks, they go into exposures keener than the cutting of the east wind, they scale mountains higher than Alps and Himalayas, and, maintaining their Christian integrity, Christ will at the last accost them, saying, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

I also enjoin you to quit all fretfulness about business matters. Is there not something in your own household that you would not give up for the worldly success other men have? Besides that, if these trials lifted you up you ought to bless God for the whip of discipline. The larger the note you have to pay, the greater the uncertainty of business life, the better for your soul, if Jesus Christ leads you triumphantly through. How do I know it? I know it by this principle, that the hotter the furnace the better the refining. There have been thousands of men who have gone through the same path you are now going through with an aching heart. There are multitudes before the throne of God who were lashed with cares and anxieties innumerable, and were cheated out of everything but their coffin. They were sued, they were ejected, they were imprisoned for debt, they were maltreated, they were throttled of constables with whole packs of writs, they were sold out by sheriffs, they had to confess judgments, they had to compromise with creditors, and their last hour on earth was disturbed by the fact that their door-bell was rung loudly and angrily by the hand of some impetuous creditor, who was surprised that that sick man should be so impertinent and outrageous as to die before he had paid him the last three shillings and six pence. O! how men are tossed and driven. I had a friend who went from one anxiety to another; a good and great heart he had, but everything he put his hand to seemed to fail. Misfortunes clustered around, and after awhile I heard he was dead; and the first word I said, was, "Good! he has got rid of the sheriffs." There is great multitude of business men who on earth had it hard, but, by the grace of God, they stand triumphant in heaven; and when the question is asked of them, "Who are they?" the angels of God, standing on seas of glass, will cry out, "These are they who came out of great tribulation, and had their robes washed and made white in the blood of the Lamb."

Once more. I want you to seek business grace. Commercial ethics, business honor, laws of trade, may do very well for awhile; but there will come a time when the ground will slip from under your feet, and the world will frown, and the devils will set after your soul, and you will want more then than this world can give you. You will want the eternal rock to stand on. For the lack of that grace, you have known men to forge, and to maltreat their friends, and to curse their enemies, and you have seen their names bulletined among scoundrels, and spit upon, and blistered of scorn, and ground to powder. They not only lost their property, but their souls were mauled and putrified and blasted for eternity. You could count up scores of such persons, while there are others who, tossed on the same sea, sustained by the grace of God, have all the time kept their eye on the light house. Men coming ont of that man's store say, "If there ever was a Christian trader, that is one." Stern integrity kept the books and waited on the customers. Light from the future world flashed through the show-windows. Wrath never stamped that floor, nor did sly dishonesty cover up imperfections in goods. Love to God and love to men were the principles that ruled in the store of that Christian trader. Some day the shutters are not let down from the store window, and the bars are not taken from the door. Men pass along and stop and stare, and go up to read a card on the door which announces, 'Closed on account of the death of one of the firm." That day it is talked in commercial circles that a good man has gone. Boards of Trade pass resolutions of sympathy, and Churches of Christ pray, "Help, Lord, for the godly man ceaseth." He has made his last bargain. He has suffered his last loss. He has ached with his last fatigue The results of his Christian industry will bless his children after he is dead, and bequests to the kingdom of God will gather many sons into glory. Everlasting rewards in place of business discipline There, "the wicked cease from troubling, and the weary are at rest."

The late Dr. Macadam used to tell of a tipsy Scotchman making his way home upon a bright Sunday morning, when the good people were wending their way to the kirk. A little dog pulled the ribbon from the hand of a lady who was leading it, and as it ran away from her she appealed to the first passer by, asking him to aside for her poodle. "Woman," he retorted, with a solemnity of visage which only a drunken man can assume, "would you have me, this is not a day for whistlin'!"

"Fruits are earth's favors, and flowers are its smiles."

The Minimum Christian

The minimum Christian! And who is he? The Christian who is going to heaven at the cheapest rate possible. The Christian who intends to get all of the world he can, and not meet the worldling's doom. The Christian who aims to have as little religion as he may without lacking it all together.

The minimum Christian goes to worship in the morning; and in the evening also, unless it rains, or is too warm or too cold, or he is sleepy or has the headache from eating too much dinner. He listens most respectfully to the preacher, and joins in prayer and praise. He applies the truth very judiciously, sometimes to himself, oftener to his neighbors.

The minimum Christian is very friendly to all good works. He wishes them well, but it is not in his power to do much for them. The Sabbath-school he looks upon as an admirable institution, especially for the neglected and ignorant. It is not convenient, however, for him to take a class; his business engagements are so pressing during the week that he needs the Sabbath as a day of rest; nor does he think himself qualified to act as a teacher. There are so many persons better prepared for this important duty, that he must beg to be excused. He is friendly to home and foreign missions, and colportage, and gives his mite, but he is quite unable to aid in the management, for his own concerns are so excessively important. He thinks there are "too many appeals;" but he gives, if not enough to save his reputation, pretty near it—at all events he aims at it, and never over shoots the mark. —Montreal Witness.

Rural and Domestic.

Fancy Farmers.—No class of men have been ridiculed so much, and there are none that have done so much good, as those who are denominated fancy farmers They have been, in all times and countries, the benefactors of the men who have created them with derision. They have been to farmers what inventors have been to manufactnrers. They have experimented for the good of the world, while others have simply worked for their own good. They created theories while others have raised crops for market. They have given a dignity and glory to the occupation of farming it never had before.

Fancy farmers have changed the wild boar into the Suffolk and Berkshire; the wild bull of Britain into the Shortnorn; the mountain sheep, with its lean body and hair fleece, into the Southdown and the Merino. They have brought up the milk of cows from pints to gallons. They have lengthened the sirloin of the bullock, deepened the udder of the cow, enlarged the ham of the hog, given strength to the shoulder of the ox, rendered finer the wool of the sheep, added fleetness to the speed of the horse, and made beautiful every animal that is kept in the service o man. They have improved and hastened the development of all domestic animals, till they hardly resemble the creatures from which they sprang.—Chicago Times.

Delicate Apple Pudding.—Scald or steam, and then pound in a marble mortar, or grate, as many sour apples as will fill your pudding dish about three inches deep. Stir to the apple the grated rind of one lemon or orange, and sweeten to your taste before putting it in your dish. Mix half a pint of milk with the same quantity of cream, and the beaten yolk of one egg. Scald these together, stirring all the time. Do not let it boil. Sweeten; take from the fire and set aside till cold, then pour over the apple. Finish by spreading over the top nicely whipped cream or frosting. One or two nice oranges thinly sliced, seeds removed, cut in small pieces, and mixed with the apple, is even nicer than the grated rind of either lemon or orange.

Summer Fruits.—The hygienic effects of summer fruits cannot be well overstated. The cravings of the system for vegetable acids are a natural indication of the necessity to the human organism. This is peculiarly the case on the approach of the summer solstice; and at the very season when nature comes to the rescue, offering the early fruits which are characterized by that happy admixture of the saccharine and the acidnous principles which render them so universally acceptable to our palates. The digestive apparatus accepts the grateful offerings, and fortunately there are few exceptions to the axiom which may be announced: That well ripened fruits, when freely gathered, are among the most wholesome articles of the materia alimentaria.

The total public debt, less cash in the treasury, October 1st, was $2,092,266,576. Decrease during September, $2,915,365. Cash in treasury, $111,636,070, of which $34,501,424 was coin.

The Christian Advocate.

OFFICE—Corner of Dawson & Hargett Sts

THE ORGAN
OF THE
NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE
OF THE
M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev J B Bobbitt, D.D } Editors
R. T. Gray, Esq., }

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION:

FOR ONE YEAR, IN ADVANCE, POSTAGE PAID,	$2.50
SIX MONTHS, " "	1.35
If payment be delayed six months.	2.70

RALEIGH, N. C., NOV. 1, 1876.

All letters on business with this office should be addressed to the Christian Advocate, Raleigh, N. C.

The Cross (X) Mark is to remind you that your subscription has expired. Let all renew promptly.

Our Sure Trust.

In the midst of life's pleasures and joys we are apt to forget that sorrowing hearts are all around us. Scarcely a home but that has at some time been shrouded in gloom, and all light apparently shut out from it. During these hours of darkness it is not strange that unbalanced minds should look upon the world as a vale of tears, full of sorrow and woe, and life a burden of anxiety, care and suffering, which it would be a relief to lay down. On the other hand, there are a class of persons in the world who regard life as a season of mirth, pleasure and ease, and only for our uninterrupted happiness and enjoyment. These are the two extremes into which the untrained and unguarded mind is liable to fall. While the first fails to see the comforts and blessings which a wise and gracious heavenly Father has ordained for his children, the other fails to grasp the real character and purpose of our earthly existence, and both are sadly deficient in comprehending the constitution under which the world is governed. The first betrays a want of trust in God, and the other tends to sensuality.—Let faith bring the two together, and we shall see life as it is—a probation, a scene of trial for intelligent and moral beings, involving temptations, accidents, misfortunes, sorrows, tears, and liability to sad disasters and disappointments. It is true that faith cannot or does not always fully explain what it discovers. But to the sacred Scriptures we turn and all is explained.

God, as he has revealed himself to us in Christ, governs the world in which we live. His government is just—founded in grace. God in Christ is a Saviour from sin. The history of his government, written and unwritten, is a history of the salvation of sinners. To this all things in his administration is subordinate. The God who governs, gave his Son to redeem us. If we could always feel this truth, there would be fewer murmuring hearts. All suffering would be borne patiently and meekly for Christ's sake.

Surely there is no time when we feel the need of the divine presence and help as when trouhles and temptations come upon us. It is equally true also that there never is a time when the Saviour of mankind is more ready to hear our griefs, and to impart unto us comfort, and all needed grace. If he wounds, he longs to heal. If the blow of chastisement falls, his arms are open to receive us. All his promises are full of comfort to the troubled and burdened. He is ever our unfailing refuge—a very present help in time of trouble.

The Tennessee Conference of the Church, South passed resolutions heartily indorsing the rules and principles adopted by the Cape May Commission.

We invite attention to the Conference notice of Bro. Adams which appears in another column. The Presiding Elders will at once see the importance of promptly complying with his request.

Although the cry of hard times is heard from all quarters, we are more than pleased to learn that the people are making strong efforts to meet the assessments of their pastors. The indications are that most of our preachers will be liberally paid.

The preachers are earnestly requested to look after renewals. The subscription of many of our subscribers has expired, and we cannot afford to lose them from our list of patrons. Will each subscriber whose time has run out send on the amount of his subscription, or hand it to the preacher in charge or some agent for the ADVOCATE?

Bro. Alexander Walker, of Durham, is a working Christian and a valuable aid to his preacher. During the summer and early fall, he assisted in revivals at various points in Orange, and in the absence of Bro. Moore conducts the services in the Church at Durham.

In a recent letter to the Baltimore Methodist, Dr. Duncan, President of Randolph Macon College, says: "It pained me very much to resign last June. But you see I am still here, and as it seems difficult to find a person willing to take up the burden I proposed to lay down, I must for some time, at least, I suppose, make my own plans subordinate to the welfare of the College."

"By Their Fruits Ye Shall Know Them."

In all parts of our Conference, and in other Churches, revivals of religion have accompanied the preaching of the Word, and scores of persons have professed before the world that they have obtained a change of heart and have become members of the household of faith. They have just begun the Christian life: time and conflict with the opposing forces and beguilements of Satan, will determine the strength of their new resolutions and their devotion to the cause they have espoused. They must and will bear fruit—good or bad—and by this fruit shall they be known. A strong, strong, healthy tree bears sound, healthy and wholesome fruit; while withered and faulty fruit denotes that the tree whereon it grows is unsound and sickly. So, a man's life, conduct and conversation are the tests of his christian or worldly character. If a man's life be pure and upright, his acts honest, unselfish and charitable, and his conversation chaste and holy, it is safe to consider that his heart is pure and the abode of christian graces.—Hypocrisy, it is true, may cover vice with the vail of virtue, but the mask cannot always be worn so as to deceive men as to the vileness it is intended to hide. On the other hand, if delight be taken in the sinful pleasures of the world; if the ball-room, race-course or tippling shop be more attractive than the house of God; if the way of the ungodly be pursued or the seat of the scornful be frequented; if the mind plot and the hand execute deeds of injustice, selfishness or cruelty, or the tongue and lips frame blasphemy and obscenity, it can be certainly inferred that the heart is sinful, unchanged and given over to the devil and his works.

Not only God's people, but the world will anxiously watch for the growth of fruit from the professions of young converts. Though they are not always correct, yet judgments are soon formed by the Church and the world of the truth or falsity of one's claims to a place among devout christians. Slight circumstances, trivial acts, chance words, are often deemed sufficient to base a judgment upon and determine the genuineness of one's professions, and the young convert cannot be too careful in the way he deports himself before the world. He owes it to himself, as well as to the cause of Christ, to be abundant in Christian labor, faithful to religious duties and to prove by his fruits that he is firmly planted in the rich soil of gospel truth.

Last week we received a note from "a subscriber" requesting us to forward an enclosed letter to its destination. It may be "all right" and again, it may not; fearing the latter, we have not forwarded it. We cannot return it, for we do not know the sender. If the "subscriber" will send his or her name to us as a guarantee of the propriety of the letter, we will furnish a postage stamp and send it to the person to whom it is addressed. We can afford the stamp but not the risk of sending a letter of whose import we are ignorant. We like to be obliging, but it is safe to be prudent.

Rev. H. P. Cole, of Hillsboro Station, spent a day with us last week. He is in excellent health now, and in good spirits. At Cedar Grove, a church of which he has charge a few miles from Hillsboro', there was recently a gracious revival by which the Church was greatly benefited. Bro. Cole also assisted Bro. Adams in a protracted meeting at Greensboro.

Dazzling words and sentences please, big words beget wonder but only plain words convince. Preaching aims to convince, and hence preachers should employ plain words easily understood by those to whom they preach. Mr. Spurgeon well illustrates the necessity of plain English in the pulpit. "Preachers use," he says, "various kinds of English; one with many syllabled words, the other the Saxon their mothers talked. I heard a story once of a number of sailors who were playing cards up aloft, and had a light for the purpose.—The captain sent a midshipman to tell them to put it out, and the midshipman told them to 'extinguish that luminary.' But the sailors did not understand him. Then the captain called out, 'Donse that glim'—and out went the candle. I should not have said that, but I should have taken a middle point, and said, 'Put out that candle, boys.' I believe 'high falutin' is too much used in the pulpit. We preachers should speak so that people could not misunderstand us even if they tried to do so."

The Centennial year is prolific in figures and in no point do the figures make a better showing than in regard to the progress of Christianity in the United States during the past century. Statistics go to show that in 1776 there were 1,943 Protestant churches and 1,443 ministers; now there are 91,760 churches and 58,060 ministers Thus while the population has been multiplied by ten, the churches have been multiplied by forty seven. Then there was one church for every two thousand people, now one for every half thousand. This statement hardly seems possible, but figures sustain it.

Bro J. B. Martin, writing from Chapel Hill, Oct 26th, says: "We have enjoyed a very gracious revival on Flat River Circuit this year. More than 200 persons have professed conversion and about 150 have joined our Church."

The Virginia Conference meets in Richmond, November 15.

Dr Talmage's Sermons.

We are glad to say that the publication of Dr. Talmage's sermons in the ADVOCATE is giving great satisfaction to our readers in all parts of the Conference. We have received many assurances to that effect from ministers and other readers of the ADVOCATE. One gentleman, a prominent citizen of Raleigh and a member of another Church, said to us upon the street, a week or two ago: "I am glad to see that you publish Talmage's sermons regularly. Either of two recently published is worth the price of your paper."

Dr. Talmage has made arrangements with several papers granting them the privilege of printing his sermons and has employed a phonographer to furnish them immediately after they are delivered. The ADVOCATE is one of the favored few that enjoy the benefits of the arrangement and we shall print the sermons regularly. We trust that our subscribers will keep their subscriptions promptly renewed so that they will not miss reading any of the attractive discourses of the distinguished divine

Good Words.

An esteemed lady subscriber, in renewing her subscription to the ADVOCATE, encourages us by words of commendation for which we thank her heartily. We often receive from our subscribers expressions of the satisfaction which the ADVOCATE gives its readers, and always appreciate such. There are many harrassing things about the conduct of a newspaper office and such kind words as the following make our hearts glad.

She says: "We cannot afford to be without the ADVOCATE, and do not see how those who call themselves Methodists can reconcile it to themselves to be without their Church Organ, the only medium through which they may post themselves in regard to the progress and general interests of the Church in the various portions of the Conference.

Allow me to congratulate you upon the success you are making of the ADVOCATE. We think Dr. Talmage's sermon in last week's issue well worth the price of subscription. In our opinion you are doing much to advance the cause of Methodism among us, and by so doing, to promote the cause of our blessed Redeemer."

The Central Methodist says of Bishop Kavanaugh's visit to the Western Virginia Conference:

'The Bishop met a warm reception by the Western Virginia Conference, and never appeared in better health or spirits. He preached three times with all the physical and intellectual vigor of former years, and delivered several addresses to Conference. For one seventy-five years of age, and fifty-three years in the regular ministry, this is remarkable. The warmth of his Christian zeal, the earnestness of his devotion, the liberality of his views, and his noble bearing towards Christian people of other communions, greatly endeared him to all who attended, or visited the Conference. May he be spared many years to bless and inspire the Church, by his able ministry and unconquerable zeal."

The Virginia Conference will greet him cordially in November.

The following is from the Richmond Advocate:

We would not have ventured to reprint this gentle satire if it had not been clipped and handed in by a witty Churchman—and it is hardly worth while to add—who is ensconced in a snug office in the Capitol. There is no harm, we hope, in letting a Vestryman laugh at the follies of his own folks:

"The Rev. Dr. Bacon writes in the Christian Union that one of the most eminent of English clergymen once exclaimed to him with a sharp, sudden interpellation apropos of nothing that had gone before, 'Mr. Bacon, what does possess your American Episcopalians to take on such monstrous airs when they come over to Europe? Why, we the Church of England think sometimes that we are entitled to carry our heads pretty high; but, bless me, it is nothing to the style that they put on.'"

The Churchman says: "A few days ago we were at the funeral of a dissolute creature who, after fifty years' soaking in the wine cask, had at last oozed away. The chancel was a floral exhibition; the coffin hidden under harps and crowns; and above rose a colossal anchor of camelias, the emblem of the hope that maketh not ashamed, safely fixed beyond the vail! What a mockery of Christian faith! What a contrast as the solemn services went forward, the lesson answering, 'Be not deceived,' to the Epicurean proverb, 'Let us eat and drink,' and the Collect praying that we may 'rise from the death of sin to the life of righteousness'! Yet this is only one among many instances. Nothing is fairer than such decoration in itself Bring white flowers for the dead child, or for the pure of heart, lying in the white garments of a holy life; but when the emblem is so changed to an elaborate, gross, painful sham, it is an affront to the truth."

The second Sabbath in November, and the week that follows that day is to be observed as a day of Prayer and Praise by all the Young Men's Christian Associations.

Rev. Dr D. H Wheeler, editor of the Methodist, is a local preacher in the Methodist Episcopal Church.

A Tour Among the Itinerants.

DEAR DR. BOBBITT: I am to day in Monroe with your most excellent brother, W. H. Bobbitt, Daniel May and M. Hoyle. I left my College in care of Prof. John T. Abernethy, Dr. York, Rev G B. Wetmore and others on the 6th inst. [illegible] among the Itinerants to get money to complete our new College Building. I took the train at Icard, came to Salisbury, then to Charlotte, then to Monroe where I was met by a good brother and carried to Prospect Camp-Ground. Here I met Revs. W. H. Bobbitt, Dr. Lee, D. May, M Hoyle, T W. Kendall, brother Plyler, brother Edwards and others Here we remained till Monday 10th. and then were carried by brother Kendall to his pleasant home. On Tuesday we went to Chesterfield C. H, S. C, where we preached twice for brother Murray of the S C Conf., and on our way back to brother Kendall's I preached at Long Pine, on brother Gninn's circuit, to a large and serious congregation. On Thursday brother Kendall took me to Poplar Grove where I preached in the day, and then to Polkton on the C. C. Railroad where I preached at night to a large congregation of people. Here I met brothers May and Thomas who had been holding a protracted meeting at this place. They both left me on Friday, but I continued to preach here till Sunday night. We had an excellent time of the divine influence at this point. A goodly number of penitents came to the altar at every hour, and christians rejoiced in hope of a blissful immortality.

On Monday the 16th, I went to Lilesville where I made the acquaintance of a number of good people among whom I shall ever remember brother Coxe and his amiable lady. On Tuesday I was met here by brothers W. H. Bobbitt, England and Sharpe. I preached in the Lilesville Church on Tuesday and Tuesday night. Here the Methodists have one of the best church houses and parsonages I have seen any where. No preacher need fear to be sent to the Lilesville Circuit. He will be cared for here without doubt.

On Wednesday 18th, in company with brother W. H. Bobbitt, I came to Wadesboro and preached to brother Wheeler's charge. Here I found some excellent people, among whom I must not forget to mention brother Ingram and lady. Sister Ingram is a member of the Baptist Church; but if all the Baptist brethren were like her, I would not mind to be a Baptist myself

From Wadesboro I came here where I am to preach to night and twice to morrow. I then go to Charlotte to preach on Tuesday night; then to Salisbury on Wednesday night; then home.

My trip has been both pleasant and successful.

Yours truly,
E. L. ABERNETHY.

Cruel Husbands

The man who takes two political papers for himself, and will not take one religious paper for his Christian wife, is a cruel husband.

The husband who slips out from breakfast and leaves no wood to cook dinner, ought not to expect his wife to give him dinner.

When a man leaves his wife alone with a sick child, and stays down street, idle and joking with his friends till bed-time, he is a cruel husband.

The man who prays very fluently in the congregation, but never lets his wife and children hear him pray at home, is cruel.

A. D. BETTS.

Notice.

The Presiding Elders will please furnish me, immediately, the names of the lay delegates elected to the approaching Annual Conference; also, the names of local preachers who will attend either for admission on trial in the traveling connection, or for ordination

We must have the names of all to provide homes for them.

S. D. ADAMS.

Oct. 24.

The Boston Herald is willing to welcome Moody and Sankey to Boston, but cannot see the use of spending $30.000 in getting ready for the meetings Taking a business view of the matter, it says: "If Mr. Moody can't come to Boston and begin work without a preliminary outlay of $30,000, before a word is spoken or sung, is the going to be a dear investment? Other people are asking the same question, not out of any disrespect to Brother Moody, but purely as a matter of gospel economy. The call for such gigantic expenditure for meetings which last but a short time, looks like a confession that the regular work of the churches is not a success.

Rev. J. J. Lafferty, of the Richmond Christian Advocate, attended the session of the Holston Conference at Bristol, Tenn., and writes a pleasant account of his visit. Among other things he says of the place is the following:

"The revenges of Time are curious.—A Methodist Seminary and a stately superb Methodist church occupied the grounds once owned by a bad man, who helped to slander the Church in the vile book—the Iron Wheel."

Two hundred years ago the Friends, or Quakers, were three times as numerous as they are to day.

NEWS FROM THE CHURCHES.

Bro. Webb, writes from Franklinton: "My protracted meetings have closed, the last being held at Grove Hill continuing six days and resulting in thirteen accessions to the Church."

Bro. Boshamer writes, Oct. 27th: "I closed, at Jerusalem, on the 12th inst. a meeting of much interest. It was in progress only a few days, and our congregations were small, but God, in answer to our prayers, gave us seventeen precious souls.

I have one more meeting to hold, and then I am done for the present season. May the Head of the Church be with us!"

Bro. Shell, writes from Newton: "We have an interesting work on Newton circuit. Our camp-meeting was a success. About thirty five souls were converted. Since then we have had very happy and prosperous meetings at Hopewell, Catawba Station and Concord, at which seventy persons were converted. We also had a good two days meeting at a place near Newton where we had one convert. So far seventy seven persons have united with our Church, and our membership have been much revived. To God be all the glory!

Bro. Jas. Mahoney, writing under date of Oct. 14th, says:

"The work of religious and moral reform is still going on in this circuit. Since my last meeting we have had several revivals of religion. We held a protracted meeting (only 4 days) some few weeks ago at "Bethlehem," on Bogue Sound. Three adults were converted, and joined the church, 5 were baptized by immersion The members of the Church were refreshed and made stronger in faith. Many sinners were deeply wrought upon. Still later Bro. John Jones conducted a meeting at "Providence," preaching in his usual way, with power and in demonstration of the Spirit. a few nights, with good success. The congregation was large and serious every night. I was with him only once—2 conversions, one an elderly lady, the mother of several children: the other a very interesting young lady Both joined the Church. The meeting was closed by the coming of the recent storm. At the close of that meeting many were truly penitent and no doubt would have been converted if the meeting had continued We are still however expecting to see and hear of the fruits of the labors of Bro. Jones there. The field in that vicinity is already white to the harvest

At "New Port" the gracious revival noticed some time ago, is still progressing through the labors of the church. Bros Dr. E. L Perkins, H. C. Jones, David McCain, and others, are perseveringly engaged in class, and prayer meetings, (which are being held every Sunday and Wednesday night.) They believe the Church members have much to do in bringing sinners to Christ. They are trying to do it, and to extend the Kingdom of Christ in that town, and country. The Temperance reform recently commenced in New Port, is increasing Bro. Whitaker, the efficient State Temperance lecturer, made us a visit, organized a Council of Friends of Temperance, and did much to advance the interest of that good cause.

At Morehead City the Church is in a prosperous and growing condition, the membership is alive, and spiritual. There is vitality in their christianity.

The Good Templars, also, are doing well in Morehead. We have more to say for this place soon At Harlowe Creek our members are holding on, and doing well Class and prayer meetings are regularly held. The Church is alive, spiritual and working. Through the efforts of some of the lay brethren at Harlowe, a revival has sprung up at Adam's Creek. I don't know how many were converted The friends at Harlowe are building a new church, which will be completed, I presume, this winter, and when finished, will be a commodious and good building Our people in the extreme east of circuit, near Crabb Point, also intend building a church about 2 miles above Bro. Jno. Jones' that will add greatly to the importance of this circuit

At Brice's Creek, we held a protracted meeting a few days. The sickness of the neighborhood rendered it expedient to close the meeting, which we did without any conversions or accessions to the Church, but the Lord visited his people with a fresh baptism of the Holy Ghost. We had a time of refreshing from the presence of the Lord in class meeting one morning. The Sunday School interest in our circuit is increasing The most of the schools are continued, only a few have gone into winter quarters, and only for want of comfortable houses.

Dr. J. W. Sanders the indefatigable and persevering Supt. of Oak Grove S School, still continues with unabating zeal and effort. He not only gives his attention, with that of his true and faithful wife, but uses his own means to furnish books and papers for his school.

We have received nearly 100 members into the Church this year, hope to report over that number at Conference. Will write again soon."

A wealthy Chicago Christian offers to take the Moody and Sankey tabernacle off the hands of the Committee when the meetings are over and pay $15,000 for it.

Abstracts from the Minutes of U. Y. M. C. A

The Union Young Men's Christian Association met at Antioch Presbyterian Church, Robeson county, on Saturday, 5th of August, and was opened by singing a hymn, and reading the 103d Psalm, and prayer by Rev A McQueen. At roll-call the following delegates answered:

Antioch, T Currie, J W Hodgin; Big Rockfish, L A McLean, L Mc Donald; Bethel, John G McLeod, Jno D Currie; Centre, —; Dixie, John D McGeachy, Jas P Powell; Evans, John McMillan, N A McMillan; Galatia; (new) A D McGilvary, J D McInnis; Holden Branch, J R Parker, Arch'd McGill; Lumberbridge, C P McGoman, Ed Currie; Morimento, Jno McDuffie, J M Davis; Philadelphus, J McC Bnie, Wm A McNeill; Sandy Grove, N S Blue, J P Munroe; St Pauls, Wm Mc Lean, H A McEachern; Star in the East, not represented.

Minutes of last meeting read and adopted

Galatia was received as a new association.

Reports of the delegates showed progress.

The following officers were elected for next year: H McEacheru, President, from Lumberbridge; Alex McNeill, Big Rockfish, Vice President; J M Davis, Morimenty, Secretary; J P Munroe, Sandy Grove, Treasurer. Morimento was chosen as the next place of meeting.

Rev A McQueen addressed the Association in his usual eloquent and forcible style.

Recess for one hour, after which the Association proceeded to general business.

Moved and carried that the proceedings be recorded in the Secretary's book, and that reports of sub-associations also be recorded; that the proceedings of this meeting be sent to the N. C Presbyterian, Biblical Recorder, and Christian Advocate, for publication.

A committee of five, viz: Rev J P McPherson, S J Cobb, Sen., W Black, Neill McNeill, M N McIver, was appointed to furnish a constitution for this Union Association, to report at next meeting

The Treasurer rendered a satisfactory report.

Moved and carried that reports from sub-Associations be signed by their President and Secretary.

The thanks of the Association are due and are hereby tendered to the good people of Antioch for their cordial hospitality to the members.

Adjourned to meet at Morimento the first Saturday in August next, at 10 o'clock, A. M E C. MCNEILL, President.

A S. MOUNSON, Secretary.

Recent Publications

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE, Littell and Gay, Publishers, Boston:

The number of Littell's Living Age for Oct 28th, contains the second part of GEORGE MACDONALD'S new serial, "The Marquis of Lossie," printed from advance sheets. The promise of an unusually interesting and powerful story is fully sustained by this instalment.

The same number also contains The Unseen Universe, British Quarterly Review; Natural Religion. Macmillan; A Passenger's Narrative of the wreck of the "Strathmore," and of his sojourn on a barren rock, from Blackwood; The influence upon Girls Schools of External Examinations, with special reference to the Cambridge Local Examinations, London Student; Crazy Correspondence, Saturday Review; Of Self Sacrifice, Argosy; The Intra Mercurial Planet or Planets; Nature; and an instalment of a remarkably charming serial, "What She Came Through," by Sarah Tytler, besides the usual choice poetry, etc. New subscribers desiring to obtain the whole of MacDonald's new story, can do so by beginning their subscriptions with the number for the previous week. (Oct. 21st.)

For fifty two numbers, of sixty four large pages each (or more than 3000 pages a year), the subscription price ($8) is low; while for $10.50 the publishers offer to send any one of the American $4 monthlies or weeklies with The Living Age for a year, both post-paid. Littell & Gay, Boston, are the publishers.

THE BRITISH QUARTERLY REVIEW, AMERICAN EDITION, Leonard Scott Publishing Company, New York. $4 a year.

The contents of the October number of this well known and able Review are: 1. Secular Change of Climate. 2 Dean Hook on the English Reformation. 3. The American Centennial 4. Disestablishment and Disendowment. 5 American Ecclesiastical Law. 6. The Turks in Europe. 7. Contemporary Literature. Note on the Dublin Review and Article on Ignatius.

The Periodicals reprinted by the Leonard Scott Publishing Co., are Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine, London Quarterly, Edinburgh, West minster and British Quarterly Review

---

Gratitude is the fairest blossom which springs from the soul, and the heart of man knoweth none more fragrant. While its opponent, ingratitude, is a deadly weed, not only poisoning in itself, but impregnating the very atmosphere in which it grows with fetid vapors.

Mrs. Eliza J. DeRosset, a highly esteemed lady of Wilmington, and wife of Dr. A. J. DeRosset, died in Philadelphia on the 23d ult., while on a visit to the Centennial.

Religious Intelligence.

Rev. J. M. Anderson, formerly of Davidson College, has accepted a call to Mebaneville and Bethlehem Presbyterian churches of Orange county, N. C.

Rev. Roger Martin, recently of Bedford county, Va, has accepted a call to Lexington N. C., in the Presbytery or Orange, and will enter upon his duties at once RELIGION IN SCHOOLS.—The Bishop of Minorca has issued a new circular enjoining on masters of primary schools not to admit the sons of Protestants and other dissenters.

Now that Bishop Janes is dead, Bishop Levi Scott of Delaware becomes the senior Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church. He has been a Bishop since 1852

A religious paper edited by the Rev Dr. T. De Witt Talmage, and written for by the Rev. Dr. Richard Storrs, will doubtless please two widely distinct classes of readers.

The recent Episcopal Convention of Ohio passed a resolution against horse-racing, as inconsistent with the leading of a Christian life. It also passed resolutions denunciatory of theatre going and dancing, which it puts in the same category.

The pastoral relation between S. Williamson, D. D, and the Washington (Ark). church was dissolved by mutual consent, on account of the infirmities of age; he being about 82 years of age, and having been in the ministry fifty four years.

The Cape May Joint Commission issued a paper giving Hamilton church, in Virginia, to the Church, South.—The title had been in litigation for several years.

About fifty emigrants will embark on the Jasper, from New York, on November 1st, for Siberia, under the auspices of the American Colonization Society. Donations are invited toward the expenses of the expedition.

During the past months the Roman Catholics in the province of Szechuen, China, have been the victims of a persecution of a very bitter kind. The remonstrances of the French legation have been quite unavailing. At other places the telegram brings reports of the massacre of priests and converts and the Protestants have not entirely escaped. There appears to be a revival of the hatred of foreigners, and the failure to make proper redress for the murder of Mr. Margary is another indication of this hostility.

The receipts of the American Missionary Association for the fiscal year which ended with September are so encouraging that, with a strong effort on the part of its friends, an increase of debt may be avoided.

Prompt remittances of money intended for the Association will be essential to the desired result. It will be a great point gained in these hard times to carry one of our benevolent societies through the year with no addition to its debt.

There is in India a community of Jews called Beni Israel Their ancestors settled in India 900 or 1,000 years ago They wear the costume, use the language, and conform to the social habits and manners of the Hindoos, but preserve the Jewish religion They strictly observe the Sabbath, abstain from unclean fish or flesh, and observe the great feasts. Few of them are well versed in the Hebrew, but they have several books in the Marathi. There is little intercourse with the Jews, chiefly owing to the difference in costume and language, and there are but seldom intermarriages.

A DOUBTFUL LIFE.

When Solomon died the question arose, What became of him? It is a shame to the memory of any man that a question of this kind should be raised. Two conflicting opinions have prevailed to the present day.—Chrysostom and the theologians of the Eastern Church have held, in the main, that there is hope of his salvation. Augustine and the Latin Church, with profound views of sin and guilt, maintain that there is no hope of his salvation

Of course, no votes of theologians can settle this question. Lying beyond the vail, it rests alone with God But that Solomon lived a doubtful life is evident. At every fresh perusal of his life there springs up instinctively the query, But what became of him? His biography ends with an interrogation mark. There was a brilliant opening to his career; there were rare faculties of mind; the Proverbs show a myriad minded man. But with this there was a heart that pleased not the Lord. He became an imperial sensualist and idolator. The magnificent prayer of the dedication is forgotten when we see Solomon bending before Ashtoroth and Milcom.

How many professedly Christian men to day are living in a low plane of life. They keep so near the dividing line between Christ and the world, that is too difficult to know where they belong. When they die the church of Christ is forced to say, as Paul said to the Galatians, "I stand in doubt of you." The Bible has record of some men decided in their goodness—a Samuel, a Hezekiah. It has the record of some men decided in their badness—an Ahab, a Jeroboam, who made Israel to sin. It has record of some lives clothed in darkness—a Saul, a Solomon, a Demas, "who loved this present world."

No man, who has named the name of Christ, has any right to live in such a way as to make men stand in doubt as to his character here or destiny hereafter. When we look at Paul, aged, shivering in his dungeon, and awaiting the coming of his cloak from Troas, we stand in no doubt concerning him. He was a man who lived not partially, but wholly, for Christ. But when we have finished the life of Solomon, we say, yes, the wisest of men—but what of his soul? The spirit of Christ indwelling, will make just such a man as Paul; earnest, decided, positive men; concerning whom no one stands in doubt; men for whom the Church and the whole world are always hungry.—National Baptist

Bishop Keener held the Kentucky Conference in September, and reports an increase of 700; the support of the ministry very creditable; many parsonages and the average of salaries better than Conference generally. He says: "The Conference is so crowded with men, that in the getting in of the last stones of the itinerant arch there must needs be some one pressed.—After much pains and true sympathy inadequate appointments will inevitably fall to some, for our system is but an approach to perfection."

The success of Christian missions has led to the curious result that the leaders of heathen religions are sending out counter missionaries. A sect of Buddhists in Japan are preparing young men to preach against Christianity. In order to fully grasp their own doctines, students have been sent to China to examine the Chinese forms of Buddhism, and two young men have gone to England. After their stay in England they are to go to India to receive instruction in the Buddhist doctrines of that country.—S W. Pres

NORTH CAROLINA

The tobacco crop in Caswell county falls short at least one fourth.

Tobacco sales at the Durham Warehouses have been resumed.

The cotton receipts at Wilmington in one day amounted to 1789 bales.

The receipts at the State Fair were in excess of expenses, and gratifying to the management.

More than a hundred persons from Asheville visited the Centennial at Philadelphia. Warrenton sent fifty-two.

Diptheria is prevailing to an alarming extent in Chapel Hill; also in Wadesboro'.

The Tobacco Association of Winston donated $50 to the relief of the Savannah sufferers.

A negro man, Silas Wallace, has been arrested at Charlotte, on suspicion of being the perpetrator of the nameless outrage upon Mrs. Beattie, several weeks since.

The Sampson County Agricultural Fair for this year will be held at Clinton Nov. 22, 23, 24 and 25th.

The Centennial Tea Party given in Goldsboro for the benefit of the Methodist Church, was a complete success.—The gross receipts of two nights were $218.

The Federal Court at Statesville adjourned without disposing of any important cases.

E. E. Forry, of the U. S. Coast Survey, is preparing to build an observatory on the top of Moore's Knob, near Piedmont Springs in Stokes county.

Wm. Williford, 105 years old, is living in good health in Iredell county. He has 51 grand children and 43 great grand children.

Miss M A Buie, well known in this State as "The Soldier's Friend," has sued the city of Wilmington for $50.000 damages, for illegal detention in quarantine, and arrest and insult by negro policemen.

Col. Joseph Masten, a prominent citizen and leading lawyer of Winston, died of paralysis on the 21st ult., aged about 50 years.

Adam Ury, a resident of Cabarrus county, was arrested and jailed in Concord, for swindling a railroad, having obtained possession of some tickets and sold them as an agent for the Road.

George Watts and Jim Holt, two negroes of Charlotte, quarrelled, when the former killed the latter by striking him on the head with a pistol.

Mr. Robt. Rawley, of Mt. Airy, lost the sight of his left eye by the explosion of a cartridge cap.

The Central Hotel of Charlotte is to be supplied with a four thousand dollar omnibus. It will come from the North.

W. J. Black, of Charlotte, has discovered a vein of gold of great richness on his mine near Pioneer Mills, in Cabarrus county.

The powder-house of Bingham & Co., of Charlotte, was entered and robbed of thirty three kegs of powder.

The Methodists of Statesville have nearly completed their new church building, and in the meantime worship in the Presbyterian Church, the use of which was kindly tendered them by their Presbyterian brethren.

William Meisimer, now in jail at Statesville, under sentence of death for the murder of Mrs. Sarah Heilig, has confessed his guilt.

Alexander Sinclair, a mail agent on the Carolina Central Railroad, has been detected in robbing the mails and in default of giving a justified bail bond, has been committed to jail.

Rev. J. M. Anderson, formerly of Davidson College, has accepted a call to Mebanesville and Bethlehem Presbyterian Churches of Orange county.

Sheriff Hunter, of Alamance County, was the first to settle State taxes with the Treasurer this year. He paid over $7006.76.

The Republican State Executive Committee have substituted Ex-Judge W. J. Clarke of Newbern as the candidate for Republican elector of the 2nd District, in place of J. E. O'Hara, colored.

Salem is holding meetings to raise means to aid the Oxford Orphan Asylum. Wm. T. Bahnson and Dr. J. W. Hunter are prominent movers in the matter.

The Christian Advocate

PUBLISHED IN THE CITY OF RALEIGH EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING, TERMS $2.50 POSTAGE PAID.

Our Agents.

All the traveling and local preachers in the bounds of the North Carolina Conference are our authorized Agents. Any person sending us ten subscribers, for one year, will receive the paper free.

Our Correspondents.

Communications for publication should be carefully written, and on but one side of the sheet. All letters on the office should be addressed to the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

How to Remit.

In sending money, all amounts should be sent in registered letter, post office order or check. The cost of registration, or Post Office order can be deducted from the amount in hand. If money is sent otherwise than herein specified, it will be at the sender's risk.

INDEX TO NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Webster's Unabridged Dictionary.

Youth's Companion—Perry Mason & Co Boston.

Centennial History—National Publishing Company.

Zion's Herald—A. S. Weed, Publisher, Boston.

Richmond Fire Association of Virginia—Lawrence & Root, Gen. Agents, Raleigh, N. C. This is a good company, and the representatives in this city are thorough going business men and affable gentlemen Mr. Chas' Root, one of the most estimable young men of Raleigh, has become associated in the Insurance business with Mr Lawrence, taking the place of the lamented A. H. Winston, who died a few months ago.

We invite attention to the advertisement of Mr. L. Rosenthal who, in the three stores which he controls, has perhaps the largest stock of clothing ever brought to this market. Mr Rosenthal is a plensan' gentleman and deserves the success with which he has met in business at Raleigh Give him a call.

HENRY'S VIA SALISBURY, N. C., Oct. 25.—One of the narrowest escapes ever made in these mountains occurred on the Asheville road last evening, just after dark. The stage from Asheville hither was passing along the mountain two miles from here when the lead horses became unmanageable, and jumped sheer down the precipice, some fifty feet, dragging the other horses and the stage with them. Henry Nutt, Esq., and wife, Mrs. William Parsley and daughters, Mrs. M. P. Taylor and children, and Maj. J. A. Engelhard, all of Wilmington, and Mrs. Brosher, of Tennessee, were passengers. Mr. Nutt, Maj. Engelhard, and the Misses Parsley were riding on top. Maj. Engelhard got the young ladies off, jumping off with one, and assisted those inside to alight at the moment the stage went over the precipice. One of the horses hold ing the vehicle on the ledge while the others were dangling in the air gave the persons in the stage time to get out.

Thomas Glenn, son of the late Tyre Glenn, of Yadkin, died on the 23d ult., of consumption. Four years ago he was one of the finest specimens of physical manhood and muscular development we have ever seen. He was a young man of fine character—generous and noble in his impulses and a favorite with his acquaintances.

Goldsboro Messenger: Mr. Geo. W. Best had the misfortune to have his gin-house and saw mill destroyed by fire last Wednesday night, together with about 35 bales of cotton. The fire was the work of an incendiary, and Mr. Best's loss is estimated at $6,000, covered only by $2,500 insurance.

Twenty-two companies of U. S. troops have been transported over North Carolina railroads to South Carolina within a week.

Capt. C. B. Denson has been invited to read his lecture on "The March of Science in a Century," before St. Mary's School, Raleigh.

L. H. Yeargain, a resident of New York, but a native of Chatham, gave $500 to Orange Presbytery for religious purposes.

Gov. Brogden, upon a requisition of the Governor of Maryland, issued an order for the delivery of B. J. Hughes, a fugitive from justice. He stands charged with murder.

General News.

A pair of shoes made of the tanned hide of a rattlesnake, were sent to the Centennial Exhibition by J. H. Henderson of Alabama having tanned the skin and made the shoes.

Edward Stokes, the slayer of Jim Fisk, Jr. was set free from the New York Penitentiary, Oct. 25th

Francis P. Blair, journalist and statesman, died at Washington, Oct 19th, aged 87.

The New York Post hears from trustworthy sources that the Egyptian losses in the recent Abyssinian campaign amount to 2 700 men.

The Pope on the 16th ult., received ten thousand Spanish pilgrims in the Basilica The pilgrims were enthusiastic, and the ceremony lasted over an hour

The total debt of Russia is $2,149,755,000 or almost identical with that of this country. If she tries to settle the Eastern question by her armies, her debt may equal Great Britain's, which is the largest in the world.

General Tehernayeff has demanded that all Servians between the ages of eighteen and fifty years be called out in anticipation of a renewal of hostilities in the Spring.

The Pall Mall Gazette contends that Russia is at present actually at war with Turkey, and that any further efforts at diplomacy are useless.

Lord Rosebery, the handsome young nobleman, who married the only daughter of the late Baron Meyer de Rothschild, will have the handling of the $35,000 000 inherited by his wife. He is a Christian 20 years age, and she a Jewess of the straightest sect.

HEARING RESTORED—Great invention by one who was deaf for 26 years. Send stamp for particulars. Jno. Garmore, Lock Box 905 Covington, Ky.

Marriages.

Married, by Rev. A. A. Bushamer, at the residence of the bride's father, Oct. 25, 1876, Mr. Cornelius O Bracey and Miss Alice C. Boyd, both of Mecklenburg co Va.

Deaths.

☞Obituary notices of twenty lines are inserted without charge. The excess over twenty lines of EIGHT words is charged for at the rate of 10 cents per line Count the lines and allow EIGHT words to the line. In this way you may always know the amount to enclose. Resolutions of respect are subject to the same rule ☜

Died near Manson, Warren co. N C, Sept 27, 1876 Mrs Mary E. Twisdale, in the 49th year of her age. She was a consistent member of the Methodist Church for many years. She was a good, quiet christian woman, and leaves behind her the savor of a good name.

B.

Mrs. Matilda Stewart, wife of Elias Stewart, died at the residence of her husband near Carthage, N. C. Oct 2d, 1876, aged 37 years. Sister Stewart had been a consistent member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, for seventeen years. Quiet and unostentatious, a great lover of home, she was not extensively known but her more immediate neighbors and friends recognized in her a devoted wife and mother and a gentle, forbearing christian. During her last illness in which she was a great sufferer she exhibited christian fortitude and resignation, and gave expression to the hope that she would soon be with Jesus her loving Saviour. She was the mother of a number of children, some of whom have preceded her to the promised land May her dear ones that still linger on the shores of time, so live that in due time they may join her on the other side

L.

A TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

WHEREAS Yadkin Lodge F. A M No. 162, has been officially informed by Lee Lodge F. A. M. No 253, that our dear brother John A. Stephenson departed this life at the residence of his brother in law, Hon R Z Linney, in Alexander county N C on the 7th day of September, A D 1876 A. L. 5876 Therefore, RESOLVED 1st, That in the death of John A. Stephenson Yadkin Lodge has lost an efficient and useful member, and the Masonic Fraternity a zealous and faithful friend.

2nd, That while we bow in humble submission to this sad dispensation of our Supreme Grand Master, yet deeply mourn the loss of one so amiable so true, so generous so kind, so noble hearted One who, though young had obtained position in his profession—the law—and whose promised fair to be of great service to his country, 3d, That a copy of Yadkin Lodge are due and hereby tender of to Lee Lodge for performing the burial services due our deceased brother.

4th, That we deeply sympathize with all the relatives of our departed brother in their great and inexpressible loss but beg to suggest but "their loss is his gain"

5th That as a token of sorrow for the loss we have sustained in the death of our brother, we will wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

6th That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this Lodge and that a copy of them be sent to the family of our deceased brother and also to "Statesville Landmark" and "Christian Advocate" for publication.

JOHN G. MARKS,
JOHN A HODGES,
ANDREW A CHRISTIAN, } Com.

Letters and Funds.

Mrs Thos Wilkins for D: A A Scroggs $2 20 Rev A D Betts. J T Johnson for adv 3. T A Stewart sell 1 25 Rev Jos Wheeler paper continued H Waters & Sons J E Potter & Co. Rev A Gregson for book 1 25 E Alden 75 cents. Rev Jos Mobley Rev R L Abernathy, A J Kennedy Mrs M C Reeves 2 20 —thanks for good words. D M Thompson for adv 3 00 Rev W H Starr 6 70 Mrs M E Pearce paper changed. Rev W H Watkins paper continued. Rev J C Becker. Mr Holland for H H Finch 2 20 S J Whitener sell 35 cents. Rev S D Adams Wm Polsson Rev C C Dodson. Rev L Shell paper sent. W H Harris sell 2 20. M A Turner sell 2. Rev J J Garden paper continued Rev R S Webb for W A Bobbitt 2 20. J F Manly sell 2.20 — Rev J C Thomas paper sent. H F Cook for minutes 25c. E Alden for adv 6. W S Bond Rev J B Martin for J H Pratt 2 20 Mrs L S Leach sell 2 50, Mrs V H Craige sell 2,20

For seldom makes an attack without warning and may often be thrown off by soaking the feet in warm water, wrapping up warm in bed and taking two or three of Parsons' Purgative Pills,

A Missionary, just returned says he regards Johnson's Anodyne Liniment as beyond all price and Illustrates beyond any other medicine It is adapted to a great variety of special cases and is the best pain cure in the world.

Extract of report from the celebrated physician, Erasmus Wilson, of London, England "Several severe cases of Consumption have come under my observation that have been cured by the timely use of Goldsmith's Liebig's Extract of Beef and Tonic Invigorator."

Williams & Haywood, agents.

An Appeal to Parents.

Parents do you love your children? Then preserve their health. Next to the blessing of life itself, is the enjoyment of perfect health How many are stricken down in their infancy almost with or a month's notice by that insidious disease, Croup simply through the neglect to be provided with the proper remedy! The tender plant is nipped and withers ere it blooms. When the cruel sufferer has spent its fiercest force in its rage, with a harsh mocking cough the cowering throughout its agonized frame, there is no turn to hope. Resistance overcome, Dr Tutt's EXPECTORANT and the disease is readily subdued. Always have it in the house, as this half a dollar expedient has prompted restored. It is very pleasant to the taste, and children take it readily.

WHAT NEXT!

A Consumptive Cured—Then death was hourly expected, all remedies having failed and Dr H James was experimenting, he decided by mere chance to try a preparation of Indian Hemp which cured his own child of consumption. He now gives this receipt free on receipt of two stamps to pay expenses. Hemp also cures night sweats, nervousness, and will break a fresh cold in twenty-four hours. Address Dr Wm B & Co, 1 032 Race street, Philadelphia mention this paper.

Oct 11 3 m

Cramps and pains in the stomach are the result of imperfect digestion and may be immediately relieved by a dose of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. A teaspoonful in a little sweetened water is a dose.

APPOINTMENTS.

WILMINGTON DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Magnolia, at Salem	Sept 8 10
Wilmington, 5th Street,	" 16-17
Cokesbury at Bethany,	" 20-24
Kenansville, at Wesley Chapel, Sept 30, and	Oct. 1
Smithville, at Smithville,	" 7 8
Onslow, at Tabernacle,	" 14-15
Wilmington, Front S reet,	" 21-22
Elizabeth, at Bladen Springs,	" 28-29
Bladen at Antioch,	Nov. 4 5
Whiteville and Waccamaw Miss.	" 11-12
Topsail at Rocky Point,	" 18 19
Clinton at Goshen,	" 25-26

W. S. BLACK,
Magnolia, N. C.

CHARLOTTE DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Monroe ct at Prospect,	Oct 7- 8
Lincolnville ct at Shiloh,	" 14-15
Waxhaw circuit,	" 18
South Charlotte ct at Zion,	" 21-22
Stanley ct,	" 27
Albemarle ct	" 28-29
Mt Pleasant ct	Nov. 4
Concord ct,	" 4- 5
Asheville ct,	" 10
Wadesboro ct, at Popular Hill,	" 11-12
Pleasant Grove ct at Wesley Chapel	" 14-15
Pineville ct, at Harrisons,	" 17
Monroe sta.	" 18 19
Charlotte,	" 25 29

The Local Preachers will please remember the discipline requires that they shall report in writing the exact state and result of their labors to the Fourth Quarterly Conference.

W. H. HOBBITT, P. E.
Monroe, N. C.

SHELBY DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Columbus,	Aug.	26-27
Rutherfordton,		-29
Happy Home,	Sept.	2- 3
Caldwell, C. M.	"	9-10
South Fork, C. M.	"	16-17
Dallas, C. M.	"	23-24
Double Shoals, C. M.	Sept. 30,	Oct. - 1
Cherry Mountain, C. M.	"	7- 8
Shelby ct. C. M.	"	14-15
Upper Broad River,	"	-19
Marion (dedication	"	21-22
Shelby station,	"	28-29
Morganton,	Nov.	4- 5
Dysartsville,	"	- 8
Lenoir station,	"	11-12
Lincolnton,	"	11-12
Rock Spring,	"	18-19
Newton,	"	25-26

R. G. BARRETT, P. E.

APPOINTMENTS.

WASHINGTON DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Washington,	Sept.	2- 3
Greenville at Greenville,	"	9-10
Tarboro, at McKendree	"	16-17
Warrenton,	Sept. 30, & Oct.	- 1
Roanoke, at Bethel,	"	7- 8
Warren at Cokesberry,	"	14-15
Williamston at Hamilton,	"	21-22
Plymouth and Jamesville, at Jamesville.	"	24 25
Columbia at Columbia,	"	28-29
Salisbury at Fairfield,	Nov	4- 5
Bath at Asbury,	"	11-12
Washington at night on	"	-13

WM. CLOSE, P. E.
Tolenot, N. C.

NEWBERN DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Kinston Station,	Sept.	16-17
Newbern Station,	"	23-24
Beaufort Station,	Oct.	7- 8
Straits.	"	14-15
Snow Hill, Rainbow,	"	21-22
Wilson station	"	28-29
Carteret, Harlowe's,	Nov.	4- 5
Nesse, Aurora,	"	11 12
Craven, Beach Grove, Tues & Wed.	"	14 15
Piney Grove,	"	18-19
Jones, Oak Grove,	"	18-19
Mt. Olive Friday,	"	-24
Wayne, Fremont,	"	25-26
Goldsboro Sab. night & Mon.	"	-27

E. A. YATES, P. E.
Beaufort, N C.

FAYETTEVILLE DISTRICT
4TH ROUND—IN PART.

Jonesboro ct. at Cool Spring,	Oct	7- 8
Buck Swamp Tarkeburg,	"	14-15
Peg Dee Philadelphia,	"	21-22
Rockingham Rockingham	"	28-29
Robeson,	Nov.	4- 5
Laurenburg Laurenburg	"	11-12

J. S. NELSON, P. E
Fayetteville, N. C

GREENSBORO DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.—Q. M. IN PART.

Forsythe ct at Tabor,	Oct	7- 8
Davidson ct Wesley Chapel,	"	14 15
North Guilford, Mulbe Chapel,	"	21-22
Madison, Madison,	"	28-29
Randolph ct at Ashboro,	Nov.	11 12
Thomasville & H Point,	Th'nsville	18 19
trinity College,	"	11-12
South Guilford, Holt's Chapel,	"	25-26

N. H. D WILSON, P. E

RALEIGH DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND—1876.

Raleigh Person st,	Aug.	26-27
Franklinville Mt Tabor,	Sept,	2- 3
Leonidas Tabernacle,	"	16 17
Youngsville,	"	23 24
Gaseville Rolesville, Sept 30th,	Oct,	1
Gideon's Edenton st,	"	7- 8
Garys, Hollands,	"	14-15
Louisburg,	"	21-22
Forestville & H Point,	"	28-29
Franklinton, Rocky Mt & Nashville,	at Tolsnot,	Nov. 4 5
Smithfield,	"	11-12

J. P. MOORE, P. E.
Warrenton, N C

HILLSBORO DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Durham sta.	Sept.	23 24
Alamance ct, Phillip's Chapel,	Oct.	- 1
Pittsboro ct Chatham Church,	"	7- 8
Deep River ct Providence,	"	14-15
Cedar Hill & Hillsboro, Mt. Pleasant	"	21-22
Flat River ct Orange Church,	"	28-29
Person ct Mt. Tirzah,	Nov.	4- 5
Leasburg ct Lea's Chapel,	"	11-12
Yanceyville ct Shady Grove,	"	18 19
Hillsboro sta.	"	25-26

L. L. HENDREN P. E
Chapel Hill, N C

SALISBURY DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Statesville sta.	Sept.	9 10
Statesville ct, Salem,	"	16-17
Yadkinville, Center (C. M.)	Oct.	1- 2
Mt. Airy & S Mission, Salem.	"	7- 8
Surry ct, & B R Mission, Thompson's	"	14 15
Wilkes c., Wilksboro,	"	21-22
Alexander ct, Liberty (C. M.)	"	23-24
Iredell ct, Eagle Mills,	"	28-29
Mooresville, ct McKendree's,	Nov.	4- 5
Salisbury, ct Harris'	"	11-12
Salisbury sta.	"	12-13
Davie ct, Smith Grove,	"	18-19
Mocksville ct, South River	"	25-26

D. R BRUTON, P. E
Statesville, N. C.

COMMERCIAL REPORT.

WHOLESALE CASH PRICES.

Office of CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE,
Oct. 23d, 1876

REMARKS.

Business greatly improved. Country produce offered in quantities; especially in exchange for groceries

General Market.

FLOUR, North Carolina $7@8.50.
CORN 75 to 80
MEAL 90
BACON, Standard 15 1-2.
" Dandy 13 1-2.
BACON, N. C. one round, 14. to 15.
" " hams 16 1-2 to 18
BULK C. Rib sides, 14 1-2
" shoulders, 10 to 10 1-2
LARD, north Carolina, 16 1-2
" Western thrice, 17 1-2@
" kegs, 16 1-2@17 1-2
COFFEE, Prime Rio, 24@
" Fair Rio, 23
SYRUP, common, 37 1-2
MOLASSES, Cuba, 50.
SALT $2.50.
CHEESE, cream, 15 16
" Factory, 17.
" Dairy, none.
NAILS, on basis for 10d, $4.00.
SHOT, 4, 14 1-2.
" extra C. 11 1-4.
" Yellow, 10@11
LEATHER, sole 21 1-2@30
HIDES, green, 7@8.
" dry, 18 1-2
TALLOW, 7@8
POTATOES, sweet 75
" Irish, $1.00@$1.25
OATS, shelled, 50
" sheaf, $1.25
FODDER, old, $1.50, New 1.25
HAY, N. Cairn, 1.40
CHICKENS, grown, 30
" young, 20@30
EGGS, 20
BUTTER, country, 25@30
FISH, Mackrel $6 to 6.50.
" Cod Herrings, 6@15
" Mackerel, new family, $1 .50
BEESWAX, 25.

OFFICIAL ADVERTISEMENT.

ALABAMA GOLD LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

Annual Statement for the year ending April 30th, 1876, of the Financial condition of the Alabama Gold Life Insurance Company of Mobile, Alabama, made to the Secretary of State of North Carolina.

President,	C. E. Thomas.
Secretary,	T. N. Fowler.
Actuary,	D. P Packler
Principal Office,	Mobile, Ala.

I.—CAPITAL.

Whole amount of Joint Stock, or guaranteed Capital authorized,	$ 200,000 00
Whole amount of Capital actually paid up in cash,	200,000 00
II.—ASSETS.
Cash on hand and in Banks,	$38,637 14
Cash in hands of Agents in course of transmission,	15,629 37
Market value of Real Estate owned by the Company	75,928 67
Amount loaned on Mortgage of Real Estate,	205,345 71
Amount loaned on Collaterals,	27,339 94
Stocks and Bonds, Market value,	34,691 85
Premium Notes and Loans on Policies in force on interest,	113,015 41
Interest due and accrued,	22,686 48
Net amount of Deferred and Outstanding Premiums in course of collection on policies in force, Dec. 31, 1875,	98,855 55
All other Property belonging to the Company, excluding Judgments, Loans on Personal security only, Cash in hands of Agents, Office supplies and Furniture, amounts advanced to Agents or invested in commuting commissions, or for purchase of renewals, or bad and doubtful debts and securities,	139,196 1
Total Assets,	$854,686 71
III.—LIABILITIES.
Death claims adjusted, (whether due or not) and Matured Endowments,	$7,907 78
Death claims unadjusted, in suspense, or resisted by the Company,	10,000 00
Net present value of all outstanding policies in force on the 31st day of December, 1875, computed at 4 per ct., $209,385.00. Deduct Reserve on Amount re-insured and Reduced to 4½ per cent.,
$96,111.00	$59,942 20
Net surplus,	276,936 26
Total Liabilities,	577,949 78
IV.—INCOME.
Total Net Cash Income from Premiums,	$274,298 73
Total Net Cash Income from Interest, Dividends and Rents,	42,284 25
Cash received from Miscellaneous Sources	19,190 34
Total Note Income,	69,336 47
Total Income,	$405,109 79
V.—EXPENDITURES.
Total Cash paid to policy holders,	$117,456 20
Total pay account,	83,296 10
Total Miscellaneous Expenditures,	58,735 45
Total Premium Note expenditures,	49,019 65
Total Expenditures,	303,509 10

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
Raleigh, Oct 19th, 1876.

C. D. Rice, appointed for the purpose, having been duly sworn, makes oath that the above statement subscribed by him, is true, according to his best knowledge and belief.

WM. H. HOWERTON,
Secretary of State.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ZION'S HERALD,

Free to All New Subscribers

t.he balance of the Year.

EVERY METHODIST SHOULD READ IT.

Its columns are constantly filled with orgical matter from the Ablest Pens of the Church.

It is a thoughtly Evangelical Journal, not afraid to speak against the wrong, and always ready in the defense of the right.

Some of our most intelligent readers send us the following endorsements:

One from Wisconsin writes:

"I find Zion's HERALD one of my best helps in pulpit preparation. It is so full of suggestive thoughts on all leading questions that it compels the mind to work."

Another from Illinois writes:

"Zion's HERALD is the banner journal of our Church."

From Nebraska.

"I like it the best of all the Church Journals."

From New York:

"I repeat what I said once before, that ZION'S HERALD is one of the best papers that I know. You seem determined that your readers shall not need another paper either secular or religious.

From Michigan:

"I prize it so highly I feel that I cannot do without it. It is a grand paper."

From Indiana:

"Zion's HERALD has been to me a spiritual comforter and counselor. It has responded to a longing of my soul. It has been to me what I imagine a faithful pastor is to his people."

From Mississippi:

"I am better satisfied with Zion's HERALD than any paper I ever saw."

From Iowa:

"I consider it the best paper published in the interest of Methodism."

From Missouri:

"The editorials and articles I pronounce of a high order and not excelled by any in the Church."

From Alabama:

"ZION'S HERALD, the Prince of Methodist papers."

From Maryland:

"I value the HERALD above all other Methodist papers in the world."

From England:

"The HERALD has been the most welcome visitor, and its pages read with much pleasure."

From Maine:

"The HERALD ranks equal and even above the very best papers in the country."

From East Maine:

"Zion's HERALD is one of the ablest Methodist papers in the country."

From New Hampshire.

"The OLD HERALD was never better manned than now. I am delighted with it."

From Vermont:

"I have known Zion's HERALD for many years. It has always been ably edited, but at no time better than at present."

From Massachusetts:

"It is a splendid paper, and when I say that I intend to cover the whole ground."

From Rhode Island:

"It is a grand paper and has always been a bold defender of of the truth."

From Connecticut:

"The HERALD is the best religious paper on the globe."

The list of compliments might be extended almost indefinitely but enough has been given to demonstrate that the HERALD has appreciative readers in all parts of the country

We want every minister to take it, and recommend it to his people.

Price of Paper.

To Preachers	2.00	20 cts. additional
Local Preachers	2.00	for postage.
All other persons	2.50

According to the new postage law, publishers are obliged to collect postage. Subscribers are relieved of the trouble of paying postage at the office where the paper is delivered as formerly, but it is to be sent to the publisher in advance.

On the receipt of the subscription price of the paper and postage, it will be marked paid to January 1, 1878.

We wish most earnestly to appeal to every Methodist minister to make our offer known to his people. There is not probably a Church where some new subscribers could not be obtained by a little special effort.

And let every reader of this paper recommend it to his neighbor who may not be a subscriber

Persons wishing to subscribe, and not finding it convenient to pay now can forward their names immediately (that they may have the full benefit of our offer) and send the money between this and January 1st.

ALONZO S. WEED, Publisher,

36 Bromfield St., Boston.

Nov 1 1t

THE YOUTH'S COMPANION
A WEEKLY PAPER FOR YOUNG PEOPLE AND THE FAMILY

THE COMPANION aims to be a favorite in every family—look of for eagerly by the young folks, and read with interest by the older. Its purpose is to interest while it amuses; to be judicious, practical, sound in tone, and to be really permanent worth, while it states facts for the hour.

It is handsomely illustrated, and has for contributors some of the most attractive writers in the country. Among these are;

J. T. Trowbridge,	Louisa M. Alcott,
Edward Eggleston,	J. G. Whittier,
James T. Fields,	Louise C. Moulton,
Rebecca H. Davis,	C. A. Stephens,
Mrs. A. H. Leonowens,	Harriet P. Spofford,
Edward Everett Hale,	Julia Ward Howe.

In reading it is adapted to the old and young; is very economical in its character. It gives

Stories of Adventure,	Stories of Home and
Letters of Travel,	School Life,
Editorials upon Current Topics,	Tales, Poetry,
Historical Articles,	Selections for Declamation,
Biographical Sketches,	Anecdotes, Puzzles,
Religious Articles,	Facts and Incidents.

Subscription Price, $1.75. Specimen copies sent free Please mention in what paper you read this advertisement.

PERRY MASON & CO.,

41 Temple Place, Boston, Mass.

nov 1-4t eow.

THE BEST ENGLISH DICTIONARY,

Webster's Unabridged.

"Every farmer should give his sons two or three square rods of ground, well prepared, with the avails of which they may buy it. Every mechanic should put a receiving box in some conspicuous place in the house, to catch the stray pennies for the like purpose.

Lay it upon your table by the side of the Bible—it is a better expounder than many which claim to be expounders. It is a great labor-saver—it has saved its time upon his own year's use to pay for itself; and that must be good property which will clear itself once a year."—Mass. Life Boat.

FOUR PAGES COLORED PLATES.

MERRIAM & Co, Publishers.—Sold everywhere. nov 1 1t.

POTTER'S AMERICAN MONTHLY

50,000 Subscribers for 1877.

ILLUSTRATED; Best Family Magazine in the Country, at $3 for 1877. 5 copies one year for $15; 10 copies for $30; 20 copies for $59, and a copy of Potter's Bible Encyclopedia, quarto, 3000 Illustrations, price $25, given to the person sending this club For sale at all News stands, at 25 cents a number.

Special Terms to Agents A. H. Loudon & Co., Phila., Pa.

nov 1-4t.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE GREAT

CENTENNIAL HISTORY

It sells faster than any other book. One Agent sold 47 copies in one day. Send for our extra terms to Agents. NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO., Philadelphia, Pa. Nov 1-4m.

"TEACHER."

Any one desiring a teacher would do well to address, stating terms,

DR. W. A. WILSON, A. B.,

DRY GOODS.

NEW STORE.
L. ROSENTHAL,

Has just received

The Largest Stock of Clothing

IN THE CITY.

Three Stores. Nos. 50,51 and Exchange Place

All Goods Warranted to Please or Money Returned

CLOTHING,

DRY GOODS,

BOOTS and SHOES.

Great Inducements offered to Country Merchants.

Boots and Shoes by the Box, Dozen or Single Pair.

Nov 1 3-m

JUST IN TIME.

10 pieces Blue Jeans.
100 Beaver and Cloth Sacques Cloaks
50 Ladies English Ulsters—Something new and comfortable.
150 Jackets Cardinal Fish Net for Neck.
500 yards Cardinal and White Ruchings for Ladies.
500 pr. Linen Cuffs and Collars in Cardinal—Navy Blue, Brown and White
100 Doz. Ladies Kid Gloves in colors—Black and White—from 75 cts to $2.00 for the best.
12 Doz. Ladies and Misses Hoods in Cardinal—Blue and Brown braided flannel.

SHOES, BOOTS AND GAITERS.

The largest stock in the State at bottom figures.

Dress Goods.

The largest stock ever held by one firm and of latest Styles and lowest Prices.

Hats! Hats!! Hats!!!

The largest stock ever offered by us, for Men, Boy's and Children, from 50 cts upward.

LATE STYLE SILK HATS AT $5.50.

Remember, "The best goods at lowest cash prices"

W. E. & R. S. TUCKER.

oct 25 1f.

BEAUTIFUL STOCK OF FALL & WINTER CLOTHING!

—AND—

GENTS FURNISHING GOODS!

IS NOW BEING OPENED

AT

J. M. ROSENBAUM'S

CLOTHING HOUSE,

Corner Fayetteville and Hargett Streets.

Thanking the good citizens of Raleigh and Wake county, for their liberal patronage in the past, I assure them that I shall endeavor to merit it in the future by keeping good goods at the lowest living prices Give me a call before buying elsewhere. We take pleasure in showing our stock and telling our prices.

Oct 18-3m.

1876. 1876.

DRY FALL GOODS.

We have just received our complete Stock of Goods for the Fall and Winter trade.

We call the attention of ladies to our superior stock of Dress Goods, which are much lower than ever known before.

Our Black Alpacas are of the very best quality and at low prices.

Our Stock of Ladies Cloaks is very large, of the very latest styles and are selling rapidly.

LADIES' TIES OF THE VERY LATEST STYLE.

A handsome line of Ruffs and Ladies Collars and Cuffs.

Gents Cassimeres, all Grades.

Large lot of Gents Latest style Silk Hats at $5.50, the best quality in the city, also a broad brim the Felt Hat

Canfield Boots and Shoes, the best made,

A Large lot of Cloth, Velvet and Leather Belts.

Special Inducements offered to Merchants buying in the State. Our wholesale department is complete.

PETTY & JONES,

30 Fayetteville Street,

Raleigh, N. C.

Oct 18 1-f

!! REDUCTION IN PRICE !!

RICHARDSON'S NEW METHOD FOR PIANO.

— A CARD —

THE PUBLISHERS, BELIEVING THE DEMAND OF THE TIMES SHOULD BE MET, HAVE REDUCED THE PRICE OF THIS FAMOUS METHOD FOR THE PIANO FORTE TO $3 25

THEY BELIEVE THE PUBLIC WILL APPRECIATE THEIR ACTION. AS TO MERIT AND EXCELLENCE THERE IS NO BOOK ITS EQUAL. IT STANDS FIRST AND FOREMOST, AS ITS SALES OF HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS WILL ATTEST. IT IS ATTRACTIVE, THOROUGH AND SUCCESSFUL. IT IS CONSIDERED BY ALL FAIR JUDGES TO BE THE PERFECTION OF A PIANO INSTRUCTION BOOK, PRICE $3.25. SENT POST PAID FOR THIS PRICE

☞SOLD BY ALL MUSIC AND BOOK DEALERS, AND USED BY THE PRINCIPAL TEACHERS IN THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA.

OLIVER DITSON & CO.,
Boston.

C. H. Ditson & Co., 711 Broadway, New York
J. E. Ditson & Co., Successors to Lee & Walker, Phila.

REMOVAL—150 PIANOS & ORGANS at half price The Subscribers will sell their Entire Stock of Pianos & Organs, new and second hand of six first-class makers; sheet music and S. S. music books, at 50 PER CT. OFF, for cash previous to removal to their new store 40 EAST 14th St Illustrated catalogues Mailed. Monthly installments received. Agents Wanted. Special inducements to the trade. HORACE WATERS & SONS, Manufacturers and Dealers, 481 Broadway, and 40 East 14th Street, N. Y.

MISCELLANEOUS.

READ! READ!

In order to compete with New York houses and to keep up with the times,

ISAAC ŒTTINGER

has determined to put down prices, and less money shall flow Northward in the future. To prove that I am in earnest, and mean what I say, I will give a partial list of my prices:

Straw Hats from 40 cents up.
Felt Hats from 35 cents up.
Ruffs with lace edge from 10 cents per yard up.
Ribbons 1½ inches wide from 12½ cents up, and other widths in proportion.
Corsets from 35 cents up.
Collars from 7 cents up.
Zephyr from 13½ cents up, only Imported.
Real Hair Braids from 60 cents up.
Infants' Merino Cloaks from $1.50 up.
Infants' Crochet Caps from 75 cents up.
Infants' Dresses from $1.00 up.
Worsted Fringe for trimming dresses from 12½c. up.
Kid Gloves from 75 cents up, 2 buttons.
Hamburg Edgings from 6 cents up.

I could name a thousand more articles, but I can only assure the public that my prices will be uniform in every branch, and all I ask is a call.

MY STOCK IS LARGE AND NEW.

ISAAC ŒTTINGER,
48 Fayetteville Street,
RALEIGH, N. C.

Oct. 18-1f.

THE BOOK AND STATIONARY BUSINESS OF

E. J. HALE & SON,

17 MURRAY ST., New York.

Will not be interrupted by the removal of Mr. P. M. Hale to Raleigh. Orders from prompt customers solicited, and promptly filled at lowest market rates.

Oct 25-2m.

CARPENTER & EARL,

DEALERS IN

Coal, Wood and Lumber,

at Western Terminus, Hargett Street.

Best Redash Egg and Nut Coal per ton of 2240 pounds,	Delivered, $9.00
Stove Coal 2240 pounds,	" 9.00
Smith " per ton,	" 9.00
Hardwood, per cord,	" 4.00
Pinewood " "	" 3.00

Lumber at low figures.

Orders may be left at Carmers Drug Store, or sent to the yard, and shall receive prompt attention.

Oct 18-6m.

E. M. FRESHMAN & BRO.
ADVERTISING AGENTS.
186 W. FOURTH ST.
CINCINNATI O.
ESTIMATES FURNISHED FREE. SEND FOR OUR MANUAL.

B. T. BABBITT'S BABY SOAP.

Only the purest vegetable oils used in its manufacture, No artificial and deceptive odors to cover common and deleterious ingredients. Used alike for the TOILET and the BATH. Used in bathing children, will prevent crust, keep the skin soft and smooth, contribute to health, and comfort always. Do not buy it with all powders, chalk or other emollients. A certain preventive of chafing, itching, &c., in babies. Wet cases of half the crying and fretfulness of babyhood will vanish from the house in every instance by its use. Sold by all Druggists. B. T. Babbitt, N.Y.

Oct 14 1y.

SELTZER'S LIVER PILLS.

Seltzer's Vermifuge, the great "Worm Destroyer," is sold 400 per day, the same being a total 2 years sales. Sutter, St. Louis, Mo., Price 25 cents each. Ask for Seltzer's Liver Pills and Vermifuge and be sure.

R. K. SELTZER & Co., Proprs. Pittsburgh, Pa.

apl 20 1y eow.

"DOMESTIC" SEWING MACHINES.

Liberal Terms of Exchange for Second-hand Machines of every description.

"DOMESTIC" PAPER FASHIONS.
The Best Patterns made. Send 3 cts. for Catalogue.
Address DOMESTIC SEWING MACHINE CO.
AGENTS WANTED. NEW YORK.

oct 20-13t. eow.

L. M. YEARBY,

DEALER IN

*CHOICE FA

Children's Column.

Love and Pain.

When upon the earth were sent
Love and Hope and calm Content,
Love, impatient of delaying,
From his comrades, wandered, straying
Into paths that lured his feet
With their buds and blossoms sweet.
Plucking many a fruit and flower,
On he sauntered hour by hour,
Taking little heed of space,
Till, grown weary in his race,
Restlessly he tried to track
Through the gloom a pathway back
To his missing mates again.

Near at hand stood Angel Pain;
And to him, with looks appealing,
And with tears, his fears revealing,
He besought this figure dear
To restore him to Content.
Pain, to whom such matches grieve
Ne'er had turned so fair a face,
Fell himself grows strangely coy
In the presence of the boy.
And, without a questioning look,
On himself the task he took
To restore the truant child
To his comrades fair and mild.

On they journeyed. Day by day
Found them still upon their way.
Only Hope, of saltest choice,
Gladdened them with cheerful voice,
While before them ever went
The sweet vision of Content.

Many ages have rolled o'er,
And the world is young no more:
Yet together through the land
Love and Pain go hand in hand.
But beside the weary pair
Walks sweet Hope with golden hair,
And her gaze is always cast
After missing, mild Content.

Emily H. Ellis.

The Prodigal Emigrant.

FOR THE SUNDAY SCHOOL BOYS.

BY O. L STYLES.

Boys, if you will refer to the XV chapter of Luke you will find three parables related by our Saviour all relating to the same great truth, and that truth is——I wish some boy would find it out before I write it—it is this, the joy of all Heaven over a lost sinner found. See the three terms used. "Joy shall be in Heaven over one sinner that repenteth." "Joy in the presence of the Angels of God over one sinner that repenteth." "It was meet that we should make merry and be glad, for this thy brother was dead and is alive again; and was lost and is found." Now, boys, I have often thought I should like to know where the father of this young man lived, whether he was rich or poor, what he gave his sons when "he divided unto them his living," for you observe he idvided to them, meaning both his sons, I suppose. When the younger got his portion where did he go, and where did he spend his substance "with riotous living."

These questions, and many more, have often been matters of speculation with me, and I propose now to get you to help me answer them, get your maps and come along. First, then, I locate the father in Judea, in the portion of it which belonged to Judah, and we will say at or near Hebron. Christ was of the tribe of Judah, was born in Bethlehem in the land of Judea. He was familiar with the usages of his tribe although he had not lived amongst them much. He was a Jew and talking to Jews. Now we find that the custom with Jews to this day is this; a son is considered of age and can leave his parents at twenty four years old. If he wished to marry or to "set up for himself," as we say, he had the right to demand of his father that he should recognize him as a man and give him a portion. It was not required that the father should give, as was done in this case an equal portion with the other children, but only enough to start him, so that there might be no fear of his coming to want if he exercised due industry and economy. This father seemed to be an unusually loving one an I gave him half his estate.

From this custom existing at that time, from the fact that in Judea the ancient customs were supposed to be best observed, and from some other incidents which we will look at directly. I have concluded he might have lived in Judea, and near Hebron is as good a place as was in it at that time. Let us see about the next question: was he rich? I think he was from the incident of the "fatted calf." Around Hebron was what is called a pastoral county. That is, they raised oxen and sheeps, goats and asses, perhaps some horses and camels or dromedaries. It was common when visitors come, to go out and kill a lamb or kid for them, but to keep a calf up and fattening, to kill whenever a guest came, could only be done by those of considerable wealth. This calf was not fattened for the returning son. His father did not know he was coming until he saw him. He considered him dead, from which I conclude that it was the custom to keep one up all the time: when one was killed another was immediately put in its place, and in such a country as Judea then was, he must have received and entertained many important personages and had to keep some larger animal than a sheep or goat always ready. He was rich and could afford it. Now, boys, what did the younger get for his portion? We have no means of ascertaining precisely, but let us look at another case. Turn to the xxxii chapter of Genesis and find what a number of cattle etc., Jacob sent to Esau as a present. As I count them there were five hundred and eighty. In North Carolina a man who owns eighty is considered as having a large drove. This drove was not a tenth of Jacob's flock and he had left home about twenty years before, as he says in his prayer, "for with my staff I passed over this Jordan," etc., in other words he had immense herds. The father of whom we write was certainly older than Jacob was at that time, for his youngest son was at least "of age," twenty four years old Though Jacob was older perhaps when he got married than the father. You can read about that also. Behold our emigrant with a herd of, say, three thousand cattle of all kinds, with half his father's money in his pocket, for is the father lived in the time of Solomon, you know what the Bible says about gold and silver being so plentiful in Jerusalem. Read about that now and then we will pass on.

Behold, I say our prodigal emigrant, with his hair cloth tents, his gaily caparisoned camels, his flocks and herds, his money in his pocket ready for a start to a new country. Those who please can stop here to moralize over the fact that youth is restless, impulsive, not liking to be bound down by old customs, to live amongst "old fogys" etc. etc, but we have not time now; the question is, where did he go? What new country did he seek? The first incident that gives us any clue as to where he went was that he was afterwards found "feeding swine." Now, we know that swine or hogs were forbidden to the Jews. It was contamination for a Jew to touch or have anything to do with them. The first place that I remember to have read in the New Testament that speaks of swine, (I have no concordance, and am writing from a rather failing memory,) is where our Saviour cast a legion of devils out of a demoniac and they went into a "herd of swine." This was at Gadara, on the Southeast border of the Sea of Gallilee. This is about one hundred miles from Hebron. The text says he went "into a fur country." He could not have stopped at Gadara, but he is in a swine country now and evidently aiming for a place where amusements were to be found, where there was "riotous living." He has come up the Jordan on the West side in all his pomp and splendor, has crossed at a ford just below the Sea of Gallilee, and now his natural course will be up on the East side and the place towards which he tends must be Damascus. Damascus the place where fortunes are made in trading, where riches abounds, where all the known deliceacies of the world are to be had. Damascus, recognizing no God but Mammon, no influence but gold. Follow the course on the map boys, and see if you do not think he went to Damascus. This was far enough to be called a far country and while he could dispose of his flocks on the mountain slopes of the range called Anti Lebanon, he could on a swift camel soon be reveling in Damascus. Besides here was a market to drive his cattle to when he wished to raise money, and the mountain range was a swine country, abounding in "mast" for their use. We must leave him here for a time and then see how he became in a heathen country, a

"PRODIGAL TRAMP,"

and the end of that tramp

Learn to quench all slavish creature fears in the reverential fear of God. This is a cure by diversion. It is a rare piece of Christian wisdom to turn those passions of the soul which most predominate into spiritual channels; to turn natural anger into spiritual zeal, natural mirth into holy cheerfulness, and natural fear into holy dread and awe of God; this method of lure Christ prescribes, "Fear not their fear." But how shall we help it? Why, sanctify the Lord of hosts himself, and let Him be your fear and dread. Natural fear may be allayed for the present by natural reason, or the removal of the occasion, but then it is but like a candle blown out with a puff of breath, which is easily blown in a again; but if the fear of God extinguish it, then it is like a candle quenched in water, which cannot be re kindled.—Flavel.

Baker's Cod Liver Oil and Phosphate of Lime is a really palatable preparation of this truly valuable remedy for Pulmonary complaints, Debility, etc. By its use the breathing becomes free, the pulse strong and full, the appetite regular, the strength increases, and the animal spirits grow light and buoyant.—Druggists have it. Jno. C. Baker & Co., Philadelphia.

To Shake, or not to Shake!

Aye, that is the question. Is it better to quiver from head to foot in the paroxysms of fever and ague, or to banish the atrocious disease by a course of that standard antifebrilia remedy, Hostetter's Bitters. There cannot be much doubt as to the response of the malaria stricken to this inquiry. From every locality on this continent whose inhabitants are tormented with the shivering plague comes an increasing demand for the only genuine preventive and eradicant, of malaria provided by science. The denizens of fever and ague districts well know how utterly inadequate to do more than give a brief respite are the so-called remedies of the faculty—Quinine, arsenic, Mismath—what are these but poisonous palliatives, which cease after a time to produce any beneficial effect whatever, and if persisted in wreak irreparable mischief upon the system? Everywhere they are being abandoned by intelligent persons, and that genuine vegetable specific for intermittent and remittent diseases, Hostetter's Bitters, substituted in their place.

OFFICE SUPT OF TRANSPORTATION,
Seaboard & Roanoke R. R. Co.,
PORTSMOUTH, Va., Jan. 1st, 1876.

On and after this date, trains of this Road will leave Weldon daily, Sundays excepted, as follows:

Mail train at	4 P. M.
No. 1 Freight train at	6 A. M.
No. 2 Freight train at	4 A. M.

ARRIVE AT PORTSMOUTH.

Mail train at	7 15 P. M.
No 1 Freight at	12 00 NOON.
No 2 Freight at	4 00 P M

Freight trains have a passenger car attached.

Steamer for Edenton, Plymouth and Lundings on Blackwater and Chowan Rivers leave Franklin at 7.40 A. M on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

E. G. GHIO,
Supt. Transportation

LAWNS LAWNS!! LAWNS!!!

A new supply figured Lawns in the piece. Very desirable patterns.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER.

COMMISSION MERCHANTS.

THE OLDEST

WHOLESALE GROCERY HOUSE

In Raleigh!

ESTABLISHED IN 1869.

LEACH BROTHERS

WHOLESALE GROCERS

— AND —

Commission Merchants,

RALEIGH, N. C.

Ask the attention of the trade to their stock of

STAPLE GROCERIES,

ought from first hands by their resident Partner in New York, and offered in this market on small margins.

With an experience of seven years in the grocery business in this city they will make it to the interest of prompt paying customers to send them their orders.

March 8th 1-y P. O. Box 416, Raleigh, N. C.

NEW FIRM

TO FRIENDS AND PUBLIC GENERALLY

I have associated with me Mr. G. D. Rand (formerly Rand & Barbee Lumber Dealers,) as a partner in the wholesale and retail Grocery and General Commission business. I respectfully tender my thanks for past favors and hope to have them continued with the new firm. Yours truly,

January 6, 1876. L. R. WYATT.

G. D. RAND. L. R. WYATT.

RAND & WYATT,

Wholesale and Retail Grocers

AND

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

Have on hand and constantly receiving a fresh and first class stock of

GROCERIES

consisting of Flour, a specialty, Meal, Corn Bacon Lard, Sugar, Coffee, Pepper and Spice, Molasses (new crop Cuba), Syrup, Toilet and Laundry, Soaps, Wood and Willow ware, Fancy Groceries, &c.

Everything embraced in a First Class Grocery which we propose to sell at Lowest figures.—Give us a trial. Orders with proper reference respectfully solicited, which shall receive our prompt attention. Consignment of Cotton and other produce solicited. Best prices guaranteed

Yours truly,

RAND & WYATT,

Opp. East end of Market, Raleigh, N. C.

July 12 1 y

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE BUFFALO

LITHIA WATERS

THE GREAT

STOMACH WATERS

Of America.

Case of Mrs. ——— stated by Dr. Marcus A. Harris, a distinguished physician of Buck Walnut, Halifax Co., Va

(Extract from Letter of Dr. H., of July 28, 1876.)

"Mrs. ——— has been for twenty years a sufferer from Dyspepsia in a most aggravated form. Prominent among a multiplicity of distressing symptoms were attacks of Spasmodic Gastralgia, varying in duration and intensity, and becoming less and less amenable to treatment. For a few months before she commenced the use of the BUFFALO LITHIA WATER the attacks became more prolonged and violent, and her emaciated, cachetic and distressed condition gave unmistakable evidence of a rapid decline, having exhausted my own resources, I called to my assistance in the treatment of the case some of the most eminent medical men of the State, without any other result than a palliation of suffering; and in what I regarded as a hopeless condition, I prescribed the Buffalo Lithia Water, Spring No 2. To the exclusion of all other treatment. She has been using the water now for some six weeks, with only occasional symptoms of indigestion, and her improvement has been so marked and decided that she is able to attend regularly to her domestic affairs. For four months before commencing the use of the "Lithia Water," her diet was milk and stale bread, alternated with bread and water and bread and tea. She now eats with impunity almost everything—for breakfast, coffee, bread and butter, mutton chops, broiled chicken &c.; for dinner, mutton, beef, chicken, and any vegetable except fresh potatoes, with deserts, such as cake, ice cream, &c. I will add, that this was one of the most distressing and unmanageable cases of Dyspepsia that I have ever seen in a practice of many years, and that the action of the water in it was marvellous."

DYSPEPSIA AND NERVOUS HEADACHE

Case of Dr. R. H. Tatum, a well-known physician of Chesterfield county, Va.

Extract from letter dated Lonewood, Va., September 4th, 1876:

"For years I have suffered from indigestion, causing sick headache, attended with the most intense agony I have visited some of our most celebrated mountain springs, and drank the mineral waters from the springs of other States, but never found no such relief as I have experienced from the use of two cases of the BUFFALO LITHIA WATER, Spring No 2. I have prescribed it for several patients suffering from symptoms produced by Dyspepsia—such as loss of appetite, general debility, headache, cough and severe pain in the Epigastric region—with the happiest results."

Post office Chula, Amelia county, Va.

DYSPEPSIA.

Case of John P. Keeling, Esq., a well known citizen of Princess Anne county, Va.

PRINCESS ANNE Co., Va., Aug. 15, 1876.

Dear Sir: I am with much pleasure I furnish you with a statement of my case and of the relief which I obtained from the use of your LITHIA WATER, as in doing so I may possibly be instrumental in saving some poor sufferer, and feel bound to do whatever I can, and is consistent with truth and honor, and has cured me of dyspepsia, which had been of twenty-three years standing, and which had resisted the skill of the most eminent physicians in Norfolk, Portsmouth and Baltimore, besides the City of Philadelphia, having been treated during that time by some of the best medical men of that city, without benefit. From there I was brought to my home in Princess Anne county, as was supposed, to die, when, by mere chance, I came in possession of one of your Springs' pamphlets, and with but little faith, determined to try the water. A single one resulted in an improvement in my condition so radical, that I am now able to attend regularly to my business on the farm. I do believe it to be the greatest stomach water of the world.

Very truly yours, JOHN P. KEELING.

In affections of the Kidneys and Bladder in Gout, Rheumatism and Paralysis, these waters have accomplished results as remarkable as any on record. They are for sale in cases of one dozen half gallon bottles at $5 per case, payable in advance.

The Springs Pamphlet sent to any address on application.

THOS. F. GOODE, PROPRIETOR

BUFFALO LITHIA SPRINGS,

Mecklenburg Co., Va.

oct 11-1f.

HOME AGAIN FOR THE FALL WINTER AND SPRING!

DR. CHARLES J. NALE,

SURGEON DENTIST,

RALEIGH, N. C.

HEAD-QUARTERS AT THE BOAT AND CHEST.

WIRE RAILS & ORNAMENTAL Wire Works.

J. E. HOOPER & CO.,

36 North Howard Street, Baltimore, Md

Manufacture WIRE RAILING for Cemeteries, Balconies, &c., SHUTTERS, FENCES, CAGES, SAND AND COAL SCREENS, WOVEN WIRE, &c. Also, IRON BEDSTEADS CHAIRS, SETTEES, &c. &c.

Feb 16-1yr

SHOES AND HATS

The largest Stock we have had—late styles and at low prices.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER.

J. R DAVIS. N. C. DUNSTON.

DAVIS & DUNSTON'S

Hair Dressing & Shaving Saloon,

South Basement Raleigh National Bank,

RALEIGH, N. C.

We employ none but skilled workmen, and all who favor us with their patronage may rest assured of satisfaction.

Polite and accommodating Porter Boys in attendance.

Oct 11 1m

DRY GOODS.

1876. 1876.

Fall and

WINTER GOODS

—AT—

J. P. GULLEY'S,

DEALER IN

Dry Goods, Notions, Boots, Shoes, Hand Made.

Clothing Department up Stairs.

Fayetteville St. and South Corner Market Square,

RALEIGH, N. C.

I wish to say to the Ladies that I am Sole Agent here for Frank Leslie's Journal

CUT PAPER PATTERNS.

Have stock of these Patterns on hand, comprising all the latest Novelties for Ladies, Misses, and Boys, for every description of Dress. Circulars sent on application free.

J. P. GULLEY

Oct 18 tf.

LORD & TAYLOR,

New York

OUR FALL IMPORTATIONS

ARE NOW COMPLETE IN ALL DEPARTMENTS, AND PRICES ARE VERY LOW. OUR STOCK OF

Black, Colored and Fancy Silks

IS THE LARGEST AND BEST ASSORTED IN THE CITY, OCCUPYING ONE WHOLE SECTION IN OUR SALESROOMS, AND HAVING BEEN PURCHASED AND CONTRACTED FOR PRIOR TO THE RECENT ADVANCE, WE ARE PREPARED TO SELL AT LAST SEASON'S PRICES!

OUR

DRESS GOODS DEPARTMENT

EMBRACES ALL THE NOVELTIES IN FALL AND WINTER COSTUME CLOTHS, BLACK AND COLORED CASHMERES AND MERINOS, ALL-WOOL AND MIXED PLAIDS, STRIPES AND DAMASSE STYLES, AS WELL AS

POPULAR DRESS FABRICS

IN ALL THE NEWEST COLORING AND MATERIALS, FROM TEN CENTS A YARD UPWARDS.

OUR IMPORTATION OF

INDIA SHAWLS,

FROM THE LONDON AUCTION SALES IS VERY LARGE AND ATTRACTIVE, AND PRICES ABOUT HALF FORMER YEARS.

REAL INDIA, filled centers, at $65, $75, $85, and upwards.

REAL DECCA SHALLS, at $12 to $75.

STRIPED INDIA SHALLS, new designs, only $15.

CHEDDA SHAWLS, choice new colors, $14, upwards.

ALSO,

PARIS AND VIENNA BROCHE, PAISLEY FILLED, Plain centres and stripes, and

BRITISH AND AMERICAN WOOLEN SHAWLS. Unrivaled for beauty and substantial value.

OUR LADIES' & CHILDREN'S SUIT AND FURNISHING DEPARTMENT

is now more thoroughly stocked and equipped than ever heretofore, and we are prepared to fill all orders at once, and to guarantee satisfaction.

Handsomely trimmed suits in Cashmere, Basket Cloths, Camel's Hair, Alpaca, Combination suits, &c., in the most beautiful new effects, at prices to tempt the most economical.

By following our directions for self-measurement Ladies out-of-town can be fitted perfectly, economically, and more satisfactorily than by any home-made work.

Mourning Costumes and outfits a specialty and orders filled on 12 hours' notice.

Misses and Children's Costumes and suits at very reasonable prices.

LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S UNDERWEAR.

An immense stock of beautiful and reliable goods, at very great reductions.

Ladies' complete outfits, at $50 and upwards

Infants' complete outfits, at $35 and upwards.

Full catalogues of this department, with directions for self-measurement, sent free on application to all parts of the country.

OUR STOCK OF

Rich Furs

On hand, and being manufactured, will be the most beautiful in the city, and at most attractive prices

We also call particular attention to our large

LINENS AND WHITE GOODS,
LACES AND EMBROIDERIES,
UPHOLSTERY GOODS,
HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE,

HOSIERY AND GLOVES,
GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS,
BOYS' CLOTHING, AND
LADIES' BOOTS AND SHOES.

The Domestic and Housekeeping Dep'ts

Are stocked with goods from the large summer auction sales, at prices below cost of Manufacture.

CARPETS AT GRAND STREET ONLY.

And at greatly Reduced Prices.

Velvet Carpets, from $2 up.
Body Brussels, from $1.50 up.
Tapestries, from $1 up.
Three-Ply, from $1.12½ up.
Ingrains, best $1; cheapest, 35 cents.
Oil Cloths, from 30 cents up.

HEADQUARTERS FOR LINOLEUM—BEST FLOOR COVERING IN THE WORLD.

Samples of goods sent free on application to all parts of the country.

Orders for goods of every description carefully filled without charge, and goods packed and forwarded to any destination

BROADWAY & TWENTIETH ST. GRAND & CHRYSTIE STS., N. Y.

Oct 11-3m.

D. S. WAITT & BRO.

Beg leave to inform their customers that they have removed to the well known stand of James M Fowlee, No. 52 Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, N. C., which they have fitted up entirely new, and have purchased a large and well assorted stock of

READY-MADE CLOTHING!

For Men, Boys and Children.

Men's Sack Suits for $4 00; Men's Frock Suits for $5 00; Men's Frock Cassimere Suits, from $10 to $25; Men's Fine Black Suits, from $17.50 to $30. Boys' Fancy Satinet Suits, $4 to $6; Boys' Cas. Suits, $8 to $15; Children's Suits, $3 to $10; Over-Coats, $5 to $30. Cove and girl SUITED.

GENTS FURNISHING GOODS,
Hamburg Edgings and Insertions,
Notions Hosiery, Gloves, Cambrics, &c
Boots, Shoes, Umbrellas, Hats, Caps and Furs,

DOMESTIC DRY GOODS,

CONSISTING OF

Prints, Alpacas, Merinos, Del. Inos, Ginghams, Cotton Fields, Co'tonades, Kentucky Jeans, Cassimeres, Cambrics, Blue Denims, Osnaburgs, Tickings, Flannels, Shirting Stripes, Opera Flannels, Linseys, &c.

BLEACHED & BROWN SHEETINGS & SHIRTINGS.

Thanking our friends by their liberal patronage in the past, we feel confident that in our new store with New Goods, bought at the lowest prices, we will be able to please all. Respectfully,

D. S. WAITT & BRO.,

oct 4-1f. No 57 Fayetteville St., Raleigh, N C

Established 1816.

CHAS. SIMON & SONS.

No. 63 N. HOWARD STREET, BALTIMORE,

DEALERS IN

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC

DRY GOODS,

would call special attention to their extensive stock of

DRESS GOODS,
LINEN GOODS,
EMBROIDERIES
LACES AND HOSIERY

The best assortment of

Mourning Goods

in the city.

SAMPLES SENT FREE!

All orders amounting to $20 or over, will be sent free of freight charges by Express, but parties whose orders are not accompanied by the money, and having their Goods sent C. O. D., must pay for return of the same.

mch 1-18m.

EDUCATIONAL.

Trinity College, N. C.

The Session begins Sept. 5th. Tuition $20 to $30 for five months; board $10 to $12 per month. Entire expenses for five months $85 to $95. Send for Catalogue,

B. CRAVEN.

aug 22-1f.

JOHN J. FRAY'S

CLASSICAL AND MATHEMATICAL SCHOOL.

The 10th session of my school will begin on Sept. 4th, 1876, 1st Monday. Terms same as heretofore. Boarding pupils will be met at Clayton on the N. C. R. R. 4 1-2 miles distant or at Raleigh.

For circulars containing terms, particulars &c. Address,

JOHN J. FRAY,
Raleigh, N. C.

References:—The faculty of the University of Va. Rev. R. T. Blake, A. T. Mial, Rev. W. H. Bobbitt, Rev. J. B. Bobbitt, D. D. Rev. J. P. Munro.

aug. 23-1f.

DAVENPORT FEMALE COLLEGE

Lenoir, N. C.

REV. W. M. ROBEY A. M. President.

EXPENSES PER SESSION.

Board including lights and washing,..... $70,00
Tuition, English course,..... 20,00
Music, with use of instrument,..... 25,00

Entire expenses from $100 to $150.

The fall session will open on the 4th Monday in August and close on 3rd Friday in Jan. The Spring Session will open on the 4th Monday in Jan 1877, and close on 1st Thursday in June.

For information refer to Rev. W. S. Black, P. E. Wilmington; Rev. H. M. Bowden, Wilmington, Rev. E. A. Yates, P. E. Western Dis. Rev. Dr. Burkhead, Raleigh; Rev. E. W. Thompson, Fayetteville, Rev. V. Shaipe, Thomasville, Rev. J. A. Cunningham, Greensboro, Rev. Dr. Craven, Trinity College, Rev. W. H. Bobbitt, P. E. Charlotte Dis. and to the Preachers generally of the N. C. Conference.

For circular address the President.

June 28-3m.

WESLEYAN FEMALE INSTITUTE.

STAUNTON, VA.

Will begin its twenty-seventh Annual Session, September 21st, 1876. Rev W. A. HARRIS, D. D., President, with an able corps of twenty-three Teachers and Officers.

Modern Languages taught and spoken in the College by a Foreign Teacher. Music by able Professors and Teachers, among whom are some of the most cultivated teachers of vocal music in the South.

This school is usually attended by pupils from fifteen to seventeen different States

Great economy and simplicity in dress are required. A simple uniform is worn. No unnecessary expense allowed. Strict economy practiced to limit expenses of pupils.

From Bishop D. S. Doggett, D. D.

The Wesleyan Female Institute, located in Staunton, Va., under the Presidency of Rev. W. A. Harris, is, to my judgment, one of the best institutions, for young ladies, in the South. I have occasion to know and appreciate its value by the advantages enjoyed by one of my daughters. Its course of study is complete; Faculty accomplished, and its instruction both solid and elegant. Its present accommodations are all that can be desired for health and comfort, or taste. No location could be more eligible; no scenery more magnificent; no atmosphere more salubrious. Not the least of its merits, is its most sacred regard for religious training, without which no Female College especially, would be a blessing.

D. S. DOGGETT.

From Bishop E. M. Marvin, D. D.

The Wesleyan Female Institute is an honor to the Church Wesleyan Female Institute is an honor to the Church Wesleyan and to the South. Its music, and vantages and location is unsurpassed. The most talented are employed of very high and neither pains nor expense are spared. This department em-

From Prof F. H. Smith, M. A. L. L. D., University of Virginia.

The Wesleyan Female Institute, at Staunton, deserves its brilliant success. Having had a daughter under Mr. Harris' care, my observation leads me to believe this school to be one of the best of Female Seminaries which adorn our State. * * The Halls of the Wesley an Female Institute should be filled to over flowing with pupils from all our Southern States.

FRANCIS H. SMITH.

TERMS FOR THE ENTIRE COLLEGIATE YEAR.

Board and Tuition in the Collegiate course, $240. For Catalogue, address,

Rev W. A HARRIS, President.
Staunton, Va.

BALTIMORE, OCTOBER 1876.

CHAS. SIMON & SONS

DRESS-MAKING DEPARTMENT.

Over

We would call the attention of our friends and the public in general to this Department.

Under the present management we have met with unprecedented success. We have filled orders for customers residing in nearly every Southern State, and have in our possession numerous flattering testimonials, both as regards fit and style, as well as great superiority in neatly finishing our work.

Our specialty this season will be Black Grosgrain Silk Dresses, trimmed in same material, and made in the most fashionable style, for the low price of $50.00.

These Dresses should not be judged by the price, as they are in every respect superior to anything heretofore offered for the money. Samples of the material and directions for self-measurement sent free by mail upon application.

CHAS. SIMON & SONS,
63 N. Howard St.,
Sept 27 3m. Baltimore, Md.

NEW BOOKS FOR SINGING CLASSES!

JOYFUL NOTES

Is printed in our new combined notes, (a figure set in each round note,—Dwight's Method,) as far as, for me, acknowledged by all to be the best system yet invented, as you have the round notes, and the figures enable those not skilled in reading them to sing them at sight.

HOURS OF SONG

IS THE BEST ROUND NOTE BOOK IN THE FIELD.

HOURS OF SONG and JOYFUL NOTES were prepared by Prof. Jas. H. Fillmore, from long experience and careful observation as a successful teacher. The rudiments are the most thorough, the music grand. Price 60 cents $6.30 per dozen by express; $5.25 per dozen by mail.

FILLMORE BROS., Publishers,
Specimen pages free. CINCINNATI, O.
sept 20-1t

HARDWARE

CRYSTAL METAL

BRONZED BELLS

FOR

CHURCHES,
SCHOOL HOUSES,
FACTORIES,
SHOPS,
PLANTATIONS.

These Bells are composed of the pure crystal metal, and the shape and weight of metal in them is such as to give the best possible results. They are

SUPERIOR IN TONE AND FINISH

to many others, no matter under what name they may be sold, either "STEEL COMPOSITION" or "AMALGAM," and are

Guaranteed to Give Satisfaction.

The CHEAPEST BELL MADE.

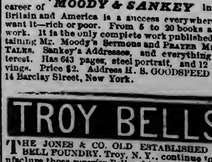
Church Bells furnished at COST.

T. H. BRIGGS & SONS,
Briges Building,
RALEIGH, N. C.

DEALER IN

Hardware, Building Material, Wagon and Buggy Material, Paints, Oils, Glass, Sash, Doors and Blinds.

Write for Prices. No charge for Packing or Drayage. apl 19-1f.



Send stamp for full information. Price Lists, etc. to Rev. T. P. CHILDS, Troy, Miami Co., O.

Oct 25-4t eow.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WOMAN IN BATTLE!

AGENTS WANTED to canvass every town and county in the State for

"WOMAN IN BATTLE!"

one of the most intensely interesting books ever published, being the Life and Exploits of Lieut. Harry T. Buford, (C. S. A.) or Madame L. J. Velasquez. No subscription book ever published has offered the chances this one does for wide awake agents to make money rapidly, and as territory is being taken up very fast those who desire to canvass for it should make application without delay.

MADAME L. J. VELASQUEZ,
Agent for North Carolina; office; Grange Hotel, corner Wilmington and Davie sts, one block from the Yanboro House, Raleigh N. C. Agents wanted to sell Steel Engraving of the author.

Oct 11-1f

THE NORTH CAROLINA FARMER.

JAS. H ENNISS,—Dear Sir: I have been a practical farmer for forty years, and during that time have taken the best agricultural papers of the day, and I undertake to say that there is more valuable, practical information to our farmers in the first and second numbers of the North Carolina Farmer than in any dozen copies of any of the Agricultural Journals I have taken; and I do most earnestly recommend it to every farmer in our State as the paper for him, above all others.

PETER R. HINES,
Halifax Co,

Subscription one year	$1.00
5 Copies " "	4.00
10 " "	7.00

Address J. H. ENNISS & CO. Publishers,
Aug 30 1-f. Raleigh, N. C.

THE MORNING STAR,

WILMINGTON, N. C.

—:o:—

A First Class Democratic Newspaper!

—:o:—

LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY DAILY NEWSPAPER IN NORTH CAROLINA.

—:o:—

THE

Only Daily Paper

Published in WILMINGTON, a City of nearly 20 000 Inhabitants, and the Great Centre of North Carolina Trade!

—:o:—

SUBSCRIPTION:

One Year,	$7 00
Six Months,	4 00
Three Months,	2 25

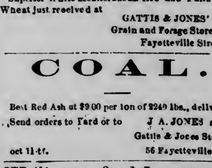
—:o:—

ADVERTISING RATES REASONABLE.

Address,

WM. H. BERNARD,
Editor & Proprietor,
Oct. 11 tf. WILMINGTON, N. C

TYSON & JONES



Carriage Builders,

CARTHAGE, N. C.

Having recently increased our Facilities for Manufacturing, we are prepared to furnish Vehicles of the BEST QUALITY on short notice, and at comparatively low prices. Vehicles shipped at Sanford, Raleigh and Chatham R. R. via Raleigh to any part of the State

We feel confident that, with the close attention we give the business, together with the materials used, the skilled workman employed, and the many conveniences we have for manufacturing FIRST CLASS WORK, to house in the country can excel us in

STYLE, FINISH, DURABILITY AND Low Prices.

We manufacture and keep constantly on hand Harness of the Best Quality.

Repairing neatly Done at Short Notice Send for Circular.

July 21 1-y

FURNITURE

W. H. Morris & Co

No. 8 Fayetteville Street,

RALEIGH, N. C.

Dealer in all kinds of furniture, such as Walnut Chamber Sets, Cottage Chamber Sets, Parlor Sets, Dining Room Sets, Bedsteads, Bureaus, Wardrobes, Washstands Tables, Chairs, Sofas, Lounges, Spring Beds of various patterns, Cribs and Cradles in great variety of styles, patterns and prices. Wood and Marble top centre tables &c.

ALSO

keeps constantly on hand and make to order all kind of Mattresses, such as pure Curled Hair, Cotton and Shuck. Excelsior and Shuck Mattresses. Old Hair Mattresses renovated and made as good as new.

No trouble to show goods. Call and examine before purchasing, elsewhere.

W. H. MORRIS & CO

nov 20-1

OAKSHADE BERKSHIRES!

First-Class, pure Blooded Pigs, of the best families ever imported to the United States, entitled to entry in the Berkshire Record constantly for sale. Prices at 2½ months old, delivered to Express, $10 each. Also half breed Cotswold Lambs at $10 each. 1 Pure Asiatic Buck at $25.

T. W. Harris,
Oakshade Farm, Pittsboro, N. C.

June 7-1y.

SEED WHEAT.

Superior White Mediterranean Red and Fultz Seed Wheat just received at

GATTIS & JONES'
Grain and Forage Store,
Fayetteville Street.

COAL.

Best Red Ash at $9 00 per ton of 2240 lbs., delivered.

Send orders to Yard or to J. A. JONES at Gattis & Jones Store, 55 Fayetteville St.

oct 11-tf.

Williams & Haywood,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN

Drugs, Medicines, Paints, Oils, Dye-Stuffs, Perfumery,

Fancy Articles, Garden Seeds Fine Teas, Spices Flavoring Extracts.

CIGARS, CHEWING TOBACCO &C.

Keep constantly on hand, at lowest market prices, White Lead, Putty, Kerosene Oil, Linseed Oil, Lamp Oil, Tanner's Oil, Window Glass, Varnish, &c., &c.

NEW BOOK.

"Our children" by Dr. Haygood,—a supply on hand.

Send orders to J. A. Sharpe, Thomasville, N. C. $1.50, by mail—prepaid.

Aug 30 3-m

AGENTS FIND THAT THE FULL HISTORY OF THE career of MOODY & SANKEY in Great Britain and America is a success everywhere. All want it—rich or poor. From 5 to 20 books a day's work. It is the only complete work published, containing Mr. Moody's Sermons and PRAYER MEETING TALKS, Sankey's Addresses, and everything of interest. Has 643 pages, steel portrait, and 12 engravings. Price $2. Address H. S. GOODSPEED & CO., 14 Barclay Street, New York.

TROY BELLS.

THE JONES & CO. OLD ESTABLISHED TROY BELL FOUNDRY, Troy, N. Y., continue to manufacture those superior Bells which have made Troy RANKED SATISFACTORY. Particular attention given to Church Bells, Chimes, and Peals of Bell.

Illustrated Catalogue sent free.

aug 16-26t eow.

MISCELLANEOUS.

SERMONS.

BY E. M. MARVIN, D.D., LL.D.,

One of the Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church South.

Edited by T. O. SUMMERS, D.D

12mo, Muslin Pages 552.

This book will be ready by the 10th of August. Price Two Dollars, with twenty-five per cent. discount to Preachers. It will be sent, post-paid, to any address on receipt on retail price. The money must accompany all orders

A. H. REDFORD, Ag't.

North Carolina

DIRECTORY.

I am now preparing to issue the 5th edition of my North Carolina Directory, Centennial Edition.

I intend this edition to contain a full list of the Churches, Hotels, Lawyers, Manufactories, Merchants, Ministers, Mines, Mills, Physicians, Post offices, schools, &c.

The book will represent North Carolina as it is this centennial year.

Having agents in all the counties, of long standing and experience, I expect to have a fuller and nearer perfect Directory than ever before.

Advertisements will be taken at the usual rates of $25 per page. My Directories are copyrighted, which copyrights will be defended against all infringements to the fullest extent of the law and my ability.

L. BRANSON,
Sept 27 4w. Raleigh, N. C.

GOOD PAY. WANTED! GOOD PAY.

CANVASSERS in every place for the

ILLUSTRATED CHRISTIAN WEEKLY,

$2 50 IN ADVANCE, POSTPAID.

A Treasury of Good Things every week, with Beautiful Engravings, published by the AMERICAN TRACT SOCIETY.

Applications, accompanied by undoubted reccommendations, may be made to

T. L. D. WALFORD, 914 Main St., Richmond, Va.

SOUTHERN BRANCH.

American Tract Society and general Sunday School and Religious Book Depository

914 MAIN STREET
Richmond Va.,

All Books sold at publishers prices, and liberal discounts allowed to the trade.

Special attention given to the selection of S. S. Libraries and every Book we select warranted to give satisfaction.

T. L. D WALFORD,
Agent.

STIEFF

GRAND, SQUARE, AND UPRIGHT

PIANOS

Have received upwards of FIFTY FIRST PREMIUMS and are among the best now made. Every instrument fully warranted for five years. Prices as low as the exclusive use of the very best materials and the most thorough workmanship will permit. The principal pianists and composers, and the piano-purchasing public of the South especially, unite in the unanimous verdict of the superiority of the STIEFF PIANO. The DURABILITY of our instruments is fully established by over sixty school and colleges in the South, using over 800 of our Pianos.

Sole Wholesale Agents for several of the principal manufactures of Cabinet and Parlor Organs; prices from $50 to $600. A liberal discount to Clergymen and Sabbath schools.

A large assortment of second-hand Pianos at prices ranging from $150 to $300, always on hand.

Send for Illustrated Catalogue, containing names of over 7000 Southerners, who have bought and are using the Stieff Piano.

CHARLES M. STIEFF,
Warerooms, No. 9 North Liberty street,
Baltimore, Md.

Factories, 84 & 86 Camden st. and 45 & 47 Perry st
Dec 16-12m

CHARLEY ROSS

AGENTS WANTED in every town in America for

Raleigh Christian Advocate.

Bobbitt & Gray, Publishers. | Published in the Interests of Methodism in North Carolina. | $2.20 Per Annum, in Advance.

Vol. XXII.---No. 44. | Raleigh, N. C., Wednesday, November 8, 1876. | Whole No. 1,132.

Poetry.

"This is Not Your Rest."

No, "rest thy rest," poor pilgrim, worn and weary,
Foot-sore and fainting on life's darksome waste;
Thy sky o'ercast, the storm-clouds howling dreary,
And threat'ning death in every angry blast

No, "rest thy rest," for there's no safety near thee,
And "moth and rust corrupt" thy choicest things,
The midnight thief breaks through, and seems to fear thee,
And all thy hoarded treasure "make them wings"

No, "rest thy rest," thy direst foe within thee,
In traps thy soul in every passing hour:
Passions and lusts and fair temptations win thee,
And make their feed the archfiend's power.

Then "rise and flee" there is a rest above thee;
No moth, nor rust, nor thief can enter there,
Nor hard oppressor dark assassin move there,
Not even death shall cloud thy brow with care.

Yes, there a rest, poor weary wand'ring stranger,
"Arise and flee," and let thy soul be glad
In that blest home fare never reck'd of danger,
No lost is weary and no heart is sad.

There "rise and flee," thy sin our waits to meet thee
And all thy hoard companions gone before,
With outstretched wings are hasting now to greet thee,
And bid thee welcome to that peaceful shore.

There evermore the ransomed millions wander,
And bathe forever in that soundless flood
There tune their harps and deathless psalms render
To Him who bought them with his priceless blood.

—Wesleyan Home Journal.

Communicated.

For the Advocate.

PROCEEDINGS OF WILMINGTON DISTRICT CONFERENCE, HELD AT BETHANY, N. C.

THIRD DAY. (CONTINUED).

J. E. Mann, chairman of committee on the General State of the Church, presented the following report on EDUCATION.

WHEREAS, Such is the influence of those whose business it is to develop the minds of the young that they usually shape more or less the characters of those they educate: and whereas, such is the strength and universality of religious prejudice that in nearly every man and woman, and in nearly every school, college and university, some set of religious predilections predominate so that our children usually come back to us from institutions of learning impressed with the biases of those who have taught them—whether their teachers were sectarians or latitudinarians—so that the question: What would we have our children? is inevitably linked with: Where shall we educate our children? And whereas, we, as Methodists, love our mother Church and would have our children lay their talents upon her altars, and when we are gone spend their lives in perpetuating her glorious doctrines, institutions and triumphs; and whereas, to have this it is necessary for us to lay our children with our prayers and money, in childhood and youth, in the current of Methodist thought, and whereas, to secure them and ourselves this advantage it is necessary for us to have our own denominational schools, colleges and university, and to have them we must found, organize, conduct and foster them, so as to meet our denominational demands ever keeping in mind that it is as much our denominational duty and interest to control in a legitimate way the organization and conduct of our institutions of learning as it is to found and foster them; and whereas, we, as a denomination, have recently been made the fortunate recipients of a munificent donation of one million of dollars by the noble generosity of Commodore Vanderbilt, to found, equip and endow a University at our denominational head quarters in Nashville for the higher education of our sons—thus meeting a great central desideratum our united financial efforts would not have reached but for his timely aid, for long years to come; and whereas, the nature of our denominational organization and local educational wants are such that it is necessary for every Conference to have its own schools and colleges, and foster them for the education of the sons and daughters of Methodists within its own bounds; and whereas, we, as a people, to meet our imperative educational necessities have our own colleges: Greensboro Female College, Trinity College and Davenport Female College; therefore

Resolved, That we highly appreciate the increase of our facilities for denominational education afforded us in Vanderbilt University as a great Methodist centre for higher education.

Resolved, That we heartily recommend Greensboro Female College, Trinity College and Davenport Female College to the patronage of our people, and urge upon parents within our bounds who have sons and daughters to educate to send them to their own Conference Colleges.

Resolved, That we cordially approve the Conference Plan to liquidate our college debts and pledge our hearty co operation with the agents in raising our district proportion of the whole amount and congratulate them on the success which has already

Resolved, That we earnestly appeal to our people, who have not hitherto subscribed liberally to pay off our college debts, to do so at once, inasmuch as we regard it our first sacred duty as a Conference to pay our financial obligations and relieve our property and enterprises of their retarding incumbrances that no more precious time may be lost in our struggle to bring them to the prosperity so long desired.

Resolved, That we highly appreciate the offer of the Trustees of Greensboro Female College to appropriate the interest of the whole amount it costs to rebuild the college to the education of daughters of the ministers of the Conference—thus bringing the very best educational opportunities in the reach of every daughter of every minister of the Conference, making the payment of the debt not only one of paramount denominational importance but the personal interest of every minister and every member of the Church who loves his pastor and family.

After a very interesting discussion showing the importance of denominational education and the necessity of maintaining our general and local institutions of learning the report was adopted.

A committee, consisting of J. B. Bailey, S. M. Davis, D. T. Durham, W. G. Fowler, and J. H. Mallard, were appointed to consider the propriety of establishing a District Conference School.

The chairman of committee on the General State of the Church then presented the following reports which, after proper discussion, were adopted:

1. ON MISSIONS.

Resolved, That we highly appreciate and heartily approve the efforts of our Parent Board to enter new missionary fields and to strengthen the missions already established.

Resolved, That we will earnestly endeavor to largely increase the missionary contributions of our District for the present year.

Resolved, That we will cherish a deeper interest in the domestic fields in our District.

Resolved, That our Presiding Elder be requested to lay before the Bishop and his Cabinet at the next session of our Annual Conference the importance of the unoccupied territory around the conjunction of Harnett, Sampson and Cumberland counties, and designate it as Cohara Mission, and we recommend the continuance of Waccamaw Mission.

2. ON SABBATH SCHOOLS.

WHEREAS, We are profoundly impressed with the fact that the future welfare and prosperity of the Church depends very largely on the education of the children in the Sabbath school; therefore,

Resolved, That we are more than ever impressed with the necessity of Sabbath school organization and the importance of Sabbath school effort

Resolved, That we, as a Conference, pledge ourselves to renewed efforts to raise our schools to a higher standard of interest, numbers and efficiency.

Resolved, That we recommend to our Sabbath schools to use the Uniform Lessons and Lesson Papers furnished by our Publishing House.

Preaching at 11 o'clock, A. M., by J. A. Cunniuggim, and at night by T. W. Smith of Fayetteville.

FOURTH DAY.

Conference opened with prayer by S. M. Davis.

J. Sanford, chairman of committee on Literature of the Church, presented the following report which was adopted:

WHEREAS, We believe that we should encourage and patronize our own publications before all others, therefore

Resolved 1st, That we heartily recommend to our people the Raleigh Christian Advocate as the Organ of the N. C. Conference, together with the Nashville Advocate, our central organ, and that we make earnest effort to en'arge their circulation

2nd. That we recommend our Sabbath school literature, all our publications at Nashville, and the South ern Quarterly Review, and that we renew our efforts to place them in our schools and homes wherever practicable.

J. B. Bailey, chairman of committee on District Conference School, presented thefollowing report:

WHEREAS, Cultivated intellect does, and must of necessity, control and shape the destiny of nations as well as churches individually and collectively; and whereas, we see the vital importance of establishing schools in all our districts to serve as auxiliaries to our higher institutions. Therefore Resolved 1. That we recommend Rocky Point, Pender county, within the bounds of Topsail circuit, as a very suitable place for such an institution.

2 That a committee of five be appointed by the Chair, consisting of two miuisters and three laymen, to confer

Academy and ascertain upon what conditions they propose for us as a Church or District to hold the said house.

3 That after satisfactory consultation with the Trustees, the committee take all the necessary steps to establish a school of high grade so that students may either obtain a practical education or be prepared here to enter our colleges.

4 That we recommend prudence in all their deliberations, and that the committee report at our next District Conference what they have done in carrying out our wishes in this respect. Report adopted; whereupon J. E. Mann J. B. Bailey, D. T. Durham, W. M. Parker and W. G. Fowler were appointed a committee to carry out the wishes of the Conference.

The Committee on the General State of the Church presented the following reports:

1. CHURCH CONFERENCES.

WHEREAS, An intelligent understanding, by our membership, of the different interests of their individual societies, is necessary to an efficient operation of their congregational plans, without which no church can either reach, or long retain, prosperity; therefore be it

Resolved, That we recommend to our preachers and people that they watch fully guard against letting the Church Conference fall into disuse.

2 PRAYER MEETINGS.

WHEREAS, There are a number of Churches, in some of the circuits in the District in which there are no regular meetings for prayer held; and whereas, in our opinion, prayer meetings are a means of grace necessary to the spiritual growth and prosperity of any church; therefore,

Resolved, That we urge our preachers and members to organize at once a prayer meeting in every society where none exists.

3. CLASS MEETINGS.

WHEREAS, Class Meetings have in former days been of great utility in bringing many of our people to a higher state of spiritual enjoyment and enlarged Christian experience; and whereas, these meetings scarcely exist now among us; and whereas, all the enterprises of the Church, with regard to its temporal and spiritual prosperity, are mainly dependent on the vigilance and care of our pastors; therefore,

Resolved, That the pastors are requested to urge upon the people of their respective charges, the importance of attending to the use of this most excellent prudential means of grace, and that they call the members of the church together, as often as practicable, after preaching and lead the class in person.

4 MEMBERS WHO ARE SEEKERS.

WHEREAS, in our operations many persons are brought into the church as seekers—requiring more than usual care of pastors and people; therefore,

Resolved, That the pastors and older members of the church are earnestly requested to give increased vigilance to instructing and leading them to Christ, and to a richer christian experience.

5. FAMILY RELIGION.

WHEREAS, it appears, from the reports before us from the different charges, that there are many families among our members having no regular household worship, and whereas, we believe it to be a sacred duty we owe to God and those committed to our keeping, to command our children and our households after us, that they shall keep the way of the Lord, and whereas, we conceive that this can only be done by using our authority and opportunities over them in childhood, to indoctrinate them in, and to impress them with the principles of our holy religion, by a well defined system of family worship and instruction; therefore,

Resolved, That we hereby call on all parents within our bounds, as they love their own souls and the souls of their children, to erect family altars and gather their families around them night and morning, and honor God and religion before them, and faithfully bring them up in the 'nurture and admonition of the Lord.'

6. CHRISTIAN LIFE.

WHEREAS, the Scriptures in various ways and in divers places insist on 'holiness without which no man can see the Lord," and whereas we are convinced that numbers of our people are deficient in christian life and character and therefore defective in spiritual power; and whereas, observation, experience and the word of God manifestly and repeatedly warn us of the danger of maintaining a "form of godliness but denying the power thereof,' and whereas, the duty of enforcing the Bible standard of christian life demands the united example and precept of our ministers and laity, therefore,

Resolved, That we as ministers and members of the Church of God will consecrate ourselves more unreservedly to our Divine Master, and as ministers of Christ we will faithfully presacrifices unto God, and temples of the Holy Ghost" to our congregations."

These reports were taken up in order and discussed setting forth the importance of each in the great work of establishing in the hearts and character of men the peculiar doctrines of Methodism, and of saving souls. The discussions on the reports regarding Church Conferences, Prayer Meetings, Class Meetings and Family Prayer were of special interest, and clearly demonstrated how closely these are allied with the genius of Methodism. The reports were unanimously adopted

The thanks of the Conference were tendered to the citizens of the community for their kind hospitality and to the Cape Fear Steam Boat Company for their generous liberality to the delegates

At 11 o'clock J. A. Cunninggim, an agent for the Conference Colleges, delivered an address on the subject of education, after which a collection was taken up to liquidate the college debts.

At night, J. Sandford delivered a missionary address

The attendance at each session was good, much interest was manifested, especially during the hours of divine worship. It takes but a short time at Bethany Church to see that the spirituality of the people is uppermost Every day the congregations increased till on Saturday the house, after being filled to its utmost capacity, would hold only about half the people present, thereby necessitating two services at the same hour on Saturday at 11 o'clock, one in the house, one under the arbor.

SUNDAY'S SERVICES.

On Sunday morning at 9 o'clock there was a Love Feast, preaching at 11, by Rev. J. E. Mann; Sabbath school mass meeting in the afternoon, addresses by Revs O. J. Brent and S. M. Davis.

Preaching at night by Rev. J. S. Nelson, P. E. of Fayetteville District, and the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

The congregation on Sunday was very large and the services of unusual interest. That all might be accomodated the seats were moved at 11 o'clock from the church to the arbor. The sermon on Sunday morning which may very appropriately have been termed a scientific-religious discourse from the text: "The Lord reigneth; let the earth rejoice," was a successful explosion of the boasted modern cosmogonies that have endeavored to blot out from history "the first great cause" as creator and ruler of the Universe. The sermons warmed, perhaps, a thousand hearts and filled as many eyes with tears.

The Love Feast in the morning was a gracious season; many were greatly blessed. We did not have the pleasure of being present at night, though we have learned from the P. E. that the Lord poured out his spirit upon the people "The communion season at night was gracious, the altar, crowded with penitents, the meeting is to be continued."

J. M. RHODES,
Secretary.

Sept. 29th 1876

For the Advocate.

Sunday Schools.

BY REV. P. J. CARRAWAY.

NO. IV.

In the previous articles I have noticed some of the changes proposed in the present system of Sunday-schools, which I think would damage rather than benefit the institution. I have also noticed some of the fears entertained by its friends which I believe are needless.

I wish in this article to address myself to the reader in a few remarks and close, praying that God may continue to bless the grand and glorious institution.

Reader, I would have you to love the children and the Sunday school. I would have you to attend yonrself and aid in making this great institution a success. It is advancing—not falling off. It is doing more good now than ever before. It has more vigilant eyes upon it—more strong hands to aid it—more hearts to love it—and more prayers offered for it than ever before. There is no time to stand still—no time to plead for a slower progress, or to raise unnecessary fears about it. We must keep up and do our part or others will do it for us. Let me say to pastors, parents, superintendents and teachers, watch over the children God has put into your care. Teach them carefully, and pray for them earnestly, and lead them to Christ. The day is coming when you shall receive the reward in heaven.

The greatest danger of segregation—of formality in religion—and of running into other evils is not in the system we have adopted; but in refusing to comply with the instructions of the Church, and in failing to patronyze will all encourage our worthy Sunday school Secretary by adopting his Lesson Papers and taking his Magazine, we may keep up our schools. But if we begin to drop the system and turn to the dry old paths formedy trod by our worthy fathers, we shall soon see our children led to other schools and to other folds. I do sincerely entreat all Methodists to do as the old Methodists did, obey the Godly counsels of our Church, and patronize our institutions. In this, "Inquire for the old paths and walk therein."

The Pulpit.

Sermon by Rev. T. De Witt Talmage, Brooklyn Tabernacle.

PHONOGRAPHICALLY REPORTED FOR THE ADVOCATE BY WILLIAM WALTON

Near Being a Christian.

"Thou art not far from the kingdom of God."—ST MARK xii. 34.

THESE words were originally spoken to a scribe of olden time; but they are just as true of five hundred people in this house to-night. O that the Spirit that came down at the Pentecost in tongues of fire and sat on the heads of the people, might, while I speak, descend to warm our souls and to consume our sins and to make this place as silent as the grave and as solemn as the judgment and as glad as heaven.

After being twelve days on ship board, I awakened in the morning and saw the American coast The head lands seemed beautiful; even Sandy Hook seemed attractive. I was impatient to get on shore. It seemed as if we never would get free from quarantine or get up the Narrows or come to our friends who stood on the wharf waiting for us I think that the most tedious part of a voyage is the last two or three hours. Well, there are many before me who are in the position I have described myself as once having been in. You have been voyaging on towards Christian life; you have found a rough passage; a hurricane from Mount Sinai hath smitten you, but now you see lighthouses and you see buoys, and the great headlands of God's mercy stretching out into the ocean of your transgression. You are almost ashore. I have come here to night to see you land. You are very near being a Christian: "Thou art not far from the kingdom of God." I have been informed during the past week by letter and conversation that last Sabbath there were a goodly number of souls who resolved on a Christian life, and some since then have found the peace of the Gospel, and I hear there are others started. O that this might be the hour of your emancipation.

The words of my text, I remark in the first place, may be used in regard to all those persons in this audience who have begun to think about the value of their souls. Now, my dear brother, there was upon that subject. You would have been horribly sickened if the physician had told you that you must lose a hand or a foot. You would have said: "Doctor, can't you save it!" But about the possibility of losing your soul you had no anxiety, and you said: "I do wish that these ministers and Christian people would mind their own business, for what is it to them whether I get to heaven or not." A little boy picked up a bright stone, and ran with it to the jeweller's, and said: "How much will you give me for that?" "Twenty five cents," said the jeweller. The boy sold it for that He knew not its value. It turned out to be a diamond worth many thousands of dollars. And so there was a time when you carried this priceless soul, not understanding how precious a treasure it was. The angels of God stood at the gate of heaven and cried, "Let me have that soul," and the world cried, "Let me have that soul,' and hell cried, 'Let me have that soul,' and you responded, "I don't care who has it." You feel now that it would be a sad thing if you should lose your physical sight and be obliged to go through darkness led by the hand of your friend, but you feel that it would be a greater disaster if you should have your moral vision forever extinguished. You say: "It would be a sad thing if my house or my store should burn up, but it would be a worse thing if I should be left houseless and homeless for eternity." But the world comes and says: "Let me buy that soul. I will give you sixty years of pleasure; flashing joy shall chase flashing joy, and I will weary you with the counting of the treasures that I will heap at your feet.' And

A TIME WHEN YOU DID NOT THINK

THE WORLD BIDS FOR THIS SOUL, and the flesh bids for it, and the devil bids for it, and the price of that soul begins to rise in your estimation, and you turn around with indignation and cry: "Avaunt, ye miscreants! Sell my soul for that? Why it is a deathless soul—a soul so vast that God only can fill it; a soul so endnring imperishable that no fires can consume it, no avalanches crush it; yes, a soul poised on so delicate a pivot that if it break away or swing off, the lightnings have not feet swift enough to catch it." O my soul, my deathless soul, soul God made, soul wandering through eternity, soul wheel within wheel wound up for endless revolutions; soul in which hope shall forever lift its smile or pain strike its poinard or hope kindle its aurora or despair clank its chains—a soul, a deathless soul. What is to become of it? Ah I do not wonder that in the last hour, seeing that they are unprepared for the future, have twisted their fingers in their hair and risen from the couch where an hour before they were helpless in their sickness and have risen up with the strength of a giant, shaking off the three men that tried to hold them, and as they looked out into the darkness of the great future, cried out: "My soul! my soul!" Ah, my dear brother, if you have begun to estimate its value, I congratulate you. The signs are encouraging: "Thou art not far from the kingdom of God."

SOMETIMES MEN UNPREPARED FOR ETERNITY,

I remark that my text may also be used in regard to those who have tried the world and found it insufficient Now, I have nothing to say against this world. It is a beautiful, it is a splendid world; it is every day becoming more beautiful. The marshes are being changed into gardens, the rough surfaces are being smoothed into gracefulness, the jungles are being changed into beautiful cities. It is a grand world. Old mountains scarred with battle gash of tempests, with head turbanded in white clouds and with feet slippered with green grass diamonded with dew. Grand old seas, through which God rides in the chariot of His omnipotence, the phosphorescence of the night dripping from the wheel and the shout of the tempest only the halloo of the charioteers. It is a splendid world, but I say as a portion for an immortal spirit, it is nothing at all. Some of you have tried it. You have said: "If I can get ten, twenty or fifty thousand dollars, I shall be satisfied." You got the treasure. Are you contented? You said: 'If I can attain such a social position, I shall be satisfied." You have gained that position. Has that wordly success sent a calm down into your soul? Ah, no; you have found out, like one of the Christians of old, that the comfort of this world is a salve and a plaster that will not stick!

THERE IS AN OLD LEGEND

which says that once this world suddenly lost all its beauty in a moment; all the gleam went out of the stars and all the lustre out of the wave and all the glory out of the flower; it became a stone blind world. That was only a legend. There have been times in your life when the beauty of this world as an eternal portion or as a portion for an immortal spirit has faded ont. You have found you must have something better. It is an insufficient world. It is a cruel world. If this world gets a man fully under its power, it grinds him to powder; if you are not entirely destroyed it is because it has not had sufficient power over you. You have felt from time to time that the world was after you. If it could get its hand on your treasure, it would be gone; if it got a fair chance at your reputation, it would be blasted. You bolt your doors and you fasten your money safe, you record your mortgages, you keep your receipts, because you know this world is after you and it would impoverish and blast and ransack and damn you if it could. It is like a couched lion ready to spring upon its prey. When the world gets a man at full disadvantage, you know with what flails it pounds him, with what lancets it bleeds him, with what unclean tongues it vilifies him, and through what sewers it drags him. I tell you a poor monse under a cat's paw, rolled over and drawn and bleeding and mangled and mashed, is better off than a man when the world gets him in its clutches Some of you have found ont that it is

A CHEATING WORLD, A LYING WORLD, A DYING WORLD,

Even the mountains will stagger in death and fall into their graves, and the pulse of the mountain torrent cease to beat, and the thunders will heave the dying groan of a world. During the last two centuries, astronomers tell us that thirteen stars have disappeared. One of them was seen some years ago burning in the sky. They directed their telescopes toward the heavens and they saw it. First it was a pale light, then a red, then it became ashy—it had burned out. It was sixteen months in burning. And the time will come when our world's turn will come, and the elements will melt in fervent heat, and we shall find then what a miserable portion that man had who had nothing but the world, even if he got it. Now, my dear brother, if you have tried this world and if you have fonnd ont that it is an entirely insufficient portion for your soul, I congratulate you to night: "Thou art not far from the kingdom of God.'

I remark, further, my text may be used of all those who have been melowed of trouble. Trouble sometimes makes a man hardened It does not do him any good. As with Prospect Park in the summer, you see the great black rollers going on packing and hardening the earth just so there are misfortunes which, instead of improving our moral nature, will go over it from time to time and harden it for time and eternity. Since you had the last trouble in your household, you feel different; your heart is tender now; how easily the tears start. If anyone treats you roughly, how it hurts. You have been so bruised that just the pressnre of the finger wounds you, and you are here to night, saying: "Is there no comfort? is there no comfort anywhere?" You have seen some poor soul comforted in mis-

"WHY CAN'T I HAVE THAT COMFORT?"

Anything is better than this midnight that chills me to the bone; anything is better than this desert through which I wade knee-deep through sands, furnace hot." And men have come along and tried their spiritual quackery upon your soul and healed the wound in one place and it breaks out in another There are thousands of you who have fonnd that there is a balm in the Gospel, and have cried: "Give it to me." "Thon art not far from the kingdom of God."

I remark, further, that my text may be nttered in regard to all those who have become affronted at their own sins. There was a time when you said: "I pay my debts and I try to live a decent and cleaner and courteous life among men I don't need the pardon of the Gospel." You do not feel that way now. You feel that your good works are merely the ivy that clambers over the tottering wall of a decayed tenement. You feel that

YOUR SOUL IS IN MORAL RUINS.

But there are some ruins that are very beautiful. I do not think there is anything more exquisite on earth than the ruins of Melrose Abbey Centuries look down from the top of the arches on you. It is a magnificent ruin. But there is no glory about the ruin of the heart. No green thing flourishes there. No sculptured wall to look at. What a ghastly ruin! 'Here,' you say, 'I am twenty years of age, or forty, or seventy, and I have not begnn the work for which I was created. O, wretched man that I am! Who will unstrap this burden from my shoulders? Where is the fonntain where I may wash ont the 'damning spot' of my sin? I feel that I am all wrong. I want light, pardon and comfort. Once I thonght sin was lovely, and there was the azure of heaven in her eye, and there was perfume in her breath, and her step was graceful as the morning coming down out of the gates of the East; but I was deceived. There are adders coiling in her hair. Her gaze is the look of a basilisk Her breath is the odor of the charnel house. Her hands are the paws of a wild beast. Her heart is hell. I wither under her glance. Whither shall I fly from this hellish pursuit? O, wretched man that I am! Who will deliver me? Can you say that? If so, 'Thon art not far from the kingdom of God.'

Again, I remark that my text may be uttered in regard to all those in this audience who have begun to pray. What is the greatest thing a man can do? Discover a continent? No. Marshal an army? No. Civilize a nation? No.

THE GREATEST THING A MAN CAN DO is to pray. What is prayer? Mere words? Breath coming out between the teeth so feebly as hardly to make a candle flicker? No. There is no power in all God's universe mightier than that. It brought down the mercy of God upon the fallen and wretched, until sight came to those who were actually born blind; and it has taken hold of the golden and silver bit of the sun and moon, and halted them on the highway of heaven; and I believe this force to-night keeps our world from rushing into horrible demolition. And yet there are hundreds of people in whose souls that force lies dormant. They never pray for themselves or families. But there are those in this house who have begun to pray. It may have been a very feeble prayer. It may have been a prayer that a grammarian could not parse. It may be just looking up towards heaven. It may be, "God help me.' But it is a prayer. And you prayed thns last week along the street, your soul going up towards heaven, and though you may feel to night that there is a wall a thousand feet thick between you and God, you pray. Snppose it were said to a man who had been fifteen years in prison, that on the second Sabbath night in October, 1876, he would be delivered from his prison, how he would wait for the coming of that day. How he would long for the coming of the night, and at the first clap of the bell, announcing nine o'clock, how he would spring to his feet and be ready to meet the man who came to deliver him! Now I do not know bnt that the second Sabbath night in October, 1876, may be the night for thy soul's delivery. Up, immortal! By the sigh breathed, by the tears trickling down the cheek, I know thou hast begun to pray, and "Thon art not far from the kingdom of God."

Bnt, my dear brother, snppose you stop where you are and get no further? Suppose you perish at the gate? Snppose I tell you that and got no further? Do you know that to be almost saved is not to be saved at all? Suppose a man is going up a ladder and he slip, from what round had he better slip? If he slip from the bottom rung it is not half so perilous as if from the top. Snppose you are making an effort for eternal life and you have come almost to the kingdom of heaven and you fall—not quite saved, almost saved, very near the kingdom of God, not quite—but lost! A vessel came near the Long Island coast and was split amid the breakers in a violent storm. From the shore they shot rockets, and ropes were passed, and the men in the shipwrecked vessel got into the small boat and pulled away for the beach, and pulled away until they came very near the shore. They were within a stone's throw of being saved when a violent wave took the boat and capsized it, and they perished—almost ashore, bnt not qnite And there are men who are pulling away towards the shore of safety. Nearer and nearer they are coming. I can say to them to night, 'Thou art not far from the kingdom of God.' But you have not quite reached it. Alas! if you stop where you are, or if a wave of worldliness capsizes your soul, and you perish almost within arm's reach of the kingdom. My dear brother, my dear sister, do not stop where you are. Having come so near to the kingdom of heaven and you fall to the kingdom of God, not quite—but lost! A vessel came near the Long Island coast and was split amid the breakers in a violent storm. From the shore they shot rockets, and ropes were passed, and the men in the shipwrecked vessel got into the small boat and pulled away for the beach, and pulled away until they came very near the shore. They were within a stone's throw of being saved when a violent wave took the boat and capsized it, and they perished—almost ashore, bnt not qnite And there are men who are pulling away towards the shore of safety. Nearer and nearer they are coming. I can say to them to night, 'Thou art not far from the kingdom of God.' But you have not quite reached it. Alas! if you stop where you are, or if a wave of worldliness capsizes your soul, and you perish almost within arm's reach of the kingdom. My dear brother, my dear sister, do not stop where you are. Having come so near up! Now is the day of thy salvation. This very night God sent you to hear this voice of mercy and love and pardon and salvation. Will you tantalize you soul by stopping so near the kingdom of God? Will you come and look over the fence into the heavenly orchard, when you might go in and pluck the fruit? Will you sit down in front of the well cnrb, when a few more turns of the windlass might bring up the brimming buckets of everlasting life? O immortal soul, lay hold of thy God now. I see a gay woman laughing while I stand and talk Lay hold thy God, O dying sinner before it be too late. Jesus died to redeem thee. The Holy Spirit is coming to save thee.

MULTITUDES HAVE COME JUST WHERE YOU ARE

NEAREST THOU NOT THE TREMBLING

of the ground, as the thnnders of the judgment day are trampling on, and eternity is about to burst upon thee with its hallelujah and its wailing. O brother, O sister, unsaved, notwithstanding the ground has been strewn with prayers, and the communion table over which you have clambered is strewn with the blood of the Son of God. Why dear friends, you have trampled upon offers of mercy for waich the inhabitants, of the lost world wonld clutch wildly if they came anywhere within reach. And yet unsaved. Unsaved, though God brought you down on a sick bed to make you think Unsaved, though God opened the graves of your loved ones to make you feel. Unsaved, though God has been calling and inviting and coaxing and begging all these long years, and ringing the bells of invitation, and ringing them all the day, all the night and all the years. Unsaved! O, my God, what will they do if they miss heaven? Who will soothe their grief? What bandage will bind up the wounds gotten in snch a fall? Blessed Jesus, banishment from Thee! that were midnight, moonless, starless, eternal—that were wasting away perpetually, whelps of hunger howling through the night of the soul.

A LOST SOUL! A LOST SOUL!

Beat all the drums of sorrow at the death march of a soul. Stand back and let the procession go by, on by the black horses of death. Let the hearse go carrying the disembodied spirit Toll all the bells of eternity as an immortal natnre is let down into the sepnlchre over which no resnrection trumphet will ever sonnd. Woe! woe! The cross of Jesus swings very near thee to night, my dear brother; seize it and be saved!

There was a son of aking, in olden time, who was doomed to lose both eyes for misdemeanor, bnt the king, the father, came np and said: 'Take one of my eyes and take one of the lad's eyes,' and so they each lost an eye and each saved an eye. But the Lord Jesns, in sacrifice for us, said: 'Take both My eyes, take both My hands, take both My feet, take My throne. What is heaven to Me when I see that world perish? I must go and save them. Lo I come, to do Thy will, O, God.' What a sacrifice! Have you appreciated it? Why the three hundred men of Leonidas throw themselves into the pass at Thermopylere for their country and their friends; bnt our Lord Jesns Christ, the Hero of eternity, threw Himself into the Thermopylæ of our transgressions and died for His enemies. O, will you not let that Jesns come into your soul? Is He not worthy of your love? Is He not worthy of your most ardent affection? He fainte to-night on thy door-step; open to Him. I track His footsteps by marks of blood, up to thy door. Hearest thon not the groans of thy dying Lord coming on the night air? He comes up and pnts His hand on the latch of the door of thy soul. If thon shalt let Him come in He will bring pardon and peace and life and hope and Heaven!

HARK! WHAT IS IT HE SAYS? HARK!

'Behold I stand at the door and knock. If any man will open to Me I will come in and sup with him and he with Me. O, is there, in this audience, one who refuses this, the best offer a man ever had? Will you trudge away in everlasting slavery when now you might be made free? Why will ye die? Why will ye die, when Heaven is so grand and the judgment is so tremendous and your soul is so precious and hell is so terrible and Christ is so loving and God is so good? There is something that makes me think that there is some one in this audience to night who is having his last chance, and there is something that says to me: "Speak to that man." If now he heeds not the voice of mercy, he will find no mercy at the last. I know not where he may sit, I know not where he may stand, bnt I bring to snch a soul the full, free offer of pardon for all his sins and everlasting life in the world to come. Will you accept it? A husband and wife attended a religious meeting in the country and at the close the husband who was not a Christian man, said: 'I think I will go and speak to the pastor about my soul.' He started, but retnrned and said, "I guess I will not go to night. I will put itoff to some other time." His wife said to him: "You had better go now; this may be your last chance." But he said: "No, it won't." They got in the carriage and passed on towards home, and in the darkness of the night the horses took fright and the carriage was hurled over the precipice, and in a moment all was still. The wife said: "My dear, are you very much hurt?" No answer. She said again: "Are you very much hurt?" And he replied: 'Y-e s. I am dy-ing. M-a r y, th at was my last ch ance!" "Now! now! is the time of salvation."

TO BOIL RICE.—Take a cnpful of rice, well washed, and pnt it into about three quarts of salted water, when the water is boiling furiously. Let it cook ten minutes, boiling hard all the time, then turn into a colander, drain, and serve. It will be soft, and every grain distinct. This is enough for five per-

The Christian Advocate.

OFFICE—Corner of Dawson & Hargett Sts

THE ORGAN
OF THE
NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE
OF THE
M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev J B Babbitt, D.D } Editors
R. T. Gray, Esq.. }

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION:

FOR ONE YEAR, IN ADVANCE, POSTAGE PAID,	$2.20
SIX MONTHS, " "	1.35
If payment be delayed six months,	2.70

RALEIGH, N. C., NOV. 8, 1876.

All letters on business with this office should be addressed to the Christian Advocate, Raleigh, N. C.

The Cross (X) Mark is to remind you that your subscription has expired. Let all renew promptly.

The Value of Small Things.

Who can tell the importance of what we call trifling things? There is nothing so small that we can afford to despise it. God honors the weak and feeble things in creation as well as in grace, and we ought not to overlook them. The records of science and art, of history and of human affairs, reveal the power of trifles. An apple, falling from a tree, led Sir Isaac Newton to the discovery of the law of gravitation, and laid the foundation of that philosophy which has made his name memorable among all people—The twitching of the limb of a frog, after death led to the discovery of galvanism, whose greatest triumph is seen in the Atlantic telegraphic cable. In the temple of Juno, a sacred goose gave an ominous cackle, which saved the splendid city of Rome from the destructive power of the Gauls. The omission of a letter in the pronunciation of the word "Shibboleth" seemed only a small thing—but a trifle - yet it caused the blood of thousands of brave warriors to flow at the passes of the river Jordan. A simple letter, the most insignificant in the Greek alphabet, apparently a trifle, as recorded in history, was considered of great importance in a word of the creed of the Church. Upon the mere insertion of this letter followed one of the longest and most bitter controversies in the history of the Christian Church.

In a very important sense human life is dependent on trifling things. Our happiness rests on the most trivial causes. The gravest philosopher, the most profound divine, will not despise the nerve of a tooth if it is inflamed and he is the owner of it.—The scratch of a thorn, a drop of poison, a breath of air, have produced agony and death. In small things is seen great mechanical power. The vapor which lifts the lid of a tea kettle reveals power. A lever, a cord and pulley, and a stream of water in a small tube, are giants which, under man's guidance, are adding every day to the world's prosperity.

History and biography, however, furnish the strongest proof of the power of small things. It is said that the discovery of America by Columbus rested on the fact that he begged a cup of water at a convent for his little child. It brought his plans to the notice of the Superior, and then they were brought to the notice of the Queen.

A flash of lightning led to the conversion of Luther, who became the leader in the great Protestant Reformation. Adam Clark, when a youth, was so very dull as to call forth the ridicule of his class-mates at school. Yet as a Biblical scholar he stands at the head of the list in the Methodist Church, and has no superior in any other. It will be remembered that some years ago the Girard will case came before the courts. Though several millions of dollars were involved, and such lawyers as Sargeant and Webster were engaged upon it, it is not to be compared to a law suit which took place over two hundred years ago, when a certain man named John Hampden refused to pay a trifling tax of twenty shillings on his property. The English Parliament thought the passage of the Stamp Act was only a trifle compared with the "Regency Question," consequent upon the illness of George the Third. The bill to liberate the press from Government censorship in England, and other measures vital to liberty were passed by those who did not see or dream of the far-reaching consequences. Great moral, reforms, like the birth of Jesus, came into the world in obscurity. They are trifling things which the grave historians of the day are not disposed to stop and record

It is well that we should remember that our happiness, and rich gifts and blessings are as dependent upon small things in a much greater degree than we are wont to believe. But our highest happiness and safety is in the Divine providence. The father of mercies watches over us—numbers the hairs of our head, and overrules the trifling, the insignificant things of life for our temporal, spiritual and eternal welfare. He who puts his trust in God will find security, and all will end in victory.

Bishop Marvin intended to start on his trip around the world on the 1st of November.

Send forward the names of subscribers and also renewals, to be paid for at our approaching Conference.

What Can I Do for your Paper?

We invite the attention of our readers to the following article from the Canadian Churchman, which will apply equally well to this latitude:

In reply to the many inquiries, "What can I do for your paper?" will our friends allow us to answer this demand for once and all, and so that it may teach every one wishing to aid us.

1.—Subscribe yourself. Subscription consists of two parts—the one the giving your own name, the other remitting the amount you desire to pay.

2.—Find out how many of your friends or neighbors are without a church paper, urge them to subscribe, and having obtained their names, stir them up to begin, amongst their various circles, the work of obtaining new subscribers and let them send us speedily the result of their labors.

3.—Let those who can do so send us articles on religious topics. Do not wait until the time arrives, which so seldom comes, when you can sit down and write an elaborate essay for the paper, but send that which you can without delay—a short [illegible] dealing with some matter you have solved, or on which you want light.

4.—Take the trouble of sending us a short account of any church news from your neighborhood, so that all may be stirred up to greater exertion by the account presented of what may be doing throughout the land for the cause of Christ. Try and give such practical suggestions as will enable others to follow out the course which has proved beneficial in eradicating some evil, awakening religious feeling, or strengthening those that stand

5.—Remember that a church newspaper worthy of the name will, if distributed, give you an opportunity of presenting the Gospel to absent friends and relatives, in whose breasts you desire to kindle and keep alive a sense of the spiritual life you desire them to live.

6.—Ask God daily to bless this newspaper enterprise, and to enlighten the understanding and strengthen the hands of those engaged in it, that it may be conducted in a proper spirit, and to the glory of Him whose great name it is intended to honor.

Dr. Fuller, of the Methodist Advocate, the organ of the M. E Church in the South, during the estrangement of the Churches, North and South, and up to the sitting of the Joint Commission at Cape May, was in the van of the most aggressive advocates of "disintegration and abolition," and dealt frequent and heavy blows upon the devoted pate of the Southern Church. But since the action of the Joint Commission, of which he was one of the most valuable and talented members, he has like a generous foe, faithful to the truce, laid down his weapons and is endeavoring to carry into practice the sentiments expressed in the address of that famous Conference. In the last issue of his paper, he administers a well deserved rebuke to the Central New York Conference which adopted a report charging that the Commissioners transcended their authority and protesting against the acceptance of their recommendations. Dr. Fuller closes the rasping he gives the croaking Conference by suggesting that "our brethren in Central N. Y. point out some tangible justification for continued dissension, or allow the quarrel to cease; that the fellowship of love may spread and deepen, and prove, as it certainly will, a benediction to both Churches and to the Christian world. As love is better than hatred, and peace and purity to be chosen rather than strife and anger, by so much is the basis of the Commission better than the report of the Conference."

Rev. James Mitchell, of the M E Church, an t President of the Virginia Board of Church Extension, makes an appeal to the M. E Church for assistance in Virginia. By the action of the Commissioners at Cape May, the M E. Church suffers a loss of property in Virginia to the amount of $200 000. He does not complain of the action of the Commissioners, by which so serious loss is sustained, but in a spirit of loyalty accepts it as binding and final, and calls upon the rich churches of the North to replace what his church in Virginia has lost—not wholly, but to the extent of $50.-000 in ten annual installments of $5,-000 each. He promises to raise twice that sum by private subscriptions in Virginia for new churches located in such places as will meet the wants of their work and be of most use to the Virginia public. He closes his appeal with this direct and irresistible argumentum ad hominem:

"The large and wealthy Churches of the North, who glory in the grand result of the Commission, will no doubt be forward to share the hardships of their poor brethren in Virginia, inasmuch as the act of their Commissioners has made us still poorer; for we can not conceive that it is their design to invite the world to a festival and sweep our poor mountains of all our cattle, unbidden and unpaid, to procure material for the holocaust."

We see from the Wilson Advance that the new Methodist Church in Wilson was dedicated on the 29th ult., an eloquent sermon being preached by Rev. Dr. Duncan, President of Randolph Macon College, Virginia. Before the formal dedication of the Church, about $700 was subscribed toward the payment of the debt contracted in building. We shall expect from the pastor, Bro Willis, or the P. M., Rev. Yates, an account of the exercises.

Methodist Fraternity.

Through somebody's kind consideration we have received a copy of the Louisville Courier Journal of the 26th ult., which contains a full account of the harmonious fraternity meeting of clergymen and laymen of the Churches North and South, held at the Churches Louisville on the 25th ult

Invitations had been sent out over the country and a large number of preachers and laymen, representing both Churches, had assembled. Bishop Foster, of the M. E. Church, came from Boston, and Bishop Kavanaugh was there representing the Southern Church. Communion services were held and warm "fraternity" speeches were made at the meetings in the morning, afternoon and night, by representatives from both Churches. The action of the Joint Commission of the Churches providing for a settlement of the difficulties and the establishment of fraternal relations was heartily endorsed and made the basis of many bright and hopeful auguries for the future of Methodism in America.

We have not the space to reproduce what was said by the various speakers, as reported by the Courier Journal; but consider that our readers will be interested in the synopsis given of the speeches of the two Bishops.

Bishop Kavanaugh, says the Courier Journal "made a very interesting address, briefly sketching the history of the circumstances which had brought about the meeting of fraternity, and spoke words full of rejoicing over the happy new era in the history of the Church. In the beginning of his remarks he said he was too much in love with his brethren from the other side to say a word to them that would disturb the harmony. He wished to speak to the public and tell how the troubles, now past, grew up in the church. He then entered into a hurried reference to the occurrences which culminated in the action of the General Conference of 1844.

In substance, he said that the Northern brethren contended for the equal rights of all men, and thought it their duty to insist upon it everywhere. Opposition to slavery was at the bottom of it all. The Church had no power to resist the aggression up on this State institution, and could only protest against its moral bearing. In its views upon the subject it was opposed with perseverance and zeal by the Methodist brethren of the North. "Thank God," said the bishop, "whatever was thought of us, we were a great blessing to the slaves in teaching them the blessings and benefits of Christianity."

Persuaded that they would be cut off from their influence over both master and slaves under the government of the M. E. Church as it was, the Southern Methodists, at the conference of 1844, put in their declaration of facts. The Northern brethren had the magnanimity to give to the Southern members a plan of separation to be used if they were convinced that for the good of the slaves and master it was necessary, and went so far as to admit a probability of a separation. The South did not favor the movement as a unit. The vote stood about six to one. The bishop then spoke of the new organization, and assured the audience that the South was not eager for the event. He said that it took him two years to get the gloom off himself.

After the separation there came the bitterest animosities. Soon after the occurrence a brother in the church made a public declaration that the thing was dead and the carcass buried But soon lawsuits, newspaper controversies, personal disputes and troubles of complicated natures arose and there was very little happiness in the situation. But, said the bishop, God stayed with both branches of the Church, and by His providence upheld them and again brought them together. He said the Northern brethren kept after the Southern brethren to come back, but the invitation was refused until the North sent fraternal delegates to the South.

The bishop then referred with pleasure to the interchange of fraternal relations which were brought about by the committee sent from the M. F. Church to the meeting of General Conference in this city in 1874, and spoke of the happiness he felt when Mr. Hunt, one of the committee, made his first speech before the Southern Conference, urging fraternal love and fellowship

The appointment of commissioners to attend the recent General Conference of the church North was the next step taken by the Southern Church. The action of the commissioners was unanimous and harmonious in all they did and forever settled the question, bringing the scattered family back again into one common fold.

The action of these commissioners, he said, justified the declaration of Bishop Janes that this thing is of God and must prevail. He said the work of fraternization had already begun in earnest, and referred to the Round Lake meetings as the first instance.

The question had been asked by what right we withdrew ourselves from the church. He contended that the separation was brought about by a paramount necessity. But he thanked God they were again united, in heart and hand.

Here the bishop spoke of the progress and work of the Church, and said there were now three million Methodists in the world. Bishop Foster rose from a mere lad in his own lifetime. He remembered also when there was but one graduate in the Methodist Church in the United States.

Dr Durbin had said that a century the Methodists would be the most numerous and wealthy people in the United States. He believed that God had but one church on earth that this church stood up of many parts, and that God paid no particular attention to any particular denomination. The Methodist Church was but a small part of God's great family. He pitied the little pretenders who say, "We are God's Church, and there is no other." His faith was that God pardons every penitent sinner in the world, wherever he is, and if he be redeemed by grace he is in God's family.

The bishop greeted the brethren that had come across the river. "Politicians and the other churches" he said, "are glad we've come together again. We will now go out and help each other. I'm going over to your camp meetings next summer and invite you to come to ours." He looked for great results to follow this reunion, and, among other things predicted the genuine revival of the old-time camp meeting spirit, saying that he believed the camp meetings to be the strong fort of the church.

The bishop then dwelt briefly on the beauty, power and necessities of Christianity for the well being of humanity, and closed with a cordial welcome to the visiting brethren then addressed the assembly in response to Bishop Kavanaugh. Before he would say anything specially on this subject, he recurred to the fact alluded to by Bishop Kavanaugh. In all the strifes which have existed between these leaders, there never was a time when there was strife in his bosom, no time during the war but what he had a warm and cordial hand and heart. He believed this was generally known to the Southern Methodist Church. He had labored at home to bring about the state of things about to come about It was a wicked estrangement. The history of the strife has been an ugly one. It has not been simply a separation: it has been a war. A great many words of acrimony have been said, and he could not think of them without a degree of bitterness. The burial of all these unfortunate animosities would bring back reconciliations We have reached the trusted, the normal end. The fraternity proclaimed would be real. These bodies can not be two in substance. Methodism is an essential unity. In [illegible] idea of [illegible] become two people except in name. If we are one people he held that the feeling permeating this body must be one of fraternal love, and will express that love in earnest prayers for each other—prayers in my section for your people, prayers in your section for my people. The prayer will be followed by co-operative effort. These churches have their specific organizations and must be separate in these respects. I believe that notwithstanding the growth of Methodism it has been crippled by those alienations. There are obligations upon our churches for the advancement of the church of God. He remembered that, as Methodist people, they had a trust the stupendous responsibility of maintaining the theology of our church, which is different from six or churches This Methodism should stand hand to hand It needs the consolidated, united power of Methodism to hold up eternal truths. One hundred years ago there was no ism. In one hundred years that factor has come to the front and shown itself to be a most powerful factor. In one hundred years it has accumulated around itself this doctrine. Gathering force, it is the grandest army of brain, muscle and money in the world. There are greater State churches, but no society has presented such a front as the Church to which we belong Methodism is the power and the checkmate to Roman Catholicism There are 2,260,059 members of the two Churches combined—more than all the combined Presbyterians and Baptists in the United States. This great prominence which is given us ought to give us zeal This separation about to be buried ought to be hailed with joy. He wanted the time to come when there should be one flag for Methodism Turning to some of the Southern Church members, he said he wanted the time to come when they would preach in our pulpits the same as in their own. He very much desired that when your people passed into our people their certificates should extend to entire Methodism—one in our spirit, one in our name. He rejoiced in this day: He came simply to express his joy at what was about to be consummated. It was his earnest prayer that nothing would exist to impede our brotherly affections.

BISHOP FOSTER

AN INTERESTING SCENE.

Bishop Kavanaugh asked permission to say a few words more, and would have said more than he expressed doubtless had he not become overpowered with emotion. He started to say something touching on the outlines of the Churches' disasters. But he wanted to see both sides forgive each other as God forgives his children, and as an earnest of his good will in behalf of his people, he extended his hand in the warmest fellowship and love to Bishop Foster

Bishop Foster arose to receive the [illegible] ters clasped each other in a genuine embrace

Bishop Kavanaugh said: "May God's blessing rest upon us forever," and a fervent amen went up from the audience.

The chairman then made a few remarks, and asked the congregation to sing as a parting song, "Shall we gather at the River?" During the singing a general handshaking took place in the audience and among the ministers on the stage, and then the audience was dismissed, Bishop Foster pronouncing the benediction."

A few weeks since we received from Bro. J. M Rhodes, the worthy pastor of Fifth St. Church in Wilmington, and Secretary of the Wilmington District Conference lately held at Bethany Church a report of the proceedings of the Conference. At the time it was received we had not sufficient space to admit the proceedings entire and published only part thereof, promising to publish the remainder as we might find space. We intended to publish all of the proceedings proper at that time and leave the Reports of Committees for future publication; but, in separating the manuscript with that view, we unintentionally omitted to place a part of the proceedings proper in the hands of the printer. This week we publish the remainder of the proceedings and Reports of Committees on our first page.

We regret that Bro. Rhodes' report was thus divided, as to some it may have appeared imperfect at first and have failed to reflect correctly the true efficiency of Bro. R., as a secretary. We wrote to him explaining the omission satisfactorily, and deem this public explanation due him, the Presiding Elder, ministers and people of Wilmington District

TRINITY COLLEGE.

Revival. A revival lasting nearly three weeks has just closed. There were fifty-seven conversions, and thirty accessions to the Church. Nearly all the students were brought under its influence, also the village and surrounding country. Great good was accomplished Two of the converts stood up with the others to say that they would join the Episcopal Church They belong to Episcopal families; one or more, belonging to Presbyterian families will join that Church.

Regular Classes Thirteen Seniors, twenty two Juniors, twenty one Sophomores, and eigateen Freshmen

Senior Class The class belong to churches as follows: ten to the M E Church, South; one to the Presbyterian; one to the Christian Church, and [illegible]

Good Templars. They flourish at Trinity, not only in numbers but in good works. They have driven liquor from the surrounding townships, and keep no secrets for those who buy or sell or drink To the ladies all the thanks are due.

Average Age. The average age of the students this session is over nineteen years.

Itinerant's Bible. There is in the College Library, the Bible owned and used by Rev Christopher S. Moring; it was presented by J. W. Bell. The book was printed in Edinburgh, Scotland, in 1766 Its well worn leaves show the drift of the preacher's mind, and possibly the peculiarities of his preaching. The Psalms and Proverbs are nearly worn out; the 13th and 57th Psalms seem to have been his special delight. Next in order of use Isaiah 55, 58, 59, 60th chapters; then Matt 5, 6, 7; John 3, 14; Rom. 5, 6, 7, 8; the whole of Ephesians, and the First Epistle of John. Except in the 57th Psalm, there is not a pencil mark in the book.

The Museum In it are a brick from the Great Wall and the capital of a column from the Porcelain town, China; the Electrical Machine and Telescope of John Wesley; a vertebra nine inches in diameter; and the tooth of a shark that must have been seven ty five feet long.

Absent Two students are temporarily absent; J. R Maston of Winston, called home by death of his father, Joseph Maston, Esq; and E. F. Barringer, of Montgomery co., whose father's house, including all his furniture and outhouses, was burned Oct. 29th.

Law Students. Trinity has five alumni at Judge Pearson's Law School: J T LeGrand, of Richmond, B F Long of Graham; J C Black and J R Brown, of Randolph; and C L Heitman, of Lexington.

'Ten-Day's Prayer-Meeting'

MESSRS EDITORS: In the noble article from the New York Christian Advocate, quoted by you last week, the writer says:

"The great revival that launched the infant Church originated in ten-day's prayer meeting."

I do not count the days that way. It was just a "week of prayer."

Jesus rose from the grave on the third day, (after the Passover) and showed himself to His disciples forty days which left just seven days, till Pentecost.

They spent these seven days, "with one accord in one place" in prayer, and then the blessing came

A. D. BETTS.

Several prominent Congregational and Presbyterian ministers, occupying important churches, have recently resigned on account of the financial embarrassments of their congrega [illegible]

AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY,
DISTRICT OF NORTH AND SOUTH CAROLINA,
Wilmington, N. C., October 17, 1876.

To the Officers and Friends of the Bible Cause in the above field:

DEAR BRETHREN: In the September number of the Bible Record is the following announcement: The Board of Managers (of the American Bible Society), in their last Annual Report expressed the opinion that the time had come when many of the Auxiliaries especially in the older States, might be relied upon to carry on the work for which they were organized without oversight by Agents employed at the expense of the American Bible Society, and that the number of District Superintendents might be reduced without detriment to the same. After carefully maturing their plans, the Board, in the re-arrangement of territory, assigned me to North and South Carolina; and in the instructions to Superintendents it is stated, that it will not be necessary for them to visit annually every auxiliary on their fields for the purpose of attending their anniversaries, adjusting their accounts, and securing orders for books to replenish their depositories But whenever, by their counsel and advice, they can assist an auxiliary in organizing its work, especially on the volunteer plan, they will, either by correspondence or personal visitation, render all the assistance in their power in carrying the Bible to the homes of the people

The District Superintendents will still be the channels of communication between the Parent Society and its auxiliaries, imparting to them needful information, and visiting them for special purposes when directed to do so by the Executive Officers. These changes have been made in the interest of economy and to enlarge the benevolent operations of the cause; and it is hoped that the officers and friends of the auxiliaries will meet the expectations excited, and carry forward with new zeal the great work committed to them.

I shall watch, with prayerful interest, over all the operations of this field; and I appeal to you, my brethren and co laborers, to co operate, in your several places, in the one system of Bible distribution, and to aim to have every soul within our territory supplied with the bread of life. Apply freely to me for information and advice: keep up your organizations with vigor, see that your depositories are always well supplied with Bibles, and annually hold public meetings and report to me on the schednles which I will send to you. Endeavor to widen the interest in your auxiliaries, make it a rule to have anniversary meetings and speakers engaged for the occasion, and exert yourselves to enlist in your work the ministers and churches within your fields.

Hoping to be in constant communication with you, and praying for your success in the great cause,

I am, fraternally yours,
C. H. WILLEY, DIST. SUPT.
For American Bible Society in North and South Carolina.

The Grandeur of Faith.

We recently called on a lady of culture and refinement, who, having just taken possession of a new house with elegant surroundings, had suddenly been called to face the approach of a fearful disease that seemed beyond human power to avert. With a loving husband and winsome daughter, with a home filled with evidences of wealth and taste, encircled by warm, true-hearted friends, with everything earthly to make life glad and joyous, we remarked—"You have everything to live for Does it not depress you to think that all this must be given up if this disease is not stayed?" The reply, simple, earnest, truthful, was "Why, I have everything to die for!"

Oh! the grandeur and the beauty of that faith which sees, through the rifted clouds, the glory beyond, which can say, amidst deepest darkness, "the morning cometh:" that faith which, with "things seen and temporal," most beautiful and attractive, can raise one up into a full appreciation of "the things that are unseen and eternal;" that faith which bridges over the river, enabling the believer to tread with firm footstep and alone the way to the unknown land; that faith which will lead one encircled by richest of earthly gifts to say, "I have everything to die for!"—Advance.

Well-Built Christians

A well built Christian is harmonious in all his parts No one trait shames another. He is not a jumble of inconsistencies—to-day devout to-morrow frivolous; to day liberal to one cause, and to morrow liberal to another; to day fluent in prayer, and morrow fluent in polite falsehoods. He does not keep the fourth commandment on the Sunday, and break the eighth on the Monday. He does not shirk an honest debt to make a huge donation. He is not in favor of temperance for other folk, and of a glass of toddy for himself. He does not exhort or pray at each of the few meetings he attends, to make up for the more meetings which he neglects. He does not so consume his spiritual fuel during revival seasons that he is cold as Nova Zembla during all the rest of the time; nor do his spiritual fervor ever out run his well-ordered conversation.—Guyler.

Once in a Life-Time.

He begs to be excused from helping to build a Church at A, because he lately had a heavy burden in assisting to build one at B.

The Church at B. was built 20 years ago!! It is [illegible] to be erected [illegible]

Religious Intelligence

Nine Presbyterian clergymen are already ordained from among Sioux Indian converts.

Rev. H. W Syle, a deaf mute, was ordained as an Episcopal minister in Philadelphia on the 8th ult

It is said that during the past year two thousand and forty three French Catholics in Montreal abjured the papal religion

Dr. Cyrus Hamlin has commenced his series of six lectures at the Yale Seminary on the religious and political character of the Turkish Empire and its relation to missions.

Rev. Dr. John P. Durbin, for many years a leading Methodist minister, died in New York recently, in the seventy-sixth year of his age.

The Herald and Presbyter deals out a drop of sarcastic comfort to stingy souls by saying, "It is easy to drop a nickel into the contribution box and reflect that our Lord commended one who gave less."

There are no less than seven thousand two hundred Christian congregations in the Island of Madagascar, numbering two hundred and sixty thousand worshippers.

Miss Mary A. Boardman, late of Philadelphia, (sister of the Rev Dr. Henry A. Boardman,) by her last will bequeathed to the Trustees of Princeton Theological Seminary the sum of $3,500, for the purpose of founding a scholarship in that Seminary.

A Presbyterian church has been organized in Orange county, Va., called the "Waddell Church," after the celebrated blind preacher, Dr James Waddell, who had an estate in that county, and preached without remuneration to a small congregation in a log church.

Education in Japan is coming more and more under Christian influences. The present Government director of the Imperial University at Tokio (Yeddo) is Hatakeyama, a native Christian gentleman, who was educated in America, and who now wields an immense influence in his own country.

The Presbytery of New Orleans, says in a paper unanimously adopted that the Southern Church cannot negotiate on the basis of reciprocity so long as the Northern Church refuses to confess that it has used language to be regretted and so long as its charges against the Northern Church of spoliation of property are not met by confession and reparation.

Referring to Moody's going to Boston, the Watchman says: "What this ancient New England metropolis more needs than aught beside, is a revival of 'pure religion' that shall be pervasive and powerful enough to reach and stir to its profounder depths the popular heart. We have had too many partial and superficial excitements, but too few revivals reaching down through the influence of the Holy Ghost, deep into the very foundation of society."

One of the students of Yale Theological Seminary has been obliged to leave by being recalled by his church—of the Covenanters—with the admonition that the year spent at the Seminary would not be reckoned as one of theological study, and that he would be excommunicated if he sang the religions songs and hymns in the chapel services, or cast a vote for any civil ruler.

Notice.

The Presiding Elders will please furnish me, immediately, the names of the lay delegates elected to the approaching Annual Conference; also, the names of local preachers who will attend either for admission on trial in the traveling connection, or for ordination.

We must have the names of all to provide homes for them.

S. D. ADAMS

NORTH CAROLINA

The taxes of Burke county amount to $19.500.00.

Mooresville post office in Cleveland county has been discontinued.

A negro at Scotland Neck drank a pint of whiskey and died from the effects.

About 6,000,000 lbs of tobacco have been sold at Durham this year.

Statesville is in telegraphic communication with the world.

Dr. F. J. Cultar, an old and highly esteemed physician of Wilmington, died in that city on the 29th ult.

Rev. D. A. Long, of Graham, and Miss Carrie E. Bell, of Enfield, were married on the 25th ult,

A fire in Lexington on the 23d ult. destroyed the stores of Mess. C. F. Lowe and J. M. Earnhardt.

Mess. J. W. Perry, J. T. Patterson, J. I. Beach and Jonas Ramsay, of Burke county, formerly prominent republicans, have allied themselves with the Democrats.

The Grand Jury of Lincoln county has found a bill of indictment against Mr. J. C Jenkins, of Charlotte, for libel of Rev J. T. Harris.

A petition has been offered for a special term of the Superior Court for Beaufort county, for the trial of civil cases only.

The tax for county purposes in Wayne county for 1876 is only 28½ cents on the hundred dollars, the lowest tax paid since the war.

Mr. T C Coghill has recently discovered some very fine specimens of slate on

The Roanoke News says that the late Fair at Weldon was a success in every particular,

Mr. F. B McDowell, of the Charlotte Observer, was thrown from his horse at the political demonstration at Charlotte on the 1st inst., and was considerably bruised.

The Democrats at Charlotte postponed the rejoicing over the October election in Indiana until last week and then demonstrated largely. About 5,000 people were in the torchlight procession at night and speeches were made by Judge Cook of South Carolina, Col. F. E. Shober, Col. Steele and others.

Alexander Stevenson has disappeared mysteriously from his home in Stokes county and the community are on the hunt.

The bale of cotton that is going the rounds and being sold for the benefit of the Orphan Asylum, brought $125 in Fayetteville.

Dr. W. G. Hill, of Raleigh, moved by a letter of Mr. Mills, Superintendent of the Orphan Asylum, exerted himself a few days and collected $31.50 for the Asylum.

Mr. James Maris, of Orange, is a Granger and for several weeks was, by reason of sickness, unable to attend to his farm. His brother Grangers gathered at his house, bringing with them a supply of seed wheat, and in one day put in his full crop. Several bushels of wheat remaining were left for the use of the family.

Gen. W. H. Neal, of Mecklenburg county, whose mills on the Catawba River were destroyed last Spring by the freshet, has rebuilt and supplied them with improved machinery.

At a corn shucking in Lane's Creek settlement, Union Co., William Holley and George Mills became involved in a quarrel and fought, Mills being fatally stabbed by Holley. Holley was arrested and confined in the jail at Monroe.

There are 25 Good Templar Lodges in Wake county, and a membership of over 1.000. There are 250 Lodges in the State with a membership of over 10.000.

The Masonic Journal, printed in Greensboro as a weekly heretofore, will be issued hereafter as a semi-monthly, at a reduced price. The size will remain the same, but the paper will be furnished at $1.50 a year, or 75 cents for 6 months. All unexpired subscriptions will be extended to correspond with the change.

Lawson Scott, a tobacco planter near Milton, sold his tobacco at a good price in Danville, and on his way home dropped his pocket-book from his side pocket and lost $250 in money and about $300 in bonds and due bills.

The Nut Shell learns that robbers entered the residence of Mrs. Cherry, the postmistress at Bay River, and, proceeding to the bed-room of Mrs. Midyett, who was alone in the house, the ruffians assaulted the defenceless woman, inflicting blows on her head which soon rendered her insensible. They then ransacked and plundered the house and escaped.

Stanford Lee, living nine miles from Durham, was killed while ginning cotton. The Sentinel says: "The young man was about twenty years of age, and was driving the horses to the gin when they suddenly stopped, and the man above called out to him to go ahead several times, but getting no answer, he went below and found his head literally mashed with the brains out. It is supposed his head was caught in some of the machinery above while riding around on the driving wheel."

Mr. George Shepherd lives about 6 miles from Durham and after he and his wife had retired, but before they had fallen asleep, a negro, armed with a heavy club, rushed into the room and attempted to murder Mr. S. and his wife. He struck Mr. S. several times with the club; one blow fell upon Mrs S. inflicting a slight wound. The negro then began his search for money and found $16, but when he saw that Mr. S. had recovered and seized his gun, he beat a hasty retreat, joining another negro in the yard who kept watch while the other plundered. The negroes are known but their arrest has not been effected.

Edward Mathews, of New York, the owner of Carolina Central Railroad, has failed in business and is said to be hopelessly bankrupt. Four years ago his rentals from property in New York amounted to $800,000 a year.

The Raleigh News of the 3rd inst. chronicles the following terrible calamity:

Night before last Mr. Matthew Hicks, who lived near Wake Forest College, in this county, was struck to death, he and his youngest child, while in bed and asleep. The casualty was occasioned by the falling in of the second floor, it having been overloaded with seed cotton. The wife was also in bed with her husband and child, but escaped without receiving fatal injuries, though she was insensible at last accounts.

Col. Wharton J. Green is a candidate for Congress in the 2d District against Gov. Brogden.

An elegant gold headed cane was presented to Gen Cox, Chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, last week. It bore this inscription: "To Gen W. R. Cox, from the Democratic Party of North Carolina."

Col. Masten, who recently died in Winston, was the oldest on the list of Trinity College graduates who are lawyers.

A photographer has been at Trinity College taking pictures of the buildings, grounds, &c., trying to show to the world a part of what the big brain of a man up there has done.

Miss Octavia Belvin, of Raleigh, a young lady just entering her teens, met with a sad accident last Sunday. She had a rope hitched to a fence with a nail in the end of it, and was turning the rope when the end came loose and flying in her face knocked the ball of one eye out.

Cough, Hoarseness, Asthma, or any Irritation of the Throat or Bronchial Tubes, will be relieved by taking Dr. Ball's Cough Syrup. It has cured thousands. Recommend it to your friend and neighbor. Your druggist keeps it.

The Christian Advocate

PUBLISHED IN THE CITY OF RALEIGH EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING, THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR POSTAGE PAID.

Our Agents.

All the traveling and local preachers in the bounds of the North Carolina Conference are our authorized Agents. Any person sending us ten subscribers, for one year, will receive the paper free.

Our Correspondents.

Communications for publication should be carefully written and on but one side of the sheet. All letters of the office should be addressed to the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

How to Remit.

In sending money, all amounts should be sent in registered letter, post office order or check. The cost of registration, or Post Office order can be deducted from the amount in hand. If money is sent otherwise than herein specified, it will be at the sender's risk.

INDEX TO NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ASTHMA AND CATARRH REMEDY—D Langeil's advt.

Situation as Teacher Wanted.

Free! D. A. Ray & Co. Chicago.

Universal History—J. C McCurdy & Co.

Court Notice—Publication of Summons

Georgia Home Insurance Company. See the advertisement of one of the best fire insurance companies in the country. It is officered by good and responsible men, has ample capital and resources, pays losses promptly and does a large but safe business. It is represented in this city by Messrs P. F. Pescud & Son, as General Agents, and as its special agent in the supervision of its business in North and South Carolina and Virginia, has the invaluable services of our popular, talented and handsome young townsman, Mr P. F. Pescud, Jr. The character of the company and its management invites success; and the company insures itself, as far as extending its business is concerned, in engaging the services of Mr. Pescud. He is as popular in business circles as in refined society—and that is saying much.

FERSER'S NORTH CAROLINA ALMANAC.—We have received from Mr. Emniss Turner's N C. Almanac for the year 1877. This is the 40th year of its publication, and it is an excellent annual. Besides the usual calendars, calculations etc., it contains invaluable recipes useful in domestic life, miscellaneous selections, anecdotes, etc. It contains, also, under the head of "Annual State Record" a short historical sketch of the principal and noteworthy events that have occurred in our State during the year that has elapsed since the last number of the Almanac was published; a Financial and statistical exhibit of the State; a Record of Towns, their population, &c.; North Carolina Necrology, a record of the death of prominent North Carolinians between Oct. 1875 and Oct. 1876; North Carolina Personals, &c., &c., &c. It is an almanac that ought to be in every household, and its excellence is to be ascribed to the industrious work of the compiler, Mr. Emniss. Price 10 cents. J. H. Emniss, Bookseller, Raleigh, N. C.

General News.

For the year 10,000 wages are thrown in New York city.

The office of Secretary in New York was opened and robbed of $27,000 in jewels.

The Yellow Fever is raging in Savannah. Absentees are returning to it in small but appreciable force.

By the suspension of work at Coal Mines in Pennsylvania, about 30,000 men are thrown out of employment.

Dr. J. C. Ayer, the "Pill" man, built a town and called the town where he lives, at a cost of $50,000

Nast, the artist of Harper's Weekly, receives $200 a week for his services

A Springfield (Mass) teacher has been absent from school only four times in 16 years

The records of the Supreme Court of Virginia show that but one case of divorce was ever brought before it.

The Rhode Island census of 1875 gives to the population of the State at 258,239, of which Providence has 100,675.

During the year which ended last June seventy-six newspapers and magazines were started in Japan.

The income of the charities of London amount to nearly twelve and a half millions of dollars per annum.

Victor Hugo, says a correspondent of the London Gazette, is the simplest of mortals, although he is worth more than $500,000.

Mrs Harriet Prescott Spofford is described by a paragrapher as a large-minded little person with beautiful eyes, a sweet voice, and most refined and womanly manners."

King Louis of Bavaria, has returned to unexpectedly and mysteriously as he vanished. The ministers were discussing his absence in the council chamber when he walked in and said: "Now, gentlemen to business."

The next President of the United States will be—T W Ferry of Michigan, who will be d the president from 12 a. m. to 12 m., March 5 1876

A YOUTH'S PUBLICATION.—For half a century the Youth's Companion, of Boston, has been published. It was started in 1827, and is to-day one of the brightest and most vigorous papers with which we are acquainted.

Dr Wm. F. Stewart, Marine Hospital, Port of Baltimore: " " " I take pleasure in recommending Cold n's Liebig's Liquid Extract of Beef as a most excellent Tonic and invigorator of the system. I have tested it with universal success." Williams & Haywood, Agents.

Marriages.

Married in Wilmington, N. C, on the 30th of October, by Rev. James E. Mann, Mr Benjamin F. White to Miss Eliza McDuffie, daughter of the late George McDuffie.

Married by Rev. Jacob Sheek, on the 26th ult, at the residence of Mrs. Ellen McDaniel, Samuel Garlet to Telitha McDaniel, all of Davie county.

Married Oct. 17th, 1876 by Rev. J. J. Renn, Mr. O. B Tenney and Miss Mollie Ward, all of Chapel Hill, N. C.

Married in Tallahatchee co., Miss., Oct. 25, 1876, by the Rev J P Lancer, assisted by the Rev Mr A W Wilson of the Presbyterian Church, Rev Q A Owen of the North Mississippi Conference, a native of Moore county, N. C, and Miss Ida Bother.

Married on the 24th inst by Rev R C Anderson, assisted by Rev L. E Stacey, at the residence of the bride's father, Maj L. W. Anderson, Mr. Wm Gunsman and Miss Augusta Anderson all of Stokes Co., N. C

Married in Goldsboro, N. C., Oct. 26, 1876 by the Rev. Jos. R. Brooks, Mr. Richard G. Powell and Miss Kate, eldest

Deaths.

Obituary notices of twenty lines will be published without charge. The excess over twenty lines of four words is charged for at the rate of 10 cents per line. Count the lines and allow four words to the line. In this way you may always know the amount to enclose. Resolutions of respect are subject to the same rule.

Died in Chapel Hill, N. C., Sept 28th, Carrie E Alexander, aged 4 years.

Also Sept 29th, Daniel Alexander, age 3 months.

Also, Oct 14th, Rosa Lee Alexander, aged 6 years.

Also Oct 28th Ida C. Alexander, aged 8 years.

These were children of Mr. and Mrs J. M. Alexander whose hearts are almost crushed beneath this sad and mysterious dispensation of Providence. Surely the Lord is leading them by a way that they do not know: but He has said. "What I do thou knowest not now but thou shalt know hereafter." He knows what is best and can only do that which is right. He gives, and again He take away only to give again to those who love Him "exceeding abundantly above all that they can ask or think."

Carrie, Rosa and Ida died of diptheria.

The first was the pet—almost the idol—of her grand-parents, and her early death has left a silence and gloom in their hearts that is unspeakable. The last was a child of affliction—was a patient sufferer all her life—and in her the warmest sympathies of the parents naturally centered. Young as she was she had given herself to Jesus in positive and very faith, and not only lived but worked for Him. Rosa was a healthy, lovely child. Little Mabel, like the early Spring flowers smiled on the world and passed away.

What a change has come over the home the last few short months. It was enlivened by the bright, beautiful boys if five promising and lovely daughters in rapid succession they faded from view like the beautiful stars of the morning, hiding themselves in the glory of the rising sun until only one is left to cheer the hearts of the stricken parents. But we know that they are only concealed in the Son of Righteousness—"hid with Christ in God"—to be revealed and restored in never failing beauty, in the "morning when the dead in Christ shall hear his voice and the sea shall give up its dead." While standing by their little graves how bright and precious are the words of Jesus: "Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

In memory of sister Mary E Gattis, who departed this life Oct 20th, 1876.

Sister Gattis was a devoted christian wife and mother. She leaves a devoted husband, and children to mourn her death.

Her christian example is worthy of imitation.

She was for a number of years a member of the Methodist E. Church, South, and died a triumphant death.

Her memory will remain to time immemorial. Her passing from earth reminded me very forcibly of the following poem:

It is not death to die,
To leave this weary road,
And midst the brotherhood on high
To be at home with God.

It is not death to close
The eye long drained by tears,
And wake in glorious repose
To spend eternal years.

It is not death to fling
Aside this sinful dust,
And rise on strong exulting wings
To live among the just.

Jesus, thou Prince of life,
Thy chosen cannot die;
Like thee, they conquer in the strife
To reign with thee above.

J. D. H.

In Goldsboro, N. C, Oct. 13, 1876., Mrs Mary E. Jones, wife of Mr. A. G. Jones, formerly of Warren county, N. C.

Mrs Jones had resided but a short time in Goldsboro, but her new acquaintances had learned to love her very much. Her bereaved husband has the sympathy of the community.

J. R. B.

At her residence in Chapel Hill, early on Sunday morning, Oct 22nd 1876, Mrs Cornelia Weaver, the beloved wife of Mr. Luther Weaver, and daughter of James Watson Esq.

The messenger came suddenly for Mrs. Weaver, and on human judgment, at an untimely hour. She had just completed her twenty-fourth year and was a happy wife, and the mother of three little ones, the youngest but ten days old. Lovely in person and character loving and well beloved by all who knew her, life had opened fairly in a round of sweet domestic duties and pleasures in which she was well qualified to make the happiness of all associated with her, shall we then arraign the Providence that withdrew her and reduce to be a mortal? She herself did not so, but when she understood that she had been sent for, she obeyed the summons without a murmur. A member of the Methodist Church from early womanhood, she was an intelligent, meek and loving Christian; and parents she calmly expressed them to the solemn journey before her, with sweet submission and a sustained hope. As her feet touched the brim of the river, heaven opened to her view, and she passed over, leaning on the arm of her Saviour. We must weep when we think of her, but we will not repine for the light that was never on sea or shore' falls on her grave.

The family of our old friend Mr. Jones Wagon, has been sadly afflicted of late. Their sorrows have come, "not single, but in battalions." Besides this dear daughter, he has lost within three weeks four lovely little grand daughters, under twelve years of age the children of his daughter, our dear M, wife of Mr. A C M.

"Thy will be done, for they all to pass in the bosom of Divine Mercy."

Durham Recorder please copy.

S.

IN MEMORIAM.

Died in Enfield N C Oct 19th 1876, dauhe infant of Mr. Joseph Rumpass and wife, formerly Miss Emma Bobbitt, of Enfield N. C.

Only a few weeks did this little one try the stormy scenes of earth. She launched her tiny boat and soon gained the haven, on the other shore. Blessed are the early dead! They know not the sorrows that come to older hearts. Then how submissively we should give them up to the keeping of the dear Saviour, who said "let the little ones come unto me!"

May this affliction be sanctified to the great good of the parents, grand-parents, uncles and aunts. May this gentle cord draw them to seek and secure that happy home she now enjoys.

A Friend.

Letters and Funds.

Mrs L M Leach sell $3 50 Mrs V H Craig sell 2 20 Rev W M Robey paper continued Rev P F W Stamey for Noah Alexander 4 20 Jas Furgerson 2 20 St Louis adv Co 9 th Waters & Sons R L Gilkey sell 2 20 Y H Brinkley sell 2 20 W W Sharpe & Co G E Gilmer S Collins & Co Rev J J Renn paper sent Rev Ira T Wyche for E Bullard 2 20 h Townsend 2 20 Mrs S McKay 2 50 Rev Q A Oates Rev J Tillett R P Tree Mrs M McAllister sell 2 20 H W Spinks sell 1 Rev J J Renn H C Andrews 2 75 Rev C H Hasselbeck for ad 1 Rev T J Garris paper sent Mrs C T Spencer M L Harrison paper continued R C Anderson Rev R H Whitaker 50cts If A Abernethy for J H Johnston 2 20 M W Cornelius 80 cents R C Triplett sell 2 30 Rev J E Thompson W Hall paper changed N W Ayer & Sons Mrs D B Everitt sell 2 20.

There is not much pomp and lordly state about the English Governor of Fiji. Sir Arthur Gordon. He and his suite and his native guests often sit down to dinner, eat a

The 4th of March during inauguration year has fallen on Sunday in 1821 and 1849, and will in 1877, 1905, 1917, 1945, 1973, 2001, 2029, 2057, 2085, 2125, 2153, 2181, 2221 and 2609.

APPOINTMENTS.

WASHINGTON DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Washington,	Sept.	3- 3
Greenville at Greenville,	"	9 10
Tarboro, at McKendree,	"	16-17
Warrenton,	Sept. 30, & Oct.	- 1
Roanoke at Rehel,	"	7- 8
warren at Cokesberry,	"	14-15
Williamston at Hamilton,	"	21-22
Plymouth and Jamesville, at Jamesville	"	24 25
Columbia, at Columbia,	"	28-29
Skuttawhoket, at Fairfield,	Nov	4- 5
Bath at Asbury,	"	11-12
Washington at night on	"	-12

WM. CLOSE, P. E.
Tolsnot, N. C.

NEWBERN DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Kinston Station,	Sept.	16-17
Newbern Station,	"	23-24
Beaufort Station,	Oct.	7- 8
Straits,	"	14-15
Snow Hill, Rainbow,	"	21-22
Wilson station.	"	28-29
Carteret, Harlowe's,	Nov.	4- 5
Neuse, Aurora,	"	11 12
Craven, Beach Grove, Tues & Wed.	"	14 15
Piney Grove,	"	18-19
Jones, Oak Grove,	"	18-19
Mt. Olive Friday,	"	-24
Wayne, Fremont,	"	25-26
Goldsboro Sab. night & Mon.	"	-27

E. A. YATES, P. E.
Beaufort, N C.

FAYETTEVILLE DISTRICT
4TH ROUND—IN PART.

Jonesboro ct. at Coot Spring,	Oct	7- 8
Buck Horn Cokesbury,	"	14-15
Pee Dee Philadelphia	"	21-22
Rockingham Rockingham.	"	28-29
Robeson,	Nov.	4- 5
Laurenburg Laurenburg	"	11-12

J. S. NELSON, P. E
Fayetteville, N. C

GREENSBORO DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.—Q. M. IN PART.

Forsythe ct at Tabor.	Oct	7- 8
Davidson ct Wesley Chapel,	"	14-15
North Guilford, Milton Chapel,	"	21-22
Madison, Madison,	"	28-29
Randolph ct at Ashboro,	Nov.	11 12
Thomasville & Hi Point,	Th'm'sville	" 18 19
Trinity College,	"	25-26
South Guilford, Holt's Chapel,	"	25-26

N H, D WILSON, P E

RALEIGH DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND—1876.

Raleigh Person St,	Aug.	26 -27
Granville Mt Tabor,	Sept,	2- 3
Henderson Tabernacle,	"	16 17
Youngsville,	"	23 24
Somerville Rolesville, Sept 30th,	Oct,	1
College Edenton St.	"	7- 8
Cary, Hollands,	"	14-15
Louisburg,	"	21-22
Forest River Franklinton,	"	28 -29
Rocky Mt & Nash ville, Tolsnot,	at Tolsnot, Nov.	4 5
Smithfield,	"	11-12

J. P. MOORE, P. E.
Warrenton, N. C.

HILLSBORO DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Durham sta.	Sept.	23 24
Alamance ct. Philip's Chapel,	Oct.	1
Hillsboro et Chatham Church,	"	7- 8
Deep River ct Providence,	"	14-15
C Hill & H River, Mt. Pleasant,	"	21-22
Flat River ct Grange Church,	"	28-29
Person ct Mt. Tirzah,	Nov.	4- 5
Leasburg ct Lea's Chapel,	"	11-12
Yanceyville ct Shady Grove,	"	18-19
Hillsboro sta.	"	25-26

L. L. HENDREN, P. E.
Chapel Hill, N C.

SALISBURY DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Statesville sta.	Sept.	9 10
Statesville ct, Salem,	"	16-17
Yadkinville, Center, (C. M.)	Oct.	1- 2
Mt. Airy & S Mission, Salem.	"	7- 8
Surry ct, & B R Mission, Thompson's	"	14 15
Wilke. c. Wilksboro,	"	21-22
Alexander ct. Liberty (C. M.)	"	23-24
Rockdell ct. Eagle Mills,	"	28-29
Mooresville, ct. McKendree's,	Nov.	4- 5
Salisbury, ct Harris'	"	11-12
Salisbury sta.	"	12-13
Davie ct. Smith Grove,	"	18-19
Mocksville ct. South River	"	25 26

D. R. BRUTON, P. E.
Statesville, N. C.

WILMINGTON DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Magnolia, at Salem,	Sept.	8-10
Wilmington, 5th Street,	"	16-17
Cokesbury, at Bethany,	"	20-24
Kenansville, at Wesley Chapel. Sept 30, and	Oct.	1
Smithville at Smithville,	"	7 8
Onslow, at Tabernacle,	"	14-15
Wilmington, Front Street,	"	21-22
Elizabeth, at Bladen Springs,	"	28-29
Bladen at Antioch,	Nov.	4- 5
Whiteville and Waccamaw Miss.	"	11,12
Topsail at Rocky Point.	"	18 19
Clinton, at Coshen,	"	25--26

W. S. BLACK.
Magnolia, N. Ca

CHARLOTTE DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Monroe ct. at Prospect,	Oct	7- 8
Lillesville ct. at Shiloh,	"	14-15
Wadesboro sta.	"	-18
South Charlotte ct. at Zion,	"	21-22
Stanley ct,	"	-27
Albemarle ct.	"	28-29
Mt Pleasant ct.	Nov.	- 1
Concord ct,	"	4- 5
Mooresville ct,	"	-11
Statesville ct, at Popular Hill,	"	11-12
Pleasant Grovect at Wesley Chapel	"	14-15
Pineville ct, at Harrisons,	"	-17
Monroe sta.	"	18-16
Charlotte.	"	25-29

The Local Preachers will please remember the discipline requires that they shall report in writing the extent and result of their labors to the Fourth Quarterly Conference.

W. H. ROBBITT, P. E.
Monroe, N. C.

SHELBY DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Columbus,	Aug.	26-27
Butherfordton,	"	-29
Happy Home,	Sept.	2- 3
Caldwell, C.M.	"	9-10
South Fork, C. M.	"	16-17
Dallas, C. M.	"	23-24
Dobbin Shoals, C. M.,	Sept. 30,	Oct. - 1
Shelby & C. M.	"	" 15
Upper Broad River,	"	" -19
Marion (Bellefonte	"	" 21-22
Shelby station,	"	" 28-29
Morganton,	"	Nov. 4- 5
Dysartsville,	"	" 11-12
Lenoir station,	"	" 11-12
Lincolnton,	"	" 11-12
Rock Spring,	"	" 18-19
Newton,	"	" 25-26

R. G. BARRETT, P. E.
Shelby, N. C

COMMERCIAL REPORT,

WHOLESALE CASH PRICES.

Office of CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, Oct. 23d, 1876

REMARKS.

Business greatly improved. Country produce offered in quantities; especially in exchange for groceries

General Market.

FLOUR, North Carolina $7@8.50.
CORN 75 to 80
DRY MEAL—100
BACON, Smoked 10 1-2 @ 11 1-2.
" Dunda 11 1-2,
BACON, N. C. sog round, 14, to 16.
" hams 14 1-2 to 16
BULK C. R. sides, 12 1-2
" shoulders, 9 to 10 1-2
LARD, North Carolina, 10 1-2
" Western tierces, 11 1-2@
" kegs, 12 1-2@13 1-2
COFFEE, Prime Rio, 24 1-2
" Fair Rio, 23
SYRUP, common, 37 1-2
MOLASSES, Cuba, 50.
SALT $2.25.
CHEESE, Cream, 12 1-2.
" Factory, 11.
" Dairy, none.
NAILS, on basis 10d, $4.00.
SUGAR A, 10 1-2.
" extra C, 11 1-4.
" Yellow, 10@11
LEATHER, sole 27 1-2@30
HIDES, green, 6@7.
" dry, 15 to 17
TALLOW, 7@8
POTATOES, sweet 75
" Irish, $1.00@$1.25.
OATS, shelled, 80
" sheaf, $1.25
FODDER, old, $1.50. New 1.25
HAY, N. C. bales, 1.00
CHICKENS, grown, 30
" young, 20@30
EGGS, 20
BUTTER, country, 25@30
FISH, Mullets, $4 to $5.

The Georgia Home
INSURANCE COMPANY,
Columbus, Ga.

Seventeenth Annual Statement, January 1st, 1876.

Cash Capital	$300,000 00
Surplus Fund	224,420.22
Total Assets,	$524 420.22
Losses paid since the organization of the Company,	$1,300,000.00

☞By the provisions of the charter the private property of the Stockholders is bound for the obligations of the Company.

Will issue policies on Dwelling Houses, Barns, Store houses, Merchandize, Cotton Factories, and all other insurable property.

This Company issues Policies on the participating plan on Dwellings and similar risks—the dividends on which are usually from 20 to 25 per cent per year.

P. F. PESCUD & SON, Gen'l Agents N C., Raleigh, N. C. | P. F. PESCUD, Jr., Special Agent of Company, Raleigh, N. C.

nov 8.

NOTICES.

The season for coughs and colds is rapidly approaching, and every one should be prepared to check the first symptoms, as a cough contracted between now and Christmas frequently lasts all winter. There is no better remedy than Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. For all diseases of the throat and lungs it should be used internally and externally.

Lung fever, common cold, catarrhal fever, and nasal discharge of a brownish color in horses may be checked at once by liberal use of Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders.

How Awfully Culpable

Must be those afflicted with Consumption Bronchitis, Asthma or any disease of the Lungs Throat or Chest, who neglect to use Dr. TUTT'S EXPECTORANT after reading the following letter, written by one of the most estimable ladies in the South:

SAVANNAH, GA., April 28, 1872.

DR. TUTT:

In gratitude for the benefit received by the use of your Expectorant, I do cheerfully add my testimony to its wonderful power in curing deep-seated coughs. For several years I suffered dreadfully with a cough attended with great difficulty of breathing. I was induced to try your Expectorant, and it gave almost immediate relief. I took six bottles and am now perfectly restored. It is about five months since I began to use, and I have not had an attack since. It has been a great blessing to me; I can not afford to be without it, and heartily recommend it to all who have lung or throat disease.

Very respectfully,
Mrs. A. M. WELLBORN.

WHAT NEXT!

A CONSUMPTIVE CURED—When death was hourly expected, all remedies having failed, and Dr. H. JAMES was experimenting, he accidentally made a preparation of INDIAN HAGUE, which cured his only child of consumption. He now gives this recipe free on receipt of two stamps to pay expenses. HEMLOCK cures night sweat, nausea at the stomach, and will break a fresh cold in twenty-four hours. Address CRANDOK & CO., 1,032 Race Street, Philadelphia, naming this paper. &c.

Oct 11 3 m

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

WAKE COUNTY: In the Superior Court.

State of N. C. on Relation of R. R. Stamps Trustee of Georgeanna Spivey, et. al., Against
George H. Farribault, Adm'r of A. H. Taylor, and George H. Farribault and wife Rose, S A Taylor, N A Taylor and Matilda A Taylor; W D Jones. Wm H Mitchell, Candace Johns, Ex. of J B Johns, David Lewis and T B Johns, Ex's of C P Johns, Thos J Johns, John B Johns, Patrick H Johns, C N Allen and wife C V Allen and Hannah Johns

Summons for Relief

THE STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA—To the Sheriff of Wake County—Greeting

You are hereby commanded to summon Matilda A. Taylor, Nat. A. Taylor and S. A. Taylor, the Defendants above named, if they be found within your County, to be and appear before the Judge of our Superior Court, at a Court to be held for the County of Wake at the Court House in Raleigh on the 5th Monday after the 2nd Monday of August 1876, and answer the complaint which will be deposited in the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court of said County, within the first three days of the next Term thereof, and let the said Defendants take notice that if they fail to answer the said complaint within that time, the Plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Hereof fail not, and of this summons make due return.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, this 19th day of Sept 1876.

J. N. BUNTING,
Clerk Superior Court Wake County.

NORTH CAROLINA, Wake County. } SUPERIOR COURT. Fall Term 1876

State of N. C. on relation of E. R. Stamps Trustee, &c., vs. Geo. H. Farribault and others.

It appearing to the satisfaction of the Court upon affidavit, that the defendants Sam'l A. Taylor, Nat A Taylor and Matilda A Taylor are necessary parties to this action, and that after due diligence they cannot be found in this State—It is ordered by the Court that service by publication of the summons in this cause be made upon the said defendants once a week for at least six weeks in the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, a newspaper published in the city of Raleigh, and that copies of the same be mailed to said defendants at their places of residence if such be known.

S. W. WATTS, J. S. C.

nov 2 6w.

$50 to $200 A MONTH FOR AGENTS.
Universal History
ANCIENT, MIDDLE-AGES, and MODERN.
The great interest in all nations and in our own thrilling history often years, makes this book sell faster than any other 2 books in one. Beautifully illustrated. Low price, quick sales, extra terms. Address J C McCURDY & Co., Philadelphia, Pa. Nov. 8th 6-3-o-w

SITUATION WANTED.

A Widow of a minister, and of long experience in teaching, would assist in a School, or like to take charge of a neighborhood School. References given if required. Address, stating terms, RALEIGH CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

Nov 8 1 m

FREE! All samples best article in use, sent free to ladies or gents. Business respectable, profitable and pleasant for clergymen, teachers and others of genteel appearance and average ability. Send your letters and address H. A. HAY & Co. Chicago.

!! REDUCTION IN PRICE !!
RIGHARDSON'S NEW METHOD FOR PIANO.
— A CARD —

THE PUBLISHERS, BELIEVING THE DEMAND OF THE TIMES SHOULD BE MET, HAVE REDUCED THE PRICE OF THIS FAMOUS METHOD FOR THE PIANO FORTE TO $3 25

THEY BELIEVE THE PUBLIC WILL APPRECIATE THEIR ACTION. AS TO MERIT AND EXCELLENCE THERE IS NO BOOK ITS EQUAL. IT STANDS FIRST AND FOREMOST, AS ITS SALES OF HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS WILL ATTEST. IS ATTRACTIVE, THOROUGH AND SUCCESSFUL. IT IS CONSIDERED BY ALL FAIR JUDGES TO BE THE PERFECTION OF A PIANO INSTRUCTION BOOK, PRICE $3.25. SENT POST PAID FOR THIS PRICE.

☞SOLD BY ALL MUSIC AND BOOK DEALERS, AND USED BY THE PRINCIPAL TEACHERS IN THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA.

OLIVER DITSON & CO.,
Boston.
C. H. Ditson & Co., 711 Broadway, New York | J. E. Ditson & Co., Successors to Lee & Walker, Phila.

POTTER'S AMERICAN MONTHLY
50,000 Subscribers for 1877
ILLUSTRATED; Best Family Magazine in the Country, at $3 for 1877. 5 copies one year for $13; 12 copies for $25; 24 copies for $45, and a copy of Potter's Bible Encyclopedia, quarto, 3,000 Illustrations, price $25, given to the person sending this club. For sale at all News stands, at 25 cents a number.

DRY GOODS.

NEW STORE.
L. ROSENTHAL,
Has just received
The Largest Stock of Clothing
IN THE CITY.
Three Stores: Nos. 50,51 and Exchange Place
All Goods Warranted to Please or Money Returned.
CLOTHING,
DRY GOODS,
BOOTS and SHOES.
Great Inducements offered to Country Merchants.
Boots and Shoes by the Box, Dozen or Single Pair.
Nov 13-m

JUST IN TIME.
—:o:—
10 pieces Blue Jeans.
150 Beaver and Cloth Sacques Cloaks.
50 Ladies English Ulsters—Something new and comfortable.
15c yards Cardinal Fish Net for Neck.
500 yards Cardinal and White Ruchings for Ladies.
500 pr. Linen Cuffs and Collars in Cardinal—Navy Blue, Brown and White.
110 Doz. Ladies Kid Gloves in colors—Black and White—from 75 cts. to $2.00 for the best.
12 Doz. Ladies and Misses Hoods in Cardinal—Blue and Brown bralded flannel.

SHOES, BOOTS AND GAITERS.
The largest stock in the State at bottom figures.

Dress Goods.
The largest stock ever held by one firm and of latest Styles and lowest Prices.

Hats! Hats!! Hats!!!
The largest stock ever offered by us, for Men, Boy's and Children, from 50 cts. upward.
LATE STYLE SILK HATS AT $5.50.
Remember, "The best goods at lowest cash prices."
W. E. & R. S. TUCKER.
oct 25 tf.

BEAUTIFUL STOCK OF FALL & WINTER
CLOTHING!
—AND—
GENTS FURNISHING GOODS!
IS NOW BEING OPENED
AT
J. M. ROSENBAUM'S
CLOTHING HOUSE,
Corner Fayetteville and Hargett Streets.
Thanking the good citizens of Raleigh and Wake county, for their liberal patronage in the past, I assure them that I shall endeavor to merit it in the future by keeping good Goods at the lowest living prices. Give me a call before buying elsewhere. We take pleasure in showing our stock and telling our prices.
Oct 18-3m.

1876. 1876.
DRY FALL GOODS.
We have just received our complete stock of Goods for the Fall and Winter trade.
We call the attention of ladies to our superior stock of Dress Goods, which are much lower than ever known before.
Our Black Alpacas are of the very best quality and at low prices.
Our Stock of Ladies Cloaks is very large, of the best made,
A Large lot of Cloth, Velvet and Leather Belts,
LADIES' TIES OF THE VERY LATEST STYLE.
A Handsome line of Ruffs and Ladies Collars and Cuffs.
Gents Cassimers, all Grades.
Large lot of Gents Latest style
Silk Hats at $5.50, the best quality in the city, also a broad brim fine Felt Hat
Canfield Boots and Shoes, the best made,
A Large lot of Cloth, Velvet and Leather Belts.
Special Inducements offered to Merchants buying in the State. Our wholesale department is complete.
PETTY & JONES,
30 Fayetteville Street,
Raleigh, N. C.
Oct 18 1-f

REMOVAL-150 PIANOS & ORGANS at half price The Subscribers will sell their Entire Stock of Pianos & Organs, new and second hand of six first-class makers; sheet music and S. S. music books, at 50 PER CT OFF, for cash, previous to removal to their new store 40 EAST 14th St. Illustrated catalogues Mailed. Monthly installments received. Agents Wanted. Special inducements to the trade. HORACE WATERS & SONS. Manufacturers and Dealers. 481 Broadway, and 40 East 14th Street, N. Y
Oct 11-4t.

the MODEL PRESS
and do all your card printing. Price, $6 — $15.
BEST IN THE WORLD
For Business Men and Young Printers. Thousands in use. Send two 3 cent stamps for a prettily illustrated 40 page Catalogue and Price List, entitled, "How to Print." J. W. Butcher & Co., Mfrs. and Dealers in Type and Printing Material, 424 & 426

MISCELLANEOUS.

READ! READ!
In order to compete with New York houses and to keep up with the times,
ISAAC OETTINGER
has determined to put down prices, and less money shall flow Northward in the future. To prove that I am in earnest, and mean what I say, I will give a partial list of my prices:
Straw Hats from 40 cents up.
Felt Hats from 25 cents up.
Ruffs with lace edge from 10 cents per yard up.
Ribbons 1½ inches wide from 12½ cents up, and other widths in proportion.
Corsets from 25 cents up.
Collars from 7 cents up.
Zephyrs from 12½ cents up, only imported.
Real Hair Braids from 60 cents up.
Infants' Merino Cloaks from $1.50 up.
Infants' Crochet Caps from 75 cents up.
Infants' Dresses from $1.00 up.
Worsted Fringe for trimming dresses from 12½c. up.
Kid Gloves from 75 cents up, 2 buttons.
Hamburg Edgings from 6 cents up.
I could name a thousand more articles, but I can only assure the public that my prices will be uniform in every branch, and all I ask is a call.
MY STOCK IS LARGE AND NEW.
ISAAC OETTINGER,
43 Fayetteville Street,
RALEIGH, N. C.
Oct. 18-tf.

THE BOOK AND STATIONARY BUSINESS OF
E. J. HALE & SON,
17 MURRAY ST., New York.
Will not be interrupted by the removal of Mr. F. M. Hale to Raleigh. Orders from prompt customers solicited, and promptly filled at lowest market rates.
Oct 25-2m.

CARPENTER & EARL,
DEALERS IN
Coal, Wood and Lumber,
at Western Terminus, Hargett Street.
Best Redash Egg and Nut Coal per ton of 2210 pounds, Delivered, $9.00
Stove Coal 2210 pounds, " 9.50
Smith " per ton, " 9.00
Hardwood, per cord, " 4.00
Pinewood " " 3.00
Lumber at low figures.
Orders may be left at Carriers Drug Store, or sent to the yard, and shall receive prompt attention.
Oct 18-6m.

DR. Y. ROGERS' In Powder.
CITRATE OF MAGNESIA.
FOR twenty-five years it has given universal satisfaction as a pleasant aperient for Headache, Sickness of the Stomach, Heartburn, and all complaints arising from acidity, Bilious and Malaria fevers. It cools the blood, and regulates the bowels; it is superior to Saratoga and most mineral waters. Prepared by ARTHUR ROGERS & SONS, 193 Spring Street, New York. For sale by all druggists.
apl 26-1y. eow.

L. M. YEATES,
DEALER IN
CHOICE FAMILY GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,
AND COUNTRY PRODUCE,
Nos. 9 and 11 South Side of Hargett Street,
Consignments of all kinds of Merchandise solicited.
Oct 18-2m.

E. M. FRESHMAN & BRO.
ADVERTISING AGENTS,
186 W. FOURTH ST.
CINCINNATI, O.
ESTIMATES FURNISHED FREE. SEND FOR OUR —MANUAL.—

B. T. BABBITT'S BABY SOAP.
Only the purest vegetable oils used in its manufacture, is highly medicated and delightfully perfumed, and having been used in the Nursery for more than a quarter of a century, is pronounced by mothers to be the best in the world. Will prevent chapping, keep the skin soft and smooth, cool and refresh the head, prevent scurf and dandruff, and by its delightful action upon the pores of the skin will prevent crop-tions, keep the skin soft and smooth, constitute to health, and prevent disease. Do away with all powders, cosmetics, and other emollients. A certain preventive of chafing, itching, &c., in babies, the causes of half the crying and uneasiness of baby. Wash with it. Bathe with it. Use it in every sickness and fatality in Childrenom; packed in boxes of 12 cakes of each, scent, and sent free to any address on receipt of $1.50. Address, T. B. BABBITT, 64 to 68 W. Fourth St., N.Y. For sale by all Druggists.
Oct 11 1y.

BLYMYER MFG CO
CHURCH BELLS SCHOOL FIRE-ALARM
Fine toned, low priced, and fully warranted. Catalogues giving full particulars, Prices, etc., sent free
BLYMYER MANUFACTURING CO.,
64 to 68 W. Eighth St., Cincinnati, O.
June 22-1y. eow.

RHEUMATISM.
Lenora, Kansas.—Sirs: JOHNSON'S RHEUMATIC CURE saved me at Bloomington with rheumatism. Dr. J. Whitely.
Sharpsburg, Md.—Gents: After suffering 14 years with Rheumatism, I was cured by one bottle of JOHNSON'S RHEUMATIC CURE. Who else? Sickness could give me no pain. JOSEPH ROBBINS.
Price $1. R. E. Sellers & Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.
apl 26-1y.eow

GENUINE CRAB ORCHARD SALTS.
THE MILDEST AND BEST GENERAL PURGATIVE IN USE. Endorsed by the highest medical men in the United States. Persons suffering with costiveness of the bowels or torpid liver, will find really relief by the use of these Salts. None genuine except those put up in bottles with the label of the Crab Orchard Springs Salts Company.
J. B. WILDER & CO., Agents, Louisville, Ky.

ASTHMA
DR. LANCELL'S ASTHMA AND CATARRH REMEDY.
Having struggled twenty years between life and death with ASTHMA, I experimented by compounding roots and herbs and inhaling the medicine. I fortunately discovered a sure cure

Children's Column.

Our Little Man.

BY MRS. F. A. PERCE.

Would anybody like to know
What it is we call him so?
Why we call him "our little man?"
Merry, jolly, seven-year-old Dan!

'Tis because he's so willing to do
Every thing that we ask him to;
Never pouting or making a fuss;
Always cheerfully helping us.

Ever ready to leave his play
When he's wanted in any way;
Often asking for something to do,
Saying, "Mamma, I love to help you."

Picking up things about the room;
Sweeping the steps with his little broom;
Playing with baby, shelling the peas—
How he helps mamma in things like these!

Watering the garden, pulling up weeds,
Running errands for what mamma needs,
Making the yard look tidy and neat—
Thus he spares his dear papa's feet.

Then of himself he takes good care,
Even brushes and combs his hair:
Keeps his hand and face so clean;
Never a neater boy was seen.

Useful and happy through all the day,
Ready for work and ready for play;
Do you wonder that dear mamma's pet
Goes by the name of "our little man?"

—Hearth and New Yorker.

TOM'S VICTORY.

'I hate Ned Lane,' said Tom Bixby, doubling up his fists, and stamping his feet. 'He's a mean, spiteful, wicked boy. I wish he was dead, I do!'

Then Tom broke down and fairly burst into tears. His mother, who had heard his angry words, came out to the garden to see what had caused them. She, too, was indignant at what she saw. There was Tom's pet doggie, Fawn, stretched out cold and stiff on the grass. Around his neck a string was tied, from which dangled a card. On it these words were written in a scraggy, blotted hand:

'He'll never chase my chickens no more. NED LANE.'

'Oh, mother!' cried Tom, 'look at poor, poor Fawn. See what that cruel Ned has done. Oh, how I hate him. I'll be revenged.'

Fawn had been a favorite with the Bixby family, and in spite of the fact that he would pur up chickens, and tear the dresses of passing ladies, or catch and hide away stockings and handkerchiefs when they were laid upon the grass to bleach, Mrs. Bixby had borne with him. She had hoped that his youthful faults would be cured in time. She knew that Ned Lane had been very angry because of the loss of two rare fowls which Fawn had shaken and torn to pieces, and she felt that Fawn had been a great annoyance to the neighbors—a great transgressor.

But what to do with Ned was the question, for Tom's heart was almost broken.

'Tom,' she said, 'you say you hate Ned. Do you wish, wha' I heard you say just now, to be really revenged?'

'Yes, mother, I want to see him suffer. I wish all his chickens were gone.'

'Ned has done a cruel deed, and I do not wonder that you are deeply grieved; but, my son, he that hateth his brother is a murderer.'

'He's not my bro her.'

'In one sense he is; yet I am sure you do not mean that you would really like to see him dead and cold like your dog. If you think of the meaning of your words I am sure you would wish him no such ill. I think there is a way by which you can make him very sorry for this, and yet keep your own self-respect.'

The gentle tones won their way to Tom's heart. He sat down by his mother, and she passed her soft hand over his hot brow, and soothed him tenderly. Then she gave him her plan for being quits, as he called it, with Ned, and for getting the victory.

The next day, when Ned Lane met Tom Bixby on his way to school, he was rather mortified to hear nothing about Fawn. He was prepared to defend himself if attacked. But Tom passed in silence. He tried to say 'Hallo, Ned!' but failed in the attempt. All the morning, however, when the boys were in the classes together, Tom looked and acted as usual and at recess he ... fully in games with the other boys.

When Ned, feeling more and more uncomfortable, went home to dinner, a surprise awaited him. A superb pair of Brahma pootra fowls had arrived, with a string and card attached:

"For those my poor Fawn had chased. TOM BIXBY."

I cannot say truly that the two from this time become fast friends; but this I know: that Ned Lane was thoroughly ashamed of his mean and unworthy action, and never after was guilty of the like cruelty, while Tom felt, even at Fawn's grave, that forgiveness is sweeter than revenge.—Christian at Work.

Rural and Domestic.

HOMINY MUFFINS.—Take two cups of fine hominy, boiled and cold; beat it smooth; stir in three cups of sour milk, half a cup of melted butter, two teaspoonfuls of salt, and two tablespoonfuls of white sugar; then add three eggs well beaten, one teaspoonful of soda dissolved in hot water, and one large cup of flour; bake quickly.

LEMON CUSTARD PIE.—Take the juice and grated rind of one lemon, one cupful of white sugar, the yolks of four eggs, three tablespoonfuls of flour, and milk to fill the plate. Bake with an under crust till nearly done; take from the oven and pour over the top the beaten whites of the eggs, with four tablespoonfuls of sugar; then set it back in the oven to brown.

The parsnip has many valuable dualities which commend it to both farmer and gardener. Hogs and bullocks are fatened upon it in a very short space of time, and the flesh is considered of superior flavor, while in cows it produces an extraordinary yield of milk, having a rich color and affording butter of excellent quality. —Schenck's Gardener's Text Book.

CRISP BREAKFAST MUFFINS.—One quart of milk, two tablespoon uls of butter (melted,) one egg a little salt, flour to make a thinnish batter, two easpoonfuls of "sea foam," stirred in to the flour dry. Fill well greased gem pans about two-thirds full, and bake in a hot oven.

TO COOK SALSIFY.—Boil the salsify soft, mash it up, and mix about one third salsify with two thirds good flour baker, such as would made good fritters or pancakes, and fry it in little dabs about the size of an oyster envelope, in the same manner.

GERMAN TOAST.—To one egg, beaten well, add one cup of sweet milk or cream; season with a little salt and pepper. Cut in slices and fry in butter on a griddle. This is a nice dish for breakfast

A wag, noted for his brevity, writes to a friend to be careful in the selection of his diet. He says "Don't eat Q-cumbers; they'll W up."

A Card on Giving

1. Let every one contribute something. A mite is acceptable to the Lord.

2. Lay aside every week something for the Lord, that you may have to give.

3 Give liberally.

4. Give as the Lord has prospered you.

5 Give to those who are in need.

6. Give cheerfully. "God loveth the cheerful giver."

7. Give freely. "Freely ye have received," etc.

8. Give, remembering your account ability as stewards of the Lord

9. It is a test of your love to Carist, and to his cause.

10. It is the way to prosper. "Give and it shall be given to you."

11 Remember the golden rule: "As you would that others should do to you, do ye even so to them." And the proverb, "There is that scattereth and yet increaseth, and there is that ... tendeth to poverty.—Christian Intelligencer.

An Unanswerable Argument.

The strongest argument which can be urged against the advisability of administering such corrosive and nerve-destroying poisons as arsenic and quinine for intermittent and remittent fever, is the vastly superior success in the prevention and cure of such diseases of a medicine which is the very antipode of the above named drugs, both in respect of its composition and the result wrought by it. Such a medicine is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a purely vegetable preparation, which not only eradicates with wonderful promptitude every trace of fever and ague, and kindred types of malarious disease, from the system, but is a certain preventive of all maladies begotten of miasma-tainted air and water. Those results mineral anti-febrile remedies do not effect with certainty, and their continued use entails consequences highly pernicious to the system," he Bitters, on the contrary, not only afford speedy relief, but establish health on a permanent basis.

SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR

J. H. ZEILIN & CO.

A gentleman writes thus: "I write you this note to congratulate you on being the proprietor of the best Liver Medicine, Simmons' Regulator, known to the human race. I have known it for a number of years, and I pronounce it, as prepared by you, pure and genuine; and I pray you, for the sake of humanity, to keep it as you are it is in your keeping. You may presume it and recommend it, but you will never know the true value of it, unless you have a disordered liver yourself. It unclogs the liver of impurities with which it has been coufined for years, and puts the wheels in their original motion. I have written these lines with no other view but to give you my honest sentiments."

For Sale by all Druggists.

May 31-26t sow.

OFFICE SUPT OF TRANSPORTATION, Seaboard & Roanoke R. R. Co., Portsmouth, Va., Jan. 1st, 1875.

On and after this date, trains of this Road will leave ... daily:

Mail train at	4 P. M.
No. 1 Freight train at	4 A. M.
No. 2 Freight train at	8 A. M.
ARRIVE AT PORTSMOUTH.
Mail train at	7 15 P. M.
No 1 Freight at	12 00 NOON.
No 2 Freight at	4 00 P. M.

Freight trains have a passenger car attached.

Steamer for Edenton, Plymouth and Landings on Blackwater and Chowan Rivers leave Franklin at 7.40 A. M. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

E. G. GHIO,
Supt. Transportation.

LAWNS LAWNS!! LAWNS!!!

A new supply figured Lawns in the piece. Very desirable patterns.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER.

PLEASANT GARDEN ACADEMY,

Male and Female.

(Greensboro District Conference School).

Next session begins Aug. 1st 1876.

Entire expenses from $60 to $70.

For particulars, address,

H. P. TROY, Principal,
Greensboro, N. C.

July 26-3m.

"TEACHER."

Any one desiring a teacher would do well to address, stating terms,

DR. W. A. WILSON, A. B.,
Trinity College.

sept 20-tf.

KINSTON HIGH SCHOOL

This 2nd session will begin Sept. 4th, 1876. Terms moderate.

For circulars, apply to

J. S. MIDYETTE, Principal
Kinston, N. C.

Aug. 16-3m.

COMMISSION MERCHANTS.

THE OLDEST

WHOLESALE GROCERY HOUSE

In Raleigh!

ESTABLISHED IN 1869.

EACH BROTHERS

WHOLESALE GROCERS

— AND —

Commission Merchants,

RALEIGH, N. C.

Ask the attention of the trade to their stock of

STAPLE GROCERIES,

ought from first hands by their resident Partner in New York, and offered in this market on small margins.

With an experience of seven years in the grocery business in this city they will make it to the interest of prompt paying customers to send them their orders.

P. O. Box 416 Raleigh, N. C.

March 8th 1-y

NEW FIRM

TO FRIENDS AND PUBLIC GENERALLY

I have associated with me Mr. G. D. Rand (formerly Rand & Barbee Lumber Dealers,) as a partner in the wholesale and retail Grocery and General Commission business. I respectfully tender my thanks for past favors and hope to have them continued with the new firm. Yours truly,

January 6, 1876. L. R. WYATT.

G. D. RAND L. R. WYATT.

RAND & WYATT,

Wholesale and Retail Grocers

AND

COMMISSION MERCHANTS.

Have on hand and constantly receiving a fresh and first class stock of consisting of Flour, a specialty, Meal, Corn Bacon Lard, Sugar, Coffee, Pepper and Spice, Molasses (new crop Cuba), Syrup, Toilet and Laundry, Soaps, Wood and Willow Ware, Fancy Groceries, &c.

GROCERIES

Everything embraced in a First Class Grocery which we propose to sell at Lowest figures.—Give us a trial. Orders with proper reference respectfully solicited, which shall receive our prompt attention. Consignment of Cotton and other produce solicited. best prices guaranteed Yours truly,

RAND & WYATT,

Opp. East end of Market, Raleigh, N. C.

July 12 1 y

SCHEDULES.

PIEDMONT AIR-LINE RAILWAY.

RICHMOND & DANVILLE, RICHMOND & DANVILLE R. W., N. C. DIVISION, and NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. W.

CONDENSED TIME-TABLE.

IN EFFECT ON AND AFTER SUNDAY, OCT. 15TH, 1876.

GOING NORTH.

STATIONS.	MAIL.
Leave Charlotte.....	4.55 A M
" Air-Line Junc'n	5.10 "
" Salisbury.....	7.35 "
" Greensboro'.....	9.55 "
" Danville.....	12.2 P M
" Dundee.....	1.45 "
" Burkeville.....	5.05 "
Arrive at Richmond....	7.45 P M

GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS.	MAIL.
Leave Richmond.....	7.50 A M
" Burkeville.....	10.46 "
" Dundee.....	2.55 P M
" Danville.....	5.59 "
" Greensboro'....	5.40 "
" Salisbury.....	8.45 "
" Air-Line Junc'n	10.25 "
Arrive at Charlotte..	10.37 "

STATIONS.	GOING EAST. MAIL	GOING WEST MAIL.
Leave Greensboro'.	10.05 A. M.	Arrive 5.35 P. M.
" Co. Shops....	11.21 A. M.	Leave 4.35 "
Arrive at Raleigh....	2.41 P. M.	Arrive 12.30 "
Arrive at Goldsboro'	5.05 P. M.	Leave 10.10 P M

STATIONS.	ACCOMMODATION TRAIN. Read down	Read up
Leave Greensboro....	6.30 P. M.	Arr. 9.00 A. M
" Co. Shops....	11.10 "	Lv. 6.50 A. M.
Arr. at Raleigh....	6.01 A. M.	Arr. 9.50 P. M
Arr at Goldsboro'....	11.30 "	Lv. 5.40 P. M.

NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. R.

(SALEM BRANCH.)

Leave Greensboro'.....	6 10 P. M.
Arrive at Salem.....	8.15 A M.
Leave Salem.....	7 05 A. M.
Arrive at Greensboro.....	9.15 "

Passenger Train leaving Raleigh at 12.34 P. M. connects at Greensboro' with the southern bound train; making the quickest time to all Southern cities.

Accommodation Train leaving Greensboro at 10.5 P. M. connects with Northern bound Train at Greensboro for Richmond and all points East. Price of Tickets same as via other routes.

No Change of Cars between Atlanta and Richmond, 547 Miles.

Papers that have arrangements to advertise the Schedule of this company will please print as above and forward copies to General Passenger Agent.

For further information address

JOHN R. MACMURDO,
Gen'l Passenger Agent,
Richmond, Va.

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE

RALEIGH & GASTON RAILROAD,
SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,
Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 9th, 1876.

On and after Monday, Oct 9th, 1876, trains on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad, will run daily (Sunday excepted) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Leave Raleigh,	9.00 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon,	3.00 P. M.
Leaves Weldon,	12 40 M.
Arrives at Raleigh,	5.40 P. M.

ACCOMMODATION TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh,	5.00 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon,	5.35 P. M.
Leaves Weldon,	5.00 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh,	5.35 P. M.

Mail train makes close connection at Weldon, with the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad and Bay Line Steamers via Baltimore, to and from all points North, West and Northwest, and with Petersburg Railroad via Petersburg, Richmond and Washington City, to and from all points North and Northwest.

And at Raleigh with the North Carolina Railroad to and from all points South and Southwest, and with the Raleigh & Augusta Air Line to Hay wood and Fayetteville.

JNO. C WINDER,
Gen'l Superintendent.

RALEIGH & AUGUSTA AIR-LINE RAILROAD.

SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,
Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 10th, 1876.

On and after Monday, October 30th, 1876, trains will run as follows.

TRAIN MOVING SOUTH

	Arrive	Leave
Raleigh,	7.00 A M.	6.30 A. M
Cary,	7.30 "	7.00 "
Apex,	7.50 "	7.55 "
New Hill,	8.25 "	8.30 "
Merry Oaks,	9.00 "	9.05 "
Moncure,	9.35 "	9.40 "
Osgood,	10.15 "	10.20 "
Sanford,	10.50 "	11.05 "
Munn,	11.35 "	11.37 "
Cameron,	12.07 P. M.

TRAIN MOVING NORTH.

	Arrive	Leave
Raleigh,	3.30 P. M.	4.00 P. M.
Cary,	5.52 "	5.54 "
Apex,	6.17 "	6.24 "
New Hill,	6.42 "	6.47 "
Merry Oaks,	6.57 "	6.58 "
Moncure,	7.32 "	7.37 "
Osgood,	7.47 "	7.52 "
Sanford,	8.16 "	8.17 "
Munn,	8.36 "	8.38 "
Cameron,	8.47 "	8.49 "

J. C. WINDER, Superintendent

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE BUFFALO

LITHIA WATERS

THE GREAT

STOMACH WATERS

Of America.

Case of Mrs. ——— cured by Dr. Marcus A Harris, a distinguished physician of Black Walnut, Halifax Co., Va

(Extract from Letter of Mr. H., of July 28, 1876.)

"Mrs. ——— has been for twenty years a sufferer from Dyspepsia in a most aggravated form. Prominent among a multiplicity of distressing symptoms were attacks of Spasmodic Gastralgia, varying in duration and intensity, and becoming less and less amenable to treatment. For a few months before she commenced the use of the BUFFALO LITHIA WATER the attacks became more prolonged and violent, and her emaciated, cachetic and distressed condition gave unmistakable evidence of a rapid decline. Having exhausted my own resources, I called to my assistance in the treatment of the case some of the most eminent medical men of the State, without any other result than a palliation of sufferings; and in what I regarded as a hopeless condition, I prescribed the Buffalo Lithia Water, Spring No 2, to the exclusion of all other treatment. She has been using the water now for some six weeks, with only occasional symptoms of indigestion, and her improvement has been so marked and decided that she is able to attend regularly to her domestic affairs. For four months before commencing the use of the "Lithia Water," her diet was milk and stale bread, alternated with bread and water and bread and tea. She now eats with impunity almost everything—for breakfast, coffee, bread and butter, mutton chops, broiled chicken &c.; for dinner, mutton, beef, chicken, and any vegetable except fresh potatoes, with deserts, such as cake, ice cream, &c. I will add, that this was one of the most distressing and unmanageable cases of Dyspepsia that I have ever seen in a practice of many years, and that the action of the water in it was marvellous."

DYSPEPSIA AND NERVOUS HEADACHE

Case of Dr. R. H. Tatum, a well-known physician of Chesterfield county, Va.

Extract from letter dated Longwood, Va., September 6th, 1876:

"For years I have suffered from indigestion, causing sick headache, attended with the most intense agony I have visited some of our most celebrated mountain springs, and drank the mineral waters from the springs of other States, but in vain found no such relief as I have experienced from the use of two cases of the BUFFALO LITHIA WATER, Spring No 2. I have prescribed it for several patients suffering from symptoms produced by Dyspepsia—such as loss of appetite, general debility, headache, cough and severe pain in the Epigastric region—with the happiest results."

* Post office Chula, Amelia county, Va.

DYSPEPSIA.

Case of John P. Keeling, Esq., a well known citizen of Princess Anne county, Va.

PRINCESS ANNE CO., VA., Aug. 15, 1876.

Oct. Then Springs:

Dear Sirs:—In with much pleasure I furnish you with a statement of my case and of the relief which I obtained from your LITHIA WATER, in doing which I may possibly do more some unbeliever to try it, and be snatched as, from the grave, and restored to health.

For seven years I suffered from Nervous Dyspepsia, being so prostrated by the disease, that at times it was with difficulty I could walk across my room. For some eighteen months I resided in the City of Baltimore, as perfect invalid, having been treated during that time by some of the best medical men of that city, without benefit. From there I was brought to my home in Princess Anne county, as was supposed, to die, when, by mere chance, I came in possession of one of your Springs' pamphlets, and with but little faith, determined to try the water. A single dose resulted in an improvement in my condition so radical, that I am now able to attend regularly to my business on the farm. I do believe this to be the greatest stomach water of the world

Very truly yours,
JOHN P. KEELING

In affection of the Kidneys and Bladder in Gout, Rheumatism and Paralysis, these waters have accomplished results as remarkable as any of the cited. They are for sale in cases of one doz n half gallon bottles at $5 per case, payable in advance.

The Springs Pamphlet sent to any address on application.

THOS. F. GOODE, PROPRIETOR
BUFFALO LITHIA SPRINGS,
Mecklenburg Co., Va.

oct 11-tf.

HOME AGAIN FOR THE FALL, WINTER AND SPRING!

DR. CHARLES J. NALL,

RALEIGH, N. C.

HEAD THE ADVERTISEMENT AND SEE THE CHANCES!

WIRE RAILING & ORNAMENTAL Wire Works.

DULUK & CO.,

86 North Howard Street, Baltimore, Md.

Manufacture Wire Railing for Cemeteries, Balconies, &c., Sidewalks, Fences, Chairs, Sand and Coal Screens, Woven Wire, &c. Also, Iron Bedsteads Chairs, Settees, &c., &c.

Feb 16-1ma

SHOES AND HATS

The largest Stock we have had—late styles and at low prices.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER.

J. R. DAVIS. N. C. DUNSTON.

DAVIS & DUNSTON'S

Hair Dressing & Shaving Saloon,

South Basement Raleigh National Bank,

RALEIGH, N. C.

We employ none but skilled workmen, and all who favor us with their patronage may feel assured of satisfaction.

Polite and accommodating Porter Boys in attendance. Oct. 11 1m

DRY GOODS.

1876. 1876.

Fall and

WINTER GOODS

— AT —

J. P. GULLEY'S,

DEALER IN

Dry Goods, Notions, Boots, Shoes, Hand Made.

Clothing Department up Stairs.

Fayetteville St. and South Corner Market Square,

RALEIGH, N. C.

I wish to say to the Ladies that I am Sole Agent here for Frank Leslie's Journal

CUT PAPER PATTERNS.

Have stock of these Patterns on hand, comprising all the latest Novelties for Ladies, Misses, Children and Boys, for every description of Dress.

Circulars sent on application free.

J. P. GULLEY

Oct 18 tf.

LORD & TAYLOR,

New York

OUR FALL IMPORTATIONS

ARE NOW COMPLETE IN ALL DEPARTMENTS, AND PRICES ARE VERY LOW. OUR STOCK OF

Black, Colored and Fancy Silks

IS THE LARGEST AND BEST ASSORTED IN THE CITY, COMPRISING WHOLE SECTION IN EACH STORE, AND HAVING BEEN PURCHASED AND CONTRACTED FOR PRIOR TO THE RECENT ADVANCE, WE ARE PREPARED TO SELL AT LAST SEASON'S PRICES!

OUR

DRESS GOODS DEPARTMENT

EMBRACES ALL THE NOVELTIES IN FALL AND WINTER SUITABLE CLOTHS, BLACK AND COLORED CASHMERES AND MERINOS, ALL-WOOL AND SILK-AND-WOOL PLAIDS, STRIPES AND DAMASSE STYLES, AS WELL AS

POPULAR DRESS FABRICS

IN ALL THE NEWEST COLORING AND MATERIALS, FROM TEN CENTS A YARD UPWARDS.

OUR IMPORTATION OF

INDIA SHAWLS,

FROM THE LONDON AUCTION SALES IS VERY LARGE AND ATTRACTIVE, AND PRICES ABOUT HALF FORMER YEARS.

REAL INDIA, filled centers, at $65, $75, $85, and upwards.

REAL BEDDA SHAWLS, at $12 to $75.

STRIPED INDIA SHAWLS, new designs, only $15.

CHEDDA SHAWLS, choice new colors, $14, upwards. ALSO,

PARIS and VIENNA BROCHE, PAISLEY FILLED, Plain centres and stripes, and

BRITISH AND AMERICAN WOOLEN SHAWLS. Unrivaled for beauty and substantial value.

OUR LADIES' & CHILDREN'S SUIT AND FURNISHING DEPARTMENT

is now more thoroughly stocked and equipped than ever heretofore, and we are prepared to fill all orders at once, and to guarantee satisfaction.

Handsomely trimmed suits in Cashmere, Basket Cloths, Camel's Hair, Alpaca, Combination suits, &c., in the most beautiful new effects, at prices to tempt the most economical.

Six saleswomen constantly employed for self-measurement. Ladies out-of-town can be fitted perfectly, economically, and more satisfactorily than by any home-made work.

Mourning Costumes and outfits a specialty and orders filled on 12 hours' notice.

Misses and Children's Costumes and suits at very reasonable prices.

LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S UNDERWEAR.

An immense stock of beautiful and reliable goods, at very great reductions.

Ladies' complete outfits, at $50 and upwards

Infants' complete outfits, at $35 and upwards.

Full catalogues of this department, with direction for self-measurement, sent free on application to all parts of the country.

OUR STOCK OF

Rich Furs

On hand, and being manufactured, will be the most beautiful in the city, and at most attractive prices

We also call particular attention to our large stocks of

LINENS AND WHITE GOODS,
LACES AND EMBROIDERIES,
UPHOLSTERY GOODS,
HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE,
HOSIERY AND GLOVES,
GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS,
BOYS' CLOTHING, AND
LADIES' BOOTS AND SHOES.

The Domestic and Housekeeping Dep'ts

Are stocked with goods from the large summer auction sales, at prices below cost of Manufacture.

CARPETS AT GRAND STREET ONLY.

And at greatly Reduced Prices.

Velvet Carpets, from $2 up.
Body Brussels, from $1.50 up.
Tapestries, from $1 up.
Three-Plys, from $1.12½ up.
Ingrains, best $1; cheapest, 35 cents.
Oil Cloths, from 50 cents up.

HEADQUARTERS FOR LINOLEUM—BEST FLOOR COVERING IN THE WORLD.

Samples of goods sent free on application to all parts of the country.

Orders for goods of every description carefully filled when shopping, and goods packed and forwarded to any destination

BROADWAY & TWENTIETH ST. GRAND & CHRYSTIE STS., N. Y.

Oct 11-3m.

D. S. WAITT & BRO.

Beg leave to inform their customers that they have removed to the well known stand of James M Towles, No. 32 Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, N. C., which they have fitted up entirely new, and have purchased a large and well assorted stock of

READY-MADE CLOTHING!

FOR MEN, BOYS AND CHILDREN.

Men's Suits, Sack Suits for $4 00; Men's Frock Suits for $5 00; Men's Frock Cheviotte Suits, from $10 to $25; Men's Fine Black Suits, from $17 50 to $30. Boys' Fancy Suits; Suits, $3 to $6; Boys' Cas. Suits, $8 to $15; Children's Suits, $3 to $10; Over-Coats, $5 to $30. Come and get SUITED.

GENTS FURNISHING GOODS,

Hamburg Edgings and Insertions,

Notions Hosiery, Gloves, Cambrics, &c

Boots, Shoes, Umbrellas, Hats, Caps and Furs,

DOMESTIC DRY GOODS,

CONSISTING OF

Prints, Alpacas, Merinos, Delaines, Ginghams, Cotton Plaids, Cottonades, Kentucky Jeans, Cassimeres, Cambrics, Blue Denims, Hamburgs, Tickings, Flannels, Shirting Stripes, Opera Flannels, Linseys, &c.

BLEACHED & BROWN SHEETINGS & SHIRTINGS.

Thanking our friends for their liberal patronage in the past, we feel confident that in our new store with New Goods, bought at the lowest prices, we will be able to please all. Respectfully,

D. S. WAITT & BRO.,
oct 4-1t. No 37 Fayetteville St., Raleigh, N C

Established 1816.

CHAS. SIMON & SONS.

No. 66 N. HOWARD STREET, BALTIMORE,

DEALERS IN

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC

DRY GOODS,

would call special attention to their extensive stock of

DRESS GOODS,
LINEN GOODS,
EMBROIDERIES,
LACES AND HOSIERY

The best assortment of

Mourning Goods

in the city.

SAMPLES SENT FREE!

All orders amounting to $20 or over, will be sent free of freight charges by Express, but parties whose orders are not accompanied by the money, and having their Goods sent C. O. D., must pay for return of the money.

EDUCATIONAL.

Trinity College, N. C.

The Session begins Sept. 5th. Tuition $20 to $33 for five months; board $10 to $12 per month. Entire expense for five months $87 to $98.

Send for Catalogue.

B. CRAVEN.

aug 22-tf.

JOHN J. FRAY'S

CLASSICAL AND MATHEMATICAL SCHOOL.

The 10th session of my school will begin on Sept. 4th, 1876, (1st Monday.) Terms same as heretofore. Boarding pupils will be met at Clayton on the N. C. R. R. 4 1-2 miles distant or at Raleigh.

For circulars containing terms, particulars &c. Address,

JOHN J. FRAY,
Raleigh, N. C.

References:—The faculty of the University of Va. Rev. B. T. Blake, A. T. Mial, Rev. W. H. Bobbitt, Rev. J. B. Bobbitt, D. D. Rev. J. P. Moore.

aug. 30-tf.

DAVENPORT FEMALE COLLEGE

Lenoir, N. C.

REV. W. M. ROBEY A. M. President.

EXPENSES PER SESSION.

Board including lights and washing,..... $70.00
Tuition, English course,..... 25.00
Music, with use of instrument,..... 25.00
Entire expenses in m $100 to 150.

The fall session will open on the 4th Monday in August, and close on 3rd Friday in Jan. The Spring Session will open on the 4th Monday in Jan 1877, and close on the 1st Thursday in June.

For information refer to Rev. W. S. Black, P. E. Wilmington, Rev. H. M. Bowden, Wilmington, Rev. E. A. Yates, P. E. Newbern Dis Rev. Dr. Burkhead, Raleigh Rev E. W. Thompson Fayetteville, Rev. W. A. Sharpe, Thomasville, Rev. J. A. Cunningham, Greensboro, Rev Dr. Craven, Trinity College, Rev. W. H. Pegram, Charlotte Dis and to the Preachers generally of the N. C. Conference.

For circular address the President.

June 28-3m.

WESLEYAN FEMALE INSTITUTE.

STAUNTON, VA.

Will begin its twenty-seventh Annual Session, September 21st, 1876. Rev. W. A. Harris, D. D., President, with an able corps of twenty-three Teachers and Officers.

Modern Languages taught and spoken in the College by a Roman Teacher. Music by able Professors and Teachers, among whom are some of the most cultivated teachers of vocal music in the South.

This is one of the best located schools in the Union for mankind effect is the rapid promotion of the health and vigor of our pupils. Those who come here from the South with feeble constitutions, and victims of diseases, are generally restored.

Buildings elegant—situated in purest breezes, commanding the most magnificent scenery, and combining such varied attractions as to make it one of the most delightful places for homes in the Union.

This school is usually attended by pupils from fifteen to seventeen different States.

Rigid economy and simplicity in dress are required. A simple uniform is worn. No unnecessary expense allowed. Strict economy practiced to limit expenses of pupils.

From Bishop D. S. Doggett, D. D.

The Wesleyan Female Institute, located in Staunton, Va., under the Presidency of Rev. W. A. Harris, is, in my judgment, one of the best institutions, for young ladies, in the South. I have occasion to know and appreciate its value by the advantages enjoyed by some of my own children there. Its course of study is ample; its Faculty accomplished, and its instruction both solid and elegant. Its pecuniary accommodations are all that can be desired for health and comfort, or taste. No location could be more eligible; no scenery more magnificent; no atmosphere more salubrious. Not the least of its merits, is that sacred regard for religious training, without which no Female College especially, would be a blessing.

D. S. DOGGETT

From Bishop E. M. Marvin, D. D.

The Wesleyan Female Institute is an honor to the Church. Wesleyan Female Institute. Is music, advantageous. Instruction is thorough. The most talented are offered of very high attainments; neither pains nor expenditures are complained. this department excellent.

From Prof F H Smith, M A L L D, University of Virginia.

The Wesleyan Female Institute, at Staunton, deserves the brilliant success it enjoys. Having had a daughter under Mr. Harris' care, my observation leads me to believe this school to be one of the best of Female Seminaries which adorn our State. * * The Halls of the Wesleyan Female Institute should be filled to over flowing with pupils from all our Southern States.

FRANCIS H. SMITH.

TERMS FOR THE ENTIRE COLLEGIATE YEAR. Board and Tuition in the Collegiate course. $240. For Catalogue, address,

Rev W. A HARRIS, President.
Staunton, Va.

BALTIMORE, OCTOBER 1876.

CHAS. SIMON & SONS

DRESS-MAKING DEPARTMENT.

We would call the attention of our friends and the public in general to this Department.

Under the present management we have met with unprecedented success. We have filled orders for customers residing in nearly every Southern State, and have in our possession numerous flattering testimonials, both as regards fit and style, as well as great superiority in handling our work.

Our specialty the season will be Black Grosgrain Silk Dresses, trimmed in same material, and made in the most fashionable style, for the low price of $50.00.

These Dresses should not be judged by the price, as they are in every respect superior to anything heretofore offered for the money. Samples of the material and directions for self-measurement sent free by mail upon application.

CHAS SIMON & SONS,
63 N Howard St.,
Sept 27 3m. Baltimore, Md.

NEW BOOKS FOR SINGING CLASSES!

JOYFUL NOTES

Is printed in our new combined notes, (a figure set in each round note—for do, a for ra, 5 for me, etc.) acknowledged by all to be the best system yet invented, as you have the round notes, and the figures enable those not skilled in reading them to sing them at sight.

HOURS OF SONG

IS THE BEST ROUND NOTE BOOK IN THE FIELD. Hours of Song and Joyful Notes were prepared by Prof. Jas. H. Fillmore, from long experience and careful observation as a successful teacher. The rudiments are the most full, and the music grand. Price 50 cents $4.80 per dozen by express: $5.60 per dozen by mail.

FILLMORE BROS., Publishers,
Specimen pages free. CINCINNATI, O.
sept 20-tf.

HARDWARE

CRYSTAL METAL BRONZED BELLS

FOR

CHURCHES,
SCHOOL HOUSES
FACTORIES,
SHOPS,
PLANTATIONS.

These Bells are composed of the pure crystal metal, and the shape and weight of metal in them is such as to give the best possible results. They are

SUPERIOR IN TONE AND FINISH

to many others, no matter under what name they may be sold, either "STEEL COMPOSITION" or "AMALGAM," and are

Guaranteed to Give Satisfaction.

The CHEAPEST BELL MADE.

Church Bells furnished at COST.

T. H. BRIGGS & SONS,

Briggs Building,

RALEIGH, N. C.

DEALER IN

Hardware, Building Material, Wagon and Buggy Material, Paints, Oils, Glass, Sash, Doors and Blinds. Write for Prices. No charge for Packing or Drayage. sep 19-tf.

PORTABLE and STATIONARY STEAM ENGINES, STEAM BOILERS, SAW MILLS AND GRIST MILLS. MILL GEARING MADE Without Patterns. SHAFTING, PULLEYS AND HANGERS. 27 DIFFERENT DESIGNS OF SPEED GOVERNORS. The UNEQUALLED JAS. LEFFEL DOUBLE TURBINE WATER WHEEL 7000 in use. ADDRESS, POOLE & HUNT. SEND FOR CIRCULARS. BALTIMORE MD

apl 12-1y.

$55 @ $77 a Week to Agents. Samples free P. O. VICKERY, Augusta, Maine. aug 23-1y

MISCELLANEOUS.

WOMAN IN BATTLE!

AGENTS WANTED to canvass every town and county in the State for

"WOMAN IN BATTLE!"

one of the most intensely interesting books ever published, being the Life and Exploits of Lieut. Harry T. Buford, (C. S. A.) or Madame L. J. Velasquez. No subscription book ever published has offered the chances this one does for wide awake agents to make money rapidly, and as territory is being taken up very fast those who desire to canvass for it should make application without delay.

MADAME L. J. VELASQUEZ,
Agent for North Carolina: office; Grange Hotel, corner Wilmington and Davie sts, one block from the Yarboro House, Raleigh N. C. Agents wanted to sell Steel Engraving of the author.

Oct 11-tf

THE NORTH CAROLINA FARMER.

JAS. H ENNIS.—Dear Sir: I have been a practical farmer for forty years, and during that time have taken the best agricultural papers of the day, and I undertake to say that there is more valuable, practical information to our farmers in the first and second numbers of the North Carolina Farmer than in any dozen copies of any of the Agricultural Journals I have taken; and I do most earnestly recommend it to every farmer in our State as the paper for him, above all others.

PETER R. HINES,
Halifax, Co.

Subscription one year	$1.00
5 Copies " "	4.00
10 " "	7.00

Address J. H. ENNIS & CO. Publishers, Raleigh, N. C.

Aug 30 1-f.

THE MORNING STAR,

WILMINGTON, N. C.

A First Class Democratic Newspaper!

LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY DAILY NEWSPAPER IN NORTH CAROLINA.

THE

Only Daily Paper

Published in WILMINGTON, a City of nearly 20 000 Inhabitants, and the Great Centre of North Carolina Trade!

SUBSCRIPTION:

One Year,	$7 00
Six Months,	4 00
Three Months,	2 25

ADVERTISING RATES REASONABLE

Address,

WM. H. BERNARD,
Editor & Proprietor,
Oct. 11 tf. WILMINGTON, N. C

TYSON & JONES

Carriage Builders,

CARTHAGE, N. C.

Having recently increased our Facilities for Manufacturing we are prepared to furnish Vehicles of the BEST QUALITY of workmanship and at comparatively low prices. Vehicles shipped at Sanford, Raleigh and Chatham R. R. via Raleigh to any part of the State

We feel confident that, with the close attention we give the business, together with the materials used, the skilled workman employed, and the many conveniences we have for manufacturing FIRST CLASS WORK, no house in the country can excel us in

Raleigh Christian Advocate.

Hobbitt & Gray, Publishers. | Published in the Interests of Methodism in North Carolina. | $2.20 Per Annum, in Advance.

Vol. XXII.---No. 45. | Raleigh, N. C., Wednesday, November 15, 1876. | Whole No. 1,133.

Poetry.

For the Advocate.

[illegible] hath not Gathered a Rose Bud?

[illegible]
[illegible] in the morning
[illegible] and bright,
[illegible] evening
[illegible]

[illegible]
[illegible] where the dew has been [illegible] and the thorny stem
[illegible]

[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]

Iota.

Heart of the Wildwood.

Communicated.

For the Advocate.

EDITORS OF THE RALEIGH ADVOCATE, Dear Sirs: 'After a battle of the waves, the foam must disappear before we can see clearly into the water' when [illegible] more truthfully than prettily said. So now, since the unfortunate discussion about the Opening of the John Hopkins University without prayer seems about done, it may not be amiss to look into the matter calmly.

The Formal Opening of the institution was made 22nd Feb., last. The Board of Trustees, together with a select audience, met in the Baltimore Academy of Music. A suitable prayer [illegible] in directing all the [illegible] was offered, [illegible] in congenial address [illegible] the audience was [illegible] the intention was pro[illegible] the University was [illegible] and it was announce[illegible] the courses of lectures and [illegible] of classes would begin 3 Oct.

[illegible] on 22 Sept., at the [illegible] of the Trustees of the University, Prof. Huxley, as all the world knows, came to Baltimore and delivered in the Academy of Music an address on University Education. This lecture had no more to do with the University than this, viz: it was delivered at the invitation of the Trustees. It was no part of the program of the year's work: in fact, only a portion of the members of the University were present. The 'opening' of the institution, as we have seen, had already taken place; and the time for the opening of the first session was not yet come.

On 3rd Oct., as appointed, the members of the University, Professors, Associates, Fellows and students, made their appearance, and the work of the various departments was begun. Now every morning since that time a religious service has been held in the University, just as at other institutions [illegible]

But the blood got abroad that the time when Prof Huxley lectured was the time of the opening of the institution; and, because no prayer was offered then, all this vehement outcry arose against the godlessness of the University. Much was said about 'From deference to Prof. Huxley's opinions, no God was recognized,' and so forth.

Now let us examine the matter. Surely there was nothing improper in Huxley's giving a lecture to a Baltimore audience on Education, without a prayer; even if he gave it at the request of the gentlemen who compose the Hopkins Board of Trust. Lectures are delivered everywhere on Literary and Scientific subjects without prayer; and people do not generally construe such an omission into a denial of God's existence. The mistake plainly arose from this: the newspapers, with their usual knack of hand method of [illegible] the [illegible] name of a thing into a wrong one, with a profusion of capital letters [illegible] the occasion 'The Formal Opening of the John Hopkins University.' The great University in Baltimore opened without prayer!' somebody exclaimed; and the denunciations began. At once the secular press, having, I suppose, a sort of fellow feeling for all that is called godless, began to make most absurd defences. Thus the quarrel went on, until it became no longer confined to the papers, but the course of the Hopkins Trustees was denounced in the city from a Southern Methodist pulpit. All the while, both sides were quarrelling in full belief that Prof. Huxley's lecture was a sort of dedication of the institution. We have seen how great a mistake such a view was.

The University is, of course, from its very nature, not under sectarian influence: The staff of instructors numbering at present forty nine requires no half a dozen nationalities and twice half a dozen creeds. But it is under religious influence. God is not only recognized, but is publicly worshipped. Surely there is something monstrous in calling the managing influence of the institution a proselyte to modern heresies. For the ruling sect in the Board of Trust is Quakerism. Now if the faith cannot be intrusted to the Friends, I ask in despair, "to whom can it be intrusted?"

I do not know that any one is directly at fault in this. Somebody, no doubt, misconstrued the occasion of Prof. Huxley's address, and this started it all. Or you might blame the great gossiping rabble of periodicals and of men, for their profusion of speech and for their lack of thought; but this would be too vast an undertaking. The whole discussion has turned out to be only one phase of the great quarrel about education's being directly under religious management or not; and we can never hope for this to end until more ignorance is gone and more charity is come. It is a chronic affection of our present religious constitution, and it needs only the least provocation to cause an outbreak. Indeed, religious punctiliousness in certain circles is lately become of such supreme importance, that, if somebody happens to call a thing by a wrong name, who can tell the result?

Now I have thought it worth while to write you an explanation of this error, because a wrong impression, is, to be feared, has been given to many honest folks who will be glad to hear the truth of the matter. For to think rightly about this thing is but justice to the Hopkins authorities, who were kind enough to send two of their faculty to Raleigh last July, to give five free scholarships to N. Carolina students. It is of great importance, too, I think, that our institutions should have an active sympathy with the work of this University. Still more should our colleges under religious control have an unprejudiced knowledge of its religious views. For the more ambitious of their students have besides the almost universal impediment of the lack of money, objections of a religious kind, in the way of attending German universities, and since a man can now hardly hope for high scholarship without study at these greatest schools of the world every body should be glad that an institution with a larger endowment, one might almost say, than all the other prominent Southern Universities together should attempt to offer, in a Southern city to advanced scholars, as near as may be however far it must fall short, the advantages of foreign schools; and that too, without the tendency to materialism that must needs be got in Germany.

W. H. P.

180 N. Carey St. Baltimore, 28 Oct 1876.

For the Advocate.

On Little Sister in Lenoir.

According to the following extract which we take from a late number of the Church Journal, (Episcopal), our little sister in Lenoir is about to come to grief. The story is a sad one and is told with becoming pathos. Added to a state of languishing is a feeling of loneliness which gives the case an air of almost romantic melancholy. Here is the tender waif:

"To the Readers of The Church Journal: As a last hope, I appeal to you for aid. St. James' church, Lenoir, is sadly in need of repair, and every effort that has been made by the pastor to obtain money for the work, has failed, so that he is on the very brink of despair. Will you not do all in your power, dear readers, to cheer the heart of this good minister, and build up the Church of God in this little village? A mere mite from each of you would, no doubt, be sufficient for the work. Will not the dear children lend a helping hand? This church is the only one in or near the village, and if it goes to ruin, the consequences will of course be disastrous. May our Heavenly Father put it into your hearts to send help immediately, and reward you accordingly, is my prayer.

I write this without the permission of the pastor; but trust he will forgive me. I know he will thankfully receive any sum, however small, that may be sent. Yours affectionately, Contributions may be sent to the Rector of St. James Church, Lenoir, Caldwell county, N. C."

M. F.

If this correspondent of the Journal sets forth the facts, there can be little doubt that this is a genuine case of charity, and a case too that appeals not only to churchmen, but to all christians. If it is the "only church in or near the village," and in danger of "going to ruin," and the rector on the "very brink of despair," and "disasterous consequences" likely to follow, it would be hard to conceive a more urgent case.

Is it possible that the whole christian world will stand by quietly, and see this candle of the Lord—this only candle go out, and that enlightened community for miles and miles around enveloped in heathenish darkness, where so much has been done to make the "desert rejoice and blossom as a rose!"

But in the mean time what is this St. James about? He seems to be giving his church very little attention. Has he, like Juno, a more favorite habitation? It seems to us there is some ground for dissatisfaction with his patronage. Is it James the Greater, or James the Less?

We fear there is something naughty about this Saint. Some Saints are a little naughty sometimes, to instance, St Henry viii. and St. Anne his wife.

But James has had command of that parish, as we understand, for many years, all the while claiming exclusive jurisdiction and universal homage, and yet his entire batallion does not number, according to our best information, fifty souls. Why, James!

The heretics and sciematics, without any church, without any ministry, without any sacraments, without any matrimony, and without the patronage of any Saint at all, are doing better than that.

They say the Methodists have a substantial brick church and a membership numbering more than 150 in the village of Lenoir, and the Presbyterians without either succession or prayer book, or Bishop or surplice, have a handsome church with a membership numbering about sixty.

Then in the county of Caldwell in which the village of Lenoir is situated, where this lone candle flickers, we understand there are not less than twenty five churches belonging to the different sects of heretics, Methodists, Baptists, and Presbyterians, with an aggregate membership of not less than fifteen hundred, not counting baptized children.

Why, James! What a showing we have here! All these benighted heretics in their darkness and ignorance, with the dreadful sin of heresy and schism resting like a night mare on their souls, all dependent for light and salvation on this one little candle, and its light about to be quenched!

We profoundly sympathize with our dear little sister in Lenoir in this her hour of darkness, and if it were not that the great work in which we are engaged for the glory of the Master's name, and the evangelization of the world demands the utmost of our resources, we would, with hearty good will, offer a helping hand despite her little haughty airs and want of sisterly courtesy.

A HERETIC.

The Pulpit.

Sermon by Rev. T. De Witt Talmage, Brooklyn Tabernacle.

PHONOGRAPHICALLY REPORTED FOR THE ADVOCATE BY WILLIAM WALTON

THE ACIDS OF THIS LIFE.

"When Jesus therefore had received the vinegar." ST. JOHN 19, 30:

The brigands of Jerusalem had stole their work. It was almost sundown and Jesus was dying. Persons in crucifixion often lingered on from day to day—crying, begging and cursing; but Christ had been exhausted by years of maltreatment. Pilloweless, poorly fed, flogged, as bent over and tied to a low post, His bare back was inflamed with the scourges intertwisted with pieces of lead and bone, and now for whole hours, the weight of His body hung on delicate tendons and according to custom, a violent stroke under the armpits had been given by the executioners. Dizzy, swooning nauseated, feverish—a world of agony is compressed in the two words: "I thirst!" O skies of Judea let a drop of rain strike on His burning tongue. O world, with rolling river and sparkling lake and spraying fountains, give Jesus something to drink! If there be any pity in earth or in Heaven, or hell, let it now be demonstrated in behalf of this royal sufferer! The wealthy women of Jerusalem used to have a fund of money with which they provided wine for those people who died in crucifixion—a powerful opiate to deaden the pain. But Christ would not take it. He wanted to die sober, and so he refused the wine, but afterward they go to a cup of vinegar and soak a sponge in it, and put it on a stick of hyssop, and then press it against the hot lips of Christ. The wine was an anesthetic and intended to relieve or deaden the pain. But the vinegar was an insult. I am disposed to adopt the theory of the old English commentators who believed that instead of its being an opiate to soothe it was vinegar to insult. Malaga and Burgundy for grand dukes and duchesses and costly wines from royal vats for bloated imperials; but stinging acids for a dying Christ! He took the vinegar.

In some lives, the saccharine seems to predominate. Life is sunshine on a bank of flowers—A thousand hands to clap approval. In December or in January, looking across their table, they see all their family present.—Health rubicund. Skies flame buoyant. Days resilient. But in a great many cases, there are not so many sugars as acids. The annoyances and the vexations and the disappointments of life overpower the successes. There is a gravel in almost every shoe. An Arabian legend says that there was a worm in Solomon's staff, gnawing its strength away, and there is a weak spot in every earthly support that a man leans on. King Georg of England forgot all the grandeurs of his throne because one day, in an interview, Beau Brummell called him by his first name and addressed him as a servant, crying: "George, ring the bell!" Miss Langdon honored all the world over for her poetic genius, is so worried with the evil report set afloat regarding her, that she is found dead with an empty bottle of prussic acid in her hand. Gold-mitt said that his life was a wretched being, and that all that want and contempt could bring to it had been brought, and cries out: 'What then is there formidable in a jail?' Correggio's fine painting is hung up for a tavern sign. Hogarth cannot sell his best paintings except through a raffle. Andrew Delsart makes the great fresco in the church of the Annunciated at Florence and gets for pay a sack of corn, and there are annoyances and vexations in high places as well as in low places, showing that in a great many lives the sours are greater than the sweets. "When Jesus therefore had received the vinegar."

It is absurd to snppose that a man who has always been well, can sympathize with those who are sick; or that one who has always been honored can appreciate the sorrow of those who are despised; or that one who has been born to a great fortune can understand the distress and the straits of those who are destitute. The fact that Christ himself took the vinegar makes Him able to sympathise to day and forever with all those whose cup is filled with sharp acids of this life. He took the vinegar.

In the first place, there is the sourness of betrayal. The treachery of Judas hurt Christ's feelings more than all the friendship of His disciples did Him good. You have had many friends but there was one friend upon whom you put especial stress. You feasted him. You loaned him money. You befriended him in the dark passes of life when he especially needed a friend. Afterward, he turned upon you and he took advantage of your former intimacies. He wrote against you. He talked against you. He misconscripted your faults. He flung contempt at you when you ought to have received from him nothing but gratitude. At first, you could not sleep at night. Then you went about with a sense of having been stung.—That difficulty will never be healed, for though mutual friends may arbitrate in the matter until you shall shake hands, the old cordiality will never come back. Now, I commend to all such the sympathy of a betrayed Christ. Why, they sold him for less than our twenty dollars. They all forsook Him and fled. They cut Him to the quick. He drank the cup of betrayal to the dregs. He took the vinegar.

There is also the sourness or pain. There are some of you who have not seen a well day for many years. By keeping out of draughts and by carefully studying dietetics, you continue to this time; but O the headaches and the side aches and the back aches and the heart aches which have been your accompaniment all the way through! You have struggled under a heavy mortgage of physical disabilities, and instead of the placidity that once characterized you it is now only with great effort that you keep away from irritability and sharp retort. Difficulties of respiration, of digestion, of locomotion, make up the great obstacle in your life, and you ting and sweat along the pathway, and wonder when the exhaustion will end. My friends, the brightest crowns in Heaven will not be given to those who in stirrups, dashed to the cavalry charge, while the general applauded and the sound of clashing sabres rang through the land; but the brightest crowns in Heaven, I believe, will be given to those who trudged on amid chronic ailments which unnerved their strength, yet all the time maintaining their faith in God. It is comparatively easy to fight in a regiment of a thousand men, charging up the parapets to the sound of martial music; but it is not so easy to endure when none but the nurse and the doctor are the witnesses of the Christian fortitude. Besides that you never had any pains worse than Christ's. The sharpness that stung through His brain, through His hands through His feet, though His heart were as great as yours or mine. He was as sick and as weary; not a nerve or muscle or ligament escaped. All the pangs of all the nations of all the ages compressed into one sour cup. He took the vinegar.

There is also the sourness of poverty. Your income does not meet your outgo, and that always gives an honest man anxiety. There is no sign of destitution about you—pleasant apparel and a cheerful home for you; but God only knows what a time you have had to manage your private finances. Just as the bills run up, the wages seem to run down. But you are not the only one who has not been paid for hard work. The great Wilkie sold his celebrated piece, "The Blind Fiddler," for 50 guineas although afterward it brought its thousands. The world hangs in admiration over the sketch of Gainsborough, yet that very sketch hung for years in the shop window because there was not any purchaser. Oliver Goldsmith sold his 'Vicar of Wakefield' for a few pounds in order to keep the bailiff out of the door, and the vast majority of men in all occupations and professions are not fully paid for their work. You may say nothing, but life to you is a hard push, and when you sit down with your wife and talk over the expenses, you both rise up discouraged. You economize here and you abridge there, and you get things snug for smooth sailing, and lo! sudden[illegible] there is a large doctor's bill to pay, or you have lost your pocket book, or some creditor has failed and you are thrown aback. Well, brother, you are in glorious company. Christ owned not the house in which He stopped, or the colt on which He rode, or the boat in which He sailed. He lived in a borrowed house. He was buried in a borrowed grave. Exposed to all kinds of weather, yet He had only one suit of clothes. He breakfasted in the morning and no one could possibly tell where he could get anything to eat before night. He would have been pronounced a financial failure. He had to perform a miracle to get money to pay a tax bill. Not a dollar did He own. Privation of domesticity. Privation of nutritious food. Privation of a comfortable couch on which to sleep. Privation of all worldly resources. The kings of the earth had closed chairs out of which to drink; but Christ had nothing but a plain cup set before him, and it was very sharp and it was very sour. He took the vinegar.

There also is the sourness of bereavement. There were years that passed along before your family circle was invaded by death; but the moment the charmed circle was broken, everything seemed to dissolve. Hardly have you put the black apparel in the ward robe before you have again to take it out. Great and rapid changes in your family record. You got the house and rejoiced in it, but the charm was gone as soon as the crape hung on the door bell. The one upon whom you most depended, taken away from you. A cold marble slab lies on your heart to day. Once as the children romped through the house you put your hand over your aching head and said: "O, if I could only have it still." Ah, it is too still now. You lost your patience when the toys and the strings and the shells were left amid the floor; but O, you would be willing to have the trinkets scattered all over the floor again, if they were scattered by the same hands. With what a ruthless ploughshare, bereavement rips up the heart. But Jesus knows all about that. You cannot tell Him anything new in regard to bereavement. He had only a few friends and when He lost one, it brought tears to His eyes. Lazarus had often entertained Him at his house. Now Lazarus is dead and buried, and Christ breaks down with emotion, the convulsion of grief shuddering through all the ages of bereavement. Christ knows what it is to go through the house missing a familiar inmate. Christ knows what it is to see an unoccupied place at the table. Were there not four of them? Mary and Martha and Christ and Lazarus. Four of them. But where is Lazarus? Lonely and afflicted Christ. His great loving eyes filled with tears which drop from eye to cheek, and from cheek to beard, and from beard to robe, and from robe to floor. O yes, yes. He knows all about the loneliness and the heart breaks. He took the vinegar.

Then there is the sourness of the death hour. Wherever else we may escape, that acrid sponge will be pressed to our lips. I sometimes have a curiosity to know how I will behave when I come to die. Whether I will be calm or excited, whether I will be filled with reminiscence or with anticipation. I cannot say. But come to that point, I must and you must. In the six thousand years that have passed, only two persons have got into the eternal world without death, and I do not suppose that God is going to send a carriage for us with forces of horses to draw us up the steeps of Heaven; but I suppose we will have to go like the preceding generations. An officer from the future world will knock at the door of our heart and serve on us the writ of ejectment, and we will have to surrender. And we will wake up after these autumnal and wintry and vernal and summery glories have vanished from our vision—we will wake up into a realm which has only one season and that the season of everlasting love. But you say: 'I don't want to break out from my present associations. It is so chilly and so damp to go down the stairs of that vault. I don't want anything drawn so tightly over my eyes. If there were only some way of looking through the partition between worlds, without tearing this body all to shreds. I wonder if the surgeons and the doctors cannot compound a mixture by which the body and soul can all the time be kept together?' Is there no escape from this separation? None, absolutely none. So I look over the audience to day, the vast majority of you seeming in good health and spirits, and yet I realize that in a short time all of us will be gone gone from earth and gone for ever. A great many men trundle through the gates of the future, as it were, and we do not know where they have gone, and they only add gloom and mystery to the passage; but I am trust so mightily stirred the gates of that future world that they have never since been closed shut. Christ knows what it is to leave this world, of the beauty of which He was more appreciable than we can imagine. He knows the exquisiteness of the phosphorence of the sea. He trod it.—He knows the glories of the midnight heavens, for they were the spangled canopy of His wilderness pillow. He knows about the lilies. He twisted them into His sermon. He knows about the fowls of the air, they whirred their way through His discourse. He knows about the sorrows of leaving this beautiful world. Not a tapet was kindled in the darkness He died physicianless. He died in cold sweat and dizziness and hemorrhage and agony that have put Him in sympathy with all the ages. He goes through Christendom and He gathered up the stings on all the death pillows, and He puts them under His own neck and head. He gathers on His own tongue the burning thirst of many generations. The sponge is soaked in the sorrows of all those who have died in their beds as well as soaked in the sorrows of all those who perished in fiery or fiery martyrdom. While heaven was pitying and earth was mocking, and hell was deriding. He took the vinegar.

To all those in this audience to whom life has been an acerbity, a dose they could not swallow, a draught that set their teeth on edge and a rasping, I preach the omnipotent sympathy of Jesus Christ. The sister of Herschel, the astronomer, used to help him in his work. He got all the credit; she got none. She used to spend much of her time polishing the telescopes through which he brought distant worlds nigh, and and it is my ambition now, this hour, to clean the lens of your spiritual vision, so that looking through the dark nights of your earthly troubles you may behold the glorious consolation of a Savior's mercy and a Savior's pardon, and a Savior's love. O my friends do not try to carry all your ills alone. Do not put your poor shoulder under the Appennines when the Almighty Christ is ready to lift all your burdens. When you have a trouble of any kind you rush this way and that way, and you wonder what this man will say about it, and what that man will say about it, and you try this prescription, and that prescription and the other prescription. O, why do you not go straight to the heart of Him who for our own sinning and suffering race took the vinegar.

There was a vessel that had been tossed on the seas for a great many weeks and been disabled, and the supply of water gave out and the crew were dying of thirst. After many days they saw a sail against the sky. They signalled it. When the vessel came nearer, the people on the suffering ship cried to the captain of the other vessel: "Send us some water! We are dying for lack of water." And the captain on the vessel that was hailed, responded: "dip your buckets where you are. You are in the mouth of the Amazon, and there are scores of miles of fresh water all around about you, and hundreds of feet deep." And there they dropped their buckets over the side of the vessel and brought up the clear, bright, fresh water and put out the fire of their thirst. So I hail you to day after a long and perilous voyage, thirsting as you are for pardon and thirsty for comfort, and thirsting for eternal life, and I ask you what is the use of your going in that death struck state, while all around you is the deep clear, wide, sparkling mercy? O, dip your buckets and drink and live forever! "Who soever will, let him come and take of the water of life freely."

Yet my utterance is almost choked at the thought that there are people here who will refuse this divine sympathy and they will try to fight their own battles, and drink their own vinegar, and carry their own burdens, and bear life instead of being a triumphal march from victory to victory, will be a hobbling on from defeat to defeat and they make final surrender to retributive disaster. O I wish I could this morning, gather up in mine arms, all the woes of men and women—all their heart aches—all their disappointments—all their chagrins, and just take them right up to the feet of a sympathizing Jesus. He took the vinegar.

Nana Sahib, after he had lost his last battle in India, fell back into the jungles of Iheri—jungles so full of malaria that no mortal can live there. He carried with him also a ruby of great lustre and of great value. He died in those jungles, his body was never found, and the ruby has never yet been discovered. And I fear that today, there are some who will fall back from this subject into the sickening, killing jungles of their sin, carrying a gem of infinite value, a priceless soul to be lost forever. O that that ruby might flash in the eternal coronation! But no. There are some, I fear in this audience, who turn away from this offer of mercy and comfort and divine sympathy, notwithstanding that Christ for all who would accept His grace, trudged the long way and suffered the lacerating thong and received in His face the expectorations of the filthy mob, and for the guilty and the discouraged and the discomfitted of the race, took the vinegar. May God Almighty break the infatuation, and lead you out into the strong hope and the good cheer, and the glorious sunshine of this triumphant Gospel!

AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY.

DISTRICT OF NORTH AND SOUTH CAROLINA,
Winston, N. C., October 24, 1876.

DEAR BROTHER: As you are well aware, the supply of the destitute with the Holy Scriptures is a part of the Ministry of the Word. In this essential department of its work the Church, in the United States, has availed itself of the all pervading and successful agency of the American Bible Society and its auxiliaries, and by habit and by the deliverances of its Courts has commended this instrumentality to the prayers and co operation of its members. The Society has no endowment except its Publishing House, and its appliances for printing and binding, and depends on the current contributions of the christian public. It is pledged to the supply of every known want in this country, at the cheapest cost at which a Bible can be here produced, without profit on this cost, or by donation when this sum cannot be paid, and it has never failed in this purpose, though our vast territory has been rapidly settled by the mingled peoples of the world. The foreign work is now great, and grows yearly in importance, and the American and Societies in other countries, are indispensable to the extended and daily widening missionary effort through which the church is moving to the conquest of the world to the Redeemer's Kingdom. For the enlargement of its benevolent operations the Society has recently modified its work in the field, and at the close of last month reduced the number of its Superintendents, and enlarged the Districts of those retained. This change, carefully matured according to the spirit of the Institution, leaves the auxiliaries to carry forward their work without an annual visit by the Superintendent, but under his oversight, and enables this Agent to give more attention to the supply of destitute sections, and to communications with ecclesiastical bodies, and with pastors and congregations. [illegible] isters and congregations [illegible] ly committed the raising of contributions for the cause, and other advantages besides its economy are confidently expected from this arrangement. 1st.—The church is brought into more intimate relations with the Divinely enjoined and blessed work of disseminating the Sacred Oracles. 2nd.—As the representative of the American Bible Society could reach only the seats of the Auxiliaries, and as he was chiefly relied on by those Societies for the raising of contributions, the privilege of giving to the cause was practically confined to the christians at these centers. 3rd.—Where the cause is presented in every congregation information essential to the church will be more widely diffused, destitutions now unknown will be discovered and placed in the way of supply without the expense of colporteurs, good men and women everywhere will find means of usefulness in the Lord's service and the resources for home and foreign supply will be much [illegible] Word of God is universally honored by His professed people we may expect a general revival of christ godliness and an increased prosperity in every branch of the church.

The above facts and considerations are earnestly pressed, my dear brother, on your prayerful attention, and you are affectionately asked ONE ANNUAL BIBLE DAY in each of the congregations in which you labor, and then to present the great cause, and to receive the contributions of those able and willing to serve our Divine Lord in it. If the same day could be fixed on in all the field what a blessed consummation it would be to have all the faithful, of every denominational name to meet at the same time at their common Center, and under their one Banner, thus effectually testifying to the world their devotion to the supremacy of the written Word, and illustrating the remark of the martyred English bishop that "the Bible is the religion of Protestants!" In the mean time, as a means to this happy end, permit me to urge you to have your own fixed habit of an annual day devoted to the cause, assured that the God of the Bible will give you cause to rejoice in your labor of love. I commend the matter, without argument, and without further appeal, to your own enlightened judgment and sense of duty, adding only that your work is mine and mine is yours, and that it will afford me pleasure to furnish you such facts as you may desire to know, and also, to present annually, a general statement of Bible operations to the judicatory to which you report your labors.

However small the offering your people are able to make it is needed, and will be a means of good; and with the hope of a favorable response from you, I subscribe myself,

Your brother, and co laborer in the Gospel of Jesus Christ,

C. H. WILEY, DIST. SUPT.

For American Bible Society in North and South Carolina.

DIRECTIONS FOR THE REMITTANCE OF FUNDS.

1.—North and South Carolina now constitute one field, committed to my supervision, and my address, till further notice, is WINSTON, FORSYTHE COUNTY, N. C.

2.—all collections should be remitted to me, or to the Parent Society, and I will promptly send receipts for funds reaching me.

3.—Collections may be for the benefit of auxiliaries within the fields of which they are taken, or for donation to the Parent Society, or to be divided between these objects; and those who transmit them will please state their purpose, the church from which they come, and its denominational connection, and the County and State where located.

4.—The expense of transmission can be deducted from the collections.

5.—The American Bible Society publishes a monthly journal, called Bible Record, at a cost of 50 cents per annum, and it contains an account of all the receipts for the cause, exhibits the progress of the work, and furnishes valuable information and suggestions. It would be well for every minister to have a copy sent him by his people who would, in return, receive benefit from it. There ought to be at least one copy in every congregation.

C. H. WILEY,
Dist. Supt. American Bible Society.

THE world has a sincere contempt for dry weather Christians, whom a shower keeps from church, but not from court or store; or Sunday Christians who put away their religion with their Sunday clothes. Away-from-home Christians, who hang up their faith with their hats when they return from "gospel meetings," cause infidelity among those dearest to themselves. —These are so plainly inconsistencies that they do less harm than the revival Christians, who are religious only for a month or two once a year. What reproach is contained in the common phrase, "The church was greatly revived." It intimates that the church had been dead. A dead faith, a dead hope, a dead repentance—what disgrace, what peril, what misery do these imply? "If the salt hath lost its savor, wherewith shall it be salted?"

The Brick Presbyterian church, of New York city, has called the Rev Lewelyn D. Bevan, pastor of the Tottenham Court Road chapel, London, offering $6,000 per annum and a furnished residence. Mr. Bevan has been an unusually successful pastor in London.

The Christian Advocate.

OFFICE—Corner of Dawson & Hargett Sts

THE ORGAN
OF THE
NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE
OF THE
M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev J B Bobbitt, D.D. } Editors
R. T. Gray, Esq.. }

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION:

FOR ONE YEAR, IN ADVANCE, POSTAGE PAID,	$2.00
SIX MONTHS, " "	1.25
If payment be delayed six months.	2.50

RALEIGH, N. C., NOV. 15, 1876.

All letters on business with this office should be addressed to the Christian Advocate, Raleigh, N. C.

The Cross (X) Mark is to remind you that your subscription has expired. Let all renew promptly.

The Virginia Annual Conference convenes in the city of Richmond Wednesday the 15th inst.

Let all our preachers and lay delegates bring us a good list of subscribers to Conference. To use a common phrase, we have had "dry picking" most of the year.

We urge upon the stewards of our church in our bounds to see to it that their preachers are paid. The assessments are small and they cannot afford to lose a dollar of the amount you pledged to pay them. With a little extra effort the whole amount can be raised between this and Conference.

Two weeks from the date of this issue, the North Carolina Conference will meet in Greensboro. Our preachers are now on double duty, as Methodist itinerant preachers always are, in winding up the Conference year.—They have the collections to look after, the church register to revise, and many other duties to perform which cannot be neglected. We are looking forward to our annual session with no little degree of pleasure. The good people of Greensboro will give the Conference a hearty welcome.

Bro. Chaffin, in charge of Buckhorn circuit, writes:

"Another year has nearly closed.—We have had some good meetings. 55 persons have joined the Church—4 have died, all in great peace. Two have been expelled, and two removed by certificate. Finances low—collections for Conference small, which is greatly regretted. Steps have been taken to build a parsonage, which is much needed."

A Convention of Preachers.

The Galveston Christian Advocate says: "A convention of ill paid ministers was recently held in Canada.—The call was addressed to preachers receiving less than $600 per annum. One brother suggested a strike for higher wages. Another urged that they should work on amid all their sacrifices and burdens. They could dispense with the luxuries and many of the comforts of life, but the poor could not do without the gospel.

Various means were discussed, among others more aid from Home Missions and the inauguration of a general sustentation fund. We suggest that a convention of laymen would accomplish more. Suppose the stewards of the Methodist Church in Texas take the matter in hand; possibly they might accomplish something."

Pure Gold.

The following rules from the papers of Dr. West, were according to his memorandum thrown together as general way marks in the journey of life:

"Never to ridicule sacred things, or what others may esteem such, however absurd they may appear to be.

Never show levity when the people are professedly engaged in worship.

Never to resent a supposed injury until I know the views and motives of it. Nor on any account to retaliate.

Never to judge a person's character by personal appearance.

Always to take the part of an absent person who is censured in company so far as truth and propriety will allow.

Never to think the worse of another on account of his differing with me in political or religious opinions.

The Episcopal Church Congress is to hold its session in Horticultural Hall, Boston, from the 14th to the 17th of November inclusive. The object to be attained is the full and free discussion of points relating to important moral, social, and religious questions. Among these topics are: The Prevention and Cure of Drunkenness, The Morals of Politics and Secular and Religious Education. The speakers engaged are of commanding ability. The list includes such names as the Hon. J. W. Stevenson, James Emott, A. H. Bullock, Dr. Elliot, Prof. Weir, Bishops Huntington and Whipple, and many others equally well known. Admission to the sessions is free to all who are interested in the topics.

The Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions closed the month of September with $9,540 less receipts than the same date last year. The total of the debt is now $45,728.

A Voice from the North.

The Central New York Conference at its late session passed resolutions condemning in strong terms the action of the fraternal commissioners. It seems that the following resolutions were adopted with only one dissenting vote. Whether their General Conference at its next session, which will be in 1880, shall take action in the matter, remains to be seen:

Resolved, That while we are anxious to live in peace and harmony with all bodies of people who own our common Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, and who are laboring to give to the world the redemption he has wrought out for it, and while we will cheerfully concur in any measures for promoting peace and unity among brethren which do not involve the sacrifice of principles vital to truth and Christianity, yet in the name of religion and our beloved church, we protest against the acceptance of fraternity on such conditions as retract one word of our past censure of the Church South for her guilt in support and practice of slavery.

Resolved, That in our judgment, the declaration and basis of fraternity adopted by the commissioners of the Methodist Episcopal Church, with those of the church South, by going back to the past, and recognizing the legitimacy of a distinct ecclesiastical organization which had no other justification for its origin and separate existence than slavery, is in violence to the history and principles of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and seems to us to be in excess of the authority of the commissioners.

Resolved, That the concession of the said commission, of the lawfulness of secession, either ecclesiastically or civilly, is contrary to our traditions and usages as a church, and is replete with untold dangers, while unrebuked, to both church and State.

Resolved, That, as an Annual Conference, we respectfully petition the General Conference of 1880 to emphatically and decidedly disapprove the work of those commissioners, so far as it relates to those particulars

Dr. Fowler of the New York Christian Advocate in a most commendable Christian spirit comments upon these resolutions as follows:

"With us fraternity is a great, earnest, blessed reality. We mean it. The Methodist Episcopal Church means it. It is not to be expected that all our membership will see alike and at once, but we know that the great body of our ministers and laymen are in holy and solemn earnest in this work of peace. We accept the wisdom of the General Conference of 1872, in letting 'the past go into history or be forgotten, as the case may be.' We approve the wisdom of the Joint Commission in refusing to open the old controversies, and in taking the case as it is. We are in the South. We are there as the friend of the colored man, and we are there to aid our white brothers in captnring that land for Christ and Methodism. We do not regard our brethren who are working among the colored people as out of the vineyard or out God's order. We stand by them to the last. To us fraternity means more of this work and the honorable recognition of these workers. It means the help of our white brethren of the Church South as soon as prosperity shall make it possible for them to aid in elevating this needy race.

"We believe that the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, are in earnest about fraternity. Every day gives additional proof of its genuineness. It will be time enough for us to resort to the policy of hostility when they show that fraternity is only a paper ornament, intended to be marketed at Northern camp-meetings; or when the Church South imposes conditions on fraternity never contemplated by the Commissioners, that will require our abandoning the poor that God has cast upon our care. Let our brethren in the South, whose devotion to this work is so great that we hardly feel worthy to unloose their shoe latches, exercise all patience and long suffering, remembering the kingdom and patience of Jesus Christ; and let our Southern brethren reduce the demand for patience in the shortest possible time; and God will give unto our common Methodism the glory of victory.

"Should the action of the Central New York Conference be circulated through Southern Methodist papers, will it not tend to peace to let this article flow through the same channels?"

NOTICE.

Applicants for admission into Conference will please meet the Committee at the Methodist Church in Greensboro, at 2 o'clock Nov. 28th, for examination.

C. M. Pepper, Chairman.

Notice.

The Presiding Elders will please furnish me, immediately, the names of the lay delegates elected to the approaching Annual Conference; also, the names of local preachers who will attend either for admission on trial in the traveling connection, or for ordination.

We must have the names of all to provide homes for them.

S. D. Adams

The interest in the Presbyterian mission churches at Canton, China, still continues and frequent additions are made to the number of communicants.

The Elections and their Logic.

The elections last week, for which politicians have been preparing for several months and to which the people of the United States have looked anxiously forward, passed off quietly and peaceably, even in those sections where disturbances were apprehended. We venture the assertion that there has never been a more peaceful election, notwithstanding the intensely exciting campaign which preceded it. For the South, disturbances had been predicted but its people seemed to have been determined to disappoint the expectations of the world and to preserve their equanimity and good humor while performing a serious duty.

The election over, the suspense came which always follows a great conflict—the breathless anxiety to know on which side victory stood. Thanks to the wires on which the fleet lightning runs carrying, with a flash, intelligence from State to State, the suspense was soon relieved and the general result became known through out the land before the dawn of the day which followed the battle day

The Democrats claim and it is reasonable to concede to them the victory. In the national election, the Democratic candidates for President and vice President, Samuel J. Tilden, of New York, and Thomas A. Hendricks of Indiana, are elected and in the State election the entire Democratic ticket triumphs, and the amendments made to the constitution by the State constitutional convention which sat last year, have been adopted. In another column we give the results as far as known.

In looking for the causes of the sudden and complete overthrow of the party which for sixteen years has been dominant and seemed to have a firm hold upon the government, one must regard as the most apparent the admitted extravagance that had taken hold upon the administration of national affairs. Republicans, themselves, admit that this has been rampant in every department of government and acknowledge the necessity of reform They contended, however that the needed reform could be more easily secured by their own efforts within their own party, than by the Democrats from without—that the latter could not make any substantial or permanent reform and that it would be dangerous to transfer the rule of the Union from the hands of the party that preserved it to the hands of the party and men who, they say, are responsible for its attempted destruction. But the people have said by their votes that they will not for the present, at least, longer entrust the government to a party that has failed to bring about reform for which they are hungry, but will test the promises and pledges of the opposition and wait and see what will be accomplished by it within the next four years.

Another reason for the political revolution is the desire for reconciliation between the sections. Nearly twelve years have elapsed since the North and South laid down their weapons of war and dispersed their armed legions, but the peace that was declared has been only in name The weapons have been put aside, but the feeling of bitterness has not disappeared. The people of the two sections have been hungering for substantial friendship and peace, but the politicians by studied and persistent allusions to the war and its horrors—its causes and originators—have kept alive the embers of sectional hate and prevented a return to the friendly and brotherly relations which once existed and which ought to obtain between the sections Under the present administration the return of peace and good feeling has been delayed and seemed hopeless, and the country has concluded to see whether a change in the administration will effect what the present party has failed to accomplish. The Northern people have opened their eyes to the fact that the South has been misrepresented by the bitter partisan papers and that its citizens are not barbarians and haters of the Union. And, while it may be considered fanciful, we are inclined to attribute this increased desire for fraternity between the two peoples, in part, at least, to the progress of the great International Exhibition at Philadelphia. The people of the two sections have there been brought together, have seen one another, have acquired broader and more liberal views of one another and have awakened to the fact that all are citizens of one common country, have a common interest and destiny and ought to live in harmony and peace and unity.

Proceeding from the last is another cause of the political change, to wit, sympathy for the oppressed and badly governed South. The North has seen how, in some, if not all of the Southern States, irresponsible and corrupt men have controlled their State governments and have brought bankruptcy upon the States and poverty and suffering upon the people. They have seen how the National Government has encouraged, favored and upheld those corrupt State governments, and have in their sympathy determined to afford the relief that may be given by a change in the national administration.

But the most immediate cause is the recent course of the President in regard to South Carolina and other States Troops were sent and quartered upon the people in a time of profound peace: at a time when, according to the certificates of the most prominent and reliable Republicans, there was no need of troops except to carry out the designs of an adventurer who was determined upon foisting himself for another term, as governor, upon an unwilling people The people of of the Union became convinced that this action was intended more to uphold and advance the cause of Gov. Chamberlain than to preserve order and peace, and alarmed for the safety of free institutions and untrammeled elections, they have rebuked the administration by voting for the opposition

It is said that President Grant and his cabinet will attempt, if such a thing is possible, to defeat the voice of the people by "counting out" the electoral votes of some of the Southern States; but we opine that the expression of the country is too strong to permit such a despotic course.

The people of the Union have signified their willingness to test the professions of the Democratic party. If the party shall prove false to its pledges, it will be justly hurled from power at the end of the coming Presidential term. The people of the United States are in earnest in demanding a free, economical and pure administration, and if they cannot find it in the Democratic party, they will turn elsewhere.

We advise our Democratic friends to be moderate and liberal in their hour of triumph, being watchful of their leaders and insisting upon the carrying out of the pledges of reform and reconciliation. To our Republican friends we recommend patience in their defeat. They have been in power for a long time and can afford to let the country try its "new love," having the assurance that if the victors prove faithful to their promises, the country will be well governed, but if they prove unfaithful the honest public sentiment of the people will not only condemn them, but will take from their hands the control of the nation's destinies.

Election Whiskey.

A writer in the St Louis Christian Advocate over the signature of "H," which we take to designate Dr. Haygood, severely and justly attacks the use of whiskey to influence political elections, and denounces those who employ it to secure their ends by degrading the voter. He says:

"It is a pitiable thing to see a staggering, slobbering, bleareyed, cursing "sovereign" walk up to the ballot box and deposit his paid for vote. Alas! for us, that such a sight is possible in a civilized country. Alas! that there are candidates mean enough to buy votes with whisky treats or money bribes. Alas! that there are men mean enough to sell themselves for any price; low and depraved enough to sell themselves so cheap. Those who buy are unfit to rule; those who are bought are unfit to vote. Such methods of carrying elections would disgrace heathenism. It is treason to republicanism. It is a burning shame in a country claiming to be civilized and enlightened It is a crime against God and public virtue. It is a blighting curse to public morality. It pollutes the very fountains of power. Candidates who buy votes will sell their own when they get into power. The bribe-giver is as unworthy of confidence as the bribe taker. The suborner of perjury is as base as the villian who swears to the lie he is paid to tell. No party can dominate a good man's conscience if he is brave enough to be true to his convictions. An honest man should not vote for a thief. If we were absolutely shut up to the necessity of choosing between two thieves we should vote for the lesser rogue. Between two wrongs, choose neither; between two evils choose the less. But we are not, unless we are miserable slaves, shut up to the necessity of ever choosing between two thieves. For a drunkard, a thief, a liar, a rake, a giver or taker of bribes we will not knowingly vote, though all the party whips in the world were cracking about our ears We will vote for George Washington or Andrew Jackson first"

Church Dedication.

Messrs Editors: The new Methodist Church in Wilson, was dedicated on the 5th Sabbath in October, by Rev Jas. A. Duncan, D.D., President of Randolph Macon College It was an occasion of much interest. At 11 o'clock A.M, Dr Duncan preached a sermon of great beauty and real worth, from Hebrews 13: 13 "Let us go forth therefore unto him without the camp, bearing his reproach" It may be truly said that in his hands "the word of God was quick and powerful and sharper than any two edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and was a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart." At the close of the sermon a collection was taken for the liquidation of a debt incurred in the erection of the house, and in a short time the sum of nearly $700 was secured.

At night Dr Duncan occupied the pulpit again, and preached an excellent sermon from 1 Cor. 2: 5. After which the sacrament of the Lord's supper was administered by Rev. E A. Yates, assisted by Rev. C C. Dodson, Rev. F. H. Wood, and myself. The congregation both morning and night, was very large, the attention to the Word remarkably fine, and the services of the day must result in great good to the cause of Christ.

R. A. Willis,

Wilson Nov. 7th 1876.

The N. C. Advocate, and Dr. Talmage's Sermons.

Dr. Bobbitt: The Advocate has certainly become one among the best religious journals of the whole family of religious newspapers in the South. Its mechanical execution; its typography; its articles and editorials—all are deserving to be expressed in the superlative degree. I honestly confess, as a Methodist minister, that I feel some pride in knowing that the Methodist people in N. C., have such a well conducted and able exponent of Methodistic principles in their midst. It is to be hoped that in these trying times in monetary matters, every leading Methodist in the State will take the Advocate, and pay for it. This we should do, if we take no other paper. We need its teachings in every church and Methodist family in the State. No other religious journal can supply its place no matter how well edited or by whom issued.

As an organ of the N. C. Conference, it holds higher claims to our special patronage, than any other Advocate of the family. If we are able we would do well to read the Nashville Christian Advocate and the old Southern Christian Advocate also, as these are religious journals of great merit; the former for its exegetical features, and the latter on account of its deep piety. But if we can take but one paper of any kind, as Methodists we are under bounden moral obligation to take our own N. C. Conference Advocate Dr. Talmage's sermons add much interest to the Advocate. Some have thought that our Advocate might be filled with sermons from men of our own denomination. This is a very simple objection, as Dr. Talmage, though a Presbyterian, belongs to a large class of great souled men, who are united in the "Church Union" There is no sectarian feeling in this great and good man. He is a live Christian; a sui generis in the ministry—a man whose writings will be read with much interest and do great good. We all thank you for engaging his sermons in the Advocate.

Yours truly,
R. L Abernethy.

Anecdote of John Wesley.

Messrs Editors: Many years ago there was published, in the Youth's Magazine, the following anecdote of the Rev. John Wesley which I think worthy of republication in these our days. His words are, I believe, those of wisdom to which we, as Methodist, will do well to give good heed Let us, then, both preachers and laymen, take due notice thereof and govern ourselves accordingly.

"The first time" says Robert Miller, "I had the pleasure of being in company of the Rev. John Wesley, was in the year 1733. I asked him what must be done to keep Methodism alive when he was dead; to which he immediately answered, 'the Methodists must take heed to their doctrine, their experience, their practice, and their discipline. If they attend to their doctrine only, they will make the people Antinomians; if to the experimental part of religion only, they will make them enthusiasts; if to the practical part only, they will make them Pharisees; and if they do not attend to their discipline, they will be like persons who bestow much pains in cultivating their garden, and put no fence around it to save it from the wild bears of the forest"

An Old Methodist.
Hookertou, N. C., Nov. 3rd 1876.

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

From year to year we have been accustomed to pause in our daily pursuits, and set apart a time to offer our thanks to Almighty God for the special blessings he has vouchsafed to us, with our prayers for a continuance thereof We have at this time equal reason to be thankful for his continued protection, and for the many material blessings his bounty has bestowed. In addition to these favors, accorded to us as individuals, we have especially occasion to express our hearty thanks to Almighty God that by his providence and guidance our Government established a century ago, has been enabled to fulfill the purpose of its founders in offering an asylum to the people of every race, securing civil and religious liberty to all within its borders, and meting out to every individual alike justice and equality before the laws. It is, moreover, especially our duty to offer our humble prayers to the Father of all mercies for a continuance of his divine favor to us as a nation and as individuals.

By reason of all these considerations, I, Ulysses S. Grant, President of the United States, do recommend to the people of the United States to devote the thirtieth day of November next to the expression of their thanks and prayers to Almighty God, and, laying aside their daily avocations and all secular occupations, to assemble in their respective places of worship, and observe such day as a day of thanksgiving and rest.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the City of Washington this twenty-sixth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six, and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and first.

By the President, U. S. Grant.
Hamilton Fish, Secretary of State.

A gentleman in Salem is still selling water-melons—can't quit until the Indian Summer is gone.

NEWS FROM THE CHURCHES.

Bro J. W. Lewis writes under date of Nov. 7th and says:

"We have had upwards of 150 converts on the North Guilford circuit this year, and 91 accessions to the Church Bro. Abel G. Kirkman, a young local preacher on the circuit, has rendered very sufficient aid.

Bro. P. L Herman writes:

"High Point has been visited with a glorious revival of religion. I have just closed a 17 days meeting. The entire town, all the churches, Methodist, Presbyterian, and Baptist received the baptism of the Holy Spirit. Many souls were converted. We give God all the praise."

Bro. S. H. Helsabeck, writing from Germanton, says: "Now when the Conference year is drawing to a close, allow me to state in the Advocate that we have had some prosperity on the Forsyth circuit. Our protracted meetings were times of refreshing. At Keruersville some twenty professed conversion; at Love's five; at Clemmonsville eighteen; at Mt. Tabor ten; at Doub's Chapel four; at Concord two. Quite a number of the converts were Sunday School scholars. Rev. John Alspaugh, a tried veteran in the local ranks, preached at our meetings with power of his better days. I think I shall get the collections pretty nearly if not quite up. But in support of the Presiding Elder and preacher in charge we are much behind As you lay a good deal stress upon the number of infants baptized, I would say that I have on record the names of thirty baptized on my work this year so far."

Bro. W. S Creasy writes from Mt. Airy under date of 7th inst., and says: "The Lord still blesses us on the Surry circuit. We have held three protracted meetings since our last writing. One at Thompson's Chapel with ten conversions and three accessions; one at New Hebron with four conversions and nine accessions; another at Rockord with eight conversions and twenty accessions. The membership at each of those places was abundantly revived. We learn that several others expect to join us before the close of the year.

Bro. A. M. Long was with me at Thompson's and rendered valuable assistance in pulpit and altar. Bro. W. B. Muuss was with me at Thompson's and Hebron rendering excellent service.

The Lord be praised for his goodness toward us on the circuit this year. It seems that a "tidal wave of glory," has rolled over the whole circuit, not a single appointment unblessed; 137 converts, 153 accessions to the present writing. Finances coming up all right. Glory to God in the highest."

Conference "Centennial Day" at Greensboro N. C, Commencing December the 2nd 1876.

Programme.

I. After the opening exercises of the morning to 11 o'clock, A. M., summary report of what has been done for our colleges during the present year.

II. 11 o'clock, A. M. Subject for discussion: The relation of our colleges to the prosperity and success of the church, and the consequent duty of the entire ministry and membership of the church to foster and sustain these institutions. Address by Rev. W S. Black of the Wilmington District and Hon. F. C. Robbins of Lexington. N. C.

III. Following the addresses immediately, or at an adjourned session of the Conference, as the body may prefer, a general interchange of opinions by the members of the Conference touching the best methods of helping our colleges, and also such specific action as the Conference may judge right and necessary in the premises.

(Signed)
N. H. D. Wilson,
S. L. Adams,
Will C Doub, } Com

Man is so great that his greatness appears even in the consciousness of his misery. A tree does not know itself to be miserable. It is true that it is misery indeed to know one's self to be miserable; but then it is greatness also. In this way all man's miseries go to prove his greatness. They are the miseries of a mighty potentate, of a dethroned monarch.—Pascal.

Faith addresses itself to man's whole being; it sounds every depth; it touches every spring; it calls back the soul from its weary search within itself, full of doubt and contradiction; it presents an object, implicit, absolute, greater than itself—"One that knoweth all things." It provides for every affliction, every want and aspiration.—The Patience of Hope.

The Legislature assembles on the 20th inst. A President of the Senate will be chosen to preside over that body until the 1st of January, when Mr Jarvis, the Lieutenent Governor elect, is to be qualified. A Speaker of the House is also to be chosen For the latter position the most prominent members mentioned are Mr. Moring, of Chatham, and Mr. Jno. N. Staples, of Guilford. Both are worthy men. The latter, whom we know intimately, is a gentleman of ability and increasing reputation He is an able lawyer, was a member of the last General Assembly and was frequently called upon to preside over the House. His parliamentary knowledge makes him peculiarly fit for the Speakership to which his friends say he will probably be elevated.

Religious Intelligence.

Two hundred years ago, the Friends, or Quakers, were three times as numerous as they are to day.

Rev. Newman Hall's church, London, has voted to use unfermented wine at the communion table.

Lord Radstock was at work recently in religious meetings on the Isle of Wight.

It is stated that 500 conversions have been reported as a result of the labors the past summer in Dr. Tyng's gospel tent in New York.

A petition, signed by 22,000 women asking for the suppression of the liquor traffic, has been presented to the parliament of Ontario, Canada.

More than one third of the home missionaries of the Board of Home Missions of the Presbyterian Church are laboring in the field west of the Mississippi.

It is said that the Cardinal Antonelli left 20,000,000 francs, besides objects of art to the extent of a further 1,500,000 francs.

A San Francisco paper reports in one issue the baptism of ten Chinamen—three in Sacramento, four in Los Angeles, and three in San Francisco.

The Presbyterian missionaries in India, representing in all eleven branches of the Presbyterian Church have decided to form a "Presbyterian Alliance."

The Baptists are working for the education of the freedmen. Their Nashville Institute cost $45,000, and they have other schools besides.

Gen. Neal Dow in a recent letter says: "In Maine we mean to put the trade in liquor in its proper place in the scale of crime—we mean to pronounce it a felony and punish it as such."

In spite of all the commotion attendant on war, the Missionaries of the American Board in Turkey have organized 14 new churches, and received 1600 members into the native churches.

The Presbyterians propose to establish a lay college at Anburn, N Y., to train Christian men and women to work in those common fields of labor, the session, the Subbath-school, and the benevolent association.

The American Tract Society has sent out proof copies of a new map of Palestine, just copy righted, which presents the latest discoveries, and is pronounced to be the best adapted to general use of all thus far issued.

The great grandson of Dr. Cary, the pioneer of the English missions in India, has recently entered into the service of the society which his ancestor founded. He has become the medical missionary of the Baptist mission at Delhi.

The Italian Episcopal Church in New York City, founded three years ago, is growing steadily. It now has a Sunday school of 170 children. In the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Western New York, Bishop Coxe reports 1,300 confirmations this year—an excess of 300 over last year.

The Episcopalians claim to be doing one fourth of the educational work in Utah outside of the common schools in Salt Lake City, one in Ogden, and one in Logan. One of their graduates is now in the General Theological Seminary, and two others will come East this fall for theological instruction "

THE ELECTION.

The latest returns indicate that Mr. Tilden, the Democratic candidate for President, has been elected. He has received a large majority of the popular vote and has carried a majority of the votes of the Electoral College. For President each State casts as many electoral votes as it has members and Senators in Congress. There are of these in all 369 votes: 185 are necessary to a choice Mr. Hayes carries, certainly, Colorado, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont and Wisconsin; in all 160 votes. Mr. Tilden carries, certainly, Alabama, Arkansas, Connecticut. Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Indiana, Kentucky, Maryland, Mississippi, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, West Virginia; in all 184 votes. This leaves in doubt California, Florida, Louisiana and South Carolina. It is probable that California votes for Mr. Hayes. That will make his vote 164. In order to his election all the three remaining States must cast their votes for him which would give him a bare majority of one It is probable that all of these States have gone for Mr. Tilden which will give him 203 votes, 18 more than necessary to a choice and a majority over Mr. Hayes of 39 votes. If Mr. Tilden carries but one of the three doubtful States it is sufficient to elect him. Both parties however claim those States and much interest is felt in the final count In order to have a fair count Mr Tilden and President Grant have requested a number of prominent gentlemen of both parties to go to Louisiana and see that justice is done We have no doubt however of Mr. Tilden's election.

In South Carolina Gen. Wade Hampton is elected which is a result to be rejoiced over by all good people.

In our State, Gov. Vance and the whole Democratic ticket are elected by a majority between (it is supposed) ten and fifteen thousand. It has been a "tidal wave" for the Democrats In the Legislature they will have a two thirds vote. The Amendments are also carried by a majority nearly if not quite equal to that obtained by any candidate. The Congressional delegation stands seven Democrats and one Republican

NORTH CAROLINA.

Daniel Lewis, a colored Democrat, was mobbed at Newbern last week.

Cleveland county spent $25,000 this year for fertilizers.

Nat Atkinson, of Buncombe county, had sixty-five varieties of fruit on exhibition at the Centennial Exposition.

Rev. S. R. Trawick, formerly of Raleigh, has fifty scholars in his school at Shelby.

The White Sulphur Springs will be changed to its old name of "Sparkling Catawba."

The railroad from Warrenton to the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad is nearly graded.

Thos. R. Purnell, Esq., having been elected to the Legislature, has resigned the position of State Librarian.

The election passed off quietly in this State, no disturbance having been made as far as we have learned.

The diptheria is spreading in Nash county and has made ravages in several counties of the State.

D. A. Jenkins, Public Treasurer of the State, has resigned, to take effect on the 22d inst.

Charlotte is looking forward with hope to having a steam-laundry, even while she remembers her "ice-machine."

Alex. Sinclair, who was arrested for robbing the mail on the Carolina Central Railway, acknowledged that he opened a letter, but not with criminal intent. He was fined $100 and sent to prison for one month.

F. N. Strudwick, Esq., of Hillsboro', had in his garden a volunteer pumpkin vine which produced thirteen pumpkins, the average weight of which was about 40 pounds.

The diptheria in Chapel Hill was confined to the family of Mr. Alexander, to four of whose children it proved fatal.

Rev. F. M. Jordan, the Baptist Evangelist of Hillsboro, has removed with his family to Henderson county, having bought land in that section.

Mr. Peter McConnell, the dairyman of Hillsboro', has returned to his home in Pennsylvania, his farm having been bought by Mr. Johnson, of Pennsylvania, who has come with his family to Orange and will continue the business of Mr. McConnell with larger capital.

Wilmington has a champion juvenile Democratic orator, Master Bappler, who at a demonstration in that city before the election spoke one hour and thirty-five minutes, displaying remarkable ability and information for one so young, says the Star. Master Eddie Price also spoke with good effect.

C. L. Swann, a British sea captain, committed suicide in Wilmington last week while in a fit of delirium tremens. He first took laudanum and then cut his throat from ear to ear.

Two houses, one the property of William Jones, colored, and the other of Joseph Ward, were burned in Wilmington Sunday before last. The store of W G. Fowler, Jr., was also burned with its contents.

Five drummers were arrested at Statesville for refusing to pay a special license tax of $10 for the privilege of selling goods in that town. They gave bail for their appearance before the magistrate's court, to be held this week. One was from Wilmington.

A passenger train on the Railroad between Goldsboro and Newbern, collided with a freight train at Dover last week. The engineer of the passenger train, Charles Lee, was killed. He leaves a wife and several small children.

William G. Whilden, of Charleston, S. C., requests parties who may have in their possession any articles, papers, pictures, or anything whatsoever belonging to Mr. De Lever Whilden who was lost on the "Rebecca Clyde" steamship, to send them to his address.

James C. Calhoun, of Iredell county, is eighty five years and six months old and has never taken a dose of medicine or a drop of liquor.

A special engine and car will leave Henry's Station on the Western N. C. Railroad for Salisbury, on Sunday the 19th inst., for the accommodation of members elect to the Legislature which convenes in Raleigh on the 20th inst.

Raleigh Sentinel: Superintendent Dugger has now 315 pupils in the graded school. Each little scholar has been required to purchase a three-cent tin cup. It saves time and cups in getting water from the bucket at recess. In the evening when they all go home they look like a regiment of little tinners on parade, each one with a tin cup in his hand.

The mortality from diptheria among the white children of Chatham county has been awful. A letter to the News states: Mr. B. B. Hamlin informs me that he has made seventeen coffins for children and youths under eighteen years of age, all of whom have died lately of diptheria within three miles of his house in Baldwin township.

The Salem Press speaks in high terms of a speech made by C. B. Watson, Esq. of Winston in reply to Dr. Wheeler Republican candidate for treasurer. Mr. Watson is one of the most promising young men of North Carolina and though young and self-made ranks among the leading lawyers of the 8th Judicial District.

The ladies of Salem raised about $150 for the Orphan Asylum by means of oyster suppers which were generously patronized by the good people of Salem and Winston.

Two negroes were put in jail in Forsythe county for fraudulent registration. The only difficulty we have noticed as occurring on election day in this State was in Winston where Mr. J C. Buxton struck down Mr. Wm. Shultz, Deputy U. S. Marshall, as a rebuke for what he considered officious interference.

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup has been before the public for years, and is pronounced by thousands superior to all other articles for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Influenza and all Pulmonary Complaints.

The Shah of Persia has postponed his second European visit until 1878, when he will at end the Paris Exposition. He will be accompanied by his heir apparent, twenty-two years of age.

The Christian Advocate

PUBLISHED IN THE CITY OF RALEIGH EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING, TERMS $2.20 POSTAGE PAID.

Our Agents.

All the traveling and local preachers in the bounds of the North Carolina Conference are our authorized Agents. Any person sending us ten subscribers, for one year, will receive the paper free.

Our Correspondents.

Communications for publication should be carefully written, and on but one side of the sheet. All letters on the office should be addressed to the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

How to Remit.

In sending money, all amounts should be sent in registered letter, post office order or check. The cost of registration, or Post Office order can be deducted from the amount in hand. If money is sent otherwise than herein specified, it will be at the sender's risk.

INDEX TO NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Centennial Exposition—McCurdy & Co.

Salesmen wanted—S. A. Grant & Co.

"Send for it"—A. H. Siegfried.

Meneely & Co.—Fell Foundry.

Agents Wanted—J. C. McCurdy & Co.

A DISGRACEFUL AFFAIR.—On the night before the election, and while a Democratic torchlight procession was passing down Fayetteville Street in this city, rocks and sticks were thrown at it by negroes congregated in front of the Court House and a pistol was also fired.—Policemen Harris was driven by the negroes into the Yarborough House and narrowly escaped severe injury. Rocks and bottles were thrown at the whites and broke plate glass windows in the Hotel. A serious riot was imminent, but the forbearance of the whites prevented it. We understand that Mayor Manly had given orders to the policemen not to fire except under the most extraordinary circumstances, he apprehending that some disturbance might occur during the night. The following persons were hurt. Policemen Beasely, Finch, Betts and Jones, Willie Sparks and three other white persons. While Judge Fowle was addressing the procession from his residence, a pistol was fired, the ball striking the house barely missing some ladies at the window.

The Yorkville Enquirer of recent date has this to say in reference to the fall of flesh in Gaston:

The phenomenon of flesh falling from a cloudless sky, occurred in Gaston county, N. C., last Saturday afternoon. The shower, if such we may term it, fell in a cotton field belonging to James Hannah, who lives near Gastonia. The flesh—for such it certainly is—fell for several minutes, descending somewhat in the manner of hailstones falling, and sprinkled a space of ground equal to a square rod. Mr Hannah, who saw the shower as it fell, says it was perfectly clear at the time, and that there was nothing unusual visible in the sky at the place of the singular occurrence. Mr. R. Frank Clark, of this place, returned from Gaston county, last Monday, and brought a specimen of the flesh with him. A microscopic examination indicates that it resembles the flesh of a cow, and a gentleman in town who had the temerity to taste it, says the taste is similar to that of beef.

TWINS BORN IN DIFFERENT YEARS.—The wife of Mr. Joseph Whisenhunt of Burke county, gave birth to twins the last night of the old year—one was born ten minutes before 12 o'clock and the other ten minutes after 12. So one was born on Friday and the other on Saturday, one in 1875 and the other in 1876.—Their birthday is not the same, yet they are twins. We doubt if such a thing ever occurred before in the history of the world. Another noticeable circumstance is that one was a boy and the other a girl; the boy was born in the old year and the girl in this leap year,—Blue Ridge Blade.

General News.

The Polish Cardinal Antonelli is dead, and Cardinal Patrizi, the Pope's Vicar General was reported dying last week.

There is a woman in California who, as she is 110 years old, claims to be the oldest woman in the world. That claim is an unusual one for a woman to make.

A California lady bought a set of china dinner plates at the Centennial, each plate costing $550 in gold.

The elder son of Brigham Young, with six Mormon elders, has gone to Germany to win proselytes to their faith and practices. There are in Europe at present 10 000 Mormons, of which 6 000 are in England and the balance in Germany, Scandinavia and Switzerland.

A Milwaukee boy, being whipped on the hand with a rattan by his schoolmistress, suddenly died of heart disease.

The great Exposition at Philadelphia closed on Friday of last week. It has been in all respects the greatest of all the International Expositions which have been held.

Governor Routt, of Colorado in his annual message, shows that the State has no debt and that the annual production of its mines is $8 000 000.

The residence of the Austrian consul, in Servia the capital of Bosnia, was recently set on fire. It is said, by the Turks: the troops who were summoned to extinguish the flames plundered the house.

Capt. Nares, commander of the Artic expedition, has sent a telegram to the admiralty announcing his return. His dispatch contains only the following: "The Polar Sea is never navigable. The ordinary ice averages eight feet in thickness. Animal life and the northerly migration of birds ends south of Cape Colombia. A memorial tablet was erected to Captain Hall, of the Polaris expedition, at Polaris Bay. Esquimaux traces cease on the west shore in latitude 81.52, whence they cross to Greenland. The impracticability of reaching the North Pole was proved. All the neighboring lands were examined.

Marriages.

On the 31st of Oct. 1876, by Rev P L Herman, at the residence of the bride's father, near Thomasville, Mr T F Harris to Miss L M Lambeth, all of Davidson Co., N. C.

At Mt. Gilead, N. C., Nov. 1st, 1876, by Rev W V Sherrill, Thos G Ingram, Esq., to Miss Maggie A McAuley, eldest daughter of D G McAuley, Esq.

Married on the 26th of Oct. 1876 by Rev. J W. Lewis at Centre Grove Guilford county, N C, Mr Hazb L Scott and Miss Mollie L. Bevill, daughter of the late Arch Bevill Esq. deceased, all of Guilford County N. C.

Married by Rev. W. H. Watkins at the residence of the bride's father Oct. 30th 1876, Mr. Richard Elliott of Hertford N. C. and Miss Mary Jane Davenport, of Washington Co. N. C.

Biblical Recorder please copy.

Married by Rev. W. H. Watkins at residence of the bride's father Nov 2th 1876, Mr. P. W. Knight of Martin Co. N. C. and Miss Maggie D. Williams of Washington Co. N. C.

Married on the 6th inst., by Rev. E. W. Thompson, Mr Henry I McDuffie, Editor of the Wide Awake and Miss Alice D Holland—all of Fayetteville, N. C.

In Jones Co. N. C. Nov. 8th 1876, by Rev. W. C. Gaskins, Mr. Wm. B. Harrison of Newberne and Miss Robena Coy, of Jones Co., N. C.

Deaths.

Obituary notices of twenty lines are inserted without charge. The excess over twenty lines of EIGHT words is charged for at the rate of 10 cents per line. Count the lines and allow EIGHT words to the line. In this way you may always know the amount to enclose. Resolutions of respect are subject to the same rule.

Died in Johnston co. N. C. on the 31st of May 1876, Mrs. Rebecca J. Jackson in the forty seventh year of her age.

Sister Jackson had been for several years a faithful member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

She bore her afflictions with much patience, and often spoke of the great comfort religion afforded her, and talked of death without alarm.

Three days after her death her little babe died also. Together they sleep in the grave, together they rest in the Paradise of God awaiting the resurrection of the just.

May God comfort the bereaved family who remain to mourn the loss of departed loved ones!

Died near Harrowe Creek Sep, 23d 1876, Mrs. Mary D. Bell, widow of Wm. Newton Bell, dec'd.

Sister Bell was born June 7th 1835. With her only surviving sister, Mrs Elizabeth Hardisty, she was converted and joined the M. E. Church, in which she lived a consistent worthy member, twenty five years. She is not now among us, for God has taken her, and given her a home and membership in the Church triumphant. She was a mild, quiet christian, she lived prudent, died hopeful and happy. Her health had been feeble for several years. Her disease was complicated, savoring more of bowel consumption than any other. She attended a protracted meeting held at New Fort, the early part of August, where she enjoyed a "season of refreshing from the presence of the Lord." It afforded her great pleasure to see so many of her acquaintance and friends embrace religion, and join the church she so much loved. She left the meeting near its close, sick. It was the last she ever attended I presume. She lingered and suffered great pain, but did not murmur or complain. She knew in whom she had believed and was fully persuaded He was able to keep that she had committed to him against that day." Through her sickness and even to death, she gave to her bereaved kind sister, abundant evidence that all was well, and she was going to rest in the better land, telling all her friends and relation she was ready and willing to go feeling she could say:

"Lord I would clasp thy hand in mine,
Nor ever murmur for repine,
Content whatever lot I see,
Since 'tis my God that leadeth me."

May the Lord bless her weeping sister with her children.

JAMES MAHONEY.

Resolutions passed by the H. L. Sloe ely on the death of Mr W. S White, of Miss.

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God, in the inscrutable decree of Providence to remove from this to another world Woodard S. White, a member of the Hesperian Literary Society who died at Ocala, Florida, Aug. 11th 1876 who has ever sustained a high and honorable position in the affections of the society, and an enviable social character among his fellow-men Therefore RESOLVED 1st, That while we bow with humble reverence to the will of Him who doeth all things well, we deeply deplore the death of one cut off in the prime of life, with bright prospects and flattering hopes of a long career of usefulness and honor.

By his death our Society has lost a valuable member, the College a faithful friend, and society a young man of spotless purity and integrity.

RESOLVED 2nd, That we have received with profound sorrow the sad intelligence of the death of our esteemed and worthy member, and that deeply touched by this sad affliction, we tender our sincere condolence and warmest christian sympathies to his surviving relatives and friends, reminding them that their loss is his eternal gain.

RESOLVED 3rd, That we will long cherish his memory as a genial, kind and affable fellow member, and that we wear the usual badge of mourning to rly days.

RESOLVED 4th, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon our records, also be sent to the family of the deceased, and also to the Raleigh Christian Advocate and Greensboro Patriot for publication

WILL G BRADSHAW.
CHAS W. WHITE,
O. G. B. MCMILLAN. } Com

Trinity College, N. C Nov. 4th 1876.

From Coleman and Rogers'—Pharmacy, 178 W. Baltimore St., Baltimore, March 1, 1876: The increasing demand for Colden's Liebig's Liquid Extract of Beef and Tonic Invigorator is a sure evidence of its success. We are daily receiving testimonials of a highly complimentary character. Williams and Haywood, Agents.

The Struggle of Life.

From the cradle to the grave life is full of struggles. Some struggle for riches, some for pleasure, some for honor, and others struggle to regain that greatest of all blessings—Health—and in their efforts they often resort to means which place it farther and farther out of their reach. They take drastic compounds which shock the system, or violent minerals which poison by degrees and thus the vital energies are weakened and the very fountains of life polluted. Nature provides remedies for every disease, and it is from the vegetable kingdom that Dr. Tutt's Liver Pills derive their ingredients, and in their use there is the happy certainty that if they do no good, they do no harm. But of their efficacy, thousands who have been cured of diseased liver, kidney, spleen, stomach and bowels, live to-day to testify.

A case of chronic rheumatism of unusual severity, cured by Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, is noticed by one of our exchanges. A large bunch came out upon the breast of the sufferer, and appeared like part of the breast bone. Used internally and externally.

The sweetest words in our language is health. At the first indication of disease, use well-known and approved remedies. For dyspepsia or indigestion, use Parson's Purgative Pills. For coughs, colds, sore or lame stomach, use Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

WHAT NEXT!

A CONSUMPTIVE CURED—When death was hourly expected, all remedies having failed, and Dr. H. JAMES was experimenting, he accidentally made a preparation of INDIAN HERB, which cured his only child of consumption. He now gives this recipe free on receipt of two stamps to pay expenses. HERB also cures night sweat, nausea at the stomach, and will break a fresh cold in twenty-four hours. Address CRADDOCK & CO., 1,033 Race street, Philadelphia, naming this paper.

Oct 11 3 m

Letters and Funds.

Rev S Bryant self $1.25. Rr O T Sim ms for Mrs S A Daniel 2.20. Rev R L Abernathy Rev R M Brown paper sent. Rev Jas Mahoney paper sent. F P Koonce self 25 cents. E D Hoover paper sent. F Powell Meneely & Co R N Freshman & Bros M W Ayer Alson C L Heltman G W White J M Brower for adv 50. S H Hales back Isaac R Self self 2.20. Rev P L Herman Rev M V Sherrill Rev J Johnson for Mrs C Shepperd 2.20. S Y Brown for Miss Susan F Murris 2 20. Miss H Harrison 2.20 Rev F A Harmon M M Courtney self 2.20. G W Baptista11 G B Lockhart self 2.20. Rev J M Rhodes for W H Goodman 2. Rev Dr Wilson Rev W S Creasy Rev J F Craven for M Kearns 2.20. Mrs H L Guerrant self 2.20. L Elder self 2.20. Rev N M Jurney for Rev J Winborn 2.20.

APPOINTMENTS.

GREENSBORO DISTRICT.

4TH ROUND.—Q. M. IN PART.

Forsythe ct at Tabor.	Oct	7– 8
Davidson ct Wesley Chapel,	"	14–15
North Guilford, Mains Chapel,	"	21–22
Madison. Madison,	"	28–29
Randolph ct at Ashboro,	Nov.	11 12
Thomasville & H Point,	Th'm'ville	" 18–19
Trinity College,
South Guilford, Holt's Chapel,		" 25–26

N. H. D. WILSON, P. E

HILLSBORO DISTRICT.

4TH ROUND.

Durham sta.	Sept.	23–24
Alamance ct. Phillip's Chapel,	Oct.	– 1
Pittsboro ct Chatham Church,	"	7– 8
Deep River ct Providence,	"	14–15
C Hill & H River, Mt. Pleasant,	"	21–22
Flat River ct Orange Church,	"	28–29
Person ct Mt. Tirzah,	Nov.	4– 5
Leasburg ct Lea's Chapel,	"	11–12
Yanceyville ct Shady Grove,	"	18 19
Hillsboro sta.	"	25–26

L. L. HENDREN, P. E.
Chapel Hill, N. C.

FAYETTEVILLE DISTRICT

4TH ROUND—IN PART.

Jonesboro ct. at Cool Spring,	Oct 7– 8
Buck Horn Cokesbury,	"	14–15
Pee Dee Philadelphia,	"	21–22
Rockingham Rockingham.	"	28–29
Robeson,	Nov.	4– 5
Laurenburg Laurenburg	"	11–12

J. S. NELSON, P. E
Fayetteville, N. C.

RALEIGH DISTRICT.

4TH ROUND—1876.

Raleigh Person St,	Aug.	26–27
Granville Mt. Tabor,	Sept.	2– 3
Henderson Tabernacle,	"	16 17
Youngsville,	"	23 24
Roiesville Roiesville, Sept. 30th,	Oct.	1
Raleigh Edenton St.	"	7– 8
Cary, Hollands,	"	14–15
Louisburg,	"	21–22
Tar River Franklinton,	"	28–29
Rocky Mt & Nashville, Tolsnot,	at Tolsnot.	Nov. 4–5
Smithfield,	"	11–12

J. P. MOORE, P. E.
Warrenton, N. C.

SALISBURY DISTRICT.

4TH ROUND.

Statesville sta.	Sept.	9 10
Statesville ct, Salem,	"	16–17
Yadkinville, Center (C. M.)	Oct.	1– 2
Mt. Airy & S Mission, Salem.	"	7– 8
Surry ct, A B R Mission, Thompson's	"	14–15
Wilkes ct. Wilkesboro,	"	21–22
Alexander ct. Liberty (C. M.)	"	23–24
Iredell ct. Eagle Mills,	"	28–29
Mooresville, ct. McKendree's,	Nov.	4– 5
Salisbury, ct Harris'	"	11–12
Salisbury sta.	"	12–13
Davie ct. Smith Grove,	"	18–19
Mocksville ct. South River	"	25 26

D. R BRUTON, P. E.
Statesville, N. C.

WILMINGTON DISTRICT.

4TH ROUND.

Magnolia, at Salem,	Sept.	8–10
Wilmington, 5th Street,	"	16–17
Cokesbury, at Bethany,	"	20–24
Kenansville, at Wesley Chapel	Sept 30. and	Oct. – 1
Smithville at Smithville,	"	7 8
Onslow, at Tabernacle.	"	14–15
Wilmington, Front St reet,	"	21–22
Fairbirth, at Bladen Springs,	"	28–29
Bladen at Antioch,	Nov.	4 5
Whiteville and Waccamaw Miss.	"	11–12
Topsail at Rocky Point.	"	18 19
Clinton, at Coshen,	"	25–26

W. S. BLACK.
Magnolia, N. C.

WASHINGTON DISTRICT.

4TH ROUND.

Washington,	Sept.	2– 3
Greenville at Greenville.	"	9 10
Parboro. at McKendree	"	16–17
Warrenton,	Sept. 30 & Oct.	– 1
Roanoke at Bethel,	"	7– 8
Warren at Cokesburry	"	14–15
Williamston at Hamilton,	"	21–22
Plymouth and Jamesville, at Jamesville.	"	24 25
Columbia at Columbia,	"	28–29
Statesville street, at Fairfield.	Nov	4– 5
Bath at Asbury.	"	11–12
Washington at night on	"	–12

WM. CLOSE, P. E.
Tolsnot, N. C.

NEWBERN DISTRICT.

4TH ROUND.

Kinston Station,	Sept.	16–17
Newbern Station,	"	23–24
Beaufort Station,	Oct	7– 8
Straits,	"	14–15
Snow Hill, Rainbow,	"	21–22
Wilson station.	"	28–29
Carteret, Harlowe's.	Nov.	4– 5
Neuse, Aurora,	"	11 12
Craven, Beach Grove, Tues & Wed.	"	14 15
Piney Grove,	"	18–19
Jones, Oak Grove.	"	18–19
Mt. Olive Friday,	"	–24
Wayne, Fremont,	"	25–26
Goldsboro Sab. night & Mon.	"	–27

E. A. YATES, P. E.
Beaufort N C.

CHARLOTTE DISTRICT.

4TH ROUND.

Monroe ct. at Prospect,	Oct. 7– 8
Lilesville ct. at Shiloh,	"	14–15
Wadesboro sta.,	"	–18
South Charlotte ct. at Zion,	"	21–22
Stanley ct,	"	–27
Albemarle ct	"	28–29
Mt. Pleasant ct -	Nov.	– 1
Concord ct,	"	4– 5
Ansonville ct,	"	11–12
Wadesboro ct. at Popular Hill,	"	11–12
Pleasant Grove ct at Wesley Chapel	"	14–15
Pineville ct. at Harrisons,	"	–17
Monroe sta.	"	18–16
Charlotte,	"	25 29

The Local Preachers will please remember the discipline requires that they shall report in writing the extent and result of their labors to the Fourth Quarterly Conference.

W. H. POBBITT, P. E.
Monroe, N. C.

SHELBY DISTRICT.

4TH ROUND.

Columbus,	Aug.	26–27
Rutherfordton,		–29
Happy Home,	Sept.	2– 3
Caldwell, C. M.	"	9–10
South Fork, C. M.	"	16–17
Dallas, C. M.	"	23–24
Double Shoals, C. M. Sept. 30,	Oct.	1
Cherry Mountain, C. M.	"	7– 8
Shelby ct. C. M.	"	14–15
Upper Broad River,	"	–19
Marion, (Dedication	"	21–22
Shelby station,	"	28–29
Morganton,	Nov.	4– 5
Dysartsville,	"	– 8
Lenoir station,	"	11–12
Lincolnton,	"	11–12
Rock Spring,	"	18–19
Newton,	"	25–26

R. G. BARRETT, P. E.
Shelby, N. C

COMMERCIAL REPORT.

WHOLESALE CASH PRICES.

Office of CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, Oct. 23d, 1876

REMARKS.

Business greatly improved. Country produce offered in quantities; especially in exchange for groceries

General Market.

FLOUR, North Carolina $7@8.50.
CORN 75 to 80
O N MEAL—100
BAGGING, Standard 16 1 2.
" Dundo 18 1-2,
BACON, N. C. sog round, 14. to 15.
" " hams 16 1-2 to18
BULK C. R. sides, 13 1-2
" shoulders, 10 to 10 1 2
LARD, North Carolina, 16 1-2
" Western (leaves, 17 1-220
" " kegs, 16 1-2@17 1-2
COFFEE, Prime Rio, 24 1-2
" Fair Rio, 23
SYRUP, common sto, 37 1-2
MOLASSES, Cuba, 50.
SALT $2.20.
CHEESE, Cream, 15 16.
" Factory, 17.
" Dairy, none.
NAILS, on basis for 10d, $4.00.
SUGAR A 13 1-2.
" Extra C, 11 1-4.
" Yellow, 10@11
LEATHER, sole 37 1-2@30
HIDES, green, 7@8.
" dry, 18 1-2
TALLOW, 7@8
POTATOES, sweet 75
" Irish, $1.00@$1.25.
OATS, shelled, 80
" sheaf, $1.25
FODDER, old, $1.50, New 1.25
HAY, N. C. baled, .o0i
CHICKENS, grown, 30
" young, 20@30
EGGS, 20
BUTTER, country, 25@30
FISH, Mullets $6 to $10.
" Cut Herrings, 7@8
" Mackerel, new family, $1 .00
BEESWAX, 30.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

READY FOR AGENTS—THE

CENTENNIAL EXPOSITION

DESCRIBED AND ILLUSTRATED.

A graphic pen-picture of its history, grand buildings, wonderful exhibits, curiosities, great days, etc. Profusely illustrated, thoroughly popular, and very cheap. Is selling immensely. 5,000 AGENTS wanted. Send for full particulars. This is the chance of 100 years to coin money fast. Get the only reliable history.—HUBBARD BROTHERS, P. O. Box, 783 Sansom Street, Philadelphia Pa.

CAUTION.—Be not deceived by premature books assuming to be "official," and telling what will happen in August and September.

Nov 15-3m.

WANTED—SALESMEN—Traveling and local; staple goods; no peddling; salary $75 per month; Hotel and traveling expenses paid. S. A GRANT & CO., Manufacturers of paper and envelopes, 2, 4, 6 and 8 Home St., Cincinnati, O.

Nov. 15th 2-t

Each person who will send his name her full address will receive by next mail, free of charge, a copy of the best and prettiest weekly family newspaper in the country, full of interesting matter, and valuable to every one.

A postal card and one minute of time will do it. Send your address to-day to A. H. SIEGFRIED, Brower, 19 Louisville, Ky. Each communication sent will have attention same day it is received. Write at once and get a copy.

nov 15-1t.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE NEW

FARMER'S BOOK

Gives full information on all kinds of Farm-work, Draining, Fertilizers, Rotation of Crops, and Farm-Stock. Includes a most valuable and practical treatise on House-building, and book of Legal forms and Laws for farmers. The most valuable farmer's book ever published. For full description and terms, address J. C. McCURDY & CO., Philadelphia, Pa.

nov 15-7t eow.

THE MENEELY BELL FOUNDRY.

Bells for Churches, Academies, Factories, etc., of which more have been made at this establishment than at all the other foundries in the country, combined. All Bells warranted. An illustrated catalogue sent free upon application to

MENEELY & CO.,
West Troy, N. Y.

nov 15-1y.

!! REDUCTION IN PRICE !!

RICHARDSON'S NEW METHOD FOR PIANO.

—— A CARD ——

THE PUBLISHERS, BELIEVING THE DEMAND OF THE TIMES SHOULD BE MET, HAVE REDUCED THE PRICE OF THIS FAMOUS METHOD FOR THE PIANO-FORTE TO $3 25

THEY BELIEVE THE PUBLIC WILL APPRECIATE THEIR ACTION. AS TO MERIT AND EXCELLENCE THERE IS NO BOOK ITS EQUAL. IT STANDS FIRST AND FOREMOST AS ITS SALES OF HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS WILL ATTEST. IS ATTRACTIVE, THOROUGH AND SUCCESSFUL. IT IS CONSIDERED BY ALL FAIR JUDGES TO BE THE PERFECTION OF A PIANO INSTRUCTION BOOK, PRICE $3.25. SENT POST-PAID FOR THIS PRICE.

SOLD BY ALL MUSIC AND BOOK DEALERS, AND USED BY THE PRINCIPAL TEACHERS IN THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA.

OLIVER DITSON & CO.,
Boston.

C. H. Ditson & Co.,
711 Broadway,
New York

J. E. Ditson & Co.,
Successors to Lee & Walker, Phila.

THE YOUTH'S COMPANION
A WEEKLY PAPER FOR YOUNG PEOPLE AND THE FAMILY

THE COMPANION aims to be a favorite in every family—looked for eagerly by the young folks and read with interest by the older. Its purpose is to interest while it amuses; to be judicious, practical, sensible, and to have really permanent worth, while it attracts for the hour.

It is handsomely illustrated, and has for contributors some of the most attractive writers in the country. Among these are;

J. T. Trowbridge,	Louisa M. Alcott,
Edward Eggleston,	J. G. Whittier,
James T. Fields,	Louise C. Moulton,
Rebecca H. Davis,	G. A. Stephens,
Mrs. A. H. Leonowens,	Harriet P. Spofford,
Edward Everett Hale,	Julia Ward Howe.

In reading is adapted to the old and young; is very comprehensive in its character. It gives

Stories of Adventure,	Stories of Home and School Life,
Letters of Travel,	Tales, Poetry,
Editorials upon Current Topics,	Selections for Declamation,
Historical Articles,	Anecdotes, Puzzles,
Biograph'l Sketches,	Facts and Incidents.
Religious Articles,

Subscription Price, $1.75. Specimen copies sent free. Please mention in what paper you read this advertisement.

PERRY MASON & CO.,

41 Temple Place, Boston, Mass.

nov 1-4t eow.

WAKE COUNTY: In the Superior Court.

State of N. C. on Relation of E E Stamps, Trustee of Georgeanna Spivey, et. al., Against George H. Farribault, Adm'r of A. H. Taylor, and George H Farribault and wife Rosa, S A Taylor, N A Taylor and Matilda A Taylor; W D Jones, Wm B Mitchell, Candice Johns, Ex. of J B Johns, David Lewis and T B Johns, Ex's of C F Johns, Thos J Johns, John S Johns, Patrick H Johns, C N Allen and wife C V Allen and Hannah Johns } Summons for Relief

THE STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,

To the Sheriff of Wake County—Greeting.

You are hereby commanded to summon Matilda A. Taylor, Nat. A. Taylor and S. A. Taylor, the Defendants above named, if they be found within your County, to be and appear before the Judge of our Superior Court, at a Court to be held for the County of Wake at the Court House in Raleigh on the 5th Monday after the 2nd Monday of August 1876, and answer the complaint which will be deposited in the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court of said County, within the first three days of the next Term thereof, and let the said Defendants take notice that if they fail to answer the said complaint within that time, the Plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint. Hereof fail not, and of this summons make due return.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, this 19th day of Sept 1876.

J. H. BUNTING,
Clerk Superior Court Wake County.

NORTH CAROLINA, } SUPERIOR COURT,
Wake County, } Fall Term 1876

State of N. C. on relation of E. R. Stamps, Trustee, &c., vs. Geo. H. Farribault and others

It appearing to the satisfaction of the Court upon affidavit, that the defendants Sam'l A. Taylor, Nat A Taylor and Matilda A Taylor are necessary parties to this action, and that after due diligence they cannot be found in this State—It is ordered by the Court that service by publication of the summons in this cause be made upon the said defendants once a week for at least six weeks in the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, a newspaper published in the city of Raleigh, and that copies of the same be mailed to said defendants at their places of residence if such be known.

S. W. WATTS, J. S. C.

nov 8 6w.

$50 to $200 A MONTH FOR AGENTS.

Universal History

ANCIENT, MIDDLE-AGES, and MODERN.

The great interest in all nations and in our own thrilling history of 100 years, makes this book sell faster than any other. 5 books in one. Beautifully illustrated. Low price, quick sales, extra terms. Address J. C. McCURDY & CO., Philadelphia, Pa.

Nov. 8th 6-3-0-w

SITUATION WANTED.

A Widow of a minister, and of long experience in teaching, would assist in a School, or take entire charge of a neighborhood School. References given if required. Address, stating terms,

RALEIGH CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

Nov 8 1 m

KINSTON HIGH SCHOOL

The Fall session will begin Sept. 4th, 1876. Terms moderate.

For circulars, apply to

J. S. MIDYETTE, Principal
Kinston, N. C.

Aug. 16 3m.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

DRY GOODS.

NEW STORE.

L. ROSENTHAL,

Has just received

The Largest Stock of Clothing IN THE CITY.

Three Stores: Nos. 50,54 and Exchange Place

All Goods Warranted to Please or Money Returned,

CLOTHING,

DRY GOODS,

BOOTS and SHOES.

Great inducements offered to Country Merchants.

Boots and Shoes by the Box, Dozen or Single Pair.

Nov 13-m

JUST IN TIME.

—:o:—

10 pieces Blue Jeans.
100 Beaver and Cloth, ettes Cloaks.
20 Ladies English Ulsters—Something new and comfortable.
15c yards Cardinal Fish Net for Neck.
500 yards Cardinal and White Ruchings for Ladies.
500 pr. Linen Cuffs and Collars in Cardinal—Navy Blue, Brown and White.
110 Doz. Ladies Kid Gloves in colors—Black and White—from 75 cts. to $2.00 for the best.
12 Doz. Ladies and Misses Hoods in Cardinal—Blue and Brown braided flannel.

SHOES, BOOTS and GAITERS.

The largest stock in the State at bottom figures.

Dress Goods.

The largest stock ever held by one firm and of latest Styles and lowest Prices.

Hats! Hats!! Hats!!!

The largest stock ever offered by us, for Men, Boy's and Children, from 50 cts. upward.

LATE STYLE SILK HATS AT $5.50.

Remember, "The best goods at lowest cash prices."

W. H. & B. S. TUCKER.

oct 25 1f.

BEAUTIFUL STOCK OF FALL & WINTER CLOTHING!

—AND—

GENTS FURNISHING GOODS!

IS NOW BEING OPENED AT

J. M. ROSENBAUM'S
CLOTHING HOUSE,
Corner Fayetteville and Hargett Streets.

Thanking the good citizens of Raleigh and Wake county, for their liberal patronage in the past, I assure them that I shall endeavor, to merit it, by keeping my stock full, and selling at living prices. Give me a call before buying elsewhere. We take pleasure in showing our stock and telling our prices.

Oct 18-3m.

1876. 1876.

DRY FALL GOODS,

We have just received our complete stock of Goods for the Fall and Winter trade.

We call the attention of ladies to our superior stock of Dress Goods, which are much lower than ever known before.

Our Black Alpacas are of the very best quality and at low prices.

Our Stock of Ladies Cloaks is very large, of the very latest styles and are selling rapidly.

LADIES' TIES OF THE VERY LATEST STYLE.

A Handsome line of Ruffs and Ladies Collars and Cuffs.
Gents Cassimers, all Grades.
Large lot of Gents Latest style Silk Hats at $5.50, the best quality in the city, also a broad brim fine Felt Hat.
Canfield Boots and Shoes, the best made,
A Large lot of Cloth, Velvet and Leather Belts.

Special inducements offered to Merchants buying in the State. Our wholesale department is complete.

PETTY & JONES,

30 Fayetteville Street,

Raleigh, N. C.

Oct 18 1-f

POTTER'S AMERICAN MONTHLY

50,000 Subscribers for 1877.

ILLUSTRATED; Best Family Magazine in the Country, at $3 for 1877. 5 copies one year for $12; 10 copies for $20; 20 copies for $36, and a copy of Potter's Bible Encyclopedia, quarto, 3000 illustrations, price, $20, given to the person sending the club. For sale at all News stands, or 25 cents a number. Special Terms to Agents. J. E. POTTER & Co., Phila., Pa.

"TEACHER."

Any one desiring a teacher would do well to address, stating terms,

DR. W. A. WILSON, A. B.,
Trinity College.

sept 30-1f.

FREE! Oil, samples best article in use, send free to ladies or gents. Italians Expectable, profitable and pleasant for clergymen, teachers and others of genteel appearance and average ability. Send your letters and address D. A. RAY & Co. Chicago.

Nov 8 1-y

MISCELLANEOUS.

READ! READ!

In order to compete with New York houses and to keep up with the times,

ISAAC OETTINGER

has determined to put down prices, and less money shall flow Northward in the future. To prove that I am in earnest, and mean what I say, I will give a partial list of my prices:

Straw Hats from 40 cents up.
Felt Hats from 25 cents up.
Ruffs with lace edge from 10 cents per yard up.
Ribbons 1½ inches wide from 12½ cents up, and other widths in proportion.
Corsets from 35 cents up.
Collars from 7 cents up.
Zephyr from 13½ cents up, only Imported.
Real Hair Braids from 60 cents up.
Infants' Merino Cloaks from $1.50 up.
Infants' Croch 4 Caps from 75 cents up.
Infants' Dresses from $1.00 up.
Worsted Fringe for trimming dresses from 12½c. up.
Kid Gloves from 75 cents up, 2 buttons.
Hamburg Edgings from 6 cents up.

I could name a thousand more articles, but I can only assure the public that my prices will be uniform in every branch, and all I ask is a call.

MY STOCK IS LARGE AND NEW.

ISAAC OETTINGER,
48 Fayetteville Street,
RALEIGH, N. C.

Oct. 18-tf.

THE BOOK AND STATIONARY BUSINESS OF

E. J. HALE & SON,

17 MURRAY ST., New York.

Will not be interrupted by the removal of Mr. P. M. Hale to Raleigh. Orders from prompt customers solicited, and promptly filled at lowest market rates.

Oct 25-2m.

CARPENTER & EARL,

DEALERS IN

Coal, Wood and Lumber,

at Western Terminus, Hargett Street.

Best Redash Egg and Nut Coal per ton of 2240 pounds,	Delivered, $9.00
Stove Coal 2240 pounds,	" 9.50
Smith " per ton,	" 9.00
Hardwood, per cord,	" 4.00
Pinewood "	" 3.00
Lumber at low figures.

Orders may be left at Carmers Drug Store, or sent to the yard, and shall receive prompt attention.

Oct 18-6m.

REMOVAL-150 PIANOS & ORGANS at half price. The Subscribers will sell their Entire Stock of Pianos & Organs, new and second hand, of six first-class makers; sheet music and S. S. music books, at 50 PER CT. OFF, for cash, previous to removal to their new store 40 EAST 14th St. Illustrated catalogues Mailed. Monthly installments received. Agents Wanted. Special inducemen s to the trade. HORACE WATERS & SONS. Manufacturers and Dealers, 481 Broadway, and 40 East 14th Street, N. Y.

Oct. 11-4t.

L. M. YEARBY,

DEALER IN

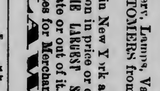
CHOICE FAMILY GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, AND COUNTRY PRODUCE.

Nos. 9 and 11 South Side of Hargett Street, Consignments of all kinds of Merchandise Solicited.

Oct 18-2m.

N. FRESHMAN & BRO.'S ADVERTISING AGENTS, 186 W. FOURTH ST. CINCINNATI, O. ESTIMATES FURNISHED FREE. SEND FOR OUR MANUAL.

B. T. BABBITT'S BABY SOAP,



Only the purest vegetable oils used in its manufacture. No artificial and deceptive odors to cover rottenness and deleterious ingredients. Unrivalled for the toilet and the bath. Used in bathing children, will prevent rose tions, keep the skin soft and smooth, contributes to health, and prevent disease. Does away with all powders, chalk or other emollients. A certain preventive of chafing, itching, &c., in the sick-room. Increases the purchases of half the regular and economy of the household. Worth ten times its cost to every mother and family in Christendom; packed in boxes of 12 cakes of 2½ ozs. each, and sent free to any address on receipt of $1.50. Address, as per notice by all Druggists. B. T. BABBITT, N. Y.

Oct 11 1y.

CATARRH! IT CAN BE CURED. TRADE MARK.

Send stamp for full information. Price lists, etc. to Rev. T. P. CHILDS, Troy, Miami Co., O.

Oct 25-4t eow

SELLERS' LIVER PILLS.

Sellers Liver Pills are closing their thirty years a Standard Remedy for the cure of Liver Complaint, Constipation, Sick Headache, and all Derangements of the Liver. "Sellers's Vermifuge, the great Worm Destroyer, expelled 400 large, live worms from an infant 18 years old. Worm Fever, St. Louis, Mo. Price of pills, 25c. If your druggist don't keep them, send for them.

R. E. SELLERS & CO.,

Children's Column.

The Prodigal "Tramp."

FOR SUNDAY SCHOOL BOYS.

BY O. L. STYLES.

Well, boys, we hope you have studied the map (as we asked you to do in our first article,) and that you have it fully photographed on your minds. If you have you will know that the city of Damascus is in about the same latitude as Wilmington North Carolina. We suppose you know what the term "latitude" means. Ask your teacher if you do not. The name is pronounced Da mas-cus, meaning "a sack full of blood." It is situated on the waters of some rivers which flow from the mountains past it in a south easterly direction. By referring to 2 Kings v chap. 12 verse you will find their names mentioned in one of the most interesting narratives to be found in the Old Testament. These mountain streams were clear, cool and beautiful, they tempered the air, besides affording an abundant supply of good water. Nearly every house had a fountain playing in its court, the backs of the city were numerous, built of marble, paved with mosaics, and fitted with every eastern luxury. The fields and gardens were very fertile and nearly all grains, plants and fruits for the use of man and beast grew there. Besides, Damascus is in a high country, its elevation above the sea being within a few feet of that of the great tunnel of the mountains in the Swannanoa gap, on the Wester n North Carolina Rail Road. Some of you may have been up there during the past summer. If so you can judge better of the elevation than others less favored. In Damascus were to be found stores—or "Bazaars" as they called them, with all kinds of goods known in that country. Broadcloths, shawls, muslins, saddles, bridles, fine cabinet work, jewelry of gold and silver, and precious stones, fruits, melons, sweet-meats and various kinds of confections, (real confectionary stores,) besides cloths of silk and wool, damask and embroidered work. There were also stores for the sale of weapons, armor and all war like material, and in the markets were all kinds of useful animals, horses, camels, mules, oxen, sheep, goats, etc. The swords known as "Damsens blades' were made there Wonderful things are told of their qualities, but we cannot stop to tell about them now; how the art of making them was lost, then discovered again in Europe, then lost again, and found again in America, these you can read about some time. Damascus also had magnificent buildings, palaces and residences. whose ruins testify to this day of the splendors of its architecture. It was for three hundred years or more the residence of the Kings of Syria.

Long before their time Abraham the father of the faithful, fought a battle near there. Hunt up the history of Abraham in Genesis and read it. Who was Abraham's steward? Where was he from? David conquered Hadad, king of Damascus. It was afterward conquered by the Assyrians and Romans, and belonged to the Roman Empire in the time of Christ. We mention these facts to excite you to study. Let us return to our rich young emigrant. Ushered into the splendors of this rich eastern capital with money plenty at his command, with the restraints of home thrown off, with the religion of his fathers left behind him, in a heathen land, where morals were unrestrained by religion, he launched out into all the amusements and vices of a godless city. Young men gather around him; he must entertain them, feasts must be made, wine must "crown the board," the dancers must be brought in, (for in eastern countries they hire people to do their dancing for them. They never dance if they are respectable people) and in the midst of revelry the time passes swiftly away. So does the money—Presently ten camels must be sold for more money, horses go, cattle, flocks and herds follow the same path, until he finds they are all gone spent in a course of "riotous living."

At last the day comes when the last of all his wealth with which he left home is gone. It may have taken him several years but the end has come at last. He calls to dine with one of his boon companions but is denied entrance by the servants who laugh and jeer at his folly. He sells the fine robe which has been his pride, that rich damask silk robe, it feeds him for a few days; one by one he parts with his garments until he is down to the last suit. He is spurned from door to door, the very beggars who formerly sat at his gate have no kind word for him—such is the way of the world—Finally in utter disgust, he turns his back upon the city and travels for the mountains. Perhaps he may find some remnant of his flocks and herds to save him from starvation 'No, they are all gone!' 'I starve! I starve!' was his cry, 'No man gave unto him' He had never done any servile work, but he asks a heathen man to hire him and he sends him out to his fields to feed swine.

The last step in degradation to a Jew. Here then began his life as a tramp. We find that we have not room in this number to follow the 'tramp,' so we leave that journey for future consideration, Think over the events as we have devised them.—Above all, study the lessons of that xv chapter of Luke, make them your rule of life, avoid his mistakes, and you will never become a tramp.

Love of truth shows itself discovering and appreciating what is good wherever it may exist.

A YOUTHFUL MARTYR

In the first ages of the Church of Christ, in the city of Antioch, a believer was carried forth to die as a martyr. 'Ask any little child,' said he, 'whether it were better to worship one God, the Maker of heaven and earth, and one Saviour, who is able to save us, or to worship the many false gods whom the heathen serve'

Now it was so that a Christian mother had come to the spot, holding in her hand a little son, of about nine or ten years old, named Cyril. The heathen judge no sooner heard the martyr's words than his eyes rested on the child and he desired the question to be put to him.

The question was asked, and to the surprise of those who heard it, the boy replied, 'God is one, and Jesus Christ is one with the Father.'

The judge was filled with rage. 'O base Christian!' he cried, 'thou hast taught that child to answer thus.'—Then turning to the boy, he said more mildly, "Tell me, child; how did you learn this faith?'

The boy looked lovingly in his mother's face, and replied, 'It was God's grace that taught it to my dear mother, and she taught it to me."

'Let us now see what the love of Christ can do for you,' cried the cruel judge; and, at a sign from him, the officers, who stood ready with their wooden rods of the fashion of the Romans, instantly seized the boy.—Gladly would the mother have saved her timid dove, even at the cost of her own life, but she could not do so; yet she did whisper to him to trust in the love of Christ, and to speak the truth.

'What can the love of Christ do for him now?' asked the judge.

'It enables him to endure what his Master endured for him and for us all,' was the reply. And again they smote the child.

'What can the love of Christ do for him?' And tears fell even from the eyes of the heathen, as that mother, as much tortured as her son, answered, 'It teaches him to forgive his persecutors.'

The boy watched his mother's eyes as they rose up to heaven for him; and when his tormentors asked whether he would not now acknowledge the gods they served, and deny Christ, he still said, 'No; there is no other God but one, and Jesus Christ is the Redeemer of the world. He loved me, and I love Him for His love.'

The poor boy now fainted beneath the repeated strokes, and they cast the bruised body into the mother's arms, crying, 'See what the love of your Christ can do for him now!'

As the mother pressed her child gently to her own crushed heart, she answered, "That love will take him from the wrath of man to the rest of heaven."

'Mother,' cried the dying boy, 'give me a drop of water from our cool well upon my tongue.'

The mother said, 'Already dearest, hast thou tasted of the well that springs up to everlasting life—the grace which Christ gives to His little ones. Thou hast spoken the truth in love. Arise now, for thy Saviour calleth for thee. May He grant thy poor mother grace to follow in his bright path!'

The little martyr faintly raised his eyes, and said again, 'There is but one God, and Jesus Christ whom He has sent; and so saying he gave up his life.—Golden Sayings for the Young.

BAKER'S COD LIVER OIL AND PHOSPHATE OF LIME, prepared so as to be decidedly palatable, a sure defense against the scourge of our climate, Consumption; and a certain remedy for Throat and Lung diseases, Scrofula Rheumatism, Debility, Rickety Affections of children. Sold by druggist. JNO C. BAKER & Co., Philadelphia.

An Unanswerable Argument.

The strongest argument which can be urged against the advisability of administering such corrosive and nerve-destroying poisons as arsenic and quinine for intermittent and remittent fever, is the vastly superior success in the prevention and cure of such diseases of a medicine which is the very antipode of the above named drugs, both in respect of its composition and the result wrought by it. Such a medicine is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a purely vegetable preparation, which not only eradicates with wonderful promptitude every trace of fever and ague, and kindred types of malarious disease, from the system, but in a certain preventive of all maladies begotten of miasma-tainted air and water. The se results mineral anti-febrile remedies do not effect with certainty, and their continued use entails consequences highly pernicious to the system. "ne Bitters on the contrary, not only afford speedy relief, but establish health on a permanent basis.

OFFICE DEPT. OF TRANSPORTATION, Seaboard & Roanoke R. R. Co., Portsmouth, Va., Jan. 1st, 1875.

On and after the date, trains of this Road will leave Weldon daily, Sundays excepted, as follows:

Mail train at	4 P. M.
No. 1 Freight train at	6 A. M.
No. 2 Freight train at	8 A. M.

ARRIVE AT PORTSMOUTH.

Mail train at	7 15 P. M.
No 1 Freight at	12 00 NOON.
No 2 Freight at	4 00 P. M.

Freight trains have a passenger car attached.

Steamer for Edenton, Plymouth and Landings on Blackwater and Chowan Rivers leave Franklin at 7.40 A. M on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

E. G. GHIO, Supt. Transportation.

LAWNS LAWNS!! LAWNS!!!

A new supply figured Lawns in the piece. Very desirable patterns.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER.

PLEASANT GARDEN ACADEMY,

Male and Female.

(Greensboro District Conference School).

Next session begins Aug. 1st, 1876.

Entire expenses from $60 to $70.

For particulars, address,

R. P. TROY, Principal, Greensboro, N. C.

July 26-3m.

DOWN June and Early Alexander the two EARLIEST PEACHES KNOWN. 3 weeks earlier than Hales—Trees per 10 cts. Per 100 $15. Per 1000 $135.00.

Also Texas Mammoth Melon seed (seventy weight of melons 50 lbs) 30 c., per package, 5 packs $1.25 post paid. All other stock at low rates Catalogue free Address J. & W. K. M'DEVID, Salisbury, Rowan Co., Md.

Oct 11 4 t

COMMISSION MERCHANTS.

THE OLDEST

WHOLESALE GROCERY HOUSE

In Raleigh!

ESTABLISHED IN 1869.

EACH BROTHERS

WHOLESALE GROCERS

— AND —

Commission Merchants,

RALEIGH, N. C.

Ask the attention of the trade to their stock of

STAPLE GROCERIES,

ought from first hands by their resident Partner in New York, and offered in this market on small margins.

With an experience of seven years in the grocery business in this city they will make it to the interest of prompt paying customers to send them their orders.

P. O. Box 416 Raleigh, N. C.

March 5th 1-y

NEW FIRM

TO FRIENDS AND PUBLIC GENERALLY

I have associated with me Mr. G. D. Rand (formerly Rand & Barbee Lumber Dealers) as a partner in the wholesale and retail Grocery and General Commission business. I respectfully tender my thanks for past favors and hope to have them continued with the new firm. Yours truly,

January 6, 1876. L. R. WYATT.

G. D RAND L. R. WYATT.

RAND & WYATT,

Wholesale and Retail Grocers

AND

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

Have on hand and constantly receiving a fresh and first class stock of consisting of Flour, a specialty, Meal, Corn Bacon Lard, Sugar, Coffee, Pepper and Spices, Molasses (new crop Cuba), Syrup, Tobbt and Laundry, Soaps, Wood and Willow ware, Fancy Groceries, &c.

GROCERIES

Everything embraced in a First Class Grocery which we propose to sell at Lowest figures.—Give us a trial. Orders with proper reference respectfully solicited, which shall receive our prompt attention. Consignments of Cotton and other produce solicited. Best prices guaranteed Yours truly,

RAND & WYATT,

Opp. East end of Market, Raleigh, N. C.

July 12 1 y

SCHEDULES.

PIEDMONT AIR-LINE RAILWAY.

RICHMOND & DANVILLE RICHMOND & DANVILLE R. W., N. C. DIVISION, and NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. W.

CONDENSED TIME-TABLE.

IN EFFECT ON AND AFTER SUNDAY, OCT. 15TH, 1876.

GOING NORTH.

STATIONS.	Mail.
Leave Charlotte.....	4.55 A M
" Air-Line Junc'n	5.30 "
" Salisbury.....	7.35 "
" Greensboro'.....	9.55 "
" Danville.....	12.2 P M
" Dundee.....	1.44 "
" Burkeville.....	3.05 "
Arrive at Richmond...	7.43 P M

GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS.	Mail.
Leave Richmond.....	7.51 A M
" Burkeville.....	10.46 "
" Dundee.....	12.55 P M
" Danville.....	2.50 "
" Greensboro'.....	5.21 "
" Salisbury.....	7.15 "
" Air-Line Junc'n	10.25 "
Arrive at Charlotte	10.37 "

STATIONS.	GOING EAST. Mail.	GOING WEST Mail.
Leave Greensboro'..	10.05 a. m.	Arrive 5.35 p. m.
Co. Shops.....	10.12 a. m.	Leave 5.25 "
Arrive at Raleigh..	2.41 P. M.	Arrive 12.30 "
Arrive at Goldsboro'	5.05 P. M.	Leave 10.10 P M

STATIONS.	ACCOMMODATION TRAIN.
Leave Greensboro'...	5.30 P. M.
Co. Shops.....	11 10 "
Arr. at Raleigh....	8.01 A. M.
Arr at Goldsboro...	11.05 "

NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. R.

SALEM BRANCH.

Leave Greensboro'.....	5.10 P. M.
Arrive at Salem.....	8.15 A. M.
Leave Salem.....	4.30 P. M.
Arrive at Greensboro'.....	7.35 "

Passenger Train leaving Raleigh at 12.31 P. M. connects at Greensboro' with the Southern bound train; making the quickest time to all Southern cities.

Accommodation Train leaving Greensboro at 10.5 P. M. connects with Northern bound Train at Greensboro for Richmond and all points East. Price of Tickets same as via other routes.

No Change of Cars Between Atlanta and Richmond, 547 Miles.

Papers that have arrangements to advertise the Schedule of this company will please print as above, and forward copies to General Passenger Agent.

For further information address

JOHN M. MACMURDO, Gen'l Passenger Agent, Richmond, Va.

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE

RALEIGH & GASTON RAILROAD, SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE, Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 9th, 1876

On and after Monday, Oct 9th, 1876, trains on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad, will run daily (Sunday excepted) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Leave Raleigh,	9.30 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon,	5.00 P. M.
Leaves Weldon,	12.40 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh,	5.40 P. M.

ACCOMMODATION TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh,	5.00 A. M.
Arrives as Weldon,	9.35 P. M.
Leaves Weldon,	4.30 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh	8.15 P. M.

Mail train makes close connection at Weldon, with the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad and Bay Line Steamers via Baltimore, to and from all points North, West and Northwest, and with Petersburg Railroad via Petersburg, Richmond and Washington City, to and from all points North and Northwest.

And at Raleigh with the North Carolina Railroad to and from all points south and Southwest, and with the Raleigh & Augusta Air Line to Haywood and Fayetteville.

JNO. C. WINDER, Gen'l Superintendent.

RALEIGH & AUGUSTA AIR-LINE RAILROAD.

SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE, Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 10th, 1876.

On and after Monday, October 30th, 1876, trains will run as follows:

TRAIN MOVING SOUTH.

	Arrive	Leave
Raleigh,	3.00 A. M.	6.30 A. M
Garr,	5.50 "	7.20 "
Apex,	6.25 "	7.55 "
New Hill,	8.05 "	8.30 "
Merry Oaks,	9.00 "	9.5 "
Jonesboro,	9.35 "	9.45 "
Hoffman,	10.15 "	10.20 "
Sanford,	10.50 "	11.05 "
Vass,	11.35 "	11.37 "
Cameron,	12.7 P. M.

TRAIN MOVING NORTH.

	Arrive	Leave
Raleigh,	4.10 P M	6.00 P. M.
Cary,	5. 2 "	6.28 "
Apex,	5.17 "	6.32 "
New Hill,	5.42 "	6.47 "
Merry Oaks,	6.07 "	6.49 "
Jonesboro,	6.32 "	7.37 "
Hoffman,	6.47 "	7.39 "
Sanford,	7.6 "	7.37 "
Vass,	7.36 "	7.39 "
Cameron,		1.10 "

J. C. WINDER Superintendent

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE BUFFALO

LITHIA WATERS

THE GREAT

STOMACH WATERS

Of America.

(Extract from Letter of Dr. H., of July 28, 1876.)

"Mrs. ——— has been for twenty years a sufferer from dyspepsia in a most aggravated form. Prominent among a multiplicity of distressing symptoms were attacks of Spasms in the Stomach, varying in duration and intensity, and becoming less and less amenable to treatment. For a few months before she commenced the use of the BUFFALO LITHIA WATER the attacks became more prolonged and violent and her emaciated, nay bloodless condition gave unmistakable evidence of a rapid decline, having exhausted my own resources, I called to my assistance in the treatment of the case some of the most eminent medical men of the State, without any other result than a palliation of suffering, and in what I regarded as a hopeless condition, I prescribed the Buffalo Lithia Water, Spring No. 2, to the exclusion of all other treatment. She has been using the water now for some six weeks, with only occasional symptoms of indigestion, and her improvement has been so marked and decided that she is able to attend regularly to her domestic affairs. For four months before commencing the use of the "Lithia Water," her diet was milk and stale bread, alternated with bread and water and bread and tea. She now eats with impunity almost everything—for breakfast, coffee, hoecake and butter, mutton chops, broiled chicken &c.; for dinner, mutton, beef, chicken, and any vegetables except Irish potatoes, with desserts, such as cake, ice cream, &c. I will add, that this was one of the most distressing and unmanageable cases of Dyspepsia that I have ever met in the practice of many years, and that the action of the water in it was marvellous."

DYSPEPSIA AND NERVOUS HEADACHE

Cured of Dr. R. H. Tatum a well-known physician of Chesterfield county, Va.

Extract from letter dated Longwood, Va., September 4th, 1876:

"For years I have suffered from indigestion, causing sick headaches, attended with the most intense agony. I have visited some of our most celebrated mountain springs, and drank the mineral water from the springs of other States, but never found any relief as I have experienced from the use of two cases of the BUFFALO LITHIA WATER, Spring No. 2. I have prescribed it for several patients suffering from symptoms produced by Dyspepsia—such as loss of appetite, general debility, headache, cough and severe pain in the epigastric region—with the happiest results."

Post office Chula, Amelia county, Va.

DYSPEPSIA.

Case of John P. K[illegible] Esq., well known citizen [illegible] Amelia county, Va.

Col. Thos. F. Goode:

Dear Sir:—It is with much pleasure I furnish you with a statement of the result of the trial of your LITHIA WATER, on my daughter's case of Dyspepsia. I may possibly have been skeptical as to its curative qualities.

For several months previous to my using your water from Nature's fountain, she had been failing in health and strength, and it was with difficulty I could get a morsel of food to remain on her stomach. For some eighteen months I employed the best medical men of Buffalo, Baltimore, Philadelphia, and Richmond, during that time she was under the treatment of the best medical men of this city, without any benefit. From these I was brought to my home in Petersburg, same county, as was supposed, to die, which, by mere chance, I came to possession of some of your Springs' pamphlets, and with but little faith, determined to try the water. A single dose resulted in an improvement in my beloved child, that I am now able to attend daily to my business on the farm. I do believe you to be the greatest stomach-water of the world.

Very truly yours, JOHN F. KEELING.

In affection of the Kidneys and Bladder, in Gout, Rheumatism and Paralysis, these waters have accomplished results so remarkable as to defy any of record. They are for sale in cases of one gallon half gallon bottles at $5 per case, payable in advance.

The Spring Pamphlet sent to any address on application.

THOS. F. GOODE, Proprietor

BUFFALO LITHIA SPRINGS,

Mecklenburg Co., Va.

oct 11-6t.

WIRE RAILING & ORNAMENTAL Wire Works. Dufur & Co.,

86 North Howard Street, Baltimore, Md.

Manufacture Wire Screens for Verandahs, Balconies, &c., Shutters, Fences, Arches, Stand and Counter Screens, Wire Work for Windows, Iron Bedsteads, Chairs, Settees, &c.

sep 14-1m

SHOES AND HATS

The largest Stock with the most desirable styles and the low prices.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER.

J. R. DAVIS. N. C. DUNSTON

DAVIS & DUNSTON'S

Hair Dressing & Shaving Saloon,

South Basement R. Jones Noble's Bank,

RALEIGH, N. C.

We employ none but skilful workmen, and all work done with their patronage may rest assured of satisfaction.

Polite and accommodating Porter Boys in attendance.

Oct 11 1m

GEORGE ARTZ, FOR THE FALL, WINTER AND SPRING!

HEAD-QUARTERS FOR DR. CHARLES J. HALL'S CELEBRATED RALEIGH'S PATENT IMPROVED SPRING HATS.

Call and see the Fall Style of this Celebrated Hat.

GEORGE ARTZ.

Oct 11-1m

DRY GOODS.

1876. 1876.

Fall and

WINTER GOODS

—AT—

J. P. GULLEY'S,

DEALER IN

Dry Goods, Notions, Boots, Shoes, Hand Made. Clothing Department up Stairs.

Fayetteville St. and South Corner Market Square.

RALEIGH, N. C.

I wish to say to the Ladies that I am Sole Agent here for Frank Leslie's Journal

CUT PAPER PATTERNS.

Have stock of these Patterns on hand, completing all the latest Novelties for Ladies, Misses, Children and Boys, for every description of Dress.

Circulars sent on application free.

J. P. GULLEY

Oct 18 tf.

LORD & TAYLOR

New York

OUR FALL IMPORTATIONS

ARE NOW COMPLETE IN ALL DEPARTMENTS, AND PRICES ARE VERY LOW. OUR STOCK OF

Black, Colored and Fancy Silks

IS THE LARGEST AND BEST ASSORTED IN THE CITY, AND BUYING SUCH WHOLESALE AS IT DOES IN A HOUSE, AND HAVING BEEN SUCH FOR MANY YEARS, ENABLES US TO OFFER TO THE LADIES OF THE SOUTH AND WEST, WHO ARE PREPARED TO SELL AT LAST SEASON'S PRICES!

OUR

DRESS GOODS DEPARTMENT

EMBRACES ALL THE NOVEL TEXTS IN FALL AND WINTER SUITINGS AND CLOTHS, BOTH PLAIN AND FANCY, IN ALL GOOD ASSORTMENTS AND WIDTHS, ALL COLORS AND MIXED PLAIDS, STRIPES AND DAMASSE EFFECTS, AS WELL AS

POPULAR DRESS FABRICS

IN ALL THE NEWEST COLORING AND MATERIALS, FROM ITS POINTS A VERY LOW PRICE.

OUR IMPORTATION OF

INDIA SHAWLS,

FROM THE LARGEST AND BEST SELECTED STOCK EVER HELD IN THIS COUNTRY, ARE NOW OFFERED AT LESS THAN FORMER PRICES, AND ARE UNEQUALLED IN QUALITY AND LOWNESS OF PRICES, AS FOLLOWS:

PLAIN INDIA SHAWLS, all sizes and qualities, from $5 to $25.

EMBROIDERED INDIA SHAWLS, in all sizes, from $12 to $75.

CASHMERE SHAWLS, all sizes, from $12 to $75.

SCARFS IN INDIA SHAWLS, new designs, $15 to $35.

SHEDDA SHAWLS, entire new colors, $10, upwards.

ALSO,

PARIS AND VIENNA BROCHE, PAISLEY FILLED, Plain centres and Stripes, and

BRITISH AND AMERICAN WOOLEN SHAWLS. Unrivalled for beauty and substantial value

OUR LADIES' & CHILDREN'S SUIT AND FURNISHING DEPARTMENT

is now more thoroughly stocked and equipped than ever heretofore, and we are prepared to fill all orders at once, and to guarantee satisfaction.

Handsomely trimmed suits in Cashmere, Ruched Cloths, Camel's Hair, Alpaca, Combination suits, &c., in the most beautiful new effects, at prices to bring the most economical.

By following our directions for self-measurement Ladies can obtain suits made to their perfect fit, economically, and more satisfactorily than by any home made work.

Mourning Costumes and outfits a specialty and orders filled on 12 hours' notice.

Misses and Children's Costumes and suits at very reasonable prices.

LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S UNDERWEAR.

An immense stock of beautiful and reliable goods, at very great reductions.

Ladies' complete outfits, at $50 and upwards.

Infants' complete outfits, at $15 and upwards.

A full catalogue of this department, with direction for self-measurement, sent free on application to all parts of the country.

OUR STOCK OF

Rich Furs

On hand, and being manufactured, will be the most beautiful in the city, and at most attractive prices

We also call particular attention to our large stocks of

LINENS AND WHITE GOODS,

LACES AND EMBROIDERIES,

UPHOLSTERY GOODS,

HOUSEKEEPING GOODS,

HOSIERY AND GLOVES,

GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS,

BOYS' CLOTHING, AND

LADIES' BOOTS AND SHOES.

The Domestic and Housekeeping Depts are stocked with goods from the large summer auction sales, at prices below cost of Manufacture.

CARPETS AT GRAND STREET ONLY.

And at greatly Reduced Prices.

Velvet Carpets, from $2 up.

Body Brussels, from $1.50 up.

Tapestries, from $1 up.

Three-Ply's, from $1.1½'s up.

Ingrains best $1; cheapest, 35 cents.

Oil Cloths, from 20 cents up.

GET "HEADQUARTERS FOR LINOLEUM—BEST FLOOR COVERING EVER SOLD.

Samples of goods sent free on application to all parts of the country.

Orders for goods of every description carefully filled without charge, and goods packed and forwarded to any desired location

BROADWAY & TWENTIETH ST GRAND & CHRYSTIE STS., N. Y.

Oct 11-3m.

D. S. WATTS & BRO.

Beg leave to inform their customers that they have removed to the well known stand of James M Towles, No. 32 Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, N. C., which they have fitted up entirely new, and have purchased a large and well assorted stock of

READY-MADE CLOTHING!

For Men, Boys and Children.

Men's Sack Suits for $4 10; Men's Frock Suits for $5 00; Men's Frock Cassimere Suits, from $10 to $25; Men's Fine Black Suits, from $17 50 to $30. Boys' Fancy Suitnet Suits, $4 to $6; Boys' Cas. Suits, $3 to $15; Children's Suits, $3 to $10; Over-Coats, $5 to $30. Come and get SUITED.

GENTS FURNISHING GOODS,

Hemming Edgings and Insertions,

Notions Hosiery, Gloves, Cambrics, &c

Boots, Shoes, Umbrellas, Hats, Caps and Furs,

DOMESTIC DRY GOODS,

CONSISTING OF

Prints, Alpacas, Mouselines, Delaines, Ginghams, Cotton Padds, Cottonades, Kentucky Jeans, Cassimeres, Cambrics, Blue Denim, Osnaburgs, Ticklings, Flannels, Shirting Stripes, Opera Flannels, Linseys, &c.

BLEACHED & BROWN SHEETINGS & SHIRTINGS.

Thanking our friends for their liberal patronage in the past, we feel confident that in our new store with New Goods, bought at the lowest prices, we will be able to please all. Respectfully,

D. S. WATTS & BRO.,

oct 4-6. No. 32 Fayetteville St., Raleigh, N C

Established 1816.

CHAS. SIMON & SONS,

No. 8 N. HOWARD STREET, BALTIMORE

DEALERS IN

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC

DRY GOODS,

GOODS,

LINEN GOODS,

EMBROIDERIES

LACES AND HOSIERY

This is a department of

Mourning Goods

In itself.

SAMPLES BY MAIL FREE!

All orders amounting to $20 or over, will be sent free of freight or express by Express, but parties should write us when their patronage may rest assured of satisfaction.

Polite and accommodating Porter Boys in attendance.

Oct 11 1m

HARDWARE

CRYSTAL METAL

BRONZED BELLS

FOR

CHURCHES,

SCHOOL HOUSES,

FACTORIES,

SHOPS,

PLANTATIONS.

These Bells are composed of the pure crystal metal, and the shape and weight of metal in them is such as to give the best possible results. They are

SUPERIOR IN TONE AND FINISH

to many others, no matter under what name they may be sold, either "STEEL COMPOSITION" or "AMALGAM," and are

Guaranteed to Give Satisfaction.

The CHEAPEST BELL MADE.

Church Bells furnished at COST.

T. H. BRIGGS & SONS,

Briggs Building,

RALEIGH, N. C.

DEALER IN

Hardware, Building Material, Wagon and Buggy Material, Paints, Oils, Glass, Steel, Irons and Blanks. Agents for Peters. No charge for Packing or Drayage. apl 19-tf.

apl 12 1y.

$55 to $77 a Week to Agents. Samples free P. O. VICKERY, Augusta, Maine.

aug 23-1y

EDUCATIONAL.

Trinity College, N. C.

The Session begins Sept. 5th. Tuition $20 to $35 for five months; board $10 to $12 per month. Entire expense for five months $87 to $68.

Send for Catalogue,

D. CRAVEN.

aug 23-tf

JOHN J. FRAY'S

CLASSICAL AND MATHEMATICAL SCHOOL.

The 10th session of my school will begin on Sept. 4th, 1876, 1st Monday in Term same as heretofore

Boarding pupils will be met at Clayton on the N. C. R. R. 3 1-2 miles distant or at Raleigh.

For circulars containing terms, particulars &c. Address,

JOHN J. FRAY, Raleigh, N. C.

References:—The faculty of the University of Va. Rev. R. T. Bruce, A. M. Mial, Rev. W. H. Bobbitt, Rev. J. B. Hubbard, D. D. Rev. J. P. Moore.

aug 2-6tf

DAVENPORT FEMALE COLLEGE

Lenoir, N. C.

REV. W. M. ROBEY A. M. President.

EXPENSES PER SESSION.

Board, including lights and washing..... $70.00

Tuition, English course..... 25.00

Music, Ornamental and Languages..... 20.00

Use of piano (one hour) daily..... 1.50

The fall session will open on the 4th Monday in July and close on the 1st Friday in Jan. The Spring session will open on the 4th Monday in Jan 1877, and close on the last Friday in June.

For further information address Rev. S. Hoke, D. D. Rev. P. E. Wilkinson, D. D. Wilmington, Rev. R. A. Yates, D. D. Yadkin, Rev. Dr. Burke, Raleigh, Rev. E. W. Pearson, Tarboro, Rev. W. A. Graves, Thomasville, Rev. A. D. Cummings, Greensboro, Rev. W. A. Smith, Trinity College, Rev. C. B. Mann, Randolph, Rev. Dr. Pritchard, Dr. and to the Presiding Elder of the Goldsboro, Fayetteville and Concord Districts, all of the N. C. Conference.

Also to the President of the Board of Trustees, Jas. Iredell, Esq., Edenton.

WESLEYAN FEMALE INSTITUTE.

STAUNTON, VA.

The Forty-fourth Annual Session will begin on Wednesday, Sept. 13th, 1876. Rev. W. A. Harris, D. D., President, with a full corps of twenty-three Teachers and Officers.

Modern languages are taught by native teachers in the College by the most approved methods. Music by old Professors and other efficient teachers. Students are trained and cultivated in the science and vocal music in the highest.

The Institute is situated on the Valley Turnpike (Union Depot), three miles from the town of Staunton, in the midst of the beautiful and healthful scenery of the Valley of Virginia. Its grounds are large and commodious, and command a fine view of the surrounding country. The buildings are well adapted to the purposes of education, and eligible and pleasant in their location. They are heated by coal stoves, and supplied with pure water from springs on the hill. The rooms are large, well ventilated, and furnished with all the necessary conveniences for comfort, health and neatness. The grounds include a large play-ground, and a beautiful grove for exercise and recreation.

Students are required to be furnished with bedding, towels, napkins, and toilet articles. Each student should be provided with a Bible, Dictionary, Atlas, Writing Desk, Stationery, and Text-books.

Graduates and other students are required to attend public worship on the Sabbath. No unnecessary expenses will arise. Strict economy prevails. Text-books cost little.

From Bishop E. M. Marvin, D. D.

The Wesleyan Female Institute is an honor to the Church which founded it, both in music, advantages, situation and surroundings. The most talented and accomplished ladies of the Southern States are employed as governesses in each department.

From Prof. H. Smith, M. A., L. L. D., University of Virginia.

The Wesleyan Female Institute, at Staunton, deserves its brilliant success and prestige. Having had a daughter in one of its classes, my observation leads me to believe this school to be one of the best of Female Seminaries in this section of country. Its buildings, grounds, appointments, and its whole organization and management, are unsurpassed. Its corps of teachers is unusually able, and the pupils from all our South ern States

F. AN I-E R. SMITH.

TERMS FOR THE ACADEMIC COLLEGIATE YEAR: Board and Tuition, Tuition, Contingent expenses, Fuel, Use of Piano, Use of Library, Use of Philosophical Apparatus, Use of Chemical Apparatus, Graduating fee, Incidentals, Drawing, Painting, Modern Languages, Latin, Greek, Hebrew, Each, Vocal Music, Each, Use of Piano for practice, Each, Use of Guitar, Each, Use of Violin, Each, Use of Harp, Each, Use of Organ, Each, Use of Cabinet of Minerals, Each, Use of Cabinet of Shells, Each, Use of Cabinet of Birds, Each, Use of Cabinet of Insects, Each, Use of Cabinet of Reptiles, Each, Use of Cabinet of Fossils, Each, Use of Cabinet of Coins, Each, Use of Cabinet of Antiquities, Each, Use of Cabinet of Natural History, Each, Use of Cabinet of Geology, Each, Use of Cabinet of Mineralogy, Each, Use of Cabinet of Botany, Each, Use of Cabinet of Zoology, Each, Use of Cabinet of Entomology, Each, Use of Cabinet of Ornithology, Each, Use of Cabinet of Ichthyology, Each, Use of Cabinet of Herpetology, Each, Use of Cabinet of Conchology, Each, Use of Cabinet of Paleontology, Each, Use of Cabinet of Anthropology, Each, Use of Cabinet of Ethnology, Each, Use of Cabinet of Archaeology, Each, Use of Cabinet of Numismatics, Each, Use of Cabinet of Heraldry, Each, Use of Cabinet of Genealogy, Each, Use of Cabinet of Biography, Each, Use of Cabinet of History, Each, Use of Cabinet of Geography, Each, Use of Cabinet of Astronomy, Each, Use of Cabinet of Navigation, Each, Use of Cabinet of Surveying, Each, Use of Cabinet of Engineering, Each, Use of Cabinet of Architecture, Each, Use of Cabinet of Agriculture, Each, Use of Cabinet of Horticulture, Each, Use of Cabinet of Viticulture, Each, Use of Cabinet of Sericulture, Each, Use of Cabinet of Apiculture, Each, Use of Cabinet of Pomology, Each, Use of Cabinet of Floriculture, Each, Use of Cabinet of Arboriculture, Each, Use of Cabinet of Forestry, Each, Use of Cabinet of Landscape Gardening, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Architecture, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Economy, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Law, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Medicine, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Surgery, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Obstetrics, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Gynecology, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Pediatrics, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Geriatrics, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Psychiatry, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Neurology, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Ophthalmology, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Otology, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Laryngology, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Rhinology, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Dermatology, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Venereology, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Urology, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Nephrology, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Hepatology, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Gastroenterology, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Proctology, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Hematology, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Immunology, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Allergy, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Toxicology, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Pharmacology, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Therapeutics, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Hygiene, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Sanitation, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Public Health, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Medical Jurisprudence, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Forensic Medicine, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Medical Ethics, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Medical History, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Medical Biography, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Medical Bibliography, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Medical Literature, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Medical Journalism, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Medical Education, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Medical Examination, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Medical Licensure, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Medical Practice, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Medical Consultation, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Medical Counsel, Each, Use of Cabinet of Rural Medical Advice, Each,

Raleigh Christian Advocate.

Bobbitt & Gray, Publishers. | Published in the Interests of Methodism in North Carolina. | $2.20 Per Annum, in Advance.

Vol. XXII.---No. 46. | Raleigh, N. C., Wednesday, November 22, 1876. | Whole No. 1,134.

Poetry.

HOME MISSION.

"...where have the gospel preached unto them"

"Call the poor"

"...the liberal hand hath spread,
...plenteous board for every eye,
...the widow, the sparrow fed,
...timely gemmed the midnight sky:
...then not thy store supply?
...e but thou spent thy boundless store?
...ay we hear thee, Lord, reply,
...re preach my gospel to the poor."

"...ets, and lanes, and rural places,
...ousands are crying now for bread!
...pardon, Lord, thy bounteous grace,
...ese lingering souls are fed
...on thy blood was freely shed,
...them thy late recession rise,
...gels guard their dying bed,
...and hear them shouting to the skies

"...ose are thine, though all most poor,
...mission was the poor to heal;
...ethal men from door to door,
...mand to the only seal.
...the sacred trust as given,
...ou shall always dwell with thee,"
...ou failed them on to heaven,
...ver thy bounteous deity.

"...ast to see thee, Lord, in them,
...ad to visit thyself to meet,
...in their homes thy Bethlehem,
...and at our incense at their feet.
...ur blessed work is done,
...takes the starry dome on high,
...ost praise shall join in song,
...round the mansions of the sky.

J. T. WHITMAN.

Communicated.

For the Advocate.

'I Located'

Messrs Editors: Under the above caption, I find in the Advocate of the 11th of October, an article written by Rev B F. Long, in which the writer says, "I do not think our preachers ought to locate unless circumstances render it necessary. Because in the Methodist Church, the itinerant is the only preacher worth anything to the work." He then adds, "I do not believe that the whole Local preacher system is to be abolished." (N. B.) In the Advocate of the 27th of September, the same writer, under the head—'Local Preacher,'—after speaking of the high appreciation of the importance of the itinerant system, says, Admitting that men are divinely called to preach the gospel, does it follow that they are called as Methodists?—and after reference to other Churches, he says, "I suppose there are many men among our Local Preachers, who have been as truly called as any in the itinerancy;' and he gives a very rational conclusion.—Well, here in this article he admits that men are Divinely called to preach the gospel in other Churches,—and that there are many, among our Local Preachers, who have been as truly called as any in the itinerancy! and yet, in his article first above cited, he says "in the Methodist Church, the itinerant is the only preacher worth any thing to the Church, etc,"—Why. Is not this a marvelous thing, that men be divinely called, as truly called as any can be called, to preach the gospel, and yet, because they are not itinerants, they are worth nothing to the Church. Well, if they are worth nothing to the Church, what are they called to preach the gospel for?—Why should the all wise God send the holy Ghost to call men, to move upon their hearts, to take upon them the sacred and holy calling of ambassadors for Christ, to preach the everlasting Gospel to the fallen sons of Adam's race, to warn them to flee the wrath to come, that they may be saved from their sins and finally saved in heaven, when their circumstances are such, that He knows they cannot itinerate, and therefore, can be worth nothing to the Church, or in other words can do no good? But, it is admitted that many our Local preachers are as truly called as any in the itinerancy, but how many, or what proportion of them, are thus divinely called is not known. But it is quite reasonable to suppose that very few men would take upon them the sacred office of the ministry, with all its obligations and responsibilities, just for the name of the thing, or for the honor of being called. Rev. Mr. A. B., or C., or for any other sinister motive, where there is no promise of any remuneration of an earthly nature. Yet, peradventure, some might even do this.

Well it is estimated that there are 61,174 Local Methodist preachers in the world, and suppose that three fourths of these are divinely called, (and a less proportion would be an unreasonable supposition) then we would have 46,105 divinely called Local Methodist preachers in the world While the number of itinerants all together, without making any allowance for spurious coin, is estimated at 27,591. This would give to the Local ranks an excess of 18,514 Divinely called, as truly called as any in the itinerancy, to preach the gospel, and what! what! all of these 46,105 divinely called Local Methodist preachers worth nothing to the Church! Why indeed some of them, and not a few, are men of talents, and well educated men, and are zealous workers in the Lord's vineyard, and no doubt many of them are eminently useful, while others are men of less yet nevertheless, they are zealons in their efforts to save souls.

They, many of them, are men of families and have to labor at some secular employment during the week, for the support of themselves and families, and have only the few leisure hours that they can snatch up in the week, and a little while on Sabbath morning to prepare for the pulpit hour's service. They go to the house of God with a heavy burden resting upon them, with a sense of their own insufficiency for the great and moment ous work of preaching the gospel; they go with their hearts uplifted to God, in earnest but silent prayer for Divine aid, and putting their trust in God, they enter the sacred desk with reverence and awe, feeling in their heart, that, "woe is me, if I preach not the gospel," and then they go and proclaim the glad tidings of salvation to fallen men, through the merits of a crucified and risen Saviour. They go, not with enticing words of man's wisdom. but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power, and God blesses their labors, and sinners are cut to the heart, and cry for mercy as from ruin's brink they are pointed to the Lamb of God that taketh away the sin of the world, as the only and all sufficient Saviour of fallen man. They reach forth the withered hand of faith, and lay hold of the blessed promises of God, and they are thus brought into a state of justification by faith in the Son of God, and can testify that God for Christ's sake hath pardoned all their sins, and thus through the instrumentality of a poor local Methodist preacher, sinners are convicted and converted, and brought into the fold of Christ, added to the church and are useful members of the same. And we, local Methodist preachers, (having for our example, the great Apostle of the Gentiles.) labor working with our own hands, that we may not be chargeable to any, that we may not be burdensome to the church. We look not to the church for our support, but trust in God for his blessing upon the labor of our hands, to sustain this mortal life, while we endeavor to save the fragments of time for the purpose of preparing our minds and hearts for holy and acceptable service to God and the church on the Lord's day, and furthermore, that we may be able to assist in sustaining the church by giving of our earthly substance to the support of the itinerant preacher, who is our pastor, as well as the pastor of the rest of the flock.

JAMES B. BALLARD,
a local preacher for 37 years.
Troy, Montgomery county N C.

The Pulpit.

Sermon by Rev. T. De Witt Talmage, Brooklyn Tabernacle.

PHONOGRAPHICALLY REPORTED FOR THE ADVOCATE BY WILLIAM WALTON

THE VICTORY AT MEGIDDO.

"The kings came and fought; then fought the kings of Canaan by the waters of Megiddo." Judges 5, 19.

Marathon, Salamis, Poictiers, Lepanto, Waterloo, Gettysburgh and Sedan are considered the great battles that decided the fate of nations and of the world. I think another battle may be added—the battle of the text. Megiddo was a Canaanitish war cas le. At the foot of it, was a plain, on which was fought the most terrible battle—or one of the most terrible battles—that was ever waged. General Barak, the commander of the Israelitish host, asked the help and encouragement of the woman Deborah. In this case, the feminine voice and arm were mightier than the masculine.—You say woman is the weaker vessel. How about Marie Antoinette, and Charlotte Corday, and Joan of Arc, and Deborah? Having obtained her encouragement, I see General Barak, with his 10,000 troops, marching to the conflict. On the other side, the Canaanites come down with 900 of their chariots, hooks and scythes on either side the chariots, so that what the horses do not trample and the wheels crush, these scythes will mow down. You almost hold your breath as you see these two hosts advancing to meet each other. You have not any doubt as to which will get the victory, for the mighty Canaanites are in iron chariots, while the poor Israelites are on foot, and you almost involuntarily cry out: "Wo for Israel! But stop! What means that blackness of the sky? A tempest! The air grows darker and darker. There are lightnings and thunderings and bursting clouds until the hail roars on the shields of the Canaanites and cuts them in the face until their cheeks and temples and hands spurt with the blood. These two armies marching in opposite directions—the storm that cuts the Canaanites in the face, only pushes on to victory the Israelites. The one was driven back—the other was driven on. I have often remarked the difference of the effect of the storms of this life upon different persons. The wicked take it in their faces; the righteous take it on their backs. Trouble killed Herod Cardinal Woolsey; but trouble sanctified and enthroned Paul and Latimer and Kiskulute. The first group took the storm in their faces and they fell. The last group took the storm on their backs and they were helped. You know very well that the same tempest on the sea will drive one ship into disaster and the other into a calm harbor. What do I mean by taking trouble in the face? I mean rising up angrily against it, defying God pushing your way against the divine injunction like the Canaanites marching in the wrong direction. That man undertakes a big job who proposes to fight the Almighty. He had better be sure he has plenty of ammunition and a gun that never misses fire. Are you surprised that a great many persons are cut to pieces by the hail storms of this life when I tell you that they turn their backs to God and front the world and sin and death and hell? No wonder they are cut to pieces with the hail storms of worldly as well as divine indignation. But what do I mean by taking the storm on the backs? I mean, without stopping to watch or count your misfortunes, marching straight on for Christian conquest. There are people who keep a scrap book and they cut out all the unpleasant things said about them in the newspapers, and they paste those things in the scrap book, and they go all through the community hunting up the annoyances of life.—Why, my brother, have you not better game to hunt than mosquitoes? What would you think of a French soldier who at Chalons or at Austerlitz would stop 2 hours on the fight, for the purpose of shaking a gnat out of his coat sleeve? Go ahead on the Lord's side and take the storm on your back and it will not hurt you. The world called Whitfield the ranter, and Theodore Frelinghuysen the sour faced Presbyterian, and Paul the lunatic and Christ the wine bibber: but Whitfield ranted 100,000 souls into glory, and Theodore Frelinghuysen stood up the illustrious specimen of a christian senator and Paul shook open all the graves of Christendom with the story of a resurrection, and Christ is seated on the throne of the universe, inviting all nations to come up and sit with Him. There are hundreds of people in this house to day who have been advancing under all their misfortunes. You are better fathers, better mothers, better brothers, better sisters, better soldiers of Jesus Christ. Your misfortunes have been a propulsion, an inspiration and a triumph. What permanent damage did the fire do Ridley, or the axe, Hugh M Kail, or the Phillipian dungeon Silas?—None. They took the storm on their backs and not in their faces

Well, of course these Canaanites spoken of in the text, were thoroughly confounded, for the storms rushing down off the heights of Megiddo, rose in a freshet and dashed into the river Kishon which overflowed its banks until the whole plain became almost impassable, and horses and chariots, and the Canaanitish host floundered and tossed and swam and waded, and the soldiers shrieked and the chariots were upset, and the horses trampled their riders and the host fled in frantic dismay. Hurrah for Israel! My friends, it is just so always. The dumb elements, I believe, are on the side of the right The lightnings are God's sword and the hail is the rattle of ammunition, and the thunder is the rolling war chariot, and when God fights in behalf of a man or in behalf of a nation, He is safe and they are safe. Look back into the history of the world. Again and again have the clouds become the slingers and archers of the Lord. When the abominable Carthagenian nation was to be destroyed, God pounded its army with thunderbolts. Theodosius found the winds of Heaven his allies as in the name of God he went out to overthrow the cruelties of Maximus.—Philip II of Spain said: "let us put an end to Protestantism in England," and he sent out 30 ships of some 90,000 tonnage and with 19,000 troops; but hardly had the vessels got out in the great sea than a storm came and scattered them. But the vessels were gathered up again and they sailed on, and after a while, at the most inopportune time and place, a calm struck the fleet, when that fleet was half way between the English and the Dutch, and they were cut to pieces on either side. Some of the vessels got out of that predicament and went on until, coming around the Orkneys, the Lord let out on them a fleet of euroclydons and cyclones, and some of them, some of the Spanish vessels were flung clear to the coast of Norway and some to the coast of Ireland and the vast majority went to the bottom: only here and there a famine struck vessel crawled back into a Spanish harbor. That is the way Philip II put Protestantism out of England. I think I remarked before that a man has a big job on hand when he fights the Almighty. The storms, the lightnings, the earthquakes, the seas, are the [illegible] The thought makes me happy. O, what a grand thing it is to have on our side the God who holds the omnipotence of eternity in His scabbard. "Forward march!" cried Barak to the Israelitish host.—The Canaanites, so far as they have not been cut to pieces by the hail storm and have not been drowned by the floods, begin a retreat and the Israelites pursue them. Faster go the Canaanites. Faster pursue the Israelites. The Canaanites throw aside all their weapons and they fly for their lives; but the Israelites come up, and what the hail storm and the freshets have not accomplished, the sabres finish. And there lie the Canaanitish host with their dead faces upturned to the sun. The dead horse on the dead rider. So, my hearer, follow up all your victories. If the Canaanites fly, do not consider that everything has been accomplished. Pursue! Pursue! If an evil habit of yours surrenders, do not be satisfied. Slash it to pieces. Drown it in the river Kishon. If one sin has been overthrown, be not satisfied until all the batallion of your transgressions is overthrown. A half victory is a defeat. Charge on the Canaanites! Pursue! Pursue! If a man has been addicted to strong drink and he has reduced himself to one glass a day, he is in infinite peril The old enemy has only sent in a flag of truce in order that he may have time to get up through the host and destroy him. I never knew a man partly reformed, to stick.—Smash all the decanters Pull out all the faucets. Send the claret and the sherbet flying after the brandy.—Do with your evil drinking habits as Barak and his host did with the Canaanites. Slash them all to pieces and drown them in cold water. Pursue! Pursue! Well, you say, it is time to call the master roll of the Canaanitish host and see how many of them are left. Of the 500,000 soldiers that marched into Russia under Napoleon, only 35,000 got back. After the battle of Albnero, the roll was called of a regiment of 1,000 and only three soldiers and a drummer boy [illegible] But the Canaanitish defeat was worse than that. What has become of the chariots? Unwheeled, upset, and resting in the sun as the floods subside. What has become of the army? All dead save General Sisera, the commander of the Canaanitish host. His charioteer swept from the seat and his horses entangled in their harness, Sisera leaps from the chariot into the water and wades and swims for the mountains. He had come down in a chariot glittering under the sun, and lash ing the horses to full gallop, jingling their war gear; but is very glad now to get off on foot. After 3 or 4 days retreat, he bows very humbly at the door of an Arab tent. The wife of the Bedouin asks him in. He lies down on a lounge She covers him with a blanket. Weary and exhausted and hungry and thirsty, he looks up into her face and asks for a drink of water. She does better than that: She brings in the richest pitcher in the tent, some rich cream. He drinks it. He lies down. He is sound asleep in a minute. There he lies, the oppressor of Israel. Jael says within herself: "now this is my chance to put an end to his abominations." His brow all uncovered for the stroke. She takes the peg from the floor of the tent in one hand, and a hammer in the other, and she comes up where the warrior is sleeping and putting the point of the peg at his temples and taking the hammer in her right hand she pauses over him ere she gives the blow that is to ring through all the ages. Sisera's hour has come. Crash! Crash! goes the hammered peg through the head of the warrior and he rolls over dead at her feet. Wrap him up and carry him out, the great warrior. He defied God and he threatened to destroy Israel, and now woman has finished him. Barak began the battle. Jael concluded it. O, what a tremendous ally or destroyer is woman! Barak succeeded because Deborah helped him. Sisera was destroyed because Jael hated him. I never knew a man to do anything great for the Church, or for the world, who had not a mother, or a wife, or a daughter to encourage him. When I see a man making a splendid fight for the truth, I say: "where is Deborah?" When I see a man overborne by the temptations of life, and going down in miserable failure and disgrace, I wonder in what part of the temples Jael struck him. When I see a man going through all kinds of financial perplexity, from January to December, yet bearing up courageously, starting off in the morning with his wife's benediction, as she says to him: "my dear, put your trust in God to day, and don't worry," and in the evening when he comes back to the door, finding a cheerful greeting that takes all anxiety out of his brow in 10 minutes—I say: "good evening, Deborah!" When I see a Church marching out to battle against sin and death and hell, and the men in that Church are enlisting their hearts and their purses for Christ's sake, and I see some christian woman coming up with her needle and her prayers and her self-sacrifices, to give encouragement on the right side, I say: "hail! Deborah." In that glorious company, I put Florence Nightingale and Miss Dix and Mrs. Sigourney and Elizabeth Fry and Mrs. Adoniram Judson and scores of women in this house, of whom the world is not worthy. Well, you say, "had dead Sisera any friends left." O yes, he had one friend left. She was seated in the castle waiting for his return. It was his mother Now you may know how Sisera's mother felt, if you were home during the last war and your son was off in the battle. While Antietam and Atlanta and Yorktown and Shiloh were going on, how anxious you were, and when after a battle was over the door bell rang suddenly, how you leaped to the floor, and when the newsboys ran along the street shouting "extra!" you know how your heart bounded and you threw up the window and looked out into the moonlight and said: "O God let me hear from my boy in the battle. I cannot stand this suspense any longer. Let me hear from him!' Well, Sisera's mother had some such impatience to hear from her son. The ladies of the castle came around her and told her that no doubt her son Sisera had gathered many spoils and it was taking him a great while to divide them among the troops, and that detained him. Then they comforted her with the idea that he would bring back specimens of needle work and jewels and would throw them over her neck and she would be very beautiful. "Don't worry," they said, "about your son Sisera—he will come back." But one day, a besweated messenger rushed up to the castle and cried out this awful tiding: "Sisera is dead!" She swoons, but amid the paroxysms, I hear her cry out; "O, my son, my son, my son, Sisera!" Well, you and I have gone out into the battle of life and I should not wonder if there was a mother somewhere waiting to hear good news from [illegible] The worst news she could hear from you would be bad news about you. When she sent you out into the battle of life, she expected you would come back laden with the spoils of christian conquest. It would kill her to know that you had fallen under the stroke of sin. Sometimes she goes to the old daguerreotype of your boyish face and looks at it. Then she takes down some garment that you wore years ago and imagines how you would look in it And then she goes to the room where you used to sleep and looks at the cradle where she rocked you, and she is waiting, waiting to hear good news from Sisera. O, will you disappoint her? Will you put your wayward foot on her dear old soul? Are there not wrinkles enough in her face? Is there not enough difficulty in her breathing that you are determined to give the fatal blow? O if you have no pity for yourself, have some pity for her! "But," says one, "that don't touch my case: my mother has been dead 10 or 20 years." So much more striking the analogy. I knew there was a palace somewhere, where your mother was waiting for you. Through the crystal window of the day or pulling aside the curtain of the night, she looks out and watches and waits for your coming, and, she would have to lay hold of one of the pillars of the throne and hold fast in order to stand up under the overmastering delight of your conversion. I have a mother in the palace window waiting for me. I was the child of her old age and I remember how her voice used to tremble in evening prayer, with what kindness she started me out in life and how she watched me and cared for me all the way through. And then giving us each a blessing, she went away to the palace window where she is waiting now for good news from us. I suppose it would be no harm for me to say in public what is my secret ambition, and that is, when my work on earth is done, to go up and meet her, saying: "there, mother, I am, and all the spoils of my earthly pastorates. I have come, come to spend eternity with you. Here are all the spoils of the Savior's conquest." Ah methinks that would pay her for the pangs of the birth hour and for the watchings when I was sick, and for her anxieties about my eternal welfare. I wonder if your mother will hear good news from Sisera. God bless to our soul this story of Barak and Deborah and Sisera and Jael, and all the women in the castle, and then we will learn to take trouble on our backs instead of our faces, and we will find the dumb elements of nature, our coadjutors, and we will fight all our sins until the last of them is discomfited, and we will have womanly encouragement to help us, and all the towers of heaven, where our loved ones wait, will resound with the news of our eternal victory!

Four Chinamen became members of the North Adams Baptist Church on a recent Sunday.

From the Nashville Christian Advocate.

Letter From Bishop Marvin.

IN OREGON.

I fell in the other day with a patriotic citizen just returned from the "Centennial," full of enthusiasm, and loaded with documents of the "National Woman Suffrage Association," which he was distributing. He favored me with a "Declaration of Rights," put forth by the Association, dated July 4, 1876, and I put in an unoccupied moment in reading it. It is not, as to the main body of it, what the title imports, but formal "Articles of Impeachment against our Rulers." Is it a feminine peculiarity to wander from the topic in hand? At least there is another feature of it that is a genuine index of its maternity—it has two Nota Benes tacked on to the end of it. Is it a woman entitled to two or more postscripts every time she writes? Beyond question this is her inalienable right, and woe to the man who would wag his tongue against it!

I have just been spending a few days with Brother McFarland in his work, at the town of Independence. Our people there have just built a beautiful church, which was heavily in debt. My visit contemplated an effort to pay the debt The meeting was a pleasant one, and in some degree profitable, I trust; but the subscription we obtained did not quite cover the amount of the debt. Yet the brethren talk of building a parsonage, which is greatly needed, and I have some hope of their success. Brother McFarland, a preacher raised up in Oregon, is one of the most laborious and thorough going men I know, and if he takes it in hand, as I think he will see his way clear to do. he will be almost certain to push it to a successful conclusion.

At Salem, the Capital of the State, I spent about twenty four hours, preached once, met the Governor, a most affable gentleman, just elected to the United States Senate, and looked in upon the two Houses of the Legislature now in session. The court-house in Salem is a perfect gem of architecture, and the new State House, not yet finished, is a most imposing structure.

I am now in Portland, expecting to take the steamer on Friday for San Francisco. The two days I have to remain I propose to devote to a visit among relatives in Washington county, for I have some who are near of kin to me in these ends of the earth, and in our early life we were much together. Of course a visit to them will be a delightful incident.

The city of Portland, from which I write, is the commercial emporium of Oregon. It is situated on the Willamette river, some twelve miles above its mouth, and is accessible by ships of considerable tonnage. Almost the entire trade of Oregon is concentrated here, as well as that of a considerable portion of Washington and Idaho Territories.

After supper, last night, I walked out on the principal street, and had my attention arrested by a lively display of fire works. Upon asking a plain looking man what the occasion of it was I was politely informed that there was to be a "Hazen Wheeler" meeting and a speech. It had been fifteen years since I had heard a political speech, and I concluded to go in and see what might be done and said. I was sorry to find that the "distinguished speaker" was to be the somewhat famous "Hippel Mitchell," Republican Senator from Oregon—the man with an alias and two wives. If I had known beforehand that he was to be the orator I should not have gone, but as I was in I resolved to hear him through, and I confess that I was not a little edified to hear this bigamist assailing the moral character of other men, as if he had any right to speak on such a question. As a speaker he is somewhat above the average, but is certainly far below the standard of real greatness.

The chief merit of the speech was in an appeal to the war feeling. Every art of oratory was tried to quicken the decaying hatred of 'Rebels' and 'The South.' Another striking feature of it was a bold and emphatic declaration that the present Administration was exceptionally pure. The harangue was an intolerably long one, and delivered to a constantly diminishing crowd. A sermon of the same length, and no greater interest, would have been considered an insufferable affair. But is not the world's ear more open to any thing else than to the voice of its Maker? Surely, then, the world is far gone from original righteousness.'

I bought a newspaper on the train the other day and gave a 'bit' for it—that is, a dime Yesterday, not having the change, I handed the boy twenty five cents for a copy, and he gave me a dime only in change, so that my paper cost me fifteen cents. I have found no place in Oregon. except Portland, where five cents is made any account of. The smallest change is ten cents. The nickel is an unknown coin. I subjected myself to the somewhat disparaging epithet, emigrant, by asking for five cents worth of envelopes. It was a disgustingly small business. In Texas a new comer, before he learns the Texas ways, is called 'green from the State;' in Oregon, with the same good-humored raillery, he is dubbed 'an emigrant.' Really it took me back to my boyhood to hear the word bit, but no man on this coast does a picayune business, and I fear that good old word is clean gone forever.

The growth of Oregon is considered somewhat slow, but it is steady and healthy. The great need of the country is two great trunk railroads, one through to California, the other through Eastern Oregon and the Snake River Valley, to connect with the Union Pacific at Oregon; and the time is not distant when both will be consummated.

E. M. MARVIN.

Portland, Or., Oct. 4, 1876.

The Bright Side.

Look on the bright side. It is the right side. The times may be hard, but it will make them no easier to wear a gloomy and sad countenance. It is the sunshine and not the cloud that gives beauty to the flower. There is always before or around us that which should cheer and fill the heart with warmth and gladness. The sky is blue ten times where it is black once. You have troubles, it may be. So have others. None are free from them; and perhaps it is as well that none should be. They give sinew and tone to life, fortitude and courage to man. That would be a dull sea, and the sailor would never acquire skill where there was nothing to distrub its surface. It is the duty of every one to extract all the happiness and enjoyment he can within and without him; and above all, he should look on the bright side. What though things do look a little dark? The lane will turn, and the night will end in broad day. In the long run, the great balance rights itself. What appears ill becomes well—that which appears wrong, right. Men are not made to hang down their heads or lips, and those who do, only show that they are departing from the paths of true common sense and right. There is more virtue in one sunbeam than in a whole hemisphere of clouds and gloom.—Therefore, we repeat, look on the bright side. Cultivate all that is warm and genial—not the cold and repulsive, the dark and morose.—Selected.

Christ the Rock.

The emblem of a rock, as applied to the divine Redeemer, is at once sublime, beautiful and appropriate—suggestive as it is of strength, durability, shelter, safety. It speaks of nature's noblest monumental columns, coeval with creation, fresh as at first sculptured by the great Artificer; older, grander and more lasting than obelisk or pyramid, or most colossal work of human power. Over these rocks have the winds of heaven continually swept Age after age has the sun discharged upon them his quiver of golden arrows; but, resisting all changes, defying all elements, outliving all political convulsions; no wrinkle can be traced on their majestic brow. Now in sunny robes of roseate light, now gleaming in the moonbeams with silver mantle, now swathed in white garments of cloud, now curtained in raging tempest, now their echoes awake with the trumpet of peace, now with the clarion of battle, but every hoary peak remaining immutably the same—such is the Rock of our Salvation.—From Macduff's Clefts of the Rock.

FOR CONSIDERATION.—It would be well for the disciples of donbt and unbelief, in our day, to consider what would be gained by the rejection of Christianity and the adoption of the negative creed of the scientists and the philosophers. It is pertinent to ask before hand what we shall lose, and what we shall have left in this fancied elysium of unbelief—a world without a God, nature without a teacher, man without a Savior, sin without atonement, and death without immortality. Some of these things they can obliterate from their creeds, and from the minds of men. But others there are which will not vanish at their bidding. The word is still here. Human nature is here. Sin is here. Suffering and sorrow, disease and death, are here, fixed and irrevocable. Faith in Christianity gone, the hope of heaven gone, the light of immortality gone, the peace of God and consolations of the cross all gone, and in their place atheism, materialism, fatalism, sensuality, selfishness, annihilation and despair holding universal jubilee What would the world be, and what would human life be worth? Why would it be but to anticipate before the time the doom of a world that had forever perished? Yet this is the goal, the ultimate and only goal, to which the almost idolized leaders of modern scientific free thought would bring us in their attempt to subvert the fundamental facts of Christianity.—Herald and Presbyter.

Earnest Religion.

How few people talk religion: they whine about it. What charm is there for a wide awake, warm hearted, enthusiastic man, amid the cold formalities of the Church of God? He sees through them; he sees they are a sham. Friday morning you go into a merchant's store to buy some hosiery. How his face lights up. How cheerful he is. How fascinating he is while he is selling those goods. You go away, saying. "That is one of the most agreeable men I ever met in my life." That very Friday evening you go into a prayer-meeting where that same Christian merchant worships, and you find him getting up and recommending the religion of Jesus Christ, with a funereal countenance and a doleful phraseology, enough to make an undertaker burst into tears. How few people there are who talk cheerfully about the religion of Jesus. Talmage.

READING THE BIBLE.—Read your Bible slowly. Take time, even if you have but little time. A great mathematician once said, if his life depended upon solving a problem in two minutes, he would spend one of the two in deciding how to do it. So in reading the Scriptures, if you are pressed for time (and this ought to be a rare case), then spend the precious moments on a portion of a chapter. When you feel that the mind and heart begin to drink in the sentiment, even of a single verse, then stop and drain the heavenly chalice, because the Divine Spirit is filling the cup. It is a true, solemn and interesting thought, that we are to wait, to linger, to tarry for the blessing to come from the Word before us.

To search the Scriptures with a clear, unmoted eye of meditation secures treasures of knowledge known only to him who thus coolly, piously, and philosophically studies the Word of God.

Let any man give us the reason why when the Scriptures are read so much, memory retains so little, the quotations are so blundering and incorrect, if the reason is not found in the fact of hasty reading of the word of God. There, as elsewhere, man must reap as he sows.

GLEANINGS FROM AUGUSTINE.

The race of man is like the leaf of the olive or the laurel, never without foliage, yet ever varying.

Pride doeth its own will; humility the will of God.

Man is one thing in that he 'is;' another, in that he is 'able.'

He who was God was made man, by taking what He was not, not by losing what He was.

By faith we are knit; by understanding we are quickened.

Those who do not recognize God in the pages of Scripture, will seldom acknowledge godliness in the persons of men.

Wouldst thou pray in a temple? Pray within thyself. Fully first be thou a temple of God, because He in His temple will hear him that prayeth.

God will not be any the greater by pleasing thee, but thou wilt be the less by displeasing Him.

If a man lives after the flesh, he lives but as a beast; if he lives after the Spirit, angels are his companions.

There are two sources of sins; one from oneself, the other from the persuasion of others.

The love of things temporal can only be overcome in us by a pleasure in things eternal.

Thou madest us, O Lord; for Thyself, and our heart is restless until it repose in thee.

If thou art seeking truth, hold thou the way; for that same is the way which is the truth.

A miracle or wondrous work done by God, ought not to excite wonder, the wonder would be if man had done it.

A member of a country choir had his hair cut very closely, and when he had to sing on the following Sunday, "Cover my defenseless head," there was a general titter and a smiling from behind the fans.—Musical World.

LIFE has such hard conditions that every dear and precious gift, every rare virtue, every pleasant faculty, every genial endowment, love, hope joy, wit, sprightliness, benevolence, must sometimes be put into the crucible to distill the elixir—patience. —Gail Hamilton.

THE good make a better bargain, and the bad a worse, than is usually supposed; for the rewards of the one and the punishment of the other, not unfrequently begin on this side of the grave; for vice has more martyrs than virtue; and it often happens that men suffer more to be lost than to be saved.

IGNORANCE more frequently begets confidence than does knowledge.

German military officers are said to be very familiar with the plans of the campaigns and battles of the late civil war in America. Our war is one of the chief studies in the military academies in Germany.

Miss H. V. Lockwood applied to the Supreme Court of the United States for license to practice law and was refused.

The Christian Advocate.

OFFICE—Corner of Dawson & Hargett Sts

THE ORGAN
OF THE
NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE
OF THE
M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev J B Bobbitt, D.D. } Editors
R. T. Gray, Esq.. }

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION:

FOR ONE YEAR, IN ADVANCE, POSTAGE PAID,	$2.00
SIX MONTHS, " "	1.25
If payment be delayed six months,	2.70

RALEIGH, N. C., NOV. 22, 1876.

All letters on business with this office should be addressed to the Christian Advocate, Raleigh, N. C.

The Cross (X) Mark is to remind you that your subscription has expired. Let all renew promptly.

Countenancing Evil.

To give encouragement to wrong is morally as bad as to commit it One may withhold his hand from the perpetration of sin and yet deserve censure and punishment by giving countenance to those who actively participate in it. The accessory to a crime before and after its commission is, in the eyes of the law, as guilty as the perpetrator himself and is frequently more culpable and deserving of heavier punishment. If we advise or assist or encourage a wrong-doer in any way, we cannot be held guiltless; or if we applaud when an improper deed is done or profane speech is uttered, or if we fail to rebuke and denounce the impropriety or outbreaking sin, we are to all intents and purposes accessories to it, and will have adequate punishment inflicted upon us. We are apt to think that, because our hands do not commit or our lips utter what is improper or sinful, we may escape the avenging hand of justice; but if we wink at, endorse or in any wise give aid, comfort or countenance to what is wrong, He who searches the hearts of men and is not restricted to overt acts, will hold us to a strict accountability.

Purity of life and conversation consists not simply in refraining from open and apparent sin on our part, but in detesting the appearance of it in others, and in avoiding even the thought of evil. Holiness is not an outward whitewashing of pious pretensions and appearances, but an inward cleanliness. If we think no evil we can do no wrong: if the heart, the fount of desires and motives, is pure, no impurities can bubble up to the surface in act or word, and no place can be found in it for encouragement or applause of evil in others.

How often do we see professing Christians associating with those whose conduct is a continual insult to God and the Christian religion; whose conversation is interlarded with oaths and obscenity and becomes an outrage upon decency; whose dealings in business matters are carried on in trickery and capped with dishonesty? Association with such is, in a measure, an endorsement of their ways: to yield friendship to them is to countenance and encourage the violence they do to decency, good morals and religion, and convinces that, at heart, one is after their kind.

The other day a christian gentleman said to the writer: "To day, on the street, a friend told an obscene anecdote in my presence and when the time came to laugh, I langhed as heartily as the other bystanders. I became ashamed of myself for laughing, but didn't have the moral courage to rebuke the jest or to show the disgust I felt. By langhing as I did, I countenanced and encouraged what I know was wrong." How much better he would have felt, and what great good could he have done the cause of decency and morality, if instead of applauding with a langh, he had either administered an open rebuke or turned in disgust from the presence of the speaker!

If those who profess to be decent and religious would withdraw the encouragement of their presence and applause from those who are profane and indecent, and would openly and sharply rebuke profanity and obscenity, society would soon be rid of much that degrades it.

Family Worship.

Twenty years ago it was a rare occurrence for family worship to be neglected by heads of families professing the Christian religion. Of late years the duty is sadly neglected. In many instances family prayer is kept up in the morning, but abandoned in the evening. This is the modern practice which gives to God the morning worship only. The reason usually given for omitting prayer at evening in the family is the want of a suitable time. If late the children are in bed, and worship is likely to be a mere form and a sleepy devotion at best. It is usually the case when evening worship is neglected, the neglect of morning worship soon follows. The crowd of worldly duties first invade the hour of evening prayer, and the same causes soon have no respect for morning devotion. To neglect evening worship is the sure way of breaking down the family altar altogether. In times of revivals these neglected, broken down family altars are sometimes revived again. By the power of divine grace these derelict heads of families are convicted of a wilful neglect of duty—the conscience is quickened and family worship is taken up. In too many instances we fear, as the revival subsides, the family becomes too busy for evening worship and soon becomes too worldly for morning worship. There is a lull—a pause in the path of duty They wait for the coming of the next revival of resurrection power. It is sad to think how many churches are made up of prayerless families Bible neglecters and Sabbath breakers.

The duty of family worship is not definitely commanded in the Word of God by our Saviour or His apostles. Secret prayer is required and the general duty is enjoined. The morning and evening sacrifice were definite items in the Jewish ritual—but the Gospel leaves the question of family religion to the Christian conscience of the individual members. God leaves much of special duty to the common sense of men. The light of inspiration goes far enough. It leads us to comprehend our duties and gives grace for their performance. If religion does not live in the family it is not vital any where. If any whose eyes may chance to fall upon this have abandoned the family altar, let them lose no time to take it up again, and it will not be a great while before the fires of divine love are kindled afresh upon their hearts.

A Prevailing Evil.

It is always far easier to denounce the vices of other times than to refrain utterly from those of our own. One of the most common among the prevalent evils of our day is falsehood—lying—in its various forms and shades. We think there has been no time since the days of Luther when the standard of truth-speaking, even among professing Christians, was so low as at present. Certain small untruths steal into the speech of good men and women unawares. They too soon become habitual because they are regarded as harmless. Would it not be more frank to say because they are more convenient? "Everybody knows what we mean," we often hear people say, of these current equivocations. But the children of each generation have to learn over again the lesson of this double-dealing:—this playing with words, when we say one thing and mean another The lesson to the child is a painful and most mischievous one. Besides, the use of the "harmless" conventional fiction takes off the fine edge of our sense of truth, it lessens our feeling of the obligation to be strict and exact and leads to loose and careless habits as to statements and promises. It is apparent that there has been a great increase of these evils within the last few years, especially in the Christian church.—There are a great number of professing Christians in the world who make promises and engagements, seemingly without any thought of keeping them, and who seem to think a failure to keep their word a very trivial matter. This is perhaps the leading cause of the great influx of prevarication among professed Christians. Let men speak the truth at the sacrifice of all else, when they speak at all.

Bishop Marvin and the Rev E. R. Hendrix

The Pacific Methodist, of the third instant, gives the following account of a special service held to invoke the Divine protection upon Bishop Marvin and Rev. E. R. Hendrix during their perilous voyage upon which they were about to embark:

Preparatory to the departure of Bishop Marvin and the Rev. E. R. Hendrix on their long and perilous journey around the world, a special service was held in St. Paul's Church, on Tuesday evening. Brother Hendrix preached a sermon of great clearness and beauty from the text, "Can there any good thing come out of Nazareth?" The logical inferences of the preacher were powerful arguments sustaining the cause of Foreign Missions. Bishop Marvin spoke briefly of the missionary work of our Church, and called for a thank offering from the audience to aid in the Mission cause. After this the sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered. It was a most solemn and impressive service, made the more touching from the fact that our beloved brethren were for the last time, prior to their departure, breaking bread at the table of the Lord with their own people. A large company of ministers were present and gathered around the altar to assist in the consecration. Among them were the Rev. Dr. Scott, of St. John's Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Dr. Gibson, of the M. E. Church, the Revs. Sam'l Brown, E. K. Miller, B. F. Burris, and several others. The altar was afterward several times filled with members of our own and other Churches of the city.

At the conclusion Bishop Marvin led in singing his favorite hymn, "O, come, angel bands," the large congregation joining in with great fervor. After the benediction came the leave-taking, and many tears were shed as crowds of loving friends pushed forward to clasp the hands of the two noble men who were going to the uttermost parts of the earth in the cause of the Master.

Wednesday morning a company gathered at the P. M. S. S Co's dock to see our friends well-away on their journey, and at 12 m., the good steamer Alaska cast loose her moorings and dropped into the stream. The Bishop and Brother Hendrix were in fine spirits and perfect health, and began their passage under the most favorable auspices. They bore with them the loving regards of a host of friends. God be with them and return them to their homes in safety.

Office Seeking.

On the heels of every political election which opens up a distribution of patronage, comes a troop of office seekers who are willing, after much solicitation by their friends and a struggle with their sense of duty to themselves and families, to sacrifice their convenience and 'personal interests' upon the altar of the public good. For every office within the gift of the people, or to be disposed of by Congress, Legislatures, Presidents or Governors, there are, at a low calculation, five applicants - each of whom thinks that his claims are entitled to the first consideration, and pushes them persistently before the attention of those with whom lies the power of election or appointment. It is one of the evils of a republican form of government that constant encouragement is given to professional office seekers: so that men watch and wait for positions in the public service, spend time and money to obtain them, neglect their own proper business, omit the industrious labor they ought to perform, and rely for a support and happiness upon the crumbs of official patronage which they may chance to seize upon. It not only demoralizes men and destroys industry, but is a fruitful source of incompetency and malfeasance in public officials. With almost every election comes a change of office - holders. Political parties alternately triumph, and offices are the rewards of party fealty and service. Former officials go out and new ones come in before the first have acquired a thorough knowledge of the manner in which their offices should be administered; and the latter scarcely learn the duties of their positions before a change in party supremacy takes place necessitating their exit and bringing in another batch of raw recruits. Confusion and maladministration are the result. And because of this uncertain and usually short tenure, it is only now and then that we find an official eminent and distinguished for an able, wise, discreet and thoroughly accurate and honest performance of his functions.

The offices of President, Governor and Assemblyman are high and, in some respects, desirable positions but we would not like to be President, or Governor or Assemblyman until the patronage belonging to the office had been distributed and the clamors of importuning professional office-seekers, like the cries of famished wolves, had been hushed into silence.

The 'civil service reform' that is needed is such as will make responsible and important offices independent of the mutations of party supremacy—that will relieve them of the character, which they now have, of spoils belonging solely to the victors, —that will make them the rewards of honesty, intelligence and fidelity rather than of party service. It will scarcely ever be realized, but it would be good for the country if office could be made to seek the man oftener than the man seeks the office.

A Beautiful Illustration.

We take from an exchange this very beautiful illustration. It is simple, touching and yet thrilling.

"If a child had been born and spent all his life in the Mammoth Cave, how impossible would it be for him to comprehend the upper world! Parents might tell him of its light, its beauty, and its sounds of joy; they might heap up the sands into mounds and try to show him by stalactites how grass, flowers and trees grow out of the ground, till at length, with laborious thinking, the child would fancy he had gained a true idea of the unknown land.

And yet, though he longed to behold it, when it came that he was to go forth, it would be with regret for the familiar crystals and rock hewn rooms, and the quiet that reigned therein. But when he came up, some May morning, with ten thousand birds singing in the trees, and the heavens bright and blue and full of sunlight, and the wind blowing softly through the young leaves, all aglitter with dew, and the landscape stretching away green and beautiful to the horizon, with what rapture would he gaze about him and see how poor were all the fancyings and interpretations which were made within the cave of the things which lived and grew without; and how he would wonder that he could ever have regretted to leave the silence and dreary darkness of his old abode! So, when we emerge from this cave of earth into that land where Spring growths are, and where is eternal Summer, how shall we wonder that we could have clung so fondly to this dark and barren life!

NOTICE.

Applicants for admission into Conference will please meet the Committee at the Methodist Church in Greensboro, at 2 o'clock Nov. 28th, for examination.

C. M. PEPPER, Chairman.

St Peters Protestant Episcopal Sunday school, of Brooklyn, numbering over six hundred scholars, takes no vacation, summer or winter; and for twenty years back it has sent annually over thirty of its pupils as candidates for church membership through confirmation.

Mr Lamoree, a wealthy layman of Hyde Park on the Hudson, has built and given a neat and well-finished church to the Methodists of that place, entirely free from debt.

NEWS FROM THE CHURCHES

Bro. H. H. Gibbons writing from Roxboro, Nov. 10th, says: "I have just returned from a short visit to Leasburg. Bro. T. J. Gattis, the pastor, has had a prosperous year and is in high favor with his people. They want him to return for the next year, and as an evidence of this they are supporting him well."

Bro. Triplett, of Mocksville circuit, writes: "We have had several gracious revivals. Two hundred and three have joined the Church by profession of faith; twenty-two by certificate, making in all two hundred and twenty-five accessions. Forty four adults and one hundred infants have been baptized. The work is still going on, spreading like a wave of the sea."

Bro. Gattis, of Leasburg circuit, writes:

During the year we have had eighty-five conversions Sixty-five have been added to the Church.

The spiritual condition of the membership is good. Our finances are in a healthy condition The circuit has already paid for all church purposes together, a little more than sixteen hundred dollars."

Bro. G W. Harbison writes from Onslow Co: "The Lord is still with us converting sinners, and making glad the hearts of his children.

A few weeks ago we held a protracted meeting at Half Moon, where 8 persons professed to have found the pearl of great price; 5 joined our church.

Two days ago we closed a protracted meeting at Cedar Grove school house, where 2 were converted, and 2 added to our church.

We have had 74 accessions this year. To God be all the glory.'

Bro. M. J. Hunt writes from Youngsville circuit: 'We have had a good revival at Rock Sprug this season, resulting in sixteen conversions. We also had a good meeting at Leak's—one convert. Our P. E, Rev J P. Moore, dedicated our new church building at that place on 4th Sunday in September."

Bro. T. Page Ricand, writing from Albemarle, says:

"We have had glorious revivals at all of our appointments but one. Result: 76 conversions, and 51 accessions: the membership alive and active, the local preachers doing their duty faithfully and efficiently, all the officiary alive to all the claims of the church. We believe the claims will be met, besides, upwards of five hundred dollars raised for repairs of parsonage and church building at Albemarle. "The Lord be praised."

Bro. M W. Boyles, of Cokesbury circuit, writes:

"The good Lord is still reviving his work on Cokesbury circuit. We have just closed a meeting of six days at Miry Branch school house in the bounds of my work, where God was with us in his convicting and converting power; large and attentive crowds assembled both day and night to hear the preached word.

The first day was devoted to a Sunday School celebration, in which we had encouraging and instructive speeches, delivered by Rev. Owen Spell, John D. O. Culbreth, Thomas N Culbreth, and the pastor. The singing class did well, led by Love Jackson, the Superintendent.

The Lord was with us at every service and blessed our souls. Rev. Owen Spell, a local preacher, was with us and preached with power.

Daniel Geddie, with others, rendered good service; the result was about 25 converted and 29 joined the church, the most of whom were Sunday school scholars.

The Lord has done great things for us whereof we are glad. To Him be all the praise now and for ever."

Arrangements with Railroads for Ministers, Delegates and Visitors to the Conference in Greensboro, beginning the 29th instant.

1st. The Raleigh & Gaston and Raleigh & Augusta Air Line Railroads. "Ministers, Delegates and Visitors will be charged three cents per mile each way, but in every instance return tickets must be purchased."

2nd. The Wilmington & Weldon and Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta Railroads.

"Will sell tickets to ministers, delegates and visitors to the Conference at three cents per mile each way."

3d. The Atlantic [illegible] C, and Carolina Central R.

"Will charge them first class fare going to the Conference, and return them free on the certificate of the Secretary."

4th. The Richmond and Danville, and North Carolina Road, and also the Salem Branch Road, will sell tickets to all members of the Conference and visitors on the 27, 28 and 29th of the present month, for three cents per mile each way, and they will be respected by the conductors until 8th December.

N. H. D. WILSON.

CONFERENCE NOTICE

The class of the first year will please meet the committee at the Methodist Church in Greensboro, on Tuesday morning Nov. 28th, at 10 o'clock

JNO. R BROOKS,
JNO. F. HEITMAN,
L. W. CRAWFORD, } Com.

The progress of missions in the South Sea Islands has been remarkable the past year.

The Worth of Fine Manners.

It would be vain as it would be ungracious to combat against the favorable influence of charm of manner. Engaging manner and bright conversation must and will always sway those brought under their attraction, and it is right that they should do so, for they are good qualities, though they may be only natural ones; and the enjoyment of them in others may be accepted as one of the amenities of our lot, if we meet with them in the order of Providence, and do not go out of our way to put ourselves under their influence.—What a catalogue of social virtues it needs to make a man generally beloved—sweetness of temper, good nature, a yielding will, and ready compliance, a toleration of others' infirmities, and forbearance under small slights and hindrances; sympathy with others' modes of feeling, and delicacy of adaptation Many a hero—we may add, many a saint—is without them, and makes his great cause to suffer from their absence. The reward or his labors is sought in a higher sphere, not in the praise of men; and his greatest admirers have often to become his apologists in the minor details of deportment and manner, conscious that he who would sacrifice his life for the sake of his religion or for the good of his fellow-men, yet failed to make himself agreeable to his personal acquaintances. But because from the infirmity of our nature great interests and high aims often make men regardless of lesser proprieties, let us not esteem the want of them as other than a fault, nor grudge the domestic philanthropist who cheers his neighbor's fireside, who raises their dulled spirits, whose prescence brings refreshment with it, who enhances their everyday joys, and sympathizes in the little trials that each day also brings in its train—though it may be only through the impulses of a genial nature—his reward is in his indulgent host of friends, with their warm welcomes, hearty praises, affectionate extensions, tender regrets.

From California Christian Advocate: "The effort to revive the old controversy, (the 'legitimacy' of the Church South,) we predict will meet with little favor. The members of the Joint Commission were unanimous in the adoption of their address; and that it is in accord with the prevailing sentiment of the body that appointed our branch of it, there can be no doubt.—Our General Conference in 1872 conceded all the points named by appointing fraternal delegates to the General Conference of the M. E. Church, South; and, also, by receiving fraternal delegates from that body at our late session at Baltimore. Thus the basis of fraternity was offered and accepted before we had appointed Commissioners to meet with Commissioners already appointed by the M E Church, South. Hence, the Joint Commission was fully warranted in its action.

Conference "Centennial Day" at Greensboro N C, Saturday, December the 2nd, 1876.

PROGRAMME.

I. After the opening exercises of the morning to 11 o'clock, A. M., summary report of what has been done for our colleges during the present year.

II. 11 o'clock, A. M, Subject for discussion: The relation of our colleges to the prosperity and success of the church, and the consequent duty of the entire ministry and membership of the church to foster and sustain these institutions. Address by Rev. W S Black of the Wilmington District and Hon. F. C. Robbins of Lexington, N. C.

III. Following the addresses immediately, or at an adjourned session of the Conference, as the body may prefer, a general interchange of opinions by the members of the Conference touching the best methods of helping our colleges, and also such specific action as the Conference may judge right and necessary in the premises.

(Signed)
N. H. D. WILSON,
S. D. ADAMS,
WILL C. DOUB, } Com

BENGEL'S EVENING PRAYER.—It is recorded of Bengel, that he was much given to intercessory prayer, and that he had power with God and prevailed. One who was anxious to find out his secret, watched him, unobserved, in his hours of retirement. "Now," said he, "I shall hear Bengel pray." The aged saint sat long before his open Bible, and while perusing its sacred pages, and while comparing Scripture with Scripture, the hour of midnight sounded. Nature seemed at length exhausted. He folded his arms over the open Word, and looking up, gave utterance to these words: "Lord Jesus, thou knowest me; we are on the same old terms." A few moments more, and Bengel's weary frame was resting in a sweet slumber.

At the recent session of the Wisconsin Conference, of the Northern Church, Rev. Joseph Cross, D. D., formerly of our Church, but who "waited for orders," in the Protestant Episcopal Church, was received from that Church, and made supernumerary. We suppose the Dr. has started home, in this round about way. But, the thought suggests itself, what has become of his "orders?" He is brilliant, erratic, and has a pliable, gumelastic theology.—Central Methodist.

Bishop Crawther, of the Negro Missions, contradicts the current statements that Mohammedanism is more attractive than Christianity to the heathen tribes of Central Africa.

Religious Intelligence.

There are 18,000 Israelites in San Francisco, five synagogues in the State and three in the city.

Secretary Clark of the American Board says the progress of missions the past twenty years exceeds that of the first seventy of the apostolic age.

The minutes of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church show that the additions on profession of faith last year were 48,240.

A number of London clergymen have begun to wage war on the ignorant street preachers who take possession of the street corners on Sunday afternoons,

The missionaries and native evangelists in the Turkish Empire now address on every Sunday an aggregate of from 18,000 to 20,000 hearers.

The Episcopalians in New York city are going to build a cathedral to cost two million dollars. A site has been fixed upon, and the funds are being raised.

The Lutherans are strong in Kansas. There are about 20,000 of them in that State, including German, Swedish and Norwegian Lutherans.

Zion's Herald, of Boston, observes that 'the years on which Presidential elections fall are noted for the low standard of religious life in the churches.'

The Russian government will allow no Protestant mission to be established within its dominions. Since 1824, six such missions have been opened, but have been broken up.

It is estimated that the number of Friends throughout the world amounts to not more than eighty thousand, of whom nearly fifty thousand are in America.

Our Presbyterian friends are getting ready for the great council of representatives of all the Presbyterian denominations throughout the world, to be held in Edinburgh, July 3, 1877.

Bishop Levi Scott, of Dover, Delaware by right of seniority, becomes the presiding bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in place of Bishop Janes, deceased. He was elected in 1852.

The Corresponding Secretary of the Southern Home Missionary Board states that application has been made by the Creeks and Shawnees in the Indian Territory for more schools and missionaries.

The American Bishopric of Calcutta, after having been in the market a long time, has finally been taken by Dr. Johnson, the Arch deacon of Chester, who is classed as a High but not Advanced Churchman.

The British Branch of the Evangelical Alliance has just held its annual meeting at Southport. Much attention was given to the consideration of the Turkish atrocities and the persecution of Protestants in Spain.

At the last meeting of the Board of Managers of the Methodist Tract Society, it was decided to issue one million copies of a new tract on Christian life and consecration, to be gratuitously circulated throughout the church this fall.

Jewish silver shekels have lately been found near Jerusalem, belonging to the time of Simon Maccabens, B. C 144. On one side they have the cup of manna, and on the other the budding rod of Aaron.

Two Roman Catholic priests have recently joined the English Unitarians—Fathers Suffield and Hargrave. The latter has just been called to the charge of the prominent Unitarian congregation in Leeds, whose pulpit has been made vacant by the call of the incumbent to a London professorship.

The British and Foreign Bible Society has removed the open Bibles from its sales room windows in Madrid, and had its sign painted over.—The sale of religious books has been stopped in the provinces, and licensed colporteurs are forbidden to call out their books.

Dr. Dieringer is dead. He was, at the time of the Vatican Council, Canon of Cologne and Professor of Theology at Bonn. He was at first a strong opponent of the new dogmas, and was the chief promoter of the very first Old Catholic gathering, which took place at Konigsberger in August, 1870.

Nine Presbyterian clergymen are already ordained from among Sioux Indian converts.

The Tenn-ssee Conference of the Church South approved the removal of the remains of Bishops M'Kendree and Soule to the campus of Vanderbilt University, and adopted measures to secure about $500 to build a monument to their memory.

The Holston Conference recommended to the Board of Education Rev. J. F. Spence as a suitable man to be appointed agent for the white schools of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the South.

The St. Louis Advocate (M. E Church, South) urges the preparation of one standard hymn book for all branches of Methodism.

RALEIGH DAILY OBSERVER.—We are pleased with the appearance of the Daily Observer whose publication commenced last week. It is well printed and ably edited by Messrs Haze and Saunders both of whom have had long experience in the newspaper business and are gentlemen of high character and talent We extend a cordial greeting to the new comer and wish it great success.

Recent Publications.

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY MAGAZINE, conducted by J. G. Holland. Scribner & Co., New York, $4 a year.

The contents of the December number of this excellent Magazine are as follows: Bay Shooting. Illus. Mr. Quatty's Great Speech. Illus. Maidenhood.—Our Diplomates and Consuls. Single-Celled Plants. Illus. Lafayette College. Illus. A Peculiar Case. "We love but few." Pane Pictures. Road Lane, Rochdale. Illus. An American in Turkistan. Illus. Nicholas Minturn. Chaps. I. and II. Illus. Sanntterings about Constantinople. Anticipation.—Fulfillment. Philip Nolan's Friends; or, "Show your Passports!" Chap. XXXVIII.—end. That Lass o' Lowrie's. Chaps. XIV., XV., XVI. Topics of the Time, A Word for the Departed—Mr. Huxley's Visit—The Better Times—The Interest of Fiction. The Old Cabinet. "Mystic"—The Philistine Betrayed—Egoism—'Daniel Deronda' as a Vindication of Bohemianism—"The Best Society"—Age and Wisdom; with an illustration drawn from White's "Selborne"—Dr. George B. Bacon on the Chinamen. Home and Society. Letters to a Young Mother, II.—Paris Fashions—Rural Topics. Garden Soil; Asparagus-Beds; Lawns—Table Talk. Culture and Progress. Social Science at Saratoga—Asa Gray's "Darwiniana,"—"Helen's Babies"—French and German Books. The World's Work Novel Water-heater—New Uses for Refined Oils—Steering with Reversed Screw—Flexible Shafting—Filtration of Fluids—Dairy Ventilation—Memoranda.

The Baptist State Convention assembled in this city last Wednesday, was largely attended and was an interesting and, we trust, profitable occasion for our Baptist brethren. Several eminent ministers from abroad were present. Col. C. M. Cocke, a prominent lawyer of Louisburg, was elected President of the Convention The Body was large, intelligent and imposing, much business was transacted and great harmony prevailed.

NORTH CAROLINA

The Democrats of Wayne county will have a grand jollification meeting on Thursday of this week.

The Magnolia Record suspended after the election until the first of December, when it will reappear as a thirty-two column paper.

The Nut Shell says that assaults upon inoffensive persons are frequent on the streets in Newbern, both day and night.

Pender County elects Republican officers, except its Sheriff, who is a Democrat.

Mr. Thomas Pitt, of Nash county, has invented an improved water-wheel and had it patented.

Robert Sanderson, a young man of Beaufort county, while returning from the election, was thrown from his horse and instantly killed.

Elias Powell, convicted of the murder of Cohen at Whittaker's some time ago, has had his sentence of death commuted to imprisonment in the penitentiary for life.

The Hornet's Nest Riflemen, the Charlotte Military Company, will escort Gov. Vance to Raleigh at his inaugural on the 1st of January.

The Charlotte Democrat is the only one of our State exchanges that preserved its dignity in announcing the results of the election. No cocks crowed or cannons boomed in its columns. It told the news gladly, but without vociferation.

Gov. Brogden appointed Dr. Worth, the Treasurer elect, to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Mr. Jenkins, until Jan. 1st, when Dr. W. will continue by virtue of his election by the people.

Mr. Thorne, who was expelled from the last Legislature on account of infidelic tendencies, has been elected to the Senate from Warren county.

Halifax County Court commenced last Monday a week and is in session: a full docket, but little interest taken in the law matters, politics being uppermost in the thoughts of all.

Posts have been planted at each station on the W. & W Railroad on which to hang mail-bags to be taken up by the passing trains, and some negroes think they are whipping posts restored by the Democrats since the election.

Rufus Terrill, a colored Democrat, was hanged in New Light Township, Wake county, a day or two before the election.

Miss Lelia, daughter of Col. R. F. Armfield, of Statesville, was killed on the 10th inst., by the accidental firing of a pistol in the hands of her brother.

"Cupid's veil clings lovingly to the Hymeneal altar in the vicinity of Knap of Reeds," poetically sighs the bachelor editor of the Oxford Torch Light, as he chronicles the nuptials of Mr. Hundley and Miss Roberts.

On account of alleged frauds in the election at Henderson, Granville county, that box was thrown out by the Commissioners, whereby the Democrats elect their candidate for Sheriff and their County Commissioners.

In Granville county a young man named Lynch wanted to marry the sister of young Jenkins. The latter was opposed to the match and meeting Lynch on a road at night struck him with a stick, knocking him from his horse and fracturing his skull.

The jury rendered a verdict of "not guilty" in the trial of G. M. Smathers indicted for killing B. A. Pharr in Haywood county last September.

A safe in the office of DeRosset & Co., in Wilmington, was opened on Saturday night and robbed of $35 belonging to the Wilmington Compress Co.

Mrs. Stansil, wife of S. I. Stansil, of Selma, Johnson Co., committed suicide last week by throwing herself into the well fifteen feet deep. Her mind had been affected for some time.

News: James Thorn, of 85 Grace Church street, London, proposes to establish in that city a bureau at which can be obtained all information concerning the geology, agriculture, climate, soil and other advantages of the State of North Carolina.

The Board of Aldermen will apply to the Legislature for an amendment of the charter of the city of Charlotte.

The trestle work on the C. C. Railroad, at Hitchcock's Creek, near Rockingham, gave way last week, precipitating a passing freight train to the ground below, a distance of fifteen or twenty feet. Nobody was hurt.

Mr. James Badget, of Surry county, died suddenly while on the election ground at Eldora township on the 7th inst. He was about 65 years old and his death is supposed to have been from heart disease.

W. T. Blackwell & Co. offer a splendid new Remington Sewing Machine to the lady who will procure the largest amount of subscriptions in money for the benefit of the Orphan Asylum. All contributions to be sent to J. H. Mills, Esq., Oxford, N. C., who will keep count and report the winner.

Miss Anne Barron Stronach, daughter of our townsman Geo. T. Stronach, Esq. last week sent to Gov. Vance a beautiful silver cup bearing this inscription: "Zebulon B. Vance from Anne Barron Stronach." Accompanying the cup was a nicely written note.

Some weeks since, says the STAR, a car load of colored men women and children passed through Wilmington on their way to a Northern port whence they intended to sail for Liberia. They were joined at Wilmington by a few of their race, but upon reaching Portsmouth, Va., they were dropped by the agent who had them in charge and they remain there penniless and friendless. The matter should be investigated.

The Hickory Press thus speaks of the sixty-five specimens of North Carolina fruit exhibited in Philadelphia by Capt. Nat. Atkinson: "The specimens he had were principally from Haywood and Buncombe counties. Mr. Atkinson was assured by the Superintendent that he would receive a medal from the committee of awards. His fruit was regarded by hundreds and thousands of people who saw it as being superior fu quality to any on the Centennial grounds. This will do much towards advertising Western North Carolina as a fruit growing section, and Capt. Atkinson deserves much credit for his energy and expense in so handsomely representing North Carolina in the pomological department of the great International Exhibition."

Reidsville is said to have a population of fifteen hundred.

The Davidson Record, published during the campaign as a democratic paper, has expired by the terms of its own limitation

The sprightly Daily Press of Hickory, after gallantly fighting for its party during the campaign, has suspended or rather has been merged into the weekly.

The new engine recently placed on the Northwestern N. C. Railroad, from Greensboro to Winston, was badly damaged by fire last week.

The Reidsville News says that Col. Jno. H. Dillard will remove from Greensboro to his old home in Rockingham. Greensboro will lose, by that step, one of the ablest lawyers and purest men in the State.

Some indiscreet and mischievous boys in Greensboro, hung black crape on the fences about the residences of prominent Rebublicans in that place, after the election.

Bennett Bishop, of Guilford county, dropped his pistol at Kernersville causing it to fire—the bullet lodging in his breast. He died the next day.

Rev. H. W. Parsons, writing himself "D R. W. G T. I. O. Good Templar, Brighton, England" was arrested in Charlotte last week on the charge of obtaining money under false pretences. He is traveling and selling charts, and is supposed to be an impostor.

Explosion in the Baggage Car of a Railway Train.

From the N. Y. Sun.

Passengers on the New York Express that started from Philadelphia at 3.30 yesterday afternoon had a narrow escape. Among the articles of baggage checked for New York was a Saratoga trunk. It was placed in the upper tier of trunks in the baggage car. When the train which was a heavy one, carrying Centennial passengers, had passed Metuchen about twenty-six miles from Jersey City, the baggage master heard a terrific explosion It hurled the trunks around, and threw the men in the car on the floor. Flames burst from the pile of baggage, setting fire to the baggage and car almost instantaneously. The fire was spreading rapidly, and the train was stopped to extinguish the fire.

The remains of the trunk that had caused the damage were collected The trunk was made of thin wood. The parts of an ingenious little machine were found among the broken boards A small pistol, attached by wire to the brass works of a clock, was so arranged that when the hands reached the figure twelve on the dial, the pistol was discharged. The charge was fired into some very inflammable substance, either dynamite or pyroxiline, that was entirely consumed, and spread rapidly. The infernal machine was so shattered that its exact nature cannot be defined. It was collected and taken to the Jersey City depot, where Train Master Shaw took charge of it, pending investigation that the railroad officials are to make.

John Silpath, the baggage master, says he thinks it probable that the trunk was either designed for the destruction of the railroad depot, or to destroy the train. Conductor Stockton said that he did not hear the explosion, and did not know why the train stopped until the brakman told him that the baggage car was on fire. He thought it was intended to do some damage in New York, as it was more probable that it was made for a specific purpose than to kill passengers or employees on a train He thought it had probably been delayed.

The Youth's Companion, of Boston, is a thoroughly wide awake paper, having among its contributors such writers as J. T. Trowbridge, Edward Eggleston, Edward Everett Hale, James T. Fields, J. G. Whittier, C. A. Stephens, Louisa M. Alcott, Rebecca Harding Davis, Julia Ward Howe, Mrs. A H. Leeneweus, Louise Chandler Moulton. No writers publication for young people more enterprising and useful. It.

Why suffer with a bad cold it one bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup will cure a cough of the worst kind Dr Bull's Cough Syrup is for $1 00, in every respectable drug store.

The Christian Advocate

PUBLISHED IN THE CITY OF RALEIGH EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING, TERMS $2.50 POSTAGE PAID

Our Agents.

All the traveling and local preachers in the bounds of the North Carolina Conference are our authorised Agents. Any person sending us ten subscribers, for one year, will receive the paper free.

Our Correspondents.

Communications for publication should be carefully written on but one side of the sheet. All letters on office should be addressed to the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

How to Remit.

In remitting money, all amounts should be sent in registered letter, post office order or check. The cost of registration, or Post office order can be deducted from the amount in hand. If money is sent otherwise than herein specified, it will be at the sender's risk.

INDEX TO NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

"Rock of Ages."—Cincinnati Art Co.

Sunday School Times.—John D. Wattles, Phila

ASTHMA AND CATARRH REMEDY—D Langell's advt.

T H Briggs and Sons: one of the largest and most reliable Hardware Houses in the South. The firm is composed of upright, honorable and industrious men with whom the transaction of business is safe and pleasant Their stock is large, includ ing everything usually kept in a thoroughly furnished hardware store.

Marriages.

In the Methodist Church at Monroe, on Wednesday March 8th inst., by Rev. W. H. Sherrill, D. D., Mr. Geo. C. Smith to Miss Mary L. daughter of A. F. Stevens.

At the residence of the bride's mother, in Lenoir Co., N. C., Oct. 26 1876, by Rev. Andrew Moore, Mr. A. L. Smith, of Greene county, to Miss Sue L. Moore, of Pitt county.

On the 21st inst., at the residence of the bride's father, by Rev. F. J. Gatling, Mr. Lewis Sasser to Miss Martha C. Jones, all of Craven Co., N. C.

Married, on the 22nd inst., by Rev. F. J. Gatling, Mr. Lewis Sasser to Miss Martha C. Jones, all of Craven Co., N. C.

Married, on the 26th inst., by Rev. T

Children's Column.

The Silent Life

We lead two lives, the outward seeming fair,
And full of smiles that on the surface lie;
The other spent in many a silent prayer,
With thoughts and feelings hidden from the eye.

The weary, weary hours of mental pain,
Unspoken yearnings for the dear ones gone,
The wishes half-defined, yet crushed again,
Make up the silent life we lead alone.

And happy visions we may never show,
Fold all this silent life with sweet romance,
That they will fade like sunset's clouds we know,
Yet life seems brighter for each stolen glance.

This silent life, we little reck its power
To strengthen us for either good or ill;
Whether we train our thoughts like birds to soar,
Or let them wander wheresoe'er they will.

This silent life not those we love may share,
Though day by day we strive to draw them close;
Our secret chamber—none may enter there,
Save that one Eye that never seeks repose.

And life-wealth that Eye we do not mail,
Though all the world may turn from us aside,
We own a secret power that shall prevail,
When every motive of our life is tried.

The Little Houses on the Telegraph-Poles

Fastened to the telegraph poles in New York City there are five hundred and forty-eight little houses, in each of which dwells an invisible spirit with greater powers than the fairy godmother who made a carriage for Cinderella out of pumpkins and horses out of mice. They are built of iron and painted green, and look for all the word like post-office boxes. Indeed, I have been told that honest country folks visiting the city sometime almost wreck them to pieces with their umbrellas in trying to get their letters in.

Under the eaves of these little houses there is a bit of a glass window, behind which is a blind with some printing on it, and the printing says that a key to the door may be found at the baker's or the tailor's or the shoemaker's over the way. But the possessor is forbidden to loan it, unless there happens to be a fire in the neighborhood and the spirit is wanted to go on an errand So, in order, that we may have a peep within, we will enlist the service of a friend of mine who is a city fireman, and who carries a duplicate key in his pocket.

When the door is opened, we look into the front room: let us call it the parlor and, like many other parlors, it is cold and bare. The only furniture is a little knob projecting from one of the walls. The back room, which the fireman opens with another key, is much more interesting, however; and it is here that the wonderful spirit is imprisoned in a curious-looking little machine, with brass cog-wheels, levers and springs, which is set in motion by that simple knob in front.

He is on duty all the year round. Pull knob, and he will fly like a flash of lightning over the wire that enters the house from behind, telling the firemen through the city that they are wanted, and where. His name is Electricity, and his house is called a fire-alarm telegraph-box. So you will see that I am writing something more real than a fairy-story, although the facts I have to relate are about a king of giants and dwarfs—St. Nicholas.

Obedience.

There is nothing more admirable than obedience. Little children, be obedient in small things as in great.

I once knew a little boy; he was only four years old, but he had already acquired at that age a habit of rendering implicit obedience to the commands and wishes of his parents. One day, as he was walking in the garden accompanied by a servant, he saw a fine, rosy-looking apple lying on the path before him. He ran to pick it up but handed it directly to the servant, without even looking as if he would like to eat it.

"This is a very nice apple, Master Harry," said the servant, without closely examining the apple, "and quite ripe. You may eat it if you like."

"Papa told me I was not to eat fruit I found laying on the ground in the garden," said the child.

'I should not be likely to give you leave to eat any thing that would hurt you, sir,' said the maid, sharply; 'Your papa told you not to fruit off the ground because he was afraid you might eat something some day that was not ripe, and that would not be good for you. Unripe fruit would make you ill, you know.'

'He did not say all this,' said the child, gravely; 'he only said I was never to eat fruit I picked up off the ground. So I think I will not eat this apple, if you please, nurse, although it does look very nice and ripe,' added the little fellow, evidently thinking it did look very tempting.

His father, who happened to be near enough to overhear this conversation, here stepped forward, and, taking the apple from the servant's hand sat down, and drew his little son toward him.

'Do you see that, Harry?' said he, turning over the apple, and pointing to a little black speck near the stem 'Now, if I cut this apple open, you will see something very disagreeable inside of it.'

He did so, and displayed to Harry's wondering and somewhat disgusted eyes an ugly insect lodged in the core.

'You see,' said the father, 'that obedience is really the best thing for us. You might have bitten into this apple without observing that nasty insect inside of it.'

Harry assented, the look of disgust thoughtful for a minute or two, then ran off to play.

The lesson, however, was not forgotten. Obedience had never cost him much effort before this incident it never cost him any after. He always remembered that it was not only right to be obedient, but that it might be profitable for him to be so.

Rural and Domestic.

FRUIT AS A MEDICINE.

The irregular eating of unripe fruit is well known to be unwholesome.—The regular and moderate use of well ripened fruit is not so widely appreciated as contributing to health—Residents in regions where more or less malaria prevails, have discovered that nothing is a more sure preventive of its deleterious effects than a regular supply of fruit. A case is well known to us where a man with a family removed to the West. He had provided large quantities of well dried fruit, and this was used regularly during the first summer. Although suffering many privations and exposures to hardships this family escaped the prevailing epidemics. The second year, the supply of fruit being exhausted, the added comforts which they had secured did not protect them from disease. Many other similar cases have occurred. It should therefore be made a special object with all about to remove to newly settled regions, and in fact to any other localities, to take with them or make provisions for the immediate planting of an ample supply of early bearing fruit plants and trees, such as strawberries, currants, grapes, raspberries, dwarf apples and pears, and the well known early bearers among larger sorts, such as Bartlett pear, Early Strawberry, Baldwin and Porter apples, and many other sorts which will give crops while yet small.

But the fruit will not only prevent disease, but in some instances it has proved one of the best medicines to cure it. Many years ago a chronic cough which had excited a good deal of uneasiness, was cured by daily eating ripe raspberries, recommended by a medical writer of high authority as an excellent expectorant. Severe colds are more apt to occur on the first cool and damp days of autumn, than at other seasons. We have often cured these diseases on their first attack, by eating copiously of ripe watermelons. The beneficial effects of drinking freely of cold water on such occasions, are well known. Watermelons supply a larger quantity than one could easily swallow in any other way. We have not found these, or the raspberry expectorant, an unpleasant medicine to take. When visiting recently, the Centennial grounds at Philadelphia, we had taken "a bad cold." Knowing that many had been made sick by drinking the bad water at that place, we resolved to secure both a benefit and a pleasure by using ripe watermelons instead, which happened to be abundant at that time. Their copious use performed a surprisingly rapid cure, with an escape from all the bad effects of the water. But it must be remembered that the common moderate eating will not answer the desired purpose; nothing but the "heroic" consumption of this fruit will effect a prompt cure.

We mention these various facts as an additional inducement for the planting of fruit-bearing trees and plants, in addition to the claim of comfort and the luxury of a constant succession of fruit through the year, as well as its important contribution to economy by reducing the expenses of the table.—Country Gentleman.

An Unanswerable Argument.

The strongest argument which can be urged against the advisability of administering such corrosive and nerve-destroying poisons as arsenic and quinine for intermittent and remittent fever, is the vastly superior success in the prevention and cure of such diseases of a medicine which is the very antipode of the above named drugs, both in respect of its composition and the result wrought by it. Such a medicine is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a purely vegetable preparation, which not only eradicates with wonderful promptitude every trace of fever and ague, and kindred types of malarious disease, from the system, but is a certain preventive of all maladies begotten of miasma-tainted air and water. These results mineral anti-febrile remedies do not effect with certainty, and their continued use entails consequences highly pernicious to the system. The Bitters, on the contrary, not only afford speedy relief, but establish health on a permanent basis.

SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR

J. H. ZEILIN & CO.

A gentleman writes thus: "I write you this note to congratulate you on being the proprietor of the best Liver Medicine, Simmons' Regulator, known to the human race. I have known it for a number of years, and I pronounce it, as prepared by you, pure and genuine; and I pray you, for the sake of humanity, to keep it so, as long as it is in your keeping.—You may prepare it and recommend it, but you will never know the true value of it, unless you have a disordered liver yourself. It endows the liver of impurities with which it has been confined for years, and puts the wheels in their original motion. I have written these lines with no other view but to give you my honest sentiments."

For Sale by all Druggists.

May 31-26t eow.

GENUINE CRAB ORCHARD SALTS.

THE MILDEST AND BEST CENERAL PURCATIVE IN USE. Endorsed by the highest medical men in the United States. Persons suffering with costiveness of the bowels or torpid liver, will find ready relief by the use of these Salts. None genuine except those put up in bottles with the label of the Crab Orchard Springs Salts Company.

J. B. WILDER & CO., Agents, Louisville, Ky

THE BOOK AND STATIONARY BUSINESS OF

E. J. HALE & SON,

17 MURRAY ST., New York.

Will not be interrupted by the removal of Mr. P. M. Hale to Raleigh. Orders from promt custom ers e

COMMISSION MERCHANTS.

THE OLDEST

WHOLESALE GROCERY HOUSE

In Raleigh!

ESTABLISHED IN 1869.

EACH BROTHERS

WHOLESALE GROCERS

— AND —

Commission Merchants,

RALEIGH, N. C.

Ask the attention of the trade to their stock of

STAPLE GROCERIES,

ought from first hands by their resident Partner in New York, and offered in this market on small margins.

With an experience of seven years in the grocery business in this city they will make it to the interest of prompt paying customers to send them their orders.

P. O. Box 416 Raleigh, N. C.

March 8th 1-y

NEW FIRM

TO FRIENDS AND PUBLIC GENERALLY

I have associated with me Mr. G. D. Rand (formerly Rand & Barbee Lumber Dealers) as a partner in the wholesale and retail Grocery and General Commission business. I respectfully tender my thanks for past favors and hope to have them continued with the new firm. Yours truly, January 6, 1876. L. E. WYATT.

G. D. RAND. L. E. WYATT.

RAND & WYATT,

Wholesale and Retail Grocers

AND

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

Have on hand and constantly receiving a fresh and first class stock of

GROCERIES

consisting of Flour, a specialty, Meal, Corn Bacon Lard, Sugar, Coffee, Pepper and Spice, Molasses (new crop Cuba), Syrup, Toilet and Laundry, Soaps, Wood and Willow Ware, Fancy Groceries, &c.

Everything enhanced in a First Class Grocery which we propose to sell at Lowest figures.—Give us a trial. Orders with proper reference respectfully solicited, which shall receive our prompt attention. Consignment of Cotton and other produce solicited. Best prices guaranteed

Yours truly,

RAND & WYATT,

Opp. East end of Market, Raleigh, N. C.

July 12 1 y

SCHEDULES.

PIEDMONT AIR-LINE RAILWAY.

RICHMOND & DANVILLE, RICHMOND & DANVILLE R. W., N. C. DIVISION, AND NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. W.

CONDENSED TIME-TABLE.

In Effect on and after Sunday, Oct. 15th, 1876.

GOING NORTH.

STATIONS.	Mail.
Leave Charlotte	4.55 A M
" Air-Line J'ct's	5.30 "
" Salisbury	7.35 "
" Greensboro'	9.55 "
" Danville	12.2 P M
" Dundee	1.46 "
" Burkeville	3.05 "
Arrive at Richmond	7.43 P M

GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS.	Mail.
Leave Richmond	7.50 A M
" Burkeville	10.46 "
" Dundee	2.55 P M
" Danville	7.59 "
" Greensboro'	9.49 "
" Salisbury	8.45 "
" Air-Line J'ct's	10.25 "
Arrive at Charlotte	10.37 "

STATIONS.	GOING EAST. Mail.	GOING WEST Mail.
Leave Greensboro'	9.30 A. M.	Arrive 3.35 P. M.
" Co. Shops	9.11 21 A. M.	Leave 4.25 "
Arrive at Raleigh	2.41 P. M.	Arrive 12.30 "
Arrive at Goldsboro'	5.05 P. M.	Leave 11.15 P M

STATIONS.	ACCOMMODATION TRAIN. Mixed
Leave Greensboro	6.33 P. M.	Arr. 9.40 A. M.
" Co. Shops	7.11.10 "	Lv. 8.50 "
Arr. at Raleigh	9.01 A. M.	Arr. 9.30 P. M.
Arr at Goldsboro	11.30 "	Leave 5.10 P. M.

NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. R.

(SALEM BRANCH.)

Leave Greensboro'	6.10 P. M.
Arrive at Salem	8.15 A. M.
Leave Salem	7.05 A. M.
Arrive at Greensboro	9.15 "

Passenger Train leaving Raleigh at 12.34 P. M. connects at Goldsboro' with the Southern bound train; making the quickest time to all Southern cities.

Accommodation Train leaving Greensboro at 10.10 P. M. connects with Northern bound Train at Greensboro for Richmond and all points East. Price of Tickets same as via other routes.

No Change of Cars between Atlanta and Richmond, 547 Miles.

Papers that have arrangements to advertise the Schedule of this Company will please print as above and forward copies of General Passenger Agent.

For further information address

JOHN E. MACMURDO,
Gen'l Passenger Agent,
Richmond, Va.

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE

RALEIGH & GASTON RAILROAD, } SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE, Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 9th, 1876.

On and after Monday, Oct. 9th, 1876, trains on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad, will run daily (Sunday excepted) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Leave Raleigh	9.30 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon,	3.00 P. M.
Leaves Weldon,	12.40 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh	5.40 P. M.

ACCOMMODATION TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh,	5.00 A M.
Arrives at Weldon,	5.25 P M.
Leaves Weldon,	5.30 A M.
Arrives at Raleigh	5.45 P. M.

Mail train makes close connection at Weldon, with the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad and Bay Line Steamers via Baltimore, to and from all points North, West and Northwest, and with Petersburg Railroad via Petersburg, Richmond and Washington City, to and from all points North and Northwest.

And at Raleigh with the North Carolina Railroad to and from all points South and Southwest, and with the Raleigh & Augusta Air Line & Haywood and Fayetteville.

JNO. C. WINDER,
Gen'l Superintendent

RALEIGH & AUGUSTA AIR-LINE RAILROAD.

SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE, Raleigh, N. C. Oct. 10th, 1876.

On and after Monday, October 30th, 1876, trains will run as follows:

TRAIN MOVING SOUTH.

	Arrive	Leave
Raleigh,		6.30 A. M
Cary,	7.00 A. M.	7.30 "
Apex,	7.50 "	7.55 "
New Hill,	8.25 "	8.30 "
Merry Oaks,	9.00 "	9.05 "
Moncure,	9.35 "	9.40 "
Osgood,	10.15 "	10.30 "
Ashford,	10.58 "	11.05 "
Manu,	11.35 "	11.37 "
Cameron	12.07 P. M.

TRAIN MOVING NORTH.

	Arrive	Leave
Raleigh,	6.40 P. M.	6.50 P. M.
Cary,	5.52 "	6.00 "
Apex,	5.17 "	5.22 "
New Hill,	4.42 "	4.47 "
Merry Oaks,	4.07 "	4.12 "
Moncure,	3.32 "	3.37 "
Osgood,	2.47 "	2.52 "
Ashford,	2.6 "	2.17 "
Manu,	1.39 "	1.34 "
Cameron		1.00 "

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE BUFFALO

LITHIA WATERS

THE GREAT

STOMACH WATERS

Of America.

Case of Mrs. ——— cured by Dr. Marcus A Harris, a distinguished physician of Black Walnut, Halifax Co., Va.

(Extract from Letter of Dr. H., of July 28, 1876.)

"Mrs. ——— has been for twenty years a sufferer from Dyspepsia in a most aggravated form. Prostrient among a multiplicity of distressing symptoms were attacks of Spasmodic neuralgia, varying in duration and intensity, and becoming less and less amenable to treatment. For a few months before she commenced the use of your Buffalo Lithia Waters the attacks became more prolonged and violent, and her constant, well nigh incessant distress and prostration gave unmistakable evidence of a rapid decline. Having exhausted my own resources, I called to my assistance in the treatment of the case some of the most eminent medical men of the State, without any other result than a palliation of suffering, and in what is regarded as a hopeless condition, I prevailed the Buffalo Lithia Water, Spring No 2, to the exclusion of all other treatment She has been using the water now for some six weeks, with only occasional symptoms of indigestion, and her improvement has been so marked and decided that she is able to attend regularly to her domestic affairs. For four months before commencing the use of the "Lithia Water," her diet was milk and stale bread, alternated with bread and water and bread and tea. She now eats with impunity almost everything—for breakfast, coffee, bread and butter, mutton chops, broiled chicken, &c.; for dinner, mutton, beef, chicken, and any vegetables except Irish potatoes, with the acid sauces, such as cake, ice cream, &c. I will add, that this was one of the most distressing and unmanageable cases of Dyspepsia that I have ever seen in a practice of many years, and that the action of the water in it was marvellous."

DYSPEPSIA AND NERVOUS HEADACHE

Case of Dr. R. H. Tatum, * a well-known physician of Chesterfield county, Va.

Extract from letter dated Longwood, Va., September 4th, 1876:

"For years I have suffered from indigestion, causing sick headache, attended with the most intense agony. I have visited some of our most celebrated mountain springs and drank the mineral waters from the springs of other States, but have found no such relief as I have experienced from the use of two cases of the BUFFALO LITHIA WATER, Spring No 2. I have prescribed it for several patients suffering from symptoms produced by Dyspepsia—such as loss of appetite, general debility, headache, cough and severe pain in the Epigastric region—with the happiest results."

* Post-office Chula, Amelia county, Va.

DYSPEPSIA.

Case of John P. Keeling, Esq., a well known citizen of Princess Anne county, Va.

PRINCESS ANNE Co., Va., Aug. 18, 1876.

Thos. Thos. F. Goode, Esq.

Dear Sir—It is with much pleasure I furnish you with a statement of my case and of the relief which I obtained from your LITHIA WATER, as in doing so I may possibly induce some unbeliever to try it, and be snatched as, from the grave, and restored to health.

For several years I suffered from Nervous Dyspepsia, being so prostrated by the disease, that at times it was with difficulty I could walk across my room. For some eighteen months I resided in the City of Baltimore, where I consulted, and I presume tried during that time by some of the best medical men of that city, without benefit. From there I was brought to my home in Tri-county, Va., so low as was supposed, to die, where, by more skilful means, I came in possession of one of your pamphlets, and with but little faith, decided to try the water. A single case resulted in an improvement in my condition so radical, that I am now able to attend regularly to my business on the farm. I do believe this to be the greatest stomach-water of the world.

Very truly yours,

JOHN P. KEELING.

In affections of the Kidneys and Bladder, in Gout, Rheumatism and Paralysis, these waters have accomplished results as remarkable as they are permanent. They are for sale in cases of one dozen half gallon bottles at $5 per case, payable in advance.

The Springs Pamphlet sent to any address on application.

THOS. F. GOODE, Proprietor

BUFFALO LITHIA SPRINGS,

Mecklenburg Co., Va.

oct 11-4f.

HOME AGAIN FOR THE FALL AND WINTER AND SPRING!

DR. CHARLES J. HALL,

HEAD, THROAT AND CHEST.

SPECIALIST FOR DISEASES OF THE

Respectfully announces his return home and that his office is now open for the reception of patients. Dr. H. will be found at his office, 1418 Arch St., Philadelphia, during the hours from 10 A. M. to 2 P. M., and at his residence, 1420 Arch St., from 3 to 5 P. M. Dr. H. will be found at his residence during the hours from 7 to 8 A. M. and 6 to 7

Raleigh Christian Advocate.

Bobbitt & Gray, Publishers. | Published in the Interests of Methodism in North Carolina. | $2.20 Per Annum, in Advance.

Vol. XXII.---No. 47. | Raleigh, N. C., Wednesday, November 29, 1876. | Whole No. 1,135.

Poetry.

Welcome.

TO THE BRETHREN OF THE MEMPHIS CONFERENCE.

[Composed by the Rev. Josephus Anderson, D. D., of Indiana Ark., and adopted by the pastors in Memphis on behalf of their charge.]

We come! men of heaved, here,
Men of high and sacred vow!
After laboring through the year,
Shouting to their soul our cure,
On each rest one day now.
Welcome! yet the Master's choice,
Who from choice, compassionate
Called you with the "still, small voice,"
Forth to make the poor rejoice
Under faith's protecting shield.
Welcome! for the "spirit's seal"
To your earnest labors given,
Causing hardened souls to feel,
Wounded, bleeding hearts to heal,
And sinners start for heaven.
Welcome! for the life you lead
Through the swiftly circling years
Seeding out the seeds in need
Going forth with precious seed
Sowing day and night with tears,
Welcome! for the hope that cheers
In your journey and your strife,
Mid the daily toils and cares,
Mid the trials and the fears,
Hope of everlasting life!
Welcome! for the home ye seek,
Home of love and truth and right,
Where a crown awaits the meek,
Where the harp in praise shall speak
And the hand shall walk in light.
Welcome! for the work ye do,
Subduer down the power of sin,
Teaching men to live anew
With eternity in view,
And a holy peace within.
Welcome! for the prayer, and pr ach:
Chastened for another year:
Then go your various fields to reach;
God's blessing upon all and each!
From house to house in wisdom teach.
Gently reprove, persuade, beseech,
Till all the heaven appear!
And with a host redeemed before the throne
Hear Christ himself pronounce, "well done!"

—Western Methodist.

A STRANGER'S TRIBUTE.

LOUISBURG, N. C., Nov. 14th, 76

MESSRS. EDITORS: Sometime ago I received the following letter and monologue, written by Rev. B. T. Blake. I handed it to the family of the late Edwin W Fuller and at their urgent request Father Blake has consented to its publication. I send Bro. Blake's explanatory letter because I think it due him that it should be published in connection with the monologue. I am sure his many friends will read his lines with much interest.

Yours truly,

F. L. REID.

WAKE CO., 26th July, 1876.

DEAR BROTHER REID: Soon after the obituary of Bro Fuller appeared in the ADVOCATE, for my own p easure, I dwelt often in reflection on his beautiful life. I gathered up the pictures which were constantly projecting themselves, and for my own satisfaction formed these into such a whole as would make a more permanent impression, and wrote them down in the style of a monologue. It was entirely for pri vate use. It cannot be valued for its literary merits, but may be pleasing to those who were closely connected with Bro Fuller to learn that even a stranger would cherish a remembrance of his many virtues.

Truly yours.

B T. BLAKE.

AT THE GRAVE.

A MONOLOGUE

On the Death of Edwin W. Fuller.

May not a stranger steal a drop a tear
Beside full, o'er this grave so newly made,
Where lies in hallowed rest the youthful hard,
Who sang so sweetly through the toils of life,
His charming lyre. When on his pathway fell
Unpitied and unfeeling fate,
He still sang on and from the vale of death
Reverberated to the last pathetic song.
When youthful genius hastens to the tomb,
Or virgin beauty fades into the grave,
Even hardened nature feels the painful shock,
And learns the unpremeditated sigh.
There lies a fountain deep in human hearts
Secretly sealed to every selfish aim—
No thoughtless man make its crystal waters flow,
But what is true and beautiful and good.
I weep to think his heartsome was his life.
So pure in thought, and delicate in word,
And yet so full in truth and prompt in duty,
His virtues were all mixed in sweet accord.
O'er his whole life we threw a heavenly charm.
Far more enchanting than the music of his verse.
Imperious duty transmuted his fond muse,
And vainly strived to stay her lofty flight,
To where Immortals upon her gilded dome,
And oft with her appointed wreath bestows
Honors on worthy and right deeds.
Affirm resolves disturned the toils of Fate,
Renewed his strength and set him free, to roam,—
To rise above the common walks of life:
And from the mountain top to view the land,
As twere again in its primeval beauty.
From silent grove to meditation given,
From recluse home, from flowery meads and vales
With Eden's garden riding, to his view,
With skillful hand he culled the sweetest flowers,
And wove them into garlands for his muse.
Full many a heart was made to beat with joy,
And many a tongue proclaimed aloud his praise,
For none could envy his deserved renown.
Listening again to Lucia's alluring voice,—
Appears to ascend her gilded dome,
He saw its heights enveloped in a cloud—
A sacred warning, from the Spirit land,
His soul's ambition polished in an hour,
The bright'ning future into darkness fled,
As from a blissful dream when we awake
To be confronted by life's sad reality.
Alas, how soon our fondest hopes are crushed!
Yet we dream on though oft forewarned to wake,
Till some alarming stroke falls heavily,
Uproots the life blood from our wounded hearts,
Or like a shriek in sweeps our earthly joys away.
Not much he'll ate who sleeps beneath this mound,
'Twas no untimely death that laid him here.
His work was done, and he was standing guard,
Watching unto the coming of his Lord,
He watched burned his soul to melody,
And early made him a sweet child of song.
Fell touch his consecrated lips with fire,
That truth and virtue in divinest forms
Might shine illustrious in his moving lines,
Filling the mind with pure and holy thoughts
Of life and heaven and immortal life.
In his sad hour when on his breast was laid,
The fatal precursor of his coming fate;
When on his knees he humbly bowed and prayed
To know his end: the measure of his days,
A shadow' mercy overshadowed him—
The gates of heaven stood open to his view,
He caught at once the Saviour's loving face,
Fairies among ten thousand angel forms,
Redeemed from earth by his victorious arm,
Fathers and mothers and their precious babes,
Transported with the view, he raised his lute,
And while sweet hallowed notes were heard
He winged upward to the house of God.
To vie with angels in their joyful employ
In songs of everlasting praise.
Farewell sweet Bard!
The stranger owed no debt to pay thee;

The Pulpit.

Sermon by Rev. T. De Witt Talmage, Brooklyn Tabernacle.

PHONOGRAPHICALLY REPORTED FOR THE ADVOCATE BY WILLIAM WALTON

Watering the Sheep.

"We cannot, until all the flocks be gathered together, and till they roll the stone from the well's mouth; then we water the sheep."—GENESIS xxix, 8

A scene in Mesopotamia, beautifully pastoral. A well of water of great value in the region. The fields around about it white with three flocks of sheep lying down waiting. I hear their bleating coming on the bright air, and the laughter of young men and maidens indulging in rustic repartee. I look off, and I see other flocks of sheep coming. Meanwhile, Jacob, a stranger, on the interesting errand of looking for a wife, comes to the well. A beautiful shepherdess comes to the same well. I see her approaching, followed by her father's flock of sheep. It was a memorable meeting. Jacob married that shepherdess. The Bible account of it is: "Jacob kissed Rachel, and lifted up his voice and wept." It has always been a mystery to me what he found to cry about! But before that scene occurred, Jacob accosts the shepherds and asks them why they postpone the slaking of the thirst of these sheep, and why they did not immediately proceed to water them. The shepherds reply to the effect, "We are all good neighbors, and a matter of courtesy we wait until all the sheep of the neighborhood come up. Besides that, this stone on the well's mouth is somewhat heavy, and several of us take hold of it and push it aside and then the buckets and the troughs are filled, and the sheep are satisfied. We cannot, until all the flocks be gathered together, and till they roll the stone from the well's mouth; then we water the sheep."

O this is a thirsty world! Hot for the head, and blistering for the feet, and parching for the tongue. The world's great want is a cool, refreshing, satisfying, draught. We wander around and we find the cisterns empty. Long and tedious drought has dried up the world's fountains, but nearly nineteen centuries ago, a Shepherd, with crook in the shape of a cross, and feet cut to the bleeding, explored the desert passages of this world, and one day, came across a well a thousand feet deep bubbling and bright and opalescent, and looked to the north and the south and the east and the west, and cried out with a voice strong and musical that rang through the ages. "Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the water!"

Now a great flock of sheep to day gather around this Gospel well There are a great many thirsty souls I wonder why the flocks of all nations do not gather—why so many stay thirsty; and while I am wondering about it, my text breaks forth in the explanation, saying: "We cannot, until all the flocks be gathered together, and till they roll the stone from the well's mouth; then we water the sheep."

If a herd of swine come to a well they angrily jostle each other for the precedence; if a drove of cattle come to a well, they hook each other back from the water but when a flock of sheep come, though a hundred of them shall be disappointed, they only express it by sad bleating, they come together peacefully. We want a great multitude to come around the Gospel well. I know there are those who do not like a crowd, they think a crowd is vulgar. If they are oppressed for room in church it makes them positively impatient and belligerent. We have had people permanently leave our church because so many other people come to it. Not so did these oriental shepherds. They waited until all the flocks were gathered, and the more flocks that came the better they liked it. And so we ought to be anxious that all the people should come. Go ont into the highways and the hedges and compel them to come in. Go to the rich and tell them they are indigent without the Gospel of Jesus. Go to the poor and tell them of the affluence there is in Christ. Go to the blind and tell them of the touch that gives eternal illumination. Go to the lame and tell them of the joy that will make the lame man leap like a hart. Gather all the sheep off of all the mountains. None so torn of the dogs, none so sick, none so worried, none so dying as to be omitted. Last Tuesday at the election the whole land was scorned for voters, and if a man was too weak or sick to walk to the polls, a carriage was sent for him; but when the question is whether Christ or the devil shall rule this world, how few there are to come out and seek the sick and the lost, and the bereft, and the lame, and induce their suffrages for the Lord Jesus. Why not gather a great flock? All Brooklyn in a flock, all New York in a flock, a flock. This well of the Gospel is deep enough to put out the burning thirst of the twelve hundred millions of the race. Do not let the Church by a spirit of exclusiveness keep the world out. Let down all the bars, swing open all the gates, scatter all the invitations. "Whosoever will, let him come," Come, white and black Come, red men of the forest. Come, Laplander, out of the snow Come, Patagonian, out of the heat. Come in lines Come panting under palm leaves Come one. Come all. Come now As at this well of Mesopotamia, Jacob and Rachel were betrothed, so this morning, at this well of salvation Christ our shepherd will meet you coming up with your long flocks of cares and anxieties, and He will stretch out His hand in pledge of His affection, while all heaven will cry out: "Behold the bridegroom cometh, go ye ont to meet him."

You notice that this well of Mesopotamia had a stone on it which must be removed before the sheep could be watered; and I find on the well of salvation to day impediments and obstacles which must be removed in order that you may obtain the refreshment and life of this Gospel. In your case the impediment is pride of heart You cannot bear to come to so democratic a fountain; you do not want to come with so many others It is so to speak like when you are dry, coming to a town pump, as compared to sitting in a parlor sipping out of a chased chalice which has just been lifted from a salver. Not so many publicans and sinners You want to get to heaven, but it must be in an especial car, with your feet on a Turkish ottoman and a band of music on board the train. You do not want to be in company with rustic Jacob and Rachel, and to be drinking out of the fountain where ten thousand sheep have been drinking before you You will have to remove the obstacle of pride, or never find your way to the well. You will have to come as we came, willing to take the water of eternal life in any way and at hand, and in any kind of a pitcher, crying out: "O Lord Jesus, I am dying of thirst. Give me the water of eternal life, whether in trough or goblet; give me the water of life; I care not in what it comes to me." Away with all your hindrance of pride from the well's mouth.

Here is another man who is kept back from this water of life by the stone of an obdurate heart, which lies over the mouth of the well. You have no more feeling upon this subject than if God had yet to do you the first kindness, or you had to do God the first wrong. Seated on His lap all these years, His everlasting arm sheltering you, where is your gratitude? Where is your morning and evening prayer? Where are your consecrated lives? I say to you as Daniel said to Belshazar "The God in whose hand thy breath is and all thy way, thou hast not glorified." If you treated anybody as badly as you have treated God, you would have made five hundred apologies—yea, your whole life would have been an apology. Three times a day you have been seated at God's table. Spring, summer, autumn and winter He has appropriately apparoled you. Your health from Him, your companion from Him, your children from Him, your home from Him; all the bright surroundings of your life from Him. O man, what doest thou with that hard heart? Canst thou not feel one throb of gratitude toward the God who made you and the Christ who came to redeem you, and the Holy Ghost who has all these years been importuning you? If you could sit down five minutes under the tree of a Saviour's martyrdom, and feel His warm life trickling on your forehead and cheek and hands, methinks you would get some appreciation of what you owe to a crucified Jesus.

"Heart of stone, relent, relent,
Touched by Jesus' cross sublime!;
See His body, mangled, rent,
Covered with a gore of blood.
Sinful soul what hast thou done?
Crucified the eternal Son."

Jacob with a good deal of tug and push took the stone from the well's mouth, so that the flocks might be watered And I would that this morning my word blessed of God, might remove the hindrances to your getting up to the Gospel well. Yea, I take it for granted that the work is done, and like the oriental shepherds, I proceed to water the sheep.

Come, all ye thirsty! You have an undefined longing in your soul. You tried money making, that did not satisfy you. You tried office under Government, that did not satisfy you You tried pictures and sculpture, but works of art did not satisfy you. You are as much discontented with this life as the celebrated French author who felt that he could not any longer endure the misfortunes of the world, and who said, "At 4 o'clock this afternoon I shall put an end to my own existence. Meanwhile I must toil on up to that time for the sustenance of my family." And he wrote on in his book until the clock struck four, when he own hand concluded his earthly life. There are men in this house who are perfectly discontented. Unhappy in the past, unhappy to day to be unhappy forever unless you come to this Gospel well. This satisfies the soul with a high, deep, all absorbing and eternal satisfaction. It comes and it offers the most unfortunate man so much of this world as is best for him and throws all Heaven into the bargain. The wealth of Cresus, and of all the Stewarts, and of all the Barings, and all the Rothschilds only a poor, miserable shilling compared with the eternal fortunes that Christ offers you to day. In the far East, there was a king who used once a year to get on a scales, while on the other side the scales were placed gold and silver and gems, indeed, enough were placed there to balance the king; then at the close of the weighing all those treasures were thrown among the populace. But Christ to-day steps on one side the scales, and on the other side are all the treasures of the universe, and He says: "All are yours, —all height, all depth, all length, all breadth, all eternity;—all are yours." We don't appreciate the promises of the Gospel When an aged clergyman was dying, a man very eminent in the church, a young theological student stood by his side, and the aged man looked up and said to him, "Can't you give me some comfort in my dying hour?" "No," said the young man, "I can't talk to you on this subject; you know all about it, and have known it so long." "Well," said the dying man, "just recite to me some promises." The young man thought a moment, and he came to this promise: "The blood of Jesus Christ cleanseth from all sin;" and the old man clapped his hands and in his dying moment said: "That's just the promise I have been waiting for: 'The blood of Jesus Christ cleanseth from all sin.'" O the warmth, the grandeur, the magnificence of the promises.

Come, also, to this Gospel well all ye troubled. I do not suppose you have escaped. Compare your view of this life at 15 years of age, with what your view of it is at 40, or 60, or 70. What a great contrast of opinion! Were you right then, or are you right now? Two cups placed in your hands, the one a sweet cup, the other a sour cup. A cup of joy and a cup of grief Which has been the nearest being full, and out of which have you the more frequently partaken? What a different place Greenwood is from what it used to be. Once it was to you a grand city improvement, and you went out on the pleasure excursion, and you ran laughingly up the mound, and you criticised in a light way the epitaph. But since the day when you heard the bell toll at the gate as you went in with the procession, it is a sad place, and there is a flood of rushing memories that suffuse the eye and overmaster the heart. O, you have had trouble, trouble, trouble, God only knows how much you have had It is a wonder you have been able to live through it. It is a wonder your nervous system has not been shattered, and your brain has not reeled Trouble, trouble. If I could gather all the griefs, of all sorts, from this great audience, and could put them in one scroll, neither man nor angel could endure the recitation. Well, what do you want? Would you like to have your property back again? "No," you say, as a Christian man, "I was becoming arrogant, and I think that is why the Lord took it away. I don't want to have my property back." Well, would you have your departed friends back again? "No," you say, "I could n't take the responsibility of bringing them from a tearless realm to tears. I could n't do it." Well, then, what do you want? A thousand voices in the audience cry out, "Comfort, give us comfort." For that reason I have rolled away the stone from the well's mouth. Come, all ye wounded of the flock, pursued of the wolves, come to the fountain where the Lord's sick and bereft ones have come

"Ah, says some one, you are not old enough to understand my sorrows. You have not been in the world as long as I have, and you can't talk to me about my misfortunes in the time of old age." Well, I have not yet come to gray hairs, but I have been a great deal among old people, and I know how they feel about their failing health, and about the loneliness that sometimes strikes through their soul. After two persons have lived together for 40 or 50 years, and one of them is taken away, what desolation! I shall not forget the cry of the late Rev. Dr. DeWitt, of New York, when he stood by the open grave of his beloved wife, and after the obsequies had ended, he looked down into the open place and said: "Farewell, my honored, faithful and beloved wife The bond that bound us is severed. Thou art in glory, and I am here on earth. We shall meet again. Farewell! Farewell!" To lean on a prop for 50 years, and then have it break under you. There were only two years' difference mother. After my mother's decease, my father used to go around as though looking for something, and he would often get up from one room without any seeming reason, and go to another room; and then he would take his cane and start out, and some one would say, "Father, where are you going?" and he would answer, "I don't know exactly where I am going." Always looking for something Though he was a tender hearted man, I never saw him cry but once, and that was at the burial of my mother. After 60 years' living together, it was hard to part. And there are aged people to day: who are feeling just such a pang as that. I want to tell them, there is perfect enchantment in the promises of this Gospel; and I offer them my arm, or I take their arm, and I bring them to this Gospel well Sit down, father, or mother, sit down. See if there is anything at the well for you. Come, David, the Psalmist, have you anything encouraging to offer them? "Yes," says the Psalmist, "They shall still bring forth fruit in old age, they shall be fat and flourishing, to show that the Lord is upright, He is my rock and there is no unrighteousness in me." Come, Isaiah, have you anything to say out of your prophecies, for these aged people? "Yes," says Isaiah, "Down to old age I am with thee, and to hoary hairs will I carry thee." Well, if the Lord is going to carry you, you ought not to worry much about your failing eyesight and failing limbs. You get a little worried for fear sometime you will come to want, do you? Your children and grand children sometimes speak a little sharp at you because of your ailments. The Lord will not speak sharp. Do you think you will come to want? Who do you think the Lord is? Are His granaries empty? Will He feed the raven, and the rabbit, and the lion in the desert, and forget you? Why naturalists tell us that the porpoise will not forsake its wounded and sick mate. And do you suppose the Lord of heaven and earth has not as much sympathy as the fish of the sea? But you say: 'I am so near worn out and I am of no use to God any more.' I think the Lord knows whether you are of any more use or not: if you were of no more use He would have taken you before this. Do you think God has forgotten you because He has taken care of you 70 or 80 years? He thinks more of you to day than He ever did, because you think more of Him. May the God of Abraham and Isaac and Jacob and Paul the aged be your God forever!

But I gather all the promises to-day in a group, and I ask the shepherds to drive their flocks of lambs and sheep up to the sparkling supply. "Behold, happy is the man whom God correcteth." "Though He cause grief, yet will He have compassion." "Many are the afflictions of the righteous, but the Lord delivereth him out of them all. "Weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning." I am determined this morning that no one shall go out of this house uncomforted Yonder is a timid and shrinking soul who seems to hide away from the consolations I am uttering, as a child with a sore hand hides away from the physician lest he touch the wound too roughly, and the mother has to go and compel the little patient to come out and see the physician. So I come to your timid and shrinking soul to day, and compel you to come out in the presence of the Divine Physician. He will not hurt you. He has been healing wounds for many years, and He will give you gentle and omnipotent medicament. But people, when they have trouble, go anywhere rather than to God. De Quincy took to opium to get rid of his troubles. Charles Lamb took to punch. Theodore Hook took to something stronger. Edwin Forrest took to theatrical dissipation And men have run all around the earth, hoping in the quick transit to get away from their misfortunes. It has been a dead failure. There is only one well that can slake the thirst of an afflicted spirit, and that is the deep and inexhaustable well of the Gospel.

But some one says, in the audience: "Notwithstanding all you have said this morning, I find no alleviation for my troubles." Well, I am not through yet. I have left the most potent consideration for the last I am going to soothe you with the thought of heaven, However talkative we may be, there will come a time when the stoutest and most emphatic interrogation will evoke from us no answer. As soon as having closed our lips for the final silence, no power on earth can break that taciturnity. But where, O Christian, will be your spirit? In a scene of infinite glee The spring morning of heaven waving its blossoms in the bright air. Victors fresh from battle showing their scars. The rain of earthly sorrow struck through with the rainbow of eternal joy. In one group, God and angels and the redeemed—Paul and Jeremiah, Payson and John Milton, Gabriel and Michael the archangel. Long line of choristers reaching across the hills. Seas of joy dashing to the white beach. Conquerors marching from gate to gate You among them

O what a great flock of sheep God will gather around the celestial well No stone on the well's mouth, while the shepherd waters the sheep. There, Jacob will recognize Rachel the shepherdess. And standing on one side the well of eternal rapture, your children; and standing on the other side the well of eternal rapture, your Christian ancestry, you will be bounded on all sides by a joy so keen and grand that no other world has ever been permitted to experience it. Out of that one deep well of heaven, the Shepherd will dip re union for the bereaved, wealth for the poor, health for the sick, rest for the weary. And then all the flock of the Lord's sheep will lie down in the lush pastures, and world without end we will praise the Lord that on this autumnal Sabbath morning, we were permitted to study the story of Jacob and Rachel the shepherdess at the well in Mesopotamia.

From the Nashville Advocate.

Letter from Bishop Marvin

LOS ANGELES CONFERENCE.

While I was holding the session of the Los Angeles Conference, at San Ana, last week, I saw a very heavy smoke, like that of a prairie fire. But it was not that, though it was something similar—it was a cornfield fire. The standing corn in the fields had become perfectly dry, while the hills were so close, the stalks so numerous in the hill, and the blades so heavy and dry, that the fire once started went as if it had been in dry stubble. Brother Parsons, of the Pacific Methodist, visited the field after the fire, and told me that the stumps of the stalks left by the fire were perhaps two feet high, while all the corn was lying in naked ears on the ground. When the husk burnt off the ear would drop from the stem but little injured—perhaps not at all for its main use, feeding hogs—so that the loss was, after all, comparatively slight.

Your readers have heard much of the Los Angeles country, where corn produces from fifty to one hundred and fifty bushels to the acre; where pumpkins weigh from one hundred and fifty to two hundred pounds; where all the tropical fruits flourish; where the heaviest frosts of the winter are but slight, and the nights, even of mid summer, are delightfully cool and refreshing. It is indeed a choice region, but even here there are some drawbacks, such as the dust of the long dry season and an occasional wind from the great Mohave desert that is as malignant as any "east wind" that ever blew. But its advent is but occasional, and it never continues for any considerable length of time.

California is getting to be striped with railroads, and they are nearly all built and owned by one monster corporation—the Central Pacific Railroad Company. This Company was organized in 1860 by a few Sacramento merchants, with a capital of about half a million of dollars. It is said to have manipulated Congresses and Legislatures with wonderful skill, so as to obtain grants and privileges of the most valuable kind, until now its capital is said to be not less than one hundred millions. The original corporators are still the chief officers of the Company, and they have built themselves palaces in San Francisco One of them undertook to purchase an entire square for his great mansion, but he encountered a Naboth who would not sell for any reasonable sum. So the great railroad king built a plank wall around his poor neighbor's house on three sides, several feet higher than the house, so that he has no open-side except toward the street.

I had railroad to within seven miles of the seat of the Los Angeles Conference. The road from this place to Los Angeles has been built since I was here. After leaving the city it runs along near the shores of the bay for thirty miles, then crosses the coast range of mountains into the San Joaquin Valley, and traverses the great southern valley region to its extremity, where it penetrates a mountainous tract, out of which it emerges near Los Angeles. In this region of mountains is the great Mohave desert, which the road crosses. This desert is an elevated plateau, destitute of water and timber, and as sterile a looking region as you ever saw. There are a few species of cactus growing upon it, and in some places an indigenous shrub ten or fifteen feet high, and as many inches in diameter, dividing itself into stubbed branches toward the top, the branches holding their size to the very end, on which is a tuft of lanceolate foliage—the only foliage of the shrub being this at the be a factory which is manufacturing paper from the bark of this plant.

The railroad, in ascending the mountains from the valley to the desert, passes through seventeen tunnels, and makes more curves than I could count. In fact, in one place it makes a loop. Passing through a tunnel it bears to the left after emerging, on a very steep grade, making a complete circle in a mile or so and passes over the top of the hill through which the tunnel passes, and so crosses its own track. I saw this with my eyes, and it is the only instance of the kind I ever heard of.

We had a delightful session of the Los Angeles Conference. Considering the hard times, they had done well financially. The amount raised for Foreign Missions exceeded the assessment But the amounts raised for Domestic Missions and for Conference collection was painfully small. In the matter of support it is a day of small things, but the brethren had all lived, and, indeed, had a well fed look. In those new regions the Lord has a wonderful way of feeding whole Conferences on five barley loaves and two small fishes.

On Sunday the whole country was out. What a squeeze we had in the new church—indeed. we had two squeezes—for I kept them under pressure for about an hour to raise eight hundred and fifty dollars to pay the debt. Painfully were they massed in pew and aisle, and unmercifully pressed by me, until the money came, and to the great joy of Brother Smith and Brother Latimer, the house was dedicated. Indeed, when Brother Latimer offered the house for dedication tears of joy were rolling down his face.

Conference closed on Monday at noon, after which I rode twenty-five miles in a spring-wagon to Los Nietos, preached, and spent the night with my old Arkansas friend, Brother Moores, and his precious family At this place there had been a revival, and the very atmosphere was mellow, while the singing was rich both in music and Methodist feeling. It was good to be there.

E. M. MARVIN.

The Uses of Adversity.

As in the financial pressures and crashes of these last few years, when family after family has been stripped of its wealth, we have talked of them as ruined. But often it has been the very reverse of that. In the midst of their mounting riches they were going to ruin, the sons becoming dandies and spendthrifts, perhaps worse; the daughters, dancing-puppets and fashion blocks for the exhibition of new elegances of toilets; the father, an iron machine for the coining of money; each member of the family going alone his cold, selfish way. But in the depth of calamity there is found a mutual love in the heart of each that now first blooms out. They find themselves ready for self denial and endurance, saying one to another, 'We will stand by each other and help and comfort each other.' The reckless, harum scarum boy becomes thoughtful; the stern, despotic father tender; the young fellow flings away cane and cigar, and in hard, honest work rises to manhood; and the butterfly sister finds in the turning and fixing over of old dresses, and the little culinary contrivances and household ingenuities which an empty purse and a scanty larder force her to, a health and a happiness sought in vain at sumptuous dinner-parties, or the most fashionable receptions. The loss of family estate, the pinching of hard times, is oftener the making than the marring of any boy or girl, man or woman, in whom the real stuff of manhood or womanhood exists.—Christian Register.

THE TRIPLE CROWN.

"Blessed is the man that endureth temptation, for when he is tried he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord has promised to them that love him" James i. 12. See, also, Rev. ii. 10.

"I have finished my course, I have kept the faith; henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the lord the righteous Judge, shall give me at that day and not to me only but unto all them also that love his appearing." 2 Tim iv 7, 8.

'And when the Chief Shepherd shall appear, ye shall receive a crown of glory that fadeth not away.' 1 Peter v. 4.

Good people despise the man who leads men astray; the man who, in the strength of a noble manhood, might have blest mankind, been the support and pride of some affectionate family circle, a living illustration of what God designed when He made man, 'in our image.' Even if a moderate drinker, he knows that he is wasting his money and hunting his own home. He knows how one glass may start a soul on the wrong track, and makes of a beautiful boy a bleareyed sot. He knows how he may blacken a soul for all eternity; yet misery loves company, and he draws his fellows into Spiritual Religion.

It is through the inward spirit of all things, not their outward form, that God is approached. It is not the letter of any creed or ordinance, or even of the Bible itself, but its spirit and meaning, that vivifies and explains everything. The letter killeth; it is the meaning that gives life. This teaches us that the signs and ordinances of religion derive all their force from the directness with which they address our intelligence, our reason, our conscience, our memory, our affections. The outward form may vary immensely, but if the inward meaning is the same, the essential grace is there. It is so even with regard to the Bible itself Even in the letter of the Bible there is no doubt much that is beautiful, much that is perfect. But that which constitutes the peculiar excellence of the Bible, that which constitutes, as the very word implies, what we call "inspiration," is the elevation, the dignity, the purity, the truthfulness of its general spirit. God doubtless can be worshiped anywhere—in Cenzim as well as in Jernsalem, in Jerusalem as well as in Gerizim—if He be worshiped in spirit and in truth. He can be worshiped on the heath or the moss or the hillside of the Highlands, or in the upper room of the primitive Christians, as well as in the most splendid abbey or cathedral. But we must always remember that the reverse is equally true—that He can be worshiped with as much spirit and as much truth in the most splendid cathedral as on the bare hillside, or as within the four corners of a barn. And that is the most spiritual aspect of religion which recognizes the possibility of both those forms of worship—which is assured that neither form nor the absence of form availeth anything, but the keeping of the commandment of God. That is the most spiritual aspect of religion which, on the one hand, comprehends all the highest manifestations of the human spirit—architectnre, music, painting, poetry—and yet steadily subordinates them all to the moral graces of truth and purity, by which alone man can truly "glorify God here, and enjoy Him hereafter."—Dean Stanley.

THE CIRCUS-GOING CHRISTIAN

The following incident I got from a brother minister, who received it directly from the lips of Brother H.:

Brother H. was a deacon in the church. He had occasion to go West on some business, and while he was stopping in one of our Western towns, a circus and menagerie came along.—He was away from home, among strangers, and, to amuse himself, he thought he would go to the show.—So he paid his money and went in.—I think he must have felt uncomfortable as he went in, but I am sure he did when he came out. While he was watching the show ring and listening to the vulgar jokes of the clown, the ring-master, whom the clown was worrying (in joke) hit the clown on one of his feet with his whip, and said, 'Stop that; don't you hurt that foot. That is my religious foot It brought me here to see the animals.'

Circus-going Christian, you can't deceive even the showman, much less God, with your plea about 'seeing the animals.' The world will take your money, but despise your profession.

FRENCH TOAST.—Beat four eggs very light and stir them into a pint of cold rich milk. Slice some nice bakers bread; dip the slices into the egg and milk; then lay them carefully into a skillet of hot lard; and fry brown. Sprinkle a little powdered sugar over each slice when taken out with a little cinnamon, if that spice is liked. Serve hot. If nicely prepared, this is an excellent dish for breakfast or tea-almost equal to waffles, and much less expensive.

TOMATO CATSUP.—Half a bushel ripe tomatoes, not peeled, one quart vinegar, one pound black pepper, twelve dods red pepper, quarter pound allspice, one pound cloves, three boxes good mustard, a little garlice, if you have it, six onions, two pounds brown sugar, one handful peach leaves. Boil until the right consistency, being careful not to let it burn; then strain through a wire sieve when cool enough. The ingredients are all put in together and thoroughly cooked. When done it will be pretty thick.

For feeding cattle no root is superior to the parsnip. In the Island of Guernsey, a few years ago, and perhaps the same state of things still exists, pigs and cattle were almost or entirely fattened on this root. We have always thought that American farmers did not realize the value of this root. One great advantage in raising this root is that it can be stored in the ground and dug in spring when needed.—Vick's Guide.

CREAM TOMATO SOUP.—To one quart of sweet milk put one pint of cooked tomatoes. When it comes to a boil add one teaspoonful of soda and a half teacupful of rolled cracker, and season as for oysters. This soup is very

The Christian Advocate.

OFFICE—Corner of Dawson & Hargett Sts

THE ORGAN
OF THE
NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE
OF THE
M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev J B Babbitt, D D } Editors
R. T. Gray, Esq. }

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION:

FOR ONE YEAR, IN ADVANCE, POSTAGE PAID, $2.00
SIX MONTHS, " " 1.00
If payment be delayed six months, 2.50

RALEIGH, N. C., NOV. 29, 1876.

All letters on business with this office should be addressed to the Christian Advocate, Raleigh, N. C.

The Cross (X) Mark is to remind you that your subscription has expired. Let all renew promptly.

At Conference.

The work of a year has closed and our brethren of the ministry from District, Station, Circuit and Mission have assembled to hear reports from the fields which they have been industriously cultivating, and to receive new charges for the coming Conference year. We consider it an admirable feature in our system that the work of each clerical member of the Conference is annually reviewed by his fellow ministers and superior officers—his conduct closely scrutinized, his prudence measured, his piety weighed, his talents and capacities made known, his progress marked and his usefulness commended. This feature of our system is one cause of the great and tireless industry and efficiency of the Methodist ministry. By reason of the close scrutiny under which themselves and their conduct pass, they are stimulated to be abundant in labors, active in pushing forward the cause they have espoused and prudent in their walk and conversation. The desire to appear well before the Bishop's Council and Conference and to gain the applause of men is not the prime motive power which impels them forward during the year preceding the Conference, but while it is secondary to the desire to accomplish good, and to further the cause of Christianity, it is not to be despised and ranked as a purely selfish motive proceeding from the vanity of the human heart.

The legitimate consequences of Conference are increased zeal and enthusiasm on the part of the ministry in their work and increased spirituality and genuine progress on the part of the Church. To effect these results the ministry is organized and Conferences are held; unless they follow, the ministry is at fault and the Conference a failure. The social privileges and enjoyments of Conference are important but nevertheless minor features when compared with the high and transcendant object of a strengthened organization and the onward progress and increasing triumph of the Church over the forces arrayed against it.

Now that we have met in annual session let us see to it that our conversation and our intercourse with the families we may sojourn with, shall be a blessing to them. As servants of the church, embassadors for Christ may we, as we shall remain together, catch a fresh inspiration of the Master and go forth, the coming year, to our respective fields of labor, with greater ministerial zeal and self sacrifice than ever before.

We invoke the divine blessings upon our Presiding Bishop, and upon all the deliberations of the Conference.

Our churches in Raleigh have been favored with most efficient pastors during the Conference year which has just closed. Dr. Burkhead who has had the pastoral oversight of Edenton Street Church, and Rev. W. C. Norman of Person Street Church have done their work well. They are greatly beloved by their people and their return is earnestly desired and confidently expected, not only by the members of the church, but by the citizens of Raleigh generally.

☞ In order that the next issue of the ADVOCATE may contain the proceedings and appointments of Conference, the publication of the paper will be deferred for a day or two next week. Our readers, therefore, need not expect to see the ADVOCATE on the usual day, and those who live at a distance from the post office will postpone sending for the paper a few days beyond the usual time.

Our ministers and others who may have subscriptions and funds for the ADVOCATE will greatly oblige us by calling at our table, in the Conference room. We shall, as usual, have our books on hand and should be glad to have all business matters of the paper attended to at an early period of the Conference session.

PASTORS often become discontented with their lot, and dream of other fields where fragrant flowers grow, and wish they were there. But constant developments teach them that, even in church life, "All is not gold that glitters." The so called desirable churches are often the most undesirable ones. Then a man is not put into the ministry that he may seek that only which is desirable. He is one of the leaders of the army of the King, and wherever he is placed there he should work nobly Conference "Centennial Day" at Greensboro N. C, Saturday, December the 2nd, 1876.

PROGRAMME.

I. After the opening exercises of the morning to 11 o'clock, A. M., summary report of what has been done for our colleges during the present year.

II. 11 o'clock, A. M., Subject for discussion: The relation of our colleges to the prosperity and success of the church, and the consequent duty of the entire ministry and membership of the church to foster and sustain these institutions. Address by Rev. W S Black of the Wilmington District and Hon F. C. Robbins of Lexington, N. C.

III. Following the addresses immediately, or at an adjourned session of the Conference, as the body may prefer, a general interchange of opinions by the members of the Conference touching the best methods of helping our colleges, and also such specific action as the Conference may judge right and necessary in the premises.

(Signed)
N. H. D. WILSON,
S. L. ADAMS, } Com

The Ministerial Office.

The office of the Christian minister is one of great honor as well as responsibility. He represents the King of kings. He bears to the children of men tidings of the greatest importance—tidings which bear upon both their present and future. He finds those to whom he goes dead in trespasses and sin; far from God by wicked works—without God and without hope in the world, and unconscious of their wretched estate, or indifferent to it. His first business is to secure their conversion—to open their eyes to their unfortunate condition—to arouse them to a sense of their sinfulness—to awaken them to a consciousness of their danger—to kindle within them anxieties for deliverance—to show them the provision which exists in the atonement of the Son of God for their necessities, and to prompt them to embrace, as their Saviour, Him who is lifted up to draw all men unto Himself. In pursuit of such a result, among the unsaved, the faithful minister toils from day to day. His preaching is a discussion and enforcement of those Scriptures which call the sinner to repentance and faith. He persuades, in Christ's stead, those whom he addresses to be reconciled to God. His prayers are earnest supplications for the descent of the Holy Ghost to convince the impenitent of righteousness, temperance, and a judgment to come. His visits are in quest of some new power which he may bring to bear upon the ungodly, and so constrain them to flee for refuge—to lay hold upon the hope set before them in the Gospel.—He feels that every man is his kinsman. He realizes that he owes it to all within his reach to bring them to Jesus, that they may receive forgiveness of sin and inheritance among them which are sanctified.

But it is well for us to remember that the work of the minister is not done when he has been instrumental in the conversion of his fellow men. Having seen them delivered from condemnation, transformed by the renewing of their minds, and rejoicing in God, through our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom they have received the atonement, he is not to lose sight of them. If he does, in many instances, they will return to their old estate, and will fail to accomplish for themselves, and others as well as the cause of God, what they should accomplish. Having witnessed their conversion and renewal in Christ, he should earnestly seek their continuance in the blessed life into which they are born—to cultivate their growth in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord, and enlist their co-operation in saving the world from darkness and sin. In the pursuit of this result, the young converts should early be organized into active work in the church. As shepherds of the flock we should discuss and enforce, in their hearing, such Scripture as will tend to promote wisdom, work, patience, liberality and christian enterprise. As far as possible we are to give them something to do in the interest of the Redeemer's kingdom. They are to be provided with suitable books, a discipline, and such periodicals as will qualify them for intelligent and active membership in the church.

In the Methodist Church there are men who are not actively engaged in the pastoral work who assume the vows of the ministry, and who may be profitably employed in the vineyard of the Lord. We have among us local preachers—men who are supposed to possess such gifts, and to have received such a call, as justify their being set apart as preachers of the gospel, and ready to meet all the responsibility and obligations of their high vocation. They are obligated to give their time and talents, as far as lieth in them, to the advancement of Christ's kingdom. Many of them are efficient laborers. They claim no exemption from their solemn obligations. They are found at the Sunday-school, class and prayer-meetings, regularly. They esteem it a great privilege to wait upon the ministry of their appointed pastors and contribute cheerfully for their support. They hold themselves ready at all times to assist their pastors in the work of saving souls.—There may be exceptions to this, but in all cases the true evangelical minister, whether itinerant or local, is ready to sacrifice all for Christ. Impelled by the solemn conviction of a divine call he is willing, if need be, to lay down his life for the Master's cause.

Perfect Through Suffering.

Discipline seems an essential attendant upon all animate nature. The undisciplined horse is unfit for any of the economic uses of life, and utterly fails to fill the sphere for which he seems to have been created.—Without training, even plants do not attain that perfection of which they are capable, and in many instances waste themselves in wild luxuriance. So man, with all his proud preeminence, is a creature of education, discipline and suffering.

To speculate upon the necessity of imposing upon man all the trials through which he is made to pass, in order to reach that high state of culture in mind and heart to fit him for usefulness here and a home in heaven, is to lose ourselves in "wandering mazes" of psychological mysteries and useless investigations. The fact stands apparent that a mind untutored fills itself with gross and inaccurate knowledge, or remains a blank, the former being the usual result. So the heart and soul, left without the chastening rod of God and the guidance of his blessed Spirit, are stunted and dwarfed or grow up with noxious weeds and unhallowed ideas.—Suppose, for instance, a man is left to an interrupted course of worldly success; suppose his ambition is allowed to reach its highest niche, and his coffers overflow with accumulated wealth. Suppose he is permitted to lead a long life free from adversity and the blighting influence of God's frown until he becomes great in the land and all men do him reverence. Does human experience show that such an one is thereby better prepared for the great change that awaits, and for which this present life is but a probation? Far from it. By such a course the heart is rendered unacquainted with human suffering, and is never melted by sweet sympathy. It does not realize that every good and perfect blessing comes from God, but sees its power and imagines its own hands wrought it. It grows prond and rebellious, and forgets that there is a time not far distant when he must render its account, and is thereby not ready to settle his stewardship. On the other hand, that soul that is often made to feel God's chastening rod, that can appreciate the sufferings of others from those it has been called to endure; that is often brought to fix its attention upon things of eternity by standing upon its confines; that is made acquainted with God by His frequent visitations, is carried through a course of discipline that makes it ripe for its inheritance beyond the grave. If it was necessary that the great Captain of our salvation should pass through so great suffering that he might be made perfect, how much more so that our wicked natures should be purified by the fires of affliction?

If we would but recognize when the soul is bowed down by sorrow, and our way has been made dark by taking from us some object that we considered almost the light of our lives, that it was not the work of wild chance, but that a merciful God, our Heavenly Father, struck the blow for our own good, the stroke would lose its severity and our souls would be educated for their future homes. Who does not envy the death bed of the weary saint, who has been enabled to see God's hands in all his ways, and who has allowed himself to learn the lessons of love even though they have been taught him by severe afflictions? The boasted pomp of the prondest of the Caesars is absolutely nothing compared to the glory that awaits the feeblest and humblest follower of the lowly Jesus, who has gained his crown through much tribulation.

Modern Pharisaism.

The genius of Pharisaism did not belong exclusively to the Pharisee of our Lord's time, but attaches itself to many christians of our own day. Nor among so called christians is it confined alone to high churchism, but permeates many individuals belonging to evangelical denominations, and, when we consider how wide spread is its baneful influence, and what terrible woes were pronounced against it by our Saviour, we should regard it in its true light as one of the greatest powers of the great enemy of souls and do all in our power to arrest it. "Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye pay tithe of mint and anise and cummin, and have omitted the weightier matters of the law, judgment, mercy and faith: these ought ye to have done and not to leave the other undone. Ye blind guides, that strain at a gnat and swallow a camel. Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye make clean the outside of the cup and of the platter, but within they are full of extortion and excess. Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye are like unto whited sepulchres, which indeed appear beautiful outward, but within are full of dead men's bones, and of all uncleanness. Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! because ye build the tombs of the prophets, and garnish the sepulchres of the righteous." Such were the awful denunciations against the sin of Pharisaism from the mouth of the meek and lowly Jesus, whose life was spent in going about doing good and who was ward to bless rather than to curse.

Modern Pharisaism does not display itself in broad phylacteries, nor frequently in long prayers in the market and active, and alas! is found in most all of our churches and in almost every imaginable form. The man who is always at church, whose boast it is that when his church is open his seat is always occupied, but whose business character is so loose that his neighbors think it the part of wise prudence to watch him in trade, has strong marks of the Pharisee. The man who is always ready to condemn his weak brother, and spread abroad the fame of his short comings, differs widely from Him who said "let him that is without sin throw the first stone," and is a Pharisee. The man who will not lend a helping hand to a fallen fellow mortal, but stands afar off and scorns his pollution saying within himself "I am holier than thou," shows prominent characteristics of the Pharisee. The man who violently condemns the acts of another, whose sole fault may be perhaps that he differs from him, and who, while denouncing the fault of others, never looks at his own, thanking God that he is not as other men, has some strong symptoms of Pharisaism. The sin consists not in being a constant attendant upon public worship—for [illegible] it—nor in violent condemnation of sin, for in the concrete it can not be too strongly condemned, but in counting formal service religion, in denouncing the sinner rather than the sin, and in the want of charity for the views of others differing from our own. God can not be deceived, and is mocked with formal devotion, by long prayers that do not come from a contrite heart, and by a religion that glows with fervency in the class meetings but is never seen in every day life. Formal parts of devotion should not be neglected but they should not also be allowed to take the place of the weightier matters of the law. True religion is to visit orphans etc., and keep ourselves unspotted from the world.

Arrangements with Railroads for Ministers, Delegates and Visitors to the Conference in Greensboro, beginning the 29th instant.

1st. The Raleigh & Gaston and Raleigh & Augusta Air Line Railroads.

"Ministers, Delegates and Visitors will be charged three cents per mile each way, but in every instance return tickets must be purchased."

2nd. The Wilmington & Weldon and Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta Railroads.

"Will sell tickets to ministers, delegates and visitors to the Conference at three cents per mile each way."

3d. The Atlantic & N. C. and Carolina Central Railroads.

"Will charge them first class fare going to the Conference, and return them free on the certificate of the Secretary."

4th. The Richmond and Danville, and North Carolina Road, and also the Salem Branch Road, will sell tickets to all members of the Conference and visitors on the 27, 28 and 29th of the present month, for three cents per mile each way, and they will be respected by the conductors until 8th December.

N. H. D. WILSON.

To the Examining Committees.

I hereby invite the members of the several examining committees to meet at the Conference room in Greensboro, on Tuesday 28th Nov. at 9 9 o'clock, A. M., to advise together, for the purpose of adopting a uniform plan or rule, for grading the undergraduates. The importance of a fixed rule of action must be apparent to all.

Respectfully,
JNO. W NORTH.
Shelby, N. C., Nov. 20th, 1876.

Cruel Parents

Those who pay tax on uncultivated lands and allow their children to grow up with uncultivated heads.

I know a lady who says her father gave her five thousand dollars the day she married. But she says she wishes he had given her an education and nothing else.

Oh! ye parents in N. C! After you are dead, the children of many of you will feel that you were cruel.

Sell part of your uncultivated land and put it into the heads of your children.

A. D BETTS.

CONFERENCE NOTICE.

The class of the first year will please meet the committee at the Methodist Church in Greensboro, on Tuesday morning Nov. 28th, at 10 o'clock.

JNO. R BROOKS,
JNO. F HEITMAN,
L. W. CRAWFORD, } Com.

HAPPINESS no more depends on station, rank, or any local or adventitious circumstances in individuals, than a man's life is connected with the color of his garment. The mind is the seat of happiness; and to make it so in reality, nothing is necessary but the balm of gospel peace and the saving knowledge of the Son of God. As for those who know what is good by the teaching of God's Word and Spirit, and the earnest cry of whose heart is, 'Lord, lift thou up the light of thy countenance upon us," they know that every good is laid up for them in Jesus Christ; ordinances, providences, and even crosses shall work together for their present and eternal good."—De Courcy.

Rev. B. B. Culbreth and Rev. W. S. Rone spent the Sabbath in Raleigh on their way to Conference. Bro. Rone preached at Edenton Street Church on Sabbath evening and Bro. Culbreth preached at Brooklyn in the An Evangelistic Organization.

BY REV. SOLOMON POOL.

In the issue of the Advocate of Oct. 11th, 1876, I published an article on Evangelization. The following propositions were submitted and proven.

I. If each of 1,000 christians, and those converted through their instrumentality, would annually bring one soul to Christ, the present generation would witness the world's conversion.

II. If each of 1,000 christians, and those converted through their instrumentality, would bring to Christ two souls during the first year of their new life, and none thereafter, the world would be converted in about twenty years.

III. The progress at present being made towards the world's conversion is painfully slow.

Within the past few weeks several associations have been organized at different churches having in view the object of thus working for Christ.—They meet and pray and study the Scriptures together, and counsel and devise plans whereby they may successfully bring souls to the Cross. The Association means simply and intensely, work for conversion of sinners. Every candidate for membership is required to answer affirmatively the three following questions:

1. Do you truly and earnestly repent of your sins, and are you desirous of cultivating personal purity of heart and holiness of life?

2. Will you endeavor to live in peace and charity with the members of this society?

3. Do you desire to see the world speedily converted to Christ?

The following pledge is taken as initiation:

1. Will you forever keep secret the private affairs of this Society?

2. Will you live in christian peace and charity with all the members, and cultivate personal purity of heart, so long as you are a member of this Society?

3. Will you truly and earnestly endeavor to lead at least one unconverted sinner to Christ each year, so long as you are a member of this Society?

The candidates are earnestly addressed during initiation by the President upon the duty and glory of winning souls; by the 1st Vice President upon charity and brotherly love; and by the 2nd Vice President upon purity of heart and holiness of life. The ceremony of initiation is somewhat similar to that practiced in a Lodge of Good Templars, or a Council of the Friends of Temperance. As there is no initiation fee, any one may become a member who is a professor of religion, or an earnest seeker of salvation. The object of privacy is to shut out all others, and to prevent intrusion from those who cannot properly sympathize in the objects and business of the meetings.

At a church where I preached last Saturday week, after service, every member of my small congregation but two remained and joined the Association. At another the next day after service at 11 A. M., we organized with some thirty or forty I think. At another, on yesterday, with about twenty. Two days ago an unconverted man told me in conversation upon the subject of religion that he hoped these organizations might be the means of soon bringing him to Christ. The unconverted are interested, and wherever I have presented the subject the laity press into ranks.

The Young Men's Christian Association is doing great good. They work collectively. In this Evangelistic Association each member is given specific work, and is taught how best to do that work. The task is assigned, not to the Association, but to each individual member of it. Can it fail of good in whatever church or community organized?

NEWS FROM THE CHURCHES.

Rev. Z. Rush writing from Trinity College of Nov. 21st, gives the following account of his work during the past year: "As the Conference year is drawing to a close, permit me to state in the ADVOCATE, that we have had quite a prosperous year on the South Guilford circuit. We held nine protracted meetings and one camp meeting, resulting in the conversion of about one hundred and seventy souls, six at Franklinsville, twenty one at Bethany, twelve at Bethlehem, about thirty at Pleasant Garden, sixteen at a protracted meeting, and twenty at the camp meeting, thirty at Rehobeth, five at Mt. Pleasant, and sixty at Holt's Chapel. About one hundred and twenty have joined our church, others will join. To God be all the praise."

Rev. L. J. Holden in charge of Rolesville circuit writes Nov. 22nd.

"We have held two meetings since I wrote you, one at Soapstone, 26 conversions; 22 accessions, also at Pleasant Grove, 18 conversions and 17 accessions. We have been blessed with a glorious revival at every appointment on the circuit. We have had in all 170 conversions and 140 accessions, and baptized a good number of infants and several others to be baptized. Our people are taking good care of me, they know how to make a preacher work and then they know how to support him; and now don't let any one get to "pulling the wires" and I may stand some chance to get back."

Rev. T. C. Moses sends us good

"I have about completed my two years work on the Deep River circuit, and I would here say, for the benefit of the church that during the year 1875 about 100 persons professed to find peace with God, through the Lord Jesus Christ, and fifty joined the M. E. Church, South, and during this year, 1876, about fifty persons professed and about forty have joined the church. To the great Head of the Church be all the glory

Mexican Border Work

REV. D. C. KELLEY, D.D., ASS. SEC.:—As our Conference has just closed I will have to trouble you with a letter. Inclosed you will find the Appointments for 1877, from Nov. 1, 1876; with recommendations for salaries. These recommendations are the least with which I think the work can be carried on. The same I have sent to Bishop Keener. Dr. Redford's visit, I think, will be of value to both our American and Mexican works. He appeared so interested,

A H. SUTHERLAND.
Sutherland Springs, Texas, Nov. 2, 1866.

The only mistake Brother Sutherland makes in this note is the idea that he could trouble us with such a budget as that which he sends. The work on the Mexican Border in every way rejoices us. From the statistics sent us we find great cause for songs of praise and thanksgiving. This year, instead of five, as last year, we employ ten native preachers on ten different native charges—men converted in heart as well as head, and deeply in earnest in the work. Adults baptized last year, 109; infants, 34; Sunday schools, 8; pupils, 185. Attention in all the charges given to the regular collections. One sad drawback we have—in all our ten charges we own only one church. Will no the friends of Christ, in view of the glorious open door into which the Holy Spirit has led us in Mexico, meet and relieve this great want? Houses are a necessity to permanent growth. Beyond a certain initial work, no Christian advance has ever been achieved in the absence of houses adapted to the wants and civilization of the people. We are on the right basis in this work in the matter of men—one of our true Texas preachers as Superintendent, all the others natives, who can be supported at a less expense, and are, when baptized by the Holy Ghost, the most effective instruments for good. Then there is another wholesome fact which old missionaries and Secretaries esteem very highly—the contact of the native preachers with our own preachers in Conference and elsewhere infuses a spirit of energy and adaptability to the work, which natives require long years to attain under less favorable surroundings. With the increase of work and missionaries the Board is asked for additional funds. We turn in this pressure to the Church of God. Here are the facts—here the door on our very border. One other fact: unless the collections for Missions improve in the Conferences not yet heard from, we will be $20,000 in debt at the close of this fiscal year. Brethren, do you ask us to curtail, when God is opening doors, and the Holy Spirit is converting and calling men into the work? If, in the Conferences which have been held, or may be held this fall, the collections for Missions shall be made before the first of January, more money will be obtained than later in the year, and the Board can go forward. Will the preachers heed this earnest and imperative call which is upon the Church?

D. C. KELLEY, A. S.

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA,
CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Nov. 20th, 1876.

Directions for skinning birds, collecting and preserving insects, plants, reptiles, minerals, &c., have been prepared by W. H. Smith, Professor of Natural History in the University, and printed for the use of those who are willing to aid in equipping the Museum of the University. A handsome hall has been set apart for the Museum, and we earnestly request the friends of the Institution to co operate with us in filling it with samples showing the wonderful resources of the State. We want animals, plants, minerals, ores, soils, and whatever else, natural or artificial, which will illustrate those resources and be useful for teaching our students.

Our friends should not be afraid of sending us too many things. Surplus specimens can be exchanged with other museums. We have already received offers to furnish us with the products of the West, South America and the Old World in exchange for those of North Carolina, and we feel sure that at no distant day we will have a Museum which the people of the State will visit with pride and from which they will derive substantial benefit.

KEMP P. BATTLE, President.

The pamphlet can be had on application to Prof. W. H Smith, Chapel Hill, N. C.

The Northern Advocate has the following from Bishop Peck: "I am profoundly thankful to God for the Christian results of the agreeing judgments of the Commissioners of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. I am in possession of evidence, constantly increasing, that brethren long and unhappily estranged from each other are meeting in delightful harmony, and embracing with truly Christian gratitude and affection. I believe the Church of God and the world are determined more and more to behold how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together

Religious Intelligence.

Six hundred millions of the people of the world are yet in Pagan and Mohammedan darkness.

The American Baptist Missionary Union reports 350 mission churches planted in Europe, with a membership of 31,000.

The circulation of the Picture Lesson Paper, issued by the Methodist Book Concern, has reached one hundred thousand copies.

Two hundred years ago the Friends, of Quakers, were three times as numerous as they are to-day.

The great grandson of Dr. Carey, the pioneer of English missions in India, has recently become the medical missionary of the Baptist mission at Delhi.

The Church Missionary Society (Anglican) reports forty six baptisms in Western India the past year, and a total of three hundred and eighty-six communicants.

Prof. Max Muller wrote several years ago: "From what I know of the Hindoos, they seem to me riper for Christianity than any other nation that ever accepted the gospel."

Dr. Butler has received $7,000 of $12,000 which he designed to raise for the Mexican mission, besides guarantees for the expenses in publishing sixteen religious works in Spanish.

The Presbyterian gives the following statement of relative Protestant denominational strength in Philadelphia: Baptist, 51 churches and 16,507 communicants; Protestant Episcopal, 70 churches and 18,125 communicants, Methodist Episcopal, 75 churches and 19,750 communicants; Presbyterian, 72 churches and 22,035 communicants.

Rev. Samuel Waddy, D. D, who was made president of the Wesleyan Methodist Conference in 1859, is dead

The receipts of the Board of Missions of the Protestant Episcopal Church aggregated last year $295'000, 65. The disbursements amounted to $309,451 81. There is a debt of $72, 705 66.

The General Assembly of North Carolina.

SESSION OF 1876 77.

The Legislature of 1876 77 assembled in this city on the 20th inst.

In the Senate the following officers were elected:

Mr. J. L Robinson of Macon, President
Mr. R. M. Furman of the Asheville Citizen, Principal Clerk.
Mr. Peter M Wilson of Warren, Reading Clerk.
Col J McLeod Turner of Mecklenburg, Engrossing Clerk
Mr Harry Brock of New Hanover, Principal Door keeper.
Mr. Jas Roach of Rockingham Assistant Door keeper.

In the House of Representatives the officers elect are as follows:

Mr. Chas. Price of Davie, Speaker.
Mr. J. D. Cameron of Orange, Principal Clerk.
Mr. J. D. Hussey of Iredell Assistant Clerk.
Mr. Rich'd. Granger of Beaufort, Enrolling Clerk.
Mr. Jno. H. Hill of Randolph, Door keeper.

The various committees have been appointed and the proper rules for the government of the two bodies have been adopted. No important business however, has as yet been transacted as the first week is usually occupied in organizing and making the necessary preparations for the transaction of business.

We will keep our readers posted in regard to all the important and interesting measures, etc., which are passed during the session.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Corn sells at $2 a barrel in Warren.

The Sampson county Agricultural Fair was well attended

The Federal Court is in session this week.

Three Northern gentlemen are at Reidsville quail-shooting.

J. Font Taylor, Esq., has been appointed State Librarian.

Diptheria is prevailing to an alarming degree in several of the upper counties.

R. T. Fulghum has bought the Farmer's Journal.

Midshipman Henderson, of Salisbury, has been ordered to sea.

The Grand Lodge of Masons meets in Raleigh on December 5th.

The horses are dying up in the country around Durham with blind staggers.

Mr. Thomas Price, a worthy young man of Salisbury, died recently of paralysis.

Winston had snow on the night of the 19th inst.

It takes 5,000 bales of cotton to purchase the farm supplies of Edgecombe county, for one year.

The North Carolina boys who are in business at Baltimore propose to give Gov. Vance a fine suit of clothes in which to be inaugurated.

George Evans, of Nash county, was born May 5, 1785, and Tuesday, Nov. 7, 1876, rode six miles in a cart to vote for Tilden, Hendricks and reform.

The oysters in the Newberne market are said to be better this season than for many years.

William Clark walked all the way from Salisbury to Concord to vote the Democratic ticket.

Newbern Times: Mr. Clement Manly, son of our venerable and distinguished fellow citizen Judge Manly, having completed his collegiate studies at Georgetown College, has returned and entered

The Eastern N. C. Medical Association meets in Tarboro on the first Tuesday in December

A drove of Gipsies passed through Concord last week and produced as much sensation as a circus.—So says the Charlotte Observer.

Charles Ellis (colored) was murdered not long since in Lumberton under mysterious circumstances

The Sheriff of Clay county has settled with the Auditor. The taxes of that county footed up $341.

It is said that a drunken supervisor in a certain section of this State took a lighted candle instead of a pen when he went to sign his name to the election returns. He wanted his name in "letters of light," we presume.

Mr. R. G Callum, of Greensboro a telegraph Operator, has been ordered to Tallahassee, Fla.

There have been several destructive fires recently in the different parts of the State.

Miss Constance Fenimmore Woolson and her mother, who is a niece of Cooper, the celebrated American novelist, are spending a month in Wilmington before going to Florida for the winter.

IN MOURNING.—All the locomotives of the R. & D. R. R. are now in mourning in respect to Capt. W. G. Freeman, master machinist of the R. & D. R. . ., who died in Richmond Sunday before last.

James C. Calhoun, of Iredell county, is eighty five years and six months old, and has never used a dose of medicine or a drop of liquor.

In Goldsboro last Saturday policeman George Johnson was killed by a pistol shot, supposed to have been fired by Mr. Robert Ham. The Messenger says it seems to have been due to Johnson's overbearing rashness.

The nursery men of Guilford are very busy now shipping trees. Their sales this fall will probably exceed $60,000.

The Reidsville News says: Where is all the Tobacco? There is but little brought to this market, when the demand is increasing.

The youngest member of the Legislature is the representative from Cabarrus. He is 23 years old.

W. T. Faircloth, of Goldsboro, has been appointed to fill the vacant seat on the Supreme Court Bench caused by the resignation of Judge Settle.

Dr. J. M. Worth, the new treasurer elect having been appointed Treasurer, by Gov. Brogden, to fill the unexpired term of D. A. Jenkins, was inaugurated on the 22nd ult. His son, T. C. Worth, will perform the duties of Teller.

The Goldsboro Messenger says: It is reported in railroad circles, that the Richmond & Danville Railroad authorities are making arrangements to put air-brakes on all the passenger cars which run over this road.

The Burke Blade says: We hope the candidates yet owing us for tickets will remember that we want the money as much as they did the office. You now have an idea how good you will make us feel by paying for your tickets.

A large crowd is expected in Raleigh at the inauguration of our new Governor. Ample preparations will be made for a grand demonstration.

In a difficulty last week between Tom McLaurin and Nevin Culbreth, both living near Fayetteville, the former shot and killed the latter.

Mr. Jno. Nichols of Raleigh, has presented Grand Master G. W. Blount of Wilson, N. C., with a cane cut in Palestine. It is a "sprig of acacia."

A detachment of 50 more convicts have gone to work on the rail-road between Old Fort and Asheville.

The Durham Plant says, W. T. Blackwell & Co., received a telegram on the morning of the 20th inst., ordering 12,500 lbs of Smoking tobacco and the order was filled before 1 o'clock.

Mr. Dossey Battle of the Tarboro Southerner has his State News Column headed "Persimmon Blossoms."

The Lutherans have ordained three colored men to the ministry in North Carolina.

A tobacco peddler started a false rumor in Rocky Mount that three hundred ku-klux were on a raid and would visit that place at night. The negroes were very much alarmed thereat.

Hon. Matt W. Ransom was renominated for the U. S. Senate in the Democratic caucus. This is a deserved compliment to the past services of this distinguished gentleman. His re-election will reflect the wishes of the majority of the people in this State.

Mr. E. A. Vogler—a prominent gentleman of Salem died last week. He was widely known throughout the State and his many friends will read the notice of his death with profound sorrow and recall his many excellent traits of character.

Mr. James Corrie, Dentist, in Baltimore, writes: "I have used Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup personally and in my family for two or three years, and am prepared to say that there is nothing to compare to it as a remedy for Coughs, Colds, etc."

Butter and cheese are almost indispensable articles of food. Properly used, they are nutritious and healthy; but an inordinate use of either causes indigestion and dyspepsia. Parson's Purgative Pills, judiciously used, will remove both of these troubles.

Have you ague in the face; and is it badly swollen? Have you severe pain in the chest, back, or side? Have you cramps or pains in the stomach or bowels? Have you bilious colic or severe griping pains? If so, use Johnson's

The Christian Advocate

PUBLISHED IN THE CITY OF RALEIGH EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING, TERMS $2.50 POSTAGE PAID.

Our Agents.

All the traveling and local preachers in the bounds of the North Carolina Conference are our authorised agents. Any person sending us ten subscribers, for one year, will receive the paper free.

Our Correspondents.

Communications for publication should be carefully written on but one side of the sheet. All letters on business should be addressed to the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

How to Remit.

In sending money, all amounts should be sent in Registered Letter, post office order or check. The cost of registration, or Post office order can be deducted from the amount in hand. If money is sent otherwise than as specified, it will be at the sender's risk.

Index to New Advertisements.

We direct attention to the advertisement of Messrs P J. Wray & Co. Mill Wrights and Machinists, and take pleasure in commending them and their business to the patronage of the public. Mr Wray is an earnest and zealous Methodist, an upright man and a workman whose represen tations and work can be relied upon Orders received from a distance will be promptly and carefully attended to.

A Saw for Ten Nothing.—We would call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of the Ohio Kenucky and Texas Land Company and to their very unique plan. The Company, is only carrying out a large scale what is done every day in a small way by retail dealers—selling alternate lots to customers and encouraging them to settle on their lots and cultivate them with this difference that instead of giving away their alternate lots the property is a growing town, and which in a few years will become a large city, when the lots that are now given away will be very valuable. The offer is a liberal one and one that will open for many days as the demand will exceed the supply and the Company will increase their facilities for the accommodation of their customers. The Company is composed of reliable gentlemen, and we do not consider it necessary to say more than they will, by every means in their power, receive, by every mail and express, all orders that may be sent to them, and that they will be found in every respect as they represent themselves to be. Read their advertisement in another column and write them for further information.

Dr. Tutt's Sanative Pills for Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Torpidity of the Liver, Constipation, Piles, Fever and Ague, Malaria, Chills, Nervousness, Sick Headache, Impure Blood, Scrofula, Rheumatism, Erysipelas, Eruptions, Female Irregularities, Worms, Jaundice, Kidney Complaints, Dropsy, Gout, Gravel, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, Sleeplessness, Nervous Debility, Loss of Vitality, Impotency, Sexual Weakness, Impaired Vitality, Premature Decay, Mercurial Diseases, Blood Poisoning, Ulcers, Old Sores, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Blotches, Pimples, Boils, Carbuncles, Tumors, Cancers, Scurvy, Canker, Diseases of the Throat, Nose and Skin, Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Hoarseness, Influenza, Pain in the Side, Chest, Limbs and Joints, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Female Weakness, Leucorrhœa, Prolapsus, Ulceration, Inflammation, Displacements, Hysteria, Spinal Diseases, Hip Disease, Weakness of the Back and Kidneys, Dizziness, Mental Depression, Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Paralysis, Epilepsy or Fits, Nervous Affections, Tremblings, Hypochondria, Melancholy, Diseases of the Heart, Affections of the Liver, Dyspepsia, Impaired Digestion, Disordered Stomach, Sick Headache, Diseases of the Kidneys, Dropsy, Gravel, Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Retention or Incontinence of Urine, Diseases of the Bladder, Prostate Gland, Urethra, Womb, Vagina, Rectum, Constipation, Piles, Fistula, Itching, Worms, Fever and Ague, Chills, Malaria, Blood Poisoning, Scrofula, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Rheumatism, Erysipelas, Eruptions, Skin Diseases, Female Irregularities, Impotency, Nervousness, Sexual Weakness, Impaired Vitality, Premature Decay, Wasting Weakness, Lassitude, Dizziness, Sick Headache, Nervous Headache, Mental Depression, Loss of Memory, Paralysis, Epilepsy or Fits, Nervous Affections, Hysteria, Melancholy, Neuralgia, Kidney Complaints, Dropsy, Gout, Gravel, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, Bladder, Urethra, Prostate Gland, Womb, Vagina, Rectum, Sexual Diseases, Sores, Ulcers, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Boils, Carbuncles, Tumors, Cancers, Scurvy, Canker, Diseases of the Throat, Nose and Skin, Blood Poisoning, Mercurial Diseases

Children's Column.

CHRISTIAN LIFE.

MY LORD'S CHOICE.

This work, dear Lord, is not the work
I asked, or sought, or meant to do;
I thought to turn my busy hands
Where heart and taste would follow too.

But such sweet task, dear heavenly Lord,
Thou has removed beyond my hand,
And set me one so different,
That, shrinking and amazed, I stand.

Oh! grant me grace, lest in my grief
My hands hang listless at my side,
Refusing thee their patient toil,
Because their choice has been denied.

Grace, that my heaven appointed task
The cheerful tireless care may meet
Which my self-chosen task had met,
Hadst thou but set that duty sweet.

I cannot cease to long for it;
But I can hold to my great will
My longings subject, while I bend
My strange task faithfully to fill;

Not feeling that I have no choice,
But willing that my Lord should choose;
So glad of any work for him,
That, in his will, my will I lose.
—SABBATH AT HOME.

THE LITTLE SPARROW.

"You don't mean to say, Tom, that you're going to let that bird loose, when you've brought it so far over the seas with you, and set so much store by it, besides!"

"Aye, but I do, Joe, for I promised Him!"

"Him! What do you mean?" asked the young countryman, as his companion rested the cage on his knee, and began to open the door of the wire prison.

Little Jim, the boy that was saved with me from the wreck. Leastways he was spared for a little while, but hunger and cold did their work on his frail body, and he died just before the vessel came along that took me off the rock.' Here the bluff sailor drew his brown hand across his eye and dashed away a tear.

'Well,' he resumed, 'it's a long story, but I'll try to make a short one of it. You see Jim's father and mother were going out to settle in Australia, and, having a fancy for something homelike about them, they took this cage of English sparrows along, intending to give them their liberty after they got there. When the ship struck, and every soul was drowned but little Jim and me, who were fastened to the rigging, he insisted on my diving down into the cabin after his birds before I lashed him to the plank on which we were going to venture our lives.

"It was an awful sight to see the dead bodies that were floating around in that cabin. But I couldn't do them any good, you know, so I just clutched the cage, that was hanging by a hook to the roof, and scrambled on deck again. There was only this poor little bird left alive. The water had risen and drowned its companions, but it had clung with claws and beak to the top of the cage, and we took it along with us.

All this time the little creature had been sitting on the sailor's finger, turning its bright eye toward him as he smoothed down its soft feathers.—Then, as if fearing that this resolution might fail him, Tom gave his favorite a last caress, tossed his hand into the air, and it was gone.

"I owe that sparrow more than its freedom, Joe," said the sailor, as they both stood looking after it. 'D'ye see when it was with me on that bare rock it would cry 'twit, twit,' as if to cheer me up. Sometimes it seemed to me it said: 'Fear not; ye are of more value than many sparrows.'—Then all the texts I had ever learned about trusting God in time of trouble came fresh into my mind. In those hours of darkness and danger that little bird comforted me and kept me from despair. God has made nothing in vain.—Child's World.

OUR SCRAP BOOK.

Spell the fate of all earthly things in two letters. D K (decay).

What word is always pronounced faster by adding two letters to it?—The word faster.

What is that word of one syllable, which if you take away two letters from it, will become a word of two syllables? Plague; take away pl and it becomes ague.

Take away my first letter, take away my second letter, take away all my letters, and I am always the same. Can you guess that? It is the mail carrier.

There is a word of five letters, and if you take two of them away, six will remain; what is it? Sixty.

Can you tell me what letter it is that has never been used but twice in America? It is A; it is used only twice in America.

The co-operative movement is perfectly sound and safe whenever you find an angel to officiate as treasurer.—Graphic.

What if he is a fallen angel.

Said one man to another: 'If it wasn't Sunday, how much would you take for that lumber?' 'If it wasn't Sunday I'd tell you,' was the reply.

A Scotchman being asked by his minister 'What kind of a man was Adam?' replied, 'Oh, just like ither folk.' The minister insisted on having a more special description. 'Weel, naebody got anything by him, and many lost.'

Their little girl gets confused. After being tenderly tucked up in her crib, mamma said, 'Now your prayers, Janet.' The response came from the little one, half asleep, 'Now I lay me down to sleep, when the wind blows the cradle will rock. Amen.

Taking a cigar out of his mouth, the minister said to one of his parishioners, fond of sleeping in sermon time, 'There is no sleeping car on the road to Heaven.' 'And no smoking car, either, I reckon,' said the man in reply, now wide awake.

Rural and Domestic

CREAM FOR CAKES—One pint of milk three eggs, three table-spoonfuls of sugar, and flour to thicken. One half cupful will do. Flavor SPONGE CAKE.—Three cupfuls of flour two cupfuls of sugar six eggs, one cupful of soda, two teaspoonfuls of cream of tartar.

SPOTS can be taken out of marble with finely powdered pumice stone mixed with ve juice Cover the spots and allow the stuff to remain for twelve hours; then rub clean, dry and rinse.

TO COOK HOMINY.—Take three cups of water to one cup of hominy, boil slowly for three quarters of an hour; the longer it boils, the better it is; then add half a teacupful of sweet milk to one cup of hominy, then boil ten minutes more; stir it frequently while boiling.

RICE CROQUETTES.—One pint of rice boiled in a little water; add some new milk and boil until soft; let it cool; add three beaten eggs, with sugar and lemon extract to your taste. Make them in to oval balls; dip in beaten egg, and roll in fine bread or cracker crumbs and fry in butter. When done, sprinkle sugar over them. Excellent.

STRAWBERRIES.—Clean the beds in October, loosen the soil, and top-dress liberally with rotted manure; see that the alleys, between the rows of narrow beds carry off the water, and not hold it in pools, to the detriment of the plants, and be sure to set out a new bed at once, unless you are sure you have enough already for a full supply next summer of this delicious fruit.

SQUASHES.—Young squashes do not require peeling; cut them in about four pieces, and boil in water with a little salt until tender, from half to three-quarters of an hour; drain them, press between two wooden trenchers or plates until you can squeeze out no more water; throw them back into the vessel they were boiled in much the same with a potato-masher, and a good piece of butter, pepper, and salt, keeping them hot on the range, and serve in a covered dish.

CHEESE FRITTERS.—Beat four eggs very light, and season with salt, mustard, and pepper. Slice thin half a dozen large, sour apples, and half as many thin slices of good cheese as you have slices of apples. Put the cheese to soak in the mix ure of egg and sea oning; let it stand a few moments; then put each slice of cheese between two slices of apple; dip the whole into the beaten egg; then fry in hot butter, like oysters, and serve hot.

We have never tried this, but are told, it makes an excellent dish for breakfast.

SURE CURE FOR GAPES.—An experienced chicken raiser says as soon as a manifestation of gapes in his fowls appears, he confines his chickens in a box, one at a time, sufficiently large to contain the bird, and places a coarse cotton or linen cloth over the top. Upon this he places air slaked lime, and taps the cloth sufficently to cause the lime to fall through. This lime dust the fowl inhales, and is made to sneeze, and in a short time the cause of gapes is thrown out in the form of a slimy mass of worms that had accumulated in the windpipe and smaller air vessel. This remedy he considers superior to any he has ever tried, and he seldom fails to effect a perfect cure.—Vermont Union.

OATMEAL IN THE HOUSE HOLD.—In Great Britain children of all ranks are raised on an oatmeal diet alone, because it causes them to grow strong and healthful, and no better food can possibly be found for them. It is also quite as desirable for the student as for the laborer, and for the delicate lady as for her hard-working sister, indeed, all classes would be greatly benefited by its use; and dyspepsia, with all its manifold annoyances, can be kept at a distance. Oatmeal is more substantial food, it is said than veal, pork, or lamb, and quite equal to beef or mutton, giving as much or more mental vigor, while its great desideratum consists in one's not becoming weary of it, for it is as welcome for breakfast or tea as is wheat or Graham bread. It can be eaten with syrup and butter as hasty pudding, or with cream and sugar, like rice. It is especially good for young mothers upon whose nervous forces too great a demand has been made, and they lose the equilibrium of the system, and become depressed and dispirited. Oatmeal requires to be cooked slowly, and the water should be boiling hot when it is stirred in.—Baldwin's Monthly for September.

There is a Reasonable Chance of Recovery in the worst cases of Consumption, Bronchitis, Scrofula, etc. if Baker's Cod Liver Oil and Phosphate of Lime is taken promptly and perseveringly. So prepared as to be pleasant in taste, its use is being rapidly extended with most gratifying results. For sale by druggists. Jno. C. Baker & Co., Philadelphia.

An Unanswerable Argument.

The strongest argument which can be urged against the advisability of administering such corrosive and nerve-destroying poisons as arsenic and quinine for intermittent and remittent fever, is the vastly superior success in the prevention and cure of such diseases of a medicine which is the very antipode of the above named drugs, both in respect of its composition and the result wrought by it. Such a medicine is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a purely vegetable preparation, which not only eradicates with wonderful promptitude every trace of fever and ague, and kindred types of malarious disease, from the system, but is a certain preventive of all maladies begotten of miasm-tainted air and water. These results mineral anti-febrile remedies do not effect with certainty, and their continued use entails consequences highly pernicious to the system. The Bitters, on the contrary, not only afford speedy relief, but establish health on a permanent basis.

WANTED—SALESMEN—Traveling and local; staple goods; no peddling; salary $75 per month; Hotel and traveling expenses paid. S. A. GRANT & CO., Manufacturers of paper and envelopes, 2, 4, 6 and 8 Home St., Cincinnati, O.
Nov. 15th 2-t

COMMISSION MERCHANTS.
THE OLDEST
WHOLESALE GROCERY HOUSE
In Raleigh!
ESTABLISHED IN 1869.
LEACH BROTHERS
WHOLESALE GROCERS
— AND —
Commission Merchants,
RALEIGH, N. C.
Ask the attention of the trade to their stock of
STAPLE GROCERIES,
bought from first hands by their resident Partner in New York, and offered in this market on small margins.
With an experience of seven years in the grocery business as in this city they will make it to the interest of prompt paying customers to send them their orders.
P. O. Box 416 Raleigh, N. C.
March 8th 1-y

NEW FIRM
TO FRIENDS AND PUBLIC GENERALLY
I have associated with me Mr. G. D. Rand (formerly Rand & Barbee Lumber Dealers) as a partner in the wholesale and retail Grocery and General Commission business. I respectfully tender my thanks for past favors and hope to have them continued with the new firm. Yours truly,
January 6, 1876. L. R. WYATT.
G. D. RAND L. R. WYATT.
RAND & WYATT,
Wholesale and Retail Grocers
AND
COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
Have on hand and constantly receiving a fresh and first class stock of
GROCERIES
consisting of Flour, a specialty, Meal, Corn Bacon Lard, Sugar, Coffee, Pepper and Spice, Molasses (new crop Cuba), Syrup, Toilet and Laundry, Soaps, Wood and Willow ware, Fancy Groceries, &c.
Everything embraced in a First Class Grocery which we propose to sell at Lowest figures.—Give us a trial. Orders with proper reference respectfully solicited, which shall receive our prompt attention. Consignment of Cotton and other produce solicited. Best prices guaranteed
Yours truly,
RAND & WYATT.
Opp. East end of Market, Raleigh, N. C.
July 12 1 y

SCHEDULES.

PIEDMONT AIR-LINE RAILWAY.

RICHMOND & DANVILLE, RICHMOND & DANVILLE R. W., N. C. DIVISION, AND NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. W.

CONDENSED TIME-TABLE.
IN EFFECT ON AND AFTER SUNDAY, OCT. 15TH, 1876.

GOING NORTH.

STATIONS.	MAIL.
Leave Charlotte	4.35 A M
" Air-Line J'nct'n	5.10 "
" Salisbury	7.35 "
" Greensboro'	9.55 "
" Danville	12.2 P M
" Dundee	1.45 "
" Burkeville	5.05 "
Arrive at Richmond	7.45 P M

GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS.	MAIL.
Leave Richmond	7.50 A M
" Burkeville	10 46 "
" Dundee	2.55 P M
" Danville	3.59 "
" Greensboro'	5 40 "
" Salisbury	8 45 "
" Air-Line J'nct'n	10.25 "
Arrive at Charlo. te	11.05 "

STATIONS.	GOING EAST. MAIL	GOING WEST. MAIL
Leave Greensboro'	10.05 A. M.	Arrive 5.25 P. M.
" Co. Shops	11.21 A. M.	" Leave 5.25 "
Arrive at Raleigh	2.45 P. M.	" Arrive 12.20 "
Arrive at Goldsboro'	5.05 P. M.	" Leave 10.10 P M

STATIONS.	ACCOMMODATION TRAIN. Read Down	Read Up
Leave Greensboro'	6.30 P. M.	Arr. 9.00 A. M.
Co. Shops	11.10 "	Lv. 8.50 A. M.
Arr. at Raleigh	8.01 A. M.	Lv. 9.50 P. M.
Arr at Goldsboro'	11.30 "	Lv. 5.10 P. M.

NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. R.
(SALEM BRANCH.)

Leave Greensboro'	6 10 P. M.
Arrive at Salem	8.35 A. M.
Leave Salem	7.00 A. M.
Arrive at Greensboro	9.10 "

Passenger Train leaving Raleigh at 12.34 P. M. connects at Greensboro' with the Southern bound train, making the quickest time to all Southern cities.
Accommodation Train leaving Greensboro at 10.15 P. M. connects at the Northern bound Train at Greensboro for Richmond and all points East. Price of Tickets same as via other routes.
No Change of Cars between Atlanta and Richmond, 547 Miles.
Papers that have arrangements to advertise the Schedule of this company will please print as above and forward copies to General Passenger Agent.
For further information address
JOHN R. MACMURDO,
Gen'l Passenger Agent,
Richmond, Va.
—:o:—

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE
RALEIGH & GASTON RAILROAD,
SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,
Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 9th, 1876.
On and after Monday, Oct 9th, 1876, trains on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad, will run daily (Sunday excepted) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Leave Raleigh	9.30 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon,	3.00 P. M.
Leaves Weldon,	12 40 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh,	5.40 P. M.

ACCOMMODATION TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh,	5.00 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon,	5.05 P. M.
Leaves Weldon,	5.00 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh,	5.15 P. M.

Mail train makes close connection at Weldon, with the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad and Bay Line Steamers via Baltimore, to and from all points North, West and Northwest, and with Petersburg Railroad via Petersburg, Richmond and Washington City, to and from all points North and Northwest.
And at Raleigh with the North Carolina Railroad to and from all points South and Southwest, and with the Raleigh & Augusta Air Line to Haywood and Fayetteville.
JNO. C. WINDER,
Gen'l Superintendent.

RALEIGH & AUGUSTA AIR-LINE RAILROAD.

SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,
Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 30th, 1876.
On and after Monday, October 30th, 1876, trains will run as follows:
TRAIN MOVING SOUTH.

	Arrive	Leave
Raleigh,	7.00 A. M.	7.20 A. M.
Cary,	7.50 "	7.35 "
Apex,	8.25 "	8.30 "
New Hill,	9.00 "	9 05 "
Moncure,	9.35 "	9 45 "
Osgood,	10.15 "	10.30 "
Sanford,	10.50 "	11.05 "
Manu,	11.35 "	11.37 "
Cameron	12.07 P. M.	11.37 "

TRAIN MOVING NORTH.

	Arrive	Leave
Raleigh,	6.40 P. M.	6.60 P. M.
Cary,	5.52 "	5.32 "
Apex,	5.17 "	4.47 "
New Hill,	4 42 "	4.18 "
Merry Oaks,	4 07 "	4.12 "
Moncure,	3 32 "	3.37 "
Osgood,	2.47 "	2.62 "
Sanford,	2.06 "	2 17 "
Manu,	1.30 "	1.33 "
Camaron,		1.00 "

J. C. WINDER, Superintendent.

MISCELLANEOUS.
THE BUFFALO
LITHIA WATERS
THE GREAT
STOMACH WATERS
Of America.

Case of Mrs. ——, cured by Dr. Marcus A Harris a distinguished physician of Buck Walnut, Halifax Co. Va.

(Extract from Letter of Dr H. of July 28, 1876.)

"Mrs. —— has been for twenty years a sufferer from Dyspepsia in a most aggravated form. Prostration among a multiplicity of distressing symptoms were attacks of Spasmodic Hastralgia, varying in duration and intensity, and becoming less and less amenable to treatment. For a few months before she commenced the use of the BUFFALO LITHIA WATERS the attacks became more prolonged and violent and her emaciated, cachetic and distressed condition gave unmistakable evidence of a rapid decline. Having exhausted my own resources, I called to my assistance in the treatment of the case some of the most eminent medical men of the State, without any other result than a palliation of suffering. And in what I regarded as a hopeless condition, I prescribed the Buffalo Lithia Water, Spring No 2, to the exclusion of all other treatment. She has been using the water now for some six weeks, with only occasional symptoms of indigestion, and her improvement has been so marked and decided that she is able to attend regularly to her domestic affairs. For four months before commencing the use of the "Lithia Water," her diet was milk and stale bread, alternated with bread and water until her stock was exhausted, when "good, old-fashioned corn dodgers and buttermilk" was substituted. She now eats with impunity almost everything at the breakfast, dinner and supper table, hot biscuit, hot corn bread, fried chicken, and any vegetable except cucumbers, with the acetic, such as cabbage, onions, etc. I add, that this was one of the most distressing and unmanageable cases of Dyspepsia that I have ever met in a practice of many years, and that the action of the water in it was marvellous."

DYSPEPSIA AND NERVOUS HEADACHE.

Case of Dr. R. H. Tatum, * a well-known physician of Chesterfield county, Va.

Extract from letter dated Lonewood, Va., September 4th, 1876:

"For years I have suffered from indigestion, causing sick headache, associated with the most intense agony. I have visited some of our most celebrated mineral springs, and drank the mineral water from the springs of other States, but have found no such relief as I have experienced from the use of two cases of the BUFFALO LITHIA WATER, Spring No 2. I have prescribed it for several patients suffering from symptoms produced by Dyspepsia—such as loss of appetite, general debility, headache, cough and severe pain in the Epigastric region—with the happiest results."

* Post office Chula, Amelia county, Va.

DYSPEPSIA.

Case of John P. Keeling, Esq., a well known citizen of Princess Anne county, Va.

PRINCESS ANNE CO., VA., Aug 15, 1876.

COL. THOS. F. WYNNE:

Dear Sir—I take with much pleasure I furnish you with a statement of my case and of the relief which I obtained from the LITHIA WATER, as in doing so I may possibly be the means of inducing some unbeliever to try it, and be snatched as I was, from despair, and restored to health.

For seven years I suffered from Nervous Dyspepsia, being so prostrated in the disease, that at times it was with difficulty I could walk across my room. For some eighteen months I resided in the City of Baltimore, a perfect invalid, having been treated during that time by some of the best medical men of that city, without benefit. From there I was brought to my home in Princess Anne county, as was supposed, to die, when, by mere chance, I came in possession of one of your Springs' pamphlets, and with but little faith, determined to try the water. A single dozen resulted in an improvement in my condition so radical, that I am now able to attend regularly to my business on the farm. I do believe this to be the greatest of stomach-ic of the world.

Very truly yours,
JOHN P. KEELING.

In affections of the Kidneys and Bladder, in Gout, Rheumatism and Paralysis these waters have accomplished results as remarkable as any of record. They are for sale in cases of one dozen half gallon bottles at $5 per case, payable in advance.

The Spring Pamphlet sent to any address on application.

THOS. F. GOODE, PROPRIETOR
BUFFALO LITHIA SPRINGS,
Mecklenburg Co., Va.
oct 11-tf.

HOME AGAIN FOR THE FALL, WINTER AND SPRING!
DR. CHARLES J. NALL,
SPECIALIST IN DISEASES OF THE
HEAD, THROAT AND CHEST.
Office in the Holleman Building, Fayetteville St., Raleigh, N. C.
Dr. NALL has returned home and that his office is still in the Holleman Building, where he will be pleased to see his friends and patients. Those who desire to consult him in person or by letter, can do so with the assurance that their communications will be held sacredly confidential. Dr. NALL has had a most extensive practice in the diseases of the throat and chest, and has made a specialty of the treatment of Catarrh, Bronchitis, Consumption, Throat Diseases, Asthma, Chronic Sore-throat, Loss of Voice, Hoarseness, Deafness, Nervousness, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Female Weakness, Irregularities, Suppressions, Whites, Ulceration, Displacements, Tumors, Piles, Fistula, Diseases of the Rectum, Kidneys and Bladder, Blood Diseases, Scrofula, Syphilis, Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Ulcers, Boils, Carbuncles, Abscesses, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Blood Poisoning, Mercurial Diseases, Rheumatism, Gout, Sciatica, Lumbago, Nervousness, Neuralgia, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Sleeplessness, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dropsy, Tumors, Cancers

Raleigh Christian Advocate.

Bobbitt & Gray, Publishers. | Published in the Interests of Methdism in North Carolina. | $2.20 Per Annum, in Advance.

Vol. XXII.--No. 48. | Raleigh, N. C., Wednesday, December 6, 1876. | Whole No. 1,136.

Poetry.

I NEVER TALK.

I hate the petty scandals
Always flying to and fro,
Stinging like the vile mosquito.
I never talk, oh, no.

Now, there's pretty Nellie Miller,
I've heard her cousin say
That her pink and white complexion
Could all be washed away;
But I don't believe a word of it,
She's like the lilies fair,
Though she shouts that black her eyebrows
And wear two shades of hair!

I don't wonder that the horrid men
Are always poking fun
At their better halves, for, gracious me!
How women's tongues do run.
Only an hour ago I heard
That Mrs. William Lee
Is seen on Broadway every day
With handsome Doctor D.
I don't believe a word of it,
What would his patients do
If he spent every day with her,
And every evening too?

And then young Jones, they say he drinks,
And don't support his wife;
I never saw him drunk but ten
Or twelve times in my life;
And I have known them quite a month,
Yes, one month and a day;
As for her, she dresses well,
Somebody has to pay.
Dear me, dear me, this world is queer!
How can folks gossip so?
It's wrong, unkind, uncharitable,
I never talk, oh, no?

Communicated.

For the Advocate.

Lucy's Visit--A Dialogue.

Fanny. Well, Lucy, I am very glad you have come to spend a few days with me. I am quite lonesome at present, and hope by this fine weather we may both be refreshed, there being much room for romping.

Lucy Oh! that is just what I like; and I was filled with admiration on my arrival at the beautiful scenery, which you have the pleasure of enjoying every day; and still, almost hourly there are new objects of interest appearing, which are quite novelties to a girl of confined town life.

Fanny Yes, but Lucy, we country girls often have a great deal to do, especially when "mamma is not well, and poor Fanny has to clean up the house, help the cook, and a hundred extra turns too tedious to mention, and an extremely large family to see after at that; therefore, I may have to be excused a great deal from your company.

Lucy Oh! Fanny, I would not like to be a country girl. I spend my evenings visiting, or preparing for some party. I should feel myself disgraced to pull my hands cooking, besides, I am not fond of the occupation.

Fanny I am not ignorant of the customs of town life; however, I do not yield to its control. I cannot sanction idleness, when duty calls to work. There would be fewer bankrupts, no doubt, if there were more domestic duties performed by the white handed girls, and both pleasure and profit derived by the exercise.—House keeping in the country, I mean at a pleasant situation, is far more healthy than the limited circle of town life, as I have learned by experience

Lucy. Well, Fanny, as I have intimated, I think that this is the prettiest home that I ever saw—just the very prettiest; but you seem to be so much engaged, it seems as if you hardly know that this is Leap year? Why the town girls are marrying off fast, I don t say that they are using the advantage of the year, but at least it so happens, and I hope you are not going to settle yourself down here, and wait for some ugly country boy to step in—no I know you wont, you are too well enlightened for that; but I fear if any one else finds you, he will have to pay for it.

Fanny. Why Lucy, you talk so funny—intimating that there are no pretty boys in the country; perhaps there are not so many as they are fewer in number, but, any way, there is a motto, "pretty is as pretty does," and if I were to set out to seek one I should not choose for mere beauty.

Lucy. Oh! Fanny, beauty and wealth is what I desire: those two properties would hide all other imperfections: if I ever could be so fortunate as to find one of that possession, I would think it selfish to desire more.

Fanny. Dear Lucy, permit me to say that I think quite differently.—Personal merit is worth more in my estimation than all the beauty and riches the world can afford. Beauty and riches would be acceptable, of course, in connection with moral worth but not without,

Lucy. Yes, but Fanny, I like popularity, and what is more admired by the world than beauty and riches?—Why I should not like to even flirt with one that is not pretty—would consider it no honor.

Fanny. Lucy, what do you call popularity? Is it the praise or admiration of the mass of the people, that can be bought with money or won by mere outward appearances? It seems to be generally appreciated in that light, I believe. But the wisest man said that, "A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches, and loving favor rather than silver and gold." In regard to your last assertion, I think as you do, only more so, for I consider it no honor to flirt with any one. For deception I hate, in any form, but more especially when it is used to gratify vain and selfish desires, regardless of the injury or pain produced upon others thereby.

Lucy. My vain and avaricious heart cannot be satisfied with your sentiments; the admiration of others I desire, although they do not have mine in return. And you, Fanny, would stand much higher in society, if you were not so strenuous in your fidelity to others regardless of your own enjoyment.

Fanny. Yes, Lucy, I might have a great deal more fickle society and admirers, but if fidelity cannot win a true heart how could it enjoy a fickle one?

Lucy. Fanny, you are a strange girl: I suppose if you had the affections of one good true hearted fellow, you would care nothing for other society, although he was both poor and ugly. I am tempted to call you selfish—but not in your choice, for would there not be a striking contrast?

Fanny. Lucy, you weary me; I am quite fond of society that can be gained without deception. But that popularity which is obtained only through the arts of a false and fickle heart, could give me no pleasure; and I would certainly value the affections of one good true heart, more than the flatteries of a thousand fickle ones

Lucy. I perfectly understand you now, and think your doctrine quite good in its place But if all the girls were of your opinion, there would be no one to compete with the deception of man or to vindicate the power of woman. But Fanny, I am willing to drop the subject, and will spend the remainder of my visit appreciating the liberties of a county life.

The above conversation coming under notice of the writer, by some means or another, has brought to mind the striking contrast between the two grand principles of the human heart, i. e., honesty and deception. Oh! for more honesty and less deception. If our girls would only consider—if they would only reflect upon all the evils—the pains, the disappointments, the insanity, the crimes and the deaths, caused by deception, they would certainly cease to cultivate that fiendish principle. I say fiendish because it was first practiced by Satan himself in the garden of Eden.—That is a lasting sample of the effects of deception and the character of the deceiver.

Deception is used in various forms, and for different purposes. But we think the most common among girls, is that induced by vanity. I once heard a young lady say that if she had a fine dress, she would not care whether it was ever paid for or not. Now, perhaps, there are a great many ready to say that she was a dreadful girl—but before you speak too fast, just consider a few moments—just think how many have already worn out fine dressing that was obtained through deception, and was never paid for, and are using a second deception to keep that fact concealed. However, I will not run into censuring, but only wish to impress the idea that it is a great mistake to think that popularity, or wealth gained through deception is, indeed, honorable. No, it is the very reverse. And we think that if all girls were of Fanny's opinion, and would practice the principles she has maintained through their influence, the deception of man would soon be restrained, and the power of woman would be felt instead of boasted.

CONSISTENCY.

The Pulpit.

Sermon by Rev. T. De Witt Talmage, Brooklyn Tabernacle.

PHONOGRAPHICALLY REPORTED FOR THE ADVOCATE BY WILLIAM WALTON.

The Story of the Unarousable

"PAST FEELING"--EPHESIANS 4, 19.

THESE words were used as descriptive of certain persons a good while ago; but they are a striking photograph of some people in this day. You and I have known them—men sensitive on all other things; but so far as the subject of religion was concerned, accurately described by my text:

"Past feeling." It does not require much to arouse the emotions of an audience on a great many subjects If a nation be in peril and the subjects be patriotic, you know how the hats go up and the handkerchiefs wave from the galleries, and the reporter taking down the speech interlards his notes with "applause," "vociferous cheering," "cries of hear, hear" I heard a Frenchman sing the 'Marseillaise Hymn' on the day when the German guns were thundering at Sedan, and I shall never forget the enthusiasm of the singer or the enthusiasm of the audience. It required but little to stir them. So, also, if upon a public occasion, it is proper to recite the virtues of the dead, it is like when on a summer morning at sunrise you shake a tree heavily laden with glittering dew. But you know as well as I do that if the subject be deeply religious, while there are many earnest countenances in an assemblage and some are broken down with emotion, there are those who by their manner and by their look excite the suspicion that they have gone down into the condition spoken of by my text: 'Past feeling.'

It would seem as though the plainest statement of our ruined condition by sin would stir a man's emotions Unless the Bible falsifies, our nature has gone overboard, corrupted, blasted, undone. I hear a great many splendid things said about manhood and the development of manhood; but my Bible represents our nature as poor and wretched and miserable and blind and naked. If you stood on Montauk Point and you saw that the wind was blowing shoreward, and you saw one of the White Star line of steamers making for the rocks, and there was no help on the deck and no help on the shore you would throw up your hands in horror, and the moment the vessel struck you would put your hands over your eyes unable to endure the nervous strain. And if you yourself were on board, how much greater the excitement as you felt the cold chill of the salt sea trembling through the parting cabins! Well, now that is just the condition of every unpardoned man before God; but thank the Lord the life lines are run out and the life boat is launched, and Jesus through the sea trumpet cries to all those foundering souls 'Lay hold on eternal life!' and yet strange to say, the men who are accosted in that manner do not see any danger. They say "Who? What? Who do you mean? Certainly not me"—themselves composed while God is thundering the alarm and Christ is begging for the rescue, and the Holy Spirit is trying to arouse the soul, and ministering spirits fly through the air to [illegible] God is imploring for the man's redemption, and earth and Heaven and hell are moved to the centre in the excitement of the catastrophe; yet they themselves silent, unmoved, benumbed—'past feeling.'

I remember some years ago of going through a medical museum in Philadelphia with a very learned surgeon, and he pointed to me under the glass cases, the splintered bones and the cancerous protuberances and the fractured thighs, and he said, 'What beautiful specimens they are.' I thought if that man had to endure the agonies that those things suggested he would not have thought they were such splendid specimens. My dear friends, there are those who coolly philosophize about the splintered, cancerous and fractured souls of men, but if the Spirit of God would come upon them and they could see it was their own condition, that they were diseased and 'sprons and broken and death struck, they would stop philosophizing so placidly.

Some years ago, when John Hawkins was speaking in Greene Street Church, New York, showing the condition of an inebriate, a man rose up in the gallery and cried out, 'That's me!' The truth went right to his heart. And, my dear friends, if to night, while I speak, the Holy Spirit of God would show all those of you who are yet unforgiven and unchristian, your true condition, there would be an outcery on the right and an outcry on the left, and above me and beneath me, and my voice would be drowned out and I should have to stop in the services because of the praying and the repenting and the weeping—thousands of voices filling the air with the cry: 'That's me! that's me!' And yet, I suppose, there are people in the building to night who suppose I exaggerate. They have no appreciation of their peril. Eternal consumption having seized upon their vitals, they think themselves in perfect health. The heavens black with the hurricane; they mistake it for sunlight. Having begun to die the death that never dies, yet thinking themselves well. So that all I can say to them to night will not rouse them out of their stupor. 'Why? why? 'Past feeling!' That is all. 'Past feeling.'

I remark further, that one would suppose that the plainest recital of a Savior's sacrifice would stir their deepest emotions. I remember riding from Geneva to Chamonnie, and the driver of the diligence we were being drawn by six horses—gathered the reins in one hand, and with the other lifted his hat, and bowed very low. I looked to see what he was bowing to. It was a cross at a gate post. I could not but admire the man's behavior. Oh! my friends, if we could really understand how much that symbol of Christ's suffering means, the whole world would bow in obeisance may more, it would burst into tears of repentance, Oh! the cross! the cross. One beam of it made out of the sins of the past, the other beam of it made out of the sins of the future, fastened together with a stout bolt to hold the exquisite body of Christ, while hands of men and devils pulled it into horrid mutilation. Oh, when I come to read that story of the crucifixion, I am glad when I get to the point where Christ is dead. I say: 'Good. The weapons cannot hurt Him any more. The spears cannot make his body curl with the torture any more' Oh. the shame of that cross Why, the poorest wretch in Brooklyn will have a place to sleep to-night, though he have to ask for it at the door of the almshouse or the police station; but my Lord Jesus had not where to lay his head. The meanest sneak thief that comes up to morrow at the Tombs Court, New York, will have able counsel aforded him; but my Lord Jesus, in his trial, had no attorney. The wretch that dies in ship, fever, or small pox hospital has kindly attendance; but Christ in his last moments was surrounded by mocking and jeering enemies. Oh, the shame! The infinite shame.

You may remember having noticed in the newspapers the story of that little child in Memphis, who attended her father and mother while they were sick with yellow fever, and the father died, and then the little one continued to watch more carefully over the mother, and the mother died, and then the little one sat down to make her mother's shroud—herself before the shroud was made falling down dead It was a beautiful specimen of sacrifice, you say. But she died for her mother and father. Christ died for his enemies. Oh, can you not appreciate that truth? Does it come with no power to your heart?

I was in a meeting in the Fourth Ward, New York, one night last summer, and the city missionary was commending Christ to the sailors. There was a German who seemed to take the truth to himself, and when the leader of the meeting said: 'Christ died for you, is there any of you that feel it?' [illegible] Me! me! Why, my friends, if you could appreciate what Christ has done and suffered in your behalf, you could not be stolid and indifferent. Oh, if we could only appreciate the sufferings of Christ, there would go through this audience to-night a shudder, a sigh, a groan, a wailing, an anthem, a hallelujah! And I know that there are those here who do sympathize with his story, and some of you do weep. Some of you do love the Lord Jesus Christ because He first loved you. You look around all this audience and I have to come to the conclusion that there are some here who have no appreciation of that sacrifice. 'Past feeling' They seem to say, 'Let Jesus die, and that's nothing to me. Let the hammers thump, let the spears plunge, let the blood rush from the holy arteries, let the head faint, let the spirit be crushed out by an unwashed mob, who cares? Who cares? Ah, it does seem as if they have gone over that mysterious bourne of which the poet speaks,

> The mysterious bourne
> By which our path is crossed,
> And beyond which God himself hath sworn
> That he who goes is lost.

Oh, the sad, the awful, the overwhelming truth that must be uttered in regard to them—'past feeling past feeling.'

One would suppose also that an uncertainty about the great future would stir the very deepest emotions. If the two worlds were very much like each other, if they were only two phases of the same thing—if Heaven were only a little better than hell, only a little worse than Heaven—if the joy of the one were very tame, and if the sorrow of the other were very tolerable, I would not be surprised if men had but little consideration on these matters. But when the one is all song, and the other all blasphemy—the one all brightness, and the other all gloom—one would think that the possibility of missing the one, and dropping into the other, would make an excitement in a man's soul like unto a judgment day, and that there would be a wringing of hands and a clutching as if for something to lay hold on to, and a cry to God as though the ground were giving way under our feet, and unless we make a mighty spring we must go down forever. Ah, the possibility of missing Heaven! Why it ought to take the color out of the cheek and make the body quiver, and a man shriek for mercy. And yet my text plainly declares it, and your observation and my observation corroborate it, that notwithstanding a man may be thus invited, and called and wooed, and warned, and though Heaven may chant and hell may groan, notwithstanding all that, a man may confront all these realities and be without feeling

There are some things that make me believe that there may be in this house to-night—I cannot point them out that there may be in this house who have gone into this condition described by the text, and I will give you two or three reasons why I think so. The one is that so many of you have gone unsaved through most stang Providences. You go to the theatre and see a tragedy enacted by Booth, or Forrest, or Ristori, and you think it is a fine tragedy; but confess now-night, before God and before me, that the most exciting tragedy you ever saw is in your own life. I know not where, when or how. It may have been in battle when you heard the whiz of the bullet and your comrade fell. It may have been a crashing bridge as the express train went down on it. It may have been the dropping of a house scaffold as you were walking close to it. It may have been that you came ashore on a plank while the ship was going to pieces. I cannot tell. But you have all had thrilling escapes. Why, there have been men that stood beside you instantously hurled into eternity without a chance to cry 'Lord, help me!' And you came away from that a little flushed, and dishevelled, and nervous; but how soon you forgot it and were prayerless and thoughtless as ever You see I am talking plainly to your heart-to night. You want me to talk that way. I cannot trifle away this hour on which eternal destinies are hinged

Sickness came to you. You remember what excitement there was in the house and how quickly they ran for the doctor, and what strange things you saw in your light headedness, and how loudly the watch ticked on the stand, telling the attendants when to give you the medicines, and how you felt oppressed with the idea "how if I should not get well?" And you were so near eternity that you saw the opening and the shutting of the brazen door, and the minister came in and you said "I wish you would pray for me," but you did not pray much for yourself. But the fever broke after a while You were better. You walked out two or three blocks with great fatigue. Then you took a ride in the park. Then, one day, you said "I guess I'll go to the store,' (or shop), and when you got over there, they greeted you with "Good morning, glad to see you out again." But soon all the seriousness was gone, and you were prayerless, and thoughtless, more so than before you were sick. Is that not so? One night there was a knocking at your door and you said "come in," and death walked in and said, "I want your father, or I want your mother," and carried off the prize. There was another knocking at the door, and you said "Come in" Death said, "I want that child;" and the treasure was carried away. And how any man with a little boy or a little girl in Heaven can be impenitent and run the risk of never getting in that blessed society, I cannot understand. There was a man who came to the altar of a church to present himself. He said, "She brought me"—a little girl, four or five years of age. "How is that?" they said. He said, "I endured every entreaty without being affected at all, but when she got upon my lap, and put her arms around my neck, and said, 'Papa, won't you go to Heaven; O, I couldn't endure it, I had to come. She brought me." O ye who have children in Heaven, it seems to me as if they come down from the sky, as if now they threw their arms around about your neck, with blessed solicitation, begging you into the peace and the joy of the Gospel. If bereavement, if battle, if shipwreck, if typhoid fever, if fatal accidents all around about you, my dear brother, do not make you feel, is not the suspicion to be started to night that you are past feeling?"

Another reason why I think there may be some persons in this house who have come to the condition described by the text, is that there are so many who have passed unsaved through the grandest Gospel privileges. You have gone, perhaps thin deep through Gospel advantages. If you had never seen but one Bible, but you have seen hundreds. If you had never been invited to Christ but once, but you have been invited to Him times almost without number. Tracts, sermons, songs, prayers, Bibles, stories of the lost sheep found, of the prodigal got home, of the Phillipian jail shaken down, Lazarus in Heaven, Dives in hell, the judgment with its falling stars and rising dead and opening books, and eternity with its coronals and its wastings away. O, man! O, woman! how you have been invited, and entreated, and warned and coaxed of this Gospel. Jesus unable to win your love, while he stood upright in His majesty, has come down on His knees before you, with eyes streaming with tears, and sweat breaking from the brow, and blood rushing from the heart, and infinite pity bursting from the lips, has begged you to love Him. And yet, some of you have not taken the first step Heavenward, and if you think about taking that step to-night, you donot want anybody to know it. You are standing still and unconcerned. Did I say standing still? I take that back. You are not standing still, for your feet are sliding down the great steep, and the mark of death is upon some brow, and the water of the bottomless gulf has begun to lick your feet. You are condemned already, sliding down into deeper and deeper impenitency; and standing as I do face to face with you to night, it seems to me as if I see coming on your brow, in lurid letters, the two words of my text: "Past feeling."

If there be those in this house who have not come to the condition spoken of in the text, rouse up and cry for mercy. O, prodigal, come home! come home! Sinner, take thy foot out of the blood of the Son of God! Smite no more that cross with the hammer of thy hard heart. If there be in your soul the faintest spark of feeling, let the wing of the Holy Ghost now fan it into a flame. You cannot afford to lose your soul. It is too precious. You cannot afford to lose Heaven. It is too glorious. You cannot afford to waste this moment. It may be the last. O, get down on your knees before God, and implore His salvation. Take the verse of the old hymn, and say:

> "Mercy, good Lord, mercy I beg,
> This is the total sum;
> For mercy, Lord, is all my suit.
> Lord, let thy mercy come."

Souls were saved here last Sabbath. Why not to-day? During the week a man said to me: "Last Sabbath morning I saw Christ for the first time." Another said "Last Sabbath night I began to pray." And we have heard souls during the week saying: "What must I do to be saved?" and one of them writes to me: "As I went out of the house, before my soul there passed all my past life in a horrible panorama of guilt, but Christ is the great physician and I have told Him all my trouble, and already I feel easier." O, if salvation came then, not now! I can not put my head on the pillow to-night until I have uttered all my soul's strength in one importunate appeal for your eternal life. Why is it that this matter is put off? I tell you that some of you are on the down grade, and the draw is off, and you will soon take the plunge. All that God has done for your soul, the fact that He has fed you your life long and given you homes and your companions and your children, and given you every blessing for this life, and the Gospel of the Son of God has held before you the great sacrifice of the cross, not withstanding all that it seems to have been wasted on some of your souls, and you are "past feeling."

If it would do any good I would come down in the audience and kneel at your feet and beg you to fly from the wrath to come. O, that now in this day of merciful visitation, you would hear the voice of Christ and put down all your sins and all your sorrows at His feet. If there is any one in the house that is not accustomed to hear my preaching or to come into religions assemblages, if you just happened to come here to night—I don't ask where you came from, if you came from the very presence of your sin and from the house of abomination—I offer you through the Lord Jesus Christ a full, free, infinite and eternal pardon for all your sin. "Let the wicked forsake his way and the unrighteous man his thoughts, and let him return unto the Lord who will have mercy, and unto our God who will abundantly pardon." And may the Lord Almighty by His Holy Spirit forbid that this disaster should come upon our soul—the worst of all disasters—that notwithstanding what God has done for our redemption, we should stand stolid and unbelieving before men and angels and devils illustrating what it is to be "past feeling!"

The Methodist, speaking of the recent action of the Central New York Conference, says:

The action of the Central New York Conference upon the settlement between Northern and Southern Methodism looks like an attempt at "nullification." The commisioners had full powers and made a bargain. The brethren in the Central do not like the bargain, and gravely propose to unmake it. It is not easy to characterize this action. For the present we only call attention to its effect on the few irreconcilables in the South, who will now point to these resolutions as a proof that our church is a faith-breaker.

The Cape May settlement is a bargain, which cannot be broken and made over again It is a perfectly honorable bargain, too, and if the brethren of the Central will study it a little they will retract their nullification heresies.

Methodism has Annual Conferences in New South Wales, Victoria, South Australia, and New Zealand, and reports the following statistics: Ministers and missionaries, 387; members, 60,165; Sunday school scholars, 133,839; teachers, 12,723; and adherents 338,493.

Bible Dancing.

We agree with the Western Methodist that the cure of the dancing mania is religious intelligence and experience. Unconverted people in the church are likely enough to dance. If they can be converted this will reform them. The Western confutes the arguments from the Bible usually adduced by the dancers:

The conviction is general, if not universal, among Methodists—that is among those who breathe the spirit of Methodism—that dancing is altogether irreconcilable not only with spirituality, but even with all the obligations, great and small, which are assumed by men and women, young as well as old, when they take upon themselves the vows required in becoming Methodists, yea, in becoming Christians, of whatever order. Christianity, not merely in its highest forms, but even in its lowest, if it be Christianity at all, demands non-conformity to this world, and an observance of the sobrieties and decencies of life, and so condemns dancing by members of the church. There is not a word in the holy Bible which can be justly quoted in favor of dancing, as it is practiced in these times. A careful writer, after examining the passages of Scripture so glibly quoted in favor of dancing, and showing their true meaning, thus sums up his conclusions:

Having carefully examined every text in the Old and New Testaments in which the word occurs, we are led to the following conclusions:

1. That dancing was a religious act among idolaters, as well as worshipers of the true God.

2 That it was practiced as the demonstration of joy for victories and other mercies.

3. That the dances were in the daytime.

4. That the women danced by themselves; that the dancing was mostly done by them.

5. No instance is recorded in which promiscuous dancing by the two sexes took place.

6. That when the dance was perverted from a religious service to mere amusement, it was regarded as disreputable, and was performed by the "vain fellows."

7. The only instances of dancing for amusement mentioned are of the worldly families described by Job, the daughter of Herodias, and the "vain fellows." Neither of these had any tendency to promote piety.

8 That the Bible furnishes not the slightest sanction for promiscuous dancing as an amusement, as practiced at the present time. The dancing professor of religion must not deceive himself with the impression that he is justified by the word of God. If he still holds on to the practice, let him find his justification from other sources, and say frankly: I love the dance, and am determined to practice it, Bible or no Bible.

A Bit of Old Venice.

There they sat and dreamed and dreamed, a half score of nurslings, in their rags and their dirt and loveliness. The poor little scenes were overcome by the delicious twilight and the spring-time spell that a knot of white hyacinths in a soup-pot on the table had woven about them.—Their heads were golden and tangled and unkempt, their innocent faces flushed with the warm air, their bare legs crossed over their weary knees, their coarse cotton garments half torn from their shoulders

I thought of one Gian Bellini, who in the olden time wandered about Venice and laughed with the children of the street, saw them splash their feet in the cool canals in the morning, saw them nestling to their mothers' arms at night, heard them singing about the windows or thrumming their old mandolins in the moonlight, crouching at a palace door with their rags dropping apart. He gathered them all into his thoughts, this large-hearted man of the people, and, when he painted angels praising the heavenly hosts, what were they but little Venetian children, singing and playing with that divine unconsciousness that you can see in their dream-filled eyes." They are lost in their own music, never thinking that the celestial multitude will care because they wear shabby serge and their bare brown legs are dingy with the miles they have walked, carrying their heavy harps, and because their hair falls tangled on their shoulders. A chanting angel in heaven and a threshold on earth were one to Bellini. He judged so wisely, the dear old master.—Charlotte Adams, in Appleton's Journal.

Dr. Chalmers said that before his conversion he was in bondage; afterward, his soul was unfettered as a soaring bird.

The habit of being always employed is a great safeguard through life, as well as essential to the culture of every virtue.

Preaching to Doctors.

The Rev. Dr. Gatty recently preached at Sheffield, England, to the members of the British Medical Association, during the annual meeting. We give the following suggestive extract from his discourse upon the appropriate text: "They that are whole need not a physician, but they that are sick:"

"Some of the smaller philosophers of our own time regard the Bible as the sacred book common to all forms of religion, and so far to be respected, but only to be trusted when it does not clash with their own deductions. That man should have come perfectly formed, by an act of creation, from the hand of his Maker, is to them less credible than that he should be the slow result of a process of evolution, no satisfactory traces of which can be shown, while all palpable experience contradicts the doctrine. I do not know where science gives a more reliable history of the generation of man than is to be found in the one hundred and thirty-ninth Psalm. So far as the records of the by-gone world extend, they exhibit man, both intellectually and physically, as quite equal to his descendants at the present day. Moses was, at least, as great a law giver as the first Napoleon. The biography of Joseph and his family, written more than three thousand years ago, has literary merit, surpassing in its own style of simplicity and pathos any authorship of any other age or country. David has shown us in his Psalms that he knew human thoughts and feelings quite as profoundly as Shakespeare himself; and if the sermon on the mount and the parables of Christ are not unique and supreme in sublimity of expression as well as doctrine, I want to know why all the religious teachers of the world have failed to produce what we can listen to with the same life-long attention? Is there, nevertheless, a fossil still deeply hidden, but not beyond the final reach of discovery, which shall prove that grapes once grew on thorns, and figs on thistles; or, in other words, that man, by some internal effort, protracted through ages, released himself from the form and nature of a lower brute, and has since advanced to the position of being able to tell the history of his own origin? There is, however, one degrading vice peculiar to man, and at the present time a national disgrace, which is certainly no inheritance from any lower animal. The drunkard is only to be found in the ranks of humanity, and this terrible moral stain brings to the candid mind an assurance that what revelation tells us must be true—that God made men upright, but they sought out many inventions by which the noblest handiwork of the Creator has become damaged and debased."

Good men have tried the Bible, in youth and in old age; in sickness and in health; in business and at home; in life and in death. Lawyers have tried it; statesmen have tried it; society has tried it in its charities, its education and its laws; the ages have tried it; but it is not worn out; it is not effete; it is God's book; we need no other; the longer it is tried the more satisfactory it is proved; it is the word of the Lord, which abideth forever.—Dr. Hall.

DRESS has a moral effect upon the conduct of mankind. Let any gentleman find himself with dirty boots and surtout; soiled neck cloth, and a general negligence of dress, he will in all probability, find a corresponding disposition by negligence of address.

"Man," says Adam Smith, "is an animal that makes bargains. No other animal does this—no dog exchanges bones with another."

What is a turn? When one singer is discharged to make room for another.

What is a pause? When the organ boy gets asleep, just as the choir is ready to sing.

Profanity and plug tobacco spoil the mouth of a boy, and gum and slang that of a girl.

What is a staccato movement? Leaving the choir in a huff when one is dissatisfied with the organist.

What is a swell? A professor of music who pretends to know all about the science, while he cannot conceal his ignorance.

"Mamma asked a precocious youngster at the tea table the other evening after a long and yearning gaze toward a plate of doughnuts, "Mamma, do you think I could stand another of those fried holes." She thought he could.

"I never could enjoy poetry when I'm cookin'," said an old lady who dropped in on us recently. But when I step out to feed the hogs and bust myself into the fence, and throw my soul into a few lines of Capt'n Jenks, it does seem as if this airth was made to live on arter all."

The Christian Advocate.

OFFICE Corner of Dawson & Hargett Sts

THE ORGAN
OF THE
NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE
OF THE
M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev. J. B. BOBBITT, D. D. } Editors
R. T. Gray, Esq.. }

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION:

ONE YEAR, IN ADVANCE, POSTAGE PAID, $2.00
SIX MONTHS, " " 1.25
If payment be delayed six months, 2.50

RALEIGH, N. C., DEC. 6, 1876.

All letters on business with this office should be addressed to the Christian Advocate, Raleigh, N. C.

The Cross (X) Mark is to remind you that your subscription has expired. Let all renew promptly.

At Conference.

We write in the midst of the Conference proceedings, Bishop Kavanaugh in the chair. The attendance of ministers and laymen is full and visitors are coming in from all sections of the State. The entertainment of the Conference is ample and elegant, and the good people of Greensboro are fully sustaining their reputation for hospitality. Dr. McFerrin, Missionary Secretary, is with us. Bro. Lafferty, of the Richmond Advocate, is also with us. Rev. D. A. Long, fraternal messenger from the Christian Church, is also present. Fraternal Messengers from the Church of the Friends have just been introduced to the Conference, and in earnest words they presented greetings of Christian sympathy and love.

On Thursday the Conference took a recess at eleven o'clock to hear a Thanksgiving Sermon from the Bishop. His text was the 103rd Psalm, 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5th verses. It was truly an eloquent and deeply impressive discourse. It will be requested for publication in our Conference Minutes. The sermon of Bro. Hudson of Thursday evening, to the undergrad uates, was rich in thought and interspersed with Scriptural argument and striking illustrations. Its publication will also be called for. On Friday afternoon, by invitation of Dr. Jones, the President, the Conference visited Greensboro Female College, and were highly entertained with a musical concert by Professor Hahr and the young ladies of the College At the close of the entertainment Bro. Lafferty was called to the rostrum and thrilled the large audience with a characteristic and humorous speech.

On Friday night, the well managed Sunday School of the Methodist Church at this place gave a Concert Entertainment, upon which there was a very large attendance of deeply interested persons. Prof. Alderman, of G. F. College, superintended the exercises. The representation of the several periods of life was in exquisite taste and handsomely performed The singing was excellent; and, in short, the whole concert was a decided success. Dr. McFerrin, being present, was called upon for an address and responded in characteristic and effective style. His discourse was such as will leave an indelible impression upon the minds of all present, especially the children, and will be remembered with pleasure and profit.

The reports of the preachers from the various charges indicate a healthy state of the Church both financially and spiritually. It is a cause of profound thanksgiving to Almighty God that no member of our Conference has died during the year. They are all "yet alive," and occupy their appropriate places upon the Conference floor.

The Missionary Anniversary was held on Saturday night. The introductory services were conducted by Rev. F. L. Wood. Rev. P. J. Carraway, the President, then introduced Prof. A. W. Mangum, who delivered a very interesting address on the trite theme of "Taking up a collection."—Rev Dr McFerrin, of Nashville, Tenn., the efficient Secretary of the Missionary Board, was then introduced, who proceeded in his inimitable way, after a brief speech which cut right and left, to take up the collection. Some thing over two hundred dollars was secured, which, when we consider the pecuniary stringency of the times, did remarkably well. The sum of the whole amount collected by the Conference during this hard year was $5,585—1,000 more than last year.

We attended services Sunday morning at the Methodist Church. The Church was packed to its last capacity long before the hour of service arrived. Bishop Kavanaugh preached one of his masterly and unctious discourses, the text being from Isaiah 9 chapter, 6-7 verses. After the sermon, seventeen very promising young men were ordained to Deacon's Orders. At 10 o'clock a very full and profitable communion was held. At 7 o'clock, Dr. McFerrin preached a very able, practical and appropriate sermon, after which eight ministers were ordained to Elder's Order.

We have delayed issuing the paper this week in order to include the appointments of Conference. The proceedings of Monday and Tuesday of this week will appear in the next issue. On Monday, the Conference selected Salisbury as the place for its next session.

Centennial Day at Conference.

Pursuant to a resolution of the Conference held in Wilmington last year, Saturday of last week was set apart for the celebration of the Centennial of North Carolina Methodism, and the exercises very appropriately had reference to the educational interests of our Conference. The topic for discussion was: "The relation of our Colleges to the prosperity and success of the Church, and the consequent duty of the entire ministry and membership of the Church to foster and sustain these institutions."

Rev. W. S. Black, Presiding Elder of the Wilmington District, first addressed the large audience assembled at the Conference room. His address was comprehensive, able and eloquent, well prepared and handsomely delivered and was listened to with profound attention and interest.

Hon. F. C. Robbins, a layman of our Church from Lexington, followed Bro. Black in a sound, learned and well matured address which evinced his powers as a practical thinker and forcible speaker. His speech was received with marked evidences of interest and pleasure on the part of his hearers. Mr Robbins is an able lawyer and a pious and active christian—a representative of that class of men that the country needs to make its laws and direct its affairs The addresses of both the speakers were requested for publication and we trust that they will be laid before the public at an early date.

Bro. Black in his address, gave the following interesting facts in regard to the attention which Methodism has paid to education—Said he:

"Methodism, which may well be called a second Reformation, which not only gave birth to a new and most efficient organization, but infused new life and spirituality into the other denominations of evangelical christians—Methodism took its rise, received its name, began its conquests and sounded the first clarion blast which was to arouse a sleeping Church and dying sinners in two hemispheres, in the University of Oxford. And Mr. Wesley, the distinguished founder, and his coadjutors began in England and America to found schools, and fostered and sustained them. And to day the Wesleyan Methodists of England and Canada have 3 theological seminaries, 9 Colleges and 906 day schools. The M E. Church has 3 theological seminaries, 27 Colleges and Universities and 69 Academies and Institutes The M. E. Church, South, has 3 Universities, 17 male and 30 female Colleges and 12 Academies; making a total of 1073 institutions of learning founded, fostered and sustained by the Methodist Church. Schools were organized in America before any Conference was formed, though to a limited extent But it was not a great while before Colleges were founded and patronized by the Methodist Church. The first was Dickenson College, at Carlisle, Pa., in 1783. Then came Alleghany College, in Penn., 1817. Then Centenary College in Louisiana, established in 1825. Then Randolph Macon, Virginia, 1830. Next comes Emory College, Ga., 1837. Then Asbury University, Indiana; 1837. Emory and Henry College Va., came next, 1838. Others might be mentioned but it is not necessary. Trinity College, having struggled successfully against opposition, and as worthy as any, was organized in 1853.

Neither did the Church confine her efforts to the education of her sons. But seeing that it was equally important that the female members of the Church and society be educated, began to build and patronize Female Colleges, by which to adorn the daughters of the Church for society and fit them for usefulness. It we are not mistaken, Sharon Female College, Mississippi, which was established in 1832 was the first. Then the venerable Wesleyan Female College, Macon, Ga., in 1836. Then comes our own Greensboro which was established in 1838. Though once consumed by fire, she has arisen, Phoenix like, from her ashes more lovely and beautiful than before she perished in the flames. Davenport, sitting like a lovely queen of grace and beauty among the mountains of Western Carolina, was established in 1858.

The North Carolina Conference at its first session established two Academies, viz Leasburg and Clemmonsville, and I have been informed that both lived long and did well. Now we have three Colleges belonging to and under the entire control of the Conference, Greensboro, Trinity and Davenport. Their Trustees are elected by this Conference and all their interests are under their control, and I believe are carefully guarded by them. All are as much the property of the Conference as one. There is no exception to this The high purpose of these institutions is to educate all their pupils so as to make well-balanced men and women of them—to train all their faculties to the fullest capacity—to develope all those forces which will fit them for the greatest usefulness—to enable them to gather rich gems from the deepest mines of thought with which to embellish their characters and prepare them for the activities of life; to send out educated ministers baptized with fire and the Holy Ghost, to preach the everlasting gospel to perishing sinners and "feed the flock of Christ; to qualify holy men and women for the office of teachers."

Subscribe for the ADVOCATE.

NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE.

The fortieth annual session of the N. C. Conference of the M. E. Church, South, convened in the Methodist Church in Greensboro' at 9½ o'clock, A. M., Nov. 29th, Bishop H. H. Kavanaugh in the chair.

The Conference was opened with religious services conducted by the Bishop, assisted by Wm. Closs, Presiding Elder of the Washington District. The Secretary of the last Conference called the clerical roll when one hundred ministers answered to their names. The roll of Lay Delegates being called fifteen answered to their names.

On motion of J. W. Lewis B Craven was elected Secretary.

On motion of B. Craven the Presiding Elders were appointed a committee to nominate the Standing Committees.

On motion it was resolved that the daily sessions of the Conference shall begin at 9½ o'clock, A. M, and adjourn at 1½ o'clock, P. M.

On motion of J. B. Bobbitt it was ordered that the business of the Conference shall be conducted with open doors.

On motion of B. Craven the third line of columns was fixed as the bar of the Conference.

On motion of B. Craven a committee of five was appointed by the chair on the report of the Joint Commission.

The Committee on Nominations submitted their report which was adopted as follows:

On Education.

Clerical: F L Reid, A W Mangum, B Craven, M L Wood, W M Robey, W D Lee, L H Gibbons, J B Alford, W C Gannon, J R Griffith Lay: M S Davis, A G Headen, T M Jones, J W Mauney, A A Scroggs, C G Montgomery, E J Lilly, W J Parker, W F Kornegay, T C Williams.

On Sunday Schools.

Clerical: S V Hoyle, J J Renn, P L Herman, L W Crawford, J C Crisp, T P Ricaud, Ira T Wyche, O J Brent, C C Dodson, L L Nash. Lay: R W Best, A Walker, O W Carr, B F Sumerow, M O Sherrill, T C Smith, F E Asbury, W M Parker, W L Arendell, N A Lawrence.

ON BOOKS AND PERIODICALS.

Clerical J B Bobbitt, T J Gattis, V A Sharpe, T A Coon, J S Ervin, C M Pepper, H T Hudson, J T Bagwell, J R Brooke, J D Buie. Lay: R W Best, T N Jordan, N D Sullivan, J W Mauney, W T Shipp, C G Montgomery, K H Worthy, A J Johnson, T A Wainwright, B W Brown.

ON CHURCH PROPERTY.

Clerical: R S Webb, H H Gibbons, J W Lewis, T L Triplett, J T Harris, T H Edwards, B C Phillips, J M Davis, N A Hooker, R P Culbreth. Lay: J B Floyd, I N Mann, R P Troy, D F Holcombe, R L Abernethy, J D Squires, R L Ledbetter, J T O Culbreth, J B Webb, N A Lawrence

ON BIBLE CAUSE

Clerical: A A Boshamer, H P Cole, J F Heitman, Jas Willson, J C Hartsell, D May, W S Chaffin, J Sanford, A R Raven, R O Burton. Lay: J B Floyd, I N Mann, R P Troy, B T Summerow, R L Abernethy, T J Watkins, F E Asbury, W M Parker, J B Webb, T C Williams.

On motion of W S Black, T W Smith was appointed to collect the amounts due the Publishing House.

On motion of P J Carraway, N H D Wilson, S D Adams, T M Jones and W C Doub were appointed a committee on Public worship.

A communication from the Missionary Secretaries was read and referred to the Board of Missions.

A communication from Rev Dr T O Summers, Book Editor, was read and referred to the Committee on Books and Periodicals.

A communication from Rev Dr Abbey was read and on motion of B Craven was laid on the table for the present.

Question 1 was taken up: Who are received on trial." William Blake Doub, of Rolesville Circuit, Elisha J Eudaily of Madison Circuit, Walter S Creasy of Surry Circuit and George W Hardison, of Onslow Circuit.

On motion of W H Bobbitt it was ordered that the preachers shall not be required to leave the Conference Room on the passage of character.

Question 12 was taken up: "Who are elected to Elders orders?" Jesse H Guinn, T A Coon, W C Norman, R F Bumpass, T W Smith were approved by the committee of examination.

Question 5 was taken up: "Who are readmitted?" Thomas L Hoyle, formely a member of the Virginia Conference and late a member of the Quarterly Conference on Granville Circuit, and S R Trawick a local Elder on Shelby Station.

THURSDAY—SECOND DAY.

Conference met at 9½ o'clock, Dr. Closs in the chair, and was opened with religious services conducted by M. L. Wood.

The Journal of the first day was read and approved

Rev. J. J. Lafferty of the Virginia Conference and Editor of the Richmond Advocate, and Rev. C. H. Wiley, Agent of the American Bible Society, were introduced to the Conference.

Rev. Mr. Wiley addressed the Conference in relation to the mode of work adopted by the Society and earnestly urged the co operation of the Conference.

O. W. Carr was elected Assistant Secretary, J. W. Mauney and T. Bagwell, Statistical Secretaries, A. Sharpe and J. T. Harris, Fiscal Secretaries.

Leave of absence for the reader of the session was granted to M. Anderson

A communication from the Board of Education, Street Och, Raleigh, was read and referred to a special committee as follows: H. D. Wilson, B. Craven, H. T. Hudson, T. M Jones, J. E. Mann.

Reports from Trinity and Greensboro Colleges were read and referred to the Committee on Education.

The following were elected trustees of Greensboro Female College: S Burkhead, W. S. Black, Fred C. Robbins, J. E. Mann.

Dr. J. W. Thomas was elected a Trustee of Trinity College.

Conference then took a recess for Thanksgiving services conducted by Bishop Kavanaugh.

Question 1st was taken up: "Who are admitted on trial?" James T Lyon, from Granville circuit, and F A. Bishop from Topsail circuit were admitted on trial

Rev. Dr. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Greensboro' was introduced to the Conference.

Conference adjourned with the benediction.

THIRD DAY

Conference met at 9½ o'clock, the Bishop in the chair, and was opened with religious services conducted by P. J. Carraway.

The journal of the second day was read and approved

Leave of absence for the remainder of the session was granted to W. Best.

The credentials of L C. White, a local elder of Double Shoals circuit, and Thomas M. Jordan, a lay deacon of North Charlotte circuit, were surrendered to the Conference and deposited with the Secretary.

W D. Taylor, an elder of the M E. Church, having been received into the M. E. Church, South and having been properly recommended by the Quarterly Conference of Edenton Street Church, Raleigh, and having subscribed to our doctrines, discipline and ordination vows, was recognized as an elder in our Church. Also, J. H. Tart, an elder of the Baptist Church, having become a member of the M E. Church, South, and having been recommended by the Quarterly Conference of Whiteville circuit, and having subscribed to our doctrines discipline and ordination vows, was recognized as a member of our Church

Isham Cox, Allen Jay and David Tatum, fraternal messengers from the Society of Friends, were introduced to the Conference.

On motion of B. Craven it was resolved to appoint fraternal messengers from this Conference to the next North Carolina Yearly Meeting of the Friends.

The following resolution was adopted: Resolved that this Conference gladly receive the fraternal messengers from the Friends and that we reciprocate their kind expressions of christian regard.

Rev. Dr McFerrin, Missionary Secretary was introduced to the Conference. By invitation Rev J. J. Lafferty, one of the editors of the Richmond Christian Advocate, addressed the Conference.

Question 2nd was taken up: "Who remain on trial?" J M Rhodes, B. R. Hall, N. G. Wilmington passed the examination of character, were approved by the examining Committee and were continued on trial. J B Carpenter passed the examination of character, but having failed to be examined was continued in the first year. Question 4th was taken up: "Who are admitted into full connection?"

The class of the second year was then called, questioned according to Discipline and addressed by the Bishop on the qualifications for the pastoral work. N. M. Jurney, J. F Craven, W. S. Rone, J. T. Gibbs, L L. Nash, J. W. Randle, J. R Scroggs C. A Gault, M. W Boyles, J. M Lumley and N. S. Norton passed the examination of character and were admitted into full connection, except N. S. Norton who was continued on trial.

Question 8th was called: "What traveling preachers are elected Deacons?" W. S. Rone, J. F. Craven, L L. Nash, J. W. Randle, N. M. Jurney, J. R. Scroggs, C. A Gault, M. W Boyles, J. M Lumley and N. S. Norton having been approved according to Discipline were elected Deacons The Bishop announced that J. W. Shackford of the second year had been transferred to the Virginia Conference.

The following were announced as the Committee on Fraternal Relations: N. H. D. Wilson, B. Craven, J. A. Cunninggim, M L. Wood, Wm. Closs, J. W. Hayes, W. M. Parker.

Rev. D. A Long, fraternal messenger from the Christian Church, was introduced and addressed the Conference briefly, expressing warm christian sympathy and fellowship.

It was resolved to appoint two fraternal messengers from this Body, to attend the next session of the Christian Conference to be held at Pleasant Grove, Halifax Co. Va., on Friday before the third Sabbath in Novem ber 1877.

Question 3rd was taken up: "Who are discontinued?" D. P. Goode having passed the examination of character was discontinued at his own request. Leave of absence was granted to T. J. Watkins for the remainder of the session.

A communication from Davenport Female College was read and referred to the Committee on Education. The following having been nominated were elected Trustees of the College, viz: Jas. B. Connelly, J. S. Ervin, W. H. Crawford, H. T. Hudson, G. W. Ivy.

Conference then adjourned with the benediction by Dr. Closs.

FOURTH DAY.

SATURDAY Dec. 2, 1876.

Conference met at 9½ o'clock, Bishop Kavanaugh in the chair and was opened with religious exercises conducted by J E Mann. The Journal of the third day was read and approved.

Question 10th was taken up: "What local preachers are elected Deacons" W F Needham of Surry circuit, John J Sutliff of Surry circuit, John T Litchfield of Columbus Mission, Carter Burnett of Rutherfordton circuit, Fredrick R Kayler of Dysartville circuit and Charles M Cook of Roanoke circuit, having been recommended by their quarterly Conferences, according to Discipline, were elected to deacons orders.

Question 14th was taken up: "Who are elected to Elder's Orders?" Walter S Creasy of Surry circuit, Wm W Womack of Columbus Mission, Francis B Andrews, Roanoke, John W Heptinstall Roanoke circuit, John H Jenkins, Greenville circuit.

Mathew Cary Heptinstall, a local preacher from the Protestant Methodist Church was publicly called, took the ordination vows and was received into our church.

The following resolution offered by J. B Bobbitt was adopted by a rising vote: "Resolved that Bishop Kavanaugh be and is hereby earnestly requested to furnish a copy of the sermon preached by himself in this church on Thanksgiving day."

Rev J E Desbaze and W W Spain of the Virginia Conference were introduced to the Conference and invited to seats within the bar.

On motion of D R Bruton, J B Bobbitt and B Craven were appointed a committee on the publication of the minutes.

H T Hudson, Chairman of the Committee on Books and Periodicals, submitted report which was unanimously adopted.

On motion of C M Pepper a committee on Temperance was appointed, to wit: B Craven, C M Pepper, A B Thompson, R L Abernethy and L Shell.

The hour having arrived for the Centennial Exercises, the Conference took a recess to hear the addresses of Rev W S Black and Hon F C Robbins

The Committee on Education submitted report which was read and laid on the table for future consideration.

On motion of Dr Wilson the thanks of the Conference were tendered to Rev W S Black and Hon F C Robbins for their able, eloquent and instructive Centennial addresses on the relation of our colleges to the prosperity and success of the church, and copies of the same were requested for publication.

On motion of P J Carraway, leave of absence was granted to A G Headen for the remainder of the session.

On motion of R G Barrett leave of absence was granted to M O Sherrill for the remainder of the session.

Raleigh and Hillsboro Districts were called and the preachers passed the examination of character. Pending the call of the Charlotte District Conference adjourned.

REPORT ON BOOKS AND PERIODICALS.

The Committee on Books and Periodicals, through their Chairman, Rev. H. T. Hudson, submitted their report which was adopted as follows:

"It is hardly necessary to remind the Conference of the vast importance of circulating sound literature among our people. Piety and intelligence constitute the strength and fruitfulness of a Denomination. And we believe that the wide diffusion of our books and periodicals is one of the most powerful agencies in building up these two pillars of a Denomination. To keep abreast with this enlightened age, we must use all the resources within our power for the moral development and mental culture of our people. We have standard books in great abundance at our Publishing House whose circulation would enlighten the people and help to carry on our publishing interests. We have periodicals up to the demands of the times that ought to be broadly scattered over the country.—The labor required in circulating this religious literature is not at all burdensome to the preachers, but rather puts in their hands potent instrumentalities to spread their own legitimate work. We believe that a new era of Denominational success would dawn upon us, if all of our ministerial strength was united and exerted in spreading abroad our literatnre.

Your Committee take great pleasure in recommending all of our standard books sold by our Publishing House at Nashville. And especially do we commend the book of sermons by Bishop Marvin; the book known as "Our Children," by Dr. Haygood, recently published. These are books of rare merit, very timely in their well matured themes and should be put in every family in our Connection.

The Raleigh CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, the organ of the N C. Conference, edited by Rev J. B Bobbitt, D. D, and R. T. Gray, Esq., is indispensable to the progress and success of North Carolina Methodism. The ADVOCATE is large in size, beautiful in typography, sound in its financial condition, thoroughly Methodistic in sentiment and doctrine, keeping a breast with the religious journals of the times, and merits, by reason of its excellent editorials and select matter, the widest circulation that our united energies can give it. Therefore be it Resolved 1st, That we recommend it most heartily to the patronage of all our people.

Secondly, That we request the Bishop to reappoint Rev. J. B. Bobbitt, D D, editor.

The Nashville Christian Advocate, edited by Rev. Dr. Summers is the central organ of Southern Methodism. It abounds in general religious intelligence, is a sound and able exponnder and defender of our Church polity, our peculiar theology and the time-honored usages of our Denomination. Besides all this, it contains much excellent religious instruction on miscellaneous subjects

We therefore recommend this paper to the favor of our people: and also the Sunday School publications edited by Rev. Dr Cunyngham. We trust that the valuable, Sunday-School Magazine, Visitor and lesson papers will be used by all our Sunday-schools'

H. T. HUDSON, Chm'n.

Trinity College Report,

To the Bishop and Members of the North Carolina Conference:

Since the last Annual Report of the Conference, the condition and progress of the College have not differed materially from several preceding years. During the collegiate year ending June 8, 1876, there were 140 matriculations and fifteen graduates, during the present year there are to this date about 100 matriculations with the prospect of a result not greatly different from last year.

With one exception, the health of the Faculty and Students has been good; attention to study by the students was never better; violations of college law and routine have been rare; the vices that have by custom become almost indentified with college life have been greatly diminished, and a noticeable advance has been effected in higher appreciation and self-control, variations in devotion to duty, depth of culture, capacity of original thought, extent of information and love of literary excellence, are common to all Institutions; with us the last few years have shown more uniformity, and an improved general average of all points that came within the purview of scholastic regulation. It is confidently believed that our classes exhibited a fair comparative status in all the items of a scholar's excellence, that our real successes count well in the ratio of American graduations, and that our failures are not more disastrous than are common to the best Institutions. For the production of well informed, well disciplined christian character we strive with prayers and constant labor. We think that by more and stricter discipline we can secure a better average of character, but we are not willing to sacrifice liberty without personal piety, is a dangerous possession, and that high scholarship with positive wickedness of heart, is likely to work fearful evil to church and State. If the higher Institutions secure for their students nothing but worldly success and personal gratification, their work is of doubtful good, and the utility of their existence may be questioned With the intent to be equal to any in the secular phase of education, we lay especial emphasis upon the christian element.

During the present session, we have been blessed with an extraordinary work of grace in the College, embracing also the village and adjacent county; there were fifty seven conversions, and of these thirty seven were students, these added to the previous catalogue make in all 1194 conversions of students in the college chapel. Of the students now present over two-thirds are members of the church, and the whole influence in and about the college, is eminently favorable to a life of piety.

At the present time there are in college five sons of preachers, and seven beneficiaries, to these may be added nine others that receive aid to limited extent.

Since last Conference, work to the value of about $400 has been done on the first story of the new building, but before completing the work we were forced to desist by want of means This state of things forces us to great inconvenience, and renders it impossible for us to achieve that completeness of results, which would otherwise be easily attained.

The finances of the college are very adversely affected by the stringency of the times.

First, as to the fund to pay the building debt; part of the money that was borrowed is now demanded by the holders of our notes, and some means of payment must be found at an early day, otherwise the Institution will be exposed to serious damage. Such speedy payment was not anticipated by either party, but circumstances beyond the control both of corporations and individuals, are alleged to have arisen, that make the payment of about $3,000 a necessity. More than that amount is now due the college on notes and other pledges, but collection is exceedingly slow and difficult. If some present temporary relief can be obtained, the difficulty may be passed in safety.

Second, as to current expenses; the financial policy of the college has been a safe one, but it has borne heavily upon hard working faithful men. The policy is: hat all current expenses must be met by the income from tuition. Trinity has never had any other resource, and the Faculty have never received a dollar from any other source. With the exception of one year this rule has from the first, been rigidly executed. About half the time since the war, the Professors received a stated salary of respectable magnitude that was promptly paid; but during those years the President received very little During the other years, the income after deducing contingent expenses, has been divided prorata among all, and for much of the time the amount received by each has been too little for comfortable living, and less than such ability commands in all places and pursuits. We have a full Faculty of competent men, and less than one hundred and fifty students will not pay them adequately. It is hoped, therefore, that the Conference collectively and individually will use all proper exertions to increase the patronage. An increase of students or a diminution of the Faculty is a necessity.

Attention is respectfully called to the College Museum. We need all manner of fossils, metals, crystals, antiquities and such like This State is rich in materials, and a little attention on the part of the preachers, would soon secure a large collection and greatly benefit the Institution.

Similar remarks would apply to the libraries. We have two society libraries, a Theological library and a college library, in all about ten thousand volumes Some attention by the Conference generally would secure large additions of books, phamphlets and papers. Attention to these things is earnestly desired.

At the last meeting of the Board of Trustees Dr R W Thomas, of Thomasville, was nominated for a Trustee to fill a vacancy in the Board.

Respectfully submitted,
B CRAVEN, President.
Nov 26. 1876.

REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT OF GREENSBORO FEMALE COLLEGE.

To the Bishop and Members of the North Carolina Conference—

REV'D AND DEAR BRETHREN:

It is not my purpose in this report to present any views on the important subject of Female Education, the demands of the times in connection with it, and the manner in which these demands may be successfully met, but to give a brief, general statement of the operations of the school, since your last annual meeting.

The spring session of the present year was as prosperous as any session has been since the reopening of the College in 1873, so far as the number of boarding pupils was concerned. The whole number of pupils in attendance during the session, 115 There were 13 young ladies in the Senior Class, all of whom graduated at our Commencement in June.

The Fall Session did not open so favorably. Number of matriculates to the present time, 85. These are classified as follows: Senior Class 13, Junior Class 24, Sophomore Class 23, First Class 13, and 13 in the preparatory department.

We have satisfactory assurances that this decrease in numbers has been caused chiefly by the greatly depressed financial condition of the country.

All the appointments of the Faculty in regard to the government and instruction of the young ladies committed to their care, have direct reference to securing thorough scholarship and a high standard of attainments. Our efforts in this regard have been attended with encouraging success. A majority of our pupils have been obedient, punctual, studious and successful in the prosecution of their studies. It has been our constant aim also, to surround our pupils with an atmosphere of moral purity and true refinement, and to secure an elevated standard of piety among them. We give neither aid nor countenance to the fashionable follies of the times, and earnestly endeavor to check all tendency to extravagance by prudent counsel, and by endeavoring to inculcate right views of the duties and responsibilities of life; and we have cause to feel assured that our efforts, to some extent at least, have been successful. We have faithfully labored to render the College worthy of a liberal share of patronage, and earnestly appeal to the members of the Conference to aid us in our efforts to sustain the Institution and enlarge the sphere of its usefulness.

We have cause to be thankful for the general good health enjoyed by the pupils during the year. There has been only one case of protracted, though not dangerous sickness.

In regard to our financial condition, I have nothing very encouraging to report. Since the close of the spring session, our collections have been very meagre.

When the present session began, there was due the College on previous sessions, about $7.500. A very small portion of this sum has been collected. If all claims now due were paid, we could liquidate all claims against the College for current expenses, and have several thousand dollars in hand

Since the re opening of the College, there have been paid, from the operations of the school, in scholarships, on loans, interest, &c, about $6 500.

At the last annual meeting of the Trustees of the College, the following gentlemen were unanimously recommended to this Conference for election as Trustees of the Institution: Rev J E Mann, Rev E A Yates, Rev W S Black, F C Robbins, Esq., and Rev L S Burkhead, D D.

Respectfully submitted,
T. M. JONES, President.

APPOINTMENTS.

RALEIGH DISTRICT—N H D Wilson, P E.
Raleigh, Edenton St.—L S Burkhead.
" Person St.—W C Norman.
Carey—W H Jordan.
Rolesville—L J Holden.
Smithfield—R M Brown.
Tar River—R S Webb.
Youngville Miss.,—M J Hunt.
Louisburg—F L Reid.
North Granville—J T Gibbs.
South Granville—J E Thompson.
Henderson—J P Moore.
Nashville—T B Reeks.
Editor "Raleigh Christian Advocate," J. B. Bobbitt.

HILLSBORO DISTRICT—L L Hendren, P E.
Hillsboro Station—J H Wheeler.
Durham Station—W H Call.
Alamance—Robah F Bumpass.
Chapel Hill and Haw River—J J Renn.
Pittsboro—W H Moore.
Yanceyville—L H Gibbons.
Deep River—J F Craven, T C Moses, Supernumerary.
Leasburg—T J Gattis.
Person—B H Gibbons.
Orange—J B Martin.
A W Mangum, Prof. at Univ. of N. C.

GREENSBORO DISTRICT—M L Wood, P E.
Greensboro Station—S D Adams.
North Guilford—Jno W Lewis.
South Guilford—J R Scroggs.
Thomasville and High Point—P L Herman.
Trinity—B Craven.
Davidson—Chas H Phillips.
Randolph—T P England.
Forsyth—S H Helsabeck.
Winston Station—P J Carraway.
Stokes—E J Eudaily.
Madison—L E Stacy.
Wentworth—V A Sharpe.
B Craven, President of Trinity College
J A Cunninggim—Agent for Conference Colleges.

SALISBURY DISTRICT—D R Bruton, P. E.
Salisbury Station—W C Gannon.
Salisbury—R T N Stephenson.
Mooresville—T L Triplett.
Statesville Station—T A Coon.
Statesville Circuit—To be supplied.
Mocksville Circuit—T A Boone.
Davie—W C Willson.
Iredell—Jos Wheeler.
Alexander—H F Wiley.
Wilkes—E Howland.
Yadkinville—S D Peeler.
Mt. Airy Station—Jas Willson.
Saurston Miss.—W B Madess
Surry,—W S Creasy.
Blue Ridge Miss.—A M Long.

SHELBY DISTRICT—R G Barrett, P E.
Shelby Station—H T Hudson.
Shelby Circuit—J W North.
Cleaveland—J D Carpenter.
Rutherfordton,—G F Round
Columbus Miss.—J B Carpenter.
Marion—A Gault
Upper Broad River Miss.—N G Whittington.
Morganton Station—To be supplied by B F Dixon.
Morganton Cir—P F W Stamey.
Caldwell Circuit—L Shell, J C Crisp, Supernumerary.
Lenoir Station—W M Robey.
Happy Home—J S Ervin.
Newton—J C Bartsell.
Rock Spring—G W Ivy.
South Fork—C M Anderson.
Dallas—J W Puett.
Lincolnton—J T Harris.
W M Bailey—Pro Davenport Female College.

CHARLOTTE DISTRICT—W H Bobbitt P E
Charlotte, Tryon St.—A A Boshamer
North Charlotte—To be supplied.
South Charlotte Z Rush.
Pineville—W D Lee
Pleasant Grove—M C Thomas
Monroe Station—O J Brent
Monroe Circuit—M H Hoyle.
Concord Station—H P Cole.
Concord Circuit—J C Thomas.
Mt Pleasant—A D Betts.
Albemarle—T P Rickard.
Stanly, —Miles Foy.
Ansonville—T H Edwards.
Wadesboro Station—T W Guthrie.
Wadesboro Circuit—J H Guinn.
Lilesville—C M Pepper.

FAYETTEVILLE DISTRICT—J S Nelson, P E.
Fayetteville Station—L W Crawford.
Cumberland—I W Avent.
Robeson—Ira T Wyche.
Laurinburg—B C Phillips.
Rockingham—J W Jenkins.
Pee Dee—M V Sherrill, W B Doub.
Uwharrie—B R Hall.
Montgomery—I F Keerans.
Drowning Creek Miss—W S Chaffin.
Carthage—J Tillett.
Jonesboro—S V Hoyle, G Farrar—Supernumerary.
Buckhorn—P H Greening.

WILMINGTON DISTRICT—W S Black P E.
Wilmington Front St—J E Mann.
Wilmington Fifth St—J M Rhodes.
Topsail—J B Bailey.
Kenansville—T W Smith.
Magnolia—J F Heitman.
Clinton—J B Alford
Cokesbury—M W Boyler.
Coharrie Miss—F A Bishop.
Bladen—J Sandford.
Elizabeth—D May.
Whiteville, J T Lyon.
Waccamaw Miss. To be supplied by P J Browning.
Smithville—J W Randall.
Onslow—G W Hardison.

NEWBERN DISTRICT—E A Yates, P E.
Newbern Station—J R Brooks.
Goldsboro Station—J T Bagwell.
Wilson Station—R A Willis.
Wayne—F H Wood.
Mt Olive—W H Watkins.
Kinston Station—C C Dodson.
Snow Hill—J P Simpson.
Neuse—J J Carden.
Lenoir, —Jno N Andrews.
Swift Creek,—To be supplied.
Craven,—D Culbreth.
Jones, —J Johnson.
Beaufort Station—A R Raven.
Carteret—N M Jurney.
Straits—N A Hooker.

WASHINGTON DISTRICT—Wm Closs, P E.
Washington Station—B C Coxbreth.
Warrenton—T W Hoyle.
Warren—J R Griffith.
Littleton—R O Burton
Halifax—Jas W Wheeler.
Tarboro Station—W S Rone
Edgecombe, —F D Swindell.
Edgecombe Mis.—To be supplied.
Williamston—L L Nash.
Plymouth and Jamesville—S M Davis.
Columbia—Jas Mahoney.
Bath—J L Lumley.
Matamuskeet—J D Buie.
Portsmouth and Ocracoke—J C Smith.
Cape Hatteras—N S Norton.

Next Conference to be held at Salisbury.

The Christian Advocate

PUBLISHED IN THE CITY OF RALEIGH EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING, TERMS $2.00 POSTAGE PAID.

Our Agents.

All the traveling and local preachers in the bounds of the North Carolina Conference are our authorized agents. Any person sending us ten subscribers, for one year, will receive the paper free.

Our Correspondents.

Communications for publication should be carefully written, and on but one side of the sheet. All letters on the office should be addressed to the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

How to Remit.

In sending money, all amounts should be sent in registered letter, post office order or bank check. The cost of registration, or Post Office order can be deducted from the amount in hand. If money is sent otherwise upon hazard is accepted. It will be at the sender's risk.

The preachers who wish their papers changed are requested to notify us promptly

We learn that the third volume of Dr Haywood's book "Our children," has been called for and is now in press Every family should have a copy Our Conference at its session held in Greensboro last week highly commended this excellent book to all our people

The good people of Greensboro entertained the Conference handsomely and without stint, and well sustained the reputation which the pleasant little city has long possessed for liberality and kindness. During their stay at Conference the editors enjoyed the abundant and refined hospitality dispensed by Mr. and Mrs H. H. Tate at their handsome home in Greensboro. and will always entertain a grateful recollection of the pleasant social intercourse had with the family.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Hog and cotton thieves abound at Battleboro

A new station called Manly has been established on the R. A. A. L. R. R.

The Legislature has awarded the State printing to the News Publishing Co., of Raleigh, N. C.

Mr. B Frank Pitt of Battleboro will assume a position on the Durham Herald, a paper published at Durham, N. C.

A cotton bale was brought into Tarboro and sold the other day weighing ten hundred and twenty four pounds.

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup should be kept in every family A night cough, if unchecked, is often the forerunner of Consumption, and a timely dose of this wonderful medicine has rescued many from an early grave.

ASTHMA AND CATARRH REMEDY—D Langen's advt

Marriages.

Married on the 11th inst at the residence of R L D Bell Esq near Lenoir N C by Rev J Singleton M E S Hawley, of Cumberland N C to Miss Sophie L D nbell.

Married at the home of the bride Nelly Taylor on Thursday the 23rd inst by Rev Jones Osborne, Mr James L Tucker M D, to Miss Mary M Bu Adams, all of Craven Co N C

Married on the 24th inst by the Rev M W Shaw, Mr Samuel Stacy Cox, to Miss Mary Ann Richmond, Va.

Married on the 15th inst by Rev. W. C. Hester, Miss Josephine daughter of Rev. B. B. Hester, to Mr Luther S Milliken, all of Greenville co. S. C.

Deaths.

Obituary notices of twenty lines are inserted without charge The excess over twenty lines or short words is charged for at the rate of 10 cents per line. Count the lines and allow short words to the line, In this way you may always know the amount to enclose. Resolutions of respect are subject to the same rule

Died at the residence of E M Carpenter, Rutherford circuit, N C, on the 11th of August, after a illness of eight months, Jane Carpenter, wife of the above named E. M. Carpenter and the mother of ten children, all of whom are left to mourn their irreparable loss.

She made a profession of religion and joined the M E. Church South, under the ministry of the Rev. V. A. Sharp, about six years ago. She lived up to her profession, and during her long and painful illness, exemplified the faith patience and endurance again her christian woman Her pastor visited her frequently and always found her in a calm and peaceful frame of mind Sometimes her cup ran over, and she would rejoice in God her Saviour.

All of a mother's tenderness arose in her heart toward her children and they formed the last subjects on which found her to earth. This was gently imposed by the hand of the Good Shepherd and she became possessor of the skies of rest

In her house she delighted the books of Job and the Psalms of David, formed a prevailing source of consolation to her. She was fond of singing the songs of Zion, especially the hymn beginning Jesus my all to heaven is gone," and in the hours When the shades of death were gathering around her, with a heavenly smile on her countenance she said to her husband and children "We will be there, we will meet all in heaven."

She often told her pastor and others that she did not fear death and even when speechless, but could make it that I ob. was heard at intervals the large number present, who attended her burial services bore ample testimony to the estimation in which she was held by her friends and neighbors

Her pastor was called to change, will not be lost on the family circle, but will be supplied by a good Steward and one honored member of his body

The neighborhood comforts were strong his faith unwavering. He was remarkable for urbanity of manners and promptness in the discharge of his religious duties.

Long was he a pillar in the M. E. Church at South Creek. All the ministers who preached there before the war found homes under his hospitable roof, and all of them before and since, a friend in his generous heart. His ability was the only limit of his charity.

And while we are happy in the belief, that he rose to us and the church of our beloved and venerated brother is this eternal gain yet would most affectionately tender to his surviving children friends and relatives, for ourselves personally, and for the body we have the honor of representing our heartfelt sympathy and condolence.

JAS. J CARDEN
GEO. D LANGSTON } Com
DAVID C. STYRON.

Ordered by the 4th Quarterly Conference held at Aurora Nov. 11 1876, that the above be sent to the Raleigh Christian Advocate for publication.

E. A. YATES, P E President,
D C. STYRON, Secretary.

Letters and Funds.

Mrs M M Tyson $4 40 T W Harris for Mrs N S Harris 4 40. Rev Dr North Mrs L O Savage $ M Pettigrill & Co Rev J H Page N W Ayer & Son John W Hare self 2 20. Hon K P Battle Rev S Pool Miss C Crenshaw A J Simms Rev J W Jenkins Rev Dr Kelly Rev W H Bobbitt B Rose L B Bynum W J Montgomery self 4 40. Rev J W Watson Rev W M Robey J B Ausley self 2 20. Col W S Carter self 8.20. Miss Emma Harrison 2.20. Miss Adline Harrison 1.36. Rev J R Carpenter J M Foust self 1 10. Rev B B Culbreth for L Hyatt 2.20, G Thompson self 2 10 W Alderman self 2.10 G M Foosbee paper changed, Rev L H Gibbons for Dr Wilcox 2.20. Mrs H J Muse 2.20 M S Phillips 2.20 W S T Brewer 2.20, B D Caveness 2 20. Mrs L A Goldston 2. Mrs C M Merritt 2 20. Rev B R Hall for A Oxendine 1 50. W P Mercer for ob 1.20. Rev M J Hunt for W C Lynam 2 55. J H Best 2.20 E C Bennett 1 10. Rev G Farrar paper sent. Rev Dr Closs for C A Gaylord 2 30. Ashley Woolard 2.20. Rev A A Bosbumer for G H Rowland 2.20. W F Rowland 2.20, J J Russell 2 20. W W White 2 20, L P Hicks 1.10. Wm Taylor 2.20 Wm Tanner 2 20 Mrs N Mayfield 2 20. Mrs N J Hargrove 2 20. J H Taylor 2 20 Rev C M Anderson for Rev R Helton 1.20. J H Noland 2 20 Rev R A Willis for T A Walsworight 2 20. Rev J F Heilman for P H Hanes 2 20. W B Coell 2 20 Rev J Tillett for H C Clegg 2.20. Rev H Wood for J Strickland 2 20. J A Lane 2 20. Rev J H Guinn for subscribers 15 40 Rev P J Carraway for subscribers 6 60 Rev J H Wheeler for subs 4 40 Rev J J Carden for subs 2 30. Rev J T Harris 27.65. Rev J Mahoney for Mrs S Hardesty 2 20 Rev T H Edwards 26 20, Rev W H Moore for Mrs M Lyon 2.20. J Selby 2.20. Rev J D Bule for S A Long 2 20. B B Sanderson 2.20 L S Aldyett 2 20 T Mann 2 20 R W Bowden 2.20 Rev I Kearnes for J Lassiter 2 20 Rev F D Swindell for subs 11. Rev H H Gibbons for Miss L L Vannoy 2 20, G Gray 2 20. Mrs S Long 1 75. Rev S H Hechock for Miss B Doub 2 20 J Pratt 2 20 Rev S Long 1 20.

From Worthington and Tinges, Pharmacists, Baltimore, March 10, 1876: We are assured by the leading physicians that Colden's Liebig's Liquid Extract of Beef and Tonic Invigorator is a truly wonderful preparation, and may be relied upon as a preventive against disease, and effecting positive cures in cases of weakness, ague, depression, fever, and nervous afflictions.

Williams & Haywood, Agents.

WIDE-AWAKE YOUTH'S PAPER —For judicious editing, select and popular contributors and sprigh ly entertaining reading the Youth's Companion has no superior among the Youth's publications

"The Proof of the Pudding," Etc.

In this age of humbuggery it is easy to make bold assertions, but to furnish indisputable evidence of the truth of them is not always easy

We boldly assert that Dr. Tutt's Hair Dye is superior to all others and to prove it we invite testimony of a celebrated Hair Dresser, who has used the various compounds recommended for coloring the hair for twenty five years

READ IT

AUGUSTA GA, November 4, 1871

Dr Tutt.

Dear Sir:—As a Hair Dresser of twenty five years, both in Europe and America I have used all kinds of hair dyes and I am happy to say that yours is superior to any I have ever seen. For several years I have used it with the greatest satisfaction to myself and customers. Respectfully

C BALIZEAN,
French Hair Dresser.

Winter is now fairly upon us, and the leaves are hastening to the lumber woods in various parts of the country. Our advice to every man who goes to the woods be he captain, cook teamster, or any other man, is to take along a good stock of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment and Parsons' Purg tive Pills. Many months of labor (in the aggregate) may be saved by this precaution

Bad enough to look and feel bad yourself, but no excuse for having your horse look and feel badly, when for a mere sum you can buy Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders which given in grain two or three times a week, will make him look and feel well.

Some parents spend their money for Patent Medicine to cure their children's colds Some save their money and prevent the colds by buying SILVER TIPPED Shoes which never wear through at the toe.

Also try Wire Quilted Soles.

nov 22 3w.

WHAT NEXT!

A CONSUMPTIVE CURED—When death was hourly expected all remedies having failed, and in a fit of despair was administered by an unprofessional gentleman a preparation of INDIAN HERBS which cured his only child of consumption. For two years this recipe free on receipt of two stamps to pay expenses. Have also cures night sweats, relieves at the stomach, and will break a fresh cold in twenty-four hours. Address HARDEX & Co., 1 052 Race street, Philadelphia. naming this paper.

Oct 11 3 m

COMMERCIAL REPORT.

WHOLESALE CASH PRICES.

Office of CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE,
Dec. 5th, 1876

REMARKS.

Business greatly improved. Country produce offered in quantities, especially in exchange for groceries

General Market.

FLOUR, North Carolina $7 75@8.00.
CORN 70 to 75
CORN MEAL—67 1-2 to 80.
BAGGING, Standard 13 1 2.
" Dundee 12 1-2.
BACON, N C. sog round, 14. to 15.
" " hams 16 1-2 to 18
BULK C R. sides 10 to 12 1-2
" shoulders, 8 to 9
LARD, North Carolina, 10 1-2
" Western tierces, 15 to 16 2-3.
" Keys, 16 1 2@17 1-2
COFFEE, Prime 20c. 21 1-2
" Fair 18c.
SYRUP, common. 37 1-2
MOLASSES, Cuba, 50.
SALT $2.00.
CHEESE, Cream, 14 to 15.
" Factory, 12.
" Dairy, scarce.
NAILS, on basis for 10d, $3 50.
SUGAR A. 10 1-2.
" Extra C. 11 1-4.
" Yellow, 10@11
LEATHER, Sole 27 1-2@30
HIDES, green. 7@9.
" dry, 18 1-2
TALLOW, 7@8
POTATOES, sweet 75
" Irish, $1.00@$1.20
OATS, shelled, 60
" sheaf, $1.25
FODDER, old, $1.00 New 1.25
HAY, N. C. baled, .85
CHICKENS, grown, 25c.
" young, 20@25
EGGS, 20
BUTTER, country, 25@30
FISH, Mullets, $4.50 to 5.00.
" Cut Herrings, 7@7.50
" Mackerel, new family, $1.00.
BEESWAX, 25.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

VEGETINE

Purifies the Blood, Renovates and Invigorates the Whole System.

ITS MEDICINAL PROPERTIES ARE

Alterative, Tonic, Solvent and Diuretic.

VEGETINE is made exclusively from the juices of carefully selected barks, roots and herbs, and so strongly concentrated, that it will effectually eradicate from the system every taint of Scrofula, Scrofulous Humor, Tumors, Cancer, Cancerous Humor, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Syphilitic Diseases, Canker, Faintness at the Stomach, and all diseases that arise from impure blood. Sciatica, Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Gout and Spinal Complaints, can only be effectually cured through the blood.

For Ulcers and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, Pustules, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, Tetter, Scald-head and Ringworm, VEGETINE has never failed to effect a permanent cure.

For Pains in the Back, Kidney Complaints, Dropsy, Female Weakness, Leucorrhea, arising from internal ulceration, and uterine diseases and General Debility, VEGETINE acts directly upon the causes of these complaints. It invigorates and strengthens the whole system, acts upon the secretive organs, allays inflammation, cures ulceration and regulates the bowels.

For Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Habitual Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Headache, Piles, Nervousness and General Prostration of the Nervous System, no medicine has given such perfect satisfaction as the VEGETINE. It purifies the blood, cleanses all of the organs, and possess a controlling power over the nervous system.

The remarkable cures effected by VEGETINE have induced many physicians and apothecaries whom we know to prescribe and use it in their own families.

In fact, VEGETINE is the best remedy yet discovered for the above diseases, and is the only reliable BLOOD PURIFIER yet placed before the public.

PREPARED BY
H. R. STEVENS, Boston, Mass.

What is Vegetine?

It is a compound extracted from barks, roots and herbs. It is Nature's Remedy. It is perfectly harmless from any bad effect upon the system. It is nourishing and strengthening. It acts directly upon the blood. It quiets the nervous system. It gives you good, sweet sleep at night. It is a great panacea for our good fathers and mothers, for it gives them strength, quiets their nerves and gives them Nature's sweet sleep, as has been proved by many an aged person. It is the great Blood Purifier. It is a soothing remedy for our children. It has relieved and cured thousands. It is very pleasant to take; every child likes it. It relieves and cures all diseases originating from impure blood. Try the VEGETINE. Give it a fair trial for your complaints; then you will say to your friend, neighbor and acquaintance, "Try it; it has cured me."

VEGETINE for the complaints for which it is recommended, is having a larger sale throughout the United States than any other one medicine. Why? Vegetine will Cure these Complaints.

Cannot be Excelled.

CHARLESTOWN, MASS., March 19, 1869.
MR. H. R. STEVENS: Dear Sir—This is to certify that I have used your "Blood Preparation" in my family for several years, and think that, for Scrofula or Cankerous Humors, or Rheumatic Affections, it cannot be excelled; and, as a blood purifier and spring medicine, it is the best thing I have ever used: and I have tried almost everything. I can cheerfully recommend it to any one in need of such a medicine.
Yours respectfully,
MRS. A. A. BINSMORE,
19 Russell Street.

Gives Health, Strength and Appetite.

My daughter has received great benefit from the use of the VEGETINE. Her declining health was a source of great anxiety to all of her friends. A few bottles of the VEGETINE restored her health, strength and appetite.
N. H. HILDEN,
Insurance and Real Estate Agent,
No. 49 Sears Building, Boston, Mass.

Prepared by H. R. STEVENS, Boston, Mass.
VEGETINE IS SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

FOR THE HOLIDAYS

LORD & TAYLOR,
New York.

WE INVITE ATTENTION TO THE FOLLOWING DEPARTMENTS OF OUR RETAIL ESTABLISHMENT, THE LOW PRICES AT WHICH GOODS OF RELIABLE QUALITY WILL BE SOLD DURING THE HOLIDAY SEASON, AND THE ELEGANCE AND RICHNESS OF THE ASSORTMENTS WHICH WILL BE FOUND THROUGHOUT THE ENTIRE STORE.

SILKS,

OF WHICH OUR STOCK IS THE LARGEST IN THE CITY AND OFFERS UNUSUAL FACILITIES TO THE LADY ASSORTING AT HOME. BLACK SILKS IN THE BEST GRADES AT HIGHER PRICES COLORED SILKS very good, at $1.50 and up. A HIGH GRADE OF FRENCH MOIRE ANTIQUE WOULD MEAN AN APPROPRIATE GIFT

DRESS GOODS.

IN DRESS GOODS OUR ASSORTMENTS ARE VERY LARGE and PRICES RANGE from 12 1-2 c. per yard and upwards. VERY FINE LINES OF GOODS ARE OFFERED AT 50c., 62c., 75c. and $1. THESE FABRICS ARE IN THE BEST DARK AND LIGHT SHADES, and are very acceptable.

SHAWLS.

OUR SHAWL DEPARTMENT presents many attractions, as the assortment is large, choice and varied Real INDIA SHAWLS are offering as low as $65 00; with Deeps, Centres and Borders in all the grades, selling from $12 00 upwards. These Prices are below anything yet offered in this market.

LADIES AND CHILDREN'S SUITS.

THE LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S DEPARTMENTS contains many novelties not to be found elsewhere of our own manufacture. Opera Cloaks at $15; small Hair suits at $18, and Rich Suits at $25, will give a good idea of the very low prices at which Goods are sold in this Department A handsome Dress or Suit is a very acceptable present.

FURS

In this line our Stock invites inspection, for we sell a good or fair Seal and Fox for $5 00, with the best grades proportionately low.

LADIES' REAL SEAL SACQUES.

Dark Shades and fine quality, very desirable, from $75. These prices afford positive bargains.

UPHOLSTERY.

The UPHOLSTERY DEPARTMENT contains Damask and Lace Curtains, Reps, Brocatelles, Satines, Cretonnes, Chintzes, Lambrequins, &c., and together with Pier and Mantel Mirrors, Connecting Cornices, Cornices, Shades, &c., &c., Prices in these goods are so reasonable that dwellings may be renewed for the holidays at a very slight cost.

Gent's Furnishing.

Dressing Gowns, Smoking Jackets and Caps Scarfs, Ties, Umbrellas, Gloves, and other articles for gentlemen, suitable for the Holiday season, to which the attention of ladies is invited.

GLOVES.

GLOVES of the most approved makes, in desirable Shades and Colors, put up in quantities to suit purchasers.

ALSO,

A large and carefully selected line of fancy Goods Ornaments, &c., with small Wares in every description, exceedingly appropriate for the Holiday Season.

Samples of Goods and Catalogues of Ladies', Misses', and Children's Furnishing Goods sent free, on application, to all parts of the country. Orders for Goods in every description carefully filled without charge and Goods packed and forwarded to destination.

BROADWAY & TWENTIETH ST
GRAND. CHRYSTIE & FORSYTH
STS., N. Y.

December 6-tf

HAPPY NEW YEAR.

Splendid Holiday Novelties! New Year's Stories; New Year's Presents; New Year's Pictures; New Year's Music; New Year's Gift Books; New Year's Drawing; New Year's Poetry; New Year's Greetings, and other Holiday Novelties, with rare Literary Gems and Fashion Patterns, in the Splendid Holiday January Number of DEMOREST'S MONTHLY MAGAZINE 25 cts., post free. Yearly, $3, with a Splendid Premium. Do not fail to send for and get the January Number, with the beautiful Cabinet and Artist Oil Chromos, worth several times the cost of the Magazine. Sold everywhere. Dec 6-1t.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TEMPLE HARP.

A choice selection of Sacred Music for Choirs, Singing Schools, etc., in Aikin's Seven-Character Notes by which any one can learn to sing in one fourth the time required by other methods.

CRYSTAL GEMS.

A New Music Book for Sabbath-Schools in Aikin's Seven-Character Notes, with a rare selection of tunes, the most beautiful and popular ever published. Specimen pages of both the above mailed free.

THE REST YET.

One POPULAR FAMILY BIBLE with Illustrated Dictionary, Concordance, and other valuable extra matter. Splendid Illustrations and Engravings.—Elegant Bindings. Extraordinary Inducements to good AGENTS. SPECIAL PROTECTION in Territory guaranteed.
MILLER'S BIBLE AND PUBLISHING HOUSE.
Nos. 1102 and 1104 Sansom St., Philadelphia.
dec 9-3m.

"TO THE POINT."

MONEY IS SCARCE, SALARIES AND WAGES ARE LOW, THE COUNTRY UNSETTLED AND DISTURBED.

HAPPILY THERE IS AN OFF-SET FOR THESE EVILS.

W. R. & R. S TUCKER, by their cash system, have add to additional supplies for "Stock"—and are enabled therefore to sell GOOD GOODS at the very lowest prices.

We have the largest stock of Men's, Womens, and Childrens' SHOES in the city. (No old stock or shoddy work,) at the very lowest prices.

Ladies' DRESS GOODS, full line very low.

Ladies' CLOAKS and SHAWLS, very good and very cheap.

MEN'S CLOTHS and CASSIMERES
Kentucky Jeans etc., extraordinarily low.

Men's and Boys HATS. The largest stock in the State, from 40 cts. up to Best Silk Hat for $5.50.

Men's and Ladies' underwear, shirts and drawers—and the best UNLAUNDRIED Shirt, in the State at $1.00.

Also the best LAUNDRIED Shirt, ready for use 50ct Linen, Wamsutta Muslin, at $1.25.

Points on N. C. Plaids—full stock, fast colors, and very low.

To all—"A Penny saved is a Penny made," so bring along your pennies and make yourself comfortable and happy, notwithstanding the times.

W. R. & R. S. TUCKER.

dec 6-tf

TO MUSIC TEACHERS.

A NEW NATURAL and EASY SYSTEM, far superior to any ever before published. Pamphlet containing the system mailed free.
DITSON & CO.
Nos. 1102 and 1104 Sansom St., Philada pa.
Dec 6-3m

The Fruit Recorder and Cottage Gardener

6 Months FREE

will be sent FREE 6 months to all applicants. We do not ask any one to subscribe for our paper until they know what they are to get. It speaks for itself. Price only $1 per year. Most liberal terms to club agents of any paper in the country. Purdy's Small Fruit Instructor is a book of 64 pp. that tells in simple language just how to grow, to have them for home use or market. Price 25 cents; 13 copies, $2. Address A. M. PURDY, ROCHESTER, N. Y. dec 6-1t.

CRYSTAL METAL BRONZED BELLS

FOR

CHURCHES,

SCHOOL HOUSES,

FACTORIES,

SHOPS,

PLANTATIONS.

These Bells are composed of the pure crystal metal, and the shape and weight of metal in them is such as to give the best possible results. They are

SUPERIOR IN TONE AND FINISH

to many others, no matter under what name they may be sold, either "STEEL COMPOSITION" or "AMALGAM," and are

Guaranteed to Give Satisfaction.

The CHEAPEST BELL MADE.

Church Bells furnished at COST.

T. H. BRIGGS & SONS,
Briges Building,
RALEIGH, N. C.
DEALER IN

Hardware, Building Material, Wagon and Buggy Material, Paints, Oils, Glass, Sash, Doors and Blinds. Write for Prices. No charge for Packing or Drayage. Nov 22-tf.

POTTER'S AMERICAN MONTHLY

50,000 subscribers for 1877.

ILLUSTRATED; Best Family Magazine in the Country, at $3 for 1877. 5 copies one year for $13; 10 copies for $25; 20 copies for $50, and a copy of Potter's Bible Encyclopedia, quarto, 3000 Illustrations, price, $20, given to the person sending the club. For sale at all News stands, at 25 cents a number. Special Terms to Agents. J. E. POTTER & Co., Philada, Pa.
nov 1 6t.

B. T. BABBITT'S BABY SOAP.

Only the purest vegetable oils used in its manufacture. A delicate and exquisite perfume for nursery and toilet. Unequalled for the young and the bath. Used in nothing else. Will prevent eruptions, keep the skin soft and smooth, contribute to health, and prevent disease. Does away with all powders, chalk or other ingredients. A certain preventive of chafing, itching, &c., in babies, the causes of half the crying and uneasiness of baby-hood. Worth ten times its cost to every mother and family in Christendom, packed in boxes of 3 cakes of 3 ozs. each, and sent free to any address on receipt of $1.00. Address, for sale by all Druggists. B. T. BABBITT, N.Y.
Oct 11 1y.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE NEW

FARMER'S BOOK

Given a full exposition on 11 kinds of Farm-work, Grasses, Fertilizers, Rotation of Crops, and Farm-yard. It contains a most valuable and practical treatise on House-building, and box of Legal forms and laws for all users. The most valuable farmer's book ever published. For full description and terms, address J. C. McCURDY & CO., Philadelphia, Pa.
oct 25-1y.

THE MENEELY BELL FOUNDRY.

Bells for Churches, Academies, Factories, etc., of the purest Lake Copper and Tin, mounted with the latest improvements. Catalogues and circulars sent free. An illustrated catalogue sent upon application to

MENEELY & CO.,
West Troy, N. Y.

S. M. FREEHMAN & BRO.
ADVERTISING AGENTS
186 W. FOURTH ST.
CINCINNATI O.
ESTIMATES FURNISHED FREE. SEND FOR OUR MANUAL.

POTTER'S AMERICAN MONTHLY

50,000 subscribers for 1877.

ILLUSTRATED; Best Family Magazine in the Country, at $3 for 1877. 5 copies one year for $13; 10 copies for $25; 20 copies for $50, and a copy of Potter's Bible Encyclopedia, quarto, 3000 Illustrations, price, $20, given to the person sending the club. For sale by all News stands, at 25 cents a number. Special Terms to Agents. J. E. POTTER & Co., Philada, Pa.
nov 1 6t.

SITUATION WANTED

A Widow of a minister, aged of long experience in teaching, would locate in a school, or take entire charge of a children not found. References given if required. Address, stating terms,
RALEIGH CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.
Nov 8 tf

KINSTON HIGH SCHOOL

The Fall session will begin Sept. 4th, 1876. Terms moderate.
For circulars, apply to
J. S. MIDYETTE, Principal
Kinston, N. C.
Aug. 16 3m.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

P. J. WRAY & COMPANY.

Mill Wrights and Mill Furnishers.

We keep on hand the Lane Circular Saw Mill, the Simultaneous Screw Head Blocks for those desiring them; the Monitor Turbine Water Wheels; as good, if not the best Cotton Press in use, complete; also dealers in Steam Engines, Planing and Wool Carding, Cotton Gins, Complete outfit for Mills furnished at lowest figures. We furnish competent men to put up our machinery. Satisfaction guaranteed, and if after a fair trial we should fail, we will remove the machinery and refund the money. Give us a trial. We have on hand a large lot of Hewed and Dressed LUMBER, which we will sell at the lowest prices. Our MACHINERY is all new and good. Shop west of N. C. Railroad depot

P. J. WRAY & CO., Raleigh, N. C.
nov. 29-6m.

SCHOLARS' QUARTERLY.

Orders for the Scholars' Quarterly are coming in rapidly from all sections. Those using it pronounce it the best lesson help for scholars yet produced. Commendations of it have been received from every State in the Union. Nearly all who have sent for specimen copies have ordered a full supply for their schools or classes. At the beginning of the new year many schools will do away entirely with Lesson Leaves and the ordinary Question Books and use the Quarterly. The plan of taking subscriptions for it for so short a time as three months, enables schools to give it a trial at little cost. The sending of it to single subscribers at the hundred price has also aided in giving it a wide circulation. Price, twenty-five cents a year.

● Be sure and see a copy of it before selecting helps for 1877. Send seven cents for a specimen. Do it now while you think of it.

Published by John Wanamaker, at the office of The Sunday School Times, 610 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia.

Address, JOHN D. WATTLES, Business Manager.

A SPECIAL OFFER. The Sunday School Times will be sent to any new subscriber, every week for three months, free of postage, for Twenty-five cents. Its editors are H. Clay Trumbull and George A. Peltz. It will contain notes on the lessons for 1877, by Prof. Taylor Lewis, The Rev. A. C. Kendrick, the Rev. Newman Hall of London, and H. Clay Trumbull. Have your teachers try The Times before selecting lesson helps for 1877. Twenty copies to different addresses, will cost but five dollars.

● Regular subscription price, $2 15. To Pastors and Superintendents, $1 65. Specimen copy of the Weekly Lesson Leaf sent free. The most complete leaf of any, although it is sold at so low a price. Send to above address.

NATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHER

Edited by M. C. HAZARD. Is undoubtedly the best Teachers' Help published. Has the most thorough, helpful and inspiring lessons, the best corps of contributors, and the most popular editorial departments. Needs only to be examined in order to be taken. Terms, $1.50 per year. Clubs of five or more receive six Lesson Papers with each copy. Sample copy sent free on application to ADAMS, BLACKMER, & LYON PUB. CO., CHICAGO.
nov. 29-8t.

The Georgia Home
INSURANCE COMPANY,
Columbus, Ga.

Seventeenth Annual Statement, January 1st, 1876.

Cash Capital	$300,000 00
Surplus Fund	224,420.22
Total Assets,	$524 420.22
Losses paid since the organization of the Company,	$1,300,000.00

By the provisions of the charter the private property of the Stockholders is bound for the obligations of the Company.

Will issue policies on Dwelling Houses, Barns, Store houses, Merchandize, Cotton Factories, and all other insurable property.

The Company issues Policies on the participating plan on Dwellings and similar risks—the dividends on which are usually from 20 to 25 per cent per year.

P. F. PESCUD & SON, Gen'l AGENTS N. C., Raleigh, N. C. | P. F. PESCUD, Jr., Special Agent of Company, Raleigh, N. C.
nov 8.

NEW STORE.

L. ROSENTHAL,

Has just received

The Largest Stock of Clothing IN THE CITY.

Three Stores: Nos, 50,54 and Exchange Place

All Goods Warranted to Please or Money Returned,

CLOTHING,

DRY GOODS,

BOOTS and SHOES.

Great Inducements offered to Country Merchants.

Boots and Shoes by the Box, Dozen or Single Pair.

Nov 13-m

$50 to $200 A MONTH FOR AGENTS.

Universal History

ANCIENT, MIDDLE-AGES, and MODERN.

The great interest in all nations and in our own thrilling history of 100 years, makes this book sell faster than any other. 5 books in one. Beautifully illustrated. Low price, quick sales, extra terms. Address J. C. McCURDY & Co., Philadelphia, Pa.
Nov. 8th 6t-3-0-w

USE the MODEL PRESS

and do all your own Printing. Price, $3 to $8. BEST IN THE WORLD For Business Men and Young Printers. Thousands in use. Send two 3 cent stamps for a perfectly illustrated 80 page Catalogue and Price List, entitled, "How to Print." J. W. Daniels & Co., Mfrs. and Dealers in Type and Printing Material, 434 & 436 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

aug 13-3t sow

ASTHMA Dr. LANDELL'S ASTHMA AND CATARRH REMEDY.

Having struggled twenty years between life and death with ASTHMA, I experimented by compounding roots and herbs and inhaling the medicine. Fortunately discovered a sure Cure for ASTHMA and CATARRH. Warranted to relieve any case of Asthma instantly, so the patient can lie down to sleep. By mail, $1.00 per box. Address Dr. LANDELL, Apple Creek, Ohio. For sale by Druggists.

Aug 9-13t sow

BLYMYER MF'G CO BELLS CHURCH SCHOOL FIRE-ALARM

Fine toned, low priced bells. Catalogues and prices, etc., sent free

BLYMYER MANUFACTURING CO.
Est'd 1854 sow 1 Eighth St., Cincinnati, O.

RHEUMATISM.

Leavenworth, Kansas.—Sirs: JOHNSON'S RHEUMATIC COMPOUND cured me of Rheumatism when physicians failed. Dr. J. T. WRIGHT.
Shortstown, N. J.—Gents: After suffering for seven years with Rheumatism, I was cured by one bottle of JOHNSON'S RHEUMATIC COMPOUND, when physicians could give me no relief. JOSEPH ROBBINS.
Price $1. R. E. Sellers & Co., Props., Pittsburgh, Pa.

apl 26-1yeow

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE GREAT

CENTENNIAL HISTORY

Is selling faster than any other book One Agent sold 47 copies in one day. Send for our extra terms to Agents. NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO., Philadelphia Pa. Nov 1-4m.

FREE! 50 samples best article in use, sent free to ladies or agents. Business respectable, profitable and pleasant for clergymen, teachers and others of genteel appearance and average ability. Send your letters and address D. A. RAY & Co. Chicago. Nov 8 1-y

"TEACHER."

Any one desiring a teacher would do well to address, stating terms,
DR. W. A. WILSON, A. P.
sept 20-tf.

NEW MUSIC BOOKS.

A Brilliant List!

The Encore.

(75 cts). By L. O. EMERSON. For Singing Schools, Conventions, etc.

The Whippoorwill.

(50 cts). By W. O. PERKINS, Capital collection of songs for Common Schools

The Shining River.

(35 cts). By H. S & W. O PERKINS. Very beautiful Sabbath School Song Book.

The Salutation.

($1.38). By L. O. EMERSON First Class Collection for Choirs

Biographical Sketches of (100) Eminent Musical Composers. ($2.00). By L. B. URBINO Very Interesting.

Dictionary of Musical

TERMS. ($5.00). STAINER & BARRETT A magnificent book Illustrated. Flush bound.

JUST OUT!

! THE WORLD OF SONG. !

THE VOCAL GEM OF THE SEASON!

Bound Volume of popular songs. In boards $2.50, cloth $3.00 Gilt $4.00.

Either book mailed, post-free, for Retail Price.
OLIVER DITSON & CO.,
Boston
C. H. Ditson & Co., 711 Broadway, New York
J. E. Ditson & Co., Successors to Lee & Walker, Phila.

Oct 18-3m.

Let every one call or write us before buying.

NEW RALEIGH CHINA STORE,

LAW & CO'S

IN SPITE OF HARD TIMES IS A SUCCESS.

Our Sales of Crockery, China, Glass and Queensware, and have brought ORDERS and CUSTOMERS from nearly every county in the State.

First-Class Goods, fully guaranteed, [no others kept] bought in New York at PANIC PRICES and will be sold every day. We Defy Competition in price or quality and will sell as low as the lowest. Chas. Ellis, Agt.

BARGAINS in job lots are sold every week. Don't fail to call.

OUR SILVER PLATED TABLE CASTORS, STANDS, Etc., Cheaper than ever.

Let every one call or write us before buying. Small Crates for Merchants packed up here.

LAW & CO.
RALEIGH, N. C.

Dr. Y. ROGERS' Improved Powder CITRATE OF MAGNESIA

FOR twenty-five years it has given universal satisfaction as a pleasant aperient for Headache, Sickness of the Stomach, Heartburn, and all complaints arising from a filthy, bilious and malarin levers. It cools the blood, and regulates the bowels; it is superior to Saratoga and most mineral waters. Prepared by ARTHUR ROGERS & SONS, 152 Spring Street, New York. For sale by all druggists.

INSURANCE ADVERTISEMENTS.

H. K. ELLYSON, Pres't. ROBT. T. BROOKE, Sec'y.

RICHMOND
FIRE ASSOCIATION OF VIRGINIA.

Cash Assets - - $225,000.00

A Special Deposit of $10,000.00 in North Carolina for protection of our Policy Holders.

Agents wanted at places where the Company is not already represented.

Address, LAWRENCE & ROOT,
Gen'l Agents,
nov 1-f. RALEIGH, N. C.

OLD NORTH STATE
FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY,
OF WARRENTON, N. C.,

HAS BEEN IN SUCCESSFUL OPERATION FOR FOUR YEARS.
ALL LOSSES PROMPTLY ADJUSTED AND PAID.
A THOROUGHLY RELIABLE SOUTHERN COMPANY

$6 of Assets to $1 of Liabilities

OFFICERS:

WM. S. DAVIS, President, N. R. JONES, Vice-President,
B F. LONG, Secretary, WM. J. NORWOOD, Treasurer
oct 25-tf. T. C WILLIAMS, Solicitor.

P. F. PESCUD. Agency Established in 1866. P. F. PESCUD Jr.

P. F. PESCUD & SON,
BRIGGS' BUILDING,
RALEIGH, N. C.

Represent some of the oldest, largest, and most reliable insurance Companies in the world, and have policies on the most favorable terms.

FIRE COMPANIES:

GEORGIA HOME. TEXAS BANKING & INS. CO.
INSURANCE COMPANY of North America. CITY FIRE of Richmond.
ATLANTIC, of New York. HAMBURG—Bremen.
AMAZON, of Ohio. ATLAS, of Hartford.
NORTH CAROLINA HOME. LANCASHIRE, Manchester, Eng

Whose combined assets are $24,000,000.

National Life Insurance Co., U. S. A.,
Capital, - - $1,000,000. Assets, - - $1,000,000.
Mutual Life Insurance Co., of New York.
Assets, $82 000 000.
It has 92 000 Policies in force.

Fire Insurance, and Insurance on lives of BOTH SEXES, in any part of North Carolina, may be secured through us.

P. F. PESCUD & SON.

1876. FALL AND WINTER SUPPLY. 1876.

HELLER BROS.

HAVE OPENED THEIR NEW STOCK OF

BOOTS, SHOES, TRUNKS, and SATCHELS,

At No. 31 Fayetteville Street,

Consisting of a large variety of Ladies, Misses and Children's Feble Goat, French and Glove Kid, Lace and Gait n Boots, Congress and Foxed Gaiters.

The largest variety of Boys'

Children's Column.

THE TWO FORTRESSES.

I know a little fortress where Numbers of people hide,
I wonder, my young friends, if you
Have ever been inside!

Some think it is a fortress sure,
(Although in truth 'tis not;)
Thither the careless love to run;
'Tis called, "I quite forgot."

"You "quite forgot" that mother called
To-day when you were reading;
You let her wait upon herself,
While you went on unheeding.

You "quite forgot" to leave your room
As tidy as you ought;
And then, O how ashamed you felt
When visitors were brought!

This morning you "forgot" to pray,
And everything went wrong!
Cross words, unkindness, bitter thoughts,
Have teased you all day long.

And now to shield your character
This fortress is no use,
For those around you plainly see
"Forgot" 's a lame excuse.

For if you always "quite forget,"
Folks feel they cannot trust you;
You'll lose respect and forfeit love,
And little good will do.

But there's another little fort
That I shall like to mention;
Conscience and Duty are its guards;
'Tis called, "I'll pay attention."

Will you not come and man this fort?
Instead of cure, prevention
'Twill give you, if you say and mean,
Henceforth, "I'll pay attention."

The Astor Vault.

The vault for the remains of the late William B. Astor, in Trinity cemetry, between One Hundred and Fifty third and one Hundred and Fifty fifth streets, New York, is nearly completed. It is of Quincy granite, and the walls are two feet four inches thick. The interior dimensions are seventeen feet four inches by twelve feet ten inches. The vault is lighted by plate glass in the rear wall, the glass being sufficiently transparent to admit the light, but not to afford a view of the interior from the outside. The floor of the vault is of six-inch marble slabs laid on solid masonry. Around three sides of the interior are shelves of granite, six inches thick and two feet six inches wide. A descent of ten granite steps from the front leads to the interior of the vault. The entrance is indicated by four granite posts with polished panals. From the two oester posts rise a pediment over the doors, surmounted by a cross, the name, "William B. Astor," being in raised letters in the center of the pediment. The railing on the walls of the vault is of solid brass, and is capped with a coping of brass ten inches in thickness. The cost of the vault will be $25,000.

A Bird-Charming Lady.

A few months since, says the Jacksonville (Florida) Union, a handsome mocking-bird flew into the residence of a lady in this city and alighted at her feet, exhibiting little or no fear or suspicion of her, and permitting her to catch it in her hand. She placed it in a cage and it seemed happy and contented, and proved to be one of the finest singers of its species, filling the house with its varied and melodious strains, until after some four months of captivity it was taken sick and died, much to the sorrow and regret of its mistress. A short time after the decease the same lady was sitting in her room when another beautiful bird of the same family came in and took its position near her, apparently inviting her to capture it, which she did without difficulty. She placed it in the same cage, and it seemed as contented as the other had done, as if it knew and coveted a life with so gentle a mistress.

HOSPITALITY IN TEXAS.—In no city in the United States, says the San Antonio Herald, is the travel-stained, weary traveler taken as good care of as in a San Antonio hotel. The manners and customs of the guests are carefully studied. A young man from the frontier, stopping at one of our hotels, told the clerk the other evening that he was going to be out late. 'Just wait a minute,' replied the clerk and he rushed off, but soon reappeared with a large envelope, which he placed in the guest's breast pocket, with the remark: "That's a bond for your appearance before the Recorder, properly signed. As soon as you are arrested for being drunk and disorderly just give the bond to the policeman, mention my name to him, and he will bring you home in a hack. Good-night! God bless you!'

LEARNING A TRADE.—Let every wealthy man who fails to bring up his children to industry and usefulness, rather than leaving them to indulge in "great expectations," bear in mind that the boy born with a silver spoon in his mouth frequently has to taste pewter before his pilgrimage is over. Indeed it may be his fortune to be splashed with mud from the carriage wheels of one who had been a servant when he was idling away time in anticipation of the future.

Rural and Domestic.

ORCHARD GRASS.

This valuable (though much neglected) grass is indigenous to the soil of America, and from its adaptability to the various soils, its early and late growth, luxuriant foliage and nutritive qualities, is well entitled to an equality with any grass, either native or foreign, which is being cultivated in this country. Orchard grass, when sown with clover, grows as rapidly, starts in the spring as early, and by this similarity of habit makes a suitable grass to mix with it. For pasturage, we greatly value orchard grass for three reasons: it stands drouth much better than any other, will bear heavier stocking, and comes forward in the spring very early.

We have often been surprised to observe how quickly orchard grass recovers and grows after being closely cropped; a week or ten days of summer's growth will make quite a good pasturage. Orchard grass, also by its great amount of fibrous roots, tends to improve instead of impoverish the soil, and we have observed that an orchard grass sod generally turns up a dark color on being plowed. It is not at all fit for a lawn, as it sometimes grows in bunches or tussocks, especially when sown thin. The proper quantity, when sown alone, is two bushels to the acre; when sown with clover one bushel is sufficient. Perhaps there are no other two grasses that can be sown together with so great advantage as red clover and orchard grass by their union; the crop is nearly double what it would be if each were sown separately; they grow and flower well together, come to maturity about the same time, and the clover is supported from falling by the uncommon strength of the orchard grass. Mr William Crozier, of the Beacon Stock Farm, North, L. I., who has had large experience in the cultivation of orchard grass, states that he considers it the most profitable grass a farmer can raise whether for meadow or pasturage. A ride over his fields during the month (June) convinced me of its superior merits. While the timothy meadows in many parts of Long Island were so backward as scarcely to appear more than six inches high on an average, I found his orchard grass and mammoth clover meadows averagiug fully two feet, and in flower. Abundance of his rich succulent herbage was but cut and fed to his horses, etc. His elevated and rolling pasture lands, studded with Alderneys, Ayrshires, and Devons, amply supplied with sweet herbage, composed of a mixture of grasses in which orchard grass predominates, and with which those pastures are luxuriantly covered. A twenty acre field of oats seeded down with orchard grass and mammoth clover, April 23, was making a fine appearance, the orchard grass being several inches high, and coming up very evenly all over the field. There is no doubt but that his success is, in a great measure, owing to the excellent system he adopts. He recommends thorough pulverization and cleaning of the land, liberal manuring, and liberal seeding, even sowing on a rolled surface and covering with a chain harrow afterward. He has succeeded well with both spring and fall sowing of seeds under the above conditions; he sows from one and a half to two bushels of orchard grass seed, and fifteen pounds of mammoth clover seed per acre, with his spring or winter grain; nearly double that quantity if sown alone. A bushel of good fair orchard grass seed should weigh fifteen pounds to the bushel, cut during the season that intervenes between the flowering and forming of seed.—Extract from John Henderson's Book on Grasses.

An Unanswerable Argument

The strongest argument which can be urged against the advisability of administering such corrosive and nerve-destroying poisons as arsenic and quinine for intermittent and remittent fever, is the vastly superior success in the prevention and cure of such diseases of a medicine which is the very antipode of the above named drugs, both in respect of its composition and the result wrought by it, Such a medicine is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a purely vegetable preparation, which not only eradicates with wonderful promptitude every form of fever and ague, and kindred types of malarious disease, from the system, but is a certain preventive of all maladies begotten of miasma-tainted air and water. These results mineral anti-febrila remedies do not effect with certainty, and their continued use entails consequences highly pernicious to the system. The bitters, on the contrary, not only afford speedy relief, but establish health on a permanent basis.

SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR

J. H. ZEILIN & CO.

A gentleman writes thus: "I write you this note to congratulate you on being the proprietor of the best Liver Medicine, Simmons' Regulator, known to the human race. I have known it for a number of years, and I pronounce it, as prepared by you, pure and genuine; and I pray you, for the sake of humanity, to keep it so, as long as it is in your keeping.—You may prepare it and recommend it, but you will never know the true value of it, unless you have a disordered liver yourself. It unclogs the liver of impurities with which it has been confined for years, and puts the wheels in their original motion. I have written these lines with no other view but to give you my honest sentiments."

For Sale by all Druggists.

May 31-26t eow.

WAKE COUNTY: In the Superior Court.

State of N. C, on Relation of E E Stamps Trustee of Georgeanna Spivey, &c., &c., Against
George H. Farribault, Admr of A. H. Taylor, and George H. Farribault and wife Rose, S A Taylor, N A Taylor and Matilda A Taylor; W D Jones, Wm B Mitchell, Candice Johns, Ex.of J D Johns, David Lewis and T B Johns, Ex'rs of C F Johns, Thos J Johns, John S Johns, Patrick H Johns, C N Allen and wife C V Allen and Hannah Johns.

Summons for Relief

THE STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
To the Sheriff of Wake County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon Matilda A. Taylor, Nat. A. Taylor and S. A. Taylor, the Defendants above named, if they be found within your County, to be and appear before the Judge of our Superior Court, at a Court to be held for the County of Wake at the Court House in Raleigh on the 5th Monday after the 2nd Monday of August 1876, and answer the complaint which will be deposited in the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court of said County, within the first three days of the next Term thereof, and let the said Defendants take notice that if they fail to answer the said complaint within that time, the Plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Hereof fail not, and of this summons make due return.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, this 19th day of Sept 1876.

J. N. BUNTING,
Clerk Superior Court Wake County.

NORTH CAROLINA, Wake County, } SUPERIOR COURT. Fall Term 1876.

State of N. C. on relation of E. E. Stamps, Trustee, &c., vs. Geo. H. Farribault and others

It appearing to the satisfaction of the Court upon affidavit, that the defendants Sam'l A. Taylor, Nat A Taylor and Matilda A Taylor are necessary parties to this action, and that after due diligence they cannot be found in this State—It is ordered by the Court that service by publication of the summons in this cause be made upon the said defendants once a week for six weeks in the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, a newspaper published in the city of Raleigh, and that copies of the same be mailed to said defendants at their places of residence if such be known.

S. W. WATTS, J. S. C.

nov 8-6w.

WANTED—SALESMEN—Traveling and local; staple goods; no peddling; salary $75 per month. Hotel and traveling expenses paid. S. A. GRANT & CO., Manufacturers of paper and envelopes, 2, 4, 6 and 8 Home St., Cincinnati, O.

Nov. 15th 2-t

COMMISSION MERCHANTS.

THE OLDEST

WHOLESALE GROCERY HOUSE

In Raleigh!

ESTABLISHED IN 1869.

LEACH BROTHERS

WHOLESALE GROCERS

— AND —

Commission Merchants,

RALEIGH, N. C.

Ask the attention of the trade to their stock of

STAPLE GROCERIES,

ought from first hands by their resident Partner in New York, and offered in this market on small margins.

With an ex-perience of seven years in the grocery business in this city they will make it to the interest of prompt paying customers to send them their orders.

P. O. Box 416, Raleigh, N. C.

March 8th 1-y

NEW FIRM

TO FRIENDS AND PUBLIC GENERALLY

I have associated with me Mr. G. D. Rand (formerly Rand & Barbee Lumber Dealers,) as a partner in the wholesale and retail Grocery and General Commission business. I respectfully tender my thanks for past favors and hope to have them continued with the new firm. Yours truly,

January 6, 1876. L. R. WYATT.

G. D. RAND. L. R. WYATT.

RAND & WYATT,

Wholesale and Retail Grocers

AND

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

Have on hand and constantly receiving a fresh and first class stock of consisting of Flour, a specialty, Meal, Corn Bacon Lard, Sugar, Coffee, Pepper and spices, Molasses (new crop Cuba), Syrup, Toilet and Laundry, Soaps, Wood and Willow Ware, Fancy Groceries, &c.

GROCERIES

Everything embraced in a First Class Grocery which we propose to sell at Lowest figures.—Give us a trial. Orders with proper reference respectfully solicited, which shall receive our prompt attention. Consignment of Cotton and other produce solicited. Best prices guaranteed Yours truly,

RAND & WYATT,

Opp. East end of Market, Raleigh, N. C.

July 12 1 y

SCHEDULES.

PIEDMONT AIR-LINE RAILWAY.

RICHMOND & DANVILLE, RICHMOND & DANVILLE R. W., N. C. DIVISION, and NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. W.

CONDENSED TIME-TABLE.

IN EFFECT ON AND AFTER SUNDAY, OCT. 15TH, 1876.

GOING NORTH.

STATIONS.	MAIL.
Leave Charlotte	4.55 A M
" Air-Line Junc'n	5.30 "
" Salisbury	7.35 "
" Greensboro'	9.55 "
" Danville	12.2 P M
" Dundee	1.48 "
" Barkeville	5.05 "
Arrive at Richmond	7.40 P M

GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS.	MAIL.
Leave Richmond	7.50 A M
" Burkeville	10.46 "
" Dundee	2.55 P M
" Danville	5.59 "
" Greensboro'	8.40 "
" Salisbury	8.45 "
" Air-Line Junc'n	10.25 "
Arrive at Charlotte	11.37 "

STATIONS.	GOING EAST. Mail	GOING WEST Mail.
Leave Greensboro'	10.05 A. M.	Arrive 6.25 P. M.
" Co. Shops	11.21 A.M.	Leave 4.25 "
Arrive at Raleigh	2.41 P. M.	Arrive 12.30 "
Arrive at Goldsboro'	5.05 P. M.	Leave 10.10 P M

ACCOMMODATION TRAIN.

STATIONS.	Going South.	Going North.
Leave Greensboro'	6.33 P. M.	Arr. 9.00 A. M.
" Co. Shops	11.10 "	Lv. 6.50 A. M.
Arr. at Raleigh	2.01 A.M.	Lv. 2.00 P. M.
Arr. at Goldsboro'	11.30 "	Lv. 5.30 P. M.

NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. R.

(SALEM BRANCH.)

Leave Greensboro'	6.40 P.M.
Arrive at Salem	8.15 A. M.
Leave Salem	7.03 A.M.
Arrive at Greensboro	9.15 "

Passenger Train leaving Raleigh at 12.34 P. M. connects at Greensboro' with the Southern mail train; making the quickest time to all Southern cities.

Accommodation Train leaving Greensboro at 10.15 P. M. connects with Northern bound Train at Greensboro for Hillsboro and all points East. Price of Tickets same as via other routes.

No Change of Cars between Atlanta and Richmond, 547 Miles.

Papers that have arrangements to advertise the Schedule in this company will please print as above and forward copies to General Passenger Agent.

For further information address

JOHN R. MACMURDO,
Gen'l Passenger Agent,
Richmond, Va.

—:o:—

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE

RALEIGH & GASTON RAILROAD,
SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,
Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 9th, 1876.

GOING NORTH.

Leave Raleigh	9.50 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon	5.00 P. M.
Leaves Weldon	12.40 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh	5.40 P. M.

ACCOMMODATION TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh	5.00 A M.
Arrives at Weldon	5.35 P. M.
Leaves Weldon	5.50 A M.
Arrives at Raleigh	5.15 P. M.

Mail train makes close connection at Weldon, with the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad and Bay Line Steamers via Baltimore, to and from all points North, West and Northwest, and with Petersburg Railroad via Petersburg, Richmond and Washington City, to and from all points North and Northwest.

And at Raleigh with the North Carolina Railroad to and from all points South and Southwest, and with the Raleigh & Augusta Air Line to Haywood and Fayetteville.

JNO. C. WINDER,
Gen'l Superintendent

RALEIGH & AUGUSTA AIR-LINE RAILROAD.

SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,
Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 30th, 1876.

On and after Monday, October 30th, 1876, trains will run as follows.

TRAIN MOVING SOUTH.

	Arrive	Leave
Raleigh,		6.30 A. M.
Cary,	7.00 A. M.	7.30 "
Apex,	7.50 "	7.55 "
New Hill,	8.25 "	8.30 "
Merry Oaks,	9.00 "	9.05 "
Moncure,	9.35 "	9.45 "
Osgood,	10.15 "	10.30 "
Sanford,	10.50 "	11.05 "
Munn,	11.35 "	11.37 "
Cameron	12.07 P. M.

TRAIN MOVING NORTH.

	Arrive	Leave
Raleigh,	6.09 P. M.	6.00 P. M.
Cary,	5.32 "	5.22 "
Apex,	5.17 "	5.12 "
New Hill,	4.42 "	4.17 "
Merry Oaks,	4.07 "	4.12 "
Moncure,	3.22 "	3.37 "
Osgood,	2.47 "	2.52 "
Sanford,	2.05 "	2.17 "
Munn,	1.30 "	1.39 "
Cameron,		1.09 "

J. C. WINDER, Superintendent

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE BUFFALO

LITHIA WATERS

THE GREAT

STOMACH WATERS

Of America.

Case of Mrs. ——— cured by Dr. Marcus A Harris, a distinguished physician of Black Walnut, Halifax Co., Va.

(Extract from Letter of Dr. H., of July 28, 1876.)

"Mrs. ——— has been for twenty years a sufferer from Dyspepsia in a most aggravated form. Prominent among a multiplicity of distressing symptoms were attacks of Spasmodic Gastralgia, varying in duration and intensity, and becoming less and less amenable to treatment. For a few months before she commenced the use of the Buffalo Lithia Waters the attacks became more prolonged and violent, and her emaciated, cachetic and distressed condition gave unmistakable evidence of a rapid decline, allaying that time by some of the best medical men of that city, without benefit. From this I was brought to my home in Princess Anne county, as was supposed, to die, when, by mere chance, I came in possession of one of your Springs' pamphlets, and with but little faith, determined to try the water. A single glass resulted in an improvement in my condition so radical, that I am now able to attend regularly to my business on the farm. I do believe this to be the greatest stomach-water of the world.

Very truly yours,

JOHN F. KEELING.

In affections of the Kidneys and Bladder, in Gout, Rheumatism and Paralysis, these waters have accomplished results as remarkable as any of record. They are for sale in cases of one dozen half gallon bottles at $5 per case, payable in advance.

The Springs Pamphlet sent to any address on application.

THOS. F. GOODE, PROPRIETOR

BUFFALO LITHIA SPRINGS,

Mecklenburg Co., Va.

oct 11-tf.

DYSPEPSIA AND NERVOUS HEADACHE.

Case of Dr. T. H. Putnam, a well-known physician of Chesterfield county, Va.

Extract rom letter dated Longwood, Va., September 4th, 1876:

"For years I have suffered from indigestion, causing sick headaches, ... the most intense agony. I have v... most celebrated mountain springs ... mineral waters from the springs of ... have found no such relief as I have experienced from the use of two cases of the BUFFALO LITHIA WATER, Spring No. 3. I have prescribed it for several patients suffering from symptoms produced by Dyspepsia—such as loss of appetite, general debility, headache, cough and severe pain in the Epigastric region—with the happiest results."

* Post office Chula, Amelia county, Va.

DYSPEPSIA.

Case of John P. Keeling, Esq., a well known citizen of Princess Anne county, Va.

PRINCESS ANNE CO., VA., Aug. 15, 1876.

Col. THOS. F. GOODE:

Dear Sir—It is with much pleasure I furnish you with a statement of my case and of the relief which I obtained from your LITHIA WATER, as in doing so I may possibly be future some unbeliever to try it and be snatched ... as, from the grave, and restored to health.

For seve... suffered from Nervous Dyspepsia, being so pro-trated by the disease, that at times it was with difficulty I could walk across my room. For some eighteen months I resided in the City of Baltimore, a perfect invalid, having been treated during that time by some of the best medical men of that city, without benefit. From there I was brought to my home in Princess Anne county, as was supposed, to die, when, by mere chance, I came in possession of one of your Springs' pamphlets, and with but little faith, determined to try the water. A single glass resulted in an improvement in my condition so radical, that I am now able to attend regularly to my business on the farm. I do believe this to be the greatest stomach-water of the world.

Very truly yours,

JOHN F. KEELING.

Buffalo Lithia Water, Spring No. 2, is the exclusion of all other treatment. She has been using the water now for some six weeks, with only occasional symptoms of indigestion, and her improvement has been so marked and decided that she is able to attend regularly to her domestic affairs. For four months before commencing the use of the "Lithia Water," her diet was milk and stale bread, alternated with bread and water and bread and tea. She now eats with impunity almost everything—for breakfast, coffee, bread and butter, mutton chops, broiled chicken, &c.; for dinner, mutton, beef, chicken, and any vegetable except Irish potatoes, with deserts, such as cake, ice cream, &c. I will add, that this was one of the most distressing and unmanageable cases of Dyspepsia that I have ever seen in a practice of many years, and that the action of the water in it was marvelous."

WIRE RAILING & ORNAMENTAL Wire Works.

Dufur & Co.,

86 North Howard Street, Baltimore, Md.

Manufacture WIRE RAILING for Cemeteries, Balconies, &c., SHUTTERS, FENCES, CAGES, SAND AND COAL SCREENS, WOVEN WIRE, &c. Also, IRON BEDSTEADS CHAIRS, SETTEES, &c., &c.

Feb 10-12m

GENUINE CRAB ORCHARD SALTS.

THE MILDEST AND BEST GENERAL PURGATIVE IN USE. Endorsed by the highest medical men in the United States. Persons suffering with costiveness of the bowels or torpid liver, will find ready relief by the use of these Salts. None genuine except those put up in bottles with the label of the Crab Orchard Springs Salts Company.

J. B. WILDER & CO., Agents, Louisville, Ky.

THE BOOK AND STATIONARY BUSINESS OF

E. J. HALE & SON,

17 MURRAY ST., New York

Will not be interrupted by the removal of Mr. P. M. Hale to Raleigh. Orders from prompt customers solicited, and promptly filled at lowest market rates.

Oct 25-2m.

HUSH! WAIT FOR THE FALLS WITH WINTER AND SPRING!

DR. CHARLES J. HALL'S

SPECIFIC FOR THE BLOOD AND CHEST.

Sold by Druggists.

DRY GOODS.

BEAUTIFUL STOCK OF FALL & WINTER CLOTHING!

—AND—

GENTS FURNISHING GOODS!

IS NOW BEING OPENED

AT

J. M. ROSENBAUM'S

CLOTHING HOUSE,

Corner Fayetteville and Hargett Streets.

Thanking the good citizens of Raleigh and Wake county, for their liberal patronage in the past, I assure them that I shall endeavor to merit it in the future by keeping good Goods at the lowest living prices. Give me a call before buying elsewhere. We take pleasure in showing our stock and telling our prices.

Oct 18-3m.

1876. 1876.

Fall and WINTER GOODS

—AT—

J. P. GULLEY'S,

DEALER IN

Dry Goods, Notions, Boots, Shoes, Hand Made. Clothing Department up Stairs.

Fayetteville St. and South Corner Market Square,

RALEIGH, N. C.

I wish to say to the Ladies that I am Sole Agent here for Frank Leslie's Journal

CUT PAPER PATTERNS.

Have stock of these Patterns on hand, comprising all the latest Novelties for Ladies, Misses, Children and Boys, for every description of Dress.

Circulars sent on application free.

J. P. GULLEY

Oct 18-tf.

1876. 1876.

DRY FALL GOODS!

We have just received our complete stock of Goods for the Fall and Winter trade.

We call the attention of ladies to our superior stock of Dress Goods, which are much lower than ever known before.

Our Black Alpacas are of the very best quality and at low prices.

Our Stock of Ladies Cloaks is very large, of the very latest styles and are selling rapidly.

LADIES' TIES OF THE VERY LATEST STYLE.

A Handsome line of Ruffs and Ladies Collars and Cuffs.

Gents Cassimers, all Grades.

Large lot of Gents Latest style

Silk Hats at $5.50, the best quality in the city, also a broad brim fine Felt Hat.

Canfield Boots and Shoes, the best made,

A Large lot of Cloth, Velvet and Leather Belts,

Special inducements offered to Merchants buying in the State. Our wholesale department is complete.

PETTY & JONES,

30 Fayetteville Street,

Raleigh, N. C.

Oct 18-tf

D. S. WAITT & BRO.

Beg leave to inform their customers that they have removed to the well known stand of James M Towles, No. 62 Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, N. C., which they have fitted up entirely new, and have purchased a large and well assorted stock of

READY-MADE CLOTHING!

FOR MEN, BOYS AND CHILDREN.

Men's Sack Suits for $4 00; Men's Frock Suits for $3 00; Men's Extra Business Suits, from $10 to $25; Men's Fine Black Suits, from $17.50 to $30. Boys' Fancy Suitest Suits, $4 to $6; Boys' Cas. Suits, $8 to $15; Children's Suits, $3 to $10. Over-Coats, $5 to $30. Come and get SUITED.

GENTS FURNISHING GOODS.

Hamburg Edgings and Insertions,

Notions Hosiery, Gloves, Cambrics, &c

Boots, Shoes, Umbrellas, Hats, Caps and Furs,

DOMESTIC DRY GOODS,

CONSISTING OF

Prints, Alpacas, Merinos, Del Ines, Ginghams, Cotton Plaids, Cottonades, Kentucky Jeans, Cassimeres, Cambrics, Blue Denims, Osnaburgs, Tickings, Flannels, Shirting Stripes, Opera Flannels, Linseys, &c.

BLEACHED & BROWN SHEETINGS & SHIRTINGS.

Thanking our friends for their liberal patronage in the past, we feel confident that in our new store with New Goods, bought at the lowest prices, we will be able to please all.

Respectfully,

D. S. WAITT & BRO.,

oct 4-tf. No. 57 Fayetteville St., Raleigh, N C

READ! READ!

In order to compete with New York houses and to keep up with the times,

ISAAC GETTINGER

has determined to put down prices, and less money shall flow Northward in the future. To prove that I am in earnest, and mean what I say, I will give a partial list of prices:

Straw Hats from 40 cents up.
Felt Hats from 85 cents up.
Ruffs with lace edge from 10 cents per yard up.
Ribbons 1½ inches wide from 12½ cents up, and other widths in proportion.
Corsets from 35 cents up.
Collars from 7 cents up.
Zephyrs from 13½ cents up, only imported.
Real Hair Braids from 60 cents up.
Infants' Merino Cloaks from $1.50 up.
Infants' Crochet Caps from 75 cents up.
Infants' Dresses from $1.00 up.
Worsted Fringe for trimming dresses from 12½c. up.
Kid Gloves from 75 cents up, 2 buttons.
Hamburg Edgings from 6 cents up.

I could name a thousand more articles, but I can only assure the public that my prices will be uniform in every branch, and all I ask is a call.

MY STOCK IS LARGE AND NEW.

ISAAC GETTINGER,
48 Fayetteville Street,
RALEIGH, N. C.

Oct. 18-tf.

Established 1816.

CHAS. SIMON & SONS,

No. 63 N. HOWARD STREET, BALTIMORE,

DEALERS IN

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC DRY GOODS,

would call special attention to their extensive stock of

DRESS GOODS,
LINEN GOODS,
EMBROIDERIES
LACES AND HOSIERY

The best assortment of

Mourning Goods

in the city.

SAMPLES SENT FREE!

All orders amounting to $20 or over, will be sent free of freight charges by Express, but parties whose orders are not accompanied by the money, and having their Goods sent C. O. D., must pay for return of moneys. mch 1-12m

READY FOR AGENTS—THE

CENTENNIAL EXPOSITION

DESCRIBED AND ILLUSTRATED.

A graphic pen-picture of its history, grand buildings, wonderful exhibits, curiosities, great days, etc. Profusely illustrated, thoroughly popular, and very cheap. Is selling immensely. 5,000 AGENTS wanted. Send for full particulars. This is the chance of 100 years to coin money fast. Get the only reliable history. HUBBARD BROTHERS, P. 20, 723 Sansom Street, Philadelphia Pa.

CAUTION.—Do not deceived by premature books assuming to be "official," and telling what will happen in August and September.

Nov 15-3m.

EDUCATIONAL.

PLEASANT GARDEN ACADEMY,

Male and Female.

(Greensboro District Conference School).

Next session begins Aug. 1st 1876.

Entire expenses from $90 to $70.

For particulars, address,

R. P. TROY, Principal,
Greensboro, N. C.

July 26-3m.

Trinity College, N. C.

The Session begins Sept. 5th. Tuition $20 to $33 for five months; board $10 to $12 per month. Entire expense for five months $87 to $96.

Send for Catalogue,

B. CRAVEN.

aug 22-tf.

JOHN J. FRAY'S

CLASSICAL AND MATHEMATICAL SCHOOL.

The 19th session of my school will begin on Sept. 4th, 1876, (1st Monday.) Terms same as heretofore. Boarding pupils will be met at Clayton on the N. C. R. R. 4 1-2 miles distant or at Raleigh.

For circulars containing terms, particulars &c. Address,

JOHN J. FRAY,
Raleigh, N. C.

References:—The faculty of the University of Va. Rev. B. T. Blake, A. T. Mial, Rev. W. H. Bobbitt, Rev. J. S. Bobbitt, D. D. Rev. J. P. Moore.

aug. 22-tf.

DAVENPORT FEMALE COLLEGE

Lenoir, N. C.

REV. W. M. ROBEY, A. M. President.

EXPENSES PER SESSION.

Board including lights and washing	$70,00
Tuition, English course	25.00
Music, with use of instrument	20.00

Entire expenses from $100 to 150.

The fall session will open on the 4th Monday in August and close on 3rd Friday in Jan. The Spring Session will open on the 4th Monday in Jan 1877, and close on 1st Thursday in June.

For information refer to Rev. W. S. Black, P. E. Wilmington, Dis. H. M. Bowden, Wilmington, Rev. E. A. Yates, P. E. Newbern Dis. Rev. Dr. Burke and Raleigh Rev. E. W. Thompson, Fayetteville, Rev. V. A. Sharpe, Thomasville, Rev. J. A. Cunningham, Greensboro, Rev Dr. Craven, Trinity College, Rev. W. H. Bobbitt P. E. Charlotte Dis. and to the Preachers generally of the N. C. Conference.

For circular address the President.

June 28-3m.

WESLEYAN FEMALE INSTITUTE.

STAUNTON, VA.

Will begin its twenty-seventh Annual Session, September 21st, 1876. Rev. W. A. HARRIS, D. D., President, with an able corps of twenty-three Teachers and Officers.

Modern Languages taught and spoken in the College by a native Teacher. Music by able Professors and Teachers, among whom are some of the most cultivated teachers of vocal music in the South.

This is one of the best climates in the Union to market effects in the rapid promotion of the health and vigor of pupils. Those who come here from the South with feeble constitutions, and climatic diseases, are generally restored.

Buildings elegant—famed for purest breezes, commanding the most magnificent scenery, and combining such varied attractions as to make it one of the most delightful college homes in the Union.

This school is usually attended by pupils from fifteen to seventeen different States.

Great economy and simplicity in dress are required. A simple uniform is worn. No unnecessary expense allowed. Strict economy practiced to limit expenses of pupils.

From Bishop D. S. Doggett, D. D.

The Wesleyan Female Institute, located in Staunton, Va., under the Presidency of Rev. W. A. Harris, is, in my judgement, one of the best institutions, for young ladies, in the South. I have occasion to know and appreciate its value by the advantages enjoyed by one of my daughters there, in a course of study by competent Faculty accomplished, and its instruction both solid and elegant. Its personal accommodations are all that can be desired for health and comfort, or taste. No location could be more eligible; no scenery more magnificent; no atmosphere more salubrious. Not the least of its merits, is that sacred regard for religious training, without which no Female College especially, would be a blessing.

D. S. DOGGETT.

From Bishop E. M. Marvin, D. D.

The Wesleyan Female Institute is an honor to the Church. Wesleyan Female Institute, in music, advantages for instruction is unsurpassed. The most talented are employed of very high and neither pains nor expenses are spared. This department eminent.

From Prof F. H. Smith, M. A. L. L. D., University of Virginia.

The Wesleyan Female Institute, at Staunton, deserves the brilliant success it enjoys. Having had a daughter under Mr. Harris' care, my observation leads me to believe this school to be one of the best of Female Seminaries within the limits of our State. The Halls of the Wesleyan Female Institute should be filled to overflowing with pupils from all our Southern States.

FRANCIS H. SMITH.

TERMS FOR THE ENTIRE COLLEGIATE YEAR.

Board and Tuition in the Collegiate course. $240.
For Catalogue, address,

Rev. W. A. HARRIS, President.
Staunton, Va.

CARPENTER & EARL,

DEALERS IN

Coal, Wood and Lumber,

at Western Terminus, Hargett Street.

Best Reliash Egg and Nut Coal per ton of 2240 pounds, Delivered, $9.00

Stove Coal 2240 pounds, " 9.50

Smith " per ton, " 9.00

Hardwood, per cord, " 4.00

Pinewood " " " 3.00

Lumber at low figures.

Orders may be left at Carmers Drug Store, or sent to the yard, and shall receive prompt attention.

Oct 18-6m.

BALTIMORE, OCTOBER 1876.

CHAS. SIMON & SONS

DRESS-MAKING DEPARTMENT.

We would call the attention of our friends and the public in general to this Department.

Under the present management we have met with unprecedented success. We have filled orders for customers residing in nearly every Southern State, and have in our possession numerous flattering testimonials, both as regards fit and style, as well as great superiority in neatly finishing our work.

Our spacious first room will be stock Groceries Silk Dresses, trimmed in same material, a la mode in the most fashionable style, for the low price of $50 00.

These Dresses should not be judged by the price, as they are in every respect superior to anything heretofore offered for the money. Samples of the material and directions for self-measurement sent free by mail upon application.

CHAS. SIMON & SONS,
63 N Howard St.,
Baltimore, Md.

Sept 27-3m.

OFFICE SUPT OF TRANSPORTATION,
Seaboard & Roanoke R. R. Co.,
PORTSMOUTH, Va., Jan. 1st, 1875.

On and after this date, trains of this Road will leave Weldon daily, Sundays excepted, as follows:

Mail train at	4 P. M.
No. 1 Freight train at	4 A. M.
No. 2 Freight train at	8 A. M.

ARRIVE AT PORTSMOUTH.

Mail train at	7 15 P. M.
No 1 Freight at	12 00 NOON.
No 2 Freight at	4 00 P. M.

Freight trains have a passenger car attached.

Steamer for Edenton, Plymouth and Landings on Blackwater and Chowan Rivers leave Franklin at 7.40 A M on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

E. G. GHIO,
Supt. Transportation.

NEW BOOKS FOR SINGING CLASSES!

JOYFUL NOTES

Is printed in our new combined notes, (a figure set in each round note—for do, a for ra, 3 for me, etc.) acknowledged by all to be the best system yet invented, as you have the round notes, and the figures enable those not skilled in reading them to sing them at sight.

HOURS OF SONG

IS THE BEST ROUND NOTE BOOK IN THE FIELD.

HOURS OF SONG and JOYFUL NOTES were prepared by Prof. Jas. H. Fillmore, from long experience and careful observation as a successful teacher. The rudiments are the most thorough, the music grand. Price 60 cents $4.80 per dozen by express; $5.50 per dozen by mail.

FILLMORE BROS., Publishers,
Specimen pages free. CINCINNATI, O.

sept 20-tf

STEAM ENGINES, STEAM BOILERS, SAW, PLOW AND GRIST MILLS MILL GEARING MADE without Patterns SHAFTING, PULLEYS AND HANGERS

The UNEQUALLED HAS LEFFEL DOUBLE TURBINE WATER WHEEL OF BOOK ADDRESS, POOLE & HUNT, SEND FOR CIRCULAR BALTIMORE MD

apl 12-1y.

$5 TO $20 per day at home. Samples worth free. STINSON & Co., Portland,

Raleigh Christian Advocate.

Bobbitt & Gray, Publishers. Published in the Interests of Methodism in North Carolina.

Vol. XXII.—No. 49. Raleigh, N. C., Wednesday, December 13, 1876. $2.20 Per Annum, in Advance

Whole No. 1,137.

Poetry.

Out in the Woodland.

Out in the woodland's shadowy aisles,
Where squirrels are merrily hopping,
All of his sad Autumnal day
The faded leaves are dropping,
Scarlet and amber, gold and brown,
One by one they are rustling down.

Out in the dim old woods to-day
The breeze is wandering slowly,
Pausing to watch the bright leaves drop
Down on their couches lowly,
Breaking forth in a mournful sigh,
"Alas, how soon the beautiful die!"

Out of the clouds, the cold gray clouds,
The radiant sun is peeping,
Catching the wail of the sorrowful winds
Over the bright leaves sleeping;
Breathing on in a cheerful strain:
"The leaves with the summer will come again."

Out from our hearts, our hands, and homes,
Our beautiful hopes are going,
And over the spot where once they bloomed
What sorrowful winds are blowing,
Of purple, and amber, and golden hue,
One by one they fade from our view.

Out from the clouds, the mists, and gloom,
Forth a radiant ray is shining,
Whispering "O, stricken hearts forget
Your weary, ceaseless pining!
Know ye not on you faideless shore
You'll clasp your loved, lost hopes once more!"
—Lizzie E. Thomson, in Transcript.

The Pulpit.

Sermon by Rev. T. De Witt Talmage, Brooklyn Tabernacle.

PHONOGRAPHICALLY REPORTED FOR THE ADVOCATE BY WILLIAM WALTON.

The Bramble for Ruler.

"Then said all the trees to the bramble, Come thou and reign over us."—Judges x. 14

The politics of the Israelitish nation were hopelessly mixed. Some of the people wanted one man to rule over them, and other people wanted another man to rule over them. While the issues were thus perplexed and disrupting, it would at the first of June, God, who is interested, why and to reign the man, by the name of Jotham, upon a pulpit, or rock in the top of Mount Gerizim, where he could be seen, but from which he could not be heard, and there assembled beneath him the heads of families, whom the world has been accustomed to represent as the trees of the forest coming together to hold a political convention to decide who should be the chief magistrate of the nation. And after the convention had been called to order, and all the lusty voices had been heard, and the officers of the convention had taken their places, the meeting rose up and by acclamation nominated the olive tree for ruler—But the olive tree politely declined the nomination, on the ground that it would be a very expensive office to hold, and it would cost more than it would come to. Then the convention nominated the fig tree, but the fig tree declined for the same reason.—Then the convention of trees nominated the vine; but the vine, on the same ground, declined the honor of the nomination. You see that the vegetable and horticultural world are not so much in love for office as is the human race. But after a while, by acclamation from all the leafy voices buzzing and all the clapping boughs re-sounding, they nevertheless nominated the bramble. Now to the bramble with affected modesty thanks the convention for "this unexpected honor," and all the trees of the wood at this display of rhetorical eloquence, cried: "Hurrah! hurrah!" The analogy between the condition of trees in the text and a political nominating convention fails in this one respect, that the convention in the text journeyed so that I would like to hear this parable of Jotham; it is only three or four verses:

The trees went forth on a time to anoint a king over them; and they said unto the olive tree, Reign thou over us.

But the olive tree said unto them, Should I leave my fatness, wherewith by me they honor God and man, and go to be promoted over the trees?

And the trees said to the fig tree, Come thou and reign over us.

But the fig tree said unto them, Should I forsake my sweetness, and my good fruit, and go to be promoted over the trees?

Then said the trees unto the vine, Come thou and reign over us.

And the vine said unto them, Should I leave my wine, which cheereth God and man, and go to be promoted over the trees?

Then said all the trees unto the bramble, Come thou and reign over us.

And the bramble said unto the trees, If in truth ye anoint me king over you, then come and put your trust in my shadow.

We have the people of the United States out a ruler for the next four years. The nation assembled at the ballot box. One political party nominates man, whom we will by courtesy call the fig tree. Another political party nominates a man, whom we will by courtesy call the vine. But, by a strange and unequalled perplexity, there is a danger that the presidential chair will be occupied by a bramble of contention, a thorn of dispute, a nettle of national irritation for that will be the characteristic the administration of either of these men if he take that position at the hands of ballot box stuffers and unfaithful returning boards.

There are people in all the political parties to day, who are saying in the words of the text, to the bramble: "Come thou and reign over us." They would rather have this nation torn to pieces than not; there would be more chance for spoils. But I believe that the vast majority of men in all the political parties of this day, would rather have either the olive, or the fig, or the vine, than for the next four years to have our literary, social, financial, and religious affairs torn and lacerated, and bled and disgraced with the bramble of contention. I believe that the majority of the people in the Democratic party would rather have Rutherford B. Hayes President than to have their own candidate wrongfully inaugurated, and that the majority of the people in the Republican party would rather have Samuel J Tilden President than their own candidate unrighteously promoted. The curse of God and the anathema of twenty millions of people will go into the White House with that man who has no business to go there.

To rouse your Christian patriotism, and to strengthen your faith in God, and to kindle your prayers for this nation, I preach this sermon. Christian men and ministers may not stand off from public affairs. Against carrying politics into religion I am free totally and forever opposed; but I am in favor of carrying religion into politics. My friends, our glorious Christianity will yet bring to its feet all thrones and presidential chairs and ballot boxes. A religion that will not tell a man how to vote, and how to act after he has voted, as well as to pray, is no religion at all. The bloated fists of ruffianism swinging around the head of the popular sovereign on election day, must give place to another spirit. I have no faith in the decision of an election started in a drunken caucus, and assessing its candidates in the back part of a grog shop. How then shall our political circles be purified? Will professed politicians do it? No. They will advocate their own party, whether right or wrong. Will our political orators do it? For the most part, no. For I stopped on my way up the street, in the Democratic head quarters, and I heard there that all the Republicans are thieves; and then I stopped at the Republican head quarters, and I heard there that all the Democrats are villains. So I made up my mind that neither of the political parties of the day is able to report in regard to the other party. Whence then shall come the healing, purifying and elevating influence?—From the Word of God and the Spirit of God, and from no other source. And I call on men who believe in the Bible, and the coming of a judgment day in which we must give an account for all our votes as well as for all our words and actions, to join in the crusade against the nefarious influences that are now abroad. The fine gentleman may exercise the right of suffrage, then go back to his beautiful parlor, or to his fine counting-house, and feel that he is independent of political immorality. No, sir! You will feel it in your business; and shall not we who have sons and daughters coming up around the hearthstone, recognize the fact that there are influences abroad to poison all the fountains of public virtue? These influences are coming up, like the frogs and lice of Egypt, into your sleeping apartments and into your bread trays. The moral pestilence will taint all the air, and the malaria of the lowest wards in the city will touch the highest circles, and the wretch crawling out of the very sewer of the city to vote will with his muddy hands bedaub the glove of the exquisite. Christian men have no right to lay aside their Christian robes of profession, and say, "Lie there now until two months have passed, and we have got through with this election, and then I will put you on again." A religion that is adjourned for two months of the year, might as well be adjourned for the twelve months of the year. Be frank now and confess that during the past three months you have had fewer thoughts of God and the eternal world, than in any three months of the last four years. Be frank and acknowledge that you have made more hard speeches, that you have been more frequently angry, that you have come nearer being intoxicated than ever before. In the calm of this holy Sabbath is there not a time of repentance? I address you in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ.

I am not among those who believe that Christians ought not to go into politics. If this country is ever to be redeemed and sin is to be overthrown, it will be because Christian men do go deep into politics. There are hundreds of men in the different political parties, who on election day go amid the blasted, loathsome, slimy and accursed crew that sometimes surround the ballot box, to discharge their duty, and then they go back to their prayer meetings and their churches just as pure as when they went. By so much as political circles are degraded and debauched, by so much ought Christian men to go to the rescue.

We must, however, admit that such times as these are a great temptation to Christian character. Around about the ballot-box you find men who ordinarily are recognized in respectable circles, in various stages of inebriation. They fell not into the ditch, but there was a glassiness to the eye, there was an unnatural flush to the cheek—They talked louder than they usually talked. Though not accustomed to such things, they were ready to bet on anything; anything about Brooklyn, or anything about New York, or anything about the country. The fact was, they were respectably drunk. You called them 'convivial,' 'very vivacious,' 'ecstatic.' God called them drunk! Now, great public agitations instead of being a depletion of moral character, ought to be an elevation and an enlargement. Horn blende is not hurt by the fire; the albatross makes a throne out of the tempest; a needle cruelly thrust through the eye of a goldfinch makes it sing more sweetly; David's harp was made out of broken heart-strings; Paul's shipwreck landed him by the warm fire of Melita; and all public agitations were intended to scour Christian jewels, and sharpen Christian weapons, and heave up Christian fortifications.—Sanctified trials were intended to be the rope-ladder on which over the sea and through the midnight darkness we should go hand over hand to the top gallants and near Heaven.

You ask me to what party I belong. I belong to the Theocracy. I am a subject of God's government, and that party I belong. All other parties will become, after a while, a matter of history; but the party to which I belong will win its greatest triumphs after the glories of earth have swallowed up the insignificance of time! I ask you to join that party to day. Instead of the petty offices of earthly emolument, it offers riches and crowns that never fade. The poorest shall be a king, and the plainest residence a mansion. Better in that day to have had morning bitter than a bench in the alms house but the grace of God in the heart, than unconverted, to have gone up to the highest political position, followed by the huzzas of enthusiastic constituents.

Standing to-day, in this great crisis of our national history—for any intelligent man will admit it to be such—there are two or three words I want to utter. And the first is a word of gratitude to God for the equipoise of this nation. Behold the most sublime spectacle on earth! Two political parties, after long continued and tremendous contest, standing in orderly silence, waiting for the clear and distinct enunciation of the ballot box. No riots in the streets. For less cause, in other years, our cities have been sprinkled with carnage. No threatened violence in case of adverse decision. The candidate of a political party in South Carolina rejected by the canvassing board of an opposing party, instead of trying to stir up strife, writes a letter in which he calls upon his constituency to maintain order and good government, and if they have anything to say to say it to the highest tribunal of the state and the nation. Why the order in our great Northern and Southern cities? It is because the hand of God is on this nation in the way of healthy restraint. He helped us in 1776. He will deliver us in 1876. He is not worn out with our ill doing and our ingratitude. I commend you to the God who hath not dealt so with any other nation. There will be no civil war—There will be no hand to hand conflict between the different sections of this country. Woe be to the man who dares propose it. He will wish he had never been born. By the graves on the heights of Fredericksburg and Richmond, by the ten thousand desolated homes of Northern and Southern soldiers, there shall be no bloodshed. Where is the monster that by pen or tongue would propose a contest between the North and the South? Where is he? May his lips turn white with an incurable leprosy! No, the people have determined to find out what is right, and having found out that, they will submit to it. I have faith to believe that though this question may be unsettled for weeks and for months, when it is settled, the people will be as placid as they were on the inauguration day of James Madison, or John Adams, or George Washington. I commend you to the God of this nation. He has not brought us out of Egypt to let us die in the wilderness.

My second word is one of warning that we attempt not rash experiment. Whenever there is any trouble in this nation, there are thousands of people to cry out for some great change. If the ballot box be found corrupt, there are people to say: 'Down with republics; let us have a monarchy.' If, as in this case, the electoral vote has a good deal of trouble in getting rightly counted, people say: 'Away with the Electoral College. Let every man vote directly for President.' But let us remember that this system was established by the two grandest statesmen that this country ever produced—Alexander Hamilton and Thomas Jefferson. The system was the harmonization of their different ideas, and let lesser men beware how they put hands of violence on a system which has done so admirably for ninety years. If a ship be struck by a tempest until every fibre is strained and every yard-arm twisted, is that any reason why the captain should throw overboard the laws of navigation? I believe that this present trial of the nation will be added to the long list of illustrations of the fact that the founders of this United States government were inspired of God to launch a great nation for a voyage of many centuries. When you and I are dead, and this entire generation has ceased, the right of suffrage—in the Autumns of far distant years, the electors of New York and Alabama, of Maine and California, will march side by side for the discharge of the great duties of the Electoral College. Hands off a compass which has guided us through the cyclones of a century: two wars; the death of three Presidents—one of them by massacre; eight financial panics, and the quadrupling of the acres of our national domain, until the original thirteen states, trembling at the howling of foreign wolves, have become a nation that has taken possession of the continent from ocean to ocean, so that the Atlantic, in the morning, wakes up the nation with the laughter of its waves, and the Pacific, in the evening, hushes it to sleep with the lullaby of its billows!

My third word is a charge that you take this nation as a burden for your prayers. In 1861 and '62 and '63 and '64, everybody prayed for the United States. If a pastor neglected to pray for the government, people in indignation closed their psalm books and went out of church not to come back. All the people, North and South prayed for those who were in authority over them. But, my friends, this nation needs as much to be prayed for to day, as in the darkest days of 1862. Do not talk about "blind destiny." Napoleon I. depended on that theory, and he perished at St Helena. Napoleon III. depended on the same theory; his light went out at Chiselhurst. It is God that lifteth up one and pulleth down another, carries one nation on a high career of prosperity and drops another into annihilation. A nation that honors God and does right will live. A nation that defies God and does wrong will die. Do not talk as though because the nation started in the right direction on it is going to keep on. There are great changes going on amid great people. The Jewish race now rigidly commercial, once were agricultural. All their proclivities were rural; but through long persecution, not being allowed to own land and vineyards in their own name, and hindered from great enterprises, they became secretive and put on poor apparel when they could wear rich apparel, that the government might not know their monetary condition. O, what a change between the agricultural state of that people, and the commercial state of that people! Greece, once renowned for its art; where is it now? The traveller there to day, goes fully fearing foot pads. Rome, known the world over for its wise legislation armed and the hutches of poverty and filth, to day has for its chief attractions, ruins. The relative condition of nations all the time changing. A few centuries ago, Spain and England equal in power and knowledge. One struck down one; her glorious Christianity hoisted the other. Venice comes back to what she was. Russia pushes forward to what she expects to be. Our republic a century ago joined this cavalcade of nations; but it has been in existence long enough to have distinct peculiarities. We come of the Caucasian race, and are a combination of Norman and Saxon and Danish blood. This, together with climatic influences, has made the people energetic, enterprising, active, fond of freedom, and practical; but there is one attribute we need to add to our nation, and that is worshipfulness. Through all these years God has been calling us to become a Christian nation, and if the people of the United States to day, would go down on their knees before God and confess their sins as a nation, how soon the Lord would smile on us, and all our political and financial troubles would be gone. I therefore commend to you this nation as subject of prayer, morning, noon, and night, especially in this great crisis. Let the politicians, Democratic and Republican, have all this matter in their own hands, so far as the deciding of the vote of the three contested states and the rendering of the verdict are concerned—let them have that whole matter in their hands, and the death-knell of this government will toll in sixty days. Perplexed beyond any human unravelment, both political parties will be tempted to do wrong. The Republican party, having the returning boards in their power, will be tempted to count their man in, whether elected or not; while on the other hand, the Democratic party will be tempted to denounce any decision that may be made if it be not in behalf of their candidate. We sent prominent politicians to the South to observe the court. Ah, my friends. Northern politicians are no more honest than Southern politicians. I tell you what we want; we want the Lord God to appear at New Orleans, and Charleston, and Tallahassee. That will decide the matter right and decide it forever. O Lord God of Washington, and Patrick Henry, and Kosciusko, and Bunker Hill, and Lexington, and Look out Mountain, deliver this people! (A voice: "Amen.")

I shall have accomplished my object this morning, if I can discharge this audience in a prayerful, trustful, hopeful, patriotic and Christian spirit. I say to you, as Moses said to the Israelites on the banks of the Red sea: "Stand still, and see the salvation of the Lord." Clear to the other bank the way will be opened for dry-shod passage into the promised land of higher national prosperity; while the trickery and the base partisanship and the demagogueism of the country attempting to follow, will be whelmed in the waters of national retribution until not so much as a stirrup or a linchpin will remain to tell where they went down. On a throne of ballot boxes, purified and redeemed, the olive or the fig tree or the vine will take its place, while the bramble will go down under the trampling feet of the nation's wrath and God Almighty's hot indignation. God save the United States of America!

Annual Meeting of the China Mission.

SHANGHAI, CHINA, Oct. 1876.

REV. D. C. KELLEY, D. D., Ass. Sec BOARD OF MISSIONS—My Dear Brother:—Our annual meeting has just closed, and I feel sure it has proved to be a time of refreshing to us all. It is the first regular annual meeting we have ever had, where the exercises have continued for an entire week. Our native preachers have returned to their fields of labor to-day, feeling that they have more thoroughly consecrated themselves to the service of God, and are better prepared and feel more bold to point their dying fellowmen to Jesus the Saviour. Our meeting has not only been productive of good to us all in a spiritual point of view, but the exercises from day to day have been of a most pleasant nature. Our Sabbath-school anniversary was held on Sabbath afternoon, and lasted an hour and a half, and all present seemed to enter heartily into the spirit of the meeting. We had some fifty children present, and all passed off most pleasantly.

On Monday afternoon we had the meeting in reference to the Bible and tracts. It was a very pleasant meeting, and notwithstanding the newness of such meetings, the speakers on the occasion did remarkably well for the natives. They have never witnessed such meetings before, and I am sure our native preachers have gone away with a greater determination to carry the word of God with them wherever they go. We have sold the past nine months, of Bibles and tracts, $16 30, and have given away to the amount of $6 50. We have now two book-stores in Shanghai, and one in Soochow. Brother Parker, who has just left us, took with him books to supply our book-store in that city.

The Bible Society, the past year, has given us a grant of $500, and of this amount we have already received about four hundred in books. There is still one hundred due us when we require the books.

Our missionary anniversary was held on Tuesday afternoon, and was a most interesting occasion. It was all new to the preachers and native Christians, but they all entered most heartily into the exercises, and it would have given you great joy to have heard the earnest speeches made and the excellent singing. After the speeches were made, a report was given of missionary money collected the past year. It amounted to $38 40. We hope to double that the next year. The amount collected for the poor was $23. These sums are small, compared to what is given by Christian people in England and America, but this is only the beginning of such work for the Church in China.

Our temperance meeting was held on Wednesday afternoon, and I am sure any of our Christian people would have been delighted if they could have been here and heard and understood the speeches made on the occasion. Some of them were as much to the point as any speeches on that subject to which I have ever listened. It was entirely new to them, and a strange subject for Chinamen to discuss, but all seemed to enter heartily into it, and it was indeed one of our most interesting meetings during the week. I am sure they will not soon forget the occasion. Twenty-two came forward and signed the pledge not to drink wine. But few of them ever take any wine, except at some of their wedding feasts, and it is this we want to discourage. One man signing the pledge says, very emphatically, "Put me down that I certainly will not drink." He remembered the sad end of his poor father, who, it is said, died a drunkard in the street. Last evening, Thursday, was the close of the exercises. After preaching, by Brother Fong, all were asked to reconsecrate themselves to the service of God. All knelt in silent prayer, and we felt it was a solemn time.

The audience of natives present, who were not Church members, were exceedingly quiet, and possibly were at a loss to understand the nature of the services. After a time the silence was broken by prayer for the Holy Spirit to guide us all, and to fit us for the great work of saving souls. Upon the whole, it has been one of the most pleasant meetings we have ever had. An account of it will appear in our next China Visitor. And now let me ask the prayers of all Christians for us who are engaged in this work in one of the most difficult fields of Missionary labor in the world. Especially let me ask them to remember our native preachers in prayer that the Spirit of God may rest upon them and guide them into all truth, and make them abundantly useful in bringing souls to Christ the Lord. Pray for us all, and I pray the blessing of God may rest upon all your efforts to promote the cause of Christ. With love to all, I remain yours in Christ.

J. W. LAMBUTH.

A Method at Mud-Sill.

The Baltimore Episcopal Methodist says: "We know of no one who tells or enjoys a joke better than our genial, good natured brother, Dr. McFerrin. We remember with what gusto he narrated an incident in connection with a visit he made several years since, with Bishop Keener, to the Western Conference. It was the bishop's first visit, and the doctor took occasion to introduce him to a number of the members of the conference, individually. Among others, he presented him to an old brother, whose supreme admiration for Dr. McFerrin admitted of no rivalship. After exchanging salutations, and eyeing the bishop from head to foot, he said: 'Your Bishop Keener may be well enough, but (at the same time slapping the doctor vigorously upon his shoulder), give me the old mud sill of Methodism after all."

Pool of Siloam as it Now Appears.

Charles Dudley Warner, in the Atlantic for October, thus describes the Pool of Siloam:

"On our way to the Pool of Siloam we passed the village of Siloam, which is inhabited by about a thousand Moslems,—a nest of stone huts and caves clinging to the side hill, and exactly the gray color of its stones. The occupation of the inhabitants appears to be begging, and hunting for old copper coins, mites, and other pieces of Jewish money. These relics they pressed upon us with the utmost urgency. It was easier to satisfy the beggars than the traders, who sallied out upon us like hungry wolves from their caves. There is a great choice of disagreeable places in the East, but I cannot now think of any that I should not prefer as a residence to Siloam.

The Pool of Siloam, magnified in my infant mind as 'Siloam's shady rill,' is an unattractive sink hole of dirty water, surrounded by modern masonry. Just below we came to Solomon's Garden, an arid spot, with patches of stone walls, struggling to be a vegetable garden, and somewhat green with lettuce and Jerusalem artichokes. I have no doubt it was quite another thing when Solomon and some of his wives used to walk here in the cool of the day, and even when Shallum, the son of Col-hozeh, set up 'the wall of the Pool of Siloam by the king's garden.'"

An honest peasant surprised an infidel one day, who was jeering at him for believing the Bible, by the reply, "We country people like two strings to our bow."—"What do you mean?" inquired the infidel. "Only this," rejoined the poor man: "That believing the Bible, and acting up to it, is like having two strings to one's bow; for if it is not true, I shall be a better man for living according to it, and so it will be for my good in this life—that is one string to my bow. And, if it should be true, it will be better for me in the next life—that is another string, and a pretty strong one it is. But, sir, if you do not believe the Bible, and, on that account, do not live as it requires, you have not one string to your bow. And, oh, sir, if its tremendous threatenings prove true—oh, think what then will become of you!"

Brother Horse-Fly and Brother Tick-Eater.

Bishop McTyeire writes to the Nashville Advocate of his members of the Indiana Conference, Church, South:

"The habit of naming persons after some fancied resemblance or accidental event seems to prevail among all Indians. One of the white brethren gave account of a good meeting in a certain place, and to show how faithful our missionaries in the past had been, he instanced that seven heads of families were converted and joined the church—men of influence in their tribe—and six of them had been baptized in infancy. (By the way, does not that beat some of our white settlements?) The preacher added that he was greatly assisted at the meeting by a godly interpreter, Brother Horse-fly, and by an excellent local preacher, Brother Tickester. I scanned the faces of the audience in vain for a smile at the mention of those names. There was no more expression than if Brother Smith or Brother Jones had been spoken of. Next day James Horse-fly arrived. After introduction we had an easy chat, and handing him a pencil and piece of paper, I asked him to write his untranslated, original name. With a delicate hand and neatly, he wrote, 'Ji mi Dahmuggee.' But Tick-eater—I was curious for his arrival, as he was expected. At an afternoon meeting one of the old missionaries introduced him—a portly, fine-looking man, about forty, substantial farmer and stock-raiser, and supports, once a year a whole Quarterly Conference. When did you get here?' He pointed his finger up to meridian. 'And what is your Indian name?' He spelled it out: Cu-cu-dages-Keh. The same word means tick and gourd; so he is sometimes called Gourd-eater. Verily, he looks as little like he was brought up on that diet as one will find in a day's journey."

EFFECT TO GOOD READING IN THE PULPIT—The pleasure of listening to a good reader was never better illustrated than by a little ten year-old girl of our acquaintance, a few Sabbaths ago. The circumstances of the household were such as to render it necessary for her to be sent alone to church. That day the theme of the discourse was the heavenly city. It was distinctly and beautifully read; and when the child returned home she said, 'Father, did you ever read the twenty-first chapter of Revelation, in the Bible?' 'Certainly,' was the reply. 'But did you ever read it aloud to us here at home?' 'I think so,' he answered. 'Well, father, I don't think you ever did; for Mr. F, the minister read it in church to day, and it was just as he had taken a pencil and paper and pictured it right out before us.'—New York Observer.

GOD'S WILL.—"I could write down twenty cases," says a pious man, "when I wished God had done otherwise than He did, and which I now see, had I my own will, would have led me to extensive mischief. The life of a Christian is a life of paradoxes. He must lay hold on God, he must follow hard after Him, he must determine not to let Him go. And yet you must learn to let God alone. Quietness before God is one of the most difficult of all Christian graces; to sit where He pleases, to be what He would have us be, and this as long as He pleases."

A MATHEMATICAL FACT.—A correspondent of the New England Journal of Education gives it as a fact, that the cube of a number, less the number itself, is always divisible by six. The demonstration is quite simple, but involves a principle seldom used in ordinary mathematical work.

THEY that deny a God destroys a man's nobility, for certainly man is of kin to the beast by his body; and if he is not kin to God by his spirit, he is a base and ignoble creature.—Bacon.

Rural and Domestic.

THOROUGH WORK

The work of the farmer should be thorough work. It is the only kind that pays. The farmer must chalk out a definite plan, and he must follow it up with thorough, systematic work. Every move that he makes every turn that he takes, should be done with a firm and resolution that leaves less to do or work half done, requires constant attending and mending till the man or the last was where he should have done at first, and calls up resolution enough to do the job in a thorough manner.

Thorough work is economical work. It saves in time, toil, patience, results and respectability. It brings no blush to the cheek of the farmer; permits no injury by the ravages of stock; it takes a larger crop from the same area; it brings more comforts to the household; it maintains a sweeter peace in the family circle. The thorough farmer is the wealthier and greater progress than the slovenly, for he will not have to go over the work the second time to complete it. The thorough farmer keeps abreast with the season. He never talks of being behindhand. He is a saving farmer. There is no leak for the little leaks that drive many men. He is a man of the outburst of the winter. He has a use for everything that comes in the old adage, "Make every cent that will out, and never a cent that will cost, an ounce of bruise," but he is not penurious in bruising. He buries no dog dead in the house, he works by day and sleeps by night, yet he has time for social recreation of body and mind.

The thorough farmer owes no debts, he keeps stock for a profit, he knows the value of a dollar. He is not only a thorough man, but a thorough gentleman. His interest goes to prove, not in his pigs of wheat, or his bars of iron, but in the "second class." Such are the results of thoroughness. Does it not pay to be thorough?—Christian Observer.

FALL RUNS

The season of [illegible] closing, the crops [illegible] that required the [illegible] the campaign [illegible] about finished; but a [illegible] now be taken for the next year's cropping. Farming [illegible] rightly applied where [illegible] saves labor in the spring. It [illegible] way per[illegible] [illegible] Ponder in the [illegible] all plowing [illegible] done by giving the [illegible] plowing in the fall. [illegible] done deep and [illegible] season to put in [illegible] and, if needed, to bring [illegible] But in small gardens [illegible] relative to garden culture [illegible] farming, it is always [illegible] above to have land ready [illegible] in at the time of [illegible]

Onions—It is [illegible] preparing for [illegible] in a very few years, and not [illegible] spring, as is [illegible] Seek the warmest spot in the garden, and there ghly plow and [illegible] drill off in rows two feet apart [illegible] one inch deep, and [illegible] on inch apart in the row. [illegible] After planting, [illegible] a coat of manure [illegible] three inches thick, [illegible] and stable manure [illegible] to the depth of [illegible] inches. [illegible] reached [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

The Christian Advocate.

OFFICE Corner of Dawson & Hargett Sts.

THE ORGAN
OF THE
NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE
OF THE
M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH

Rev J B Bobbitt D D } Editors
R. T. Gray, Esq., }

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION:

ONE YEAR, IN ADVANCE, POSTAGE PAID, $2.20
SIX MONTHS, " 1.35
If papers be delayed six months, 2.10

RALEIGH, N. C., DEC. 13, 1876

All letters on business with this office should be addressed to the Christian Advocate, Raleigh, N. C.

The Cross (X) Mark is to remind you that your subscription has expired. Let all renew promptly.

THE CANVASS FOR 1877.

Our subscribers whose terms begin with the first of the year should at once renew. The price of the Advocate is only $2.20 a year postage paid. Please remit this amount, promptly, by money order or check. The preachers will confer a favor both upon the publishers and subscribers by calling attention to the paper at every appointment. The Presiding Elders can aid us very much by giving prominence to the paper at their quarterly meetings.

Let each preacher aim to put a copy of the Advocate in every Methodist household. Its visits are weekly: it has a word for each member of the family: it furnishes the religious news and current thoughts of the times, on moral and religious topics, and keeps its readers in sympathy with present church work. These are among the first objects to be sought in the diffusion of religious papers. Where the paper is taken it is unquestionably easier to secure a full and hearty co-operation with the pastor in the work to which he has devoted his life.

Clubs of ten new subscribers will receive the paper at $2 per year. Who will be first to send us a club?

After Conference.

Going to Conference is an interesting and eventful period in the history of the itinerant Methodist preacher. It is an occasion redolent with the most pleasing emotions. Having accepted the fortunes of the itinerant system and given himself wholly to the work of the ministry, the Methodist preacher is prepared to accept whatever befalls him in the faithfulness of his high vocation. The duties of the pastorate are difficult. They tax the energies and demand self denial and very many sacrifices. But when the calls of the Conference year have been honored and satisfied, the faithful preacher bids all sorrow and hardships depart, and with a full and joyful heart goes up to Conference to clasp hands and look upon the faces of brethren beloved. It is to him a day radiant with sanctified salutations and spiritual reminiscences. The memories and sentiments awakened by these happy reunions flow on and rise and heighten with the advance of the Conference session. Oh! there is a beauty and rich fullness in the meeting and association of Methodist preachers at Conference. But this unalloyed pleasure does not last always. The Conference is soon ended, the appointments are read out, and the time of separation comes. There is a sudden pause. How sad! What strange expressions steal over the countenances of the preachers! The time has come to say "good bye." Another year's work is to be performed. What hardships—what disappointments and heart-aches shall befall them they know not. They are resigned. They covet a fresh baptism of the Holy Ghost for the work before them, and with brave hearts and christian courage they march into their new fields at the bidding and under the banner of their great Leader.

It may be that the people and preacher are strangers. There is more or less expectation and curiosity on their part; responsibility and solicitude on his. The duties incident to his calling are multiplied and difficult—the interests committed to his care are vast and sacred. They contemplate and involve the life or death of immortal spirits. But "necessity is laid upon" him. He must go and preach the gospel to perishing sinners, and look after the lambs of the flock. The line of duty is plainly laid down. There is no middle ground—no compromise between duty and personal ease and comfort. He must go and do the work assigned him.—Will the people suffer a word of counsel? You desire the success of your preacher. In order to this see that all impediments are taken out of his way: remove the rubbish, and as far as possible let the field be open and inviting. Give him a hearty and generous reception. Let the arrangements at the parsonage be ample for comfort. See that the larder is well supplied, and give him to feel that the lines have fallen to him "in pleasant places." If you have no parsonage lose no time to provide a comfortable and convenient home for your preacher and his family. If a young man, take him into the home and family circle and encourage him by your prayers, prudent counsel, and the tender interest you manifest in his behalf. The reception you give your preacher has very much to do with his success in advancing the varied interests of the church. Too much stress cannot, therefore, be placed upon this special duty. May the present Conference year be crowned with richer blessings and grander results than any which has preceded it!

Care for the Poor.

The winter has commenced in earnest and its severity is felt and dreaded by all—especially by the poor and destitute. The poor should at all times be the objects of our sympathy, kind offices and charity, but their suffering is more intense in the winter and appeals more strongly to us for assistance and comfort. Because of the great depression in money matters in all parts of the country, the suspension of so many enterprises that gave employment to the poor and laboring classes, the unsettled condition of trade arising from the perplexing political situation and other causes, this will be an unusually hard winter for those who labor one day for what they eat the next.

It matters not whence it comes or what is its ultimate design—the final cause as logicians say—but the stubborn fact remains that the world is full of suffering and misery. It is a part of the Divine economy in the moral government of the world and it is not for us to dispute the wisdom of its existence. It is sufficient for us to know that it does exist and that there is no duty more frequently or more impressively enjoined in the Scriptures than the care of the poor, the relief of the destitute and the administering of comfort to the sorrowing. It is everywhere impressed as one of the highest duties to care for the poor whom we have always with us.—Charity is commended and celebrated as the highest of the christian virtues:—charity, that love which in its breadth takes in all the world—that makes everything dear—carus—to itself—that expresses and exhibits itself, not in mere words and terms, but in acts of generosity, sympathy and kindness. It is celebrated as the highest of the christian graces, because it pervades and rules over all other graces—it is greater than the other cardinal virtues for it is the only unselfish one. Faith and Hope have reference alone to self or something that pertains to self. They look for something that is for self—and sometimes may vaunt themselves and are puffed up. But Charity is beyond and outside of self: it "vaunteth not itself and is not puffed up" and is not prevented from looking at and caring for others, seeing their distress and relieving their misfortunes. While the word charity, as used by the Apostle, is not restricted in meaning to alms-giving, yet it includes it, and he who undertakes to cultivate and practice the virtue so highly celebrated by Paul, without giving alms, large or small as his means permit, is striving after the shadow and forgetting the substance.

And in commending charity, in the sense of alms giving, infinite wisdom itself has suggested no higher incentive or more powerful motive to its practice than this—that by its practice men shall be judged at the final day.

One of the most terrible calamities that ever occurred in this country happened last week in Brooklyn, New York. During the progress of a play in the Brooklyn Theatre which was densely crowded, the stage caught fire and in five minutes the theatre was in flames. A panic siezed the audience and escape was difficult and for many impossible. About three hundred bodies have been found and it is supposed that many others were killed of whom no trace remains.

The Holston Methodist thinks the name of our Church, specially the South, is a clog, and suggests "Evangelical Methodist." That Journal argues:

"But if the M. E. Church has a mission in the South, may not the M. E. Church, South, have a mission in the North? We believe she has. She is even now doing a good work in Indiana, Illinois, California, and Oregon: and she might do a good work in all the Northern States. There are thousands in the North pining for just such a gospel as the M. E. Church, South, is alone able to furnish. The affix, South, is of no advantage to us, and for the purpose for which it was originally assumed it has become meaningless. The M. E Church is now South as well as North—and we are North as well as South. It is quite apparent that this little cognomen would greatly prejudice our operations north of Mason and Dixon, where there is sectional feeling as well as in the South."

Rev. J. E. Mann, of Front Street Church, Wilmington, spent last Sabbath in the city and preached an able and instructive sermon at Edenton Street Church on Sunday morning, to a large and appreciative audience.

The New York City Church Extension and Missionary Society (Methodist) reports 16 churches and chapels, with a Church membership of 1,800 with 2,600 hearers in its evening congregations and over 3600 children in its Sunday Schools. Its Church property is valued at $394,600 subject to an indeptedness of $116,500. The current expenses for the year have been $26,000.

The Political Situation.

More than a month has elapsed since the election for President and Vice President of the United States was held, and yet the country is not satisfied as to which of the parties shall control the government for the next four years. The electoral colleges of the various States met on the 6th instant at their respective State capitals and cast their votes. Of the three hundred and sixty nine electoral votes cast, one hundred and eighty five are necessary to a choice. The votes of Florida, South Carolina and Louisiana which have been in the hands of the Returning Boards of those States, were counted for Mr. Hayes. Without counting these States in his favor, Mr. Tilden needed only one vote to make the required number. This he obtained from Oregon where the Governor refused to issue a certificate of election to one of the Republican electors for the reason that he was post master at the time of his alleged election, and hence issued it to the Democrat receiving the highest number of votes. Mr. Tilden therefore has a majority of the votes certified to by the Governors of the States as the law directs. The Republican electors in Oregon, however, met without any certificates of election from the Governor of that State and cast their votes for Mr Hayes and appointed a messenger to carry them to Washington. In February when the votes are opened and counted by the President of the Senate in the presence of the two Houses of Congress, objection will be made by the Republicans to the Democratic vote from Oregon which gives Tilden a majority, and the matter will be decided then. The country will now wait until then to ascertain who is to be our President.

The Republicans have insisted that the certificates from the Governors of the States as to the votes of their electoral colleges, are final and cannot be enquired into. If this be so, then the Oregon vote must be counted as sent by the Governor of that State—two for Hayes and one for Tilden: in which case Tilden will be declared elected. If, on the other hand, Congress can go behind the certificates of the Governors and enquire into the validity of the votes sent to Washington, then the votes of Lonisiana, Florida and South Carolina which have been given to Hayes, may be thrown aside or transferred to Tilden. Thus a serious dilemna is presented to the Republicans—on either horn of which they may be impaled.

It is probable, in the present view of the situation, that the election will be thrown into Congress. In that event, the Senate will elect the vice President and the House will elect the President. The Republicans having a majority in the Senate will elect Mr. Wheeler vice-President—and the Democrats having control of the House will make Mr Tilden President. In order to avoid the difficulties that may arise in Congress in counting electoral votes, Mr. Lord, a Democratic member of the House, has suggested that the whole matter be left to the arbitration of a few eminent and impartial men whose determination and advice will be followed by Congress.

A stormy time may be expected in Congress at the time of the final count by the President of the Senate. That takes place on or about the 14th February. "The end is not yet," but we trust that wise counsel will prevail and that moderation and patience may distinguish the acts of our Representatives in Congress and of our people at large.

Christmas and the Orphans.

We celebrate the 25th of December as the day when the "Friend of the poor was born." Do we as christian people commemorate that glad event with proper emblems? Do our acts conform to the virtues of the One whose advent we celebrate! One of the prominent traits of his character was his unceasing regard for the destitute. We gave his life cheerfully for others. Since we cannot bring our Tithes and Offerings and lay them at his feet, he says: "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me. And whosoever shall give to drink unto one of these little ones a cup of cold water only, in the name of a disciple, verily I say unto you, he shall in no wise lose his reward." Thus intimating that he who receiveth the poor receiveth Him. Gentle reader, let the christmas of "seventy six" be one which will make the Orphan's heart sing for joy. "Freely ye have received, freely give." Send a contribution to the Orphans at Oxford, N. C.

W. A. Betts.

This resolution was passed by the New England Methodist presiding elders at their meeting in Boston the other day: "Whereas, we find in the practical work of our ministry many of our young men by a general use of manuscript in preaching greatly impair their acceptability, and apparently their usefulness, by becoming set and mechanical in their delivery; therefore, Resolved, that in our judgment all our schools having in training our future ministry should pay more attention to a careful training of these young men in a ready, easy and impressive extemporaneous delivery."

The preachers who wish their papers changed are requested to notify us promptly.

A Proposition.

We lost $500.00, borrowed money, in the crash of our fallen building. We are in great pressure for the money. Rev Wilbur Cross, D. D., requests me to say that he will be one to help pay the debt. Who also will respond to this urgent necessity? Brethren in the Methodist Church, South, this college is working for the Church of God under such sacrifices as no other college or school is doing in the South. I pray you to help me. If I must say it, I have nearly beggared my poor family to establish this college for the church and the poor, and surely, the christianity of the South will not let me perish in the effort. I don't ask anything for myself. I only ask you to complete the unfinished building for me, so I can use the meager means I get in the college, to support a poor afflicted family. I have lived to date in a cabin that my means might be used in completing this enterprise. I have already expended in money and tuition on the Buildings and the education of the poor, and minister's children, not less than fifty thousand dollars, in twenty two years. I do not speak this in boasting. I speak it as a fact.

If any one will respond to Dr Cross' proposition, or is willing to give anything, let him send it to me by mail. We need three 25 or 30 inch stoves. Will not some person give them? I shall wait to see what christians will do.

If any one doubts what we are doing here, I refer him to Dr Nordan of Shelby, N C; Rev. D May of Monroe N C; Revs J. P. Simpson, William Closs, D. D., and all the members of the N. C. Conference; also to Dr. Wellons, Suffolk Va., of the Christian Church, and Rev. G. B. Wetmore, Salisbury, N. C., of the Episcopal Church.

Yours truly,
R. L. Abernethy.
Happy Home, P. O
Rutherford College, N. C., Dec 7th 1876

Report of the President of Davenport Female College.

To the Bishop and Members of the North Carolina Conference.—Dear Brethren: Davenport Female College is still in operation, but greatly depressed.

The monetary stringency, which for several years has paralysed the business of the whole country, has had the effect to materially diminish our patronage and cripple our energies. We have failed to accomplish all that we had hoped to do, and are unable to show any material favor even to the most needy, and most deserving.

Yet we anticipate no emergency that will necessitate a suspension of our operations, provided the business of the country revives within a reasonable limit of time.

The institution is liquidating some of its debts but under the present administration it is incurring no new indebtedness. The property has been well preserved and in some respects improved.

The Trustees have not deemed it necessary to submit any report, having no new facts to lay before the Conference, and no new plans to propose.

The health of the institution during the last year has been usually good. Spiritually, we have been greatly blessed, having enjoyed a protracted work of grace of great power and abundant fruit.

I herewith submit the action of the Board of Trustees at their last meeting, signed by the Secretary, asking the appointment of certain additional Trustees.

Respectfully submitted,
W. M. Robey.

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 27, 1876.

To the Bishop and Members of the North Carolina Conference.

Dear Brethren:—At the session of the Conference held in this city, Dec. 2d-7th, 1874, the following resolutions were passed, viz:

Resolved 1st: That the interests of Methodism in North Carolina imperatively demand a church edifice in the city of Raleigh much more commodious than the present building and of such architectural structure and finish as shall command the respect of our people and the attention of the general public.

Resolved 2d. That as a Conference we will heartily co operate with our people here when they shall present a place for the erection of such a church building as is indicated in the first resolution."

At the last session of the Conference held in Wilmington, N. C., Dec 1st 6th, 1875, the following action was had, viz:

"Resolved, That, if more than sixty thousand dollars shall be raised, (for centennial objects,) the excess to the amount of twenty-five thousand dollars shall be applied to the building of a Methodist Church in Raleigh.

On motion of Prof. W. C. Doub it was resolved that a collection be taken at the Centennial Celebration in Raleigh to aid in building the Metropolitan Church in that city.

On motion of Rev J. P. Moore it was resolved that the pastor of Edenton Street Church be appointed agent to carry out these resolutions of the Conference and the plan of the Trustees in reference to the erection of the proposed church."

At the Centennial Celebration held in Raleigh, N. C., March 21st-26th, 1876, we raised in subscriptions, to be paid in two and four equal annual installments, $12,135 for the purpose of building a Metropolitan Church.—We, the Official Board of Edenton Street Church, herewith send you a plan of the contemplated church, and most respectfully ask your Body to examine the plan and make to us any suggestions which you may deem important in reference to the same.

Allow us to state that while we will do our whole duty, we do not feel able to accomplish the work in any reasonable time. We therefore earnestly ask your sympathy, encouragement and help in this grand enterprise.

Yours in Christ,
L. S. Burkhead.
Sam'l C. White, Sec.

Course of Study—Revised.

For Admission on Trial.—The Bible, in reference to doctrines generally; Wesley's Sermons on Justification by Faith, and on the Witness of the Spirit: Book of Discipline; the ordinary branches of an English education.

First Year—The Bible, in reference to its historical and biographical parts and chronology; Book of Discipline, with special reference to Chapter I., Section 1 and 2; Manual of Discipline, Chapters I. and II.; Wesley's Sermons, Volume I.; Ralston's Elements of Divinity; Watson's Institutes, Part IV.; Preachers' Manual; History of the Organization of the M E Church, South, by Redford; Written Sermons on Repentance.

Books of Reference.—Watson's Biblical and Theological Dictionary: Theological Compend; Fletcher's Works; Watson's Life of Wesley.

Second Year.—The Bible, in reference to its prophetical parts; Wesley's Sermons, Vol. II.; Watson's Institutes, Part III.; Smith's Elements of Divinity; Book of Discipline, with special reference to Chapters II, III: IV: Manual of Discipline, Chapters III and IV.; Coppee's Rhetoric: Written Sermon on Justification by Faith.

Books of Reference.—Newton or Keith on the Prophecies: Angus's Hand Book on the Bible; Clarke's Essays on the Composition of a Sermon: Watson's Sermons; Bickersteith on the Spirit of Life; Whateley's Rhetoric.

Third Year.—The Bible, in reference to the life of Christ; Wesley's Sermons, Volume III.; Watson's Institutes, Part II.; Coppee's Logic; Rivers' Mental Philosophy; Edgar's Variations of Popery; Book of Discipline, with special reference to Chapter V., and to the end; Manual of Discipline, Chapters V., VI., VII; Written Sermon on the Witness of the Spirit.

Books of Reference.—Young's Christ of History: Neander's Life of Christ; Hickock's Mental Science: Vinet's Pastoral Theology; Stevens History of Methodism: Paine's Life of McKendree; D.' Anbigne's History of the Reformation; Whateley's Logic.

Fourth Year.—The Bible, in reference to the Acts and Epistles, their analysis and design; Wesley's Sermons, Volume IV.; Watson's Institutes, Part I.; Powell on the Apostolical Succession; Hickok's Moral Science; Mosheim's Church History; Summers on Baptism; Book of Discipline, reviewed: Manual of Discipline, Chapters VIII. and IX.; Written Sermon on Regeneration.

Books of Reference.—Butler's Analogy: Bingham's Antiquites; Rivers Moral Philosophy; Hoppin's Homilitics; Wall on Infant Baptism; Litton's Church of Christ; Neander's Church History; Liddon on the Divinity of our Lord; Conybeare and Howson's Life and Epistles of St. Paul.

Commentaries.—Clark's, Watson's Exposition, Wesley's Notes, Summers on the Gospel, Stier's Words of the Lord Jesus, Lange on the New Testament, Olshausen on the New Testament, Alford on the New Testament, Bloomfield on the New Testament, MacKnight on the Epistles, Henry's Epostion, Whitby's Commentary.

Note.—The examination will be confined to the Course of Study. The books of reference are recommended to be read, and Commentaries to be consulted.

Rock Spring Seminary.—The Anniversary Celebration of the Franklin Literary Society of Rock Spring Seminary, will take place on Thursday evening, Dec. 21st 1876.

President, A. H. Black, Gaston Co; Declaimers, Alfred Nixon, Lincoln Co, and J. R Connell, Gaston Co.

Rival Orators; G. A. Barkley, Catawba Co., and E, H. Rankin, Gaston Co.

Debaters, W. A. Radisill, Lincoln Co, H. D. Shelton, Lincoln Co., W. B. Shuford, Catawba Co., L. T. Smith, Lincoln Co, R. E. Lineberger, Gaston Co., and A. R. Radisill, Lincoln Co.

Chief Marshal; T. Frack Connor, Catawba Co.

Denver, N. C. Dec., 4th 1876.

At the third anniversary of the Reformed Episcopal Church in New York, on Friday evening, the Rev. Dr. Chas. F. Deems, of the Methodist E. Church, South, now pastor of the church of the Strangers in that city, gave some reminiscences of the first Bishop of the Reformed Episcopal Church, George David Cummins. The speaker and the late Bishop were born in Baltimore, were play fellows through their boyhood, College mates, and both fell in love with the same girl, but neither married the girl. She is the wife of a Dutch Reformed Episcopal preacher.

The Union Express calls Monroe an "embryo city. Town lots, beyond the business limits, sell for $450 each.

N. C Conference of the M P. Church.

The annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church was held at Moriah, Greensboro circuit, commencing Nov. 29th, and was well attended. Winston was chosen as the place for the next session of the Conference, commencing on Wednesday before the 3rd Sunday in November 1877. The following are the appointments for the ensuing year:

LIST OF APPOINTMENTS.

President—A W Lineberry.
Albemarle Ct—Z T Harrison.
Tar River Ct—Geo E Hunt, J G Whitfield, Ass't.
Roanoke Ct.—J H Gilbreath.
Halifax Ct—G A T Whitaker.
Littleton Ct—W H Wills, D Fishel, Ass't.
Greensville Ct—John Paris.
Granville—J T Ogburn.
N Granville—R R Michaux, A C Harris, Supy Ass't.
Orange Ct—C F Harris.
Alamance Ct—W C Kennett.
Randolph Ct—W W Amick.
Asheboro Ct—H Lewallen.
Greensboro Ct—J R Ball.
Guilford Ct—T T Free
Haw River Ct.—C A Pickens.
Davidson Ct—R H Wills.
Winston Ct—A M Lowe
Forsythe Ct—T H Pegram.
Mocksville Ct—J Y Pegram.
Stanly Ct—H W Peeples.
Monroe Ct—To be Supplied.
Mecklenburg Ct—J M Waynick.
Catawba Ct—R R Hanner.
Buncombe Ct—To be Supplied.
Pigeon River Ct—To be Supplied.

MISSIONS.

Surry—D A Highfill.
Rowan—J S Dunn.
Yadkin—To be Supplied
Winston and Kernersville—T H Pegram
Seaboard Miss'n—Discontinued
Chatham Miss'n—Unsupplied.
J W Heath, Supernumerary assistant on Greensboro circuit.
W C Hammer, Supernumerary assistant on Asheboro circuit.
J L Michaux, Editor of the Central Protestant
L Swain, S P J Harris, J H Page, without appointments at their own request.
Z C Lineberry, John Goodrich, A J Laughlin and J Ketchum, in the hands of the President.
Jas Deans and Jos Causey, Superannuated
J C Deans, to the Unstationed List at his own request.
Alson Gray, Conference Evangelist.
W G Hamilton, without appointment.

The Western Christian Advocate says of the preaching we need in these, and indeed in all times:

"It is not well to concoct a fine moral essay, or construct what might be called a scientifico religious lecture, and then hunt for a text to tack to the fore end of it in order to make a sermon of it. There is reason to believe that too many average sermons are preached which have no vital connection with their respective texts. The sermon may seem to fit with some nicety into the text, but is not truly drawn out of it.

"There is not enough of exposition of Scripture—too little showing the sense of God's word. There is not enough exhortation, rousing and urging men to obey God's commandments and precepts diligently. In too many sermons of to-day, smooth cut intellectualisms, wrought by a brilliant brain and united to the goodish platitudes drawn from the scanty treasury of a lukewarm heart, are probably doing much to rob the pulpit of power. Delivering a dull, perfunctory sermon, or uttering a pleasing but powerless discourse, to which a scanty quotation from Scripture serves as an introductory motto, is not preaching in the true sense. To preach is to proclaim Christ's truth both by word and deed not simply to talk well about moralities or to reason well about dogmas. To minister about holy things is to rightly divide the word of truth.

The monument to 'Religions Liberty presented by the Jewish order of Benai Berith to the Centennial Commission and erected on the grounds at Philadelphia was unveiled on the 1st inst. The 'Jewish Messenger' says it was not presented by the Jews in gratitude for the civil and religious liberty they enjoy under our flag, but as Jewish American citizens. 'Jews,' it says, 'show their appreciation of this country's institutions by endeavoring thoroughly to Americanize themselves, by laboring honestly in their various occupations, striving for the peace of the country, and upholding the law of the land. They send for relatives and friends struggling painfully under the relics of barbarism in some portions of Europe, give them a hearty welcome on these shores, and strengthen the nation by thus importing industry, probity, and economy.'

Rev Dr. Burgess, of Springfield, Mass, criticizes Bishop Stevens, (Episcopal,) of Pennsylvania, for ordaining a deaf mute, Mr. Syle, for the ministry. He says:

"The apostolical canons forbade the ordination of those defective in the senses, or grievously maimed, but permitted them to officiate if by accident much result were reached after ordination, or if it were the result of persecution. These canons are not regarded as binding upon us, but the policy of the Church may be seen in them."

According to the "Baptist Union" a pastor of one of the largest Baptist churches in the country, who has had excellent opportunities to judge, states that a majority of Baptists in the Northern States are in favor of entire liberty to churches and individuals on the communion question. Of course the regular Baptist papers question this statement. Are there any statistics in the case?

Religious Intelligence.

The Tennessee Conference of the African Church has resolved against the Presiding Eldership.

The Northern Presbyterians as the result of ten years' work among the freedmen, report one Synod, five Presbyteries, 128 churches, and ten thousand members.

The American Bible Union, which publishes a Baptist version, reports its expenditures for the year to be $30,846, which amount was covered by the receipts.

In the Episcopal Diocese of Northern New Jersey, the salaries of the rectors range from $5,000 to $250 a year, there being one of each amount. Eleven receive the same salary, $1 500 a year.

The New York letter of the Christian Mirror has the following:

'Mr. H. D. Leonard, Station D, New York city, has opened an office or 'bureau,' as everything of that sort is now termed, to employ preachers and supply pulpits of all evangelical denominations.'

The 28th anniversary of the Y. M C. A., of Cincinnati, was recently celebrated; 27 conversions were reported; 638 meetings of a religious character at the rooms; disbursements to the amount of $8,387; a balance on hand of $1,101; and liabilities none.

Mr. Blinn, of New York city, has done a noble work among his German countrymen in that place. He gathered a congregation in a hired hall and established a Sunday School. His work prospered greatly, and, having means, he has built a $40,000 church. He is a Methodist layman.

The Roman Catholics of this country are beneficiaries of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith to a large extent. They received from it $359,103, and gave to it $47,486.—This is the great Missionary Society of the Romish Church.

Rev. Stephen H. Tyng, Jr., when in Boston, a Sunday or two ago, preached in the morning to the Central church Congregationalists, in the afternoon in Phillips Brook's pulpit, and Monday had a running talk with the Methodist theological students.

NORTH CAROLINA.

The office of the Salisbury Examiner is offered for sale.

The Caldwell Messenger has changed its name to the Lenoir Topic.

A post office has been established at Beasley Hill, Johnston county.

The Raleigh Sentinel has discontinued its daily edition and will be issued only as a semi-weekly and weekly.

Within four days, Mr. Geo. Allen, of Newbern, lost four children by diptheria. The disease is raging in Newbern in a violent form.

Some of the papers in the State are recommending Judge Fowle, of Raleigh, for the position of Attorney General of the United States, in case Gov. Tilden is declared President.

Application will be made to the Legislature to extend the corporate limits of Winston.

D. P. Mast, Esq., Mayor of Winston, resigned his office and Mr. A. B. Gorrell takes his place. Col. Patterson resigns the Mayoralty of Salem and is succeeded by A. Fogle, Esq.

Mr. Peterson, living in Bladen county, while engaged in digging around an old stump found $2 40 in Spanish coin. He continued to dig and unearthed $33 65.—The Spanish coin bore the inscription: "Carolus IV, 1796."

Greensboro' has held two meetings to take steps to turn immigration to the Carolinas and Virginia.

The Wilmington Amateur Publishing Company will commence the publication of a semi-monthly paper about the 15th inst., to be called the Sunny South. It is designed for boys and girls.

Week before last the store of H. M. D. McCanlay, at Chapel Hill, was entered by a robber and $150 in specie stolen.—Harvey Jenkins and Rufus Hargrave, two negroes, were arrested on suspicion and acknowledged their guilt.

Extensive preparations are being made for a grand jollification in Raleigh on the 1st of January, the occasion of the inauguration of Gov. Vance.

Chas. E. Johnston, of Raleigh, and Miss Mamie Wilson, daughter of Mr. Harvey Wilson, of Charlotte, were married on the 6th inst.

James Heaton, a notable character in Wilmington, was shot by a man with whom he had a difficulty, but is recovering.

The proceeds of the sale of the bale of cotton sent on the rounds through the State for the benefit of the Orphan Asylum amounted to $534.

S. D. Harrison, Esq., treasurer elect of Wake County, not being able to give the required bond, the Commissioners appointed J. B. Neathery, Esq., who has tendered a bond in the sum of $111,000.

Miss Sallie Harrison, who for some time had been an inmate of Dr. Scroggs' family in Lenoir was found dead in her bed on the 24th ult. The night previous the family offered to sit up with her as she was feeling unwell, but she opposed it and was assisted to bed.

The grasshoppers are giving the Burke county people trouble. A gang of turkeys turned upon them by Sheriff Patterson destroyed ten bushels of them, but not before they had eaten up a field of tobacco plants.

The press of the State has paid its tender tributes to the memory of the talented W. F. Avery, Editor of the Burke Blade, who died last month.

Donald W. Bain, for a long time Principal Clerk in the State Treasury Department, has been reappointed to that position by Dr. Worth, Treasurer elect.

W. H. H. Houston, formerly a prominent and wealthy grocer of Charlotte, who committed forgery and was sentenced to the penitentiary, has been pardoned by Gov. Brogden.

William Meisimer, who was convicted of the murder of his mother in law in Rowan county several months ago, has been sentenced to be hanged on the 22d inst. at Statesville.

The Electoral College of this State met at Raleigh on the 6th inst. and cast their vote for Tilden and Hendricks, for President and Vice President of the United States. Capt. Waring of Charlotte was appointed messenger to carry the vote to Washington.

Platt D Walker, Esq, of Richmond county, has removed to Charlotte and entered into copartnership with Maj. Dowd for the practice of law.

The employes of the Carolina Central Railroad presented Col. Freemont, the late Superintendent of the road, with a silver service as a token of their regard.

Some of the Charlotte cotton buyers ship cotton direct to Liverpool, England, through the ports of Norfolk and Wilmington.

H. L Leggett, Esq., brought into Tarboro a mammoth bale of cotton weighing ten hundred and twenty four pounds.

Mr. Hill Keith of Wake Forest Township, Wake county, lost week married his mother-in law, Mrs Pennington.

Thomas McLean was killed Calbreath at Fayetteville, a few weeks since, was acquitted on the plea of self defence.

The Raleigh Register says that Wm. Lewis, of that section, aged 85 years, has been deaf for a number of years. He voted forty years ago and declared it was the last vote. He was induced to go to the election this year; he voted the Democratic ticket. He went home from the election, and after being in the house two hours, he heard the clock strike, an occurrence that had not happened in 10 years. He has been also over three months on ordinary conversation with his neighbors and friends. This is a strange incident, but is vouched for by good authority.

The Observer says that a short time ago Moses Howard, a colored Democrat living in Cumberland, was caught in the dark and beaten almost to death by a mob of unknown negroes. Not content with this, last Tuesday night they hitched his horse upon the track of the Charlotte Columbia and Augusta Railroad, near the colored grounds and the animal which was blind, was killed by the train. Howard's loss is about $30.

Grand Lodge F. A. M.—The Grand Lodge of North Carolina Masons met in this city last week, and had a pleasant session. The following are the officers elected for the ensuing year:

Grand Master—H. H. Munson, of Wilmington.

Senior Grand Warden—R. W. Hardee, of Fayetteville.

Junior Grand Warden—J. C. L. Gudger, of Waynesville.

Grand Treasurer—W. E. Anderson, of Raleigh.

Grand Secretary—D. W. Bain, of Raleigh.

P. H. Rountree, B. Walker, C. D. Price, G. B. Harris and H. F. Grainger, were appointed a committee on work.

English Wesleyans have recently established a mission on Duke of York's Island, South Pacific ocean, where there is a large heathen population. The missionaries sent there are not Europeans but are converted natives of the older missionary station in the islands of Tonga, Fiji, and Samoa. Few islands of the Pacific now remain which the Gospel does not reach.

Letters and Funds

Rev I W Avent for Gulbreth $2 20 Rev J W Wheeler for Mrs Sawyer 2 20 Ed Ledbetter 2.20. N M Lowrance 2 20 Rev S K Thewlick for ad 7.50 M O Sherrill ad 2 20 Rev A R Raven for O J Whitehurst 2 20 Rev J W Pruett for subs 11 10 Rev M L Wood for R L Weaver 1 25 R W Holland 2 20 Rev J W Boyles for subs 20 50 Rev L Hall 6 12 20 Rev T Messer for subs 6 60. Rev J Johnson for subs 5 60 G S Cole sell 2 20 Rev W S Chaffin for [illegible] 2 20 Rev Dodson for J B Weeks 1 20 [illegible] Montgomery for Dr Lilly 2 20 Rev J B Carpenter for subs 6 60 G A Pell, Bowman for B F Stone 2 20 V Hoover 2 20 Rev J C Thomas for subs 5.40 Rev D Norris for subs 13.2. Rev M V Sherrill on ac 25. Rev W H Weeks for subs 11. Rev L E Stacy for subs 8 40 R P Troy on ac 17 00 Rev G Farmer for subs 11. Rev T P England for subs 6 60. Rev J B Pinnix for O Wemple 2 20 sell 2 20. Rev J P Jenkins for subs 5.60. Rev A J Finley for subs 16.40. Rev J P Simpson for subs 6 60. Rev J N Andrews for subs 11. Rev L L Nash for subs 5 40. Dr D F Hamlet, coupes & H Fleming 2.20, sell 2 20. Rev A D Betts for subs 8.80. Rev V A Sharpe on sell 2.5 Dr J M Dunlap for Mrs M L Garibardi 2.20. sell 2 20. Rev T W Guthrie for B F Graham 2.20, Josh and his sons 2.20 Rev M Foy for T A Jerome 2 20. F Stillwealher 2 20. Rev J M Rogers for subs 6.60. Rev Jos White for Dr P Stanetil 2.20 Mrs M A Bostick 2 20 Rev T A Boone on ac 48 25. Rev T P Rickard for subs 16.50 Rev W S Rone for J A Latham 2.20; Miss I Norman 2 20 Rev M C Thomas for P A Hoyle 2.20. Rev R S Webb for subs 24 40. Rev L Shell on ac 1 15 Rev J P Moore for Mrs J B Miller 1.20. Rev T J Gattis on ac 12.00. Rev S M Davis for W L Parker 2.20; D W Tenner 2.20 Prof W C Doub self 2.20. Rev W S Black on ac 23 60. Rev J J Rain for subs 17.60 Rev J S Irvin for J Rutherford 2 20 Rev W S Black for Dr J W Mauney 2.20 J B Southerland 2 20, Rev P F W [illegible] for subs 17.60. Rev B C Phillips on ac 4.40. Rev L J Holden on ac 15 40. Rev J Sandford for subs 10 00. Rev G W Ivy for subs 13 20 R R Crawford self 2.20 Rev P Greening for B Smith 2.20 Rev T B Reep for Mrs R A Crowder 2 20. J S Bodie 2.20 Rev J S Nelson for Maj Williamson 1.10 Rev I T Wyche for W S Floyd 2 20 J McN Peters 2.20. Rev W D Lee for subs 19 80. Rev W M Jordan for C N Ray 2 20 Rev R M Bown for Mrs N J Speers 3 30 W Q Smith 2.20, Rev T L Triplett for subs 5 60. Rev W H Call for subs 6.60 Rev J W Randle on ac 18.00. Rev W C Wilson on ac 21 20. Rev B R Hall on ac 70 cents Rev C A Gaines for Mrs E Hunt 2.20, Rev S D Adams for W E Hill 2.20, Mrs McNairy 2.20.

The Christian Advocate

PUBLISHED IN THE CITY OF RALEIGH EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING, TERMS $2.20 POSTAGE PAID

Our Agents.

All the traveling and local preachers in the bounds of the North Carolina Conference are our authorized agents. Any person sending us ten subscribers, for one year, will receive the paper free.

Our Correspondents.

All communications for publication should be carefully prepared, and on but one side of the sheet. All letters on business should be addressed to the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

How to Remit.

In remitting money, all amounts should be sent in registered letter, post office order or check. The cost of registration, or Post Office order can be deducted from the amount in hand, if money is sent otherwise than herein specified, it will be at the sender's risk.

INDEX TO NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

— True & Co.
— Stinson & Co.
— Hallett & Co.
— Nassau Card Co.
— Centennial Exhibition.
— Webster's Unabridged Dictionary.
— Old Kentucky Home.
— Fun for the Holidays—Scribner & Co
— Dr. Holland's New Novel—Scribner & Co
— Pleasant Garden Academy. R. P. Troy, Principal Bro. Troy is a good Methodist and conducts a good school.

THE UNION WEEKLY EXPRESS.—Our friend W. M. Boyd has returned to Monroe, the former field of his editorial labors in 1865, and commenced the publication of the Weekly Express. It is a neat and readable paper and will be a benefit to the people among whom it is published. We wish Bro. Boyd immeasured success in his enterprise.

Mr. Geo. Dill, of Beaufort, died suddenly last week, at the advanced age of 84 years. He had been a soldier in the war of 1812, and for many years prior to the late war had been Sheriff of Carteret county.

Births.

Married in the Methodist Church at Fayetteville, on the 21st ult., by Rev. E. W. Thompson, Mr Richar Frazier, of Cumberland, and Miss Della Guthrie, of Fayetteville.

Married at the residence of the bride's father on the 15th ult. by Rev J. W. Smith, Mr Alexander Sessoms and Miss Cora Parker.

Married on the 22d ult., in Concord, by Rev. C. M. Pepper, assisted by Rev. D. Harmon, Capt. R. S. Fry, of Mount Pleasant, and Miss Mamie E. Pepper, of Concord.

In Cumberland county, on the 23d ult. by Rev. Hogg, Mr Daniel Parker and Miss Margaret E. Parker, both of Cumberland county.

Married on the 29th of Nov., 1876, by Rev. A. S. Black, Rev. T. W. Smith, of the North Carolina Conference, to Miss Mary C. Hubbard of Clinton.

Mr. A. D. Fleming and Miss Mary A. Allen, were married at the residence of the bride's father Dec. 7th 1876, by Rev. A. F. Purifoy, all of Wake.

In Fayetteville N. C., on the 5th of December, by Rev H. A. Brown, Miss Emma McDaniel of Cumberland, to Mr. E. Evans Smallers of Montgomery county, N. C.

Bibbie Recorder please copy.

Married by Rev. W. S. Webb, on the 22nd Nov 1876 Mr Henry B. B. Jenkins to Miss Mary Lou, eldest daughter of Granville Co. N. C.

Deaths.

Rev. Edmund Doherty Wooley died of Typhoid fever at his father's residence, in Gaston county on the 6th of November in the 25 years, 3 months and 29 days. He was the son of D. W. and Nancy Wooley and the grandson of the Hon. Edmund Dougherty.

He made a profession of religion in his 14th year at Zion Church under the ministry of Rev. I. W. Avent and continued an exemplary member until his death. During his long illness he was patient and resigned to the will of God, and finally died in the triumphs of the Christian faith.

MRS. ELIZA ANN JEFFERSON was born in Orange county N. C. July 23 1818, and died in Jefferson Texas, October 21st 1876. She was the daughter of Angus and Mary McLaurin Parrish. In September 1833, she was married to Rev. Thomas Jefferson. In the years that followed she was blessed with a large family of children, who, with their father, survive her. Mrs. Jefferson joined the Methodist Episcopal Church South in early life, and lived a consistent member of that communion until her death. Her life was one of self-denial and devotion to the interests of her family and the church. Her death was sudden, sitting up in bed apparently better at once she fainted and died. Before she thought to have approach of the stream she was heard to shout Victory, saw easy to me, now that Christ has prepared a route; for if we suffer with him we shall reign with him.' Among the many noble traits which adorned the character of the departed none were more conspicuous than her unbounded hospitality. Her home was the stranger's home, and the weary traveler was always welcome to rest and refresh himself at her board. Her kindness of heart, her promptness of attention to the wants of the suffering, his well known and highly appreciated steadiness, purity and reliability of character and habits won for him the confidence and esteem of all classes, and soon secured him a very extensive practice, which, for one of his age and experience, was signally successful and his valuable life been spared it certainly indicated a bright and useful future. His loss is sadly felt, his death is deeply mourned, his place will be hard to fill.

He was a universal favorite, not having a known enemy in the world, and hence his death has cast a dark pall of gloom upon the whole community, has taken a bright ornament from society and a strong pillar from the Church; but in the home circle, of which he was the life and delight, his loss is most seriously and sadly felt.

To his parents, his brother and sisters it is a severe and sore bereavement. To them he was so dutiful, so affectionate, so kind.

Oh how they miss him! How their hearts are lacerated, bleeding burdened and almost crushed beneath the heavy blow when they look at the clothes he once wore, but will wear no more, when they see his vacant seat in the domestic circle and around the family altar where two unite last and familiar voice which so often mingled with theirs in sweet conversation and family devotion, when they go to the new made grave near by, where his precious remains repose, to deck that mound with evergreens and flowers and water it with their tears.

Dr. Woolly not only lived right, but died right and those who mourn his loss can look through their tears and through death's dark portals and sing.

"Yet again we hope to meet thee,
When the day of life is fled;—
Then in heaven with joy to greet thee,
Where no farewell tear is shed."

M. V. SHERRILL.

"All That a Man Hath Will He Give for His Life."

This we find recorded in the most ancient and best of all books but as we see thousands dying around us with Consumption, Croup, Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis, Spitting Blood and other pulmonary diseases, we are led to doubt the correctness of the above assertion, especially since it is so well known that a positive remedy may be obtained which always arrests these diseases,

DR. TUTT'S EXPECTORANT never fails to give relief, and cures after every other means have failed. This can be and has been proved a thousands of instances where it has effected radical cures after the patient has been given up by all his friends and physicians. The extraordinary success attending the use of this medicine is truly wonderful

From Professor A. Jackson, Laval University, Quebec:—I have used a good deal of Colden Liebig's Liquid Extract of Beef and Tonic Invigorator in my private practice, and can recommend it as extremely useful in cases of debility and weak digestion requiring strengthening nourishment.

Williams & Haywood, agents.

Rufus Chapman of Liberty, Maine, had a stiff leg bent at the knee limbered and strengthened by the use of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

The proprietors of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, Parsons' Purgative Pills, and Johnson's Cavalry Condition Powders, have published a readable and instructive pamphlet which may be had free by mail,

Among the fine arts not lost is the art of children making holes in the toes of Boots and Shoes. Time taken about ten days. SILVER TIPS are an excellent remedy, never known to fail.

Also try Wire Quilted Soles.

dec 13 3w.

WHAT NEXT!

A CONSUMPTIVE CURED.—When death was hourly expected, all remedies having failed and Dr. H. JAMES was experimenting, he accidentally made a preparation of lungwort which cured his only child of consumption. He now gives this recipe free on receipt of two stamps to pay expenses. HEMI also cures night sweats, nausea at the stomach, and will break a fresh cold in twenty-four hours. Address URADDOCK & Co., 1,032 Race street, Philadelphia, naming this paper. Oct 11 3 m

APPOINTMENTS.

WASHINGTON DISTRICT.
1st ROUND.

Warrenton,	Dec.	10-11
Harborо.	"	16-17
Warren. at Macon,	"	24-25
Littleton, at Calvary,	"	30-31
Gatesville, at Temperance Hall,	Jan.	6-7
Halifax, at Enfield,	"	13-14
Williamston, at Williamston,	"	20-21
Jamesville, at night,	"	-23
Plymouth, at night,	"	-24
Columbia, at Columbia,	"	27-28
Plym'th & Jam'sville, at Plym'th,	Feb	3-4
Bath, at Long Acre,	"	7
And at Bath Quarterly Meeting.	"	10-11
Washington, at Soule,	"	17 18
Washington & Greenville, at Washington.		24-25
Portsmouth and Ocracoke,	M'ch,	3-4
Cape Hatteras, at Hatteras,	"	10 11

WILLIAM CLOSS, P. E.

RALEIGH DISTRICT.
FIRST QUARTERLY MEETINGS.

Edenton St. Church, Raleigh,	Jan.	6-7
Cary at Cary,	"	13-14
Tar River & Yanceyville at Plank Chapel,	"	20-21
Rolesville, Pleasant Grove,	"	27-28
Louisburg,	Feb.	3-4
Person St. Church, Raleigh,	"	10-11
Henderson, Ridgeway,	"	17-18
Oxford, Bullocks,	"	24-25
Granville, Shady Grove,	Mar.	3-4
Smithfield, Selma,	"	10-11
Nashville, Sandy Cross,	"	17-18

I will announce in the ADVOCATE, at an early day the time and place of the District Stewards meeting.

N. H. D. WILSON, P. E.

SALISBURY DISTRICT.
1st ROUND.

Salisbury cir. Providence,	Dec.	30-31
Mocksville cir. Rocky Mount,	Jan.	6-7
Salisbury st.	"	13-14
Alexander cir. Taylorsville,	"	-16
Yadkinville cir. Yadkinville,	"	27-28
Surry cir, New Hope,	"	30-31
Mt. Airy st.	Feb.	3-4
Wilkes cir. Wilkesboro,	"	10-11
Statesville cir. Concord,	"	14-
Statesville st.	"	17-18
Lexington cir. Olin,	"	24-25
Davie cir. Olive Branch,	Mch	3-4
Mocksville, cir.	"	10-11

The District Stewards will meet at Statesville, January 24th 1877.

D. R. BUTTON, P. E.
Statesville, N. C.

SHELBY DISTRICT.
1st ROUND.

Cleaveland cir. at Salem,	Jan'y.	3-4
Shelby sta.	"	6-7
Upper Br. Riv. Mission, at Bethel,	"	-10
Columbus Mission, at Lebanon,	"	-13
Rutherfordton, at Gray's Chapel,	"	13-14
South Fork, at St. Peter's,	"	17-18
Shelby cir. at El-Bethal,	"	20-21
Dallas, at Dallas,	"	24-25
Newton, at Newton,	"	27-28
Rock Spring, at Mt. Pleasant,	"	30-31
Lincolnton, at Lincolnton.	Feb.	3-4
Happy House, at Jones' Grove,	"	10-11
Marion, at Marion,	"	13-14
Lenoir, at Cedar Valley,	"	17-18
Caldwell.
Morganton sta.	at Oak Hill,	" 24-25
Morganton cir.

We beg all the officials to be present, if possible, at the above quarterly meetings.

R. G. BARRETT, P. E.
Shiloy, N. C.

LENOIR CIRCUIT
FIRST ROUND.

La Grange,	Sunday, Jan. 7, 1877	11 A. M., 7 P M
Sharon.	" " 14 "	11 A. M.
Edwards Chapel,	" " 14 "	3 P. M.
Piney Grove,	" " 21 "	11 A. M.
Lenoir Institute,	" " 28 "	11 A. M.
New Hope	" " 28 "	3 P. M.

The Stewards will please meet us at Lenoir Institute on Saturday the 6th Dec. inst. It will preach there Sunday 31st.) Business of great importance to the interests of the circuit will demand their attention.

JNO. N. ANDREWS,
Pre. char in Charge.

25 Fine Mixed Cards, 20 styles with name, 10 cts., postpaid. NASSAU CARD CO., Nassau, N. Y.

Dec 12-4t.

COMMERCIAL REPORT.

WHOLESALE CASH PRICES.

Office of CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, Thursday, Dec. 12th, 1876.

REMARKS.

Business greatly improved. Country produce offered in quantities, especially in exchange for groceries

General Market.

FLOUR, North Carolina $7 75@8 00.
PEAS 70 to 75
CORN MEAL—67 1-2 to 70.
BAGGING, standard 19 1-2.
" Dundee 18 1-2.
BACON, N. C. hog round, 11 to 12.
" " hams 10 1-2 to 11.
BULK C. R. sides, 10 to 10 1-2.
" shoulders, 8 to 9
LARD, North Carolina, 16 1-2
" Western Herces, 15 to 16 1-2.
" " kegs, 16 1-2@17 1-2
COFFEE, Primo Rio, 24 1-2
" Fair Rio, 23
SYRUP, common, 37 1-2
MOLASSES, Cuba, 50.
SALT $2.00.
CHEESE, Cream, 14 to 15.
" Factory, 12.
" Dairy, good.
NAILS, on base per keg, $3 50.
SUGAR A, 12 1-2.
" Extra C, 11 1-4.
" Yellow, 10@11
LEATHER, sole 27 1-2@30
HIDES, green, 1@3.
" dry, 13 1-2
TALLOW, 7@8
POTATOES, sweet 75
" Irish, $1.00@1.25.
OATS, shelled, 80
" sheaf, $1.25
FODDER, oat, $1 00 New 1 25
HAY, N. C. cake, 25
CHICKENS, grown, 30.
" young, 20@25
EGGS, 20
BUTTER, country, 25@30
FISH, Mackrel, No 1, $9 00.
" " No 2, $7 50.
" " No 3, $6 00.
" Mackerel, kits family, $1 00
BEESWAX, 25

VEGETINE

Purifies the Blood, Renovates and Invigorates the Whole System.

ITS MEDICINAL PROPERTIES ARE

Alterative, Tonic, Solvent and Diuretic.

VEGETINE is made exclusively from the juices of carefully selected barks, roots and herbs, and so strongly concentrated, that it will effectually eradicate from the system every taint of Scrofula, Scrofulous Humor, Tumors, Cancer, Cancerous Humor, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Syphilitic Diseases, Canker, Falntness at the Stomach; and all diseases that arise from impure blood, Sciatica, Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Gout and Spinal Complaints, can only be effectually cured through the blood.

For Ulcers and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, Pustules, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, Tetter, Scald-head and Ringworm, VEGETINE has never failed to effect a permanent cure.

For Pains in the Back, Kidney Complaints, Dropsy, Female Weakness, Leucorrhœa, arising from internal ulceration, and uterine diseases and General Debility, VEGETINE acts directly upon the cause of these complaints. It invigorates and strengthens the whole system, acts upon the secretive organs, allays inflammation, cures ulceration and regulates the bowels.

For Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Habitual Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Headache, Piles, Nervousness and General Prostration of the Nervous System, no medicine has given such perfect satisfaction as the VEGETINE. It purifies the blood, cleanses all of the organs, and possesses a controlling power over the nervous system.

The remarkable cures effected by VEGETINE have induced many physicians and druggists whom we know to prescribe and use it in their own families.

In fact, VEGETINE is the best remedy yet discovered for the above diseases, and is the only reliable BLOOD PURIFIER yet placed before the public.

PREPARED BY

H. R. STEVENS, Boston, Mass.

What is Vegetine?

It is a compound extracted from barks, roots and herbs—H. R. STEVENS' Remedy. It is perfectly harmless from any bad effect upon the system. It is nourishing and strengthening. It acts directly upon the blood. It quiets the nervous system. It gives you good, sweet sleep at night. It is a great panacea for our aged fathers and mothers, for it gives them strength, quiets their nerves and gives them Nature's sweet sleep, as has been proved by many an aged person. It is the great Blood Purifier. It is a soothing remedy for our children. It has relieved and cured thousands. It is very pleasant to take; every child likes it. It relieves and cures all diseases originating from impure blood. Try the VEGETINE. Give it a fair trial for your complaints; then you will say to your friend, neighbor and acquaintance, "Try it; it has cured me."

VEGETINE for the complaints for which it is recommended, is having a larger sale throughout the United States than any other one medicine. Why? Vegetine will Cure these Complaints.

Cannot be Excelled.

CHARLESTOWN, MASS., March 10, 1869.

MR. H. R. STEVENS: Dear Sir—This is to certify that I have used your "Blood Preparation" in my family for several years, and think that, for Scrofula or Cankerous Humors, or Rheumatic Affections, it cannot be excelled; and, as a blood purifier and spring medicine, it is the best thing I have ever used and I have used almost everything. I can cheerfully recommend it to any one in need of such a medicine.

Yours respectfully,
MRS. A. A. DINSMORE,
19 Russell Street.

Gives Health, Strength and Appetite.

My daughter has received great benefit from the use of the VEGETINE. Her declining health was a source of great anxiety to all of her friends. A few bottles of the VEGETINE restored her health, strength and appetite.

S. H. TILDEN,
Insurance and Real Estate Agent,
No. 49 Sears Building, Boston, Mass.

Prepared by H. R. STEVENS, Boston, Mass.

VEGETINE IS SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

$5 TO $20 per day at home. Samples worth $5 free. STINSON & Co., Portland, Maine. dec 13-1y.

PLEASANT GARDEN ACADEMY

Male and Female

(Greensboro District Conference School).

Next session begins Jan. 1st 1877.

Entire expenses from $99 to $50.

For particulars, address

R. P. TROY, Principal,
Greensboro, N. C.

dec 13-3m.

O.K.H.

"OLD KENTUCKY HOME," Eastman Johnson's marvelous painting, the richest work of one of America's great artists,

AND

the magnificent engravings of WATKINS' GLEN, the most picturesque and wonderfully beautiful of Nature's curiosities in North America, so faithfully engraved in Water Tints—painting, it has been successfully reproduced after Eastman Johnson's original and work for premiums is the grand Chromo pictorial of New York, THE ILLUSTRATED WEEKLY.

Each picture has been perfected by 27 distinct printings in oil colors, size 22x28 INCHES, and is not very easily distinguished from the original in oil colors. They are copyrighted and secured by the strongest law of this country, and no other publication does now or ever will give such pictures.

The Illustrated Weekly is of the highest character, pure, instructive, and entertaining, with pen and pencil current events, fine literature, and useful subjects; fun and frolic, but not partisan or political—going alike to the cottage and palace.

JAMES PARTON, confessedly one of the best contributors, including Dr. Lyman Abbott, Henry Ward Beecher, Mrs. Abbey Hemenway, Mrs. Edgar Fawcett, Brander Matthews, Mrs. Alice L. Knox, Walsingham, Bessie Jones, Jane Peyton, Mrs. Frances Brown, Mrs. Abbey Bloomfield Parsons, and lots of the best contributors, including Dr. Lucy Waller, Jennie Flower, Mrs. Alice Cary, Bessie Chandler

Children's Column.

Autumn Leaves.

BY GEORGE COOPER.

"Come, little leaves," said the wind one day—
"Come over the meadows with me and play.
Put on your dresses of red and gold;
Summer is gone and the days grow cold."

Soon as the leaves heard the wind's loud call,
Down they came fluttering, one and all;
Over the brown fields they danced and flew,
Singing the soft little songs they knew.

"Cricket, good-by, we've been friends so long;
Little brook, sing us your farewell song—
Say you are sorry to see us go;
Ah! you are sorry, right well we know.

"Dear little lamb in your fleecy fold,
Mother will keep you from harm and cold;
Fondly we've watched you in vale and glade;
Say will you dream of our loving shade?"

Dancing and whirling the ti ti the leaves went;
Winter had called them and they were content.
Soon fast asleep in their earthly beds,
The snow laid a coverlet over their heads.

For the Children's Column.

To the Band of Bible Readers of 1876.

MY DEAR FRIENDS: We have nearly completed our annual reading of the Holy Bible for this year. I now ask you to unite your efforts in your several communities to urge all the young people to join you in reading the Sacred Volum through during 1877. Thus forming in your vicinity a distinct and separate band of readers. No names need to be reported though the Advocate; but keep a re cord of the names yourselves. May a kind Providence favor your labors!

Any report of your success will be gratefully acknowledge by,

Your friend and coworker,
WILLIE A. BETTS.

Mt. Pleasant, N. C.

THE CONFESSION.

PAUL HANSON.

Bert was in trouble. His father was away; but was coming home in a day or two, and it seemed that one of the first things he would hear must be bad news of his boy.

A couple of days before, some of the schoolboys had begun teasing a poorly dressed little girl, and had kept on, from one thing to another, until the child's clothes were torn, and she was thrown down and hurt. And now it was said that she was sick, and her father was very angry and threatened to have the boys arrested, and Bert was one of them. He was sitting in his room upstairs, trying to think how he could manage this bad case and keep his father from being so disappointed in him.

While he was thinking, there was a rap at the door, and his uncle came in. Now, Bert was rather afraid of Uncle John, for he had talked pretty plainly to him about some of his mischief. But now it seemed that he must speak to somebody, and, hard as it was, he had soon given his uncle an account of his troubles.

"Yes, yes, a bad case, indeed," said Uncle John; "a little girl going about her business, doing no harm to anybody, and a mob of great boys, any one of them three times as strong as she setting upon her, blackguarding, pushing, pulling and abusing, until she is hurt and frightened into sickness! And Herbert Bronson one of the leaders in such a noble game!"

"Oh, no, Uncle!" exclaimed Bert, eagerly; "Jim and Bob began it, and I was led into it. I'm sure I shouldn't have done it if it hadn't been for them."

"Led into it," said Uncle John, "led into it: I believe this is not the first mischief you have been in, in the same company?"

"No," said Bert faintly; "mother says if I was away from them I should do better."

"Maybe so; but what kind of a man will you make if you are going to be led into whatever an evil companion chooses to have you do? Jim and Bob, we will say, want you to play truant, to rob orchards, and bully those who are too weak to resist. By and-by, they, or somebody else, will want you to drink and gamble with them, and then to steal. Must you be led into it? If so, you are bound for prison anyway, and I don't know but you may as well go now."

"O, Uncle," said Bert, "can't you do something to help me?"

"Probably I could, if I could get you to change your course. I wish you had been made with backbone, and not like a toad or a caterpillar, or like a quart of water, which takes the shape of any dish it happens to be put into. It sickens me to think of it! What were you doing while they were leading you into the meanest kind of mischief? Besides, there were Will and Ned—what were they doing?

"They said it was a shame," owned Bert, "and the boys stopped once, but began again after they were gone."

"And you were so easily led, how is it that they did not lead you out of it? Don't you see it was because Bert Bronson was on the side of meaness and cowdyism?"

Bert had no answer for this question, but he asked away: "What can I do, now the thing is done? Can't you tell me something?"

"Yes, I can tell you something. Go right to Mr. Green, and tell him you were one of the boys who hurt his little girl, and that you are sorry, and will do anything you can to remedy your mischief. If you will do that, I will try to smoothe matters with him, and I think we can keep things from getting any worse than they are now."

"But that's awful hard, Uncle," whined Bert.

"Hard! I should hope so. I don't want you to find confession so easy that you can get right over it, and be ready for the next time. I hope you will have an experience you will remember. Now, if you accept my offer, you can't be off too soon on your errand. But do not try to lay the blame on somebody else. Own up your own fault like a man, or at least, like a boy there is hope of making a man of."

Bert groaned, and looked aroundd, as if for some escape; but his uncle gave him no further encouragement and, after a few minutes, he started up, seized his cap, and crying, "I'll do it," rushed downstairs and out of the house.

Confession was hard, as Bert supposed, but he got through with it; and things soon looked brighter. Mr. Green was not very hard to pacify, especially as his daughter soon began to be better. Uncle John kept his part of the agreement, and Bert's trouble passed away.

Possibly the uncle might have done a little different to better advantage; but the effect seems to be good so far. Bert has been pretty careful for some time what he allows himself to be led into. Uncle John says the bitter taste of the medicine is in his mouth yet.—N. Y. Observer.

IN spite of prostration, night sweats, spitting of blood, hectic fever, and the most distressing cough, Consumptive patients have been saved and restored by the regular use of Baker's Cod Liver Oil and Phosphate of Lime. In this form it is a pleasant medicine, and should be early resorted to. Jno. C. Baker & Co., Philadelphia.

A Valuable Medical Treatise

The edition for 1877 of the sterling Medical Annual, known as Hostetter's Almanac, is now ready, and may be obtained, free of cost, of druggists and general country dealers in all parts of the United States and British America, and indeed in every civilized portion of the Western Hemisphere. It combines, with the soundest practical advice for the preservation and restoration of health, a large amount of interesting and amusing light reading, and the calendar, astronomical calculations, chronological items, &c., are prepared with great care, and will be found entirely accurate. The issue of Hostetter's Almanac for 1877 will probably be the largest edition of a medical work ever published in any country. The proprietors, Messrs. Hostetter & Smith Pittsburgh, Pa., on receipt of a two cent stamp will forward a copy by mail to any person who cannot procure one in his neighborhood.

"TO THE POINT."

—:o:—

MONEY IS SCARCE, SALARIES AND WAGES ARE LOW, THE COUNTRY UNSETTLED AND DISTURBED.

HAPPILY THERE IS AN OFFSET FOR THESE EVILS.

W. H. & R. S TUCKER, by their cash system, have laid in additional supplies for "Cash"—and are troubled inorfore to sell GOOD GOODS at the very lowest prices.

We have the largest stock of Men's, Womens, and Childrens' SHOES in the city. (No old stock or shoddy work,) at the very lowest prices.

Ladies' DRESS GOODS, full line very low.

Ladies' CLOAKS and SHAWLS, very good and very cheap.

MEN'S CLOTHS and CASSIMERES
Kentucky Jeans etc., extraordinarily low.

Men's and Boys' HATS, The largest stock in the State, from 40 cts. up to Best Silk Hat for $5.50.

Men's and Ladies' underwear, shirts and drawers—and the best UNLAUNDRIED shirt, in the State at $1.00.

Also the best LAUNDRIED Shirt, ready for use 2100 Linen, Wamsutta Muslin, &c.

Prints and N. C. Plaids—full stock, fast colors, and very low.

To all—"A Penny saved is a Penny made," so bring along your pennies and make yourself comfortable and happy, notwithstanding the times.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER.

dec 6 tf.

WAKE COUNTY: In the Superior Court.

State of N. C. on Relation of E E Stamps Trustee of Georgeanna Spivey, et. al., Against
George H. Faribault, Adm'r of A. H. Taylor, and George H. Faribault and wife Rosa, S A Taylor, N A Taylor and Matilda A Taylor; W D Jones, Wm B Mitchell, Candice Johns, Exof J B Johns, David Lewis and T B Johns Exrs of (Z) Johns, Thos J Johns, John B Johns, Patrick H Johns, C N Allen and wife C V Allen and Hannas Johns.

Summons for Relief

THE STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
To the Sheriff of Wake County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon Matilda A. Taylor, Nat. A. Taylor and S. A. Taylor, the Defendants above named, if they be found within your County, to be and appear before the Judge of our Superior Court, at a Court to be held for the County of Wake at the Court House in Raleigh on the 8th Monday after the 2nd Monday of August 1876, and answer the complaint which will be deposited in the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court of said County, within the first three days of the next Term thereof, and let the said Defendants take notice that if they fail to answer the said complaint within that time, the Plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Hereof fail not, and of this summons make due return.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, this 19th day of Sept 1876

J. N. BUNTING,
Clerk Superior Court Wake County.

NORTH CAROLINA, Wake County, } SUPERIOR COURT, Fall Term 1876.

State of N. C. on relation of E. R. Stamps, Trustee, &c., vs. Geo. H. Farribault and others

It appearing to the satisfaction of the Court upon affidavit, that the defendants Sam'l A. Taylor, Nat A Taylor and Matilda A Taylor are necessary parties to this action, and that after due diligence they cannot be found in this State—It is ordered by the Court that service by publication of the summons in this cause be made upon the said defendants once a week for at least six weeks in the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, a newspaper published in the city of Raleigh, and that copies of the same be mailed to said defendants at their places of residence if such be known.

S. W. WATTS, J. S. C.

nov 8 6w.

WANTED—SALESMEN—Traveling and local; staple goods; no peddling; salary $75 per month; Hotel and traveling expenses paid. S. A GRANT & CO., Manufacturers of paper and envelopes, 2, 4, 6 and 8 Home St., Cincinnati, O
Nov. 15th 2-1

POTTER'S AMERICAN MONTHLY

50,000 Subscribers for 1877.

ILLUSTRATED; Best Family Magaziue in the Country, at $3 for 1877. 5 copies one year for $13; 10 copies for $25; 20 copies for $50, and a copy of Potter's Bible Encyclopedia, quarto, 3000 illustrations, price, $25, given to the person sending this club. For sale at all News stands, at 25 cents a number. Special Terms to Agents. J. E. POTTER & CO., PHILA., PA.
nov 1-6t.

SITUATION WANTED

A Widow of a minister, and of long experience in teaching, would assist in a School, or take entire charge of a neighborhood School. References given if required. Address, station terms,
RALEIGH CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.
Nov 8 1 m

KINSTON HIGH SCHOOL

The Fall session will begin Sept. 4th, 1876. Terms moderate.

For circulars, apply to
J. S. MIDYETTE, Principal
Kinston, N. C.

Aug. 16 3m.

"TEACHER."

Any one desiring a teacher would do well to address, stating terms,
DR. W. A. WILSON, A. B.
Trinity College.

sept 20-tf.

COMMISSION MERCHANTS.

THE OLDEST

WHOLESALE GROCERY HOUSE

In Raleigh!

ESTABLISHED IN 1869.

LEACH BROTHERS

WHOLESALE GROCERS

—AND—

Commission Merchants,

RALEIGH, N. C.

Ask the attention of the trade to their stock of

STAPLE GROCERIES,

bought from first hands by their resident Partner in New York, and offered in this market on small margins.

With an experience of seven years in the grocery business in this city they will make it to the interest of prompt paying customers to send them their orders.

March 8th 1-y P. O. Box 416. Raleigh, N. C.

NEW FIRM

TO FRIENDS AND PUBLIC GENERALLY

I have associated with me Mr. G. D. Rand (formerly Rand & Barbee Lumber Dealers,) as a partner in the wholesale and retail Grocery and General Commission business. I respectfully tender my thanks for past favors and hope to have them continued with the new firm. Yours truly,

January 6, 1876. L. R. WYATT.

G. D. RAND. L. R. WYATT.

RAND & WYATT,

Wholesale and Retail Grocers

AND

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

Have on hand and constantly receiving a fresh and first class stock of

GROCERIES

consisting of Flour, a specialty, Meal, Corn Bacon Lard, Sugar, Coffee, Pepper and Spice, Molasses (new crop Cuba), Syrup, Toilet and Laundry, Soaps, Wood and Willow Ware, Fancy Groceries, &c.

Everything embraced in a First Class Grocery which we propose to sell at Lowest Rates. Give us a trial. Orders with proper reference respectfully solicited, which shall receive our prompt attention. Consignment of Cotton and other produce solicited. Best prices guaranteed Yours truly,

RAND & WYATT,

Opp. East end of Market, Raleigh, N. C.

July 12 1 y

SCHEDULES.

PIEDMONT AIR-LINE RAILWAY.

RICHMOND & DANVILLE, RICHMOND & DANVILLE R. W., N. C. DIVISION, and NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. W.

CONDENSED TIME-TABLE.

IN EFFECT ON AND AFTER SUNDAY, OCT. 15TH, 1876.

GOING NORTH.

STATIONS.	MAIL.
Leave Charlotte.....	4.55 A M
" Air-Line Junct'n	5.40 "
" Salisbury.....	7.35 "
" Greensboro'.....	9.55 "
" Danville.....	12.2 P M
" Dundee.....	1.46 "
" Burkeville.....	3.05 "
Arrive at Richmond...	7.45 P M

GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS.	MAIL.
Leave Richmond.....	7.50 A M
" Burkeville.....	10.46 "
" Dundee.....	2.55 P M
" Danville.....	4.39 "
" Greensboro'...	7.40 "
" Salisbury.....	9.45 "
" Air-Line Junct'n	10.25 "
Arrive at Charlotte..	10.37 "

STATIONS.	GOING EAST. MAIL.	GOING WEST. MAIL.
Leave Greensboro'..	10.05 A. M.	Arrive 3.25 P. M
" Co. Shops.....	11.21 A. M.	Leave 4.25 "
Arrive at Raleigh..	2.45 P. M.	Arrive 12.30 "
Arrive at Goldsboro'	5.05 P. M.	Leave 10.10 P M

STATIONS.	ACCOMMODATION TRAIN.
Leave Greensboro'....	6.33 P. M.	Arr. 9.00 A. M.
" Co. Shops.....	11.10 "	Leave 6.50 A. M.
Arr. at Raleigh.....	6.01 A. M.	Arr. 9.50 P. M.
Arr at Goldsboro....	11.30 "	Lv. 5.30 P. M.

NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. R.

(SALEM BRANCH.)

Leave Greensboro'.....	6.10 P. M.
Arrive at Slnion	8.15 A. M.
Leave Salem.....	7.00 A. M.
Arrive at Greensboro.....	9.15 "

Passenger Train leaving Raleigh at 12.34 P. M. connects at Greensboro' with the Southern bound train; making the quickest time to all Southern cities.

Accommodation Train leaving Greensboro at 10.15 P. M. connects with Northern bound Train at Greensboro for Richmond and all points East. Price of Tickets same as via other routes.

No Change of Cars between Atlanta and Richmond, 547 Miles.

Papers that have arrangeats to advertise the Schedule of this company will please print as above and forward copies to General Passenger Agent.

For further information address
JOHN R. MACMURDO,
Gen'l Passenger Agent,
Richmond, Va.

—:o:—

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE

RALEIGH & GASTON RAILROAD,
SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,
Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 9th, 1876.

On and after Monday, Oct. 9th, 1876, trains on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad, will run daily (Sunday excepted) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Leave Raleigh,	9.30 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon,	3.05 P. M.
Leaves Weldon,	12 40 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh,	5.40 P. M.

ACCOMMODATION TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh,	5.00 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon,	5.35 P. M.
Leaves Weldon,	6.00 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh,	6.15 P. M.

Mail train makes close connection at Weldon, with the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad and Bay Line Steamers via Baltimore, to and from all points North, West and Northwest, and with Petersburg Railroad via Petersburg, Richmond and Washington City, to and from all points North and Northwest.

And at Raleigh with the North Carolina Railroad to and from all points South and Southwest, and with the Raleigh & Augusta Air Line to Haywood and Fayetteville.

JNO. C. WINDER,
Gen'l Superintendent.

RALEIGH & AUGUSTA AIR-LINE RAILROAD.

SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,
Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 30th, 1876.

On and after Monday, October 30th, 1876, trains will run as follows:

TRAIN MOVING SOUTH.

	Arrive	Leave
Raleigh,	7.00 A. M.	6.30 A. M.
Cary,	7.50 "	7.20 "
Apex,	7.50 "	7.35 "
New Hill,	8.20 "	8.20 "
Merry Oaks,	9.00 "	9.15 "
Moncure,	9.25 "	9.45 "
Osgood,	10.15 "	10.30 "
Samford,	10.50 "	11.05 "
Munn,	11.35 "	11.37 "
Cameron	11.57 P. M.

TRAIN MOVING NORTH.

	Arrive	Leave
Raleigh,	5.40 P. M.	6.00 P. M
Cary,	5.22 "	5.42 "
Apex,	5.17 "	5.22 "
New Hill,	4.44 "	4.47 "
Merry Oaks,	4.07 "	4.12 "
Moncure,	3.42 "	3.57 "
Osgood,	3.47 "	3.52 "
Samford,	2.36 "	2.17 "
Munn,	1.30 "	1.32 "
Cameron,		1.50 "

J. C. WINDER, Superintendent.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE BUFFALO

LITHIA WATERS

THE GREAT

STOMACH WATERS

Of America.

Case of Mrs. ——, cured by Dr. Marcus A Harris, a distinguished physician of Banister, Halifax Co., Va

(Extract from letter dated July 25, 1876.)

"Mrs. —— has been for many years a sufferer from Dyspepsia in a most aggravated form. Prominent among a multiplicity of distressing symptoms were attacks of Spasmodic Contraction, varying in duration and intensity, and becoming less and less amenable to treatment. For a few months before she commenced the use of the BUFFALO LITHIA WATERS the attacks became more prolonged, the patient and her emaciated, cachetic and hectic aud countenance gave unmistakable evidence of a rapid decline, having exhausted my own resources, I called in any assistance in the treatment of the case some of the most eminent medical men of the State, without any other result than a multiplication of sufferings and in what I regarded as a hopeless condition, I prescribed the Buffalo Lithia Water, Spring No 2, before admission of all other treatment. She has been using the water now for some six weeks, with only occasional symptoms of indigestion, and her improvement has been so marked and decided that she is able to eat food regularly to her domestic duties. For some months before commencing the use of the "Lithia Water," her diet was milk and stale bread. Restricted with bread and water and bread and milk. She now eats with impunity almost everything—tea breakfast, coffee, bread and butter with the exception broiled chicken, &c.; for dinner, mutton, beef, duck, &c., and any vegetable except Irish potatoes, with the exceptions, such as cake, ice cream, &c. I will add, this was one of the most distressing and discouraging sole cases of Dyspepsia that I have ever met in my practice of many years, and I call this action of the water in it was marvellous."

DYSPEPSIA AND NERVOUS HEADACHE

Case of Dr. R. H. Tatum, a well known physician of Chesterfield county, Va.

Extract from letter dated Louisburg, Va., September 4th, 1876:

"For years I have suffered from indigestion, causing sick headache, attended with the most intense misery. I have visited some of our most celebrated mountain springs and drank the mineral water from the springs of other States, but have found no such relief as I have experienced from the use of two cases of the BUFFALO LITHIA WATER, Spring No 2. I have prescribed it for several patients suffering from symptoms produced by Dyspepsia—and in two of appetite, general debility, headache cough and severe pain in the Epigastric region—with the happiest results."

Post office Chalk, Amelia county, Va

DYSPEPSIA.

Case of John P. Keeling, Esq a well known citizen of Princess Anne county, Va.

PRINCESS ANNE CO., VA., Aug 15, 1875.

Col. THOS. F. GOODE:

Dear Sir—It is with much pleasure I furnish you with a statement of my case of Dyspepsia for which I obtained from your LITHIA WATER, as in doing so I may possibly relieve some sufferer and be the means of restoring to health.

For seven years, [illegible] Norfolk, Virginia, being in practice in the city and at times it was with difficulty I could attend to my practice. For some eighteen months I resided in the City of Baltimore, perfect health, having been treated during that time by some of the most eminent physicians of that city, without any benefit. I gave up my business entirely, as was supposed, to die, was at one time confined to my room in possession of my physicians, principles, and with but little faith, determined to try the water. A single case resulted in an improvement in my condition so radical that I am now able to attend regularly to my business on the farm. I do believe this to be the greatest stone in my case, of the world.

Very truly yours, JOHN P. KEELING.

In affections of the Kidneys and Bladder, in Gout, Rheumatism and Paralysis these waters have accomplished results as remarkable as any of record. They are for sale in cases of one dozen half gallon bottles at $5 per case, packed in advance.

The Springs Pamphlet sent to any address on application.

THOS. F. GOODE, PROPRIETOR.

BUFFALO LITHIA SPRINGS,
Mecklenburg Co., Va.

oct 11-tf.

DR. CHARLES J. NALL'S
CELEBRATED TURKISH AND CHEMICAL BATHS,
HEAD OF FAYETTEVILLE STREET,
RALEIGH, N. C.

Formal recommendations would be superfluous in the case of this well known establishment, but a short visit to the same Room, after years of experience and of unparalleled success in the treatment of all diseases of the Skin, Blood, Kidneys, Liver, &c., will satisfy the most fastidious that the Turkish Bath is conducted on the principles of cleanliness and comfort unsurpassed by any Bath House in the country. In addition to the Turkish Bath, the Proprietor has added the Chemical Bath, which is a decided improvement on the ordinary Turkish Bath. Ladies can have the Baths at their residences by sending for a list of questions, Constitution free—

WIRE RAILING & ORNAMENTAL Wire Works.
DURANT & CO.
36 North Howard Street, Baltimore, Md
Manufacture WIRE RAILING for Cemeteries, Balconies, &c., SHRUBS, VASES, Chairs, Seats and Coal Screens, WOVEN WIRE, &c. Also, IRON BEDSTEADS Ornamental Iron, &c.
Feb 16-12m

GENUINE CRAB ORCHARD SALTS.

THE MILDEST AND BEST GENERAL PURGATIVE IN USE. Endorsed by the highest medical men in the United States. Persons suffering with costiveness or the bowels or torpid liver, will find ready relief by the use of these Salts. None genuine except those put up in bottles with the label of the Crab Orchard Springs Salts Company.

J. B. WILDER & CO., Agents, Louisville, Ky.

THE BOOK AND JOB PRINTING BUSINESS OF

E. J. HALE & SON,

17 MURRAY ST, New York

Will not be interrupted by the removal of Mr. P. M. Hale to Raleigh. Orders from prompt customers executed, and promptly filled at lowest market rates.

DRY GOODS.

BEAUTIFUL STOCK OF

FALL & WINTER

CLOTHING!

—AND—

GENTS FURNISHING GOODS!

IS NOW BEING OPENED

AT

J. M. ROSENBAUM'S

CLOTHING HOUSE,

Corner Fayetteville and Hargett Streets.

Thanking the good citizens of Raleigh and Wake county, for their liberal patronage in the past, I assure them that I shall endeavor to merit it in the future by keeping good Goods at the lowest living prices. Give me a call before buying elsewhere. We take pleasure in showing our stock and telling our prices.

Oct 18-3m.

1876. 1876.

DRY FALL GOODS!

We have just received our complete stock of Goods for the Fall and Winter trade.

We call the attention of ladies to our superior stock of Dress Goods, which are much lower than ever known before.

Our Black Alpacas are of the very best quality and at low prices.

Our Stock of Ladies Cloaks is very large, of the very latest styles and are selling rapidly.

LADIES' TIES OF THE VERY LATEST STYLE.

A handsome line of Ruffs and Ladies Collars and Cuffs.

Gents Cassimers, all Grades.

Large lot of Gents Latest style
Silk Hats at $5.50, the best quality in the city, also a broad brim fine Felt Hat.
Canfield Boots and Shoes, the best made,
A Large lot of Cloth, Velvet and Leather Belts,

Special inducements offered to Merchants buying in the State. Our wholesale department is complete.

PETTY & JONES,

30 Fayetteville Street,

Raleigh, N. C.

Oct 18 tf

D. S. WAITT & BRO.

Beg leave to inform their customers that they have removed to the well known stand of James M Towles, No. 52 Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, N. C., which they have fitted up entirely new, and have purchased a large and well assorted stock of

READY-MADE CLOTHING!

FOR MEN, BOYS AND CHILDREN.

Men's Sack Suits ten $4.00; Men's Frock Suits for $5.00; Men's Frock Cassimere Suits, from $10 to $25; Men's Fine Black Suits, from $17.50 to $50. Boys' Fancy Suits of Suits, $4 $6; Boys' Cas. Suits, $8 to $15; Children's Suits, $3 to $10; Over-Coats, $5 to $30. Come and get SUITED.

GENTS FURNISHING GOODS,

Hamburg Edgings and Insertions,
Notions, Hosiery, Gloves, Cambrics, &c
Boots, Shoes, Umbrellas, Hats, Caps and Furs,

DOMESTIC DRY GOODS,

CONSISTING OF

Prints, Alpacas, Merinos, Delaines, Ginghams, Cotton Plaids, Cottonades, Kentucky Jeans, Cassimeres, Cambries, Blue Denims, Osnaburgs, Ticklings, Flannels, Shirting Stripes, Opera Flannels, Linseys, &c.

BLEACHED & BROWN SHEETINGS & SHIRTINGS.

Thanking our friends for their liberal patronage in the past, we feel confident that in our new store with New Goods, bought at the lowest prices, we will be able to please all. Respectfully,

D. S. WAITT & BRO.,
No. 57 Fayetteville St., Raleigh, N C

READ! READ!

In order to compete with New York houses and to keep up with the times,

ISAAC GETTINGER

has determined to put down prices, and less money shall flow Northward in the future. To prove that I am in earnest, and mean what I say, I will give a partial list of my prices:

Straw Hats from 40 cents up.
Felt Hats from 35 cents up.
Hats with lace edge from 10 cents per yard up.
Ribbons 1½ inches wide from 12½ cents up, and other widths in proportion.
Corsets from 35 cents up.
Collars from 7 cents up.
Zephyr from 13½ cents up, only imported.
Real Hair Braids from 60 cents up.
Imitation Merino Corsets from 50 cents up.
Infants' Crush Caps from 75 cents up.
Infants' Dresses from $1.00 up.
Worsted Fringe for trimming dresses from 12½c. up.
Kid Gloves from 75 cents up, 2 buttons.
Hamburg Edgings from 6 cents up.

I could name a thousand more articles, but I can only assure the public that my prices will be uniform in every branch, and all I ask is a call.

MY STOCK IS LARGE AND NEW.

ISAAC GETTINGER,
45 Fayetteville Street,
RALEIGH, N. C.

Oct. 18-tf.

Established 1816.

CHAS. SIMON & SONS,

No. 68 N. HOWARD STREET, BALTIMORE

DEALERS IN

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC

DRY GOODS,

would call special attention to their extensive stock of

DRESS GOODS,
LINEN GOODS,
EMBROIDERIES
LACES AND HOSIERY

The best assortment of

Mourning Goods

in the city.

SAMPLES SENT FREE!

All orders amounting to $20 or over, will be sent free of freight charges by Express, but parties whose orders are not accompanied by the money, and having their goods sent C. O. D., must pay for return of the same.

READY FOR AGENTS—THE

CENTENNIAL EXPOSITION

DESCRIBED AND ILLUSTRATED,

A graphic perspecture of its history, grand buildings, wonderful exhibits, great sights, great days, etc. Profusely illustrated, thoroughly popular, and very cheap. Is selling immensely. 50,000 AGENTS wanted. Send for full particulars. This is the season of 328 years to coin money fast. Get the only reliable history. HUBBARD BROTHERS, Pubs., 738 Sansom Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

CAUTION.—Be not deceived by pretenders and catch-penny "official" and telling what will happen in August and September.

Nov 15-3m.

EDUCATIONAL.

PLEASANT GARDEN ACADEMY,

Male and Female.

(Greensboro District Conference School),
Next session begins Aug. 1st 1876.
Entire expenses from $60 to $70.
For particulars, address,
R. P. TROY, Principal,
Greensboro, N. C,

July 26-3m.

Trinity College, N. C.

The Session begins Sept. 5th. Tuition $20 to $33 for five months; board $10 to $12 per month. Entire expense for five months $87 to $98.

Send for Catalogue,

B. CRAVEN.

aug 22-tf

JOHN J. FRAY'S

CLASSICAL AND MATHEMATICAL SCHOOL.

The 19th session of my school will begin on Sept. 4th, 1876, (1st Monday) Terms same as heretofore.

Boarding pupils will be met at Clayton on the N. C. R. R. 21 miles distant or at Raleigh.

For circulars containing terms, particulars &c. Address,

JOHN J. FRAY,
Raleigh, N. C.

References:—The faculty of the University of Va. Rev. B. T. Bock, A. F. Mial, Rev. W. H. Bobbitt, Rev. J. S. Bobbitt, D. D. Rev. J. P. Moore.

aug 22-tf

DAVENPORT FEMALE COLLEGE

Lenoir, N. C.

REV. W. M. ROBEY, A. M. President.

EXPENSES PER SESSION.

Board including lights and washing,..... $70.00
Tuition, English course,..... 25.00
Music, with use of Instrument,..... 25.00
Entire expenses from $120 to $150.

The fall session will open on the 4th Monday in August and close on the Friday in Jan. The Spring Session will open on the 4th Monday in Jan 1877, and close on the 1st Tuesday in June.

For information refer to Rev. W. N. Black, P. E. Wilmington Dis. H. M. Bowden, Wilmington, Rev. R. A. Yates, P. E Newbern Dis. Rev. Dr. Burke, Raleigh Rev. E. W. Thompson Fayetteville, Rev. V. A. Sharpe, Thomasville, Rev. J. A. Cunningham, Greensboro, Rev. Dr. Craven, Trinity College, Rev. W. H. Bobbitt P. E. Charlotte Dis. and to the Preachers generally of the N. C. Conference.

For circular address the President.

June 28-3m.

WESLEYAN FEMALE INSTITUTE.

STAUNTON, VA.

Will begin its twenty-seventh Annual Session, September 21st, 1876. Rev W. A. Harris, D. D., President, with an able corps of twenty-three Teachers and Officers.

Modern Languages taught and spoken in the College by a German as Teacher. Music by able Professors and Teachers, among whom are some of the most cultivated teachers of vocal music in the South.

This is one of the best located schools in the Union for marked effects in the rapid promotion of the health and vigor of pupils. Those who come here from the South with feeble constitutions, and climatic diseases, are generally restored.

Buildings elegant—famed by purest breezes, commanding the most magnificent scenery, and combining such varied attractions as to make it one of the most delightful college homes in the Union.

This school is usually attended by pupils from fifteen to seventeen different States.

Great economy and simplicity in dress are required. A simple uniform is worn. No unnecessary expense allowed. Strict economy practiced to limit expenses of pupils.

From Bishop D. S. Doggett, D. D.

The Wesleyan Female Institute, located in Staunton, Va., under the Presidency of Rev. W. A. Harris, is, in my judgment, one of the best institutions, for young ladies, in the South. I have occasion to know and appreciate its value by the advantages enjoyed by one of my daughters there, its course of study its complete Faculty accomplished, and its instructions both solid and elegant. Its personal accommodations are all that can be desired, for health and comfort, or taste. No position could be more eligible; no scenery more magnificent; no atmosphere more salubrious. Not less dear to its mover, is its sacred regard for its religious training, without which no Female College especially would be a blessing.

D. S. DOGGETT.

From Bishop E. M. Marvin, D. D.

The Wesleyan Female Institute is an honor to the Church Wesleyan Female Institute. In music, advantages, I believe it to be of the first order. The most talented are employed of very high and neither pains nor expense of Professors are employed. the department seminal,

From Prof F H Smith, M. A. L. L. D., University of Virginia.

The Wesleyan Female Institute, at Staunton, deserves the brilliant success it enjoys. Having had a daughter under Mr. Harris' care, my observation leads me to believe this school to be one of the best Female Seminaries which adorn our State. * * The Halls of the Wesleyan Female Institute should be filled to overflowing with pupils from all our Southern States.

FRANCIS H. SMITH.

TERMS FOR THE ENTIRE COLLEGIATE YEAR.
Board and Tuition in the Collegiate course. $240.
For Catalogues, address,
REV W. A. HARRIS, President.
Staunton, Va.

CARPENTER & EARL,

DEALERS IN

Coal, Wood and Lumber,

at Western Terminus, Hargett Street.

Best Reliash Egg and Nut Coal per ton of 2240 pounds, Delivered, $9.00
Stove Coal 2240 pounds, " 9.50
Smith " per ton, " 9.00
Hardwood, per cord, " 4.00
Pinewood " " " 3.00
Lumber at low figures.

Orders may be left at Farmers Drug Store, or sent to the yard, and shall receive prompt attention.

Oct 18-6m.

BALTIMORE, OCTOBER 1876.

CHAS. SIMON & SONS

DRESS-MAKING DEPARTMENT.

We would call the attention of our friends and the public in general to this Department.

Under the present management we have met with unprecedented success. We have filled orders for customers residing in nearly every Southern State, and have in our possession numerous flattering testimonials, both as regards fit and style, as well as great superiority in neatly finishing our work.

Our specialty this season will be Black Grosgrain Silk Dresses, trimmed in same material, and made in the most fashionable style, for the low price of $50.00.

These Dresses should not be judged by the price, as they are in every respect superior to anything here-before offered on the money. Samples of the materials and directions for self-measurement sent free by mail upon application.

CHAS. SIMON & SONS,
63 N. Howard St.,
Baltimore, Md.

Sept 27 3m.

OFFICE SUPT. OF TRANSPORTATION,
Seaboard & Roanoke R. R. Co.,
Portsmouth, Va., Jan. 1st, 1875.

On and after this date, trains of this Road will leave Weldon daily, Sundays excepted, as follows:

Mail train at 4 P. M.
No. 1 Freight train at 4 A. M.
No. 2 Freight train at 8 A. M.

ARRIVE AT PORTSMOUTH.

Mail train at 7 15 P. M.
No. 1 Freight at 12 00 NOON.
No 2 Freight at 4 00 P. M.

Freight trains have a passenger car attached.

Steamer for Edenton, Plymouth and Landings on Blackwater and Chowan Rivers leave Franklin at 7.40 A M on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

E. G. GHIO,
Supt. Transportation.

NEW BOOKS FOR SINGING CLASSES!

JOYFUL NOTES

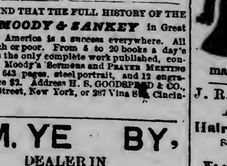
Is printed in our new combined notes, (a figure set in each round note—1 for do, 2 for re, 3 for me, etc.) acknowledged by all to be the best system yet invented, as you have the round notes, and the figures enable those not skilled in reading them to sing them at sight.

HOURS OF SONG

IS THE BEST ROUND NOTE BOOK IN THE FIELD.

HOURS OF SONG and JOYFUL NOTES were prepared by Prof. Jas. H. Fillmore, from long experience and careful observation as a successful teacher. The rudiments are the most thorough, the music grand. Price 60 cents $4.20 per dozen by express; $5.50 per dozen by mail.

FILLMORE BROS., Publishers,
Specimen pages free. CINCINNATI, O.
sept 20-tf.



apl 12 1y.

$5 TO $20 per day at home Samples worth free. STINSON & Co., Portland, Maine mch 8 1-y

MISCELLANEOUS.

WOMAN IN BATTLE

AGENTS WANTED to canvass every town and county in the State for

"WOMAN IN BATTLE!"

one of the most intensely interesting books ever published, being the Life and Exploits of Lieut. Harry T. Buford, C. S. A., or Madame L. J. Velasquez. The subscription book ever published has offered the chances this one does for wide awake agents to make money rapidly, and as territory is being taken up very fast those who desire to canvass for it should make application without delay.

MADAME L. J. VELASQUEZ,
Agent for North Carolina; address, Grange Hotel, corner Wilmington and Davie sts., one block from the Yatsboro House, Raleigh N. C. Agents wanted to sell Steel Engraving of the author.

Oct 12-1f

THE NORTH CAROLINA FARMER.

JAS. H ENNIS,—Dear Sir: I have been a practical farmer for forty years, and during that time have taken the best agricultural papers of the lay, and I undertake to say that there is more valuable practical information to our farmers in the first and second numbers of the North Carolina Farmer than in any dozen copies of any of the Agricultural Journals I have ta

DECEMBER 20 - PART association of this exalted prince strange women in the temples of ech, Chemash and Ashtoroth when aged in the worship of senseless

s. what a beautiful picture is e presented of the goodness of l, but how sadly blended with the ty of man!

But what, it may be reasonably ked, has the history of a fallen man do with the greetings and congratations that are allowable and ex ected on an occasion like the pres nt, and if the burden of the song of e speaker in his exordium be thus mplete with gloom, what will the perntion be? Let us not forget that e's brightest picture is not without its shades—and let us not seem to be, what we are not in reality, human beings without faults—"There is nothing true but Heaven."

And while it is a matter of rejoicing, and we do rejoice to day and feel a sense of gratitude in our hearts, to an overruling Providence, that the two largest church organizations on the continent of America after being rent in twain for a season, and which both before and since their separation have been indulging in feelings of bitterness towards each other in words and in conduct, among themselves, before the world and the courts of the coun try, and have so far lost sight of, and indeed been wanting in that charity, that thinketh no evil, as to incur per haps justly the reproachful words of e cynic, when he declares, with just igion enough in their hearts to e but not enough to love each oth

We repeat that after such an exhibition of weakness on the part of those of whom the world had a right to expect better things, it is matter of rejoicing, that it is our privilege and our pleasure to come before you to-day with the announcement that the Methodists North and South (with perhaps here and there an exception,) have approached each other in the spirit of forgiveness, and with religiion enough in their hearts to make the acknowledgment virtually that they are ashamed of and sorry for their folly, and through commissioners appointed for that purpose have met together in love and shaken hands over the weakness of the past, and in open day before the world, and upon their knees and in the fear of God, implored the forgiveness of Heaven, each other and the world.

It is matter of congratulation not alone to us, but we would fain be persuaded, to every man with the fear of God before his eyes and the love of his brother in his heart, that the two largest churches on the American Continent have embraced each other in charity and love, and have buried at once, and it is to be hoped forever, and beyond the reach of resurrection all differences, whether offensive or otherwise, by a hearty recognition of each other as a true branch of the Church of the living God, with the desire expressed on the part of both to cultivate a spirit of amity, fraternity and love. But while we rejoice in this reunion in spirit of these two churches, upon the broad platform of brotherly kindness, yet when calling to mind the fact, that before the settlement of this country, this home for the oppressed of all nations, the country of Europe had each a religion established by law, with all the attendant evils of persecution and injustice as a natural consequence,— remembering, too, that he who is a subscriber to the doctrines and tenets of the established church regarded in the eyes of the law as loyal subject, and in order to a full free enjoyment of that inestimable right of freemen the privilege of worshiping God according to the dictates of an untrammeled conscience; that our fathers were driven from the endearments of home and friends and forced to seek refuge and a home on this side of the Atlantic in the unbroken wilds of a savage people.

A knowledge of these things before our eyes and the remembrance of them in our hearts, so signal a rupture in so short a space of time in a church, a church made up of persons from all parts of the habitable globe, and separating too under a creed and practice is but another proof of the blight us of human frailty.

We rejoice in the knowledge of this spirit of forgiveness, convinced that no compromise there is hope, but that expression of the independence. Nothing perhaps has ever occurred, within the wide range of human instrumentality, proving so conclusively the force of associated effort upon the destiny of man, as the declaration of independ ence upon the minds and fortunes of the American people—in building up in so short a space of time so grand, so flourishing, and so extensive a country,—a country looming up and culminating in grandeur, like some majestic hight in the natural world, far above and beyond all lesser sur roundings. With a government found ed upon the base of an immutable constitution—covered with the rich fruits of wholesome enactments—overshadowed with the adornments of peace, plenty and good will to man—this wonderful nation stood out before the world a "mark a sign, and a won der"—a monument erected to the dig nity and intelligence of man. And in the zenith of its glory well might the American patriot in the fulness of his heart exclaim: 'this is my own, my native land.' But in an evil hour and despite the early, the impressive, and almost prophetic warnings of the father of his country, in bidding us beware of sectional jealousies and divisions based on geographical distinctions, we erred. Oh! bloodiest picture in the book of time!—from the fall of Adam to the present hour, nothing has been comparable in madness to the internecine immolation of four years continuance on the altar of folly, by a people whom duty, interest, philanthrophy, common sense, humanity, and religion besought in mercy to

[illegible]

"Be madness ruled the hour;—we sowed the wind and reaped the whirlwind." May we learn wisdom from the things we have suffered.

But while we remember that our fathers entered into a solemn com pact upon a grave question when laying the foundation for the government of this great country—a compact, the work of concession and compromise at the time; and while we remember that in the face of this compact petitions for its violation were distracting for fifty years the council of the nation, and while we remember that this vexed question was settled by the arbitrament of the sword, and while we remember that by these sudden and disruptive changes you and I in common with thousands have been deprived of much of that for which our fathers toiled and that confisca tion, bankruptcy and ruin were rife in the land—with remembrances such as these and more before us, yet after all—and while as an individual I detest in my heart the sycophant and have no feelings in common with the dissembler, and am free to confess that my sympathies were enlisted on the part of my section, yet after all when I remember that the great Maker of the universe lives not indifferent to the fall of a sparrow, I cannot be persuaded (be the wrong where it may) that an allwise and merciful
Creator could be indifferent to the result of a mighty struggle (of brother against brother) like that through which this country has passed;—and after all may not some good come to somebody? And may it not be, although in the distance like the chastisement of the parent on the erring child, who sees at the time no sense in the rod, but has to wait for the development of riper years, in order to appreciate in thankfulness a father's care—and may it not be to the Anglo Saxon a lesson of self reliance that prepares each for himself to become the arbiter of his own fortune as in the case of personal salvation where every one (to use a homely aphorism) is required to paddle his own canoe or be lost? And may it not be that the descendants of Africa, liberated and enfranchised in our midst, (and I must in all sincerity pay them the compli ment, to say that with the teachings they have had, they have conducted themselves with propriety, and are deserving of praise, and under the circumstances have behaved themselves handsomely and borne in meek ness the new privileges and honors imposed,) and may it not be that some leading spirits of their number, stimulated by a spirit of piety and com mendable pride for their race will visit in gladness the land of their fathers and teach them the lessons of civilization, usefulness, patriotism and religion? And from the signs of the times, it takes not we think from this

[illegible] the ken of a prophet to be-

And is it too much to hope by the coming together of these unnumbered multitudes, and by a free and kindly interchange of thought and of feeling on the part of this vast assemblage from all parts of the country—that with one consent they may bury deep and forever the remembrance of the past, and in this spirit and language of another people and another age declare when speaking in refer-ence to their country, "if I forget thee, oh! Jerusalem, let my right hand for-get her cunning." And is it too much to hope that the time has come for us as a people to take down the harp from the willow and for the song of consti-tutional liberty in a spirit of brotherly kindness to be upon every tongue from Maine to California, and that the fu-ture of our country may yet equal its past!

We have introduced on this occa-sion the character of the most highly favored man that earth has ever known, or Heaven ever blessed—a man with all that this world could give or Heaven could promise to make a ra-tional being happy, contented and blest:—a man with a full, complete and unmistakable knowledge of his duty to his God, himself and his country so grandly and beautifully expressed in that inimitable prayer which Heaven deigned in mercy to answer at the time of its utterance. We introduce-ed the character of the gifted man, not alone to show the frailty of human nature and to plead it in some sort in extenuation of the rupture in the M. E. Church in the United States as well as of that in this great country, but [illegible] beacon light to guide and direct [illegible] and best in any and all con-ditions in life; and not alone to indi-viduals, but we present it as a warn-ing to associations of men in any ca-pacity, to communities, to Churches and to nations. In the language of in-spiration, he that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall.'

This again is one of the days of the centennial of the introduction of Methodism into North Carolina, and while our people from the mountains to the seaboard have been gathering together first at the Capitol of the State and then on the various districts, circuits and stations within her bor-ders, in thankfulness and praise to the Giver of all good for the success and spread of scriptural holiness through-out the ends of the earth, and while we would on this occasion,

"Sing the prophet 'mong the first I'anfold,
The christian banner o'er the western world."

Yet in presenting to you on this occasion the character and doings of the founder of Methodism, we pre-sent to you in his own language noth-ing but a sinner saved by grace.

The history of this great reformer, is in many respects unlike that of any other that has lived. While he laid the foundation, and was instrumental in the hands of God in organizing and building up the largest church organ-ization in the Western Continent, and one that to day permeates and en lightens every nook and corner of the habitable globe, yet unheard of anom aly! John Wesley lived and died a member of another church—he lived and died a member of the Church of England.

Uniting with others in forming a band for the promotion of personal piety among themselves, as well as the wish perhaps to raise the standard of piety in the church of his fathers, he consents to cross the Atlantic ocean to teach to the North American Indian the very thing of which he lived in ignorance himself, and out upon the bosom of the ocean—the blowing of the winds, that created the storm—that made him tremble for his safety, John Wesley was taught in the con-duct and hearing of the unpretending Moravian the wisest lesson of his life, Salvation by faith unmerited and free.

And like an honest man and a sensible too—although a [illegible] of the straitest sect, n[illegible] cherished in ecclesia; al[illegible] ed in all the lore of the ti[illegible] schools, with books and [illegible] command, he stood out [illegible] shaft in the Church of E[illegible] despite all these boastfu[illegible] ings, when he finds him[illegible] in that essential, withou[illegible] religion of the Bible is n[illegible] thought (for the devil [illegible] trembles,) he rests not n[illegible] by personal experience [illegible] Christ has power on earth [illegible] sin, and that as sudden[illegible] ly as a change forgiven or the unspeakable privilege of every one that is born of the Spirit. And we do thank God that it was put into the heart of a Wesley, to realize, and to proclaim to the world, in spite of ridicule, obloquy and abuse, a re-ligion that has to be felt to be en-joyed.

And we rejoice to day in the assu-rance that he day is fast passing away, when the humble man of God will not be regarded as presumptivo and vain, who declares, "I know in whom I believe," and in the name of the hundred thousand Methodists of N. Carolina, as well as in the name of the millions scattered over this green earth, who are shouting halle-lujah to high heaven for the gift of such a prirlege as this, we thank God—and for you and you of this congregation, we thank Him for a like blessed experience; and deep down in this poor heart I thank God

"That some feeling are to mortals given
With less in them of earth than heaven."

And we are happy to day in the knowledge that the same song is sung and the same story told in the halls of the great, as in the hut of the peasant. You have heard with patience the story of the great and learned Wesley: now go with me to the far off west, beyond the father of waters—to the unbroken wilds—where dwells the red man of the forest with the panther and the deer; where, here and there, may be seen the dim foot-prints of the missionary, and away down in some quiet, sequestered dell—with none but the eye of God upon him—behold, beneath the shade of some wide spreading giant of the forest, that [illegible] goods, bending in [illegible] of prayer. Be still and [illegible] to the language of his heart.

We thank God for a system of christianity that suits all classes and conditions of men, free as the air and extensive as the universe of God. In other days we had thought it a mis-fortune that the church was divided into so many different branches, but observation and experience have taught me to think otherwise. While power is corrupting to in-dividuals, the same may be said of men collectively, and if all were brought together into one powerful and all absorbing church, might not a spirit of worldliness, with the union of church and of state, be feared?

Let us learn to love and respect each other—it is about the best that we can do as human beings.

I have sometimes thought that it was well for the Methodist Church that John Wesley was not a bishop in the Church of England

In being able to trace back uninter-ruptedly our origin to apostolic days, might we not become boastful of our genealogy, and claim more respect for age, than would comport with true wisdom?

For on what a small matter some-times hang events of importance! Had the founder of Methodism been allowed, after his conversion, a place in the pulpits of the church of his birth, education and choice—and not been driven out into the fields, into the highways and hedges, and even among the tombs of his fathers in search of a place from which to pro-claim, untrammelled and free, the great truths of revelation, Methodism instead of being threatened with the great tidal wave of unexampled pros-perity, might have been to day, without a local habitation and a name.

But child of suffering as she has been—born, nurtured and reared in the lap of persecution obloquy and defamation—with unpretending line-age, and without length of days—she stands out among the churches of the world, a marvel in great achievements. Already in the opinion and language of an eminent divine:

"No church in America has greater temptation to sectarian pride and ambition than that which comes to Methodism in the name of its rapid and marvellous growth.

[illegible] has its own perils—pros-[illegible] its own snares History [illegible] churches as well as in-[illegible] and nations become sad [illegible] their own prosperity.

[illegible] honor which, at the head of a [illegible] any of believers, Jno. Wes-[illegible] in the name of the Lord, [illegible] resplendent with world [illegible] conquests.

[illegible] the honored standard of a [illegible] numbering millions, con-[illegible] representatives of every nation, [illegible] and tongue under heaven" good conscience, (and pardon the sug-gestion) with a Bishop for each State, and every State a Conference, al though like a tried craft at sea, tat tered, torn, and weather beaten, in the early part of her voyage, she would ride out the storm all well and in safety; and we have thought that on the morning of the last day, when Wesley with his millions, waking up from the grave, looking out upon the works his hands have wrought, none since the days of Apostolic times would be so overwhelmed with as tonishment, or feel a deeper sense of gratitude to God.

And we have thought, that when nearing the portals of the skies, inas much as it is written that there is joy in the presence of the Angels of God over one sinner that repenteth, these redeemed millions would clap their glad hands when joining the long acclaim of high Heaven, Halle-lujah! the Lord God omnipotent reigneth!

CHRISTMAS.

BY SIR WALTER SCOTT.

And well our Christian sires of old
Loved when the year its course had rolled,
And brought bit the Christmas back again,
With all his hospitable train.
Domestic and religious rite
Gave honor to the holy night
On Christmas eve the bells were rung;
On Christmas eve the mass was sung;
That only night in all the year
Saw the stoled priest the chalice rear.
The mass-book deign'd her lordly sheen;
The hall was dress'd with holly green,
Forth to the wood did merry men go
To gather in the mistletoe.
Then open'd wide the baron's hall
To vassal, tenant, serf, and all:
Power laid his rod of rule aside,
And Ceremony did her pride.
The heir, with roses in his shoes,
That night might village partner choose;
The lord, underogating, share
The vulgar game of "post and pair."
All hail'd, with uncontroll'd delight,
And general voice, the happy night
That to the cottage, as the crown,
Brought tidings of salvation down.

Anecdote of Princess Victoria

There is a pretty little story told by the governess of the Princess Vic toria, and which was published not very long ago, of how this little girl of twelve summers felt when she found out quite suddenly that she was to be the Queen. It is in a letter ad-dressed to Queen Victoria herself:

'I said to the Duchess of Kent that your Majesty ought to know your place in the succession. Her Royal Highness agreed with me, and I put the genealogical table into the histor ical book. When Mr. Davys (the Queen's instructor, afterward Bishop of Peterborough), was gone, the prin-cess Victoria opened, as usual, the book again, and seeing the additional paper, said, 'I never saw that before.' 'It was not thought necessary that you should, Princess,' 'I am nearer to the throne than I thought.' 'So it is, Madam,' I said. After some moments the Princess resumed, 'Now, many a child would boast, but they don't know the difficulty. There is much splendor, but there is more responsi-bility.' The Princess having lifted up the forefinger of her right hand while she spoke, gave me that little hand, saying, 'I will be good. I un-derstand now why you urged me so much to learn even Latin. My con-sins Augusta and Mary never did; but you to'd me Latin is the foundation of English grammar and all the ele gant expressions, and I learned it as you wished; but I understand all bet ter now,' and the Princess gave me her hand, repeating, 'I will be good!'

Is not this a pretty story? Can not you fancy the little girl, overawed by the great thought of being a queen, and understanding how wonderful it was, yet finding nothing more solemn to say in her simplicity (and, indeed, if she had searched the world for ele-gant expressions, what could she have found better?) than those dear child's words, 'I will be good!' I think there could not be a more charming little historical scene. 'I cried much on learning it,' is the note which the Queen's hand writes on the margin. No doubt the little maiden was fright-tened into seriousness and drew her breath quick when she first knew what was before her—Queen of an empire upon which, as we are fond of saying, 'the sun never sets,'—yet only twelve years old, a little girl in a white frock with big blue eyes opened wide with wonder. Think how you would feel who are the same age, if anything a tenth part as wonderful were told to you.—St. Nicholas.

decoration during [illegible] in honor of Sa[illegible]. This festival, the Saturnalia, observed at the winter solstice, from [illegible] 17th to the 21st of December. The Sigillaria days for interchanging [illegible] sents of figures in wax, like those the Christmas tree, followed, and [illegible]ly the Juvenalia, when men beca[illegible] boys with boys, matrons turned [illegible]ldren once again, and young and [illegible] indulged in the solemn romps with [illegible]ich the festival closed. That the [illegible]yptian tree passed into Germany [illegible] be seen in the pyramids which some[illegible]es there are substituted for the tr[illegible] But the antique northern mytho[illegible]y has supplied most of the obs[illegible]vances. The Juel Fesi was the midwi[illegible]er "Wheel Feast," and the wheel re[illegible]esented the circling years, which end[illegible]it to begin again.

Woman.

Oh! the priceless value of the love of a true woman! Gold cannot purchase a gem so precious. Title and honors confer upon the heart no such serene happiness. In our darkest mo-ment when disappointment and ingrat-itude, with corroding care, gather thick around, and even gaunt poverty me-naces with his skeleton finger, it gleams around the soul with an angel's smiles. Time cannot mar its brilliancy, dis-tance but strengthens its influence, blots and bars cannot limit its prog-ress. It follows the prisoner into his dark cell and sweetens the home mor sel that appeases his hunger, and, in the silence of midnight, it plays around his heart, and in his dreams he folds to his bosom the form of her who loves on still, though the world has turned coldly from him. The couch made by the hands of a loved one is soft to the weary limbs of the tered by the same hand loses all its bitterness.—The pillow carefully ad-justed brings repose to the fevered brain, and her words of kind encour-agement revive the sinking spirit. It would almost seem that God compassing woman's first great frailty, had planted His jewel in her breast, whose heaven-like interest should cast into forgetfulness man's remem-brance of the fall, by building up in his heart another Eden, where per-ennial flowers forever bloom, and the crystal waters gush from exhaustless fountains.

Will He Succeed?

In nine cases out of, ten, man's life will not be a success if he does not bear bund ns in his childhood If the fondness or the vanity of father or mother have kept him from hard work; if another always helped him out at the end of his row; if instead of taking his turn at pitching off, he stow-ed away all the time—in short, if what was light always fell to him, and what was heavy about the same work to some one else; if he has been permit-ted to shirk until shirking has become a habit, unless a miracle has been wrought, his life will be a failure, and the blame will not be half so much his as that of his weak and foolish parents.

On the other hand, if a boy has been brought up to do his part, never al-lowed to shirk any legitimate respon sibility, or to dodge work, whether or not it made his head ache, or soil-ed his hands, until bearing burdens has become a matter of pride, the heavy end of the wood his choice, pa-rents as they bid him good bye may dismiss their fear. The elements of success are his, and at some time and in some way the world will recognize his capacity.

Missent Evenings.—The boy who spends an hour of each evening longging idly on the street corners, wastes in the course of a year three hundred and sixty five precious hours which, if applied to study, would familiarize him with the rudiments of almost any of the familiar sciences. If in addition to wasting an hour each evening, he spends ten cents for a ci-gar, which is usually the case, the amount thus worse than wasted would pay for ten of the leading periodicals of these times. Think how much time and money you are wasting, and for what? The gratification afforded by the lounge on the corner, or the cigar, is not only temporary, but hurtful. You cannot indulge in them without seriously injuring yourselves. You ac-quire idle and wasteful habits which will cling to you with each succeeding year. You may in after life shake them off but the probabilities are that the habits thus formed in early life will re main with you to your dying day. Be warned, then in time, and resolve that as the hour spent in idleness is gone forever, you will improve each passing one, and thereby fit yourself for usefulness and happiness.

New Testaments in their original tongues, verse by verse, more than a score of times, he had always found something fresh and eminently valuable in each new examination.

Cheerfulness in Old Age.—Isn't Aunt Charity a darling old lady?" said one of Aunt Charity's nieces.

She was indeed a sunbeam. The s rong, resolute, brave face; the white hair under the plain cap; the sweet, smiling mouth, were all winning. We could depend on the motherly woman who was so jolly, so full of fun and frolic, so ready to join in wh[illegible]ever mirth was afloat. Everybody came to her with their joys and their griefs, sure of sympathy. An hour with her was a tonic.

It is well for the old to be cheerful. They may have much to depress them. Health is failing. Friends are passing away. Another generation is on the stage. Other hands take up the world's work. They feel, perhaps, with a bit-ter regret, that they are not needed as they once were. Nevertheless, they should cultivate every source of happiness wich remains. The love of chil-dren and grandchildren, the greater dignity and larger leisure of life, and the quiet hours they can have for com-munion with God, should get into the habit of saying a genial good morning every day to this world, where they have had so many busy, happy and holy days.

Scraps.

Capital wanted: Constantinople for the Russians.

The following sentence contains all the [illegible] Brady gave me a black walnut box of quite a small size

An English judge being once asked what contributed most to success at the bar, replied: "Some succeed by great talent, some by the influence of friends, some by a miracle, but most succeed by commencing without a shilling."

"How is it," said a gentleman to Sheridan "that your name has not an O attached to it. Your family is Irish, and no doubt illustrious." "No family had a better right to O than our family," said Sheridan, "for we owe every-body."

The habit of exaggeration, like dram drinking becomes a slavish necessity, and they who practice it pass their lives in a kind of a mental telescope, though whose magnifying medium they look upon themselves and every-thing around them.

A Centennial critic being asked by a Graphic correspondent which he liked best, the statues or the pictures, replied: "I donno, hardly, Zeb, but on the hull, praps I like the statoos best, cos you kin go all round the sta-toos, but you can't only see one side o' the pieters."

A few days ago, as President Chad-bourne of Williams College, during a lecture was telling the freshmen class that the notion of allowing girls to enter the college for the sake of their good influence on the boys was not as sound as it might be, a freshman rais-ed his hand and eagerly inquired. "Don't you think it would have a good influence on the young ladies?"

Lord Derby has informed the Lon-don Secretary to the Spanish and Portuguese Church mission that the British Minister at Madrid is doing what he can to induce the Spanish Government to put such a lenient construction upon the 11th Article of the Constitution as will secure full re-ligious liberty to Protestants in Spain.

Cure for Diphtheria.—The ravages of diphtheria in Australia have been so extensive within the last few years that the government offered a large reward for any certain method of cure; and among other responses to this was one by Mr. Greathead, who at first kept his method a secret, but after-ward communicated it freely to the public. It is simply the use of a tum-bler of water, to be administered to a grown person, and a smaller dose to children, at intervals not specified. The result is said to be a coagulation of the diphtheritic membrane and its ready removal by coughing. It is as-serted that where the case is thus treated, and has not advanced to a [illegible] termination, the patient [illegible] every instance.

one of unparalelled obstacles in the way of successful religious journalism. Among the most formidable with which it has had to contend has been the extreme stringency in money matters. Every business has felt its depressing and paralyzing influence, and the great problem for wise and prudent men to solve, has been how to steer clear of the breakers and to avoid loss and hopeless bankruptcy. Failures in commercial circles have been frequent and extensive. Men of business tact, prudent, industrious and far seeing, as well as those less skilled in this respect, have made mistakes in laying their plans and in executing them. The rules and laws governing trade, in many instances, have proven inadequate to the task of lending them out of their embarrassments and pacing them upon the bright and inviting plain of security and prosperity.

It is needless to enquire the cause or causes of this depression in financial circles. The fact that this depression does exist, is established beyond controversy, and the great wonder has been, how is it that so many have escaped the Upas blight of this almost universal contagion and still stand upon a firm and solid footing.

Very many indulged the hope that, when the heated and excited political campaign was over, a change for the better would dawn upon the country. In this cherished hope they have been mistaken. The public mind is more than ever disturbed, and the result of the Presidential election still hangs in doubt, and must continue so for some time yet to come. If a peaceful and equitable solution [illegible] there will doubtless be a decided and permanent revival of trade, and times will be better.

Notwithstanding the stagnation of business, and the great scarcity of money, we are happy to be able to state that the ADVOCATE has not diminished in circulation, but has added many new names to its list of subscribers, and still holds a firm grasp upon the affections of the preachers and people of North Carolina. There is decided unanimity in the Conference in its support. Very many among the laity are active in circulating the paper. This we deem a very encouraging feature bearing upon its future prosperity. If all our leading and influential men—especially those holding official positions in the church—could be enlisted in behalf of the ADVOCATE its circulation would soon reach ten thousand. It is a crying shame upon many of our people, who plead poverty as a reason for not taking their own paper, that they should spend their money for secular papers—political sheets—often making thrusts at the Church and the cause of religion, poisoning to the mind, and exerting a demoralizing influence in the family circle. The piety of a member of the church may justly be questioned who would refuse to take his own Church and Conference paper upon this pretence, and subscribe for a paper which has no claims upon his patronage and which contains nothing to cultivate piety and acquaint him with the operations of the Church. Let all our people learn to place a higher estimate upon church literature, and care less for sensational secular papers.

With hearts brim-full of gratitude to the many friends of the Advocate for their generous support, and with devout thanksgiving to Almighty God for his divine guidance through the toils and perils of another year, we close the labors of the present volume to join our readers in celebrating the birth of the Saviour of all mankind. Wishing all, young and old, rich and poor, a merry and joyous Christmas, we bid you an affectionate adieu for the year eighteen hundred and seventy six.

A goodly number of our subscribers are due for the Advocate for the past year—others for a shorter period. We earnestly request them to forward to us the amount due without delay. In view of the great scarcity of money, we have indulged our friends, in the belief that they would not suffer us to lose in so doing. In the future we shall be under the necessity of adhering more closely to the cash system.

☞To give ourselves and printers a holiday that everybody enjoys, we will issue no paper next week.

to be set apart for the celebration of the blessed event—a season when the vexing cares of business shall be put aside and the heart allowed to rejoice with become festivities. Men celebrate the birthdays of themselves and friends as events worthy of being remembered. Organizations of all sorts watch for the return of the anniversary of the day of their establishment and do honor to the occasion and to the memory of their founders. Nations celebrate their birth days or the anniversary of victories gained over their enemies, and rend the welkin with their shouts of rejoicing, the ringing of bells and the thunders of cannon. Societies of men of art and science observe with appropriate ceremonies the birth days or notable epochs in the lives of those who have rendered distinguished service to the world by their inventions, discoveries and labors: and it is but right that Christians should do honor to the natal day of one who brought salvation to a race that lay under condemnation, introduced wise and efficient social changes, dispelled the darkness and gloom of ages caused a brighter era to dawn upon the world and started it upon a new career.

While engaging in the observance of the season called christmas, we should not lose sight of what it is intended to celebrate, and the festivities should not by their character do violence to the sacredness of the event. Unfortunately, the season is often celebrated in anything but a Christian way, and the rejoicing partakes more of the nature of a Bacchanalian revel in which Bacchus is not set at defiance. Feasting and merriment are allowable, but dissipation is then, as at all times, sinful in the sight of God and man, and insulting to the majesty of him whose advent into the world the season commemorates. There is no more license to do wrong at Christmas than at any other time of the year, and because it is a holiday when the world eases itself of labor and care and makes merry, there is no more excuse for drinking and dancing and wild dissipation than there is on solemn occasions of the calendar.

THE CANVASS FOR 1877.

Our subscribers whose terms begin with the first of the year should at once renew. The price of the ADVOCATE is only $2.20 a year postage paid. Please remit this amount, promptly, by money order or check. The preachers will confer a favor both upon the publishers and subscribers by calling attention to the paper at every appointment. The Presiding Elders can aid us very much by giving prominence to the paper at their quarterly meetings.

Let each preacher aim to put a copy of the ADVOCATE in every Methodist household. Its visits are weekly: it has a word for each member of the family; it furnishes the religious news and current thoughts of the times, on moral and religious topics, and keeps its readers in sympathy with present church work. These are among the first objects to be sought in the diffusion of religious papers. Where the paper is taken it is unquestionably easier to secure a full and hearty co operation with the pastor in the work to which he has devoted his life.

Clubs of ten new subscribers will receive the paper at $2 per year. Who will be first to send us a club?

We are informed that Rev. S R. Trawick, A. M., has consented to take chargo of the Greensboro District Conference School at Kernersville, N. C. The spring session will begin Jan. 15th and continue 20 weeks.—Arrangements will be made, as we learn, for competent teachers in the literary and musical departments. board and tuition very low.

We ask the preachers, as soon as they reach their fields of labor, to begin the canvass for the Advocate.—Send us a club of ten new subscribers as a new year's greeting.

The post office of Rev. Jas. Mahoney is now Columbia, Tyrrell Co, N. C., instead of Newport.

The preachers who wish their papers changed are requested to notify us promptly.

has excited their wrathful indignation. They thought that Mr. Hayes had a clear majority of the votes of the electoral College under the proper seal of the States, but when the wires announced the Oregon vote they could have exclaimed like Lucifer: "from what high hopes to what relapse unlooked or are we fallen." Some extremists among the Republicans boldly say that Tilden shall not be seated and rely upon President Grant to prevent it; and some extremists in the Democratic ranks speak of resisting by force the barefaced usurpation which they say the Republicans intend to perpetrate. Other and more conservative and wiser members and journals of each party counsel quiet submission to whatever shall be done in March, holding that, if injustice is done, the people of the United States will at the next election set matters to rights. It will require great patience and moderation in the leaders of the two parties to prevent outbreaks and serious difficulties in March. There is but one alternative—quiet submission or war: and the latter is too terrible and shocking, and the experience of the American people is too recent and dreadful, to permit a resort to it. It will cost less to lose Tilden or Hayes than it would to plunge our country in a war that would be more bitter and terrible than the late conflict between the sections.

CAUTION.—We are informed that the scheme advertised a few weeks since in the Advocate by the Ohio and Texas Land Company, is a fraud, and [illegible] advertisement against [illegible] caution our readers against it. The advertisement came to us under circumstances that we considered justified its insertion: and having seen it in other Church papers we concluded it was a bona fide and well endorsed scheme. It is seldom that anything of a doubtful or fraudulent character is admitted into our advertising columns, but in this instance we were deceived.

Rev. Dr. Jones advertises that the next session of Greensboro' Female College will begin on Jan 10th. This cherished enterprise of our Conference appeals loudly to our people for their aid and patronage. The college is among the best in the country, in every respect, and the Methodists of our State will be unmindful of their interests and recreant to their duty unless they sustain it liberally.

Everybody expects a Christmas gift. Editors are by no means exceptions to this rule. We therefore claim a Christmas greeting from each subscriber in the form of a new subscriber to the ADVOCATE for one year. You cannot make a more appropriate Christmas present to your friends.

We direct attention to the prominent advertisement of Louisburg Female College, which is under the charge of Rev. F. L. Reid, as President. It possesses many recommendations. The instructors are competent, its location in respect of the salubrity of the climate and the refinement of the community is excellent, and its President is well known for his piety and talents.

"We are told on every hand that the country is in danger. No doubt there is reason enough for our fears. When two hundred thousand men—to state it mildly—are fighting for office, there is no doubt an alarming abundance of explosive material. There is no telling what a spark might do in such a case. We have hardly seen in any paper or heard from any man a word about calling upon God. It is Senator this, General that, and Governor (or even Ex-Governor) the other. Woe be unto us if the great, the wise, and the good God should, for our sin of man worship, leave us to such as these."—Dr. Haygood in Southern Christian Advocate.

REV. H. T. HUDSON.—Our citizens are delighted that Rev. H. T. Hudson will again be the pastor of the Methodist Church. He has proved himself an accomplished and efficient minister. He stands among the first of the N. C. Methodist clergy.—Shelby Banner.

An out west minister asked an old lady what she thought of the doctrine of total depravity. 'Oh,' she said, 'I think it is a good doctrine, if the people would only act up to it.'

Boston (Mass.) [illegible] that a sermon [illegible] would be preached on this question Sabbath.

Zion's Herald, of Boston observes that "the years on which Presidential elections fall are noted for the low standard of religious life in the churches."

The Unitarians of Hungary have elected the Rev Joseph Ferencz as their bishop. They have over one hundred and six churches. At the synod which chose the new bishop fifteen young men were ordained ministers.

The Pope, on the occasion of his visit of four thousand pilgrims from Spain, appeared publicly in St. Peter's for the first time since Victor Emanuel entered Rome. In his address to the pilgrims he referred to the wrongs he had suffered at the hands of the Italian government. "Who knows," he said, "that these afflictions of the church are not caused by sins of mine or by your failure to do your duty?" He noticed that the holy father was pale and showed signs of impaired fitness.

New York city has eighty-two churches, and many of these churches have very heavy debts. Here are some of the figures given: The Holy Trinity (Episcopal) has a debt of $200,000; Church of the Heavenly Rest, $150,000; Memorial Presbyterian church, $275,000; two other Presbyterian churches, $150,000; two Episcopal churches in Harlem, $60,000 each; a Methodist church, $40,000; [illegible] of Ascension, $100,000; have debts ranging from $50,000 to $75,000 each. The debts were referred to will make a total of about $1,500,000.

At the late session of the Hebron Conference, W P Deane was transferred to West Texas Conference. He was last year a supernumerary on the Bristol circuit, Abingdon District.

At a Presbytery held in Washington City, in October, the question of the color line in churches was discussed. Rev. Dr. Willis, who is a Southern man, said: "The races will accomplish the greatest results by acting in their respective spheres; by not commingling socially and in the churches."

Recent Publications.

WHERE IS THE MONEY?—A pamphlet published for the good of all concerned. Rev. Atticus G. Haygood, D.D. Price 25 cents per copy, postage paid. $7 50 per hundred. J. W. Burke & Co., Macon, Ga.

Dr. Haygood is one of the best writers in the Southern Church and this pamphlet if widely circulated would be of great benefit to the cause which inspired its production—the cause of education in the South. It consists of a series of articles written originally for the Texas Christian Advocate, containing practical and forcible reflections upon the duty and necessity of educating our youth.

LESLIE'S SUNDAY SCHOOL MAGAZINE Conducted by Rev. C. F. Deems, D D, Pastor of the Church of the Strangers, New York. $2 50 per annum.

The famous publisher, Frank Leslie, has added to the long list of his publications a new enterprise which promises to be successful under the editorial conduct of Dr. Deems whose literary ability is high and well known. We have received the initial number and are highly pleased with the same. It contains one hundred and twenty eight pages, profusely illustrated and well filled with instructive and entertaining matter, suitable for Sunday reading. It promises well and we commend it to the public. Mr. Leslie is a man of large means, with an extensive knowledge of the publishing business, knows the wants of the reading public, and this the last offspring of his great enterprise is apt to be a success.

THE SOUTHERN PLANTER AND FARMER, a publication devoted to Agriculture, Horticulture and Rural Affairs. J. Dickinson, Editor and Proprietor, Richmond, Va. $2 a year.

This is an old publication, having been established in 1840 and is one of our best exchanges of its class. It is highly valuable, and is well commended by eminent men in Virginia. It contains about 75 pages and is published monthly.

Ice at Asheville was six inches thick during the recent freeze.

Dr Johnson of Durham has accepted the position of steward in the hospital attached to the medical University of Maryland.

Hon R B. Vance's official majority in the 8th congressional district is 8,295. Hampton received only 7,514, while Vance received 15,899.

I. D. Wade, a long time master machinist at Company Shops, has been called to Richmond as master mechanist of the Richmond and Danville Railroad Shops.

Wadesboro Herald: We learn that Mr Durant Saunders, son of John Saunders, formerly of this county, died near Monticello, Florida, a few days ago.

The Morganton Blade says the cold was so terribly severe at that place on December 1st, that it will be known hereafter as the cold Friday.

Winston Sentinel: On last Monday, for the first time since the war, a full set of Democratic county officials were installed for Forsythe county.

R. S. Harris, of Cabarrus, is suggested as a suitable man for the place of U. S. Marshal of the Western District in case Tilden is made President.

Mr E S Williams, of Charlotte, accidentally shot himself recently, an ounce load of bird shot entering his neck between the windpipe and jugular vein without injuring either. There is fair hope of his recovery.

Mr. A. S. McAulay, Mayor of Moncoo, jumped from the platform of the train as it entered Charlotte and was seriously though not dangerously hurt.

There is probably more of Christian union in Philadelphia than in any other city in the country. Some of the Lutheran Methodist, Reformed Episcopal, Reformed German, Congregational [illegible] have for some weeks past united in meetings for prayer.

STATE LIBRARIAN.—Gov. Vance will soon after entering upon his office appoint a State Librarian. It is an important position and should be filled by a thoroughly competent person. Mr. J. H Enniss, of this city, has been suggested as a suitable person. We know of no one who is more thoroughly suited for the place and his appointment would be gratifying to his many friends. The Salisbury Examiner says of him: "His experience as a book seller, his knowledge of books, his discipline in business, and his orderly and methodical arrangement of all matters with which he has to do, to say nothing of his many other fine qualifications for the place, eminently fit him for State Librarian; and if Gov. Vance shall see fit to appoint him, he would not only secure a good officer but the commendation of many friends."

LOUISBURG

FEMALE COLLEGE,

LOUISBURG, N. C.

Under the Auspices of the Raleigh District Conference.

FACULTY:

REV F. L. REID, A. M., President.

ASSOCIATE TEACHERS,
Mrs. C. D. Lawrence.
Miss Rosa A Harris.

TEACHER OF MUSIC,
Miss Annie R. Fuller.

MATRON,
Mrs. A. T. Harris.

THE NEXT SESSION.

The next session of this institution will begin on Thursday,

JANUARY 11th, 1877, and continue twenty weeks.

It is very important that those who intend entering the School shall enter at the beginning of the session. Every day lost is a disadvantage to the pupil. In order to derive full benefit, every pupil ought to be in school the very first day [illegible] day during the [illegible]

LITERARY DEPARTMENT.

In the Literary Department the President is assisted by Mrs. C. D. Lawrence and Miss Rosa Harris, both of whom have had valuable experience in teaching, and enjoy a reputation for thorough teaching and good discipline wherever they are known. The Board of Directors feel sure in heartily recommending them to any who have daughters to educate.

MUSICAL DEPARTMENT,

This department is in charge of Miss Annie R. Fuller, whose proficiency is attested by the universal satisfaction she has given to all our patrons in this department. She uses first class instruments, and gives her pupils every possible advantage for improvement.

BOARDING DEPARTMENT.

This department continues in charge of Mrs. A. T. Harris. Her table is supplied with the best that the market affords and she spares no pains to make all the boarders feel that the Cottage is not simply a "boarding school," but a home for each one of them. This department so far has given entire satisfaction to all.

BUILDING, LOCATION, &C.

The college building is a large, beautiful, four story, brick building, containing 11 rooms, with pleasant dormitories, and is situated in the midst of a beautiful grove, with about ten acres enclosed. We have sufficient accommodations for eighty boarders. The town of Louisburg is in Franklin County, on the [illegible] and is nine miles from Franklinton, Depot, on the [illegible] Railroad. We have two daily hack lines, with comfortable coaches running to the Depot, and if notified the President will meet pupils at the Depot at any time. Our Post office is Louisburg, N. C.

DENOMINATIONAL CONNECTION.

The school is under the auspices of the Raleigh District Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, but not sectarian. Each pupil is allowed to attend whatever Church her parents may prefer, and an effort is made to check all sectarianism or bigotry, and cultivate liberal christian views and feelings. We have patrons belonging to the four leading denominations of this State.

DISCIPLINE.

Our discipline is firm, but mild. Each pupil is required to obey every teacher in the institution. No pupil will be allowed to remain in the school, who will not be subject to our rules and discipline. We find that strict discipline is better and more satisfactory to both pupils and patrons; hence we are strict, but do not go to an extreme. We expect our patrons to sustain us in our discipline.

EXERCISE.

A system of healthy exercise is generally neglected in school, the pupils being usually left to their own pleasure in taking exercise. We shall have a system of gymnastic exercises, and require each pupil to spend at least one hour each day in recreation and healthful exercise, both in and out doors.

THREE REASONS.

There are three reasons why parents should send their daughters to Louisburg Female College.

1. Louisburg is a healthy place. No place in the State enjoys better health than Louisburg.

2. It is a good school—so say the patrons, and others who have had every opportunity to know.

3 It is a cheap School. The terms of Board and Tuition are very low indeed, and this is to be considered in such stringent times.

EXTRAS.

Each boarder is required to furnish one pair of sheets and pillow cases, and her own towels. Besides what we have mentioned, we have no extras. Every patron can tell from this paper, what our charges will be for every thing. If any thing, more than is mentioned in this paper, is required by the pupil, the patrons will be consulted before the purchase is made.

ANOTHER ADVANTAGE.

We have also in the town of Louisburg, a Classical and Mathematical Male [illegible] of high grade, where young men can be thoroughly prepared for any College in the United States, and parents who would like for their sons and daughters to be near each other, will at once see the advantage of patronizing these renowned schools.

It is now for the benefit of those who have sons, a vast army as well as daughters, to educate, we give the following retaining rates the advertisement of [illegible] and people.

At Louisburg, N. C. July, 1876.

Resolved, That the Conference pledge their hearty support to this enterprise.

D. C. WHITE,
J. R. GRIFFITH,
H. H. GIBBONS.

At Louisburg, N. C. July, 1876,

Dr. Jerman offered the following resolution which was also adopted:

Resolved: That we as a Conference with pleasure the establishment of this school and do most heartily commend it to the patronage of our people in the bounds of Raleigh District.

SAML. C. WHITE, Sec.

FROM THE FRANKLIN COURIER.

The following appeared in The Franklin Courier last summer just before the school opened its first session:

LOUISBURG FEMALE COLLEGE.

"By reference to our advertising column it will be seen that the above institution will be opened on the 12th of July next for the reception of pupils, under the most favorable auspices. At the last District Conference, a Board of Directors was appointed to take charge said school, and at a meeting of the Board, recently held, it was unanimously resolved to invite and earnestly request the Rev F. L. Reid, to take charge of the College as President. In compliance with the invitation and request, he has consented to do so, and will open as above stated.—Mr. Reid is a regular graduate—a member of the North Carolina Conference. As a citizen he is universally popular—having the esteem and confidence of the entire community. Mrs. C. D. Lawrence, a lady, well and favorably known, will assist him in the Literary department. She has had many years experience as a teacher, and will bring to the institution, a name inferior to but few in the State.—Miss Annie R. Fuller will have charge of the Musical department. She is in every way but qualified for the position, and will add an influence to the School that but few possess. She is the very best selection the Board could have made.—The Boarding department will be under the control of Mrs. A. T. Harris, one of the most pious, and very best ladies in the community. She will be a mother to all the inmates of the College. By reference to the advertisement, it will be seen that the Board and Tuition have been placed at the very lowest possible figures—as low as any first class institution can be conducted with safety—a first class education is here placed within the reach of all. In regard to Louisburg, we will say that there is not a more refined and intelligent community in the State. In point of health there is no better. Under the present arrangement, the Louisburg Female College will be a success—it cannot be otherwise. We take great pleasure in recommending it to all concerned."

FROM THE RALEIGH CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

The following extract was taken from an article written by Rev. J. B. Bobbitt, D. D., one of the Editors of the Raleigh Christian Advocate after having visited Louisburg and the School in person. The article appeared in the Raleigh Christian Advocate.

"We cannot close our brief notice without calling special attention to the Louisburg Female College. It will be remembered that at our District Conference held at Oxford a year ago, it was resolved to establish a District School at Louisburg. Accordingly a Board of Directors was appointed to make all necessary arrangements to carry out the resolutions, which was done and well done. Rev. F. L. Reid was selected to preside over the Institution, assisted by Mrs. C. D. Lawrence in the literary department, and Miss Annie R, Fuller was chosen to take charge of the department of music. There is much to commend this School to the patronage of our people. In addition to the educational facilities offered, there is a pecuniary consideration rarely to be found in any of our schools and colleges at the present day. Board per month is only $10, while tuition is at the low figures of $15 per session. To our people in this District, especially, who have daughters to educate, we take pleasure in commending this school as in every way worthy of their patronage."

WHAT OUR PATRONS SAY.

We give below a testimonial signed by some of our patrons:

We, the undersigned, have been sending our daughters to Louisburg Female College since it opened under the present management and we take pleasure in bearing testimony to the thoroughness of the system of teaching and we fully approve the general conduct of the school. We heartily recommend the school to those who have daughters to educate.

J. J. DAVIS,	Louisburg N. C
M. S. DAVIS,	" "
THOS. WHITE,	" "
F. J. TILLEY,	Granville, "
J. C. ROBINSON.	Warren, "
F. MITCHENER.	Franklin, "
MRS. A. A. HAYES,	Franklin, "

DEPORTMENT AND GRADES.

Great care is given to the deportment of the pupils in and out of school. They are required to keep their rooms neat and orderly, subject at any time to the inspection of the lady teachers in school.—The pupils are graded on their recitations and deportment each day, and these grades sent out regularly to the patrons, so that they may know what their daughters or wards are doing.

If you desire any further information address Rev F. L. Reid Louisburg, N C, or any one of the following:

F. L. REID,	Board
J. J. DAVIS,	of
W. H. PLEASANTS.	Director,
C. M. COOKE,
R. F. YARBORO,
M. S. DAVIS,

[illegible] mong the exhibitors at the Centennial Exhibition may be mentioned the well known Organ manufacturers of Brattleboro, Vt., Messrs J. Estey & Co. The "prominent absence" of such a firm from the "list of awards" has doubtless occasioned many questions as to the reason. The explanation is simple indeed. They did not compete. They exhibited their instruments on their own intrinsic merits, with no [illegible] except from the people. [illegible] cannot too highly commend such [illegible]ise, as compared with some exhibits a copy of sole aim seemed to be not to tons the public pleasure in examining give wares, but to obtain the bronze their [illegible] medal. Inquiry elicits the fact that Estey & Co are the largest manufacturers and [illegible] largest exporters of their class, [illegible] half of the entire amount of organs [illegible] to European markets being from this house.

RICHARD WAGNER, of whose ability [illegible] Judge there can be no doubt, says: "The tone of the Estey Organ is wonderfully beautiful and noble and gives me the greatest pleasure. My great friend [illegible] Liszt is also charmed and delighted with them."

[illegible] ESSIPOFF says, "I can play with exquisite enjoyment for hours on these beautiful instruments."

OLE BULL,—"Exceedingly fine, powerful tone."

[illegible] DE LUCCA,—"I am surprised at such full, noble and organ like tone."

[illegible] BENSTEIN,—"Tone full, noble and exceedingly animating."

There is no doubt about the meaning of such expressions as these from the leading musicians of the age, and Estey Co may well claim to lead the world.

Gen. Keogh, Capt Bell and A. W. Tourgee, of Greensboro', and Secretary of State Howerton are in Washington under summons to testify before the investigating committee of the Senate as to frauds and intimidation of voters in the late election in this State. [illegible] fairer and more peaceful election was never held in North Carolina than the last, but the State must be "investigated" with other Southern States.

ristian Advocate

...ED IN THE CITY OF RALEIGH EVERY ...RSDAY MORNING, TERMS $2 20 POSTAGE ...

...ocal preachers in the bounds ... conference are our authorized ... subscribers, for ... the paper free.

...correspondents.

...ence, or publication should be carefully ... on one side of the sheet. All letters ... to be addressed to the CHRISTIAN ...

...own Receipt.

...ubscribers, all amounts should be sent in ... letter, all office order or check. The cost ... against dishonored checks will be deducted ... TIAN ADVOCATE is sent otherwise ... not paid, it will be at the sender's risk.

TO NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

...Family Sewing Machine.

...Gen'l Agent, Sewing Machine Co., Carroll & ...

...Notice—T. Gray, Administrator.

...Wick's Illustrated Price Catalogue.

...Thomas Normal College—Rev. F. ... Pres't.

...Bingham's Academy—A well ...

...Greensboro Female College—... Mood D. President.

...Public School. the name ...

...Already assured of ... Sunday Magazine ... by Rev. Dr. Fearns, ... Synagogues, New ... and the first edition of ... Use and profit. ...

...Wanted—Agents. ...

...Notice. ...

...Wanted—Agents. ...

...Notice. ...

...Notice. ...

...Notice

...stian Advocate

...E CITY OF RALEIGH EVERY ...RNING, TERMS $2.20 POSTAGE ...

...Agents

...ocal preachers in the bounds ...Conferences are our authorized ...agents for ten subscribers, for ...the paper free.

...correspondents.

...written for publication should be carefully ...of business should of the street. All letters ...should be addressed to the CHRISTIAN ...

...and Receipt.

...registered, all amounts should be sent in ...of registered letter or check. The cost ...from the post office order can be deducted ...than the ...risk. It is best at the sender's risk.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

...Gentle Sewing Machine.

...Carroll & ...

...Gray Administrator.

...Retail Price Catalogue.

...Rev. F. ...

...well ...

...Pat.

...ment.

...

...

...

Santa's Column.

Santa Claus' Farewell.

BY MRS. O. W. SCOTT.

... had been out two days and a night,
... ing presents His load was now light,
... s piped as his reindeer, and swift sped away,
... the admired snow, in his wonderful sleigh.

... s clad in fur, from his head to his toe,
... hide it cold weather where'er he goes;
... tened warm and cozy, and sat nothing still
... ed to speed on the brow of a hill.

... ing back on the town, full of bustle and noise,
... a glance waved his hand, "Good bye, girls and ... boys!
... again; for the years are so fast
... for the people and days of the past.

... I roam for the houses, so homely and low,
... throated chimneys, down which I could go?
... tiled roof, reaching up toward the sky,
... Santa Claus ever climb up so high?

... the front door, it is locked up so tight
... not get in, if I wanted all night;
... the back door, in the kitchen to look,
... by the cook, the foreigner cook!

... ut, of course, will go place to go back?
... allowed here who carries a pack?
... but the that I want to find;
... house has nothing that's just to my mind.

But this is not all for the boys and the girls
... and gents, wearing jewels and curls;
... times, and they simper, they talk very fast—
... like the boys and the girls of the past.

... dear children I do be young while you may,
... you're so wise to be learning each day;
... in a hurry to grow up, because
... by for old Santa Claus.

... this old world rushes on quite too fast
... for the people and days of the past.
... I hear music, it floats on the breeze!
... children! they're singing around Christmas
...

... by the present, and hearts are still ... liberal hands. I'll come through the
...
... the warnings I give,
... your hearts young so long as you live.
...
... said—in a flutter, and here is my ... Dasher! My reindeers are ready to start.
... once. If you write me next year,
... North Pole, I will answer, don't fear!"

... furnished his whip; the merry little rasp,
... my twinkling the swift reindeers aspring
... last words I heard were, "ho, ho, girls and boys!
... children next year shall have plenty of toys."

Frank and June's Christmas Money.

BY E. P. THURSTON.

Mrs. STANLEY was busily sewing, and at the same time running over in her mind the long list of big and little ... s for whom she wanted to provide ... stmas gifts, when she heard the ... door open and shut with a bang; ... n came a rush up stairs, and in ... rst Frank and June, their cheeks ... glowing from run in the cold and their ... eyes shining with excitement. Mamma ... not have time to ask what it was ... about, for, before she could utter ... word, Frank began in her headlong ... fashion. "O, mamma, we want to make ... some Christmas presents. Lots of the ... girls are making real pretty things all ... their own selves. Can't we too?"

"Shut the door first, my dear, and ... hang up your hats and sacks ... Frank's were already in a heap on the ... floor), and then we will talk about it," said mamma. So her sewing was laid aside, and when the children came ... mamma was ready to listen and ... talk. Now, Frank, what kind of ... work are the girls doing?" she asked.

"O, lots of beautiful things; slippers and tidies and mats, and—O, mamma! Mattie Selton is making a handsome carriage blanket for her baby sister's carriage. It's to be a present to her mamma, you know.

But, Frank, to make any of these things will take a great deal of time and a great deal of patience. And I think I know of a little girl about eight years old who hates all kind of sewing."

Frank's face lengthened. "Y-e-s, sewing I know I don't like to sew; but then, mamma, it is for Christmas, you know," she said.

"Yes, but I think I remember something about a pincushion; do you, Frank?"

Frank colored. She did remember she wished she could forget) the pincushion that she began to make for grandma two years before, and had not yet finished. "But, mamma, could n't I make some little things?

"I am afraid you would find nothing in the sewing line little enough to suit you, unless it were book-marks, and you supplied every one with those last year."

Frank looked doleful, But now June's little rosy mouth opened for the first time. "Mamma," she said, "I wish you was a washwoman."

"Why?" said mamma, laughing at the little sober face.

"'Cause Dora Smith says her mother's going to pay her two cents every time she carries home the clothes that her mother washes, and if you was a washwoman p'raps Frank and I could carry home the clothes for you and earn some money, too.'

"Perhaps we can think of some other way in which you can earn some money. If you earn the money which you get for presents, it will do just as well as if you made the things yourselves, I think.'

'O, yes! and I better too,' exclaimed Frank, dancing around the room. 'But tell us now, mamma.'

'Well,' said mamma, thoughtfully, 'let me see. I went to my cushion for a pin to-day, and there was not one in it, though I filled it up yesterday.'

'We were playing 'dress up and make calls' yesterday, and I should n't wonder if we used'm,' said Frank.

'And 'gin a poppet show,' put in June.

'Well,' said mamma, 'I will give you a penny for every ten pins you bring me. I mean, of course, those you find on the floor, or anywhere except in my cushion.'

June w... [illegible]

'But it will take ever so long to find ten pins,' said Frank, while June called out, 'I've got five now.'

'Then,' mamma went on, 'if you will set the table for me I will give you a penny for that, provided you set it nicely, and don't forget anything.'

'But that will be only one penny for two of us,' said Frank.

'Yes, but it will be one penny three times a day. Then I think it would be worth a penny to me to have the parlor and sitting room dusted, well dusted, every morning, and—yes, another way to earn a penny is by getting up early in the morning. You know how hard it is for you both to be up and dressed, hair brushed and all in time for breakfast. Now here is a chance for you to get into good habits, and be paid for it.'

'Any more ways, mamma?'

'Let me see,' said mamma. 'Setting table will be three cents a day; early rising, a cent each, makes five cents; dusting makes six; and then the pennies for pins. Now there are five weeks before Christmas, thirty-five days, and that will make two dollars and ten cents, besides the pin money, which may be twenty-five cents more ... that all ... [illegible]

... said Frank again.

'There is one other way, but you will not like it so well, Frank. If you will learn before Christmas to darn your stockings nicely I will give you fifty cents more.'

Frank did not look enthusiastic at all now. She thought a moment; then said, slowly, 'I am afraid I shall have to keep on doing it if I learn to do it nicely.' Mamma said nothing, but Frank did not quite like the way she looked at her. She thought a little longer; then, with a deep sigh, said, 'I guess I must try to learn, mamma.'

She did like the look mamma gave her now, as she said: 'I am sure that grandma will value anything you buy for her with the stocking money quite as much as anything you could make for her.'

So the children went to work, and worked so well that by Christmas they had earned in such ways three dollars and seventy cents, and Frank could darn a stocking almost as well as mamma herself. And what fun they had shopping! If I had room I'd tell you what they bought.

You mustn't expect your children to be better than you are yourself. You can ask nothing more of them than to learn the lessons you set them. 'Why do you walk so crooked, child?' said an old crab to a young one. 'Show me how to walk straight, and I will try,' was the answer. There is a Scotch proverb to the same effect: 'Trot feyther, trot mither, how can the foal canter?' It is never well for parents to say to their children, 'Go;' the more persuasive word is 'Come.'

A Valuable Medical Treatise.

The edition for 1877 of the standing Medical Annual, known as Hostetter's Almanac, is now ready, and may be obtained, free of cost, of druggists and general country dealers in all parts of the United States and British America, and indeed in every civilized portion of the Western Hemisphere, besides, with the soundest practical advice for the preservation and restoration of health, a large amount of interesting and amusing light reading, and the calendar astronomical calculations, chronological items, &c., are prepared with great care, and will be found entirely accurate. The issue of Hostetter's Almanac for 1877 will probably be the largest edition of a medical work ever published in any country. The proprietors, Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa., on receipt of a two cent stamp will forward a copy by mail to any person who cannot procure one in his neighborhood.

SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR

J. H. ZEILIN & CO.

A gentleman writes thus: "I write you this note to congratulate you on being the proprietor of the best Liver Medicine, Simmons' Regulator, known to the human race. I have known it for a number of years and pronounce it, as prepared by you, pure and genuine, and I say you, for the sake of humanity, try to keep it, as long as it is in your keeping."—You may prepare it and recommend it, but you will never know the entire value of it, unless you have a disordered liver yourself. It unclogs the liver of impurities with which it has been confined for years, and puts the wheels in their original position. I have written these lines with no other view but to give you my honest sentiments.

For Sale by all Druggists.

May 31-26t eow.

"TO THE POINT."

—:o:—

MONEY IS SCARCE, SALARIES AND WAGES ARE LOW, THE COUNTRY UNSETTLED AND DISTURBED.

HAPPILY THERE IS AN OFFSET FOR THESE EVILS.

W. H. & B. S. TUCKER, by their cash system, have laid in additional supplies for "cash"—and are enabled therefore to sell GOOD GOODS at the very lowest prices.

We have the largest stock of Men's, Womens, and Childrens' SHOES in the city. No old stock or shoddy work, at the very lowest prices.

Ladies' DRESS GOODS, full line very low.

Ladies' CLOAKS and SHAWLS, very good and very cheap.

MEN'S CLOTHS and CASSIMERES Kentucky Jeans etc., extraordinarily low.

Men's and Boys' HATS. The largest stock in the State, from 40 cts. up; a Best Silk Hat for $3.50.

Men's and Ladies' underwear, shirts and drawers—and the best UNLAUNDRIED Shirt, in the State at $1.00.

Also the best LAUNDRIED Shirt, ready for use 2109 Linen, Whitecuffs Muslin, at $1.25.

Prints and N. C. Plaids—full stock, fast colors, at very low.

To all—"A Penny saved is a Penny made," so step along your pennies and make yourself room table and Calico, notwithstanding the times.

W. H. & B. S. TUCKER.

dec 6 tf.

SITUATION WANTED

A Widow of a minister, and of long experience in teaching, would assist in a School, or take entire charge of a neighborhood school. References given if required. Address "WIDOW," care CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

COMMISSION MERCHANTS.
THE OLDEST
WHOLESALE GROCERY HOUSE
In Raleigh!
ESTABLISHED IN 1869
LEACH BROTHERS
WHOLESALE GROCERS
—AND—
Commission Merchants,
RALEIGH, N. C.
Ask the attention of the trade to their stock of
STAPLE GROCERIES,
bought from first hands by their resident Partner in New York, and offered in this market on small margins.
With an experience of seven years in the grocery business in this city they will make it to the interest of prompt paying customers to send them their orders.
March 8th 1-y

NEW FIRM
TO FRIENDS AND PUBLIC GENERALLY

I have associated with me Mr. G. D. Rand (formerly Rand & Barbee Lumber Dealers,) as a partner in the wholesale and retail Grocery and General Commission business. I respectfully tender my thanks for past favors and hope to have them continued with the new firm. Yours truly,
January 6, 1876. L. R. WYATT.

G. D. RAND. L. R. WYATT.

RAND & WYATT,
Wholesale and Retail Grocers
AND
COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

Have on hand and constantly receiving a fresh and first class stock of
GROCERIES
consisting of Flour, a specialty, Meal, Corn Bacon Lard, Sugar, Coffee, Pepper and Spice, Molasses (new crop Cuba), Syrup, Toilet and Laundry, Soaps, Wood and Willow Ware, Fancy Groceries, &c.

Everything embraced in a First Class Grocery which we propose to sell at Lowest figures.—Give us a trial. Orders with proper reference respectfully solicited, which shall receive our prompt attention. Consignment of Cotton and other produce solicited. Best prices guaranteed. Yours truly,
RAND & WYATT.
Opp. East end of Market, Raleigh, N. C.
July 12 1 y

SCHEDULES.

PIEDMONT AIR-LINE RAILWAY.

RICHMOND & DANVILLE, RICHMOND & DANVILLE W., N. C. DIVISION, and NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. W.

CONDENSED TIME-TABLE.
IN EFFECT ON AND AFTER SUNDAY, OCT. 15TH, 1876.

GOING NORTH.

STATIONS.	MAIL.
Leave Charlotte	1.55 A M
" Air-Line J'nct'n	2.30 "
" Salisbury	3.45 "
" Greensboro'	9.25 "
" Danville	12.2 P M
" Danville	1.45 "
" Burkeville	5.05 "
Arrive at Richmond	7.45 P M

GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS.	MAIL.
Leave Richmond	8.50 A M
" Burkeville	10.16 "
" Danville	4.05 P M
" Danville	5.30 "
" Greensboro'	8.45 "
" Salisbury	1.30 "
" Air-Line J'nct'n	10.25 "
Arrive at Charlotte	11.05 "

STATIONS.	GOING EAST. MAIL	GOING WEST MAIL
Leave Greensboro'	2.00 P. M.	Arrive 4.25 P. M.
" Co. Shops	11.21 A. M.	" Leave 4.25 "
Arrive at Raleigh	9.11 P. M.	Arrive 12.00 "
Arrive at Goldsboro'	5.05 " M.	Leave 10.10 P. M.

STATIONS. ACCOMMODATION TRAIN.

Leave Greensboro	6.15 P. M.	Arr. 9.00 A. M.
" Co. Shops	11.10 "	" Lv. 6.30 A. M.
Arr. at Raleigh	3.01 P. M.	Arr. 3.50 P. M.
Arr. at Goldsboro	11.20 "	" Lv. 5.20 P. M.

NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. R.
(SALEM BRANCH.)

Leave Greensboro'	6.10 P. M.
Arrive at Salem	9.15 A. M.
Leave Salem	9.00 A. M.
Arrive at Greensboro	9.15 "

Passenger Train leaving Raleigh at 12.31 P. M. connects at Greensboro' with the Southern bound train, making the quickest time to all Southern cities.

Accommodation Train leaving Greensboro, at 10.15 P. M. connects with Northern bound Train at Greensboro for Richmond and all points East. Price of Tickets same as via other routes.

No Change of Cars between Atlanta and Richmond, 547 Miles.

Papers that have arrangements to advertise the Schedule of this company will please print as above and forward copies to General Passenger Agent.

For farther information address
JOHN R. MACMURDO,
Gen'l Passenger Agent,
Richmond, Va.

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE.

RALEIGH & GASTON RAILROAD,
SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,
Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 9th, 1876.

On and after Monday, Oct. 9th, 1876, trains on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad, will run daily (Sunday excepted) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Leave Raleigh	9.30 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon	3.30 P. M.
Leaves Weldon	12 m. M.
Arrives at Raleigh	5.40

ACCOMMODATION TRAIN. A. M.

Leaves Raleigh	4 P. M.
Arrives at Weldon	10 A. M.
Leaves Weldon	3.15 P. M.
Arrives at Raleigh	Weldon, with

Mail train makes close connection and Day Line the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad points North; Steamers via Baltimore, to and Frederick Railroad West and Northwest, and with Washington City, to via Petersburg, Richmond and thereby.

And from all points North and Carolina Railroad to and at Raleigh with the, southwest, and with the and from all points South to Haywood and Fayetteville, Raleigh & Augusta Air ville.

JNO. C. WINDER,
General Superintendent.

RALEIGH AUGUSTA AIR-LINE RAILROAD.

SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,
Raleigh, N. C. Oct. 30th, 1876.

On and after Monday, October 30th, 1876, trains will run as follows.

TRAIN MOVING SOUTH.

	Arrive	Leave
Raleigh,		6.30 A. M.
Cary,	7.00 A. M.	7.20 "
Apex,	7.50 "	7.55 "
New Hill,	8.25 "	8.30 "
Merry Oaks,	9.00 "	9.05 "
Moncure,	9.35 "	9.45 "
Osgood,	10.15 "	10.30 "
Sanford,	10.50 "	11.05 "
Munt,	11.35 "	11.37 "
Cameron	12.05 P. M.

TRAIN MOVING NORTH.

	Arrive	Leave
Raleigh,	6.10 P. M.	6.30 P. M.
Cary,	5.52 "	5.52 "
Apex,	5.17 "	5.17 "
New Hill,	4.42 "	4.42 "
Merry Oaks,	4.07 "	4.12 "
Moncure,	3.32 "	3.37 "
Osgood,	2.47 "	3.02 "
Sanford,	2.06 "	2.17 "
Munt,	1.30 "	1.32 "
Cameron,	1.00 "

JNO. C. WINDER, Superintendent.

MISCELLANEOUS.
THE BUFFALO
LITHIA WATER
THE GREAT
STOMACH TONIC
Of America.

Case of Mrs. ——, wife of Marcus A. Harris, well-known physician of Belmont, Halifax Co.

(Extract from Letter dated October 25, 1876.)

"Mrs. —— has been for twenty years dyspeptic in a most aggravated form. There were attacks of spasmodic contraction of the stomach, and finally an incurable to treatment. Being ... she commenced the use of the ... Water, her diet was milk and ... its cooked effects the ... and upon four pints ... seasons, are generally ... Buildings elegant—... mending the most ... ing such varied attractions ... most delightful colleges ... The South with besides, ... seasons, are generally re... Buildings elegant—Rooms commanding the most unsurpassed scenery, and combining such varied attractions as make it one of the most delightful colleges in the Union. This School is usually ... to seventeen different ... Great economy and ... ed. A simple uniform ... pense allowed. Strict ... pectus of pupils.

From Bishop D. S...

The Wesleyan Female Institute, Va., under the Presidency of ... Rev. W. A. Harris, ... young ladies in the South. ... and appreciate its value by ... by one of my daughters there. ... ample its Faculty accomplished ... both solid and elegant. Its ... are all that can be desired for ... taste. No location could be more ... more magnificent; no atmosphere ... for the health of its inmates, is ... religious training, without which ... especially, would be a blessing.

From Bishop E. M...

The Wesleyan Female Institute ... Chief Wesleyan Female Institution ... [illegible]

DYSPEPSIA AND NERVOUS HEADACHE

Case of Dr. R. H. Tatum, a well-known physician of Chesterfield county, Va.

Extract from letter dated Longwood, Virginia, December 4th, 1876.

"For years I have suffered from dyspepsia, causing sick headache, attended with the most intense agony. I have visited some of our most celebrated mountain springs and drank the waters from ... springs of other States, but ... relief as I have experienced from the use of two cases of the BUFFALO LITHIA WATER, were No. 1. I have prescribed it for several patients suffering from symptoms produced by ... of appetite, general debility, stomach, ... and severe pain in the ... region, with no ... prompt results."

Post office Chula, Amelia county, Va.

DYSPEPSIA.

Case of John P. Keesling, Esq., a well known citizen of Princess Anne county, Va.

... ANNE C.H., VA., Nov. 15, 1876.

Gen. THOS. F. GOODE:

Dear Sir—It is with much pleasure that I can, with a statement of my case, add of the many others I obtained from your LITHIA WATER, as it long ... I may possess ... some unfortunate ... and be stricken ... health.

For seve... suffered from Neuralgia Dyspepsia, being so prostrated by the disease, that at times it was with difficulty I could walk across my room. For some eighteen months I resided in the City of Baltimore, perfect health, finding benefit during that time by some of the best medical men of that city, without benefit. From there I was brought to my home in Princess Anne county, to ... exposed, to die, which, in my own estimation, I soon ... session of one of your Springs' pamphlets and ... its marked effects in my case, I procured a ... supply on a trial. After using ... I was so much ... as to ... my business once more. I do believe this ... the greatest stomach tonic of the world.

Very truly yours,
JOHN P. KEESLING.

In affections of the Kidneys and Bladder, in Gout, Rheumatism and Paralysis, these waters have accomplished results ... remarkable as any of record. They are for sale in ... cases of one dozen half gallon bottles at $5 per case, payable in advance.

The Springs Pamphlet sent to any address on application.

THOS. F. GOODE, PROPRIETOR,
Buffalo Lithia Springs,
Mecklenburg Co., Va.
oct 11-tf.

HOME TRIAL OF DR. CHARCOT'S CELEBRATED ELECTRO-VOLTAIC BELTS AND APPLIANCES.

Dr. CHARCOT, the inventor of the Electro-Voltaic Belt, has placed his Belts in the hands of many persons suffering from Nervous Debility, Paralysis, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaints, Female Weaknesses, and many other diseases, for a Home Trial, and the results have been truly wonderful. In addition to the ordinary cases of Nervous Debility, Rheumatism, Paralysis, and Kidney Complaints, which yield to the influence of the Belt, it has been found to be a perfect specific for Female Weaknesses, and many cases of Spinal Disease, which have baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians, have been cured by the use of the Belt. In addition to the above diseases, the Belt has been found to be a perfect specific for Impotency, Sexual Debility, Premature Decay, and all diseases of the Sexual Organs, whether existing in Male or Female. Pamphlets containing testimonials of cures, and full particulars, sent free by mail. Address

J. P. KNAPP & CO.,
Sole Proprietors,
No. 1 Barclay Street, New York.

WIRE RAILING & ORNAMENTAL Wire Works.
Durfur & Co.,
26 North Howard Street, Baltimore, Md.
Manufacture WIRE RAILING for Cemeteries, Balconies, &c., SHUTTERS, FENCES, CAGES, SAFES AND COAL SCREENS, WOVEN WIRE, &c. Also, IRON BEDSTEAD CHAIRS, SETTEES, &c., &c.
Feb 10-12m

GENUINE CRAB ORCHARD SALTS.

THE MILDEST AND BEST GENERAL PURGATIVE IN USE. Endorsed by the highest medical men in the United States. Persons suffering with costiveness of the bowels or torpid liver, will find ready relief by the use of these Salts. None genuine except those put up in bottles with the label of the Crab Orchard Springs Salts Company.

J. B. WILDER & CO., Agents, Louisville, Ky

THE BOOK AND STATIONARY BUSINESS OF
E. J. HALE & SON,
17 MURRAY ST., New York.
Will not be interrupted by the removal of Mr. PM. C. Hale to Raleigh. Orders from [illegible]

MISCELLANEOUS.
WOMAN IN BATTLE
AGENTS WANTED to canvass every town and county in the State for
"WOMAN IN BATTLE!"
one of the most intensely interesting books ever published, being the Life and Exploits of Lieut. Harry Bedford, (C. S. A.) or Madame L. J. Velasquez. The best subscription book ever published has offered the Rose-subscription chances this one does for wide awake agents to make money rapidly, and as terHurry is being taken up very fast those who desire to canvass for it should make application without delay.
MADAME L. J. VELASQUEZ,
Agent for North Carolina; office; Grange Hotel, corner Wilmington and Davie sts, one block from the Yarboro House, Raleigh N. C. Agents wanted to sell Steel Engraving of the author.
Oct 11-tf

THE NORTH CAROLINA FARMER.

JAS. H. ENNISS,—Dear Sir: I have been a practical farmer for forty years, and during that time have taken the best agricultural papers of the day, and I undertake to say that there is more valuable practical information to our farmers in the first and second numbers of the North Carolina Farmer than in any dozen copies of any of the Agricultural Journals I have taken; and I do most earnestly recommend it to every intelligent farmer in our State as the paper for him, above all others.
PETER R. HINES,
Halifax, Co.

Subscription one year	$1.00
5 Copies " "	4.00
10 " "	7.00

Address J. H. ENNISS & CO. Publishers,
Aug 30 1-f. Raleigh, N. C.

THE MORNING STAR,

MISCELLANEOUS.
SERMONS
BY E. M. MARVIN,
One of the Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.
Edited by T. O. SUMMERS, D. D.
12mo. Muslin Paper ... [illegible]
This book will be ready by the ... Price Two Dollars, with the ... count to Preachers. It will be ... any address on receipt of ... must accompany all orders.
A. H. B...

North Carolina DIRECTORY.
I am now preparing to issue ... edition of my North Carolina ... Centennial Edition.
I intend this edition to ... list of the Churches, Hotels, ... Manufactories, Merchants, ... Mines, Mills, Physicians, ... schools, &c.
The book will represent ...

CRYSTAL METAL BRONZED BELLS
FOR CHURCHES,
SCHOOL HOUSES,
FACTORIES,
SHOPS,
PLANTATIONS.
These Bells are composed of the pure crystal metal, and the shape and weight of metal in them is such as to give the best possible results. They are
SUPERIOR IN TONE AND FINISH
to many others, no matter under what name they may be sold, either "STEEL COMPOSITION" or "AMALGAM," and are Guaranteed to Give Satisfaction.
The CHEAPEST BELL MADE.
Church Bells furnished at COST.
T. H. BRIGGS & SONS,
Briggs Building,
RALEIGH, N. C.
DEALER IN CARPENTER

DEALER ...
Coal, Wood and ...
at Western Terminus, Hargett Street
Best Reliash Egg and Nut Coal ... pounds,
Stove Coal 2240 pounds,
Smith " per ton,
Hardwood, per cord,
Pinewood " "
Lumber at low figures.
Orders may be left at Farmers Drug ... to the yard, and shall receive prompt ...
oct 18-tf.

BALTIMORE, OCTOBER ...
CHAS. SIMON & SON ...
DRESS-MAKING DEPARTMENT ...
We would call the attention of our friends ... public in general to this department.
Under the present management it we have ... unprecedented success. We have filled our ... customers residing in nearly every Southern ... and have in our possession numerous flatter... testimonials, both as regards fit and style, ... great superiority in neatly finishing our work.
Our specialty this season will be Black Gr... Silk Dresses, trimmed in same material, and ... the most fashionable style, for the low price of $50.00.
These Dresses should not be judged by the ... as they are in every respect superior to anything heretofore offered for the money. Samples of material and directions for self-measurement ... free by mail upon application.
CHAS. SIMON & SONS,
63 N. Howard St.,
Sept 27-3m. Baltimore, Md.

OFFICE SUPT. OF TRANSPORTATION,
Seaboard & Roanoke R. R. Co.,
Portsmouth, Va., Jan. 1st, 1876.
On and after this date, trains of the Road will leave Weldon daily, Sundays excepted, as follows:
Mail train at
No. 1 Freight train at
No. 2 Freight train at
ARRIVE AT PORTSMOUTH.

ISSUE NOT PUBLISHED

END OF YEAR

NCDA&H

END

OF REEL